EDDIE the EDITOR

All public servants get cussed by certain elements of the genepublic, and newspapermen and women are no exception.

It is a popular pastime among nembers of the vast Fourth Estate to argue over which is the most profitable way to cope with the people who cuss the editor.

L personally, belong to the Cussing-Back School, although I tried the Smile And Take-It method for a number of years. I really changed after I got out of the navy. While in service, I had to smile and take it and I swore that never again in civilian life would I ever let people talk like that to

But Evelyn Boyd is a dyed-in the-wool smile-and-take-it enthusiast. I have seen her smiling and agreeing with people who come in and cuss her out, even when they tell her she is not as smart as she thinks she is and that she has ruined their reputation and never again will they be able to face their friends.

After they leave, she laughs and says she didn't know she was that influential and she never seems a bit ruffled.

She and I argue over this technique, which includes the matter of little white lies. I am a great believer in telling the truth no matter how it hurts. There's nothing I love better than telling somebody who's cussing me out the bold, unvarnished truth about himself.

But Boyd will lie to them. If somebody that she knows she can't please calls her for a favor, you never hear her telling them that she won't do it because they never have liked anything that she has done yet and why should she spend her time on a project that will bring her nothing but criticism? No, she lies like a dog, tells them that she'd just love to help them out but it happens she has another engagement that day.

Trying to justify herself for lieing. Evelyn told me that she grew up as a believer in the virues of the truth and nothing but the truth, but that she had learn to lie the hard way. Back when she was a cub reporton a daily newspaper, she very influential woman by explaining that she forgot to come to her luncheon.

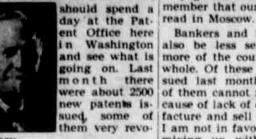

She said that the woman was furious and her wrath caused her a lot of trouble and nearly cost her the job. After that. she said, she found it was better to develop the little white lie technique

Maybe she's right. But I contend the disgruntled types treat me with a lot more respect after they find out that I know the truth about Evelyn argues that this 'respect" isn't real; that even though they respect me they don't necessarily like me. She says a person with personality shortcomings instinctively dislikes the person who discovers these shortcomings.

She really believes her technique is better. She says that when she sits and takes a cussing and smiles back and tells a little white lie or two to smoothe things over that she has done nothing offensive and the cusser goes away without knowing that she recognized his (or her) shortcomings and, conse quently, is apt to feel a bit of remorse. A remorseful person frequently can be converted into a friend, she

Editor's Note- Opinions expressed here are those of the author, and they do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Post Dispatch. The column is carried in the interest of applying world news to the situation here at home.

By EVELYN BOYD

During the 20 or more years! that I was away from Post, I received a letter from some member of my family here at least once a week.

I learned after a few years, that at least one letter out of four would contain a hard luck tale either about the drouth or the cesspools.

Year after year, as far back as I can remember, my father used jobs in all history. It is unexto say that unless it rained we celled. We olled the war successabout the middle of March and it seemed to me that I read it in almost every letter until Septemper or later. That complaint was more seasonal than the walls about the trouble the folks at home seemed always to be having with the cesspools.

I remember one time, the cesspool overflowed or something awful (fortunately nature allows one to forget unpleasant details) and filled the basement of our house. This, naturally, ruined all scrapbooks, literature and childhood trinkets that were stored there, as well as a beautiful chest full of exquisitely handmade baby clothes which Grandmother Power had made for my nephew, J. N.

Things like this didn't happen at our house every year. It seemed to me they happened every few months. The drouth and the cesspools almost thwarted my personality, they bothered me so. And they still do.

Our back yard is so full of cesspools, it isn't safe to walk across it. We've even dug 'em under the garage because there was no room anywhere else. We've dug 'em so deep, the she made an enemy of a Chinamen started hollering-yet we need to have them pumped every month or two.

THE POST DISPATCH

ESTABLISHED IN JUNE, 1926

Published Every Thursday at the Disputch Publishing Company Building in Post, Garza County, Texas

E. A. WARREN, Publisher-Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Post, Texas, for transmission through the mails as second class matter, according to an Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or irm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corsected upon being brought to the attention of the management

THE CITY COMMISSION EXPLAINS WHY IT HAS CALLED BOND ELECTION FOR JULY 3

Due to the recent growth of the City of Post and the pressing needs of sanitary sewerage facilities for over 2-3rds of the homes, and the opportunity for the City to purchase the existing waterworks system and sewer system for some $150,000 LESS than the depreciated replacement value of the systems, which bonds will be paid from the earnings of the systems and NOT from taxes.

Therefore, this election has been called for the purpose of authorizing the issuance of REVENUE BONDS, as follows:

CITY OF POST SEWER REVENUE BONDS CITY OF POST WATERWORKS REVENUE BONDS $200,000 $400,000 $600,000

WHY?

SEWER: Over 2-3rds of the homes within the City are without adequate sanitary sewer facilities, which forces these homes to use septic tanks and outhouses, thereby causing a very unsanitary condition. Also, the City can purchase the existing sewer system for about 1-3 of its appraised value, which, based on present earnings, will pay for itself in about five years, and the existing system will be tied into the proposed new sewerage system. The Sewer Revenue Bonds will be paid from the earnings of the sewer system and the earnings of the water system, for in order to finance the needed sewer extensions and enlarged disposal plant it is necesary that the revenues from the water system be pledged with the sewer revenues. Of the $200,000 SEWER REVENUE BONDS, ONLY $125,000 will be issued at his time, the remaining $75,000 in unissued bonds will be held as a reserve to take are of additional growth of the City, which will also prevent the possibility of aving to issue bonds paid from taxes for future extensions. In order to carry out he sewer project, it is necessary that the Waterworks Revenue Bonds Be authorizd at the same time.

VATER: The City can purchase the existing waterworks system at less than 4ths tits present depreciated replacement value, thereby, giving the City an additional ource of revenue to assist in the payment of the Sewer Revenue Bonds, and addional source of revenue available for other purposes, such as streets and parks. If the $400,000 Water Revenue Bonds to be voted, only $325,000 will be issued at his time to purchase the system, new extensions and improved water service, the emaining $75,000 bonds will be held as a reserve to take care of additional exensions, connections and improvements, should the present rate of growth of the lity continue. The City of Post is one of the very few cities in the State of Texas that oes not own it's own waterworks and sewer systems, which systems have in all ases provided much needed revenues to the cities over and above the debt servte requirements and operating expenses.

The above Revenue Bonds will be paid entirely from water and sewer earngs and NOT from taxation, as said bonds shall constitute special obligations of City of Post and each of the said bonds shall contain the provision that the holdthereof shall never have the right to demand payment of said obligation out of my funds raised or to be raised to taxation.

WHEN?

The bond election is to be held on Saturday, July 3, 1948, between the hours of Ma.m. and 7:00 p.m.

WHERE?

The Election Will Be Held At The City Hall

WHO?

Any and all property-owning tax payers residing within the city limits of the y of Post who have rendered their property for taxation and whose names apon the rolls of the tax collector and who have paid poll taxes for the year being poll tax receipt dated 1947, are qualitied to vote at the election.

Of Tires Seen By Chevrolet Dealer

Tire dealers are preparing for near-record sales during the next few months because of the unprecedented number of cars on the road and the high cost of gasoline consumption, reports J. P. Manly of the Connell Chevrolet Company, U. S. Tire dealer of this city.

"With more than 33,000,000" passenger cars on the road today, of which a majority are 19-41 models or older, the tire replacement demand is likely to be high," Manly said. "All told, there are nearly 3,000,000 more vehicles, including passenger cars and trucks, in operation today than there were a year ago."

Rubber is up 38%-cotton up 324%-carbon black up 189%labor and other materials up 50 per cent. Tire manufacturing costs have risen sharply since

Despite these increases, retail prices still remain below prewar levels, Manly pointed out. However, he admitted that it was problematical how long current prices could be maintained.

"With practically every other major consumer item selling above 1939 levels, tires have been one of the few exceptions where the buyer gets more for his money today than he did before the war," Manly said. "Not only has the tire industry endeavored to beat rising costs by keeping prices down, but it has provided the consumer with tires which are supenior to prewar types."

A good case in point, he said, was the U. S. Royal DeLuxe tire. the company's first line casing which gives 40 per cent more mileage than the prewar model. In addition, this tire in the popular 6.00 x 16 size now lists at $15.25 compared with $15.50 in near Justiceburg, and other spots sd dear to the memories of the Fortvish Set. It's not that modern day picnic grounds, such as the roadside park and second bridge, do not have the ants or the crowds of picnickers. It's that something has happened, maybe for the good. Once we used to pack some an old shoebox, tuck in an orange or two and call it a picnic. Now a new school of outdoor dining has grown up, exemplified by the handy case that holds everything from a vacuum jug for martinis to stainless steel knives for a steak a la fresh air. Picnicking has entered the Age of Elegant Equipment.

Many of the newest picnicking gadgets are available here in Post. Others, advertisements of which are now appearing in the New York Times, will be here by next summer.

Sand and Sandwiches

For those who always shy at mixing sand with sandwiches. there's a neat contraption that keeps you and the food well elevated from the ground. It's not only having a table always little wings on each side for reserved for you at any picnic place, but it is a table! You carry along what appears to be simple suitcase (33x141/2 in.).

When unfolded, the suitcase disappears and instead there's a table of comfortable height with four sturdy seats attached. and the top plastic. It weighs 32 a pair of asbestos gloves that enpounds, costs $29.50.

Modern leather and canvas picnic bags are superior to the to burns. These come not only straw traditionally used in hampers, because no wandering insects can penetrate. And if the wind blows up the sand, neither Bills feel at home on the range can that infiltrate.

Prices begin at $29.50 for a smart canvas case with service for four and go up to $115 for a brown cowhide beauty for six. One really prize model of can-vas, at $75, is 11x15½x19 inches, and contains six stainless steel knives, forks and spoons, six plastic grill plates and cups, one ventilated metal box for bread, two solid metal boxes for other food and two quart thermoses.

The covering late lamented Two Draw Lake, and lining of this case, as well the now forgotten Santa Fe Lake as the others, is washable.

If during your motor travels, you don't want to make such a business of lunching as these hampers suggest is necessary, then you may be better off with what is described as "the perfect partner for picnics."

This little set offers for $12.50 2 quart vacuum bottles, four cups and a roomy metal sandwich box. These are neatly fitted into peanut butter sandwiches into appropriate partitions, then the whole thing is zipped together. Grained leather is the material

There is nothing like the smell of a steak sizzling in the great outdoors unles it be the odor of a steak sizzling in the open air or the bouquet given up by a pot of coffee brewed over a campfire. If Father insists "he likes a hot meal once in a while, at least," then remind him that cooking outdoors is fun.

Lay the fire on a remarkable portable grill, which is another bit of fold-up magic. This closes compactly into a mere 1416x19x-21/2 inches, then opens into a stove that's somewhat more than a foot in height.

The food is laid on a 12x18inch cooking surface that has work tables. At an adjustable level below is the firebox, which may be raised for quick searing. then lowered for slower cooking. Of steel construction, this picnic marvel costs $9.85.

Is Popular With Garza HD Women

The women of Garza County have been very interested in remodeling their old furniture. The county home demonstration agent has given 20 demonstrations on upholstering furniture and slip covering furniture with an attnedance of 230 women. As a result of these demonstrations. 35 pieces of furniture have a "new lease on life."

These pieces of furniture in their new dresses add a great deal to the appearance of these homes, as well as to give-confidence to the women who did the work equal to a professional job.

Mrs. Wilburn Morris of the Graham Home Demonstration Club says, "I now have a much better studio couch than it was when new after retieing the springs and repadding and covering it with plastic material. Two other women who are members of this club, Mrs. Thelbert McBride and Mrs. Carl Fluitt, helped cover a couch for a neighbor and did an excellent job.

Mrs. Doyle Howell of the Cross Roads Club did several nice jobs on upholstering. After Mrs. Strasner had showed her how to tie the springs and cover the couch. she finished that job the next day after the demonstration and then covered six dining room chairs, a bed room rocker and dressing table stool. One thing called for another. The wooden parts of these pieces of furniture were refinished with that "new look.

The piece of furniture that showed the greatest improvement was done by Mrs. J. R. Davis of Post. The chair was thrown away by Mrs. Davis' neighbor who moved away rerently from the neighborhood. Since the chair lost its arms, Mrs. Davis made some new ones and with a hot poker made holes in the back part of the chair for the arms to connect to the chair. Since the chair was not as high as Mrs. Davis wanted for comfortable sitting, she boxed the legs and put rollers on the chair after it was finished so that she could roll it from one place to another. Mrs. Davis, who is in her early 80's used a striped denim-type material and the cost of the chair including material, cork, and tacks was

A precedent has been established in the low-priced automotive this week at the Baptist Church. field by combining handsomeness and beauty with durability and comfort in the interiors of the 1949 Ford cars, Power said.

Ford has broken away from the neutral tones which have been traditional for mass production automobiles as designers have turned to textured fabrics popular in fashions and interior decorating.

The instrument panel of the new Ford has been simplified. All instruments are combined in a single cluster directly in line with the driver's view

On each door, the chrome strip makes a decorative arc over the heavy artificial leather kick pads at the bottom. Flame-shaped center pillar lights provide plenty of illumination for the interior and for stepping into and out of the car.

New windows demonstrate the new trend. The rear window alone is 88 per cent larger-as large as the ordinary windshield. The windshield is deeper and wider. They give a picture window effect to the entire car and greatly improve all around visibility, the local dealer said.

Coloradoans How To Rope Calves

Ed Sims Showing

THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1948

Ed Kelly Sims, who recently eased a ranch seven miles from Walsenburg, Colo., is showing the Colorado Cowboys how the Texas boys rope calves. A Colorado newspaper on June 9 published the following account of his roping prowess:

THE POST DISPATCH Go To Matador

Mrs. Imogene Jewell, district president of the Auxiliary To the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. David Schultz, accompanied by Mr. Schultz and W. O. Holly, went to Matador Friday night to institute a new V.F.W. Auxiliary. Fiesta Rodeo last Sunday.

"Ed Sims of Walensburg completed the calf roping and tying in 11.2 seconds, setting a record for the Huerfano County show.

"Tom Coleman, arena secretary and director, said Sims' record is better than that for Madi-"A record time for calf roping son Square Garden, which is was broken at the Spanish Peaks 13.4 seconds,"

Stamford Rodeo Is Reputed To Be World's Best

Although numerous improvements have been added to the Texas Cowboy Reunion permanent fixtures this year, including new stall barns and stock pens, the popular admission prices for the rodeo July 2, 3, and 5 in Stamford remain the same.

L. W. Johnson, chairman of the ticket committee, states that general admission tickets will be $1.25, general grandstand $1.50, reserved grandstand $1.75, and box seats $2.25.

Since the first rodeo performance June 28, 1930, in a leased natural ampitheater near Stamford, enthusiastic spectators have spread Texas Cowboy Reunion's fame far and wide. Early this year, inquiries concerning the annual rodeo began reaching the Stamford Chamber of Commerce office from New York Tennessee, Georgia, Wisconsin and numerous other states. Reservations have been received from such points as Los Angeles. Calif., Aurora, N. Y., Nashville, Tenn., Fitzgerald, Ga., and many other far-away cities.
