Hearing Is Monday On WR Petitions

A delegation of between 25 and 30 citizens from Post, Crosbyton, Ralls and Spur will be in Austin Monday for the State Board of Water Engineers' hearing on petitions for creation of the White River Water Control and Improvement District.

Those expected to attend from Post include Tom W. Boucher, chairman of the White River Municipal Authority Committee; R. J. Jennings and Dr. A. C. Surman, members of the committee; Mayor James Minor, City Supt. R. H. Tate, Councilmen L. A. Presson, John N. Hopkins, C. R. Thaxton, Powell Shytles and Roy Baker.

INVITED TO HEARING

The City of Post has extended an invitation to Post business and professional men to attend the hearing on the White River project petitions Monday before the State Board of Water Engineers in Austin. "We can't have too big a delegation from here to suit us," said Mayor James Minor.

The Post delegation will leave Sunday. At a meeting in Ralls Monday night, the WRMA Committee awarded a $2 million bond contract to five bonding companies, contingent upon creation of the district, its confirmation by voters in the four towns and approval of a bond issue for construction of the proposed dam and other facilities.

Participants in the sale of the bonds for the proposed district will be Henry, Seay and Black of Dallas and Lubbock; Rauscher, Pierce & Co. of Dallas and Lubbock; First Southwest Co. of Dallas and Plainview; Central Investment Co. of Dallas and Lubbock, and the R. A. Underwood Co. of Dallas.

The bonds will be divided equally among the five firms. Five members of the committee were elected to act as directors of the authority, subject to appointment by the State Board of Water Engineers.

The men elected are R. J. Jennings of Post, M. A. McLaughlin of Ralls, Lynn D. Burbee of Spur, Robert Work of Crosbyton and Boucher, who will serve as a director-at-large. The others will represent the towns in which they reside.

'Hospitality' Program Is Set For 4 O'Clock

The first in a series of "Hospitality Days" programs sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and 78 business firms is to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in front of the Chamber of Commerce office on North I Street.

Five lucky persons will receive merchandise certificates totaling $100 in value. Hospitality Day will be each Thursday afternoon, except Thanksgiving, from now until the first of the year. Designed as a trade stimulant, the program is strictly local in origin and operation.

$7.20 Stolen From Depot Office Here

Sheriff's officers and a special agent for the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Co. are continuing an investigation this week into the theft of $7.20 at noon Saturday from the Santa Fe depot office here.

Sheriff Carl Rains said the intruders entered the office after raising a window while office workers were at lunch. The theft was reported by Wayne Pennington, depot employee.

The officers' investigation has included questioning of three juveniles, the sheriff said Tuesday.

School Budget Of $330,052 Adopted Here

A budget of $330,052.85 for the 1956-57 school year has been adopted by the board of trustees of the Post Independent School District. This is an increase of $31,831.73 over the amount required to operate the schools during the 1955-56 school year.

The tax rate remains the same as last year—$1.46 per $100 property valuation.

Estimated receipts for the new school year are $330,052.85, with $140,599 of this amount coming from local taxes. State funds allocated for the district this year total $117,125.02, with $79,178 of this amount being state available funds and $38,347.02, foundation funds. Federal lunch program funds, allocated through the state, will be $3,498.83, about the same as last year.

The largest revenue gain is in fees, rentals and tuition, which it is estimated will bring in $9,303, as compared with only $861.81 last year. The gain is brought about through the approximately $90 per pupil being charged this year for transfers.

Receipts from interest and sinking fund taxes are expected to total $41,996 this year, with delinquent taxes expected to bring in an additional $1,000, and oil royalties, $1,000. The school will receive $1,150 for vocational aid, $3,721 from other districts, and $7,260 transportation aid.

Operating funds will be paid, as follows, according to the approved budget:

Administrative salaries, $8,000; clerical salaries, $9,425; supplies and expenses, $3,325. This makes a total of $20,750 for administrative expenses, as compared with $17,901.82 last year.

Instructional expenses for the white schools will be as follows: Principals' salaries, $15,600; elementary teachers, $108,964; high school teachers, $51,084; special teachers and substitutes, $17,010; textbooks $150; library books, $1,540.50; teaching supplies, $6,000; teacher travel, $2,000; band expense, $3,000; homemaking expense, $350.

Total instructional costs for the white schools is set at $205,698.50, as compared with $190,100.48 last year.

Total instructional cost at the Negro school for 1956-57 is estimated at $9,800, as compared with $9,412.50 last year.

Operation of plants this year is expected to cost $24,700, as compared with $21,349.50 last year; auxiliary services, $14,010, as compared with $12,686.06 in 1955-56; See SCHOOL BUDGET, Page 8

Antelopes Open Season Here Friday

The Class AA Post Antelopes and Class A Ralls Jackrabbits, meeting for the first time since 1953, will clash at Antelope Stadium at 8 o'clock Friday night in the season's opener for both teams.

The game will mark the Post coaching debut of Leroy Fenstemaker and his assistants, Burl McCoy and Frank Krhut. The Jackrabbits are coached by Don Leach, Grady Allen and Weldon Mize.

The Antelopes' chances for a victory in their opening game received a rude jolt Monday afternoon when letterman James Brewer suffered a head injury and was taken to Garza Memorial Hospital. He was slated to start at center.

Agent's Guess Is 9,000-Bale Crop

Basing his prediction on the present none-too-good crop outlook, County Agent Lewis C. Herron estimated Wednesday that the yield from Garza County's 1956 cotton crop will be in the neighborhood of 9,000 bales.

A 9,000-bale crop would be more than 5,800 bales short of the 1955 crop yield of 14,848 bales.

The agent reported that the dryland crop is very poor because of the lack of moisture. He estimated that irrigated cotton would yield from three-fourths to one bale an acre. Dryland acreage was approximately 19,000 before the Soil Bank plow-ups. Irrigated acreage is about 15,000.

The agent said dryland feed also is suffering from lack of moisture and that range lands are in poor condition.

Rainfall since Jan. 1 has totaled only 4.1 in Post, although other sections of the county have received a little more than that.

"But anywhere you go, rainfall through the first eight months is far below normal," the agent said. Making matters worse, he explained is the fact that dating back to mid-October of 1955 the rainfall total for Post is only 4.13 inches.

CITY STILL HOPEFUL OF CARRYING OUT PROJECT

Paving Warrants Considered

The City Council is considering insurance of warrants for payment of street paving in order to carry out a project on which it has been working since last spring.

Original plans for the paving project were stymied when the city and paving company representatives were unable to sign up complete blocks in the proposed paving program. More than 12 owners of property on unpaved streets signified a desire to have the streets paved, but not a single complete block was signed up.

Mayor James Minor said that if the city finds it feasible to issue the warrants, it will under-

The Post Public Schools opened Tuesday for the 1956-57 term with 894 students enrolled and the total expected to be considerably higher by the end of the week.

High school enrollment Tuesday totaled 258, an increase of seven over last year's first-day enrollment of 251.

Junior high school enrollment totaled 215, which is 13 less than the first-day enrollment for the 1955-56 term.

In the elementary school, 432 pupils had enrolled the first day, as compared with 445 last year.

High school enrollment by grades, as reported by Principal Glenn Whittenberg, is as follows: Freshmen, 85; sophomores, 59; juniors, 58; seniors, 56. Enrollment by grades at the same time last year was: Freshmen, 57; sophomores, 74; juniors, 67, and seniors, 53. This year's enrollment is up by 13 over last week's pre-registration figures.

Principal Ellis M. Mills reported the junior high school enrollment as follows: 6th grade, 69; 7th grade, 69, and 8th grade, 76. Last year's first day enrollment by grades was: 6th, 75; 7th, 67; 8th, 86.

Elementary school enrollment by grades, as reported by Principal Jack Lancaster, is as follows: 1st grade, 87; 2nd grade, 91; 3rd grade, 87; 4th grade, 99, and 5th grade, 68. At the same time last year, enrollment by grades was: 1st, 92; 2nd, 93; 3rd, 119; 4th, 70; 5th, 71.

It became necessary Tuesday to move two sections of the three-section 5th grade from the elementary school into the junior high school building. Transfer of the exceptional children's class from the junior high to the elementary building made this necessary, Lancaster said. There are four sections each of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades.

Whittenberg has announced that high school hours are from 8:45 a. m. until 11:50 a. m. and from 12:30 p. m. until 4 p. m.

Abbreviated class periods were held in high school Tuesday, following a general assembly, but the regular schedule was resumed Wednesday.

In the elementary and junior high schools, where no pre-registration was held, enrollment took up most of the first day.

Fogging Scheduled On Streets, Alleys

Fogging of streets and alleys, South Lake and the city dump ground will begin tonight and continue at intervals until all areas have been sprayed, City Supt. R. H. Tate said today.

Tate said the best chemical available for eradicating mosquitoes is to be used. He added that it will not be necessary for residents to close their doors and windows while the fogging is under way.

Fogging of the streets, alleys, lake and dump ground was authorized by the City Council as a health measure at its meeting Monday night.

"MOVE OVER, WE'RE HUNGRY"—These Hereford calves owned by Tommy Young, Garza County's 4-H Gold Star Boy of 1956, and his younger brother, Donald, seem anxious to get at the feed

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Bob Warren, pioneer Post pharmacist, was taken to Garza Memorial Hospital Monday morning after suffering a heart attack at Hamilton's Drug Store, where he is employed. His condition was reported improved Wednesday afternoon.

Tommy Young Named As 4-H Gold Star Boy

Tommy Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Young of Route 3, Post, has been selected as Garza County's 4-H Gold Star Boy of 1956, it was announced this week by County Agent Lewis C. Herron.

Tommy, who is 16 years old, enrolled last week as a junior student in Post High School. He is one of the student managers of the Post Antelope football squad.

A member of the Post High School 4-H Club, he has been in club work for a number of years and has shown two steers, both grading choice, at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas. This year, he is grooming another calf for the State Fair and also for area shows, including the Garza County event. As a member of the high school's Future Farmers of America Chapter, he has also shown swine at shows in the area.

The calf being reared by Tommy for this year's events was purchased from R. H. King. The other two calves he showed were bought from J. E. Birdwell. Tommy's younger brother, Donald, is also grooming a calf for 1956 expositions, including the State Fair.

Tommy, a member of the Garza County 4-H Council, will attend next year's state 4-H Club Round-up at College Station.

THE MONTH OF August got away from us Friday without a single rainfall measurement being recorded.

ALONG WITH a number of other things, perhaps September will bring some rain.

ALL OF WHICH reminds us that dwindling fast are the number of shopping days between now and Christmas.

ANOTHER SEPTEMBER "red letter" day is Monday, the 10th, when the State Board of Water Engineers holds a hearing on petitions for creation of the White River Water Control and Improvement District.

THE HEARING WILL also draw delegations from Crosbyton, Rails and Spur, the other three member cities of the White River Municipal Authority Committee.

THE GOLDEN AGE of parenthood comes when the children are too old for baby sitters and too young to borrow the family car.

SOMETHING TO THINK about: FBI Director Hoover has placed the overall cost of crime in the United States at $500 per family, or $25 billion for the 50 million households in the nation.

USING HOOVER'S yardstick, that would make crime cost $989,475,000 in Texas, as compared with $150 million spent for highways.

POST REALLY WALKED off with a lion's share of the honors at the recent Fisher County Rodeo and Quarter Horse Show.

THE MEASURE OF success is not whether you have a tough problem to deal with, but whether it's the same problem you had last year.

HOW GOOD A red-hot idea is, usually depends on how much heat it loses when somebody throws cold water on it.

THE BEST WAY for us to welcome members of Post High School's coaching staff will be to attend Friday night's opening game here against the Rails Jackrabbits.

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Fear Of Competition From New Freeways May Temporarily Slow Toll Road Plans

BABSON PARK, Mass.—The recent passage of the Federal Highway Bill has centered a great deal of attention on toll roads and the numerous problems they face.

Competition Of Freeways During the debate on the Federal Highway Program, weakness began to develop in the prices of many toll road bonds.

But I feel that too much stress has been put on the probable competitive effect of freeways. Remember that state highway departments will control the expenditure of funds allotted by the Federal Government.

Possibilities For New Toll Roads Fear of competition from new freeways may well be only a temporary retardant in the planning of new toll roads.

But I forecast there will be fewer offerings of toll road bonds, so that eventually we may well see higher prices for good existing toll road issues.

Risks In Toll Road Bonds While some states have directly or indirectly guaranteed interest and principal payments on toll road bonds, most issues are secured solely by revenues collected from users.

TIME TO FACE FACTS...

With another school term under way in Post and Garza County, it's time for every parent to try harder than ever before to prepare his child for the dangers of traffic...

We shouldn't have to keep reminding adults of their responsibility for keeping children safe in traffic—but we do.

The need is obvious when the National Safety Council reports more than 2,000 children killed and 140,000 injured each year in motor vehicle accidents.

Admittedly, the heedless actions of many child traffic victims thrust them into dangerous situations. But even in such cases, adults must accept the blame.

By their very nature, children are excitable, heedless and unthinking. We, as adults, know this. Yet, somehow, we expect every child to realize instantly that an automobile is a deadly monster if he strays into its path.

If you think that's stretching a point, think back how many times the excuse is used, "I couldn't stop in time" or "I didn't see him soon enough."

Any driver who has run down a child knows the "ifs" that are on his conscience. "If I had been going a little slower!" "If I had been wide awake!" "If..."

It's time for all adults to face up to their full responsibility for our shamefully high child pedestrian toll. It's time for all adults to adjust their driving, increase their alertness when driving in school zones.

Half way measures are not enough; and we still haven't done enough.

We as adults must accept fully and without reservation the fact that we must "be our brother's keeper" when it comes to children in traffic.

The Texas Safety Association says that's not just a high minded goal to strive for. It's an absolute minimum requirement for every adult who wants to be able to live with himself.

You've heard of so called "relaxed" television programs? There is no such thing. Every-time you doze off, they wake you up with a commercial.

IT'LL ALSO BE an occasion to welcome Bob Meisch, the new band director. He'll have the Antelope band on the field for a between-halves demonstration, without which no football game nowadays is a full-fledged spectacle.

When the game we'll also get to see the new majorettes and cheerleaders in action. From pre-game calisthenics right up to the final whistle, it'll be something none of us should miss.

ON ABOUT THE same subject, L. J. Richardson, former Postite, has been elected president of the Brownfield Quarterbacks Club.

WELL, WE MADE it through our daughter's wedding in surprisingly fine shape. After arriving in Levelland Saturday morning, we began to get homesick right away, but when we learned that the rehearsal dinner was to be held in the Double U Room of the San Andres Hotel, we recovered from our nostalgia.

These opinions of Roger W. Babson are published in this paper every Thursday.

THE WOMEN, God love em: It is predicted that grocers soon will be selling frozen bread. Then the housewife will have to go to the trouble of thawing the toast before she can burn it.

Auto seat covers are now so fancy you have to cover the seat covers.

FELLA AT THE next desk, who spends most of his time on research, has spent the morning perusing through Post's new telephone directory. Reading my mind, he knew I was short of column material and handed me the following statistics:

Most occupations are represented in the directory. There are five Bakers, one Brewer, three Colliers, four Cooks, one Cooper, two Butlers, one Farmer, two Masons, four Millers, one Sawyer(s), one Shepherd, five Taylors, one Stoker, and one Tanner.

There is one Bachelor, but no husbands, one Beard, but no whiskers. The animal kingdom is represented by one Beaver(s), four Birds, including one Brant, and there's also a Peacock. There's a Buck, a Bull, a Bullock and a Hart.

There is one Brook(s), but no rivers; two Pooles, one Camp, three Hills, two Woods, and one Curb, but no gutters.

There are four Browns, three Grays, one Green, two Whites and one Rose. There are two Fords and two Parkers, but only one Delt. There is one Cannon, but no shells; two Samsons, but no De-lillah.

There are two Parsons, but only one Harp; one Pope and one Sexton. There is one Hunt, but no hunters; one Fortune, one Price and one Guess, but no quiz show. There's also one Wrestler, but no boxer; one Walker, but no runner; two Wynnes, but no losses.

There are three Stories, but not a single book, and two Kings for one Kitchen. There is one Lott, one Shedd, one Wall(s) and three Webbs. There's also a Glass, a Nutt and a Cobb.

There are also two Longs and two Shorts, and I've arrived at the conclusion that this is the long and short of it: Is stuff like this what I'm paying for to get from the fella at the next desk?

The old cat around here has been running around like a madman for three days now. Had him sterilized and he's trying to cancel all his appointments.

THERE IS AN Alice-in-Wonderland quality about our federal income tax laws, with their extremely high upper-bracket rates. U. S. News & World Report gives an example.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

Does that sound absurd? Well, here's the true story. The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep on practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on the player's income is 84 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of the pocket.

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain for a net profit of $4,200."

Very few of us have any personal experience with either $100,000 incomes or $5,000 fines. But this factual illustration indicates just how confused, inequitable, and generally unsound our tax laws are. Like Topsy, they just grew—and grew into a crazy-quilt. That's why sentiment for a complete overhaul has been snowballing.

Though a fifth may go into three with one left over, there may be one to carry.

HERE'S ONE to add to your collection of Texas jokes:

Two fellows in a washroom discovered there were no towels when they'd completed washing their hands. One fellow turned to the other and said, "How about ten fives for a fifty?" and held out the bill. The other fellow made the change and pocketed the fifty as the stranger wiped his hands on the fives, then threw them in the wastebasket. "By the way," his companion asked, "how are things down in Texas?"

Franchised new car dealers announce that the best place to buy a Used Car is behind the wheel

To the citizens of GARZA COUNTY:

For years the franchised new car dealers of this community have backed every used car sale with a warranty based on Quality, Dependability, and Service. We believe this method of doing business has contributed much to the effort of making the economics of our community sound.

We are extending you an invitation to come in and drive the Used Car of your choice. We know, from years of experience, that "The Best Place To Buy A Used Car Is Behind The Wheel."

All over the nation on September 6, 7, and 8, the new car dealers of America are taking part in "Operation Demonstration" to prove beyond a doubt that a used car buy from a new car dealer is now, and will always be, a good one, a sound one, a dependable one.

Sincerely,

GARZA COUNTY FARM AGENT POINTS OUT

Increase Of Farm Machinery On Highways Boosts Safety Hazard

"More and more farm implements now are seen on public highways. This, of course, is one result of rapid mechanization on Texas farms. And it has brought with it added dangers," County Agent Lewis C. Herron said. One-third of all tractor fatalities occur on public roads, and many others occur on private lanes and drives, the agent added. Mile for mile, it is much safer to operate an automobile on public roads than it is to operate a tractor. The heavier the traffic, the greater the hazard. Farm work should be planned to reduce the exposure of slow-moving tractors and farm machinery to traffic hazards. Rules of the road apply to farm tractors and implements. Come to a full stop when entering the highway and at regular stop signs. Do not proceed until it is safe to do so, and then be sure to turn into the proper lane. Don't cultivate the habit of driving on the wrong side of the road when no vehicles are in sight, Herron continued. Early evening is not only a period of heavy automobile traffic, but it is also the time when motorists have the greatest difficulty in seeing. If machinery must be on the road at dusk or during hours of darkness, proper lighting is a must. Reflective material applied to tractors and equipment is an added safeguard, and during daylight hours a red flag helps draw attention of the motorist to the hazards of slow-moving machinery, the agent concluded. Motorists should not be expected to assume the entire responsibility for safety on rural highways. The farmer must also share in this responsibility.

Inadequate Vision Is Common Cause Of School Failure

Parents and teachers were urged by the Canyon Reef Optometric Society today to watch for symptoms of vision problems among children returning to school.

"Inadequate vision is a far more common cause of school failure and emotional disturbance than is generally recognized," said Dr. J. A. Nesbit of Snyder, president.

Among symptoms of vision problems to look for, according to Doctor Nesbit, are:

- Avoiding work requiring good vision at the reading distance.
- Losing place while reading.
- Holding work closer than normal.
- Excessive head movements while reading.
- Poor sitting posture and position while reading.

Any child in the bottom third of his school class and any child not performing up to his capacity should have a thorough vision examination, Doctor Nesbit said.

He said that uncorrected vision problems are contributing causes in 50 per cent of all cases of reading failure, according to a University of Chicago study.

Radiation Effects On Cotton To Be Studied

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.) — Seems there is no end to where cotton may go as a modern textile, with serious efforts being made to improve its qualities and markets.

The latest study to be announced deals with how cotton is affected by radiation. The work will be done at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology this fall, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under a contract recently signed with the Department, M. I. T. scientists will seek to learn whether atomic or electrically-generated radiation can be used to make useful new textile products from cotton or to improve the value of cotton in its present uses.

Among the things to be studied are the effect of radiation on the durability of cotton, its strength, elasticity, and ability to absorb dyes. Cotton has already been much improved for certain uses by treatment with various chemicals. How radiation will affect these chemical treatments will also be studied under the M. I. T. contract.

THE PARABLE

herefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

(St. Matthew 13:13)

THE PARABLE is the basis of all religious education. From infancy through adult life we learn spiritual truths only as they are interpreted for us in terms of every-day experience.

OUR CHURCHES follow the example of the Greatest Teacher. Simple precepts or more complex doctrines are brought to us in vivid illustration. Lessons, sermons, hymns—even church architecture and ritual—are full of human narrative, word pictures or traditional symbolism to help us grasp and apply God's truth.

SPIRITUAL MATURITY must come to us through the effective teaching and practical guidance our churches provide. Our souls cannot grow simply by seeing a church on the corner, or hearing folks talk about religion. Working and learning every Sunday, we will understand Christian truth in living terms and use our understanding to serve God and man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Area Boy Scouts Will Join In Get-Out-The-Vote Drive

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of Post and other towns in the Comanche Trail District will join over 4,175,000 other Scouts throughout the nation in the 1956 Get-Out-The-Vote campaign, jointly sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Vally Forge, Pa.

The nationwide campaign will be a major activity of the Boy Scouts' four-year program, "Onward for God and My Country." They will urge citizens to vote in the elections in November.

The campaign will be strictly nonpartisan in its concept and execution, according to Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive. "As we make preparations for this participation," he said in a message to the nation's 538 local Boy Scout councils, "we recall the outstanding successes we experienced in our last similar campaign. Many people have called it our most significant contribution to the nation."

In 1952 Scouts distributed more than one million posters and thirty million Liberty Bell doorknob hangers to the homes of America, which helped to bring a record turnout of 61,500,000 voters.

Calling the campaign an opportunity to serve the nation, Dr. Schuck said it will have two major outcomes.

Through participation of Scouts' entire membership, a great influence, he feels, can be exerted among parents, relatives, neighbors, and others to produce a record vote and thereby strengthen the nation.

Every Scout taking part, he said, will better understand his responsibility as a citizen.

He called on the nation's local Boy Scout councils to make every phase of the campaign dramatic, colorful, and outstanding in order to capture the enthusiasm and imagination of every American citizen.

The success of the campaign, he said, cannot be measured alone by the numbers of posters and doorknob hangers distributed, but by a larger number of voters than ever before "having a better understanding and appreciation of their American heritage," and by the number of "individual Scouts who through their participation shall have a larger concept of citizenship."

Attractive four-color posters—one and a quarter million of them—will encourage citizens to vote. "Vote as you think, but vote Nov. 6." Before registration dates these posters will be placed where they will be seen by many people in stores, hotels, transportation terminals, soda fountains, doctors' offices, factories, newsstands, social clubs, utility offices, and other heavy traffic centers.

Then, just before Nov. 6, the Scouts and leaders will begin the largest distribution job in America, except for the delivery of income tax blanks. They will call at 35,000,000 homes across America and place on doorknobs a hanger shaped like the Liberty Bell. These hangers bear the message, "Heed youth's call. Vote as you think, but vote Nov. 6, 1956. Use your freedom to vote!" Householders will be asked to display hangers in their windows indicating their intention to vote.

"The Boy Scouts of America is happy to co-operate again with the Freedoms Foundation in this significant nationwide campaign," said Dr. Schuck. "We will be responsible for the over-all execution of the campaign, while the Freedoms Foundation has undertaken the invaluable responsibility of financing the production and distribution of necessary materials to our local councils."

GARZA COUNTY ASC OFFICE ANNOUNCES

Wheat Acreage Reserve Program For 1957 Open To 'Old' Growers

Any producer who has a regular wheat acreage allotment may take part in the Soil Bank's acreage program for the 1957 winter wheat crop, it has been announced from the Garza County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Producers on farms which receive an allotment as a "new farm" for the 1957 wheat crop, however, are not eligible for participation in the 1957 Acreage Reserve program.

Payments under the program will be made for reducing the acreage of winter wheat below the amount of the allotment, designating in a written agreement a specified part of the allotment acreage as acreage to be "reserved" from production. Land so designated may not be cropped or grazed for the period of the agreement.

The rate of payment for wheat acreage placed in the Acreage Reserve varies by counties. The amount of the payment will be based on the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the designated acreage, whichever is the smaller.

The Acreage Reserve agreement must be signed not only by the farm operator, but also—if the operator is a share tenant—by each person who as owner or landlord has control of the Acreage Reserve land or who is to receive compensation under the agreement. Provision is made for properly protecting the interests of tenants and sharecroppers under the program.

It was explained that farmers may designate as much as 50 per cent of their allotment or 50 acres, whichever is larger, for inclusion in the wheat Acreage Reserve. However, the wheat acreage designated for the Acreage Reserve may not exceed the wheat allotment. The minimum acreage which the farmer may designate for the Acreage Reserve is 3 acres or the wheat allotment, whichever is smaller.

If any winter wheat is grown on the farm this fall, Sept. 21 is the deadline for signing agreements to place 1957-crop wheat acreage allotment under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. A friend of mine is drawing VA pension for total nonservice-connected disability. He has entered a private hospital for treatment. Would the fact that he's hospitalized automatically entitle him to an additional amount paid to veterans who need constant aid and attendance?

A. No. Hospitalization alone is not sufficient to indicate a need for constant aid and attendance. The same criteria of need for aid and attendance would apply, whether he's at home or in a hospital.

Q. I borrowed on my permanent GI insurance policy. If anything should happen to me before I pay off my loan, will my beneficiaries still receive the proceeds of the policy?

A. Yes. They will receive the proceeds of your policy, minus any unpaid loan indebtedness.

Q. Does a Korean GI trainee still have the right to make his one-and-only change of course, if his progress in his present course has not been satisfactory?

A. He may, if he shows VA that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.

Q. Must a veteran actually live on the farm he buys with a GI loan?

A. It's not absolutely necessary that he live on the farm. But he at least must supervise the farming operations.

Lubbock Fair Sets 'Area School Day'

Sept. 24 is a "Red Letter Day" for schools in West Texas.

It is "Area School Day" at the 39th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

"Area School Day" is the opportunity school children have been looking for, the day when they can all head for Lubbock and attend, free of charge, the opening day of the great regional Fair. The Fair will be held Sept. 24-29.

Most students will arrive in Lubbock in time to watch their hand strut in the annual "Parade of Bands" which will be held at 10 a. m. Monday, Sept. 24, in downtown Lubbock. Each year schools from all over the South Plains, West Texas, and Eastern New Mexico are represented in the opening-day parade when their bands compete for the $600 in prizes.

Students will be admitted free of charge to the Panhandle South Plains Fairgrounds. There will be excitement and thrills waiting for them along the Midway, at the large cattle and swine exhibits, in the Women's Department, at the many merchants' exhibits in Fair Park Coliseum and Merchants Building, plus the many outside displays and eating and drinking concessions.

Two performances of "Holiday on Ice of 1956" are set for Monday, with a matinee at 2:30 p. m., to which children will be admitted at half-price, and an evening show at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. C. George and daughter, Mrs. L. G. Owings and son, from Alexandria, La., are visiting this week in the home of Mrs. C. B. Everett and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Woods.

Gene Dale Wyatt of Waco spent Sunday and Monday here visiting friends.

IF AND WHEN RAINS DO COME

Specialist Lists Range Aids For Keeping Water Where It Falls

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—It is not the rain you get but the rain you keep that counts, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

It is going to take a lot of good soaking rains to break the present drouth but if history repeats itself, he adds, heavy downpours usually follow long dry periods and unless provisions have been made to hold such rainfall, too much will be lost.

Hoffman offers several suggestions for holding a maximum amount of these heavy rains should they occur this fall. Don't, he cautions, go out and buy expensive equipment for doing the necessary work, but do use what is available on the farm or ranch.

Net wire spreaders are an effective job of slowing down runoff water. They stop drift and hold water well even on slopes. Too, says Hoffman, they are cheaper to build than dirt spreaders and there is no dam to be washed out or blown away.

Trees and brush thrown into the heads of gullies will greatly aid in slowing down and spreading runoff water. Brush piles placed in gullies at intervals will tame running water and also catch soil and cause much more of the runoff to be soaked into the soil.

Fallen brush scattered over the pasture holds water and helps grass seedlings get started by giving them protection.

A range which is dotted with wire spreaders, pits and piles of fallen trees and brush holds many times more water than a range which is bare of vegetation or man-made constructions. The bare areas should be pitted, says Hoffman, for little water will be absorbed if measures are not taken to break the surface crust which will shed water, especially, if the rain comes as a downpour.

Many good soakings will be required to get drouth ravaged ranges back in good shape and because most ranges and pastures are now bare, any device, construction or practice which can be put on the land to hold water will help the comeback, says Hoffman. Most of these jobs, he adds, can be done piece-meal and with available equipment and labor. They will not cost much money but can be great aids in shutting the gate to keep water where it falls.

Field Inspector For Cattle Raisers Association Attends Special School

B. L. Parker of Tahoka, whose jurisdiction as field inspector for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association includes Garza County, has recently completed a special school for field inspectors conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety at Austin.

Parker, who represents the association in a nine-county area surrounding Tahoka, holds a commission as a special Texas Ranger and is employed as a field inpector for the association, which has a membership of 10,000 ranchers in the Southwest with headquarters at Fort Worth.

The school was conducted by members of the staff of the Texas Department of Public Safety and was designed to acquaint association inspectors with the latest techniques in law enforcement work with particular emphasis on cattle theft work.

Methods of apprehending cattle thieves have changed considerably since the days of cattle rustling on the open range. The school gave association inspectors a look at the Department of Public Safety's latest law enforcement procedures and is an example of the many services the association is rendering to its membership and the cattle industry to keep cattle theft at a minimum.

Instructors at the school included Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department and leading members of his headquarters staff.

Subjects covered included criminal law and investigation, chemical aids to the investigator, criminal reports, firearms, toolmarks and plaster casts, finger-printing, photography, scientific lie detection and interrogation.

As a field inspector in this area Parker's duties include checking cattle brands to determine ownership of cattle being moved; investigation of stray and stolen cattle

Final Report By Election Bureau Gives Daniel 3,343 Lead In Race

The Texas Election Bureau, in its final report on the Aug. 25 Democratic primary runoff race, Saturday said the amount of Senator Daniel's apparent margin over former District Judge Ralph Yarborough was 3,343 votes.

The official canvass of votes by the Democratic Party will be Monday in Fort Worth on the eve of the state Democratic convention.

The vote difference was only slightly less than the 3,547 reported by the bureau Aug. 27. The latest included checks with county canvassing committees.

This check gave Daniel 62 more votes and Yarborough 266 more than the earlier report by the bureau, an unofficial vote tabulating agency organized by newspapers.

The final bureau report showed Daniel with 698,187 votes, or 50.12 of the total. Yarborough had 694,844, or 49.88 per cent.

In the attorney general's race, Will Wilson of Dallas had 806,008 votes and Tom Moore of Waco, 512,368.

The election bureau total showed 1,393,031 ballots cast. Totals by the bureau did not take into account any possible contest of the votes in various counties.

Catholic Church Story Is In 'West Texas Register'

The Diocese observed its 30th anniversary on Aug. 25 with the publication of the West Texas Register, the Diocese's newspaper, carried the article on Post and Holy Church.

The site of Post, some 10 miles east of the Cap Rock of the High Plains Garza County, was founded by Charles William Garza, a manufacturer, and a benefactor of the town.

Post was founded on May 18, 1907. The location was changed at the present Close City a law requiring county seats not more than 10 miles from the nearest railroad. Post City, the town was called until after the founder, was de- scribed as Post to be the community of farm- ers who owned their own lands.

All supplies for the town at first brought in by rail from the nearest rail- road, Spring, some 70 miles away, were brought in by the method from Snyder until the railroad to Post was finally completed in 1918.

At first run by the managers of the Double Spring, a company incorpo- rated March 23, 1907, with a capital of $50,000, mostly from C. W. Post. Post was the county seat of Garza County, July 8, 1907, and short- ly after the town government was organized by a board of six members of whom were C. W. Post, Accord, and the original plans, was to be sold in the lots were to be sold to speculators, and strict sanitary regulations were to be enforced.

A large number of homes for settlers were quickly built in the town and on farms laid out around it. Several cut stone buildings were constructed, including a block of stores believed to be the largest building of its kind in West Texas at the time. A fine hotel, the Algeria; a concrete reservoir, a steam laundry, a cotton gin, and many other buildings were built within a few years, the last and most important being a textile plant constructed in 1913. Trees were planted along every street, and a number of valuable experiments in dry farming techniques, irrigation, and the introduction of new crops were undertaken. Between the years 1910 and 1913 Post was the scene of per- haps the most elaborate series of experiments in rain making ever undertaken in the United States. The population of Post in 1950 was 3,136.

As early as 1926, property for a Catholic church was purchased east of town. This property proved to be too far out of town and it was sold.

In 1955 the people of Post asked for a chapel and a very active building committee soon launched a program under the leadership of Father James Erickson of Slaton, which resulted in the purchase of two tracts, with help from the diocesan mission- ary fund. On one of these tracts, located at 14th Street and Avenue F—there was a garage building 24 by 30 feet in size. Here Sunday Mass was started the evening of June 15, 1955, and has continued uninterrupted ever since, even during the demolition of the old garage and the erection of the new structure—which latter enter-

Mrs. Dan Mitchell and Earl spent Saturday in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harol Rudolph and children of Lubbock visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Penix last Sunday afternoon. One of the Rudolph's sons from Washington prise was accomplished, with the help of the Knights of Columbus of Slaton under the direction of Monsignor T. D. O'Brien, in the course of one short week. Naturally, there was a great deal of finishing work to be done yet—and this gradually was completed through the winter and spring—all resulting in a fine, commodious building, 24 by 60 feet, with two sacristies, each eight by 16—the walls being 10 feet high, and the ceiling 12 feet from the floor, in the center aisle. The construction is of frame, covered with stucco—the roof of red cedar shingles; the interior walls covered with sheetrock and the ceiling with celotex panels. Father Erickson chose the name of Holy Cross for this mission church, with the approval of His Excellency, from the name of the town, Post, which suggests the cross, and the entire project was strictly a "do-it-yourself" venture, so that the final cost was actually less than $3,000, not counting the cost of the land. Those who were most helpful were the Slaton Knights of Columbus, the Willie Salinas family, Albert Pantoja, Hilario Jimenez, Rudolf Hernandez, and last, but not least, "Uncle Jim" Maloney, a member of the Slaton parish, who donated lavishly of his time and labor for months and stayed until it was all done.

Now there are Masses said every Sunday where a few years ago there were none, and there are Confessions and Communion, Baptisms, marriages and funerals, Catechism instruction, religious societies, and youth clubs; all the varied activities connected with a church and a priest. All spring from the tiny mustard seed of faith, with the help of God's grace, Holy Cross Church, Post, is a mission of Slaton.

Construction Features Aid In Preventing Storm Wind Damage To Farm Buildings

Winds of hurricane force every year hit some section of the state and usually leave behind many wrecked farm buildings. While it is not practical to make farm buildings strong enough to resist the full force of tornadoes, County Agent Lewis C. Herron says the cost of making new or existing buildings strong enough to resist winds of hurricane force isn't great.

To safeguard buildings against strong winds, be sure the founda- tions are heavy and deep enough to resist overturning and lifting. The superstructure should be an- chored securely to the foundation. All joints between framing mem- bers should be braced to resist horizontal pressure and suction. In all cases, good materials and workmanship are essential, points out Herron. He also advises the use of preventives against decay and termites.

During stress from heavy wind, building failures tend to occur at the weakest points, which are like- ly to be at joints. Proper nail- ing of frame members is essen- tial and can materially affect the way a structure stands up against the wind.

Steel straps, plates and similar connectors are suggested at key structural points. Anchor rods and anchor bolts to tie together foot- ing, foundation and super-structure, and permanent or temporary tie rods to stiffen structures are among devices that can prevent wind damage. The use of knee braces to reinforce and strengthen frame buildings is suggested.

The agent says that estimates made by USDA show that an additional cost of only $76 would make a 30 x 72 foot frame poultry house in Maryland strong enough to resist a 108-mile-an-hour wind. Winds above 75 miles an hour are generally classed as be- ing of hurricane force, he ex- plains.

New-Car Dealers Are Acclaimed On Driver Education School Aid

Another record year of new-car dealer support of high school driver education was reported this week by the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee of Washington, D. C.

The driver education course will begin its third year in Post High School when the new term opens Tuesday. Tom Power, Inc., is furnishing the high school its driver education car this year—a 1956 Customline Fordor Thunderbird V-8. Power said the car would be replaced with a new 1957 model before the school term ends.

The car made available to the school is equipped with dual control and all safety features, Power said.

The Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee said that 9,253 cars—valued at nearly $21 million—were made available by dealers to high schools during the 1955-56 term.

"The consistent and increasing support of driver education by new-car dealers is a vital public service and constitutes an outstanding contribution to traffic safety," said M. R. Darlington Jr., managing director of the committee.

According to Darlington, new-car dealers, in seven years, have more than doubled the number of cars available for driving instruction in the schools.

Last year there was an increase of 1,174 cars over the previous term, he said.

"This... made it possible for over 700 more schools to offer a complete course in driver education," he said.

Darlington said that continued expansion of facilities for training young drivers is essential "if we are to keep pace with the growing volume of traffic and help reduce traffic accidents."

He noted that the President's Committee for Traffic Safety recommends high school driver education as one of the basic elements for a successful traffic safety program.

Darlington said other evidences of driver training importance were: Seven states provide financial aid to schools to help pay for driver education; reduced insurance premium rates for trained young drivers; allowances by manufacturers to dealers to encourage loaning cars, and grants to universities to train driving teachers.

He added that 8,500, more than 20 per cent, of those killed last year in traffic accidents was in the 15-24 age group. In addition, 350,000 in the same group were injured.

Figures showing the increase of dealer participation are: 1949-50, 4,500; 1950-51, 5,700; 1951-52, 6,000; 1952-53, 6,400; 1953-54, 7,300; 1954-55, 8,079, and 1955-56, 9,253.

Junior Rodeo Rule Changes Made At Abilene Meeting

Rodeos which will be approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association next season must include the provision in their rules that all winners who are not AJRA members will have to join the organization to receive prize money.

The AJRA board of directors voted in Abilene recently not to sanction rodeos which will not include that provision in their rules.

Heretofore all winners at AJRA-approved rodeos could receive prize money whether or not they were members of the association, but they were ineligible for points toward the national championship.

The move is designed to build up membership in the association, thereby making more youngsters eligible for the national championships and other awards presented by the AJRA.

The directors also voted to award "half-points" to winners at AJRA-approved rodeos next season which are open only to contestants of a restricted area or to high school students.

It was brought out that the bids of some leading performers for national championships this year were hampered because of their ineligibility to participate in state championship junior rodeos outside their home state. Many AJRA members who have graduated from high school but are still under 19 years of age also were ineligible to participate in some high school rodeos approved by the association.

Full points toward national championships next season will be awarded only at AJRA-approved rodeos which are open to all contestants under 19 years old and which abide by AJRA rules.

The directors also authorized Alvin G. Davis of Brownfield, secretary-manager of the association, to select regional representatives throughout the nation to work toward getting more junior rodeos approved by the AJRA.

Another new rule for next season is that junior rodeos which have four or more cowgirls entered in the roping events must provide a separate division for them. The cowgirls this year competed against the boys in all roping events.

Davis revealed at the Abilene meeting that Sidney Johnson of Snyder was leading in the balloting for a junior president of the association. Johnson has 15 votes to 13 for Bobby Goodspeed of Wetumka, Okla., and three for Darrell Rhodes of Abilene.

Balloting continues by mail until Sept. 1. Price of Addington, Okla., has 19 votes for vice president to eight for Pat McDaniel of Abilene and four for Nancy Finley of Broken Arrow, Okla.

Nominees for adult directors and the votes of each to date include A. L. Long of Roswell,

Child-Labor Law Applying To Farmers Explained In Full By U. S. Official

DALLAS (Sp.) — Every commercial farmer and grower whose products move in interstate commerce directly or indirectly will become subject to the child-labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act when the autumn school term opens, a Federal spokesman said here today.

This complete change in the legal status of employment of children in agriculture the day local schools open was explained by Regional Director William J. Rogers of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division in Dallas, Texas.

"This law," he said, "exempts growers of agricultural and horticultural products from its $1 minimum wage and overtime provisions, but it specifically prohibits employment of children under 16 years of age in agricultural occupations during hours school is in session in the school district in which they live while working."

"In other words, children of any age may be employed on the farm by the grower in the planting, cultivating, harvesting or handling of agricultural products during vacation periods, on weekends and before and after school. The grower may use his own children in agricultural work at any time and at any age on his own farm."

But he noted that these are federal restrictions. Each of 48 states has a child-labor law of its own. So he advised growers to consult with state officers, local school attendance officials or study State laws to determine their provisions. When the State child-labor standards are higher than those of the Federal law, the State law should be observed.

"The federal regulation requires that each grower subject to it have on file for each employe under 18 a record showing his full name, date of birth, the home address and the local address if the minors are employed on days when school is in session," he said.

Primary purposes of both federal and state child-labor laws, according to Rogers, are to protect children from exploitation, and to encourage them to stay in school and obtain the education that will make them better citizens of tomorrow.

Here are the steps Mr. Rogers said the commercial grower should take to protect himself from unintentional violations:

1. Learn the requirements of both state and federal child-labor laws.
2. Do not employ or permit children under 16 to work in or about the farm or hothouse during hours school is in session.
3. Make sure the youth is of employable age and keep the required records for at least three years.

He emphasized that the federal law applies to all children, whether they reside in the area or are members of migrant worker families. Also that the grower himself is held liable for any violations even though the under-age children were hired and paid by a labor contractor or processor or others.

State Comptroller Lists July Expense

It cost the Texas government $71,388,978 to operate its business in July, according to information released from the office of Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller.

This shot governmental costs through the first seven months of the year to $778,065,842, only $53,095,889 more than through the same period of last year.

Revenue receipts for the month of July, 1956, were $69,656,956, giving receipts for the year a total of $858,999,940. The biggest source of state revenue were the fuel taxes on butane, diesels, and gasoline, totaling $31,824,936 for the month of July.

Net cash balance July 31 was listed at $32,133,579.

Underground Desert In Making As More And More Water Drawn Out

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture

An underground desert is in the making in Texas which may eventually swallow such cities and towns as Amarillo, Dalhart, Plainview, Lubbock and Muleshoe. These population centers are located atop a vast formation of moisture-laden sands from which water is being pumped at a faster rate than nature can replenish it. The situation was created by nature and aggravated by man. These sands of the Ogallala formation depend partly upon rainfall and the water and snow sheds of the Colorado and New Mexico mountains to replenish the underground flow. For several years, snow in these sister states have been insufficient to feed the formation at a rate greater than water usage.

The sand strata is thick in some places, thin in others. In some sections of the Texas Panhandle, the saturated thickness of sand is 50 and 60 per cent less than a short six years ago.

The boom in irrigation on the High Plains sparked the increase in water consumption. Municipal supplies account for only about 15 per cent of water withdrawals. Records show that of all water pumped since 1938, over 60 per cent of it was used since 1950, due mainly to an expansion in irrigated acreages.

Irrigation cannot be called the "culprit" in this case, however. Rather, it is merely the victim of a natural situation—drought. Weather conditions have failed to keep our water supply in balance during a period of great demand by the farmers.

The lowering water tables are a matter of concern in other sections of the state, also. Natural springs in Central and South Texas are at their lowest ebb or have ceased flowing altogether for the first time in the history of white settlements.

Comal Springs in the San Marcos-New Braunfels area ordinarily flows about 317 cubic feet of water per second. Early this summer, the spring went dry for the first time.

Barton Springs in Austin, a natural water source that fluctuates rapidly with rains, was producing only 12 cubic feet per second in late August. Its usual flow varies between a maximum of 180 cubic feet to a minimum of 3 1/2 cubic feet, according to seasonal changes.

Primarily, Texas' greatest need is rain—in the state and on the watersheds of the Continental Divide. Secondly, the state needs comprehensive soil and water conservation measures which will keep the water in the vicinity in which it falls.

Surface tanks, small check dams and storage dams in the small streams and rivers, coupled with soil conservation work in the fields, will help save our precious water and aid in replenishing the underground supply.

Parade To Open Rodeo At Ralls

RALLS (Sp.)—A parade at 4 o'clock this afternoon will open the fifth annual amateur rodeo sponsored by the Ralls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dozens of floats will be featured in the parade in addition to area riding groups. Riding clubs are expected from Post, Lubbock, Abernathy, Petersburg, Hereford, Idalou, Crosbyton, Slaton, Leveland, Brownfield and Spur.

A barbecue will be given at the American Legion Hall for riding club members following the parade. A children's parade will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Gov. Mayo of Petrolia is furnishing stock for the rodeo, which starts each night at 8 o'clock. Jiggs Young and Willie Williams will be the clowns, and John Townsend will handle announcing chores.

Prizes to be awarded to rodeo performers include $2,500 in cash, a Leddy saddle and seven championship buckles. Events on the schedule are calf roping, double mugging, saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding, girls' barrel race and a cutting horse contest.

F. E. Hightower of San Angelo, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, will appear in the parade and will be guest of honor at the opening night performance.

Misses Lott And McCrary To Attend Hockaday School

Miss Linda Louise Lott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lott, and Miss Mary Louise McCrary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giles C. McCrary, will attend the Hockaday School in Dallas this year. Miss Lott will return to the school as a member of the Third Form (11th grade). Miss McCrary will enter Hockaday as a member of the Second Form.

New students and their parents will meet on the campus at 4:30 p. m. Sunday. Welcoming the new girls will be Herbert W. Smith, who has taken over the duties of headmaster at Hockaday. Smith was formerly headmaster of the Francis W. Parker School in Chicago.

Orientation will begin on Monday, the day scheduled for returning boarders to arrive, and will continue through Tuesday. On Wednesday, Sept. 12, classes will begin, opening the 44th year of preparatory education at Hockaday. As members of the boarding department, Miss Lott and Miss McCrary will join girls from 10 states and five foreign countries. Of the 425 girls in the first through the 12th grades at Hockaday, 110 are members of the boarding department.

Soil Bank Program Is To Get First Real Tryout This Autumn

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.) — The Soil Bank program, based on legislation enacted late last spring, will get its first real tryout this fall, according to Robert G. Shrauner, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Meetings are now being held throughout the state to bring details of the Acreage Reserve to winter wheat growers and of the Conservation Reserve to all farmers.

In general, Chairman Shrauner explains, the program is aimed at reducing the surpluses of farm commodities, which have continued to pile up despite acreage allotments and marketing quotas. The Acreage Reserve part of the program enables farmers to reduce basic crop acreages below the acreage allotment level for their farms while maintaining income. The Conservation Reserve part provides financial assistance for farmers who reduce their acreage of general crops and carry out an approved conservation practice on the designated land.

To participate in the Acreage Reserve, the farmer will remove part or all of his basic crop acreage from production, harvesting no crop from it and not grazing it.

To participate in the Conservation Reserve, the farmer will designate a certain acreage of cropland other than the acreage for the Acreage Reserve and carry out an approved conservation practice. To reduce the regular-rate annual payment, there must be a reduction in the acreage of crops which are generally called "depleting crops." The farmer may receive a Conservation Reserve payment for the conservation practice covering up to 80 per cent of the cost, and also annual payments for each acre in conservation reserve.

'DRIVE SLOW, LET 'EM GROW'

Child Safety Program Under Way In Texas Throughout September

"Drive slow, let 'em grow!" That was the plea of County Sheriff Carl Rains to motorists today as he emphasized the importance of the child safety program the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are conducting this month.

"Each year we kill thousands of our youngsters in traffic accidents," Rains said. "And the tragic part of it is that most of those deaths could have been prevented."

He placed most of the blame for our high child pedestrian toll on drivers. He admitted children are often careless in traffic, and that they bring about dangerous situations. But he emphasized that drivers can do much to counteract the effects of this heedlessness.

"Careful driving practices and consistent alertness are the driver's best safeguards," he said. "He must learn to expect the unexpected from children, and to act quickly to save a heedless youngster from harm."

The sheriff pointed out that the present high traffic accident fatality rate among children will have far-reaching effects on the nation's future.

"These children are our country's hope for tomorrow," he said. "From their ranks must come the statesmen, clergymen, doctors and scientists of the future. Every time we cut a youngster down in traffic, we weaken the country's future strength."

He advised drivers to observe the following rules to protect youngsters in traffic:

1. Keep a sharp lookout for children at all times, but especially in school zones, near playgrounds and other places where children gather.

2. When in the areas of school zones, playgrounds, etc., be alert for traffic signs, signals, traffic officers, school patrols, and children themselves.
3. Don't be juvenile yourself by trying to compete with bike riders. Give them a break.
