Voters to decide on 1/2¢ economic development sales tax in January

Permit process begins for landfill

by Wes Burnett

The Post City Council voted Monday night to put the question to the voters for a one-half cent economic development sales tax, which would be used to attract new industries for Post. The Texas legislature authorized cities to hold elections on the issue in January, May or August. The election here is scheduled for January 19, 1991.

Post Economic Development Corp. board of directors members Patty Kirkpatrick, Giles Dalby, A.C. Cash and Charles Adams attended the council meeting, with Kirkpatrick and Dalby explaining the PEDC's plans for making improvements at the Postex Building in order to attract additional industries.

The PEDC spent $400,000 of its reserves making the renovations necessary for the recently opened Cotton Unlimited, and as Mayor Pro Tem Larry Mills pointed out, "you did it all without borrowing money." Kirkpatrick emphasized that the expense of maintaining the property at the Postex Plant is more than people can realize and just repairing the roof on the 400,000 square foot building "has been a constant drain on our resources."

Mills also pointed out that the one-half cent sales tax would provide for Post to compete with other area cities which have already implemented the economic development funding.

An estimated $80,000 per year would be available for economic development when the one-half cent tax goes into effect.

In other action, the council authorized engineers Parkhill, Smith and Cooper to begin the permit process for opening a new landfill. The 40 acre tract, which is adjacent to the current landfill, would be used to meet the immediate needs of solid waste disposal.

City manager Bob Turner emphasized that the current landfill is getting dangerously close to capacity, "and we certainly don't want to be in a situation where we are forced to close it and be in an emergency to transport waste to who knows where."

CCA secures $7,980 in funding from Texas Commission on the Arts

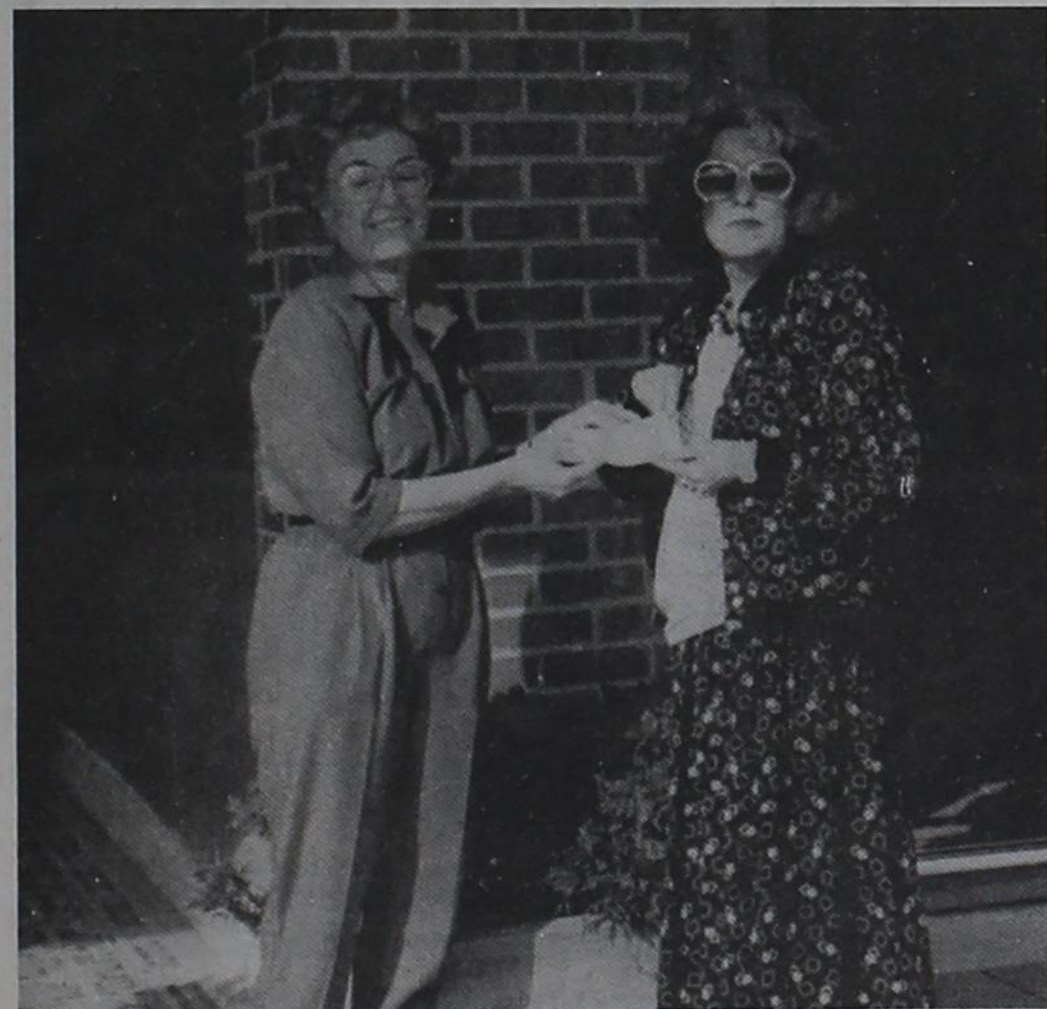

The Caprock Cultural Association has announced that the Texas Commission on the Arts has approved $7,980 for two grants, which the CCA had submitted.

The funds will be applied to staff salaries of the executive director of the CCA, the administrator of the Post Art Guild and the director of the Garza Theatre, as well as developments of the arts projects by the CCA.

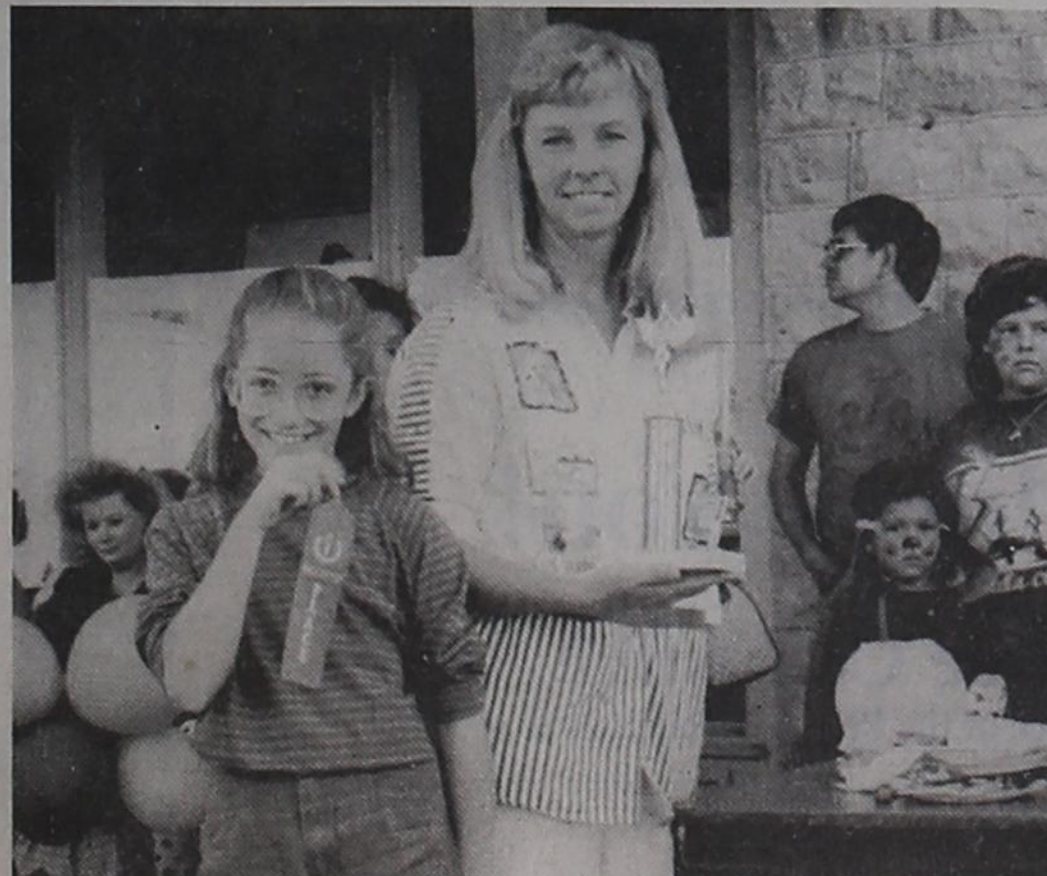

The CCA also announced the purchase of the building at 127 East Main Street, which adjoins the Algerita Arts Center. The building will be used as an office, meeting room, resource library and future arts developments for Post.

The CCA is requesting assistance for donations of equipment, supplies or furnishings for the building. The CCA is a non-profit organization and donations are tax deductible.

Those interested in helping should call JoAnn Mock at 495-4148 or Geraldine Butler at 495-3308.

Butch Davis of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, presented a list of options for the council to consider, then suggested that the best immediate response would be to prepare a plan which would satisfy current regulatory requirements. The council, following a lengthy discussion, authorized the permit process for the additional landfill.

Council members accepted the resignation of Sammie Pollard as president of the Main Street Advisory board and appointed Marita Reed to serve in that position. The council is required to appoint all members of the advisory board and also name the president of the board.

The new water and sanitation deposit ordinance was approved, which authorizes the council to adjust deposit rates as needed. An agenda item will be included in next month's meeting to increase the current deposit from $30 to $50, "which will cover three months of average billing," Turner explained to the council. "This will cut down considerably on the write-offs we have to absorb from delinquent accounts, most of whom leave town without paying."

The first reading of the animal ordinance was approved. The new ordinance specifically allows pursuit of uncontrolled animals, including pursuit onto the property of the animal's owner.

City attorney Harvey Morton explained recent court developments concerning single member districting, and the importance of his planned attendance at a redistricting seminar. Morton told the council that the Slaton ISD is now being sued for its at-large election. "We want our citizens to know that we are proceeding toward changing our election process to districts," Morton said.

In a report on the city's financial condition, Turner pointed out that law enforcement costs were up $13,000, yet traffic fines in municipal court were still hovering at zero.

"Our report to Austin on traffic fines created quite a stir," he told the council, "they thought we didn't know how to fill out the form when we kept sending the monthly report with zeroes."

Attending the meeting were Mills, council members Irene Fry, Larry Waldrip, Dan Lamb and Jim Schooler, Turner, Wyvonne Kennedy and Morton.

and the winners are...

The first place winner this week correctly picked all but four games in The Post Dispatch football contest. She missed the Crosbyton-Post, Rice-Arkansas, New Orleans-Cincinnati and Buffalo-Cleveland games.

There were a total of 12 contestants who missed five games, the second place winner was the only one of the 12 to correctly pick the tie-breaker winner and the third place winner was the nearest of the remaining contestants to the actual tie-breaker score.

The names of the winners are published each week on the Football Contest page, which includes rules for entering.

That's where you'll find the names of this week's winners of a total of $75 in "Post City Bucks", which are redeemable for merchandise or services at any of the Football Contest participating merchants.

Will McCrary headlines Lubbock Community Theatre's current production

Three plays assembled under the title of "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," compose the Lubbock Community Theatre's next presentation at Kingsgate Center in the old Family Video Store. Performances are 8 p.m., November 9, 10, 16 and 17, and 2:30 p.m., November 11 and 18.

The production features Will McCrary as both director and performer. McCrary, a veteran of over 35 years professional stage experience, is the managing director of the Garza Theatre in Post.

Robert Anderson, author of such stage hits as "Tea and Sympathy" and "Silent Night, Lonely Night," and such movies as "The Nun's Story" and "The Sand Pebbles," is the author of this trio of plays which enjoyed an eighteen month run on Broadway in 1967 and 1968.

The first of the plays, "The Shock of Recognition," is set in a New York theatrical producer's office, and centers on a young playwright's effort to convince the producer that artistic integrity requires the first scene of his new play to be acted exactly as he has written it: a naked man enters a bedroom from an adjacent bathroom, toothbrush in hand, echoing to his wife the old bathroom lament that gives the trio of plays their overall title. The feasibility of the scene is decided by asking an unemployed actor, who would do almost anything to get a job, whether he would play the part as written.

McCrary plays the role of the producer with David Weaver, Jr. cast as the young playwright, Cynthia Kent as the producer's secretary, and Timothy McIntire as the actor.

Second on the bill is "The Footsteps of Doves," a hilarious pastiche about a couple, wedded for 25 years, as they come shopping in a furniture store for a new bed, or beds. The wife, having long suffered from her husband's hogging more than his share of blankets in their old double bed, is firmly insistent on getting a pair of twins. The husband, unwilling to endure the cold isolation of a single, argues for a double.

Their conflict is resolved when the wife goes to inspect other items in the store and the husband is asked by a young charmer to help her test a double mattress for size and comfort by lying alongside her on it. Obtaining the young woman's phone number for future reference, the husband yields to his wife's request.

McCrary plays the role of the husband with Penny Kerns playing his wife, Geri Graniero playing the young woman, and Zan Moore playing the mattress salesman.

"I'm Herbert," the final playlet of the series, is a convulsing dialogue between a husband and wife who, in old age, have become a composite for one another of previous marriages and experiences. As they sit rocking on a porch, training binoculars on the bird-life around them, she calls him Robert, or sometimes Henry, and the old bird-watcher insists irritably, "I'm Herbert." This identification by name, however, doesn't help their fading memories recall whether they had certain experience together or with other spouses and partners. Who was with whom in Italy, who spooned with whom under the willow tree? The recollections may be dim, but they are delicious.

Milton Cox and Ruth Longtin will play the couple.

Tickets are $7 and $5 for groups of 20 or more. They may be purchased at J & B Coffee Company at 26th and Boston and The Book Gallery in Kingsgate Center at 82nd and Quaker Ave. Tickets are on sale now.

For additional information, contact David Weaver, Jr at 795-2904.

Take care about 'money' deals

The Better Business Bureau has received many calls from consumers who received a letter from Federal Information Services out of Dallas, Texas. The recipient or someone with the same surname, is being offered a possible refund on property. Based on the number of calls received your Bureau believes that there was an extensive mass-mailing sent to not only Lubbock residents but the whole South Plains.

The Dallas Better Business Bureau reports that the company has been known in their area since November 1989. The company sells information on a work-at-home opportunity tracing individuals who may have refunds due them from the federal government. The company has been the subject of complaints at BBB/Dallas alleging that its mailing was deceptive. The company responded to complaints by offering refunds.

The BBB/South Plains is concerned that people will become overly excited about the prospects of a refund and call the "900" number or sent the $15 fee when, in fact, they could get the same information from the government free of charge.

The only way you can be eligible for a possible refund is if you have PAID OFF a FHA 30-year fixed-rate home loan. If you believe you are due a refund, you should write to the U.S. Department of HUD, Distributive Shares Premium Refunds Section, 451 7th St., SW, Washington, D.C. 20410 or call 743-7262 here in Lubbock.

For more information, call your Better Business Bureau at (806) 763-0459.

Hays family celebrates reunion

Children of the late Jim and Mattie Hays met the 19th and 20th of October for a family reunion. Forty-nine attended. Hosting the event this year were the middle group which were Sis Gilmore, Buddy, Jackie and Pete. Eleven of the twelve children were here. Jerry was unable to attend. Some of the men played golf Friday afternoon. Friday night several attended the Post-Tahoka football game. Everyone enjoyed visiting with one another and a few card games were played. Saturday night we all enjoyed a catered meal in the Garden Room of the Chaparral Steak House. Those attending were James Hays of Anaheim, Ca.; Kay and Eddie Peoples of Amarillo; Bill

Hays, Jack and Shirley Hays, Jimmy, Debbie, Melissa, Paul and Sammy Fikes, Michael, Heath and Chance Hays and Jill Richardson, all from Lubbock; Donnie Hays, Bud and Freda Hays, Herb, Ann and Cody Hays from Austin; and Nita and Amy Shockley from San Angelo. Those attending from Post were Liberty Anthony, Gene and Laverne Hays, Roy and Sis Gilmore, Pete and Juanella Hays, Charles and Rheba Propst, Clyde, Sue, Dusti, Cathi and Cara Cash, Danny, Linda and Amanda Richardson, Jerry, Marinette, Jerri and Jaron Tyler and Anita, Summer Dawn, Traci, Kerri and Lisa Darling.

LEE HOWARD (right), Garza County Extension Agent, recently received a Certificate of Completion for an Agricultural Financial Management Seminar from Wayne A. Hayenga, Program Chairman and Economist-Management of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The three day seminar was conducted October 23-25 at Plainview for selected extension service employees who counsel with farmers and ranchers on financial matters.

'High risk' people need flu vaccine

With flu season near, officials at the Texas Department of Health (TDH) have urged anyone who may be at high risk of infection to seek immunization. People most at risk of the potentially deadly disease, are those 65 or older, persons with chronic respiration, or heart problems and children weakened by disease. "Influenza, which occurs most often from December through April, kills about 20,000 individuals in the United States each year -- most of them in high-risk categories," said Robert D. Crider Jr., director of TDH's Immunization Division. Crider said that persons 65 and older constitute one of the risk groups hardest-hit by influenza and its complications.

"Fewer than 30 percent of Americans in high-risk groups receive the recommended annual injection of influenza vaccine," he added. "We believe that one reason older people fail to be vaccinated is their unfounded fear that the vaccine can actually cause influenza. The truth is that a vaccinated person may still contract some strain of flu, but not from the vaccine. If that happens, though, the vaccine usually helps lessen the severity of the case."

High-risk categories include the following people who are most likely to develop complications from influenza:

- * Persons 65 years old and older.
- * Residents and employees of nursing homes and other facilities treating chronically ill patients of any age.
- * Adults and children with chronic heart or lung disorders, including children with asthma.
- * People under medical care for chronic metabolic diseases, kidney or blood problems or weakened immune systems.
- * Children, 18 and younger, who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy, which can place them at risk of developing Reye syndrome after influenza.

"We strongly recommend influenza vaccinations for all people in these high-risk groups, especially if they are pregnant women or international travelers," Crider advised. "People infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (the virus which causes AIDS) also may be at increased risk for flu complications."

In addition, physicians, nurses and other health professionals should be immunized against influenza to avoid spreading the disease to their patients, according to recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control. "TDH and the American Lung Association already have reminded health professionals and others in close contact with high-risk people to be immunized, both for their own protection as well as for others," Crider said.

"As early as July we advised physicians to offer vaccine to their patients during routine clinic visits, beginning in September and throughout the influenza season -- typically December through April," he said.

Crider explained that all unimmunized residents of chronic-care facilities, such as nursing homes, should be immunized immediately. In addition, high-risk persons who are hospitalized any time from now through March and members of their households are encouraged to be vaccinated, he said.

He added that influenza vaccination is necessary yearly, because immunity declines with time. Also, since flu strains and vaccines against them differ from year to year, only the vaccine for the current season should be used.

The vaccine for the 1990-91 season is designed to combat the A/Taiwan, A/Shanghai and B/Yamagata strains.

'Leave the pack behind' ...

American Cancer Society volunteers around the state are readying efforts to challenge smokers to "Leave the Pack Behind" during the Society's 14th Annual Great American Smokeout November 15.

Sponsored by the American Cancer Society, the Great American Smokeout is a fun-filled, light-hearted celebration held each year on the third Thursday in November to encourage smokers and tobacco users to quit the habit for 24 hours. The effort is the largest health promotion event in the country.

Last year's Smokeout triggered 10.5 percent of the nation's smokers -- 5.2 million Americans -- to give up cigarettes for 24 hours. One to three days later, according to a Gallup poll, 3.9 million were still abstaining from tobacco. According to the poll, 17.9 million smokers participated in the Smokeout by quitting or cutting down for the day.

Judy Oskam, Austin, chairman of the Texas Smokeout campaign, said, "The American Cancer Society is hoping this fourteenth annual Great American Smokeout will help smokers across the state to stop smoking. We especially are working to help women, teens and underserved populations quit their tobacco habits."

The Smokeout helps advance the Society's ongoing battle against cancer. "Smoking is responsible for 87 percent of lung cancer cases, and that means 87 percent are preventable by choosing not to smoke," Oskam explained. "We hope at least one in five Texas smokers will join the Smokeout this year. Texans could make a big step toward better health on November 15."

To reach out to smokers across the state, Texas volunteers are pulling out all stops to encourage tobacco users in their communities to participate in the Great American Smokeout, Oskam said. Some of the highlighted activities in Texas include:

*San Antonio Smokeout participants will encounter "Tobacco-phobia" as local volunteers help cure smokers' fears about ending their habits. Local hospitals will adopt area malls to promote tobacco-free lifestyles, high school students will speak to elementary and middle school students about the dangers of smoking, and units from local military installations will compete in a combined armed forces fun run.

*In West Texas, El Paso basketball fans will get a chance to "Slam the Pack" at a special 3-on-3 basketball competition. Also, armed forces units from Fort Bliss will hold a "Walk Out on Your Habit" physical training walk as they try to cumulatively walk the air miles to Saudi Arabia. The walk participants will wear yellow shirts to commemorate the soldiers now serving in the Middle East.

*"Smoke-O-Cop" will be heading for Dallas November 15 as volunteers hook up with the Dallas Police Department to help area citizens end their smoking habits. Other activities include an obstacle course run for Dallas smokers and a joke contest for fifth and sixth graders. Winning jokes will be distributed to local radio stations for use on morning drive time programs.

*In Fort Worth, a special "Knock Out Nicotine" event will feature Golden Gloves boxer Stevie Cruz and area elementary school children will participate in a poster and essay contest, while high school students will take part in rap and cheerleading event. Scott Murray, local KXAS sports anchor, will be the honorary chairman of the event. Also, Carswell Air Force Base personnel will take part in Smokeout events.

*At the state capitol, Austin volunteers will help coordinate a five-event Olympic-style competition for elementary school children in East Austin. Local media anchors will serve as team captains. Also, area physicians will be participating in Smokeout events, and Breckenridge Hospital will initiate its new smoke-free policy on Smokeout day.

"Each year, the Smokeout grows more successful in involving tobacco users in the day's activities," Oskam said. "In Texas, the Smokeout is a winner because we have hundreds of American Cancer Society volunteers in large and small communities around the state working to make sure that the Smokeout day is filled with fun, exciting and supportive events."

For more information about the hazards of tobacco, or for more information about local Great American Smokeout activities, contact your local American Cancer Society office. For tips on quitting, call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345.

Stiff breeze aids Chiefs in 18-17 win

Sagging defense in final minutes

by Wes Burnett
A loss of intensity on defense by the Post Antelopes and a stiff southwesterly breeze last Friday night turned the tide for the Crosbyton Chiefs here as David Valdez booted a 46 yard field goal to put the visitors out front 18-17 with only seven seconds left in the game.
No heroics on the kickoff return could save the night for the Bold Gold Antelopes who found themselves losing in the fourth quarter as the Chiefs celebrated their upset victory.
Valdez' field goal was the icing on the cake for the 190 pound running back and linebacker, who also scored a touchdown and consistently stymied Post offensive efforts from his linebacking spot.
The Antelopes led 10-8 at halftime and went out front 17-8 late in the third quarter, but early in the fourth quarter the Chiefs mounted a 12 play drive that featured Adam Garcia and Valdez slamming the Post defenders 48 yards and Valdez went into the end zone from the two with 6:22 left in the game.
Leading 17-15, all the Antelope offense had to do was run out the clock to seal the victory.

Quarterback Matt McCook picked up a critical first down on a fourth down keeper around his right end at the Crosbyton 43 yard line, just getting the measured first down by the length of the ball.
Three plays later, with the offensive line unable to get the key blocks, McCook and team faced another fourth down at the 37 and this time his option around the right end to Jay Whitehead was snuffed out by Valdez at the 34 and the ball went over on downs with 2:32 left in the game.
From their own 34 the Chiefs crunched through the porous Antelope defense, converting their own fourth down situation with 1:22 left in the game as Garcia took the pitchout around his right end and bounced off tacklers to the 46.
The Post defense came alive and stopped quarterback Layne McDowell's pass attempts, until on third down Garcia took the delay over right tackle to the Post 44, getting another first down. A pass to Jeremy Foster set up another first down at the 31 and then three pass plays were well defended by the Antelopes and the final third down desperation pass by McDowell into the end zone came within a few inches of being intercepted for the 'Lopes by Floyd Slay.
On fourth down with 12 seconds left on the clock, the Antelopes and their fans could only watch in dismay as the ball sailed the 46 yards, just easing over the goal posts for the field goal. The kickoff return was bobbled momentarily by Bobby Curtis and the five yard line and he managed to get the 25 as time ran out.

It was a heart-breaking end to a frustrated night for the home team.
First Half Action
The frustration for the Antelopes started early, when on the opening kickoff Whitehead fumbled the ball near the end zone, but managed to get out to the three yard line.
Three plays later the 'Lopes faced a fourth down at the 11 and Junior Ray Gonzales punted the ball into a stiff wind, it took a Crosbyton bounce back toward the Post goal line and the Chiefs took over at the Antelope 31.
Solid blocking and strong running put the Chiefs into the end zone in seven plays with Garcia and Jerome Lang sharing the running, but McDowell went the final yard for the touchdown. Abel Valdez went over left tackle for the two point conversion and with 7:19 left in the first quarter the 'Lopes faced a come-from-behind situation.
The offense took control and drove the ball from their own 48 following a great kickoff return by Whitehead. Bobby Curtis and Floyd Slay shared the running chores with a great pass and catch from McCook to Curtis setting up a first down at the Chief 13 yard line.

Four plays later, going over the right side each time, the 'Lopes got a measured first down on a fourth down dive by Bobby Curtis at the two yard line.
On first down the Chiefs were penalized for face masking, setting the ball at the one. Four tries over the right side go the 'Lopes to the one-half yard line, but that was all they could get and the scoring opportunity was wasted.
The defense held and forced a punt from the Chief nine yard line and Whitehead returned it to the Crosbyton 32.
The second quarter started with the 'Lopes sitting on a first down at the Crosbyton 20. Damon Curtis took the pitchout over left tackle to the 14, Slay got no yards and a pass to Danny Leach fell incomplete and on fourth down Slay got the pitchout around left, blasting behind great blocking to the six for a first down.
Damon Curtis went over left guard to the one-half yard line, then got the call again on the sweep around right end to the end zone. Gonzales' point after kick narrowed the score to 8-7 with 9:40 left in the first half.
The Chiefs mounted another strong offensive punch, picking up two first downs then on first down at the Post 49, McDowell fumbled the ball on the exchange to Garcia and an alert Shane Horton fell on it for the Antelopes.

A great pass and catch from McCook to Whitehead at the Crosbyton 26 was just another great play to remember in the following series, which was snuffed out by Crosbyton when Damon Curtis' brilliant dash on the sweep around his right side ended with a fumble, recovered by the Chiefs at their own 11.
Chris Redman, Gonzales, Lance Bland, Whitehead and Hiram Gutierrez made great defensive plays forcing the Chiefs to punt from their own 16.
With 3:41 left in the first half the 'Lopes began another march toward the end zone from the Crosbyton 39 yard line.
Slay and Gonzales got the call on first and second down, McCook go nowhere on third down and again on fourth down the senior quarterback did what had to be done, picking up a first down on a great run, breaking two tackles to the 20 yard line.
Bobby Curtis blasted to the 20 and Slay caught McCook's pass at the 10 in traffic. Crosbyton called time out to regroup with 1:01 left on the clock.
Bobby Curtis was sacked for a loss at the 13 on the sweep around right end, Post called time out with 48 seconds left.

Curtis then got the call again over right tackle to the 10, the 'Lopes called time out the 37 seconds left. McCook dropped back and threw a pass deep and out of bounds. Gonzales came in and with 27 seconds left in the first half, the ball crossed the bars and the home team led 10-8.
Two plays by the Chiefs were snuffed out by Gutierrez, Bobby Curtis, Whitehead and Joe Garcia to end the half.
Final Post Touchdown
The Post defense gave up territory on the Chiefs' first possession following halftime, but on third down from their own 41, a big hit by Gonzales on Crosbyton's Garcia caused a fumble, which Gutierrez recovered for the 'Lopes at the Chief 43 yard line.
It took 10 plays to score as the 'Lopes got great blocking from Jr Nava, Vargas and Michael Brogden on a third down play from the 12 yard line. Bobby Curtis and Slay along with Whitehead shared the running. Slay's blast behind the third down blocking set up a first down at the four. A sweep around right end lost yardage as Damon Curtis was put the ground at the seven.
Then on second down McCook rolled to his right and lofted a great pass in the right corner of the end zone to Whitehead who was surrounded but made a terrific

'Lopes aim for playoff berth in District 4AA runner-up contest

by Wes Burnett

The Post Antelope 1990 football season comes down to this Friday's Homecoming game with the Ralls Jackrabbits to decide the District 4AA runner-up spot for the post-season state championship playoffs.

The Jackrabbits come to Post with a 6-1 district record, losing only to Seagraves. The Antelopes, who have lost two district contests, must win Friday's game here to advance in the playoffs.

The winner of Friday's contest will face the winner of District 3AA, with Hart, Abernathy and Olton all entering Friday's games with 5-1 district records.

"It's really a matter of our team deciding what they want this year," Antelope head coach Dewayne Osborne comments, "we believe we can win this game."

The Antelopes, who have been hurt in the past few weeks with injuries to key starting players, will take the field without the help of linebacker Brandon Bird, who continues to recover from knee surgery, and senior tailback Darrin Brown, who "has a slight, very slight chance of playing," the coach adds. Brown has suffered from a torn knee ligament.

Ralls has one of the largest offensive lines the Antelopes have faced this year, with the front five weighing 287, 236, 163, 231 and 211 pounds.

On defense the Jackrabbits put four down linemen with sizes from 172, 287, 156 to 170 pounds. "The quickest nose guard on the South Plains," is the way Osborne describes the 125 pound Ralls defensive center.

The Jackrabbits also bring a talented and top 10 rated passer in this area with top 10 receivers.

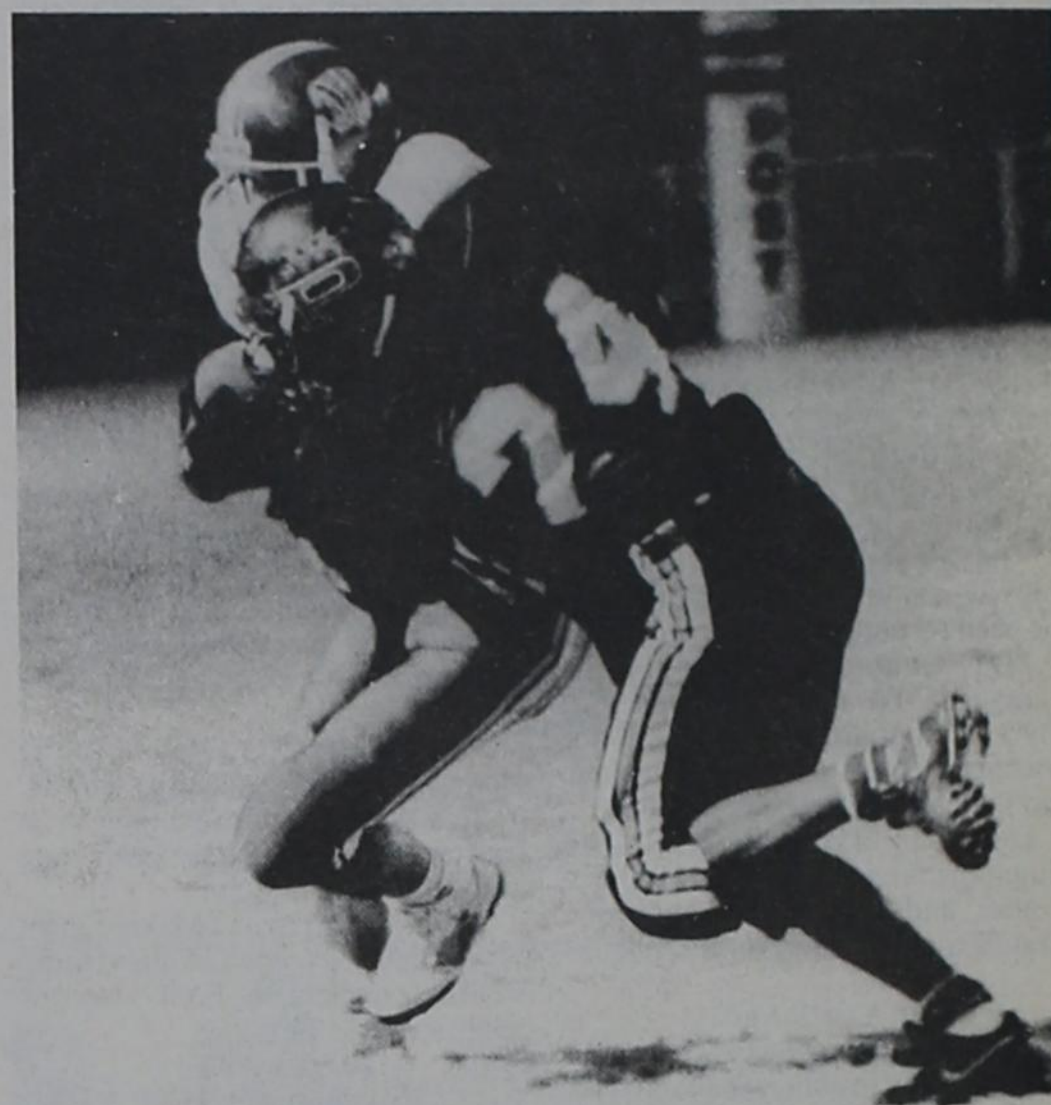

Ralls operates mostly from the Wishbone, with power running and sweeps.

The Jackrabbits use an aggressive defense to win football games, relying heavily on turnovers.

In non-district play the Jackrabbits lost to Lockney 22-20 and Spur 40-6 and whipped Roosevelt 38-14.

"I really want us to win this game," Osborne added, "it means a lot to me."

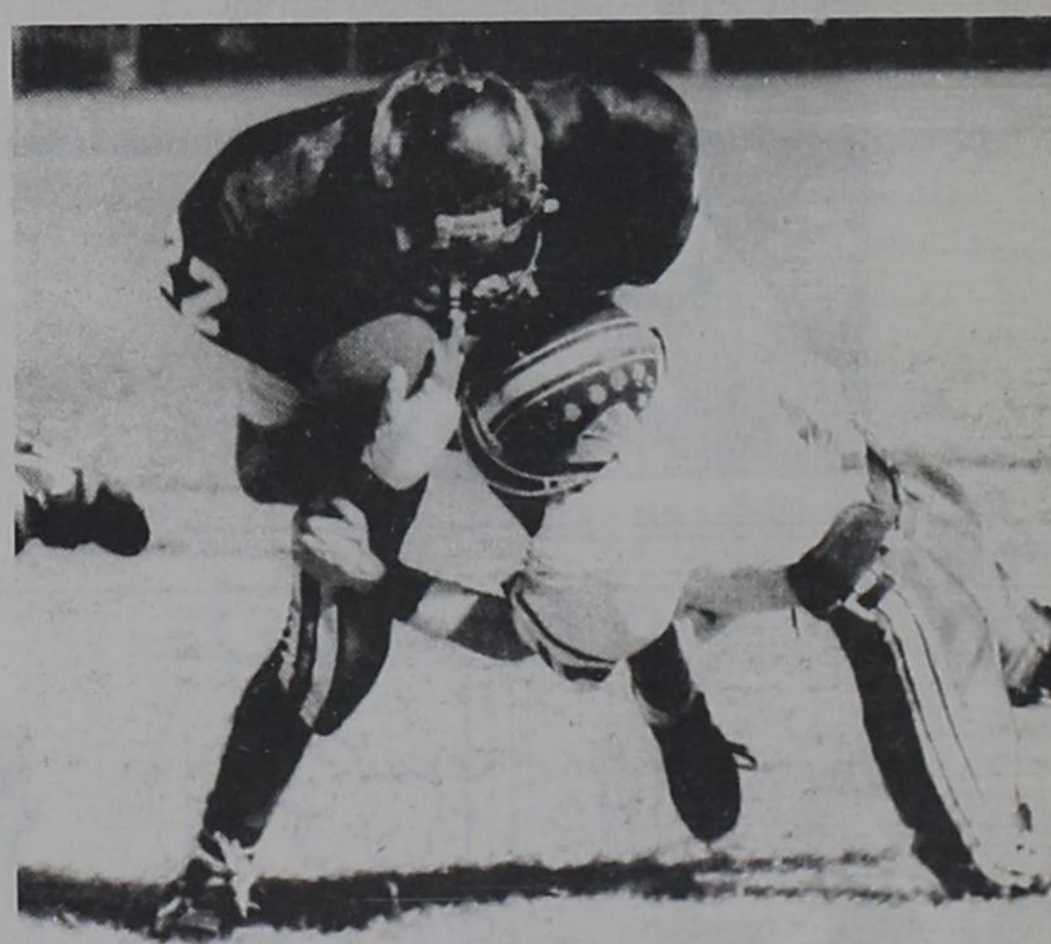

A graduate of Ralls High School, Osborne was a sophomore varsity player 22 years ago when the Jackrabbits last won a district title in 1968.

7th Graders complete season with 28-0 win

The Post 7th grade football team closed out its 1990 football season with a 28-0 win at Crosbyton last Thursday, capping a six win and two loss record.

The team will not play its final scheduled game at Ralls tomorrow because Ralls was unable to field a seventh grade team this year.

"This was a good game to end the season with," coach Chili Black said, "all our kids got to play. Our second teamers got to play about half the game and did a good job, especially the defense."
 "We were pleased that we showed improvement every week," the coach added, "if we played for a district championship at this level, we would have tied for first with Seagraves."

Team members were B.J. Hart, Bodie Simpson, Damon Dean, Carl Sanchez, Chris Perez, David Perez, Saul Martinez, Raymond Garza, Larry Haynes, Riley Feagin, David Quintana, Jeffrey Redman, Vincent Fields, Marcus Varela, David Norman, Marcus Owen, Bryan Justice, Rodney Meeke, Daniel Garcia, Guy Hernandez, Jason Fry, Robbie Palmer, Joseph Sanchez, Bill Cole, Vernon Soto, Jose Diaz, Josh Eilenberger, Marty Dissinger, Codie Hair, Salvador Garcia, Bennis Olive, Tory Harper, Blyth Wilson and Jeremy Steel.

The 7th graders scored in the first quarter with Garza returning the kickoff 98 yards. Dean ran in for the two point conversion.

David Quintana scored again in the first quarter on a 45 yard run. The two-point attempt failed.

Quintana got the call in the third quarter on a 70 yard kickoff return.

Harper caught a 25 yard touchdown pass from Simpson and then Simpson threw a pass to Wilson for the two points.

Junior Varsity slams Crosbyton 34-6

Just about everything went right for the Post Junior Varsity football team last Thursday here as they whipped Crosbyton 34-6.

Coach Fred Postell praised Jaime Ayala, Ramon Guerrero, Marty Edwards, Ricky Jefferson, Shawn Pennell and Darrin Wood for their contributions.

He also complimented the defensive efforts by Ayala, Joey Cowley, Jay Mitchell and Adrian Castillo.

"Our longest drive was 89 yards, taking seven plays," Postell said. "The big play was a 46 yard touchdown pass from Jim Reilly Simpson to Tim Bell."

Rene Armendariz returned a punt 46 yards for a touchdown behind big blocks by Josh Bush, Danny Reyna and Mitchell.

"We had great field position all night," Postell added, "thanks to the turnovers."

One turnover resulted in a two play, 11 yard scoring drive with Bell going in from two yards out.

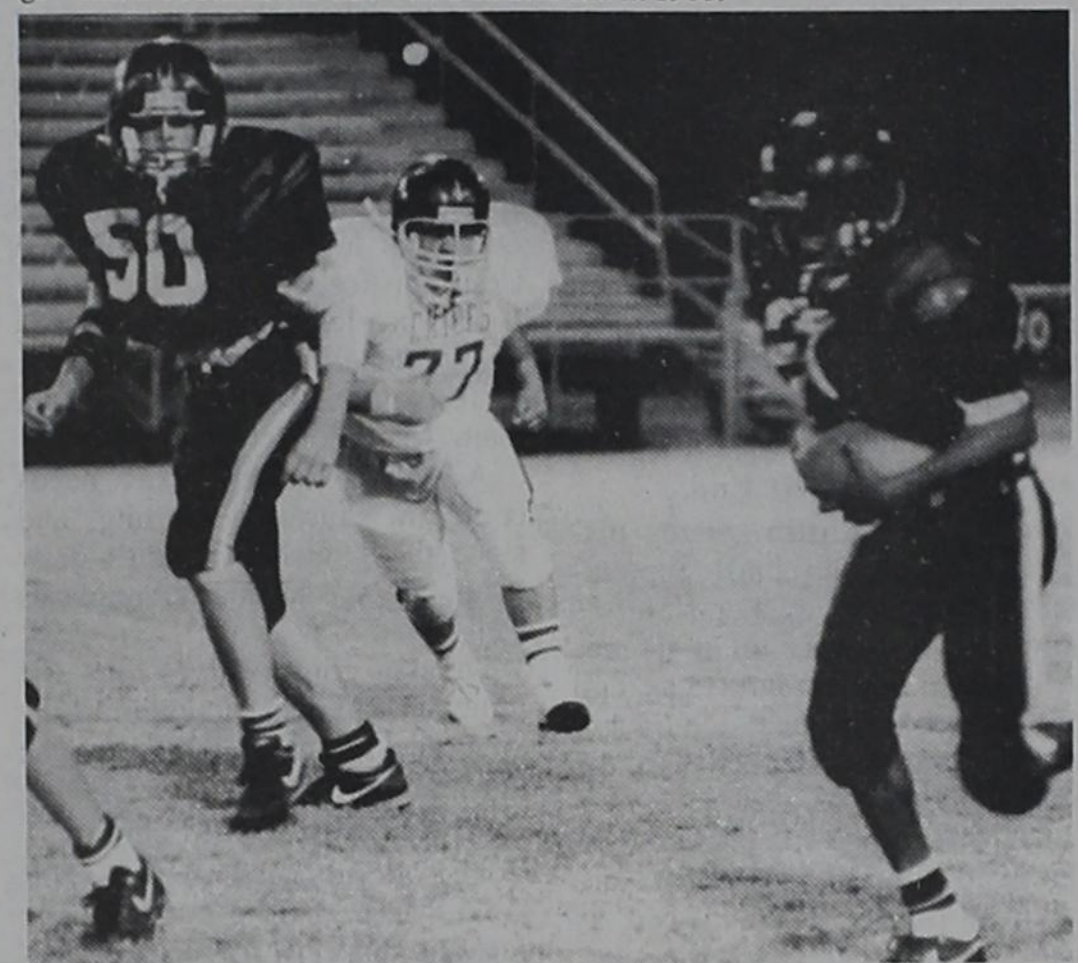

Radley Nichols got the next score on a 12 yard scamper at the end of a three play, 25 yard drive.

The final touchdown came at the end of a 63 yard, 13 play drive with Rynn Sappington going in from two yards out.

Armendariz led the rushers with 109 yards on 18 carries and one touchdown. Tim Bell got 81 yards on 13 carries and one touchdown, followed by Nichols with 45 yards on six tries and one touchdown. Mitchell got 10 yards on two tries, Jaime Ayala carried five times for 19 yards, Cody Collier got six yards on two tries, Sappington got two yards on one carry and a touchdown and Ryan Hart carried once for one yard.

Simpson completed two of three passes for 49 yards, one touchdown and one extra point and Mitchell completed one pass of one attempt for 22 yards. Bell caught one pass for 46 yards and a touchdown and Hart caught a pass for 22 yards.

The team takes on Ralls here for the final game of the season tomorrow evening.

8th graders trounce Crosbyton 30-0

"Our offense never had to drive very far," coach Darrell Radle comments about last Thursday's 30-0 8th grade football team win at Crosbyton, "because the defense kept Crosbyton on their end of the field."

He credited great defensive effort to Stewart Childers, Noel Gomez, Shad Blair, Russ Bird, Manuel Zubia, Brad Lawson, Javier Saldivar, Ray Perez, Oscar Acevedo, Lance Clay, Heath Eagle and Justin Terry.

The coach also praised offensive linemen Monte Dissinger, Perez and Zubia as well as center Ruben Soto, who played one-handed due to an injury, "he did a super job," the coach adds.

The young 'Lopes scored first early in the game on a five play, 33 yard drive with Clay doing the final one yard.

In the second quarter the team put together a seven play, 29 yard drive with Gomez getting the final yard for the score and Willie Mesa went in for the two point conversion.

Eagle completed a 38 yard touchdown pass to Acevedo for the third quarter touchdown, which took six plays for the 44 yard drive. Lawson took the ball in for the two-pointer.

The final touchdown came in the fourth quarter as Acevedo ran for 27 yards, Mesa got eight and then two for the touchdown and Lance Clay got the two point conversion.

The 8th grade team collected 204 yards offense, limiting Crosbyton to 81 yards.

The team travels to Ralls tomorrow for the final 1990 contest.

Seagraves edges Post J.V. 26-16

A trip to Seagraves October 25 ended in a 26-16 loss for the Post Junior Varsity football team.

"A great job by the offensive line," coach Fred Postell said. He praised linemen Michael McClellan, Terry Curtis, Anthony Cruse, Aaron Davis, Josh Bush, Brett Martin, Jonathan Ayala, Ty Hill, David Heaton, Daniel Morales and Danny Reyna.

"The kids played a great game against an undefeated and united team," Postell added, "they scored twice with five minutes to play to give them that 26-16 margin."

"We scored to make the score 14-8 with six minutes to play," the coach continued, "we held them and got the ball back. We had been moving the ball the entire quarter, but a fumble on our first play gave them the ball at our 20. They scored from there."

Seagraves then kicked off and the 'Lopes returned it to the Post 31. On first down quarterback Jim Reilly Simpson hit Daniel Morales with a 43 yard pass completion to put the ball at the Seagraves 26. Two plays later Simpson lofted a pass to Rene Armendariz behind the Seagraves secondary for a 26 yard touchdown play. The extra point by Armendariz was good with approximately a minute left in the game.

"Our first score was a 68 yard drive which took 10 plays," Postell said.

The 'Lopes got 238 yards offense, allowing Seagraves 368 yards. Armendariz led the rushing with 96 yards on 20 tries, caught one pass for 26 yards and a touchdown and returned three kickoff for 82 yards.

Sid Estep carried six times for 42 yards. Jay Mitchell was 0-1 in pass attempts and Simpson was 3-3 for 74 yards, one touchdown and one extra point.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - The dirtiest political campaign in the history of Texas ended this week, and Capitol eyes turned to watch what may be the last gasp of the most political Texas Supreme Court ever.

The dominant theme in judicial elections was whether lawmakers elected to judgeships can be trusted not to make laws from the bench — and voters thought they had their say Tuesday.

Not entirely so. In a neat display of political sidestep, the High Court Democrats and lame-duck Attorney General Jim Mattox have managed to drag a very tax-expensive issue away from the force of this week's election.

As a result, the five sitting Democrats on the Texas Supreme Court — all former state legislators — as a group will have a final say in telling the Legislature, at the bottom line, how much money it must spend.

How did they do it?

After an Austin state district judge waited until September to declare the Legislature's new school finance plan unconstitutional, Mattox pulled an end run around the appeals court and brought the case directly to the Supreme Court.

On one hand, his tactic saves time and money, but there are political profits to be reaped as well.

First, the hot potato case is delayed until after the election; Mat-tox and the Democratic leadership knew full well that to hand down a tax-prone decision before an election would jeopardize their entire ballot.

Second, Mattox essentially gave the issue to the bench's current majority of Democrats to handle in December, even though two justices — Franklin Spears and C.L. Ray — did not run for re-election.

Window of Opportunity
If Mattox had gone through the appeal court, the case would have been delayed past their terms. As it stands now, the bloc of former legislators on the Court have a month-long window of opportunity.

Couldn't they wait a month? After all, State District Judge Scott McCown waited all summer before striking it down.

Hardly. Three seats were up for election, with the six non-contested seats held by three Democrats and three Republicans; facing the possibility of a Republican majority on the court, the former legislators couldn't afford to take chances.

Special Master Re-Enters

Now, when the new justices take their oath in January, they'll likely find the school finance case has been sent back to the Legislature or given to the special master, himself a former Democrat legislator and Supreme Court Justice.

The pro-legislative maneuver is totally legal, is no deep dark secret, and is well-applauded in many Capitol circles.

Advocates argue Texas needs equity in education funding, and since the Legislature won't draw it up, the special master might as well.

Unless conservatives in the judiciary can delay action until the lame-ducks are off the court, he probably will.

Could Have Built Schools

The doomsayers expect this lame-duck cabal to order costly reforms that will force legislators over the brink and into a state income tax.

So, the issue remains with us, whether it is right or prudent for a judge to force the Legislature to spend more money than it has on the books.

Texas has seen it all too often this past decade; in fact, had a federal judge not forced the Legislature to spend millions on new prisons, the Legislature might have been able to appropriate more money for public education.

Texans could have been building better schools instead of better prisons.

Initiative Rights Eyed

State Rep. Rick Williamson, D-Weatherford, plans to sponsor legislation in January that would give Texans initiative and referendum rights. Although similar efforts failed in 1989, Williamson said he believes the bill has a better chance in 1991.

Residents in about half of the 50 states can put such measures as whether to slash taxes and impose limits on officerholders' terms, through the petition process.

In Texas, people don't have that power. But some lawmakers and political observers think the time may be ripe for change.

"It is the future of public policy," said Williamson. "The information-communications revolution of the 1980s has put on the table permanently that voters should have control over public policy."

Other Highlights

■ Two former chief justices, both Democrats, endorsed a Republican for Place 1 on the Supreme Court. John Hill and Joe Greenhill gave the nod to San Antonio's State District Judge John Cornyn over Democrat Gene Kelly.

■ Congress just gave Texas 11 new federal judges, the most any state received, with five slated for South Texas, three for West Texas, two for Dallas-Fort Worth and one in East Texas.

■ The last Gallop Poll before the election found that of the 12 percent of "most likely voters" who were still undecided, most were conservative, white females concerned with schools and crime.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank all our friends or the prayers, cards, visits and food, for the music at the church, to Bro Jim Graham and Bro Weldon Thomas of the loss of our son, Bryan C. Johnston. Also a wonderful job by Hudman Funeral Home. May God bless everyone of you in our prayers.

Clay & Cordia Johnston

Thank You!

For the first time in my life, words fail me. Thank you just doesn't say enough or everything you all did for me while I was going thru the tests, waiting for the results, then the surgery and then waiting to find out if all was ok. I was a basket case, you came through for me when I needed you the most. Thank you for all the encouraging phone calls, the beautiful flowers and balloons, the calls and visits while I was in the hospital and the food brought after I was home. I can't thank you enough for your kindness.

Thanks to Doni, Dana, Becky, Sandy and Shawna for holding things together while Joe and I were gone. Thanks girls, I couldn't have made it without you. Thank you Dr William C. Wilson, Dr Gerald Wilson and West Texas Hospital for giving me such good care. Thanks to my family for sticking by me when I was at my worst. You are the best. For all the prayers all of you prayed for me, they worked. I can't tell you how much I appreciate it. God was listening and he answered. I'm fine and on the road to recovery.

Thanks!
Diana Poe

We would like to express our appreciation to everyone for their visits, food and cards during the recent death of our mother, Buelah Eilenberger. A special thank you goes to Dr Young, Pauline and everyone else in the emergency room.

Bless you,
Carol, Donnie, Doris, Helen & families

Legal Notices

Amended Notice of Rate Change Request and Statement of Intent

Notice is hereby given that DICKENS ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE INC., (the "Utility") intends to establish a new load retention rate for qualifying large power loads over 2000 KW. The load retention rate includes a separate factor for recovering power costs associated with the customer's load. The Utility intends to change the power cost recovery factor applicable to all other customers to exclude the cost of power and KWh sales to customers utilizing the load retention rate. The changes are proposed to be effective as soon as may be permitted by law. Based upon a test year ended December 31, 1989, the proposed changes result in a decrease less than actual test year revenues of $224,542 or 1.6%. The changes are applicable to all areas, all customer classes, and all customers served by the Utility.

Implementation of the proposed load retention rate and other changes is subject

Relay Texas serves hearing and speech impaired customers

Communications services for the hearing and speech impaired are being provided throughout the State of Texas as of September 1. Known as Relay Texas, the service allows Texas residents who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech impaired to communicate over the telephone with persons who have normal speech or hearing. US Sprint, long distance affiliate of United Telephone Co. of Texas, provides the service across the state.

The Public Utility Commission awarded the Relay Texas contract to US Sprint in March. The confidential service operates out of Austin 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. To communicate with the center, persons who are speech and/or hearing impaired use a Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) or other compatible equipment.

TDD users dial 1-800-RE-LAYTX to be in direct contact with a relay center agent. The agent connects the call to the requested telephone number and remains on the line to serve as a conduit between the two parties. A message typed into the TDD system is viewed by the agent, who then translates it orally to the party with normal speech and hearing.

The agent then receives the oral response, converts it into written form, and relays it back through the TDD system. Calls may be initiated by either a TDD user or a person with normal speech and hearing. Callers with normal speech and hearing must dial 1-800-RE-LAYTX to access the center.

According to Peggy Fields, director of operations for Relay Texas, agents have received extensive training in deaf awareness and sensitivity, as well as American Sign Language transliteration. This enables agents to identify a variety of sentence structures and language patterns used exclusively by persons who are speech or hearing impaired. Fields says that customer relay agents may handle as many as 175,000 calls a month.

There are no fees or charges for using the service within a local calling area. Long distance calls made within Texas are billed at a 50 per cent discount of the rates in the contract. Rates are available upon asking. Long distance calls made outside Texas are not discounted and include a surcharge. Dialing instructions are available in braille or large type upon request. For more information, call 1-800-RELAYTX.
