Thirty-Five Counsellors Are Elected

Thirty-five business men of Post will be contacted within the next 10 days and asked to serve as Merit Badge Counsellors under supervision of Victor Hudman, Boy Scout Advancement Chairman. The men have been selected for their qualifications through vocations or hobbies to instruct Boy Scouts in regard to the 110 available merit badges. Their names will be announced as soon as all have been contacted. Each counsellor will receive a 15-page pamphlet guide, issued by the Boy Scouts of America, covering his responsibility in teaching the boys who are working for awards under his guidance. The counsellor system, which has proved successful elsewhere, will be of inestimable value to the Boy Scouts in selecting their life work and hobbies.

Five Days Left To Get License Tags

Only five more days are left for acquiring 1948 vehicle license plates. Seven hundred forty-seven passenger car plates had been issued by the Garza County tax assessor-collector's office by Tuesday afternoon.

A total of 1060 passenger plates were issued in the county by the 1947 deadline. T. H. Tipton, deputy collector, believes 1,100 or more will be issued by the March 31 deadline this year. That means 70 or more passenger vehicle plates and a proportionate amount of other vehicle plates must be issued each day between now and March 31, if every vehicle owner is to avoid a penalty.

H.D. CLUBS TO SPONSOR BAKE SALE ON SATURDAY

The home demonstration clubs of Garza County, in cooperation with the H.D. Council, will sponsor a bake sale Saturday at Greenfield's Hardware Store. Special orders for cakes, pies, butter, eggs and a few chickens may be made in advance by telephoning Mrs. Julius Fumagalli. The sale will start at 11 a.m.

Levelland Visitor To Flats Had No Driver's License

Peace Justice Jim King said he handled five traffic violation cases during the past week. Four of the defendants were each fined $1 and costs and the fifth pled not guilty and will stand trial in justice court.

One person charged with drunkenness paid a fine of $1 and costs in justice court Monday. Sheriff Nathan Mears said that a resident of Lubbock, arrested here recently for drunken driving, was fined $50 and costs and six months' suspension of his driver's license.

The sheriff raided the flats home of a Post negro last Thursday night and confiscated 19 pints and three half pints of whisky and three cans of beer. The defendant pled not guilty to a bootlegging charge and made bond. He was arrested again Saturday night for reckless driving and he again (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Candidates Asked To Graham Supper

Political candidates are invited to talk at the box supper which the Graham Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday night at the Graham School building.

The supper is open to the general public. Each woman attending is asked to bring supper in a sack and each girl is to bring supper in a box. The suppers will be auctioned off by Phil Bouchier. Proceeds will go to the host club and the Graham 4-H Club.

SANDSTORM DISCOURAGES CALF ROPERS' MEETING

Because of the sandstorm which prevented a large attendance at the Garza County Calf Roping Club last Thursday night at the City Hall, plans for the summer's activities were not made.

A program for the summer will be discussed at the next meeting, date for which will be announced in the Post Dispatch by the president, Phil Bouchier.

JOHN LOTT TO ATTEND FLYING FARMERS MEET

John Lott will attend a meeting of District 2 of the Flying Farmers in Floydada at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Easter eggs will interest many Garza County youngsters during the next few days the same as they are fascinating Katherine Kahler (left), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Kahler, and Jimmy Minor, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Minor. Easter egg hunts are a popular diversion this weekend.

Garza County Asked To Aid In Cancer Society Program

For the first time, Garza County residents will be called on next month to contribute to the nationwide fight against cancer, dreaded disease which kills one out of every eight persons in the nation and from which someone dies every three minutes.

Texas was the last of the 48 states to organize a division of the American Cancer Society. After several years, the movement has now spread over the entire state, which has been divided into 15 districts.

Garza County is in District 2, comprises 21 counties, with headquarters in Midland. James Minor has been designated as Garza County chairman. At a meeting of the 21 county chairmen of the district at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock Tuesday, Minor heard an explanation of the purpose, accomplishments and aims of the American Cancer Society, saw two cancer educational films and received instructions for the Garza campaign for funds. The Garza quota is $401.

Local contributions to the battle against cancer serve a three-fold purpose: Research, Service and Education.

Home demonstration clubwomen of the various Garza County Communities had raised $757.36 for the American Red Cross Drive by press time and the returns were incomplete.

Mrs. Julius Fumagalli, community Red Cross chairman, reported the following collections yesterday:

Graham, $79.90; Garnolia, $44; Cross Roads, $70; Chase City, $42.50; Southland, $200; Pleasant Valley, report not received; Justiceburg, $64 (incomplete); Barnum Springs, $131.70; and Verbena, $125.26.

Most of the above funds were raised at community pie suppers. The Southland and Justiceburg (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Look Who's New:

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson are announcing the arrival of a boy born in their home here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hodges of Slaton are announcing the arrival of a girl weighing 5 lb. 9 3/4 oz., born at 3 p.m. in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital. She was named Shirley Jo. Mrs. Hodges is the former Wilma Dixon.

A son, James Alvin, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Downs at 4:40 a.m. Monday at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Murphy of Southland are parents of a son born March 17. He was named Alvin.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell at 1:45 p.m. Monday in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock.

PHILCO FREEZER SCHOOL TO BE HELD ON APRIL 2

The public is invited to attend the free Philco Freezer School, conducted by Miss Norma Lantz, Philco home economist, at 3 o'clock the afternoon of April 2 at Hudman Furniture Store.

The demonstration on how to best use a frozen food chest will be of interest to anyone who has such a chest regardless of whether or not it is a Philco product, the Hudman brothers believe.

Miss Lantz will give pointers as to how to save kitchen time, shopping time and money as well as how to simplify housekeeping.

Pasteurized Milk Is Produced Here For First Time

James Dietrich, who opened his Cap Rock Dairy 13 years ago with one cow, a small barn and bottle room, this week is announcing a brand new local service for Garza residents—Pasteurized milk.

Having built up his dairy herd to 45 head of cows, enlarged his dairy building to three times its original size and, in other ways, expanded his dairying business, he has now just installed new stainless steel Pasteurizing equipment and this week started selling the first Pasteurized milk ever produced in the county.

Methodists To Be Hosts At Sunrise

The Easter Parade in Post will begin in a traditional manner at 6:45 a.m. Sunday when churchgoers of various denominations gather at the First Methodist Church for the annual union sunrise Easter service sponsored by the First Christian, Methodist Nazarene and First Presbyterian Churches.

The program has been announced tentatively as follows: Organ prelude, Mrs. T. L. Jones; Invocation, the Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor of the host church; Doxology; group of hymns; scripture and prayer, the Rev. Joe Norton, Nazarene pastor; special numbers by a mixed choir from the various churches; sermon, Dr. David H. Templeton, Presbyterian pastor; benediction, the Rev. Mr. Cockrell, and organ postlude, Mrs. Jones.

The service is open to the public. It was originated here about 12 years ago at the First Christian Church and became a tradition during the next six years under the leadership of the Rev. Harrell Rea. During the past six years, the cooperating churches have alternated as hosts.

Census Taker For Post Schools To Complete Project

J. T. Curb, who has been taking the annual scholastic census for the Post Schools, by Tuesday had reported 748 scholastics in the city limits to the school superintendent, G. R. Day.

He expected to have the job completed by the end of the week and estimated that the total would be about 760 school-age children.

If anyone knows of a child in the city, who will be of school age next year and has not been included in the census, he is urged to report the information to either Day or Curb or either of the school principals.

It is extremely important that every school-age child in the city be included in the census report, as each one is worth $55 to the 1948-49 school budget.

On the basis of a report of 760 school children, the state will apportion $41,800 to the Post Schools for next year. The amount will be increased by $55 per capita if it is found there are more than 760 school-age children in the city.

VISUAL EDUCATION TO BE ILLUSTRATED WHEN P.T.A. MEETS TONIGHT

A program on visual education, designed to show new methods of teaching children in use here and other methods that can be used here, will be presented by Supt. G. R. Day and Mrs. J. E. Parker at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the high school auditorium.

Two educational films, "Highway Mania" and "Bringing the World To the Classroom," will be shown by way of illustrating the talks.

Tickets Being Sold To April Commerce Dinner

A limited number of tickets for the annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet, the night of April 5 in the City Hall, may be reserved by telephoning the C. of C. office, 254, or by contacting any of the following directors:

Robert Cox, Wilkerson Lumber Company; Dr. Glenn Kahler, Post Clinic; James Minor, Mason and Company; Paul Jones, Piggly Wiggly, or John A. Lane, Pleasant Valley Gin. The price is $1.50 a plate.

The number of tickets that can be sold are limited because present serving facilities are believed adequate for only about 125 persons.

The banquet is open to all

Chamber of Commerce members and their wives and all prospective members and wives. Tickets are being sent also to local ministers and their wives, and to executives of the Tahoka, Slaton and Crownfield Chamber of Commerce.

Merle Jenkins, new bandmaster, will perform the musical numbers for the program. The main speaker will be Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce who is a popular speaker throughout West Texas.

Four Post Chamber of Commerce directors will be elected at the banquet.

POST FOLKS AT WORK:

These aren't Easter chicks posing with E. M. Bass of Fry Feed and Hatchery. They are 500 Barred Rocks, White Leghorns, Black Australops, New Hampshire and Austra Whites from the hatchery which is turning out 3,000 chicks a week for the next two and a half months. The new front and enlarged cream and poultry station will be completed in about two weeks, a project which keeps Bass and the owner, Truett Fry, and the other employees extremely busy. The business was opened here 12 years ago.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Government Can Make Money In Reducing Expense

Babson Park, Fla.—Apparently everybody is interested in tax reduction with the exception of President Truman and his immediate friends. The difficulty seems to be that all hands have forgotten what is best for the country and are just playing politics.

Everybody with whom I talk agrees that it is possible to reduce greatly the Government expenses. This would not only save the taxpayers' money, but it would go a long way towards increasing production and lowering prices. If people now on the Government payroll could be employed to produce more goods or aid in the marketing of the same, it would be a real help in reducing the so-called inflation.

Every Senator and Representative, however, has certain relatives and friends in the Government service. Hence, although Congressmen will agree in principle that the expenses of the Government should be reduced, yet when it comes to their own friends and relatives, it is a horse of another color. Perhaps the only practical way for putting a million Government employees back to earning on honest living would be a change of Administration. Democrats hate to fire Democrats; but a new Republican Administration might do so very gleefully!

I have just been doing some work on trying to help my community get houses for veterans. A house for which veterans are being charged $12,000 today could have been built ten years ago for half this sum. Moreover, he would then have had a better house for $6,000 than he is now paying $12,000 for. When analyzing the increase, I find that wages have gone up about 50 per cent and that many bricklayers, carpenters and painters are not giving an honest day's work today even at the higher wages. The increase in the cost of materials varies greatly. Cement, for instance, has gone up in most sections only 10 per cent, while lumber has gone up 175 per cent. The greatest increase is in connection with taxes. Before the war builders' taxes amounted to very little, while today Federal, State and other taxes amount to about half of the building costs. The same increase applies to everybody involved in the preparation and handling of building materials. As a result, of the $6,000 increase in costs, at least $3,000 goes to Uncle Sam. This shows the great importance of getting taxes reduced.

We all should heartily get behind President Truman in his demand for more money for defense. Hence, we need a plan whereby the Government can reduce taxes, thereby reducing prices, and at the same time collect the money which President Truman says is required for defense. Of the many suggested solutions I have received, I should like to relay one from

John M. Glass, accountant and tax authority of Frostproof, Fla.

It is fair to assume that 90 per cent of the people in this country are honest. Yet, the Government is probably losing five billion dollars a year from ignorance in the making out of income tax returns by small businessmen and other individuals. Some money is undoubtedly lost through dishonest returns, but most corporations have their own returns made out correctly by accountants.

My very practical suggestion is that if the Government should spend a hundred million dollars annually on publicity, it could get back five billion in stray money. For instance, the owner of every filling station should receive a letter once in three months explaining simply, but very fully, what he should deduct and he should pay. The Government should buy advertising in the newspapers, as well as in the mails, to impress upon all of us what they should do and bring in several billions more money without hurting anyone.

There should be nothing really repugnant to any Congressman in such a campaign. I treat everyone alike and one. This plan would enable payers to get the reduction which we desire and, at the same time, enable the President to get the money which he needs every reader of this column cut this out and mail it to Congressman.

GETTING OUT
On The LIMB
By EDDIE the EDITOR

The recent death of a child in south Texas from rabies emphasizes the danger of this disease and its importance to public health.

Every stray dog, not wearing a rabies vaccination tag, should be regarded as a public health menace—the possible cause of the death of your child.

According to a statement just released by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, there were 1,000 rabid animals discovered by laboratory examination in Texas last year. There were undoubtedly many more rabid animals running loose which were never examined. Since most of these animals were dogs, children are specially vulnerable to this dreaded disease.

Here in Post last week a dog, believed to have been mad, harrassed a neighborhood in northeast Post and finally was killed before it bit anybody. The week before, Homer Gordon killed a sick dog which was trying to break into his basement. He hated to do it, but the dog had been hanging around his neighborhood for several days and it seemed to have been abandoned, if it ever had a home. For the sake of the children in the neighborhood, he did the right thing in shooting the dog.

The city of Post has a dog-killing department, which is available upon call to anyone who is afraid of a stray dog in his neighborhood. The city officials, also, have inquired of the county health officer and learned that there are two men in Post qualified to vaccinate dogs.

If you have a dog and think anything of him, won't you please have him vaccinated for rabies and put the vaccination tag on his collar so that he won't be killed? If you don't do this, your dog could be the cause of some serious trouble, trouble which would necessitate killing him.

Dr. Cox suggests that when a child is bitten by a dog that has not been vaccinated, the animal should be penned up for 10 days. If he shows no signs of illness in that time, he is not rabid, but if he sickens, he should be killed in such a manner as not to injure his brain. The brain should be packed immediately in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. If rabies is shown to be present, there is still time to begin anti-rabies treatment on the child.

THE WOMEN. God love 'em. When a woman gets to the point where she can read her husband like a book, she generally discovers that there are several chapters she'd better skip.

It's nearly Easter and very few people have done a thing about cleaning up their yards and vacant lots. If these vacant lots about town aren't cleared off, one of these windy days there will be a fire that won't quit before it burns down a few houses.

Cleaning up the city is a safety measure, as well as a beautification measure. Weeds and filth breed germs such as polio.

And while we're cleaning up our yards and vacant lots, let's take a look at the condition of our sidewalks.

Many sidewalks in the residential district have not only outlived their usefulness, but they are

Garza and the World

Editor's Note—Opinions expressed here are those of the author, and they do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Post Dispatch. The column is carried in the interest of applying world news to the situation here at home.

By EVELYN BOYD
A thousand or so years from now, the late lamented Mahatma Gandhi of India will have developed into a non-Christian "Supreme Being," to be worshipped by the descendants of his numerous followers along with other immortal humanitarians.

Barring some world destroying catastrophe, there will be motion pictures, news clippings, books and still pictures which the churches of that day can use in their educational programs.

It was not so with Christ. All we have is the Biblical account, which is interpreted in varying ways by the denominational faiths using the Bible as a basis for their precepts.

Two years ago, the Lubbock Journal Plainsman, Charles A. Guy published on Good Friday his own interpretation of the Crucifixion as it would be reported in the newspapers if it occurred in modern times. The account was not unlike—in color and terminology—the newspaper accounts we have recently read about the tragic death of Gandhi. The Plainsman's story was read and approved, before publication, by Bishop Frank A. Smith of the Methodist Church and by Dr. Jack M. Lewis of the Lubbock Presbyterian Church.

It proved so popular with the public, the column was reproduced in the Lubbock Journal last Good Friday and was used as a basis for a KFYO broadcast. I take the liberty of reproducing it here, in part:

JERUSALEM, March 26—Jesus Christ, 33-year-old itinerant evangelist and leader of a new religious group in the Jerusalem-Galilee area, today was executed by crucifixion on Calvary hill, a few miles outside of this city.

Heavily armed Roman soldiers were in evidence as thousands—including many women—watched the execution, but charges out of which the crucifixion grew were obscured by political unrest. Unprecedented action by Pontius Pilate, Roman governor in this district, by King Herod and highest Roman judicial circles in declining to permit orderly course of law in the case, were believed to have been occasioned by official fear of an uprising should Christ have been found not guilty of violation downright detrimental to the safety of passing pedestrians. I've noticed, also, that there are not walks at all in many of our residential blocks. These would aid immeasurably to the beauty of Post.

And one more thing: It's getting difficult again to find a parking place down town on busy shopping days. It seems to me that business in general would be stimulated if the merchants and their employes would park their own cars on side streets or in the alleys behind the stores.

Informed circles here said a regimented minority, under dictation by the Sanhedrin, insisted upon exacting the death penalty against Christ despite the fact that he never urged armed rebellion or violent reaction against constituted authority. Threats of a taxpayers' strike unless extreme action were taken had been heard and approaching elections further affected the carrying out of demands for crucifixion.

Early today Christ was seized by radical groups under protection of the Roman military and forced to walk the several miles between Jerusalem and Calvary hill, carrying the heavy cross upon which he later was nailed. Multitudes, crowding the line of march, shouting jibes, threw stones and other missiles and otherwise resorted to mob violence as the overburdened prisoner staggered along under his burden, tiny rivulets of blood flowing down his face from lacerations caused by a crown of thorns placed upon his head.

The actual execution lasted for three hours, from noon until 3 p.m., and during most of the time the condemned prisoner maintained silence. Upon seven occasions he spoke each time briefly and his first word from the cross was such as to command silence even from those who hated him most. That was when he said: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Later, after supplication from one of his two companions on the death crosses—a man whose police record is that of a common thief—asked Christ to intercede for him, Christ replied: "Verily, I say unto thee, today thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

Noting the presence in the crowd of his mother, Mary, Christ later intoned: "Mother, behold thy son," adding to a friend, John, who was at his mother's side, "Son, behold thy mother."

Only note of anguish which came from the tortured Christ was in the latter part of the crucifixion. Fixing his eyes aloft, he called, "I thirst," and as a soldier thrust a spear into his side, he said: "It is finished," adding shortly thereafter, before his death, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Members of the body-guard of Governor Pilate appropriated the clothing worn by the condemned man and gambled among themselves for its possession. Many of the soldiers had been drinking.

Atop Christ's cross, in Hebrew, Greek and Latin to enable all of the polygot population to translate, was an inscription contributed for the occasion by Governor Pilate, himself. It read "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews" and elicited much ribald comment from the spectators.

In the crowd around the crucifixion hill were a few supporters of the cause of the condemned preacher, but presence of armed troops and thousands of Christ's political enemies made any effort to rescue him impossible of success. The condemned prisoner, himself, apparently opposed any rescue action and his courageous conduct indicated that he had become resigned to his fate.

Peculiar weather conditions, including a mid-day wave of dark-

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS—We note that common school districts throughout the Panhandle are consolidating with independent districts. Randall county has 20 common school districts; one independent district; but school is conducted in only one of the common school districts. When you talk about school consolidations you often stir up a hornets nest. Therefore we are only mentioning local facts without comment. Consolidations have taken place in at least 10 different Panhandle counties during the past year. Building better schools by this method is the aim in all of these counties.—Canyon News.

ness, added to the stark surroundings and draped a weird curtain of wind and cloud about the hilltop upon which Christ's cross was raised between two other crosses. Upon the latter were executed two minor police characters previously found guilty of being chronic law violators.

This city was quiet tonight after completion of the three-ply executions, although soldiers under command of Rome continued to patrol the streets. Rumors that Christ had promised to "return from the dead" within three days after his crucifixion still were heard, but attracted little belief, even from most of his longtime supporters.

The body lies in a vault in Golphtha cemetery and relatives and friends have made no announcement regarding funeral services and interment.

Christ has been a much distressed figure in this area for the past three years, during which he preached upon many occasions to crowds large and small. Credited, at least in much of the public mind, with the power to perform strange miracles, he had become a powerful influence among the people, which brought him the enmity of leaders of the territorial political machine who saw in him an individual around whom opposition likely would rally.

Generally referred to as the son of a one-time carpenter and construction worker in this area, one Joseph, husband of Christ's mother, Mary, the evangelist never-the-less insisted he was the progeny of Diety and that Mary had been divinely chosen to give him birth. He was publicly claimed to be "the Son of God" and his more closely associated followers believe he is such.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS—Athens High School has met a problem that worries many school officials for more hours than the average person would suspect—something different that will keep high school boys and girls happy in this age. They have luncheon clubs, based on the service clubs to which adults belong, with time for eating, for a short program and for business.

Such a program could not be undertaken in Lubbock High school, since cafeteria service is not available. Already several clubs met during the noon hour, after the students have returned from lunch.

But down at Athens, the plan was so successful, all of the organizations became luncheon clubs. That did away with problems such as conflicting of various club meetings, the inability of bus students to remain after school and lack of time in each day's program.

Meetings are scheduled a semester in advance and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in each week are designated as club days. When the students enter the lunch hall they find served plates in place on tables that have been decorated by a club committee.

It's said the young people feel they are the counterpart of adult service organizations.—Lubbock-Avalanche.

Christ is admitted here, even by his social, religious and political enemies, to have possessed a striking personality, great persuasiveness and unprecedented forensic ability. In fact, basis for the opposition which led to his crucifixion allegedly stemmed from his ability to arouse in the masses an almost fanatical following.

Speakehead of his organization is a group of twelve men, nearly all from humble surroundings, called "Jesus' Disciples." Several of them witnessed the execution, but only one, John, dared go so near the cross that Christ could see and speak to him. In addition to Mary, John was accompanied by a friend of the family, Mary Magdalene, once a notorious night life figure but, since meeting Christ, said to have changed her ways.

Governor Pilate was not available for comment following the crucifixion, but those close to him said the government expected the execution to end the so-called "Christian movement," which they described as being "inimical to the public interest and to the aims of the totalitarian government at Rome."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

67 Acres To Grass

This week seven cooperators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District finished planting 67 acres to grass. These cooperators used the special grass seed drill of the Soil Conservation Service. Four different kinds of grasses were planted. The drill was equipped with a series of cotton planter boxes which were used to plant blue grama seed. Planet Junior garden seed planter boxes were mounted on the drill and used to sow African weeping lovegrass, sand lovegrass, and sand dropseed.

Included among those who made grass plantings were Truett Fry, 8 acres of a native grass mixture; W. F. Norman, 8 acres of a pure planting of weeping lovegrass; Jan L. Williams, 6 acres of native grass mixture; J. C. Eubanks, 20 acres of sand lovegrass, and 1 acre of weeping lovegrass for Junior Wilks on the J. M. Lane farm, also 8 acres of sand lovegrass and blue grama mixture, and Tom Gilmore used approximately four pounds of seed on the 9 acres; Mrs. B. K. Rodgers (B. K. Bird farm), 8 acres of a pure planting of weeping lovegrass.

The People Are Ready

"Very gratifying" was the way Pete Ottinger, work unit conservationist, summed up the reaction of cooperators to the need of grass planting in the district. Some of the cooperators were interested in how (if this works) he would increase his grass planting next year. Others wondered how many thousands of acres of land in the district should be planted to grass. A third cooperator speculated on buying a half section of land, pretty cheap and planting it all to grass. Grass on the land he had in mind is sound land use.

Our Thanks Goes

When the overall soil conservation job is done, it will be done by conservation leaders like Truett Fry and Jim L. Williams.

The work unit's thanks go to Fry for furnishing the tractor to pull the drill and Williams for operating the tractor pulling the drill from place to place.

Gilmore Applies Plan

To permanently maintain soil fertility takes a coordinated soil conservation farming program in which every acre is treated according to its capability. Tom Gilmore on the L. A. Barrow farm, 12 miles northeast of Post, is making fast progress in getting his complete conservation plan established. Last fall Soil Conservation Service technicians helped Mrs. Barrow and Gilmore develop their conservation plan. Since then the terrace system on the farm land has been completed. New terraces have been sown to spring barley. Small grain has been established in a cropping system. Row crop land has been bedded on the contour. The ponds have been constructed to provide water for better distribution of grazing. A deferred grazing pasture management plan is being carried out. Nine acres of grass has been planted on land no longer fit for cultivation and 50 acres of a mixture of sudan and cane will be planted this spring to provide a cover for next spring grass planting.

Soil Conservation Service technicians who have given technical assistance in carrying out this plan include Marshall Gibson, engineering aid on terracing, Merle Hutton, range conservationist on pasture, and Pete Ottinger, work unit conservationist on planning and grass planting.

OIL FIELD EQUIPMENT PRESENTED TO COLLEGE FOR PETROLEUM CLASSES

Oil field and laboratory equipment valued at approximately $1500 has been presented recently to Texas Technological College in Lubbock for use in petroleum engineering classes from three Tulsa, Okla., manufacturing concerns, W. L. Ducker, petroleum engineering department head, has announced.

All the instruments are of the latest type now in use, Ducker stated. Some have been presented as an outright gift, while others are loaned for an indefinite period and the companies have indicated that they will be replaced with new instruments as developed.

One sample of everything necessary for well shooting and special shooting operations, including 12-hour, 24-hour and 120-hour time bombs for casing and drill pipes and three types of umbrella bridges, have been loaned the college by the Zero Hour Bomb company.

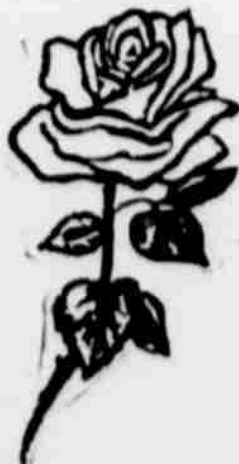

The Enardo Manufacturing company has loaned the college a group of vapor control system valves including both standard and cutaway models showing internal working arrangements.

A quantity of oil sampling equipment has been given the college by the W. L. Walker company.

The new equipment will be used for lecture demonstrations and in the college petroleum engineering laboratories, Ducker stated.

Mrs. Dillard Morris, Jr., is in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital this week undergoing treatment.

Merchants Buy Uniforms And Equipment For 1948 High School Baseball Players

Merchant contributions have made it possible for Post High School to have a uniformed baseball team this summer, Coach Bing Bingham said yesterday.

Twenty-seven boys are working out from 2 until 5 o'clock each afternoon at the Postex Park in an effort to make the team.

Each of the following merchants bought a uniform for a high school baseball player:

Plains Lumber Company, Post Truck And Tractor Company, Pig-gly Wiggy, Homer Gordon, Storie Motor Company, Al Norris, First National Bank, Floyd's Service Station, American Cafe, Thaxton Cleaners, Tom Power, Mason and Company, Haws, Herring's, Collier Drug Company, Bryant-Link, Hodges Tractor Company and Gulf Oil Products. The donor's name will be lettered on the back of each uniform.

Bingham said also that Bennie Surgee, Marshall Gibson and Oscar Garner each contributed money toward buying necessary equipment.

"Without these contributions, a properly uniformed boys' team would not have been possible this year," the coach said yesterday. "We will try to show our appreciation by working up a ball club worthy of its faithful backers," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wireman and daughter of Amarillo visited friends here Tuesday night. He is district representative for Kraft Cheese products.

Volleyball Teams Win Seven Games

Coach N. R. King and his girls' A and B volleyball teams journeyed to Southland Tuesday night to win five games. The A team, comprised of Francis Benson, Martha Thomas, Vada Holly, Ruby Pierce, Jeanette Stewart and Claudia Ticer won three games.

Two games were won by the B team. Playing on the team were Billie Nichols, Helen Thaxton, Alice Ruth Carr, Joy Stewart, Lanell Brown, Peggy Johnston and Elsie West.

Shepard Polls First Ball Over New Park Fence

Several new comers put hustle in last year's regulars last Sunday afternoon when the second practice session of the Post Millers found about twenty-five men shaping up for the opening of the Oil Belt League season April 18.

The biggest problem facing the local crew is a suitable pitching staff, and unless two twirlers, who are considering taking over the mound locate in Post, the Millers will find themselves in the same position they were last season when the pitching duties fell to Lefty Altman and Walter B. Holland. Both of these men were "pitched to death" before the season ended. Negotiations are being carried on by the manager, George Sartain, for Lefty Faulkner, who last season twirled in the West Texas New Mexico loop for Lamessa. Another pitcher may be secured from Jal. N. M.

In last Sunday's practice game the few spectators who spotted the stands saw the first ball clear the newly constructed fence. Billy Mac Sheppard poled out a long one which cleared the board wall for a homer. Harold Childs, another newcomer, turned in a nice performance, as did several other new men who will be out for regular spots on the nine.

FORT AND MANSFIELD TO ROPE CALVES ON APRIL 4 IN LEVELLAND ARENA

South Plains rodeo enthusiasts are looking forward to seeing two imitables of the championship calf roping realm, Toots Mansfield of Big Spring and Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M., in a match at Level-land on April 4, beginning at 2 p.m.

The match will be the third and last of a series between the two popular ropers in the Levelland arena.

Mansfield was winner over Fort on August 11, 1946, but Fort came back on March 23, 1947, to defeat Mansfield.

Fort is the current world champion and Mansfield is the leading contender. The latter has held the world crown for five of the past nine years.

Tickets are on sale at the Reese Pontiac Company in Levelland.

SEVEN OR MORE LOCAL FOLK TO ATTEND THREE DAY ROTARY MEETING

Post Rotarians and wives attending the annual district Rotary convention in Big Spring Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will include the president, James Minor; Mrs. Minor; the secretary, Lewis Nance; Dr. and Mrs. David H. Minor will address the Community Service Group luncheon, at the Settles Hotel Monday, on "What the Rotary Club Can Do Toward Promoting Recreational Activities in the Community." He will also be one of three speakers on the convention's International Service Panel Monday.

Nance will serve as secretary for the Cotamunity Service program.

Scripture Luke 24:1-9

Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: And as they were afraid, and bowed their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. And they remembered His words, and returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

Conservation Is Costly No Matter How It's Figured

Will Wright, chairman of the Garza County ACA, says "No matter how you figure, conservation costs something—usually money. And if we let things go we'll pay for our conservation many times over—and we won't get it. The cost will be greatest if the job is neglected, for then it will be paid in high priced food of poorer quality and reduced in quantity."

"What many of us forget about conservation," Wright states, "is that it's a national responsibility and that the nation is in one way or another, going to pay for it."

"If we let erosion take our land, we will soon be paying by having less food and a lower standard of living, and the farmer isn't the only one who will suffer. In fact, the farmer may still be able to produce enough for his own use."

"The longer the nation waits the more there will be to do and at a considerably higher price; and once the top soil of a farm gets down into the Gulf of Mexico we won't get it back."

When it comes to ways of getting the job done it costs money, time and energy whether it is left solely to the individual farmer, or done through a publicly supported conservation program. Many of the most needed projects require the services of people with special engineering skill, educational helps, and the use of costly machinery and equipment also are among the essentials.

The chairman explained that the Agricultural Conservation Program is merely a means whereby the farmer gets some financial and material help for the most needed conservation jobs. Many of the

Better Markets Sought For West Texas Sorghums

By GEORGE MAHON

Recently I have discussed with Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and other officials of the government the possibility of developing better markets for West Texas grain sorghum overseas. Our grain sorghums are now being utilized in many parts of the world.

India is our heaviest overseas consumer of grain sorghum, and the Indians pay cash for it and complain because they are not permitted to buy more. There is a quota system in operation which governs all our shipments of grain abroad. Recently we were successful in getting an increase in the grain sorghum quota for overseas shipment.

Exports of grain sorghum to India during the last nine months approximate 10 million bushels. This includes March shipments which are now enroute.

I am told that the Indians grind and cook it pancake-fashion on top of the stove. In Germany the Germans eat their West Texas grain sorghum in the form of a mush or gruel. In Japan the grain sorghum is milled and used as flour or is polished and used in the whole grain as a substitute for rice.

Last year the U. S. production of grain sorghum was 107 million bushels, Texas producing 68 million bushels of that amount. The largest portion of the U. S. production will be utilized for stock feed but in excess of 4 million bushels will be used for human food in Japan, Korea and Germany, in addition to the shipments to India.

A good price for grain sorghum is a very important factor in the maintenance of agricultural prosperity in West Texas. This is true despite the fact that grain sorghum production in the nation is relatively small compared to wheat and corn. Last year the U. S. produced 12 times more wheat and 22 times more corn than the grain sorghum production.

jobs would not be done without that help. The program is a means for speeding up the needed action and for concentration on practices which must have first attention. Operated through farmer-elected committees, it is a thoroughly democratic way of getting a needed job done, he said.

Iven Clary went to the Lubbock Memorial Hospital for a check-up Tuesday.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CHICKS ARE WELL SUITED HERE

New Hampshire chickens, a relatively new dual-purpose breed, are well suited to West Texas, in the opinion of Delbert L. Devin, assistant professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The breed had fallen into disfavor when first introduced from New Hampshire because it proved susceptible to pullorum, a disease causing auxiliary white diarrhea, Devin explained. But pullorum resistant chicks are now being bred, overcoming this difficulty, he reported, adding that the chickens, in addition to being heavy, approach White Leghorns in laying ability.

The college recently received a flock of 350 New Hampshire chicks as a gift from John Simpson of the Branch and Simpson breeding farm, Yorktown. Simpson has indicated that he will send 50 additional cockerels later for breeding purposes. The flock will be used for class instruction at the college.

in performance and economy... in ruggedness and reliability!

- 1 In the world's champion Chevrolet engine, the valves are located in the head of the cylinder, directly over the pistons—hence the name, Valve-in-Head.
- 2 Valve-in-Head design provides faster intake of fuel mixture... and quicker and more complete exhaust of burned gases... all of which contributes to better performance and economy.
- 3 Valve-in-Head design also permits a more compact combustion chamber; and this, together with Chevrolet's "Blue Flame" combustion, means more driving power for the pistons—less heat loss—and maximum economy.

Valve-in-Head engines are inherently easier to cool; and Chevrolet's individual cooling of cylinders prevents waste of power—promotes efficient operation—prolongs engine life.

CHEVROLET Automotive experts and millions of motorists agree: Valve-in-Head is far ahead because it gives an outstanding combination of performance, endurance, dependability and economy... Chevrolet—master builder of this master motor—has proved this by producing more than 20 million Valve-in-Head engines during the past thirty-seven years—engines which hold the distinction of having delivered more billions of miles of satisfaction, to more owners, over a longer period, than any other power-plant built today! ## Colleges To Help With Training Of Military Recruits

College facilities will be utilized to an unprecedented degree if universal military training or other forms of intensive training of young men for military service is authorized by Congress, it is predicted by Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president of Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The president devoted much of his time during the last war to service as adviser to the War Department on various scientific, technical and training programs.

"Of various methods used in training men during World War II," he observed, "those which made full use of established college courses, faculties and facilities proved most effective. I use this experience of the armed forces as the basis for my prediction of full and expanded facilities in colleges for use in all future military training programs."

Unusual Vegetables Dramatize Garden And Give Zest To Children's Appetites

Try growing the unusual vegetables in your garden this spring to dramatize the garden, says Mrs. Jewell H. Straener Garza County home demonstration agent. The usual garden has carrots, beans, tomatoes, beets, cabbage, spuds and other well-known foods that the children fuss about eating.

Chives, the first of these unusual vegetables, is a small onion-like plant that grows in dense clumps any place onions will grow; chives are very good for flavoring soups and stews. Just plant a part of a raw chive on one side of the garden out of the way, and a small amount is all that is necessary for the whole family. Space the plants one-half to one inch apart in rows 16 to 18 inches apart. Then every four or five years—that's years—take up the old clumps and re-set them so they won't get too thick and matted.

Corn Salad Is Good

Corn salad, also called lamb's lettuce, is an annual that may be mixed with lettuce or water cress as a mixed salad. It is sown in the early spring in 16 to 18 inch rows about a foot apart in the row and is handled about the same as lettuce or mustard in fertilization and cultivation. The flavor of corn salad is very mild, and may be improved some by mixing with other salad plants.

Endive is another crop similar to lettuce, but is more tolerant to the summer heat. It should be planted about the same time as lettuce, and thinned to 8 or 10 inches in the row. The other instructions are the same as the plants already named.

Garlic is another of those onion plants, and the main thing to remember about garlic is that a little goes a long way. They are planted and handled like onions and chives. When the tops break and fall over, the bulbs are pulled, dried, and braided into strings by their tops or tied in bunches and stored in a cool, dry place. Be sure they don't freeze.

Rhubarb Is Hardy

Here is an unusual vegetable that is not commonly grown anywhere in Texas, but will do well in the Panhandle. It's rhubarb, sometimes called pie-plant. This is a hardy perennial that will live for several years; the small, root-crowns are planted about this time of the year, three to four feet apart each way. Give them plenty of space, and six crowns will be enough for the entire family. The edible part is the leaf stalk or petiole, and the gardener is reminded not to eat the leaves. After the plants are out, give them a year before harvesting, so there will be plenty year after year without replanting.

These are a few of the more unusual vegetables that will give a garden the "new look" in foods says Mrs. Straener, and add zest to the family meals.

Hoarding Habit Causes Fires In Numerous Homes

Texans have a dangerous habit which is fire hazardous, claims Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

He calls this habit the useless-saving habit: "We save everything from old moldy newspapers to broken-up furniture. Although we know we won't have use for these discarded items, we just can't bring ourselves to throwing them away."

Hall hopes that during Spring Clean-Up Week, April 4-10, Texans do away with their sentiment and the fire hazards in their attics, basements, closets and garages.

Three hundred thousand dollars is sacrificed in fires every year by Texans who had rather save picture frames and magazines than their homes and usable household goods. Rubbish and spontaneous ignition rate fifth as a cause of insured fire losses in this state.

"First of all, old, paper, boxes, bottles and rags should be taken out and burned," Hall recommended, "or they should be sold or given to places of business that have use for items such as these."

"Discarded clothes and furniture should be removed and given to charitable organizations or sold to second-hand dealers," he stated.

"These items in accumulation in homes furnish excellent fodder for the firebug. Should a chance match or electric wiring catch fire and ignite some of these nearby things, a fire could gain great headway before discovered in such an unfrequented place as an attic."

Oil or paint-soaked rags should be kept only in tight metal containers due to their ability for self-ignition, he stated.

"A spacious neo-look will appear in the dark corners of a home if storage spaces are used correctly for seasonally used items," Hall pointed out.

He concluded: "The best things to save are the lives of your family and your home."

SPRING CLEANING ADDS TO HEALTH CONDITIONS IN EVERY COMMUNITY

"A good old-fashioned house cleaning in every city and community in Texas would do a great deal toward furthering good health in this state," Dr. George W. Cox, of Austin, state health officer, said this week in urging all communities and cities in the state to cooperate in Texas Clean-Up Week, April 4-11.

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include surface cleaning, drainage, the graveling of streets and alleys, the cleaning of all parks and playgrounds and the clearing off of weeds and rubbish from vacant lots.

"The destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage, the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning up of all premises will be, said Dr. Cox, inestimable value in helping to keep down summer health hazards such as dysentery, typhoid and poliomyelitis. Good community housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the state."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous diseases are filth borne, and the only way possible to control them is to eliminate the unsanitary conditions responsible for their spread.

RIGHT NUMBER OF GOOD COWS MEANS MORE MONEY THAN MANY BAD MILKERS

How much feed does it take to produce enough milk to fill a 10-gallon can? That depends a lot on the cows, says Robert H. Gibson, Garza County agricultural agent. If it takes six cows to fill the can, they will need about 85 pounds of hay and 30 pounds of concentrates. Three cows would need half as much hay, and about the same amount of concentrates. The big difference is that only three cows have to be milked and cared for. That's why it seems more money to have the right number of good cows than a lot full of poor milkers. The four sources of feed for cows during a 12-month period are grass, hays, silage and concentrates.

Knee deep in good grass is the way dairymen like to see their cows. Lots of green grass means lots of milk, and lots of milk means more money to the dairymen, Gibson says. But there isn't good green grass all through the year, so the dairy farmer has to turn to plenty of good hay and silage. Most of them are feeding concentrates too, but the whole job can't be done with concentrates.

There is only a fifth as much milk produced in the winter as in the summer time, Gibson says. A good many dairymen see the value of having hay and silage on hand when the pastures are gone. When the cows have lots of good grass, they won't eat nearly as much hay and silage. But there isn't a year-round grass available.

Enough feed for the cows all through the year and more fall freshening cows will go along toward a more stable milk production. The number of good cows on a farm that can be properly fed and managed means more milk at less cost, says Gibson, and goes a long way toward a program of balanced dairying.

Agent Explains How To Shop For Quality Sheets

During the war it was right next to impossible for the housewife to get sheets. It has been nearly three years since the war ended, and sheets are becoming easier to get as time goes by. So Mrs. Jewell H. Strasser, Garza County home demonstration agent has a number of tips about buying and taking care of sheets.

The thread count of a sheet is important to the housewife in knowing the difference between a good sheet and a poor one. By holding the sheet up to the light and stretching it tightly between the hands, it is easy to tell how fine or coarse the weave is by seeing how much light shines through. Signs of a poor quality sheet are loose weave, small knots of thread, uneven weave, puckers and missing warp threads. If the sheet is hemmed with long coarse stitches, the homemaker can depend on it lacking good weaving qualities.

Small, close stitches are the high points of a good sheet. By rubbing the sheet together, one can learn whether starch has been added to give it a smooth, soft finish. If fine powder comes off on the fingers, beware. The sheet was washed in starch.

The selvage, or true edge of the sheet, should be closely woven, almost like a tape, and free from wrinkles at the edges. This is important to the strength of a sheet. All sheets will shrink in the first several washings, but since the average length is 108 inches, there is an ample 20 inch turnback.

Here are a few suggestions for the home launderer: Do not wash colored sheets with white ones, even though they may be fast-color. That's expecting a little too much. Play safe by hanging the colored sheets in the shade, and don't use boiling water when washing them. Use a soap that you can trust, one that is not too strong. And last, but very important, says Mrs. Strasser, too much water-softener yellows white fabrics.

Boy Scout Work In Area Is Well Organized Now

"Boy Scouting in the South Plains Area Council is on the up and up," remarked Local Committeeman John Lott on his return from Lubbock where Monday night he attended a meeting of the council executive board.

Boy Scout work in this area is better organized this year than at any time since before the war, Lott explained.

He said "plans are in the mill" for Camp Post and Camp Mamie Haymes, near Silverton.

C. Mercer and a crew of two men, representing the Lane-Texas Water Well Company of Dallas, arrived here yesterday to make tests at Camp Post for the purpose of determining the source of water supply there.

Small Amounts Of Petroleum Shown In Wildcat Wells

No commercial production has been developed at any of the three wildcats in the east side of Garza County. Only slight shows of petroleum were reported.

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Swenson Land & Cattle company, northeast Garza County development was reported by unofficial sources to be testing on the section at about 7,940-55 feet in the Ellenburger.

No official reports on results of the investigating had been released by last weekend. However, it has been learned from sources which are believed to be informed, that only small amounts of oil and some salt water, has been developed. It is likely that full information on the showings this venture has developed will be officially reported in a few days.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-G Humble fee, four miles east of Justiceburg, was swabbing to test on section at 7,760-90 in the Mississippian chert last weekend.

At the end of the week no free oil had been developed by that testing. There were some slight shows of petroleum in drillstem tests run on that zone while drilling was in progress.

All of the section from the current level of operations down to the total depth at 7,870 feet in the Ellenburger, has been eliminated as a possible source of oil production in this exploration.

Proven Oil Company, L. M. Glasco, et al, No. 1 George W. Herd, trustee, three miles south of Justiceburg, was testing several streaks of slight oil saturation, above the plugged back total depth at 3,313 feet last weekend.

The swabbing was being done through perforations in the casing which was cemented at 3,167 feet.

No possibilities of commercial production had been found in any of the horizons which have been tested.

Operators plan to continue testing up to about 2,300 feet — by streaks.

Poor To Average Crops Predicted For South Plains

"Poor to average" crops for the South Plains in 1948 were forecast in Lubbock Monday by Indian legendary methods once used successfully on predictions by the late J. I. Wilbourn of Post.

Among Wilbourn's Indian method predictions each year was one made each March 22 at sunrise. If the wind was from the east or northeast—as it was a year ago—the area would have favorable conditions for bumper crop.

Should the wind be from the north or northwest, the crops would be average, and should it be from the west, southwest or south, the crops would be burned up. A southwest wind at sunrise on March 22 means a poor crop year.

After Wilbourn's death 17 years ago, the late W. O. Stevens recorded the direction of the wind each March 22 sunrise until his death, then the observation was carried on each year by a Lubbock attorney, Clark M. Mulligan, who moved to Wichita Falls since last March.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal took the responsibility at sunrise on Monday and came forth with the following statement:

"The farmer must work hard, conserve moisture and cut all corners in order to help nature produce an average crop."
