Miss Emerson is reputedly a former Texas girl. All I can say is, she has been in New York, too long. I have never heard of a self-respecting Texas girl that would settle for a kiss on the ear, of all things.

I am a rather busy man and really have no time to stop and rub noses, much less kiss on the ear even my lifelong friends. As a matter of fact, I am looking around for someone to invent me an automatic hat tipper.

The kind I have in mind would be worked by electricity. I think an electric positive charge could emanate from the brain, causing the hat to tip while a negative rear section of the head. pulling the hat back on.

Minute Editorial

E. F. Schmedt, local vocational agriculture teacher, has informed the Dispatch to expect some outsiders to come in selling calendars and saying the proceeds go to the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America. According to Mr. Schmedt, their claim is false and they do not represent the FFA in anyway. Post is on a little boom now and crops are looking good, so we can ex-pect all sorts of promoters and salesmen this fall on projects of this sort. Every citizen should demand to see the credentials of such a solicitor and not accept these credentials unless signed by a member of the organization they claim to represent. Such people prey on the public and by misrepresenting themselves take money out of the community that could go elsewhere to better purpose. Magazine subscriptions, Bibles, knicknacks and gewgaws are all grist for their mill. The Post Dispatch wishes to keep the public informed about such people. Anyone who receives information such as that reported by Mr. Schmedt is urged to contact us.

Needless Buying Slowing Down Buying hysteria seems to be subsiding. The presence of plenty has whipped the buying sprees. Except in a few instances there is no use to become alarmed about running out of necessary goods

The Canyon News has not played up the buying spree, simbe of short duration. While the government realizes we have a war on our hands, there seems to be the indication of careful preparation, rather than a speed of needless hysteria.

Those who rushed out and bought a lot of things which they did not need are largely responsible for increased prices. The threat of price control, and roll-backs will probably hold in check further hoarding. Let us hope so, and all determine to buy only those things which we need, as we need them.

It's Great

FROM A STRICTLY LOCAL ANGLE 45-Day Duck Season To Open In Texas Nov. 3

The Executive secretary of he Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in Austin said Saturday that the annual fall waterfowl season in Texas will open Friday, Nov. 3, and probably last 45 days. This is not the date preferred by the commission for the whole state since it voted at its May meeting for a zoning plan to benefit the widely separated north and south parts of the state. It proposed November 10 for the opening date should the zoning suggestion fail.

The Fish and Wildlife service which sets the shooting periods rejected the Texas proposal and then gave the commission the choice of either November 3 or November 17 as the opener for the entire state.

Since liberalized Central Fly way regulations are in prospect slightly higher bag limit on ducks is considered likely. The limit on ducks last year was four per day per hunter and eight in possession. The commission at its July meeting requested that both the daily bag and possession limits be set at eight ducks. It is believed that the limit may be placed at five per day and ten in possession.

The limit on geese has not been indicated. Last year Texas hunters could bag five geese a day but could have no more than five in possession.

At its May meeting, the com mission voted for a zoning sys tem whereby hunters in the Panhandle would be permitted to shoot earlier in conformity with seasons in Oklahoma and New Mexico which frame the extreme northern area of Texas. But the Federal authorities ignored this proposal. The apparent theory was that having two seasons in one state would place an extra burden on the waterfowl since the hunters themselves might become migratory, moving from one part of the state to the other to take advantage of the varied season

In 1949, Texas had a split duck eason of 36 days, dating from Nov. 4 to Nov. 21 for the first half and from Dec. 21 to Jan. for the last half. The executive secretary explained that this arrangement did NOT suit most of the hunters because of the full-month's spread between the shooting periods.

"It's the same old problem." said the executive secretary. "In a state as big as Texas which really covers as much area as the average three states, we have extreme difficulty adjusting our hunting needs to the restrictions applied by the Fish and Wildlife

"An early winter in the north that sends the ducks and geese down sooner could give all Texas hunters a break. Always we must keep the duck's angle in mind. The birds must be safeguarded or else we will have no duck hunting at all."

Indiscriminate Use Of Weed Poison May Be Harmful

More harm than good may resuit from indiscriminate use of 2-4-D weed killers and might even result in damage suits, a Texas Technological college plant expert said today.

Dr. A. W. Young, head of Tech's agronomy department. said under Texas laws persons who spray 2-4-D with powerdriven machines must have a license from the state before they can begin operation. Only handoperated sprayers are exempted from the licensing restriction.

Dr. Young exhibited cotton plants which had leaves with finger-like extensions. He said they were caused by weed-killers which had "backfired" on the growers, particularly the stronger forms like amine and esther 2-4-D.

"Wind can cause droplets of 2-4-D to drift into fields where serious damage can result, although ammonium and sodium compounds are not as potent as some forms," he said.

He suggested that persons planning to use the weed killer write the commissioner of agriculture's office at Austin before they begin operation of the power-driven sprayers.

GAS TAXES GOING UP

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (A)-Twenty-seven states have raised their motor fuel taxes since the end of World War II. The reason, says the American Public Works association, "is the pressing need for funds to bring highways, rural roads and urban streets up to modern standards.'

Local arrangements for the convention were made by Mrs. Fred Gibson, District 6, vice-president; Mrs. L. A. Groene, District 7, vice president; Mrs. Chairman, chairman.

Time Draws Near for Planting Fall Gardens, HD Agent Says

nonstration agent, says.

Turnip greens, mustard, spin-ach and other leafy greens are a must for nutritious fall and winter meals, Beets and onions add to the menu and in some places it is possible to grow green peas, radishes and carrots in the fall garden.

Mrs. Strasner suggests getting the garden plot ready now. In ling cabbage worms, plant lice, some of the drier sections, harlequin bugs, flea beetles, all spring gardens have already dried up and the ground is coved with weeds.

"Before starting to plow the soil for the fall garden." Mrs. Strasner urges, "first cut and remove all the weeds. If they are turned under, they mold and heat, drying out the top soil and preventing thorough cultiva-tion. Plowing under also causes an increase in plant dis-

Summer Measure

The next step Mrs. Strasner strongly recommends is spreading on a coat of "summer manure." Almost every barnlot is covered with a deep layer of trampled manure that has dried out and lost its burning acid content. This substance is largely vegetable material.

After spreading it on, it should be plowed to a depth of four or five inches, then harrowed until it is well mixed into the soil. Being spongy, it will greatly ncrease the holding capacity of the soil. Too, it helps prevent packing.

Commercial fertilizer may be used when the soil is sandy and irrigation is possible if the rainfall is not ample. Three to four pounds should be used per 100 rows. It also stimulates such planting. surviving plants as tomatoes or

When buying seed for the fall garden, it is well to buy onefourth more than is usually bought for spring planting. Seeds germinate poorly at this season and it is necessary plant more to get a stand. Hard-coated seed should they are covered. If Irish potatoes are planted, they come up more readily when covered with damp sacks or straw for several days, then cut up into seed pieces.

Another limiting factor fall gardening is insect pests. Proper insecticides for controlharlequin bugs, flea beetles, all found in fall gardens, are available at local drug stores. Pinto beans and Irish potatoes should be planted right away. Bliss triumph are the most suitable potatoes. Thomas Laxton English peas, scarlet globe radishes, stringless green beans, Danvers half long carrots, Char-leston Wakefield cabbage, Shogoin turnip, green sprouting broccoli, Lucullus Swiss chard, should all be planted in the next month to mature before frost or be able to stand light frost.

Hardy Vegetables
Hardy vegetables that will withstand heavy frost should also be planted by Sept. 20. They include Louisiana sweet collards, dwarf curled kale, white Bermuda onions, rutabagas, shallots and Long Standing Bloomsdale spinach. Mustard can be planted during October and the first few days of November, New York, Los Angeles or tendergreen are good varieties.

Cabbage should be planted in hotbeds and then transplanted. The soil should be broken eight to 10 inches before planting for long, smooth carrots. Overnight soaking insures better germination. Chard seeds should be soaked overnight and treated with organic mercury before Collards do well in the poor est soil, Mrs. Strasner says. They withstand excessive heat and cold. Seed should be treated before planting.

Plant Lettuce Later.

Lettuce can be planted in late fall, because it thrives in cool weather. The leaf kind grows more easily but the head variety is more prized. Leaf lettuce should be planted each two to four weeks during the growing season to insure a good supply.

Mustard insures a supply and treatment of seeds before planting is advisable. Spinach seed may be broadcast or drilled in. It requires a lot of nitrogen. Small plantings shold be made frequently, rather than one large planting.

"Turnips are grown for roots and tops," says Mrs. Strasner "Both may be used if it is properly handled. They thrive better when drilled generously, in

To The Voters Of Precinct 1

I again solicit your vote and influence in the Democratic Primary on Saturday, August 26.

I have tried to contact each voter but realize that I have missed quite a few. so I am asking you to let this be my personal appeal to you for your vote.

I was one of your Commissioners who helped lower the rate of interest on the Court House bonds from 51/2% to 31/4%.

If I am elected your Commissioner, I shall try to cooperate with one and all for the betterment of our county, and for fairness to all concerned.

Sincerely,

Ernest Henderson
