Board Selected To Sponsor Housing Project For Post

As an outgrowth of a city-wide drive, attended by seventy-five more Post business and professional men Monday evening at city hall, the Garza County Board of Development was formed to sponsor a housing project for Post Mill employees, and for building activities.

The board is comprised of T. Greenfield, chairman, George H. Herring, Jim Hays, C. Boucher, Marshall Mason, Claude Bailey.

The board, according to Greenfield, has arranged to meet at an early date with Chas. J. Hincley, Dallas, district manager of the Production Board; Joseph Dallas, regional director of National Housing Administration; and F. A. Wells of Amarillo, the War Manpower Commission.

At this meeting plans and details will be discussed to start the movement.

Last week when a group of business men met with W. Rogers of St. Louis, general manager of the Postmill, it revealed that for lack of sufficient manpower, the mills are operating at slightly more than twenty-five percent of their normal capacity. Housing facilities are badly needed in Post to accommodate additional workers which are required in the mills, and it further pointed out that the power and housing shortage interfered because the need-manpower can be procured if adequate housing facilities are provided.

The lengthy discussions Monday night those attending the meeting agreed that efforts should be made immediately to finance a construction of a group of low-cost houses.

Interest High In Pre-Flight Course Being Taught Here

Twenty-five enthusiastic Garza county citizens were in attendance for the second lesson of the Pre-Flight course being taught by Oscar Garner. These classes are being held in the Vocational Agricultural class room of the Post High school.

Garner, manager and owner of the Garner Appliances company, is a licensed pilot and accredited instructor with 14 years of aerial work and 1800 hours of flying time to his credit. He was an instructor in Primary Flight training at Brooks Field, San Antonio, before being released from the army. He is conducting the course free of charge.

Those who are attending are keenly interested in aviation and its post-war effect on modes of travel. All persons who are interested are invited to attend the classes. Wednesday night a lesson on Theory of Flight was discussed.

Clint Herring and Lester Nichols, two avid air-minded citizens of the class, took their first lesson in the air this week. Classes begin at 9 p. m. each Wednesday night.

A series of articles based on aviation are being published weekly in the Dispatch. Garner urges air-minded citizens to keep up with these articles. They are very informative he asserted.

Respect Is An Honorable Virtue

IT has just come to our attention that quite a bit of vandalism is being perpetrated at Terrace Cemetery, in the form of destroying flowers and littering with trash, bottles, etc.

Not just a single instance but many reports have come regarding this bad state of affairs. Flowers have been uprooted, trampled and stolen, containers broken and destroyed, and there has been much evidence of drinking parties.

We hate to think such acts are deliberate attempts to destroy and hurt, rather it would appear as thoughtless indiscretion; nevertheless it is causing worry and pain to those whose grave plots are defaced.

Not many people would go into a private yard and destroy flowers and shrubs yet those whose loved ones have been buried in Terrace Cemetery had much rather you would mar their yard than to desecrate the graves of their dead.

As for drinking parties, is such have to be done, it would seem there is enough open country around Post that the Cemetery need not be defiled. It has been suggested that the stock pen would be a much more suitable place.

Certainly 'this is still a free country' but freedom is good only when it respects the rights and belongings of others. Should you have been a party to any such action wouldn't you please consider your friends and neighbors and respect the memory of their loved ones.

Post Boy's Ship Smashed 350 Jap Shore Targets

Aboard the USS Mobile in the Pacific—Joseph Weidon Panter, turret captain, first class, USN, brother of Mrs. Cecil Osborn, and former Post citizen, served aboard this light cruiser which ducked a dozen Kamikaze planes and evaded enemy mines, torpedos and suicide boats in order to move in close and smash more than 350 Jap shore targets as her contribution to victory at Okinawa.

Sometimes during the campaign, the 37th major operation for the Mobile in this war, she moved in so close that her crew said they could readily identify uniform insignia.

The Mobile was attacked daily by everything from "hecklers" to attacks comprising a score or more enemy planes. Once eight Jap suicide planes were splashed within two minutes in a sector covered by the gunfire of the Mobile and several other ships.

Meanwhile, she was doing wholesale damage to the Japs on the island. She blasted 90 caves where Japs were hiding troops and big guns. She knocked out 43 Jap mortars with direct hits and, when the Japs tried to supply their front line by motor trucks, picked off 15 trucks.

Two dozen blockhouses and pillboxes were smashed by her guns. Fifteen times she stopped Jap infantry charges by killing and scattering troops with direct hits. She swept clean whole areas or picked off individual targets, as directed, such as 55 guns and nine ammunition and supply dumps.

One of the suicide planes which attacked her was picked off at the respectable range of 8,000 yards. Another got in to a range of 1,500 yards before being bottled down.

Plans Underway To Stage Big Matched-Roping

Tentative dates, August 17 and 18, were set Monday night by Post Stampede, Inc. directors for a two-night's matched roping between prominent ropers of the area.

The main attraction will be a 20-calf contest staged between two of the most popular ropers of this section, and next to top billing will be a 12-calf contest between two equally as prominent ropers. Sixteen calves will be roped each night in the two events, 10 each in the first bracket and 6 each in the second.

Besides the two matched contests there will be a jack-pot roping contest between all comers, and a Garza county jack-pot roping contest.

Prizes are being made up today to attract owners of fine cutting horses to participate in a cutting-horse contest to be held in connection with the performances. These prizes, along with the names of the participants in the roping contests, will be announced next week.

Whiteface calves and the cutting stock will be supplied from the Embury Williams herd.

Decision to stage the matched-roping contests was made Monday night when newly elected directors of the rodeo met and discussed possibilities of staging a "big time" rodeo the latter part of August. After considerable discussion, and due to lack of time to promote the kind of rodeo the directors desired, it was agreed that it would be impracticable to undertake the "big show" this season.

Officials to be in charge of the contest will be Walter Duckworth, president of the Stampede; Giles W. Connell, vice-president; E. W. Williams, manager; Phil S. Bouchler, assistant manager; and Homer McCrory, secretary.

Assisting with the promotion will be O. L. Weakley, treasurer; Lee Byrd, Eddie Warren, Elton Nance, D. D. Cardwell, Don Coleman, Novis Rodgers and Willard Kirkpatrick, directors of the Stampede.

Post Boy Returning To States With Famed 'Bloody Bucket' Div.

With the 28th Infantry Division in Assembly Area Command—Pfc. Dennis R. Porter is enroute home from the European Theatre of Operations with the veteran "Bloody Bucket" division, which in eight months saw vicious combat action from Normandy's hedgerows to the heart of the Reich.

The 28th quit its occupational duties in Germany July 5th and moved to Camp Pittsburgh, one of Assembly Area Command's 17 resupplyment camps near Bonn. Entering action July 30, 1944, at St. Lo, the "Bloody Bucket" men battled across Normandy, paraded through Paris, proceeded east through Belgium and Luxembourg, and smashed into the Siegfried Line September 18—the first troops to enter Germany in strength.

After its November fight in Hargen Forest, the 28th moved to the "quiet" Luxembourg sector. On December 16, it caught the full force of Von Rundstedt's Ardennes offensive. Quickly recuperating, the 28th moved west to help liberate Colmar in Alsace and drive to the Rhine. Within a month, it was again at the Rhine near Coblenz.

Pfc. Porter is the son of L. M. Porter of this city.

He holds the following decorations: two battle stars, the combat Infantryman's badge and the good conduct medal.

IT'S BETTER TO ATTEMPT TO DO SOMETHING THAN NOTHING

Someone in France once told me the story of two frogs—an optimistic frog and a pessimistic frog—each of which fell in a jar of cream. The pessimistic frog thought at once, "I am doomed. I cannot breathe. I cannot get out. I shall be drowned." And he was.

The optimistic frog didn't know what to do, either, but being optimistic he was confident, and being confident he was dynamic. So he started to move in all directions.

The above fable could well be applied by local clubs and organizations—the Chamber of Commerce needs to get back in the groove and produce progressive projects; perhaps some of them won't pan-out—but they might, so why not pull together.

YOU CAN HELP NOW

If you find it difficult to get on a train, remember that the railroads and the Pullman Company, by order of the Office of Defense Transportation, have withdrawn from service all sleeping cars operating between points 150 miles or less apart.

This action makes available an additional 805 Pullman cars and gives the military the exclusive use of about half the sleeping cars operating in the United States. These cars afford a greater measure of comfort to our troops moving to the west coast prior to embarkation to the Pacific theatre.

PRICELESS POSSESSION

As the days of the war slip along, I am more than ever convinced that the Creator is not so much interested in nations as He is in individuals. The most precious thing on the globe is not universal employment or freedom from fear or even food for all the hungry. The most priceless possession that any man can have is the purpose in his heart to serve his fellows, to bear his burdens cheerfully, and that he has fulfilled his individual obligations, and that he is entitled to "Wrap the draperies of his couch about him and lie down to pleasant dreams."—Marvel Beem, West Los Angeles, California.

YOU'D NEVER BELIEVE IT

You'd never believe it but more Americans have been killed in traffic accidents since Pearl Harbor than have been killed in battle! You'd probably also find it hard to believe but two out of five persons killed in traffic accidents in 1944 were pedestrians. That means we had better watch our step, take care in our walking habits lest we be marked as a victim. Don't be a jaywalker. Here are some timely tips: 1.—Cross streets only at intersections or marked crosswalks. 2.—Look right and left before crossing. 3.—Cross only on red light. 4.—If walking on highway, walk on left side facing traffic. 5.—Carry light or something white to reflect light when walking on highway at night. 6.—Get into and out of vehicles on curb side. 7.—Watch for oncoming traffic when catching or leaving cars or buses.—Scurry County Times.

TROOPS SLEEP IN SHIFTS

A novel experiment in mass troop transportation is being tried on long troop trains now between Eastern seaports and Fort Bliss and Fort Sam Houston. It involves staggered sleeping and working hours for soldiers, a half or a third of them sleeping while the others filled the day coaches. When one group of soldiers finishes its quota of slumber, it is shifted to the day coaches and another group replaces it in the sleeping cars. Thus the soldiers sleep in relays until they reach their destination. Some comments are favorable from the G. I.'s: others very unfavorable, but the system will probably be continued rail executives declared and many of the wrinkles will be ironed out in a short time.

TURNED OUT TO GRASS

Winston Churchill, who recently promised to accept the verdict gracefully if the people decided to "turn him out to grass," soon will be just another of the 600-odd members of the house of commons, of which he has been a member for most of his adult life. He won in his own district, but was swept from power by a landslide labor victory at the polls.

Prediction that Britain was headed for the Left with the halberd have been borne out by the final count of ballots.

The outcome of the election can hardly have surprised anyone a great deal. The British people had grown restive under more than five years of wartime restrictions. The housing shortage was uppermost in most minds when the ballot was taken, and resentment of the government's failure or inability to do anything worthwhile about it probably was the dominant factor in the decision to overthrow the coalition by which Britain had been ruled through the war years.

Mr. Churchill made no bones about his conservatism. He rather rubbed it in. Once the danger from Germany was removed by victory, thus ending the necessity of continuing the coalition longer, the great old man who saved Britain and the democratic world was "turned out to grass."

Totalitarians are utterly incapable of understanding this sort of thing, but after all is said and done it is the spirit and essence of democracy.

So Britain, after years of coalition under a conservative, has turned left. Our own country, after years of liberal government, is just as certainly turning the other way.

Neither of these shifts is apt to go very far, or to stay very long; for the genius of democracy is not that it stays put, but that it meets conditions as they are, not as men would have them be.

Flexibility rather than fixity seems to be a democratic habit. When the people grow tired of one they turn to the other. We do it at the ballot box, rather than by bloody revolution.—Abilene Reporter

Heavy Losses

A small boy came hurriedly down the street, and halted breathlessly in front of a stanger who was walking in the same direction.

"Have you lost a half a dollar?" he asked.

"Yes, yes I believe I have!" said the stranger, feeling in his pocket. "Have you found one?"

"Oh, no," replied the boy. I just wanted to find out how many have been lost today. You make 55."

ISAAC'S HERITAGE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 24:18, 15-20, 24-26, 31-67. GOLDEN TEXT—I have a gladly heritage.—Psalm 135:2

The ordinary things of life become extraordinary when we recognize in them the outworking of the plan of God. Our lesson presents one of history's sweetest love stories. It would be worth reading just for that reason, but it is also the account of God's hand in the carrying forward of His promised blessing on the seed of Abraham.

For a long time it seemed that there could be no fulfillment at all, for Sarah and Abraham had no child. Then by a miracle, God gave them a beloved son.

Isaac's remarkable deliverance in the hour when it looked as though he might be taken from his father (Gen. 22:10-12) was like bringing back one who was dead (Heb. 11:18, 19).

He grew into manhood, and Abraham, good father and faithful servant of the Lord, determined that his son must have a godly wife. So in accordance with Oriental custom he sent a most trusted servant back to their homeland to choose a bride from their own kindred.

The altogether charming story unfolds in our lesson as we see I. A Faithful Servant (v. 10).

Full instructions from Abraham and an oath that he would not take a bride for Isaac from among the Canaanites, prepared the servant for his journey. Taking with him a goodly caravan and rich presents from his master, he set out on his journey.

There is much to learn here about the need of parental concern, and their interested action in helping young people to find the right mate. We see the importance of avoiding "mixed" marriages, especially those between a believer and an unbeliever.

We see the need of constant dependence on God, for only He has the wisdom and the knowledge of human hearts which can properly join two lives together. In our day when marriage is so carelessly and casually contracted, these matters need special emphasis.

II. A Fair Damsel (vv. 15-20).

To be good to look upon is certainly a desirable thing in a woman, but it has been far too much exploited in our day. Notice that while Rebekah was very fair, she also had those qualities of character and of experience which prepared her to be a good wife for Isaac.

She was kind and willing to serve; not only did she offer water to the servant of Abraham, but promptly watered his camels. Such an attitude of heart and mind is a great asset to a woman in marriage.

She was instructed in the domestic arts. The fact that she had come to draw water indicated that, and her ability to draw the water showed that she had experienced the duties of woman in the household.

Here is wise counsel for the young man who is interested in marriage, and for his parents as they guide him. Let him look for the girl with the fair countenance if he will, but let him be sure that there is something really worthwhile behind the pretty face.

III. An Honorable Proposal (vv. 24-26).

Abraham's trusted man, perceiving that God had led him to the one of His choice, at once stated his errand. There was no tiskery, no smooth double-talk. This was a straight-out proposal that Rebekah come with him to be the bride of Isaac.

Notice that he made known his master's financial position, and made clear the place Rebekah would occupy as the wife of Isaac. That is as it should be. There is a contractual basis for marriage which calls for complete candor and honest dealing.

But there was more here, for Rebekah ultimately responded to the dictates of her own heart when she said, "I will go" (see v. 26). It was IV. A Love Marriage (vv. 61-67).

Isaac, meditating in the twilight, presents a fine picture of a man spiritually ready to be a good husband. He had more to offer than riches. Let other young men follow his example.

Today's Calendar

The Julian calendar was abandoned for the Gregorian calendar in England and America in 1753, although elsewhere in Europe the Gregorian calendar was accepted two centuries earlier. The Julian calendar exceeded the astronomical year and Pope Gregory XIII directed that 10 days—October 5 to 15—be suppressed in 1582 and established a quadrennial form of leap year in which intercalations or the insertion of an extra day, were omitted in the centenary years which are multiples of 400. In the Julian system each centenary year was an intercalary year and the years 1700, 1800 and 1900 were scheduled as leap years, but in the Gregorian calendar they became ordinary years. After 1900 the difference in the two calendars became 13 days.

The Edward J. Neil Memorial Trophy, given annually to the boxer who did the most for boxing the preceding year, was awarded in 1943 to the 4,019 boxers in the armed services and those yet to take up arms.

Joe DiMaggio's record of scoring a hit in 55 consecutive major league baseball games, during the 1941 season, is the modern record.

OUR HELPLESS MEN

Our men folks are pretty helpless creatures sometimes. Usually to this being a woman's world and a first class war being on hand to prosecute to a victorious end, our men proved helpless to avert the shortage, for instance, which has now arisen in men's shorts, and will either have to dig out some flour sacks, with holes and draw strings—or else resort to pin-panties. In Detroit, for example, men have been forced to buy ladies' panties for the past month.

With several million bales of cotton not even in warehouses there really isn't too much to go for men folks not being able to buy underwear. If War Production Board officials can get their heads together, and authorize textile mills to get rolling on textile for civilians, we can, as men folks, at least go about the daily tasks in comfort and secure in the knowledge there will be no embarrassment from feminine sources.—Scurry County News

Kaiser Plans New Low Priced Auto

Henry J. Kaiser Co. and Graham-Paige Motors Corp. plan to manufacture a large, light-weight, low-priced automobile on the Pacific Coast.

Kaiser officials said delivery of the automobile to the public would be made early next year.

The new corporation will be owned jointly by Kaiser and Graham-Paige. Its capitalization will be five million shares at a par value of one dollar a share.

Howard Lindbergh, assistant to Kaiser, said surveys were under way to pick a site for the plant. He said consideration had been given to construction of a plant convenient to shipping. Also under consideration was the use of shipyard facilities and airplane plants for construction of parts.

Several types and models of cars are now being tested, Lindbergh said, but he would not discuss any particular innovations. He gave no details of the cost of the car.

Army Adds 100,000 To Infantry Service

The Army disclosed that it has increased its infantry strength through transfers by more than 100,000 men since April 1, 1944.

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Army ground forces chief, said that beginning April 1, 1944, and last June 30 the Infantry proper had been augmented by 26,404 transfers while the parachute infantry (paratroops) was increased by 77,713.

The announcement said the transfers were in line with the War Department's program of "enlarging and strengthening the basic fighting arm of the Army, the infantry, to meet the new combat needs of the Pacific theater."

30 Classifications For New Ship Names

The naming of America's 5,000 merchant ships built or acquired during the war emergency has been a brain-teaser of no mean proportion. Everything from Kentucky Derby winners to sailors' knots, has been employed in the task, an American Merchant Marine Institute survey discloses. There are over 30 name classifications for Marine Commission vessels.

Sixty-three foreign vessels, taken over before the war, were assigned names of winners of the Kentucky Derby and other turf stakes. The true work horses of the war, almost 2,700 Liberty ships, have been named largely after deceased famous American men and women who have contributed toward the American way of life.

Units of the 700-ship tanker fleet bear names of American battle fields, oil fields, parks, monuments, forts, trails, Indian tribes and famous California missions.

Victory ships have been named after the various United Nations, 160 typical towns and cities of the United States, and colleges. The nation, town or college name is combined with the word Victory, such as Yugoslav Victory.

Vessels of the C-Type class have a large variety of name groups, including American capes, mountain ranges, seaports, counties, stars and constellations, and clipper ships. Others have prefixes such as "Sea" and "Marine." Small coastal cargo ships bear names of clipper ship captains and sailor's knots.

The largest transports are named in honor of admirals and generals. Smaller transports have names recalling important battles of the present war. Tugs are named after lighthouses, ports and various virtues such as "Dependable" and "Rigor" which characterize these sturdy vessels.

INCREASED QUOTA ANNOUNCED BY COAST GUARD FOR AUGUST

A considerably increased quota for 17-year-old apprentice seamen, as well as SPARS (Coast Guard women's reserve), for the month of August has been received by Eighth Naval District Coast Guard headquarters, New Orleans, Lt. Comdr. E. B. Briggs, district recruiting officer, announced yesterday.

There is a pressing need for recruits in both classifications, and Coast Guard headquarters, Washington, D. C. has urged that all district quotas be met.

Lieutenant Commander Briggs said a mobile recruiting unit has been sent to San Antonio, Texas, where it will maintain headquarters during August in the U. S. postoffice building, with Thomas L. Williams, yeoman first class, in charge.

The district recruiting office is located in the Custom House, 423 Canal street, New Orleans.

Thanksgiving Day to Be Observed In Texas On Nov. 22

Texas officially will observe Thanksgiving Day on Nov. 22, the fourth Thursday of the month, Governor Stevenson has decided.

He announced last week he will proclaim Thanksgiving for that date in compliance with requests from business men and with a statement made last year that he will follow the federal law on the subject this year.

There are five Thursdays in November this year and the Texas A&M-University of Texas football game is scheduled for Nov. 29, the fifth Thursday.

The Governor said that all mayors of Texas cities except three that had conferred with him on this year's Thanksgiving date expressed a preference for Nov. 22.

Last year November also had five Thursdays and the Governor proclaimed the fifth Thursday as Thanksgiving Day. The federally designated Thanksgiving last year was the fourth Thursday.

The Governor said he made early announcement of his intentions for this year so that all interested groups might seek uniformity in an observance date. The Texas U - Texas A&M football classic is the only major event he has heard of that has been set for a date at variance with the fourth Thursday observance, he said.

FRUIT-JUICE CONCENTRATE

For years hard cider has been concentrated to "apple jack" by allowing the barrel to freeze and then drawing out the still-liquid center. In this way the alcohol and the "smack" (essential oils and other flavors) are concentrated into the liquid core. In a similar way fruit juices are now being concentrated by being frozen to a slush ice from which the ice crystals are separated by centrifuging. The extracted juice from which only water has been removed is in this fashion concentrated to about one-fourth the former bulk. The system may be used on any juice.

Cpl. Bill Wood Back From European War

Greeting friends and very much glad to be home is T-Cpl. Bill Wood who arrived in Post last Friday after a voyage home from Europe on the luxury line, Queen Elizabeth.

Bill has been in the Army 26 months and was in Europe 12 of those months. Bill can attest to the old adage 'An army travels on its stomach' as he served as cook of Co. M, 114th Infantry of the famous 44th Division.

Landing in England he was later transferred to Scotland. His unit moved on to France and as a part of the Seventh Army drive across France into southern Germany, across to Austria and doubled back with the division which cleaned up pockets of German soldiers toward Italy. At the conclusion of the war Bill was just inside Italy, having travelled through the famed Brenner Pass.

Bill got to see both London and Paris but his most vivid impression as far as scenery was concerned was of the Tyrolean Alps. Most magnificent views and wonderful country, not despoiled by war, an enjoyable experience.

He was with a group who got to visit the palace of Otto, the Mad King of Bavaria, a fantastic building encrusted with precious stones and with gold and silver floors. He also saw Innsbruck, the famous resort city, where the snow is on the ground all year and people from every country used to go to enjoy skating and skiing.

Wearing the handsome Combat Infantryman's Badge, Bill also wears three stars on his European ribbon representing the campaigns of Northern France, the Rhineland and Middle Europe.

He will spend his 30-day leave here with his mother, Mrs. Wif Scarborough, and with his wife, the former La Ruth Walden, and daughter, Ann, who moved recently to Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Puckett had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Puckett and family and Mrs. M. H. Hutto, all of Lubbock. Miss Billie Jerrel Puckett, who had been visiting in Post the past week, returned to Lubbock with them Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. R. B. Dodson who was a patient in the Lubbock hospital was returned to her home here several days ago.

POST-WAR FLYING IN YOUR HOME TOWN

By C. C. CAMPBELL

Post-War Flying Previewed

More than five million people, including folks from practically every town and community in the country, have become "inoculated" with the idea of flying.

These in turn will probably influence thousands of others within a few years.

"There is little time to lose. American communities must get ready and plan now for this coming nation-wide interest in personal flying."

Wm. A. Burden Thus warns William A. M. Burden, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Air. To indicate that the five million estimate of flying enthusiasts may be conservative, Mr. Burden offers the following figures:

More than 300,000 pilots in uniform and 150,000 others in civilian life will want to continue to fly. Then there are two and a half million men trained by the armed forces in other aviation skills; two million more—men and women—who are working in the aviation industry; 250,000 youngsters who are taking aerial courses in high schools each year.

While there are only approximately 25,000 civilian aircraft in the United States today, he predicts that there will be 400,000 civil airplanes in this country within ten years after the end of the war.

The national significance of this cannot be overlooked, but the real success of personal flying in the active peacetime world of tomorrow will depend directly upon each of our 14,732 communities, aviation authorities point out.

Just as the automobile could not become generally useful to every American who wanted to own or drive one until good roads were built, so personal flying will be grounded until suitable landing facilities are available everywhere. Planes in the air can land in safety only on level, prepared surfaces. Planes on the ground need smooth runways and space to "take-off."

However, these facilities need not be extensive or costly, many communities are now finding out. With the advice of both Federal and State aviation groups, as well as non-government aviation organizations such as the Personal Aircraft Council of the Aircraft Industries Association of America, Inc., Washington, D. C., plans are under way in many sections of the country for the construction of inexpensive airports, flight-strips and air harbors. These are fitted to the size and needs of the individual community and usually can be expanded later if conditions warrant.

What seems to be more to the point, many town officials expect that their proposed landing facilities will become income producers and perhaps pay off the costs of construction and operation in time. They feel that the development of community personal flying may prove to be good business in more ways than one.

This is the first of a series of articles on post-war flying and its effect on community life. The next article, "Freedom of Personal Flight," will appear in an early issue.

Nephew of A. O. Rosenbaum Serving in Pacific Theatre

John R. Miller, nephew of A. O. Rosenbaum, writes that he is serving aboard a light cruiser in the Pacific. He works below deck in sweetening compartments, where the temperature often climbs as high as 116 degrees. He is thurstonian of one of the engines of the ship. During battle the sailor is a communications man relaying orders throughout the engineering room.

Miller is well known in Post having spent many summers here with his uncle on his farm near Pleasant Valley. He enlisted in May of 1943 and first served on the U.S.S. Maryland. He has seen action in the Marshalls and the Marianas groups of islands.

CRIME CLUES

Can You Name This Case?

Death struck with terrible suddenness one sultry July morning when the charred body of a wealthy baronet was found in his blazing bedroom, on the second floor of his luxurious Nassau, Bahamas, home.

Suspicion first fell on a real-estate operator friend who had been sleeping just two rooms away from the death chamber, but switched quickly when the dead man's widow and numerous acquaintances stated that he had been an unfriendly terms with his Frank Lovejoy son-in-law, a three-wed Frenchman who had recently married the tycoon's eldest daughter.

The trial became a Roman holiday for Nassauvians who crowded into the tiny courtroom to hear evidence that the son-in-law had been found to have singed hairs on his hands, arms and head, allegedly caused when lighting a hurricane lamp, but which could have happened the fatal night.

The evidence was circumstantial, however, and the son-in-law was acquitted, with the recommendation that he be deported from Nassau. His attractive young wife stayed staunchly at his side throughout the trial, but in recent months has announced to the press that they are legally separated.

According to this week's guest detective, Frank Lovejoy of Mutual's "Calling All Detectives," this unsolved mystery was known as:

- 1. The Charlotte Corday Killing
- 2. The Osage-De Marigny Case
- 3. Julius Caesar and Brutus
- 4. Woman in the Window

ARMY RELEASING 4,000 DAILY, RECEIVING 3,000

Washington—The Army is now discharging about 4,000 men a day under its "point system" while new inductions under Selective Service average about 3,000 a day.

Brig. Gen. Kenneth Royall of the Army General Staff gave this figure on discharges to the Senate War Investigating Committee Friday. He added that there are other discharges, for medical or other reasons, in addition to those under the point system, but mentioned no figure.

HAYES HOLMANS MOVED RECENTLY TO WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Holman and daughter, Jerry, have recently moved to White Salmon, Washington, from Anchorage, Alaska. The Holmans formerly were citizens of Post. For the past two years Mr. Holman has been teaching pre-flight courses in the Anchorage school system and Mrs. Holman has been serving as resident shopper for the airline company there, as well as teaching part time in the school system.

Mr. Holman will serve as superintendent of the White Salmon school system and Mrs. Holman will also teach. News of this former Post couple was relayed to the Dispatch by W. R. Graeber who received a letter from Holman recently, in which he described the school set-up and all its extra curricula phases. They moved to Washington about June 15.

Joseph Lee Serves Aboard Unique Battle Cruiser

Aboard the USS Guam in the Pacific—Joseph L. Lee, 19, second class, USNA, of Route 4, Post, served aboard this unique battle cruiser while she was providing her worth during nearly six months of combat from Okinawa to the fringes of Japan's Inland Sea.

The Guam, under the command of Capt. Leland F. Lovelle, USN, made her battle debut on the morning of March 18, during the now historic two-day air strike against the Ryukyus and the Inland Sea area of Japan.

Guns of the big battle cruiser were credited with shooting down two Jap planes as they attempted suicide dives of a nearby aircraft carrier. In addition, she is credited with assists on six attacking enemy planes, while her 12-inch guns have poured tons of steel on two Jap-held islands.

The Guam, the American version of the pocket battleship and a comparatively recent addition to the Pacific Fleet, cruised with her task force off Japanese shores for 61 days. In recent operations, supporting the Okinawa invasion, she protected carriers of her escort in a series of battles.

Like her sister ship, the USS Alaska, she is designated as a battle cruiser, the two being the only ships of their type in the Fleet. She exceeds many battleships in length and tonnage, she carries 12-inch guns in place of the 8-inch weapons of the usual heavy cruiser and bristles with a heavy concentration of anti-aircraft batteries.

L. DARWOOD BILLINGS HERE ON LEAVE AFTER EUROPEAN DUTY

L. Darwood Billings is here on furlough with his wife and daughter in the B. L. Sorges home where they waited for him while he was overseas.

After being stationed quite some time at SPAAF at Lubbock, L. Billings, a glider pilot, was transferred to North Carolina where he received an intensive training course. In October he left for duty in Europe with the 9th Troop Carrier Command.

Based in northern France, L. Billings spent most of his flying time as co-pilot of C-47 planes. The very important job done by these planes was flying supplies and other supplies to the front lines and returning wounded personnel to base hospitals.

L. Billings saw much of Europe but none of it compared at all favorably with his home state of Vermont or his adopted state, Texas.

He flew home by way of Africa and Brazil. After his leave he will report to San Antonio for assignment.

ONE ARMY VETERAN SOLVES THE RETURN TO CIVILIAN LIFE—WITH SPEED

Readier in search of a bright career, Rubin Tronts of Brooklyn, N. Y., decided to enlist his talents in America's gigantic fashion business. Recently discharged from the U. S. Men's Bible Class Host To Closs From Tahoka Church

A fine spirit of fellowship was enjoyed last Thursday night when members of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church of Post entertained the Men's Class of the Tahoka Baptist church.

A contest based on the point system of attendance had been held by the two classes, Post being the loser. Two many of their members were absent or failed to bring their Bibles or study their lessons, any how the Tahoka group were treated to a barbecue supper on the lawn at the rear of the church building.

Rev. Polnac and R. H. Ranson were in charge of the meeting and Rev. Polnac introduced Rev. Levi Price of Tahoka who made the principal address.

Speaking on the topic "The Hour is Now Come" Rev. Price made some very pertinent and inspirational remarks which were much appreciated by his hearers.

About 115 men enjoyed the meal and the companionship during the evening. Besides members of these two classes several members from the Calvary church, including Rev. Bristow who made a short talk, and several from other churches enjoyed meeting with the group.

Miss Evans Married To Lt. Foster July 27 In Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Nedra Jo Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans, to Lt. Robert Donnell Foster, AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foster of Canyon, was solemnized Friday night, July 27, at the Methodist church.

Rev. I. A. Smith read the ceremony before an altar decked with fern, gold and crystal angels for the altar piece. The entire rail was banked with greenery with tall baskets of dahlias and gladioli gracing each side of the altar. White tapers on the altar, lining the rail, and in branched candelabra at the end of the aisles provided the illumination. Meses Martha Ray Roach and Wynona Sims served as candlelighters.

The pre-nuptial solo "Always" was sung by Miss Mary Helen Robertson, with Miss Iris Joy Parker at the organ.

To the strains of the traditional wedding march Miss Evans entered on the arm of her father. She chose for her costume a two-piece dressmaker suit in blue wool with white blouse. Her accessories were brown. For her bridal bouquet she carried an orchid on a prayer book.

Mrs. Bill Duncan attended her sister and wore a black two-piece tulle. Her accessories were black and she wore a camellia corsage.

The groom was attended by 2nd Lt. Jerry McKinley, who is stationed also at San Marcos.

Ushers were the brother and brother-in-law of the bride, Jack Evans of Amarillo and Lt. Bill Duncan.

Lt. Foster's parents and his sisters, Mrs. Holston of Canyon and Mrs. Hill with her daughters, Patricia and Dixie, of Wichita Falls were here for the wedding.

Other relatives present were the bride's mother and younger sister, Joyce, Mrs. Jack Evans and two daughters of Amarillo; Mrs. McCelvey and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Doherty of Slaton; Mrs. F. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hall Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Hub Haire; Mrs. Howton Haire and Dinae; Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spence and Polly. Friends from out-of-town who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Neeley and Marvin Jr.; Boyce Neely Jones, all of Plainview, and Mrs. Leroy Sims of Lubbock.

Lt. and Mrs. Foster went to Dallas for their brief wedding trip before he returned to duty Wednesday.

Reception Following Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans were hosts at their home Friday night immediately after the wedding for a reception honoring their daughter and son-in-law.

Sixty guests called to extend congratulations to the young couple. The wedding cake was a delectable confection iced in white and pink with a miniature bride and groom as decoration. This was served with punch from a beautifully arranged table with Mrs. Jack Evans and Miss Wynona Sims serving.

Roses and carnations were the favored flowers used as decorations in the entertaining rooms. Wedding gifts were on display in the bedroom.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith Honored At Party Tuesday Evening

An informal party honoring Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Smith on their forty-third wedding anniversary was enjoyed last week when several friends gathered in the J. E. Parker home. A delicious supper complete with the traditional party cake was enjoyed by every one.

Announcement Tea Given Sunday For Helen Jo Hundley

Miss Helen Jo Hundley, daughter of Clyde Hundley, will be married tonight, August 2, to Lt. (jg) R. B. Young of the United States Navy. Lt. Young is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Young of Ralls and has just returned from 15 months duty in the Pacific.

This was revealed Sunday afternoon when Meses Jim Hundley, N. W. Stone, and Groce and Castevens of Lubbock entertained with a tea from 4 till 6 p. m. in the Hundley home.

Guests were greeted by a receiving line formed by Mrs. Hundley, Miss Hundley, the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. M. K. Young, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. P. Young of Levelland.

The table decoration carried out the sweetheart theme in a lovely fashion and was made by Mrs. Groce, Miss Hundley's cousin. A heart standing about eighteen inches high was made of pink satin and tulle ruffles and on the left side had a corsage effect of pink carnations. Pink satin steamers extended out on the table had gold letters spelling the names Helen Jo and R. B. Small wedding bell cut-outs revealed the time and place of the wedding.

Mesess Iris Parker and Hazel Cash presided at the punch bowl where orange punch was served with cakes, minis, and salted nuts. Assisting with the service were Meses Groce, Castevens and Stone.

Lt. Young's picture was displayed on the registry table where seventy guests signed the beautiful white embossed leather bride's book. Mrs. John Sutton was at the registry table.

Vari-colored summer flowers were used in profusion through the entertaining rooms.

Others in the houseparty were the bride-elect's sister, Mary Ann, and her grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Hundley.

Women Can Preserve Charm Despite Ravages of Heat

Summer, with its enervating heat, can work havoc with the appearance of many women, but to the woman of intelligence it merely poses a challenge which can be met and overcome.

While one woman presents a woebegone and bedraggled appearance in obvious surrender to the ravages of the heat, her neighbor appears just as chic and well-groomed as she loses on a crisp autumn day.

How any woman can meet this challenge successfully is told in the July issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, which states in part:

"Get your hair up and off your face. Do it in a fashion that is smooth, tidy and secure. Change your make-up often. Insure against a shiny red face that always looks so hot by wearing make-up base that covers well and withstands moisture. Cakes make-up is fine for this."

"Use just enough lipstick to cover, not enough to shine. Blot off the excess with tissue, powder lightly and moisten lips. Wear a black shield to keep your dress from sticking to you. Mop your neck every now and then with cologne, skin freshener or plain cold water."

"Choose cool colors and simple lines in clothes. Avoid anything tight, anything frilly. Take more baths, use more bath powder, shampoo oftener, be meticulously neat."

VICTORY HINTS

Grass stains on white materials can often be removed by sponging with ammonia and water.

Scrub carrots with a stiff brush. It is easier than scraping or paring and saves vitamins and minerals as well.

Resolve to go easy on the vacuum cleaner motor by emptying the dust bag after every use. Shake out the loose dirt, tie the bag inside out on the clothesline and let the breeze do the job thoroughly for you.

When washing windows, use an up and down stroke on the outside, and the side to side stroke on the inside. This way, you can easily determine which side needs more polishing.

To prevent the gloss from coming off white paint, wash with milk and very little soap.

If water is spilled on the page of a favorite book, place a blotter on each side of the page and press with a hot iron. This should remove all the moisture without damage to the book.

Place a handful of starch in the water when washing tile floors. It will leave a nice shine.

If you have had trouble in making your whitewash stick to trees, fences or basement walls try using sour milk or buttermilk instead of water to mix the lime. The casein in the milk acts as a glue with the lime.

When washing windows, add a few drops of kerosene to the water to give added polish. Painted furniture is easily cleaned if a little kerosene is added to the washing water.

The next time you make a laundry bag, put a drawstring on both ends. This will facilitate emptying it.

Reduction of Tire Quotas Announced For This District

Passenger car and small truck tire quotas for the nation and for the Lubbock District remain the same for August as for July, but the quota of large truck tires was decreased, according to District OPA Rationing Executive William G. Williams.

The reduction of more than 34,000 in the large truck tire quota will require the most rigid conservation of tires in this category, WFB and OPA said. The District Emergency Truck Tire Board will screen all applications with the greatest care to assure that purchase certificates are issued to only the most essential applicants. Truck owners and drivers are urged to do everything possible to stretch the life of their truck tires.

Production of both large and small truck tires was reduced by the recent strikes in Akron, Ohio. Fortunately, production of passenger car tires was not greatly cut by the shutdown of rubber plants.

Despite curtailed production, substantial inventories of most small size truck tires permitted the July quota to be repeated in August. Only exceptions are the 700-20 ten-ply and the 750-20 ten-ply that were short prior to the strikes and are now critically short. Because of the limited number of these size tires, the WFB has given OPA a separate quota for them and each application must show the size requested.

Soil Conservation District News

The Board of Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District met Thursday, July 19, at Spur. Among other business attended to, a conservation plan was approved for the farm recently purchased by Allen Bird from M. K. Bingham. Mr. Bird plans to put a large part of the cultivated land on this farm back to grass.

The Supervisors also approved an application from M. H. Dooley for technical assistance in developing a conservation plan for his farm.

The alfalfa planted by Mr. Dooley last year is doing very well. Up until the rain of July 1st it had made practically no growth and much of it had the appearance of being dead. Now it is a foot and a half high and is ready for cutting. Mr. Dooley says that it made most of its growth in a week and a half.

Now is a good time to give native pastures a life summer deferment. Native grasses made little growth this spring due to the extremely dry weather. Since recent rains they are making good growth, and it allowed to continue they will make seed and regain some of their lost vigor.

If livestock can be totally excluded from the native pasture when sudan is available for grazing, the native pasture will have the benefit of a complete rest. Now that sudan is growing livestock may be kept on it. If two or more native grass pastures are available, the stock can be excluded from one of them, thus giving one pasture a rest.

The grass which grows in the summer and early fall can be used in the late fall and winter.

Persons taking thiamin chloride have noticed that their perspiration has a peculiar odor and that whenever a mosquito alights on the skin, it departs in haste. Putting the thiamin on the skin seems to have no effect. It must be taken internally to produce the action.

Freezing Fryers For Family Use To Add To Meat Supply

Fried chicken is always a favorite American delicacy, and with modern freezing methods, it is a dish we can now enjoy all the year around. Too, with meat shortages an ever-present problem, and costs of chicken feed high, freezing the surplus fryers for family use is a good way to add to the meat supply and insure your family tried chicken later in the season.

Here are a few points to remember in preparing your fryers for quick freezing. The first of these is proper dressing, with emphasis on getting a good bleed. Care in dressing the fryer will go a long way in preventing any off-flavor, and will keep the frozen fowl fresh. A quick chill is also important in this process as bacterial changes can take place rapidly in the moist, warm body cavity. Cut the chicken into pieces ready for frying before freezing.

Proper packaging is the next important step in freezing your fryers. Of course cellophane bags, sealed with a hot iron are best, but cellophane paper may be used as second best. In case neither of these is available, a heavy waxed carton may be used. The chickens, cut and chilled, may also be packed tightly in tin cans and sealed. Glass jars are not recommended, as they are easily broken and hard to pack into the storage locker.

The packages should then be stored at Zero degrees temperature, and the temperature should not be allowed to fluctuate more than 3 degrees. Some locker plants are allowed to run at higher temperatures, even up to 10 or 15 degrees, and this practice cuts down the length of time the food will keep without getting rancid. Under the best conditions—proper preparation, packaging and temperature, food may keep from 8 months to a year, but the temperature in the locker should be carefully checked at intervals.

If conditions are not such that you can be assured of airtight packaging and zero degrees temperature, some people prefer to place the chicken in a leak-proof container and cover with a brine solution made with 1 teaspoon salt dissolved in 1 cup water.

Since the chickens are thoroughly cleaned, and already cut before freezing, the only preparation necessary when you get ready to cook them is to let them thaw thoroughly, salt, flour and fry.

One for the Book

Favorites War Story of PAUL MANNING

THIS is the saga of a B-17, the "Belle of Freedom," a hardy old girl who came home despite a terrific pounding by enemy flak and fighter planes. The "Belle of Freedom" was on what was termed a "milk run" over Venice; a run that was supposed to be safe and easy. But there came a day when the German flak was deadly accurate, and so were enemy guns. First the bomb box was hit, making it impossible to salvo the bombs. The flight engineer, at the height of 22,000 feet, threw away his smoke, got out on the catwalk and pushed the bombs out with the aid of a screwdriver.

Meanwhile, the top turret gunner and the pilot were hit. The gunner's heel was blown off; the pilot put out of commission with five slugs in his back. The gunner managed to crawl back to the top turret and keep the guns firing in order to stave off Nazi fighters.

In the meantime, the electric and hydraulic systems were blown out. 250 flak holes opened up the "Belle" like a colander. Damage included the left landing gear and 5000 landing gear, which had been knocked flat, and the pilot control which had been shot completely away. Still the "Belle" managed to keep in formation until her engines conked out. Through a stroke of luck she was within gliding distance of an Allied airbase. And in she came, red flares announcing the wounded aboard, for a perfect three point landing. Her bulk was braked by parachutes held out the windows by her ingenious crew.

The "Belle of Freedom" now reposes atop a scrap heap in Britain. To the American boys who flew her she was a gallant and brave ship. Through her, they lived to fly again.

MOTORISTS URGED TO CHECK TIRE CERTIFICATES FOR EXPIRATION DATE

Motorists who hold certificates to purchase tires should be careful to check them to see if they are "R-2" type, since all outstanding R-2 tire certificates become invalid for consumer use after August 15, the District OPA Rationing Division has announced.

For dealers the invalidation date is August 31. Dealers may also during the month of September exchange R-2 certificates on hand September 1 at OPA District Office in Lubbock. "However, consumers may not exchange their R-2 certificates if they have not been used before August 16—they will become invalid and useless," officials pointed out.

Purpose of the invalidation is to get out of circulation the easily-counterfeited old R-2 certificates. R-3A and R-2B certificates are not affected, since they are printed on government safety paper which cannot be easily counterfeited.

Your Mutual Minute of Prayer

By THE REVEREND ORMAL I. MILLER of the First Methodist Church of Topoka, Kansas

Let us pray— Conscious of our great need, and knowing our own inadequacy, we pause in prayer, O God. We do not ask for ease or comfort, for we know that life's heights are reached only through struggle. Give us the courage to face the future without bitterness or fear. May we possess faith that sees beyond the testing of today, an ultimate triumph of truth, and may we always be conscious of Thy sustaining love. In His name, we pray. Amen.

Whittle's Cafe Team Loses 2-0 To Fast Liberty Team Sun.

Frenchy limited the local team to four hits and no runs before being removed in the ninth inning.

Line-up for the Whittle's Cafe team was Holland, Riddle, Jones, and Dennis Altman taking care of the infield, while Bartlett, Duren and Gilmore worked in the outfield.

Former Garza AAA Man, Robt. Gibson, In Army In Iwo Jima

Sgt. Robert H. Gibson of Lubbock was one of eight men picked by Army experts to set up hydroponic units in the Pacific under the direction of Capt. Torrey Lyons of Stockton, California.

Gibson, a Texas Tech graduate in 1943, served as Garza county administrator for the AAA for one year. His wife, Frances Elaine, is waiting for him in Lubbock.

Hydroponics is a method of growing plants without soil by using a nutrient solution. Yield per acre is many times that of ordinary farming.

4-H Clubs

The following Garza county 4-H club boys, Alvin Davis, Joe Stokes, Eugene Ashley, Gene Carpenter, and D. G. Porterfield are invited by the Lubbock Army Air Field to visit the field on August 8 along with 150 other 4-H club boys of Extension District 2.

The group will meet at the Field at 10 a. m. and will spend approximately five hours in going over the field. It is understood that the Air Field Officials are arranging a very interesting program.

Cotton Classification and Market News Service

Information recently received from the War Food Administration indicate that 569 Garza county cotton producers were members of the Cotton Improvement Association and had 14,263 bales classified under the Smith-Doxey Program.

Applications have recently been renewed for the 1945 Crop. The survey made in connection with this application renewal indicates approximately 6,000 acres of cotton in the county, which is purely an estimate by the local ginners.

merely maintaining the quantity and concentration of the solution. Compared to ordinary gardening, the initial cost of the unit is high.

This compensated for, though, by a low operating cost and a very high quality product as well as by the high yield. The projects have been designed to provide a reliable source of high quality fresh vegetables for use by soldiers in out-of-the-way locations.

An Army Air Forces rest center on Coconut Isle in the Hawaiian group is the site of the first project. After several months of hard work tomatoes, lettuce, peppers, and radishes are beginning to grace the tables.

Trucks of volcanic ash, cinders, cement, lumber and other supplies had to be hauled by truck and boat. Forms and tanks had to be planned and built. The men worked as carpenters, plumbers, and ditch-diggers as well as scientists and gardeners.

The plants are set in water-proof beds of volcanic ash. The nutrient solution containing exactly the amount of chemicals needed, and no more, is washed over their roots, pumped back into the tank at top, and used over and over again.

Periodic tests are made in order to keep the solution up to par. Light, warmth, aeration, presence of mineral salts, and all of the factors promoting or retarding growth can be controlled to a much larger extent than in ordinary farming.

Since this garden has gotten under way and new personnel trained to care for it, the original group have moved on to Iwo Jima where they have started their two acre plantation which will provide fresh salads for the soldiers.

Texas is the only state in the Nation which came into the Union after winning its own independence.
