Mrs. J. W. Warren Dies At Home In Snyder Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. J. W. Warren of Snyder, mother of Bob Warren and Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth of Post, were conducted Saturday morning at Odom Funeral Chapel in Snyder.

Mrs. Warren died Thursday night at her home after an illness of several months. She was born August 15, 1863, in Prescott, Ark., and had been a resident of Scurry County for 51 years. Her husband, the late Dr. J. W. Warren, practiced medicine at Dunn, before they moved to Snyder in 1901, where he was a partner with Dr. W. R. Johnson. Dr. Warren helped to keep up the practices here of Drs. Surman, Williams and Castiberry while they were serving in World War I. He died in

A Capella Choir Of Howard-Payne To Sing In Post

The Howard-Payne College A Capella Choir of Brownwood will be presented in concert at the First Baptist Church next Thursday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The concert is sponsored by the choir of the host church. The public is invited to attend.

Regarded as one of the outstanding A Capella Choirs in Texas, the Howard-Payne choir consists of 40 singers, each of whom has memorized the entire program.

The director is Woodrow Wall, son of a leading Baptist minister in the state of North Carolina. He has a degree from Wake Forest College in North Carolina and has studied two years in the School of Music of the Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. After serving overseas with the U. S. Navy during the war years, he entered Westminster Choir College at Princeton, N. J., and was graduated in 1947.

A freewill offering will be taken at the concert to help defray expenses of the visiting choir.

CRIPPLED GIRL HELPED BY GIFT OF PUPPY FROM POST—

Dietrich's German Shepherds Really Get Around

When James and Bobby Dietrich were little boys they found a German Shepherd puppy in downtown Post and took it home. Their father, Harry Dietrich, tried diligently to find the owner but never succeeded. The boys named the dog Rex.

Whether or not Rex was a registered pup, naturally, was not known to the Dietrichs, but he became the finest pet they ever had and the smartest dog they had ever known.

After the dog's death, some 14 years after he joined the Dietrich household and after the Dietrich children were all grown, Mr. Dietrich decided to try to replace him. Dog after dog came to live with them, but none lived up to Rex's reputation until about four years ago when Dietrich decided to buy a registered German Shepherd.

This registered dog was the beginning of a hobby which has

Five P. M. Whistle Is With Us Again

The 5 o'clock whistle is with us again.

The Postex Cotton Mill whistle for several weeks before Monday had been sounded at 3 p. m., instead of 5 p. m., because of a revision of the working schedule of employees. Now, as some departments have gone back on a nine-hour schedule, the 5 o'clock whistle is again heard.

The mill whistle schedule is now 5:30 and 6:30 a. m., two short blasts at 12 o'clock noon, two short blasts at 1 p. m., 3 p. m. and 5 p. m.

Supt. Claude Bailey said Tuesday that the increased working hours in some departments were found necessary in order to keep up required production.

City Officials Are Candidates For Re-Election

Mayor John T. Herd and City Commissioners Glenn Kahler and Vachel Anderson, incumbents, were the only names filed with City Secretary Sherrill Boyd for the biennial city election on Tuesday, April 5, by the deadline, the Post Dispatch learned yesterday at the City Hall.

J. T. Curb has been named as election judge. Voting will take place at the City Hall.

Jerry Queen Leases Gulf Service Station

Jerry Queen, who formerly was employed by Storie Motor Company, has leased the Gulf Service Station which for some months was operated by "Mutt" Rankin. In an advertisement elsewhere in this issue he is inviting the station's patrons to continue trading there and the general public to stop in and "gas" with him.

Rankin had made no announcement by press time as to his future plans.

Lubbock Man To Be Lions Club Speaker

The Lions Club met Tuesday night at the City Hall in regular session. A roundtable discussion of the business of the local club was held.

Next Tuesday night's program will be highlighted by a talk by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson of Lubbock, Lions District Deputy Governor. Pupils of Mrs. J. A. Stallings will provide music. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the City Hall.

The board of the Post Chamber of Commerce, at a recent meeting in the City Hall, set Monday night, April 11, as the date for the annual banquet and election of Chamber of Commerce officers and directors for another year, and outlined a campaign of work toward promotion of six of Post's "most badly needed civic improvements."

The six goals, some of which the Post Chamber of Commerce has been investigating and promoting during the past year, were described, as follows, by the president, James Minor:

1. New grade school building; 2. playground and youth center; 3. hospital; 4. paving and new sidewalks; 5. public rest room, and 6. re-doing Two Draw Lake.

Both the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion have had committees working up plans for a playground and youth center. It will take these two organizations, as well as the Lions and Rotary Clubs and the majority of citizens to get it accomplished, Minor, said, "but it can be done and the Chamber of Commerce is going to really push it during the next year."

A Chamber of Commerce Committee also has been working for some time on plans for a badly needed hospital here, the president said. This also will be pushed next year.

The paving and Two Draw projects also have been investigated by Chamber of Commerce committees. "More progress has been made on the paving project than on the latter," but the latter definitely is not a dead issue, (Continued On Back Page Col. 1)

Downtown Post Is Flooded During Fireplug Repair

Downtown Post looked like the Panama Canal for awhile Tuesday night during the repairing of a fireplug which a truck had hit and damaged during the icy weather several weeks ago.

While making the repairs, it became apparent that the water must be cut off. City Water department employees spent an hour or more notifying patrons on the circuit effected that the water would be cut off.

While cleaning out the line, it was observed that more lines should be cleaned in the near future and that last night, "when everybody was asleep" was a good time to do it. Water all over town was cut off, and the lines were repaired and cleaned. Workmen finished the job at 6 a. m.

The Post High School Senior Class members will make a trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the first weekend in May.

Plans for the benefit parties were made at a regular meeting of the assembly Tuesday night in the Masonic Hall.

Red Cross Drive Nets $1,000 By Middle Of Week

More than $1,000 toward Garza County's 1949 Red Cross quota had been turned in to the campaign chairman, Bob Collier by Wednesday afternoon.

Four of the rural communities, Justiceburg, Garnolia, Close City and Barnum Springs had turned in the funds collected through the efforts of the Garza County Home Demonstration Council.

To raise money for the drive, the Graham Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring an Amateur Night in the school auditorium tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend. A freewill offering will be taken at the conclusion of the program, for which talented residents of the Graham Community have been rehearsing each night.

No report had been received yesterday of the campaign in the Cross Roads, Southland, Grassburg, Pleasant Valley and Verbena Communities. The Verbena plans probably were cancelled or postponed because of the death of Tol Thomas, father of Mrs. Al Bird, the Verbena Red Cross chairman.

PTA Study Club To Meet Next Week

Nearly 6,000,000 Barrels Of Oil Taken In County

The oil picture in Garza County, as of March 1, 1949, is described in a letter which Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson wrote at the request of the Post Dispatch. It follows, in part:

"There were 246 producing oil wells in the Garza Field . . . with a daily allowable of 9,377 barrels. The P.H.D. Field . . . has seven wells with a daily allowable of 138 barrels. Both of these fields are subject to the Commission's shutdown order and for the month of March will be allowed to produce only 23 days.

"The top allowable for the wells in the Garza Field is 62 barrels, and the top allowable for wells in the P.H.D. Field depends on the number of acres assigned to the wells . . . wells in the P.H.D. Field are limited producers.

"The Garza Field was discovered in 1926, and the reported production from this field to January 1, 1949, is 5,671,749 barrels. The spacing for this field is 330 feet from the lease line and 933 feet between wells drilling to or producing from the same horizon on the same lease.

"The P.H.D. Field was discovered in 1944, and the reported production from this field to January 1, 1949, is 167,276 barrels.

Census Supervisors For This District Is Announced

Groundwork for the task of taking the national census has been laid, was announced by the Avalanche last week. L. D. Whiteley, appointed L. D. Whiteley as supervisor of the census Bureau's Lubbock office, which comprises Garza and other counties of the Congressional District.

The appointment of Whiteley to direct the business census is its population census. The business census is taken once every five years, cancelled in 1944 because of the war, includes a survey of wholesale, retail and trades, but it does not include manufacturing concerns.

The purpose of the census is to supply general business information which can be used in determining employment and volume of business. It enables business men to analyze business in comparison with averages of all business fields. The information is strictly confidential and is available to anyone at the Census Bureau.

The census should be completed, and all its results published, before the end of the calendar year.

Year-Old Plant On Blooming

Mrs. J. M. Boren believes Robert (Believe It Or Not) would be interested in poinsettia plant which she received as a gift from her law, Vachel Anderson, mas, 1947.

The poinsettia, of course blooming at the time she received it but it bloomed in two weeks. Although she had hope of it blooming very at a later date, Mrs. Boren kept the plant just to keep it alive.

In November, 1948, one year later, the poinsettia bloomed and it has not without blooms since then. The blooms are big, double.

The plant was bought by Mrs. Homer Gordon, who operated the local shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim left by plane from Lubbock today for New Orleans. They were to join their son, my, of Miami, Fla., and in the passenger plane of Jimmy is pilot to Miami week's visit. Taking the car, which they will bring to Post, they will go to Atlanta, to visit Mrs. Hurd's relatives, then go to Tupelo to visit her brother, Patrick. Madrid Sweetclover To Be Planted On H. M. Ford's Place

H. M. Ford, Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperater at Barnum Springs, this week plans to plant 10 acres of Madrid Sweetclover seed in regular 40 inch rows, using approximately 5 pounds of seed per acre.

Madrid sweetclover is a biennial legume soil building crop, which grows through the first summer, dies back to the ground and then early the next spring sprouts out from the crowns. It makes seed early in the summer and then the whole plant dies. Sweetclover deep top root system opens up tight soil, and when the roots die along with its top growth it adds large amounts of organic matter to the soil.

Sweetclover will soon find its place in irrigation cropping systems, the Soil Conservation Service believes. The seed Ford will plant will be properly inoculated.

The Duck Creek Soil Conservation district has sweetclover seed for sale at the Fry Feed and Hatchery.

Nearly Everybody Wants A New Grade School Building If It's Possible

Do you think it's advisable to build a new grade school building at this time? The Independent Consolidated School Board representative told the Post Dispatch last week that the trustees would know the answer to the question, the newspaper's members undertook a survey.

The survey was begun, the Dispatch published last week a financial statement regarding the local school system, which it was shown that the local indebtedness is $104,500, approximately 10 percent of the tax valuation.

R. Day was quoted as saying that the local indebtedness is smaller compared to the 40 percent that many other areas are paying for principal interest on school bonds.

The survey revealed a prevalence of opinions that a new school is badly needed. The women who, more often than the men, visit the schools to see the children in their opinion must have a grade school right away, as the old one is inadequate.

Most of whom admit to be in favor of a new building, but few were willing to venture an opinion as to whether or not the voting would be financially feasible at this time. Some of the following:

LEE DUCKWORTH—I had a chance to study the financial side of the question. Whether or not the voting of bonds would be feasible would hinge on what is authoritatively considered economically safe in respect to the proportion of indebtedness to tax valuation.

O. G. HAMILTON—I am definitely in favor of voting bonds to build a new grade school.

MRS. IRA WEAKLEY—I am always in favor of voting something that is needed in the town.

LOWELL SHORT—Offhand, I'd say that right now is a bad time to build. It might be a good idea to wait a year or two with the hope of taking advantage of lower prices.

MRS. J. LEE BOWEN—I'm for anything that we can do to get a new grade school building. The present building has been condemned several times, and it's dangerous. I think the people of this town should get together and do something about it.

CARL WEBB—We need a new school building unquestionably, and we have needed it for some time; but I don't know enough about the financial situation to venture an opinion on the advisability of voting bonds at this time.

MRS. BEN WILLIAMS—We need a new school. I never did understand why they tore down the old rock building which should have stood up as well as these other well-built rock structures around town. It was a better building than the one we are now using. However, I'm not capable of saying whether or not it is advisable to build a new building at this time.

JIM HAYS—I think we need a new grade school building, and that it will be all right to call a school bond election this year.

MRS. J. A. STALLINGS—We desperately need a new building and have needed it for years, but I am not ready to state an opinion as to the financial side of the question.

TOL THOMAS—It sure looks like we need a new building. I believe I'd be in favor of a bond election.

MRS. R. H. COLLIER—I hadn't thought about how it should be financed, but it seems it would be nice to have a new building.

T. R. GREENFIELD—I don't very much believe it would be advisable to call a school bond election. Taxes are so high right now, it would be hard to carry the election.

MRS. D. C. WILLIAMS—I don't know enough about the financial situation to say whether or not it is advisable. But I do know that we need a new school and we need it badly and I think our children should come first.

R. E. COX—I'm not as closely in touch with the schools as I used to be and I haven't studied the school finances, but I am sure of one thing: We want our school to keep growing.

MRS. GUY FLOYD—One of the greatest things we could do for this town would be to build a badly needed grade school, and make it a really nice one even though we have no assurance the children would take care of it. We ought to have a good school and keep it up. But I haven't studied the finances of the school system and I really don't know whether or not the new school is possible.

DAN ALTMAN—In my opinion it's advisable. I'm in favor of voting school bonds this year.

MRS. BRYAN WILLIAMS—I definitely think so. If the basement of our grade school is any worse than it was when Bryan J. started to school there 12 years ago, it is pretty bad.

KING BINGHAM—I think we need a new building. I'm 100 per cent for it if our financial standing will allow it.

MRS. GILES McCRARY—I am definitely in favor of it.

L. L. (Blackie) WRIGHT—I don't see how we can do without a new building much longer. That building we're using now is going to fall down one of these days. I'd say we need it badly and I'd like to see a bond election called right away.

MRS. PHIL BOUCHER—Everybody realizes we need a grade school, but getting it is something else. I wouldn't want to make a statement as to whether or not it is advisable.

LESTER NICHOLS—I surely do. I'm almost afraid to send my child to school, because the building is in such bad shape.

HOMER McCRARY—I don't see why they don't call a school bond election. There certainly is a need for it and I'd like to see them do something about it.

MRS. GLENN KAHLER—I'm very, very much in favor of it. I think a new grade school building has been Post's greatest need for a long, long time and I hope the people are ready to do something about it.

Mrs. E. A. Gillis Is Texas Mother

A Fort Worth woman, Mrs. E. A. Gillis, is the "Texas Mother for 1949," the Associated Press announced Sunday. Runner-up in the contest was Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. A Garza County resident, Mrs. O. R. Cook, was one of five top candidates for the honor.

The choice was announced Saturday by the Golden Rule Foundation of New York City which sponsors the selection of the state and national mother with the object of upholding the ideals of the American home. Mrs. Gillis will compete with other state mothers for the title of national mother of the year.

"Texas" mother of the year has reared six children of her own and has at various times adopted into her household eight boys who needed assistance to complete their education.

Three of Mrs. Gillis' sons hold doctor's degrees and one of them, Don E. Gillis of New York City, is a nationally-known composer. A fourth son, Lewis Dean Gillis, will be graduated from Texas Christian University in June.

Four PHS Baseball Games Scheduled For This Season

A baseball game between the Post Antelopes and the Rails Jackrabbits, scheduled for Friday night, has been called off. The Post team has been working out each afternoon the past few weeks at Postex Field.

An intra-squad game, played Monday afternoon, ended in a 1-1 tie, after four innings of play. Post will play two games at home and two away during the regular season.

The south half of the district, made up of Post, Slaton and Tahoka, will have a two-game play-off for each team to determine the winner, and the winner will meet the winner of the north half of the district, composed of Sundown, Levelland and Morton, in a three-game series in May.

Pitchers for the local team are Billy Ramage and Roy Wade, a southpaw, holdovers from last year, and Ronnie Bouchier. Catchers are Jerry Odcm and Boyd Bowen; first baseman, Jim Norman, Jimmy Smith, and R. E. Josey, who plays any position except catcher and pitcher; second basemen, Junior Malouf and Roy Josey; short stops, Carter White and Billy Lee Smith; third basemen, Charles King and A. J. Howell; and out-fielders, Calvin Storie, Alton Taylor, Barry Ford, Cletus Graves, Buddy Davis, Roy Briggs, Donald Gossett and James Barnes.

Maurice Fluitt Is PHS Star At Track Tourney

Teams entered in the tournament were Post, Slaton, Tahoka, Seagraves and O'Donnell. O'Donnell won first place in the meet, with 57 points, and Seagraves was second with 52 points.

Fluitt won the 110-yard dash over Joe Palmer of O'Donnell, who won second place in the state meet last year, by six yards.

Because of the rain and sandstorms this week, the meets scheduled with Rails and Seagraves was called off.

Seven Sophomores and four Freshmen are working out for track. They are Norman Cash, Jack Schmidt, Pat Stevens, Gene King, Billy Gwen Jones, Bobby Terry, Don Brown and Jack Kirkpatrick, Cordell Custer, Billy Taylor and W. O. Howard Ferguson and N. G. Karl made a business trip to Draw Sunday morning.

Barbara Lusby, Ann Floyd and Jeneice Fluitt will not be able to play in the tournament this weekend because of illness. Friday's game will be the first for the local girls this season.

Indian Legend Sees Better Than Usual Crop In This Area

Several Garza County residents were up at sunrise Tuesday morning to make their own observations regarding the Indian Legend which predicts the success of the crops each year on the basis of wind direction.

The editor of the Post Dispatch observed from downtown Post that the wind was from due west, but Homer McCrary—who observed from his home northwest of the Post city limits, declares the wind was from southwest, Lubbock's official observer reported the wind was from the northwest.

If the Lubbock observation, which was made by Clark Mullican of Wichita Falls, was correct, the South Plains area will "have slightly better than average crops this year."

Mullican has been making the observation each March 22 since the death of W. O. Stevens, former Post resident who got the legend from the late J. I. Wilburn of Garza County.

"Of course the Indian didn't take irrigation into consideration," the Lubbock Journal quoted Mullican as saying, "so we'll have to make some allowance for it. The Indian's prophecy covers dry land operations only."

"But even this year's moisture might have crossed the Red Man up," Mullican pointed out. "The sub-soil moisture is better now than at any time in many years."

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Lubbock Municipal Airport reported the wind was blowing at three miles an hour north by northwest at sunrise.

Reward Offered In Motor Pump Theft

J. M. Oliver, contractor for the city's sewerage disposal plant, is offering a $25 reward for information leading to recovery of the gasoline motor driven pump which was stolen from the plant site about three weeks ago, Sheriff E. M. Bass has announced.

The pump, which is blue-green in color, can be easily identified because the carburetor is missing and it is unlikely that another carburetor can be bought for it in this area, Oliver told the Post Dispatch.

Alvin Davis is pictured in color on the cover of the April issue of the Progressive Farmer along with a delegation from the Pecos County 4-H Club and the Reserve Grand Champion Steer of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago in December, 1948, owned and shown by the Pecos County Club.

The cover is explained on Page 34 of the issue, in an article which tells that Texo, the Reserve Champion Steer, was Grand Champion of the Texas State Fair in October, that he sold for more than $5,000 in Chicago, and that eight pairs of boots were made from the hide for the Pecos club boys. The steer was raised by 14-year-old Sim Reeves, Jr., of Fort Stockton and became the property of the Pecos Club last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morrel went to Lubbock yesterday to take Miss Olive Johnson to the airport, where she took a plane to New York City. Miss Johnson had been visiting here since Sunday.

Irrigation Points Acquired At School Are Announced Here

A. P. Ottinger and Marshall Gibson, soil technicians of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, who recently attended a three-day irrigation school at Snyder, believe the following points will be of interest to district cooperators who have irrigation wells:

1. Fertile soils make more efficient use of irrigation water and produce larger crops than poor soils.
2. Irrigation farming depletes soil nutrients faster than dry land farming.
3. Irrigation cropping systems must include a soil building crop to maintain cash crop yields.
4. Irrigation systems must hold rainfall on the land.
5. Different kinds of soil vary in the amount of water they will hold.
6. Any irrigation water applied after the soil is full of water leaches plants foods beyond crop roots.
7. Irrigators need to know the gallons of water per minute their wells will produce and the water holding capacity of their soil.
8. The efficiency of a pumping unit seldom exceeds 20 per cent and often is as low as 8 or 9 per cent.
9. The irrigation system including main and lateral ditches seldom exceeds 70 per cent efficiency.
10. Conservation irrigation is putting a known quantity of water on a soil with a known water holding capacity.
11. Irrigation without conservation is exploitation.

Photographic Studio Trailer To Work In Post On Saturdays

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Shugart of Levelland, pioneer West Texas photographers who used to take pictures in Post periodically more than 25 years ago, will send their photographic trailer studio to Post each Saturday for awhile, they are announcing in an advertisement in today's issue of the Post Dispatch.

The trailer studio will be set up on Main Street between the postoffice and Curb's.

The Shugarts for a number of years have operated a chain of photographic trailer studios in this area. The public is invited to visit the studio Saturday and have pictures made or make appointments for pictures.

First Graders For Next Year Should Be Reported Soon

Parents of children entering school for the first time this fall are urged to get in touch with S. D. Strasner or E. E. Pierce, school principals, as soon as possible so that the children may be counted in the census for next year.

BITS OF NEWS

Mrs. Lela Crimm, second grade teacher who was in Lubbock to attend the West Texas Teachers' Convention was interviewed by the Avalanche-Journal's Curious Reporter on the question, "How do public schools prepare boys and girls for good citizenship?" Her answer, which was published in the Lubbock paper Sunday, along with her picture, was: "From the beginning we try to impress upon children they should obey the rules and be good citizens. I think teachers as a general rule and principals have a high standard of living and impress that upon the children that we deal with. We have children take over such things as selling cold drinks, in which they handle money, and we impress upon them that they have to be trusted and we do trust them." Her son is editor and publisher of the Slaton Slatonite.

H. C. Liebfried has been ill at his home.

Bouchier gave the devotional and Mrs. H. M. Snowden gave the story of St. Patrick's life and the origin of the date. The St. Patrick theme was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. GETTING OUT On The LIMB

by
EDDIE the EDITOR

Today's subject is Men of Distinction Around Post.

If I don't begin with myself, I'll probably get in Dutch with the rest of the men that I am going to describe as being outstanding in their own peculiar modes of dress.

I'm distinctive, I suppose, because I wear a tie fewer times a year than anybody else in the community. This distinction, you might say, is what the Navy gave me. After three years in those bell-bottom trousers and middie blouses, I could not bear to wear a civilian shirt with choker tie. The only time I've worn a tie since I've been home, except to a church, was to Lubbock when my wife made me take her to hear Rubinoff play the violin.

There are other distinctive persons around town. Has anybody ever seen Ed Kelly Sims without a western suit on? Even when he dresses up to go courtin' he wears a western style dress suit, complete with shiny boots, and big western hat.

It's practically the same with Sonny Nance. I have seen him in a business suit once or twice, but I've never seen him without boots and a Stetson hat.

You never see Rex Everett that he isn't wearing a colorful wool sports jacket, unless it's in the height of the hot summer weather.

Johany Hopkins always wears a hand-painted tie, and I've never seen him wear the same one twice.

I guess one of the nattiest dressers in town is Bro. D. A. Bryant. When he wears a grey suit, he wears a grey homburg hat. When he wears a brown suit, he wears a smart looking brown hat, and when he wears a dark suit, he is very likely to have on a snappy looking black hat, and you will never see him during a week day without a brightly colored, cheerful looking tie.

Ted Hibbs is another one who goes neatly and properly dressed at all times, even to gloves.

J. B. Hoshman is one of the few oldtimers who still wears a big, black M-galton hat.

Lots of folks around here wear Penfield suits for everyday, almost all the time, including Gilles Connell, Doug Morrell, John Reed and numerous others. But the fellow who is most consistently wearing one, along with a tan Stetson and neatly shined brown boots, is Walter Boren.

Many a man can be identified by his hat. You can see the hat hanging up in a restaurant and before you look around you know who must be sitting near.

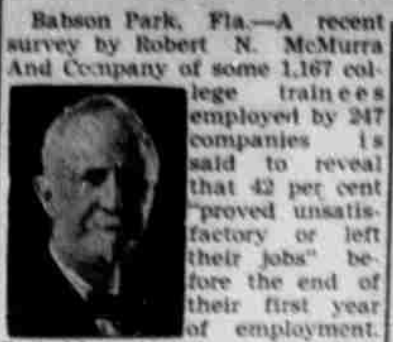

I'd recognize Dr. Williams' very neat pearl grey Stetson no matter where I saw it, and I believe I could recognize Jim Hundley's eastern style hat because—if for no other reason—he and I are practically the only people around here who wear hats like this every day. You'll see people like Tom Power, and some of the other younger fellows wearing these city-boy hats to church on Sunday, however.

Probably the most expensive Stetsons in town are worn by Guy Gearhart. He wouldn't think of buying anything cheaper than a Stetson 25 and he buys a 50 whenever he can find it.

The Stetson wearers are as varied as their number in the way they wear their hats. Tom Power turns his Stetson brim up all the way around, and John

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Employers Lose Money On Rapid Personnel Turnover

Babson Park, Fla.—A recent survey by Robert N. McMurra and Company of some 1,167 college trainees employed by 247 companies is said to reveal that 42 per cent "proved unsatisfactory or left their jobs" before the end of their first year of employment.

Probably statistics including high school graduates not attending college would mount up to 80% as unsatisfactory.

Transients Cost Money
This turnover in personnel cost the 247 companies better than $1,300,000. One company reported it lost 16 of its 31 college trainees at an actual loss to the company of $41,250. This figure did not include the cost of hiring and training replacements, either. Here again if we include both college and high school turnover, the wasted cost is far greater.

Who is to blame for this high turnover of high school and college graduates? Businessmen are quick to blame the schools and colleges because the graduates are unsatisfactory—tardy to work, lazy with lack of interest, too careless as to their habits and appearance, unable to get along with their fellow workers and not willing to assume responsibility. If this were true we should completely reorganize our whole educational program. But I don't think the schools and colleges are to blame. The fault lies with the parents and their example and training.

Faulty Hiring Cited
One young college lad I know recently was interviewed by a regional sales manager. The big boss leaned back and chewed on his cigar. He asked no questions; he showed no reactions. The boy was confused. He must have made good, though, because he was referred to the general sales manager whose only direct question during the interview was: "Do you play golf?" Another college senior, who had carefully planned answers for the job interview, was fired for drinking when liquor was not mentioned during the interview.

Going to the other extreme, I know of several large companies which have succumbed to psychological quackery in their overzealous efforts to put their selections on a "scientific" basis. Mail-order services are offered to help executives screen, hire, fire and upgrade. For a fee, by remote control, these mail-order seers measure a man's sales ability and his executive ability; they decide what his vocational interests are; and whether he is likely to act impetuously or cautiously. More and more companies try this diet of tripe each year.

Good On Paper
Many young people are baited by large corporations with "executive training programs." Some college seniors, afraid to face life's realities, look upon these programs as an excuse to continue their education at someone else's expense. Others, looking for something substantial, find their enthusiasm killed by tasks any half-wit could perform. Some of these programs last well beyond any reasonable indoctrination period. And, at the end of the training program, how many companies have definite plans for their trainees?

Properly designed training programs of short duration are an intelligent approach to the transition between school and work. A little less make-work and a little more real work on the job while training will help cut down turnover. Young men want to get on with the job so as to earn enough to get married and have a home of their own which is a worthy ambition.

Conclusion

Inadequate hiring and training programs are responsible for high incidence of high school and college dropouts. Companies need more accurate job analysis definitions so that they know what they are looking for. Aptitude tests, good checks of subject matter, but not when administered by remote control and by mail order. Finally, on-the-job practical programs will reduce employee turnover; while learning prompt, industrious and able will help young people hold their jobs.

Wet shoes should be dried close to a stove. Fading of leather makes it harden or crack open.

Branches of trees and that have been split off by weight of ice should be removed. All splintered and jagged edges should be smoothed before wood paint is applied.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

Early in March I read a piece in the Lubbock Journal under the headline, "Last Remnants of Land Taken from Romanians Without Pay." Romania, of course, is a Russian satellite which not so long ago expelled Minister Selden Chapin and other American diplomats.

I can't get my mind off the above mentioned item in the Lubbock paper. I don't see how the people of Romania can continue to take what is happening to them under their Communist government, but they and other Russian satellites—as well as the masses of people in Russia—are taking it, and there doesn't seem to be anything they can do about it.

We keep telling ourselves that it can't happen here, and some of us are encouraged over the Communist investigations and other front page news items that remind us that the U. S. government is on its toes, regarding the spread of Communism in this country.

We are guarding the front door, apparently, but what about the back door? We can drift into collectivism without knowing it. If we do, it will be because we permit the government to become too big and too strong. We are going to have big government in such fields as the military, foreign relief, international relations and so on. But I believe that this must be accompanied by big government in every conceivable human activity is to surrender before the battle. The very size of Federal spending directly endangers economic and political liberty.

The Romanians, like people of many another country, have lost their economic and political liberty. Here's what the news item, an Associated Press dispatch from Bucharest, said:

"Romania today stripped former big landowners of the last remnants of their acreages.

"A decree of the supreme presidium of the Romanian government, effective at once, expropriated all remaining land of the former landed gentry without payment. About 325,000 acres were taken over by the government, it was estimated.

"The decree said the reasons for the step were the landowners' non-compliance with government regulations and sabotage of machinery.

"Punishment for not complying with the new decree was set at three to 15 years imprisonment.

"The government in 1945 took over all farm land on ordinary farms of the landed class in excess of 150 acres. . . . The new decree expropriates all farms, regardless of size, and all holdings of small peasant landowners.

"Living and dead inventory"—this is livestock, poultry and farm machinery of the big owners also are taken over. Only their personal belongings were exempt from the decree. . . .

I hope that the landed gentry of this country—who gave collectivism a generous boost when they "elected" the present administration—do not have the rudimentary awakening that the farmers and ranchers of Romania are experiencing.

America was settled by immigrants fleeing from nations where confiscatory taxation and political persecution made life unbearable. The fact that government is becoming the dominant factor in our lives should be warning enough of the peril we face.

The world is experiencing a great surge of governmentalism. Governmentalists are found working everywhere to destroy individual freedom. They operate under different labels: Socialism, communism, collectivism, but their goals remain the same.

The most evident signs of it in the United States are efforts to nationalize basic industries. Nationalization or government operation of industry eliminates the incentive to produce. Ultimately it eliminates the right to protest, the right to worship, the right to private property, the right to organize labor unions and other freedoms that we take for granted. And then you have the final extremity of governmentalism—dictatorship. What is it called makes little difference.

Unless editors take a strong stand on the question of government in business, a free press will disappear along with private enterprise.

After reading Walter Winchell's column one night last week, I've been wondering just how "free" our press is. He is still at liberty to say anything he wants to in his nationally circulated daily column and on the radio, but he figures that this "freedom" costs him $1,000 a day in income taxes.

Gus Porterfield of Route 3 was elected to a two-year term on the board of District 2, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, at a meeting in the American Legion Hall at Tahoka March 10. Davis Call Takes 24th Place This Week In Lubbock

Carrol Davis, Garza County's only 4-H Club boy to enter an animal in the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show in Lubbock March 21-23 won 24th place and a prize of $3 with his light calf division entry which took first place in the recent Garza County 4-H Calf Show.

Carrol, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Davis of the Graham Community, is the little brother of Alvin Davis, one of the nation's most outstanding 4-H boys.

Having been reared in the 4-H tradition, Carrol received some of his training as keeper of Alvin's animals while the big brother has traped around the country winning state and national 4-H honors.

According to Alvin, Carrol does not work merely for the experience. His business sense tells him that calf-feeding must pay off, and he has always charged Alvin a fee for taking care of his animals. Alvin says he meets him at the train, after every trip, to collect.

Babson Forecast Is Accurate This Far

Readers of Roger W. Babson's column on the Post Dispatch editorial page will be interested to read the results of the first two months of his Business Forecast for 1949, which was published at the beginning of the year.

The Publishers' Financial Bureau of Babson Park, Mass., sent information last week, as follows:

General Business And Retail Trade—January and February, '49 business off 5 per cent exactly as forecast.

Stock Market—Gradual declines as forecast, with lower levels in sight.

Commodity and Farm Prices—Wholesale price declines have occurred; no depression in 1949, but more soft spots.

Post Children Sing On KSEL Broadcast

Group 2 of Mrs. J. A. Stallings' personality pupils sang R. B. Dodson's "Saturday Night Polka" and other songs over Station KSEL between 9:30 and 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The broadcast was made from the Tech Theatre.

Children in the group are Kay Gordon, Sherry Custer, Marca Dean Holland, Allane Norris, Judy Gossett, Sonjia Sue Queen, Kay Jean Jones, Anita Henderson, Mary Nell Shepherd, Bob Cato and Boyd Dodson.

Baby Sitting Woes Whipped By Family

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas of the Grassland Community have figured out a way to have their favorite recreation without the worry of the baby-sitting problems which harrasses all of their square dancin' friends.

The Thomases recently made a recreation room out of servant quarters behind their house, and it is large enough for one square to practice dancing.

The three Thomas children, Jan, Judy and Joy, and the children of the other three couples in the square go to bed in the house. A one-way loud-speaker system informs the dancers whenever a child is awake. As the couples can all recognize their own children's voices, the parent who is needed goes to the house to give a bottle, change a diaper or administer whatever other service is desired.

Buffalo Grass Is Looking Very Good

All over Garza County, the buffalo grass is beginning to green up in pastures.

It is surprising that the minimum of weeds is growing in the pastures, despite the heavy winter moisture. This, of course, will benefit the grass.

The lack of weeds was attributed by Soil Conservation Technician A. P. Ottinger to last year's dry weather which may have prevented the weeds from making as many seeds as usual.

Also adding greenery to the Garza landscape are fields of winter wheat on which cattle are now razing while waiting for the grass to get into proper shape.

Volunteer Firemen Take New Members

The Post Volunteer Fire Department recently took Bill Land, Bill Carter and D. C. Roberts, Jr., in as members. The membership roster is always kept at 20 men, Fire Chief Homer McCrary said Monday.

The firemen answered a call Friday afternoon to extinguish a fire in L. E. (Fay) Claborn's garage. The damage was only slight, McCrary said.

Stanley and H. E. Butler spent the weekend in Cisco. Mrs. H. E. Butler and granddaughter, Stanna Cheryl, who had been spending the week there, returned home with them.

Beggs Lease Goes To two Companies

Seaboard and Republic Natural Gas Companies have taken an oil and gas lease on the George Beggs ranch of approximately 38,000 acres in east Garza and west Kent Counties.

Consideration for the lease is reported to be $1 per acre to the landowner each year for 10 years. The transaction calls for no initial bonus payment nor annual rental, the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal reported Sunday. There is no drilling obligation involved.

It is understood that the two companies are equal partners in the deal.

C. Of C. Banquet

(Continued From Front Page) sue with us," the president explained. Two officers, a president and vice president, and three directors will be elected at the April 11 banquet, which will be held at the City Hall. Retiring officers are Minor and Vice President W. S. Land. Retiring directors are Minor, Dr. Glenn Kahler, and Alton Carr who has moved to Kermit. Holdover directors are Land, Lowell Short, Dowe Mayfield and S. E. Camp. The Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring and well-known Chamber of Commerce and Rotary speaker, has been engaged as guest speaker for the banquet.

LOTS OF GEESSE

All the way from 500 to a million geese, flying high over Post Monday morning, attracted the interest of a number of downtown shoppers and business people. They were going north in great numbers. Skinner Storie said "there must be a million." E. B. Dodson and several others estimated them as being about 500 in number. At any rate, the sky was full of geese.

Dietrich's Dog

(Continued From Front Page) his registered German Shepherd puppies as a gift of encouragement. Patsy was delighted. The puppy, Dicky Boy von der Dietrichhaus, was sent, and a regular correspondence between Dietrich and Patsy and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Janello, has ensued. Every letter from the Janellos has been full of Patsy's improvement, how much Dicky-Boy means to her and how much the family has appreciated the gift more than any of the other gifts that interested people have sent from all over the United States. Patsy has sent pictures of herself and the dog to Dietrich.

Can Walk Now

A letter accompanying Patsy's Christmas card to the Dietrich family provided the information that Patsy no longer used her crutches and that she would begin attending school for the first time this spring.

Then Dietrich remembered his old friend Clesi, the dog trainer. He sent copies of his correspondence with Patsy, pictures, etc., and asked him if he would train the dog so that he could carry Patsy's books to school and to save her as many steps as possible.

Clesi, who gets $75 up for training a dog for five weeks, said he would be happy to contribute his services. On March 17, Dietrich sent Clesi's answer to Patsy and offered to send a crate up to Illinois, for use in shipping Dicky Boy to New Orleans for five weeks, and to pay all shipping costs. Dietrich was eagerly watching for the answer by press time.

Sent Almost Everywhere

Dietrich takes pleasure in knowing that some of his German Shepherds have been trained as Seeing Eye dogs and are now at work helping blind people. Several of his dogs are winning show honors or doing altruistic work in the Philippine Islands, and one of them was sold to a man in Mexico. He has on his desk a request from British Guiana, South America, for a puppy but he doesn't think he will send it because of the uncertainty of its safe arrival. The foreign requests, as well as requests throughout the United States, are the result of his advertising in the internationally circulated Dog World magazine and his recognition by the American Kennel Club. Currently Dietrich's favorite is

School Board

(Continued From Front Page) school board and published in last week's Post Dispatch, were W. M. Kirkpatrick, R. L. Redman, Earl Rogers, Paul Jones, Jack Kennedy and George Tillman, who are up for re-election, and Dowe Mayfield. Hudman is retiring from the board. The election will be held Saturday, April 2, at the City Hall, with C. B. Everett as the election official.

Boys Skip Jail

(Continued From Front Page) jail. A couple of boys, who were being detained there on previous burglary charges, confessed to leaving the jail and robbing the food store. They left again, in company with the sheriff, and cleaned up "the mess they made" while robbing the store. Jim Hays, a clerk, told the Post Dispatch.

After an informal hearing Saturday, Judge J. Lee Bowen paroled one of the boys to his father with the understanding that the boy, whose mother is not living, be put in the care of an aunt in another state if attempts to get him into Boy's Ranch, near Tascosa, fail.

The other boy, whose parents appear to have deserted him here, is being detained in jail until his parents are found, the judge said.

PRISCILLA CLUB

The Priscilla Club will meet in the home of Mrs. C. W. Terry at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Reece Bivins as hostess.

An 11-month-old female named Tessie. She will leave shortly for New Orleans to be trained by Clesi for performance in the nation's top ranking dog shows.

At present, Dietrich has two litters, totalling 10 puppies. Every one, he believes, is a possible prize winner but one is particularly outstanding. Dietrich will raise it, he thinks, for show purposes. Most of the others have been sold to places ranging from Muleshoe to Wisconsin. One was bought by a Post family.

D. C. Anders, who has been in the Scott and White Hospital has returned to his home, but is still seriously ill.
