Traditionally observed on June 19, "Juneteenth" is a celebration recognizing the day in 1865 when Maj. Gen. Gordon Granger, United States Army, landed at Galveston and immediately proclaimed that the negro slaves were free and that all legislation during the Civil War was void.

The celebration in Texas spread throughout the southern states and became a traditional observance across the country.

President Abraham Lincoln issued his famous Emancipation Proclamation Jan. 1, 1863, which declared the freedom of slaves and the abolition of slavery throughout the United States and its territories, but the proclamation was ignored by the Confederate States.

General Granger was a graduate of the United States Military Academy in 1845 and served in the Mexican War. In 1861 he was promoted to colonel of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry and in March 1862 he became brigadier general. He was promoted to major general while serving with William S. Roscrean's army. On June 10, 1865 General Granger was ordered to proceed to Galveston and he arrived there June 19.

Shawn is the 19 year old son of Bill and Barbe Bevers. According to witnesses at the rodeo, Shawn was riding a bull and seemed to be doing well when he lost his balance and after falling, the bull either stepped on him or kicked him in the upper portion of his chest.

He underwent surgery early Saturday and reports Tuesday morning from the hospital indicate he is improving daily and was moved to room 404 South from ICU Tuesday.

GMH directors accept Dr Wilson's request for courtesy status

Members of the Garza Memorial Hospital board of directors accepted a May 30, 1990 request from Dr. William C. Wilson that his status on the medical staff be changed from active to courtesy.

"We reluctantly accepted this request," board president Jack Alexander commented.

Courtesy status means that Dr. Wilson will not take emergency room calls and will only be able to admit patients on an occasional basis and he has no voting privileges on the medical staff. The request was submitted at the regular medical staff meeting May 30.

The board also approved a recommendation resulting from an emergency meeting of the medical staff held June 7 with Dr. Ricardo Rodriguez and hospital administrator Maritta Reed, that Dr. Jeffrey Young M.D. be accepted to the active medical staff of the hospital.

In other action board members elected Alexander to serve as president, David Tyler as vice president and David Nichols as secretary.

Tyler and Alexander also will continue to serve on the ambulance committee.

The board members approved a resolution concerning the recruitment of Dr. G. Jeffrey Young, which outlined the need for a family practitioner to fill the void left by one physician retiring and the loss of obstetrical services.

Council Approves New Ordinance Codes

by Wes Burnett

The Post City Council approved the second reading of a resolution increasing sanitation rates at the regular meeting Monday night.

Increased revenues from the new sanitation rates will be set aside in a separate account to offset the expected higher costs of garbage removal when the new federal regulations are issued later this year.

"Although we anticipate a few exemptions for cities in this area, we are still going to have to close our landfill and transport our refuse to a regional landfill," Mayor Giles McCrary reminded council members.

The cost of garbage collection and removal in Post is expected to more than triple when the federally mandated environmental rules are issued.

In other action, the council delayed enacting an ordinance on restricting bicycles and skateboards from sidewalks until the language of the ordinance is changed to specifically define the types of vehicles included in the restriction.

"We have a serious problem here with bicycles and skateboards on sidewalks downtown," McCrary emphasized, "and someone is going to get hurt if we don't take some action."

McCrary pointed out that law enforcement officers have been called numerous times with complaints about skateboarding youngsters rolling off the sidewalks into traffic on Main Street as well as U.S. Highway 84.

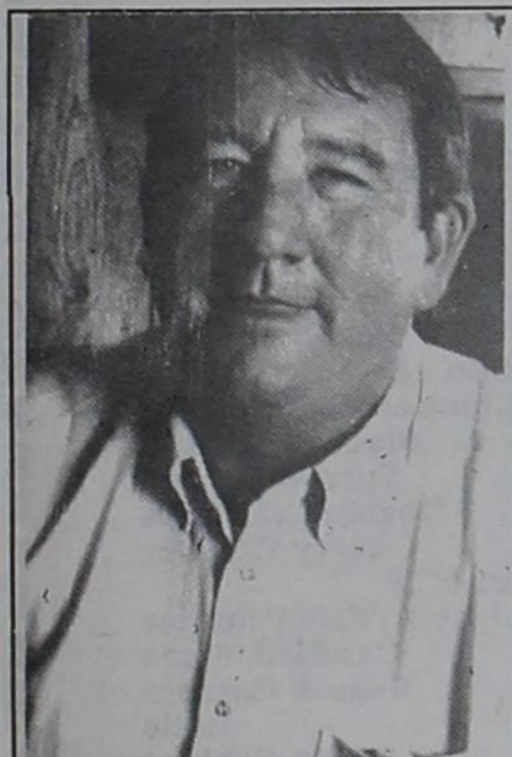

The council also accepted the newly revised and codified city ordinances, which brought up to date the entire city ordinance package. The first reading of the ordinance was approved and the council requested city attorney Harvey Morton to review the ordinances that are to be deleted from the codified book.

Jimmy Norman and Karla Schooler were appointed by the council to serve on the Planning and Zoning board. Council member Jim Schooler abstained from the vote.

The council voted to authorize the purchase of a 40 ft. track of land south of the old warehouse on Avenue H from the estate of Pearl Nance. The property is to be purchased at the value established by the appraisal district of $1,500.

Action to begin legal proceedings and notifications for demolition of houses was approved following a discussion about procedures. Scheduled to be demolished after the lengthy notification process are houses owned by Thedo Curtis and Ida Mae Gibbs in the Bingham Addition.

In other action the council joined the Garza County Commissioners' Court and the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District in becoming a sponsor of the proposed development project initiated by the Soil Conservation Service. District conservationist Obie Kelly presented an outline of the rural development project to the council.

JoAnn Mock presented a request from the Caprock Cultural Association to be included in next year's city budget in the amount of $3,000. Mock also gave a report on the activities of the arts program in Post and its economic impact as

Sales tax rebate up 21 percent for Post in April

The City Sales and Use Tax rebate check to the City of Post for the period ending April 30 totaled $14,178.85, a 21.06 percent increase from last year's payment for the same period of $11,712.18.

The total for 1990 is $78,058.51, compared to $77,868.41 for the first four months of 1989.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that a total of $83.3 million in local sales tax rebates were sent to cities and counties in Texas.

This month's checks include taxes collected in April and reported in May by businesses filing monthly tax returns. (Continued on Page 9) well as future plans.

Main Street Project advisory board chairman Sammie Pollard presented a report to the council about the landscaping project and requested the council approve the management of the expansion to West Main Street. The work to continue the landscaping project on West Main Street is to be funded by private donations, "but we believe management of the project should be under city supervision," Pollard said. She explained that approximately one third of the funding has already been committed. "There is a lot of enthusiasm for the project," Pollard emphasized, "and the sooner we get started the better."

The council also discussed the problems of late night and early morning loitering in the downtown business district, and requested Morton to review current state laws and possible city ordinances which could provide authority for a curfew.

The council authorized city manager Bob Turner to seek estimates for replacing the utility poles at the senior league baseball field, with the goal of repairing the light fixtures in such a way that the annual electrical and lighting problem could be solved.

"We couldn't find anyone here who would take on the job of repairing the lights," Turner told the council, "one fellow said he would climb the poles, then came back later and said it was too dangerous."

A review of the situation from Southwestern Public Service technicians estimated the cost of repair on the current poles would be approximately $2,500.

Turner was also requested by the council to schedule a joint meeting with the County Commissioners to discuss budgeting for next year.

Turner informed the council that for the first time in two years the tax evaluations in Post have stabilized, now set at approximately $80 million.

A discussion about solving water pressure problems on West 6th Street ended with a general agreement that future water distribution improvements should concentrate on connecting dead end lines into loops.

The council approved a resolution urging Congress to enact legislation which would allow telephone companies to compete directly with cable television providers.

Attending the meeting were council members Irene Fry, Larry Waldrip, Dan Lamb, Jim Schooler, Larry Mills, Mayor McCrary, city manager Bob Turner, city secretary Wanda Wilkerson and city attorney Harvey Morton.

Commissioners approve courthouse lawn maintenance bid, SCS project sponsorship

by Wesley W. Burnett

The Garza County Commissioners' Court at the regular meeting Monday morning, approved a bid from W.C. Sapp for maintenance of the courthouse lawn at the cost of $300 per month. County Judge E.A. Howard Jr explained that the specifications for the bid included servicing the lawn "through the season," which could be as late as November or December.

There were eight bids received for the job. Commissioners also approved July 23 and August 13 as budget hearing dates.

A decision about which members of the zoning commission would serve which staggered terms as required by state law was delegated to the board. Judge Howard serves as the designated elected official and chairman of the commission, with members V.O. Rasbury, John Boren, Ed Neff and Clyde Cash. The primary purpose of the commission is to establish zoning ordinances in the vicinity of Lake Alan Henry near Justiceburg.

Following an explanation of a new proposed project by the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), commissioners approved the participation as outlined by SCS field supervisor Obie Kelly. The project, which is also sponsored by the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District, is proposed to provide assistance with a wide variety of programs, including improved water quality, solid waste disposal, rural health care, fire protection and recreation.

Commissioners also approved a resolution, joining other counties, in opposing the up-coming U.S. Postal Service rate increases. Specifically, the resolution calls for the Postal Service to adopt a special discount rate for local government units, claiming that the postal rate increases will require tax raises on the local level to give the county enough money to continue mailing jury, tax and other notices to taxpayers.

Donald Windham was authorized to seek bids for modifying the mini-bus for insulation of the roof and to paint the vehicle white, "it is like an oven in that thing," he told commissioners.

GTE representative Obie Manning of Brownfield, explained to commissioners the importance of calling before digging, to eliminate cutting of underground telephone cables. He pointed out that a 300 foot section of cable that was cut last week south of Post will cost approximately $1,000 to repair and had the heavy equipment operator called first, the accident could have been avoided. Manning offered to present a 15 minute video tape to county equipment operators, which was scheduled for Tuesday morning.

JoAnn Mock presented the court a report on activities and future plans of the Caprock Cultural Association in connection with the organization's $2,500 budget request. Mock emphasized that in the past five years there has been a $2 million economic impact in Garza County as a result of arts programs.

Commissioners agreed that court language interpreters should be compensated and authorized commissioner John Valdez to find a qualified individual. In the past Linda Muñoz of the County Clerk's office, has performed this duty without compensation. Commissioners authorized a payment of $25 per time for interpreter service to the courts.

Attending the meeting were Judge Howard, commissioners Valdez, Sammy Ellis, Ted Aten and Herbert Walls, treasurer Voda Gradine and clerk Sonny Gossett.

"The challenge of doing this type of show, which has never been done in our area," coordinator Linda Puckett explains, "has generated a lot of excitement in the community and we hope to generate that same excitement in neighboring communities."

School's Out Drive Safely

Now that school is out and vacation time is here, motorists are heading for the road in droves, thus increasing their chances of experiencing unfamiliar driving conditions.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Department of Public Safety Commander of Region 5 said, "When driving in the rural areas, slow down before, not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through the curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve."

Largest Consumers of Medicines in U.S.

Seven out of 10 older persons take at least one prescription medicine every day. Recent surveys indicate that the elderly, as a group, are the largest consumers of medicines in the United States. There are several reasons why. For one thing, the elderly experience more illness - almost 80 percent have one or more chronic health conditions.

As an age group, the elderly are hospitalized more frequently than younger adults. Medicines prescribed for older individuals are often more complex and are used for longer periods than for most other groups.

Medicines most commonly prescribed for the elderly are used for high blood pressure, arthritis, heart conditions such as angina, and gastrointestinal problems.

Studies of nonprescription medicine use by the elderly indicate that the most frequently used categories include laxatives, pain relievers, vitamin and mineral supplements, eye drops, topical medicines for various skin conditions, and cough and cold medicines.

Elderly persons should exercise care in the prescription and nonprescription medicine they take since the chances of having medicine-related adverse effects is highest in their age group.

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:
 Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.
 Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Claim Forms And Additional Information

Those customers who think they may be entitled to a refund or who desire more information must call 1-800-782-3026, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to WATS Refund Pool Administrator, One Bell Plaza, Room 670, P. O. Box 650376, Dallas, Texas 75265-0376, to request a WATS Refund Information Package. The WATS Refund Information Package will contain further information regarding the lawsuit and eligibility for a refund, a description of documentation required to support a customer's claim for refund, and a refund claim form to be filled out and submitted requesting a refund. REQUESTING A WATS REFUND INFORMATION PACKAGE DOES NOT OBLIGATE YOU IN ANY WAY.

All claims for a refund must be received by the Refund Pool Administrator by Friday, October 5, 1990, and all rejections of the settlement (that is, requests for exclusion from the class action lawsuit) must be received by the Court by Wednesday, September 5, 1990. Only those who respond by filing a claim or by filing a rejection of the settlement, as explained in the WATS Refund Information Package, will receive notice of future developments in this proceeding.

Persons who wish to obtain further information may also contact the Public Utility Commission, Public Information Division, at (512) 458-0257 or (512) 458-1221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Post Middle School Students Learn at Washington, D.C.

A group of 19 students from Post Middle School and sponsor Dedra Adams, returned to Post early Sunday morning, following a tour to Washington, D.C., Annapolis and Baltimore, Maryland. The tour group left Post Tuesday morning to fly to Washington from Lubbock. While in the area, the group stayed at the Holiday Inn - Tysons Corner in McLean, Virginia.

Upon arriving in D.C., the group boarded their Metro bus and went to the National Archives to see the Constitution, Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence. They then went to view the Vietnam Veterans Memorial. They then went to check into their hotel and to meet the other students also on tour. While in D.C. the Post group toured with a group from Oklahoma City.

Wednesday, May 30, the groups toured the White House, National Geographic Building, Ford's Theatre (the site of the tragic assassination of Abraham Lincoln), Petersen House (where Lincoln died), the Smithsonian Complex - American and Natural History Museum and the Air and Space Museum. They had dinner at the Old Post Officer, which is one of the capital's newest and most inspired indoor malls. After dinner was the night tour of Washington. Seeing Washington at night is spectacular. They went to the Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, Iwo Jima Marine Memorial and The Kennedy Center. Thursday, May 31, was spent touring the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. One of the highlights of the Academy was Bancroft Hall, one of the largest single dormitories in the world. The mammoth complex is the heart of the Academy, with five miles of corridors and 33 acres of floor space.

Bancroft Hall contains a movie theatre, auditorium, tailor, cobbler, barber shop, laundry, stores, radio station, bowling alleys and soda fountain.

With their first-hand glimpse of a midshipman's room, the students saw how midshipmen are required to keep their uniforms and other belongings available for frequent inspections.

After the tour of Annapolis, the group left for Baltimore where they ate lunch at the Inter Harbor, went to the National Aquarium and boarded the battledeck of the U.S.F. Constellation, the oldest Navy warship afloat.

They returned in the evening to the Washington area.

Friday, June 1st, the group went to Mount Vernon, the home of George and Martha Washington. It is located on the shore of the Potomac River a few miles south of Washington D.C. Next the stop was Arlington Cemetery where Mario Tobias, Labeth Jones and Amy Schoonover placed a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. While touring Arlington, the group visited the Kennedy gravesites, the gravesites of Joe Louis, Lee Marvin, Capt. Michael J. Smith of the Navy and Col. Francis "Dick" Scobee of the Air Force (Challenger Astronauts).

The afternoon saw the group tour Embassy Row, National Cathedral and the Capital Hill.

Saturday, June 2nd, the group went up into the Washington Monument, the Hard Rock Cafe, the National Zoo - home of the Giant Panda Bears, Ling-Ling and Hsing-Hsing and a return tour to the Smithsonian.

The group road the Metrorail to the airport and left for Texas.

 Cotton Growers Can Learn Skills In Marketing Crop

Cotton producers wanting to learn more about using futures and options to price their crop, can do so June 26-27 at a workshop especially designed to meet that need. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring this multi-county event at Lamesa.

"A farmer may not be able to control price, but he can control how and when he prices," said Dr Jackie Smith, Extension Service Economist and Management Specialist at Lubbock. "A farmer equipped with various futures and options tools in his bag of marketing tricks may be able to more quickly react to pricing opportunities," he said. The workshop will introduce and describe the use of those tools and help producers implement them into a marketing plan. It will consist of approximately 12 hours of training.

Material will include an introduction to how futures markets operate and how to use them; use of commodity options as price insurance; how to determine your local market price from futures prices and working with a broker.

Also, estimating your break-even price and setting marketing objectives, and market prospects for cotton. The group will work examples using futures and options to gain a working understanding of the mechanics of forward pricing.

The workshop will be led by Dr Carl Anderson, Extension Service Economist and Cotton Marketing Specialist from College Station; Rick Patterson, Extension Service Economist and Management Specialist from Ft. Stockton, and Smith. Training will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day at the Dawson County Community Building at 8th Street and Houston Avenue in Lamesa.

Registration fee for the workshop will be $20. This fee covers both the participant and the spouse, who is encouraged to take part. Participants must register by June 15. For more information, contact your County Extension Agent or Smith at (806) 746-6101.

Moth Invasion

A large number of moths are now congregating at night around lights in Garza County. These moths are the adults of two or three species of mesquite cutworms. The number of these moths increased rapidly during the past week. They will be present in large numbers for about a week then they will quickly disappear.

The mesquite cutworm larvae feed on mesquite leaves. They feed at night and remain hidden under the rough bark or at the base of the tree during the day. When full grown the larvae are about one and one-fourth inches in length. They are black with light-colored to gray parallel lines running the length of the body.

Most of the foliage may be stripped from mesquite trees that are heavily infested by mesquite cutworms. When these cutworms are damaging mesquite trees in the home landscape, carbaryl (Sevin*) will provide effective control when sprayed on the foliage.

The moths which are almost black have a light colored line about one-third of the way back across the wings. When the wings are folded this line forms a V. (Continued on Page 9)

A Day to Honor Our Flag...

This is the special day we proudly display our American flag, the very symbol of freedom and democracy for which so many have fought and died. The flag which has stood for liberty and equality of opportunity to all who seek its shelter.

Since 1916, when President Woodrow Wilson issued his proclamation declaring June 14 as National Flag Day*, Americans around the world have observed this day to especially demonstrate their patriotism by flying the Star-Spangled Banner.

We invite you to join us tomorrow as we display our American flags, reminding all who pass this way that we cherish the values of our freedom and the heritage for which our flag stands.

Representative To Be In Post

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that a representative from his agency will be in Post, June 19, 1990 to answer questions about Texas taxes and assist taxpayers with paperwork and problems.

"I don't want to see state taxes turn into a burden for folks who can't get to a field office. Our visits are a service we're happy to provide to Texas taxpayers," Bullock said.

Sam Rendleman, Enforcement Officer, from the Lubbock Field Office will be at the Garza County Courthouse in the Commissioner's Courtroom from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The public is welcome and there is no charge.

"I'm sending my employees out to help people with questions, filling out forms, and working out problems on a local, one-to-one basis. There's some things you just don't do as well over the phone or through the mail," Bullock said.

Post area taxpayers who can't attend the courthouse visit can still get individual tax assistance by calling the Comptroller's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-252-5555 from anywhere in Texas.

The Lubbock office, headed by David Cain, serves 19 counties including Garza County.

'The Matchmaker' Continues through Sunday at the Garza

Three more performances of Thornton Wilder's classic comedy, "The Matchmaker" are set for Friday and Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon at the Garza Theatre.

Evening performances begin at 7:45 and Sunday's matinee is at 2 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the box office, which is open through Friday 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The production, which opened last Thursday and has received raving reviews from audiences, features designer, director Will McCrary, co-starring with Jane Prince Jones.

The original play, entitled "The Merchant of Yonkers," was adapted by Wilder from an old German play, and was produced on Broadway in December 1955. Most theatre goers will remember that one of America's most popular musicals, "Hello Dolly," was revised from the Broadway play which starred Carol Channing. The movie, a few years later, featured Barbara Streisand.

Also featured on the Garza stage will be area favorites Jon Steele and Alison Hoefler, Troy Timms and Cheryl Thompson; also Karla Alexander, Mike Nedela, Tommy Loving, Mike Toombs, Lino DeLeon and Randall Laurence.

Brandi Brush will also be featured with Texas Tech drama student Trampas Thompson. Other cast members are newcomers Anna Wilson and Betty Dennis.

Tickets are $7 for adults and $3 for children 12 years or younger.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - After being in session for 92 days, top legislative leaders were all smiles when Gov. Bill Clements signed school finance and tax bills last week, but not many Hispanic lawmakers.

State Rep. Greg Luna, D-San Antonio, predicted that the court will reject the plan. "Don't fool yourself. We have not addressed the issue," said Luna, a founding member of the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, which represents the property-poor districts that won the school finance lawsuit.

"I'm very sure it will be challenged and ... overturned," said state Rep. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi.

Indeed, Al Kaufmann, the lead attorney for poor school districts said he'll ask the presiding judge to strike down the new school finance law as unconstitutional, but did not elaborate.

State District Judge Scott McCown of Austin will make that determination at a special hearing on June 25.

Would McCown throw out the new law because it does not share revenues equally among students, or because those equal shares are not enough money for poor school districts?

Cavazos said all along that his caucus favored the court plan, a remark that may have been one reason why he was not invited to negotiations that resulted in the compromise.

The Only Solution?

His stance was echoed by state Rep. Ron Wilson, a top black Democrat from Houston.

But let's face it, the only way poor districts are going to receive more money is if the Texas Supreme Court forces the Legislature to give it.

And that has led many to reflect whether courts have strained constitutional authority, which says the Legislature shall make laws, including raising and appropriating taxes.

It's a tough authority to enforce. You can hardly expect state judges to smack themselves on the hand, particularly partisan judges.

Court-Ordered Millions

One reason why state money has been so short is because in this decade federal judges have ordered the Legislature to spend millions for new prisons and mental health facilities.

Lawmakers who wanted to spend more for education couldn't, because federal judges ordered the money elsewhere.

In the '80s, court-ordered spending has been the only way to go, so who can blame Cavazos, Luna, Wilson and poor school districts for beseeching the state courts for progress?

So, What's Next?

The question: Now that the courts have taken care of prisons, mental health and education ... what's next?

Whether court-ordered spending is right or wrong is one thing, but the reality is that political power is something you take, not something given.

It is clear to lawmakers and taxpayers alike that the Texas Supreme Court has forced the Legislature to raise the sales tax once again.

Personal Income Tax

What is less obvious, but true nevertheless, is that several justices wanted the Legislature to enact a personal state income tax. And they still want it.

State health officials mismanaged millions in revenues, according to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, and begged for emergency cash this session so that some health programs wouldn't be shut down.

Will the next Texas Supreme Court force a state income tax to upgrade those same health programs? Time will tell.

AG Nominees Clash

Two lawmakers vying for attorney general clashed over the new tax bill, with one accusing the other of political hypocrisy.

GOP state Sen. Buster Brown, who fought new taxes until the compromise, blasted state Rep. Dan Morales, a Democrat, for voting against new taxes, even though Morales supported them up to the final vote.

Morales is on record supporting a state income tax in earlier sessions, but wants a more conservative record while he's running against Brown, said one source.

Sessions' Accomplishments

Before adjournment last week, the Legislature:

- Raised the basic education allotment from $1,470 in the 1989-90 school year to $1,910 per student next year;

- Increased state education aid by about $528 million in the 1990-91 school year;

- Gave the governor the power to appoint the state education commissioner beginning March 1;

- Provided $17.90 per student in state funds for each extra penny of local property taxes over a 54 cent rate;

- Allocated about $100 million to the Department of Human Services;

- Failed to reduce the state tax on pari-mutuel gambling; and

- Failed to pass a proposed amendment which would have increased lawmakers' per diem from $30 to $70. It passed the House, but failed in the Senate.

In the Neighborhood

by Wes Burnett

Sometimes it seems like a person can just get jinxed and the harder you try the worse it gets. Take for instance the recent forgetfulness I suffered on a photo assignment. Well, that problem was solved when the young people from Washington came back and sponsor Dedra Adams had a wonderful picture of the group...which we used last week. She also gave us a complete story of the trip...

That's the rest of the story, only about half of it made it into print last week, and of course we didn't spot our omission until after returning from the press. Now, what do you say? Of course, we are reprinting the entire story this week...but, really, folks, you'd think we could figure out a way to do it right the first time.

Oh well, we keep trying.

I guess there must be a lot of visitors in Post this summer, so how about calling us or dropping us a short note to share the names of these visitors with others.

One visitor spotted in Post over the weekend was our West Point Cadet, Brook Capps. I didn't get to see him, but I heard he looked great.

I guess I've known most of my life that in Texas June 19 is a special day for a lot of people, but until this week I really didn't know the details. Thanks to the story about the "Juneteenth" celebration Saturday, and some help from Jeanette Bell at the Post Public Library, I feel much more informed. (See related story on Page 1)

For those of us who are liberated, it is difficult to imagine that only 125 years ago a large segment of our population were enslaved. Although slavery is unheard of today, slavery is just a step behind the curtain of freedom. I am too young to remember, but there are many who lived during the 1930s and 1940s and know first hand about the enslavement of people by Germany and Italy in Europe and Russia and by the Japanese in Asia. To protect people from slavery was one of the primary reasons for so many who served and died in defense of freedom during World War II.

The slavery issue continues to surface from time to time, and it is intertwined with the idea of freedom and liberty. The people in Germany found that out too late, when at first they saw the freedoms and liberties of a small segment of their population taken away, and then when it was too late, everyone's freedom was gone.

When one person's freedom or liberty is threatened, eventually all will fall victim to the ugly face of slavery. That is why it is so important for Americans to embrace the United States Constitution and understand the value of our Bill of Rights. That is why we must insist that our elected officials adhere to the constitution which is the very basis of our protection against tyranny. The constitution, which was designed to protect all citizens from an abusive government, is worthless if the people and their government apply its principles only when it suits them, or use it to the advantage of one segment of a population but not to another.

We join our neighbors and friends who celebrate "Juneteenth" in recognition of the fact that even one human being subjected to enslavement must not be tolerated. Not one. If I am unable to defend the freedom and liberty of my neighbor, then the day will come when my own freedom will be at stake.

As the comedian Yakov Smirnof (I don't know about the spelling, but you know who I mean) says, "What a country! Wow, what a country!"

Buy a Bomb
I don't know exactly what this means, but the Post Chamber of Commerce is trying to get the message out to folks to "Buy a Bomb". If you are interested in this proposal, call Ann at the Chamber of Commerce office, 495-3461. (I think this may have something to do with our July 4th celebration).
