

Three holiday period arrests clear up series Post break-ins

Two juvenile burglars were caught in the act in the Dodson Jewelry, 206 East Main, late Sunday night and two other break-ins were solved with the arrest Saturday of a 30-year-old man at Lamesa.

Two 16-year-old boys, caught Saturday night after breaking into the jewelry store, also admitted breaking into Mason & Co. and Jake Heiskell's recreation parlor the same night.

R. B. Dodson, owner of the jewelry store, his son, V. A. Dodson, and R. B.'s son-in-law, J. P. Parnell, assisted Sheriff Carl Rains and Deputy Red Floyd in trapping the juveniles in the store.

Two break-ins at Parrish Grocery & Market, one on Dec. 8 and the other Wednesday night of last week, were solved with the arrest of David Waley Seward, 30, a former employe of the store. He was being held in jail Tuesday in lieu of $1,500 bond on two counts of burglary.

County Judge J. E. Parker, sitting as a juvenile judge, held a hearing Monday for one of the two boys caught in the jewelry store and paroled him to his parents, subject to restrictions.

The case of the other boy was not finally disposed of until Wednesday morning when he, too, was remanded to the custody of his parents, who live in New Mexico.

Sheriff Rains said the only thing missed by Mason & Co., which is just east of the jewelry store, was a "little bit of change" from a stamp box.

At the recreation parlor, money and four packages of cigarettes were taken from a cigarette machine.

The boys broke into the jewelry store by pulling an air-conditioner away from a rear window. The owner's son, V. A. Dodson, who lives upstairs over the store, heard the noise and had his sister, Mrs. Parnell, to call the sheriff.

Rains notified his deputy and when the officers arrived the three men were guarding the store. The sheriff said he looked in a rear window and saw one of the boys run across the store. The officers entered and found both boys trying to hide in the rest room.

The sheriff said they also admitted the other two break-ins.

One of the juveniles attends school here. The other, a resident of Lovington, N. M., but formerly of Post, was visiting relatives here.

With the arrest at Lamesa of Seward, the grocery store burglary, much of the loot taken in the two break-ins was recovered, the sheriff said. The recovered goods were found in an automobile which the sheriff said was owned by a friend of the accused man.

Loot taken in last week's burglary at the grocery store included 157 pair of ladies' hose, 10 shirts, 10 pair of shorts and about three cartons of cigarettes.

The sheriff said Seward, carrying the stolen goods in a pasteboard box, left Post by bus.

Missing at the store in the Dec. 8 burglary were two wrist watches, an electric razor, a suitcase, a .22 pistol and between $20 and $30 in cash.

Arnold Parrish, owner of the store, said Seward was formerly employed there for a short time.

WHO'LL BE FIRST BABY IN 1960? That may be what Karen Gail Ringhoffer, Garza County's first 1959 baby, is wondering as she checks the calendar at her home here. Karen Gail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ringhoffer, was born last Jan. 7. The first 1960 baby born to Garza County parents in the hospital here will receive valuable prizes in The Dispatch's 1960 First Baby Contest.—(Staff Photo).

Cold shooting leads to 61-49 setback

McAdoo defeats Antelopes for Caprock championship

By CHARLES DIDWAY

The Post Antelope basketball team lost its first game in 11 starts last night and with it the championship of the Caprock Holiday Tournament at Lubbock.

After a hot shooting night—Tuesday when they upset the potent Dimmitt Bobcats, Coach Pete Murray's team cooled off considerably against the McAdoo Eagles and lost, 61 to 49.

For the high-flying Eagles, who start practicing basketball before other schools play their first football game, it was their 16th win against only one setback. The only team to which McAdoo has lost this season is Dimmitt, beaten by Post Tuesday night. Dimmitt downed the Eagles, 74 to 51, in the Plainview Tournament.

For a few minutes last night, the large number of Post fans who accompanied the team to Lubbock had visions of another upset victory. Curtis Didway hit on a jump shot from outside to put the Eagles in front, and Scotty Pierce and Forrest Claborn followed with field goals to give Post an early 6-0 lead.

But McAdoo began chopping away, and the Antelopes were out in front by only one point, 13-12, at the end of the first quarter.

The Eagles scored 20 points to Post's 14 in the second quarter to build up to a 32-27 halftime lead. They stretched their margin in the third period and were out in front 47-36 going into the fourth.

The Antelopes, dogged by cold shooting and excessive fouling, never gave up, but just couldn't close the gap.

Starting guard Curtis Didway was doing a good job on the Eagles' sensational George Scott, but picked up four quick fouls in the process and sat out the last four minutes of the second quarter. He went back into the game late in the third quarter, but picked up four number five early in the last period. Also going out on fouls for the Antelopes were starters Dan Rankin, Scotty Pierce and Derwood

Mayberry.

McAdoo's Scott was the game's high point man with 28, followed by Norman Hardy's 16.

Pierce led the Post scoring with 19 points, 11 in the first half and eight in the second. He was the only Antelope to hit in double figures. Mayberry added eight points to the Post total, with Rankin and Claborn each getting seven. Didway, three; Benny Schiehuber, two; and Jimmy Minor, two. Also breaking into the line-up in the fourth quarter were sophomores Leslie Acker and Harold Wayne Mason and junior Donnie Hays.

Post had defeated the Monterey Lancers and Dimmitt in advancing to the championship game, while McAdoo had won over Farwell and Floyd.

Scotty Pierce, Antelope center, was named to the all-tournament team of ten with George Scott. McAdoo's 5-10 shooter and ball-handler, voted the tournament's outstanding player.

County courthouse

Basement flooded

December's rains have been well above normal for the month, but they can't be blamed for the Christmas day flooding of the courthouse basement.

From four and a half to five feet of water, blamed on a faulty pop-off valve on a hot water heater, flooded the basement and ruined records dating from 1907, the year of the county's organization, to 1935.

Luckily, said County Judge J. E. Parker, none of the records were "too valuable," and most of them were papers such as receipt books and old warrants, which legally could have been destroyed several years ago.

The water flooded the basement while the courthouse was closed for the Christmas holiday. Custodian Tom Blacklock said if everything was in order when he made a Friday morning check, but that when he made another check Saturday morning, the basement has been turned into a "swimming pool."

Post Volunteer Fire Department equipment pumped out most of the water Saturday, with a City of Post rotary pump being used to finish up the job.

"I've always been afraid of a fire down there, but I'd never thought of a flood," said Judge Parker.

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

Another New Year and a new decade arrive late tonight and it's a good time to look back over the old year and forward into the new one and assess one's position.

That's where the New Year's resolutions come from. We'll make just one for The Dispatch—to do our level-best to give Post and Garza County an even better community paper in 1960 and to keep standing up for the projects and causes we believe to be in this community's best interests.

Congratulations to Coach Pete Murray and his Post high cagers for their wonderful showing in the big Caprock holiday tournament in the municipal auditorium at Lubbock which ended last night. The Antelopes pulled off the big one in upsetting the tourney favorite, Dimmitt, 58 to 49, in the Tuesday night semi-finals. The cage successes necessitated a lot of maneuvering here in The Dispatch's backshop as the entire staff hustled to get another weekly edition out early to the residential mail route and rural subscribers wouldn't have to wait through the New Year's Day holiday until Saturday to get their papers. But Editor Charlie Didway was "court-side" for last night's finals and we "held" the front page for the full story, which made some night work to get the Dispatches for the mail routes into the postoffice by 8 a. m. today in time for Thursday delivery.

Here at The Dispatch we welcomed back Don (Corkey) Ammons, our printer, for part-time duty. Corkey, who suffered a pined broken leg in an auto accident in November, will be on crutches for some weeks but Ovisan Clary designed him a "workseat on wheels" so he can maneuver around the back shop. It consists of a bicycle seat mounted on a specially welded pipe frame and fitted with wheels. Quite ingenious. See POSTINGS, Page 8.

March of Dimes to begin soon

The first benefit event in Garza County's 1960 March of Dimes will be a party Saturday night, Jan. 2, at Verbera, where Mrs. Douglas Buchanan and Mrs. Ozell Williams are MOD chairmen.

MOD drive chairman Harold Lucas said today that there is a big need of volunteer workers. He asks that anyone who will help, either as chairman in town or in the rural areas, get in touch with him.

Johnston enters county commissioner's race

Clay B. Johnston, a Garza County farmer for the last 40 years, yesterday authorized The Post Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of county commissioner from Precinct No. 1. Johnston's home is in the Pleasant Valley community where he has lived for over 20 years.

This is his first try for public office. Johnston said he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy later.

Claborn enters race for sheriff's office

L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., a former peace officer here, today authorized The Post Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Garza County, subject to the Democratic primary elections in May and June.

Claborn said a formal announcement to the public in regard to his candidacy will be made later.

Year's rainfall stands at 26.40

Rainfall in Garza County during 1959 has totaled 26.40 inches—nearly six inches above normal—according to rainfall records at the office of County Agent Lewis C. Herron.

The December rainfall of more than two inches is the most recorded for that month since 1944 when the measurement was 2.87.

The late rainfall has resulted in excellent underground moisture for the coming planting season.

This year's rainfall by months has been as follows:

January, trace; February, .21; March, .01; April, 1.76; May, 2.33; June, 6.89; July, 4.94; August, .76; September, 1.37; October, 5.72; November, .46; December, 2.15.

Estimated budget gets county okay

An estimated 1960 budget of $485,745.72 for Garza County has been approved by the commissioners' court, County Judge J. E. Parker has announced.

The estimated budget is $17,527.77 less than the 1959 budget of $503,273.49, and $44,794.82 less than the 1958 budget of $539,510.54.

Approval of the budget came at a special session of the commissioners' court.

Also at a special session, the commissioners' court voted for the county to purchase $10,000 worth of Post Independent School District bonds. Ten $1,000 bonds will be purchased.

VFW TO HOLD DANCE

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6797 will have a dance at the hall Thursday night for VFW members. Music will be provided by a string band and is to start at 8 p. m.

Bevy of gifts await first baby of 1960

The first 1960 baby of Garza County is going to be born in the Garza Memorial Hospital in going to win at least a couple of diapers — full of valuable prizes in The Dispatch's "1960 First Baby Contest."

The hospital and 12 local merchants are offering prizes worth an estimated $150.

All the contest rules and prizes are included in a page-size promotional ad on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

Rules for the contest are simple. The first baby born in 1960—that's after midnight tonight — of Garza County residents in the Garza Memorial Hospital—is the prize winner.

And those prizes are well worth the winning.

The hospital is offering free hospital care for mother and baby for up to five days. That prize alone is a big one.

"This is our way of welcoming Baby New Year 1960," Don Carl, hospital administrator commented, in announcing the prize. He pointed out that 116 babies were born in the hospital here during 1959, an increase of 15 babies over the number born in the hospital in 1958.

The hospital offered the five days of free hospital care last year to the first baby of 1959.

The dozen other gifts the first baby will receive include a 30 day supply of baby formula from the K&K Food Mart, two dozen diapers from Walker's, two meals per day for the proud father from Judy's Cafe while mother and baby are in the hospital, a set of baby scales from Bob Collins.

Gas manager winner of bowl game ducats

Too late for Christmas, but just in time for New Year's, is Dick Wood's "gift" of two tickets to Friday's Cotton Bowl game between the University of Texas and Syracuse.

Wood, who is local manager for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., won two tickets, plus hotel reservations for two and $75 expense money for selling the most gas lights in his division in a contest sponsored by the company. The lights sold in the contest are those used for yards and patios.

Wood and his wife left Wednesday for Dallas and the big New Year's day game.

A Hiber-Nater from their infants' sleepwear line by Herring's, a bouquet of a dozen carnations from The Flower Shop to brighten the mother's hospital room, a lazy susan nursery jar set and a baby's feeding hot plate from Dunlap's.

A 12 k. gold-filled baby locket from Maxine's, a $5 deposit in opening a new savings account for Baby 1960 by the First National Bank, an alarm clock from Western Auto, a baby blanket from Laveille's, and the free washing of the first week's diapers by the Ideal Laundry after mother and baby go home from the hospital.

The 1960 First Baby winner may come within minutes or hours after midnight tonight—or it may take several days. Last year the winner of the 1959 contest, Karen Gail Ringhoffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ringhoffer, didn't arrive until 4:05 p. m. January 7.

Filings pick up, but poll taxes dragging

Candidate filings are looking much better than poll tax payments as a sign that an election year is coming up.

Three new candidates this week—one for sheriff and two for Precinct 1 county commissioner—have brought to ten the number of candidates in the field, with contests already assured in the races for sheriff and Precincts 1 and 3 commissioner.

Poll tax payments, on the other hand, are lagging, with only 546 paid up to 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Figuring that approximately 1,600 poll tax receipts will be issued, that is only a little more than one-third of the potential. Jan. 31 is the deadline for poll tax payments.

L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr. this week announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff, with Deputy Sheriff J. W. (Red) Floyd having announced his candidacy last week.

Two others, Jack Myers and Clay B. Johnston, announced this week for Precinct 1 commissioner, where Racy Robinson is already a candidate for re-election.

There are two candidates in the running for Precinct 3 commissioner—Ozell Williams, seeking re-election, and J. A. (Jack) Kennedy.

Thomas W. Gambin has announced as candidate for county attorney and J. A. Johnson is asking re-election to the office of Precinct 1 constable.

Jack Myers in race for Commissioner 1

Jack Myers today authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of Precinct 1 commissioner of Garza County, subject to the action of the 1960 Democratic primaries.

Myers said a formal statement of his candidacy will be made later.

Major events of 1959 are recorded from Dispatch's files

Law enforcement 1960 election issue

The county's 1960 political races are just beginning to shape up. A few candidates have flipped their lids—into the circle. And you can hear a lot of talk about who is "thinking about" running.

Post and Garza County in the 1960 elections will get to make a choice on law enforcement—at least we presume by the time all the filings are in there will be some choices.

The law enforcement problem has been kicked around locally for the last couple of years. But it hasn't materially improved in that time. There are no more officers now than there were.

There are no regularly scheduled night officers on patrol. And there still is no sheriff's radio operated around the clock so that nighttime contact could be maintained with officers on duty at night—from the citizen who might need one to an armed officer in a patrol car.

All of these things Post needs badly today, and will need even worse by election time.

The community has growing responsibilities in the law enforcement field, just as it has growing responsibilities in the fields of sanitation (which it has taken steps to solve), education (which it has taken steps to solve), public utilities (in the planning stage), zoning field (also in the planning stage), fire protection (which it has taken steps to solve), etc.

As the community grows, so grow the responsibilities of the community.

But the law enforcement problem has become caught in the net of divided responsibilities. Both the city and the county share the responsibility and in the last two years there has been no meeting of minds at the city-county level to solve the problem.

This is indeed unfortunate.

Choice of a sheriff will not of itself solve the law enforcement problem. It is only a part of the problem. It won't bring about any city action, or the meeting of minds between city council and county commissioners' court.

But the citizen who has a vote must remember too that the law enforcement problem also can be solved in part by the election of county commissioners and by the choice in the spring of city councilmen.

They can ask of all the candidates where they stand on the law enforcement problem, what they propose to do if they are elected to the office which they seek.

The interest of the voting public in the months ahead can make its weight felt, if that public is interested and wants an improved law enforcement program here.

There are those who say that the people don't want any stepped-up law enforcement. In the last spring election at least a bare majority voted for an expanded police force, even at stiff tax price. That is a good indication of what Post folks thought then—at least those who voted.

But that was only a straw vote. It didn't mean anything. The council has announced no plans to expand its police department in the eight months which have followed that public expression.

The Dispatch has become rather unpopular in several public quarters here over its expressed belief in the need for law enforcement.

In the end the choice is up to the voters. They can ask for and get a stepped-up law enforcement program if they demand it and make it an issue in the 1960 elections. On the other hand if you don't want law enforcement, the voter can make his weight felt on that side too. Or if the voter doesn't much care—or doesn't care enough—he can simply let things "rock along."

That's up to you in 1960.—JC

Our year-end review proves something

In compiling our annual year-end news review appearing elsewhere in this issue, we were impressed by two things. One was—if we can be pardoned for tooting our own horn—the nearly 100 per cent news coverage given by The Dispatch throughout the year, and the other was the way in which the people of Post and Garza County "go after" those things which they feel will benefit their community.

On the subject of news coverage, we know there were stories we missed, and we were shorter than we should have been on feature stories of the human interest type. We are proud of the fact, however, that just about all the spot news was well covered.

The Dispatch editorial staff does not take full credit for this news coverage. It would not have been possible without the assistance of our readers, and we are deeply grateful for all the news tips we received, for all the club and organizational news turned in, and even for the little personal items phoned in by folks who'd been visiting or had company.

On the news front, our New Year's resolution is to make every effort to do an even better job covering ALL the news, and we invite the readers' continued cooperation in our efforts to give you a better home town NEWSPAPER.

Now to get around to our second point, that of the people going after things for the good of the community. On a number of important issues, notably law enforcement, not much was done, but even this bugaboo came in for some attention. On some of the other things, such as the public housing project, it might seem that not much was accomplished, but such projects take time, and there is no doubt that considerable progress was made. There were important developments toward the ultimate White River Dam goal, the most important of which was the government's approval of the district's loan application. Just to mention a few of the other things, there was real progress on school expansion, street paving, extension of the city limits through annexation, new street lights, a cemetery improvement project, etc.

During our seven years as editor of The Post Dispatch, we've always enjoyed working up these year-end reviews. They never fail to convince us that we are employed on one of the best weekly newspapers in Texas and in one of the best towns in the state.—CD

This 'Lost Week' for mothers

Mark this down as the "lost week" for a whole lot of youngsters and their mothers. It's Christmas vacation—and what's there to do?

At least that's the plaintive cry from the boys and girls. And harried mothers are hard put to adjust themselves to having their school-age youngsters underfoot at home for an extended period.

We don't know how the Christmas vacation routine got started—but like a lot of others, we wonder if the time isn't drawing nigh when it should be abandoned and charged off to "progress."

Who benefits? Really the kids are pretty lost. The Christmas toys get broken pretty fast. Like grownups they are already used to a living routine, which in this case has been broken by no school classes to attend.

To the mothers, it's even worse—trying to get things done around the house and keeping the youngsters happy too.

Nobody—few anyway—go on extended vacations so school not being in session is no advantage there. Dad goes right back to work after Christmas—and Mother's work, as usual, is never done.

Seems to us it would be better on the kids, a real "break" for the mothers, and no loss to teachers or anybody else simply to take four or five days off for Christmas and then get back to the classroom. The teachers are paid to teach so many days a year. For that extra week at Christmas they are required to teach a week later in the spring—when it's already hot and the kids are restless. Why not add the week to the summer vacation?

Probably there is a reason somewhere, but if there is the schools ought to send notes home with the kids just before the Christmas vacation starts explaining it—so the mothers would face their ordeal with more purpose and understanding.—JC

Let's save fireworks for July 4th

Over the Christmas holiday, a fellow who hasn't lived in Texas quite three years yet made himself heard long enough over the noise of exploding firecrackers to ask us from whence came this tradition of shooting fireworks at Christmas time. We didn't know.

In most other states, fireworks at Christmas time is virtually unheard of, although they do go in for them on July the Fourth and a few other festive occasions.

We lived in Oklahoma before moving to Texas and in the Sooner State the practice of shooting fireworks on or near Christ's birthday is as widespread or even a little more so than it is in the Lone Star State. Come to think of it, is it an appropriate way of celebrating Christmas? We don't think so, even though as a youngster we did our share of it—for no other reason than the fact that everybody else seemed to be doing it.

The firecracker custom at Christmas time doesn't seem to be dying down any in this part of the United States. As far as safety is concerned, it's no worse to set off fireworks at Christmas time than it is on July the Fourth, but now that we stop and give it a long thought, it just doesn't seem a very appropriate way to celebrate Christmas. Times change, and there may come a day when fireworks no longer disrupt the Christmas atmosphere, but right now they're a big part of the Yuletide celebration. Why? We repeat that we don't know. But we've reached the conclusion that with so many less sacred holidays on which to make noise with firecrackers, they should be left on the dealers' shelves at Christmas time.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Our children know all about what society owes them. Apparently a lesson that hasn't been taught is what they owe society. Probably the most serious mistake parents make is in overdoing things for their children. We recall a couple of instances—among our childhood pals were some boys whose parents always kept them supplied with money or whatever else they wanted.

They grow up thinking things came easy. Right now neither one has ever made a living for his family, but keeps on taking a subsidy from his parents. Neither had the opportunity to develop a backbone. We have heard, and you have too, parents say they want to accumulate wealth so their children won't have it as hard as they did. This is a mistake and an injustice to the child.—Ochiltree County Herald.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

THE STROKE OF midnight tonight will usher out one decade of the 20th Century and usher in another, with three-fifths of the century behind us.

Some weeks ago, I was wondering in this column what name they'd pin on the 1960's to go along with such terms as the "Terrible Thirties", "Fabulous Forties" and "Frenzied Fifties". I believe I have it now; they're more than likely going to call them the "Soaring Sixties", with all of us soaring some place or other, if all the scary predictions pan out.

I'VE ALREADY MADE up my mind not to make any New Year's resolutions I can't keep, because I've left a long enough trail of broken ones behind me, and there isn't any use of getting in a rut about such things. The only resolutions I'm going to make will be easy ones, like resolving to watch as many bowl game telecasts as I can on New Year's day.

While you're remembering to eat your blackeyed peas for luck on New Year's day, also don't forget that 1960 is a Leap Year.

ONE RESOLUTION I made some time ago and am getting in practice by keeping ahead of time is to use "I" in writing this column instead of the editorial "we", as we've done ever since we started writing a column. The trend the nation over is to use "I" instead of "we", and along with Publisher Jim Cornish, Pat Bennett over at Crosbyton, Harold Hudson up at Perryton, and a few other columnists, I've been among the staunchest hold-outs in using "we" instead of "I".

About the best answer we ever heard a columnist give when asked why he used "we" instead of "I", was that if he wrote something that made someone mad enough to want to come in and stack the office furniture, he might hesitate about doing it if he thought more than one person was writing the column.

AND, GETTING BACK to resolutions, I learned long ago that Jan. 2 is when most people find out that it's easier to break a resolution than a habit.

A news release, quoting the World Book Encyclopedia, lists a number of New Year's superstitions. In Scotland, bad luck is in store for a family if the first person to set foot in the house is a woman... or a gravedigger... or a person who walks with his toes turned in... or a man with red or blonde hair.

Even the poorest Chinese buy new shoes for the holiday, because it is bad luck to step down on the ground in old shoes on New Year's day. And the Portuguese ignore debts, because a man who pays a bill on this day will pay out money all year.

EVERY CHRISTMAS, it seems the high school decorations are a little more clever than the year before and this year's were no exception. I liked all the scenes, but one the tiny tots didn't seem to like was the one which showed a cannibal waiting at the foot of the chimney to cook Santa Claus.

Some people think it is a recession when they can't afford a new car to tow their new boat.

ANY WAY YOU look at it, things around here are going to seem slower when all the kids go back to school, and that includes the college students. Sometimes I think we need the youngsters with us all the time to keep things from slowing almost to a dead stop.

I'm glad the investigators decided to leave Santa Claus alone. I was afraid they wouldn't after the way they lowered the boom on TV quiz programs, cranberries, radio disc jockeys and lipstick.

ANYWAY, THEY should go lightly on the disc jockeys receiving bribes for playing lousy records. They've suffered considerable already listening to some of them.

Parting Thought: The superiority of the old-time education seems to be based on the fact that we had to go five miles to get it.

Leslie Nichols Auvy McBride wed in candlelight ceremony

Double wedding ring vows were pledged by Miss Leslie Anita Nichols and Auvy Lee McBride Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor, officiated for the candlelight ceremony before background decorations of an archway of white carnations and greenery, accented with wedding bells; basket arrangements of white carnations and gladioli, candelabra and palm trees.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nichols, 124 South Avenue P, and Mr. and Mrs. Theibert McBride, Route 3, Post.

Traditional organ selections were played by Georgie M. Willson, who also accompanied Clark Cowdrey as he sang "Whether Thou Goest" and Jimmy Short for "The Lord's Prayer". They also sang "I Love You Truly."

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over bridle taffeta, designed with an encircled Sabrina neckline re-embroidered in sequins and seed pearls. The slim bodice was highlighted with long sleeves that tapered to petal points. The full skirt swept into a chapel train. A Juliet cap of seed pearls and iridescent sequins held her veil of French imported silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white camellias and gardenias on a white Bible, given her by her grandmother, Mrs. Retta Nichols.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old in wearing her grandmother, Mrs. Lizzy Windham's wedding band; something new; something borrowed were pearls belonging to an aunt, Miss Agnes Windham, and something blue.

Mrs. Dale Andress of Fort Worth attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a dress of green silk organza over taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice and rolled collar, and full skirt.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Osborne of California and Miss Barbara Wheatley of Lubbock. Their dresses were styled after that of the matron of honor and each attendant carried bouquets of white feathered carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Shirley McBride, sister of the bridegroom, and Howard Jones.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Ronnie Morris. Ushers were Jimmy Redman and Ray Gary.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Windham, 601 West 6th. Decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of green and white.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, and Mrs. Novis Pennell and Miss Doris Ramsey served. Other members of the houseparty included Mmes. Delmer Cowdrey, Bobby Pierce, Douglas Windham, Winifred Blake, Altha Porter, and Misses Agnes Windham of Fort Worth and Henrietta Nichols.

Post couple's granddaughter wed in California ceremony

MR. AND MRS. ALLAN RICHARD BARR

White stock, white chrysanthemums, and lighted tapers formed the background for the marriage of Miss Rae Lynne Farrar and Allan Richard Barr recently in the First Presbyterian Church of Upland, Calif.

The Rev. Thomas M. Walker of the Bethel Congregational Church of Ontario, Calif., officiated for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Farrar, 706 E. Emporia Street, Ontario, and formerly of Post, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Loyd of Post. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Barr, 930 Terrace Drive, Upland, and a cousin of Willard Kirkpatrick of Post.

The bride wore a Cabill original gown of imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace and peau de soie. She carried a cascade of white orchids and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was Miss Bonnie Carlson and bridesmaids were Misses Susan Barr of Upland and Barbara Tibbets of Ontario. They wore gowns of red deustered satin, complemented by tiny hats with poufs of veiling.

Candlelighters were Janet and Judy Woodward, who wore red choir robes and carried white candles.

Best man was LeVerne Puffpaff of Montclair. Ushering the 350 guests were Lawrence Ades, Edward Ladegaard, and Edward Bowman, all of Ontario, and Stanley Beal of Mt. Baldy.

A reception followed in the Ontario Elks Club House, where the decor included white orchids and red Anthurium, the gift of Miss Noe Kaimi, of Honolulu.

After Jan. 1, the couple will be at home in Ontario, where he is in the machine shop business.

The bride is a graduate of Chaffey High School in Ontario and is a freshman at Chaffey College. Her husband is also a graduate of Chaffey High School and attended Chaffey College and Cal Poly.

• BIBLE, FAMILY, CHURCH CENTERED

We lay plans for the building of our homes, budgeting our incomes, and chart our ambitions for the future.

In spiritual matters we need also to plan our course. Let God's word be the guide, and include the whole family in this study.

As we look to architects to guide us and put our plans into effect, we should also look to the church for help in guiding our spiritual lives. Men have spent years studying and searching God's word so that we might know His will for our lives. The church welcomes all to fellowship, and wishes to share the knowledge of God's word with all. Go, seek, and learn.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hamilton's Question Bird

Yes, we believe everyone ought to be thankful to be living in this great nation, where the happiness and welfare of every citizen are safeguarded.

Why don't you resolve to Live Better Electrically in 1960

We'll do our part with 17½ million dollars invested in new construction in 1960.

on Ovia's part too. We've also added to the backshop force with the addition of Bill Stowe, another young printer who comes to us from Snyder. Bill, who went to work Monday hasn't had time to find living quarters yet and move his wife here.

Just a reminder to the youngsters who entered The Dispatch's Christmas Coloring Contest and who haven't picked up their show tickets here at The Dispatch office. Tower Theatre Manager Johnny Hopkins is "treating" every entrant to a movie. The Dispatch will be closed Friday for the holiday but will be open Saturday morning until noon.

Donald Jackson, former Post youth, who is now a tackle on T. C. U. Southwest Conference co-champions, was sporting a beautiful gold watch yesterday while here on a Christmas holiday visit with his dad, Lloyd Anthony. The watch was presented to Don at the awards dinner held in connection with the new Blue Bonnet bowl promotion at Houston. Don reported the players had a wonderful time at the bowl game even though the Horned Frogs absorbed a licking at the hands of Clemson. Besides the dinner, the players were taken on a yacht ride down the channel from Houston to Galveston and into the Gulf. The awards dinner drew a lot of big names of the football and TV world. Don, who arrived Tuesday night and leaves Jan. 3 to return to TCU, is a 210-pound junior who was red-shirted last year due to a shoulder separation in an oilfield accident. That gives him two more years of eligibility in football which he intends to use, so we'll be hearing a lot more from that young man in the next two autumns. Don, who now calls Walters, Okla., his home, hopes a lot of Post folks can get down to Fort Worth next year and watch the Frogs play.

Several local merchants are going to "start the New Year off right" with clearance sale and Dollar Day bargains—so "shop" The Dispatch carefully today and save money. Over on page 11 you'll note that Marshall-Brown's opens the January Clearance season with their semi-annual sale. Piggly Wiggly and Dunlap's have good-sized Dollar Day promotions for those interested in dollar savings. And speaking of Piggly Wiggly, we were talking to Store Manager Paul Jones yesterday and he was pointing out that shelf prices in all of Piggly Wiggly's 19 stores are exactly the same.

We were glad we were down at work and the office door was unlocked Saturday morning when the rest of The Dispatch staff was off for a Christmas holiday weekend. Because it enabled us to make the acquaintance of those former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farrar of Ontario, Calif., who stopped by the office to subscribe to The Dispatch. The Farrars arrived by train Christmas eve from California to visit Mrs. Farrar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Loyd and other relatives and friends. They left Post Monday for visits in Fort Worth and Sherman before returning to California around Jan. 15. Ray will be remembered to most of the oldsters hereabouts as Garza County commissioner of precinct No. 1 back over 30 years ago in 1925 and 1926. The Farrars left this area in 1927 and headed West, where Ray has been a peace officer for the last 26 years. He's been a California marshal for the last seven years and that involves traveling all over the United States and even into foreign countries returning prisoners. The only one he ever lost, Ray says, peculiarly enough happened when he checked in a prisoner for the night at the Lubbock city jail and the man somehow escaped during the night. At least he wasn't in his cell next morning when Ray stopped to pick him up and resume the trip. Farrar was deputy sheriff of San Bernardino County—the largest county in the world with some people living up to 225 miles from the courthouse—and a city police officer for Ontario before becoming a California marshal. They still make their home in Ontario, 35 miles from Los Angeles, and in free time do a lot of boating in the ocean and fishing.

Over on page 7 you'll notice where Mr. and Mrs. Levi Noble have leased Levi's Restaurant to Cliff and Charlotte Savaria, who came to Post from California where they have had considerable experience in food catering at Pleasant Hill. The Savarias in their announcement ask invite all Post folks to stop in during New Year's week for a cup of coffee "on the house" and a chance to get acquainted. Cliff and Charlotte who have lots of enthusiasm for their new undertaking here and their new hometown have three youngsters. There's Jim, who is 18 and working with his parents in the restaurant, daughter, Gerry, 13, and son Dale, 9. The home address is 611 South Avenue R. As for Mr. and Mrs. Noble, Levi reports his future plans right now are indefinite—except for a good rest after the long hours required to operate a restaurant. But one thing is sure, they're going to continue to live in Post. Levi, who

Chest drive is almost at top

Garza County's 1960 Community Chest campaign is practically finished with cash and pledges received totaling $11,829.75 — just $670.25 short of the $12,500 goal.

J. B. Potts, Chest president, in announcing the figure said that all participating agencies will receive checks covering their full budgeted amount from the Chest in the coming year.

He pointed out that money in the Chest fund from previous years when the budget was over-subscribed will enable all participating agencies to be paid in full.

Potts said that only a final check-in from one Chest worker in the Justiceburg area is all that remains to winding up the autumn fund drive.

The main drive was conducted in mid-November but several hundreds of dollars have been received since the intensive week's effort, Potts noted.

Leo Acker was drive chairman for the Chest this year.

Potts said he and Acker want to express their appreciation to the dozens of drive workers whose efforts helped make the drive another success and to all who gave so generously.

Garnolia couple host Christmas tree and dinner

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. White were hosts for a family dinner and afternoon of exchanging gifts Christmas day at their home in Garnolia community.

There's another Post firm which has changed ownership and is announcing the fact in today's Dispatch. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch have purchased the interest of their partners, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Casey in the Casey & Welch Electric Co. and renamed it the Welch Electric. Not only that but their son, Bernie, who recently completed his army service hitch at Fort Sill after graduation from Texas Tech, is joining his parents in the firm. Charles Casey has returned to work for Southwestern Public Service and at present is working for the utility firm in Plainview although the Caseys are continuing to make their home in Post.

CHRISTMAS COMES FOR MILL CHILDREN

Some Postex workers going to shorter hours

Some women employees in the sewing room at the Postex Cotton Mills will be asked to work shorter hours in the first quarter of 1960, Lee Ward, plant superintendent, told The Dispatch today. Ward explained that sales drop off in the first quarter, which is normal for the industry, but he pointed out that the reduction in sale of pillow cases was greater than had been anticipated.

Traffic violations take holiday in court here

Traffic violations—at least as far as complaints are concerned—have taken a holiday during the past week.

At noon Tuesday, only one case had been filed in the court of Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts, with John E. Spoles being booked for vehicle over gross weight. Filed in JP court on Christmas eve was a drunkenness charge against Pete Hall, with a fine of $20.50 being paid.

Charlotte Hayes of Amarillo visited last Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hays.

Antelopes are to play Wellman in Ropes meet

The Post Antelopes will play the Wellman Wildcats at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday in a first round game of the Ropesville Tournament, in which eight boys' teams are entered.

Coach Pete Murray's Antelopes are in the upper bracket with Sundown, New Home and Wellman. Teams in the lower bracket are Frenship, Meadow, Ropesville and Union (Terry County).

If the Antelopes defeat Wellman, they play again at 8:45 p. m. Thursday against the winner of the Sundown-New Home game. If they lose to Wellman, they play the Sundown-New Home loser at 6:15 p. m. Thursday.

Consolation and championship finals are scheduled for Saturday night, Jan. 9.

The surprising Post Antelopes extended their winning streak to ten straight Tuesday night by upsetting the highly regarded Dimmitt Bobcats, 58 to 49, in a semi-finals game in the Caprock Holiday Tournament at the Lubbock Coliseum.

Dimmitt, the tournament favorite, was beaten by the sheer determination of a band of Antelopes who refused to give up after their captain and leading scorer, Scott Pierce, fouled out shortly after the second half got under way.

It was the first time this season Dimmitt has lost to a school lower than AAAA classification. The defeats had come at the hands of Borger and Plainview.

Four Antelopes hit in double figures, with Forrest Claborn taking couldn't catch up. The Antelopes began to slow the play down about midway of the final period and worked a stall successfully to draw a rash of fouls from the desperate Dimmitt vagabonds, who lost three key players via the foul route.

Pierce, who went into the game with a scoring average of nearly 20 points, picked up his fourth foul in the second quarter and sat out the final minutes of the period on the bench. The second half hadn't much more than gotten underway when the tall Antelope drew his fifth foul. Schlehber, who is only 5-9, replaced Pierce, and with the 6-2 Rankin taking up the slack in rebounding, the Antelopes kept the pressure on.

The Antelope cause was hurt again in the final period when Mayberry picked up his fifth foul. The Post bench had been weakened by an injury to sophomore forward Bobby Beard, who wasn't suited out. Glendon Washburn and sophomore Leslie Acker took up a lot of the slack in the fourth quarter, and with about 50 seconds to go, Coach Murray cleaned the bench.

It was one of the biggest upsets and one of the most impressive victories ever scored by an Antelope basketball team.

Post had advanced to the semi-finals with a 45 to 38 victory over the Monterey Lancers, and Dimmitt had advanced by soundly trouncing Lubbock.

Christmas visits, parties, dinners mark holidays in Graham community

By MRS. DILLARD THOMPSON
As Christmas has come and gone our every thought turns to the New Year, which is just a round the corner. And it seems after much thought, I can find no words that can express my feelings to everyone for this year. So, I would like to send a great big "thanks" to each and everyone for your cooperation, thoughts and deeds of kindnesses for me and mine, and I hope some day I can express my thankfulness to each and every one. May God bless you and your household. And as the last page turns Thursday at 12 p. m. and the old year of 1959 rings out, may your New Year of 1960 ring in with more happiness and prosperity than ever before.

Bible Thoughts

"A VAPOR"

By Ronnie Parker

As another year is brought to a close the thoughtful are aware of what a joy it has been to live, what blessings have been theirs, and what plans they have for the future. We are also mindful of how brief our lives really are.

James says, "What is your life? For ye are a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." (James 4:14). There is just one time in life when the days seem long—in youth. As years go by days get shorter and shorter. When we were children it seemed like an eternity from one birthday to another. Now the days fly away. The older one gets the faster the days pass away.

David was telling that our days are spent like a "tale that is told" . . . "for it is soon cut off, and we fly away" (Ps. 90:10).

Each day we are writing a chapter in our lives. Are you proud of yours? We should remember the brevity of life and live the "abundant life" in Christ.

There is no time for sin. Let's fill our days with righteous living before God and we can look for eternal life.

THE POST CHURCH OF CHRIST INVITES YOU TO EVERY SERVICE.

Have You Heard??

Wednesday night, Jane Maxey had a Christmas party for the following people: Kathy S., Carolyn M., Judy M., Anne M., PERRY R., Beth Kemp, Jane F., Jan P., Janene H., Sandra S., and Jane M. Everyone ate a wonderful meal served by Jane and Anne's mothers. Later, gifts were exchanged.

There are now three pretty happy girls in Post—Beth Kemp, Ruthell Martin, and Sandra Stewart. This happiness is due to the fact that Sammy Martin, Paul Wheatley and Mike Ray are home. What happened to you, Janene?

I guess everyone had a Merry Christmas. We sure hope so, anyway. The paper staff would like to wish everyone a very Happy New Year!

The boys' basketball team is entered in the Caprock Holiday Tournament in Lubbock this week. It is being held in the Lubbock Coliseum. We wish them the very best of luck!

Tuesday evening some of the ex-students of PHS came and gave us short speeches about the sort of subjects we should take now in order to be prepared for college. The ex-students who spoke to us were: Ruth Saenz, Victor Hudman, Linda and Wayne Runkles, Jimmy Short, Kay Martin, and Marilyn Steel. We really enjoyed their speeches.

Last week everyone (or someone that is) really had the Christmas spirit. At least the firecrackers they were throwing around indicated the Christmas spirit.

Be sure and enjoy the holidays, kids, because when we go back to school, mid-term tests start. Now doesn't that sound like fun?

Melanie and Curtis are among the lucky ones who received stereo sets for Christmas. You kids will have to give a party now, so everyone can listen to music on your record players.

Thursday night, Dec. 31, there will be a New Year's Eve, semi-formal dance at Teen Town. Music will be furnished by a "live" band. Everyone is invited to be there and join in the fun.

Hey, Richard, I thought you and Janene were brother and sister. What was the feud about?

Anne, I told you and Jan and Sandra that I have firecrackers would get you in trouble!

Back the Antelopes in the Caprock Holiday Tournament!

Happy New Year!

CHRISTMAS SPENT HERE
Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Baxter and family of Odessa spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Long, and with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long and family, Mrs. B. W. Pennell, and with Baxter's mother, Mrs. Ardie Baxter.

HOLIDAY GUESTS
Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dent over the Christmas holidays were her daughter, Mrs. Mician Hughes, and her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sherrod and daughter of Lubbock.

their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gross and children in Milwaukee, Wis. They flew from Lubbock to Dallas and from there to Milwaukee. They are to return this week.

Program precedes school holidays

By Janene Haynie

Wednesday afternoon, before PHS turned out for the Christmas holidays, an assembly was held.

The boys' basketball team presented a beautiful first place trophy to the school, which they won in the Anton Tournament. The girls' basketball team also presented a fourth place trophy to the school, which they won at the Howard County Junior College Tournament.

Recitations given by Pat Wheatley and Leta Stone were: "Anniversary" and "The Little Match Girl". They were both very good.

Following this, the band presented a program of Christmas music, which everyone enjoyed very much.

Just before we were dismissed, Ronnie Parker, minister of the Church of Christ, spoke a few words to us. He told us to make this the best Christmas yet by doing things for others and not ourselves.

Do not store pesticides where food or feedstuffs are stored or handled.
