Post Scouts Planning Big Day Friday

Troop Will Take Over Reins Of City Government, Post's Boy Scout troop is will swing into action Friday, when thirty-six boys of the troop will take over the reins of the city government, patrol the streets for traffic violations, inspect the business area for sanitation and fire hazard purposes, and most of all to collect fines to build up their depleted Scout fund.

It will all be in fun, and fine no doubt will be assessed on pedestrians and motorists alike... there will be jay-walking and failing to observe stop-light signals, fines popped to pedestrians, and more kinds of traffic violations than you can imagine tacked on motorists. You'll hear patrolman whistles until your ears ring and if you fail to stop at the sound of one of them you'll be run-down by at least a dozen boys... they're making plans to "take things over in a big way." Only once a year do the Scouts get to take over and this week is Boy Scout Week and the 37th anniversary of the organization.

The Scouts have elected J. G. Cash as their mayor, and His Honor has handed down the law to his assistants, and instructed them to perform their duties in a business-like and efficient manner.

Other Scouts selected as officials include: Ronnie Boucher, chief of police; Lonnie Wells, traffic officer; Wayne Thomas, fire chief; Cordell Custer, assistant fire chief; Jack Kirkpatrick, fire marshal; Leon Clary, health officer; Kay Kirkpatrick, judge; Charles Moore, prosecuting attorney; and Leon Miller, defense attorney.

The troop will office in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the city hall.

if Post wins for they only need two out of three games.

was Post 14 and Southland 17.
This was a surprise to the team as they had beaten Southland before.

find them in the finals pretty soon for the season's end is near-

800,000 GARDENS SET AS GOAL FOR TEXANS, SAYS AGENT

Well, it's gardening time again —and this year the Texas garden goal has been set for 800,000 gardeners, according to the local Home
Demonstration Agent, Miss Jewell
Hipp. She tells us just about right now is the time to get started on our gardens, and that the need for Texas folks to get out and plant those vegetables is just as great now as it ever has been.

Why plant a garden, anyway?
Well, that's no trick of arithmetic to figure how a garden can save money on the grocery bill when prices are like they are now.
That's probably the best reason for gardening . . . the saving it does on groceries. A one-half -acre garden, properly managed, will produce $100 worth of food for the family, the agent says. To supply your family with enough vegetables to serve fresh every day during the spring and summer, and enough to be canned for winter use, you should plant 600 feet of garden row for each member of the household.

In getting your garden into the ground, remember that the County Extension Service Agents of Garza County are ready to help you out with your gardening problems—such as planting times, what varieties to plant, proper weeding, cultivation, and fertilization.

So, let's all get ready to garden again, and meet that goal of 800, 000 gardens in Texas, and take advantage of gardening as a money saving and healthful activity.

Farmers Asked To Sell Scrap Iron At Good Price

Farmers who hope to get new agricultural equipment during 1947 will do themselves a good turn by selling their old scrap iron, thereby helping to increase production of industrial steel, asserts Bob Gibson, ACA secretary.

"That's the appeal of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, cooperating with the Office of Temporary Controls (CPA) and the steel industry in trying to round up the Nation's unused scrap iron and steel and turn it to a good purpose. Now farm machinery should be fabricated of as much as half remelted scrap metal if it's to be turned out rapidly, efficiently, and economically," said Gibson.

This is the second request for movement of old scrap iron in recent months. Steel production is at an abnormally high level, in trying to catch with post-war civilian needs. But steel mills generally are getting only enough scrap stockpiled to last several months. CPA states that steel production faces a slow-down between now and spring unless scrap iron continues to show up in large quantities.

This is a profitable time to sell scrap, CPA advises. With price control, dealers advanced their offers to the highest figures in years and they are eager to receive scrap from farms. All grades of cast scrap are especially needed now, and farmers are urged, wherever weather permits, to collect and sell every piece of scrap that they can spare.

Lem's Dogs vs Thad's Chickens

Running a newspaper, you get to know a lot about human nature.

Thad Phipps was in the other day, all burned up. Wanted me to run an item on how Lem Martin's dog had raided his chickens again, and ought to be put away by law.

I told him: "Lem was in on Saturday. Said you shouldn't be allowed to keep those chickens so close to his house—and in a residential zone, at that."

Thad shuts up right pronto then. And that very evening I see him making his peace with Lem at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern—over a friendly glass of beer.

From where I sit, anyone can find something in his neighbor to complain about. (Some folks may even disagree with Thad's right to enjoy that glass of beer with Lem!) But where would we be if everybody tried to have a law passed against everything they disagreed with? We wouldn't have many neighbors left!

HAMILTON'S SAFE IS FOUND NEAR SLATON

The small safe which was stolen from Hamilton drug store here January 10 was recovered Sunday by Cleo Ferguson, employe of the firm when he went to Slaton to pick up the battered and burned strong-box which Lubbock officials found near Slaton.

The safe was found Saturday in a canyon about five miles north-east of Slaton by some youths who were hunting. The name of the firm was lettered across the front of the box to offer identification which led the officials to notify Garza County Sheriff Nathan Means.

The yeggs, after battering off the door of the safe and removing checks and cash, filled salt-cedar inside the box and around it and ignited them to destroy fingerprints and contents of the box.

The loss, with exception of several insurance papers and deeds approximated one hundred dollars.

"But ye believe not because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you."

"My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: And I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand."

Minute Prayer

Help us now, O Lord to draw near to Thee as a family. Incline our hearts to seek Thy face, and graciously withdraw the veil that we may be conscious of Thy presence.

We ask Thee to forgive all that Thou hast seen amiss, and to cleanse our hearts. Help us, who have had much forgiven, to forgive others, even to seventy times seven. Keep us from envy and jealousy, from pride and passion, and from everything that would grieve Thy Holy Spirit. May we indeed be dead unto sin, and alive unto righteousness, through Jesus Christ.

Amen

BARGAINS BEING OFFERED ON ONIONS REPORTS GARZA H. D. AGENT

Here's some good news for homemakers. This week, onions are selling at bargain prices, because of a big movement on foot by food handlers to market the biggest supply of fall onions on

GARZA H. D. AGENT OFFERS POINTERS ON CONSERVING TEXTILES

Since textiles are in such short supply . . . and since we want to do everything possible to take care of the household textiles we have . . . it might be a smart idea to check up on some of our family habits that cause wear and tear on things like towels and linens.

Miss Jewell Hipp, County HD Agent, points out these deeds that many of us are guilty of doing:

Here's one. How many of you men wipe your razors on bath towels? Quite a few of you, probably, and Miss Hipp says this habit is the cause of those small breaks in towels . . . and it shortens the usefulness of them. Here is another . . . kitchen towels that pinch hit for pot holders are likely to live short lives. Even slight cuts or scorches weaken fabrics, although the damage may not show up at once.

Then there's the question of the towel that is already soiled. Some times, on the theory that it has to be washed anyway, we go ahead and use it to clean the bathtub or soak up water on the floor. But that extra soiling, says Miss Hipp, simply means extra washing to get the towel clean, and that means added wear on the fabric.

Using sheets and pillow cases for laundry bags is not a wise practice, either, says Miss Hipp. The strain of holding a load of clothes . . . plus the extra dirt and wear it gets on the trip to the laundry . . . means you'll get less use out of the sheeting. Household fabrics are scarce. Let's take care of what we have.

This week has been proclaimed National Onion Week—Miss Jewell Hipp, County Home Demonstration Agent is urging you to use onions in every way possible. The late fall onion crop is about 33 per cent larger than usual—and this abundance of onions and their good quality puts them in the bargain class.

This means plenty of onions to pep up mid-winter meals—onions to serve by themselves—either cooked or raw—and onions to chop into salads or cook with other vegetables.

Any way they're used, onions add flavor and appeal to your meals at very low cost. So—when

Swing of Southwest Farm Markets

Higher prices were paid for cotton and wheat, while hogs, lambs and calves ruled unevenly strong. Weaker markets were quite general for other southwest farm products last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, USDA.

Seasonal increases in egg and poultry supplies resulted in an easier undertone to the market. However, fair to good demand held prices to only minor changes from a week earlier.

Mature slaughter classes of cattle moved unevenly lower at Denver and Texas markets last week, but were mostly strong to steady at Wichita and mostly higher at Oklahoma City. Calves, weaners and stocker and feeder classes sold generally steady to higher, but calves were weak at Wichita and stockers and feeders were down mostly 25 to 50 cents at Denver. Medium to good slaughter steers brought $18.50 to $18.50 at Houston; $16 to $22 at San Antonio; $15 to $22 at Fort Worth; $16.50 to $21 at Oklahoma City; $17.50 to $22 at Wichita and $18.50 to $23.50 at Denver.

Hogs were steady to 50 cents higher for the week. The week's top was $23 at San Antonio; $24.10 at Ft. Worth; $24.75 at Oklahoma City; $25.25 at Wichita and $21.50 at Denver.

Cotton climbed $4.50 to $6 per bale during the week ended last Friday. Middling 15-16 inch was quoted 31.80 cents per pound at Dallas; 31.68 at Galveston; 31.54 at Houston; and 31.70 at New Orleans.

TWO THOUSAND MURDERS WERE COMMITTED ON TEXAS HIGHWAYS IN '46

The Post Dispatch editor is in receipt of a bulletin released to all Texas newspapers last week by the Safety Department urging that space be given to help curb the reckless murders which are being committed on Texas streets and highways. The bulletin relates that last year 2,000 persons were murdered, another 60,000 injured, and property damage totaled one hundred million dollars.

The release, captioned "Hell Yes, It's News follows:

It's the biggest murder trial in the history of Texas. And the local news coverage in each community should tell what is being done to solve it.

What are your district, county and city attorneys doing to prosecute the trial? Is your county convicting drunk drivers? . . . Is it reporting to the Texas Department of Public Safety, as required by law, drunk driving convictions so that driver licenses can be revoked? More than one-third of the counties are not! Why?

What kind of a job is your traffic court doing? These are major courts in that they are the only courts visited by a majority of the people who form their conception of American justice from them. Is the Traffic Bureau of the court merely a revenue producing device or an effective arm of the court?

What is the traffic enforcement index of your police department? Is there any "ticket-fixing"? Do the city fathers render only lip service to traffic control or are they doing something constructive about it? How about pedestrian enforcement? . . . traffic engineering?

What is the ratio of traffic enforcement to criminal work in your Texas Highway Patrol district? . . . in the Sheriff's department?

From the state angle—what is the stand of your legislators on the six-point traffic safety legislative program of the Texas Safety Association and 58 statewide groups? It's passage is essential to murder-control!

Brother, it's a story worthy of your best reporter! It's the story of 1947!

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.
By Congressman Geo. Mahon

A number of cattlemen from the Southwest have recently come to Washington to ask the Government to protect their herds from the foot and mouth disease that has broken out in Mexico. The disease is the most dreaded affecting livestock. Mexico, over our protest, imported some Brahma bulls from Brazil last fall, and from these imported cattle the disease got its start in Mexico. The foot and mouth disease spreads easily and attacks cattle, hogs, sheep and goats.

A wide-spread infection in the Southwest would cost livestock producers millions of dollars and upset the economy of the whole area. Officials in the Department of Agriculture have convinced me that the threat is a real one, and I have joined with others here in the campaign to get appropriate action as soon as possible.

The threat of the spread of this disease into Texas and other Border States is so serious that the problem was considered last week at the President's Cabinet Meeting. Cooperation between Mexico and the United States is urgently required, and it is hoped that the good-will flight of President Truman to Mexico early in March will expedite plans for combating the disease.

Already experts of the Bureau of Animal Industry are cooperating with Mexico in an eradication campaign, and it now appears that considerable U. S. money may have to be spent to arrest the spread of the disease and protect Texas livestock. I have promised cattlemen to support an emergency appropriation when the request comes before the House Committee on Appropriations. Money well spent to stop the disease south of the Border would be wisely spent, despite the urgent necessity for economy in Government.

I asked the Bureau of the Budget last week to approve a request by the Geological Survey for additional funds for a more intensive study of underground water in West Texas. The program also embraces water studies in other areas and states. The chances are good that the Budget Bureau will approve the request and send it to the House Appropriations Committee for consideration. I hope the Congress will act favorably.

Legislative action in the House last week included passage of a bill sponsored by the Republicans and endorsed by President Truman which provides continuation for an indefinite period of the $9 per gallon excise tax on whiskey and the 20 per cent tax on all railroad tickets, theatre admissions, cosmetics, long distance telephone calls, jewelry and furs.

On every hand there are reminders of the hazards of modern traffic. The Chief of the Traffic Bureau for the District of Columbia reported a few days ago that in 1946 there were 10,437 traffic accidents in Washington, D. C. In these accidents 4,668 people were injured and 72 killed.

Mrs. Floy King, Correspondent

Miss Mary Frances Paschall of Lubbock, formerly girl's supervisor at Tipton's Orphan's home, assumed her duties here Monday morning as teacher of History and Civics. She received her B. A. Degree in Sociology from Tech in June, 1946.

Remember, Feb. 6, is the date of the beginning of the revival at the local Baptist church. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend. District Superintendent, J. G. Harmonson of Lubbock, preached at the local Methodist church Sunday morning.

Visiting in the E. L. Samples home Sunday were her brothers, O. Hallman of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hallman and Mattie Dabbs.

Martha Owens and Mrs. Johnnie Baker and baby who have been visiting the J. L. Whites left Sunday for Bonham.

Rev. and Mrs. Emmett Brooks and baby were Sunday visitors of the Quisenberys.

Miss Virginia King called her mother Saturday afternoon from Chicago.

Thursday the local girls met with Miss Hipp, the new HD agent for Garza county, and reorganized a 4H club. New officers and sponsors were elected for the year. Several girls were present and all are very enthusiastic over the new year books they were given at the meeting. They have great plans for a very successful club this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mears and Bryce were week end visitors with relatives and friends here. Sunday dinner guests of the O. J. Harmonsons were B. R. Authur and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cummings of Lubbock visited his mother and Sarge Cummings here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris had as their week end guest, their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen.

Edward Samples spent Saturday night in the Hansell Hallman home.

Sunday guests of the Brooks girls were Joy Trimble and Lena Samples.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams and Billie spent the week end in Trent visiting relatives.

The E. L. Kings visited Sunday in Lubbock with the A. M. King family.

Mrs. Mary Jane Gray left Friday for San Saba where she will be at home with her daughter and her husband.

Mrs. G. W. Davis and daughters visited relatives in Carlsbad Friday.

A surprise farewell party for Coach and Mrs. Green who are moving to their farm at Dickens was given in the gym Friday night. Approximately fifty people were present. Games were played and the evening was enjoyed by all who attended. Hamburgers, pop and salad were served at the conclusion of the party.

Sunday visitors of the Edd Martins were their son, Bill, and family of Lubbock.

Sam Marsh, Edd Ussery, Buddy Carpenter and Mr. Tillery have gone to Odessa to work.

Homer Gilliland of Lubbock and Mrs. Dave Draper and family of Slaton were Sunday visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gilliland.

The J. L. Whites spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and family of Owens.

HINTS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT GARDENING GIVEN BY MISS HIPPI

February 2 to 8 has been proclaimed National Garden Planning Week, and this reminds us that it's time to do just that—plan our 1947 garden.

Miss Jewel Hipp, County Home Demonstration Agent, says that we should do our garden planning with some consideration for nutrition.

Any family that plans to start by planting tomatoes and some green and yellow vegetables is off on the right foot as far as nutrition is concerned, says Miss Hipp. . . but for more careful planning, she suggests that the Texas Food Standard be used as a helpful guide.

You can get a copy of the Texas Food Standard from her office. The Standard shows how much and what kind of food to plant—foods that go to make up a day's balanced diet. And if your garden is to be fairly large—the booklet will also help you figure how much extra to grow for canning or putting up food in other ways.

So, let's include some nutritional planning in our gardens this year—get a copy of the Texas Food Standard from Miss Hipp's office.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

The thirty-six Boy Scouts and that many or more Cub Scouts of Post are joining the more than four million other Scouts of the world in observing National Scout Week—February 7th to 13th.

This week marks the 37th anniversary of a great youth organization in America. Adjudged a potential factor in the world peace movement, Scouting today has 4,413,139 members in 51 nations of the world. Through their World Fellowship Fund the Scouts of America have already given $110,000 to help Scouts overseas rebuild their units. This project alone is worth recognition by men and women everywhere.

The organization is composed of the finest youths and is building through its high standards stalwart men of tomorrow.

To this fine group of boys in Post and America we offer our sincere congratulations on their 37th birthday.

MORE POWER

Records of 1946 reveal many interesting facts about electrical service.

First it was a period of phenomenal growth in the number of customers served, with nearly 2,000,000 new customers added.

Another high record established in 1946 was the increase of 100 kilowatt hours in average residential consumption of electricity to set an all time high average of 1,330 kilowatt hours used per customer.

Most of the new customers connected in 1946 were in the rural areas, with less than 400,000 of the new residential customers within city limits. In excess of 500,000 farms were connected during the year bringing the total number of electrified farms as defined by the bureau of the census to more than 3,400,000.

Electric companies expect to serve another 600,000 farms during the next two years, and electric cooperatives and other public agencies are expected to add an equal number in the same period.

TAXATION AND MONOPOLY

When Congress finally gets down to cases on what is to be done about government expenditures, the national debt, and taxation, it should look squarely at this grim fact: the small and medium-sized enterprise is taking the worst beating under the present tax policy.

The big business, with reserves of capital built up over many years, is better able to look out for itself. But the small business, with its current tax burdens, cannot obtain and keep the wherewithal necessary to rapid expansion. Money that, in past times, would have gone for new plants, new developments, new employment, now goes to the tax collector.

The tax structure must be revised to permit all enterprise to grow, to compete, and to become big if it has the capabilities. That is the way this nation was built. That is the way we became the world's greatest and richest power in a century and a half. A tax system which says, in effect, "Small business must remain small," will prove ruinous to all.

WHAT OUR CONTEMPORARIES ARE SAYING:

PUZZLED OVER SUGAR RATIONING— There is something queer in my estimation about the sugar rationing, it seems that some of the big manufacturers and bakeries can get all the sugar they want while the smaller concerns in towns like Slaton have a terribly hard time getting any at all. The general public is still getting along on a very little sugar and the candy manufacturers and other users of commercial sugar are expanding in every direction. Could it be that the big shots are insisting on the rationing of sugar so that the sweet hungry public will have to buy their high priced products? —The Slaton Slatonite.

JESTER AND TAXES— We do not know how strongly Governor Beauford Jester will hold out his opposition to the levying of any additional taxes during the next two years but we have an idea that farmers all over Texas are going to demand the building of farm-to-market roads. The best way and the most equitable way to raise the funds with which to build them is by the levying of additional taxes on gasoline and oil. This is equitable and just because the farmers who use the roads and the rest of us who profit from them will pay for them, and it is the best way to pay for them because it is the easiest. We suspect that Governor Jester will have a hard time in living up to his pre-election promise. The legislature should do its duty in the premises regardless of any promise that Candidate Jester may have made. —The Lynn County News.

—000—

SUGAR RATIONING— It is rapidly getting to the point where demands by housewives for more sugar are becoming so insistent in congressional mail that an increase in the present ration is probable—Really, production of sugar in the United States, plus imports, could allow more of the sweetening ingredient for housewives if business farms were not so hard pressed for sugar. The candy and soft drink industries, for example, are unable to get enough sugar for actual needs, and those who keep up with day by day trends say something will be done to increase sugar allotments—if the yelling becomes loud enough from consumers. —The Scurry County Times.

Skeptical pupil: "A fish, from the time my Daddy lands it till he tells about it at our next party."

CAPSULE COMMENT . . .

What this country needs is someone to make up an auditor's report that doesn't necessitate one being an auditor to understand it.

—000—

Man seldom suffers in silence. His only pleasure in being in pain is to groan.

—000—

We heard that some of the boys about town spent their holidays on a cash and carry basis—then had to be carried home.

—000—

An old timer is one who can remember when "No Soap" was just an expression of the times.

"Oh Premise Me" seems to be the 1947 theme song for apartment hunters.

To cook macaroni or spaghetti without constant watching or stirring, place it in a colander and then lower the colander into a kettle of salted, boiling water.

Flavor for the soup. Put onion and spices into tea ball holder that may easily be lifted out when the broth is full flavored.

When ironing clothes, place several drops of cologne on your ironing board cover. Then as you iron, the cologne aroma will be absorbed by hankies and blouses.

Oatmeal cooked with molasses in the water makes a tasty cereal rich in iron and saves sugar.

More Anent The Karakul Ranch . . .

(Continued From Front Page) cost for other seed, and cooked for the dozen or more waker hounds which they use in hunting and killing coyotes.

The meat from all sheep not kept for breeding purposes can be sold for human consumption. No buck Karakuls raised on the ranch are used for breeding.

The 3,100 ewes on the ranch are bred to 33 registered bucks which the Atkinses got from Dr. C. C. Young of Wichita Falls, who made the first importation of Karakuls into this country in 1908 from Halle, Germany. Most of the bucks are descendants of the flock of the late Alex Albright of Dundee, pioneer Texas breeder of Karakuls. The Albright stock comes from 11 head which were imported from Halle in 1928 at a cost of $30,000. The late Alex Albright was the father of Mrs. Jake Webb of this city.

Before the war, about 4,000,000 were shipped into the United States every year, some from South America and others from Asia where Karakul sheep is believed to have originated. The demand for domestic furs increased during the war.

While the national registry lists about 500 producers of Karakul sheep, most of the flocks consist of only a few head. There has been a great deal of fraud in the business, outside of Texas where about 8,000 pelts are produced each year, and there have been many producer failures.

The fraud comes from temptation to sell warm weather lambs with "dead" fur, and the failures can be understood when one observe the Atkinses at work the year around.

Breeding Karakul sheep twice a year is a stupendous job. Karakuls store fat for famine periods in their S-shaped tails which are good parameters of their physical condition. Sometimes the tails of the ewes weigh as much as 25 pounds and must be tied up before breeding can take place.

The 33 bucks must be penned up and given special care 30 days before breeding. Lambing time is a headache for the Atkinses and their small staff of helpers. Frequently, the ewes bear triplets, twins and even quadruplets, although a single lamb is the normal birth. Always there are some dogies which must be saved during the off season for fur. Six jersey cows provide milk for the ranch personnel and the dogies. Mrs. Atkins feeds the dogies with a bottle every two hours until they reach one month of age and can be put on feed. Last year there were 35 such bottle babies.

In winter lambing time, Mr. and Mrs. Atkins and their helpers (generally a foreman and an assistant) must ride the 8,000-acre ranch constantly to find the young lambs before their fur becomes woolly.

When the lambs are found, the job is only begun, as one person can skin and tack only about 20 pelts a day. The pelts are tacked to a wall to dry for a week, then are taken down, baled in lots of 100 pelts and shipped in wool sacks to A. Hollander and Son, Newark, N. J., for tanning. Tacking the pelts is a difficult, tedious task, as it is easy to stretch or tear the wet fur. Last year the Atkinses marketed 1500 Persian lamb skins and 22,000 pounds of wool.

After receiving the pelts, all of which carry the JJ brand in the flank where there is no fur, Hollander ships the furs in cold storage to Dallas where Ronay, a Dallas designer who spent his apprenticeship in Paris, makes the coats which frequently have been designed for individual customers by Mrs. Atkins. All the coats are sold personally by Mr. and Mrs. Atkins, on both individual and wholesale basis.

With this largest flock in the nation, the Atkinses can hedge against style trends. For instance, if fashion dictates a preference for broadtail they have it. They also have all the scraps from which Jacqueline Roy accessories are made by Mrs. Atkins. Although all the coats are made by Ronay, Jacqueline frequently makes skirts, fur vests, corsages and numerous other types of accessories. Her specialty is hats. She took her course in millinery from Louise Miller of Chicago.

Coupled with the miseries of pelting sheep through lambing twice a year and the tedious details of working up the furs with the special care necessary for high quality, the Atkinses also have ever present jobs such as keeping nine water tanks filled with water and keeping three windmills in operation in a country that seems adverse to water.

Then there are those coyotes and rattlesnakes. Atkins figures he lost $50,000 worth of ewes and lambs to the coyotes in the past four years. A student of the coyote, he claims there are now 2,000 female coyotes running loose in Kent County which, he says, has no funds for having them trapped or poisoned. Each female coyote averages six pups a year, he believes.

The first year of the industry, the Atkinses lost 150 animals to rattlesnakes, but last year the snakes killed only 40 or 50. Occasionally, the Atkinses are in a mood to look for a new location for their ranch, because of these hazards, despite the fact that the Kent County climate is most favorable to the Karakuls.

During the summer months the sheep get fat on mesquite beans and after frost they eat the leaves. The mineral content of the grass is high. Perhaps they will stay after all, as they don't mind hard work.

In her "spare" time, Jacqueline cooks exotic dishes, does oil paintings, collects antiques, makes felt and straw hats for her summer customers and sells furs other than her own on a commission for Ronay. Jay also collects antiques and spends his "spare time" quail hunting, raising palomino horses and barbecuing steaks.

Mrs. Allen Lucas left Wednesday morning for Kansas City to visit her son, Wilburn, and his family. From there she will go to Mundelein, Illinois, to see her daughter, Mrs. Jack Morrison and family. Mrs. Lucas plans to be gone six weeks.
