Monte R. Bridges Dies In Hospital In Chicago, Ill.

Funeral services for Monte Ray Bridges of Chicago, Ill., former Post resident and member of a pioneer Garza County family, were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Payton Fullingim of Southland officiating. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery with Mason and Company in charge.

Bridges, who has lived in Chicago the past seven years, suffered a stroke the week before his death Friday night in a Chicago hospital. He was born at Roby August 16, 1901, as a son of the late J. Porter Bridges and wife, now Mrs. Mary Goode of Lubbock. He lived here until he was about 21 years old.

Music for the service, arranged by Mrs. Ray N. Smith, included "Sunrise" sung by Mrs. Tom Power and three hymns, "Abide With Me," "Farther Along" and "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again" by the choir.

Oil Field Pumps Are Dangerous As Play Equipment

A Post Dispatch reporter, driving through the Garza Oil Field during the past week, observed that young boys of the county are still going there on hikes and rabbit hunts.

Matt Stelzer of the Kem-Tex Oil Corporation pointed out in Post Dispatch advertisements last week and today the dangers of children playing around the pumpjacks and requested that parents keep their children out of the oil field in order to avoid a serious tragedy.

Everybody in Garza County has been asked to wear some type of clothing that will remind travelers through town of the forthcoming rodeo and show that there is a widespread spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation around Post's major entertainment event.

The Western Regalia Committee consists of Homer McCrary, Lee Byrd, O. D. Cardwell and Bob Roberts, who are planning to have a "jail" in downtown Post for detention of people who do not wear some kind of rodeo paraphernalia.

Raid Nets Car As Well As Liquor, Beer, Wine, Gin

In one of the biggest liquor raids made since the present sheriff's department went into office, Sheriff E. M. Bass and his assistant, V. A. Lobban, Saturday morning confiscated a 1949 automobile, 17 cases of beer, 20 quarts of wine, 50 pints of whiskey and a half pint of gin in the flats.

In connection with the raid, Harley Davis Webb and Amanda Max Gonzales Gomez, both of Fort Worth, paid fines totaling $667.80 Saturday afternoon.

The automobile, which was first spotted by Lobban, was confiscated under a Liquor Control Act that anyone transporting liquor into a dry territory for sale is subject to surrendering the vehicle. Sheriff Bass said that the car might be put up for sale and whatever proceeds are left after expenses are paid will go to the state.

The intoxicants confiscated also will be turned over to the state, he said.

Write those letters NOW and mail or bring them to the Post Dispatch.

Cancer Quota Not Yet Half Raised

Garza County's cancer fund quota of $500 is not quite half made and the campaign ends Saturday, the chairman, James Minor said this week.

No reports had been submitted to date from the local clubs, of which Mrs. T. L. Jones is chairman, and the canvass by Minor and his assistant, S. E. Camp, of the business district was still incomplete by press time.

The only community to complete its drive to date was Verbenia which turned in $18.25. Mrs. Julius Fumagalli was chairman.

The ropers will rope eight calves each, using stock recently purchased by the roping club.

Bird, who has made an outstanding record in roping during the past two years, has started the season-off by taking honors in shows during the past week. He won a first and a third place in roping at Muleshoe Friday, and he took first place in roping at the Floydada rodeo Sunday. His roping time Sunday was 10.5 seconds.

Riley is a younger brother of Lanham Riley, who is well-known in West Texas roping circles. Doyle, who won several matches last year, is a good roper in his own right and is considered one of the best in the area.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Housing Industry Should Use Assembly Methods

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Government building of "millions" of new homes by local carpenters and bricklayers is not the solution of the housing problem.

In fact, such a forced program would cause both labor and material costs to go even higher, and hence further check private building. The real solution lies with good factory built houses.

The answer is two-fold: (1) Local labor leaders are responsible for the high costs and poor quality of new houses by limiting the hours of work and amount of work done. (2) The public is responsible for thinking that every family must have a custom-made house built by local labor.

Labor leaders and building codes have been instrumental in making new houses expensive. These codes made the building of a prefabricated house, with electric wires and plumbing pipes all installed, impossible. These cannot be inspected by local politicians, as they are hidden in the cement studs. This prevents the erection of factory-built houses which are our only hope.

Cellars And Inspectors

The original purpose of a cellar was to serve as a place to keep vegetables, fruits, cider, etc., free from freezing during the cold winter. Then, when coal stoves began to be installed, the cellar was used to store wood and coal. Now, with oil and gas heating, these cellars are no longer of use. $1,500 can be saved by forgetting them. $2,500 more can be saved by the use of modern building codes, and reasonable building inspectors.

At last, building inspectors run afowl of the big shots of the labor movement. Hence, for the first time I see a real chance of John Q. Public getting a better house for less money. This is a most important event and has great possibilities.

Revolutionary Suggestion

Here is what Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said in Detroit, February 11: "The housing industry is the most antiquated in the country. It is not able to provide the necessary housing to meet the demands of the 500,000 new families created annually. The answer to the whole problem is mass production and use of the men and ideas which carried the country through the war.

"We have the know-how to split the atoms and make a plane which can go 600 miles per hour, but that know-how never has been applied to housing. I propose the establishment of a National Authority to handle conversion of certain idle airplane plants to make prefabricated houses, and at the same time keep personnel trained in aircraft production. Construction labor would not suffer from mass production. Instead, it would be relieved of the fear of seasonal unemployment.

Houses Vs. Automobiles

Mr. Reuther's statement especially interested me because of his connection with the automobile industry. I have always claimed that the automobile engineers and manufacturers hold the key to the solution of the housing problem. The heretofore prevalent idea that each family must build a different house is crazy. This is one reason why bricklayers, carpenters, electricians, and painters have us by the throat.

Of course, houses should not all be alike any more than are automobiles. Houses should be different sizes, differently arranged, and different colors; but so are automobiles. I am told that over 100 different automobile models are on the market today in 12 different colors. Certainly, we all should to select a house which is from 100 different colors.

Carpenters are to repair work and remain busy. Therefore, Mr. Reuther, the president of our most powerful labor unions, come out of factory built houses. I fought for this program for others, the problem will soon be solved.

GETTING OUT
On The LIMB
by
EDDIE the EDITOR

We're in the midst of a bunch of nationally "proclaimed" special weeks, and so here are a few interesting notes as to how I am observing them:

Pharmacy Week, Clean-Up Week and World Fellowship Week began April 24.

I have resolved to buy a cup of coffee for Bob Warren, Bob Collier and Shorty Hamilton before the week is up and to buy a pill from each of them the next time I have a stomach-ache.

In celebration of Clean-Up Week, I am waging a campaign to get the girls up front to wax the floors and take the Coke bottles to the back and I, personally, have removed one and a half layers of ancient notes from the desk of one of our writers whom we call Mrs. Kettle.

As this is World Fellowship Week, and I haven't an opportunity to shake any hands across the seas, for a change, I am smiling at this brand new batch of itinerant peddlers, while asking them to produce their letters of introduction from the Post Chamber of Commerce. Those that can't produce letters, get a gracious (this week only) but firm "No" from me. I have not found any with a letter.

National Donut and Better Homes Week started April 25. Now there's a pair! If we had better homes, the morning doughnut business in the restaurants wouldn't be so thriving. I hardly know what to do about these, but in deference to both I am re-roofing my dog Bugle's house and giving him a donut for breakfast every morning.

Baby Week starts Saturday. During the entire seven days I will listen to the cute sayings of children with a great amount of patience and, if I can remember them, I may publish some of them in the paper.

Boys and Girls Week also starts Saturday. This would be a good time for me to build a fence around my office entrance so that I can walk out the door and get my bearings before being hit by a bicycle the day that school is out for the summer.

National Home Demonstration Week starts Sunday. I will demonstrate the wonders of my home to myself by lounging there practically all day, reading the papers, sleeping and listening to the radio.

National Music Week, National Family Week and National Restaurant Week start Monday. I am at a loss to cope with these, as there is no long-haired concert going on in Lubbock that I know of, as I don't have any children to impress with National Family Week, and as National Restaurant Week is every week to me because I patronize them pretty regularly. But I'll think of something. I'll never let three such nationally proclaimed weeks go by unobserved.

And Sunday, of all days, is Child Health Day. If it's a pretty day, I'll call my friends and remind them to take the kiddies out for some sunshine and fresh air, but to watch out for rattlesnakes if they intend to do this any closer to home than Mackenzie State Park. If it's rainy, I guess I'll have to send the youngsters some vitamins, as my contribution to Child Health Day.

The weeks I like best at this time of year are Noise Abatement Week and Be

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

In my all too limited library of reference books, I have a little gem called "Albertus Magnus, Being the Approved, Verified, Sympathetic and Natural Egyptian Secrets or, White and Black Art for Man and Beast. The Book of Nature and the Hidden Secrets and Mysteries of Life Unveiled; Being the Forbidden Knowledge of Ancient Philosophers By that Celebrated Student, Philosopher, Chemist, Naturalist, Psychomist, Astrologer, Alchemist, Metallurgist, Sorcerer, Explanator of the Mysteries of Wizards and Witchcraft; Together with Recondite Views of Numerous Arts and Sciences—Obscure, Plain, Practical, Etc., Etc., Translated from the German."

Kind To Animals Week, which starts Sunday. I will observe Noise Abatement Week by turning off the static or the commercials get too obnoxious and, by way of being kind to my dog Bugle, I have bought him some ear muffs to wear when the loud whistling freight trains come through town.

Cutlery Display Week starts Monday. Cutlery according to Webster's Twentieth Century Dictionary, is "knives, or other cutting instruments, collectively." I understand that down in the flats they have Cutlery Display Saturday Night every once in awhile, but not so much now as once was the custom. I plan to look up my old hunting knife and polish it up, for this special week, but I regret that I have not an entire collection to display.

Among the more important Special Days scheduled for next week is the official beginning of the vacation season, on Tuesday. Unfortunately this great occasion doesn't coincide with the letting out of school for the summer months and so many local folk will not officially begin their summer vacations until after May 20.

For the comparative few who can afford the luxury of a vacation this year, the season will offer more satisfaction in the matter of transportation, hotel rooms and tourist courts, courteous waiters and good food in restaurants, etc. The tourist, like the buyer, has come into his own after eight or nine years of being shoved around.

This summer you won't have to stop at 4 p. m., in order to find tourist court or hotel accommodations for the night. I predict that you can check in at midnight or even later, and it won't matter if you are traveling with four kids, a dog and a billy goat, they'll still let you register in the average place.

And you can book passage on almost any ship or plane going to any country, except those behind the Iron Curtain, for the first time in more than 10 years. While the price of foreign travel is still exorbitantly high, I understand one can now borrow the money to make a trip abroad and pay for it on the installment plan after returning.

To take your mind off the antics of the Texas Legislature, the U. S. Congress, the local unemployment situation, Communism and the Atlantic Pact, during the period of impatient waiting to see what's going to happen next, I propose to entertain you today with some "helpful" excerpts from this lovely little book. I'll pick some "approved remedies" at random, hoping to cover everything that's troubling you, possibly including death and taxes.

A Very Good Recipe for the Colic: Take a spoonful of olive or sweet oil, pounded crab eyes, and four carefully dried and pulverized peels of oranges, dissolve in good, warm wine. It relieves the pain immediately.

"A Particular Performance by Which It is Caused that a Person will Always Obtain Right Before a Court of Justice: Take the herb called suntuil (skunk cabbage) gathered during the month of August, while the sun stands in the sign of the lion, wrap a little thereof in a bay leaf, add a dandelion to it, carry this talisman on your person, and you will have the best of everybody, and receive the greatest advantage from it.

"Another Trial To Detect a Thief: When all the articles mentioned above are taken and laid upon the head, the person robbed may see the entire form and appearance of the thief.

"A Remedy for the Fever by the Use of Which an Old Lady of Nobility Has Aided Many People: This matron of a noble family cut the ear of a cat, let three drops of the blood fall in some brandy, added a little pepper thereto, and gave it to the patient to drink.

"Secret Remedy for Healing the Cancer: At the waning of the moon, take, several mornings in succession, a spoonful of elder flower seed in sweet milk; or in case the moon is waning, give to a child, plagued by worms, a small teaspoonful of sweet oil, and when the last quarter of the moon appears, the third spoonful, and the entire stock of worms will pass from the child.

"Hysterics Accompanied By Fainting: Take the warts commonly grown on the shanks of steers, cut them fine, dry them in an iron pan over a glowing flame until they become yellow.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

SING WHILE YOU DRIVE—One of our favorite "clippers," Harry McGuire, picked up another gem recently that suggests tunes to sing while you drive. Take your pick:

At 30 miles, sing "Highways Are Happy Ways."
At 55 miles, sing "I'm But A Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home."
At 65 miles, sing "Nearer, My God to Thee."
At 75 miles, sing "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 85 miles, sing, "Lord, I'm Coming Home"
Would you suggest Harry, that those who drive on Death-Highway 90, in all its narrow danger, cut about five miles an hour off each of the above mileages?—The Liberty Vindicator.

TO VOTE ON SCHOOL—Taxpayers of the Seminole School District will go to the polls Saturday, April 30 to vote on a $490,000 tax bond issue scheduled to cover construction of a proposed new elementary school building.—The Seminole Sentinel.

How To Shoot Securely: Take the heart of a bat, and the liver at that, and mix it with the lead when thou doth bullets cast, and thou wilt shoot all things dead. Take a skull, and place the die under it, pour the lead through the eye-holes into the mould, and with such bullets and balls shoot. Probatum!

"A Gargle for a Putrid Mouth: Take turnips, autumn roses, juniper berries, lancet herbs, white iron herbs, blackberry roots, of each a handful, boil in a clean pot, and with this gargle."

ish, bruise them gently and give of this powder as much as the point of a table knife will hold, in wine or other liquor, to the patient, who must keep herself warm.

"For the Bad Hearing of Horses: Take horseradish and salt, pound it well in a mortar, and the sap pressed out, and a few drops poured into the ear of the horse. It is also good for man.

"A Way To Cause Merry and Funny Dreams: When you go to bed, eat balm, and you cannot desire more pleasant sights than will appear to you in fields, gardens, trees, flowers, meadows, and all the ground of a pleasant green, and covered with shady bowers; wheresoever you cast your eyes, the whole world will appear pleasant and green. Buglos will do the same, and bows of poplar; so also oil of poplar. But . . .

"To Make Dark and Troublesome Dreams: We eat beans; and therefore they are abhorred by the Pythagoreans, because they cause such dreams. Phaseol, or French beans, cause the same; lentils, onions, garlic, leeks, weebine, dorycnium picnocomum, new red wine; these infuse dreams, wherein the phantoms are broken, crooked, angry, troubled; the person dreaming will seem to be carried in the air, and to see the rivers and sea under him; he shall dream of misfortunes, falling, death, cruel tempests, showers or rain, and cloudy days; the sun darkened, and the heavens frowning, and nothing but fearful apparitions. So by anointing the aforesaid places with soot, or any dusty matter, and oil (which I add only to make the other enter the easier into the parts), fires, lightnings, flashings, and all things will appear in utter darkness. These are sufficient.

These are the homes

These are the people

THESE are the people who own your electric light and power company. Chances are you are one of this group, too.

They represent a cross-section of America — housewives, doctors, teachers — industrial workers, craftsmen, farmers — mechanics and milkmen. Yes, people from all walks of life have put their savings into companies like ours. They're direct owners.

But there are countless indirect owners, too — many who don't know they have a stake in the electric industry. They're people with life insurance policies and savings accounts. When banks and insurance companies accept your money, they must invest it wisely. And because business-managed electric companies have a long record of successful service, much of that money is invested in utility securities.

So, you see, the electric industry is owned by the people it serves.

Sims Wildcat Fails Ellenburger Test

The Plymouth Oil Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Sims, Ellenburger wildcat failure in south-central Garza County.

The venture recovered water on two drillstem tests of the Ellenburger. Total depth was 8,462 feet, where 150 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 450 feet of salt water developed on a one and one-half hour test with packer at 8,395 feet. The dry hole is in Section 9, Block 2 of the T&O Survey.

In northwest Borden County, Sinclair Prairie Oil Company by last weekend was drilling ahead with its No. 1 Sterling Williams. The wildcat was below 7,447 feet in lire.

The Ohio Oil Company's No. 1 J. T. Emery, northwest Kent County wildcat, was by last weekend beyond 4,900 feet, drilling shale.

In the central portion of Kent County, the Hiawatha Oil and Gas Company and M. E. Davis No. 1 Bert Wallace, slated 7,000 foot wildcat, last weekend was making new hole below 6,032 feet through lime and shale.

Operations have started on a 9,000-foot wildcat in northwest Borden County, 12 miles northwest of Gail, by the Caraway Drilling Company of Big Spring. It is the concern's No. 1 Cantrell. Projected depth is calculated to allow an exploration into the Pennsylvanian. Drilling is with rotary tools.

This is an old wildcat drilled by Thomas W. Doswell in 1945. It was plugged and abandoned on total depth of 5,024 feet. Caraway now has taken over the venture, drilled out cement, and has made new hole to 7,336 feet. It was shutdown for repairs on that depth. Drillsite elevation is 8,957.

Cotton Under Loan To Be Pooled And Sold After July

Producers are urged to give serious consideration to marketing their 1948 loan cotton before July 31, according to B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

On that day, cotton loans mature, and on the following day, August 1, all 1948 crop cotton which is still under loan will be pooled by the Commodity Credit Corporation and sold for producers accounts. Farmers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market.

At present market prices, farmers should be able to dispose of a substantial amount of this cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against this cotton.

The net proceeds from the sale of the pooled cotton, after deduction of all advances, interest, and accrued costs—including storage, insurance, and handling costs—will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in the pools in proportion to the amount of the loans. No payment will be made to producers at the time the cotton is pooled, and after July 31, producers will not be entitled to order the sale of the cotton.

As of March 17, loans had been made on 4,865,000 bales of 1948 crop cotton; loans were outstanding on about 4,400,000 bales.

Grasshopper Poison Should Be Put Out

The presence of little grasshoppers in pastures indicates grasshoppers are coming. Last year, T. R. Greenfield and Mrs. J. T. Simmonds, district cooperators, together lost approximately 110 acres of African weeping lovegrass. It seems that grasshoppers are especially fond of this African diet.

With good moisture, district cooperators who have planted grass have a good opportunity to get a stand, local soil technicians believe.

Preparation for the use of poison bait or a poison spray should be made now to be ready when grass seedlings are attacked.

In Time Nearly Everybody's Name Will Be Published In Articles From Census

Several of last week's Post Dispatch readers reported that they especially liked the idea of reporting the names of everybody living in Greater Post in this series of articles.

One reader reported that he is clipping the articles, for the sole purpose of running up the population figures on the adding machine to see whether or not the census-taker, J. T. Curb, added them properly.

Mr. Curb said the Post Dispatch erred in reporting the population radius. His census was taken in Post and within a quarter-mile (rather than four-mile) radius outside the city limits.

The second installment of the names of the heads of Greater Post's families, and the number of people living in their homes, follows:

Millers Win First League Game Sunday Against Tahoka; To Meet Denver City

The first games in the 1949 Oil Belt League were played Sunday, and all games were very close, except Levelland's 10-5 victory over Brownfield.

Post pushed across four runs in the seventh after Tahoka had scored three in its half of the inning and then held on to score a 7-5 win over the opponents, although Tahoka had 11 hits to only six for Post.

Sundown squeezed through two runs in the first half of the ninth inning to defeat Denver City, 9-7, although the winning team was out-hit, 11-10.

In the tightest game of the day, Slaton downed Seagraves, 4-3, with one run in the sixth after the game was tied at 3-all in the fourth. Slaton went ahead with three runs in the second, and Seagraves scored two in the third and one in the fourth to knot the score.

Two much power at the plate led to victory for Levelland over Brownfield as everyone on the Levelland team hit safely at least one time. Estes, pitcher, made two for three, and Carnell and Owens had one for two.

For the Post-Tahoka game, which was played in the Postex Park, the Millers had new uniforms which were purchased through the Sports Center in Lubbock and delivered to Post last Thursday by Sam West, owner, who coached the Washington Senators last year and formerly played with the Senators and St. Louis Browns.

Fort Worth Men To Have Local Help In Soil Conservation

Guy Price and P. K. Thomas, Fort Worth business men, this week made application to the Duck Creek and Crosby County Soil Conservation districts for assistance in Soil Conservation work. The application covers 7652 acres of land lying in a body in the north part of Garza County and the south part of Crosby County. Approximately 1,000 acres of the land is in cultivation and the other 6,652 acres in range land.

Marion Reep is foreman of the ranch. Price and Thomas stated they preferred that local soil technicians give them assistance since they made Post their trading center. One conservation measure that Price and Thomas are interested in is planting 50 acres of native grass. Reep plans to saw 50 acres to maize for a dead stubble cover in which to make the 1950 spring grass planting.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How We Licked The Parking Problem

For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street.

Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers.

Now farmers get their shopping done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy.

From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try just that?

A Tip From Our Servicemen

The next time you drive in for gas or oil, just say "Give It The Once-Over!"

That's the signal for our men to show you what we mean by "Service."

Your wind-shield will be cleaned, and battery and tires checked... quickly and, of course, at no extra cost! If any other service is needed, just ask for it.

How much is it WORTH?

You can't put a real price tag on telephone service. Who can say what it's worth when it rings a doctor quickly? Can you set a price on the pleasure of hearing a loved one's voice from many miles away? How would you value the countless minutes and steps it saves in everyday living? Whatever the telephone is worth, its cost is small for the many services it performs every day for everyone.

Cross Roads Plan Of Conservation Is Approved At Spur

The Duck Creek Soil Conservation District supervisors at their April Meeting at Spur approved the Double U Company Cross Roads conservation plan, A. P. Ottinger has announced. This plan covers 2,412 acres of deep sandy land in the Cross Roads area. The Double U Company plans to establish native grasses back on 2,092 acres of this land that was once in cultivation.

In developing the conservation plan, S. B. Bardwell and Boy Hart inspected revegetation work on sandy land at Cheyenne, Okla. The Soil Conservation Service has established 7,000 acres of grass there on a land utilization project over the past 8 or 10 years. Bardwell says it is revolutionary how the grasses have grown where they got a stand. He observed, however that, like other farming operations, some plantings were not successful because of weather conditions. Bardwell says investigations are being made to kill out shinnery. Without the shinnery to use moisture such as that on the Cross Road lands, grasses made a good growth. This spring they plan to sow 265 acres to combine maize for a dead stubble in which to make the 1950 spring grass planting. Mr. Bardwell says they will progress with the sown maize so that each spring they will have a prepared seed bed, until all of the 2,092 acres has been planted to grass. An application of commercial fertilizer will be used under the maize to get a good growth on the sandy land.

Land not used for grass planting will be planted to rye or a mixture of vetch and rye. If the fall is moist, a mixture of vetch and rye will be sown using fertilizer. If moisture is not plentiful in the fall, a pure seeding of rye will be made. Limited use of the rye will be made in the spring for pasture. The rye or rye and vetch will be used mostly to tie the sand down and improve soil fertility.

Robert E. Shedd Bessie Pitts Are News Tip Winners

Robert E. Shedd received last week's first prize of $2.50 for reporting the good news, which the Post Dispatch could easily have overlooked, that the local V.F.W. post has bought an army surplus building to be moved here and remodeled as a V.F.W. and Auxiliary Headquarters.

The second prize of $1 went to Miss Bessie Pitts for reporting that Bennie Rogers had been selected to model in the Tech Home Economics Division style show.

Honorable mention went to Sherrill Boyd, who was the first of seven or eight people to report the accident in which Walter Boren received a broken hip bone; to Carol Jean Huff, who reported Jim Mangum's misfortune in falling and breaking a bone in his elbow, and to Mary Fumagalli, who reported three news items, including one concerning the death of her cousin, Stanley Russell, and to Mrs. Joe Collis, Mrs. John Lott, J. T. Curb, Mrs. Marvin Truelock, Miss Jewell Parsons and Mrs. J. H. Dietrich whose thoughtfulness in reporting news and feature tips resulted in an unusually interesting paper last week.

The contest will continue indefinitely. Next week's first prize will go to the writer of the best letter about an outstanding Garza County mother.

Social Security Man Coming Here

Gerald L. Schantz, Social Security Administration representative, will be in the local post office at 2 p. m. Employers are reminded by Mr. Schantz that the payroll tax report, which they make every calendar quarter, must include the name, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to each employee. Every business firm that has one or more employees is covered by the Federal Social Security Act.

Rodeo Banners

 deo is regarded one of the best amateur rodeos in West Texas and as it is one of the first shows of the long summer rodeo season, the directors are making every effort to make it more colorful and even more interesting than usual this year, the secretary, Homer McCrary, said.

One of the features that will be a big factor in insuring the success of the rodeo will be the parade before each evening's performance. The parade chairman, O. D. Cardwell, has been busy contacting business houses and clubs, asking them to enter a decorated float in the parade and enter a cowgirl sponsor in the parade contest, for which prizes will be given.

The Post School Band has been rehearsing special rodeo numbers to be played while marching in the parade.

The local rodeo dates were announced at the Floydada rodeo which ended Sunday and rodeo stickers advertising the Post Stampede were put on the automobiles of Floydada rodeo spectators Sunday afternoon and on the cars of downtown Post visitors Saturday. All of service stations here have stickers to put on their customers' cars.

Thirty-five hundred dollars will be given in contestant's prizes, and the rodeo events will include bronc riding, calf roping, bareback riding, double mugging, bull riding, a cutting horse contest and a cowgirl sponsors' contest. Specialty acts will include a clown and a mule and other acts.

Rodeo dances will be given Tuesday night, May 17, and the four nights of the rodeo.
