ATTEND HEARING

Garza County Commissioners Boone Evans and W. C. Quisenberry left Tuesday night for Austin to attend a State Highway Commission hearing yesterday in regard to the Broadway To The Big Bend Highway project, dressed chickens.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce, beginning a two weeks tour of West Texas, were guests of the Rotary Club for luncheon Tuesday in the City Hall. The WTCC general manager, D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, spoke to the club briefly in regard to the 36 projects which have been prepared for presentation at various meetings on the two weeks

Attending the luncheon with Bandeen were Mrs. Bandeen, and Max Bentley, L. A. According to James Dietrich of the Cap Rock Dairy, the local shortage of milk reached its peak about 30 days ago, during the height of the regular short season. The shortage was aggravated by the drouth this

A check with local grocery stores yesterday revealed that there is now plenty of milk available for all local customers. Larger cities, such as Lubbock, are handicapped by increases in population which make the demand greater than the possibility of supply. According to a release from Texas Technological College, this is true generally over the nation.

The release said that the Tech College dairy and other Lubbock milk distributors have tried to import additional milk for bottling with slight success The reserve market has been exhausted.

Dr. J. J. Willingham, professor and acting chairman of dairy manufactures at the college, believes that this year's acute shortage was brought about by the high cost of feed for dairy cattle coupled with the increased price for agriculture products which has made many producers turn from raising dairy cattle to producing cotton. feed and wheat.

USDA Yearbook Is Dedicated To All Phases Of Grass

copy of the 1948 Yearbook of Agriculture, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was sent to the Post Dispatch recently by Congressman George Mahon. The Book is entitled "Grass" and it seems to be, as the editor strived to make it, "the first word, so to speak, on the subject of grass, legumes and the associated herbage, for, regardless of its importance, grass has been a comparatively neglected matter of course." The editor, in the preface, hopes that the book will not be the last word, "because there is still much to be learned about subjects so diverse and plants so versatile.

The book is divided into three major sections, as follows: (1) Grass In The Nation's Life including divisions entitled: A Permanent Agriculture, Soil-Grass-Conservation, Forage for Livestock, The Use and Value of Pastures, Storage of Forage, Grass and Rotations, The Range Grass and Rotations, The Range A. R. Carr Family Grass For Happier Living and Moving To Kermit

(2) Grass In the Ten Regions, (2) Grass In the Ten Regions, including divisions entitled: The In Mid- October Northern United States, Corn Belt and Lake States, Grasslands in the South, The Southern Great Plains. The Mountain Region, The Pacific Coast States, Grass: Green-Grain-Grow, The Legumes of Many Uses and Cousins and Companions.

(3) Grass in Charts and Tables, showing a wealth of data nowhere else recorded in such inclusive form.

The men and women who wrote the book are agronomists, farmers, economists, military men, students of nutrition, husbandmen, foresters, entomologists, agrostologists, engineers, workers in conservation and ecoligists. Their by-line articles have been edited and presented in the language of the layman. The book is attractively illustrated with pictures and draw-

Irrigation Help Verbena Bits

Please Send News Not Later Than MONDAY to HENRIETTA NICHOLS Verbena Correspondent

Is Explained By Soil Technicians

Several more Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperators plan to drill Irrigation wells. These include L. W. Dalby, a past district supervisor, who plans to have a well drilled on his farm at Close City; E. W. Curry, whose will will be drilled in the northeast corner of his farm. Jack and Ernest Henderson, who plan to put down a well on their farm near the Lynn County line. Farmers have recently asked the Duck Creek Soil Conservation Service if they had to sign a five-year contract to get assistance in irrigation. A fiveyear contract seems to cause farmers to back off, when actually a plan with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District is not that at all, the technicians say.

First, a conservation agreement with the district is an exexpression of good faith on a farmer's part that he will carry out needed conservation work on his farm. The district agrees to give its assistance to carrying out this work. The farmer and the district both reserve the right to cancel their agreement. A conservation plan is needed by the farmer, just as a blue print is needed in building a house, to see that first things come first, and to spell out the needed conservation work. The district supervisors need a copy of a farmer's conservation plan to know how much assistance they are obligated to give.

The Supervisors need to know that the district's assistance is used to every acre according to its needs.

An individual farmer or a group of farmers may make application for assistance in con servation work to the district supervisors. When the application is approved. Soil Conservation technicians from the Post Work Unit go over the farm and develop a conservation with the tarmer. Where irrigation water is available an irrigation system will be worked into the plan.

A conservation irrigation system uses the water without waste. Typical irrigation without detailed planning loses 20 per cent from seepage from ditches. 20 per cent from evaporation, and 30 per cent from seepage below the reach of plant roots and runoff, leaving only 30 per cent actually used by field plants.

The Soil Conservation Service technicians say that the tablet irrigation system is best. Irrigation systems which have very little fall throughout the length of run, will hold more of the rainfall, and reduce the amount of water which must be pumped for irrigation.

Unemployed veterans receive payments for specific weeks of unemployment for which they claim allowances. They must be able to work at the time they file their claims. Self-employed veterans may receive the difference between their net earnings each month and $100, if they make claim during the month following.

The questions now come up-How much can the draw? How long can he draw readjustment allowances? He may draw $20 a week for weeks he is totally unemployed and claiming allowances. If he is partially unemployed, he may receive the difference between his earnings and $23. Self-employed veterans may claim the money difference each month between their net earnings from self-employment and $100. The unemployed veteran can not draw more than 52 weekly payments or readjustment allowances. The number of payments made are based on length of service. Each monthly self-employment payment counts as 5 weekly payments.

Fertilizer Sales Forecast Better Soil, Big Crops

Last year's fertilizer sales in Texas were five times those of 1936, according to Dr. J. F. Fudge, state chemist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Sta-

If fertilizer sales are any in-dication, the farmers of this state are feeding the soil to fatten the crops. For the fiscal year 1947-48, Texas fertilizer sales a mounted to over 451,000 tons. Compare this with only 85,000 tons back in 1936-37. The 1939-40 records show an increase to 116,000 tons. And just a year ago in 1946-47 the sales were slightly over 401,000 tons.

A breakdown of the main types of fertilizer shows over 91,000 tons of 5-10-5 were sold in the year ending June 30, 1948. The 4-12-4 topped this with well over 103,000 tons, and all the mixed fertilizers totaled nearly 225,000 tons. Sales of 20 per cent superphosphate came to over Lubbock, Tuesday, October 5th 165,000 tons. This figure is included in the 212,000 tons of Dr. C. C. Schmidt, Council Cub all materials sold, such as ammonium nitrate, rock phosphate, the Pow-Wow, announced that nitrate of soda, superphosphate 45 per cent and up and 16-20-0. Dr. Fudge says the big increase in the use of fertilizers since 1936 is because more people are finding out that fertilizers are paying off. When prices are up, it means a difference between profit and more profit for the farmer. But when prices are down, it means a difference between profit and loss.

The big thing that is limiting the amount of fertilizer Texas farmers will use under present conditions is the supply. Tight now, the demand is far more than can be supplied. There isn't enough to go around to everybody who wants it.

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been painted, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest village green in the county.

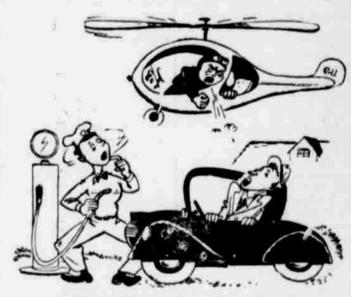

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted-85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvementsover those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it! . . . like all the other individual liberties-from freedom to enjoy s glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to band concerts in a wellkept park . . . enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit. that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

Post Antelopes To Rest This Weekend After Defeating Eagles At Seagraves

The Post Antelopes pushed | their luck to a 24-0 victory over the Seagraves Indians Friday night at Seagraves in the opening game of the District 4-A (south half) Conference schedale for both teams.

B Team Defeats O'Donnell Here Thursday Night

Prospects of good football for the next several years loomed up with the Post B Team's 25-0 victory over the O'Donnell B's last Thursday night on the Antelope Field.

Ronald Joe Babb, with a 55yard run over the middle in the last quarter for the locals' fourth touchdown, made the outstanding play for Post. For the other side, Quarterback Doyle Gillman also made a long run, 60 yard; from behind the goal line around

In the first quarter F. M. Reep ran 20 yards over the line for the first touchdown. The kick for extra point was no good.

Jack Kirkpatrick passed the ball to Ronald Joe Babb who made the second touchdown of the game. The kick for extra point was no good.

In the third quarter Cordell Custer ran for 12 yards around the end to make a touchdown. The extra point was missed, as was the extra point after the fourth quarter tally.

Officials were Marshall Gib son, referee; V. L. Peel, head linesman; Shorty Hester, umpl. and Jess Wright, Jr., field judge.

Two sustained drives, one in the first quarter and another in the third, sent the Antelopes into a long lead.

Bobby Pennington, left half, started the Antelopes off in the first period after a sustained march had taken the ball down to the Eagle 20 yard line. He found a hole in the line and slipped through to hit the pay

Kay Kirkpatrick went over for the second touchdown early in the third quarter, after receiving a 15-yard pass from Charles McGuire and running 35 yards to score.

A second score in the third quarter was made when Ronnie Bouchier plunged through the Eagle line.

The final score came late in the fourth quarter when Box chier leaped into the air to snag an Eagle aerial on the 45 yard line and dash 55 yards for the score. All four trys for extra point failed.

With Junior Malouf out of the game because of an injured wrist and Giles Dalby out because of injuries received in practice, the Antelopes seemed determined at the kick off to overcome their handicap. In this respect Roy Teaff, as fullback, did a bang-up job of backing up the line and Quarterback Mc-Guire on several occasions did some quick thinking to prevent Antelope losses.

Quarterback Bill Hearne played a leading role for the Eagles. The Seagraves Coaches are Charles Lawrence and Rusty Smith.

Fire Is Greatest Accidental Death Cause In Children

Parents can do much to save their children from burning to death, says Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

Fire is the greatest cause of accidental death of children in the home, he stated, and parents largely can eliminate dangers and make their homes fire safe for their children.

Stating that gasoline has been responsible for the greatest number of child deaths by a large margin, Hall urged that parents never allow gasoline on their premises. Of the 38 fire deaths, 11 bave been caused by gasoline.

Hall recommended that kerosene be kept well out of the reach of children and that they never be allowed to handle it. He said that the same holds true for matches; hot liquids, and lighter candles, etc. He also urged that kerosene never be used to start a fire and that fires for marshmallow toasting and popcorn roasts be held in fireplaces only and always under adult supervision.

Two more children were burned to death in automobile accidents and one died from burns after falling in a tub of boiling water. Two children met their wood stove set fire to their respective houses.

Hall cautioned parents never spectacular to leave their children at home great composer and organist nough to take care of young Symphony and the New York fire. Check to see that they know how to call the fire department, he novised.

Commissioner Hall cautioned parents not to dress children in highly inflammable clothing. such as fluffy net dresses, brushed cotton or rayon suits.

Bowen yesterday received a telegram from Kirk R. Mallory, assistant secretary of state Texas, certifying Lyndon Johnson as the Democratic Party nominee for U.S. Senator and authorizing that his name be printed on the ballot for the General Election, November 2.

The ruling was made by Jus tice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court. Previously a temporary injunction had been issued in Texas keeping Johnson's name off the November ticket.

The Justice specified that his ruling would remain in effect until the full supreme court has had an opportunity to consider the dispute between Johnson and Coke Stevenson.

It's time to pass along another reminder about solicitors:

A week or so ago, for the second time in about two months, there was a pair of white uniformed women combing the business district for money for a Fort Worth orphanage.

The Chamber of Commerce is more than willing to do this.

So the second time these uniformed ladies came to town and one of them hit me up for a contribution, I asked her if she had cleared through the Chamber of Commerce. She said "yes." I asked to see the letter and she said her partner, who was working the other side of the street, had it. I told her that I'd have to see the letter, and she quickly left my office.

I then called to the Chamber of Commerce office and was told that this crew of solicitors had not even been there.

If everybody will ask to see the letter of approval from the Chamber of Commerce, racketeering solicitors will soon by-pass Post and we'll all be a lot better off.

And as for donating to out oftown orphanages: If you had rather do this than to help some of the unfortunate waifs around town, give the money to any local church and ask that it be sent to an orphanage. If you give it to a strange solicitor, even a bona fide one, some of your donation goes to pay his or her salary. It's better to have all of the money go to the or phanage.

There was a time, when remote places in the western states welcomed the peddler because he brought wares otherwise unavailable. This is no longer the case Our local merchants order for you anything that is available to itinerant peddlers, and in letting them do this you run no risk of getting gyped.

We have in Post two or three resident solicitors for nationally advertised companies. It's all right to deal with these people because their reputation is excellent and the products they have to sell are of proven quali-

When you subscribe to a magazine through any itinerant sollcitors, part of the money you pay goes into the peddler's commission. It's very easy to subscribe to any magazine that's published, by writing the publisher and asking him to start your subscription and mail you the bill. That's all there is to it.

The more the merchants are nagged by these out-oftown pests, the less they will feel like responding to the essential drives that

Prevention Week. Although every week should be Fire Prevention Week, the truth remains that it isn't. For this reason we should be thankful for one single Fire Prevention Week, in which the children of the nation's schools are required to write themes and make posters on the subject of fire prevention. It is hoped that the child, in making the poster or writing the theme, impress on himself for a whole year the importance of fire prevention.

This country will win the war against fire when, and only when, we realize that every American must take his place as a belligerent.

Those whose main business is fire prevention are doing a fine job. They are helping to develop safer building materials, appli ances and machinery. They are improving our fire departments and other fire fighting facilities. They are making available a wealth of material which shows the causes of fire, the principal hazards, and proven means of prevention. But all this essential work will be done in vain unless a wide degree of public interest and cooperation are obtained.

There is nothing impersonal about fire prevention. It has only one purpose-to make your home, your property, and your person safe from one of the cruelest killers and destroyers. Its sole aim is to save the $700,000,-000 worth of property and the 10,000 lives that fire now consumes each year. Its goal, therefore, is to make this a safer, happier and richer country.

Organized fire prevention wor is being brought to a peak of activity in 1949, and it will reach its apex during Fire Prevention Week. The leaders and experts are showing the way. It is up to the rest of us-the millions who are never safe from the threat of fire, whether we realize it or not-to make this great work bear its full fruit.

I don't know much about this Jack Porter from Houston who is running for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket, but I will try to find out something about him and report on him from time to time in this column between now and the General Election.

All I know so far is that he was born on a Parker County farm and attended the Weatherford schools: that he is an independent oilman who is basing his campaign on states' rights and the preservation of the Democratic free enterprise system.

It seems strange that one has to vote Republican in order to retain Democracy, but that's what one has to do this year if are locally sponsored for the good of the community.

Let's be more strict about these itinerant peddlers and solicitors. Ask each one for a letter of approval from the Chamber of Commerce. That will get rid of him in a hurry if he is a racketeer.

They would ask their friends in business not to advertise, hoping that in some indirect way they might cause failure of a newspaper venture. Multiply these small people by tens of thousands that are found in the nation's towns and cities. and you have a terrifying menace to your "Rights To know." Setting here the editor can frankly say that he disapproves of the present government. He doesn't nike the way one Army is being run. He thinks it is ridiculous that the city of Ralls ernment becomes the dominat. hasn't a garbage collecting system. President Truman can't touch him. We can thumb our noses at the brass and tell the Mayor of Ralls to jump in his own irrigation ditch if ne doesn't like it. When the time comes when we can't do all this the newspaper isn't free-and neit'ier are you.

We're not setting this aside this week to ask you to read more Banners, eat more apples, war a straw hat or wear a lapel button. We simply ask that you be thoughtful about this liberty of ours. Perhaps then you will do everything in your power to keep the press of America free. We want wou to do that because you, like all of us, are selfish. You want to protect your "neck." You can protect it by helping the press.

And that's "what" about National Newspaper Week. Your freedom and ours are inseparable. We stand or fall together. -Ralls Banner.

LAWS AND THE REDS-The School Board at Baltimore, Md. discovered late last spring it had a Communist teacher on its pay-

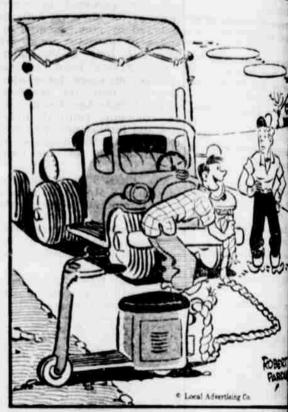

Quite correctly, school board members decided not to re-employ the woman for this year and advised her, by mail of their action.

Now the woman has turned to the courts to force her reemployment, charging she is being 'discriminated against" because of her "political views," and that the Constitution of the United States protects hir from su... "discrimination."

Everyone knows that Communism does not support our Constitution, or anything else in our way of life. Everyone knows that Communism is not "poli-tical belief." but, instead, is a revolutionary movement. Therefore, everyone knows that morally, at least, Communists have no right to any protection from our courts.

If our laws are such that they will force the Baltimore school board to hire as a teacher an avowed enemy of our govern-ment, then our laws should be

Greater Safety Than Older Ones

Safety can be built right into the home to help reduce accidents. New homes can should be made far safer than houses built in the past because better materials and more advanced ideas are always being developed for greater home

This built in safety is really two angles in one, says W. S Allen, extension agricultural buildings engineer of Texas A. and M. College. It deals with the dangers of fire as well as the personal injury angle.

Builders and architects are giving quite a bit of thought to ways and means of getting rid of some accident causes in both the new and old structures.

Stairs Are Studied

Safety studies show that most accidents in the home occur on the stairs, so architects are recommending a certain step height, width and steepness that will still be the safest. Handrails should be provided every place there are more than two steps. Also lights at the top and bottom steps are recommended.

Basements are often dangerous places when there are overhead water pipes, air ducts and low hanging objects. Where it is not possible to remove them, they should be painted brightly so they will be easily seen. Windows are now on the market which can be cleaned from the inside of the house. More and more of this kind are being built into the new homes.

Toys Cause Accidents

Toys, tools, brooms and mope make dangerous enemies if left laying around. Keep them in a special place so they won't be tripped over. Kitchen hazards are reduced by sliding cabinet doors or the narrow hinged type ed. With nice built in kitchen which do not swing far out into cabinet, closets. Located on Lubthe room. Rounded corners on kitchen equipment along with more built-in facilities also lower your chances of being injured right in your own home.

Flat bottomed tubs and grab bars to assist in getting in and flooring is not only available. 28191. C. E. Rappe. but a little healthier too. And there is the old story of bathtub electrocutions. Keep light switchand radio controls-if you

Birthday Parties

At a Post Grade School Room Mothers' meeting Friday afternoon, it was planned that school parties will be given only on the following dates

November 24. Thanksgiving: December 23. pre-Christmas: pre-Christmas; February 14. Valentine; Friday before Easter, Easter parties, and near the close of school, school pienies.

It was announced that no birthday cakes can be served or that any other parties can be given at the school.

The present grade school enrollment is 400 pupils. This would make too many birthday parties for the teachers to cope with, if all the children's mothers served their birthday cakes at the school. Principal E. E. Pierce explained in making the announcement.

by "YOUR FRIENDLY FORD DEALER" farmer had a good 5 to 8 inch irrigation well on his land?

Seems to me that every year we beg for rain for our crops and pastures. West Texas is such a good place to live in and if we could only manage to raise good crops and livestock regardiess of the rainfall each year then Post and Garza County would really be a haven.

Many farmers have already been successful in establishing a good irrigation well on their land and as I see it they will be the only farmers that make much cotton this fall.

We have talked to many farmers and visited quite a few of the irrigated farms the past two weeks and have found on the average it cost $3,000.00 to $4,000.00 to get a good eight inch well. Of course the big expense is in the water pump-which costs approximately $1,200. 00 to $2,200.00 set in the ground.

However, a pump isn't any good without water, so a farmer must pay $2.50 to $4.00 a foot to drill down 75 to 150 feet and if he is lucky enough to strike good water it is necessary to use casing for the noie and that costs $3.75 to $4.75 per foot put in the hole.

All right now you strike water and case the hole-next comes the concrete block and spillway and they cost a-bout $55.00 delivered to your farm. We have already mentioned the expensive pump above that is necessary of course and that is why you need the "ready made" concrete block for the pump to rest upon.

Last, but not least, is the engine and spillway. The "ready made" spillway acts as a stand for the engine and also as a cooling chamber for the pipes that water circulates through in order to cause the engine to

Now folks, we sell three types of proven irrigation engines-they are: (a) 95 H.P. Ford 6 cylinder engine (b) 100 H.P. Ford V8 and (c) 145 H.P. Ford V8.

WTCC CONSIDERS-

(Continued From Front Page) and seed program which later was promoted by the area WTCC committees and finally was taken to Washington by Amon G. Carter who succeeded in obtain-the program. For reasons such as the above and because Post is always one of the first towns in the WTCC area to reach its WTCC membership quota. Bandeen considers Post one of the most important towns in West Texas. It was announced in the Rotary Branding Iron that the Post club was well-represented at the annual Inter-City meeting in Lubbock last Thursday night.

Nineteen of 23 towns in WT-District 2 were represented at the Tahoka meeting by coun judges and commissioners, city officials, Chamber of Comnerce members and WTCC directors. Among those representing Post were County Judge J. Lee Bowen and Commissioner W. T. Parchman.

Judge Tom Garrard of Tahoka, District 2 director, officialed. Bentley explained the state budget policy as worked out by the executive board of the Texas Commerce Association and WTCC representatives. The policy includes the following points:

(1) No increase in the cur rent tax rates; (2) no new sources of revenue; (3) no new type: of expenditures; (4) no increase in recurring expenditures except to meet emergencies as to existing services, and (5) use of surplus only for nonrecurrent and necessary capital expenditures.

Bandeen, in discussing West Texas water, stressed the fact that the WTCC has set up an advisory board of water engineers for the purpose of helping without charge any and all West Texas towns and cities to make surveys of their water resources with an eye toward possible future development.

The WTCC officials conducted a similar clinic in Panhandle yesterday and in Quanah today They will go to Decatur tomormay hear the broadcast over the station nearest them included in the network. An FM radio will be set up in the First Baptist Church here.

The program will reach the churches by transcription from the stations which are too fa: away from Dallas to pick it uo directly, Dr. Reed explained. It can be heard here over KFYO-FM station, Lubbock.
