City Council begins process of closing major portion of landfill

Remaining 10 acres expected to fill within 18 to 24 months

by Wes Burnett

The Post City Council at its regular monthly meeting Monday night authorized its engineers to begin the process of closing 25 acres of the city landfill as had been planned since last month's meeting.

The closing of the 25 acres, an area which had already reached its capacity, provides the city savings by meeting a deadline set by the Texas Department of Health under new federal environmental regulations.

A remaining 10 acres of the landfill will provide service for the city for 18 to 24 months, depending on volume.

Butch Davis of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper engineering firm, outlined the process for closing the 25 acres, which meets health department standards. The total cost of the project could be as high as $119,000. Bids for the project, which includes a cover of 18 more inches, will be advertised with an estimated completion date within the six months required by the law.

Davis also informed the council that new water monitoring regulations are expected to be issued for cities the size of Post by 1993 which will require the city to monitor its water for lead and copper contamination. Davis said that the additional cost of testing and monitoring could add as much as $25 per household for implementation.

"I want you know about these things," city manager Bob Turner told the council, "you might remember that four years ago when this landfill situation first began to be talked about, we all thought it would just go away...well, it won't and you need to be prepared for the next round of regulations."

The council approved the proposal by Post Insurance Agency's Terry Hoover for property and liability coverage by Ranger Insurance of Houston with an annual premium of $17,190. The city had been covered by Trinity Insurance which cancelled its coverage for municipalities. The new policy offers a $2 million aggregate per year and a rebate based on claims experience.

"I feel this is a good policy for the city," Hoover said, "and especially considering the tight situation with insurance in Texas right now."

A proposal by representatives of the Post Chamber of Commerce to merge Main Street Project and chamber activities into one management position was discussed at length. Council member Larry Mills suggested a joint meeting be held between the city manager, chamber of commerce directors and the Main Street advisory board to prepare a plan. By consent the proposal was accepted.

The Chamber of Commerce was represented by Charles Hardin, Wanda Mitchell and Curtis Hudman.

Garza Theatre board appoints Jane Prince Jones as managing director

Nelda Dalby, president of the Garza Theatre board of directors, announced last week the board's appointment of Jane Prince Jones to serve as managing director at the theatre.

Jones, who has a long list of acting and theatrical credits in her career, has been a favorite on stage at the Garza since she first appeared in "The Rainmaker."

"This is a wonderful opportunity," Jones said, "and I am thrilled at the chance to continue the quality theatre that will worked so hard to build in Post."

She and the late Will McCrary shared the stage in "The Rainmaker," "See How They Run," "Barefoot In The Park," "The Matchmaker" and "Bullshot Crummond." Jones also appeared in the wildly popular "Steel Magnolias" as "Ouiser".

"We are excited about the future of our theatre," Dalby emphasized, "and especially with Jane's talents, enthusiasm and professional experiences."

Following reorganization, the theatre will begin its 1992 season in January. "Right now we are in the process of setting a schedule," Dalby added, "and just as soon as we get some details worked out, we'll announce our 1992 season."

Jones is a 1973 graduate of Texas Tech with a bachelor of arts, majoring in theatre arts and holds a 1977 master of arts degree in theatre arts from Texas Tech.

She has also attended Amarillo Junior College and graduated from Tascosa High School in Amarillo in 1965.

She was on the Dean's List at Texas Tech and was named best actress in a major role at Texas Tech by Alpha Psi Omega (honorary theatre fraternity).

Jones is best known in Lubbock as co-host of KLLD radio's morning show, "The Jon, Don and Jane Show," and has served as news director at the station since 1986.

She also was news anchor at KCBD TV from 1977-80, a pioneer in Lubbock as the first female television news anchor. Jane was news director and morning show co-host on KSEL AM/FM radio from 1977 to 1983 and served as talk show hostess at radio station KTLK from 1983-84.

She was named Communicator of the Year by the Lubbock Chapter Women in Communications and was Best Actress at the Garza Theatre in 1990 for her role as "Dolly Levi" in "The Matchmaker."

Jane was also selected as Best Supporting Actress at the Garza for her 1990 performances in "Barefoot In The Park" as "Ethel". The Lubbock Community Theatre named her Newcomer of the Year for her 1979 role in "You Can't Take It With You."

Jane is owner and president of Prince-Jones Travel and she and her husband Randy are the parents of 27 year old Kevin, nine year old Jenni, seven year old Amy and grandparents to three year old Brandi and six months old Brooke.

Members of the Garza Theatre board in addition to Dalby are Jack Alexander, A.C. Cash, Maxine Earl and Giles McCrary.

Jane Prince Jones

Turner brought to the council's attention the need for a fee schedule at the city landfill to control the dumping of commercial and industrial wastes. "We currently do not have any controls, and since Slaton's landfill is closed and Tahoka's is about to be closed, I am worried about contractors coming in here with truckloads of stuff and in no time our remaining 10 acres could be filled."

The council authorized Turner to prepare a fee schedule and policy to be discussed with possible action at the December meeting.

The second reading of the city's Drug Abuse Policy was approved. The plan goes into affect in 30 days and Turner said the first step will be a training program presented by the City/County Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program, followed by a random selection of employees for testing.

Jack Alexander was appointed by the council to serve on the Central Appraisal District board. The city is allocated one-fourth of a vote and Alexander also represents the Garza Memorial Hospital. Voting power on the board is determined by the amount of tax collections by the participating government units.

The low bid of $11,848 from Terry County Tractor in Brownfield was accepted by the council, along with the low bid of $12,869.12 from McGinnis Chevrolet of Slaton for a pickup truck.

An ordinance to provide Records Management was approved by the council. The records are maintained and controlled by the city secretary.

Turner reported that a private firm will begin development in the near future of a 24 unit apartment complex on the corner of 15th Street and Avenue R. The apartments will be one bedroom units designed specifically for elderly meeting age and income eligibility requirements. The housing program is administered by the Farmers Home Administration but is privately funded.

City attorney Harvey Morton reported to the council that the redistricting committee is working on a new plan which divides the city north and south for voting precincts.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Jackson, council members Larry Waldrip, Dan Lamb, Jim Schooler and Larry Mills, Turner, city secretary Wanda Wilkerson and Morton.

Cotton Unlimited's Instasorb gets top billing at state cleanup trade show

The response to Cotton Unlimited's unique oil cleanup material at last week's "Clean Gulf '91" trade show in Austin was overwhelming.

Representatives from Cotton Unlimited unveiled the new product for the first time at a trade show, attracting interest from companies all across the United States as well as many foreign countries.

Instasorb, Cotton Unlimited's one-of-a-kind oil absorbent material, is a totally natural cleanup, manufactured here from cotton.

Girl Scouts need the United Way help to provide services to 125 Garza County youth

by Wes Burnett

The Garza County United Way campaign this year continues its support of the Girl Scouts, a program which served 125 girls here last year.

The Caprock Girl Scout Council provides staff support, administrative volunteers and development of a summer day camp. Betty Dennis serves on the Caprock Council board of directors and Pat Cruse is the Service Unit Chair.

The budget this year for the Girl Scout program is $3,600. Serving on the Garza County Girl Scout community team are Pat Cruse, Jaquita Blevins, Carol Peppers, Deborah Morris, Carol Tobias, Rebecca Haney, Mario Curse and Giles McCrary.

Also getting help from United Way here are the Boy Scouts, with a $3,600 budget.

Other participating agencies include the Garza County Mental Health, Garza County Child Welfare Board, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Post Jr Girls' Basketball, Trail Blazers, Post Satellite School, Meals on Wheels and Women's Protective Services.

The United Way budget committee screens all requests from participating agencies to ensure that each receives its fair share.

Donations to the Garza County United Way may be mailed to P.O. Box 425, Post, Texas 79356 or at The First National Bank.

Five contestants miss only one game in football contest...

Anthony Perez, Jane Redman and Richard Hart came within one second and a desperation pass play by former Texas Tech quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver from winning the $100 bonus Post City Bucks in last week's Post Dispatch Football Contest.

Each of the three missed only one game, they chose San Francisco over Atlanta. Pro football fans know by now that Billy Joe, playing for Atlanta, threw a pass with one second left in the game to a crowd of players in the end zone and amazingly one of the Atlanta receivers came down with the ball to win the game as time ran out.

So, five contestants in the contest competed with the tie-breaker.

Dianna Espinoza, who choose Cleveland over Cincinnati to miss one game, came within four points of the Denver/Pittsburgh game to claim first place. She picked Denver 21, Pittsburgh 10. The actual score was Denver 20, Pittsburgh 13. That game was also a nail-biter, going down to the final seconds.

Second place winners, splitting the third and second place prizes, are Brent INSTASORB GETS WIDE RECOGNITION - Cotton Unlimited's Pat Mitchell (left) and Wanda Mitchell (center) join Texas General Land commissioner Gary Mauro in a demonstration of Instasorb, the cotton based oil spill cleanup material manufactured at Cotton Unlimited in Post. The material received wide acceptance by participants at the state sponsored "Clean Gulf '91" trade show in Austin.

The product is made from natural bio-degradable fibers and drew wide attention from trade show participants.

The show was sponsored by the Texas General Land Office, which is responsible for environmental pollution on the Texas coastline.

Attending the trade show from Post and Lubbock were Wanda Mitchell, Mike Mitchell, Mary Muncrief, Paul Muncrief, Sandy Pate, Joe Pate, Pat Mitchell and Kathy Dean.

Cotton Unlimited currently employs 33 people at the Post facility and in addition to Instasorb, is also manufacturing the cotton based insulation material, Insulcot.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. 4-H Rabbit Workshop

by Diane Graves, secretary
Garza County Extension Office

Saturday, November 9, 2 p.m., county 4-H clubs combine for a Rabbit Workshop to be presented by Jennifer Beckham of Plains.

If you are wanting to begin a rabbit project or already have rabbits, you need to attend this workshop at the show barn. Mrs. Beckham will teach you how to handle and exhibit a rabbit for show in addition to proper care, feeding, and health.

If you have a rabbit, bring it with you. If you do not have a rabbit, call the County Extension Office at 495-2050 by 5 p.m. Thursday (tomorrow) so Mrs. Beckham will know how many rabbits to bring. You will need to wear a long sleeve shirt to protect your arms while you are learning to handle a rabbit.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Dr Shen Chen joins hospital staff

Shen S. Chen, M.D. has joined the medical staff at Garza Memorial Hospital to open a full-time practice in family and emergency medicine in Post.

Dr Chen began seeing patients on November 1, 1991 at the Garza Family Health Center, 111 North Avenue I in Post.

"I got involved with rural health care through another program. I found I enjoyed working in a rural area, and I feel there is a real need for quality rural health care. I see a real opportunity in this community. Post is a very warm and friendly place," said Dr Chen.

Dr Chen received his medical training at The China Medical College in Tiachung, Tiawan, Republic of China. He completed his internship at The Pottsville Hospital in Pottsville, Pa., in 1973, followed by a two-year residency in general practice at Good Samaritan Hospital in the same town. Since 1981, Dr Chen has been practicing in Lubbock.

"We are extremely pleased to have a physician of his caliber coming to Post," said Jack Alexander, president of the hospital's Board of Directors.

"The addition of Dr Chen to our Medical Staff shows the hospital's commitment to meet the medical needs of Post and the surrounding communities, the hospital will continue to search for additional physicians to provide OB services," stated Maritta Reed, Hospital Administrator.

On April 16, 1991, GTE Corporation ("GTE") and Contel Corporation ("Contel") filed a joint petition for declaratory relief with respect to the obligations or requirements of GTE or Contel and/or any of its subsidiaries relating to the merger of GTE and Contel. GTE and Contel have requested a ruling from the Public Utility Commission of Texas that neither GTE nor Contel is required to report the merger of GTE and Contel pursuant to Section 63 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act ("PURA"), TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 1446c (Vernon Supp. 1991), that no investigation of the merger by the Commission is required. In the alternative, GTE and Contel seek a determination that the merger is consistent with the public interest.

The Commission is investigating the merger between GTE and Contel Corporations to determine whether the merger is consistent with the public interest. In reaching its determination, the Commission shall take into consideration the reasonable value of the property, facilities or securities to be acquired, disposed of, merged or consolidated. If the Commission finds that the merger is not in the public interest, the Commission shall take the effect of the transaction into consideration in GTE Southwest Incorporated's and Contel of Texas, Inc.'s next ratemaking proceeding and disallow the effect of such transaction if it will unreasonably affect rates or services.

This filing has been assigned Docket No. 10212. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed by 3 p.m., December 31, 1991, to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, TX, 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Division of the Public Utility Commission at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Public Notice

On October 18, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to add a new optional service offering called SmartTrunk™ Service. The application has been assigned Tariff Control No. 10687.

SmartTrunk Service provides access between the customer's premises and the serving Southwestern Bell central office for circuit-switched voice and data communications. This communication capability is provided where facilities are available using Integrated Services Digital Network architecture. ISDN services available with SmartTrunk Service use Primary Rate Interface (PRI) technology. SmartTrunk Service requires PRI ISDN compatible Private Branch Exchange (PBX) customer provided equipment registered under FCC Part 68 Rules. SmartTrunk Service employs a 1.544 Mbps facility (denoted as SmartTrunk Interface) typically divided into twenty-three B channels and one D channel. B channels are used for voice and data communications while the D channel provides out-of-band signaling.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for each SmartTrunk Interface facility will be $1,110 per month under a 36-month service contract or $1,010 per month under a 60-month service contract. The proposed rate for the use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each B channel depending on the rate group classification which is determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.8 million from this offering during the first year.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should file comments regarding this application with the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.

Parents and teachers must be in touch

All across the country, parents are playing a significant role in improving the quality of schools. Membership in Parent Teachers Associations declined from its high in 1963, but has now rebounded. The change is due partly to increased school enrollment, but the bigger reason, researchers say, is that parents have decided that their children's schooling is too important to leave solely to professionals and politicians.

Parent-teacher relationships need to be nurtured. Teachers need training in parent education, and parents need guidance in learning the best ways to cooperate with the school.

The key to success is not radically shifting power from professionals and school boards to parents. Rather, it is finding ways to share power.

Building a parent-teacher alliance takes mutual respect, good communication and an understanding that you're on the same side. Sometime conflict between parents and teachers arises when parents carry unconscious baggage about their own childhood into their child's classroom.

As in all relationships, communication is of enormous importance. Both parents and teachers need to talk -- to attempt to share with each other conflicts, problems and vulnerabilities that are part of all our lives. If parents feel as though they are returning to a not-always-joyful childhood when they walk into a school as an adult, they need to face these feelings. If a teacher goes into conference distracted and depressed, she may need to share her problems, for example, if her mother is dying of cancer.

Dealing with differences, having respect as a common goal and developing creative solutions to problems together help strengthen parent-teacher relationships than there are of failures. Positive interaction and empowerment is beneficial for parents, teachers and children.

4-H Food Show Showcases Food Entries

by Ann Nobles, CEA-HE
Garza County 4-H Food Show will be held November 11 at First Methodist Church in Post with judging set to begin at 6 p.m. Tasting bee and awards presentation will follow judging.

Food Show entries, ages nine to 19, will prepare a recipe in one of four categories: Main Dish, Bread and Cereal, Fruit and Vegetable, Nutritious Snacks and Desserts. 4-H's entering food show have completed six lessons in a food and nutrition project group. Project groups have been led by Erma Torres and Debbie Ledbetter.

During the judging the youth will explain to judges how the dish fits into a daily menu plan for a person their own age, the nutrients supplied by the dish prepared, preparation techniques used, and food safety practices followed.

Winners from each category in each of three age groups will participate in District Food Show on November 23, at Levelland High School, Levelland.

Family members and friends of participants and any interested citizens are encouraged to attend and should arrive about 6:30 p.m.

El Salvador mayors visit Post last Friday

The City of Post, along with the Post Chamber of Commerce, hosted 24 mayors from El Salvador last Friday as part of a tour of the United States. The visit locally was arranged by Texas Tech University.

The tour in West Texas included visits to Post, Lamesa and Lubbock.

The visiting mayors were interested in seeing city government, economics and community affairs at the local level.

While in Post the foreign visitors were treated to a luncheon, where they were welcomed by Mayor Jim Jackson.

The tour here included visits to Cal-Maine Foods, Cotton Unlimited, the Cross H Ranch, the city landfill, Garza County Courthouse, operations at The George R. Brown Partnership, Post Volunteer Fire Department, City Hall, the Caprock Cultural Association, the Post Art Guild and former mayor Giles McCrary's renovated office building.

Chiefs dominate 'Lopes in 40-8 romp

by Wes Burnett
The Crosbyton Chiefs took the opening kickoff last Friday night on their home field and scored on their first three possessions on the way to a 33-8 halftime lead and a 40-8 final score over the Post Antelopes.

If weather was a factor, the biting cold appears to have slapped the 'Lopes into a sluggish mood with neither the offense nor the defense able to stop the Chiefs.

J.V. returns to winning ways in 24-20 win over Denver City

"We put on an offensive clinic in the second half," coach Bart McMeans comments about last Thursday's junior varsity 24-20 win at Denver City.

"The offensive line of Clay Williams, Michael Gomez, Stewart Childers, Ray Perez, Lucas Walls, Mark Espitia, Manuel Zubia and Javier Saldivar did a great job," the coach adds.

"It was the best effort they have had all year," he continues. "Our backs ran hard." He praised Russ Bird, Tim Bell, Noe Gomez, Willie Mesa, Cody Collier, Lance Clay, Oscar Acevedo, Matt Gomez for their consistent work and wearing Denver City down.

"We had the ball most of the second half," McMeans reports. The young 'Lopes collected 252 yards rushing and 21 yards passing for a total of 273 yards. The defense limited Denver City to 201 yards rushing and 70 passing for a total of 271.

"On defense, we again gave up two big plays," the coach adds. One was a 45 yard run and the other was a 65 yard pass and run play.

"We just don't concentrate on every play, until we start doing that, we are going to continue giving up the big play," McMeans says.

"We did play aggressive defense for the most part, however," he adds. In the first 'Lope scoring drive, which was a nine play, 44 yard effort, Oscar Acevedo carried the ball three times for 17 yards. Casey Hart was two for two to Javier Saldivar for 18 yards in passing. Willie Mesa scored from two yards out and Hart threw a pass to Rynn Sappington for the two point conversion.

The second scoring drive went 69 yards in 11 plays with Russ Bird and Tim Bell combining for 54 yards on eight carries. Bird scored from three yards out and Lance Clay got the two point conversion.

The final touchdown drive was a classic time-eating event. The 13 play, 72 yard drive ate up nine minutes off the clock. The offensive line gets credit for the touchdown, according to McMeans. "We had holes that anyone could have run through," he emphasizes.

Bell scored from six yards out and Clay got the two point conversion again.

Other players seeing action in the contest were Heath Eagle, Justin Terry, Cody Collier, Brant Windham, Brad Lawson, Tracy Morris, Patrick Fluit, Roman Perez, Joey Cowley, Lionel Juarez, Shad Blair, Jimmy Solis, Julian Aranda and Bitt Sims.

The team travels to Shallowater Thursday for its final game of the season.

Senior Crosbyton halfback 220 pound Jerome Lang broke through arm tackles while Abel Valdez cut through a ferocious offensive line, scoring in seven plays on the Chiefs' first possession. The pounding continued into the fourth quarter, when Crosbyton put its reserves into action.

The lone Antelope touchdown came late in the second quarter on a 10 play, 55 yard drive.

Trailing 33-0, Damon Curtis took the kickoff handoff from Michael Self at the 15 yard line, and raced down his left side to the 45.

With 4:51 left in the first half, the 'Lope offense came alive. Self blasted over left tackle to the Crosbyton 47, then picked up a first down over left guard to the 37.

Brandon Bird took the pitchout around his right end to the 31 and on second down Self ripped over right guard to the 17.

Self got the call again to the 13 and on second down Bird rammed over left tackle to the six.

Self got two the four and on second down Bird was trapped in the backfield for a loss to the five.

Quarterback Jim Riley Simpson was sacked on third down at the 10 and on a fourth down desperation, Simpson rolled to his right, avoided two defenders and ripped the ball through the air to Shane Horton in the right end zone corner for the score. It was a great pass and a solid catch. The 'Lopes lined up for the two point conversion attempt and Simpson faked the inside handoff and then threw the ball to Self going from his right to his left in the end zone.

Any thoughts of a comeback in the second half were eliminated with the 'Lopes unable to pick up a first down at the Crosbyton 23 yard line on their first possession following the kickoff.

The Chiefs came roaring back with a 14 play, 77 yard drive, featuring Valdez and Lang simply wearing down the Antelope defense.

With 2:54 left in the third quarter, the Chiefs led 40-8.

The 'Lopes managed to get one first down during the remainder of the game. The team plays its final contest of the 1991 season at Ralls Friday with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Card of Thanks

We are grateful for and thank all the people who had a part in making the Founder's Day weekend such a success and so special for us. We appreciated the gifts of the dinners and picture. We thank the Garden Club for the honor of representing them during the weekend.

Thank you to all the ones who came to our 50th anniversary the following weekend. The cards, calls, gifts, acts of service and kindness have been a blessing.

Annie Laura and Thurman Francis
We would like to thank everyone who bought chances on the quilt to benefit the Grassland Community Center. A special thank you to all who helped sell chances. Most of all thanks to the ones who made it all possible, the ladies of the Grassland Hobby Club who made and donated the quilt. The winner was C.W. Roberts of Tahoka.

Thanks again,
Grassland Community Center

NOTICE OF HEARING ON THE APPLICATION OF TORCH OPERATING COMPANY FOR FIELDWIDE UNITIZATION AND INCENTIVE ALLOWABLE FOR WATER INJECTION IN THE HAPPY (SPRABERRY LIME) FIELD GARZA COUNTY, TEXAS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO the public and all interested persons that under the Authority of Title 3, Oil and Gas, Subtitles A, B, and C, Texas Natural Resources Code, and Chapters 26, 27 and 29 of the Texas Water Code, the Railroad Commission of Texas will hold a hearing on December 6, 1991, at 9:00 a.m. at the William B. Travis State Office Building, 1701 N. Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas. The hearing will be conducted in conformity with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 6252-13a (Vernon Supp. 1991). For room assignment, on the date of the hearing please check the bulletin board located in the 1st Floor lobby. Persons planning to attend this hearing are urged to contact the applicant (see service list) immediately prior to the hearing date to be sure that the hearing will proceed on the scheduled date.

This hearing will be held to consider the application of Torch Operating Company for Approval of the Happy (Spraberry Lime) Unitization Agreement and Secondary Recovery Project, Happy (Spraberry Lime) Field, Garza County, Texas.

The Unitization Agreement has now been signed by persons owning in excess of 65% of the royalty interests and 85% of the working interests in the unit area. Efforts are being made to complete the signing of the remaining working interests and royalty interest owners in the unit.

The applicant further requests that this hearing be held to consider the adoption of a maximum efficient rate oil allowable for all wells in the field as an incentive for water injection operations. If a continuation is necessary, this hearing will proceed at the William B. Travis State Office Building, 1701 N. Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas, and, to the extent possible, on subsequent working days. The room number and exact time of the continuation will be announced on the record in this proceeding and recorded with Docket Services, Legal Division, Railroad Commission of Texas.

PURSUANT TO SAID HEARING, the Commission will enter such rules, regulations, and orders as in its judgment the evidence presented may justify. Any request for postponement of this hearing must be received no later than five

'World traveler' cruises the Arctic Circle on Soviet ice breaker...

by Kimberly Crystaloski
Texas Tech University
Journalism Intern

Special for The Post Dispatch
If this were a question on the television game show, Jeopardy, it would go something like this: He's been to every continent, four of seven of the world's largest waterfalls, plowed through ice in Siberia and lived with a tribe of headhunters.

Those who don't know him might say "Indiana Jones" or even "Crocodile Dundee." But with as little as a pocket knife, a chocolate bar, and a 21-inch bag, Giles McCrary, former mayor of Post, has taken trips that make the lives of adventure movie hero's seem trivial.

"My dream is to be the first man to step on soil untouched by anyone but myself," McCrary said, a goal he set for himself in 1979.

To reach his goal, McCrary takes as many as three trips a year to places like South America, Africa, Indonesia, and most recently Siberia, travelling alone or with a guide. He says his wife would accompany him, but doesn't like bugs.

On his latest trip McCrary flew to Anchorage, Alaska. From Anchorage he flew on a chartered plane to Provideniya, a small village in Siberia, the first of five stops on this Northwest Passage and boarded a Russian Nuclear powered icebreaker.

Provideniya, with a population of only 2,500, fits McCrary's definition of a good vacation destination, a place that's remote and largely unknown.

"Many of the places I visit are not even on the map because they are so small, and Provideniya is one of those."

He said Provideniya is a very important center for a large part of the Arctic Ocean and Bering Sea. Ships that unload cargo, foodstuffs and supplies for transfer to smaller ships and remote Siberian villages.

"Up until fairly recently, it was an important military base holding a large contingent of Russian soldiers to guard against American attack from Alaska. The soldiers have been removed," McCrary said.

The second stop on the Siberian trip was Pevik, McCrary said, one of the sites of Stalin's "Gulags," or labor camps.

"In the years of Stalin, the 'Gulags' were where many political prisoners were sent, and at one time it was said that one-million prisoners were sent to Pevik and only 2,000 survived -- the rest died or were killed." Because of the isolation of the area escape wasn't possible.

He said Pevik is a strip-mining area of tin, gold and silver. Most of the area is tundra, permanently frozen soil, which he says is like walking on sponge.

McCrary found the people of Pevik friendly and the children fascinated with him and others on the ship.

At one village he visited, fishermen had just brought two whales on the beach which were being cleaned and bled for blubber, a food staple in the Arctic.

"The beach was muddy from the blood," he said.

"Murmansk, the last stop, was a town of about 500,000 people, with a Russian naval base."

Incidentally, McCrary was aboard the nuclear-powered Russian icebreaker Sovetskiy Soyuz during the coup attempt on Soviet president Mikhail Gorbachev.

"The ships crew was very responsive to the situation and assured us that there was no concern."

"There were five registered communists on the ship, who were so delighted to dispose of their cards that they sold them."

"I would have bought one for a souvenir, but they were bought quickly," McCrary said.

All of McCrary's travels involve learning about the world, and one of the things he's learned is a greater concern for the environment.

"In the last two or three years, I have been in areas in which incredible amounts of damage have been done by timber industries."

He says the timber industry damages the future of natives in some parts of the world by destroying the habitat for animal life.

Rain forest destruction can lead to soil erosion, which displaces animal life, affecting the natives. He says it is an endless cycle of displacement and destruction of ancient forms of survival.

"I have seriously become interested in preservation of some of these areas because I have seen a tremendous amount of damage that has been done, which is irreplaceable because some of the trees are hundreds of years old."

McCrary's travels also expose him to an array of people and fascinating cultural habits. He says many of his travel experiences are worth repeating, although some of the countries he's visited are too dangerous to return to now.

He says he would like to go back to Irian Jaya, Indonesia, which still has some practicing headhunters.

McCrary says headhunting is taken very seriously in this area and when someone is captured, it makes no difference whether the victim is a child, a woman or a man. He says headhunting is a form of payback, a way of tribal retribution or revenge.

"In Papua, New Guinea, payback can be violent, using bows, arrows, machetes, clubs, swords and bush knives."

"In one instance in Papua, New Guinea, there were about four-to-five thousand warriors, in two clans, shooting arrows at each other, which was all related to payback."

In places like New Guinea, McCrary uses local guides who know the places to see and places to avoid in extremely undeveloped areas.

Of all his experiences, McCrary says, the process of communicating with people who don't share a common language is one of the most fascinating aspects of traveling.

He says some people are reluctant to make the first move until he can communicate with sign language or simply a smile. It's a slow process, but one he finds rewarding.

"In one instance, in the South Pacific, a young boy came up to me, about seven years old and asked me if I wanted to meet his brother, which I did. As I was leaving he motioned to me to bend down, and he put a lei around my neck," said McCrary.

He says this was one very special experience for him as a stranger trying to communicate.

He said on some occasions he has even been asked to return and possibly stay longer.

"To see the unusual, to see different lifestyles, traditions and customs which are as they were 500 to 800 years ago, is very colorful," he said.

In one instance, McCrary communicated by reaching out his hand to children, then everyone wanted to shake hands with him until he had hands all the way up his arm just wanting to touch him.

"To me this is very exciting because it is so different."

To travel safely to such remote places, he keeps his yellow fever and cholera shots up to date.

"I've been on malaria maintenance so long that I think I would almost have withdrawal symptoms if I got off it," he said.

The most frustrating things about traveling to isolated areas can be a lack of scheduling.

"In one instance, we landed on a grass strip that was recently cleared in the jungle from a World War II landing strip. The pilot apologized for the rough landing and explained he lost radio communication in the first 10 minutes. This flight, normally 25 minutes, turned into a one-hour, 45 minute flight."

Many of the places McCrary has traveled to are places he feels he cannot revisit due to political uprisings, civil unrest or wars. He says places like Sri Lanka, Nepal or Kashmir are too unstable to travel to now.

Although he has been to many parts of the world, McCrary says he's never had a bad experience in the sense of not wanting to go back.

McCrary hasn't always had this much time for travel. For many years, he was very busy as the mayor of Post. McCrary was elected mayor in 1967, and he's very proud of the projects started while he was mayor. In fact, he maintains a vital interest in the city's affairs.

"I have a very serious concern as to what changes might be forthcoming in Post, so I continue to participate."

"I feel very strongly that if you are going to be a part of any activity, if you are going to have an opinion, for or against something, and if you are going to live in a community, then you need to make some kind of contribution, -- and my contribution was wearing the mayor's shoes for about twenty-two years."

He said the mayor's job was something he thoroughly enjoyed, and he feels like he got more out of it than he put into it in many respects because he got to meet many interesting people, and attend state and federal agency activities.

He says, "I've only been in Post a little over 40 years and I am still considered a newcomer."

McCrary, whose father was mayor of Fort Worth from 1938 - 1947, may have passed on the political touch to other members of his family.

His daughter, Pam, attended Goucher College in Towson, Md., and served as an assistant to the late U.S. Senator John Tower.

McCrary says only time will tell if his grandchildren will follow in a political path, but he does stress the need to participate in civic affairs.

"A person is not entitled to have an opinion unless they are prepared to participate and make themselves a part of the change that they might envision."

McCrary is currently putting together two or three trips which he says take about five months of continuous planning before departure. He would like to go to the Galapagos Islands, the Vietnam area and possibly back to Indonesia as soon as he can get a permit.

But wherever he goes you can bet it is all part of a bigger plan to find his way from deep in the heart of Texas, to deep into the heart of a world gone undiscovered.

West Texas Museum Association presents posthumous award to Will McCrary

Former Post mayor Giles McCrary accepted a West Texas Museum Association award, presented posthumously to Garza Theatre director Will McCrary, at the October 28 meeting of the association in Lubbock.

The Action Award to the late Will McCrary is in recognition of his significant contribution to the cultural life of the Southern High Plains.

Giles McCrary, a member of the West Texas Museum Association and former board of directors member, accepted the award on behalf of Will's father, Leroy McCrary of Post.

Green and Perez. Green picked Houston over Washington for his one miss. Those watching that game know also that the final decision was just a few feet short of a Houston win. Both Green and Perez were eight points off on the tie-breaker. Green picked Denver 24, Pittsburgh 13 and Perez chose Denver 24, Pittsburgh 17.

Redman was 22 points off and Hart picked Pittsburgh to win.

'Adopt a Smoker' campaign highlights Great American Smokeout

by Wes Burnett
 Now, all you non-smokers who want to help a friend stop smoking have a great opportunity to also help raise money for the Garza Chapter of the American Cancer Society during this year's Great American Smokeout November 21.
 It's called "Adopt a Smoker" campaign and here's how it works.
 First, non smokers find a smoking friend or friends who will set aside that one little day not to smoke or use tobacco products.
 Then find some well-meaning smokers who will not quit, even for one hour, but who care about fighting cancer and are willing to donate toward the cause.

Get those well-meaning folks to pledge one measly dollar per hour for each hour that your adopted smoker goes tobacco free.
 Keep tabs on your adopted smoker throughout the day, help them, encourage them, remind them that every hour they go without smoking is one more hour and another important dollar to help the American Cancer Society find a cure for cancer.
 That should be plenty of incentive, especially considering that your adopted smoker has a better than 50 percent chance of being a cancer victim someday.
 If you want to be counted as one of the non smokers willing to help a friend and adopt a smoker, call Great American Smokeout chairman Chris Wyatt at 495-2825 or after 5 p.m. 495-4195.

If you are a smoker and want to be adopted for the campaign, call Chris, he'll match you up with a non-smoking volunteer.
 If you want to pledge toward an adopted smoker, call Chris, he'll keep tabs for you.
 The Garza Chapter of the American Cancer Society will present certificates to all those who participate in the campaign, a certificate of completion for those smokers who finish the 24 hours without smoking and an award to the adopted smoker and the non-smoking volunteer who raised the most in pledges during the campaign.

RULES & INSTRUCTIONS:
 1. The contest will continue through November 20, 1991. Each week is a separate contest with $175 in prizes offered each and every week.
 2. There are 19 games to pick each week. One game will be found in each participating sponsor's ad appearing on this page. Circle the names of the teams you believe will win. On the game designated as the "tie-breaker", guess the actual score of the game.
 3. Anyone at least 12 years old or older may enter the contest. Only one entry per person. More than one entry will disqualify all entries for that person. Only the official entry form printed by The Post Dispatch on this page will be eligible for consideration. No facsimile, photo copy or other reproduction of the entry form will be accepted.
 4. Entry forms must be submitted to designated sponsors no later than 5 p.m. each Friday prior to the games listed for that week.
 5. Entry forms must be correctly completed and signed by the person submitting the form with the correct address. Incorrect entries will be disqualified. In all instances, the decision of the judges will be final.
 6. Entry forms must be signed by the person submitting the form, entries known to be signed by a person other than the one who completed the form will disqualify that entry.
 7. In the case of a tie, contestants guessing nearest to the actual "tie-breaker" game score will be declared the winner. The tie-breaker will be determined by the point spread method, picking the winner correctly. In case of identical scores, prize money will be divided equally.
 8. Employees of The Post Dispatch and their families are ineligible to participate in the contest. Owners and employees of participating sponsors may enter the contest.
