Federal Crop Insurance Not New, AAA Head Says

The new Federal crop insurance program now being offered Garza county cotton growers is the result of many years of study and experimentation by both Government-operated and private companies, according to Will Wright, chairman of the county AAA committee.

Every since the time of Benjamin Franklin, farmers have talked ways and means of protecting themselves from crop losses, Wright declared. "Beginning in 1875, several private and State-operated insurance companies vended into the crop insurance business. But writing protection against growing hazards from planting through harvest proved to be a tough job, requiring detailed information on crop yields, a lot of money, and wide participation. As a result, those efforts failed."

"The Federal Government began to study the possibilities of all-risk crop insurance in 1920," he added, "but it wasn't until 1939—after the bad droughts of 1934 and 1936—that crop insurance was approved by Congress and offered to farmers for the first time. Wheat was the first crop covered, then cotton, and recently flax."

The present crop insurance program offers growers protection against unavoidable hazards to growing cotton. The coverage is 50 or 75 percent of the average farm yields, at the option of the grower.

According to Will Wright, cotton producers have until April 25, 1945 to file for the insurance. Applications are being taken by AAA committeemen, who administer the program locally, and by authorized agents.

"Went In Green, But Sure Ripened Fast" Said Edsel Cross

Corporal Edsel Cross wrote his wife, the former Willie Ward Kennedy, on March 2nd that he was not in a rest camp any longer but was back in the lines. Cross has been overseas three months on March 4th and has seen some of the bitterest fighting on the entire Western Front. He is with the famous 78th Division and fought for the contested Siegfried Line. "We went in green, but we sure ripened fast," Edsel said.

In an account by James Cannon, War correspondent with this division, some of the events in connection with this particular part of the Western Front are vividly described below:

With the 76th Inf. Div. Inside Siegfried Line—"They were shot at the first time seven days ago on the bluff above the gorge of the Saar."

"The crossing of the mountain torrent and the assault of the Siegfried Line up the cliffs on the German shore today had ages ago far beyond their time in battle."

"All their mortars were lost in crossing, but that didn't stop them. A lot of them charged the boxes with nothing but grenades. They set up German mortars and machine guns and killed Germans with them. They had never seen the weapons before, but that is all they had."

"Talk about guts, one guy had five bullets in one leg and the other ankle broken. He was ordered back to the aid station, but just then we got pinned down by a burp gun. Did he try to go back to the aid station? I should say not. He crawls up and gets the Heinle with the burp gun and then goes to the aid station."

"They machine gunned our medics and the Red Cross was a plain as day on their helmets, but those bastards machine gunned them coming right up the slopes. We treated their medics with kid gloves."

"Those kids could surely take it, but they also dished it out."

SOLDIERS of the WEEK

W. H. Fletcher of Plainview but formerly of Southland has three sons in service and all are serving overseas. Their sister, Mrs. Marvin Truelock, resides at Southland.

Lt. W. M. Fletcher, twin brother of Mrs. Truelock, was flying instructor at Vernon Air Field before leaving for South America. From there he was transferred to Egypt.

S-Sgt. Fred H. Fletcher entered the Air Corps eleven months before the United States declared war and was stationed in New York City for one year. He was then sent to India where he served a year. He is now serving in India.

S-Sgt. Robert F. Fletcher, youngest brother of Mrs. Truelock, enlisted five months before the U. S. entered war. He sailed for Australia on January 29, 1942 and has seen service there and in New Guinea and the East Indies.

Silver Star For Gallantry Won By Pfc. Dugan Nickens

With the 39th Infantry Regiment, Germany—Private First Class Dugan C. Nickens of Post, and a member of Company, F, AAO, 39th Infantry Regiment, was awarded the Silver Star Medal here recently for "gallantry in action against the enemy."

In addition to the Silver Star Medal, Pfc. Nickens has also been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge, and wears the European-African-Middle East Campaign Ribbon with three bronze battle stars.

During the recent heavy fighting near Kallterberg in Western Germany, Company F, AAO, 39th Infantry Regiment was making an advance against strongly fortified enemy positions when the squad of which Pfc. Nickens was a member was suddenly subjected to intense enemy machine-gun fire. Quickly throwing a hand grenade into the emplacement and destroying the machine-gun, he then led an assault on the intrenchments, and by bringing a heavy volume of fire to bear on the enemy, the squad quickly overran the German position. A short time later during the action, Pfc. Nickens discovered an enemy minefield and was able to warn the rest of the company of its position, thereby preventing many casualties. By his display of aggressive leadership, devotion to duty, and courageous actions while under enemy fire, Pfc. Nickens contributed materially to the success of the operations and won for himself the award of the Silver Star Medal.

Entering the Army via Selective Service in March 1943, Pfc. Nickens received his basic military training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. He embarked for overseas duty in March 1944, and upon his arrival in the ETO was assigned to the AAO, 39th Infantry Regiment and which assignment he still holds.

Pfc. Nickens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Nickens of Post and prior to his entering the services of the Armed Forces he resided with his parents here.

Youth Canteen Program Wins Loud Praise

The Open House of the Youth Canteen was attended by a large and appreciative crowd last Friday night.

In recognition of Army Day the program was of a patriotic nature. Mrs. Stallings and Dalby had charge of the program and presented some students from their Personality group.

Four youngsters, Dan E. Cookrum, Leslie Anita Nichols, Sharon Brooks and Marty Reynolds sang "Flag of Our Country" followed by a duet sung by Dan E. and Marty "There's A Fly On Aunt's Nose."

A medley of patriotic songs was given by the Melody Singers. Giles Dalby was dressed to represent Uncle Sam, the girls were dressed in spangled suits of red, white and blue and the boys were dressed in khaki suits.

Marian Hodge gave a very clever tap dance to the music played by Iris Joy Parker.

A group of novelty songs was presented next featuring solo parts by several of the young singers. El Wanda Davis sang the solo part for "Ten Days With Baby." La Rue Stevens was featured in "I Need Vitamin U" and Dale Karpe sang the preacher's part in "Accentuate the Positive."

"I Had a Little Talk with the Lord" was the song Mary Helen Robertson very effectively gave as a solo.

Little Sharon Brooks was featured with Giles Dalby in "My Dreams Are Getting Better All the Time." Anita Kennedy sang the lead in "Don't Fence Me In" accompanied by a chorus drill.

All the numbers were good and the audience expressed approval of the youngsters with generous applause.

A cake sale, with Homer McCrary as auctioneer, was held. Four cakes brought $58.50. Canteen officers and members were much elated over this and also about the donation of $10.00 given by another visitor.

A sing song with all present joining in was enjoyed. The young people pursued their various forms of entertainment and tables of "42" and dominoes were provided for the adults until curfew.

The Snack Bar with its tempting array of sandwiches, cakes, pie, and drinks was a very popular spot for young and old.

The audience expressed their approval by their response and members of the Canteen wish to express their appreciation about the attendance.

What Can You Spare That They Can Wear? Help Clothing Drive

A meeting of representatives of various organizations was held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the union hall to further plans for county-wide used clothing drive.

The chairman from the Women's Culture Club, Mrs. J. R. Pett, presided. Mrs. T. L. Jones drew the need for this clothing to be distributed to liberated tries.

Very good serviceable clothing which is cut-grown or otherwise suitable to use or bedding which still be used will be of wonderful help to people who have nothing.

The central collection place is Bryant-Link Company, where packing and shipping will be handled. Collection boxes have been placed in Herring's, Greenfield Hardware, Garza Theatre, and Rex Cotton Mills.

According to information received Tuesday classes at the High School are having a contest to see who can bring the most clothing. The Senior Culture Club has a collection already as do several clubs of church women.

There is "Clean Out Your Closets Next Week." Find these garments you have that can't be used—look in your trunks for things you can't use. Infants in foreign lands have been wrapped in paper. In Albania people wear tent ropes and weave into makeshift cloth. In Greece tuberculosis is claiming lives because of lack of clothing.

Used Clothing drive lasts month of April so there is time to gather all your discarded clothes and bring it to a collection box or send it to school so pass it on.

SAIPAN WONDERS

B-29 airmen are not exactly beating their bombs into shovels, cakes and boxes, but they are plowing up the soil on Saipan in a far different manner than in Japan.
 Victory garden enthusiasts on the home front can understand the relaxation which men, back from a bombing run through flack-filled skies, find in getting down on hands and knees to work the good earth.

The fliers are nearly as proud of their fresh vegetables as of their hits. Their slightly boastful assertion that the seeds grow "almost as fast as a B-29 can fly," foretells some of Saipan Wonders growing out of this war. And corn, sprung from Texas seeds, undoubtedly has a touch of Texas in its stalk.

Elsewhere in the Central and South Pacific, truck gardens, entirely new to the islands, are flourishing, though reports say Irish potatoes have proved unsuccessful. Of course, no one could force them to grow in an un-neutral area.

ENEMY PATENTS

Chemical patents, some 2,000 in number, issued in America to citizens of enemy countries, were seized by the government early in the war and are now abstracted for the benefit of American chemists and manufacturers; the bulk are German.

WILL SELECTIVE SERVICE

A lot of folks hope Selective Service will finally make up its mind, but there was a strong hint this week that men 30 to 33 will be vulnerable to conscription be-

 by the continued deferments for

 for more munitions is increasing industrial pressure for these deferthat enough 18-year-olds are available to satisfy army demands for new recruits after V-E Day.

Japs Jabber at Sight of Yanks; Rescue Airman Off Enemy Shore

By Ernie Pyle

IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC.—We were up an hour and a half before daylight, for our planes had to be in the air at the first hint of dawn.

The first patrol was always launched by catapult, because in the wind-swept semi-darkness, it was too dangerous for them to make the run down the rolling deck.

After seeing the flights launched the first few days, it became old stuff, and I would have stayed in bed and ignored
 it, but that was impossible. The catapult's huge launching machinery was directly above my cabin,
 and every time it
 shot a plane off it was just as though the Washington monument had fallen on the ship.
 Rip Van Winkle
 himself couldn't have slept through
 it. So I just got up.

Ernie Pyle

The fighter pilots were given their last briefing in the "ready room,"
 the squadron commander and intelligence officer showed them on maps and by drawings on the blackboard, just where they would strike.

The squadron commander asked how many of the pilots had no wrist watches. Six held up their hands.
 The funny part was that the ship had no extra wrist watches, so I don't know why he asked the question in the first place.

Then he told what our approximate total of planes over Japan would be, and how many it was probable the Japs would put up against us. And then he said:

"So you see, each one of us will only have to take care of three Jap planes!"

The pilots all laughed and looked at each other sheepishly. (Days later, when the final scores were in,
 we found our force had destroyed Japs at nine-to-one.)

And at the end of his briefing,
 the squadron commander gave strict orders for the pilots not to shoot at Japs coming down in parachutes.

"They're supposed to do it to us," he said, "but it isn't the thing for us to do."

The bomber pilots and their engined gunners and radiomen were briefed the same way. After the intelligence officer had finished, the squadron commander said:
 "We're going to dive low on the target before releasing our bombs.
 Since we're risking our necks anyhow, there's no point in going at all unless we can do some damage, to go down low."

All through the various strikes on Japan, our task force kept enough planes back to fly a constant blanket of protection in the sky above us.

I remember the funny sign chalked on the blackboard of the "ready room" first day, urging our patrol pilots to extra vigilance for Jap planes that might sneak out from the mainland to attack us. The sign said:

"Keep alert—remember your poor scared pals on the ship!"

Foe Surprised
 By Strike

We didn't know whether our first planes over the mainland would surprise the Japs or not. It didn't seem possible, yet there were no indications that they knew.

For two days on our approach we had been knocking off Jap reconnaissance planes and picket boats.
 We hoped we had got these scattered planes and boats before they had time to radio back home the news of our presence. One of our destroyers had even sat all day on top of a Jap submarine to keep him from coming to the top and sending a warning.

But still we didn't know for sure,
 so there was tenseness that first morning. We knew almost exactly what time our first planes would be over the Tokyo area.

We went to the radio room to listen. The usual Japanese programs were on the air. We watched the flock. Suddenly—at just the right time—the Jap stations all went off
 the air.

There was silence for a few minutes. And then the most Donald Duck-like jargon and jabbering you ever heard. The announcer was so excited you had to laugh.

We knew our boys were there.
 After that, for us on the ship, it was just a matter of waiting, and hoping. And as the blackboard sign said, of being poor scared pals.

Finally all but six of our planes were back from their strike on Tokyo and safely landed.

The six formed a separate flight, and we couldn't believe that all of them had been lost, and for that reason our officers didn't feel too concerned.

And then came a radio message from the flight leader. It said that one of the six was down in the ocean, and that the other five were hanging around to try to direct some surface vessel to his rescue. That's all we knew for hours. When we finally got the story, this was it:

Ens. Robert Buchanan of Clemen-ton, N. J., was hit by flak as they were diving on their target some 20 miles west of Tokyo. Buchanan himself was not hurt.

He kept his plane up till he got over water, but it was still very much Japanese water. In fact, it was in Tokyo's outer bay—the bigger one of the two bays you see on the map leading in to Tokyo.

Ensign Buchanan is an ace, with five Jap planes to his credit. He ditched his plane successfully, and got out in his rubber boat. He was only eight miles from shore, and five miles from the big island that stands at the bay entrance.

Then the flight leader took charge.
 He is Lieut. John Fecke of Duxberry, Mass. He is also an ace, and an old hand at the game. He has downed seven Jap planes.

Fecke took the remaining four of the flight, and started out looking for an American rescue ship. They found one about 30 miles off the bay entrance.

They talked to him on the radio, told him the circumstances, and he sent back word he was willing to try. But he asked them to stick with him and give air support.

So Lieutenant Fecke ordered the other four to stay and circle above the ship, while he went back to pick up Buchanan's location and guard him.

But when he got there, he couldn't find Buchanan. He flew for 25 minutes around Tokyo bay and was about to despair, when he began getting sun flashes in his eyes.

He flew over about three miles and there was Buchanan. He had used his signal mirror, just like it says in the book.

Snatched From Lion's Mouth

In the meantime, the ship's progress was slow. It took almost two hours to get there. And one by one the aerial escort began getting trouble, and one by one Fecke ordered them home to our ship, which was getting farther away all the time.

Lt. Irl Somner of Petaluma, Calif., lost the use of his radio, and had to leave.

Lt. Max Barnes of Olympia,
 Wash., got dangerously low on gas,
 and Fecke sent him home. Gas shortage also sent back Lt. Bob Murray of Muncie, Ind.

That left only Lieutenant Fecke
 circling above the man in the boat, and Lt. Arnold Berner of Springdale, Ark., flying lone aerial escort
 for the rescue ship.

Finally the ship was past the bay entrance. The skipper began to have his doubts. He had to go within three miles of the gun-dotted island.
 He was within five minutes flying distance of land, and Jap planes could butcher him.

Furthermore he looked at his chart, and saw that he was in "restricted waters," meaning they were probably mined. It was certainly no place for a ship to be.

The skipper radioed Fecke and said he couldn't go any farther.

Fecke radioed back and said, "It's only two miles more. Please try."
 The skipper answered and said,
 "Okay, we'll try."

And they pulled it off. They went right into the lion's mouth, pulled out our pilot, and got safely away.
 Then, and then only, did Fecke and Berner start home.

They came back to us three hours
 after all the rest had returned.
 They had flown six hours on a three-hour mission. But they helped save an American life by doing so.

Carrier Pilots Land Almost on Dime

The first time you see a plane
 and on a carrier you almost die.
 At the end of the first day my muscles were sore just from being all tensed up while watching the planes come in.

It is all so fast, timing is so split-second, space is so small — well, carrier pilots just have to be top-notch. Please don't approach a carrier unless you would no land—from way back and in a long glide. Instead, they almost seem to be sneaking up as if to surprise it. They're in such an awkward position and flying at such a crazy angle you don't see how they can ever land on anything.

But it's been worked out by years of experience, and it's the best way.
 Everything is straightened out in the last few seconds of flying. That is if it works.

 Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stallings had a pleasant visit to their son, James Stallings, PhM 1c, as he came en route to San Diego. He was on a train that didn't stop but James was on the rear platform and got to say "hello" to his parents and his sister, Mrs. Royce Durham, and Durham.
 Mr. and Mrs. Stallings and the children followed the train to the station where the servicemen on duty had a wait of half-an-hour, they got to visit with him a short time. James has just completed a lithographic course in photography in Washington, D. C. He is to be re-assigned for duty when he reaches the West Coast.

Announce New Field Crops Activity In 4-H Club Program
 Announcement was made last week of the inauguration of the 4-H Club 1945 program of the new National 4-H Field Crops Activity, which will be conducted under the direction of the Extension Service. Extension agents, McCoy and Keeney of Garza county are releasing the program to the 4-H club members in Garza county.
 As incentives for outstanding 4-H records of achievement in helping to increase production of food, feed and fiber crops needed by our armed forces, civilians and our allies, merit awards are offered on county, state and national levels. The awards provided by International Harvester Company, including sterling silver medals, National 4-H Club Congress honors, and $200 Fowler McCormick scholarships.
 Among its objectives, the activity encourages club members to acquire and utilize a better knowledge of good farming practices in field crops production, increase supplies of certified seed both for the home farm and for sale in the community, and make the most proficient use of available farm machinery. Bonus field club members enrolled this year in any field crops project approved by the state club leader may participate. County extension agents will furnish complete information regarding the new activity.

U. S. CEMETERY PROPOSED FOR LUBBOCK
 Lubbock is one of the locations recommended by the War department for a proposed national cemetery, the Associated Press reported from Washington. Seventy-nine proposed cemeteries throughout the United States is included in the plan.
 Cemetery locations, of which three are in Texas, recommended by the War department include Fort Worth, 100,000 capacity; Houston, 75,000, and Lubbock, 25,000.
 The cemetery, when completed, would be a beauty spot of a kind unparalleled in this section of Texas, with upkeep being taken care of by the government. Size of a plot needed for 25,000 graves, plus necessary buildings, had not been decided upon in Washington. However, it is known that such a cemetery would have to comprise several hundred acres and should be located within several miles of the downtown area.
 The Arlington National Cemetery is the largest national cemetery in the United States. It covers 468 1-3 acres.
 The 30 pieces of silver for which Judas betrayed Christ would amount to $11.28 in American money.
 It has been estimated that a bee travels 45,776 miles to gather one pound of honey, consisting of 29,184 drops.

BABY SHOES SIZES 0-4 TO BE PLACED ON RATION LIST MAY 1
 Shoe rationing will be extended May 1 to include the entire size range of infants' leather shoes—an action taken to help build up critically needed supplies of infants' leather shoes in the larger sizes already rationed. District Rationing Officer Oscar J. Walker has announced.
 Largely because sizes 0 to 4 have not been rationed, demand for them has soared out of proportion to actual needs. The result has been that these shoes have absorbed too much of the manpower and production facilities and too much of the scarce types of leather suitable for making the much more urgently needed toddlers' sizes.
 It was emphasized that only infants' shoes using leather will be affected by the new provision.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

Over the ravaged ground of war-torn Europe, trudge 125 million men, women, and children who have given all but life itself toward the same permanent peace we all are striving for. They need your spare clothing. 150 million pounds must be collected this month. Will you give your share?

What YOU Can Do!

1. Get together all the serviceable used summer and winter clothing you can spare. This includes Men's, women's, children's, and infants' wear, and shoes. Lesson for April 15 Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission. PIONEERS OF FAITH LESSON TEXT—Genesis 12:1, 2, Acts 7:4-7, 12-17. GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.—Hebrews 11:8. Bible history is a story of men of faith called and used of God to carry out His purpose in the world. These thrilling accounts of worth-while lives are to be our special concern during the three months we study the history of Israel and of the Church. I. A Call and a Covenant (Gen 12:1, 2). God was now ready to make known His choice of a man to be the father of His chosen people. He went down into Ur of the Chaldees in the midst of heathen worship, and called out a man who had faith in the true God. Abram, "when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went" (Heb. 11:8). The Lord called him out from his own land and kindred, to get him away from his heathen forebears and their worship. God wants separated believers in our day, too (read and ponder II Cor. 6:17, 18). That call comes to every believer. To those who are to serve Him, there is a definite call much like Abram's (see Matt. 10:37-39). With the call came a great covenant, a seven-fold promise given in Genesis 12:2, 3. That covenant God repeatedly renewed with Abraham and his descendants. It has been partially fulfilled, and God has put Himself on record that every bit of it shall be completed. He keeps His promises. Why did God choose Israel? It was an act of His sovereign grace, not based on their merit or goodness. He had a threefold purpose: (1) That they should be the repository for His truth (the Old Testament) in the earth; (2) that they should be the channel for the coming of the personal Redeemer to the earth; (3) that they should be a national witness to the one true God amid the nations of the earth. They accomplished two of these, but failed in the last, and are now under God's judgment for that sin and failure. II. Obedience and Opportunity (Acts 7:4-7). Abram went out at God's command, even though he knew that it meant suffering and trial, being obedient without question or hesitation. Bible history reveals that God delights to do mighty things for those who give Him unquestioning obedience. God did great things for Abraham, and yet he did not live to see the fulfillment of the promise. He knew it was to be so, realizing that God's plan was to be carried out in the children which he did not yet have (see Heb. 11:9-11). Here is a lesson for us. Our faith today, and the measure in which we apprehend the grace of God for life and service, will bless not only us, but our children (Ps. 103:17). For their sakes we ought to seek to increase the spiritual heritage of our families. Certainly we should do nothing to blight their lives (Exod. 34:7). One may not be able to boast of the greatness and fitness of one's ancestors, but one can be determined by the grace of God to be a good ancestor. Observe that Abraham's obedience opened up the whole history of blessing and usefulness to the entire nation of Israel, a history not yet concluded by any means. Think what opportunity he might have destroyed by disobedience. III. A Family and Its Faith (Acts 7:12-17). Stephen, a portion of whose address of defense before the council is here before us, reviews the history of God's dealings with Israel. Tracing the line down through Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph, he recalls how God provided a haven of plenty for them in Egypt until they were ready to be brought up into the possession of their inheritance—the land of Palestine. Lack of space forbids the review of the lives of these pioneers of faith. The study would be most illuminating, for it repeatedly throws into sharp contrast the awful failures of these men when they forgot God, and the mighty victories they gained when they believed Him. In spite of their failures they were essentially men of faith, for God has counted them worthy of a place in that remarkable list of heroes of faith found in Hebrews 11 (see vv. 17-22). The days in which we live are not pioneer days in the usual sense, but they are days when God is calling for new pioneers of faith to serve Him in a befuddled and twisted world. There are starting days ahead for the Church of Christ if we as Christians will, like Abraham, bear the yoke of God and go out in living obedience to Him.

COUNTY AGENTS OFFER SUGGESTIONS TO VICTORY GARDENERS; RECOMMEND VARIETY & TIME FOR PLANTING SAME

Victory Garden days are here again, and a garden is more vital to the nation's welfare in 1945 than ever before. Mrs. Wilma Keeney, the Home Demonstration Agent and R. K. McCoy, the county agent, would like to offer the following suggestions to Victory Gardeners.

First, one of the most important things to make a Victory Garden successful is to make sure that you plant the right varieties suitable for Garza county. The chart listed here will give some ideas of those plants suitable, and the varieties of each.

Tomatoes—June Pink and Portia, early and possibly fall.
Lima Bush Beans—Henderson's Bush, late spring.
Snap Pole Beans—Kentucky Wonder, spring.
Peas—Detroit Dark Red, Cross of Egypt, spring—Twice and once.
Carrots—Red Core Chantenay, once a Half Long, early spring and early fall.
Squash—Yellow Crook Neck, early White Bush, late spring.
Cucumbers—Early Fortune, late spring.
Mustard—Tendergreen, Florida Leaf, early spring twice and early fall twice.
Swiss Chard—Lucullus, early spring and early fall.
Lettuce—New York No. 12, and Rapids, early spring twice and early fall twice.

Radish—Scarlet Globe, White Icicle, early spring twice and early fall twice.
Okra—White Velvet, in late spring.
Field Peas—Blackeyed, Crowder, Cream, late spring twice.
Corn Honey June, in early spring.
Pepper—World Beater, California, late spring.
Onions—Bermuda, late fall and early spring. It is too late for onion plants, but you can still put out your onion sets.
Secondly, be sure to treat all your bean and pea seed with a nitrogen bacteria, and all seed other than your bean and pea seed should be treated with the Mercury Dust. Both the Mercury Dust and the Nitrogen can be had at the local seed dealers.
Another successful Victory Garden hint is that it is wise to have the necessary chemicals ready to combat your insects. This should be done before the bugs are present. In other words, have your Rotenone and Sulphur Dust on hand. Rotenone and Sulphur Dust will combat most all insects, but a caution should be followed. Do not use on squash or cucumber plants. On squash and cucumber plants, Rotenone or Cryolite is poisonous to the human being and another advantage is that there is no harm in getting too much on the plant.

Meeting of Culture Club Held Monday At Legion Hall

The Woman's Culture club met Monday night at the American Legion Hall. A short program was presented by three pupils of Mrs. Ray Smith. A very talented young pianist, Betty Mills, played the Barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffman" and played the accompaniment for a duet "Shine On, Harvest Moon" given by Mary Nell Bowen and Robert Smith.

During the business session it was decided to study the Reader's Digest program next year. Plans concerning the final program for this year were also discussed.

A study of the Dumbarton Oaks Plan for World Peace was given by Mrs. B. E. Young. Stress has been placed on this proposal because of the forthcoming conference in San Francisco and its far reaching consequences. Every one should acquaint himself with this plan. Mrs. Young also discussed a short topic on the food situation—supplies for army, liberated countries and Allied lend-lease and civilian consumption.

A topic concerning German ideology—Can Germans be Made Into Good World Citizens—was given by Mrs. Cearley. This presented the difference in principles of the German and American people and whether or not satisfactory peace terms will ever be arranged.

The hostesses, Mmes. Lillie McRea and Lillie Kitchen served orange cola drinks with doughnuts.

Women's Christian Council Holds Its Regular Meeting

The Women's Christian Council of the First Christian Church met at the church last week for their regular study.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Manis. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Lee Davis. The second lesson of the new course was studied. Mrs. Davis taught the lesson on French Indo-China and Thailand with discussion topics presented by Mmes. Ramsay and Kirkpatrick.

The group heard a financial report of the church during the business session. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Ramsay.

"Clean Out Your Closets" to be Slogan for Clothing Drive

"Clean Out Your Closets" during April is the slogan the United Nations Clothing Drive Committee of Post hopes will be put into effect in Garza county.

Collection depots are established at Bryant-Lank Company, Greenfield Hardware Company, Postex Cotton Mills, Garza Theatre and Herring's Dry Goods. Garza folks are urged to remember where these depots are located and take their usable clothes to these centers.

Mrs. J. R. Durrett, general chairman of the committee representing all clubs, churches and civic organizations in the county, asks your full cooperation in this move. The clothing is badly needed.

Study the Used Clothing Ads being sponsored by several Post merchants and the news pictures being displayed this week in connection with the drive—then go clean out your clothes closets for the benefit of these war casualties in foreign lands.

Urgent Need For Nurses

The shortage of nurses in Veterans hospitals is particularly acute. Approximately 2,000 nurses are needed immediately to aid in caring for wounded servicemen and women who still require hospitalization after they have been discharged from the military service. To qualify for a nursing position, applicants must have been graduated from a recognized school of nursing and be registered in a state or territory or the District of Columbia. There are no age limits.

CALVARY CHURCH NEWS

We feel sure that if you would come once that you would come twice and continue to come. —Reporter

Wilson read a double ring ceremony for Miss Faye Maxine Cash, daughter of Mrs. Emma Cash of Post and Tech—Sergeant Carroll D. Sigman, son Mrs. Oma A. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Cecil Morris of Gonzales, wore a becoming dress of Potter blue with Navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Our next meeting with our demonstrator will be the first Wednesday in May.

This Wednesday we shall meet at two o'clock at the Club House to continue our quilting. We'll be quilting on a quilt each for Mrs. Ruth Bemb and Mrs. Jewel Taylor.

On the following Wednesday we'll meet again to do Red Cross work.

Our membership committee accepts this opportunity to welcome new visitors and to ask our "absent members" to attend. We think our club is drawing our community closer together and helping us to be better neighbors, so we don't think you'll be sorry if you join.

We, in cooperation with our Sunday school, have started our clothing drive. Start now to clean out your closets, and give all you can.

U. S. Army Medals: Which One and Why

The United States Army, which believes that medals aid morale, has awarded tens of thousands of them in this war. Awards are made for deeds of valor on the field of battle and for military achievements that have helped pave the way for victory but which did not involve gallantry in action.

From the latest information obtainable from the War Department, here is a description of the various decorations of the United States that the War Department awards in order of precedence (the Oak Leaf Cluster is issued in lieu of an additional medal with the precedence of the medal it represents):

AWARDS OF VALOR

1. Medal of Honor. This is commonly known as the "Congressional Medal of Honor" and is awarded for gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty. It is the highest and most rarely awarded decoration. It cannot be won by civilians. If won by enlisted men, it entitles them to $2 a month additional pay.

It is a five-pointed star, surrounded by a laurel wreath, suspended from a bronze bar bearing the inscription "For Valor," and surmounted by an eagle. The ribbon is light blue, with 13 white stars. The decoration is usually made by the President or the Secretary of War.

2. Distinguished Service Cross. This is awarded for extraordinary heroism in military operations against an armed enemy. It may be awarded to civilians when approved by the President. Like the Medal of Honor, it carries a $2 a month addition in pay to enlisted men.

It was instituted in 1918 and is a cross of bronze with an eagle on the center with the inscription "For Valor" below. Its ribbon is a broad band of blue, bordered on both edges by narrow bands of red and white.

3. Silver Star. This is awarded for gallantry in action, and is junior to the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Cross. It can be awarded to civilians when so approved by the President. It does not carry any additional pay.

The Silver Star was not instituted until 1935. It is a silver star superimposed on a bronze star, the rays of the two coinciding.

The Silver Star used to be a miniature one worn on the ribbon of the service medal for the war in which it was won. Now it is a separate decoration.

4. Distinguished Flying Cross. This is awarded for heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight. With it goes a $2-a-month pay increase for enlisted men. It can be awarded to civilians when so approved by the President.

This cross is a four-bladed propeller on a bronze pattee. The ribbon's stripes are blue, white, blue, white, red, white, blue, white and blue.

5. Soldier's Medal. This is awarded for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy. It carries with an additional $2 a month for enlisted men. It is not awarded to civilians.

This decoration, instituted in 1926, is a bronze octagon with an eagle standing on a fasces between groups of stars and above a spray of leaves. The ribbon is composed of two outside stripes of blue, with the center containing 13 white and red stripes of equal width.

6. Bronze Star Medal. This is awarded for heroic or meritorious service against an enemy not involving aerial flight. It carries no additional stipend and can be given to civilians.

It was authorized in February 1914, and consists of a bronze star with a small bronze star in the center. The star is suspended by a metal loop with corners rounded from a silk moire of ribbon, the ribbon being Old Glory red with stripes of royal blue in the center. The stripes are separated from the red by white piping.

7. Purple Heart. This is awarded for wounds received in action against an enemy of the United States. It carries no increase in monthly pay but is awarded to civilians.

This award was established by George Washington in 1782, but not issued for many years. It was re-established in 1932.

The award is a profile head in relief of George Washington on a purple enameled heart within a bronze border. Above is his coat of arms between two sprays of leaves in green enamel. The ribbon is purple with white edges.

AWARDS FOR ACHIEVEMENT

1. Distinguished Service Medal. This is awarded for exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility and can be won by civilians. It carries with it a $2 a month additional pay for enlisted men.

The award dates from 1918 and is made of the coat of arms of the United States in bronze surrounded by a circle of dark blue enamel bearing the inscription "for distinguished service." The ribbon is composed of bands of scarlet, a stripe of dark blue, a band of white, a stripe of dark blue, and a band of scarlet.

2. Legion of Merit. This is awarded for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services. It is junior to the Distinguished Service Medal. It carries no additional pay and cannot be given to civilians.

The design developed from the great seal of the United States. It is a five-pointed American star, of heraldic form in red and white enamel centered with a constellation of the 13 original stars on a blue enameled field breaking through a circle of clouds. The ribbon is of purple-red color, edged with white.

3. Distinguished Flying Cross. This, an award for achievement as well as for valor, is the same as the fourth medal in the first list.

4. Bronze Star Medal. This award for achievement is the same as No. 6 in the list award for valor.

5. Air Medal. This is awarded for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. It carries no stipend but can be won by civilians.

This was authorized in 1942. It is fleur-de-lis surmounting a compass rose which hangs from a ribbon striped with the Air Corps colors of blue and gold. In relief on the rose is a swooping American eagle with lightning bolts clutched in his talons.

6. Good Conduct Medal. This is awarded for exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity. It cannot be won by civilians and carries no extra monthly allowance.

It consists of an eagle with wings displayed and inverted standing on a sword which rests on a closed book. The ribbon is scarlet with three white stripes on each side.

7. Medals for Merit for Civilians. This is awarded for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the United States.

It is the counterpart of the Legion of Merit. The front shows the eagle resting on a sheaf of arrows encircled by the 13 original stars of white enamel spaced on a gold-bronze ring. The medal is suspended from the ribbon by a laurel wreath. The ribbon is purple-red in color with two white stripes running parallel and near to the center.

Female mosquitoes are the ones which bite.

"What a terrible blow to me!"

"Here I thought I could get me a new car practically the day after V-Day."

"What a blow! Now I find out it may be V-Day plus maybe two or three years before I can get one."

"But my Gulf man cheered me up. Said he'd help keep my present car rolling, if I'd let him give it the Gulfpride* and Gulflex treatment regularly."

"That's good advice. I'd sure hate to take a chance on anything but the finest lubrication. I don't hanker to walk everywhere I go."

Grade School News

Vynonna Clark, Reporter
This week begins the last six-weeks period of school. Exam schedules were completed last week and report cards will go out Thursday of this week.

The Junior Red Cross boxes have all been turned in, and Miss Haggard announces that they will be shipped to an A. P. O. this week.

Grade school is a depot for the clothing drive which the Red Cross is sponsoring now.

Charlene James, from the third grade, moved to Oklahoma last week.

We are happy to welcome John Bill and Bonnie Ann Evans back to our school. They have lived in Pecos for the past few months.

All the schools in the county came in to Post for "Play Day" Friday.

There were several contests and events of different sorts, but Grade school participated mainly in the ball games and won the most of them.

Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Williams, accompanied by Norma Joy Huffman, spent the week end with their daughter, Betty Williams at TSCW in Denton. Mrs. Ernest Griffith also accompanied them to Ft. Worth.

C-B-I Airways Supply Red Cross in China

DISGORGING SUPPLIES of food and equipment for Red Cross clubs and medical supplies for use by the Chinese Red Cross, a giant transport plane from India.

Skimming over the Hump, where the crazy Himalayas silently await airmen forced down on their treacherous heights, pilots in the China-Burma-India theater of operations maintain the military lifeline from India and Burma into China.

Airpower has conquered the Hump, and daily cargo flights bring up supplies from the South. But the other trail over the Hump remains a dangerous one, and each plane-load of cargo and material is carefully kept to an essential minimum.

So when one of the big transports winged into port at the forward echelon headquarters of the U. S. Army in China and disgorged complete fittings for an enlisted men's club, as well as three American Red Cross women staff members, amazed GIs blinked unbelievably.

These were the first three Red Cross girls to arrive at that echelon headquarters. With them they brought furniture, rugs, curtains, games, party decorations, and the latest American jive records.

Then the GIs swung into things with a speed matched only by the swing music to which they worked. In something less than half a shake, they had helped the Red Cross girls convert a former mess-hall and day-room into a club.

The grand opening rivaled the plushiest Hollywood premiere. American generals, Chinese government and military officials and an overflowing mass of enlisted men attended.

That first club was soon only one of many such havens of transplanted Americans set up by the American Red Cross in China.

But setting up clubs and recreation spots for American servicemen in China is by no means the only interest of the American Red Cross staff in the vast remoteness of the C-B-I theater.

Distance takes on awesome proportions to the serviceman in China when he is wondering about his ill parent or expectant wife far away in the States. The Red Cross staff in C-B-I is dedicated to the task of keeping the serviceman's emergency communications with his home as fast-moving as possible.

To a serviceman overseas who waits from one to three months for the delivery of a package from home, and from a week to three weeks for the receipt of an airmail letter, six three days to a week a Red Cross message takes to complete a round trip is almost unbelievable.

Through the C-B-I Red Cross communication operations monthly pass some 4,000 urgent messages, about equally divided between requests from servicemen and requests from their families about vital personal problems. Queries on health and welfare are predominant.

Messages sent by Red Cross field directors from overseas go through this procedure:

The serviceman is interviewed by the field director, who forwards the request for information through Army communication channels to the main Red Cross C-B-I message center. From there the communication goes to the Army Signal Corps offices for transmittal via radio to Washington. The Army office in Washington delivers it to the home service department at Red Cross national headquarters. Home Service telephones or telegraphs it to the man's home chapter, which talks with the man's own family and relays the news back through the communications process.

And so it goes in China, where the Red Cross is concerned with the life-and-death matters of a serviceman's life, as well as trying to keep him happy through special recreation and relaxation facilities.

A Red Cross girl on duty as a recreation worker at a club in China wrote back, "I have been surprised to learn the many purposes that War Fund contributions to the Red Cross serve . . . for hamburgers instead of chop suey in the Red Cross club for soldiers, for a lounge room where they can sit and read or play games, for a dance, where our American girls augmented by a few Chinese volunteers supply a little color and gaiety in the lives of several hundred soldiers. Often I look back to the time when China and India were so far removed from my own horizon they seemed hardly real."

The work of that recreation worker and of the other Red Cross staff "over the Hump" in China will go on in 1945, backed by Americans' contributions to their $200,000,000 Red Cross War Fund in March.

Masonic Lodge NEWS

MASONIC BIRTHDAYS

At our next stated meeting, which will be April 12, we will celebrate the Masonic birthdays of the brothers who were raised during the month of April. We would like to have as many of these brothers present as possible.

V. A. Robinson, April 20, 1912; Ivan Stoker, April 25, 1929; J. Lee Bowen, April 25, 1929; William L. Croslin, April 26, 1932; Dean A. Robinson, April 28, 1932; William T. Cook, April 13, 1942; W. Hayes Holman, April 14, 1931; Simeon Kemp, April 15, 1943; Rev. R. C. Teonison, April 9, 1925; William L. Cook, April 13, 1944; W. W. Clark, April 20, 1944; M. Lester Nichols, April 20, 1944; Chas. O. Fox, April 15, 1911.

About sixty brethren were present at our last stated communication March 8, 1945. While this was a very good crowd, still it was a little disappointing when the Roll Call revealed such a large number of brethren absent. It was sincerely regretted that illness of his wife prevented our Worshipful Master, Bro. Rex Everett, being with us. A telegram was received from Bro. J. R. Clary expressing regret that he could not be present. Bro. Surman gave a report of the Resolutions Committee and did a splendid job of steering the Worshipful Master, Pro Tem, along the line of proper procedure. As a result of balloting Mr. Cecil Osborne was elected to receive the three degrees in Masonry and Bro. Dan Cockrum and Jess Barnes elected to receive the second and third degrees. Monday night, March 12th was set for work in the E. A. Degree and Friday night, March 16th for work in Fellowcraft. Bro. Ira Lee Duckworth, chairman of the program committee, introduced Bro. J. E. Stephens who brought us an inspirational message on Masonry, that was interesting and of great educational value to all.

The more you attend our meetings, the greater fellowship you enjoy—the more you put in, the more you get out, so may we urge you to make every effort to be with us next Thursday night, April 12th.

There were about twenty brethren present for the call meeting Monday night, March 12th. An Entered Apprentice Mason's Lodge was opened and the first degree in Masonry was conferred on Bro. Cecil Osborne. Bro. Bailey Maltler gave the lecture and charge. There being no further business the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

Friday night, March 16th, a Fellowcraft Masons lodge was opened and three Entered Apprentices who had made suitable proficiency in their work were passed to the degree of Fellowcraft. Teams headed by Bros. Homer Patty, Ollie Weakley and Truett Fry, in the East, conferred the degree on Bros. Dan Cockrum, Jess Barnes and Cloyd Curb. Bro. J. A. Stallings gave the lecture and charge.

One bill of news: Bro. Bailey Maltler—who drives further, and whose percentage of attendance ranks with the best—was absent. We hope not caused by illness. The crowd for this meeting was good, but too small. There will be other called meetings this month and better attendance is earnestly requested. —Reporter

GARNER APPLIANCE CO. APPOINTED AGENTS FOR WINPOWER LIGHT PLANTS

Garner's Appliance Company was appointed agent for Winpower Farm Light Plants and Gould Farm Light Batteries, according to Oscar Garner, manager of the Post store. The Garner Appliance Company stores in Post and Spur took over this agency last week and are asking the people of this territory to visit their store here and make inquiries about the new windcharger plants.

Garza county butane users are also advised that the store here has bought a three-quarter acre tract of land on the Tahoka highway to use for storage tanks. The store in Post is under the supervision of Oscar Garner while the one in Spur is under the supervision of his cousin.

Orphaned by war and left destitute, he and she need other friends—friends with spare clothing for the girl and something more suitable than that mitching old coat for her brother. You can be their friend by contributing serviceable used clothing, shoes and bedding to the United National Clothing Collection.

"Play Day" Is Great Success

"Play Day" was enjoyed by both elementary and high school students last Friday. This was a day of sporting activities. Also enjoying the fun were students from Southland. Included in the day's activities were baseball, tennis, volleyball, and jumping.

The Post seventh grade boys defeated the Southland boys handily in baseball. The Post high boys and girls defeated Southland also in games of baseball. The Post girls defeated the Southland girls in volleyball.

Individual honors of the day came in tennis and the high jump. Both sports were heartily enjoyed by players and spectators alike. Raymond Dougherty won the high jump with a leap of 3 feet, 7 inches. David Buster won the boys singles in tennis while Edgar Parr and Louis Mills had no trouble capturing top honors in boys doubles.

"Play Day" was a variety of activity for the youngsters and was a change from the regular grind of school work. The students are looking forward to another such day.

The Clothing Drive In PHS

The drive to collect discarded clothes of all types for men, women and children was begun at High school April 5, at the regular assembly program. Mrs. Jones and Miss Durrett explained that clothing must be clean but need not be mended; that bedding and shoes and buttons are high on the "needed items" list, and that a contest between the five classes would end on April 20th. The drive is a national one, under the direction of H. K. Kaiser and the UNRRA, with everyone asked to participate in order to relieve the war-torn countries of Europe. Because the teen-agers have led the nation in collecting scrap paper and selling bonds, we feel sure they'll lead now in this new drive.

Pvt. L. D. Stevens Home On 14-Day Furlough

Marine Pvt. L. D. Stevens arrived in Post Sunday for a two-week visit with home-folks before going to a Marine Base in California for assignment.

L. D. has just completed a 28 week course of instruction in Airborne Electronics (Radar) Maintenance at the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Ward Island, Corpus Christi.

In a letter received Tuesday by Mrs. B. L. Sogge, the commanding officer of the school, P. A. Sugg, wrote:

"You will may have a feeling of pride in your son, since he has just completed a particularly arduous course involving a highly technical subject. As your son goes to duty on ship or shore you can be assured he is well trained, both physically and mentally, for the task before him of maintaining electronic equipment in the Navy's far ranging aircraft."

The first battle of the Civil War was fought near Charleston when General Beauregard opened fire on Fort Sumter.
