Rotarians And Seniors To Hear Flozelle Jones

Miss Flozelle Jones, teacher in the Sweetwater Public School system and applicant for Rotary Foundation Fellowship in this district, will be the principal speaker at the Tuesday Rotary meeting.

Post high school graduating seniors are to be guests of honor at the Tuesday meeting, President Bill DeWalt announced. He also explained that Miss Jones was a guest speaker at the recent District Rotary meeting at Odessa.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Miss Jones is a native of Sweetwater.

Minor Accidents Cause Damage

Two accidents within the city of Post the past two days resulted in extensive damage to cars involved, but no serious injuries to occupants.

Tuesday afternoon a car driven by Janyce Lobban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lobban, Justiceburg, collided with a car driven by J. W. MacAfee, Post. The mishap occurred just south of the Postex Mills while MacAfee was attempting a left turn while going south. Miss Lobban, heading north at an excessive speed, hit him as he turned, according to investigating officers. Extensive damage was done to the Lobban car with a new frame being necessary to repair it.

Wednesday morning a minor accident occurred in front of Hamilton's Drug when a car driven by Harold Page hit the back end of D. C. Roberts, sr. car as he was backing out in the lane of traffic. Damage was not too extensive on either car.

Jim Young Dies Monday Night In Lubbock

Funeral rites for James McMurry Young, 66, were conducted at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, in the First Methodist church.

The Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor of Highland Heights Methodist church in Sweetwater, formerly of Post, was officiant. He was assisted by the Rev. Joe E. Boyd, pastor, and the Rev. J. E. Stephens, of Wilson.

Music included "Does Jesus Care," "Beautiful River" and "Evening Prayer" by a mixed choir with organ accompaniment by Miss Patty Lott.

Mason Funeral home directed burial in Terrace cemetery.

Mr. Young, a resident of Post for the past seven years, died at 10:50 o'clock, Monday evening, in Garrett Convalescent home in Lubbock, where he had been for three months.

He was married to Miss Maud Adeline Merrick on Dec. 25, 1907.

He had been a member of the Methodist church for 50 years.

Survivors are the widow; two children, Dr. B. E. Young and Mrs. M. S. Lloyd, of San Fernando, Calif.; four grandchildren; 2 brothers, Rev. Sam H. Young of Stamford and Marvin Young of Norman, Okla.; and two sisters, Mrs. Aaron Scheer of Maple Plains, Minn., and Mrs. Robert Balzer of Mexico, Mo.

Pallbearers were Clint Herring, Homer McCrary, Tom Power, Charlie Bird, Charles Ray Casey, Phil Trammell, John Lott and Curtis Davies.

Honorary pallbearers included L. W. Dalby, Lew Baker, Roy Baker, O. B. Taylor, Robert Cato, T. R. Hibbs, O. G. Hamilton, Lowell Short, N. C. Outlaw and Bob Warren, Phil Bouchier, M. J. Malouf, Dr. A. C. Surman and Dr. D. C. Williams.

Flower girls were Jackie Sue Dale, Donna Kay Kennedy, Linda Mills, Margaret Welborn, Connie Marie King, Frances Dietrich, Wilma Jean Welch and Mary Eula Trammell.

About 55 Men Work On Terrace Cemetery

The Cemetery Working at Terrace cemetery Tuesday afternoon attracted between 50 and 60 residents, according to James Minor.

About half of the cemetery was cleaned thanks to the efforts of these men. Some parts of the place were more than "wooly", according to the men who worked.

Minor said that possibly another afternoon could be set aside and the remainder of the place cleaned up.

Garza Memorial Hospital To Be Completed About June 1; Slated For Service By Mid-July

Completion of work on the new $400,000 Garza Memorial hospital has been set about June 1 and the hospital will then be turned over to county officials by McQuade Construction company, contractors. The announcement was made by Jack Rex, equipment consultant, in behalf of the Commissioners' Court.

Rex also said he hoped to have the hospital in service on a temporary basis by mid-July.

Open House and dedication ceremonies are being planned for sometime in August.

Completion of the new structure and actual hospital service will culminate the long-time dreams and hard work by some county residents. Plans and ideas for a hospital have probably been floating around the county for many years, but actual talk and leg work began in early 1950 when a committee consisting of the late Dr. Glenn E. Kahler, Homer McCrary and Shelley Camp was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to check into the possibilities.

John Herd donated the land for the site.

Through this committee, and the aid of other people of course, a petition was drawn up to be presented to the Commissioners' Court for approval in May. The petition called for a $175,000 bond election. Approval of a 17-bed hospital had previously been received from the federal government with the government matching the local bond.

Commissioners' Court approved the petition and it was circulated and the election was called. Garza county residents approved the bond by a big majority. But when bids were advertised in March 1951, it was discovered that increases in the price of materials would necessitate another $50,000.

However, this amount was raised and contracts let on the building in June to McQuade. Actual construction began the first week of July.

Garza Memorial hospital is a 24 bed unit, with six single beds and nine double bedrooms. Eight bassinets are included in the equipment in anticipation of an increase in Garza county's population.

The surgical suite will be air conditioned and there will be soft water throughout. Isolation ward consists of a four-room section.

Rex said he expected the first volume of equipment to be shipped about May 12 with the majority of the remainder due to arrive before July 1.

Staff will consist of active staff and a visiting staff. Also four nurses, seven nurse-aids, two janitors, cook, bookkeeper and administrator.

Landscaping around the new building is to get underway at once, paving has been completed on ambulance drive and is to be begun soon on the streets surrounding the hospital.

Garza Memorial hospital is to be a non-charity institution and also non-profit. Charity cases will be handled by the Commissioners' Court as usual.

Rex estimated that operation costs of the new institution will run approximately $85,000 per year, figured on a basis of $250 per day. Rex estimated that once the hospital gets underway it should have an average daily census of 10 people.

Doctors will not have office space at the hospital, Rex pointed out. An adjoining clinic had previously been planned but was not developed.

GARZA MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NEARS COMPLETION—Except for a few finishing touches, construction on the new $400,000 Garza Memorial hospital has been completed. Contractor "Buster" McQuade will probably turn the new structure over to county officials around the first of June. Work began on the building last July. The new hospital is a 15-room, 24-bed structure and has a modern design inside and out. Jack Rex, equipment consultant, said the new institution will be put into temporary use possibly within the next three months. (Dispatch Photo)

Topping Of Roads Started Wednesday

State Highway department workers began topping the widened highway portions in Post Wednesday morning, Mayor T. L. Jones announced.

Work was started at the extreme west of town on the Tahoka highway. Jones also announced that the city now has 48 blocks of paving signed up.

Half of the caliche has been put down for these and if nothing happens should be completed by next week. The winding up of the curb and gutter and dirt distributing portion of the project is also slated for the latter part of next week.

Only Few Weeks Left For County Students

School days for this term are just about over for students in all the Garza county schools.

With one exception, all schools in the county will let out on Friday, May 23, according to County Superintendent Dean A. Robinson.

That exception is Garnolia. Students there will be one week ahead of the others and will begin their summer vacation on May 16.

Stampede Association And Chamber Of Commerce To Decorate The City

Decoration time is at hand for the Post Stampede Rodeo! The Post Stampede Rodeo Association and the Chamber of Commerce plan to decorate the city streets again this year. Harley Pritchard, of Abilene, has been signed to accomplish the job. He decorated the town during the Junior Rodeo last year.

All business places are urged to again decorate their building fronts. Those who do not have decorating material can contact Mrs. Lawrence at the Chamber of Commerce and she will have Pritchard contact them.

Another appeal has also been made to the citizens of the town who might be interested. Floats are needed for the parade. O. D. Cardwell said that at least 12 are needed but there is no limit on floats. Just build one and they will see that it gets in the parade. Contact Cardwell on the float business.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

L. A. Presson and Roy Baker will attend the State Republican convention to be held in Mineral Wells sometime this month, according to Baker. They will represent Garza county as delegates.

Residents Donate Hospital Rooms

Five single bedrooms had been donated to the Garza Memorial hospital by county businessmen by noon Wednesday, Jack Rex, equipment consultant, announced.

Persons and concerns who have donated $250 to furnish single rooms include Lowell Short, L. G. Thuet, sr., and L. G. Thuet, jr., Hudman Furniture Company, Ira Lee Duckworth and Giles Connell.

Only one single room was left to be furnished yesterday. Flat rates of $250 for single bedrooms and $350 for double bedrooms have been set, Rex explained. Nursery will cost $500.

Rex also explained that the hospital has a present operating fund of $12,030. The Commissioners' Court allotted the hospital $7,255.12. And the proceeds of the Edgar Bergen Benefit show amounted to $4,774.88. This amount was turned over to the hospital yesterday.

SUE STEPHENS WINS

Sue Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stephens and member of the Post Senior 4-H club, won first place in the district 4-H public speaking contest held in Lubbock last Saturday.

First Entry Listed For Stampede Rodeo

The first entry in the 1952 Post Stampede Rodeo was received Monday by Homer McCrary, secretary of the association.

Miss Ann Clark, of Retan, filed an entry in the Girls Sponsor contest.

Ellis Mills Elected To Attend State Convention

ELLIS MILLS

Ellis Mills, Post grade school principal, was elected as Garza county's delegate to the State Democratic convention to be held at San Antonio May 27.

First and second alternates were also elected at the County Convention held Tuesday afternoon in the Courthouse and attended by a pitiful number of ten persons. They were Pat Walker, first alternate, and T. R. Greenfield, second alternate.

Garza's delegation will attend the State Convention unopposed as far as backing a presidential nominee is concerned, but instructed not to back any movement that would bolt the Democratic party. The delegation will also be instructed to vote for a preferential presidential primary should the question be voted on at the convention.

Pat Walker presided over the convention as chairman after County Democratic Chairman T. R. Greenfield called the election of a chairman. Ellis Mills served as secretary.

Only three precincts of the nine in Garza county were represented by delegates. These were Precincts 1, 2 and 9. Rev. Joe Boyd, Walter Crider, Ellis Mills, and Charlie Smiley represented Precinct 1; Clint Herring and John Shedd, represented Precinct 2; and Pat Walker, Precinct 9.

Stampede Rodeo Officials Claim 1952 Show To Provide Fans With More Thrills And Quality

Everybody's talking about the Post Stampede Rodeo May 28, 29, 30 and 31! And those who are in the driver's seat say it's going to be the best rodeo yet. And contestants must think so, too. For they are already registering with Homer McCrary, secretary.

Giles Connell, president of the Post Stampede Rodeo association says, "This year the Stampede will be one of the best yet produced. We are better organized and have started working earlier than we ever did before. The grounds will be in excellent shape and the repairs that have just been made on the plant will help make a faster and better show."

The improvements Connell was speaking of are new gates on the chutes, new chutes for unsaddling stock and the painting of most of the plant.

Connell also believes that the number of entries this year will exceed last year. "There has been a tremendous amount of personal contact work done by residents of the city in connection with the rodeo," he pointed out. "This should not only help increase the entry list but should also make for a much better crowd."

Stock for the show is to be provided by "Goat" Mayo of Petrolia and he has assured manager Phil Bouchier that the stock will be fresh and wild. This always tends to make a more thrilling show for the fans.

Three Directors Are Named At Grassland

The Farmers' Cooperative Society at Grassland held its annual business meeting and social at the gin, Monday evening.

During the business session, Jess Propst and L. S. Turner were re-elected to the board of directors and Herman Huffaker was elected to a two-year term.

Coffee and doughnuts and cold drinks and ice cream were served.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

It won't be long now before you and me will be stopped on the street by some attractive young lady and asked, "Buy a Poppy, Mister?"

What are we going to do? Perhaps we will buy one gladly and wear it proudly on our coat. Or will we buy one just to get rid of the lady who is doing the selling? Then again maybe we will brush them off with a curt no and go on our selfish grouchy way.

What does buying a Poppy mean to you? What does it mean to me? Perhaps nothing at all. Maybe the significance of the purchase has never dawned on us. But whether we realize it or not, it means plenty to hundreds of thousands of disabled and needy veterans.

Do you know why the Veterans sale of Poppies? Do you know how they spend the money? I believe the words of the Commander-in-Chief of VFW, Frank C. Hilton, can give you the explanation a little better than I can. This is from an article by Hilton in the recent issue of VFW Magazine:

"Have you ever visited a Veterans Administration hospital? Have you ever walked slowly through the long corridors of one of these institutions, secretly depressed by the spectre of suffering and death behind each of Foreign Wars sponsors the the muffled silence of a hospital ward as nurses move swiftly to place a screen around the bed of a patient breathing his last?"

"Have you ever sat at the bedside of a lad who is young in years but old in body—one whose physical form has known no peace since the day he was cut down by machine gun bullets back in 1944? That's long time to wonder if you will ever walk again—or see what the world on the outside looks like."

"Have you ever walked past a line of pale, thin men sitting in wheel chairs in a VA paraplegic ward? Have you wondered what you could possibly say to men who have given their arms and legs against the enemies of our country? What world should you choose in trying to tell these closed doors? Have you ever felt grateful—that they are not being forgotten by the rest—without sounding phony or pompous?"

"What can you say—and how can you say it—to a fellow whose insides are slowly being destroyed by disease in a losing battle that started back in 1943, when the rest of us are not un-when he was on Guadalcanal? How can you be amusing when you're talking to an amputee veteran who has just been told to get ready for his 14th operation? With each operation he loses precious inches from remnants of a limb that has been punished with a series of clumsy fitting appliances?"

"I must confess that prior to World War II, like the average non-veteran, I was guilty of knowing little or nothing about hospitals for veterans. . . I remember the VFW Post in my area sold Buddy Poppies every year. I recall I always bought a Buddy Poppy with a certain smug satisfaction I was doing my patriotic duty—and the right thing for 'our brave veterans.' But—like so many other people—I didn't know the real story back of those little artificial flowers."

"It wasn't until then that I learned of the wonderful work the VFW is able to accomplish with the funds that are raised through this annual project."

"I was shocked to learn that so many men needed help so desperately in trying to solve their complicated readjustment difficulties. Many of these men were burdened with physical ailments. These were not serious enough to require hospitalization. But the curse of a physical handicap was still there. How could a man with a disability—or a lingering illness—find a job to provide for his family? Many of these men were the husbands of wives who needed operations. Others had children who needed shoes, clothes and medical attention."

"It was then I fully realized how vitally essentially the annual Buddy Poppy sale is to the objectives of the VFW. In giving this service and rehabilitation assistance — on the community, state and national levels—we are clearly doing the job for which we are best fitted. We are doing the kind of work that neither the federal, state nor municipal government agencies are staffed to handle efficiently, and with a sympathetic understanding that is not hampered by regulations."

Now about a Buddy Poppy, mister? YOU BET!

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

It Sez Here

Joyce Miller conducts a column in the Lubbock paper known as The Curious Reporter. We don't know who chooses questions she asks people on the streets, but whoever it is has broken his A string. For months we've been treated to diverse opinions on the relative merits of sleeping with the family dogs or putting them in boarding schools; of the value of lettuce on hamburgers; whether or not cracks should be eliminated in sidewalks to avoid gambling hazards; and sundry controversial topics. Take it from us, we need some real intelligent questions propounded to the man on the street. Something like: "Should men wear boxer type underwear or jockey shorts?" or "Do you think axe murders are humane?" or "How do you cope with the TV problem, now that we don't have it?"

We've always heard that for best results a reporter should direct his writing toward people with a fourth grade intelligence quotient. But when 10-year-old daughter brings up the paper with the query, "Isn't that silly stuff, daddy?" it's time to revise the propaganda line!

—The Rails Banner.

It's All Unnecessary

The colt jumped—but he didn't jump soon enough. A fender caught him in the haunches. He was bruised beyond repair—and so was the fender. Perhaps it happened in Liberty county, where livestock on highways and the other fellow's land seem to have more constitutional rights than the man who drives along carefully minding his own business. In fact, it is evident that some people with no pasture of their own believe an ornery razorback hawg is worth more than a highway-traveler's life or a neighbor's property. The streets of Colt-and-Hawg Heaven could be paved with the bones of animals needlessly slaughtered because only a few people in Liberty county are still living in the Dark Ages as far as livestock care and the Golden Rule of neighborliness are concerned.

—The Liberty Vindicator.

Bad Carnivals

A long list of "bad" things can be enumerated against any carnival which has played in Seminole in recent years, and the one here last week was perhaps no worse than most and might even be the best of the lot. For one thing, there are the usual gambling booths. The worst feature of these is that they draw most of their patronage from people least able to afford the loss. Always there are side shows, many of them of varying stages of indecency. Food concessions without exception are poor, and are such as would not be tolerated by health authorities in regularly-established cafes and restaurants. Two of the city's three drug stores last week experienced very heavy calls for various kinds of cough remedies, which are generally sought by dope addicts. The demands eased by Tuesday after all "strangers" had been turned down. One variety store reported heavy calls for bay rum—even though the bay rum he had on sale contains wood alcohol which would tear up all but cast-iron stomachs. It might have been a coincidence that this sort of thing increased from nothing during a week a carnival was in town, but it seems doubtful.

—The Seminole Sentinel.

Lightning Strikes Golfer

Tragedy has once again struck the City of Morton. This time in the form of lightning. A four-some golf game ended today when Scott Hawkins was hit by a bolt of lightning. Mr. Hawkins, local automobile dealer, was killed instantly when struck by lightning Wednesday afternoon at three-thirty while he was playing a game of golf on the local course. Luke Cole, playing with Scott, was knocked down but not injured. Hawkins and Cole were playing in a foursome, which included Neal Rose and Hume Russell. When Hawkins was struck Rose was between him and Cole but was not touched by the bolt.

City Air Mail

There's something rather urgent appearing about the red, white and blue of an airmail letter. We received one this week. It contained a wealth of local news briefs for the Herald—and was most welcome. Nope, it's not the first airmail letter we ever received in Kaufman—that was mailed in Kaufman—that postmaster is really giving service now.

—The Kaufman Herald.

CEMETERY WORKING . . .

The idea brought forward by James Minor and sponsored by the Rotary club to hold a "Cemetery Working" at Terrace cemetery Tuesday is one of the most commendable projects suggested in Post in sometime. Cemetery workings are nothing new, but apparently Post has failed to hold one in sometime. Yet the plan is so excellent in a local respect that we are of the opinion that it should be made an annual event. Many communities over the country hold annual cemetery workings and people come from miles around to participate. They usually have an all day affair with dinner on the ground. The people begin gathering early in the morning and for the first hour or two everyone works on the cemetery. Then the women take time out to prepare the dinner, which incidentally everyone has helped in making, and the men continue with their work. After a sociable dinner and confab session, everyone goes back to work. The event is a success, in the respect of work accomplished and good fellowship. Geniality and friendship flourish much better when people are contented and happy and this feeling can be reached quicker by enjoying a big meal. That is the general idea of the "dinner-on-the-ground." Since Post observes Memorial Day each year and the attempt is made to clean up the cemetery for this occasion, we can see no reason why Post and Garza county citizens cannot organize and plan an annual "cemetery working and dinner-on-the-ground" sometime in the early part of May so that Terrace cemetery can look its best on Memorial Day.

STAMPEDE RODEO . . .

Only three more weeks remain before Post plays host to thousands of fans attending the annual Post Stampede Rodeo. These three weeks, however, give the citizens of the town and county plenty of time to put their best foot forward and prepare to make this the best Rodeo since the Stampede began. A committee has been appointed to see that Western apparel is the order of the week when rodeo time rolls around. This is the one phase that people can help the most in making a success. Go Western is the motto. Another appeal will be made to various business places, groups and organizations. This will be for floats to have in the parade. Parade planners are predicting the best parade ever, but will definitely need the assistance of all persons. The small amount of effort and money it will take to construct a beautiful float for the parade should be negligible in comparison to the personal pride, public relations and civic achievement the owner will gain in return. The Post Stampede Rodeo is a civic undertaking and has become the "bright star" in the Spring. Many hours of work, much money and many a headache go into producing the rodeo so that it might help build up the town. Therefore the least the town can do is get behind the effort one hundred percent and show the Stampede Association their efforts are appreciated. This has been done in excellent fashion in the past and there is no reason why it won't be done again this year.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P — Texas Congressman Olin E. Teague was a "front line" observer of the recent Nevada atomic bomb blast. He feels the atomic bomb is the greatest deterrent to war now in existence. He does not believe, however, that atomic weapons will revolutionize warfare. And, it might be pointed out, Teague knows about warfare. He was a World War II infantry colonel, six times wounded in action.

With a handful of top military observers and scientists and four other congressmen, the Texan was squatting down in a waist-deep trench when the A-bomb was exploded at an altitude of 3,500 feet just three miles away. No one was nearer the blast. Troops participating in the experiment were just behind, while newspaper reporters and photographers were some five miles still further to the rear.

"Two seconds after the blast went off," Teague said, "a voice over a loud speaker told us we could get up. "There, billowing up before our eyes, was a great ball of fire. The heat still was terrific and I wondered for a moment if we had gotten up too soon. We had been told that if we had witnessed the blast we would have been blinded."

A short time later, Teague and the others went forward and across Point-Zero, directly beneath the blast, in an ash-dust covered area. That test, with troops and planes engaged in a mock attack, convinced me that so far no basic change in warfare is in sight. There'll be a change in tactics, but you'll still have foot soldiers. They'll be dug in and deployed differently than in the past.

"This change should work to our advantage, as contrasted with a nation which would rely on sheer force of numbers. An army which massed hordes of men, planning on sending them in wave after wave in attack, in order to wear down an enemy with less manpower, would be particularly vulnerable."

With each A-bomb blast—the last was the 20th—more knowledge is gained of the weapon and there is less fear of some of its aspects, said Teague.

"I certainly don't mean to minimize the power of atomic weapons, nor the gravity of the situation in which it has placed the world," Teague continued.

"That explosion was an awesome sight to behold. It must make any responsible leader in the world think long and hard before taking action which might bring its horrors to his people. I think it is a great deterrent to war."

Teague was invited by Brig. Gen. Alvin Lueddecke, a fellow ex-Texas Aggie, to witness the atomic test. Hailing from the little West Texas city of Eldorado, the general is deputy chief of staff of the Pentagon's special weapons project. The other four congressmen are members of the Atomic Energy committee.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Individuality And The Little Red School House Are Symbols Of Democratic America

BABSON PARK, Mass.—We read much in the newspapers these days about the need of America to undergo a moral rejuvenation. In this column I have tried repeatedly to give suggestions as to how to bring this about. I have suggested religion, ethics, education, thrift and a closer attention to land ownership as some of the remedies. Today, I shall attempt to go further into the "grass roots" of the problem.

About the turn of the century a great sociologist named Charles Horton Cooley coined a new word: "Socius." This man said that you could look at any man from two points of view: (1) As a member of his social group; or (2) you can look at any man as an individual apart from his group, or as a "rugged individualist."

The "Socius" is what politicians and labor leaders want all men to be. If they can submerge individuality, they will then be able to achieve their goals. This explains why the Russians are working so hard to develop collective farms. The independent farmer thinks too much, as an individual, to fit into the Russian purposes. This also applies to Chinese farmers who own their farms, but not to "reniers."

Let's Look At History In the "horse-and-buggy" era of our history the rugged individual rarely, if ever, let his own private convictions be submerged by the group judgment of a committee, board of directors, or political party. He believed that "one with God is a majority." He discussed his ideas with other rugged "grass-root" individuals. Democracy in America came from long hours of "cracker-barrel" discussions in country stores and homes far from city influences. Thinking requires quiet.

Few people can think out problems when their ears and eyes are distracted by radios and televisions. However helpful for quick communication these modern mechanisms may be, the danger always can be that politicians or some selfish group will dish up over them pre-digested dangerous ideas and propaganda that they want us to believe.

Little Red School Houses The Little Red School House was a symbol of what was of great value. When it vanished in most communities and was replaced by the Consolidated school, that change marked the turn from an old to a new epoch. What is the significance of this symbol, the Little Red School House?

The farm boy's daily education began in the early dawn, doing his chores—taking food and water to the animals, handling machinery, planting, growing or harvesting crops. When emergencies arose, he had to be alert to cope with them, which developed ingenuity and reasoning. By such training he also developed honesty, common sense and industry. Farm chores give real education, impossible from books.

The Best Education After breakfast, this lad was not bundled into a bus, to be driven to some central school, often located many miles away. Instead, as a rule, he walked to his school. That walk did his body good. If he had to buck a blizzard, resistance to the storm gave strength of will.

At school, our farmer lad found himself largely on his own and was compelled to dig out most of the facts under the rule "God helps them that help themselves." At noon he could indulge in "extra-curricular" activities, such as "baseball," "cross tag" or "pull away." During his long walk home, he had opportunity to mull over and retain what he had learned. After supper he did his homework which "educators" now are talking of giving up.

Have A Home Garden The Little Red School House made for just the opposite of what we today call "Red." It was an institution that gave America its best great men, strong and fearless—yes, rugged individuals. The pendulum of civilized life has swung too far away in the opposite soft direction. It needs to swing more the way I have described.

As a step in this direction encourage your boy to plant a vegetable garden this spring. Urge him to take care of the garden and market the product. Let him bank any money he may make from the sale of the garden products to you or elsewhere. A garden, next to the Red School House, is a great character builder.

Post Stores Are Stocked With All Appropriate Mother's Day Gifts

Sunday, America will observe the second most revered day in the year—Mother's Day. On that day grateful children the country over will pay tribute to a love greater than all loves, a devotion as staunch as the Rock of Gibraltar and a loyalty beyond comparison.

Mothers throughout the nation will, with trembling fingers and tear dimmed eyes, open thousands of beautifully wrapped gifts presented them as a very small payment on their life-long task.

They will be large and expensive, small, inexpensive, moderate, gaudy, useful and ornamental gifts, yet none will be insignificant. Many of those packages will be opened in Garza county. And the general thought behind them can be expressed no better than the words on a Mother's Day card: "To My Mother on Mother's Day. You're the treasure of them all. I'll always treasure your love Mother Dear, and guard it with my heart."

Originally gifts of sweets and flowers were the offerings on Mother's Day, with either a red or white carnation being worn as a symbol.

Today, however, the gifts received by Mothers run the gamut of the imagination. And Post stores are stocked and jammed with many appropriate gifts for Mother this Sunday.

The individual desire and taste of many people can be satisfied by a browse through the local stores. Gifts range from the sublime to the small token of remembrance. Let's take that tour and let you take your choice.

Cosmetics and perfume, you say? At Hamilton's Drug you can take your pick—there's Tabu, Chanel No. 5 and Arpete, Lenell's Belleza cologne and bath powder sets, Candy? Sure, Pangburn's Silver package, Palomino package, Gold package and Chocolate Tavern package.

Silverware? Sure. Dodson's have plenty of Rodgers' Enchantment. Also varied patterns of pottery, Haviland, English Rose and Bavarian China and Postoria, Brice and Duncan Crystal. Watches? Look them over.

Oh, yes, stationery, Collier's Drug offers you such original patterns as Ranch House, Royal Rose and Shag Bark. Notice those tempting boxes of attractively wrapped King's candies—Rough Dipped, Royal Collection. You wish something in the clothing line? Some Berkshire hose or Henson Nylon lingerie? Herring's stock is complete and they can also supply you with all kinds of attractive dresses and Dorothy Perkins cosmetics.

How about some dress lengths in that piece of material Mother mentioned she saw last week? Levelle Shop specializes in that department. Also stocked are Muzzy and Valmy lingerie.

Mother can always put a nice pair of shoes to good use. Take her in and fit her feet at Fenton and Thompson's—all colors, any style and all with that trim loveliness so desired by well dressed women.

Kind'a in a hurry and don't want to stop to pick out something and have it wrapped? Wacker's has the solution to that problem. They specialize in ready-wrapped gifts, with a large variety from which to make a selection—bubble bath, cosmetics, dishes, silverware, rugs, mirrors, lamps, sheets and pillowcases and many, many more.

Why of course, I see, Mother needs a new tablecloth. Well, let's drop in at Dunlap's. Their special cutwork tablecloth would be just the gift for Mother to spread on her table. Maybe she would be interested in some of the Kickernick underwear, or Doris Dodson and Martha Manning dresses. And that Samsonite luggage over there sure would be appropriate for that vacation.

Say, we had almost forgotten furniture. Hudman's offers some outstanding chrome dinette sets, lamp tables and coffee tables. And, too, if you want to get a big gift, take a look at all their furniture.

Maxine's is the home of exclusive silverware. Such outstanding and famous brands as Reed-Barton, Wallace, International and Watson are yours for the asking. Maxine's also offer Sterling, Community and Rodgers' in either chests or open stock. And take special notice of this exquisite china—Franciscan Fine, Syracuse or French Lamoge. Don't leave until you've seen the ready-to-wear department.

Say, look in Greenfield's window at those lovely plastic bread covers. And that Chartreuse set. Well, I never. Look at that French fried potato cutter.

Perhaps Mother would like to have an easy chair to spend her evening hours listening to that small table radio you propose to buy her. Mason's have just what the doctor ordered. They also offer for inspection the Coylon foam rubber mattress and pillows. One of those GE or Admiral refrigerators would look fine in the kitchen, don't you think? Parsons' can outfit Mother with such outstanding lines of lingerie as Artemus, L'Aiglon and Marcy Lee. The store also has a complete stock of attractive and fitting Gay Gibson dresses.

So you don't want to take time to come all way downtown? Well why not drop by Steven's Style Shop and let them provide you with a complete outfit of gloves, hose, handkerchiefs, lingerie and dresses. Oh, yes, don't forget the new creation in hats.

Say, didn't we forget to stop in at Short Hardware? Yep, it sure is a crowded place, but just look what some attractive gifts it's crowded with—waffle irons, toasters, egg cookers, churns, lawn chairs, dishes and sweepers. Anything mother needs for the home.

And by the way, although the Post Drug wasn't open when we made this trip, don't forget to drop around before Sunday and see what they have to offer.

Wait a minute. Although we saw them in nearly every store, we never mentioned the one thing that makes a Mother's Day gift complete. A Mother's Day card. Don't forget when you buy that present for Mom to have included a card which says, in the words you would like to use but can't seem to find, the thoughts you have in mind. Maybe like this one:

"This Mother's Day wish for happiness is sent to you today. With a hope its cheer and gladness Will line your future way." HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!

Praises BIG 12 For Relieving Her Nagging Aches and Pains

Every day people from all over Texas write in telling how BIG 12 has helped them regain their old time feeling of well being. For instance, take Mrs. Blanche Styron of 402 West Henderson in Cleburne. Mrs. Styron is a nurse and it wasn't so long ago that she had a hard time carrying on her profession. Then she heard how BIG 12 was helping other people with a similar condition caused by deficiencies of Vitamin B₁₂, B₆, Niacin and Iron and decided to try it. But let Mrs. Styron tell her experience with BIG 12 in her own words.

Mrs. Blanche Styron

"For some time I had aches and pains all over my body, I suffered terribly all during that time. Then I heard about BIG 12 and out of sheer desperation I got a bottle. With that first bottle I felt a great change for the better and I have since taken thirty or forty bottles. I have now returned to my work which is practical nursing. At present I am walking two miles each day to take care of my patient. I am still taking BIG 12 and will continue to take it for it has helped me more than I can ever say."

There is nothing miraculous about BIG 12 but sometimes results like those secured by Mrs. Styron almost make it seem so. It is a proven fact that lack of Vitamin B₁₂, B₆, Niacin and Iron can cause nagging aches and pains, stomach distress, sleeplessness, nervousness, poor appetite and a general run-down condition due to a deficiency of Vitamins B₁₂, B₆, Niacin and Iron but get a bottle of pleasant tasting BIG 12 from your drug store today.

An IMPORTANT Message To Our Customers And Friends

We are happy to be able to tell you that the lawsuit brought more than four years ago against Ford Motor Company and Dearborn Motors Corporation by Harry Ferguson and Harry Ferguson, Inc. has been settled by agreement of the parties.

3 POINTS OF INTEREST To Our Present and Future Customers

1. Ford Motor Company will continue production of the present Ford Tractor without interruption, and Dearborn Motors Corporation will continue to market them nationally as in the past. By the end of 1952, Ford Motor Company has agreed to make two simple changes, and only two changes, in the means of operation and control of a pump used in the hydraulic system in the Ford Tractor. After these simple changes have been made, there is nothing in the settlement of the suit to prevent Ford Motor Company from continuing the manufacture of the present Ford Tractor for as long as it may choose.
2. Ford Motor Company will continue to produce and Dearborn Motors Corporation, and ourselves as dealer, will continue to supply all repair parts for all past, present and future Ford Tractors.
3. Ford Tractors will continue to offer all the advantages of the present system of hydraulic control, the present method of attaching and operating implements, and all other features responsible for their wide popularity. Dearborn Motors will continue to offer its same complete line of implements.

It is a source of deep satisfaction to us to be in a position to debunk conclusively and finally in this way the assertions that have been made and the propaganda that has been spread over the past four years.

EARL ROGERS

It makes each drop of gas say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine.

But the problem is to put that energy to work.

So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood—and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

Now, power is great, but what goes with it?

Mister, that's something you ought to find out—and soon.

What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straightaway—beautifully balanced on curves.

It's a car with Dynaflo Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness—and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect.

And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.

Priscilla club members will meet tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Jessie Voss.

The following Sermonette is presented by the Rev. J. C. Holman, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene:

Blameless But Not Significant

The chief sin of church members today is that of being insignificant. It is possible to live a moral life, belong to a church and attend regularly without being greatly useful to the cause of God. Many of us live all our lives without winning anyone to Christ. Our lives are blameless from a negative standpoint, but our hearts are not impassioned with the positive force of a great love for God and a holy zeal for the cause of His kingdom.

To be "blameless but not significant" is not pleasing to God. The Bible says: "I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot. So, then, because thou art lukewarm and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth" (Rev. 3:15-16).

The branding-iron will not make its mark upon cattle unless it yields itself to the fire to be made hot. Neither will our lives be effective for God unless we surrender ourselves wholly unto Him. A half-hearted profession of religion is no good. It is distasteful unto God and displeasing to man.

Let us pray this prayer together: "O, God, help me not only to be negatively blameless, but also positively significant."

Notes from the desk of the Rev. Joe E. Boyd, Methodist pastor: "Mother's Day is one of the Great Days of the year and the church will observe this day with a service honoring Mothers on Sunday morning. The pastor will speak Sunday night on 'How Can We Make Religion Real?' Special music will be a part of the worship services. To those who do not have a church home in Post the Methodist church extends a cordial invitation for you to worship with us in these services.

A district meeting for the WSCS will be conducted in Slaton Friday, beginning at 10 o'clock. At the same hour the ministers of the Lubbock district will meet together in Slaton to make plans for closing out the conference year. The Young Adult Sub-District will meet in Slaton Friday night. The local church will be well represented.

The Sub-District MYF will meet with the Post young people Monday evening. Some 75 to 100 are expected to attend."

Chamber of Commerce

this past week

Post Stampede Association and the Chamber of Commerce have agreed to decorate the city for the Stampede which will be May 28, 29, 30 and 31. Harley Pritchard of Abilene, the decorator who decorated for the Junior Rodeo last August, will do the work, which will probably consist of the same decorations as then.

These two organizations plan to have street streamers run about the same and are asking the merchants to have the front of their businesses decorated as they did last year. The prices will probably be the same.

The merchants are urged to contact Mrs. Lawrence at the Chamber of Commerce office or call 551, to let her know if they want their places decorated. This will save time when Mr. Pritchard arrives in Post to start decorating.

The Chamber of Commerce has entered the first float in the parade. Many more are needed. Check with Bill and Reba Land at Wacker's for ideas and material. They have some good ideas, and have the materials to go along with the ideas, such as balloons, crepe paper, artificial flowers, scotch tape and things of that sort that will develop into a lovely float, at very little cost, and very little work, and lots of fun. These materials may also be obtained at Collier's, Hamilton's, Post Drug, and Post News Stand.

Also, if you want to purchase your float decorations ready to attach to vehicle the Chamber of Commerce has a catalog from Vaughn Displays, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., with various float suggestions that may be purchased.

Movie of the Week

Variety is the spice of life, so the old saying goes.

If so, the life of Garza county movie fans should be all right this week, for the TOWER theatre has scheduled a wide variety of pictures.

The list includes an Indian fighting show in the swamps of Florida, a hilarious comedy of an eloping couple, an unusual eight-episode affair describing the United States, and an action thriller depicting the life of smoke-jumpers in the tree-studded country of the Northwest.

The latter picture, "RED SKIES OF MONTANA," is our pick for the picture of the week. Starring Richard Widmark, the picture introduces two new stars to the movie horizon, Constance Smith and Jeffrey Hunter. It shows Friday and Saturday.

Filed in the northwest, "RED SKIES OF MONTANA" portrays the story of the heroic smoke-jumpers of the U. S. Forest Service—the men who parachute from the sky to fight the fires raging in the virgin stands of timber.

Richard Widmark is the captain of one crew which is trapped, and emerges as the only survivor. The story winds around the idea that he sacrificed the others to save himself. Conflict, drama and action are combined to bring about the final climax to this action-filled picture of the men who protect our forests.

Perhaps Mrs. Icie Reed would like to see "RED SKIES OF MONTANA." If so there are two tickets at the boxoffice, good for any performance.

"DISTANT DRUMS," the Sunday and Monday presentation, stars Gary Cooper. "DISTANT DRUMS" is the story of the savage Seminole Indian War. It takes the fan to the bottomless quicksand and marsh-wilderness—the steaming battle of swamp fighters. Gary Cooper as the daring swamp fighter again plays the role of the strong, silent outdoor hero that has made him famous and liked the world over. Naturally the show has the inevitable death-to-the-finish fight at the end. And in the fight Cooper—well see that for yourself.

Tuesday, the TOWER has scheduled what they frankly call a "message" picture. But the theme of the message is HURRAY FOR AMERICA. Filmed in eight episodes, "IT'S A BIG COUNTRY" gives you the story of AMERICA—North, South, East, West, its farmlands, and factories, its churches and schools and its citizens of various extractions.

Fifteen M-G-M stars add their talent to this story which every American should see. And Texans too. For the sixth episode in the picture is about Texas, with that unbeatable cowboy, Gary Cooper, offering you as a humorous commentary, the panorama of Texas: from its huge cattle ranches, oil wells, its hospitality, independence, fighter planes, pretty girls and its slow draw. It shows that Texas, vast and rich, has a personality all its own, one which when combined with all the other states, makes up the American personality.

Other stars include Gene Kelly, Janet Leigh, Ethel Barrymore, S. Z. Sakall, Van Johnson, Frederic March, William Powell, George Murphy, Marjorie Main and many others.

And now for the big comedy of the year, "Elopement" showing Wednesday and Thursday, stars that man of all men, Clifton Webb (Mr. Belvedere) in another hilarious laugh-riot. With Anne Francis, William Lundigan and Charles Bickford the picture cannot be described. So see the wildest elopement you ever imagined—one where both sides of the family get in on it.

You'll forget hand basting with the hinged presser foot that floats over pins and varying thicknesses of cloth.

The flick of a finger starts the machine sewing in either direction . . . without stopping.

From the very moment you start the smooth, whisper-quiet motor, you'll understand why the DOMESTIC SEWMACHINE has been a favorite in the American home for over 80 years.

VAST EXPANSION IS FORESEEN
FCC Lifts 'Freeze' On New Television Station Licenses

By JACK ADAMS
 WASHINGTON, April 13. — The Federal Communications Commission paved the way today for a vast expansion of the American television industry by lifting its three-and-a-half-year-old freeze on new station licenses. This means that eventually more than 2,000 video stations may be licensed in the United States and its possessions, as compared to 108 in operation now.

It is expected to take a long time to reach such a total, but today's action is a go-ahead sign for an industry that blossomed into a multi-million dollar enterprise even under wraps. Eventually television will be available to most of the population whereas now less than half the people live within tuning range of a station.

Today's order involves steps:

1. Formal creation of television channels in the high frequencies (UHF) added to the 12 very high frequency (VHF) channels in use.
2. Adoption of a final table of local channel assignments, based on the total 32 channels, to make possible 1,231 communities in the country and possess with 108 stations and a maximum of 100 that would have the VHF channels.
3. A specific plan for the local channels that number of exclusive educational and commercial use. A permit is granted that such stations be permitted some part-time commercialization was rejected.
4. A formula for exact and between TV transmitters and for power standards and for best possible service with minimum of interference. The FCC will have 30 existing VHF stations, all of which were allotted UHF stations, include Brownfield, Floydada, Hereford, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview and Snyder. It was not stated whether groups in any of those towns intend to make application for assignment of one of the channels.

The towns, all of which were allotted UHF stations, include Brownfield, Floydada, Hereford, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview and Snyder. It was not stated whether groups in any of those towns intend to make application for assignment of one of the channels.

Associated Press reported that it will take "a long time" to get all of the nation's new 2,000 television stations in operation but added that the FCC is to give "first attention" to areas such as Lubbock which are now without any TV service.

Five TV Channels Allotted Lubbock Under New Setup
 Lubbock is allocated five television channels under the order lifting the ban on new station licenses as announced Sunday—but it still is anybody's guess as to just when the city will have television stations in operation.

Very High Frequency (VHF) channels 5, 11 and 13 and Ultra High Frequency (UHF) channels 20 and 26 are assigned to Lubbock by the Federal Communications Commission, according to word received here. One of the UHF channels is for educational use only, however.

Application On File
 One radio station here already has an application on file for one of the channels and another station is to apply for a second channel before July 1, it was announced. Even so, no one would hazard a guess as to how long it will be before South Plainsmen will have TV available to them.

Gordon Thompson, manager of Station KEYO, said his station has had an application on file for some time for Channel 11. The FCC plan announced Sunday, he said, the

Wind Erosion Program Suggested For Farmers By SCS Technicians

Duck Creek Soil Conservation supervisors believe that one of the most important soil conservation problems of the district is wind erosion.

Wind each year removes some of the organic matter from the soil, thus reducing the ability for the soil to produce.

Soil Conservation District supervisors realize this soil blowing problem and recommend that farmers plan their cropping systems to provide as much cover as possible during the critical blowing season. The supervisors state that one of the most effective methods of doing this is to grow a high residue producing crop such as grain sorghum, harvesting the grain for cash and leaving sufficient stubble for protection against wind erosion.

Proper management of the stubble, or stubble mulching, will increase the effectiveness of the cover in preventing erosion. Some of the reasons for stubble mulching as recommended by the soil conservation personnel are: stubble adds organic matter to the soil, increases rate the soil will take up rainfall, and increases water holding capacity of soil. Stubble left on or near surface helps protect against wind erosion, also decreases rate of evaporation and helps prevent the crusting of top soil.

Some of the crops that may be used for stubble mulching are: grain sorghums where stubble is left 12 inches or more high, or bundled early enough for re-growth to take place; sudan or blue panic grass where 12 inch stubble is left in the field; small grain or summer or winter legumes where residues are left on or near the soil surface.

Soil conservation technicians believe that when fields are left for stubble mulching that only chisel plows, sweep cultivators, discs or subsurface tillers should be used. The reason being that this equipment will leave the stubble on or near the surface of the soil.

Many times farmers have small unprotected areas such as turnrows, caliche knolls, shallow soils, fence rows and road ditches that cause larger, better protected fields to blow. Duck Creek Soil Conservation District supervisors state that protection for these small, critical areas would reduce wind erosion and in some cases, provide income by grazing these areas when planted to grass.

The supervisors urge farmers to contact local soil conservation service personnel for further information and help to protect the land from wind erosion.

Out of all the newspaper and magazine columns I read, the ones I enjoy most are those that pack in a whole lot of facts—unrelated facts, but each one an interesting bit of information in itself.

These columns go something like this: "Did you know that humpback whales are addicted to snoring? That bees have been bred with red, brown, and buff-color eyes?"

"Did you know that lead can be converted to gold—at a cost of $1,000,000 an ounce? That a 555-pound fat girl went on a diet and lost 401 pounds in 12 months? That a chrysanthemum has been developed that smells like a violet? From where I sit, maybe the kind of "Johnny-one-note" columns always seem to me around one idea—a plea for the make sure we respect the other fellow's rights—like the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then for your own choice or the right to I may not be in style, but I believe my one fact is worth repeating and remembering!

Postites Want Texas Tech In SWC But Fear Results Of Final Vote

West Texans, or a majority of them, will be waiting with bated breath for Saturday.

For on that day the announcement will be made on the decision of the Southwest Conference concerning the admittance of Texas Tech. The general opinion in Post is that should Tech be taken into the conference it will be one of the biggest assets to West Texas in some time.

Southwest Conference officials are meeting tomorrow and Saturday. During that time, Tech's application will be voted upon. In 1948 the conference voted not to take any more applications for three years. At that time Tech, Hardin-Simmons and Houston university applied. This year Hardin-Simmons has dropped out but the other two are still trying.

And the Houston university will be Tech's stumbling block should the school fail to make it, local residents believe.

In a survey over town, the Dispatch found the opinion sharply divided as to the success of the West Texas school. Although those who said no as to its chances were more than hopeful, they felt that Tech hasn't a chance.

Eleven persons were asked the question: "Do you think Texas Tech will be admitted to the Southwest Conference?" Four answered "no," three "yes" and four "uncertain but hopeful."

Shelley Camp, Texaco consignee answered: "There is a remote possibility. If it does make the grade it will be the greatest asset West Texas has had in a long time. And though I say a 'remote possibility' I am still optimistic."

"I was talking with Al Alison, Levellend, who is president of the Red Raiders club recently and his views cause a little optimism. He has been going with DeWitt Weaver to contact the various schools. His rundown on the subject included, SMU, no commitment; Arkansas, yes, because they want a conference game for Thanksgiving and have not been able to get one; Texas, yes; Texas A&M, yes; Baylor, very uncertain because of the fact that Cullen of Houston has made an enormous grant to Baylor in the past few years, and his school, the University of Houston, is wanting in; Rice, very uncertain, and TCU, good possibility.

"From the way Alison and several others have talked, I believe this will be the last time Tech makes application to the Southwest Conference if they fail," Camp said. "They will more than likely go into the Missouri Valley Conference."

The consensus of opinion is that should Tech make the grade, the enrollment of the school should increase considerably within the next few years. Naturally the football aspect of Tech's competition could not begin on a conference basis for several years.

Those questioned also believe that when the schedule gets on a full slate, Tech will draw as good attendance as most of the other schools. The stadium would be enlarged to seat approximately 40,000 and they believe it would be filled on most clashes. This section of West Texas is actually an isolated section as far as big time sports are concerned. And it has a vast section and population for potential fans at Texas Tech.

Dave Willis, county attorney, says only "hopeful, but information makes me think no. The vote will be 4-3 (in my opinion) which will not be enough. Tech needs five votes."

"Tech will make a very valuable member in future and such a move will prove to be invaluable to this part of the country," Willis added. "And I hope that my school, Baylor, votes 'yes.'"

Jack Rex, hospital equipment consultant: "No. Despite the fact that I would like to see Tech gain an entrance, I don't believe the verdict will be yes. Tech and West Texas both need such a move as this, but I believe the SWC schools are wanting a larger school."

Buddy Stewart at the First National Bank expressed one of the best solutions as to how to get Tech in. "It's a shame if the SWC doesn't let Tech in, and if they don't I think the entire West Texas should boycott east and central Texas from business. A tremendous amount of business flows into those sections from West Texas and if they don't appreciate it, I, for one, say cut it off. I believe the school will make it with Texas, Texas A&M, SMU, TCU and Baylor voting for it."

"Tech has good possibilities this year," says L. J. Richardson, First National bank. "This is the first time they have had Texas and A&M come out openly for them. But I think they would have had a much easier time had not the University of Houston applied for admittance. Some people claim that Tech has nothing to offer the SWC but I maintain that should Tech get in

School Yearbook Is Distributed

The 1952 issue of The Caprock, Post high school annual, was distributed Monday. Mrs. Ray N. Smith was sponsor of the yearbook and Betty Hagood served as editor.

Other staff members include William Bullard, artist; Margaret Welborn, assistant editor; Barbara Norris, business manager; Nelda Floyd and Mary Ann Rose, assistant business managers; and Jack Kirkpatrick, sports editor.

Class representatives working with the staff were Janie Gossett, Carolyn Hudman and David King, eighth grade; Glenda Askins and Lonnie Welborn, freshmen; Joyce Short and Anne Mathis, sophomores; Mary Jo Williams and Darrell Stone, juniors; and Glenda Oden and Winona Branson, seniors.

The group dedicated this year's annual to Superintendent D. C. Arthur and Principal C. D. Lee.

Group pictures of class officers introduce the respective classes. Full page pictures show Glenda Oden and Wayne Carpenter, senior favorites; Mary Jo Williams and L. W. Evans, junior favorites;

Joy Martin and Royce Josey, sophomore favorites; Gloria Young and Moody Graham, freshman favorites; and Madlyn Sanders and Tommy Mayfield, eighth grade favorites.

Other full page pictures show Mary Ann Rose and Buddy Davis, most popular students; Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Graves, Halloween king and queen and members of their court, Marilyn Craig, Joy McMahon, Martha Wyatt, Janie Gossett, Jack Ainsworth, Bobby Cowdrey, Tommy Malouf and Harold Gordon; more people from West Texas will become ardent fans of SWC games and travel to Tech's out of town games."

Rev. Joe Boyd, pastor of the Methodist church, claims "the road is clear for Tech this time and I believe it will be great for both Tech and West Texas. With the quality of coaching Tech has now the school will deal trouble to any school of any conference in four or five years."

James Minor, of Mason and company, says "Yes, they will make the grade." But Marshall Mason disagrees and says, "No, I'm afraid the school is doomed for disappointment."

Like all others questioned, these two agreed that "money talks" and Cullen's millions behind the University of Houston will take a lot of advantage from the West Texas school.

Reece Carter says he doesn't believe Tech will ever get in. "And actually I can't see why they would want in the Southwest Conference."

O. D. Cardwell, insurance, felt about the same way. "No, they won't make it, and I don't believe that such a move would benefit the school too much."

However, Cecil Ramsey, at Ingram's Barber shop, summed up the thought uppermost in the minds of those who voted yes and no and also the vast majority of West Texans when he said "I've been for it all along and certainly hope Tech makes the grade."

So the only thing we can do is wait until some time Saturday when the "big dogs" in the Southwest Conference come to a final decision.

Mailbox Ad Brings Unexpected Results

The Dispatch has one satisfied advertising customer—one that can vouch for the "far reaching" effects of an ad placed in the paper.

Post Junior 4-H club inserted an ad a week or so ago letting it be known that club members are selling mailbox nameplates.

One of the first responses they received almost flooded them, for it came from Harlingen. It seems that the Ray McNabbs have been needing a mailbox nameplate for some time. Their order was filled immediately.

Club members remind mailbox owners in the county that there are still plenty of nameplates available for only $1 each. Just send you order to the club in care of Mrs. Henry Wheatley.

Weekend guests in the Bill Mathis home were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mathis and children, of Hamilton, and Mrs. Eugene Fisher and sons, of Itasca.

Rogers' Feed Store Is Sponsoring "Cash-For-Champions" For Youth

Garza county 4-H club and F.F.A. chapter members are being urged to sign up for the "Cash-for-Champions" awards which are being sponsored by Paymaster Feeds through their local store, Earl Rogers' Feed Store.

"Cash-for-Champions" is open to all Junior Division boys and girls who are carrying on projects in 4-H or F.F.A. and turkeys, broilers and capons have been added to this year's awards list.

This makes the fall plan bigger and better and Paymaster is expecting last season's entries of more than a thousand steers, barrows, and lambs to be exceeded. Paymaster paid cash to more than 30 grand champions and scores of reserve champions last spring, Rogers pointed out.

Purpose of the "Cash-for-Champions" awards program is to contribute to the feeding knowledge of the boys and girls on 4-H and F.F.A. projects, and this fall, awards will be paid for designated championships in showing Paymaster fed steer calves, fat lambs, barrows, tur-

POST DOG A WINNER—Radella's Tisa V. Ramon, a bitch German Shepherd owned by H. J. Dietrich of Post, is pictured above just after taking a ribbon at the Lubbock show last year. Dietrich has been breeding and showing dogs for the past nine years. He says he has dogs all over the United States and Mexico.

Dog Breeding Hobby Turns Into A Nice Sideline For One Post Man

To some people, dogs are pets, to others, they are pests (because they belong to the next-door neighbor) and to still others, they are the means of a small income and an enjoyable hobby.

Dogs, to H. J. Dietrich of Post, fall into the latter category. He breeds German Shepherd dogs as a hobby, with the hobby naturally paying off a small side income.

Dietrich said the breeding of dogs for sale actually came about accidentally. He bought one dog and began to show it in Dog Shows over the state and people liked it so well they got to asking for puppies. So the round began.

During the past nine years as a dog raiser, Dietrich says he has owned so many dogs he can't remember the number. "I do know, however," he said, "that my dogs are scattered over the United States and Old Mexico."

As a member of the American Kennel Club, Dietrich raises high grade registered animals. They have won him many a ribbon at dog shows over the state and area.

At the present time he is showing Radella's Tisa V. Ramon, a beautiful black and grey bitch with intelligent eyes, and a mania for winning ribbons.

Some of the ribbons she has won in the past four years include, second at the All Breed Dog Show in Houston in 1948; third in the Alamo Heights Dog Show in 1949; third in the Central Louisiana Kennel Club Show in Alexandria, Louisiana, in 1949; first in the Shepherd Dog Club of Texas show in Houston in 1949, and also Best Bitch in the Match in the same show; first and Reserve Winner in the San Antonio Kennel Club show in 1950; second in the annual Dog Show in Plainview in September, 1951; and fourth place

Bobby Joyce Henderson visited Jean Cato in Levelland over the weekend.

Darrell Sullivan and Wynke Hardin, of Rotan, spent the weekend with Jimmy Avery Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rutledge, of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Powers and Clyde Haynes visited Mr. and Mrs. Avery Moore Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayberry and children, of Hamlin, spent Sunday night with the W. H. Bar-their pick.

Dietrich now owns four dogs. He is expecting the family to increase within the next few weeks, but says that all the "little ones" have been bought a long time.

When he first became interested in raising and showing dogs, Dietrich made most of the shows himself. But now his business keeps him close to home and he usually gets someone else to do the showing.

So you can see that while dogs are dogs to most people, they are more than that to Dietrich. They are the culmination of an effort, the satisfaction of desire and the pride of achievement.
