his spouse a different way.

Post Mrs. W. E. Dent. told a Dispatch reporter last week that she first heard of Emmett Dent 40 years ago when she, as Sammie Morrow, was working as a relief operator in the telephone office at Gail.

A fellow named Lloyd Darcy came into the office one day and placed a call to Emmett Dent at Post. The only telephone here then was in the Double U. Commissary, where Emmett's father, W. F. Dent was employed. The person answering the telephone in the commissary wanted the operator to let the elder Mr. Dent take the call, but Sammie insisted that Emmett be sent for as she liked the sound of his name and wanted to hear his Dent called on the Morrows to welcome them to Post, and Sammie didn't let her mother rest until they repaid the call and was proper, introduced to Emmett. They were married two months later, July 15, 1908. Their marriage certificate was the fourth one recorded here, the first having been issued October 2, 1907, to O. J. Conn and Verdie Rodgers.

The former Wanda Jo Moore of Ralls and Robert Cod were employed in Lubbock and eating at the same boarding house when they met, in 1938. They were married August 31, 1940.

Jimmie Payne of Stamford came out to Post in 1924 to visit her sister who is married to Clovis Hudman. At this time she met Clovis' brother, Marvin, and their first date was a boat ride at Two Draw. Five years later she became her sister's sister-in-Earl Hodges first met the former Gertrude Cook when she was 9 or 10 years old and had moved from Arkansas with her family to a place adjoining the Hodges place in Hunt County. As the old fellow says, 'We wuz weethearts from then 'til now." Hodges told a Post Dispatch reporter last week. They were married in Hugo, Okla., 17 or 18 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tate can't remember exactly when or where their romance began. They both grew up in the Pleasant Hill Community, near Jacksboro, and went through grade school together. "We were about 15 years old when I finally got her to have a date with me, but I can't remember where we went, exactly. It was to some community affair," Tate told a Post Dispatch reporter. They were married in Jacksboro when she was 18 years old and he was 19.

Taxi Cost $10.00

H. J. Dietrich, as a telegraph operator, was blazing a Santa Fe trail at Black, near Hereford, about 1910. He had a box car for an office and another box car for living quarters. His life was a lonely one, and devoid of good, home cooking. He decided to get acquainted with his nearest neighbors-the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baker who lived on a farm in Deaf Smith County. He immediately liked the Bakers' daughter Margie, but he also liked Mrs. Baker's cooking so well, he got permission to board there.

By the time he was transferred to Post as Santa Fe telegraph operator, in 1913, Margie was teaching school at Treadway in Beeden County. One day he hired a Model T taxi driver named Darnell to drive him to Treadway, and he gave her the engagement ring.

A taxicab at Treadway caused almost as much excitement as the school teacher's engagement. For the return trip, Darnell bought gasoline at a grocery store. The proprietor . whose name was Stevens, had to pump it with a vinegar pump and pour it, gallon at a time, into the gas tank. The taxi ride to Treadway and back cost Dietrich $10. He and Miss Baker were married in 1915.

J. P. Manly this week repaid a courtesy extended by Tom Power on occasion of the arrival of the new Fords. Tom treated Manly to a ride in the new model Ford several months ago. Monday Manly reciprocated and took Tom riding in his new Styleline Chevrolet demonstrator.

Terracing Can Be Done With Farm Implements Now

During a shortage of terracing contractors, Duck Creek District Soil Conservation Service cooperators are urged to construct terraces with farm equipment.

In the past, where the soil was dry, it was nearly impossible to move dirt with ordinary machinery. Now, with good soil moisture, a one-way, disc plow or moleboard plow will throw the dirt into the terrace.

Pete Ottinger of the local Soil Conservation office emphasizes that it is important to use a system of plowings or cuts when building terraces with farm machinery, Nearly all of the local implement dealers, he says, have booklets showing how to construct terraces with farm equip-

Soil Conservation technicians, he also points out, are available to give assistance to district cooperators.

Terracing, as part of a com-plete conservation program to save soil and water, is good business, it having been proved that it makes the difference between a quarter of a bale and a third of a bale of cotton to an acre of land in this area.

A 12-year experiment at Spur on land terraced and land not terraced showed an increased lint yield of 816 pounds and seed yield of 1,306 lb. an acre on the terraced land.

Most of the experiment took place in the 1930's, and the net dollar gain was $78.18 per acre.

Guide Line Must Be Run On Level

Will Wright, chairman of the Garza Couty ACA Committee, has announced that in order to qualify for the practice of "contour listing or contour chiseling" on fields that are not terraced, guide lines must be run on the level. The practice will not qualify for payment if the guide lines are on a grade.

It is an exceptional case where one guide line in a field will qualify a contour practice for payment. In most cases, even in exceptionally small fields, the slope of the land is variable to the extent that more than one guide line is needed.

Steps In Kitchen Can Be Saved By Better Storage

The old rule for convenient storage of kitchen utensils-"keep it where you use it"-has been improved. Household equipment specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and various state experiment stations have conducted kitchen work studies which led to a newer and better rule-"Keep it where you use it first." Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration a gent, says that if this rule is followed, some utensils obviously will be most convenient near the stove, while others may be stored near the mixing center, the sink or the serving center. The storage place for some equipment, such as the coffee making utensils, may depend on the type - for instance, a coldwater coffeemaker is first used at the sink, a hot water coffeemaker may be first used at the stove.

Here are convenient locations for some of the most frequently used utensils. Mrs. Strasner says: Near the stove, frying pans, pancake turner, 2-tine long fork, potato or food masher, and cooling

Near sink: Dishpan, dish draining rack, pan for the rack, vegetable brush, colander and a six-to-eight-inch wire strainer.

Near mixing center: Rotary egg beater, mixing bowls, can opener, measuring cups and measuring spoons, custard cups and casseroles.

Near serving center: Orange and fruit squeezer, and bread or slicing knife.

Some utensils may be conveniently stored in one of several places: Coffeemaker and teapot, near stove, sink or serving center; saucepans, large kettle and doubleboiler, near stove or sink; pint measuring cup near sink or mixing center and it may be wise, she concludes, to have more than one of some of the smaller pieces which can be stored near the working centers where they are used.

velopment the past week has been the discovery of a new field in northern Scurry county and a strike made in a lower Permian sand of Northwest Borden county. The two wildcats are only a few miles south of Garza county's south boundary.

The new Scurry discovery was made by Humble Oil & Refining Company the first of the week, when commercial production developed at Humble's No. 1 L. M. Periman test three miles east of Dermott, and one and one-half miles west of the Standard Oil Company of Texas' No. 1 Jessie Brown which was brought in about three weeks

The Humble venture, located in section 438, block 97, H&TC survey, took a drillstem test on a lower Pennsylvanian lime at 7.004-54 feet. A 5-8th inch bottom hole choke was used. Gas showed at the surface in two minutes and cil started flowing out of the top of the drill pipe in one hour and 35 minutes and was flowed to pits for 35 minutes at the estimated rate of 30 to 35 barrels of clear oil per hour. Gravity of the ell was reported to be 42.3 degrees.

The Humble field opener is about 7 miles south of Garza's south county-line.

The Borden county wildcat, H. L. Hunt No. 1-B Clayton & Johnson, is 11 miles northwest of the town of Gail. Location is south of the Garza county-line.

Serving the family, community and nation

Did you ever stop to think that we live, we learn, we travel-all through the pages of the newspaper we read! How much broader is the scope of our lives, because we can read about the wide world in newsprint. How much more we know about people and politics; child care and cooking; health and happiness - because our newspaper covers everything! Its editorial columns better our way of life too, by championing the democratic way when vital issues face us as a family - as a community - as a nation! And praised be its advertising columns for simultaneously serving our needs and our budgets! All in all there is no truer "public servant" than your newspaper and ours!

The theme of this year's Boy Scout Week, February 6-12, is "Adventure - that's Scouting" - but it's much more than that. Boy Scouts get the satisfaction of "learning by doing" exciting things, to "help other people at all times," and enjoying outdear activities.

No yardstick can measure the harvest of advantage Boy Scouts bring to the nation and the community. But the Scouts depend on the active support of each one of us to increase and extend these benefits.

Let's help them grow and thereby reap for ourselves a larger crop of healthier, happier young

Interest in Boy Scouting should pick up around here by leaps and bounds by next summerwhen that fine swimming pool out at Comp Pest is opened.

We have the makings of some thing very wonderful in that Boy Scout Camp, which is operated for all the Boy Scouts of the south half of the South Flains Area Council. We can't claim a lot of the glory over the camp's development, but it's a credit to Post just the same.

Boy Scouting is a thing that the parents should push. It's good for the parents, as well as the kids. I've hardly heard of a juvenile delinquent whose parents spent their spare time trying to figure out wholesome, educational entertainment for their kids. For that matter, I never knew of an active Boy Scout who became a delinquent, and I've never known many serious Boy Scouts whose parents weren't of a fine calibre.

But far too few parents pay any attention to the Boy Scout movement. They leave it up to three or four public spirited citizens, who already have more to do than they can accomplish. Boy Scouting needs more interested parents. This is my message for Boy Scout Week

Did you see the West Texas Gas Company's ad in last week's Post Dispatch? It explained that all the company's 1949 expansion projects had been completed on schedule and announced the beginning of a 1949 program of expansion.

I see by the papers that Govrnor Jester has done one thing that meets with my whole-hearted approval:

He recently dropped the longtime custom of officially proclaiming different kinds of weeks in that part of the country, and -such as "Yam Week," "Citrus prices there have gone up 25 Week," etc.

Almost every week in the Post Dispatch, we publish a news brief beginning with "Weeks this week." I think there is one in today's issue. Read it and see if any of this week's weeks mean anything to you.

Of course they don't and they don't mean anything to anybody else. This business of specially proclaimed weeks in observance of everything from "Be Kind To Dogs Week" to "Eat More Apples Week" is greatly overdone.

Governor Jester, however, didn't go as far in this decision as I would have gone, had I been in his shoes. I would have put a ban on all weeks except the most important, meaningful ones, such as Boy Scout Week.

Instead of going this far, the governor is going to designate all the special weeks by signed memorandums. Issuance of formal proclamations will be reservas it should be - for such official acts as granting of pardons, setting up special elections or proclaiming holidays.

I am making a study of the highly controversal Gilmer-Aiken Committee recommendations regarding our public schools. Perhaps, by next week, I will be able to report some of the results of my research. This set of recommendations very likely will result in a specialvery important - election. Garza County poll taxes paid BEER ELECTION - According to reports, Editor Ernest Joiner is having petitions circulated asking the County Commissioners to call an election soon for the purpose of voting on the legalizing the sale of beer in Crosby county. The Editor of the Tribune wrote an article several months ago in regard to this situation as several lawyers in Lubbock contend that Crosby county is not dry except the precinct of Ralls, and the Tribune suggested that an election should be held to clarify this situation.

Editor Joiner says the reason he wants the election called at this time is to get as many people as possible to pay their poll tax-he realizes that the county will go dry but he wants this money paid into the County treasury to assist the county and the County Agricultural Agent Rob-ert H. Gibson to the Texas A and M. College Extension Serv ice. Some excerpts follow:

The bindweed population is getting a good foothold in the county and considerable time is being spent in controlling and eliminating the weed. Seventeen demonstrations were given in the use of 2-4-D as a weedicide. These demonstrations were car ried out early in the spring when sufficient moisture was avail able, and considerable results were obtained. Later in the grow ing season, the extreme dry weather prevented any visible re sults. Two small patches were completely destroyed and all sev erely damaged. Johnson grass has been an ex pensive weed for several years, and considerable time has been devoted to its eradication. Twelve farms were visited to determine what method of eradication would be most economical. Atlacide was recommended for the small plots and continuous cultivation was recommended for the large areas. Several farmers Johnson grass on their farms. However, much effort must be made to completely eradicate it.

Mesquite has steadily run over he pasture land and ranchers are greatly interested in its eradication. Several efforts were made ceiving his discharge from the on small plots with kerosene. The larger, rough trees were killed with some success, but the smaller slick trees are difficult

Gardens There were 640 home gardens in the county in 1948. They provideded a large percentage of the consumption of fresh vegetables and vegetables for canning purposes. The city of Post had about 151 of these gardens, and 109 were 4-H Club projects. In those gardens, 10 persons inoculated seed, five disinfected seed, 300 produced their own plants, 50 used commercial fertilizer, 200 used barnyard fertilizer, 300 planted recommended varieties, 270 used recommended insect and disease control and 300 used sub-irrigation or surface

Those gardens that were not irrigated were successful, but those that were irrigated produced large amounts of tomatoes, peas and beans.

Ten demonstrations were given on garden insect control. Bulletins, pamphlets, newspaper articles and meetings were used to keep the gardeners informed as to the best practices to be successful.

Twenty-three 4-H Club boys had gardens as their 4-H demonstrations.

The Extension Service directly assisted in the planting of 150 fruit trees, and 1,405 grape and berry vines. Most of these trees and vines lived.

One hundred sixty fruit trees were pruned under the direction of the extension service, and 70 producing vines were sprayed or dusted for insects.

Pamphlets, bulletins and news paper articles were used to inform producers of practices recommended for successful pro-than 90 per cent would be unsatisfactory and inadequate. What the Secretary may do and what Congress may do is not yet known. I hope we can secure passage of a long range farm program assuring a support of at least 90 per cent of parity on grain sorghum, cotton, and other important crops.

Long Range Planning Here is the situatno

Here is the situation as to cotton: The present law assures a support price of 90 per cent parity for 1949, but after 1949 the support could be as low as 60 per cent of parity. A 60 per cent support would be practically worthless, and we hope to fix the figure for the long range program at not less than 90 per cent.

Two important questions as to cotton may be decided by Congress within the next few weeks. First, will acreage planted to cotten in 1949 be considered in arriving at cotton quotas on individual farms in 1950? Second, what sort of formula should be used in fixing cotton acreage quotas for the states, counties and individual farms in and after 1950? It is assured that if there is to be a support price on cotton in 1950 there will be a cotton acreage control program in 1950.

Production controls, however, would not be placed in operation without an affirmative vote of the producers themselves.

Wants Suggestions

The House Committee on Agriculture has heard some of the recommendations of the Farm Bureau, a nationwide organization, in regard to cotton acreage allotment problems. Farm Bureau members in West Texas should see to it that the West Texas viewpoint is not overlooked in the presentation of the Farm Bureau.

A group of West Texans are scheduled to appear before the House Committee on February . Committee officials advise that it wi'l not be possible to hear all individual farmers who want to appear, but they want to hear as many spokesmen of groups of farmers as possible in order to get a good picture of the situation throughout the cotton belt. The Committee hopes to conclude hearings as to cotton on February il, but the final draft of the long range legislation will not be agreed upon until a much later date.

I shall seek to be of all poss ble assistance in this important matter. I welcome the views of the people of our District, and I shall submit any suggestions and plans which are submitted to me to the House Committee Agriculture. Congressman Bob Poage of Waco and Congressman Gene Worley of Shamrock and Amarillo are members of the Agriculture Committee.

Dear Glenda: Today I was pleased very much about your letter. You wrote that you work be side school for extra spending money. I can't do that, for Mother works from morning 8 o'clock 'til 10 o'clock in the night, sometimes longer. She holds the office of secretary to an organiza-tion which helps the poor peo-ple. The weeks before Christ-mas I did not see my mother at all. She left early in the morning about 6 and came home very late at night. But this week she is at home. I bought her some books for Christmas and she can read hers and mine. She must net work at all at home, and I care for her like a baby, for I have holidays, too. Sometimes it makes me sorry that she has to sew the torn things or to darn the stockings on the Saturdays and Sundays.

Now I will tell you something about German Christmas. What you have heard about firecrackers, sparklers and skyrocketsthat is not right. The Christmas Day is a very quiet holiday. When I was a little girl, I was not allowed to enter the living room two days before Christmas. My mother told me that the Christmas Angel and Santa Claus are in the living room. Then on Christmas Evening, my Mother rang a bell and I could come. The first what I saw was the Christmas tree. It is a fir tree and we adorn it with silver glass balls, candles, cookies, little bells and lauretta. Under the tree are presents. At first, we sing some Christmas songs, then open the presents. In this time comes Santa Claus. You have to thank him and say a rhyme. Firecrackers, sparklers and skyrockets we use the night of 31 and 12 and New

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and conven-lence. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better serv-

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against vous interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

C. E. Reynolds of Oklahoma City, superintendent of the digging job, arrived here about two weeks ago, but was unable to begin the work until this week because of adverse weather condi-tions. With seven local laborers, he started digging yesterday on Washington Street, one-half block north of Main Street, tieing onto the manhole of the old system in the middle of the street. He will supervise the work in approximately 72 blocks where the new lines are to run. About 20 local laborers will be employed to assist him, he said vesterday. The wage scale is 75 cents an hour up.

Jim Oliver of Tulsa, Okla., contractor for the construction of the sewerage disposal plant, began the excavation this week, about 30 yards from the southeast corner of the city limits.

Mrs. Charles Daugherty was a patient in the Plains Hospital n Lubbock the first of the week.
