Manly manager of the Chevrolet Company, be- vandals who are pick- ing pieces of business at intervals these days are

Manly Chevrolet Com- pany being broken into on average of twice a week, and Manly has to replace a bumper and suffer other damage.

Manly says, "The vandals are getting worse every week. Their last was Sunday, in broad daylight, between 1 and 5 p. m. some cash from the desk drawer, a brand new 51 pen from Manly's desk, and other items. It was a good fountain pen that was stolen from Manly's desk."

Manly says, "The vandals are boys who are as intent on pulling as on stealing. On one occasion, they ran up $12-

93 in sales in the parts department cash register, to throw the parts man "out of balance" on his records.

Their favorite stunt is to "borrow" new cars, take them for a ride and return them. This happens, at least twice a week, to either new cars or other vehicles in the building, Manly reports. The mileage driven is checked on the speedometer.

The vandals are not only bold, but careless:

They left a new flashlight in one "borrowed" car; in another, they left some exploded .410 shot, gun shells; in another, they left a set of keys—enough to fit all the locks in Post, Manly says.

Running second in the Plains Lumber Company which is broken into almost every weekend. The Post Auto Supply, Mason and Company, Greenfield Hardware and any number of other Post stores have suffered from the same type of vandalism in recent weeks.

Cemetery To Be Limited As To Water Supply

T. R. Greenfield, chairman of the Terrace Cemetery Association, is urging the association members to cooperate in the matter of a financial emergency. He explains the situation, as follows:

"At the cemetery, our July water bill was $85, and in August it was $82. We are not in a position financially to pay these large water bills. Therefore, your directors have instructed the caretaker to discontinue watering the grass and to just water the shrubbery enough to keep it alive until it rains.

"We hope that by this method, we can keep the cemetery lots green until it rains and avoid having to discontinue all watering. The grass will live two or three months without water and will revive after a rain.

"We are asking for the members' full cooperation in this matter, as we are doing everything possible to keep the cemetery in good shape, but our means are limited. Please be patient with us in the water-saving effort, and perhaps a kind Providence will smile on us with a good rain in the near future."

Data Wanted On Peanut Farmers

Peanut farmers who have not received questionnaires about the acreage of past peanut crops are urged to get in touch with the Garza County ACP Committee as soon as possible.

Information provided in the questionnaires determines the peanut allotment for next year and whether or not each farmer raising peanuts is eligible to vote in the coming referendum on marketing quotas. Mike Custer of the PMA office has announced.

Garza Show Plans Materializing

Piggly Wiggly To Open New Store Monday

Supervisors, managers, assistant managers and other representatives of the Piggly Wiggly stores in Lubbock and Slaton were in Post this week helping local Piggly Wiggly Manager Paul Jones and his staff move into the new store, on West Main Street at Jefferson, across from the Post Truck & Tractor Company.

The new building, which is owned by Ira Lee Duckworth and O. L. Weakley, was completed last week and most of the fixtures had been installed by the weekend. This week was devoted to the unloading and arranging of new stock. Moving from the old Piggly Wiggly location will be completed on Sunday, Jones said yesterday.

The new store will be open for business on Monday morning.

Monday of this week was assistant managers' day for helping unload and arrange new stock in the store. On Tuesday, Harold Humphries and Clifford Williams, supervisors of the Davis and Humphries wholesale house in Lubbock and the managers of all Piggly Wiggly stores in Lubbock and Slaton were here helping with the heavy lifting. Later in the week, other personnel from the Lubbock and Slaton stores were here to assist.

The new stock was unloaded from huge truck trailers by means of a trolley track which carried the merchandise into the center of the building, where Jones and his helpers grabbed it up and took it to its assigned place in the store. It worked like an assembly line.

Prescriptions To Be Featured By Bob Warren

After several months of uncertainty as to the future location of his drug store, Bob Warren is relaxing in the knowledge that he will not have to move from the spot his store has occupied in the middle of the business district through most of Post's history.

With this new security, Warren is rearranging and enlarging his prescription service, adding several new lines of medical and drug supplies and some nationally advertised lines of other drug store merchandise.

He has sold his soda fountain and, therefore, is discontinuing his fountain service.

"The new arrangement," Warren announced, "will allow us to give more prompt attention to prescriptions and better service in sick room necessities."

CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS, SPONSORS—

Season's Football Tickets Go On Sale For Two Weeks

THE REV. PAUL LAWSON

Pictures Shown By Evangelist

Pictures on the Life of Christ and the Holy Land are being shown by Evangelist Paul Lawson of Cleveland, Tenn., during the Third Street Church of God revival meeting which opened Sunday night.

Services are being held at 7:30 o'clock each night, with special music and singing as additional features of the program. The pastor, the Rev. Claude Rains, said yesterday that the congregation is enjoying the sermons presented each night by the Rev. Mr. Lawson, who has had many years experience in evangelistic work in several different states.

Carmichael To Retire From Variety Store

After 17 years in the variety store business here, L. C. Carmichael sold out last Friday to the G. F. Wacker Stores who will continue to operate the store in its present location for awhile.

The sale of stock and fixtures was completed last Friday by M. J. Ewert of the Wacker General Offices in Pauls Valley, Okla., and L. B. Edwards, a Wacker firm member who lives in Big Spring. Carmichael, who will retire from business, will continue to make his home in Post.

W. S. Land, manager of the G. F. Wacker Store here, also will manage the Carmichael Variety Store.

Enthusiasm for extra-curricular activities was rampant all over Post this week as various groups of school students went about selling season tickets to football and other school events, selling advertising for the school annual, the Caprock which will be published in the Spring, electing class officers and sponsors and drumming up interest in the Youth Canteen, which opened its program for the year with a recreation program last Saturday night in the Double U Hall.

The sale of season football tickets got underway yesterday, with girls of the high school doing the peddling at $5 each for adults and $3 each for students. The adult tickets admit the holders to all football and basketball games during the year. The student tickets admit holders to football and all other school events during the school year. The sale will last about two weeks.

Tickets for individual games will be on sale at the gate, at 75 cents per adult and 30 cents per student. Superintendent G. R. Day said yesterday.

Although most districts have raised their football ticket prices this year—at least one of them to $1.20 per game—the prices for this district's games remain the same as last year, Day explained. The superintendent attended a meeting of District 6-A superintendents and coaches in Slaton Tuesday night to help decide on the price of tickets.

By way of finding out early in the year the type of school annual they could afford, staff members were canvassing business men this week for advertising and meeting with success in the project.

Overdue Rain Revives Crops Over County

Rain that was overdue but not too late came to most parts of Garza County this week, bringing an average of one-fourth inch of precipitation.

Although it wasn't quite enough, it helped feed, cotton and other crops considerably, local authorities on agriculture believe.

D. F. Eaton, county agricultural agent who has toured most of the county this week, said yesterday that approximately 5 per cent of the cotton in the county is ready for picking, and in some areas ginning is already underway. Although itinerant pickers are arriving in small bunches already, it will be two weeks before many extra pickers will be needed, the agent said.

Feed is ready for cutting in about one per cent of the fields.

Although an accurate estimate of production was not available by press time, it is evident that the orchard farmers of the Justiceburg and Cross Roads Communities produced good fruit crops this year. Garza-grown peaches have been on sale here for several weeks, and pears and apples are beginning to show up.

The watermelon crop, over the county is "fair to good," Eaton said yesterday.

The Double U Co. measured a precipitation of .29 of an inch on Monday night and .10 of an inch Tuesday afternoon in Post.

Scattered rains over the South Plains this week ranged from sprinkles to an estimated four inches near Crosbyton.

Electricity To Be Improved By First Of Year

Electricity was off for two hours and 45 minutes Monday afternoon, the result of lightning having damaged two of three Southwestern Public Service Company conductors near Pleasant Valley.

Ted Hibbs, the company's local manager, said that by January 1 a new line from Brownfield through Tahoka to Post will be completed and there will be no more lack of electricity. Most of the material for the line is on the ground, and as soon as insulators arrive, the work can be completed.

The new line is much heavier and it will have a higher voltage. It will carry at least nine times the load carried by the present line, and it will be fully protected against lightning.

After installation of the new line, both the new and the old lines will be in operation. When, for any reason, one is out of order, the other will be able to carry the load until repairs can be made. Hibbs explained.

TWENTY-SEVEN ARRESTED FOR GAMBLING SUNDAY

Two raids by the Sheriff's Department between 2 and 4 o'clock last Sunday morning at the farm home of J. D. White, negro, in the Graham Community resulted in the arrests of 27 persons, both black and white, on gambling charges. Nearly all had paid fines by press time, Sheriff Nathan Mears said.

FIVE GARZA BOYS JOIN U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES

Five Garza County boys were sworn into the U. S. Army Air Forces in August, the U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Main Station in Lubbock announced this week.

They were Charles L. Moore, Billy J. Owen, David B. Hodges, Earl L. Daniels and Kenneth R. Reeves.

GI Classes Resumed

After a two weeks' vacation, the GI Vocational Agricultural classes and one Distributive Education Class resumed activities here Tuesday night, the coordinator, Lewis Nance said yesterday.

Merchants Cooperating On Prizes

Enthusiasm for the Garza County Boys and Girls 4-H Products Show, which is to be held Saturday, September 20, in the Post Truck & Tractor building, is so widespread, it is predicted by Post Chamber of Commerce officials and others assisting that the annual event will become a countywide fair in future years.

At the request of adults who wish to exhibit pens of chickens, watermelons or other products, an open exhibit is being arranged for the show. Anyone wishing to show products on a non-competitive basis is invited to make arrangements with Sherrill Boyd, the Post Chamber of Commerce secretary.

In addition to $120 for ribbons and cash prizes donated by the chamber of commerce and $50 for prizes donated by the Graham and Close City Cooperative Gins, a number of cash and merchandise prizes are being offered by individual Post merchants for place winners or showmanship in the boys and girls 4-H divisions.

Open To All Merchants Additional merchants wishing to have a part in the show are invited to communicate with the chamber of commerce secretary whose office telephone number is 254.

All boy and girl 4-H exhibitors in the show will receive complimentary tickets to the Garza Theatre on September 20, John Hopkins, manager, has announced.

Judges, whose identity will not be made known until after the show, are studying the rules of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair competition and will confine their first prize-giving to projects meeting the standards outlined by the bigger fair.

All exhibits winning first place will be good enough to exhibit at the fair in Lubbock, the 4-H arrangements committee insists. In this connection, they pointed out that all exhibits entered in the local show must be in market condition.

Girls' Classes Announced Classes for 4-H boys were announced in last week's issue of the Post Dispatch. Miss Jewell Hipp, Garza County home demonstration agent, has announced the following classes for the girls' competition:

Luncheon sets, buffet sets, dresser scarf, pillow slips, vanity sets, tufted bedspreads, cotton dresses, dresses of other materials, blouses, skirts, hat and bag sets, aprons, sewing boxes, fresh garden vegetables and fruits, white eggs, brown eggs, toys, sequin pins, dresses, canned peas, canned beans, canned tomatoes and corn, canned pineapple slices, canned crushed pineapple, canned tomato juice pickled beets, cucumber pickles, canned peaches, canned plums, peach preserves, jelly, shell pins, tea towels, child's (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Ripley Is Ten Years Behind On Rare Items

Ripley must be scraping the bottom of the barrel these days for Believe-It-Or-Not items. It was back in 1937 that the late Judge J. E. Garland of Lamesa sent him the item about "The Smith Trial" in Garza County. He died several years ago without seeing mention of this unusual coincidence in print. Readers of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and hundreds of other papers carrying the Believe-It-Or-Not feature each week recently read of the trial described in the Ripley cartoon as:

State of Texas vs. J. W. SMITH; district attorney, Truett SMITH (of Tahoka); county attorney, H. G. SMITH; district clerk, Ray SMITH; process server, J. S. SMITH; sheriff, Carl SMITH; witnesses, J. J. SMITH, J. W. SMITH and Coy SMITH, all unrelated.

Ripley either overlooked—or did not know—the fact that Sheriff Smoot SCHMIDT (German for SMITH) served the subpoena in the case.

A check with Ray Smith's court records showed that the case was tried here on April 1st, 1936, with Judge Garland on the bench. The defendant, J. W. Smith who did not live in Garza County, was charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

'T WAS A Great DAY

WITH Greater DAYS TO COME

When the first gusher started the Panhandle's oil boom just 26 years ago, the area we serve became one of the most productive of crude oil in the world!

But... greater days are yet to come! We have more than one fifth of this nation's reserve... still underground! Oil is destined to become even more important to folks in this area in the years to come.

We have so much faith in the oil industry—and all other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and better living—electrically—to everyone.

GETTING OUT

On The LIMB

By EDDIE the EDITOR

Ninety-eight of 100 callers at our office ask if the person they came to see is busy.

One hundred times out of 100 occasions, the person they want to see is busy.

If he isn't busy, he isn't earning his salary—and that would include me. I draw a salary the same as my employees, and my bookkeeper makes me live within this salary.

Ninety-eight of the 98 callers who want to know if one of us is busy, look astonished when a front office employee answers, "yes" he's busy but I'll be glad to call him.

"No, don't bother him" 96 of 98 of the callers will say. "I'll come back when he's not busy, or see him after work hours."

We didn't notice this phase of human nature so much before we remodeled our building. The old interior had open doors to the back office, and callers wishing to see me or some of the boys just barged on back and talked to us while we tried to work.

Very often this was a handicap, particularly on deadline days when we were trying to get our papers off the press and in the mail by Uncle Sam's deadline.

It was such a handicap, at times, that we saw fit to exclude callers from the back office at the time of making other changes in the building interior. We now have new doors, and on those leading to the plant we have lettered "Employees Only" and "Please Stay Out."

We are pleased to note that the public is nice and polite about observing these signs. It was while noting their cooperation in this matter, that my front office employees noticed that 98 of every 100 people who stop in want to know if we are busy.

All my employees begin work in the plant at 8 a. m. and work until 6 p. m., and take off an hour for noon—and when they are in the plant they're busy—I can say there is never a moment during their working days when they are not busy.

Furthermore, all employees' salaries are in keeping with printer-union shop salaries, with time and a half for overtime.

Now, most of these people who come in and want to know if one of us is busy are calling on us on business matters. In most instances, the business they have to take up with us is more important than the work we are doing. Still our girls up front would be lying, if they answered their question with, "no, he's not busy."

What puzzles me about the whole situation is this: Why do callers look so shocked when they are told, in answer to a question, that we are busy.

Is it that in other places of business, the owner and employees generally aren't busy?

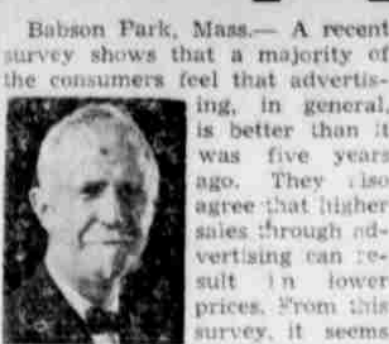

There was a lot of confusion—and some unhappiness—among the merchants and their customers and employees regarding the Labor Day Holiday, with the result that some of the stores were closed and some stayed open.

The Labor Day holiday was one of the seven annual holidays decided on early this year by the board of directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce. The holidays were published on the front page of the Post Dispatch, at the time, and as far as I know there were no squawks made to the chamber of commerce officials.

So, it was only in line of duty that the chamber of commerce

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Newspaper Advertising Is More Effective Than Radio

Babson Park, Mass.—A recent survey shows that a majority of the consumers feel that advertising, in general, is better than it was five years ago. They also agree that higher sales through advertising can result in lower prices. From this survey, it seems clear that the public fully believes in displaying the product but often dislikes the way in which it is presented. Over 30 per cent think good taste frequently is lacking. Only a minority feel it worth their time to listen to radio commercials. Even a high broadcasting official has admitted that radio broadcasters had permitted "advertising excesses." The radio station which put on over 2,200 "commercials" in one week (of nineteen hour days) is an unusual example. It shows, however, why a public might well become "fed up" with the trend.

Sometimes, consumer distaste is revealed in the purchase of some gadget, such as I read about not long ago. By pressing one of two buttons of a remote control switch it will eliminate all sound from your radio for a portion of a minute or thereabouts. Just long enough to avoid the commercial. It is said that over nine hundred of these were sold the first week they were on the market!

Sometimes the representatives of the people have to go to work to protect them. Federal Trade Commission decisions are usually upheld by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to protect the public from products and services which are not what they seem from advertising. Some people think that the Federal Communications Commission should become active in improving the quality of radio programs. Others feel that a product's radio commercials might be changed for the better by a sort of boycott or refusal to buy on the part of large women's clubs or organized groups of business women. Unpleasant publicity from a group representing the largest buyers of home commodities might bring drastic action.

I am not an expert on advertising but I do know something about statistics. My studies lead me to believe that the pulling power of radio advertising is overestimated. Personally, I had rather invest in the stock of almost any newspaper than in the stock of most broadcasting companies. Naturally, I would prefer a company which both owned a good newspaper and a good broadcasting station.

A newspaper advertisement is available all of several days to the family reader. On the other hand, the radio "spot" must be caught on the fly at a certain station—or be lost forever. In order to compare the amount of time an ad is available to the public in the two fields we might take as example a weekly newspaper with a circulation of 5000. Multiply the number of minutes which the advertising is available to its readers (say 10 hours a day for seven days a week) by the 5000 circulation and you get 21,000,000 minutes.

Along the same line of reasoning, a one minute radio commercial would need to have a possible audience of 21,000,000 people to equal the pulling power of the little weekly of only 5000 circulation. Yet a good sized radio-network may claim no more than a maximum potential listening audience of 10,000,000.

Visual teaching is more effective than auditory. At least, this seems to be a movie industry claim. Newspapers have the visual appeal. They are especially good for presenting "name" trademark products. One suggestion I would make is that advertisers use larger type and fewer words. The use of color is especially promising. Almost four hundred newspapers are now printing two-color advertisements. Over 150 are printing three-color ads. Color ads in newspapers "stop" the "buyers market" has been leveling. More advertising and better advertising are again becoming necessary to interest the customer. But, with a U. S. population increase amounting to over 10 million since 1940, business has an enormous new market to sell. It should be able to meet the challenge of good old American competition with better products with pleasure provided the newspapers, both large and small, fully utilized.

Sandy soils are usually low in nitrogen content, and heavy crops are an ideal winter cover crop which will add nitrogen to sandy soil and prevent winter erosion.

By EVELYN BOYD

On August 27, 18 members of the House of Representatives boarded the Queen Mary in New York and, under gray skies and through choppy waters, sailed for Europe. Upon what they see, what they learn, what they tell Congress and the American people, may depend whether and to what extent the Marshall Plan will be put into effect, the New York Times reports.

At the same time, in the Grand Palais in Paris, the first detailed script for the Marshall Plan was being edited into final form. According to correspondents sending news from Paris, the report will include these major elements:

- (1) Self help, covering plans to halt inflation, stabilize currencies, increase coal and steel production, step up manufacture of locomotives, trucks and other transport.
(2) The "shopping list," being an estimate of the amount of credits that the countries think they need from the United States for the reconstruction program. More than half of the credits would go for the purchase of U. S. food by the 16 countries wanting office sent out reminders the preceding week that Labor Day would be a holiday.

The confusion, as I see it, arose from the fact that Post is not in the habit of observing Labor Day as a holiday and, this year especially, it seemed impractical to many merchants to close on a day when Garza County people would be wanting to buy last minute school clothes and school supplies.

Had there been a big celebration going on in the county, it would have been wise to close down all places of business. There wasn't a big celebration going on, and so I stayed open—not particularly desiring to risk the necks of employees on the highways to and from big celebrations in other areas. Besides, we had this week's paper to get out.

It is the Post Dispatch custom to declare a holiday lasting for several days once or twice a year. On these occasions, the entire staff and their families go fishing. We don't look around to see whether or not anybody else is closing, before we decide to close our doors. During our absence, we lose lots of job printing which goes to Lubbock, we lose local advertising and we get behind on our news reporting. We hate to lose this business, but we feel we make up for it in employe-employer morale.

Without recommending this procedure to people in other types of business, I am hoping that the Post Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet again in the near future, go over the list of holidays and, if possible, eliminate those that aren't practical and, if they think it advisable, add other more practical holidays to take their place.

The countries claim they need approximately 30 billion worth of our products in the next four years, on credit. I suspect they are doing us like I used to do Mamma. Asking for twice as much as they expect to get, just in case next year is an election year and Congress must make a show of trimming all budgets. I have an idea the 18 Europe-going Congressmen will recommend that we cut the figure in half.

Even so, my business and yours will be affected and our pocket-books will be taxed. The cost of living will continue to soar, particularly in regard to groceries.

If the Marshall Plan is enforced, after it is passed on by our Congress (maybe at a special session in November,) the United States will have to quit being so willy-nilly in Europe. We will have to make the European countries stabilize their money and cut out their profiteering and work out reciprocal trade agreements among themselves. This will not be easy, if it can be accomplished at all.

This being the kind of country it is, the Marshall Plan will become a political football in 1948 and get kicked around to the point of bruising and distortion—with neither side seeing the real issue: intelligent supervision of the materials we "sell" Europe on credit so that they will accomplish their purpose and not get into the hands of people who might be trying to wipe us off the face of the globe within 10 years or more.

The chief talking point in the Marshall Plan is "a provision for reviving Germany's industry to provide coal, steel, machinery, etc., for western Europe. Russia doesn't like this. She wants us to send our own supplies of these critical items to Europe, so that her communist elements in the 16 countries can easily grab them up by illegal means and send them on to Russia and her eight satellites. Russia's $40 billion dollars worth of propaganda, set aside for U. S. consumption, will convince some Americans that to rebuild Germany is to rebuild an enemy war machine.

The 1948 Presidential campaign, it looks like now, will be between Truman and Eisenhower. The latter's stock will rise in almost direct ratio to further deterioration of the foreign situation. His running mate will be chosen from a group of men like Stassen, who are openly bidding for the Presidential nomination. I don't believe Dewey will accept nomination for second place, but Stassen might. I still think Jim Farley has a good chance of getting the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

I see by the Amarillo Daily News that "The Texas State Council of Methodist Women, with some 50,000 members, set off the recent investigation of the Texas Prison system."

It is true that the investigation got under way after the Methodist women submitted a report of an investigation of the prison system by their legislative committee on April 10, 1947.

I have a copy of the committee's report and I observe that the

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

UGLY WOMEN SAFE—From a reading of all the news stories that tell us about the killings that take place in the nation, we have come to the conclusion that the best protection a woman can have is to be ugly.

So far as our investigator has been able to discover, no ugly woman has been killed anywhere. The victims are all either attractive, lovely, beautiful, handsome or pretty. —Haskell Free Press.

USED CAR PRICES—Unfortunately, and one can tell by the way used cars are being "gobbled up" in this area, dealers are expecting a sharp increase in used car prices on November 1, when installment buying restrictions come to an end. Prices doubtless will not level off until January at least, when cold weather and introduction of some 1948 models will put a damper on demand.

In far too many towns over the country the used car business was carried as a racket during the war years; and if Congress wanted to do something really worthwhile it should pass a federal law to make a mandatory check of the "death buggies," with a seal and true statement of condition of each vehicle before purchasers were allowed to buy used cars. If a vehicle has defective steering mechanism, brakes or body, the prospective buyer should know the truth before he risks his neck and the necks of loved ones in vehicles which are temporarily quietened with heavy grease and sawdust. —The Texas Spur.

OUT OF DEBT?—This morning as I was waiting for a traffic light to change I heard a man say to another, "I do not owe a man in this world."

When the light changed and I went on my way I began to wonder if any of us are at any time entirely out of debt. I don't think the man was boasting, but rather I think he was proud that so far as dollars and cents were concerned he was free of debt.

Perhaps he realized that he was not entirely free of obligations as any of us—or better still he may have been one of those men who are constantly doing things for which he expects no remuneration.

I remember a few weeks ago as I was passing a house an old man was out in the street picking up some broken bottles. I asked him if he was trying to save himself a flat tire, to which he replied that he did not even own a car but it might save some one who did a little trouble, but, and he smiled as he spoke, "that is not the only reason I picked up the glass. You Methodist investigators found the same filthy, vile, immoral conditions in the Texas prison farm units that I found when I visited them, as a Texas Week Magazine reporter last fall, in 1946.

The series of articles which Photographer Alfred Rosenthal and I prepared for Texas Week was commended editorially by metropolitan newspapers in San Antonio and other Texas cities, and it put several legislative groups from church and other humane organizations to work.

I think it will result in a change for the better in our prison system, and be further proof that there was a place in Texas for the late lamented Texas Week, which died of starvation and was buried unceremoniously along with a nice hunk or my war savings.

see a lot of youngsters come here in the evening to play and one of them might get hurt and cost the parents doctor and hospital bills, so you see I feel responsible in a way—or them.

Maybe the old man saved me that expense by his thoughtfulness, maybe you rolled by in your car without mishap because he removed the broken bottles. Anyway some one owes him for that act and the only way he can be paid is by being thoughtful ourselves of the safety and wellbeing of our fellowman. No, none of us is ever entirely out of debt. Let us not forget that. —Hockley County Herald.

INFLATION NOTE—How much does it cost to lay a brick?

One authority on the subject, arriving at his estimates from figures similar to those in effect in Liberty today, says the average bricklayer's wage, based on what he received in the twenties and the number of bricks he laid in those good old days, works out something like $120 a day. He figures:

Around 20 years ago the laying of 1500 to 2000 bricks per day was not uncommon. Now output is considered good if a man lays 500, and most contractors estimate lower than that when preparing bids. At the same time, the bricklayer's wage has risen to $20-$24 per day. —Liberty Vindicator.

Across the Tracks

By H. H. H.
While perusing last week's issue of the Dispatch, we were struck by the oddity of the fact that Garza and Borden counties alone should have closed season on doves and quails while all other West Texas counties have open seasons. At first we were inclined to cuss the legislators in Austin, but the more questions we ask, the more it becomes apparent that Garza county's closed season is the instigation of property owners who don't want "city dudes" traipsing across their property and shooting their birds. All this is well and good. If a farmer or rancher does not want hunters on his property—that's his business—the land is his. The birds, however, are not the property of the person on whose land they choose to live. If they were, they could change ownership by the simple expedient of flying across the fence to John Doe's pasture (and John Doe might let a few sportsmen friends in to shoot 'em.)
Be that as it may—the hunting season in Garza is closed, and a well-filled petition to have it reopened met with no success. The way we see it, the selfish interests of a few have deprived Garza countians of a sport enjoyed by practically all surrounding counties. Let them, however, remember this: In closing the season against their fellowmen, they have closed it against themselves. We repeat—the birds are not theirs—and if they are caught shooting them, they should (and, we hope, will be) prosecuted.

Refiners Take Twin Bill, Edge Millers Out Of Play

Manager Polly Duren's Post Millers were edged out of the Oil Belt league Shaughnessy play-off last Sunday after losing a twin bill to the Levelland Refiners. The Millers copped the first of the 3-game series with Levelland Sunday before last when they edged the Refiners, 5 to 1, at Postex Park. In Sunday's first game the Millers lost 9 to 6, and in the final game, 5 to 4.

The Refiners will play the winner of the Sundown-Seagraves series for the championship. The Sundown-Seagraves series was to be decided last Sunday in a doubleheader, but after Seagraves won the first game, rain caused postponement of the final game. Sundown took the first game of the series Sunday before last.

In last Sunday's first game between the Millers and Refiners, the Millers trailed well behind until the ninth inning, when a hitting spree, with a walk and an error, gave them four runs, to crowd the Refiners 6 to 9.

Coach Is Pessimistic Over Chances Of Beating Hares

By HANS HUDMAN
Antelope Booster Club Sports
Writer

The injury of Co-captain Roy Williams sounded a note of gloom throughout the Antelope ranks this week, and lowered considerably the local club's chances of beating the italls Jackrabbits Friday night.

Williams, who sustained an ankle injury in Monday night's scrimmage session, is not expected to see action when the Hares invade the Antelope field at 8 o'clock tomorrow night for the opening tilt of the season.

Coach Bingham was frankly pessimistic Wednesday afternoon. "We're just not ready," he said. "We haven't had enough time to perfect our blocking assignments or to get our plays working smoothly. If we beat Rails we'll just have to out-tough them."

The extreme hot weather of the past two weeks has hindered in readying the team for the opening.

On the brighter side, however, Coach added that the team is in good physical shape and that he was well pleased with the showing of the new players. Charles King was showing up well in the backfield, and Maurice Fluit has the making of a first-rate end.

According to Bingham, Tuesday marked the end of scrimmage sessions, with the remaining time between then and tomorrow night's game, to be used in polishing up offensive work and in perfecting new plays.

Bingham estimates his Antelopes will average a slightly heavier team than the Jackrabbits, who under head coach Faris Nowell, and assistant coach Neal McClesky, will come here cocked and primed to revenge the 21 to 0 shellacking handed them last season when the Antelopes invaded the Hare's stomping grounds.

Rails will probably use the following Rabbits as starters: Bob Chron, center; Kelly Ferguson and Clayton Phillips, guards; Dayne Norris and Richard Author, tackles; Carter Page and all the way for the Refiners.

Ed Altman tossed the second game for the Millers and Dewey Estes for the Refiners.

Booster Meeting And Pep Rally Is Planned Tonight

An important Booster Club meeting and pep-rally has been scheduled for to-night and all Antelope boosters, whether members of the club or not, are urged to attend. The meeting will get underway at 7 o'clock at the High School auditorium and the pep rally and bonfire will be staged immediately afterwards on a vacant lot near the school building.

In making the announcement, Hansford Hudman, secretary of the club, had the following to say: "Look, football fans—whether you belong to the club or not—let's all attend this meeting. It's all free and we promise you'll have a rip-roaring good time—and maybe come away feeling a little younger. Let's fill the auditorium for tonight's session and show these boys that, win, lose, or draw, Post is behind them one thousand per cent."

Hudman further said that Coach Bingham has secured a top-notch football movie for the occasion and the meeting will be followed by a mammoth bonfire and pep rally for the ball club and fans.

The first meeting of the club was held last Thursday night and was attended by a "fair sized" group of football supporters. The crowd, after Bingham presented his football boys, enjoyed a movie of the Texas Tech-Arizona 1946 game. Bingham gave commentary throughout the screening of the film.

Before adjourning the group resolved that this year's Antelope squad shall receive the backing of the entire town and that the team will play to capacity attendance at every home game.

Robinson-Davis Vows Solemnized At First Baptist Church Friday

In a candlelight service read at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the First Baptist Church, Miss Peggy Sue Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baker M. Robinson, became the bride of Paul Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Davis. The Rev. Huron A. Poinac officiated from an impressive double ring ceremony.

Miss Mary Margaret Duckworth, pianist, and Bill J. Davis, violinist, played a medley of wedding music before the ceremony, including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Because," "Desert Song," "One Alone," "Indian Love Call," "I Love You Truly," and, as the pre-nuptial solo, Mr. Davis played "Ava Maria." "At Dawning" was played as the candles were lit by Mrs. Richard N. Robinson of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Ruth Noles. They wore aqua suits with black accessories and yellow mum corsages.

All baskets of yellow mums and silver candelabra holding white tapers served as the setting for the exchanging of vows. White tapers in crystal holders on the choir rail served as the background. The bridal aisle was marked with white satin streamers which were attached to bridal bouquets in yellow and white to mark the family pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an original model grey suit fashioned on new long lines, a white crepe blouse, and a black off-the-face hat, with a shoulder length veil and other accessories of black. Her corsage was of white mums with bridal streamers. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Mrs. L. W. McGlothlin, Jr., of Pampa, attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a jungle green wool suit with white blouse and black accessories. Her corsage was of white mums. Bridesmaids were Miss Ganel Babb and Miss Melba Jo Miller. Miss Babb's suit was of beige wool with brown accessories. Miss Miller wore lemon yellow with black accessories. Their corsages were of yellow mums.

John Davis attended his brother as best man. Marvin Davis, brother of the bridegroom, and Delmo Gossett served as ushers. Miss Duckworth, pianist, wore dark brown accessories with her lighter brown suit. Her corsage was also of yellow mums.

Misses Dorrae and Jeneice Propst, Iris Parker, Betty Williams, Norma Hudman, and Mrs. Sammie West, who were chosen as honorary bridesmaids, wore yellow pompon marigold corsages with fall suits.

The bride's mother wore grey with grey and navy blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore black with black accessories. Their corsages were white.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The couple, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Davis and John Davis, greeted guests.

Baskets of yellow mums were used to decorate the parlor. The bride's table was laid with an imported Italian lace cloth and set with crystal appointments. White tapers and yellow and white dahlias formed the centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Davis cut the three-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under an archway of orange blossoms.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Post. Out of town guests were from El Segundo, Calif., Datil, N. M., Midland, Pampa, Jayton, Silverton, Tahoka and Lubbock.

The rehearsal dinner was given in the church parlor last Thursday night. The table was laid with a white linen cloth and decorated with a hand-painted but-terfly, made by Mrs. B. L. Soree, in a bouquet of yellow and white dahlias and yellow tapers. The bridal motif was used in the placecards.

Guests were the honored couple and Mr. and Mrs. Baker M. Robinson, the Rev. and Mrs. Poinac, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Robinson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Bill J. Davis, Mrs. L. R. ## Four-H Group Returns From State Session

For reasons not adequately explained to the Garza delegation at the recent State 4-H Club Round-Up at College Station, the state election of boys' 4-H officers was not held. Therefore, Garza's candidate for the presidency, Alvin G. Davis, did not have a chance to compete. The Garza group had not been informed, by the time they left College Station Saturday morning, as to whether or not last year's officers would hold over or whether the state election would be held at a future date.

"All we know," Eaton said, "is that they announced there would be no time for the election at the Round-Up." Garza County was represented by Miss Jewell Hipp, home demonstration agent; three 4-H girls, Jeanne Kiker, Lillian Bayer and Lois Ritchie, all of Close City; a 4-H sponsor, Mrs. Wilburn Morris of the Graham Community; Eaton, and seven 4-H boys, Davis, Gene Carpenter, Carter Gene White, E. P. Wicker, Jr., J. E. Thomas, Bennie Wilks and Jimmy Moore. Traveling expenses of three of the boys were paid by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Although she did not win a place, Jeanne Kiker, modeled in the state 4-H dress revue in a creditable manner, Miss Hipp said yesterday. "We were all extremely proud of our 14-year-old model."

The Garza Rifle Team, which won first place in district competition, placed sixth among the 14 districts entering teams in the state rifle contest, Eaton said. The recreation program, which included folk games and other entertainments applicable to the youngsters' home clubs, was led by Jane Farwell of Washington, D. C., a national 4-H recreational director, who was assisted by Walter Jenkins of Houston, well-known choir director.

The discussion groups, in which the boys and girls formulated their own plans for 4-H work of the coming year, were led by A. H. Aiton of Washington, D. C., a national field director of 4-H work.

D. G. Porterfield plans to enter McMurry, I understand.

June Taylor, the class's smartest member, will enter Tech, I think!

Vernon Lusk has enrolled in the University of Texas.

Helen Williams is office girl at PHS. Wylene Moss is now Mrs. D. C. Roberts, Jr.

Now you know everything I have heard, or suspect!

Blanche Connell Dalby Becomes Bride of Carl Adams Saturday

Mrs. Blanche Connell Dalby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giles W. Connell, became the bride of Carl Burke Adams of Fort Worth at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in a double ring ceremony performed by Dr. David H. Templeton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at the Connell home.

Mr. Adams is a son of C. I. Adams of Purcell, Okla., and Mrs. Stella Adams of Lexington, Okla.

The 200 wedding guests were received by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Loren Taylor; Mr. Taylor, and their daughters, Joan and Janet, all of Fort Worth; the bride's aunt, Mrs. Bruce Young of Fort Worth; her aunt, Mrs. Luther Hollowell of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Connell, and the bridegroom's mother. The women wore afternoon dresses with orchid corsages.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Novis Rodgers, pianist, presented a program of nuptial music, then Mrs. Tom Welborn of Lubbock, the former Skeeter Slaughter, read "Melody of Love" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Rodgers. The candles were lighted by Bryan J. Williams.

When the pianist began playing "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin", the minister and then the bridegroom and his son, Carl Adams, Jr., entered the spacious living room and took their places in front of the spacious fireplace where the vows were to be spoken.

Flowers Are White

On either side of and perpendicular to the fireplace was a white flower box holding an arrangement of small white chrysanthemums and lime leaves. A similar flower box on the mantel held eight white candles interspersed with lime leaves and medium white pompon chrysanthemums, reflected in the mirror above the fireplace. At each end of the fireplace was a tall floor basket of large pompons and lime leaves.

The bride descended the stairway with her son, Giles Dalby, who gave her in marriage. She wore a Howard Greer original mauve and black crepe dress, which was fashioned with leg of mutton sleeves, fitted from the elbow to the wrist, and styled with a modified bustle effect. She wore a Bergdorf-Goodman original black felt off-the-face hat with a long, hand-made, black lace French veil and a shoulder corsage of two white orchids. Her gloves and shoes were black.

The stairway was decorated with white pompon chrysanthemums tied to the bannister rungs with white satin ribbon.

The bridegroom and his son, who served as best man, and the bride's son wore identical dark blue suits with matching ties and white boutonnières.

Reads Benediction

As a benediction to the ceremony, Mrs. Welborn read "The Lord's Prayer," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Rodgers.

For the reception, which followed the service, a large double wedding ring cake topped with icing calla lilies was the feature arrangement on a table set with four antique silver candlesticks holding white tapers, two bowls of frosted punch and a tray of marshmallows covered with green mint icing and decorated with mint rosebuds and lilies of the valley. A garland of Mexican valley lilies hung from the cake to the floor.

Mrs. A. C. Surman and Miss Joann Taylor presided at the two punch bowls, and Miss Janet Taylor sliced the cake after Mr. and Mrs. Adams and their sons had each cut a slice.

Assisting in the house party were Mesdames James Minor, Glenn Kahler, Bryan J. Williams, Jr., Doyle Justice of Lubbock, Ernest Griffith of Lubbock, Bryan Williams and Irene Rodgers. All wore afternoon dresses with gardenia corsages.

From Out-Of-Town

Out of town guests included the bride's uncle, Allan B. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Bardwell, Mrs. Lonita Booth, Mrs. Bill Parks, Harry Denton, Harry Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wright, all of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. George Spining and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moncrief, all of Lubbock.

After a three weeks' wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Adams will be at home here in the historic home

Helen Hodges And Paul Mayr Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Helen Colleen Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hodges of Goldthwaite, to Paul R. Mayr, new pastor of the Church of Christ, was solemnized at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Church of Christ in Goldthwaite.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley E. Mayr, of Waco.

M. E. Blake, pastor of the Goldthwaite church, officiated with a single ring ceremony. George G. Walker of Waco served the bridegroom as best man. The bride's sister, Miss Nelda Hodges, of Goldthwaite served as maid of honor. She wore a British rose velvet dress, fashioned with a long torso, and brown accessories.

The couple stood beneath a latticed arch which was topped with wedding bells. The altar was decorated with greenery, gladioli and candelabra with cathedral tapers.

The pre-nuptial music included "I Love You Truly" sung by a chorus and "Because" presented by Miss Elizabeth Stockton and Miss Christine Ince, both of Goldthwaite.

The bride wore a blue suit with brown accessories and a frosty white blouse. She carried lilies of the valley with a white Bible.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. White flowers and candles were used as decorations.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents and George Walker of Waco and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. C. Chambers of Mullin.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Mayr will be at home here.

Mrs. Mayr was educated in the Goldthwaite High School and Abilene Christian College. Mr. Mayr is a graduate of the Waco High School and A.C.C.

NEEDLECRAFT CLUB MEETS IN M. K. BINGHAM HOME

The Needlecraft Club was entertained the afternoon of August 29 in the home of Mrs. M. K. Bingham. A business meeting followed an hour of visiting and sewing. Salad, wafers, ice cream and cake were served.

Attending were Mesdames Tomlinson, Pierce, Evans, Gordon, Bingham, Bivens, Malouf, Faulkner, Greenfield, Stone, Stevens and Clark, members, and Mesdames N. L. Luck R. H. Collier, Jr., and Don Foster.

Mrs. Luck assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

of the late C. W. Post, a wedding gift from the bride's parents. Their sons accompanied them on the trip as far as San Antonio, where they will be students this year at Peacock Military Institute.

Mr. Adams is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He is engaged in the oil business.

Mrs. Adams was educated at the Hockaday School in Dallas, National Park Seminary in Washington, D. C., and Gulf Park College in Gulfport, Miss.

PINT OF MILK PER DAY ESSENTIAL TO OLDSTERS

A pint of milk a day is a must if older people are to keep healthy and active, say food specialists of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Men and women in their fifties, sixties, and seventies often overlook milk in their diets, a neglect that deprives bones of necessary minerals.

To help provide enough calcium, protein and phosphorus for the proper upkeep of their bodies, a daily pint of milk is the minimum, say the specialists. A condition of demineralization of the skeleton may come from too little calcium in the diet and often leads to broken bones in later years. Some investigators have suggested that many a fall, which supposedly results in a bone break, is actually due to weakened bones which break and cause the person to fall.

Relatively little is known of the nutritional needs of the older age group, the specialists report, and

Fair Boosters To Visit Post September 16

A preview of the giant balloon parade which will open the 30th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock, September 29, will be a feature of this year's good will tours of the South Plains by a large group of Lubbock business men. The delegation, traveling by chartered bus, will reach Post at 9:55 a. m. September 16. They will present a program on the Post High School football field, giving the highlights of the 1947 "Show Window of the South Plains."

The boosters will have fair souvenirs for distribution, in addition to much printed information.

Their stay, a yearly pre-fair event, also includes a brief period for visiting and renewing old acquaintances on the downtown streets.

With the big Buck Steiner rodeo, the Bill Hames Shows and midget auto racing lined up for entertainment at the fair, and with good agriculture and livestock assured, fair officials expect record-breaking crowds to jam the 300 acre grounds.

Four trips in all will be made by the boosters. The first trip is September 16. Other trips are September 18, 23 and 25. Next week's jaunts will stop at Slaton, Southland, Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Meadow, Ropesville, Shallowater, Anton, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Farwell, Texico, Clovis and Portales.

State experiment stations are making studies aimed at correct dietary recommendations. Recent studies do show that older people have not lost their ability to store calcium and other minerals and that their diets should include milk.

Visitors to national forests totaled 55 million in 1946, compared with only 24 million in 1945, according to U. S. Forest Service records.

The people of Malta became British subjects in 1813.

Mahon District Get's Yearbooks On Agriculture

Four hundred copies of the 1943-47 Yearbook of Agriculture, "Science in Farming," published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture have been sent by Congressman George Mahon to the 300 public schools, the county agricultural agents and AAA offices, the 37 regular vocational agriculture departments of the schools and the 12 veterans vocational units in the 19th Congressional District and to the library of Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Congressman Mahon wrote the Post Dispatch that he regretted that this district's supply of the books was limited to 400 copies, as "the allotment is not a drop in the bucket when compared to our needs. There are one quarter million people in our district and many of them would like to have the yearbook."

In Layman's Language

The book has 934 pages, divided into the following categories: Animals, 23 chapters; plants, 32 chapters; trees, five chapters; soils, 16 chapters; insects, 15 chapters; new products, nine chapters; food and clothing, nine chapters; new practices, 22 chapters. It is printed in large type, in language understandable by a school child and is illustrated liberally with pictures.

The yearbook includes a brief history of agricultural developments, giving credit to "The Men Who Went Before," and devotes several pages to explaining farm research as it is carried on today and pointing out some faults of the research set-up. An example follows:

"The lag in time between the development of new knowledge and techniques through research and their use by farmers is too great. . . . Many promising techniques have left the experiment station to sit on the shelf for years until some enterprising farmer took the risk of trying them in a revised farming system. . . . We need to use pilot research farms, representing the different kinds of farms to be dealt with, on which the new techniques are tested within a complete farming system and modified as the need is shown."

Shows Optimism

The final chapter of the book indicates optimism for research. W. V. Lambert of the Agricultural Research Administration, one of the many writers of the yearbook, concludes with:

"The faith American farmers have placed in research by their continued support has been justified. Their representatives in Congress have reaffirmed this faith in the passage of the Research and Marketing Act of 1946, which promises greater support than ever before for agricultural research. With a better understanding of the many sciences that enter into the production and utilization of farm products, I believe we are on the threshold of new discoveries that will in their own way take their places beside the notable ones of the past.

The yearbook should be an excellent reference book for schools, as it is an encyclopedia of information about farming and farm life.

engines... long trains

mean lower cost to you!

But union leaders want "half-trains"-double crews!

Big locomotives are built to do a big job in the big country which is America—a big job in peacetime as in wartime. They are built to pull long trains.

Long freight trains can handle more goods at less cost—to you—than short trains.

Long trains mean fewer trains—fewer chances for accidents—fewer interruptions to traffic.

But a few railroad union leaders oppose long trains—among their current 44 demands for changes in rules is one limiting the length of freight trains to 57 average cars. Why do they demand this?

For "safety," they say. But is it? Government figures show definitely that long trains mean greater safety to railroad employes and public alike.

Then, if safety is not the real reason—what is the reason behind this demand? It is to make more jobs which are not needed—to get more pay! This "made work" would be sheer waste. Think of big, modern locomotives using only half their power.

For this waste, you—the public—would have to pay. Higher costs mean a lower standard of living for everybody. Nobody wants that!

Here's the record . . .

In the quarter century . . . 1921-1946 . . .

Average length of freight trains has gone up . . . . .	39%
Average speed of freight trains has gone up . . . . .	39%
The rate of injuries to railroad employes has gone down . . . . .	60%
Average wages paid railroad workers have gone up . . . . .	84%
Price of railroad materials and supplies has gone up . . . . .	58%
Railroad taxes have gone up . . . . .	76%
But the average charge by railroads for hauling a ton of freight one mile has gone down . . . . .	23%

NEWS NOTES FROM ... Duck Creek Soil—CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

Range Planner Here
Merle Britton joined the local Soil Conservation Service staff this week to assist the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District in pasture management. Britton came from the Forest Service where he spent 18 months in regrassing work on ranges. He is a graduate of the school of forestry, having majored in range management at the University of Idaho.

To Plant Hairy Vetch
Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperators plan to plant nearly 100 acres of hairy vetch this fall. Hairy vetch has four-fold benefits. First, it is a cover crop that protects the soil against wind and water erosion. Since hairy vetch is a legume it adds nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. Vetch as a pasture contains a higher amount of protein in its young growth than any other crop. Vetch seed has a value as a cash crop. It yields from 100 to three or four hundred pounds per acre. Vetch seed is now selling for 20 cents per pound.

Among those who intend to plant vetch this fall are: Al Bird—30 acres, J. W. McQuien—45 acres, T. R. Greenfield—6 acres, and Carl Rains—3 acres. Quannah Maxey has about two acres of vetch that went to seed this spring. He intends to let it make volunteer growth this fall.

To Try Austrian Peas
Bryan J. Williams, who lives 10 miles west of Post plans to try 10 acres of Austrian Winter Peas this fall. Soil technicians assisting the district believe Austrian Winter Peas are well adapted to the soil on the plains. Unlike hairy vetch which makes an abundant growth on sandy soils, Austrian Winter Peas do best on heavier, fertile soil. They are similar, however, in their benefits as a cover, soil building, pasture and cash crop.

Rye Seed Available
District cooperators who intend to plant rye this fall for pasture and a cover crop can get the seed at Spur or Snyder. The district office at Post has a list of farmers who have this seed for sale. The price is $6.00 per hundred pounds. This is delivered at cost if ordered in fairly large quantities.

Notes On Range Management
Sixty per cent of all of the top growth of a grass plant must be left on the plant to store food for carrying it through the winter season and unfavorable drought

Need Cafeteria Building
A total of 746 students had enrolled in the high school and grade school by press time. The 451 grade school pupils are the biggest crowd ever to attend that school. About the same number of high school students—295—are enrolled as attended last year. Day said yesterday. About five more first graders were enrolled during the past week, bringing the total to a record number of 83, Principal E. E. Pierce announced.

An average of 158 persons has been eating lunch in the school cafeteria each day, Pierce said. The menu consists of a fruit dish, a meat or meat substitute, a vegetable salad and milk, all for 25 cents a customer, each day. Mrs. M. C. Pennington, assisted by Mrs. Henry King and Mrs. R. L. Cummings, is operating the cafeteria in the grade school basement.

"We have hopes for a larger building for the cafeteria one of these days," Pierce explained, "and we certainly need it, if we are to accommodate all of the people who would like to eat lunch at school."
