Nearly 20 Inches Of Rainfall Are Recorded So Far

Last Friday night's rain of .54 of an inch brought the total rain fall in Post for 1949 to 19.74 inches. A total of 1.74 inches fell in August, as follows:

Aug. 3, .46; Aug. 8, .34; Aug. 9, .10; Aug. 11, .20; Aug. 19, .10; and Aug. 26, .54.

The heaviest month for rain, so far this year was June, when a total of 6.25 inches fell and the lightest month was February when only .32 of an inch fell.

The total rainfall here in 1948 was only 12.38 inches.

Grain Harvest Is Getting Under Way

Although Garza County's 1949 grain acreage is smaller than usual, the yield seems to be better than average and far better than that of last year.

Some grain has been cut and marketed to date, but the harvest and market season is not expected to reach a climax before about 30 days from now, according to Garza County Agricultural Agent Lewis Herron.

Earl Rogers, grain dealer, said he had bought nearly a carload of grain to date. W. F. Pierce, Post's other grain dealer, could not be found by press time for a statement.

Labor Day Is Not Holiday In Post

Labor Day, which is a holiday in many parts of the nation, will go practically unnoticed here.

Since school opens on Labor Day this year, local merchants feel that it is necessary to keep their stores open that day as a convenience to the students and their parents who need to buy clothing and supplies.

Soil Conservation Awards Presented At Rotary Meet

Tuesday, Sept. 13, has been set as the date for the annual banquet honoring teachers of the Post schools given by the Post Rotary Club in the City Hall.

John H. Taylor, of Spur, conservationist of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, was the speaker at Tuesday's regular Rotary meeting in the City Hall. He spoke in the place of the scheduled speaker, Oscar McGinty of Spur, chairman of the Duck Creek district board of directors, who was unable to attend.

Taylor discussed the awards program, "Save the Soil and Save Texas," offered in soil conservation each year by the Fort (Continued On Back Page Col. 2)

Quarter Horse Show To Be Held In Post On Sept. 10

The first annual Post Quarter Horse Show, sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce, will be held here Sept. 10 in conjunction with the annual Garza County Fair. It is separate, however, from the horse classes in the 4-H department of the fair.

Alvin Davis, who is making arrangements for the show, hopes to engage a well-known quarter horse authority to serve as judge. Lee Byrd will be general superintendent. Other superintendents will be Lewis Nance, mares; Bill Long, stallions and Earl Hodges, geldings.

Horses to be shown do not have to be registered in either of the Quarter Horse Associations, but judging will be done on quarter horse conformation. Classes to be judged are: Halter-mares, class 1, foaled in 1949; class 2, foaled in 1948; class 3, foaled in 1947; class 4, three years old and older; class 5, grand championship mare and reserved champion mare.

Three Owen Family Members Have Polio

Polio has struck three times in the family of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Owen.

The illness of a son, Bill, who was admitted to the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo Aug. 23, has definitely been diagnosed as polio.

On Aug. 24, the Owens' 4-year-old grandson, Harry Owen, of McCamey, was admitted to the same hospital. At last report he was suffering from a type of polio that is more serious than the type which his uncle, Bill, has. Harry is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer (Shorty) Owen. Elmer and Bill are both employed at McCamey.

The third victim of the disease is Elmer Owen, who has a mild case and is not confined to the hospital. He has a room near the hospital, where he is being treated daily.

All three patients, by press time, were getting along as well as could be expected. G. W. Owen said.

S. W. McCrary Is Death Victim On Tuesday Morning

Last rites for Samuel William McCrary were conducted at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. J. E. Stephens officiated, assisted by the Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor, and the Rev. D. W. Reed. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Mr. McCrary, his wife, the former Miss Lillian Abbey Ainsworth whom he married at Gail in 1905, and son, Efford, were living on a farm in Borden County in 1907 when they heard farm workers were needed near Post. In December of that year, he came here alone and took a job with the Double U Company which he held for several years. He brought Mrs. McCrary and son here in a covered wagon Feb. 20, 1908. That night, another son, Leroy, was born. The first year the McCrarys lived here they hauled their groceries and other supplies from Colorado City, but were able to buy their needs in Snyder the next year.

Schools Are Ready To Be Open Monday

Everything is in readiness for the opening of school for the 1949-50 season.

All teachers, with one possible exception, had been engaged by press time. The possible exception concerned a vacancy in the Post Schools which was filled this morning if suitable living quarters for the prospective teacher and his family were obtained.

The Post and Southland teachers have been named in previous issues of the Post Dispatch. Other teachers in Garza County schools were announced last night by County Supt. Dean A. Robinson, as follows:

Pictured here is a portion of the completed sewerage disposal plant which the City of Post recently put into use. Located southeast of the Postex Mills, the plant receives all of the city sewerage and process it. The large Imhoff tank in the center of the picture receives all of the refuse and disintegrates it. The heavier substances, which settle to the bottom, are disintegrated by a bacteria process and the water flows out and down into the creek. The long drying pits beyond the Imhoff tank receive the sludge which will be drained from the tank about twice a year. The sludge, when dry, will be salvaged for fertilizer. In the lower right corner of the picture is a Parschell flume and screen chamber, from which screenings are channeled to the incinerator to be burned along with all gas. The incinerator, not pictured, works automatically. Small square boxes around the Imhoff tank direct the flow of water. The plant was built by the Jim Oliver Construction Co. of Oklahoma City at a cost of $38,000.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Economic Facts Of American Way Of Life Should Be Publicized

Gloucester, Mass.—Most businessmen with whom I talk tell me they are afraid of the monkey business going on in Washington and how it will effect their business.

Recently one tired and frightened company president said "You know, Mr. Babson, America is living in a paradox—in our great land of wealth and plenty, people are unemployed." I replied, "Yes I know. Our unemployed, ill-housed and poorly clothed people are so well off that they are the envy of the rest of the world." For example The Lincoln Electric Company of Cleveland recently distributed upwards of $3,500,000 in incentive payments to 1,097 workers. These payments, made possible only by individual initiative, practically double the income of every worker. By working hard, Lincoln produced more goods at lower prices and everybody benefited.

One hundred seventy-five years of evermore successful free enterprise experiences like this in our country is evidence enough for me that we must be careful not to kill the goose which is laying the golden eggs. Despite all of its inadequacies, we have a system which is the best in the world. The American paradox to me is that our own workers, who have benefited most from the highest standard of living in the world, will not choose as leaders successful businessmen. Labor leaders and theoretical government planners may hold out to them promises of security but at a bare subsistence level. Why do our people act so foolishly?

Where Business Failed
Too many of our business leaders have been phenomenally successful in commercial activities, but miserably failures as public relations men. They have lacked good two-way communication with their employees and with their communities. Business has not sold itself.

The greatest danger to business today is not the spurious "something for nothing" philosophy our government has sold the people. That kind of misin-formation and unsound economics just can't withstand the white-heat of honest facts. Any salesman could demonstrate that such philosophers are liars and their products inferior.

The Time Is Now
Back in 1835 Count de Tocqueville said: "Democracy extends the sphere of individual freedom; socialism restricts it. Democracy attaches all possible value to each man; socialism makes each man an agent. Democracy and socialism have nothing in common except one word, 'equality.' But notice the difference: while democracy seeks equality in liberty, socialism seeks equality in restraint." Any psychologist will tell you that restraint and frustration go hand in hand. When men are restrained, their behavior becomes irresponsible, their characters become weak. The American system of free enterprise enables men to be aggressive, to hold their heads high, to struggle and, through individual initiative, become responsible, productive, and happy citizens.

Our workers are not to blame for their actions when we do not give them the economic facts of life. We shall have to spend millions on constructive advertising and promotional material to teach the plain economic facts of free enterprise. This means educating the press and radio, campaigns in house organs and over public address systems. It means platform appearances in schools and colleges. It means writing simply and distributing widely corporation statements, and a dozen and one similar jobs for a full fledged public relations staff. It means telling the people fully and frankly what free enterprise has done for them. You say you can't afford such a program? I say we can't afford not to put such a program into action—at once!

Hygiene in the garden is as important to vegetables as cleanliness is in the home. Many diseases of vegetables are carried over on the stems, roots or leaves of the plants which have spent themselves in spring production. Such plants should be dug up, and not cut off at the ground level.

Neglected pasture land and overdone crop land may need to be brought back into cultivated condition to control the weeds and re-establish the pasture.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

Some of the suggestions listed in this space last week for next year's Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo were already in the mill before the column was written. I learned the other day.

As soon as the boys and girls get back from their vacations and get settled down to school routine, the Junior Rodeo directors will hold an election of officers, and those elected will begin immediately to book some special stunts for next year's rodeo.

Already, this year's directors have started the ball to rolling. They have begun negotiations which they hope will bring Brown Jug Reynolds (Little Beaver of the movies) and Floyd Tillman (the It Makes No Difference Now man from Post who made good in the dance band world) to next year's show. Floyd will be asked to play for the dances.

Last week's column caused a lot of comment, including a bit of argument here and there; and I gather that my name is "mud" in some quarters.

Nevertheless, as long as I am writing for this paper, I will be promoting with all my heart anything wholesome for the entertainment, education or benefit of the youngsters.

And my interest in putting Post on the map—which is a worthy enough ambition—is secondary to my desire to benefit the young people.

When I took the horn for "glamor" on next year's Junior Rodeo program, I am thinking in terms of "Glamor" bringing money to the youngsters rather than fame to Post.

During the three years that I have worked for the Post Dispatch and handled the publicity for the 4-H activities in the county, my heart has ached for the boys and girls and their county agents who work so diligently each year to put on an exhibit of their farm and garden products, their calf and pig and poultry shows and their prowess in the art and handicraft, cooking and canning.

Our boys and girls win prizes wherever they take their exhibits away from home. We have won district, regional, state and national honors with our 4-H talent, but we can't stage a successful show at home.

We can't stage a decent county fair in Post or Garza County because we have no available space for the purpose. Unless a miracle happens between the time of writing these words and the publication of today's column, this year's county fair will be scattered in stores throughout downtown Post, and in some instances the requested space will be granted reluctantly or denied.

I have written rams of publicity, pleas and hopes regarding the need for a 4-H exhibit building. Before the Junior Rodeo was dreamed up last year, the boys and girls were trying to raise the money through donations and sponsored entertainments. They seemed to get nowhere.

The first Junior Rodeo hardly more than paid expenses. The second Junior Rodeo put a few hundred dollars in the 4-H building fund. Next year's Junior Rodeo—planned and promoted this far in advance—should add enough money to the fund to make the boys and girls secure enough to start the building.

I have no idea what kind of building they expect to build—and they probably won't know themselves until they get enough money to discuss the situation with architects and contractors—but I have a feeling that they can eventually put up a building big enough to serve their every need—including every type of exhibit area a recreation center for the boys and girls and their annual Junior Rodeo visitors from everywhere.

I think it is a credit to Garza County that its youngsters are this ambitious. It assures the citizenship of a good, solid, wholesome future. The merchants here have everything to gain from such ambitions on the part of the young folks.

Things are looking up for the boys and girls, if gradually. It was encouraging news to learn that a vocational agriculture department had been added to the Post High School curriculum, but now that I've seen the teacher, E. F. Schmedt, I am even more encouraged.

Schmedt arrived in town just in time to get swamped with helping the boys with the Junior Rodeo. He worked with them wherever needed and this necessarily postponed his finding living quarters until after the rodeo.

Once that "emergency" had passed, he started helping the county farm agent and GI vocational agricultural instructors fight bollworms, and now he is busy with the beginning of school.

I liked the way he jumped in here and started to work. I hope he will have the cooperation of everybody and not become disillusioned and disheartened like an ambitious person can in a sleepy community.

Some of the most susceptible plants to 2,4-D are: cotton, tomatoes, okra, vine crops such as cucumbers, sweet potatoes; legumes such as blackeye peas, peanuts, snapbeans, fruit trees, grapes, pecan trees and many ornamentals.

Cottage cheese, which is expected to be in plentiful supply this month, is low in calories in relation to its other nutrients and well suited to diets which are nourishing but not fattening.

Galileo invented the pendulum.

ESTABLISHED IN JUNE, 1926
Published Every Thursday at the Dispatch Publishing Company Building in Post, Garza County, Texas.

E. A. WARREN, Publisher-Editor
Entered at the Post Office at Post, Texas, for transmission through the mails as second class matter, according to an Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Minute Editorial

Now comes the most pleasant season of the year—when crisp cool mornings give zest to the sudden realization that vacation's over and there is work to do. The cotton harvest season provides work for everybody; from the laborer who has his choice of all sorts of jobs, to the merchant whose business is rapidly building toward a Christmas climax, to the banker whose tills are doing an annual double duty hitch, to the postman whose duties always pile up with the pace of the season, to the housewife who can't find anybody to help her with her laundry or housecleaning, to the school teachers for whom the term, "summer vacation," is a vanishing Americanism and to the boys and girls, who now are concerned with book learning, music lessons and football. Work is the root of all happiness. Only through work and the subsequent realization of progress and security does one gain the material and spiritual aspects of true happiness. At this time of year, everyone has an opportunity to seek such a Utopia. Those who make the most of it have a Happy Christmas.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

PUT UP OR SHUT UP!—The city of Kaufman could use a new fire truck, could inaugurate a garbage pick-up on its own, spend lots of money on park and cemetery maintenance, extend sewerage lines, pave additional streets, build a swimming pool and do a long list of other things that would be welcomed by the people—if it didn't mean more city taxes.

But we must realize that we are all stockholders and shareholders in the City of Kaufman. Whatever service is rendered—whatever projects are undertaken—whatever needs are met cost money—yours and ours.

Before we make demands upon the city, let's be sure we are willing to pay our share of the expense.—The Kaufman Herald.

LAST BIG LAUGH—Nearly everybody has heard about the pupil who put a tack in the teacher's chair and what happened to the teacher. Not many of us have heard the other side of the story—what happened to the school.

In a neighboring state, the inevitable tack in the chair caused the instructor to close a veterans' training class. The members are aroused and some of them assert the "lockout" is keeping "bread out of babies' mouths."

The class may have laughed heartily when the teacher sat on the tack, but it now appears that the teacher is doing the laughing.—The Canyon News.

ELBOW BENDING—Elbow bending often leads straight to traffic accidents, according to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

One out of every six drivers involved in fatal motor vehicle accidents during 1948 had been drinking, accident reports showed. One out of every four adult pedestrians killed in last year's motor vehicle accidents had been drinking, too.

The yearbook also shows that one out of every eight drivers violating traffic laws were driving while under the influence of alcohol.—The Hamlin Herald.

Garza Gains From Transportation By Motor Industry

The motor transportation industry was responsible for the expenditure of $50,853 in Garza County in 1948 for highways, schools and other governmental functions.

"This was made possible by payment of license fees, motor fuel taxes and intangible tax," said Roy Sanderford of Austin, president of Texas Motor Transportation Association, in releasing a statistical study of the motor transportation industry's share of the cost of state and local government.

Sanderford stated that these figures do not include city and district ad valorem taxes, franchise taxes or unemployment insurance taxes.

paid by motor carriers for the entire state amounted to more than $50,000,000.

Garza County's share of the industry's contribution to government was made up of the following: County portion of registration or license fees (commercial vehicles only), $11,125; state highway construction, $5,270; state highway maintenance, $12,972; county and district road debt paid, $9,776; surplus in road bond fund distributed to county, $4,475; per capita apportion to schools, $6,392; and intangible tax paid to county, $843.

"The above facts and figures prove beyond doubt that the motor transportation industry is paying its full share of the cost of government," Sanderford said.

Millers, Having Defeated Levelland, Ars Looking To Last Regular Game Of Season

Post strengthened its grip on fourth place in the Oil Belt League by turning back Levelland, 7-3, Sunday in the Postex Park. It was the Millers' second defeat of Levelland in the past two weeks.

Sunday's game was witnessed by 350 fans. Windie Greer, entering the game as a relief hurler in the third inning, tossed Post to its 7-3 verdict over Levelland, as the Millers rallied for six runs in the last two frames.

Doug Simpson, Deamos Altman and W. B. Holland each had two hits for Post, while Bill Bogart and Roscoe Gorman collected two safeties apiece for the losing Refiners.

The Millers' next and last regular game of the season will be played with Slaton Sunday afternoon in the Potex Park.

Slaton defeated cellar-dwelling Brownfield, 24-7 last Sunday.

Sundown climaxed a long, uphill struggle Sunday by taking over undisputed possession of first place in the heiter-skeiter Oil Belt League race by trouncing Tahoka, 17-4.

The league's other two front runners, Denver City and Seagraves, split a doubleheader at Denver City the same day. Denver City, which had been leading the loop, won the first game, 9-2; but dropped an 8-6 thriller to the Oilers in the nightcap.

Sunday's results left Sundown one-half game ahead of Denver City, with Seagraves another length back in third position, a game ahead of Post.

The line score:
Levelland . . . 022 001 000—3 8 6
Post . . . 100 000 32x—7 13 3

Gage and Blair; Jones, Greer and W. B. Holland.

Junior Rodeo Films To Be Shown Soon

The Garza Theatre, which last week showed the Fox Movietone movies made at the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo, had not heard by press time when the Paramount and Universal International movies made here can be shown in Post.

The Fox Movietone reel showed about 250 feet, and it is possible that the other two might be longer. J. W. Butler of Abilene, former Post resident who visited here last week, said he saw the film in Abilene and thought it was excellent. He especially liked the shot of 9-year-old Butch Wilson coming out of the chute on a bull.

A cashier at the Garza Theatre said she heard that the Universal movies also are excellent. The films will be shown here in the near future.

Millers May Be In Shaughnessy Playoff Games

Three Post supporters of the Post Millers Baseball Club will attend a meeting of Oil Belt League officials at the Sports Center in Lubbock at 7 o'clock tonight to hear the rulings on the season's protested games and participate in the setting of the Shaughnessy Playoff games.

The Millers are reasonably sure of being in the post-season play-off, but their fourth place position, which would entitle them to the honor, depends upon the outcome of Levelland's protest regarding a recent game with the Millers and the outcome of Sunday's game with Slaton.

The Levelland protest, one of several to be heard in Lubbock tonight, is the only one which could effect the Millers' standing.

The meeting will be attended by Dan Altman, the Millers' field manager; Lee Davis, business manager, and Jim Hundley.

Sunday's game is the last regular game of the season. If players Walter B. Holland and Jess Cornell are on hand, they will have set a record of playing in every game that the Millers have played in 1949, Hundley said.

No Runner the Likes Of Junior Malouf Dims View Of Avalanche Sports Writer

"It looks as though Post may be in a hole this year, if you'll pardon the pun," wrote Choc Hutcheson, Lubbock Avalanche sports writer, in his paper yesterday. His article said:

The Post Antelopes, top Class A football team on the South Plains in 1948, apparently are in for a sharp drop this fall.

A year ago, Coach Francis Bingham's crew won 11 straight games before bowing to powerful Phillips in the state playoff. Over the 12-game route, they scored 233 points while limiting the opposition to 78 markers, sacking up the bi-district championship along the way.

This year, Bingham probably would gladly settle for the District 4-A south half title, for he frankly admits that the 1949 Antelopes won't be as strong as the fine team he turned out last year.

Bingham says his club will be lighter, slower, less experienced, and woefully short on reserve strength. And it won't have a runner the likes of Junior Malouf to spark its attack.

Storie Looks Good

Calvin Storie is the one bright spot in the Post picture. The good-looking, 172-pound guard was one of the area's finest linemen last year, and Antelope boosters predict another great year for him. He is the squad's only returning regular.

Six other lettermen will be back, but they saw only limited service in 1948. Of the letter-winners, four are backs.

Post again will operate from a modified T formation, which means that the team's hopes of success hinge heavily on the performance of Jack Kirkpatrick, 14-year-old sophomore quarterback. Kirkpatrick, who lettered last year, shows great promise and may provide the spark needed to carry Bingham's boys along the rocky road ahead. The youthful quarterback is one of the region's best extra-point kickers, having succeeded in 17 of 20 tries last season. He is also a good passer and fair punter, and will share kicking duties with Roy Wade, letterman fullback.

The 1949 Post line will average 155 pounds per man—nearly 15 pounds to the man lighter than last year's forward wall. The Antelope backfield will hit close to a 140-pound average.

Bingham began workouts this fall with a 34-man squad, but will cut the "A" roster to 28 players before the start of Post's nine-game schedule. Assisting him with coaching duties is Jess Wright, a 1941 graduate of Texas Tech, where Bingham rounded out his collegiate football career during the 1941 season.

The complete Antelope schedule includes: Sept. 9, Ralls here; Sept. 16, Floydada at Floydada; Sept. 23, Seagraves here (Conf.); Sept. 30, open; Oct. 7, O'Donnell at O'Donnell (Conf.); Oct. 14, Tahoka at Tahoka (Conf.); Oct. 21, Snyder at Snyder; Oct. 28, Levelland here; Nov. 4, Crosbyton here; Nov. 11, Slaton here (Conf.).

The 1949 Squad

The Post squad, with respective weights, classifications, and years (if any) as lettermen, includes:

ENDS—Jerry Odom, (130, Sr., 1L); Gordon Carey (160, Jr., 1L); Gene King (140, Jr.); W. O. Flutt (135, Sr.); Carrol Light (160, Fresh.)

TACKLES—Cletus Graves (145 Jr.); David Tyler (140, Soph.); Giles Dalby (145, Soph.); Donald Jones (170, Soph.); Roy Briggs (140, Soph.)

productions. Both are known throughout Texas rodeo circles. The local show features several special acts.

Antelopes Will Scrimmage Spur Again Tonight

The Post Antelope squad was cut to 30 boys last Friday, Coach V. F. Bingham announced. Quite a few of the smaller boys who were out for training were kept on the squad, the boys who were making the best progress having been selected.

The Antelopes "looked fair" in their scrimmage with Spur last Thursday night, the coach said. Spur appears to have a good club this year, he indicated.

The locals will scrimmage with Spur again tonight, at Spur, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Post boys who are looking good to the coach include Gordon Carey at end, Darrell Stone as quarterback, Rex King on offense, Roy Wade and Billy G. Jones on defense, Donald Jones

$2.50 for the season, were set aside. They will be on sale as long as they last, Day said. They may be bought in the high school office.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Supt. G. R. Day and Coaches V. F. Bingham and Jess Wright attended an annual meeting of the South Half of this football district last night in Tahoka.

as guard and Billy Ross Sullivan as tackle.

Much work, however, remains to be done before the Antelopes meet Ralls here in a non-conference game the night of Sept. 9. The Ralls boys have been scrimmaging almost daily with Roscoe, and have had pre-season training at Roscoe where Seminole, Roscoe, Sweetwater and other high school teams have been working out and scrimmaging with each other.

Dr. David H. Templeton, who has been ill at his home for several weeks, was able to be downtown this week.

How to overcome an inferiority complex:

Garza Farmers Invited To Field Day Discussions At Lubbock September 15

Because of the large crowds that attended the annual Field Day at the agricultural experiment station in Lubbock, three Field Days have been set aside this year, the first to be Sept. 9 for Lubbock, Hockley and Castro county farmers; the second on Sept. 15 for Garza, Lynn, Crosby, Lamb and Hale county farmers and the third on Sept. 16 for farmers of other counties of District 2 of the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Garza farmers, unable to attend the Sept. 15 program, will be welcome at either of the other two. County Agricultural Agent Lewis Herron said.

The purpose of having three Field Days is to divide the crowd into smaller groups for more effective instruction. All farmers may bring a sack lunch and remain over for the afternoon discussions which, like the morning demonstrations, will center around field crops.

Farmers will have an opportunity to observe the variety tests of cotton and grain sorghums under dry land and irrigated conditions as well. New storm proof varieties of cotton will be shown and five or six new varieties of grain sorghum that are showing exceptional promise will also be shown.

There will be no display of farm machinery as such; but since farmers are becoming more interested in cotton choppers, there will be two different types exhibited and probably demonstrated. At least farmers will be able to see a block of cotton that has been choppered with a mechanical chopper. A combination rotary and go-devil will be shown, also.

A third discussion will be held on the use of fertilizer and legumes in rotation.

To Study Insects
In order to show the results and value of defoliation of cotton, a small amount will be prepared in advance for observation purposes. In addition, cotton insects and their control will be discussed and cotton showing typical damage from 2,4D will be shown.

The disease known as "Angular Leaf Spot" is coming more and more into prominence and a full discussion of this will be held. Varieties of corn hybrids now growing on the station will be of interest to most farmers of this area.

The possibilities of dew forecasting will be discussed by a representative of the weather bureau.

Operators were reported to be bailing to clean out the hole. No tests have been reported in the San Andres lime, but it is expected that an effort will be made to make a well from that formation. The operation is just south of Post.

Pioneer Post Man Is Written Up As Top West Texan

Samson was featured in the "Top West Texan" in the issue of West Texas Today, which was written by Evelyn Boyd, said, in the Scotchman who came to Lubbock in 1907 and, as a capable postman, was an important factor in the building of the city into a truly outstanding town.

received the Texas Extension Service's standard district award for most outstanding service in 4-H work—a Holland Spurelip with the 4-H clover emblem. The only other man in his district holding this honor is A. B. Davis, veteran Lubbock Chamber of Commerce manager who, like Samson, had devoted many years to the 4-H cause as an unpaid worker.

More and Better Grasses

In the 4-H field, George Samson's major interest at present is grass identification, a subject which he tried unsuccessfully to push 30 years ago. He was penalized for trying to include grasses in his Garza County fair exhibits at the State Fair as far back as 23 years ago. He never quit trying to interest Texans in their native grasses, and he frequently included them in his exhibits for various fairs. People laughed at his stubbornness, but his Garza County exhibits have been consistent first place winners through the years at fairs in Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Abilene, and Dallas.

Now grass identification is the talk of all fairs. It will be included in the Agricultural Division of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair in Lubbock this fall and George Samson will be the superintendent.

The new department will include range grasses and irrigated pasture grasses and, probably, noxious weeds. The fair program also will include grass identification contests for Future Farmers, 4-H youths and adults.

Background

The Scotchman's father, the late John Robinson Samson of Forfar, Scotland, a stone mason by trade, was an amateur gardener and one of the leading showmen in his country. He was a great believer in the type of exhibitions which his son later used to bring fame to Garza County.

When George was an 11-year-old boy in Forfar, he entered his first exhibit in a show. It was on wild grasses. He didn't win anything. He tried again the following year and won first place with his wild grasses.

Next he began showing bouquets of wild flowers—and winning first places. The prizes were not much, usually ribbons, but the honor of winning meant much to the Scotchman, who is somewhat saddened by the present-day commercial aspects of prize winning. He looks upon exhibits for their educational value to the exhibitor, and not as a means of winning a jackpot of money or merchandise.

By the time he was 21 years old, Samson and his wife, and daughter, Jeanne,—now an employe of the Lubbock County Extension Service office—were on their way to a new life in the United States. They first went to Pittsburgh, Pa., where Samson worked for two years then they came to the town of Post, which was just being founded.

A Builder of Post

Samson helped build the brown stone houses and business buildings which made the little town a picturesque place from its beginning. After working endless hours, there was little to do in a social way and he spent his time gathering wild grasses, which he sent to his father.

In those days, it looked like all of West Texas was covered with tall sand drop seed grass, but he found many other varieties. At one time he collected about 60 varieties and had them framed for Walter Roy and the late Jay Slaughter to hang at their respective ranch headquarters in Garza County.

One day recently, Samson and Garza County Agricultural Agent Lewis Herron collected 67 varieties which will be exhibited in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair this fall.

Because of his life-long interest in grass identification and despite the lack of encouragement that he received in the exhibit would, he recognized an ally in the Texas Extension Service and, through the years, has worked closely with the A. and M. specialists in that field. He says he is greatly indebted, too, to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for encouragement and help that it, with the Extension Service, has given him in his work.

Such contacts have caused Dr. Sperry and Dr. Young at Texas A&M College to bring students of their range classes to Garza County each fall for several years to study the varieties of range grass in a county which is half on the plains and half in the breaks.

The grass identification contest which is now sponsored each year in the 4-H Clubs of Texas was suggested to Dr. Young by the Scotchman a number of years ago, and, thru Young's interest and promotion, it became a regular feature of the state's widespread 4-H program.

Away Back When

Garza County was strictly a ranching country at the time it was organized, and it was after some of the land was broken out for cultivation that Samson was called up by the Post Chamber of Commerce to arrange an agricultural exhibit for the South Plains Fair.

The exhibit won the last prize that year. This was enough to inspire Samson to do better the next year—when the Garza County exhibit won second place. After this Samson began showing agricultural exhibits at the State Fair, and it was after the third try that he finally won first place in the state. After that, it was easy. The Scotchman had mastered the art of exhibiting agricultural products.

Samson learned a lot through these exhibition experiences that has helped him in the guiding of 4-H boys and making winners of them. Nine years ago he turned the Garza County exhibiting over to the younger fellows of the Post Chamber of Commerce and started judging the agricultural exhibits in the various fairs of West Texas. In this capacity, he has been in a position to give valuable advice to young exhibitors from all over the South Plains area. Many of these young men, such as Dan Thornton of Hereford breeding fame, have now reached success in agricultural and ranching fields.

During the war when county agricultural agents were scarce, Samson was called upon by District Extension Service Agent W. N. Williamson of Lubbock to keep the Garza County 4-H work going. He did, as his contribution to the war effort, and received no salary. Among the boys who started their 4-H work under his guidance were Alvin Davis, who won the national 4-H award for leadership last year, and Carter Gene White and E. P. Wicker, Jr., who have each won trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

National Recognition

After the war, Samson continued to help and advise the 4-H boys and this summer he accompanied the Garza County 4-H grass identification team to the state Round-Up at College Station. While the boys did not place, they were able to see and admire the respect and recognition which their able leader received from all of the national and state specialists at the conference. Everyone seemed to know the Scotchman.

Samson's interest in the West Texas range problems and his knowledge of grasses brought him an invitation from the United States Department of Agriculture 10 or 12 years ago to make a broadcast over NBC on the subject. He was accompanied to Washington by Walter Roy, who also appeared on the program. This was at the beginning of the nation's awakening to the importance of grasses as seen by the Scotchman when he was 11 years old.

Advising this writer of the Holland Spurelip award which the Extension Service presented to Samson, District Agent Williamson wrote that "Scotty has been a friend to me and to A&M College and particularly the Extension Service. He is considered one of the authorities on West Texas grasses. Everyone in our service, especially the beef cattle man and range specialists, knows and treasures him."

J. W. Potts, assistant Texas Extension Service editor, also wrote a letter of appreciation for the Scotchman. "I have known Scotty since—well, at least 30 years. He is one of the finest characters I have ever known. He has done as much for agriculture in West Texas as any man that I know of. He made a reputation as a showman at fairs all over Texas, and he certainly put Garza County on the map. He has never been too busy to help a friend and this is especially true of the youth.

Model Program

"During the time that I was county agent in Garza County, Scotty and I and the committees that we worked through developed what was considered by many in high positions to be the best range program in the nation. The AAA repeatedly sent men from Washington to Post to study our program. The work that has been done under this program is a monument to the thoroughness with which he did his job. The tanks and lakes built in that county are among the best you'll find anywhere. Our method of building fireguards was widely copied but above all the methods we used to get the ranchers interested in this work was probably the most outstanding phase of this program. Scotty never left a ranch until the rancher knew what the program was all about.

"Scotty never slowed up. He was in the field long before daylight and many times until late at night. He has brought into Garza County many new varieties of crops and plants. In addition to his assistance as an authority on grasses and plants and for his contributions to agriculture too numerous to mention, I was grateful for his assistance on the REA system that was organized and started while I was county agent there. His advice and help were invaluable in getting the system properly launched."

Most of the background for this article was gleaned from the writer's memory and that of Scotty's friends. Samson, who is naturally modest, does not consider that he has done anything that wasn't the duty of every citizen in West Texas.

"When I first came to Garza County," he says, "everybody was hospitable and good to me. They made me feel at home, like one of the natives. If I have done anything for them or their children, it's nothing more than I owed them."

Contest Offered By Legionnaires For Post Slogan

The James C. Cole American Legion Post, No. 270, last week completed plans for sponsoring giant Scotchlite welcome sign-boards to be erected at Highway 84 approaches to the city. Work will begin on the project next week, Commander S. E. Camp has announced.

The center one-third of the boards, which are 36 feet long, will carry a warm welcome to motorists and tradesmen to Post from the American Legion and the City of Post. Lettering will be in Scotchlite which is colorful day and night, reflecting in its natural color at night by car light. The population, altitude and natural resources will be brought out in the center bulletin.

Across the bottom of the skirt, the entire length of the board, a city slogan will be carried also in Scotchlite.

Individual panels, size 5½ by 3½ feet, checker boarded in colors, on each side of the center will be sold to merchants on a four-year contract, with an option for an additional two-years renewal. Firm names can be had in Scotchlite by special arrangement. Rates are to be in line with plain painted or poster board advertising. The entire face of the boards will be in metal, Camp said.

Ten dollars will be paid for the best slogan to be used for the City of Post on the welcome boards. All entries can be mailed to The American Legion, Post or brought in to Commander Camp at his Texas Co. consignee office on Main Street at any time up to and including Sept. 10. Officers of the American Legion, as a committee, will be the judges in choosing the winning slogan.

Those mailing the slogans in, should each print his name and address on the same sheet of paper. One entry for each person is all that will be accepted. Camp urged that the citizenship of Post and Garza County cooperate with this plan of adopting a suitable and catchy city slogan not to exceed eight words, "the shorter the better."

Camp gave two examples of slogans selected for similar signs sponsored in other cities, as follows:
 Snyder—"Where the Cotton Grows and Oil Flows."
 Hooker—"Hub of the Wheat and Gas Belt."
