

5 inches of rain and hail to bring crop replanting

A drenching three-inch rain Wednesday night—the heaviest soaker in the last eight or ten years—brought Garza county's rainfall for the last three nights to 5.14 inches or better.

Wednesday morning, it meant that Garza farmers are facing a lot of cotton replanting.

The hail storm is estimated to have wiped out a third of the county's young cotton crop with a deluge of ice. Last night's rain, atop the washing rains of Monday and Tuesday nights, is expected to have gotten a lot more with dirt washing over the two-week-old cotton plants.

It was too early this morning to accurately forecast the total amount of replanting, but cotton folks generally agreed that the turbulent weather had come early enough to permit replanting with-

Department's new truck due Friday

Garbage pick-up is to go on pay basis here

The City of Post's stepped-up garbage collection and disposal program—with a monthly charge tacked on—will go into effect soon with the new garbage truck in delivery at Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the city council.

City Supt. Henry Tate told Mayor Powell Stykes and the councilmen that the new $60,000 garbage truck scheduled for delivery Friday of this week.

The city superintendent also reported on a survey made here last week by a State Health Department man in connection with the city's proposed new garbage collection program.

Tate said the health department representative told him he would estimate an estimate within the next few days of the city's needs and would draw up a budget plan for the city to go by in carrying out the program.

Mayor Stykes said the council is looking now on an ordinance providing for payment for trash pick-up on both the business and residential areas of the city. He said that effort is being made to arrive at a fair and equitable charge, in addition to paying $6,000 for a new garbage truck, the city will add three employees to its garbage collection department, making five workers in all.

At this time, no charge is made for garbage collection. The city superintendent explained that under the new program, with customers paying for the service, the garbage department will be able to do better job all the way around, addition to emptying trash cans, hauling away the trash, the department will also haul away limbs, weeds and other debris piled on the alley.

Under the new system, it will not be necessary for the customers to (See GARBAGE on page 8)

Funeral rites are conducted today for Earl Hodges

Funeral services for Earl J. Hodges, owner of Hodges Tractor Co. here since 1934, who died at 9:15 p. m. Monday in Garza Memorial Hospital, were conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the First Christian Church, of which he was a member.

Mr. Hodges, who was 48, was admitted to the hospital last week after suddenly becoming ill at his home here. His death was attributed to heart trouble.

He was born Sept. 13, 1905, at Quinlan, Tex., and moved to Post from Lubbock, where he had lived for about 19 years.

Mr. Hodges was active in Chamber of Commerce work and also in Post Stampede, Inc., and the Garza County Quarter Horse Association. He was seriously injured when knocked down by one of his quarter horses about two years ago. As a result, he was away from his business here for some time, and after returning to it was unable at times to get around without the aid of a wheel chair or crutches.

He is survived by his wife, Geraldine; two daughters, Mrs. Rowena Pierce and Miss Thelma Hodges of Post; one sister, Mrs. Goldie Guidry of Amarillo; four brothers, J. R. of Terrell, Jim of Dallas, William of San Francisco and Charlie Hodges of Santa Rosa, Calif., and two grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Almon Martin, First Christian Church pastor. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

The city council voted Monday night to pay $265 toward the $375 it will cost to send three firemen to the state firemen's convention beginning June 8 in Fort Worth.

Fire Marshal Ralph Cockrell told the council at Monday night's meeting that the volunteer fire department has $110 toward the trip, that amount having been donated by oil companies.

Cockrell said that since the town's business men contributed around $1,000 a few months ago for the purchase of uniforms, they were not called on this time for state convention funds.

Cockrell said he, Luther Bilberry and C. R. Wilson are planning to attend the convention.

Bob Collier, daughter Diana undergo surgery

Bob Collier and his two-year-old daughter, Diana, underwent surgery last Thursday at the Scott & White Clinic in Temple. A piece of Collier's shinbone was removed for grafting on Diana's leg to remedy a bone infection.

Both patients are reported to be recovering nicely from the operations. Collier will be on crutches from six to seven weeks after dismissal from the hospital.

Mrs. Collier accompanied her husband and daughter to Temple May 26 and is remaining there with them. Other members of the family also have been with them the past few days. Miss Lucille Collier, Bob's sister, went to Temple Wednesday.

City issues four building permits

Four building permits for construction costing an estimated $16,535—one of them for a new residence—have been issued at the city hall.

The permit for a new residence was issued to Bob Mason for a home at 805 West Fifth St., costing an estimated $10,800. The specifications call for 1,092 square feet of floor space, frame construction, asbestos siding, central heating and a 12 by 24-foot garage attached.

Mrs. Jim Boren was issued a permit for a 12 by 30-foot apartment and two 10 by 12-foot rooms added to existing property at 102 East 11th. Estimated cost is $4,400.

C. R. Taylor received a permit for construction of a car port and storage addition at 815 West Fifth at a cost of $1,100.

Mrs. Mattie Dunlap was issued a permit for interior painting at her home at 114 Avenue O at an estimated cost of $235.

The four permits brought the year's construction total here to $466,992.

Rev. Matthews is reappointed here

The Rev. Eugene Matthews was reappointed as pastor of the First Methodist Church here at the Northwest Texas Conference held last week in Abilene.

Rev. Matthews is beginning his second year here. He was appointed to the Post church to succeed the Rev. W. L. Porterfield when the latter was appointed to the Anson church.

The Rev. S. M. Bean, who has been pastor of the Southland Methodist Church, has been assigned to the Middle Well Church in the North Panhandle area, and the Rev. C. A. Norcross, formerly of Spur, is new pastor at Southland.

Jim Sexton returned to his office Monday after being out for two weeks with blood poisoning.

Opening paving bids slated for June 12

The city will open bids at 10 a. m. on June 12 for paving and curb and gutter on 15 blocks of city streets. The cost of the paving—about $100,000—will be in new residential sections of West 13th and 14th streets, according to City Supt. Henry Tate. Some of it will be in the south and southwest sections of town.

Average up 91 on daily attendance

Average daily attendance in the Post schools has increased to 1,131 from the 1040 average daily attendance figure registered during the 1957-58 school year, Supt. R. T. Smith said today.

The 1,131 average daily attendance figure for the school year just closed makes the Post schools eligible for three additional teachers, Smith said.

These three teachers will be in addition to a second homemaking teacher, for whom provision had already been made, the superintendent said.

One of the three new teachers will be a shop instructor, since the board has voted to have the shop work class resumed for the 1959-60 school year.

Southland school bus to run to Post

Monday was the deadline for scholastic transfer applications, but boards of trustees in the various districts have until June 7 to file protests of any transfers, County Supt. Dean A. Robinson said today.

The county superintendent said applications had been filed from the Southland school district for transfer of 20 high school students to Post and five high school students to Southland, and for transfer to Post of five students whose

Sheriff helps clear up area break-ins

Sheriff Carl Rains' questioning Monday of two Post men held in Lubbock on burglary charges led to the arrest of two other Post youths, who have also been charged in Lubbock.

The sheriff said he went to Lubbock to question Wayne Parrish and John Vincent Thrash in connection with break-ins here.

"They didn't admit breaking into anything in Post, but what I learned from them cleared up two other Lubbock break-ins and one theft case," the sheriff said.

After the sheriff had talked to the two men held in Lubbock, he picked up Raydell Redman and Clifton Thrash here Tuesday morning and held them for Lubbock officers.

Two wrecking yard break-ins and a theft were cleared up during the questioning, Rains said. Parrish and John Vincent Thrash are being held in connection with the burglary of Lubbock's Flamingo Club on May 18.

New fire truck makes Maiden run

Post's new $20,000 fire truck made its maiden run Monday afternoon.

The new truck which was delivered May 25, sped to a fire at an oil lease at the northwest edge of town. The fire was caused by tubing burning out of a heating separator, with the minor damage confined to the equipment.

In announcing this week that the new fire truck is "just what we've needed," Fire Chief Robert Cato warns curiosity seekers against following the equipment to fires and hindering the work of the firemen.

"No matter how good your equipment is, you can't use it if you can't get to it," the fire chief said.

He reminds those who have been guilty of fire truck "chasing" in the past that the city council has authorized three firemen-police, and that either or all three of them are authorized to give tickets for violations during fires.

The fire chief also announced that the city has received bids on purchase of 1,000 feet of 2½-inch hose and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose to add to that which came with the new truck.

Mayor Powell Stykes and the other members of the city council deserve the thanks of everybody who believes in a spic and a pan community for their actions in purchasing a new city garbage truck and mapping out a real garbage collection program for Post. Post has long needed it. That it will cost some money shouldn't surprise anybody. A monthly service charge is the best way to handle it. With the establishment of the new service Post folks can expect just that — service. There will be enough men and enough equipment to do that job, haul the trash away and keep Post clean. It's a mighty important step forward, and one which has been planned for some time. Full details of the trash collection plan are contained on today's front page. Read them and tomorrow when you see your councilmen and mayor tell them you appreciate their actions in the matter.

A severe hail storm was mixed in with a million dollar rain early Wednesday morning. Thankfully, the hail damage came early enough for farmers to replant and nature to carry on with a good cotton crop. One Garza stockman in town yesterday morning — and he lives a number of miles out — reported happily that every tank he saw on the way in was filled — at last. Stock water was beginning to become a real problem hereabouts. Anytime it rains two inches in West Texas, especially this time of year, it's worth at least a million dollars, one local business man told us yesterday. So this already has become a mighty profitable week.

To keep right on trying

The Dispatch with this issue begins its 33rd year of publication as this community's newspaper—and also begins the third year under its present ownership.

It's an anniversary for The Dispatch which shouldn't pass completely unnoticed, although in the busy world of newspapering there is seldom time to pause and look back. There is always more to do than can be accomplished in a long week and always another issue just ahead with its assignments and its problems.

But we do think it fitting to do this anniversary editorial on the position of The Dispatch in community affairs.

The Dispatch stands for initiative and progress. We don't get into trouble so much on that score, as most people also want progress, although there are always those who want things left just exactly as they are.

The Dispatch believes that in reporting the news of the community we should report all the news. This is where the trouble comes. For a variety of reasons lots of people would prefer to see this story or that one left out. In refusing to do so, we have been called a lot of names and have been told quite frequently that we do it "only to sell more papers."

That of course isn't the case. We see it as a duty of a community newspaper to report the news fairly and completely to the community, firm in the belief that an enlightened public in the long run is the only kind to have.

The Dispatch has its arguments—lots of them—with local governmental boards about putting the news in the paper. And we are often "forgotten" when notification time comes for special meetings.

The Dispatch has tried, for solid professional reasons, to stay away from the bombastic style of journalism which makes mighty good reading, but which has little effect on community thought. We know that there are two sides to every story and we try to get both sides. When peevish on both sides of a controversy get a bit peeved about the way the story is written we figure the paper has done a fair job of unbiased reporting.

Newspapering isn't all fun and glamor. Mostly it's hard work, and some of that unpleasant. It's no way to win popularity contests—but newspaper folks take a lot of professional pride in trying to put out as good a reading newspaper as they know how, even when it hurts.

We will promise you this at the start of a new year—we intend to keep right on trying.—JC.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WHEN WE WROTE last week's "Thursday to Thursday" column, well ahead of the Thursday publication time, we were wondering if the "graduation week rain" legend would hold true. Sure enough, it did. The commencement exercises were Monday night and it rained—just a little—two nights later.

This week's issue of The Post Dispatch is Volume 33, Number 1, which means that The Dispatch is embarking upon its 33rd year of publication. That makes it a good time to use the following article, "Some of the Joys of Newspapering," which we clipped somewhere and have been carrying around in our pocket ever since. An aroma of fascination surrounds a newspaper, making many persons say they'd like to own one. It is a fascination which clings to everyone except newspaper people. They have no illusions. Now to own a newspaper, here is what you'll have to do in one normal day:

Explain to Mrs. Smith why Aunt Sarah's 85th birthday party was not on the front page.

Explain to an advertiser why it is impossible to get him on page 3.

Explain to an ex-subscriber why you had to cut off his unpaid subscription.

Explain deadlines 500 times a day and why you have to have them.

Soothe a lady who called her party in too late.

Explain why some weeks you've got news running out your ears and other weeks the paper reads like a report on Amalgamated Steel.

Apologize to an advertiser for an error in his ad and smile sweetly while he tells you what an idiot you are.

Decipher scribbling that comes in written on check backs, paper napkins, a corner of Junior's arithmetic paper or the back of a letter from Cousin Frank.

Put a balky Linotype that is as nervous as a dish of jello and puts you further behind when you are already behind.

Cope with a folder that is antisocial and wallowing in its own importance that it can, at this final minute, keep you from getting a paper circulated and starts acting like a little boy who wants to go to the bathroom.

Explain to a customer arriving late with copy that if you get his stuff in, you'll have to leave somebody else out and then explain to the one you left out.

The last run made, you'll feel a sense of relief—for about five minutes. Then you start explaining why you did this or didn't do that and it starts all over again.

AND IF YOU think we're stretching it and that those things don't really happen, just drop in and spend a week with us some time!

Our friend up the street says cold cash melts away when you're having a hot time.

THE MAJORITY OF us who smoke cigarette packs, but who many of us have ever paid any attention to whose picture appears on the tax stamps sealing each package?

During the past 80 years, the thoughtful, unsmiling face of De Witt Clinton has appeared on those tax stamps.

That makes Clinton, a 19th century New York politician and unsuccessful presidential candidate, one of the most-pictured men in history, since nearly 500 billion tax stamps have been pasted on cigarette packages during those 80 years.

Even so, he languishes in obscurity.

After June 24, Clinton will recede even further to the shadows of the past. On that day the blue tax stamps will be discarded, to be replaced by the more modern device of tax returns.

Since Clinton's face was put on the stamps in 1879, 498 billion have been printed. This is more than any other U. S. stamp with the possible exception of the old three-cent postage issue picturing George Washington. The post office said it did not know how many of these were printed.

Clinton, who was born in 1769 and died in 1828, was best known for pushing the Erie Canal to completion.

He was James Madison's opponent in the 1812 presidential election. He was swamped in the electoral vote. On the other hand, there aren't many pictures of Madison still around.

Parting Thought: Civilized man doesn't eat his own kind—but he'll skin them.

Why so many marriages in June?

One of our society page readers wants to know why more marriages occur in June than in any other month. Offhand, we didn't know—in fact, we'd wondered about it ourselves. But we've done a little research on our reader's question and what we've come up with seems about as good an answer as anything else.

The reason June is the favorite wedding month in the United States and Canada as well as in many other countries is because June marriages are considered lucky. We don't mean that every couple getting married in June is doing so because they believe in the luck addage, but in most cases they are following the pattern set by those who did and do believe in it.

The belief that June marriages are likely to be lucky is believed to be a throwback to ancient superstition and mythology. Some authorities suggest that the season of the year corresponding to our June may have been the natural mating period for human beings in primitive times. "Prosperity to the man and happiness to the maid when married in June" was a proverb in ancient Rome. It was popularly supposed that the month of June was named in honor of Juno, whose festival was held on the first of that month. Juno, the wife of Jupiter, was not only the guardian of the female sex from birth to death but also the patroness of happy marriages.

Does that answer the question? Whether it does or whether it doesn't, our congratulations to all the couples who are going to be married in June, and we certainly wish them the best of luck. As for us, we were married in August, but any good luck that has missed us since that time can hardly be attributed to our marriage or to the month in which it took place.—CD.

Those were the good old days!

Since everybody seems to be wishing for something nowadays, the small business man can't be blamed for longing for the carefree happy days when all he had to do was to look after his business.

It hasn't been too awfully long ago when the small business man was unburdened by a payroll tax, a sales tax, a social security or a withholding tax to complicate the problem of doing business. Nowadays, in addition to the problem of conducting the business, the small business man has to keep a set of books that take a good share of his spare time.

It's about the same deal for the farmer. There was a time when all he had to worry about was work and whether or not the crop season was going to be good enough to make ends meet—which, goodness knows, was enough to worry about. Nowadays, however, he's faced with the same added problems as the small business man, and such other things as keeping a record of gasoline use for tax purposes, adherence to wage and hour regulations, and a raft of other detail work.

That, of course, is the way progress works, but even the more progressive of us hanker now and then for those long-gone days when we pretty well took care of our own business and let the government take care of its own.—CD.

Riders gone but not forgotten

We've just read where the sheriff's posse from Lynn, our neighboring county on the west, won the first place trophy in the Lamesa Rodeo parade. It reminds us that while Post still has two rodeos a year, its mounted group—the Post Stampede Cowboys—has been inactive for some four years.

During its heyday, from about 1948 until up around 1954, the Post riding group probably won more parade trophies than any other sheriff's posse or riding club in West Texas.

The Post Stampede Cowboys, as a unit, passed away gradually, so to speak. Its members were busy business and professional men, farmers and ranchers. It seemed that with each successive parade entered by the Post riders, the number able to make the trip became fewer and fewer. But, for several years, the Post Stampede Cowboys compiled an enviable record. The trophies are still around somewhere to attest to it.

As long as Post is going to remain one of the "rodeo centers" of West Texas, it has need of such a riding group as the Post Stampede Cowboys to help publicize its two rodeos and its quarter horse show. Maybe some day the riding group will become active again, maybe not. But the colorful mounted unit will long be remembered here for having helped write a chapter in Post's history.—CD.

There are job openings for grads

Good news to many of Post High School's 43 graduates of 1959 and to other high school graduates throughout the nation is word that they will find plenty of jobs available to them this year. But advancement and opportunities for the best jobs will be reserved for those who go on for further training at night school, through correspondence courses, or under apprenticeship programs.

For those who do not plan to go on to college or trade school, the competition comes from those who have had some education beyond high school. Most job seekers have had some post high school training, either vocational or academic.

Although many occupations are closed to those with nothing more than a high school diploma, there are many fields in which demand is strong.

Occupations in which the high school graduate will be most likely to find a job include: Clerical worker, sales worker, mechanics and repairmen, apprentices (there are over 90 apprenticeship trades) and technicians, where the demand is strong for laboratory assistants and aids in many fields.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

Some reporter or other last week, giving figures on the wheat crop in the Panhandle and South Plains, said the dry land crop in this area is a total failure. Not inclined to argue with the reporter, but sure that such a pat statement couldn't be true, we've inquired somewhat. There are a few dry land fields in Floyd County that, as of this moment, and barring hail, will do as well as last year's momentous crop. Never be sure either way about wheat in Floyd County.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

An optimist is a father who is willing to let his teen-age son take the brand new car on a date; a pessimist is one who isn't, and a cynic is one who did.—The Slaton Slatonite.

Mosquitoes were unknown in England 500 years ago. The reason for it is simple. How would you like to be a mosquito trying to pick up a living in an age when everyone wore suits of armor? Mosquitoes are sort of like people. They're in business to make a living just like anybody else. Only thing is, they're out for blood. Right about now, the mosquito business is booming in Littlefield. They're making a real profit, sticking it to every customer they can find. In fact they're becoming such a monopoly, a whole lot of folks think the city ought to step in and do something about it.—Lamb County Leader.

Secretary of State Christian Herter faced the Reds across the conference table last week. This is probably the first time a Christian has had to combat communism on a high level.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

At Camp Post here
Fraternity builds Boy Scout chapel

Approximately 102 members and leaders of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity observed "Community Service Day" earlier this month with the construction of an outdoor chapel for area Boy Scouts at Camp Post.

The chapel is to serve as a seasonal center for the Scouts. Community Service Day is an annual event observed by 120 college chapters of the fraternity.

The site for the chapel is across a deep ravine from the main camp which is reached by foot bridge. A secluded area which has as backdrop the rugged edge of the rock rising approximately 75 feet.

The altar consists of a partial view at the back, with an altar and lectern in front. A partially wooded area might be included later for shelter during private conferences or meditation at the altar. A weather-proof and vandal-proof storage area for hymnals, candles, books, etc., could be furnished at the altar or behind the screened backdrop.

Seating consists of planks bolted onto telephone pole uprights which are implanted into the ground.

The whole aspect is conducive to reverence. Igneous rock, rustic wood, brick, stone, redwood, and concrete were used in the project.

This is Texas Epsilon's fourth year of community service work. The last three years have been spent landscaping the Lubbock Children's Home.

President of the chapter is Bill Dean, junior from Lubbock. Chapter advisor is John Harding, an instructor on the Tech faculty.

Bible Thoughts
"FOLLOW ME"

by RONNIE PARKER

In Mark 8:34 Jesus says "Follow me." The word follow is used 77 times in the Gospels of following Christ. Defined—it means to be a follower or companion. Here expressing union, likeness, and a way—hence one going in the same way.

Mark 8:34 reveals four principles of the Christian life.

1. First, to have a sincere desire to belong to Christ. "If any man 'be willing' to be my disciple."
2. To renounce self-dependence, and selfish pursuits. "Let him deny himself."
3. To embrace the conditions which God has appointed and bear the troubles and difficulties he may meet in walking the Christian road. "Take up his cross."
4. To imitate Jesus. "Let him follow me."

There is power in example and Jesus is the perfect example. Thus he says "Follow Me." God gave us more than a book of rules. He gave us a man. His divine Son is our example—our pattern. Follow Him!

COMMITTEE MEETS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Miss Freda Kennedy presided at the registry where approximately 25 guests signed the bride's book at the reception which followed. Miss Rhea Hays and Miss Jo Ann Rogers, sister of the bridegroom, served punch and cake from a serving table laid in white cut work over blue. Crystal and silver complemented the punch and cake. The centerpiece was composed of an arrangement of white and blue gladioli.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a two-piece cotton dress of black and white. Her accessories were black and she wore a white orchid corsage. They will be at home in Welch's Traylor Park on West 15th.

A Church Not Supported Weekly Is Weakly Supported

A NEW LIFE

These young children are enjoying a most wonderful experience... they are holding a new life in their hands. How tenderly they cradle the little chicks... for they know without being told that a new life needs warmth, protection and gentle care. This instinct for protecting the young is as old as life itself.

As these children guard their little chicks... so does the unseen hand of God protect, guard and comfort our lives. We are all the children of God and as such, we can look to Him to watch over us throughout all the days of our life. Begin now to enjoy the rich experience of His companionship. Attend the church of your choice.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man, and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

4 Post boys going to Salvation Army camp

From cities, towns and rural communities all over Texas, 150 boys will take leave of Mom and Dad and their youthful playmates for the first time in their lives, as they leave their homes by bus, private car or train at the weekend to spend one week at The Salvation Army camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas.

The group will be Dennis Holman, Curtis Holman, Charles Bass and Johnny Peoples from Post. The boys will be met at bus stations in Midlothian or Waxahachie, towns near Camp Hoblitzelle, and transported to the camp, where they will be housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins and will be furnished meals in the large airy dining room prepared by expert chefs to meet the physical needs of healthy growing youngsters.

Glenn Whittenberg, camp chairman for Post, has been busy for several weeks selecting worthy boys, those who otherwise would not have an opportunity to spend a full week in camp where there is fun, recreation, companionship, relaxation, crafts, organized sports — all under the guiding hands of men whose lives have been dedicated to the task of helping others.

Boys who spend a week at Camp Hoblitzelle this season will find a new attraction — the huge but gentle St. Bernard dog that was imported from Switzerland and presented to Camp Hoblitzelle as companion and playmate for the children who spend their vacations there.

Camp Hoblitzelle, located on a beautiful wooded tract of 340 acres, seven miles south of Midlothian and eight miles west of Waxahachie, within less than one hour's automobile ride from Dallas, has well arranged playgrounds for all boys' sports, with modern playground equipment; swimming pool, lake for boating and fishing; organized sports under direction of experienced coaches — everything that can bring happiness and a realization of the dreams and hopes of growing boys.

Camp Hoblitzelle has been provided by The Salvation Army for the boys of Texas, through the generous gifts of more than one hundred liberal men and women of the state, who provided money for purchase of the land and for the buildings and other improvements that have been made there. The camp is operated by The Salvation Army for the benefit of the boys who find good food, pleasant experiences, and happiness there.

In Post, The Salvation Army is supported by the Community Chest which raises money in this community for support of The Salvation Army and other youth, health, and welfare agencies.

Garza youngsters participating in Reading Roundup

AUSTIN — Thousands of young Texans in 23 counties, including Garza, began participating June 1 in the "Texas Reading Roundup," the largest reading club of its kind in the nation, according to State Librarian Witt B. Harwell.

The second annual vacation reading club, sponsored by the Texas State Library, is open to all school-age children and teen-agers in the four multi-county demonstration areas of the Rural Library Service.

The demonstrations are a part of a state-wide program under the Library Services Act to provide groups of counties, at the request of their county commissioners courts, a one-year demonstration of first-class rural library service. At the end of the one year period, the demonstration is moved to another group of counties that have asked for the service.

From June 1 to Aug. 31, the youngsters will be reading books brought to them by the Texas State Library Bookmobiles in addition to using the facilities of the public libraries in the demonstration areas. As they register for the reading club they will be given individual log sheets upon which they will record the books they read. All who complete the reading logs will be awarded Texas State Library reading certificates.

"New and attractive books are available for children and young people of all ages," Harwell said, and have been selected to meet their various interests whether they are reading for recreation, information or inspiration."

Counties making up demonstration areas include: Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza and Kent; Dawson, Gaines, Terry and Yoakum; Houston, Liberty, San Jacinto, Trinity and Walker; Jim Wells, Kleberg, Live Oak and Nueces. Counties that have had the Bookmobile demonstration in the past and that are participating in the program are: Blanco, Brazos, Burnet; Hidalgo, Willacy, Llano, Grimes, Madison, Burleson and Robertson counties.

Boys and girls may register at their public libraries participating in the program or at the Texas State Library Bookmobile in their area.

5-Inch Rain—

Water covered highway US-84 in two places near Southland and one-way traffic was enforced yesterday morning by the highway department.

Many farm homes in the Southland area were virtually isolated by water from the drenching storm. About three inches of rain fell within a 45 minute period along with heavy hail stones.

Actually Slaton took the brunt of the storm. In Slaton high winds ripped the roof off one residence and a business building, blew down some 15 telephone poles, stripped limbs from trees and hail cut a "totally destroyed" swath through croplands to the southeast. The power was knocked off in the west half of Slaton for the rest of the night.

Mrs. C. F. Austin, who lives six miles southeast of Slaton, reported a bank of hail three and one-half foot deep in one field and six and one-half inches of hail in her farmyard.

In the Southland, Pleasant Valley and Barnum Springs areas large hail stones did extensive damage to trees, window lights, and all crops.

Farmers in the hailed area told that they could not measure the rainfall as their rain gauges were smashed by the hail.

In the eastern part of the county, where no hail fell, it was reported a lot of the cotton, planted only a week before last, was covered up by the washing rains and wind, and will have to be replanted.

Here in Post there was no hail, but winds were estimated at 60 miles an hour. The storm struck in the Southland area about 2 a. m. and here about 2:30 to 2:45 a. m.

All told Post received about two inches of rain in two nights, as a good thunderstorm also hit Monday night. Snyder, 40 miles south of Post, was hit by even heavier storm blows at about the same time.

Straight winds estimated at up to 90 miles an hour hammered that city with the storm dumping up to three inches of rain and heavy hail on the community.

A half million dollars in damages to Snyder were estimated Wednesday morning. Four were hospitalized there

CIRCULATION GAINING STEADILY

561 books are checked out of Bookmobile in Garza County

Circulation is gaining steadily for the Texas Library's Bookmobile in Garza County, Miss Mary Jo Vines, librarian, reported Tuesday after another swing through the county making six stops.

The last Post visit on May 23 brought a checkout of 367 books, 181 by adults and 186 by boys and girls with 24 new registrants.

On the five stops in other parts of the county Tuesday, results were as follows:

Pleasant Valley—39 books checked out, 37 adult and 22 juvenile and one new registrant.

Justiceburg—33 books checked out, 17 adult and 22 juvenile and one new registrant.

Close City—16 books checked out, 7 adult and 9 juvenile.

Southland—47 books checked out, 16 adult and 31 juvenile and 3 new registrants.

Graham—33 books checked out, 17 adult and 16 juveniles.

This is a total of 561 books checked out during the bookmobile's county visit.

The schedule calls for the bookmobile's next Post visit on Saturday, June 13, from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and 12:30 to 3 p. m. on West Main.

Sims ties for first in Floydada rodeo roping

Ed Sims of Post split first and second money in best average in the calf roping event at the Floydada Rodeo which ended Saturday.

Jimmy Moore split fourth place money in bullriding. Both he and Eddie Stewart, another Post rider, received leg injuries in the bullriding event.

Other Post rodeo performers competing in the show included ropers R. E. Josey, Buck Craft and Mike Mitchell.

Story is told of World Neighbors

Rotarians were told the story of World Neighbors, an organization of Americans to help the world's underprivileged and win them from Communism, at their Tuesday luncheon.

Art Bowman of Lubbock was the speaker. He showed a film explaining how World Neighbors, comprising some 10,000 Americans are helping 1,000,000 of the world's underprivileged in 2,000 villages in Africa, India, and the Philippines.

Bowman appealed to the community to understand World Neighbors and to join it if they wanted to help.

This is not an aid program in the sense of giving funds. Funds raised are used to train and staff workers on such projects to show the underprivileged how to help themselves.

Bowman stressed that Communism is fighting hard to win these people and are doing so at the rate of a million a month.

Morris Chambless, a geologist, was inducted into the Rotary club as a new member.

Revival begins Sunday at Assembly of God

A revival will be held at the Assembly of God Church starting Sunday. The date had previously been set for June 14.

Evangelists Rev. and Mrs. Roy Lee, who are also vocalists and instrumentalists, will be in charge of the revival.

The public is invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gray of Lubbock spent the weekend in Post with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shedd.

Postings—

House hunting in Post is just as tough as ever we were told this week by one of the wives of the new B. J. Well Service unit which is moving three more families into Post. C. R. Taylor, in charge of the B. J. Well Service operations has purchased a home, but the others are looking for rentals and finding it difficult.

Despite the heavy residential construction in recent months, housing here remains extremely tight. We hear a drilling rig with full crew will move in shortly from New Mexico to add to the problem. No relief for Post's rental housing problem appears in sight.

On page 3 you'll find the announcement that the Post Ready Mix Concrete Co. will be in operation Monday. Remember we told you all about that last week.

Library is open for the summer

Twenty-one books were checked out during the first hour Tuesday afternoon as the city-school library at the high school opened its summer schedule.

Mrs. Lillie McRee said early response to the library's summer opening was gratifying and she predicts the most successful summer season since the school library program was inaugurated.

The high school library will open from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m. every Tuesday and Thursday. The junior high school library where Mrs. Noia Brister is librarian, is open from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesdays.

been moved in from Snyder set up down near the Jones elevator on the Santa Fe tracks. There are two good indications the Post is really building — and the word is getting around.

Garbage—

(Continued From Front Page) burn their trash, since there will be two pick-ups a week in the residential districts and a pick-up every night in the business district, Tate said.

The city plans to use the new truck for daytime pick-ups in the residential districts and the present truck for nighttime pick-up in the business district.

The new garbage truck has a 16-cubic-yard capacity as compared to the old truck's 12-cubic-yard capacity.

Mayor Shytles also pointed out the importance of having the downtown alleys paved to facilitate trash pick-ups in the business district.

The mayor said the Chamber of Commerce had offered its help in "feeling out" business men on the alley paving proposal.

The mayor explained that curbing and gutters would not be necessary in the alley paving.

The city superintendent also said "we think we can spread out our garbage pick-ups to the mill village, Sunset Addition and other areas not served at this time."

Also during the course of the discussion, Tate told the council that the State Health Department representative told him his survey showed that Post is "right on the border-line" toward being at a point where the garbage hauled to the city dump ground will have to be covered.

"That's something else for us to think about," Tate said.

Indians beat Cubs to go to top of Pony League race

The Indians edged past the Cubs, 9 to 7 Monday night to remain undefeated and take over first place in the Pony League standings.

In a big fourth inning, in which they scored six runs, turned the tables for the Indians, but they had a fight off a Cub uprising in the final frame which scored five runs and pulled the losers to within one of the leaders.

The Cubs took an early lead in the bottom of the first when Glen Rinker reached first on an error and scored on Danny Odom's double. The Indians tied the score at 1-1 in the second inning then set off fireworks in the fourth to go 4-1 in front for good.

Doubles by Polk and Dickie Price and a single by Sylvester Collazo on the only hits the Cubs got in the bottom of the seventh, but a hit and two Indian errors helped across the five runs that allowed the Cubs to overtake Redmen.

Cubs beat Braves in real slugfest

The Cubs had to hang on in the final inning and choke off a Brave rally Saturday night to win a Memorial Day Pony League game, 18 to 15.

The Braves, trailing 18 to 10 going into the top of the seventh, loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batsman off Sylvester Collazo, who had come in as the second Cub relief pitcher. He walked Ayala to force in a run, then forced in another by walking Gore, and a third run crossed the plate when he hit Tommy Rinker with a pitched ball. A balk forced in another run and still another scored on an overthrow. Perez was out stealing to end the game.

The Cubs collected 19 hits off Jackie Curb, the Braves' starter, and Wally Shumate, who came on in relief. Collazo and Ronnie Stone each had four hits.

Sutter was the starting pitcher for the Cubs, with Eddie Gonzales coming on in the third to pitch to one batter. He was relieved by Dickie Price, who gave way to Collazo in the fifth.

Jackie Curb and Shumate each had two hits to pace the Braves' batters.

Indians clobber White Sox, 15-9, in Thursday tilt

Indian hurlers David Nichols and Pat Cornell kept seven hits well scattered last Thursday night as the Indians downed the White Sox, 15 to 9, in a Pony League game.

The Indians collected only eight hits off the combined offerings of Henderson and Reed, but bases on balls and errors contributed to the Sox' downfall.

The winners scored six runs in the bottom of the first, the only base hits being a double by Valdez and singles by Claiborne and Sullivan.

In the second, the Indians upped their lead to 9-0, with Morales' double driving in three runs.

Henderson tripled with one out in the top of the third and scored on Gordon's double for the White Sox' first tally.

The Indians kept up the pace in their half of the third with four more runs and added singletons in the fourth and fifth.

The fourth inning, when they scored five runs, was the big one for the losers. They got two more in the sixth and another in the seventh.

Red Sox defeat Yankees, 12-5

The Red Sox came from behind in the fifth inning to score five runs last Thursday night and defeat the Yankees, 12 to 5, in a Little League game.

The Yankees got off to a two-run lead in the bottom of the first inning on four hits by Villa, Welch, Charles Landroop and Pierce.

Wendell Johnson's solo homer broke the scoring ice for the Red Sox in the second frame, but they were held scoreless in the top of the third, with the Yankees coming back in the bottom of the inning to score two more runs on two hits — both doubles by Cross and Landroop.

The Red Sox trimmed the Yankees' margin to 4-3 in the top of the fourth on Long's two-run double. They went ahead to stay in the top of the fifth when a double by Nichols and singles by Cockrell and Harper pushed five runs across — with the assistance of Yankee fielding errors.

The winners increased their lead to 12-4 by scoring four times in the top of the sixth, although they didn't get a hit. The runs came on two hit batsmen and fielding errors.

The Yankees scored another run in the bottom of the final inning.

Ranch wells to test San Andres on plug backs

McCrary and Franklin, Post operators, have applied to plug back and work over two projects in the O. S. Ranch (Glorieta) area and complete as San Andres producers.

If either one or both are completed from the San Andres pay, they may be classified as wildcats by the Railroad Commission since the nearest San Andres production is about 3.5 miles northwest in the Post field and 4.25 miles south in the Curt-Roy producing area.

The first application was to plug back McCrary and Franklin's No. 2-130-M McCrary, originally drilled to 2,690 feet in the Glorieta and completed as a 78 barrel a day pumper from that pay.

The operators propose to plug it back to 2,093 feet and test the San Andres. It is located 400 feet from south and 345 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of Section 130, Block 5, H&GN Survey, 14 miles east of Post.

Production in the edge well is apparently depleted from the Glorieta.

The second workover project is McCrary and Franklin's No. 1-B McCrary, current active production on the east edge of the field.

Apparently commercial production was missed in the Glorieta. The operators propose to plug this hole back to 2,094 feet and test the San Andres.

Located 1,850 feet northwest of the No. 2-130-C McCrary, it spots at 990 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from east lines of Section 130, Block 5, H&GN Survey, 14 miles east of Post.

Both projects are on the southeast edge of the field.

Post woman's mother is buried at Tahoka

Funeral services and burial were conducted at Tahoka last Thursday for Mrs. A. T. Beard, 83, mother of Mrs. J. M. Haley of Post.

Mrs. Beard died May 26 in a Kerrville hospital after an illness of about 10 years. She was a native of Cooke County and moved to Lynn County in 1907. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Besides the daughter of Post, Mrs. Beard is survived by another daughter, two sons, a sister, 10 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Tigers lose third straight as Yankees take 16-11 victory

The Little League Tigers were still looking for their first victory Monday night after losing to the Yankees, 16 to 11.

In three games thus far, the Tigers have scored lots of runs, but their defense has yielded more than they have scored.

The Yankees scored 14 hits in Monday night's win, including a lead-off home run by Butch Cross in the second inning.

Pierce also smashed a home run for the Tigers, one of the nine hits they came up with.

CAUSE OF GREAT CONCERN

Tips on cleaning of leather and marble given by Garza home agent

By JESSIE PEARCE

I will discuss two specific cleaning problems today, problems that may not involve many people, but which cause great concern among those persons who have them. These problems are cleaning of leather and marble.

Leather is being used more and more on modern furniture. Any time we find leather used in large or small amounts, in home furnishings, there is also the problem of caring for it properly. Use pure castile or saddle soap to clean leather. Dip a cloth or sponge in warm water. Squeeze out excess water and rub leather briskly with the soapy sponge. Follow immediately with another moist cloth or sponge dipped in clear water. Rub dry with a clean soft cloth. Any gloss which disappears will be restored by friction of the last rubbing.

Avoid using furniture polishes, oils and varnishes on leather. These materials frequently contain solvents which cause leather to become sticky.

If leather appears to be drying out, apply a small amount of a leather dressing with the fingertips and palm of the hand. A dressing that can be used is made from 60 per cent pure neat's-foot oil and 40 per cent pure anhydrous lanolin. Warm the lanolin gently in a double boiler until melted. Add neat's-foot oil and stir until uniformly blended. Apply only a small amount and rub into the leather until it is completely absorbed.

Care of marble has not concerned many of us like it did our grandmothers, but this material is again being found in many homes. It may be an antique or a modern piece of furniture, but both present special cleaning problems.

You can polish the dull top of your marble table or chest. First wash the surface of your marble with suds of warm water and a mild soap. Rinse well and wipe
