Bob Collier, Monta Moore And Jess Wright Are New Chamber Of Commerce Directors

Bob Collier, Monta Moore and Jess Wright were elected Post Chamber of Commerce directors at the annual banquet Monday night in the City Hall. They will replace James Minor, president, and Dr. Glenn Kahler, whose terms have expired, and A. R. Carr, who has moved to Kermit. Holdover directors are W. S. Land, who was vice president during the past year, S. E. Camp, Lowell Short and Dowe Mayfield. The new board will meet in the near future to elect officers and plan the year's program.

Approximately 75 Post residents attended the banquet for which the Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring was guest speaker. The minister's talk, which was replete with humorous remarks, was an inspirational civic talk based on Philippians 3:14-14: "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Jesus Christ."

Applying the above words of Paul of Tarsus as a criterion for success in any realm, he emphasized them as a guide for the program of a chamber of commerce or other civic organization, stressing these five points:

- (1) Don't be satisfied. Had men been satisfied with ox-carts, there never would have been automobiles. Don't be dissatisfied. Dissatisfaction results in lack of interest in bettering one's self or his community. Be unsatisfied, and on the alert for something better.
- (2) Concentrated power. The talents and efforts of everyone in the community, concentrated in a civic organization has unlimited power, like a fast moving river which removes obstacles in its path. A lazy, slow moving river goes around the obstacles and finally disintegrates and ceases to be a river.
- (3) A forgotten past. Success, achievements and blunders of the past should be forgotten.
- (4) A possible tomorrow. Although yesterday may have

Oil Companies Leasing Lots All Over Post

Widespread leasing of city property to two oil companies, during the past several weeks, draws attention to the possibility of eventual drilling within the city limits, which is known to have oil under some portions.

Approximately 200 leases have been bought from city landowners since December by the Rainbow Oil Company, its representative, Jack Myers, told the Post Dispatch this week.

Morris Spencer, president of the Comanche Oil Corporation, stated this week that his company has leases in approximately 50 per cent of the city, but the corporation as yet has no concrete plans for drilling.

L. E. Ostrom of Kilgore and B. R. Rainwater of Longview of the Rainbow Oil Company have filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill 20 tests in the Post townsite of Garza County. All are 3,200-foot tests, north of present production in the Garza pool, and will require a special hearing since the locations are on small townsite tracts.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson, in answer to a letter from the Post Dispatch, wrote that "in order to drill a well on a town lot in the city of Post, it would be necessary for the operator to get an exception to our spacing rules for the Garza Field." The spacing rule allows only one well to every 20 acres.

All landowners having sold leases will be notified of the Railroad Commission hearing, which probably will be held in about 30 days, according to Carl Webb, attorney for the Rainbow Company.

Spencer told the Post Dispatch that the Comanche operators drilled to the edge of the city limits about two years ago but made no effort to get permission to drill within the city limits, as a city ordinance had been passed against such operation and it was Comanche's belief that the majority of the people at that time did not want oil wells within the city.

Seed Treatment With Chemicals Good Insurance

Nobody can guarantee that your cotton will produce a good crop, but there is a good insurance in chemical seed treatment, according to Lewis Herron, Garza County agricultural agent.

There's often quite a difference in a cotton crop that has been planted with chemically treated seed and a crop that wasn't. Here's the difference. With chemically treated seed, chances are good for better stands and greater yields because the chemicals kill seed-borne germs and protect the seeds against molds and fungi in the soil.

Without seed treatment, it is harder to get a good stand for producing a good crop. Unprotected seed rots easily in the soil before it has a chance to germinate, especially if the ground is too cold or wet for quick germination. Even after the seed germinate, many young seedlings are killed by angular leaf spot, soreskin or bacterial boll rot.

Bad Cotton Disease
One of the worst cotton diseases is angular leaf spot. It often shows up first on the young seed leaves, and during damp weather after seedlings come up, many of them will die unless they were treated with a chemical before planting. This same disease also destroys some of the early buds, and may prevent the growth of early fruiting branches. As the cotton plant grows, the disease shows up as angular spots on the leaves, and also as bacterial boll rot, Herron says.

Brown spots or cankers at the ground level or slightly below on a stem is a good sign of soreskin. Many plants will recover from this disease, but they are often late in developing.

Experiments have shown that seed treatment greatly reduces these troubles and helps to promote more vigorous seedlings, which often can be chopped and cultivated earlier.

In a four-year test by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station with chemical seed treatment, results showed good increases. There was a 25 per cent increase at College Station, a 15 per cent increase at Temple, a 10 per cent increase in the Brazos bottoms near College Station, and a 4 per cent increase in the average yield at Lubbock.

In another test at the Temple Substation, treated seed gave 25 to 30 per cent better stands than untreated seed. At the same time, the plants made greater yields per acre, and had less angular leaf spot. The difference in yields between treated and untreated seed varied from year to year, depending on the amount of disease germs on the seed and the condition of the soil at planting time, Herron says.

Chemicals which have proved effective are cerasan M, common cerasan (2 per cent), new improved cerasan (5 per cent), Dow 9B and spergon.

Directions on the containers should be followed very closely, and the delinted as well as the fuzzy seeds should be treated. It is very important that the seeds

Garza, Kent And Borden Wildcats Are Looking Good

Oil roundup:
The Plymouth Oil Company by last weekend had run a drillstem test to check slight shows at its No. 1 Sims, south-central Garza County wildcat. The tool was open two hours on an unidentified chert formation at 8,221-61 feet. Recovery was 1,400 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 1,500 feet of salt water. The venture was drilling ahead below 8,273 feet in chert.

Wildcat Test Projected
A wildcat test into the Pennsylvanian of north-central Borden County is projected by Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware as its No. 1 Clayton and Johnson, four miles southeast of the H. L. Hunt No. 1-B Clayton and Johnson discovery from the Spraberry-Permian. The drill-site is about seven miles due north of Gail. Starting with rotary tools, it is to make about 8,000 feet of hole.

Eighty Feet Of Pay
More pay section has been found by Seaboard and Pan American Production Company No. 1 Good, southwest Borden County discovery from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian. A drillstem test was run at 7,970-8,000 feet. Gas showed at the surface in three minutes after the tool was open. Mud started flowing at the top in 18 minutes and oil started flowing out in 19 minutes. In seven hours of flowing through a one-half inch bottom hole choke, the well made 137 barrels of oil. There was no water.

More hole is to be made. The venture found the first pay in the Canyon at 7,920-40 feet, where the well flowed 22 barrels of oil in one hour through a one-half inch choke. So far, the prospector has proven 80 feet of pay. It is six miles northwest of the Vealmoor field.

Making New Hole
In northwest Borden County, 11 miles northwest of Gail, Sinclair Prairie Oil Company was making new hole with its No. 1 Sterling Williams. This wildcat was made under 5,892 feet in lime.

Two Deep Wildcats
By last weekend, drilling was continuing at two deep wildcats in Kent County. In the central portion of the county, Hiawatha Oil and Gas Company and M. E. Davis No. 1 Bert Wallace, five miles southeast of Clairmont, was beyond 4,352 feet, penetrating lime and shale. It will go ahead to around 7,000 feet.

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 J. J. Emery, projected to 8,100 feet in northwest Kent County, was past 3,278 feet, drilling in lime and shale. It is about 15 miles southwest of Spur.

There'll Always Be a "Gawker"

"Harry the Hermit," as he's called, came into town last week and, as usual, caused quite a stir. He looks like a cross between Santa Claus and Daniel Boone.

We had a friendly glass of beer together and I asked him, "Don't you ever get annoyed at the way some people laugh and stare as you go by?" "Shucks no," Harry says. "Only while they're laughin' at me, I'm feelin' a mite sorry for them. Imagine—folks so ungrown-up they can't see I'm really just the same as they are underneath."

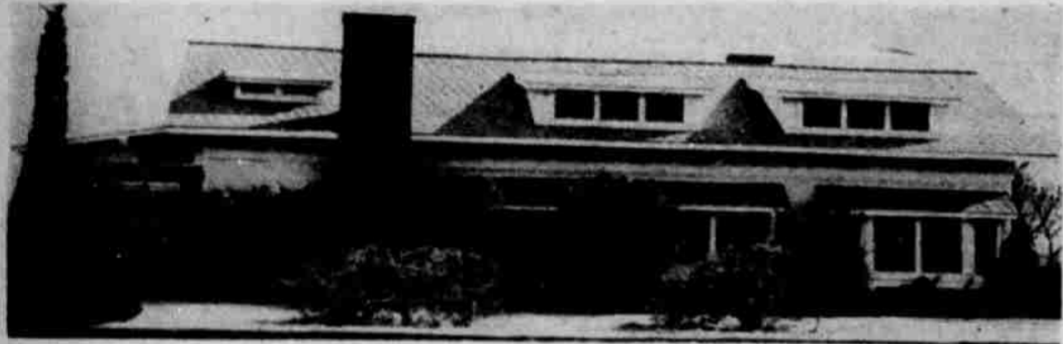

From where I sit, Harry's a lot more "civilized" than the people who make fun of him. He's contented, lives the way he believes is right without harming anyone—and what's more, he's tolerant of others whose tastes in living are different from his.

Maybe we all don't look the same, or act the same, or eat or drink the same, but in a free country, why should we?

Comanche Oil Corporation. O. D. Cardwell discussed plans for promoting the rodeo, which include the promotion of the wearing of rodeo regalia in Post from May 2 until the time of the 1949 rodeo, the third week of May. It is hoped, he said, that everyone will enter into the spirit of this phase of the rodeo publicity.

E. A. Warren discussed plans for the rodeo booster trips on May 16 and 17 and said the committee hopes to use two chartered buses each day.

Ira Greenfield discussed the difficulties of handling the ticket sales, and Phil Boucher discussed the finances of the association, the value of the present rodeo plant and plans for the 1949 rodeo.

Farm Program Can Be Adjusted To County's Needs

"Price supports, production adjustments, when they are needed, and conservation are all part of one program," said Alvin V. McCormack, director of the Agricultural Conservation Program Branch Production and Marketing Administration, at recent meetings of committeemen, according to local ACP officials. "One of the greatest values of the farm program is its flexibility—it can be used to help farmers make needed adjustments to fit the requirements of the country for farm products. We have just been through a period of upward adjustments. Farmers shifted during the war to crops badly needed—now it may be necessary to shift some of the land from these crops to other uses."

Price supports are helping farmers to make these shifts, but McCormack pointed out that prices should only be supported for the quantities of farm products actually needed. Price supports without production adjustments to fit demand could result in burdensome surpluses.

Acreage allotments and marketing quotas, when needed, can be used by farmers to keep from producing more than is required.

Many people believe that when acreage allotments are used, farmers should plant within all of them to be eligible for price support. For a farmer to shift from one crop to another which is in plentiful supply could result in over-production which would hurt the other farmers who usually grow that crop, build up surpluses and cost the Government too much money for price support.

This leads to the thought that the land not used for the allotment crops should, in the interest of both farmers and the nation, be put into the production of crops in short supply and especially to conserving uses. Grass and hay which will help build up depleted livestock numbers, as well as take care of the land are the best things for farmers to raise. Much land not needed for crops should be in permanent cover or trees.

In closing, McCormack stressed the relation of conservation to the adjustment programs and pointed out the opportunity farmers now have to build up their soil, and at the same time more nearly produce in line with consumer needs.

Good Friday Is Not Best Planting Day Every Year

... being late this year, of many things, such as vegetables, flowers and seeds, began several weeks ago. Garza people who plant in the spring hold back special to be planted on Friday, just for tradition's sake. Good Friday planting as Mrs. A. W. Bouchier says, it is that there is a bad spell around Easter which might kill seeds planted weeks earlier, but seeds on Good Friday won't sprout until after the "Easter" and they will be ready as soon as the earth is warm enough throughout the Christian world, Good Friday is a popular day for planting. In many places, particularly in areas where the population is largely Catholic or Episcopalian, there is a religious significance... although far-fetched... to the custom.

Long Days Important
In Garza County, which is largely populated by Protestants who attach little Biblical significance to Easter, Good Friday is merely a good day for planting because it is the first Friday after the full moon in a time of year when the days are lengthening.

Bob Warren, one of Post's most avid vegetable gardeners, plants on good Friday only when Easter comes at the right time of Spring. Easter, of course, can fall as early as March 22 or as late as April 25. The Council of Nicea, in the year 325 A. D., ruled that Easter Sunday would be the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon, or next after, March 21, and that when the full moon happens upon a Sunday (as it did last Sunday), Easter Day shall be the Sunday after.

Neighbor Had Success
Bob plants by the full moon chiefly because his former neighbor, Mrs. Delia Justice, now of Borger, always had such good luck by this method. He has tried this procedure, irregardless of Good Friday, with consistent success for several years. He says that he and Mrs. Justice have observed that certain seeds planted when the days are long grow faster than seeds planted when the days are short.

This method applies only to plants producing fruit above the ground. Potatoes, turnips, etc., should be planted by the dark of the moon, as their fruit is not so dependent upon the extra daylight as they are upon other elements (which have nothing to do with this Good Friday planting yarn.)

Planting by the light of the moon appears to be a common practice among Garza County farmers. The three local drug stores each year give away, for advertising purposes, almanacs showing the length of the days, length of moonlight nights, weather, etc., for each day of the year.

second century after the death of Christ when the Christian churches adopted the word to describe the resurrection of Christ.

The churches of the second and third centuries long disputed the exact date on which the event should be commemorated, those of Jewish descent holding that the Passover should determine the date, and the Gentiles insisting that the day of the crucifixion was the important factor.

Determined By Weeds
After the date was set by the Council of Nicea, the day of the crucifixion became known as Good Friday, the Friday of the Holy Week which had been designated to precede Easter Sunday. While the name is probably supposed to distinguish the day's fortune from the legendary bad luck of all other Fridays, it is more probably derived from a corruption of God's Friday.

Planting on God's Friday, naturally, should bring better results than planting on other Fridays of the year, some superstitious Christians may have believed.

But a quick survey around Post reveals that the majority of the people pay very little attention to Good Friday, particularly in regard to planting. Most of them plant like Marvin Hudman says he plants his seeds every spring:

"After I get my weeds cut."

Mrs. Kate Ramsey Dies On Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Kate Ramsey, a resident of the Grassland Community the past 25 years, were held in the Grassland Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. The Rev. J. E. Stephens officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. E. Peters, pastor. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of the Stanley Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Mrs. Ramsey was born, Kate Mathis, in Shelby County in August, 1872. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since early childhood. She died at her home Saturday morning after suffering a heart attack the preceding Wednesday.

Survivors include two sons, Emmett and Oran Ramsey; a daughter, Miss Maude Ramsey; two grandchildren, and five great grandchildren.

Her husband, Jim Ramsey, preceded her in death by a year and a half.

Pallbearers were Aulvy, Luther and Claude Thomas, Bland Ramsey and Leamon and Buford Mathis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis and daughter, Katherine of Midland, former Post residents, spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Warren.

Ladies Almanac Best

The most popular of these is "The Ladies Birthday Almanac" published by the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Medicine Company (makers of Black-Draught, Cardui, Zyronc Tonic and other medicines). Hamilton's didn't have a copy of this Almanac left by last weekend. A clerk in Coiller's said "All the farmers seem to plant by the signs in this Almanac" and Warren said the Almanac is so good he used it himself.

The Bible, of course, doesn't mention Good Friday as the present-day calendar was not in use until long after the death of Christ. There is only one reference to Easter in the Bible. This is Acts 12:4, which tells of King Herod persecuting the Christians, killing James and imprisoning Peter: "And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people."

From Pagan Source

Easter gets its name from the pagan goddess of spring, Eostra, and Mrs. Bouchier believes the one Biblical reference to it spoke of the turn of the season the same as people today speak of "the first day of spring." In this sense, Easter means the celebration of the resurrection of flowers and plants after a winter's sleep. From this pagan source, she suggests, may have originated the Good Friday tradition of planting.

Good Friday did not take on a religious significance until the

Sundown Defeats PHS In Baseball

The Post High School Boys' Baseball team was defeated by Sundown in a game there Tuesday afternoon, 7-6. Coach Vernon Ray said that 14 boys went to the game and all of them played during the game.

Billy Ramage took the mound the first five innings and during that time struck out eight men, gave up one run and one hit. Roy Wade, southpaw, pitched three innings and Sundown got three runs. Wade had a sore arm and had to give over the twirling job to Jerry Odum who finished the game. Bill Lee Smith caught.

R. E. Josey and Jim Norman paced the batting, with Josey counting three hits and Norman two and a triple.

Volleyball Team Is Loser In Tournament

The Post High School Girls' Volleyball Team lost to Littlefield in the single elimination district tournament held at Levelland Tuesday night. Post won two games out of five.

Morton and O'Donnell were the two top teams in Tuesday night's playoff and they will meet next Tuesday night at Levelland to determine the district winner.

Doubles Team To Go To Lubbock Playoff

J. G. Cash and Bobby Pennington became district winners in the boys' tennis doubles playoff Saturday at O'Donnell. They won over Sundown and Sudan. The local boys will go to the regional meet in Lubbock next week.

Scripture:

Upon the first day of the very early in the morning, came unto the sepulchre, and the spices which they prepared, and certain others whom they found there. And they found the sepulchre empty. And they entered in, and saw the body of the Lord lying there. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed about, behold, two men by them in shining garments, and they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, he is risen: remember how he said unto you when he was yet with you, that the Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and crucified, and the third day rise again, and returned from the dead, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

USE OUR LAY AWAY PLAN

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Government Cart Will Stop If Everybody Is Riding

Washington, D. C.—A friend in Cleveland, E. J. Kulas, calls my attention to the following, written by Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic Party, about 150 years ago! Read it carefully then send it to your Congressman. It should be printed on the fly-leaf of every school book: "I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money." The above statement by Jefferson is just as true today as when he made it, yet President Truman won his election by preaching the very opposite and Governor Dewey did not have the courage to defy Mr. Truman. Both candidates and their fellow travelers ignored the truth and gave the people what, in their ignorance, they wanted. This same thing has happened at various times in history and was the primary cause for the fall of the Grecian, Roman, Teutonic, and other Republics. Can the few honest Congressmen accomplish much now? Yes, without opposing further New Deal measures, they can force legislation to encourage producers. They can work for legislation which will so help manufacturers that they can pay increased taxes. Very few, except those who are close to the White House, realize the tremendous amount of mail which the President gets. Naturally, he can read only one letter out of every thousand; but all are read by someone and tabulated as to whether they condemn or approve the President's policy. They are a kind of daily "Gallup Poll" for the White House. The simple truth is that when President Truman makes an address appealing for more social security, more sick benefits, more unemployment insurance, more farm supports, and even for more taxes, which must go with these increased Government benefits, 90% of these millions of letters approve. The Republicans think that Mr. Truman was elected because the country was prosperous; but that when unemployment comes in 1950 or 1952, the Democrats will be thrown out. It is true that such a rule has usually worked in the past. But, will it work next time? In the past, the existing Administration had no way of helping the unemployed lacking bread, and the farmers threatened by foreclosures. Now, this has all changed. The present Administration, even in an election during a depression, could promise so much more help than the Republicans would promise the old rule might not apply again. The first thing to realize is that the money which is given away in price supports or pensions, must be collected from all the readers of this column. The second thing to realize is that these funds can be taken away from the rich only for a few years. Soon there will be no profits to tax. What then? The answer is very simple. If the unfortunate non-producers are to be supported by the fortunate producers, which is the basis of the New Deal philosophy and has some justification, then production and economy should be encouraged in every possible way by Congress, by Labor Unions, and especially Schools in order to have to tax. The same basic truth Jefferson preached applies and we should teach our children. Some of our few remaining years may hang on to our ever happens to the very different. Only their part, will save the cart or it will stop. pull the cart. My appeal accompanying all New legislation should be special fits to all corporations and individuals engaged in production. Otherwise, "go bust."

GETTING OUT On The LIMB

by EDDIE the EDITOR

Sunday is the day that the local ministers will wish a certain portion of their congregations a Merry Christmas because they won't see the people again until Easter Sunday, 1950.

Whether people who stay away from church 51 Sundays a year and then show up all dressed up at the Easter service go to learn, or merely to be seen, is a matter for conjecture; but it is not a practice to be censured.

I believe most clergymen will agree with me that it is better for people to go to church once a year, than never to go at all; and, for the persons who choose to attend once a year only, Easter Sunday is the best possible time to attend.

This is because the Easter service pertains to the greatest drama ever known, and it illustrates the very basis of our present-day Christian religion:

"It means this, among other things, that for whatever reason God chose to make man as he is . . . limited and suffering and subject to sorrows and death . . . He had the honesty and courage to take His own medicine. He went through the whole of human experience, from the trivial irritations of family life and the cramping restrictions of hard work and lack of money to the worst horrors of pain and humiliation, defeat, despair and death. When He was a man, He played the man. He was born in poverty and died in disgrace and thought it was well worth while."

The above statement, from the stirring article of several years ago, "The Greatest Drama Ever Staged," by Dorothy L. Sayer (daughter of a minister who is best known for her mystery stories), is an excellent explanation of what Easter is all about and why Easter Sunday is the best possible time to attend church, if one is to attend only once a year . . . as many people do, whether right or wrong. Miss Sayer goes on to say:

"The people who hanged Christ never, to do them justice, accused Him of being a bore . . . on the contrary they thought Him too dynamic to be safe. It has been left for later generations to muffle up that shattering personality and surround Him with an atmosphere of tedium."

To those who knew Him, He in no way suggested a milk-and-water person; they objected to him as a dangerous firebrand. True He was tender to the unfortunate, patient with honest inquirers and humble before Heaven; but He insulted respectable clergymen by calling them hypocrites; He referred to King Herod as 'that fox'; He went to parties in disreputable company and was looked upon as a 'gluttonous man and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners'; He showed no proper deference for wealth or social position; when confronted with neat, dialectical traps, He displayed a paradoxical humor that affronted serious-minded people, and He retorted by asking disagreeably searching questions that could not be answered by rule of thumb.

But 'He had a daily beauty in His life that made us ugly' and officialdom felt that established order of things would be more secure without Him. So they did away with God in the name of peace and quietness.

"And the third day He arose again! What are we to make of

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

Last week we published a news item sent by Mrs. W. C. W. Morris, Garza County Farm Bureau secretary, explaining the stand of the American Farm Bureau, The Texas Farm Bureau Federation and the district Farm Bureau organization against socialized medicine.

It is news releases, such as that sent by Mrs. Morris, published in the weekly papers throughout the nation that will prevent socialized medicine, as well as other forms of socialism, from taking hold in this country.

I firmly believe that the proponents of socialism in this country are taking advantage of the alarming fact that the majority of the people don't only know nothing of the dangers, but they don't even know what the word socialism means. I think it is every newspaperman's duty to do his part toward publishing all he can by way of enlightening the general public on the dangers and meaning of socialism.

As I have been trying to do my part in this respect, I felt a small measure of success when Mrs. Morris penned the following footnote on the above-mentioned release, which was addressed to me:

"Keep up the good work in your columns. They are great. You have no idea how they are discussed and how so many agree with you."

Thus inspired, I will have more to say about socialized medicine, and other forms of socialism that threaten us freedom lovers: I'll begin with a clipping that? One thing is certain . . . if He was God and nothing else, His immortality means nothing to us; if He was man and no more, His death is no more important than yours or mine. But if He really was both God and man, then when the man Jesus died, God died too, and when the God Jesus rose from the dead, man rose too, because they were one and the same person.

The church binds us to no theory about the exact composition of Christ's Resurrection body. It may have been made from the same elements as the body that disappeared so strangely from the guarded tomb, but it was not that old, limited, mortal body, though it was recognizably so. Those who saw Christ remained persuaded that life was worth living and death a triviality.

"Nobody is compelled to believe a single word of this remarkable story. God (says the church) has created us perfectly free to disbelieve in Him as much as we choose. If we do disbelieve then He and we must take the consequences in a world ruled by cause and effect. If we are not going to believe a thing, it seems desirable that we should first find out, exactly, what we are disbelieving."

The above is an excellent reason for attending church on Easter Sunday.

which Mrs. Morris sent from a column by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation: He says:

"Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, told a Senate Finance Sub-Committee that Texas has no great shortage of doctors. This will be news to a lot of Texas people. I know what you are thinking; but wait, the University President said the young doctors would rather live in the cities, and that the great problem is distribution. And I'm saying that if we don't have distribution, we will have socialized medicine."

Here's how the distribution is in his countries having socialized medicine:

According to Time magazine, Russia has but one dentist for 14,000 people—and Russia marks the ultimate in socialization of all phases of medicine. Britain, which has gone a long way toward complete socialization, has one dentist for each 3271 people. The United States, with its tradition of free medicine, has—on the average—one dentist for each 1885 of the population (Post isn't quite average in this respect, but a number of towns this size in the United States have more than one dentist.)

Various reasons account for this condition. One very obvious one is that, in a country where a bureaucracy runs the show, there is little incentive for men and women to go through the arduous schooling necessary to become a doctor or a dentist. The financial rewards, even for the most brilliant and hard-working, are severely limited by the state. Opportunity for research is small and medical men must deal with masses of forms and other red tape which demand hours that should be given to their patients. And, inevitably, advancement goes not to the most competent, but to those who are best able to curry favor with the political administrators, or who gain seniority through the mere fact of age.

America's standards of health, far superior as they are to those of Russia or England, provided the most persuasive argument for the retention of medical freedom.

And yet there is now a well-oiled Federal program to put American medicine on the skids toward the Russian and European pattern.

Once we get socialized medicine, the government

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

MEN ARE NEGLECTED—Wearing frayed collars and cuffs and toeless socks don't made me so mad, neither do I warm up too much when women folks change their style, but what makes me hotter than the hottest corner in hade is that the style master can't ever make up his mind as to just what he wants our women folks to wear, and we men have to be neglected while our wives are trying to keep the pace.—The Hockley County Herald.

NEED FOUR LANE HIGHWAY—A four-lane highway between Canyon and Amarillo is a necessity, which we hope the State Highway Commission will recognize and correct.

Such a highway would, no doubt, have saved the lives of six persons who were killed last week in a head-on wreck. Two cars crashed in passing vehicles in the outer lanes.

Maybe there was fast driving; maybe a sense of carelessness was involved; no one will ever know just what happened. But six persons lost their lives; persons who the world needs in these days of uncertainty and confusion.—The Canyon News.

WHAT'S THE USE?—Do you know what the number on your automobile license plate is? Every year I try to get one that should be easy to remember but I forget it as soon as it gets on the car and get it mixed up with our telephone number, the street address of our home and the number on the post office box but after glancing at it one time regardless of how complicated it may be and she usually remembers telephone numbers too. What's the use?—The Slaton Slatonite.

HARD TO RESENT—We now read of a college professor who will turn to the socialization of various industries as socialist governments have in other countries.

For instance, there's no trouble in buying a car in Czechoslovakia, where the automobile industry has been nationalized and, like practically all other enterprise, is run by the state. All you have to do is walk into an agency and plunk down the money.

The only catch is the price. The available car, a two-door sedan, costs more than 415,000 crowns, which is about $8,300. That sum represents 80 months of the average Czechoslovakian worker's pay. The car, according to the Associated Press, is "considerably smaller than the 1933 Chevrolet."

attacks advertising. He says he resents "being pestered to death by advertising twaddle—as do millions of Americans."

Perhaps the professor wouldn't mind paying the higher prices and standing for the inconvenience of unstandardized goods if he didn't have advertising to guide him and to develop the mass, low-cost market Americans enjoy even in inflationary times.

Maybe he would . . . But we'll bet the "millions of Americans" wouldn't.—The Publisher's Auxiliary.

Ready-to-eat foods such as canned soups, prepared cereals, desserts, breads, cookies and salad dressings are more expensive than those prepared at home. Keep food costs down by fixing these items in the home kitchen.

Do you tell time by Baby?

At his feeding times, yes. He sounds off on the dot when a meal's due. But the rest of your day, you're wise to depend on electric clocks. With a baby in the house, it's surprising how much you depend on electric service—to prepare and refrigerate his food, heat water for his bath and laundry, wash his clothes, and so on. Of course, you depend on electricity to help take the work out of your household too. Always ready, it lends a willing hand with heavy chores, provides comfort, ease and even entertainment. And best of all, you can depend on its economy—for what other item in your budget does so much for so little? Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—are continually using their technical skill and practical experience to keep electricity the biggest bargain in that budget of yours. You can depend on that too!

Grand Opening Of Williams Grocery Announced Today

The Tom Williams Red and White Grocery, which opened for business early this week in a new, modern building across the street from Post High School, is announcing a Grand Opening Sale for this weekend. Some of the bargains, in observance of the event, are listed in an advertisement elsewhere in today's paper.

Williams, who recently built the new home for his store, has been in the grocery business for a number of years in the Close City Community. The new building is designed for a modern neighborhood business which also will serve the rural trade.

The store is equipped with entirely new fixtures, which include a malt fountain, compartments for fancy ice creams and sandwiches for the school crowd and a modern, sanitary meat department.

The building has a plate glass front and is illuminated with fluorescent lights.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are inviting the general public to call at the store at any time and to take advantage of the Grand Opening Sale.

Gas Co. Extends Service In Post

The West Texas Gas Company yesterday completed an extension of approximately 1,600 feet on the gas main in northwest and southwest Post, and is expecting to begin an extension of about 2,000 more feet in the near future, Dick Woods, local manager, said. The extensions have been arranged to serve new consumers.

Mrs. Gerudine Wells and daughter, Peggy, spent the week end in Lubbock.

Plans Of 1946 Chamber Of Commerce Program Seen

Chamber of Commerce has meant to that it can do in the future. It is summarized briefly in the following remarks which W. J. Brant, master of ceremonies at the annual Post Chamber banquet in the City Hall:

Improvement is somewhat to be expected in a period of years, but a constant boost to your Chamber of present Chamber of Commerce has been reorganized in the past several years of activity, the board of directors among the things for civic improvement: (1) expanded water systems; (2) a swimming pool; (3) street lighting.

Materializing
Now, the water and sewer expansion program is a reality, and the pool at Camp Post is completed and will be in operation in the latter part of next year. Plans have been made for additional street lighting, mercury vapor lighting in downtown Post and the dark, dangerous residential districts in all probability.

will be a reality by the time of next year's Chamber of Commerce banquet.

On these projects, the chamber of commerce directors, city officials, local merchants and interested individuals have spent many hours of time, travel and money. In addition, the chamber of commerce has supported proposed road projects for the county, your secretary having made several trips to Austin hearings with county officials. By early summer, you will see the fruits of these efforts—in the beginning of the building of a new bridge on the Rails highway and completion of the unpaved portion of that highway—and you will see the paving of a link above the Caprock between the Lubbock highway and Wilson. Judge J. Lee Bowen and his county commissioners have been several years promoting these paving projects—along with some others that may be realized within a year or two. I am sure that the citizens of this community are most grateful to them and are proud of the success they have had so far.

Boosted Agriculture
The Chamber of Commerce has supported the annual Fall 4-H Show and the annual Spring 4-H calf show each year, and sponsored an agricultural exhibit at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair each fall. The Garza County exhibit won fifth place at the fair in 1946, second place in 1947 and fifth place in 1948. This was in competition with agricultural booths from 15 other South Plains Counties.

The Chamber of Commerce has assisted with the annual spring rodeo and last year it assisted the 4-H boys and girls in sponsoring their first annual junior championship rodeo... which brought national publicity to Post.

For the third consecutive year, the Post Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring one of the most active Cub Scout Packs in the South Plains Area, and it is the Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the boys' club that V. F. Bingham directed last summer.

Hopes For 1949-50
The foremost needs in the community at the present time are believed to be: (1) a new grade school building; (2) a hospital, and (3) a youth center.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to cooperate in every way possible with the school board in promoting a new grade school building.

The Chamber of Commerce has been working for some time on the hospital project and—like the water and sewer system—it surely will become a reality whenever the time is right. The Chamber of Commerce will keep a committee working on the hospital possibilities during the coming year.

Everybody Must Help
The American Legion has investigated the possibilities of a playground and youth center and proposed a plan which will require general public support. The Chamber of Commerce will assist in any way practical to complete this project.

The Chamber of Commerce consists of every dues-paying member... and the membership is open to every local resident interested in the improvement and promotion of this community. The board members are the people selected by you each year to do the leg work on these activities. They can be successful only with your support, ideas and cooperation.

DDT Not Safe For Insect Control In Dairy Animal Care

Texas dairymen are warned not to use DDT for insect control. The warning comes from G. G. Gibson, extension dairy husbandman of Texas A&M College, who adds that small amounts of DDT in a food such as milk might prove harmful in time.

And the presence of DDT in milk goes strictly against the grain with the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. So, it's best to use another chemical in the control of dairy cattle insects.

Entomologists recommend methoxychlor or pyrethrum in place of the DDT for dairy cows, and go on to say that DDT is still good for insect control on other livestock, including beef cattle. Dairy animals or livestock being finished for slaughter should not be fed forage treated with DDT or other chemicals in the same class, cautioned the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

It's a different matter when it comes to fly control in and around farm buildings. DDT is all right for this. So is chlor-dane and BHC. But methoxychlor is the one recommended for use around dairy barns where milk is being processed.

Even better than the chemical sprays, Gibson suggests that dairymen get to the bottom of the fly situation with proper clean-up and other sanitation measures.

With a clean dairy, only a small amount of chemicals may be needed, he concluded.

Chicken And Dairy Winners Are Named

Lewis Herron, Garza County agricultural agent, this week announced winners in the Sears Chicken and Dairy Contests conducted among Garza 4-H Boys.

In the dairy contest, Carter Gene White won first place with an essay, and received $150 Jersey heifer purchased from the G. T. Herring herd at Ralls.

Chicken contest winners were Bobby Cowdrey, who received 300 white leghorn baby chicks; Charles Chandler, who received 300 Plymouth rock chicks, and Carrol Davis, who won 300 Rhode Island red chicks.

The winners will keep records on their awards for contest entries, Herron said.

BITS OF NEWS

Mrs. Ethel Casey Holleman of Cincinnati, O., former Post resident, who has been designing fashion frocks for a number of years, has been offered the job of designing Peggy Palmer, ladies' and misses' dresses which are made by the same company that makes the Doris Dodson, junior, dresses sold by Herring's. She is a daughter of A. K. Casey, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Asa Casey who is employed at Herring's.

Among the beautiful blooms around town are the peonies in N. J. Lanotte's attractive flower garden behind his store building.
