JOHN BERT GRAHAM

Noted Layman Of Presbyterians To Talk Here Sunday

Dr. David H. Templeton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, announces that John Bert Graham of Waxahachie, moderator of the Synod of Texas, of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., will address the congregation of his church at the morning worship service Sunday.

Mr. Graham is the fifth layman ever to be elected to the post of moderator in the past 70 years of Synod history. He is past president of the organization known as the Presbyterian men of the Synod of Texas, and is, at present, a member of the executive council of the National Council of Presbyterian Men.

Mr. Graham's subject for his address will be "Playing At Religion." The pastor and membership of the First Presbyterian Church cordially invite their friends to hear this noted lay speaker discuss problems of the Protestant Church from a layman's standpoint.

Look Who's New

A son, weighing 5 lb., 13 oz., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Gatzki of the Gordon Community at 6:10 p. m. Sunday in the West Texas Hospital. The baby is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gatzki of the Gordon Community and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bailey.

A daughter, Linda Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Altman of the Pleasant Valley Community in the Mercy Hospital in Slaton Monday. She weighed 5 lb., 6 oz.

POST IS BULGING WITH PEOPLE RIGHT NOW—

Newcomers Live In Rooms, Apartments, Trailers

A housing shortage in Post is a sign that the town is teeming with newcomers. This usually means that oil activities are picking up.

The Post Dispatch this week made an attempt to find out who some of these newcomers are and where they are living. Although the information is incomplete, it gives an idea of the scope of the activities which brings newcomers to Post at this time.

For whatever goodwill it might bring to his grocery business, C. J. Josey recently undertook to become a free agent for newcomers looking for housing. He advertised in the paper asking persons with vacancies to list them with him and telling newcomers that he would help them find places to live, free of charge. He told a Post Dispatch reporter last weekend that he had placed 25 families in houses, rooms and apartments and this had resulted in about 15 new customers to his store.

In Largest Building
Probably the largest housing unit in Post is the Colonial Apartments, which Mr. and Mrs. Rex Everett manage. The Everetts occupy one of the apartments and their son, Bud, occupies a room there. By Monday, there was a vacant room in the building. Living in the other 12 units are:

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lockard (Rayflex Exploration Company), Mr. and Mrs. Moody Tyree (seismograph crew), Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole (Chas. E. Hipp Oil Company), Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Pierce (Duckworth Transportation Company), Mrs. G. A. Harrison (Post resident), Mrs. Daugherty (Postex Mill employee), Mr. and Mrs. Stelzer (Kenneth Murchison Oil Company), N. R. King (high school teacher), Mr. and Mrs. Lee Suther (GI Vocational School instructor), Mr. and Mrs. Romine (Rayflex Company), Mr. and Mrs. Morris Huff (Postex Mill and Ford agency employee), Mr. and Mrs. Romine (Rayflex Company) and Mr. and Mrs. Adkinsen (Rayflex Company.)

Living in Roy Baker's Apartment building are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daugherty and daughter (Stanolind Pipeline Company), Mr. and Mrs. Harold Voss (postmaster and owner of Arbeth's Beauty Shop) and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Roberts (Petty geophysical crew).

In Power Apartments
Two of the four Power Apartments are rented to newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. Moody (Rayflex Company) and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt (specialist here on Postex Mills business.) Mr. and Mrs. Tom Power and daughter, Terry, live in one of the apartments and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Webb live in the fourth one. The Moodys are subrenting their apartment from Mrs. Jessie Voss who is spending several months in Montpelier, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smart and son, Eddie, are living in A. A. Suits' apartment. Smart has been here about a year with the Stanolind Pipeline Company.

Living in Mrs. J. M. Boren's Apartments are Mr. and Mrs. Vancel Bowen (Comanche Oil Company), Mr. and Mrs. Smith (seismograph crew) and Mr. and Mrs. Bloyce Floyd (Guy Floyd Service Station.)

Bucklin Returns
Fred Bucklin, who left here more than a year ago to do some deep drilling in the Robstown area is back here with his Comanche drilling equipment and staying at the Algierita Hotel. Another newcomer, who is here on a temporary basis, is B. R. Rainwater of the Rainbow Oil Company who is buying leases in Post. He is staying at the Algierita.

H. N. Roberts and W. R. Rolfe, resident engineers for the city's construction projects, are staying at the Garza Hotel. J. M. Oliver, who is a contractor on one of the city's projects, and his family are living in one of the houses owned by Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Surman. The Surman's other house is rented to Mason Justice, who works for an oil company, and his wife.

Warren Yancy, who has been here some time with the Stanolind Pipeline Company, is living in one of Mrs. Irene Rodgers' houses, and Mr. and Mrs. Winston of the National Exploration Company are living in O. G. Hamilton's rent house.

Ralph Grider of the Guy Mabree Drilling Company and E. F. McMullen and M. C. Kelsey of the Rayflex Company are staying at the Garza Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders of the Rayflex Company are living in Lester Keeton's apartment.

McAllisters Are Here
The G. W. McAllister family, whose home at Justiceburg recently was destroyed by fire, are staying at the Garza Hotel.

Garza County To Participate In Cancer Control Program During Month Of April

Garza County will open its annual educational and membership campaign for the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society tomorrow.

Under the leadership of James Minor, county campaign chairman, volunteer workers will undertake an intensive campaign to inform the public that many cancers can be cured if caught in time. At the same time, they will solicit memberships in the society as they participate in the statewide effort to raise $450,000 for the cancer control program.

"People must be informed about this disease," Minor said yesterday in announcing the purpose of the campaign. "The present death rate—about one of every eight people in Texas—from cancer can be sharply cut if everyone will learn about cancer and put into use what he learns."

Education of the public, a year-around activity of the Texas group, is a vital necessity in cutting cancer's death toll, he said. The society also supports professional education programs to bring newest developments to the family physician, including films, bulletins and post-graduate courses, since it is generally accepted that doctors' officers are the best cancer detection centers.

Twenty-five cents of every dollar paid by members of the Texas Division goes for coordinated research into the causes and all

Ex-Prisoner Will Speak Here Sunday

Floyd E. Ray, ex-convict who is now an evangelist, will speak at the Calvary Baptist Church at 7:45 o'clock Sunday night. He will tell his life story and about his conversion while a prisoner at Alcatraz.

He attended one of the revival services at the church last Thursday night.

Film Of Passion Play To Be Seen Here On April 11

The Post High School Junior Class will sponsor the showing of the motion picture, "The Life of Christ," greatest of all passion plays, in the high school auditorium Monday night, April 11.

Not a Hollywood production, "The Life of Christ" was produced in Egypt and the Holy Land at a cost of nearly three million dollars by the famous Oberammergau Players, who have been producing the original passion play for more than 300 years.

Entirely non-sectarian in its presentation, the motion picture is endorsed by all faiths as the most complete and accurate pictorial picture ever made on the life of Christ.

Tickets can be bought from members of the Junior Class, who suggest they be bought early so that the buyers may be assured of seats. Admission prices are 50 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

Friends Invited To See Kahler Home

Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Kahler will show their new home, on west Main Street, to their friends from 3 until 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. All of their friends are invited to call.

BOARD OF REVIEW

The monthly Boy Scout Board of Review meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Hudman Furniture Store.

Boy Prisoner Goes AWOL From Church

Church served a good purpose Sunday night for a Kent County boy whose parents are believed to have abandoned him here.

He had been held in the local jail several weeks on a series of robbery charges and, on one occasion, had escaped from the jail and participated in the robbery of a local grocery store, according to his confession.

During a revival meeting at one of the churches last week, he was permitted to accompany a courthouse employee to the service each night. The last night, which was Sunday, he disappeared from the church. He was picked up the next day by the Kent County sheriff, who said the boy rode a bicycle from Post to Claiborne.

Nobody had reported a missing bicycle by press time.

Public Invited To Kite Contest At Post Airport

The public is invited to attend the Post Cub Pack's kite flying contest at the airport Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

Every Cub Scout in the city is expected to enter at least one kite and some of the boys are preparing as many as three entries.

Prizes will be given for the biggest, smallest, highest flying, most unique and best decorated kites.

The Cubs expect to make the kite flying contest an annual event.

Driver's Licenses Sought By Many

Approximately 50 persons took driver's license tests at the courthouse Tuesday. Two highway patrolmen were on duty.

The tests may be taken at the courthouse the first, third and fifth Tuesdays of each month, County Judge J. Lee Bowen said.

Car Accident On Sunday Night Is Fatal To Couple

Word has been received here of the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny A. Humphries. Mrs. Humphries was the former Miss Mary Jeanne Adamson, daughter of Mrs. D. R. Adamson of Tahoka, formerly of the Close City Community.

She was killed in an automobile accident Sunday night in Arkadelphia, Ark. Her husband, who was critically injured in the accident, died Monday morning.

A double funeral was held in Arkadelphia and burial was made there. Details of the accident and funeral were not available by press time.

Post Population Has Dwindled By Several Hundred

Despite the housing shortage and a possible small increase in the number of school-age children here, Post's population is estimated to be several hundred persons less than it was a year ago, when the General American and O'Neal Drilling and other oil companies had crews living here.

While taking the school census recently, J. T. Curb, made a population census for the Post Chamber of Commerce. His report shows a total population of 3,208. The estimated population a year ago was 3,800 persons, Sherrill Boyd, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said yesterday.

Curb's population figures for this year are, as follows:

Living within the city limits, 2,604; living outside the city limits, within a 1-4 mile radius, 239, and living in the flats, 365 persons.

The Mexican population totals 360 persons, 277 of whom live in the flats. The Negro population is 128 persons, 84 of whom live in the flats.

Curb's school census figures were not available for publication this week, but Supt. G. R. Day said they probably will show a slight increase over last year.

The program will be highlighted by a talk by the Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring.

Six Boys Inducted By Boy Scout Troop

In a candlelit tenderfoot investiture ceremony at the Scout Hut Tuesday night, six boys were inducted by Troop 16. They were Cletus Graves, Everett Sugg, Jack Shepherd, Moody Graham, Bobby Jones and Don El Dale.

Rural Board Candidates Announced

April, the month of elections, is nearly here and within the next week, poll tax payers will have opportunity to mark two ballots.

Saturday will be school trustee election day in all of the Garza County schools. The election of seven Post Independent Consolidated School Board members will be held at the City Hall. Other school board elections will be held in the various schools of the county. In school districts where there are no candidates announced, voting will be by write-ins. County Judge J. Lee Bowen announced yesterday.

By the deadline for absentee voting in the local school board election, Tuesday, four people had voted, County Clerk Ray N. Smith said.

Tomorrow is the deadline for absentee voting in the election of Post city officials, Smith said. No votes had been cast by yesterday. Absentee voting should be done in Smith's office.

The city election will be held at the City Hall Tuesday. The only candidates are Mayor John T. Herd and Commissioners Vachel Anderson and Glenn Kahler, who are up for re-election.

Residents of Precincts 2 and 3 will vote on candidates for the County Board of Education at their respective schools Saturday. J. F. Mavey is the Precinct 2 candidate and J. C. Fumagalli is the precinct 3 candidate.

Candidates for three places on the Southland Rural High School District Board are C. R. Scott, Herman Dabbs, William Lester.

Wedding Without Women To Be Held Tuesday Evening

Proceeds from a "Womanless Wedding" to be sponsored at Southland Tuesday night are expected to complete the $1,200 Red Cross quota for Garza County, the campaign chairman, Bob Collier said this week.

The public is invited to attend the "Womanless Wedding" in the Southland School auditorium, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The identity of the "bride" and "bridegroom" is being withheld. "Members of the wedding party" will be C. S. Lindsey, soloist; Merle Jenkins, organist; Ray Spence, Racy Robinson, Kenneth Davies and Skinner King, flower girls; Hub Taylor, the bride's mother; Blondie Ellis, the bridegroom's mother; Roy Williams, matron of honor; bridesmaids, Red Sims, Wallace Becker, Robert Pennell and Frank Leazar; escorts, Wesley Scott, Jack Myers, Marcus Wilke, Walter Stolle, Leroy Voight and Mr. Stevens; ring bearer, Mr. Parks, and ushers, Wayne J. Martin and Horace Harley.

The proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

A talent show sponsored by the Graham Home Demonstration Club in the Graham School building last Thursday night netted $118.50 for the Red Cross.

Mrs. James Stone won the prize for having the best talent. She donated her award to the Red Cross.

Comanche Planning Deep Test In Area

Fred Bucklin, who left here about a year ago, has returned from Robstown and is in charge of drilling for the Comanche Oil Corporation. Clifton Martin and Gene Giles and their families returned here with him.

The Comanche Corporation plans eventually to make a deep test in Garza County.

The company's equipment moved to the M. K. Bingham No. 4 site, east of the city limits, Sunday and had drilled to 850 feet by Tuesday night. The drilling will go to approximately 3,100 feet.

SEVEN FINES PAID
Six fines of $1 and costs and one of $5 and costs were collected in speeding cases during the past week in the office of Peace Justice Jim King.

GETTING OUT

On The LIMB

by EDDIE the EDITOR

Most any day now, I'm going to start raising chickens . . . and I don't think my neighbors will complain, because I am going to do it the new scientific way.

I got my idea from reading about a Connecticut doctor who has a flock of about 20 hens which provide him with eggs for breakfast every morning, and a roast chicken on occasion. Yet he tends to his chickens no more often than once a month, and neither he nor anyone else has gone inside his poultry pen for more than a year.

Feeding and watering, for this gentleman chicken fancier, are automatic, and eggs are collected without ever actually entering the house. The chicken house is so constructed that it can be cleaned from the outside three or four times a year. The hens never come out of the house and consequently never scratch up the flower beds or get chased by the dog.

The Connecticut doctor, as I understand it, took some of the automatic devices used on large poultry farms and adapted them to a small scale. These automatic devices, they say, may be used in practically any poultry house, and set up for any number of hens.

The automatic waterer is designed not to flood the chicken house, even if it could be upset. Excellent plans for such a waterer, I understand, are available free of charge from the Poultry Editor of the Progressive Farmer, Birmingham, Ala. It can be made for a few dollars, and it cuts the labor required to keep chickens by one third.

The automatic poultry feeder—unless somebody has been feeding me a line—is really a marvel. It is practically fool-proof, costs next to nothing to run and can be used for broilers over three weeks old, or growing pullets as well as laying hens. It is simply a cone-shaped feed storage bin that is attached to a seemingly conventional hopper. This latter can be any length, and it depends on the number of hens to be fed.

Once the feeder has been adjusted, no further attention is needed except to fill the hopper. This can be done as frequently as once a month. Drawings and a list of materials for constructing this device, I'm told, may be obtained from the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Pa.

Eggs are collected without entering the poultry house in the following manner: A nest, attached to the house wall, permits entry by the hens from the inside but allows collection of the eggs from the outside. It is also arranged to prevent egg-eating by the hens. Developed by poultry research at the University of Massachusetts, this nest is fully described in a recent book, "Starting Right With Poultry," by Prof. G. T. Klein.

As for cleaning the poultry house, the old-fashioned roosts are done away with, and the new "dropping pit" substituted. The roost is simply 1 1/2-inch lumber spaced one inch apart, and 18 inches above the floor. It is supported by 2x4's. The hens are comfortable anywhere on the roosts, and cannot get under them or into the droppings. Construction details of this roost are also outlined in Professor Klein's book.

I read somewhere that today poultry feed is readily available at a price 20 per cent less than wartime costs. In view of this, I'd imagine that even when the small-flock owner buys both hi-

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Retailers Should Not Be Blamed For High Prices

BABSON PARK, FLA.—We see in the newspapers and picture magazines about snow in California, freezes in Texas, drought in Florida, and floods elsewhere. Readers then wonder why weather conditions do not have more effect on retail prices, either to raise or lower them.

Congressmen like to point to the fact that farm prices have declined, but there has been little decline in food prices. The reason is that the farmer gets only 15 per cent of the retail price under any conditions. Labor for picking and packing gets 25 per cent, and this has not come down, transportation—trucks and railroads—get 20 per cent and this is increasing; while retailers' rents, wages, waste and other expenses remain the same or are higher. Hence, consumers should not blame the retailers.

Competition Is Cited
When I was a boy in Gloucester, Massachusetts, I peddled vegetables for my grandfather. He made a specialty of beets. In those days, canned beets could not be purchased in cans and for less money. Why anyone buys stale beets from the stores when they can get truly "fresh" beets in a can! The development of the canning and freezing industry is another factor in the situation.

Having spent every summer of my life, excepting during World War I, in Gloucester, I know something about fish. Of course, the finest fish is what we, ourselves, catch, and fry by the side of the stream. Then only an hour elapses from the time the trout is in the water until it is in our stomach! Otherwise, I much prefer frozen or canned fish. It truly is "fresher" than anything you can get at a fish market. When I buy whole fish at a store, it is two or three days older than when I buy it frozen or in cans. Some fish, like sardines, which are seined near shore will be in cans within a few hours from the time they are caught. What price the fishermen get, however, is a small factor in the retail price. This is dependent upon labor costs, transportation costs, and rent costs all of which are surely going up.

Investments For Farmers
Often the farmers have asked me to recommend some investment for their loose money. When prices were low, I have suggested either the American Can Company, or General Foods Company which leads in the freezing industry and has a valuable distributing system. I also like merchandising stocks, especially those of established "5 and 10" cents stores, and the good grocery chains.

To my friends in Florida, who have never controlled their surplus crops, I am tempted to say "See your grove and re-invest at the right time in the United Fruit Company. This concern is now doing with bananas what you for 30 years have failed to do with oranges and grapefruit. It raises, packs, ships, transports and distributes bananas and hence can control the cost and price."

Merchant Opportunity
I believe in small sustenance farms, as insurance for people whose income is not dependent upon the land. But I cannot recommend a small farm as a business. Farming, ranching and fruit growing is becoming "big business" whether we like it or not. The present owners of small units will sell out or combine with larger units. Agriculture is going on a factory basis the same as the manufacture of shoes, shirts and bread.

There is always an opportunity for the small merchant who will live over or near his store and open up before the big stores and keep open later. He cannot get rich on a country-club membership, and many other things. Hence, I am much interested in the Small Business Association, which my friend Gaunt is fathering. This organization is not blaming the growers or the retailers, but the railroads and unions.

When eggs are kept in a refrigerator, they should be with the large end up. The air cell in that position moving around and the membrane.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

A few weeks ago, I devoted this space to the need for a Boys Ranch in West Texas. The first paragraph, as one or two readers might remember, said "I think we ought to sponsor a Boys Ranch somewhere in this area and, as of now, I am sponsoring a campaign to get one. It would be nice to have it in Garza County, but it isn't likely that a suitable location would be available here."

Two or three readers called to wish me luck. The only other reaction that the column got—as far as I was able to observe—was the information from one reader that a Boy's Ranch had been started at San Angelo.

This was good news, if true and so I wrote down there to see, asking if boys from Garza County could be sent there whenever it seemed advisable.

My letter was answered by E. E. "Gene" Armistead, San Angelo district manager for Amicable Life Insurance Company. He said, in part:

"We are attempting to raise funds to purchase a ranch on which to operate West Texas Boys Ranch. At the present time we have not secured quite enough money to do this job and, therefore, have no home in operation at this time."

"As soon as we have completed the physical properties, you will be advised."

"In the meantime, on behalf of the whole committee, I wish to take this occasion to thank you for your interest in this matter."

The above is encouraging news, particularly inasmuch as the San Angelo country is ideally adapted to the boy's ranch routine, it having practically everything that the Tascosa country has in topography plus possibilities for hunting and fishing.

San Angelo is the only town in West Texas that can be compared to Amarillo, which has done so much toward the success of the Tascosa Boy's Ranch, in matters of public spirit, individual aggressiveness of business men and keeping alive the western traditions that should mean a lot to every boy.

feed and his ready-to-ly pullets, he gets truly fresh eggs for about half the retail price.

I'll let you know how my experiments work out—or else you'll be hearing from my neighbors.

It's getting time to think of summer vacations again—and this reminds me, I haven't had last summer's vacation yet. One reason I didn't take it was because most vacationers go away for a little change, but come back with a lot less.

It's also getting time for the WOMEN, God love 'em, to be buying those charming backless, strapless or midriff dresses and shorts. We used to read the fashion stories to see what was going on. Now we read them to see what's coming off.

San Angelo is also ideally located to serve all of West Texas, south of the Panhandle-Tri-State Area served by the Tascosa Boy's Ranch.

As I don't have any money to contribute to the success of the venture, I am offering my services in any way that Mr. Armistead's Committee can see fit to use them, in keeping—of course—with the limited fields in which I might be capable of serving.

I gather that the committee, however, is more in need of money than services, at present. If there is any loose money floating around here, it would be a mighty fine thing to corral it and put it out to pasture somewhere in the San Angelo Area.

This proposed Boys Ranch near San Angelo has all sorts of possibilities, and it seems to me that if enough land is available it could be all that the Tascosa Boys Ranch is, plus an experimental ground in fields other than farming and ranching.

I'm thinking specifically of plastics, which have gone beyond the experimental stage in many lines but in which there is yet much experimenting to be done. There is not yet an important plastics industry in West Texas.

Plastics are made from waste materials, in by-products of almost anything that is grown for some other purpose. I'd think an experimental laboratory at the new proposed Boys Ranch might be fascinating to certain types of boys, and be a means of discovering genius and ingenuity and maybe developing some scientists who otherwise might not ever find their talents.

Boys who are talented in industrial things could be put to work producing plastic things, from musical instruments to clothing. These things could be sold on a wholesale basis and be the beginning of a new West Texas industry, which might bring a lot of income back to the ranch.

I've been reading with interest about "guar," a soil enriching legume imported from India, which is promising to become one of the Middle West's more valuable industrial crops. Experiments at Purdue University indicate that "guar" might

"Guar" is said to be extremely drought-resistant, and it has a high resistance to insects and disease. Its industrial uses have not been fully explored, but "guar" flour is now being widely used in the sizing of paper and textiles, thickening salad dressings, ice cream mixes, bakery products and other foods.

I'd think the possibilities contained in "guar" would be a natural for Boys Ranch boys to try to develop.

Terracing Machine Of New Type Is Put To Work In County

Charles Walden this week started building terraces with a new kind of terracing machine on the Stovall place for Allen Bird. Walden's new machine is an elevating terracer. This is the first one of these kind of terracing machines to be used here. Marshall Gibson, engineering aid assisting the Duck Creek soil conservation district, describes the machine as sort of an elevating grader. It is pulled with a tractor. A large disc cuts into the earth and throws dirt onto a rubber conveyor. This conveyor carries the dirt out where it is dropped to form the terrace ridge. This elevating terracer does not disturb the earth in the base of the terraces and thus the terraces do not settle excessively. Gibson says it takes about 10 or 12 rounds to construct a terrace.

Walden is contracting to construct approximately 5 miles of terraces for Bird.

Most Important Crop Is Grass In Duck Creek Area

Grass is Duck Creek Soil Conservation district cooperators most important crop. Merle Britton, range conservationist at the local Soil Conservation Service office, points out.

He calls attention to two native grasses that are showing up now, Texas winter grass, and Texas blue grass. These are cool season grasses that came up in the fall and furnish grazing during the winter and early spring months. Texas winter grass grows on tighter soils, and Texas blue grass on sandier soils.

Britton found a good amount of Texas blue grass making seed heads on the Paddle Ranch's bull pasture that has been properly grazed for the past few years.

Everyone interested in grass is invited to see a trial planting on the Russell Wilks farm, 2 miles south of Grassburg, on April 5. Wilks is cooperating with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district in making the planting.

J. C. Ebersole with the Soil Conservation Service at Abilene will supervise the planting. Ebersole makes trial grass plantings on district cooperators' farms throughout this area of Texas.

Wilks trial planting will show proper seed bed preparation, native and introduced grass seeds and a grass planting drill designed to sow seed in a trashy seed bed. Care of grass planting will be discussed.

COUNCIL TO MEET

A regular meeting of the Garza County Home Demonstration Council will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, April 13, in the district court room.

Letters From The Readers

To My Club Pals:
I think of you each meeting day and, to be honest, long to be back there with you. I miss the old bunch.
Don't ask me how I like it here, for I don't know yet. One of my neighbors is a Hawaiian girl who seems very interesting. I went to a public sale the other day. As I looked about at the different nationalities of people, I realized what a wonderful stat I had left. I guess I have just been a Texan too long.

However, this is a beautiful country, and I may learn to like it here. But I still miss you all, and my daughter and her family so much.

Myrtle (Mrs. Sam) Cox,
Route 3,
Osage City, Kans.

Gentlemen:

In my class work in school, I am studying the soil and forest conservation program as developed in each county in the state of Texas. Usually a county newspaper publishes much about the activities of such a program.

If you should have a publication about such a program of this kind in Garza County of either present or past date, I should be very grateful to secure any you may be able to let me have to use.

Sincerely Yours,
Patsy Penny,
Trinity Heights School,
Dallas, Texas

EDITOR'S NOTE: Naturally there is no forest program in this area, but the Post Dispatch carries news of the soil conservation activities in Garza County every week and every few weeks a detailed feature item is devoted to the subject. The editor selected the February 10, 1949, issue to send to Miss Penny. It carried a Page 1 feature, entitled "Garza County Ranchers Are Raising Grass, Legume Seed."

Girls See How Boys
See Them At School
Assembly On Friday

Mary Alice Wilhite was mistress of ceremonies for the program that the Sophomore Class presented at the high school assembly Friday morning.

The first portion of the program was a style show by boys of the class who were dressed as they think the high school girls look in their new spring outfits.

The boys' idea of the way the local girls will look at the Junior-Senior Banquet this year was portrayed by Giles Dalby and Johnny Matsler who modeled evening dresses. Don Brown modeled pedal pushers and a tee shirt; Pat Stephens and Billy Gwen Jones modeled afternoon dresses and accessories; Gene King modeled slacks; Jack Schmidt modeled shorts and halter and Charles King modeled a bathing suit.

The Melody Maids and Robert Smith sang spring songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Stallings, and vocal numbers were given by the "Blue Jean Girls," Glenda Young, Louella Parrish, Gay Pierce, Billie Joyce Tice and Hazel Thomas. Robert Smith played a saxophone solo and Merle Jenkins played an accordion solo. Commercials for the program were given by Norman Cash.

It's Time To Be
Preparing Boxes
For Tomato Crop

Some of the commonly considered "old stand-bys" in tomato varieties may not necessarily be best suited for the western Texas growing season and climate, experiments in tomato growing at Texas Technological College in Lubbock reveals.

Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department, said he and Dr. W. W. Yocum have recently concluded statistics on the department experiment proving four varieties, Sioux, Porter's Triumph, Porter's Pride and Firesteel outstanding in early production and total production.

Tomato-wise gardeners are already getting their plant boxes for tomatoes. Dr. Young said, and warned the new gardener preparation of boxes and setting of plants should begin now. The tomato plants actually take place in the garden after the last danger of frost which is usually after April 15, Dr. Young said.

The ten varieties tested in the 1948 growing season include Marglobe, Rutgers, and Break-O-Day, the common tomatoes, and several new varieties chosen for resistance to tomato wilt, include Firesteel, Grotham's Globe, Matchless, Pan American, Porter's Pride, Porter's Triumph and Sioux.

Individual yields were: Sioux, 7,336 pounds per acre; Porter's Triumph, 6,681 pounds; Firesteel, 5,816 pounds, and Porter's Pride, 5,764 pounds. The variety, Break-O-Day averages 5,554 pounds. Porter's Triumph began production about two weeks earlier than the others, and by September 1 had produced about 769 pounds per acre.

Three replications were made in this trial garden. The growing season was extremely hot and dry, unfavorable to best growth and production of tomatoes.

Dr. Young said the other five varieties in this test are late tomatoes. They were seriously curtailed in production by the hot, dry weather which caused their flowers to drop without setting any fruit until very late. Practically no fruit was harvested from any of these five varieties before Sept. 1.

Baseball Game Is Lost To Sundown
By PHS On Friday

The Post High School Baseball team played its first game of the season last Friday afternoon here with Sundown. The visitors won the game by a score of 7-6 after seven innings of play.

Because of the cold weather that day, Billy Ramage, pitcher, got off to a bad start. He walked the first five men up to bat and they scored five runs in the first inning of the game. After Ramage warmed up, Sundown only got one run during the remainder of the four innings that Ramage was on the mound.

The visitors were able to score again off an error made by the locals. Roy Wade, a south-paw, went on the mound and pitched a no-hit period of three innings. Wade struck out the first seven men he faced. J. G. Cash, who had not been out for training, substituted as catcher for Jerry Odom who was ill, and did a fine job, Coach Vernon Ray said.

Coach Ray and the boys will go to Sundown tomorrow to return the game.

History Of Texas
Domain, "Lots Of Land," Published

Land Commissioner, Bascom Giles of Austin, has seen a long-time ambition gratified — a history of the Texas Public Domain has finally been written.

The story of how Texas disposed of its 187 million acres of domain was released by the Steck Company, Austin, on March 28. It is entitled "Lots of Land." Giles had intended to author the book himself, but has been kept too busy making land history to write it.

"Then this menace to our tidelands popped up," said the Commissioner. "I felt it was more of a public duty than ever to get such a history into print."

"I guess you can call me the sponsor, collaborator and now chief booster," smiled Giles. "I defy any intelligent person or even the U. S. Attorney General to read this book and then deny that the tideland oil properties belong to the Public Free School Fund of Texas."

Scripture:
 Is our refuge and strength,
 In every present help in trouble,
 Therefore will we not fear,
 For the earth be removed,
 Though the mountains be Brought into the midst of the sea;
 Though the waters thereof roar
 And be troubled, though the Mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah. There is a Stream whereof shall Glad the city of God, the Place of the tabernacles of High God is in the Land of her; she shall not be Moved. God shall help her, and
 He shall not be early.

Minute Prayer:
 Father, teach us to love
 One another as Thou dost
 Love men as Thou dost
 Forgiving those who treat
 Us unkindly and giving help and hope
 To those who need our aid. Let
 Our prayer come too great
 For us to utter. Give us abundant
 Grace to do the appointed task
 With cheerful heart and ever
 Ready hand. Amen.

W. T. Cook Goes To Washington For Farm Group

W. T. Cook of the Graham Community and other directors of the Producers Grain Corporation, Texas grain-marketing cooperative with more than 29,000 farmer members, were honored at a luncheon given in Washington, D. C., March 21 by Congressman Worley, Mahon, Poage and Lyle. Farm legislation at this session of Congress was discussed.

Director L. T. Mayhugh of Plainview, speaking for the board members, stated that in the opinion of the members of the Texas organization two things were vital to the future of American agriculture:

(1) Continuation of support prices at 90 per cent of parity for basic commodities, with adequate provision for acreage allotments and marketing quotas when conditions so necessitate.

(2) A substantial expansion of modern, efficient grain storage facilities so as to eliminate waste and to insure the availability of support prices to producers by providing a place where any over-supply of grain in high-producing years can be securely preserved to meet requirements when poor crop years are experienced, and to provide a reserve for national security purposes. He said that the most efficient and desirable way of expanding storage was to assist bona fide cooperatives of farmers to finance such expansion by loans which the government will receive back in full with interest in line with the principal employed in the R.E.A. program.

Cook told the Post Dispatch that all members of the Senate and House, except Senator Lyndon B. Johnson who was ill in a hospital were present for the luncheon. These, of course, included Senator Tom Connally and Rep. Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House. Postites Are News Everywhere They Go

Mrs. Harry Hostler of Philadelphia, Pa., the former Marjorie Smith, sent her mother, Mrs. H. G. Smith, a clipping from the Philadelphia Inquirer with a note saying "No matter where one goes, one can still read about another Postite in any newspaper. The clipping, which featured a picture of Congressman Ed Gossett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Gossett of near Post, said:

"Towering Rep. Ed Gossett, who hails from the wide spaces of Texas, is indignant over what he considers indignity inflicted upon his secretary by the tax authorities of Arlington County, Va. The tax people fined the secretary $50 for overlooking the filing of her 1947 Virginia State Income Tax.

"Texas would never treat a Virginian that way," Gossett exploded. "We gladly offer asylum to Virginians who seek better land and better neighbors. Even a Virginian who may travel or sojourn in Texas will not be abused."

Rankin visited various members of the local American Legion post and attended the Rotary Club meeting in the City Hall. His wife visited with her niece, Mrs. Victor Hudman, and family.

Rankin's opponent in the campaign is Pete Bridges of Leveland. The American Legion Posts of Ralls and Crosbyton announced Rankin's campaign in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal. The article said, in part:

Rankin, who has spent 15 years in active service for the Legion during which time he has not missed attendance at any district convention, is charter commander of the Ralls Post No. 255 and was twice elected commander of the J. M. Brooks Post No. 188 at Crosbyton.

He signed up more than 100 members in 1946 and 1948 and has served as official and unofficial service officer for the veterans of Crosby County the past 15 years.

Rankin is now serving out the unexpired term of T. A. Thigpen as vice commander of the 19th district and chairman of the membership committee. Rankin, ex-school superintendent of Ralls, is now engaged in farming. (He was editor and publisher of the Slaton Slatonite until he sold it in 1940 and he now writes a column for the Ralls Banner.)

He served as a buck private in World War I with the first division in the AEF and Army of Occupation; was wounded in action in July, 1918, cited in general orders for "gallantry in action" and was awarded the Silver Star and Purple Heart medals. The 19th district convention will be held in Lubbock, April 2 and 3. The local post will be represented by Commander S. E. Camp, L. J. Richardson, Jr., O. L. Weakley and possibly others.

First National Bank

newspaper field, for example, happened early in the war while she was woman's editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, a job which required late hours of work every Friday night. One Friday night, she finished her copy for her Sunday deadline, just in time to get a copy of some of the material on a Fort Worth and Denver train in keeping with a promise to a bride's mother who wanted the story printed also in a downstate newspaper.

She went to the train at 1 a. m., driving her car in a slow drizzling rain. At the station, a soldier and a WAC told her they had to change trains there and had a two-hour wait and were hungry. They wanted to know if there were a restaurant open that late.

Evelyn thought of the Mexican Inn and, as there were no taxicabs in sight, she offered to take them there since the restaurant was on her way home.

Mistaken For Taxi

As she left the couple out at the restaurant, five soldiers and their girl friends—who had called taxicabs, crowded into the car, seven in the back seat and three in the front and started shouting addresses of the girls, making cracks about women taxi drivers and complaining about the wartime taxi service.

Evelyn finally got a chance to explain that she wasn't driving a cab. The soldiers made it plain that the girls had to be taken home and there were no cabs available on that rainy night, that they were all AWOL from Amarillo Field because of the late hour but that they had started trying to get a cab before the curfew.

Evelyn took pity on them and drove the boys to the army bus station, then took each of the five girls to their respective residences in all four directions on the outskirts of Amarillo. It was 3 a. m. when she completed her wartime mission.

Granddad Got Letter

Many are the oddities that confront a postoffice clerk every so often. Curtis Davies says one of the funniest he experienced was in 1927 when he worked in the Littlefield postoffice. He picked up a letter addressed to Granddad, Littlefield, Texas. After wondering what would be the most intelligent way to dispose of the letter, he finally placed it in the box of the local newspaper editor. Sure enough, the letter had been written to the editor by his own grandson.

Curtis also recalled something that's funny now, but was right sad several years ago when it happened. He and his wife had just spent many days canning black-eyed peas which L. W. Dalby had given to them and several other local couples from a field that he wanted to plow.

"We had cans of blackeyed pas all over the place," Curtis recalled, "then I pulled an absent-minded stunt. My wife sent me to buy groceries. As was my habit, I picked up a bunch of canned vegetables without thinking much about what they were. When my wife put the stuff away, she discovered I had brought home two cans of blackeyed peas. I was a long time living that down... and eating up all those peas."

Closed His Mouth

School teachers have more funny experiences than almost anybody. Supt. G. R. Day likes to tell about two little boys who were sent to his office for fighting.

"He bit my finger," said one. "I didn't, either," said the other. "Oh, yes, he did, look," said the first one. Mr. Day asked a few questions about the fight and learned from the defendant: "I didn't bite him. He stuck his finger in my mouth and I just happened to close it."

Mrs. J. M. Oliver, a newcomer to Post, learned the hard way that Post has no taxicab service when she walked to Piggly Wiggly store, bought more groceries than she could carry then tried to call a cab. As her husband, who is here on a construction job for the city had the family car at the site of the sewerage disposal plant which he is building, she telephoned the city secretary, who rescued her and the groceries. That was several weeks ago.

Meanwhile, she found a card inserted in her Lubbock paper announcing that a taxicab service had been started here. About the same time she learned that her sister, Mrs. H. D. Gaddis, of Fort Bragg, N. C., was arriving Friday of last week to visit here two weeks. She wrote her sister to take a taxi to her house on arrival at the local railway station, as Mr. Oliver would have the car at his job.

Mrs. Gaddis was told at the station that there is no cab service here, and she reported this to Mrs. Oliver by telephone. Mrs. Oliver, whose acquaintance here is limited largely to her immediate neighbors, telephoned Mrs. Charlie Bird, across the street. Mrs. Bird didn't have a car. She called Mrs. Mason Justice, another neighbor. Nobody was home. She called the city secretary. He was out. She called the city secretary's wife. She was out. In desperation, she called the wife of Mayor John Herd, who met the sister at the station. As frustrating as the incident was to Mrs. Gaddis, it is the type of thing that will stand out as "funny" when she is back at Fort Bragg telling about her trip.

Winnie Tuffing, city water department clerk, loves a good laugh better than almost anybody and she is good at "laughing off" the worries that go with serving the public in a public utilities job.

She recalled that once when the water had to be cut off all night so that workmen could repair the water line and the men working had had bad luck and did not get the water turned on as soon as had been promised, a customer called the water office and gave the water department "a good going over." Winnie, in her nicest voice said "I'm very sorry, sir." The customer replied "Hell, I don't want your sympathy, I want water to make coffee for my breakfast."

Mobile P. A. System Is Now Available

The Southwestern Public Service Company now has a mobile public address system, which is available to towns served by the company for parades, rodeos, stock shows, good-will tours, soapbox derbies, employee celebrations, sports tournaments, picnics, fairs, booster trips, homecomings, western jamborees and various other types of community celebrations.

Ted Ilibbs, the company's local manager, said that requests for use of the sound truck should be sent in as early as possible, as several tentative dates already have been booked.

The mobile public address system, which has Stromberg-Carlson equipment, is said to be comparable in performance to the finest in the Southwest.

County Clerk Busy With Many Leases

County and District Clerk Ray N. Smith and his office staff are swamped with work. "If we don't take another thing for the next six weeks," we will still have all we can do," Smith told the Post Dispatch Tuesday.

In addition to a heavy run of routine business, the office is being deluged with leases.

Mr. and Mrs. David Williams and daughter of Borger spent Sunday here in the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Williams. Mrs. Williams and daughter remained here for a week's visit.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Remember How We Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night. Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, but def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

New People In Post

entirely was destroyed by fire, are living in a house owned by C. C. Jones.

The four rent houses which Mack Head manages, in the second block south of the post office, are occupied by permanent residents, Don Poole, V. L. Peel, Mrs. Bill Lawrence and H. E. Parchman and their families. The houses are owned by Mack's uncle, Julius Stewart and Will Draper.

Three seismograph crew families live in Mrs. Vida Brant's apartment house. They are the families of Lee Hoppenberger, W. E. Hignight and Creed I. Morza. Other residents in the Brant building are Mrs. Lucille Way and Mrs. Ted Brannon, whose husband is in the army, and her children and mother, Mrs. Boswell.

In Weakley Places

Mr. and Mrs. Minecke and son, who have lived here about two months, are living in Mrs. Ira Weakley's rent house. Minecke is a terracing contractor. Mrs. Weakley has an apartment which is rented to Mrs. Lillie Clark.

The above survey is by no means complete. A number of oil field workers are living outside the city limits, in neighboring communities and some are even commuting from other towns. Others live in rooms, a few small rent houses and apartments scattered over town; some are living in house trailers, and an undetermined number of newcomers have bought houses, some of which have been moved here in the past two or three years.

In House Trailers

Among a number of house trailers here are three behind the Giles Boarding House. They are occupied by the families of Jack Knight and C. A. Parker (Rayflex) and Vernon Giles, who is employed by an oil company.

Persons renting rooms from Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Giles include Miss Bessie Smith (telephone company), Miss Fleta Maddox (Hundley's), Edward Landers (Santa Fe), Walter B. Seicer, L. C. Fishburn, and Abner Bromagen (Plymouth Oil Company), Melvin D. Jones, William G. Murdock, George Brown, W. Gravitt, Thomas A. Spence, Bob Gaines, Sebron Hall, Dorman Shockley, Jack G. Local county units throughout the state are organizing bandage-rolling programs, furnishing transportation and comfort to the sick, and furnishing lectures and exhibits to create an awareness of the cancer problem and its solution.

April is designated by an Act of Congress as Cancer Control Month, and has been proclaimed by President Truman as the time for the American Cancer Society's annual campaign.

Mrs. T. L. Jones, who has been named county field army commander, will be chairman of the women's division of the campaign in Garza County this month.

After the consolidation of the Barnum Springs and Cross Roads Common School Districts with the Post Independent School District, a total of 813 students were enrolled in the Post High, Grade and Negro Schools. Transfers from Close City, Graham, Garnolia, Grassburg, Justiceburg and Verbera later brought the total to 920.

A total of $1150 had been collected by Tuesday, Collier said.

(Rayflex), Vernon Potts (Comanche Oil Corporation) and R. A. Mathews (National Exploration Company.)

In answer to the Post Dispatch reporter's question, "Do ALL of those people really live at your house?" Mrs. Giles replied "Yes, and I think I'm going to rent my hall today to a man who said he just HAD to have a place to stay."

The 13 remaining candidates for the seven positions are W. M. Kirkpatrick, R. L. Redman, Paul Jones, Earl Rogers, Jack Kennedy and George Tillman, incumbents, and Dove Mayfield, the Rev. D. A. Bryant, James Minor, Monta Moore, W. S. Land, Robert Cato and O. G. Hamilton.
