Survey Of Farm Labor For 1945 Given By Agent

The farm labor picture for 1945 is brighter than it was in 1944, in some respects the situation is worse instead of as good. The Government has in some cases asked for reductions in certain commodities, but are asking for increases in commodities that offset any reductions asked for. There are plans, however, to prepare one or perhaps two labor camps in the county for transients which will help alleviate the anticipated labor shortage in harvesting the wheat crop.

The War Food Administration has made a statement to A & M College that the farm equipment picture has not changed from last year. Therefore it is very important that farmers take the very best of care of their equipment. The WFA says there will be some surplus army trucks available, but no particular number can be counted upon. At the same time WFA states that farm transportation problems may reach a new peak, while new trucks and heavy truck tires continue short, but there will be enough gasoline for all farm work if it is used carefully. New repair parts are expected to be adequate, however, farmers are urged to make a survey, especially of planting and harvesting machinery, to determine as far as possible the repairs that are likely to be needed and turn this survey over to their dealers that he may prepare himself to meet their repair needs which will prevent critically needed machinery from sitting idle waiting for repair parts to be shipped from a manufacturer.

Sgt. Calvin W. Klaus and Reporter Visit at English Air Base

A touch of home was provided recently for Sgt. Calvin W. Klaus of Southland when he talked with the Star-Telegram correspondent in England, Robert Wear.

Sgt. Klaus is a crew chief, keeping the Thunderbolt planes of the 54th Fighter Group of the 8th Air Force in action. Robert Wear said it was indeed "an experience to wrap up in a sheepskin coat and go out on the line with Sgt. Klaus."

The 56th Fighter Group began operations in England on January 2, 1943 and Sgt. Klaus has been with it all that time. He has sweated out more than 350 or 400 missions on the line waiting for his ship and pilot to come back.

On Christmas Day of last year the 56th went over the 800 mark for Nazi planes destroyed, making it the first fighter group in the ETO to achieve such a record. So on January 6, 1945—their second anniversary—they really had a bang-up party in celebration.

This information, along with Sgt. Klaus' picture, appeared in Robert Wear's column in the Sunday Star Telegram.

This son of O. T. Klaus attended high school in Southland and entered the army in 1941.

Ration-Free Shoe Sale Is Authorized

OPA Friday authorized a ration-free "odd lot" sale of men's and women's shoes, beginning Feb. 10 and ending March 3.

The agency estimated that more than 4,500,000 pairs of shoes will be sold during the two-week ration holiday. This represents only about 3 per cent of rationed shoes in wholesale and retail stocks.

The sale price for shoes from a retailer's stocks must be at least 25 per cent below the regular price.

FINE START IS MADE BY 4-H CLUB BOYS OF GARZA COUNTY FOR THIS YEAR

The Garza county 4-H club boys have gotten off to a good start. The membership goals set up for 1945 are 200 4-H club members and there are now 165 enrolled. There are 48 boys enrolled for beef calf demonstrations involving 87 calves; other demonstrations are coming along equally as well.

This means that 4-H club boys are continuing the slogan that: "Each 4-H club member will endeavor to produce enough food and fiber to feed himself and one fighter."

Cigaret Stocks Are 50% Lower Than This Time Last Year

Three High School Students Hurt In Auto Accident Sat.

An accident involving three Post High school students, Harvey Mason, Lavenia Carpenter and Iris Floyd, took place Saturday night about 2:00 o'clock at the intersection of the Snyder and Tahoka highways.

Miss Floyd, most seriously hurt of the three, is suffering from a fractured skull and broken collar bone. Late Monday night she still had not regained consciousness. She is in the Slaton Mercy hospital.

Both Miss Carpenter and Mason received broken collar bones and bruises and cuts. Medical treatment was given to all three by Dr. D. C. Williams before they were taken to the Slaton hospital.

The pick-up driven by Mason turned over four times. He and Miss Floyd were thrown from the car. They were returning from Garmolia and were trying to catch up with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Floyd, parents of the injured girl, who were coming into town after her but were delayed due to flat tires.

Cotton Maintains Record As Most Valuable Crop

Cotton not only maintained its long time record as Texas' most valuable crop during 1944, but also continued to give growers the highest value per acre of any major field crop grown in the State.

Over 35 per cent of the total value of all field crops, fruits, nuts and truck crops produced this season in Texas came from cotton and cottonseed.

These facts, revealed by the annual report of the United States Department of Agriculture, emphasize the opportunity for making Texas best "pay crop" even more productive and valuable in 1945, says the War Cotton Production Committee of Texas.

Although this season's cotton yield in Texas was above the average for previous years, it was 119 pounds less per acre, or 40 per cent smaller, than the average yield for the Cotton Belt as a whole.

Wider use of proven methods of increasing yields per acre can materially increase growers' profits and the aggregate value of cotton and cottonseed to farmers and the entire State. No crop offers greater opportunity for higher returns through improved practices.

The $323,696,000 value of cotton and cottonseed from the 1944 crop exceeds by more than one hundred million dollars the combined value of all corn, wheat and oats raised in Texas and is nearly three times the value of all sorghums raised for grain. On an acre basis, the $44.96 per acre value of cotton and seed compares with $16.50 per acre for grain sorghums, $17.50 for corn, $19.50 for oats and $26.60 for wheat.

1945 AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM PLANS WERE DISCUSSED IN MEETING

Tuesday, January 30, 1945, the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service and AAA met in a joint co-operative meeting to discuss and make plans for the 1945 agricultural program year.

At the time plans were made for taking an explanatory program to each community in the county in the near future.

Terence specifications for 1945 were discussed. Either of the three agencies will be glad to talk with any farmer in the county who is interested in terrace construction in 1945. Now is the time to make plans for terrace work before time for planting crops.

Texas Is Still The Only State

A letter from Lt. Kenneth Wright to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright, this week expressed the thought in no uncertain terms that Texas was still holding top place on his list of best liked places.

Kenneth who was in New York in line of duty with the U. S. Army said, "I wouldn't trade one foot of Texas for all of New York." Similar statements have been made by other Texas boys who have had occasion to be in the big, glamorous city.

It all goes to prove that old statements—"You can take the boys out of Texas but you can't take Texas out of the boys."

Kenneth is stationed in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Quota For Red Cross Set For $5,100; Drive To Start March 1st

Representatives from Garza county Red Cross organization attended the district meeting held in Lubbock last Friday. Fourteen counties were represented by 56 workers at the clinic which was held to set quotas, announce dates of the annual membership drives and to discuss vital matters of the organization.

Attending from Post were T. L. Jones, county chairman, T. R. Greenfield and Ted R. Hibbs.

Quota set for Garza county was $5,100.00, approximately $300 more than last year. Dean A. Robinson, county membership drive director, will announce plans later in the month in regard to the drive which will be opened here on March 1.

The American Red Cross is doing one of the greatest jobs around the world of any organization in existence and if ever there was a time when Americans at home should buckle down and help the fighting Americans away from home it is now, Jones reported the field director declared. The Red Cross is with the fighting forces of America in every theatre of war.

The Lubbock chapter was hostess to the area visitors and organization officials at a luncheon at the Hilton hotel during the noon hour.

Changes Are Being Made In Ownership Thick and Fast

Real estate deals continue to hold the interest of people in Post. It was learned Wednesday that Weldon Swanger had sold his home to Mrs. J. I. Northcutt. Aarop Bowen of Lubbock, formerly of Post, sold his home to his brother, Mitchell, who was occupying the house at the time of the sale. F. I. Bailey bought the business building that was owned by John Sutter and in which Moreman's Grocery was formerly located.

A. B. Haws sold his interest in the Pure Food Store last week to Mrs. Madge G. Mathis. B. M. Robinson retained his interest in the business. Haws and Robinson bought the Power's Food Store a year ago.

Several other business transactions were reported but were not confirmed as the Dispatch went to press but it seems that "buying and selling" is in the air and everybody is getting into the current.

The publicity director, Don Weldon, sent the comments in regard to the outstanding record this county has made in support of the United War Chest.

Mr. Weldon said, "The work of these county leaders has been outstanding and will result in increased support of our troops and our allies, through the agencies of the National War Fund. I feel sure that you will agree with me that their unselfish service should be recognized."

To the Dispatch, Mr. Weldon said, "With all appreciation to you for your wholehearted cooperation in the recently-completed campaign, as well as for your year-round support."

Garza county lead this district in the recent campaign and far exceeded its quota on the War Chest Drive.

Garza Theatre To Conduct "March of Dimes" Feature

Starting Friday and continuing through February 8th, every theatre in Texas will participate in the "March of Dimes" drive against Infantile Paralysis, said B. J. Edwards, local theatre chairman.

A special screen appeal by Betty Greer Garson will run at a performance and subsequent collections will be taken up among the audience for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Edwards said that in keeping with the policy of President Roosevelt, nationwide fight against Polio, fifty percent of the money collected would remain in Garza county fund to help lame children walk and keep healthy children well in this county.

The statewide campaign which is being conducted by the motion picture industry, in connection with other agencies, is expected to collect in excess of $300,000.00, or approximately $1.00 for every theatre seat in the state.

Eggs Can Be Kept Fresh For Periods Of Year By New Method

Ithaca, N. Y.—A method of preserving eggs at near-henhouse freshness for periods as long as a year—as simple it can be practiced in any kitchen—was claimed by a Cornell University professor. Alexis L. Romanoff, Professor of Poultry Husbandry, said it is necessary only to dip eggs in boiling water for five seconds, air cool them, and then store in a refrigerator at 40-degree temperature. He explained the "flash-heat treatment" coagulates a thin layer of outer albumen which serves to protect the contents. The coagulated film adheres to the shell when the egg is broken.

Sgt. W. L. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cook, underwent an operation on Jan. 22 at the AAF Hospital at Amarillo, Texas. Mrs. W. T. Cook, Juanita and Mrs. W. L. Cook and Mrs. Tom Williams spent the week end with Sgt. Cook. He is reported to be doing fine.

Grade School News

The boys' and girls' 4-H clubs met at Grade school Friday afternoon. This was Miss Manley's last time to meet with the girls, since she is being transferred to Marston, Texas the first part of February. The girls regret losing Miss Manley whose ability and cheerful cooperation have been an inspiration to them.

Mrs. Keeney, from Lubbock, will take Miss Manley's place.

Mr. McCoy, who is succeeding Mr. Kimbrough, met with the boys' club.

We received word this week from a former Grade school student, Elsa Jane Shepherd. She lives in San Francisco now and is leading her 7th grade class of 590 pupils. She is also secretary of the class.

Miss Cromer and her third grade pupils are happy to welcome Willie Ann Mathis back to their group. Willie Ann has been in Amarillo for the past few weeks.

Mrs. McRer's 7th grade students presented a very interesting assembly program Friday afternoon. The audience enjoyed the reading given by Kenneth Finchum and Wayne Thomas, also the piano solos by El Wanda Davies and Betty Mills.

Charles Bowen, Calvin Storie, Patsy Holly, Ethel Maye and Bonnie Faye Williams gave an interesting review of what our flag means to us.

At the close of the program, the entire student body sang the national anthem.

From "Yank," U. S. Army paper, the following news story concerning Lt. Col. James L. Minor will be of interest to friends here:

With the 7th Army, France—Lt. Colonel James L. Minor of Tahoka, Texas, a battalion commander with the 7th Army, looked for a reference point on the battlefield.

A visiting general stood next to him, waiting to be oriented on the enemy positions. Just as the colonel pointed out the spot, two Germans stood up on the precise position.

The general was satisfied.

We have observed, while sitting in the editor's chair the last two years, that the main things our boys are thinking about on the different war fronts are not post-war problems, the Atlantic charter and economic rehabilitation.
They are thinking of their fathers and mothers and of their girls.
They think of Christmas days and New Year's eves, of picnics and dances and football games.

They want their home-town paper with all the news of their friends and neighbors much more than they want "hifalutin'" articles about what the world is going to be like after the war.

They had much rather have a letter from home than have the highest official of any capitol pay a visit.

That is what our boys are fighting for—Home and the folks back home. They don't want Hitler or Hirohito to throw bombs on the football field and they can't bear to think of their mothers and fathers getting hurt—they want things just as they left them.

How do we know these things?
Many letters reach our desk from boys all over the world—they express these thoughts.

MAIL TO POWS IS AMOST AS IMPORTANT AS FOOD

Specific regulations covering mail to POWs in various camps available through local Red Cross chapters, but following is general picture. Letters must clear through many American authorities to assure no violation of national security regulations, then pass enemy censorship; hence must be purely personal. Transportation difficulties involved in mail to and from Japanese camps makes communication much tougher than European. No limit to number of letters POWs may receive, but outgoing mail is limited to a certain number of letters, varying in different countries.

Anybody can write to POW, and need not be related. Upon capture, POW's next of kin is notified of status as prisoner, then next of kin can write immediately care of International Red Cross, Geneva; later direct to POW when permanent address is known. All official notification of capture comes through Adjutant General's Office, not Red Cross.

THE DRAMA OF OIL

One of the most dramatic tales of this tragic era of war will be the story of the production and transportation of oil to our fighting forces, to say nothing of the home front. It will be a story of hundreds of ships, endless miles of pipeline, thousands of railroad locomotives running night and day.
It will be a story of sweating, worried men laboring in desert sands and teaming offices. It will be a story in which the word defeat is unknown. It will be a story toward which this country will always be able to point with pride. It will be the story of American enterprise.

WHY CHANGE?

Henry A. Wallace is conceded to be an able, honest, and bene-volently-minded man, but is regrettable that the President saw fit to remove one of the most proficient of his cabinet members and appoint Wallace to the position to pay a political debt. According to general reports, there have been few Secretaries of Commerce who have performed the duties of the office and other duties imposed upon them more ably than has Jesse Jones. As a result of this shift a fight is brewing to relieve the new Secretary of some of the duties that devolved upon Jones.
It probably would be well if this were done. —Lynn County News

Some people never do anything except tell others what they ought to do.

NOW THEY KNOW HOW THE FARMER FEELS

Consumers who recently had the coupons in their food ration books summarily invalidated, can appreciate the problem that faces the farmer under 57 varieties of regulations and restrictions.

Ordinarily the farmer plans production schedules years in advance. Investments in crops are made on the basis of probable prices at harvest time. Long experience with the laws of supply and demand teach the farmer what he must grow if he is to stay out of bankruptcy. At least that is the way the farmer operated before the age of regulation and subsidies descended upon him.
Now, like the consumer, he knows not what to expect next. A government directive may cut his acreage, reduce prices when his crop is ready to harvest or put him out of business. It is not a pleasant way to live.

OLD YARN WITH NEW TWISTS

An old story with a new twist to fit the times has to do with the office boy who, on opening day of the baseball season, goes to his boss and says:

"I'd like the afternoon off, please sir. You see my grandmother—"

"Yes," replies the boss, "I know.
Your grandmother is 'dead' and you want to attend her 'funeral'— at the ball park."

"No, sir," the boy further explains. "My grandmother isn't dead. She's playing right field!"

Come to think of it, if everything we're hearing now about the manpower shortage is true, there won't be any more office boys, or grandmothers either 'dying' or playing right field.

They'll all be operating cranes, riveting machines, lathes and pneumatic hammers.

That is, all of them not working for government bureaus!

COTTON PICKERS OF FUTURE?

With the wind-up of the 1944 cotton harvesting season in sight, farmers of this sector and other areas of West Texas are giving particular attention to probable widespread use of mechanical cotton pickers in the 1945 cotton season.

A number of home-made slides have been utilized here in Scurry county by farmers in finishing the 1944 harvesting, and use of one two-row mechanical picker in the area has opened up a new field of possibilities in cotton harvesting. With cotton leaves taken off by chemical means, harvesting of cotton in future years by machinery looms as a trend that will put more cash in the pockets of West Texas farmers and do away with need of so many harvest hands here from the Rio Grande Valley and other sectors. —The Scurry County Times.

A football team is helped if it has a good cheering section. So is a town. If its people are enthusiastic about it, and are constantly praising its achievements— it will grow and progress. (Wonder what has happened to the front row boosters of our town—the Chamber of Commerce?)

Nero wasn't as smart as some

Digging Ditches Becomes
A Welcomed Job to G.I.s
Foxholes Offered Protection Against Nazis' Continued Attack

By Ernie Pyle

(Editor's Note): This dispatch was written and first published when Pyle was with the G.I.s at the African front. He is now on his way to cover the boys in the Pacific war zones.

WITH TROOPS IN AFRICA:—When our Sahara salvage expedition found wrecked airplanes far out on the endless desert, the mechanics went to work taking off usable parts; and four others of us appointed ourselves the official ditchdiggers of the day.

We were all afraid of being strafed if the Germans came over and saw men working

Ernie Pyle

around the planes and we wanted a nice ditch handy
for diving into.
The way to have a nice ditch is to dig one. We wasted no time.

Would that all slit trenches could be dug in soil like that. The sand was soft and moist; just the kind children like to play in. The four of us dug a winding ditch 40 feet long and 3 feet deep in about an hour and a half.

The day got hot and we took off our shirts. One sweating soldier said: "Five years ago you couldn't a got me to dig a ditch for $5 an hour. Now look at me.

"You can't stop me digging ditches.
I don't even want pay for it; I just dig for love. And I sure do hope this digging today is all wasted effort, I never wanted to do useless work so bad in my life.

"Any time I get 50 feet from my home ditch you'll find me digging a new ditch, and brother I ain't joking. I love to dig ditches."

Digging out here in the soft desert was paradise compared to the clay-like digging back at our base. The ditch went forward like a prairie fire. We measured it with our eyes to see if it would hold everybody.

"Throw up some more right here," one of the boys said, indicating a low spot in the bank on either side. "Do you think we've got it deep enough?"

"It don't have to be so deep," another one said. "A bullet won't go through more than three inches of sand. Sand is the best thing there a for stopping bullets."

A growth of sagebrush hung over the ditch on one side. "Let's leave it right there," one of the boys said.
"It's good for the imagination.
Makes you think you're covered up even when you ain't."

That's the new outlook, the new type of conversation, among thousands of American boys today. It's hard for you to realize, but there are certain moments when a plain old ditch can be dearer to you than any possession on earth. For all sombs, no matter where they may and eventually, do all their falling straight at your head. Only those of you who know about that can ever know all about ditches.

A Soldier's Letter.

While we were digging, one of the boys brought up for the thousandth time the question of that letter in Time Magazine. What letter, you ask? Why, it's a letter you probably don't remember, but it had become famous around these parts.

It was in the November 29 issue, which eventually found its way over here. Somebody read it, spoke to a few friends, and pretty soon thousands of men were commenting on his letter in terms which the fire department won't permit me to set o paper.

To get to the point, it was written by a soldier, and it said: "The premier Christmas present that can be given to us this year is not smoking jackets, ties, pipes or games. If people will only take the money and buy war bonds . . . they will be helping themselves and helping us to be home next Christmas. Being home next Christmas is something which would be appreciated by all of us boys in service."

The letter was all right with the soldiers over here until they got 'own to the address of the writer and 'covered he was still in camp in the States. For a soldier back home to open his trap about anything concerning the war is like waving a red flag at the troops over here. They do they can do whatever talking is necessary.

"Them poor dogfaces back home," said one of the ditchdiggers with fine soldier sarcasm, "they've really got it ragged. Nothing to eat but them old greasy pork chops and them three-inch steaks all the time. I wouldn't be surprised if they don't have to eat eggs several times a week."

"And they're so lonely," said another. "No entertainment except to razzle them old dames around the dance floor. The USO closes at 11 o'clock and the night clubs at 2.
It's mighty tough on them. No wonder they want to get home."

"And they probably don't get no sleep," said another, "sleeping on them old cots with springs and everything, and scalding themselves in hot baths all the time."

"And nothing to drink but that nasty old ten-cent beer and that awful whisky," chimed in another philosopher with a shovel.

"And when they put a nickel in the box nothing comes out but Glenn Miller and Artie Shaw and such trash as that. My heart just bleeds for them poor guys."

"And did you see where he was?"
asked another. "At the Albuquerque Air Base. And he wants to be home by next Christmas. Hell, if I could just see the Albuquerque Air Base again I'd think I was in Heaven."

That's the way it goes. The boys feel a soldier isn't qualified to comment unless he is on the wrong side of the ocean. They're gay and full of their own wit when they get started that way, but just the same they mean it. It's a new form of the age-old soldier pastime of grumbling. It helps take your mind off things.

Into Northern Tunisia.

We moved one afternoon to a new position just a few miles behind the invisible line of armor that separates us from the Germans in Northern Tunisia. Nothing happened that first night that was spectacular, yet somehow the whole night became obsessed with a spookiness that leaves it standing like a landmark in my memory.

We had been at the new camp about an hour and were still setting up our tents when German planes appeared overhead. We stopped work to watch them. It was the usual display of darting planes, with the conglomerate sounds of ack-ack on the ground and in the sky.

Suddenly we realized that one plane was diving straight at us, and we made a mad scramble for foxholes. Two officer friends of mine had dug a three-foot hole and set their tent over it. So they made for their tent, and I was tramping on their heels. The tent flap wouldn't open, and we wound up in a silly heap. Finally it did open, and we all dived through the narrow opening all at once.

We lay there in the hole, face down, as the plane came smack overhead with a terrible roar.
We were all drawn up inside, waiting for the blow. Explosions around us were shatteringly loud, and yet when it was all over we couldn't find any bomb holes or anybody hurt.

But you could find a lot of nervous people.

Dusk came on, and with dusk began the steady boom of big guns in the mountains ahead of us. They weren't near enough for the sound to be crashing. Rather it was like the lonely roll of an approaching thunderstorm—a sound which since childhood has always made me sad with a kind of portent of inevitable doom.

We went to bed in our tents. A nearby farmyard was full of dogs and they began a howling that lasted all night. The roll of artillery was constant. It never stopped once in 24 hours. Once in a while there were peater shots which might have been German patrols or might not.

We lay uneasily in our cots. Sleep wouldn't come. We turned and turned. I snapped on a flashlight.

"What time is it?" asked Chris Cunningham from the next cot.

"Quarter to one," I answered.

"Haven't you been asleep?"

He hadn't.

General Doolittle Meets a Doolittle

The last time I had seen General Doolittle was at the desert airrome of Biskra on the edge of the Sahara.

Lieut. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, head of the Eighth air force over here, noticed one day in the roster of officers of his staff headquarters the name of a Captain Doolittle. One day not long after that his phone rang and the voice at the other end said: "This is Captain Doolittle."

"Oh, yes," said the general. "I had noticed your name and I meant to call you up sometime."

"I'd like to come in and see you," said the voice at the other end.

"Why, yes, do that," the general said. "I'm pretty busy these days, but I'll switch you to my side and he'll make an appointment for you.
Glad you called, captain. I'll look forward to seeing you."

Women of the Calvary Baptist church met Monday, January 29, at the church for the purpose of reorganizing a Women's Missionary Union. Devotional was read by the new pastor's wife, Mrs. H. C. Bristow, and an inspirational prayer was offered by Mrs. Jim Hayes.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. H. C. Bristow, president; Mrs. J. A. Hays, first vice-president; Mrs. Alta Davis, second vice-president; Mrs. Billie Caylor; and Mrs. Agnes Brown, secretary and treasurer.

The following chairmen were appointed by the president: Stewardship, Mrs. Ella Johnston; Mission and Publicity, Mrs. Jim Hays; Community Welfare, Miss Bula Cannon; Entertainment, Mrs. Lila Miller, Mrs. Lella Mae Mickey and Miss Wilma Johnston; Bible Study, Mrs. Mattie Caylor.

All women are invited to attend the next meeting of the WMU at the church on Monday, Feb. 5, at two-thirty o'clock. "The WMU needs you and you need the WMU," Mrs. Bristow said as she extended the invitation.

The meeting which was well attended was closed with a prayer by Miss Bula Cannon.

Preacher and Family Receive Pounding

Rev. H. C. Bristow and his family give a report on the welcome they received from the Calvary Baptist church members last Wednesday night. Rev. Bristow assumed duties as new pastor of the church last week. His report follows:

"Last Wednesday night at the Calvary Baptist church just at the close of the prayer meeting service when there was no indication of anything of unusual taking place and while the pastor had his back turned, suddenly there was a very, very unexpected pounding thrust upon him and his family.

"It was one of a very unusual sort. Not many preachers could undergo such ordeal and still be able to fill his pulpit the following Sunday; but this preacher so far has survived. Up to this present time seems to be bearing up reasonably well.

"For it was a pounding of good things to eat, and all the good things we have never seen the equal.

"We have not the words to express our sincere thanks to every one who had a part in this fine way in which you expressed your friendship. But from the deep gratitude of our hearts we must say we are very, very thankful to you.

"And now as your pastor it will be our joy to serve you in whatever way it is possible. We have found in the Calvary Baptist church a fine fellowship and a sweet spirit.

We are expecting through the power and leadership of the Holy Spirit to see many things come to pass for the upbuilding of the Kingdom of God in this community. We have come among you not only to be a preacher, but we want to be a pastor, and a real citizen of this town and its surrounding territory. Again we say thank you."

Mrs. Hub Haire Is Named Honor Guest By Ladies' Aid

Mrs. K. Stoker and Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick were hostesses to the Ladies' Aid of the First Christian church at their home recently. A business and social meeting was combined to make the session of much pleasure.

During the social hour Mrs. Hub Haire was named honor guest and a poem and song fitting to the occasion were given. She was presented a lovely gift from the group.

Mrs. John H. Ramsay conducted the study lesson. She was very ably assisted by Mrs. Kirkpatrick. "Why We Believe" was the topic for discussion. Each member of the aid took part in the round-table discussion which brought the lesson hour to a close.

A treasurer's report for the year was presented and plans and projects for the new year were discussed.

During the tea hour the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. M. L. Mason Is New Club President; Mrs. Roy Hostess Fri.

Mrs. Marshall Mason was automatically promoted to the position of president of the Novelty Luncheon club Friday when the club held its annual January meeting with Mrs. W. V. Roy as hostess to the club at Jennie's Tea Room on that date.

Retiring president was Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick who was presented a lovely gift by the club.

Mrs. Doug Morrel was elected vice-president to succeed Mrs. Mason.

Other matters of business were discussed and the club decided to give a substantial donation to the forthcoming Red Cross drive. Dates for entertaining during the year were selected also by the twelve members of the club.

A delicious luncheon was served at one o'clock. The hostess used a cleverly arranged center decoration of highly polished eggplants and candles on the foursome tables. Place cards marked places for the following members: Mmes. Mason, Irene Rodgers, Skeeter Slaughter, O. L. Weakley, D. C. Williams, Willard Kirkpatrick; Mrs. Belle Fairbanks, guest; and the hostess.

In the bridge games which followed the luncheon, Mrs. Weakley was awarded the war stamps for winning high score.

Greenfield Home Is Scene of Party for Sunday School Class

The Mary and Martha class of the Methodist church met last week for a business session in the home of Mrs. T. B. Greenfield.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. L. Cummings; vice president, Mrs. R. H. Collier; Treasurer, Mrs. T. R. Greenfield; Secretary, Mrs. J. M. Powers; Devotional Leader, Mrs. I. A. Smith. Mrs. T. L. Jones is the teacher with Mrs. H. G. Smith serving as assistant teacher. Mmes. Parr and Powers were appointed the visiting committee for the month.

The class keeps a dime folder which is circulated every meeting. Each member who has gotten a new dime donates it to the folder. At the end of the year the money collected is given to the Orphan's Home. This class meets once a month for a social.

Mrs. Greenfield served delicious cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee to eleven guests.

Marshall Mason, jr. has completed six months of military training and 42 hours of college work with the ASTEP. This entitles him to sophomore classification in any accredited college or university. He expects to be called to active duty with the Army in the near future. He will attend Texas Tech while awaiting his call.

Mrs. D. C. Williams Home Scene of Club Meeting Mon. Night

The Woman's Culture club met in regular session Monday night in the home of Mrs. D. C. Williams. Eleven members were present.

As a special musical number the Melody Maids presented a patriotic medley arranged by Mrs. Stallings. Club members enjoyed very much the visit from the young singers and their accompanist, Mrs. Stallings.

During the business meeting Mrs. W. L. Davis resigned from the office as incoming treasurer and Mrs. Durrett was elected to the office. The club voted to meet at eight o'clock instead of seven thirty.

The program was based on the subject "Religion at the Peace-table" with Mrs. Lee Davis as leader. Mrs. Jones presented a resume of the religion of the peoples who will be represented at the peace table. She also read excerpts from an article "Are Chaplains Doing the Job?" Mrs. Kitchen discussed "We Teach Our Children to Pray" by O. K. Armstrong. This is a strong plea for teaching youngsters that there is a Power greater than we, a heavenly Father who is kind and good to his children and the plans used in the teaching.

Substituting for Mrs. Manly, Mrs. Cearley presented some ideas given by Dr. Dan Gilbert on "Peace Aims of America."

Mrs. Davis lead a general discussion on the theme of a Return to Religion.

Fellowship Supper Honors Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Walden

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Walden were honored on Wednesday night of last week by members of the Methodist church at a fellowship supper. About a hundred people gathered for this meal which was described as "bounteous and delicious, truly a feast."

A sing song further provided a feeling of good fellowship. Mrs. Graeber, in her very charming manner, spoke of the esteem in which the good couple are held and in appreciation presented a gift, a lovely mirror. Mr. Walden made an appropriate response of thanks for the honor.

The regular prayer meeting followed this supper.

Veterans May Apply For Loans To Enter Business; Buy Tools

Loan applications may be made in purchasing any business, supplies, equipment, machinery or tools to be used by the veterans of World War II in pursuing a gainful occupation. The Government may guarantee repayment of such loans to the extent of 50%, but not in an amount exceeding $2,000 as its maximum guaranty. Thus, the veteran who qualifies for a business loan may obtain a guaranty for 50% of any loan up to $4,000. He may, of course, obtain from his banker a loan of a greater amount, for instance, $6,000, but the guaranty is limited to $2,000. In loans of less than $4,000, the Government guarantees half; thus, in a $3,000 loan the guaranty amounts to $1,500, not more.

This information was released quite recently by the Dallas Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The necessary machinery for processing applications by veterans for business loans was set up recently in Dallas and is in keeping with the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Need Still Urgent For Salvaged Fats

The Fat Salvage Campaign is still on! The government tells us that the need for used fats will continue up to the time when both Germany and Japan are defeated. Fats and oils are the most urgent items needed for relief feeding in the liberated countries of Europe, and the wartime needs for inedible fats are of vital importance.

It is estimated that 500 million pounds of fat are wasted each year in homes and eating places. According to government officials, salvaged fats could supply at least one-tenth of the total amount of inedible fats needed.

This should be a challenge to every homemaker, declares Jessie Alice Cline, home economist. By making use of every bit of fat—drippings from roasted and broiled meats, and rendered fat from cooked and uncooked meat trimmings—the homemaker can increase the supplies of fat for wartime needs.

There are many uses for saved fats in the home. They are excellent for frying, seasoning vegetables, making gravies and sauces, and for shortening quick breads, spice and chocolate cakes, cookies and pastry. Saved fats may also be added to meats which are lacking in fat of their own.

All extra fats, and those no longer usable in cooking, should be turned in to the meat retailer, who will give the homemaker 4c and 2 red ration points for every pound of fat. This is an essential war job!

JIM HUNDLEY PURCHASES BUSINESS PROPERTY IN LUBBOCK RECENTLY

Jim Hundley announced Wednesday that he had bought the Yellow House Tea room at College Avenue and Broadway in Lubbock. "I have no intention of leaving Post; purchase of the property was strictly a business transaction," he said. "Many persons are wondering if I am leaving Post," he continued.

The deal was closed early this week and Lt. Jim Hundley, jr., who is now with the Army Air Corps stationed in Iran, is a partner in the transaction.

The building and fixtures which house the tea room are for lease to Mrs. Laura Nichols Rogsdale, owner and operator for the past 13 years, in retiring from business.

GOOD BUSINESS
By Edgar A. Guest
If I possessed a shop or store, I'd drive the grouches off my floor!
I'd never let some gloomy guy offend the folks who come to buy;
I'd never keep a boy or clerk . . . With mental toothache at his work, Nor let a man who draws my pay drive customers of mine away.
I'd treat the man who takes my time . . . And spends a nickel or a dime
With courtesy and make him feel that I was pleased to close the deal, Because tomorrow, who can tell? He may want stuff I have to sell,
And in that case, then glad he'll be to spend his dollars all with me.
The reason people pass one door . . . to patronize another store,
Is not because the busier place . . . has better silks or gloves or lace
Or cheaper prices, but it lies . . . in pleasant words and smiling eyes;
The only difference, I believe, IS IN THE TREATMENT FOLKS RECEIVE!
