Public housing project is approved in Washington

For slum clearance

Federal Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason Tuesday in Washington, D. C., approved the workable program of Post, setting forth this community's plans for comprehensive local action to prevent and eliminate slums and blight.

Formal approval of this workable program, submitted some weeks ago by Post's city council, is a prerequisite for Federal assistance for a public housing project.

Word of the approval was received here in telegrams to Mayor Powell Shytle and The Dispatch from Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, and Cong. George Mahon.

The approval is another major step forward in the required paper work to secure federal funds for what the Post Public Housing Authority hopes will be a 100-unit public housing project.

Lee Ward, secretary of the Public Housing Authority, said today that he has been advised by the Public Housing Authority's regional office in Fort Worth that a 11 current federal funds for such projects have been exhausted and that action on the Post project must await approval of additional funds for the program expected at this session of congress.

Ward indicated that the Housing Authority, of which Irby G. Metcalf Jr., is chairman, is completing the necessary paper work for a preliminary loan contract with the Federal Housing Authority.

Upon the securing of such a loan, a survey then would be made here to determine the local housing needs.

Results of the survey would determine whether the federal agency would advance construction funds for 100 units as sought or a lesser number.

In its "workable program" Post has estimated there are about 1,500 dwelling units in the city and that approximately 300, or 20 per cent, of these are substandard. Post reported in its workable plan that it has adequate building, plumbing, and electrical codes and ordinances, and that its fire code has been updated by revisions which are expected to be adopted at an early date.

Extension of the city limits also was pointed out as well as that a zoning and planning committee is studying zoning regulations which are scheduled for adoption by Sept. 30, 1959.

Extensive community facilities have been installed during the past year, and consideration is being given to the development of a community master plan, the city said in its "workable program."

The city was on record as recognizing its responsibility to relocate in standard housing those families displaced by renewal or other governmental actions. It was pointed out too that civic, business and professional organizations are participating in and supporting the "workable program."

Contract to be awarded soon on new building for bank

A contract for construction of the modern new home for the First National Bank is expected to be let within the next ten or 15 days. Irby G. Metcalf, Jr., bank president, announced today.

He estimated that actual construction would get under way within the next 30 to 45 days.

The estimated construction time is six months, Metcalf said, which means if construction was maintained on schedule the new bank building would be ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year.

First National Bank directors approved plans for the new building at a special meeting Friday.

The new bank building will be of one-story brick construction and contain approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space.

Included will be drive-in banking facilities. Metcalf said one drive-in window will be built at this time with space left for the addition of a second one at a later date when needed.

Bank building plans include a large community room which will seat approximately 100 persons.

It will have an outside entrance and will be available for use by both individuals and organizations of the community.

The large bank lobby will contain approximately 2,000 square feet. The entire bank building will be air-conditioned.

A paved parking lot for 50 to 60 cars is planned.

The new bank building will be located in the 200 block on West Main Street. The bank last year purchased almost the entire block facing on Main from the north.

Effect for 1959-60 school year

Trustees set $164.92 tuition charge

Independent School District trustees Monday night set at the tuition charge for the 1959-60 school year of students attending into local schools from the school district.

The tuition charge was determined by subtracting the $166.50 in state aid and $19,335.42 in indebtedness from the $34,812 school district budget for the year and dividing the remainder by the average student enrollment of 1229.

Other actions, trustees accepted the resignation of J. Gallosay, high school instructor.

Approved the plan to have constructed an 18-foot-long concrete stand for the football stadium.

Funeral is held on Tuesday

Funeral services for Willie L. Bowen, a Post resident for several years, who died Saturday while on a business trip to New Orleans, were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday at St. Mary Baptist Church.

Bowen, who was 61 years old, was a retired logger. He was born in Graham, Tex., Aug. 5, 1891, and was a member of the Baptist church and a veteran of World War I.

Survived by his wife, Ruth Bowen; two daughters, Mrs. Lee Finch, who lives in Africa, and Mrs. Maedellee Bowen of Houston; three sons, James, Donald Gene Bowen of Dallas, and Gene Bowen of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Minnie Bowen of Post.

Three sisters, Mrs. Ella Vera Ferguson and Mrs. F. P. Parks, all of Post; three nephews, Claude and Tommy of Post; and Bill Bowen of Lubbock, all of Post.

Funeral services were held at the Rev. Graydon Howell Bowen rites on page 8.

Wildcat near Justiceburg

Oil drilling

Continues across the southern portion of the county with announcement by John J. Eisener of Abilene of the location of a proposed 8,400-foot Ellenburger wildcat, the No. 1 Frances Mae Porter and others.

The No. 1 Ora N. Sims, U. S. Smelting's promising new discovery, was being tested through Mississippi perforations this week after swabbing tests previous indicated good recovery from the Ellenburger and Strawn.

On the latest seven hour gauge Tuesday from Mississippi perforations at 8,148-54 feet, the test swabbed 9.7 barrels of new oil per hour with a shakeout of five per cent acid water recovered.

Previously from the same per-

000 of the $710,000 obtained from the sale of the school expansion bonds in short-term government bonds until the money is needed on the school projects.

Discussed at considerable length newspaper coverage of trustee sessions with Dispatch Publisher Jim Cornish.

TRUSTEES WANTED the news report of trustee sessions to include only those actions as set forth in the minutes.

Cornish contended discussions leading up to board actions should be included to give the public a better understanding of why trustees took the actions they did.

Only a quorum of four were present for the June meeting with Quannah Maxey, Russell Wilks, Jr., and Clint Herring absent. The start of the session was delayed for 45 minutes until E. R. Moreland, board president, arrived just after returning from a business trip in South Texas.

Mrs. Altargarcia C. Escobar, 38, of Del Rio, was dismissed yesterday from Garza Memorial Hospital here after treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile collision three miles beyond Justiceburg on US-84 at about 3 a. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Escobar suffered bruises to chest, legs, and abdomen but received no fractures or internal injuries.

The collision occurred, according to investigating officers, when the 1949 Dodge driven by Mrs. Escobar and containing seven other adults and children, was struck from the rear by a 1952 Dodge driven by Douglas Roosevelt Laughlin of Tampa, Fla.

The collision impact knocked the Escobar car over an embankment and nose down into a dry river bed. Both cars were badly damaged.

Mrs. Escobar was the only one of the ten involved in the accident who was injured. A sailor, Bobby W. Slaughter, was riding with Laughlin after "hitching" a lift.

Laughlin was charged with not having control of his car and paid fine and costs totaling $16.50 in Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts court here Tuesday.

Highway patrolman James R. Singleton, Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd, and City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr., investigated the accident.

Junior riders will try to reorganize

Junior cowboys and cowgirls — 19 years of age and under — are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Bill Meares to discuss plans for reactivation of the junior riding club here.

Plans are to reorganize the riding club in advance of the annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo, which is to be held July 29-Aug. 1.

Not much expense will be attached to the organization at first, according to Clarky Cowdrey, a Junior Rodeo official. The only expenses later, he said, would be purchase of uniforms and other incidentals.

Cowdrey said plans are to organize a mounted quadrille group later on if a riding club can be formed.

"Right now we are mainly interested in getting organized," he said.

The proposed riding club will also be discussed at a junior rodeo meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the county 4-H building.

R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson, a newcomer to Post as manager of the Wilson Supply Co., is one of those who think that the community must get busy solving its housing problem. Wilke travels around through the area oil industry in his business and reports that dozens of oil families who should be living in Post today are living instead in Snyder and even Denver City because of the lack of housing here.

Local Main street thus is losing thousands of dollars monthly in retail sales, he adds.

Wilke says he has "signed up" eight or ten families who want to build new homes here and have "down payments in the bank" but that getting room to build is a problem in itself.

Right now lots are a real problem all right. At least two housing developers here, who have built plenty of homes in recent years, have run out of locations. They're trying to get more. When the city can accomplish all the planning and work required for extension of utilities into the newly annexed areas on the city's outskirts, housing developments can expect to really flourish. Until this can be done, it's going to be a problem.

On the construction side, you'll note the step forward announced this week for a public housing project for Post—although it's still a good distance off—for construction of the new bank building, and the entry of the South Plains Developers, Inc., of Slaton into the home construction picture here. All are important and indicate this community's continuing growth and future promise.

Weary reporter gets

All mixed up

An onrushing deadline and a "beat" reporter combined to cause The Dispatch to pull a real "blooper" in its story last week on transfers of students from one school district to another.

The story had the Southland school bus running to Post for the 1953-54 school year, where it should have been the Close City bus. It also had 20 high school students transferring from the Southland district to Post where it should have been from the Close City district to Post.

The remainder of the story, believe it or not, was correctly reported.

The reporter reports that County School Supt. Dean A. Robinson gave him the correct figures and that they were correctly jotted down in his (the reporter's) notebook. The mix-up occurred somewhere between the reporter's notebook and his typewriter.

Our apologies to the county superintendent and to the people of the Close City and Southland school districts.

Little loot taken in two break-ins

Break-ins at two South Broadway food stores, less than a block apart, were reported Tuesday night, but only some change from each cash drawer was reported missing.

Burglarized were Young's Food Market, 416 South Broadway, and Windham's Service Station and Grocery, 504 South Broadway.

A passing motorist at 5 a. m. Wednesday noticed the front door of Young's Market standing open and phoned Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd.

Deputy Floyd said that entrance to both stores was gained by breaking the glass in the front doors.

Possibly some jet cream was stolen besides change from the cash drawers, the proprietors reported.

At First Baptist Church

Snyder contractor is to build annex

Contract for construction of a new educational annex at the First Baptist Church was awarded to T. E. Shelburne & Son, Inc., of Snyder in a called conference Sunday. The Snyder firm was awarded the contract on a low bid of $52,800.

A ground-breaking ceremony for the new annex will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the west side of the church, the Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor, has announced.

Construction of the new unit, which is to be built on the west side of the church, is expected to begin within ten days, according to the pastor.

The new unit will connect to the west educational wing of the building. It will house two beginner departments, three primary departments, two young people departments, a secretarial office, church library and conference room, a prayer room and offices for the pastor and educational director.

Construction will be of brick and concrete block for the outside walls, cement and tile floors, with wood framing and sheetrock covering in most of the partition.

Plans for the new building were drawn by the architectural firm of McMurty & Craig.

J. B. POTTS

J. B. Potts given bank promotion

J. B. Potts is now executive vice president of the First National Bank. Irby G. Metcalf Jr., bank president, announced today.

Potts, who joined the local bank in August, 1957, was advanced to the new position from that of vice president by the board of directors of the bank at a special meeting Friday.

Potts came to the First National from Lubbock Production Credit Association and is a Texas Tech graduate with an agricultural major.

He is chairman of Garza County March of Dimes, treasurer of the Garza Community Chest, a member of the Rotary club and deacon in the Church of Christ.

He had lived since 1915 in the Grassland community, where he was engaged in farming.

Funeral services are to be held at 10 a. m. Friday in Central Baptist Church, near Grassland. Other arrangements are pending, according to Hadman Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be the five Edwards brothers—Lloyd, Cleo, Coll, Hubert and Joe—and Vernon Turner.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife, Lillian; two daughters, Mrs. Alice Brasher of Seminole and Mrs. Barbara Ruth Jones of Big Spring; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Juanita Taylor of Lubbock; a stepson, W. T. No action yet on dial system offer

In formally presenting their offer of a dial system for Post to the city council a few weeks ago, representatives of General Telephone Company of the Southwest moved the completion date up to November of 1960 from June of 1961 "if we can get our order for materials in now."

It stands to reason that the telephone company's "now" means just what it says and that any delay on the part of the city council in accepting the offer means that the completion date will be moved back to June of 1961. So, if the city council wants a dial system here by November of 1960 instead of around the middle of the following year, it should take action on the phone company's offer at an early meeting.

It could well be that the city council doesn't consider a six or seven month delay in getting the new system installed of any consequence. It also could well be that the city council doesn't care one way or the other whether a dial system is installed. They've never gone on record officially one way or the other. But since, in the final analysis, the general public are the ones concerned, it seems to us that the city council shouldn't unnecessarily put off action in accepting or rejecting the phone company's offer.

General Telephone's new offer of a dial system here provides for no interim rates, which means that the customer wouldn't be billed with the higher phone rates until the dial system was in and working. The offer also gives the city an option on the phone company's present building, with the company planning to construct a new building for the dial installation.

The offer also provides for the phone company to spend $55,000 in improving and expanding rural telephone service and from $180,000 to $200,000 in the city limits in its changeover to dial.—CD.

Big boost for city Clean-up Week

One of the many benefits that will come from the city sanitation department's "bigger and better" garbage pick-up and disposal program is its effect on annual City-Wide Clean-Up Week.

The fact that the city will have an extra truck—a new one at that—and three extra employees in its sanitation department means that something other than "barrel trash" can be hauled away and disposed of twice a week in the residential sections and daily in the business district. This will mean that the Clean-Up Week job will be easier, since most of the work in the past has been the hauling away of raked weeds and grass, tree limbs, etc.

In fact, if the sanitation department's program gets rolling along the lines it is expected to, it may not be necessary to stage a city-wide clean-up campaign on the same scale as in the past. There still remains, of course, the problem of weed-choked, debris-cluttered vacant lots, and not much has ever been done with these, either during Clean-Up Week or at any other time of the year. Until something is done about these vacant lots—and not just on a "hit and miss" basis—no clean-up drive will be anywhere near 100 per cent successful.

The City of Post has made rapid progress these last few years. If ever there comes a time to total it all up and itemize each step forward, certainly not the least of these will be the city's recent decision to put its garbage pick-up and disposal program on a top-shelf basis.—CD.

The Yankees lose a manager

Post's Little League organization lost a valuable member Saturday when Yankee Manager J. P. Parnell told his team of youngsters goodbye. J. P., who has managed the Yankees ever since Little League play was inaugurated here four years ago, left for Greensboro, N. C., where he will attend an industrial engineering school for eight weeks before being transferred to Sherman, Tex., by Postex Mills, Inc.

Members of the Yankee team presented their departing manager a plaque Saturday afternoon shortly before he left for Lubbock to take a plane for Greensboro. The ceremony was held at home plate at the Little League Park, which J. P. helped build, and as he shook hands with each of his players, the manager became all "choked-up" with emotion about halfway through the handshaking. One couldn't blame him. Those youngsters presented the plaque to their manager in all sincerity, and many of them were all "choked-up," too.

In devoting much of his time throughout the summer, for the last four years, to managing the Little League team, J. P. has set a good example for other adults—who are needed to keep the league operating. Outside of Punk Peel, who has done an equally good job with the Dodgers for the last four years, we can't think of any other individual who has managed the same

Firemen make laudable decision

The Post Volunteer Fire Department is to be commended for its decision not to solicit convention trip funds this year from the city's business men. The reason they're not doing it is because business men contributed more than $1,000 a few months ago for the purchase of new firemen's uniforms.

In the past, Post business firms have responded generously to this solicitation and no doubt would have done so again this year. But the volunteer firemen, many of them business men themselves, wisely decided not to "ride a good horse to death."

The department's fire marshal explained the situation to the city council at a recent meeting and the councilmen voted unanimously to appropriate the necessary funds after agreeing with the fire marshal that it would be asking too much of the business men to solicit convention trip funds after they had purchased the new uniforms. The fire department had already received $110 from oil companies for convention expenses, leaving the city $263 to appropriate.

A little later on, some of the firemen will attend the annual firemen's school. Expenses of this event is shared by the City of Post, Garza County and the Chamber of Commerce.

It is important that our volunteer fire department be represented at both events—the state convention and the firemen's school. Their attendance at these functions help keep the city's fire insurance rate lower than it otherwise would be.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

The wet, cool spring may bail the city water department out of a difficult spot this year. The council has been knowing they'd need to do something about the water supply for a year. They got by last season, but the potential has increased greatly, as a warm, dry month may demonstrate. Whether to take measures to get more water through the supply main to the ground tank or to drill a new well was discussed for awhile. After it was determined that a new well would be the best answer, there were weeks and weeks of delay while a decision on the location of the well was awaited. Latest development is a delay due to technicalities. So no contract can be let until well up toward July. For this reason, and other good reasons, too, we'd like to see ample moisture the first half of this summer.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

ings in Austin and Washington with the attitude that state and federal expenditures have little, if anything, to do with us. But recent figures show that it is not the big corporation or the big company of the wealthy individuals who foot the bill on government expenses . . . it's you and I . . . 47 per cent of the cost of the federal government is paid for by the hourly wage earner.—The Andrews County News.

Well, Winston Churchill is visiting Ike to do a little friendship-cementing, and Ike thought maybe it would be nice if Harry Truman dropped in and made it a threesome to knife a few peas and gnaw a chicken bone. But Harry said he had a date in Brooklyn to inspect Ebbets Field before the Dodgers came back from L. A. and just couldn't make it. Harry and Ike seem to agree on one thing—that it was a mistake to limit a president to two terms. I think so, too. They should make it one term.—Ed Erard in Kingsville (Texas) Record.

Slaton and a majority of its business men have certainly gone all out for Little League baseball and from appearance it is all the youngsters can do to hold onto their gloves and bats. The drug store coffee bars, the shady corners and the barber shops are swarming with men of all ages planning strategy and comparing the abilities of the boy players. The subjects of tornadoes, hail storms, the cotton crops and the problems of making a living have been forgotten.

How far such an interest should be carried is a question that would only be attempted by a psychiatrist. Here in Slaton it seems that it might possibly stop all business activity. If you want to see the manager of most any business concern you'll have to first find out which baseball field he is spending his time with and it will be only a few most valuable seconds he can spare you.

There are many Mickey Mantles growing up in Slaton and don't you deny it.—The Slaton Slatonite.

We're afraid that too many of us view the do-

Our financial problem is not something that developed overnight. It has been in the making ever since the national government began toying with the Marxist theory of unequal taxation—soaking the rich to pay for government. Such a theory worked as long as government costs were reasonable and restricted to governmental functions. But as the Marxism spread and . . . government took on more and more of the responsibility of the individual to provide for himself, the cost of government became more than the rich could pay for. Our socialistic chickens are coming home to roost.—Italy, Tex., News-Herald.

In the view of Publisher Tom Anderson of Farm and Ranch Magazine: "Ever since there's been a farm program the rich have gotten the gravy—because when the government gravy bowl runs over the rich have spoons and poor have forks. The farm program is for everybody except the little family farmer it ought to be for."

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE OLD AMERICAN pastime of taking vacations isn't all it's cracked up to be, nor is it as easy as it appears on the surface for a family just to turn loose all holds for a week or two and get away from it all. That's speaking, of course, for the average American family and not for those who find it no problem at all, financially or otherwise, to head for the hills or the seashore, as the case may be.

The few vacations we've taken in our lifetime have been as hard as all get-out to get off on, but twice as easy to get back from. We suppose it's because we've never worked at anything except the newspaper business, which we unhesitatingly nominate as one of the most difficult vocations from which to take a vacation.

WE BELIEVE Publisher Jim Cornish will agree with us, since Jim, too, has been in nothing except the newspaper business since he started working for a living. Right now we're in the process here at The Dispatch office of getting the annual one-week vacations out of the way, and it's no picnic!

Woman's Editor Ruby Williams started this year's round of Dispatch vacations some ten days ago, but she's back at her desk this week, returning to find Corky Ammons gone out of the backshop. We're planning on starting our vacation at quitting time Friday, and will be head for our first visit to Houston to see our daughter and son-in-law. That means Corky will get back from his vacation in time to find us gone.

JIM WILL BE taking off not long after we return from Brownsville and the annual convention of the Texas Press Association, but won't go so far as to commit himself this early as to whether he'll be gone a full week. In the newspaper business, it's always the head man who can less afford to spend the most time away from his work.

Then, too, in the newspaper business, it means extra work for everyone else when one employe is out of the picture for a week or two, since it is one of those professions in which you can't just call in anyone to fill in. But, each of us is always glad to see a fellow employe able to call it "quits" for at least one week out of a year, and if we grumble a little at having to work a little harder, it's only because we're human.

AND, IT'S OUR own fault that we find it a little harder to get away for a week or two than do those people who don't go off leaving at least two or three dogs and cats for someone else to feed and look after.

Mark Twain expressed the value of the written word when he said: "The difference between the right word and the almost right word is the difference between lightning and the lightning bug."

Adaptability tests on preliminary strains of Sesame to be conducted

PARIS — Adaptability tests on 200 preliminary strains of sesame will be conducted this year in the Blacklands and on the High Plains of the Texas Panhandle in continuing search for new and improved varieties of the oilseed crop which produced nearly one billion dollars for the farmers of Texas last year.

The tests will be conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on sites furnished by Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., and Tom Blossom on his farm at Blossom in Garza County and by Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. at Muleshoe in Garza County. Dr. George W. Rogers, research agronomist stationed at College Station, will be in charge of the projects.

"Our farmers are growing Sesame for a steadily growing market," says Robert L. Parker, executive vice president of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., "and one of our greatest needs is for research which will provide us with better strains of Sesame and more information about its culture and growing habits. We are pleased to cooperate in these studies with the Department of Agriculture, and believe that Dr. Rogers' work will produce much immediately useful knowledge."

At Blossom one experiment will compare the yields of 30 advanced test strains of Sesame with properly available commercial varieties. Consideration will be given to yield, plant height, disease (if present), maturity, oil and protein content. The same kind of experiment will be conducted at Muleshoe on 30 advanced test strains. Similarly, tests will be conducted in both areas to evaluate the adaptability of preliminary varieties planted under field conditions. Approximately two hundred strains will be checked in each locality.

Plant spacing, levels of fertility, frost damage studies and other research information will be sought by Dr. Rogers in additional experiments at Muleshoe.

Vet's Forum

Q. A woman veteran neighbor of ours has just died, leaving a husband who is quite helpless. Isn't there some recent law which says a helpless widower of a woman veteran may receive VA benefits based on the death of his wife? And if so, what are the law's main provisions?

A. You are correct. There is a new law. And it states that the unmarried widower of a woman veteran may receive VA death benefits if he is incapable of self-maintenance and, at the time of his wife's death, was permanently incapable of self-support because of physical or mental disability.

Q. VA has just informed me I can exchange my Korean GI term insurance policy to one costing only a third as much in premiums, since my policy is one of those with the letters "RS" before the policy number. I am going to change to the new policy. Shall I pay my next premium at the new rate or the old rate?

A. You should continue to pay your premiums at the old rate until the VA notifies you your new, lower-cost policy is in effect. Any overpayment will be credited to your account.

Q. My World War II permanent GI life insurance policy lapsed two months ago and I am making application to VA to reinstate it. Must I pay interest on my premiums in arrears when I send them in?

A. Not if your application and the premiums in arrears are submitted to VA within three months of the due date of the first premium you missed. Interest is charged only if application is made after three months from date of lapse.

Q. I get two VA benefits: my monthly training allowance, and compensation for a service-incurred disability. Do I have to report either on my 1958 Federal Income tax report?

A. No. Veterans benefits are tax-free. Interest on GI insurance dividends left with VA on deposit, however, should be reported.

County agent lists points in dieting

By JESSIE PEARCE
Are you interested in getting rid of those extra pounds so that you will have less fatigue and be more attractive in your summer play clothes? Then follow these common sense suggestions.

First, see your doctor. Only when he says that you should lose weight should you start a reduction diet.

Studies have shown that the most effective weight reduction diets are low calorie, high protein and low carbohydrate. However, a variety and a balance of essential foods is still needed by the body.

It is easier for a person to stay on a reducing diet which includes a variety of foods as well as foods which are familiar to the individual.

A good breakfast is always important, even in a reducing diet. Each day's food intake should include two to three cups of milk (may be skim) one or more servings of vegetables (one dark green or yellow), two or three servings of fruit including one citrus, at least one tablespoon of fat and two or three servings of bread or cereal.

To dispel some of those ideas that you may have acquired about foods being fattening, look at these comparisons of calories of various foods. One cup of whole milk contains about 165 calories, skim milk contains about half this amount, and still contains all of the protein and calcium of the whole milk. A serving of lean beef has about 300 calories; two butter biscuits have about 300 calories; slice of apple pie about 375 calories; and kola type carbonated beverages about 105 calories.

If you are really serious about losing weight, you can cut out calories by omitting rich dressings—like pie, cake and doughnuts—and salad dressings. Get a calorie chart, start counting those calories and stay with your weight reduction regime until you have the amount you want to get to. Don't try to lose it overnight. It took years to accumulate that so take months to get rid of it. You will feel better while doing it and it won't come back so fast.

Marshall Masons return from vacation in Hawaiian Islands

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Mason returned to Texas last Wednesday after a vacation that is most vacationers' dream — a trip to Hawaii.

The Masons sailed from San Francisco a month ago on the luxury liner, "Lurline" and after a truly luxurious trip across the Pacific were greeted at Hawaii in what Mrs. Mason described as a "most colorful and warm welcome." Sailing into Diamond Head and Waikiki Beach was described as their highlight or "most thrilling moment" of the trip. Awaiting the arrival of the ship were crowds of people and bands playing and upon landing, the tourists were presented leis.

The Royal Hawaiian Hotel in Honolulu was the Masons' "headquarters" for the weeks of visiting and sightseeing.

While in Honolulu they attended a "luau", a native feast of the island, and took several scenic tours.

In a trip to the Island of Hawaii the tourists drove down a highway that was lined with giant fern to visit large coffee and pineapple plantations and banana, coconut and sugar cane plantations.

During their weeks of stay in the islands, Mr. and Mrs. Mason visited the national military cemetery, "The Punch Bowl", which is situated in the center of an extinct volcano and where the famed columnist, Ernie Pyle, is buried.

One of the most interesting events of the trip was a cruise to Pearl Harbor where they saw the sunken ship "Arizona" on which a Post man, John Miller, died with several thousand other sailors.

The Island of Oahu, where Honolulu is located, was the most beautiful and colorful of the five islands to the Post visitors.

Their trip back to the States was made via Pan American clipper. They spent three days in Los Angeles before flying to Midland and returning to Post.

Linda Messer, Jimmy Peede wed in double ring service

Double ring wedding vows were pledged by Miss Linda Joyce Messer and Jimmy Dale Peede Saturday, June 6, at the Watson Baptist Church in the Calgary community.

The Rev. Wayne Huckaby, pastor, performed the ceremony at 8 p. m. before a background of white plumes flanked with baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Messer, Route 1, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peede.

Traditional wedding marches and "The Lord's Prayer" were played by Miss Rita Johnson.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of silk and nylon organza. The fitted bodice of embroidered flowers was styled with a scalloped neckline and brief sleeves, accented with seed pearls. The full skirt began with tiers of embroidered flowers atop the nylon organza. She wore a veil of silk organza held in place with a hat of seed pearls. Her gloves ended in points over the hands and she carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Miss Barbara Stanley was maid of honor. She wore a rose colored dress styled with a rounded neckline and full skirt and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Tom Drake attended the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Earl Allen and Tom Pennell.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts for a reception at the Calgary Community House where decorations carried out a pink and white color scheme.

Study completed and information released on 7 principal grain crops

COLLEGE STATION — A study recently completed on the importance, location of products and yields of the seven principal grains grown in Texas.

Clarence Moore, Department of Agriculture Economics and Sociology, Texas A&M College, made a report of this study.

SM-11, a Southern Regional Grain Marketing Research Project group.

Moore pointed out that the average yield per acre of grain sorghum during 1953-57 was almost the same as that of the 1935-39 period.

Annual variations were large, but yields showed a rising trend over the 23-year period.

"There are several reasons for this," he explained. "Use of improved varieties, increased use of irrigation and more widespread planting of superior hybrids had a lot to do with the higher yield. Better cultural practices and wider use of fertilizer also helped. Too, acres diverted from cotton and corn to sorghum in the last few years may have been more productive."

The study also revealed average acreage and production of corn during 1953-57 were only about one-half that of 1935-39. Corn declined from 52 per cent of the state's total feed grain production during 1935-39 to 16 per cent in 1955-57 while grain sorghum increased from 20 per cent to over 70 per cent.

Moore attributes this mainly to the fact that grain sorghum has been in an economically favorable condition over corn due to lower production costs.

Wheat has declined and rice has increased in relative importance since 1950. Moore says this is mostly due to the fact that rice has had a more favorable market since the war, while there has been a surplus of wheat.

The custom of throwing rice at a wedding may have originated as a bribe. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, rice may have been an offering to evil spirits to persuade them to stay away from the newly-weds.

Ray takes part in Marine maneuvers

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Marine Pvt. Jerry A. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie P. Ray of Route 1, Post, Tex., took part in Operation "Twin Peaks" on California's southern coast from May 17 to June 2, with Marines from the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Air and guard forces were launched against aggressor forces involving the newly redesigned helicopter assault carrier USS Princeton from which attacking troops launched assaults at inland targets, in the latest employment of the Corps' vertical envelopment doctrine.

The two-week maneuver was the most extensive air-ground landing exercise to be conducted on the Southern California Coast since 1957.

Brimful

As the surging floodwaters rose, the residents of the small town sat on a hilltop and watched the muddy tide swirl into their homes. Suddenly hen-pecked Tom Thatcher tore off his coat and shoes and dove into the raging stream. The others shouted for him to stop, but with no effect. He swam determinedly to the second story of his home, which remained above water, and struggled inside.

When his friends had almost given him up, he reappeared, and swam back, falling exhausted on the dry land. As the others rushed to help him, his only words were, "Don't tell my wife!"

"But Tom what happened?" some one asked. "Why did you take such a fool risk? You sure must have left something pretty valuable in your house."

"No," Tom gasped. "I just remembered that I left the water running in the bathtub."

It's all right to speak straight from the shoulder, providing it originates higher up.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!

According to Otis Rogers, Jr., Slaton real estate man at its head, are building four small three-bedroom 960 square foot homes designed to sell under FHA in the $8,250 price range. The firm already has built some similar homes in Slaton and has started some others in Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Herring, their daughter, Jan, and Pam McCrary got a first hand look last week at life in a dictator-ruled country when touring the Dominican Republic where Trujillo rules with an iron fist. They didn't like being constantly guarded and watched and shown only the country's "window dressing". So when Jan caught a severe skin allergy of some sort, they just junked the rest of their West Indies flying junket with still two weeks to go and flew home. They arrived Monday flying right into Lubbock.

Clint reported the group had a good time but that police stayed close to them in both Haiti and the Dominican Republic — apparently for their own safety as much as anything else. He said that poverty-ridden Haiti is "ripe for anything" and that there was obvious tension and unrest in Haiti. The Cuban Revolution is reverberating throughout the West Indies and Central America with plenty of unrest everywhere, he said. The deposed dictators, Batista of Cuba and Perron of Argentina, both now make their home in Dictator Trujillo's Dominican Republic. One of Castro's men killed one of Batista's followers in a political murder in front of one of the banks in the Dominican Republic's capital city while the Herrings were there. Clint said it was "hushed up". Herring said there is an armed policeman on almost every street corner in that city as "traffic" directors even though there is only an occasional car to "direct."

A story the entire community should read will be found topping page 13 under the black headline, "Child is bitten by rabid prairie dog." Phil Tannehill is now undergoing a painful series of 14 anti-rabies shots at a one-a-day rate to be sure that rabies don't strike here in Post. The precautions which must be taken to avoid such anti-rabies shots are listed in the article. The animals which do the biting must be guarded and watched to see if they become sick. Actually it couldn't be determined in this instance whether the animal — prairie dog or ground squirrel — actually had rabies so to be on the safe side, Phillip had to take the "shots."

Add a new life insurance man to Post's growing list of business and professional folks. He's Dowe H. Mayfield, Jr., who has been named as the Post representative for the Southern President Life Insurance Co., a Texas company. Young Dowe has been associated with his father in the farm implement business here since coming out of the armed forces in July of last year. He returned Tuesday from Dallas where he attended the Institute of Life Insurance Marketing at Southern Methodist University during last week. Judicial District is being reduced to four counties

The 106th Judicial District will shrink from six to four counties on Sept. 1 as result of a bill signed by Gov. Price Daniel approving a new judicial district, the 121st.

Garza, Lynn, Dawson and Gaines counties will make up the 106th District with the other two counties now in the district, Yoakum and Terry, merging with Cochran and Hockley to form the new 121st District.

Morgan Copeland of Brownfield, the present district attorney for the 106th District, will serve the 121st in the same capacity.

A new district attorney for this district will be appointed by the governor sometime before Sept. 1, according to District Judge Truett Smith of Tahoka. Copeland will continue to serve the 106th District until that time.

The 106th District was formed in 1925 and comprised Garza, Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, Yoakum and Terry counties. Since that time, the six counties have grown both in population and developments, such as oil and irrigation, to the point where it has become extremely difficult for one judge and one attorney to handle all the criminal and civil cases filed in the district.

The bill signed by the governor to create the new district was introduced in the legislature by Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock.

Two more charged with 'defective mufflers'

Three traffic tickets were handed out here Tuesday night by City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr., two of them to youths for "defective mufflers."

Receiving tickets on such charges were Lonnie Gene Peel, 20, at 9 p. m. and Charles Gordon, 16, at 10:30 p. m.

The third ticket went to Kenneth E. Bowen, 22, Sherman, Tex., truck driver, for running a red light.

County courtroom being air-cooled

Bids of Casey & Welch Electric were accepted by the county commissioners' court Monday for air-conditioning of the county and district courtroom and for installation of new lighting fixtures in the offices of the county judge, county sheriff and county treasurer and the commissioners' courtroom.

Casey & Welch's bid on the air-conditioning, one of three submitted, was $2,100. The firm is to install a three-ton and a four-ton unit to cool the courtroom.

County Judge J. E. Parker said this would complete air-conditioning of the courthouse, with the exception of the jail on the third floor. All offices on the first and second floors are air-conditioned.

Casey & Welch received the lighting installation contract on a bid of $565.38.

The commissioners also accepted the bid of Thomas Brothers of Lubbock for new furniture in the commissioners' courtroom. The bid was $800 and will include tables and chairs.

Permits issued for new homes

South Plains Developers of Slaton have been issued city building permits for construction of four new residences in the 700 block of West 15th Street.

Each of the new residences is being constructed at an estimated cost of $7,000. The houses will be of frame construction with 960 square feet of floor space, composition roof and asbestos siding. The houses are to be built at 707, 709, 711, and 715 West 15th.

The contractor is James H. Kilpatrick. A building permit has been issued by W. Greer for concrete block construction at the rear of his home here, costing an estimated $575.

The five new permits brought the year's construction total through June 8 to $435,567.

Revival meeting being held at church here

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Lee are the evangelists currently engaged in a revival meeting held nightly at 8 o'clock in the Assembly of God Church.

Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, invites the public to attend these meetings.

On June 28, 1784, Joshua Humphreys was appointed America's first Naval Constructor with an annual salary of $2,000. He designed and built the Constitution, Constellation, President, Chesapeake, and United States.

The "library on wheels" will be parked just west of Tom Power Ford and will be open from 10:30 a. m. until 12:30 and from 1:30 p. m. until 3:30.

Swim pool adopts ticket schedule

The city-county park board and city swimming pool operators, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Runkles, have agreed on the sale of a 20-admission ticket to the swimming pool to give regular pool users a savings of better than 10 per cent in charges over the summer season.

Children under 12, who pay 15 cents admission, can purchase a 20-admission ticket for $2.60 and save 40 cents; boys and girls 12 to 18 can save 75 cents by purchasing a $6.25 ticket instead of 12 20 35-cent admissions; and adults will save $1.50 by purchasing an $8.50 ticket instead of paying 50 cent admissions.

The new tickets went on sale today.

On June 4, 1944, the destroyer escorts Jenks, Chatterlain and Pillsbury, with the escort carrier Guadacanal, captured the German submarine U-505 in the Atlantic. This was the first time in 130 years that the U. S. Navy boarded and declared as a prize of war, an enemy vessel on the high seas. The U-505 is presently on display at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, Ill.

New booklet outlines 'Plan for Survival' for nation's citizens

AUSTIN — A new booklet, available from Austin, outlines for American citizens responsibilities of a sort they haven't faced in nearly a century.

Not since the War Between the States has any person in this country stood embattled on his own doorstep. Never before has the entire nation, from East Coast to West Coast, been regarded as vulnerable to possible attack.

The booklet, "What You Should Know About the National Plan for Civil Defense and Defense Mobilization," takes a hard look at this possibility in terms of what each citizen can do to protect himself.

IT IS AN official publication of the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. Copies may be obtained by writing the State Defense Office, Capitol Station, Austin.

Purpose of the book, according to OCDM Director Leo Hoegh, is "to show the individual citizen what his government may be expected to do for him and what he must do for himself in the event of an enemy attack on this country."

The National Plan is a large-scale blueprint setting the pattern for cooperative defense effort between federal, state and local governments and every family and person. "An effective application of the plan," Gov. Hoegh believes, "will surely save tens of millions of lives that would otherwise be lost."

GOAL OF THE National Plan is "to survive, to recover, to win."

The new booklet gives a brief summary of parts of the Plan that are of personal interest to the average citizen, including background information on civil defense preparations made so far and others planned for the near future. Sources of emergency communications, probable warning time, warning signals and what they mean are covered.

"Five simple steps to safety that should be undertaken by at least one member of each family are outlined at the conclusion. Each person and family, the booklet warns, must be prepared to meet its own requirements for a period of two weeks following an attack.

WHILE EVACUATION provides the big problem in the larger target cities, fallout, the new bogey of modern warfare, may concern people in the most remote areas. Present conditions, said the booklet, "indicate that some 90 per cent of the total population survive after detonations will require protection from fallout."

Constructive pre-planning, rather than futile worrying, is urged by the booklet. "Preparation to survive an H-bomb," it suggests, "is more sensible than guessing whether or not it will ever be used. And, it points out, "There will no time then (after the attack) to prepare to do what we are urged to do now."

Plains Cotton Growers oppose move

Price support loan limit appears certain of passage

The outlook for cotton farmers faced with a Congressional move to limit price support loans to $50,000 appears very "dim", officials of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. said Monday after returning from Washington where they consulted with both Representatives and Senators and had a special session with Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

the PCG, and George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive vice president, were in Washington last week to attend the Universal Cotton Standards Conference when news of support loan limitations broke. Pfeiffenberger explained that they worked with representatives of the National Cotton Council in opposing such limitations. He added that a Senate proposal is due for presentation some time this week and calls for action on price support limitations to start in 1960. An earlier House measure called for such limitations to begin this crop year. Smith, Pfeiffenberger and Ed Bush, of the Texas Ginners' Association met with Senator Johnson last Wednesday to express opposition to the limitations measure and ask that a committee be set up to study effects of such a proposal.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

As of now, there are an estimated 2,400,000 Federal civilian employees, of which in round numbers 70,000 are in the territories and possessions, and 130,000 in foreign lands.

Altogether, all government civilian employment is estimated as now running well in excess of 7,500,000. Thus of the present employed ranks, about one out of every nine people taking home pay checks are deriving them from government.

This explains why the Federal government and the many state governments are in serious financial difficulties.

The Federal government is employing alone three times as many people in civilian jobs as the nation's entire mining industry, almost twice as many as are employed on the nation's farms, slightly more than are employed by all the nation's financial houses, banks, insurance companies and real estate firms, and almost as many as the total employees of all the construction contractors.

Not only is this vast army of government employees sopping up huge chunks of tax money, but they are so numerous they constantly get in hair of those trying to make a dollar out of private enterprise.

This fact was brought out quite succinctly in a recent subcommittee hearing of the Senate Small Business committee on the logging industry which was presided over by Sen. Russell Long.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Testimony established that the lumber industry, especially in the eastern United States, is made up of small enterprisers producing a million or less board feet of lumber per year. Some 85 to 90% of all sawmills are in this category.

Testimony stated "Big government is one of the greatest problems of small business... the small operator who asks how in the world he can be expected to make a living with so many government people continually trying to find something wrong or information."

A partial list of the government agencies a small sawmill operator has to contend with was entered into the testimony.

This partial list includes Internal Revenue Service, Social Security Administration, Housing and Home Finance Agency, Federal Housing Administration, Army, Navy and Air Force, Farmers Home Administration, General Services Administration, Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation, Public Health Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, Federal Power Commission, Forest Service, Wage and Hour and Public Contract Division of the Department of Labor, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Civil Aeronautics Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Federal Reserve Board, Department of Agriculture, Office of Defense Mobilization.

As already stated, this is just a partial list of the Federal agencies that swarm around the small sawmill operator.

It is probably little wonder that one of the most rapidly growing professions in these United States is that of the psychiatrist.

ed in full committee on a tie vote. Later, on the Senate floor, Stennis discussed this proposal and urged Senators to study it carefully. The bill is scheduled for action on the Senate floor this week.

Smith said that PCG officials agree with Council analysis which stated that limitations would: 1. Destroy the orderly marketing system. 2. Depress prices and hurt all farmers, particularly small ones. 3. Increase rather than decrease government stocks of farm commodities. "While $50,000 sounds like a large amount, remember this represents gross, not net, income to a farmer. Cotton thus forced on the market, instead of being orderly marketed with the aid of the loan, will depress market prices and hurt all farmers," Smith said.

Pfeiffenberger said PCG officials are continuing their vigil on the limitation proposal and will do all possible in the fight against this program.

Texas Congressman George Mahon and Walter Rogers, along with Senators Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, voted against the limitation measure and have tried to help fight such action.

Automatic pilot is developed for farm tractors

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers who want to make their work easier should be interested in an automatic pilot that has been developed for farm tractors, said W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

The new device is expected to increase the effectiveness of cultivation as a means of weed control, he stated. The steering control system enables operators to guide tractors more accurately, thereby making possible finer adjustment of cultivation machinery for control of weeds without damage to the crops.

The automatic pilot was designed and laboratory tested by a USDA engineer, and is now being field tested. The main problem overcome in developing this device involved finding a way to use fairly simple equipment low enough in cost to be a profitable investment for farmers seeking to do a better job of cultivation, said Ulich.

The automatic control is intended for use in conjunction with power steering hookups which are featured on many modern tractors. Lightweight feelers, capable of sensing the position of the crop row in relation to the tractor's front tires, are used in the automatic pilot to close switches when the tractor moves too close or too far from the row.

The microswitcher, in turn, open valves that permit hydraulic pressure to turn the front wheels into alignment with the row. A linkage system between the front wheels and the switches automatically straightens the front wheels as soon as the tractor returns to the correct position, he added.

Any town, precinct can vote itself wet or dry

AUSTIN — The Texas Supreme Court ruled last week that any town or precinct in the state can vote itself wet or dry.

The ruling was in the form of a denial of an appeal by Dimmit County Judge James S. Myers who wanted to halt a local option election at Asherton.

It upheld without written opinion the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio which ordered Judge Myers and the Dimmit County Commissioners' court to call a wet and dry election.

Justice W. O. Murray of the Fourth Appeals Court said the county judge and commissioners should follow the wording of the constitution and grant local option elections to a city, town or precinct.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly advice service from HENRY A. ROLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health.

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried an inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now — this is lawn-mowing time, you know — until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But a random check of private physicians and an emergency hospital confirms the fact that the number is considerable.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his perspiring neighbor busily mowing the grass. Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car — elbow resting on window — finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five-inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blade.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration.

A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon recently, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way.

When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

One of the most frequent mower accidents has this sequence:

Telephone company is organizing sales force

To gear General Telephone Company's marketing and sales program to the new concept of service through sales, a company-wide sales force which ultimately will be composed of over 50 persons is being organized, according to J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, division manager at Brownfield.

Kemper explained that the first step in setting up the new sales program includes naming a unit sales manager for each of the company's six divisions.

C. G. Grizzle, who has been Western Division sales engineer in Brownfield since March 1957, will assume the new sales position in the western division effective July 1, Kemper said.

Grizzle began his telephone career as a store-room helper in Lubbock in 1945. In 1950 he became a central office repairman's helper in Perryton and was named central office repairman in 1951. He was assigned to Perryton until assuming his present position in Brownfield.

A graduate of Perryton High School, Grizzle is married and has four children. He and his family reside at 507 E. Cardwell in Brownfield.

As Western Division unit sales manager, Grizzle will direct and coordinate the sales program and activities of unit salesmen, six of whom will be located in the western division when the sales force is completed. The salesmen will contact business subscribers to assist them with telephone communication problems, analyze their needs and recommend accordingly.

It is hoped, Kemper said, that the sales program will not only improve service, but increase revenues to offset the rising costs of operations. The sales program is expected to be in full operation within the next two years.

4-H dairy projects contribute share to peak production

June is designated as Dairy Month. The reason is that during this 30-day period production of milk, cheese, and butter reaches its peak.

Throughout the state 4-H dairy projects are contributing their share to the over-all peak production month. More than three-quarters of a million 4-H Club members across the nation are engaged in two specific dairy award programs.

Some of the boys and girls are raising their own dairy animals under the guidance of Extension Service specialists and county agents. They are learning about production, sanitation, marketing, and showmanship. Another group is specializing in dairy foods demonstration, learning for themselves and then showing others why and how dairy products are essential to a balanced diet and good health.

A total of 12 college scholarships will be presented to the nation's top winners to be announced next fall during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Other awards include expense-paid trips to the congress, wrist watches and gold-filled medals.

The Oliver Corporation, Chicago, will again provide 4-H awards for the dairy animal project winners, while Carnation Company, Los Angeles, will present awards to the dairy foods demonstration winners.

Northwest Texas youth to meet

ABILENE — Methodist youth fellowship members of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference will gather June 29-July 3, at McMurry College, Abilene, for the annual youth assembly. Rev. Allen Adams will serve as assembly deans.

This assembly is a traditional experience for the youth of the conference. It is a time of "personal enrichment, Christian fellowship and a challenge to personal dedication to Christ and the church."

The program is not essentially a training experience for an officer in the MYF, but it is an experience in which each youth will be better disciplined for a Christian "witness" in the local church, in the home and community. Features of the program include a speaker, worship services, study courses, skill-workshop groups and Bible study groups.

District quotas have been established and are allocated to local churches by the district directors of youth work. All delegates must be 15 years of age on or before June 29.

Registrations should be sent to Youth Summer Activities, 1702 Avenue R, Lubbock.

Extension Service is offering new bulletin on control of insects. COLLEGE STATION — A "Text as Guide for Controlling Insects on Corn, Sorghum, Small Grain and Grasses" is the title of a new publication released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The insecticides to use for control of these insects are given along with the amount of the insecticide to use. Also listed are the major pests of these crops and the way to identify each. How to make infestation counts, when to spray and seed treatments to control certain soil insects are discussed. Included is a discussion on rice pests and their control. A diagram of a homemade-type seed treater to be used for better control of southern corn rootworms, wireworms and seed corn maggots is included. Results of research indicate that sprays and dusts are equally effective in most areas when properly applied. Copies of the publication are available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-339. Steel plays a major role in our lives

From tin cans and safety pins to automobiles and bridges, steel plays a major role in our lives . . . as indicated by the attention focused on the industry's current labor contract negotiations.

But it took a Chippewa Indian chief and "seven iron men" to point out the mineral wealth that borders Lake Superior . . . and to lay the foundation for the world's largest steel industry.

Michigan was a wilderness in 1845, when a merchant named Philo Everett heard rumors of possible ore deposits and went looking for copper and silver. According to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia, Everett reportedly ran into Full Moon, niece of Chief Marji - Gesick, who told him about a mountain of ore. The chief entertained Everett with Indian dances, passed him the ceremonial pipe, and then led him up a hill to a fallen pine tree. Under its roots lay chunks of iron ore.

Men like Rockefeller, Carnegie, J. P. Morgan and Cyrus Eaton went on to give the steel industry its key role in the American economy.

One indication of the importance of steel is the fact that the first billion-dollar corporation was a steel combine. Today the industry—comprising more than 250 companies—has the capacity to produce some 120-million tons of steel a year. And almost 40 per cent of all jobs in manufacturing industries depend on the manufacture and use of steel.

Total cars moved were 38,059 compared with 30,256 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 38,060 cars in the preceding week this year.

SERMON TOPIC

Rev. Clinton Edwards of the First Presbyterian Church, will have as his sermon subject Sunday, "Christ and Conscience"; "The right of private judgement". It comes from John 16:13.

SISTER VISITS

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Swanger this week are Mrs. J. W. Rogers and children of Carlsbad, N. M. Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Swanger are sisters.

These words tell the story of Jesus' suffering.
1. "A man of sorrows and acquainted with grief."—Isa. 53:3.
2. "My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death."—Mk. 14:34.
3. "And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground."—Lk. 22:44.
4. "And bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of the skull where they crucified him."—Jn. 19:17.

This tells the story of sin and suffering, of hate and hopelessness, shame and sacrifice, of blackness and terror, and of death. But God be thanked, these words tell also of hope, love, peace, life, God, Salvation, forgiveness, redemption. Oh, how he suffered to bring us to God.

Salvation is ours because of the suffering of Christ. You must love, obey, and imitate Jesus.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN — First called session of the 56th Legislature will end automatically June 16.

It would be hard to find anyone around the Capitol who would bet on the state's money problems being wrapped up by that date.

Senators began their work on the tax bills sent them by the House with an air of deliberate calm. They even waited 48 hours before beginning hearings to give everybody time to ready his presentation. (This is the "tag" rule whereby if one senator "tags" a bill, it cannot be heard except with 48 hours notice.)

Main issue was a bill to raise new revenue for 1960-61 spending needs. Gov. Price Daniel appeared personally before the Senate State Affairs Committee in behalf of H. B. 7. This is the House-passed bill to tax natural gas, interstate corporation franchises, utilities, liquor, cigarettes, autos, etc.

Governor Daniel stoutly defended the bill on all counts, but said he would not "fee hurt" if the Senate wanted to make some changes.

Industry spokesmen and chamber of commerce representatives told the committee the bill would drive business away from Texas. "Our customers," said one company man, "will not pay a premium for a 'made in Texas' label."

Others complained that H. B. 7 not only would tax the same groups that have been bit before, but would hit some from several directions at once.

Governor Daniel's reply to those arguments is that business should bear a portion of the tax burden to keep from dumping it all "on the family budget," as in a general sales tax.

GOVERNOR DANIEL'S abandoned property bill, killed during the regular session, made it back to the House floor, but only after a committee had attached crippling amendments.

As introduced, the bill would have allowed the state to take over property or bank accounts unclaimed for seven years. Committee changed the waiting period to 15 years. This cut the estimated first-year take from $20,000,000 to $3,000,000.

This is one of the bills recommended by the governor to pay off the $65,000,000 deficit that accumulated during the 1958-59 biennium.

House Taxation Committee killed outright Rep. Jerry Sadler's proposal to levy a one per cent gross receipts tax on manufactured goods.

GOVERNOR DANIEL vetoed nine of the some 300 bills passed during the regular session.

Among these was the "de novo" bill which would have provided for an entirely new trial when decisions of state agencies were appealed to the courts. Governor Daniel said it would have disrupted oil and gas conservation procedures of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Also turned down was a bill to create a Fort Bend County water er district. Governor Daniel said it was in conflict with state-wide water planning. Rep. Jimmy Day of Brookshire, sponsor, made a critical speech on the House floor, contending the governor had signed a bill just like that one two years ago.

Another vetoed bill would have provided for repayment to persons who have paid fines or served sentences for crimes of which they were not guilty. Governor said the intent was good, but with no limitations in the bill, the taxpayers had no protection.

MANY OBSERVERS believe that much of the current legislative trouble — the slow start, delays, bickering between members and last-minute do or die legislation — would not happen if the office of Speaker of the House were an elective post.

Certainly this would eliminate the factions that exist in the Lower House.

Evidence of the desirability of such a plan is found in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, who performs identical functions in the Senate. Both officers have apartments in the Capitol Building, but only the Lieutenant Governor is elected by the people.

Selection of the House Speaker is made by the House members themselves. This delays the start of nearly every session. Furthermore it provokes many bitter battles, divides the House, and creates deep wounds that never heal. Also, much time is wasted during sessions by various groups campaigning for the Speakership for the session that still is two years away.

The real loser in the battle is the public and they have no choice in the matter, as things stand now.

Demands for making the post an elective one would have to come from the people, as there is considerable feeling among public officials against the idea of elective offices.

A RESOLUTION TO add to the lobby expense reporting law brought on House debate as to who's holier than who.

Reps. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta and Don Kennard of Fort Worth proposed requiring lobbyists to report cost of transporting legisla-ors. It was a jibe at several senators who recently flew to Tennessee in a gas company plane.

Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla reminded the House that House members had in previous sessions gone in droves on various lobbyist-arranged flights. He made the suggestion, of Biblical origin, that the House "get the beam out of its eye before we try to get the mote out of a brother's eye."

House voted 71-52 with Rep. R. H. Cory's (Victoria) suggestion of "not meddling in the Senate's affairs."

HOUSE MEMBERS considered a bill to require students in state-supported colleges to pay an activity fee of up to $30 a semester.

Fee would cover such things as health services, parking privileges, tickets to athletic and cultural events, book rentals, subscription to campus publications, etc. Students now pay about $12 less on a voluntary basis.

Rep. W. S. Heatly Jr. of Paducah, sponsor, said all the college presidents favored the bill. It would make an estimated $2,000,000 available for higher education.

Opponents declared it moved in the direction of putting educational opportunity on the basis of ability to pay.

Use of herbicide sprays calls for gauging of wind

COLLEGE STATION — When applying herbicide sprays for brush and weed control, the wind speed must be below 10 m. p. h. to reduce damage to susceptible crops, and give full coverage of the plants sprayed, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

A simple wind gauge has been developed by the research staff of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to determine wind speed. This gauge is used by research personnel to register the wind speed when they are applying for brush and weed control.

A state herbicide regulation states that a wind gauge must be available at the time and place of spraying herbicides. The research developed wind gauge is approved by the State Department of Agriculture for compliance with the regulation.

Weeds should be sprayed in the early morning before the wind gets too high and in the evening after the wind calms to reduce wind drift of chemicals, says Hoffman. To further reduce wind drift, equip the spray machine with a nozzle that applies medium size droplets and a regulator for adjustment to low pressure.

Any farmer, ranchman, or tin-smith can make the simple wind gauge from scrap tin found around the shop. Instructions and the pattern for making the gauge are outlined in PR-1466, "A Simple Wind Gauge for Agricultural Spraying." A copy of the report may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for PR-1466.

ROTARY HOE STILL NO. 1 PRACTICE

Weeds and grass in cotton can be controlled, says A&M specialist

COLLEGE STATION — Favorable moisture for cotton production also calls for a close look at good mechanical and chemical weed and grass control practices to reduce or eliminate costly hand hoeing. Of the numerous weed control choices available, three are outstanding, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

These include the rotary hoe, lateral oiling of grass and weeds in young cotton and spot spraying with oils and fortified oils or spot spraying of grass with sodium dalapon in water.

The rotary hoe has been a d still is the key weed control practice. In 1958, 44,496 rotary hoe equipped tractors were operated in 157 counties, resulting in a saving of over $13 million. The pull-behind or broadcast types proved very popular and easy to operate at the required high speeds. Rotary hoeing alone, not in combination with sweep cultivation, permits fast coverage and getting into fields quicker after repeated rains, Elliott said.

If continued rains prevent getting the field with the rotary hoe and cause heavy growth of annual grasses and weeds, lateral oiling or post emergence oiling with unfortified naphtha is an excellent way to get out of the grass for about $1 to $1.50 for the five gallons of oil needed per acre. This practice was carried out in 47 counties in 1958.

The naphtha is applied with parallel action oiling shoes at 15 to 25 pounds pressure, with 2 fan-type horizontal nozzles, staggered and placed 10 inches apart — one nozzle on each side of the row. Direct the spray pattern at the lower 1 to 1 and 1/2 inches of the cotton stem, below the leaves, advises Elliott. Natural wax on young cotton stalks shed the naphtha without injury to the cotton until the roughens and cracks. Annual grasses up to 3 to 5 inches tall can be controlled, he said.

Spot-spraying established Johnsongrass is faster, easier and cheaper than hand hoeing one year. Use the jet-gun spray to the stem of the grass at the ground line. Kerosene fortified with C-36, 1/2 gallon to 100 gallons of does an excellent job, Elliott said.

Drive carefully — an accident could make your vacation permanent.

New National 4-H Center scheduled to open June 16

COLLEGE STATION — The 4-H center of the nation now have a new center of their own. It is the National 4-H Center located at 7100 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C., and it is also headquarters of the National 4-H Club Foundation.

The Center will be formally opened on June 16. The opening coincides with the 29th annual National 4-H Club Conference (formerly National 4-H Club Camp). Delegates to the Conference from the states and Puerto Rico will be the first large group to use the center. In April, the 1959 International Farm Youth Exchange delegates to northern Europe and central America held their orientation program at the Center and became the first to utilize its facilities.

The Foundation was incorporated November 1948 and a prime objective was the establishment of a national 4-H Club Center. State 4-H club leaders had for many years favored such a facility and were instrumental in pushing the project.

In February 1951 the Chevy Chase Junior College, including 15 acres of land and three buildings, was purchased and officially dedicated as the National 4-H Center. It was immediately leased to the Department of Defense for emergency use. Across the nation, 4-H members participated in a "Share and Care" program and raised $135,000 for use on the Center. In November 1955 the mortgage on the Center was paid in full. Two grants to the Foundation, one for $400,000 from the Ford Foundation and another for $200,000 from the Danforth Foundation, greatly aided in development of the center.

The Defense Department released the facilities to the 4-H Foundation in January 1958 and rebuilding commenced at once. The rebuilding, now completed at a cost of more than $900,000, provides facilities adequate to care for 300 people.

Texas 4-H club members participated in the "Share and Care" program and other contributions have been made to the foundation by individuals and business concerns of the State.

Many factors are to be considered in judging land

COLLEGE STATION — There are many yardsticks for judging land. The farmer may look for level land with fertile, well-drained soil, while the home buyer may want a lot with an uneven surface.

What is beneath the surface of the soil may influence the use of the land more than whether it is rolling or level, says Jack H. Barton, extension soil conservationist.

Soils are much like people, the conservationist points out, in that both are products of parental stock, which is the rock material from which they are developed.

This rock material has a definite makeup in any given situation. Soil scientists have encountered many different soils in Texas, says Barton. These soils have different qualities, some good and some bad, depending on the intended use of the individual soil.

"We cannot change the soil qualities easily or economically, so we must apply management practices to take advantage of the strong qualities or to help overcome the weak ones," Barton points out. "When the management is in tune with the soil qualities, we can expect very good results," he added.

Helpful hints on judging land are given in Bulletin 836, "How Does Your Soil Rate?". By using the information in this bulletin, a person can compare soils in a particular location and the uses which can be made of them. A copy of the bulletin may be obtained from your local county agent.

Early season reports show

Crop damage is high from weed killers

Early season reports of crop damage by careless handling or misuse of weed killing chemicals have already surpassed the number of complaints received in 1958.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are working overtime checking out herbicide damage reports in Central and East Texas fields adjacent to sprayed areas. Most complaints thus far are on cotton damaged by hormone-type herbicides in Leon, Houston, Hayes, Caldwell, Travis, Bastrop, Dimmit and other counties.

No estimates of actual losses are available but the number of cases are higher than in any recent year.

Farmers using 2, 4-D or 2, 4, 5-T hormone-type herbicides for weed and brush control should use extreme caution, and especially in areas where highly-susceptible broad-leaved crop plants such as a cotton are grown. These types of chemicals are beneficial to farmers when handled properly but they can be as destructive as dynamite.

Use of herbicides is controlled by law in many Texas counties, although other counties are specifically exempted by the Legislature. The law forbids spraying of land within certain distances of susceptible broad-leaved plants, and wind and other weather conditions must be within definite limitations due to the high drift factor of the plant killers.

In regulated areas, permits are required from the Texas Department of Agriculture and in some counties an inspector must be present for the protection of surrounding crops. Mechanical spraying devices must also meet safety standards.

Much of the recent damage can be attributed to the anxiety of landowners to keep down weeds on idle or soil-banked land and to rid valuable rangeland of unwanted brush. Importance of cautious and skilled use of the chemical herbicides cannot be over-emphasized, both for their effective benefits and for their potential danger.

Farmers planning a weed control program can get full information on the advisability of using herbicides by contacting the nearest TDA office, and they are urged and welcomed to do so.

Garza 4-H girl elected officer

Linda Payton, Garza County 4-H member and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Payton of the Pleasant Valley community, was elected to the District II 4-H Council at the annual District 4-H Camp held in Lubbock last week.

Others representing Post at the three-day camp of leadership instruction in 4-H work were Beatrice Klesel, Sheila Morris, Shirley Bostick, Dean Huddleston, Don Richardson, Robert Lee Mock, and county agents, Miss Jessie Pearce and Lewis C. Herron.

Members of the council, elected by the camp delegates, serve as a planning committee for camp and other 4-H events. The council is composed of two co-chairmen, two past co-chairmen, and 12 elected council members.

Linda and the other 11 council members will be installed to office in January.
