

Two more precinct contests are added

Two more Democratic precinct contests developed this week with the filing of Robert L. (Pete) Hays for the county commissioner of precinct 4 nomination and Dee Justice for the Precinct 4 Justice of the Peace position.

Hays will oppose County Commissioner Herbert Walls and Justice will oppose Justice of the Peace Pat Kitchens.

Hays is training instructor at the Postex Plant and Justice operates the Justice-Mason Funeral Home and has been serving part-time as a deputy sheriff.

This brings to three the name of precinct contests in Garza County for the May primary.

Earlier, Shelia Melton entered the race for Precinct 1 Justice of the Peace opposing incumbent Zora Robinson.

The filing deadline for precinct, county, district and state offices is 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1 and filing papers have to be in Demo chairman Dick Tanner at that time.

Other candidates filing here to date include the following incumbents who so far are unopposed for renomination:

County Judge Giles Dalby, County Treasurer Voda Beth Gradine, County Clerk Carl Cederholm, and Precinct 2 county commissioner Ted Aten.

Calling all proud grandparents! The Dispatch in its Valentine Edition Feb. 11 will offer Grandparents' Brag Pages for the second straight year.

If you'll remember, the "brag pages" contained pictures of your grandchildren inside valentine hearts. The cost is $6 per valentine. Just bring in the pictures in the next eight days and you'll be pleased with the results in our Valentine's Edition.

We pictured some 56 youngsters on the "brag pages" last year, surprising even ourselves by the size of your response. So we don't know quite what to expect this year after you've seen it for the first time in 1981.

We need them a few days in advance in the Feb. 11 paper so we can get all the negatives made from the pictures. So if you want to do a little bragging on your grandchildren, here's your chance.

After listening to President Reagan's State of the Union speec on TV Tuesday night, we've come to the conclusion that all Reagan needs to do to keep command of things in Washington is to hit the airplanes a little more often.

The guy is terribly persuasive and he talks mostly the projects we believe in — including his new Federalism with the return of the bulk of the nation's social progress to state control. Reagan continues to do just what he promised to do in his election campaign. We wish him well.

Six needed for EMT class

The Post Emergency Medical Technician class which is planned in the near future needs approximately six more interested persons to sign up for the class. Twelve have already made their plans to take this course when it is offered.

The deadline for signing up for the class is Feb. 1, and further information can be had by calling Jim Jackson at his home or at Jackson Brothers Locker.

Class reunion to be planned

The 1972 graduating class of Post High School, will meet Thursday, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the bank community room, to plan their 10-year class reunion. Members of this class or those interested in helping to organize the reunion are urged to attend this meeting.

Fifty Fourth Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, Jan. 28, 1982 Number 35

Committee to meet on Post's diamond jubilee

The planning committee for Post's Diamond Jubilee will meet at 10 a.m. today in the bank community room to discuss an organization for the city's 75th birthday this summer and make some major decisions.

Mrs. Maxine Earl was named chairman of the planning committee by the city council last year.

The committee also includes Bryan Williams, Don Windham, Chamber president Charles Hardin, Riley Miller, Curtis Hudman, the Chamber's president-elect and Bob West.

The committee already has held one session although due to oversight it was not reported to The Dispatch.

Tentative plans call for holding the Diamond Jubilee either in June or in conjunction with the city's Fourth of July celebration.

Riley Miller, who was the chief planner of Gail's big celebration two years ago, is already busy arranging details for staging a show in the Post Stampede arena.

The committee has decided against the hiring of a production company to (See Post jubilee, Page 12)

Camp Post contracts let

Two Post concerns have construction contracts for the remodeling of the camp ranger's home, the headquarters building and the dining hall at Camp Post, the Boy Scout camp south of Post. The Robert E. Cox Lumber Co. is the general contractor for some $53,000 worth modernization and the Murphy Plumbing Co. here has the plumbing sub-contract.

Scout Executive Bob Bouse of Lubbock announced the letting of these contracts this week as well as plans for other construction projects at Camp Post.

Bouse said the ranger's home will be remodeled, stuccoed outside, new kitchen and bath installed, central heating and air-conditioning installed, new storm windows, etc.

The home was built for $10,000 in 1950 on a contribution from the Post Foundation. Up to $18,000 will be spent on the remodeling.

The headquarters building will receive new floor, new ceiling, new shower facilities with the heating and air conditioning replaced as necessary for a cost of up to $8,000.

The west porch on the dining hall will be lighted and enclosed for a meeting location. The dining hall's evaporative coolers will be replaced, picture windows installed on the front, and the refrigeration and butane systems brought up to current standards for a cost of up to $27,000.

Other new projects for the Boy Scout camp this spring will be a new 1,000 square foot activity center on the (See Camp Post, Page 12)

He should not have driven here

Danny Lynn Kurvin of Crosbyton shouldn't have driven to Post last Thursday.

After an auto accident in which no one was injured, he was arrested and charged with failure to stop and render aid, having no liability insurance, and driving while intoxicated.

He paid $206 in fine and court costs in Justice of the Peace Court No. 1 for failure to stop after the accident, and $75 for having no liability insurance under the new Texas law which went into effect this month. He was released on a $750 bond from county court on the DWI.

Officers arrested David Sidney Dragon of Snyder here Saturday when six ounces of marijuana was found in his possession. This is a felony charge. He was still in the county jail Wednesday unable to make his $10,000 bond.

Danny Austin of Big Spring who failed to appear for his district court trial on a criminal mischief charge in December was arrested in Big Spring and returned (See Charges here, Page 12)

Lions to sponsor magic show here

The Post Lions Club is sponsoring the appearance of the Fred Story Revue in the primary school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 26 as a fund raiser for community projects.

The revue is a magic show which has been making successful appearances as good family entertainment across the country for the last 20 years.

Story doesn't refer to it as magic though. He calls it fantasy, or making the unbelievable come true.

County purchases new truck, car

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday purchased a county car and a new flatbed truck for precinct 3 and accepted the 1981 audit of the county.

The truck was purchased from Harold Lucas Motors here for a total cost of $19,050, and the court accepted the $9,600 bid for the county car from Fenner and Tubbs of Lubbock.

Bids were opened on a loader for precinct four, but Commissioner Herbert Walls requested 10 days to consider the bids before taking action.

Thank you! Thank you!

The Garza County Commissioners Court are to be congratulated for removing the county property tax on automobiles for this year.

The "car tax" as we call it was a bit unfair in that real property owners had the tax added to their tax bills and they paid it with their real estate taxes.

But the taxpayer who owned only a car and no real estate often times just skipped paying the "car tax" because his car would be gone for a later model before the taxing unit got around to taking him to court over delinquent taxes.

Thus, in the end the property taxpayer ended up paying a little more of "his share".

The county for many years was "strapped" for operational tax funds so kept the "car tax" as the city, school district, and the hospital district decided to drop it.

This year with county oil valuations still climbing like a moon rocket, the relatively small "car tax take" wasn't vital any longer. So the commissioners court ended it.

Ending taxes once levied are not easy. Lots of politicians continue to keep them around "just in case."

The county commissioners didn't. They saved all of us a few bucks. We believe in giving a big thank you to anybody who cuts a tax, and a double thank you to those who cut out the tax itself.

Thank you! Thank you!

He deserves fair shot

A surprisingly large majority of American voters in November of 1980 elected Ronald Reagan president to balance the budget, reduce taxes, and cut government spending.

In just one year of office, President Reagan certainly has accomplished two of those three economic goals with smashing victories in Congress.

He has given the American people the biggest tax cut in the nation's history though it will take two more years to fully implement those reductions. And he has cut government spending like no other chief executive has done in the last 50 years.

But he has not been able to balance the budget. It is pretty obvious to everybody now that there isn't a person living in this country today who could do that in the foreseeable future against present economic odds.

High interest rates have virtually destroyed the automotive and housing industries. President Reagan does not control interest rates or the economic levers of the Federal Reserve Board.

With our "high interest rate recession" unemployment has risen so sharply that federal programs to relieve unemployment will push the federal deficit to unexpected highs.

So that leaves us with the choice. Do we want to stay with the tax cuts or forget them in an effort to reduce the mounting federal deficit?

Don't wait for the politicians to decide this. They won't. And certainly not in an election year. They will wait to hear the way the people think on this subject loud and clear before moving off dead center.

When the American voter goes to the polls this November he will decide whether to give Reagan voting control of congress, or whether to give him less control than he has today.

In making their decision, voters must look at their choice. They can go with Reagan who offers this country conservative leadership, or they can oppose him. They won't get much in a positive nature if they don't like what he is doing because no real alternative is offered except the same old administration-congress battle in which very little can be accomplished.

The Dispatch doesn't think one Reagan year is enough to judge. We say give him two at least, three is better, and four is fair. If he hasn't got the thing turned around then, to your satisfaction, then look to somebody else.

But let's don't run our government by jerking this way, then that with no time allowed for anything. Reagan deserves a fair shot — and we're for giving it to him.

"I wish you'd forget what I said about being dull and uninteresting."

"NO, HOOPER, I DON'T THINK IT'S A CATCHY SIGN THAT WILL ATTRACT BUSINESS."

How wild creatures made news in '81

WASHINGTON — Those field mice infected with bubonic plague that threatened President Reagan on his California ranch and the stranded shark that got roped by Vice President Bush on a Maine beach were not the only wild creatures that made news in 1981.

An assortment of animals that Noah would be proud of crept into headlines around the world by causing trouble for some humans, helping others, and by just struggling to survive — sometimes unsuccessfully — in a world dominated by humans, the National Wildlife Federation found in its annual survey of animal antics during the past year.

Medflies on the West Coast, gypsy moths in the East, a duck with an arrow through her breast, a baboon that turned in a false fire alarm, and a deadly snake that pulled duty as a night watchman were among non human newsmakers.

Donna the Duck was the victim, and then heroine, of one of the most bizarre wildlife stories. The tiny mallard became a national celebrity when she appeared at a Los Vegas, Nev., country club with an arrow through her breast. After two weeks of trying, veterinarians finally caught her, removed the arrow, and released her. At last report Donna was continuing her charmed life on a pond in the middle of the club's golf course.

Nipper, a ferret, made news — and ferretted out some news — by lending a hand, or paw, to the British Broadcasting Corporation. The tiny weasel-like creature pulled TV cables through a twisted underground duct connecting Buckingham Palace to commentators outside and this enabled BBC to broadcast to the entire planet a part of the commotion surrounding the wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana.

Not all animals were so helpful, the NWF survey found. Alexis, a baboon, brought six fire trucks racing to the scene when she grabbed the lever on a fire alarm box next to her quarters in a Baltimore research lab. Trouble is, there was no fire. Jonathan, a horse in Del Mar, Cal., turned in two false alarms before his owner stopped the horsing around by fencing off an alarm box.

All kinds of critters tangled with electricity. An owl knocked out a power system in Klamath Falls, Ore., when it landed on a hot line with a snake in its beak. The snake caught fire and 5,200 homes went dark. In a prison at Dallas, Tex., a hungry four-foot king snake, looking for prey, knocked out three generators for three hours. In Washington, D.C., it was an errant squirrel that caused a blackout on Thanksgiving day.

Another invention of man, the drainpipe, nearly cost the life of a black and white cat named Squeaky in Reston, Va. Instead he cost his owner $1,500 when it took two crews of plumbers two days to dig Squeaky out of an underground trap into which the drainpipe — and his curiosity — had led him. On the other hand, a 45-pound alligator got out of his outdoor pen at the Denver Zoo without any help from humans. The gator, inevitably named Albert, was captured 28 days later in a park pond.

A mess of reptiles have made news when a Gerogia dealer in protected wildlife handed over a bag containing a dozen eastern indigo snakes in exchange for $1,200. His customer turned out to be a federal agent who had videotaped the "snakescam" transaction. Other reptiles illegally traded and seized by the feds included Indian pythons, Gila monsters and a Jamaican boa.

It was in London that a "very venomous" cobra was placed inside a showcase containing the world's third largest star sapphire to discourage theft of the rare gem from Sri Lanka. Other animals, that did people's work included two dolphins named Layd and Molly whose services were sought by a Florida ship salvager to locate silver bars in the wreckage of two Spanish galleons that sank off Key West in 1622.

Several species of wildlife made news for their roles in scientific research. At Athens, Ohio, biology researchers transferred the genes of rabbits to mice and then to their offspring — a breakthrough in genetic engineering that could lead to the transfer of traits from one species to another. In an Oak Ridge, Tenn., laboratory, crickets gave scientists some clues to dangerous side effects of contaminants in synthetic fuels by sprouting extra eyes and heads.

Not all lab critters enjoyed their assigned roles, the NWF report showed. In an experiment reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, a ferret injected with a respirator virus got even with the experimenter when the scientist bent over to check the animal for watery eyes and other symptoms. The ferret sneezed and the researcher caught the virus. A California brain surgeon sued the University of Oklahoma and others for $2.75 million, claiming he was "permanently disabled" when a chimpanzee named Washoe bit off the middle finger of his right hand during a visit to the University's Institute for Primate Studies.

In Montgomery County, Md., a medical researcher was fined $3,015 for failing to provide adequate care for six monkeys in his lab. But in Ann Arbor, Mich., another medic operated on a 3½ pound Boston terrier named Sweetie Pie and removed half a pound of metal, including 80 cents in coins, from her stomach.

The National Zoo in Washington, D.C., imported a male panda named Chia-Chia all the way from London to mate with its famed but shy female, Ling-Ling. All that happened was that Ling-Ling got beat up. But in Green County, Wis., a judge had to sign a court order to restrain a bull owned by Glen Schmid from mating. (See Wild Creatures, P. 3)

Conservation tillage saves both soil, money

Conservation tillage appears to be the most cost effective method of controlling erosion of the nation's cropland, Norm Berg, chief of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, said in an editorial in the January issue of "Soil and Water Conservation News."

"Conservation tillage alone is not the total solution to erosion problems, but leaving adequate amounts of crop residue on the soil surface year round can reduce sheet and rill erosion by as much as 90 percent," Berg said. "Under some conditions, conservation tillage must be applied as part of a complete conservation system. It must compliment a system of terraces, grass waterways, diversions, and other needed practices in some areas."

The Chief speculated that some forms of conservation tillage can be applied to every acre of cropland in the United States. He said there is a definite trend away from using the moldboard plow, and U.S. farmers seem to be increasingly aware of the benefits of reduced tillage systems.

Conservation tillage has grown from 26.7 million acres in 1972 to an estimated 98.8 million acres in 1981. The SCS has spearheaded technical assistance in many areas to get this practice started.

Dwaine Binford, district conservationist for the SCS at Post, said farmers in the local Garza Soil and Water Conservation District who use conservation tillage can eliminate as many as four tractor trips to produce a crop.

Binford also said more research is needed to learn how to use conservation tillage under all soil and climatic conditions.

There are several conservation tillage systems available to farmers regardless of their crop. The foundation for the practice, however, is to leave crop residues on the surface of the soil, and eliminate

Humanitarian award to Short

LUBBOCK — State Senator E. L. Short was caught by surprise Friday night when he was presented the "Lubbock Humanitarian of the Year Award" by the Lubbock Humane Society.

The presentation was made by John Davenport, General Counsel for the Texas Humane Information Network and president of the Texas Human Federation at the ninth annual meeting and awards presentation of the Lubbock Humane Society in Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

Short successfully sponsored legislation in the last session of the Texas Legislature which would give authority for humane societies and pet shelters to purchase denatured sodium pentobarbital for the purpose of destroying injured, sick, homeless, or unwanted animals. Short noted that the legislation was important not only to humane societies, but to small communities who could not always afford to pay veterinarians to kill unwanted and homeless animals.

Short said, "This legislation will put an end to the cruelty of placing animals in a garage and killing them through carbon monoxide poisoning."

plowing and other soil preparation steps. Growers interested in conservation tillage systems are advised to consult with their local Soil Conservation Service office and with other farmers in the area who have adopted the practice.

Wild creatures

An amorous bird thought to be extinct made news by reappearing in the mountains of New Guinea. Ornithologist Jared Diamond first heard a birdcall that sounded like "someone shoveling gravel," then spied a bird that more than a dozen expeditions had failed to find since the turn of the century — a yellow-fronted gardener bowerbird.

Courting a female perched nearby, the rare bird had built a four-foot-high bower of sticks and fronds in the shape of a maypole around a sapling. Stacked in the bower were three piles of brightly-colored fruit. To express his ardor, the orange-crested male held a bright blue fruit in his bill, pointing it toward the female.

The 20-minute wooing ended sadly for the bower builder. The female, apparently unimpressed, flew away. A Yale biologist called the bowerbird's behavior "without parallel in the animal world." But Dr. Diamond saw some parallels between the exotic birds and domestic playboys with expensive pads and vans.

"The males with the duller plumage build the fanciest bowers," he said. "It's like the dull young man with a fancy sports car..."

Record is set in cotton sampling

About 209,000 Smith-Doxey samples were classed at Lubbock during the week ended January 21. This brought the season's total to a record 1,930,000, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office. The previous record for one season's classing total at one office was 1,805,000 set in 1962, also at Lubbock. Last season's combined classing total at Lubbock, Brownfield and Levelland amounted to 1,614,000.

About 16 percent was grade 42, 43 percent was grade 52, and 22 percent was grade 53. About 87 percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

Staples were 11 percent staple 29, 35 percent staple 30, 37 percent staple 31 and 11 percent staple 32 for an average of 30.5 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Scanning Social Security

By JIM LATIMER

Readers will be interested in the many changes in the Social Security Law of 1981. These changes are outlined below:

The first month of entitlement has been changed to the month after the month of application or the first full month of age eligibility unless attainment was on the first day of the month of application or earlier. This means that a person cannot be entitled for the month he is age 62 unless the applicant was age 62 or older the first day of the month he applied.

The lump sum death payment can no longer be paid to anyone except a wife who was living with the deceased or a child of the deceased who was receiving a check the month of death. Termination of benefits to a pre-retirement spouse when the youngest child attains age 16.

Broaden offset base of disability — This means that persons now age 62 through age 64 will have their disability benefits offset against Workmen's Compensation past age 62 as it was in the old law.

Repeal of the Supplemental Medical Insurance open season — this means we now return to open season only in January, February and March each year.

Repeal of age 70 as the age to draw benefits without regard to earnings — this means that age 72 to draw without regard to the amount of earnings is reinstated through 1982. Under the 1981 law, anyone age 70 in 1983 will be exempt from all earnings.

Elimination of the minimum benefit amount for everyone not eligible before Dec. 31, 1981.

This means that all persons applying in 1982 or later will have benefits figured on the actual yield without a floor of the minimum benefit.

Everyone who has questions about these or any other subject may call and get answers at 1-800-392-1603 or applications for any kind of social security benefit may call 806-762-7385.

You have much to be thankful for in 1981, so why not be thankful?

Frosh girls lead at half

Coach Sonja Curry's Post freshman girls team led Slaton's frosh 27 to 22 at halftime intermission at Slaton Monday night before going down to a 49 to 41 district defeat.

The two teams battled even, 14 all, in the first period with Post outshooting Slaton 13 to 8 in the second period. Post managed only four points in the third period as Slaton moved ahead to the victory.

Roxanne McClellan led Post with 12 points. Patricia Price added eight, and Channa Williams six.

The Post frosh will play Frenship at Frenship Monday night in their next district start.

Log Homes Harness Solar Energy

A new solar log home, combining some of the most efficient living techniques of the 1980s and 1780s, has been developed by Lincoln Logs Ltd., nationally-distributed housing innovator.

The Salem can virtually eliminate costs of heating and cooling. Do-it-yourselfers and/or builders can erect the weathertight shell within two weeks.

For a free booklet on solar home living, including do-it-yourself plans, write to Lincoln Logs Ltd., Gristmill Road, Chestertown, New York 12817.

WATCH YOUR ENERGY

WANT TO BE ENERGY EFFICIENT? HERE ARE TWO SUGGESTIONS FOR YOU.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE, AS WELL AS TO USE ENERGY EFFICIENTLY, NEVER LEAVE AN IRON ON ALONE. IF YOU MUST STOP IRONING TO ANSWER THE PHONE, THE DOOR, OR A FAMILY MEMBER, SHUT THE APPLIANCE OFF.

IF YOU HAVE A FOOD DISPOSER, RUN IT WITH COLD WATER, NOT HOT. COLD WATER SOLIDIFIES GREASE SO IT CAN BE GRIND UP AND FLUSHED AWAY, MAKING THE APPLIANCE WORK BETTER. THESE TIPS ARE FROM THE NATIONAL ENERGY WATCH-AN ENERGY EFFICIENCY PROGRAM FROM THE ELECTRIC UTILITY INDUSTRY.

8th boys in Slaton loss

Slaton's eighth grade boy cagers edged Coach Fred Postell's Post eighth graders at Slaton Monday night 27 to 22.

The host club maintained a small margin at each of the quarter posts, leading 7-5 at the end of the first, 12-9 at the half, and 21-16 at the end of three.

Joel Kirkpatrick and Tracy Price with six points each led the Post scoring with Danny Foster adding five, David Shults three and Greg Storie two.

The club is now 8-5 for the season and 3-3 in district play.

The eighth graders will next play Frenship here Monday night.

By Norm

Hello again!

One more feeble attempt to start the ole column up again with a new name change and lost of exciting news?????

The reason for the fall and decline of the ole Teen Scene is no input by the local youngsters, but after repeated requests, here goes nothing!!!!

This first attempt is to let all the youngsters who are Youth Center age (8th grade through high school) know that exciting things are being planned for the youth center within the next two weeks.

The Community Center board met last week and decided to have two TVs put in the Youth Center with the Atari games. Now you can save all those quarters you've been putting into those electronic monsters and come to the Youth Center and play for free.

Hopefully by next Saturday night (not this one, but next Saturday) they will be installed and ready for play.

Congrats to the Junior and Senior classes for their plays presented Monday night. Well done gang and the costumes were great!

HOW TO BE A GOOD COOK

Make A Quick Dip To Go With Nibbles

Chicken nibbles make great party food especially with a tasty dip. They're just the right size for dunking and nibbling.

Just take a box of Swanson Fried Chicken Nibbles from the freezer and while they're heating gently mash and combine ingredients for a Mexican Dip.

GUACAMOLE DIP

- 1 medium avocado, peeled and mashed
- 1 small tomato, peeled and chopped
- 2 tbsp. finely chopped green chilies
- 1 tbsp. finely chopped onion
- 1 tbsp. sour cream
- 1/8 tsp. coriander
- 1/8 tsp. salt

In bowl, combine ingredients. Serve as a dip. Makes about 1 cup.

FACTS & FIGURES

What are some of the sounds you encounter in daily life? And how loud are they? Conversational speech, a good example, is 60 decibels. A vacuum cleaner in a living room at ten feet is 69 decibels. A general aviation piston airplane is 68 decibels. Your home lawnmower? That's 98 decibels.

Sounds from many of our general aviation aircraft are becoming quieter. Experts at National Business Aircraft Association report that much is also being done by both pilots and airports so that areas near airports are being made quieter.

The aviation industry is regularly introducing new, quieter aircraft which results in a further reduction in the day/night noise levels around airports being served by these aircraft. This is particularly true of business jets. There are about 2,000 business jets in America today. It is estimated that noise levels attributable to these aircraft will decrease some five to six decibels every ten years.

Senior Citizens News

Garza County Senior Citizens are really having a lot of fun and enjoying fellowship with one another. We did not get any news in the paper last week because I was sick and missed work several days. Sure missed you all. We have been having really good attendance even during the snow. We have several sick folks that we know and some we don't, but prayers are with you all. Thanks Mama Inez and all for taking charge while I was sick.

Mr. Moore has requested prayers for his 14-year-old grandson that has already had one surgery and has to have two more. The next two he will have, he will be in surgery for 10 hours, so let's remember this family in our prayers.

We would like to get some more activities going at the center, so how about coming up with some suggestions and lets get involved. We would appreciate any ideas you might have, this is your center.

Our choir invites anyone who would like to join us in our singing to please feel free to do so. We would appreciate having more. We really enjoy singing, because we all love our Lord and Saviour.

We go to our local nursing homes at least once a week and then we sing at our local churches. The people at the nursing homes sure enjoy this and we look forward to going. We receive a blessing from this ourselves.

Don't forget we have blood pressure check every first and fourth Tuesday, and first and third Thursday. Also the hearing aid services are twice monthly. Randy Bracken will be here this coming Thursday (today). He is with Beltone.

Hey Senior Citizens, the Mini bus runs five days a week, Monday through Friday until 4 p.m. so if you need the buss call 2998. It goes to Lubbock on Tuesday for medical appointments and other things, so if you need to go to a doctor, make your appointments on Tuesdays.

There is a possibility we will be having a musical Friday, Feb. 19. We will know for sure later.

Our choir practices are on Tuesday night of each week. Our prayers are with Marion Mathews on the loss of his dad.

We invite you to come by and look at our queen size comforter and buy a chance on it.

Ladies don't forget exercises each day at 9 a.m. Joan and my mother had her 77th birthday, Jan. 11. If you don't know, she is Granny Holly.

Thanks Mary Ann Hart for the vacuum cleaner.

Birth....

Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Castillo announce the birth of a boy born January 21, at 1:30 p.m. weighing 8 lbs. 5 3/4 oz. The family lives in Spur.

Big peanut vote under way here

The Garza County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is conducting a peanut referendum Jan. 25 through 29 for farmers to vote on poundage quotas.

The peanut price support program limits the number of pounds of quota peanuts that can be marketed for domestic edible use through poundage quotas. New peanut legislation set the 1982 peanut poundage quotas at 1.2 million tons.

ASCS official, Victor Ashley says if marketing quotas are approved, farmers will be eligible for price support loans on their 1982, 1983, 1984, and 1985 crops. Penalties will also be assessed on marketings for domestic edible use in excess of a farm's poundage quota. If farmers do not approve quotas, there will be no penalties and no price support.

The Agriculture and Food Act for 1981 eliminates acreage allotments and allows farmers to grow peanuts without production restraint. Ashley says the minimum price support level for additional peanuts will be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture and announced by February 15th.

Rites held for Guy Mathews

Funeral services for Guy Mathews, 86, of Lubbock, and father of Marion Mathews of Post, were held at 3 p.m. Friday, in Central Baptist Church in Lubbock, with Dr. John Adams and the Rev. Jack Welch, both of Central Baptist, officiating.

Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Resthaven Funeral Home.

He died at 11 p.m. Jan. 20 at Quaker Villa Nursing Home. He was under a doctor's care.

A Montcalm native, he married Almazelle Monroe on Sept. 30, 1924, in Littlefield.

Mathews was the first mail carrier and the first deputy sheriff in Morton. A WWI Army veteran, he was also a charter member of the Morton Veteran of Foreign Wars organization and a member of Central Baptist Church. He is also credited with helping to organize Cochran County.

Survivors include his wife of Tahoka; two sons, Marion of Post, and Vaughn of Lubbock; two daughters, Janet Blankenship of Lubbock and Sandra Stringer of Tahoka; two sisters, Mae Hanna of Dallas and Catherine Howard of Phoenix, Ariz.; 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

EMTs provide 4-way instruction

Post Emergency Medical Service and seven of the EMTs conducted a seminar from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 17 at C & C Well Service.

Twenty people were instructed in CPR, Obstructed Airways, Shock and First Aid.

Those conducting the class were EMTs Kay Hays, Margie Pennell, Cindy Johnson, John Redman, Bonnie Medlin, Ronnie Ammons and Jim Jackson.

Luann Kennedy on WTC dean's list

SNYDER — Luann Kennedy of Post has been named to the Dean's List at Western Texas College for the 1981 fall semester.

Students who have been enrolled for at least 12 hours of college credit work during the semester and have earned a grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale are eligible for the Dean's List.

Miss Kennedy is a member of the WTC women's basketball squad.

Stuart Price is on Dean's List

LUBBOCK — Stuart Price, a senior secondary education major from Post, Texas, is among the 163 students making the Dean's List for the fall semester at Lubbock Christian College. He has a cumulative grade point of 3.07 after making a 3.60 this fall.

Price is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Price. He was a 1978 graduate of Post High School.

LUBBOCK — The perennial fight for more equitable loan program discounts on Texas High Plains cotton qualities already is heating up for 1982 as preparations are made for moving to a new battleground, say officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

For more than two decades PCG has confronted USDA with facts and figures to prove that micronaire, grade and staple discounts in the government loan schedule consistently discriminate against West Texas and Oklahoma cottons.

"And since discounts, especially those applied to low micronaire cottons, almost every year have been lower than they would have been without our efforts," states PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "we have been well rewarded. But, "he continues, "we can't say we've 'won the war' because discounts still reflect values for our cotton well below actual market prices and relative demand."

In the past PCG has argued its case one-on-one with USDA against the opposing views of other interest groups and other cotton producing areas. The results, Johnson says, have always been a compromise that afforded some relief to the High Plains but always fell short of rendering true justice.

In 1982 the debate will move to a "study committee" established by the Agriculture and Food Act of 1981. Tilting for their respective special interests in committee meetings will be two producer representatives from each of the four major U. S. cotton producing areas and one representative each from the merchant and textile manufacturing sectors. They are to be appointed, along with an alternate for each, by the Secretary of Agriculture.

From the Texas-Oklahoma region, the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations and the Texas Farm Bureau have joined PCG in submitting to USDA a single slate of four people to serve as committee members and alternates.

Lloyd Cline of Lamesa and current PCG President Gary Ivey of Ralls have been nominated to represent the High Plains as member and alternate, respectively. Wiley Felty of Altus, Oklahoma, and A. D.

May of Rule, in the Rolling Plains, were nominated to represent those areas as member and alternate.

"These people have the background, the knowledge and the ability to speak for the short staple cottons," Johnsons tates, "and while actual appointments are yet to be made, we will be disappointed and a little surprised if the Secretary does not agree to our selections."

YOU CAN BE OF GOOD CHEER WITH THE ABC METHOD

The initials ABC stand for many things, but for our purpose here, they mean Always Be Cheerful. This is good advice to follow to the letter; although it can require a great deal of self-discipline in the face of sorrow, disappointment, discouragement and all the other dark clouds of human emotion. However, when you realize that we have just so much time given to us on earth, you will undoubtedly decide that you want to spend your days as cheerfully as possible. With the ABC method, you will learn to overlook minor irritations and develop a brighter outlook on life that will extend to others. Along with regular attendance at your House of Worship, this will assure you the true happiness that comes from within. It's as easy as ABC.

Cheerfulness keeps up a kind of daylight in the mind, and fills it with a steady and perpetual serenity.

— Joseph Addison

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Lopes whip Cooper, now 2nd in district

Girls beaten, drop to 2-2

Coach Dwayne Osborne's Post Antelopes and Coach Sonja Curry's Lady Lopes will journey to Frenship Friday night to complete the first half of the district cage season with the Lopes scrambling for second place following their road triumph at Cooper Tuesday night.

Led by Bill Black's 20-point shooting, the Lopes bounced the Pirates 56 to 51 to up their district record to 31 behind Slaton's 4-0.

The young Lady Lopes bowed at Cooper, 71 to 44, but played the district leaders a strong game through the first half trailing only 33 to 27 at the intermission.

The loss to Cooper, which defeated Slaton in their first meeting, dropped Coach Curry's club to 2-2 in district play.

Both clubs are playing an unusual district schedule this year with four of the five district foes played on the road in the first half.

That gave the home floor advantage to their opponents most of the way. But with that tough first half behind them by the end of the week, the Lopes and Lady Lopes will play four of their last five games at home in the second half.

That gives the two teams a chance to finish with a rush, seeing how well they have done on the road to date.

The Lopes and Lady Lopes will open that second half here Tuesday night against Roosevelt with Slaton coming up on Friday, Feb. 5.

Against Cooper, the Lopes jumped into an 11-6 first period lead, were ahead 27 to 26 at halftime intermission and went into the final period in front by three, 39 to 36.

Black had nine field goals and two frees, getting 15 of those points in the first half and nine of Post's 11 first quarter points.

Will Kirkpatrick popped in 14. Irvin Price had eight, Melvin Wynne seven, Milton Williams five and James Lee two.

Forty-two fouls were whistled against the two teams, 20 of them on the Lopes with Kirkpatrick, Lee and Black fouling out and Williams finishing with four.

In the girls' varsity game, Slaton whips seventh girls

Kim Smith was the Post seventh grade girls offense here Monday night, scoring the only four points for the host team, as the Slaton girls took an easy 22 to 4 victory.

Kim got her fielder and two frees in the second quarter. The Post girls were shut out in the first, third, and fourth periods.

Slaton jumped into a 15-4 halftime lead but only got seven more in the second.

The Post girls' next start will be at Frenship Monday night.

Lady Lopes whip Tahoka, 63-36

Coach Sonja Curry's Lady Lopes romped to a 63 to 36 district win over Tahoka's girls here Friday night with four players scoring in double figures.

The Lady Lopes also came through with their best effort of the season at the free throw line, hitting 23 charity losses and missing only 10 for a 72 percent conversion rate.

Post jumped into a 12-4 first period lead and increased their advantage to 25 to 14 at the half.

The Lady Lopes out shot the visitors 15 to 12 in the third and by a big 21 to 10 margin in the fourth.

Doris Pringler led the scoring with 14 points, closely followed by Jean Price and Denise Smith with 12 each and Darla Jackson with 11. Other scoring was seven by Tina Greene, three by Cindee Jackson, and two each by Rhonda Storie and Trushell Marts.

It was the second district win in three starts for the Lady Lopes.

The Lady Lopes couldn't find the range in the second half, scoring but nine points in the third period and eight in the fourth after getting 27 in the first half.

Jean Price led the Post scoring with 15 points, while Doris Pringler, the team's leading scorer over the season, was held to ten.

Trushell Marts added six points, Denise Smith and Darla Jackson four apiece, Tina Greene three and Kim Carlisle two. The Lady Lopes again were on target at the free throw line, converting 12 of 14 chances.

Cooper is now 21-2 for the season and 4-0 in district play, compared to Slaton's 15-13 and 2-2. Slaton punished Tahoka 78 to 17 Tuesday night at Slaton. The Slaton boys maintained their unbeaten district record with 69 to 44 thumping of Tahoka.

streak in which they scored only six points.

That enabled the visitors to take a 40 to 38 advantage into the final period.

The Lopes didn't get to the line much in the first three periods, making four of five attempts. All told they canned 16 of 23 from the line for a 70 percent conversion percentage that provided the winning margin and helped overcome a 23 to 20 advantage in field goal shooting by the Bulldogs.

Post got double-figure shooting from three of its starters. Will Kirkpatrick led the way with 15 points, Irvin Price added 12 and James Lee had 11.

Bill Black added eight, and Milton Williams and Melvin Wynne five each.

The Lopes led 16 to 12 at the end of the first and 32 to 29 at the intermission, but suffered a third period cold

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As if the state didn't have enough problems trying to defend its new redistricting plans from a barrage of court challenges, the Legislative Redistricting Board now has had to reconvene to correct a clerical error in the plan it adopted for reapportioning the State Senate.

Meeting over the objection of Comptroller Bob Bullock, one of five state officials on the LRB, the board adopted an order correcting a flaw that was discovered in the redistricting plan for Williamson County. Under the plan, Williamson County is split between the senatorial districts represented by Democratic Sens. Kent Caperton of Bryan and John Wilson of LaGrange. The error, which involved seven "enumeration districts," created two areas that were non-contiguous with their intended districts, and Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the mistake could have disenfranchised the residents of those areas.

Bullock claimed the board had no authority to act in the matter because it had dissolved itself after adopting the plan in October, but the other members adopted the correction anyway. Attorney General Mark White said the action would at least show the board's intent if the matter is brought up in court.

Political Races

While state officials were bickering over the redistricting plan, many of the state's political hopefuls were practically lining up to announce their campaign intentions.

Leading the group was U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen who came to Austin to announce that he will seek a third term.

Bentsen opened his campaign by blasting his two Republican opponents—U.S. Rep. Jim Collins of Dallas and State Sen. Walter Mengden of Houston—for running "nasty" campaigns.

Collins has been tagging Bentsen as a liberal even though a comparison of their voting records has shown that the Democratic senator has voted in favor of Reagan administration policies almost as often as Collins.

"I've always said nice things about Jim Collins," Bentsen said. "He's saying all these bad things about me. I guess we could both be wrong."

Others who have announced their political intentions include Democratic Sen. Jack Ogg of Houston, who is seeking the attorney general's post; Sugar Land Sen. Mike Richards, who will seek the GOP nomination for comptroller; and LaGrange Senator John Wilson, who will seek a second term in his present office despite his battle against lung cancer.

Incumbent Comptroller Bullock lost no time in attacking Richards. He charged the senator with soliciting contributions before naming a campaign chairman. Two Houston representatives also have jumped into the Democratic race for Ogg's present seat.

More Employment Agency Cuts

The Texas Employment Commission has announced that it will have to shut down another dozen of its local job placement offices because of the Reagan Administration budget cuts. After ordering the closure of 59 other offices earlier this month, TEC officials were informed they would lose another $11 million from a budget that has now dropped from $120 million in 1981 to $89 million for 1982.

The office closings have been accompanied by the firing of some 1,300 employees. Even that decision has caused controversy, with two minority members of the Legislature threatening to sue the agency over a policy that the employees with the least seniority be laid off.

State Rep. Paul Moreno of El Paso, chairman of the Mexican American Legislative Caucus, and Democratic Rep. Paul Ragsdale, a black lawmaker from Dallas, say the seniority policy discriminates against minorities and violates the Civil Rights Act and affirmative action programs.

Malpractice Clarification

A recent report in Capital Highlights erroneously identified the Medical Practices Act passed in 1981 as legislation, some medical and insurance experts say it might be unconstitutional because of provisions limiting a doctor's liability for malpractice to $500,000.

The legislation actually in question was a malpractice bill passed by the Legislature in 1977.

Texas Medical Association officials say the constitutionality of the 1981 act has not been questioned.

Former First Lady

Former First Lady Betty Ford made a visit to Austin and was lauded by Gov. Clements for helping push legislation to require alcoholism coverage in group hospitalization insurance policies.

Clements, who signed such legislation into law last year, said Mrs. Ford "turned me on" to the need for alcoholism coverage.

The Texas law says insurers must offer alcoholism coverage as a part of all group health policies, but employers have the right to reject it when buying group policies for their workers.

Mrs. Ford, a recovering alcoholic, has been a strong supporter of legislation to bring alcoholism treatment within the financial reach of the average person.

Blue Cross has received approval from the State Board of Insurance to provide the new coverage in Texas.

Gubernatorial Appointments

Former state senator and long-time Texas Water Commission member Dorsey Hardeman, 79, of San Angelo has resigned from the water panel. Gov. Clements has appointed Lufkin attorney John D. Stover to replace Hardeman.

Hardeman has been a controversial figure in Austin, most recently criticized for conflict of interest in voting for construction of the proposed Stacy Reservoir in West Texas.

Better Breathing Club to meet Feb. 11 in Lubbock

The Better Living, Better Breathing Club, sponsored by the American Lung Association of Texas, meets every second Thursday of the month in Lubbock.

The February meeting on Feb. 11 will be at 7:30 p.m. in Community Hospital's Doctors Dining Area Lounge 5310 University. The new booklet, "Help Yourself to better Breathing," offered by the American Lung Association of Texas, especially for persons with emphysema and chronic bronchitis, will be available at this meeting.

The club's March and April meeting will be held at South Park Hospital, 6610 Quaker Avenue.

Helpful information on lung problems will be given everyone who attends the club meetings.

To those unable to come to the meeting, they may request the booklet by writing or by calling this toll free number, Dial O and ask for Enterprise 86761.

The "Help Yourself to Better Breathing" booklet is chock full of excellent "how to" hints. It's a large-size 24-page booklet illustrated by famous artist Roy Doty. There are first person stories about how people have learned to cope with breathlessness. And specific directions on how to clear breathing passages of mucus.

Exercises for postural drainage and building stamina are illustrated.

Another section of this bright, helpful booklet identifies troublemakers, such as air pollution, extremes of weather, infections, and smoking and how to avoid them.

"Help Your Medicines Help You" describes various medicines and the importance of working closely with a physician. There are spaces within the booklet to write individual directions for taking each medicine.

Breathing aids, such as nebulizers, respirators, oxygen, humidifiers, and vaporizers are described. There is even a section on eating to feel better.

The "Keep Living Your Life" chapter can help people suffering from chronic bronchitis or emphysema lead full, enjoyable lives despite their illness.

Unpaid taxes will draw penalties as of Feb. 1

AUSTIN — An important deadline occurs this month for property owners in Texas.

Kenneth Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, today reminded Texans that local property taxes assessed for 1981 by cities, counties, school districts and special districts must be paid by the end of January.

"Taxes not paid before

February 1 are delinquent and penalty and interest begin to accrue," Graeber said.

The state tax administrator noted that delinquent 1981 taxes will incur a 6 percent penalty and 1 percent interest charge on February 1.

Combined penalty and interest charges will total 9 percent in March, 11 percent in April, 13 percent in May, and 15 percent in June.

Total penalty and interest on delinquent taxes reaches 18 percent in July, 19 percent in August, 20 percent in September, 21 percent in October, 22 percent in November, and 23 percent in December.

If not paid until January 1983, delinquent 1981 property taxes would be subject to a combined 24 percent penalty and interest charge. And, Graeber noted, the interest would continue to increase by 1 percent per month.

In addition, if a taxing jurisdiction or appraisal district has contracted with a delinquent tax attorney, its governing body may add an additional penalty to any tax delinquent on July 1.

The additional penalty may not exceed 15 percent of the taxes, penalty and interest due.

Graeber pointed out that some home rule cities may have different delinquency dates for 1981 taxes. "The Property Tax Code does not affect a city's delinquency date for its 1981 taxes if the city charter or ordinance provides an earlier delinquency date," he said.

He also noted that if a taxing jurisdiction mailed its 1981 tax bills after January 10, the delinquency date is postponed to the first day of the next month that will provide a period of at least 21 days after the date of mailing for payment of taxes before delinquency.

Taxpayers with questions are encouraged to contact local government tax offices.

General Telephone to seek rate hike

SAN ANGELO — Citing a crucial need for increased revenues required to meet customer pressure for a better quality of telephone service and to attract the capital necessary to meet those needs on favorable terms, General Telephone Company of the Southwest President E. L. "Buddy" Langley has announced intentions to file with the Texas Public Utility Commission Jan. 29 for some $110 million in new revenues of which less than $43 million would be recovered through monthly basic local service rates.

The new revenues would increase intrastate revenues less than 24 percent. Langley emphasized monthly basic local service rates were last adjusted almost two years ago equating to less than a 12 percent increase per year. He added that the annual increase compares favorably with annual increases for most other services.

Some $14 million of the request is a result of restructuring prices as mandated by the Federal Communications Commission as it continues deregulation of the telephone industry which must become effective April 1 and Oct. 1, 1982. Another $30 million of the request is proposed for intrastate long-distance service. Approximately $18 million would be received from increased rates for terminal equipment such as telephones and business systems and $6 million for miscellaneous services.

Langley said, "Our industry and company are being called upon to provide a very high quality of telephone service as well as modernize existing facilities and provide new services. We must have the earnings to attract the necessary capital to provide the quality of service required. "The expanding service needs of customers, continued rapid growth, inflation, a changing regulatory environment, the need to modernize facilities, the need for acceptable earnings sufficient to attract investors all contribute to the need for additional revenues," Langley emphasized.

"A high percentage of our Texas service areas are undergoing strong growth. As a result, we have an accelerated demand for telephone service including the rapidly expanding data transmission services. "Unlike other businesses, we have an obligation to serve all customers even though adding new customers to the network costs. We can't delay capital expenditures until interest rates are lower. We are really the victim of inflation, not the cause."

Langley added, "During the test year, our accelerated service improvement and modernization programs involved adding over 1,400 employees, mostly in positions directly affecting service performance. The cost of intrastate construction and modernization program increased over $224 million, 29 percent greater than in 1980. Our maintenance expenditures rose more than 58 percent above 1980's cost of approximately $81 million.

"We are generally meeting or exceeding the Public Utility Commission service standards in most areas, but we also are continually striving to meet individual customer expectation because customer approval is also extremely important to all of us at General Telephone.

"As a result of growth, the need for expanded and improved service and modernization programs, we see significant increases in capital expenditures for the future. In 1982, we will have a 68 percent greater intrastate capital requirement than in 1980. We will invest $265 million in 1982 — that's approximately $726,000 every day of the year.

"This is an aggressive but absolutely necessary program in order to meet customer service needs which calls for a fair rate of return on our investment and appropriate capital recovery if we are to be able to attract the investment dollars needed to complete these programs."

Langley said, "The need to obtain capital to meet customer service requirements is paramount in filing the request. "We must be able to earn at a level which will attract investors in order to provide the quality of service desired by our Texas customers and the commission," he said.

Rank to Speak
Everett "Bud" Rank, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service administrator, will be on the program for the Producer Steering Committee meeting at the National Cotton Council annual meeting February 5 in Dallas.

The agenda also will include reports on the new tax law, boll weevil and pink bollworm eradication developments, and the planting intentions survey. The committee also will finalize its recommendations on price and policy matters to the Industry Practices and Policies Committee which, along with other Council program committees, will meet the following day.

The Council annual meeting is set for February 7-9.

New Pesticides Registered
The Environmental Protection Agency has approved one new insecticide and one new herbicide for use on cotton. The insecticide is "Payoff," a synthetic pyrethroid, and the herbicide is "Goal," a weed killer applied post-emergence to control some hard-to-kill broadleaf weeds. Both products are expected to be available to cotton farmers this year.
