

Junior Rodeo decision expected at joint meeting Friday night

There is a strong possibility that a decision on whether or not the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo will be held here this year will come out of a joint meeting Friday night of officers and directors of Post Stampede Rodeo, Inc., and Post Junior Rodeo Association.

The joint meeting of the two rodeo groups will follow a meeting of Post Stampede officers and directors scheduled for 7:30 o'clock at the city hall.

which has been held here since 1948, is a precarious one. The juniors have been paying $300 a year for use of the Post Stampede Rodeo arena for their four-night show. This year, the senior rodeo group wants more money from the juniors so they can carry out needed improvements on the rodeo plant, which they estimate will cost from $6,000 to $7,000.

At a meeting Monday night, stockholders of the junior rodeo group decided to seek a joint meeting with Stampede officers and directors to see if some agreement can be worked out for continuation of the junior rodeo.

IT WAS BROUGHT out at Monday night's meeting that with a stock account of $1,500 and an operating account of only $156, the juniors would be unable to pay anywhere near half the improvement costs at the rodeo arena.

The senior rodeo group has told the juniors' adult directors that if the junior rodeo is discontinued this year, the 4-H organizations of the county will be given all concession rights at the Post Stampede Rodeo and that the seniors will return to them the 1958 arena rental fee of $300.

Alvin G. Davis of Brownfield, who inaugurated the junior rodeo here and who is also a stockholder in the senior group, said that in view of the Post Stampede's offer, dissolution of the junior rodeo association would be a "sound business move," but that in his opinion there is more at stake.

DAVIS CALLED attention to the tradition behind the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo, which for a number of years was billed as "the world's original junior rodeo." He also said that it not only is his opinion, but also that of a number of other rodeo fans that if given a choice, most of the people would rather see the junior rodeo continued than the senior rodeo.

Davis also pointed to the junior rodeo's value to the community, and said in his opinion this angle should be considered by those of the senior group who are not in favor of the junior rodeo's continuation.

"After all, Davis said, "the Post Stampede Rodeo, Inc., was organized for the benefit of the community. And, as far as use of the arena is concerned, the depreciation is no greater when two rodeos are held than it is if only one is held."

DAVIS SUGGESTED that rodeo fans of the community write the Chamber of Commerce expressing their viewpoints on the matter.

Davis said some idea of the junior rodeo's value to the community could be drawn from the fact that at least four area towns are wanting to carry on with the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo if the Post group gives it up through dissolution or consolidation.

He said Levelland and Brownfield had had their applications for the rodeo in for a number of years, and that Slaton and Tahoka also had expressed an interest in staging it if it should be given up here.

EVER SINCE ITS first year, the junior rodeo has been held as a county-wide 4-H project for the purpose of raising funds for a county 4-H building. This structure was recently completed with the help of Garza County on financing.

Harold Voss, secretary of Post Stampede, Inc., said the group would discuss the junior rodeo situation at its meeting Friday night and then hoped to be able to arrive at an agreement with the junior rodeo officers and directors at the joint meeting to follow.

OUTSTANDING CITIZEN AWARDS

Mayor James L. Minor and Mrs. Walter Boren received award plaques at Friday's Chamber of Commerce banquet upon their selection as the community's "outstanding man" and "outstanding woman" of 1958. The awards presentation is an annual affair.

Thirty-Second Year Post, Garza County, Texas, Thursday, February 19, 1959 Number 38

Public housing application made by Post

Post is now back "in the race" for federal funds for a 60-unit public housing project for this community.

Ward, secretary of the Public Housing Authority of Post, announced today that he has just completed "a big stack of work" involved in "re-applying" for a federal fund allocation.

The papers, requiring a lot of log-signatures, were mailed today to the Fort Worth architectural firm of Hedrick and Stanley, which is representing the Post Housing Authority in the application.

WARD EXPLAINED that by the Post's application for a 60-unit project was submitted last fall but already were enough applications in ahead of it to use up all funds allocated by congress.

It was then a question of waiting for congress this year to appropriate new funds in another public housing bill.

But applications totaling some 1-1/2 units, which had received allocations of federal funds, have since been dropped and funds remain available from 1958 to construct their 1,200 units.

POST IS NOW seeking to qualify 60 units among these 1,200 units which funds now are available for allocation.

Further Post's public housing authority would be successful will probably require several weeks yet to determine.

The public housing authority was organized here last summer by Mayor James Minor and the city engineer, Irby G. Metcalf, Jr., is its chairman.

Play is postponed by Junior Class

The junior class play scheduled for Friday night has tentatively been postponed to Friday night, Feb. 27, class sponsors James Pollock and James Galloway said today.

The play was postponed because of the Post-Floydada basketball game, and since the regional tournament will be under way at about next weekend, there is a possibility the play might have to be postponed again.

The class tryout plays which have been scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights of next week have been changed to Thursday and Saturday nights.

The title of the junior play—a three-act comedy—is "Susan Steps." There are 12 in the cast.

Cal Casteel appointed draft board chairman

Cal Casteel has been appointed Garza County chairman of Local Board No. 88 of the Selective Service System.

Casteel, who with his wife, Rose, operates Cal and Rose Casteel Photographic Arts Studio, succeeds E. Parker, who took office Jan. 1 as county judge.

Judge Parker recently was awarded a 19-year citation for his work as Garza County chairman of the board.

Over 200 attend C-C banquet 'Top' citizens given plaques

Mayor James Minor is Post's "man of the year" and Mrs. Walter Boren is this community's "woman of the year."

The pair were honored for their community good works Friday night to highlight the annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet in the school lunchroom which drew capacity crowd of over 200 Chamber members, wives and special guests.

Mayor Minor in being introduced for his plaque was cited for his community leadership during the past four years as mayor of this growing community and for his devoted efforts to bringing the White River dam project closer to reality.

Rock throwings at trains are probed

A special agent of the Santa Fe railroad is investigating three instances in Post and Southland in which rocks were thrown at No. 76, the southbound night passenger train, breaking out windows in the coaches.

The most recent rock throwing was last Friday night at Southland in which rocks broke through both panes of glass in an air-conditioned coach, shattering the glass in the passengers' faces. Fortunately no one was injured.

The two rock throwing instances in Post occurred Jan. 21 and Jan. 23 near the north crossing at Post with coaches of the same train the target.

E. A. Nelson, Santa Fe special agent, was here yesterday continuing his investigation.

Such instances can become federal offenses under the train wrecking statute.

Dry spell hurts late feed crops

Pre-irrigation of cropland is under way on all irrigated farms of Garza County, but on dryland farms there has been no relief from the dry spell, with no moisture in sight.

Another sandstorm blew in Tuesday, but it was not near as bad as the one of Feb. 9. County Agent Lewis C. Herron said there was little cropland damage from the blowing, but that the sand hurt some of the late-planted feed just up and waiting for moisture.

The agent also said some stands of the late-planted feed crops are being lost through lack of moisture.

Unseasonably high temperatures accompanied Tuesday's blowing but the mercury took a plunge Wednesday, with chilling winds, but very little dust.

SATURDAY IN DALLAS

Mrs. R. H. Tate was accompanied to Dallas Saturday by her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Mask Jr. of Decatur, where they saw the Lamar High School swimming team of Houston, win first place in a swimming meet. Mrs. Tate's son, Harold Tate, coaches the team. He and his wife visited with Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Mask before returning to Houston.

Coach Al Parsons and his high school basketball team are to be congratulated on winning a co-share of the district cage championship with Floydada, but the big emphasis now is on the title playoffs coming up this weekend between the two clubs. If the Post "gym" had twice the seating capacity that it does it wouldn't hold nearly all the fans who want to see that game here. And we imagine the cage fever will be such that there will be a lot of fans who will make the trip to Floydada to see the Antelopes in their playoff game there—and certainly to a neutral court if a third and deciding game proves necessary. The whole town is backing you, Antelopes—let's grab the title with a two-straight sweep. And you fans—let's be on hand to root our lads in—and that means being on hand wherever they play Post, Floydada, or neutral court.

Now the Chamber banquet is over—and it was a humdinger—Harold Lucas, incoming president, and the new board of directors have plenty of work to do. Harold says the Chamber is going to launch an all-out membership drive shortly. One thing we're hoping in the way of new Chamber members—is that the oil firms busy in the Garza area and the oil supply companies located here will step up to the counter and buy Chamber of Commerce memberships. We want to see the oil folks step into their share of civic leadership here—and the best way we know is through the Post Chamber of Commerce. A progressive community here will be a real help to oil firms in the area. So the goals of the Chamber and the oil firms appear to be mutual ones.

Somebody raised the question last week whether our "educated guess" of 1,200 oil producers in Garza County was anywhere near correct. Some of the oil folks were guessing there are upward of 500 "unconnected wells" in the county, which would put the total figure (POSTINGS — See Page 8)

Post, Floydada tangle here tonight in opening playoff

The Post Antelopes and Floydada Whirlwinds, each owning a one-half share of the District 3-AA basketball championship ship, play here at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the first game of a two-out-of-three playoff series to determine the 3-AA representative in the bi-district playoff.

The second game will be played at Floydada at 7:30 o'clock Friday night, and if a third game is necessary, it will be played Saturday night on a neutral court yet to be decided on by officials of the two schools.

The playoff arrangements were made yesterday by Supts. R. T. Smith of Post and I. T. Graves of Floydada and Coaches Albert Parsons of Post and Paul Huntington of Floydada in a meeting at Ralls.

The winner between Post and Floydada will meet the tough Seminole Indians of District 4-AA in the bi-district playoff and the right to compete in the regional tournament at Lubbock. Seminole won 10 games without a loss in copping the District 4-AA championship.

Principal Glenn Whittenberg of Post said today that admission prices for tonight's game will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Limits set on expansion costs $1.50 tax will be school 'top'

Post Independent School District Trustees are nearing a decision on the proposed school bond issue.

At a special meeting Monday night, they decided to ask their fiscal agent, Irby G. Metcalf, Jr., to determine "if a $908,000 school bond issue would stay inside a $1.50 tax rate and a 7 per cent ratio of bonded indebtedness to present school district valuation."

Metcalf plans to go to Dallas Friday to confer with other banking officials and work up the necessary fiscal information.

THE TRUSTEES are expected to hold another special session sometime next week to receive Metcalf's report and take final action on determining the scope of the school expansion project and set the machinery in motion for a special bond election, probably in March.

The six trustees attending the Monday night session—Russell Wilks, Jr., being the only member absent—voted unanimously in favor of the $908,000 estimated cost for the complete school expansion plan if it could be secured at a $1.50 tax rate, and bonded indebtedness held under 7 per cent of the present valuation.

The present tax rate is $1.30. (SCHOOL BOARD—See Page 8)

State okays work on east lane 84

Improvements on the east lane of U. S. Highway 84 from Post to the Scurry County line have been accepted by the State Highway Department, according to Julian F. Smith, resident engineer.

Contractors on the job, which cost $207,650, were Strain Bros. of San Angelo.

The construction included asphaltic concrete pavement and one-course shoulder seal.

The resident engineer said they are getting ready to rebuild the west lane of the divided highway to make it comparable to the new east lane.

Election filing deadlines set

Filing deadline for candidates for city office is 30 days before the date of the election, according to state election laws.

That means that March 7 will be the last day for candidates to file with City Secretary Gertrude Hopkins to get their name on the ballot.

Thirty days before the date of the election is also the deadline for filing for the two trustee positions to be filled on the school board. Candidates are required to file with Bobby Pierce, board secretary.

In the city election on Tuesday, April 7, a mayor and two councilmen are to be elected. Terms expiring are those of Mayor James L. Minor and Councilmen Roy Baker and John N. Hopkins.

The school trustee election is to be held Saturday, April 4, with the terms of Quannah Maxey and J. E. Birdwell expiring.

Maxey candidate for re-election

Quannah Maxey, one of the two Post Independent School District trustees whose positions on the board come up for filing at the April 4 election, announced this week he will seek re-election.

Maxey is from the Graham community and was elected to the board two years ago at an election following school district consolidations.

Maxey thus became the first candidate for the spring city council and school district elections.

J. E. Birdwell, the other school trustee whose term expires this spring, told The Dispatch at the trustees' special meeting Monday night he has not yet made up his mind whether or not to seek re-election.

Civic group sets Sunday meeting

Post's Civic Improvement Committee, composed of laymen and pastors of most local churches, will meet at 4 p. m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church, R. J. (Rube) Jennings, chairman of the group, announced this week.

The group met last Sunday afternoon to hear a report of the meeting with the city council over the committee's law enforcement recommendations.

Jennings urged all members to attend the Sunday session.

Liquor charges filed on pair

Three charges of illegal possession for purpose of sale were filed in county court Saturday following three raids by agents of the State Liquor Control Board.

Two of the charges were filed against Homer Wynn, making a total of five charges against him since Jan. 1, and the other was filed against Evariston Valdez.

Wynn made bonds of $1,500 on each of the two new charges filed against him. Valdez paid fine and costs totaling $376.45 after pleading guilty before County Judge J. L. Parker.

The charges against Wynn were filed as the result of two raids on the Tippitt Inn in the "flats." Whiskey, wine, beer, gin and vodka were confiscated by the liquor board men.

Valdez was filed on following a raid on a small cafe he operates in the south part of town. He was charged with illegal possession of beer, whiskey and vodka.

Also in county court, Otho Lee Simpson paid a $100 fine and costs and Charlie Goss a $50 fine and costs, both on liquor law violation charges dating back for some time.

Southland home is burglarized

The home of the Rev. S. M. Bean, pastor of the Southland Methodist Church, was burglarized Monday night, apparently just before the Rev. Mr. Bean and his wife returned from a visit.

Sheriff Carl Rains said the minister called him late Monday night to report that the intruders had entered the house through an unlocked rear door.

The Rev. Mr. Bean told the sheriff the burglar took an apple and a quart of milk from the refrigerator and stole a screwdriver set and about $2 in change from a piggy bank. He said two small jewelry boxes also were broken into, but that nothing was missed from them.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Nita Burress has returned to her home at 804 West Fourth Street after staying in the home of her sisters, Miss Bess Ramsey and Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, during her recovery. Mrs. Burress fell several weeks ago and broke her hip.

PLAQUES AWARDED 'IN APPRECIATION'

County Agricultural Agent Lewis C. Herron and Post's three directors on the White River Municipal Water District were awarded appreciation plaques by the Chamber of Commerce at Friday night's banquet. From left to right are Tom Bouchier, who is chairman of the White River Board; Dr. A. C. Surman, Mrs. R. J. Jennings, who received her husband's plaque in his absence, and County Agent Herron.

Time is here for 'candidate hunting'

Spring is in the air here this week with coffee counter talk beginning to focus on who may become candidates in the municipal and school district elections in April.

There's still plenty of time before balloting, but not so much time left for candidate finding—at least as far as the school trustees are concerned.

The law requires candidates for school trustees to file 30 days in advance of election day. Since the school district election here will be Saturday, April 4, that means that candidates must declare themselves and jump into the race in the next two weeks.

The Post Independent School district will elect two trustees on that date. Justiceburg will name two to its school board and Close City will select three at their April elections.

Time isn't quite so short in the municipal election. Candidates have until ten days before the April 7 election to flip their lids—toss their hats into the ring.

Much of the talk this week centers around a likely successor to Mayor James Minor, who announced last week that he wouldn't seek reelection. That made it official. He had been saying the same thing for some months.

James has made Post an excellent mayor and most folks showing an interest in local politics these days are expressing concern as to who will be his successor.

There is one point to keep in mind about the posts to be filled on the town council and school boards in April. Qualified men need to be encouraged by their friends to make the races. They need to feel that they are wanted—and needed.

A position on either local board requires so much time that it is a personal sacrifice to serve. At the same time, Post will not progress with its city and its schools unless good men are willing to serve.

That's why the encouragement of friends is so important in any decision to seek a city or school post.

Whoever you think would make a good candidate, tell him or her so. Your opinion may be very important—but it won't count unless it is made known.—JC

Make the child the watchword

On the occasion of the Founder's Day program, held last Thursday by the Post Parent-Teacher Association, it was called to our attention that the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will observe its golden anniversary at the state convention in Dallas in November. The Texas Congress was organized in Dallas in October of 1909.

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers now numbers over 640,000 women and men, but it could number twice that many and still not include all the parents of school children. Very few local units number on their membership rolls more than a token representation of the school patrons.

Actually, Feb. 17 is Founder's Day, but many units—including the one here—held their observance on regular meeting days, not all of which coincided with the exact anniversary date of the founding of the organization.

The organization, first known as the National Congress of Mothers, was founded as the result of the dream of Alice McLellan Birney of Georgia who, with the financial support of Phoebe Apperson Hearst of California, called together that first meeting of mothers. The all-important aim of the Congress was to be child study, and that has remained the chief objective down through the years.

Said Mrs. Birney in her opening address: "Let mothers, fathers, nurses, educators, ministers, legislators, and, mightiest of all, the press, make the child the watchword of the hour; let all else be secondary, and coming generations will behold a new world and a new people."

Commented the amused and amazed press: "There were in the brilliant gathering ladies of great wealth and high social position, and there were others comparatively unknown in the circles of fashion, but all met upon the common plane of sisterhood in the same cause."

Again, "A significant event in the history of American womanhood that which none greater or more illustrious of like purpose has ever been held in the U. S. or perhaps the world."

Today, no one is amazed at the conscientious work done by Parent-Teacher organizations throughout the land, but too many of us are failing to participate. The majority of us are leaving to a comparative handful the all-important aim of "making the child the watchword of the hour." —CD

Let's welcome the Bookmobile!

It won't be long now until the Texas State Library's mobile library—the bookmobile—will roll into Garza County on one leg of a "get acquainted" tour of the rural areas it soon will be serving in Garza, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd and Kent counties.

The bookmobile will be in Post from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, on its exhibition tour, the purpose of which is to acquaint the people with just what a bookmobile is and what it has to offer. Many people have seen a bookmobile without knowing that it is a free library service.

Bookmobile Librarian Mary Jo Vines has sent word to this newspaper that "everyone is cordially invited to come in and inspect the traveling library when it comes to your community."

The people of Post and Garza County, where adequate library facilities have long been lacking, are urged to show their appreciation of this free library system by paying the bookmobile a visit while it is here on its exhibition tour.

Actual "check out" service for the people of the five counties is scheduled to begin March 2 and will continue for a period of one year as part of the State Library's rural library service demonstration program being conducted under the Library Services Act.

The purpose of the project is to demonstrate, for a period of one year, the need and value of a cooperative library system in the rural areas and even in some of the towns of the counties involved. State Library officials say it is hoped that the counties will continue such a system with local finances, after the close of the demonstration.

So, if you have or if you haven't already seen a bookmobile and even if you already know what it's for, try to take time out to visit the one coming here on Feb. 28. Our response to the exhibition tour and our interest in and use of the bookmobile during its one-day stay in the area might well be the means of getting permanent free library service started in Garza County.—CD

Safeguarding the pupil's health

The school board's recent vote to require that beginning pupils be inoculated against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio, is, in our opinion, a wise one.

In many schools, notably the larger ones, inoculations have been required for a long time, and we understand that they were here at one time, but that in the last few years this requirement has not been rigidly adhered to.

The five types of diseases listed by the board in its vote to require inoculations are common in children of that age group, and each is serious in nature. The welfare of each child, as well as that of the school system and community as a whole, was in mind as the school trustees made this important decision. All that remains for it to work out as a safeguard to the pupil's health is for the parents of beginning pupils to cooperate by seeing that the inoculations are given in advance of the school term opening.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Surely it is refreshing to see someone come up with a new idea occasionally, in other words, find a "thinking man." The first cases have been brought before the public recently. The first was the teaching of "American Heritage," sponsored by the Lampasas schools, where it originated. Then the San Angelo schools have thrown tradition to the winds and started the teaching of science in the first grade. Both are forward steps in the field of education.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

Headlines two years ago, compared or contrasted with headlines telling the story of the current legislative session in Texas, are reminders that time does bring changes. Whereas water was headlined two years ago as the No. 1 problem of the state, financing is the big question this year. The Legislature didn't have imports of oil to contend with and a big deficit two years ago. Water is no less a state problem than it was, however, although we are vague—and possibly other run-of-mine citizens are also—about what can be done toward the solution of the water problem.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IT'S BEEN getting real crowded out around the schools at night here lately. Most every weekday night there's a basketball game—anywhere from one to four—going on in the gym and, at the same time, something going on in the high school, the junior high school, the grade school or the lunchroom.

Some nights it gets so you couldn't stir the parked cars with a stick, not even if you had a big enough stick. Picking at random a few things that have been going on in the buildings at the same time basketball games were in progress, we can think of school board meetings, junior play practice, P-TA Founder's Day program, and Chamber of Commerce banquet.

OVER THE weekend, we heard of a couple of people getting up and leaving some of the proceedings—one because of the crowd and the other because she'd been led to believe that the main speaker hadn't showed up. Things got so noisy at Friday night's basketball game with Floydada that one fan left the side of the gym he was sitting on to seek a seat in more peaceful surroundings. Unable to find it, he washed his hands of the whole deal and went home—with Post leading by only one point. We can't say that we blame him. There was a time or two during the game when we'd have left if we could have found room to get out.

They pulled a real shenanigan at the Chamber of Commerce banquet by spreading the word that the main speaker hadn't showed up. It was the usual way of leading up to "Stuttering Sam" Hunter's address (he had been billed here as Hugh Flough, noted agriculturist) but one woman took the rumor as the straight goods and went home. We can't say that we blame her either. There is so much going on nowadays that a person can leave most any sort of a function and find something else that needed to be done in the first place.

IT SEEMS THAT every Valentine Day there is more candy sold than on the previous Valentine, and this year was no exception—reporting the same sales increase, perhaps we're all becoming a little more mellow toward each other.

Last week's 32-page special edition of The Post Dispatch on Garza County's 50,000,000th barrel of oil is still on the best-seller list. Charlie Henderson, retired geologist and oil operator, told someone close to us that the issue was the best one ever published by The Dispatch, and that he wanted to buy more copies to send friends. Incidentally, we still have a few copies of the special edition left here at The Dispatch office, but they won't last long at the rate they are going.

SOMEONE WANTING to buy a buck rabbit ran a classified ad in last week's Dispatch. We didn't take the ad and haven't made any inquiries as to who ran it, but we ARE wondering if he got any calls. Chances are he did, since Dispatch classified ads seldom fail. A few years ago, we were working in a town west of here at the time of the opening of a new auto supply store. The store manager promptly inserted an ad in the paper saying he wanted to buy three raccoons. No one ever figured out what Charlie Price—that was the store manager's name—wanted with three coons, but that one little classified ad set everyone to buzzing about the new store and its manager—and that, no doubt, was his purpose in running the ad.

Another example of the big hurry we're all in nowadays was reported as follows in last week's Crosbyton Review:

Tax Collector J. C. Smith is hunting for the fellow who registered for license plate number 19D246. This car owner, it seems, grabbed up not only his records, but those belonging to the county, as well. So, they've got to find him or he's really not registered at all.

LIFE IS STRANGE today. First we try to keep the budget from becoming unbalanced. Then we go worrying about our minds.

Our friend up the street says the high school age is when boys notice that girls notice boys who notice girls.

AND THAT REMINDS us. Don't forget Friday night's junior class play—"Susan Steps Out."

State Library bookmobile to be in Post on Feb. 28

Texas State Library Bookmobile Librarian Mary Jo Vines announced today the mobile library will be in Post from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, on a "get acquainted" tour of the rural areas it soon will be serving in Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza and Kent counties.

Actual "check out" service for the people of these communities is scheduled to begin March 3 and will continue for a period of one year as part of the State Library's rural library service demonstration program being conducted under the Library Services Act.

The demonstration will feature cooperative practices including interlibrary loans among existing libraries in the five-county area, thus creating a library system which can draw upon the facilities of the State Library, the University of Texas Extension Loan Division, Texas A&M College Library and others.

Through this system, virtually any request for a book or information material can be handled through the Bookmobile Librarian. Headquarters are in the Ellison Building in Crosbyton, where a stock of some 8,000 books is being installed to be circulated through the "bookwagon," which can carry approximately 2,000 at a time.

Southland youth visiting in East

SOUTHLAND — George Ellis, a McMurry College student and a Southland High School graduate, was one of three students chosen to represent the Texas Chapter of the Methodist Student Movement at the United Nations Conference in New York City.

Ellis and his companions left Dallas for New York Saturday. During the group's four-day stay they were to be introduced to UN delegates and also attend a Broadway show.

Following the New York visit, the trio was to depart for Washington, D. C., by bus for a four-day visit.

"Everyone is cordially invited to come in and inspect the travelling library when it comes to his community."

She pointed out that it is comfortably heated for the winter, and is equipped with an air-conditioner for the summer. Its interior is lined with finished oak shelving in the same manner as the stationary libraries "downtown."

Bible Thoughts "THE BOOK OF GOD"

by RONNIE PARKER

The Bible has been an anvil on which many a hammer has absolutely been worn out. Critics and enemies have tried continually to destroy it. But the Bible stands. It is here. We have it. I do not know why skeptics have assumed that the Bible is not divine. It bears the marks of divinity.

It is an indisputable fact that what man can produce man can destroy. Why then, if the Bible is a mere product of mortal man, have nineteen centuries of assault upon the Bible been unable to destroy it? Down through the centuries enemy after enemy has come forth to war against God's word. But this Holy book has survived. Again and again the most powerful governments in the world have sought to eradicate it from the earth. Men have died on the gallows for reading it, and they have been burned at the stake for possessing it. If the Bible had been man's book it would have gone down in defeat and would have been forgotten centuries ago.

God has not left us to grope in darkness. We have His divine guide book. May I urge that you use it in view of eternity.

Double ring ceremony unites Marca Holland, Auvy McBride

Miss Marca Dean Holland and Auvy Lee McBride were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Southeast Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. W. J. Duncan of Lubbock and Walter B. Holland and Mr. and Mrs. Thelbert McBride of the Graham community.

The Rev. Wayland Edwards, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a large basket of carnations and gladioli, with candelabra and arrangements of fern marking the archway.

The bride was escorted in marriage by her step-father. She wore a white chiffon dress with an underskirt of white satin. The bodice was accented in miniature seed pearls and a cummerbund waistline, and featured a draped neckline that extended into a fold in back. Her headpiece was a tiny wreath of seed pearls, which held her shoulder-length veil. To complete her ensemble, she chose white opera gloves, white satin shoes and a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

She also carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed, and blue, with a penny in her shoe for luck.

Miss Judy Gossett was maid of honor. She wore a full-skirted dress of pink with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Best man was Jerry Hays, and Ronnie Morris and Delwin Fluitt were ushers.

Mrs. J. A. Stallings played organ selections and Miss Nora Jane Mock sang, "Tell Me Why" and "Whither Thou Goest".

Our Proud Heritage

Every American can be justly proud of our great Nation. From its towering wind-swept peaks to the gentle rolling grasslands; nowhere else in the world are the bountiful blessings of freedom so richly enjoyed. And yet, how many of us can recall the great cost of that freedom. Have we forgotten the ragged, half-starved pitiful little army which stood guard in the frozen drifts of Valley Forge. Can we forget the tall lonely man who, in his country's darkest hour kneeled in the snow and prayed for guidance.

"Oh, God, we humbly believe our cause is just... in Thee is our strength."

Very few of us will ever have to face the tremendous responsibilities of George Washington, and yet, each of us in his own way can find the same comfort and guidance through the Lord as did our first president. Renew your pledge to God and Country by faithfully attending the church of your choice.

© 1959, Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 287 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 4 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevies of all sizes are turning-to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy!

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) at about 1,500. We've done a little figuring and come up with the total of 1,255 active producers in the county as of last Oct. 1 (via Phifer Petroleum Publications new "Petroleum Review of Garza and Lynn counties.) Add say 50 more producers in the last four and one-half months and the total comes out fairly close to 1,300 producing oil wells as of right now.

One of the fellows from Shell Pipeline Corporation popped in the other day and reported that the new pipeline out of southern Garza County moved 220,000 barrels of oil in January and that nine new leases have been added to the line—some of them in Borden County—since the pipeline went into operation last December. He raised the question if all the flare gas circling Post and the new oil drilling wouldn't eventually bring a gasoline plant to Post. We've made some inquiries since and have been told by Brown Brothers that the gas now being "flared" from the shallow Garza field in and around Post isn't in sufficient quantity and is too high in sulphur content to be piped off for use. Cost of treating the sulphur is prohibitive. And anyway, we were told that the oil-gas ratio for the field is low and that there is insufficient gas actually to keep the flares burning. The firm has to keep a constant check of the flares to keep them lighted or Post would soon have a sour sulphur smell. A carbon black plant was set up south of Post some nine years ago to try to use the gas—but there wasn't enough of it. For that we are thankful. We are no carbon black fan. Anyway the only possibility for a gasoline extraction plant in this vicinity appears to rest on the future new oil development south of Post where the oil-gas ratio is much higher.

Coming Sunday, the Postex Mills here will be switched over to a completely "washed air" system of automatic air conditioning and heating. Bahnsen & Co. of Charlotte, N. C., is completing a $70,000 installation of air-conditioning and humidification system in the mill's new weave shop. The shop will be switched over to the new system Sunday. The plant, which began its air-conditioning in 1956, is now all air cooled—some half mile of buildings. Bahnsen & Co. since Christmas also has been installing the same type of air-conditioning in the sewing room addition.

We got so busy with the 50,000-barrel of Oil Edition of The Dispatch last week we overlooked a mention in this column of two new additions to the staff over at Caprock Chevrolet, Burnie Bingham, a resident of the Lynn and Garza county areas for the last 35 years, is the new Caprock salesman. He moved to Post last December and is making his home with his wife and two of his daughters, Nancy, 12, and Rhoda Kay, 2½, at 915 West Sixth Street. Burnie's third daughter is Mrs. Bobbie Barker, also of Post. Although devoting most of his life to farming in the Tahoka and Gordon communities, Burnie has had previous experience at selling automobiles and likes the work very much. The other new hand at Caprock is Clois (Nobby) Noblett the new office manager. He has moved to Post with his wife and son, Russell Don, 15 months old, from Crosbyton and previously had experience with the Reid Chevrolet agency at Abernathy. The Nobletts are looking for a house to rent and are now living at 108 West Sixth. They are members of the First Baptist Church. And we want to welcome this fine young family to town.

Tom Power, Post's Ford dealer, also has two new "hands" at his agency now—both new salesmen. They are Homer Gordon who joined the firm a couple of weeks back, and Leon Miller who has moved across the street from the ASC office where he has been employed for the last five years. Both Homer and Leon are well known to most Garza folks so don't need any introduction.

The Guy Floyds are back in Lubbock from their flying trip to Trinidad off the South American coast and report to friends they had a wonderful trip.

C-C-banquet—

(Continued From Front Page) THE "SURPRISE banquet speaker" was Cecil M. (Stuttering Sam) Hunter of Tulsa, who was introduced by Toastmaster Ollie Weakley as "Mr. Hicks", a friend from a neighboring town whom he called to the front to say a few words "until the regular speaker could arrive."

Hunter soon had the audience laughing uproariously at his stuttering and "ineffectual" remarks. After the audience caught on to the fact that Hunter actually was the banquet speaker, he poked fun at just about everything American—including the Chamber of Commerce.

"If you can get everybody here in Post to trade at home and spend their money with local merchants," Hunter said, "well—you'll surprise me."

HUNTER HAS traveled 44 of the nation's 49 states presenting the same sort of off-beat stuttering humor before all kinds of conventions. Chamber officials had conducted quite a pantomime of worry about the "missing speaker" all during the dinner.

Chamber Manager Johnny Hopkins gave a report on the financial condition of the organization. Lee in his remarks as retiring president urged his hearers to give their full support, both in effort and financing, to the Chamber during the next three years—which Lee foresees as crucial in community growth.

HE CITED Bryan J. Williams, Chamber president the previous year for planning the successful 1958 Program of Progress for the Chamber and launching the financial campaign which increased Chamber budget funds last year from $4,500 to nearly $10,000. He asked Williams to stand and said he wished he had a special "appreciation plaque" for Williams.

Lee introduced the new Chamber board of directors and Harold Lucas, the incoming 1959 Chamber president.

Earnings base for workers under SS increases by $600

Higher earnings, up to $4,900 per year, can now be credited to individual social security accounts, according to a reminder statement issued by John G. Hutton, district manager, Social Security Administration. The new earnings base for all workers under the social security system replaces the old $4,200 per year ceiling which was in effect from 1955 through 1958. The increased base will apply to future social security benefit determinations as well as regular security tax contributions. Hutton said, "It means that many individuals whose earnings exceed $4,200 per year will pay more but get more when benefits become due. The higher tax and benefit base reflects the general increase in earnings levels in the past few years and the principle of living benefits related to earnings. It will result in greater over-all disability, death, and disability protection for most people under social security," Mr. Hutton said.

School board—

(Continued From Front Page) THE PROPOSED school expansion program as tentatively approved Monday night would call for: (1) A new high school, estimated cost $448,750.

(2) New gymnasium, estimated cost $159,750.

(3) New football bleachers to seat 2,052 on home side and $36 on visitors', estimated cost $13,000.

(4) Football fieldhouse (dressing rooms), estimated cost $30,000.

(5) EXPANSION OF lunchroom, enlarging kitchen, adding new kitchen equipment, and expanding seating capacity of lunchroom from 150 to 300, estimated cost $28,000.

(6) Complete remodeling of present high school building which would include converting present auditorium to six classrooms on lower floor and large assembly room on second floor which could at a later date be converted to an additional six classrooms. Also included would be the rewiring and re-lighting of the entire building, moving of several partitions to add classrooms or increase their size, and increasing and improving rest-room facilities.

The remainder of the cost would be for architectural fees and $50,000 in equipment.

INCREASE OF THE total estimated cost above the $850,000 mark, previously considered, was to enable the full remodeling of the present high school building to be carried out for its future use as a junior high school.

Under the $850,000 figure, this remodeling would be held practically in conversion of the school auditorium into six additional classrooms with an assembly room above which at a later date might be made into six more classrooms.

Boosting the high school remodeling to $128,000 estimated cost would permit a complete overhaul of the building as originally planned by the architects.

Trustees took the position Monday night that if the building could be completely remodeled without getting the tax rate over the $1.50 mark the trustees have been holding all along as a tax rate ceiling, then it would be best to get it all done now.

Co-champs Post, Floydada to meet in playoff series

Winner to clash with 4-AA Seminole quint

The Post Antelopes and Floydada Whirlwinds, co-champions of district 3-AA, will meet in a two-out-of-three playoff series to determine the district's representative in the bi-district playoff against the Seminole Indians, District 4-AA champs.

Post and Floydada school officials had not completed plans for playoffs at the time The Dispatch sports page went to press.

Floydada defeated Slaton, 58 to 51, Tuesday night to pull into a tie with Post for the district championship.

Antelopes outlast 'Winds, 55 to 48, in hectic contest

In a game marred by temper flareups and a near-brawl in the closing seconds, the Post Antelopes defeated the Floydada Whirlwinds, 55 to 48, here Friday night to take over the top rung in the District 3-AA standings.

The game concluded the regular season for the Antelopes and left them with a 6-2 record—their best mark in district play in nearly 10 years. The defeat left the Whirlwinds with a 5-2 record and with only the Slaton Tigers standing between them and a first place tie.

AN ALMOST incredible shooting streak that saw the Antelopes rack up 21 points before the Whirlwinds finally got on the scoreboard with 60 seconds to go in the first quarter practically demoralized the Floydada five, but they bounced back from a 25-5 first quarter deficit to make a game of it the rest of the way.

With one minute to go and the Antelopes ahead, 21-0, Bill Gilliland hit a free throw for Floydada's first point, and four more buckets—two by each team—were scored in a fast and furious finish to the opening period.

IN THE SECOND quarter, the 'Winds began whittling on the 'Antelopes big lead, and had cut it to 34-24 at the half.

The visitors came back strong in the third quarter to outscore the Antelopes, 14 to 5, and narrow the gap to one point, 39-38, at the buzzer.

But the Antelopes, stared in the face by the prospects of losing after blowing a 21-point lead, put on a rally of their own to pull away by three points and then five, but with Floydada closing the gap each time. That is when tempers began flaring.

Curtis Didway went out on fouls, and was followed by Bill Gilliland of Floydada, who had been hurting the home team with his outside shooting. Gilliland, with only three fouls against him, was ejected after a tangle which left Jimmy Short sprawled on the floor.

WITH THE Antelopes five points ahead, Coach Parsons pulled his regulars and sent in the reserves. In less than three seconds, Kenny Poole of the Antelopes was ejected for an alleged intentional foul. Seconds later, Don Vickers of Floydada was taken out of the game after walking toward the Post bench, but turned in the middle of the court and rushed back to the Antelope bench, where he had to be restrained from attacking Didway.

The game ended a few seconds after order was restored.

PROBABLY THE largest crowd ever to attend a basketball game here saw the contest. There were scores of fans from Floydada and also a number of people from Tahoka and Slaton, including members of the basketball teams of those two towns.

Pandemonium reigned throughout the contest as Post shot off to its big lead, then fought off the Whirlwinds' gap-closing rallies. The game was rough throughout, with one team as guilty as the other in the roughhouse tactics. Some of the players on both teams played it clean. Some of the others didn't, and that was the story.

The box score:

Mustangs and Raiders clash Saturday night in Lubbock Coliseum

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech plays its 10th home basketball game tonight against the Southern Methodist Mustangs in the Coliseum Saturday night.

Second place in the Southwest conference race will be the probable award for the winner, as Texas Tech almost has a mathematical clinch on the title.

Texas Tech will be trying to avenge its worst defeat of the season, a 73-59 loss to SMU in Dallas last month.

Remaining games are with Rice on Houston Feb. 24, Baylor at Austin Feb. 25, and Arkansas at Lubbock March 3.

Short hits gaudy 21-point total

Junior forward Jimmy Short bucked 23 points against Floydada Friday night to wind up regular season with a 421-point total, which is believed to be a new team scoring record.

Short's mark certainly is ahead of Antelope individual scoring records of the last few years, and none of those posted in previous years when less emphasis was on scoring—less believed to top the total.

Senior center Scotty Pierce broke 300-point mark when he racked 19 points to boost his regular season total to 301.

Following are the scoring totals:

	G	FG	FT	PF	TP
Short	22	175	71	62	421
Pierce	22	120	61	74	301

Girls beat Floydada for third in district

The Post Antelope girls' basketball team concluded its 1958-59 season here Friday night with a resounding 55 to 12 victory over Floydada.

The victory left Coach Jiggs King's team with a 5-3 record in District 3-AA play. They are in third place in the district standings, topped only by the championship Spur team and second place Slaton.

The Post girls opened with a rush against Floydada, rolling up a 14-6 score by the end of the first quarter and finishing the first half out in front, 28-8.

At the end of the third period, Post was ahead, 38-12, and held the visitors scoreless in the final period while racking up 20 points.

Kay Martin and Glenda Whittenberg tied for scoring honors with 14 each. Janet Stephens and Leta Stone had 11 each; Peggy Ramsey, 5, and Ann Morris, 4.

Also seeing action were starting guards Pat Wheatley, Sandra Veach and Beth Kemp and Lois Hodges, Frances Barron, Jane Maxey and Danella Bateman.

It was the final game for four seniors—Kay Martin and Janet Stephens, forwards, and Sandra Veach and Frances Barron, guards.

The Post team was the only District 3-AA sextet to defeat Spur in a conference game.

Cook teams lose at Colorado City

Post's 7th and 8th grade boys' basketball teams journeyed to Colorado City Wednesday night of last week, where they made good showings in losing to teams which had them beat in height.

Coach Lawrence Cook's 7th graders lost, 28-20, but his fast-improving 8th graders went down by only two points, 22-20.

A dismal third quarter, in which they scored only two points while Colorado City was getting eight, led to the 8th grade team's defeat. Post led 6-3 at the end of the first quarter and 13-5 at halftime, but were only two points in front, 15-13, going into the final period. They still couldn't get rolling and managed only five points to their opponents' nine.

Buddy Moreland and James Chancellor shared scoring honors for Post with 6 points apiece. John Valdez got 4 and Glen Polk hit for the same number. Others in the Post line-up were Royce Chance, Ken Rankin, Steve Bullard and Jerry Bush.

The 7th grade team scored 11 points in the first quarter to Colorado City's 15, and outscored the winners, 4-2, in the second quarter to trail by 17-15 at halftime. The winners were out in front 22-18 at the end of the third period.

Pat Cornell paced the Post scorers with 7 points. Wendell Johnson had 5, Johnny Mayfield and Jackie Baldrée, 3 each, and Jackie Fluitt, 2. Others playing were Danny Stone and Richard Hart.

Pat Cornell named to tourney team

Post's 7th grade boys' basketball team lost to Snyder, 33 to 17, in the Lamesa tournament, but got some consolation out of Pat Cornell being selected on the all-tournament team.

The future Antelopes scored only two points against Snyder until midway of the third quarter, but finished up by outscoring their taller opponents in that period, and holding their own in the final canto.

Cornell and Fluitt scored 7 points each for Post, with James Chancellor getting the other three. The Post starters also included Wendell Johnson and Jackie Baldrée.

Judge to attend A&M conference on Feb. 24-27th

County Judge J. E. Parker said today he plans to attend the County Judges' and Commissioners' Conference in College Station Feb. 24-27. He said that at least two of the four commissioners probably will attend the conference, but that none of them had said for sure whether or not they will be able to attend.

The conference, to be held at Texas A&M College's Memorial Student Center, is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and County Judges' and Commissioners' Association of Texas.

According to V. G. Young, state agricultural agent, and President Ralph M. Hall of the sponsoring organizations, the three-day "back to school" conference program was developed from suggestions by county officials. Its primary purpose is to give those attending a better understanding of the many problems which face commissioners' courts in these fast-changing times.

Such topics as the legal aspects of commissioners' courts and county judges' offices; road machinery operation and maintenance; county finances, including budgets, tax rates, county funds and boards of equalization; probate and juvenile courts; road construction and maintenance; right-of-way problems, and the importance of agriculture to the economy of Texas counties will be discussed by outstanding authorities in the respective fields.

Many of the speakers will come from the various parts of the Texas A&M College system, state highway department, office of the attorney general, and the judges' and commissioners' association.

Junior Antelope teams make clean sweep against Tahoka

Post junior high teams won three games from Tahoka cagers here last Thursday night.

The 8th grade boys won, 25-20; the 7th grade boys, 25-18, and the 8th grade girls, 22-14.

Tahoka's 7th grade girls' team did not put in an appearance and the game was forfeited to the Post team, which already is assured of at least a tie for the junior high conference championship.

Post's 8th grade boys were "hot" in two quarters and "cold" in two in posting their win. They held a 12-6 lead at the end of the first period, a 14-10 margin at halftime and a 24-12 lead at the end of the third quarter. In the final canto, Post scored only one point to Tahoka's eight.

John Valdez was high scorer for Coach Lawrence Cook's team with 10 points. Others adding to the Post total were Glen Polk, 7; James Chancellor, 6, and Royce Chance, 2. Buddy Moreland failed to score, but played a good defensive game.

The Post team was ahead all the way in the 7th grade boys' game, scoring six points in the opening frame while holding Tahoka scoreless. Post held a 15 to 7 lead at the end of the first half and were out in front 22-11 going into the fourth quarter.

Pat Cornell's 10 points was high for Post. Jackie Fluitt scored 7, Jackie Baldrée, 4, and Wendell Johnson and Johnny Mayfield, 2 each. Danny Stone and Richard Hart also contributed to the Post victory.

By defeating Slaton, Post's 7th grade boys can clinch a tie for the conference championship.

Marianne Jones scored 12 points to lead the Post 8th grade girls to their 22-14 victory. Janith Short made 6 points and Linda Ward hit for 4. Others playing were Wanda Williams, Mary Ann Williams and Gayle Heaton.

Post's 7th grade girls beat Slaton for championship

Coach Billy Hahn's 7th grade girls' team won the junior conference district championship here Tuesday night by defeating Slaton, 28 to 14.

The Post girls, who will receive a championship trophy, went through conference play undefeated. Other schools in the conference are Slaton, Tahoka and Frenship.

The 7th grade girls' victory was the only one chalked up by Post in four games against Slaton teams. The 8th grade boys and 8th grade girls lost by scores of 42-8 and 25-7, respectively, and the 7th grade boys were beaten, 26-19.

Mary Beth Ford scored 16 points and Carol Billings 12 points to pace the Post team to its championship victory. Others playing were Linda McMahon, Betty Jo Hill, Linda Rogers, Romeo Solis, Lynette Potts, Linda Pennell, Margie Harrison, Marilyn Williams and Diane Maxey.

In the 7th grade boys' game, Coach Lawrence Cook's team trailed by only one point, 13-12, at the half, but fell behind in the third quarter when Slaton switched from a man-to-man to a zone defense to make use of their superior height.

Jackie Fluitt, with 10 points, was high scorer for Post, backed up by Pat Cornell's 8 and Wendell Johnson's 2. Rounding out the Post starting line-up were Johnny Mayfield and Jackie Baldrée, with Danny Stone also seeing action.

The Slaton 8th grade boys' team, which has lost only once in 21 games, had an easy time with the Post 8th graders. John Valdez scored 6 of Post's points with Steve Bullard and Royce Chance getting the other 2 on a pair of free throws.

In the 8th grade girls' game, Linda Ward scored 6 of Post's points, with Marianne Jones adding one on a charity toss.

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT SAYS

Thorough planning is important in painting and re-decorating jobs

By JESSIE PEARCE

With spring just around the corner, many homemakers are planning a painting or complete re-decorating job for all or part of their homes. If you are one of these homemakers, do not wait until you are ready to start spreading the paint to make your plans. Start right now, so that you will be sure you have the colors, materials, fabrics and other improvements just as you want them.

Make room plans to get the colors coordinated with the other rooms in the house and with the furnishings already on hand and to be used in the re-decorated room. The most accurate way to do this is to get swatches and samples of the paint. Arrange them in the relative sizes they will appear in the finished room. You can then see if there is too much of one color, if it is too intense, too light, or if it is just what you want.

Paints today flow on smoothly and dry quickly. They are designed for specific purposes, for ease of maintenance and years of lasting attractiveness.

Some paints even resist heat. For areas where moisture is present much of the time, such as bath and kitchen, an alkyl semi-gloss or alkyl gloss enamel is recommended. Both of these are designed to resist moisture and abrasion so they can be scrubbed. For areas where white is desired, there are non-yellowing white alkyl flat, semi-gloss and gloss enamels available.

There is one thing about paint that hasn't changed. That's the fact that it must be applied to a clean, smooth surface for best results. If you plan to paint over old paint, examine it closely. If it is not chipped, you can wash it down with a solvent before applying your new coat. Study the label on the container and be sure to follow directions carefully.

14 pct. of Garza autos inspected

Residents of Garza County were reminded today that the 1959 deadline for having their motor vehicles inspected is midnight, April 15.

Capt. Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, stated today there are 3,422 motor vehicles registered in Garza County; of these 14 per cent have been inspected.

Drivers are urged to have their vehicles inspected early to avoid a last minute rush. This time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which may be predominant during the next two and one-half months. As a result the number of inspection days will be cut down since stations cannot inspect vehicles under these adverse conditions.

"Passenger cars are inspected for brakes, lights, reflectors, horn and windshield wipers; while commercial vehicles are inspected for the above plus additional items required by law," said Johnson. "In 1958 approximately five out of every one hundred accidents were caused by a mechanical defect; therefore, owners are urged to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible."

Scouts conclude 1959 observance

Four members of Boy Scout Troop 16 were presented tenderfoot badges at a court of honor held last week during National Boy Scout Week.

Victor Hudman presented the badges to Johnny Smith, Jack Bevers, Jack Wilber and Clyde Johnson.

The Boy Scouts concluded the week's observance with an overnight camp in Cooper Canyon, with the Rev. Eugene Matthews, First Methodist Church pastor, conducting religious services on Sunday morning.

Scouts camping out were Donnie Hare, Ikey Hare, Charles Brannon, Neil Driver, Rickey Little, Curtis Hudman, Archie Gill, Laylan Bratcher, Daniel Johnson, Jack Bevers, Finis Corley, Kenneth Smith, John Sutter, Charles Bassett, Raymond Shaw and Clyde Johnson, with Joe Hare as a guest of the troop.

Leon Miller is the troop's scoutmaster and his assistants are Bob West and Marshall Ticer.

"Hillbilly Weddin" is the title of the play the seniors are going to present this year. They haven't tried out for parts yet, but nearly everyone will probably try out since there are 15 characters in the play. No definite date has been set for the play, but it will probably be sometime in early March.

It seems as though everyone is becoming engaged lately. Over the weekend, Janet Stephens received a gorgeous ring from Sidney Hart. This came as a surprise to everyone. Peggy Butler is also the owner of a beautiful diamond ring which Robert Shedd gave to her Saturday night.

Two weddings were held last Saturday night. Kay Gene Jones and Jackie Payne were married by Ronnie Parker, minister of the Church of Christ. Kay Gene wore a full-length white lace dress with white heels. There was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left for San Angelo on a short honeymoon.

The other wedding was that of Marca Dean Holland and Auvy Lee McBride, who were married in the Southeast Baptist Church in Lubbock. Marca wore a lovely white chiffon dress and white shoes to match. There was a reception after the ceremony, then the couple left for a short honeymoon in Big Spring.

The junior class play, "Susan Steps Out," will be presented at 8 o'clock Friday night in the grade school auditorium. Prices are $1 for reserved seats, 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students. The juniors, of course, are hoping everyone will come. The main characters are Alice Joy Nichols and Dan Rankin. You can buy your tickets from the juniors or wait and get them at the door.

Friday afternoon we had a pep rally in the gym. Everybody really did yell! In fact, some of us were nearly too hoarse to yell at the ball game. Sharon Jobe, Linda Wilks, Glenda Whittenberg, Sharon Wood, Rhea Peel and Leta Stone put on some skits. Boy, were they funny!

Well, kids, next week is six-weeks tests again. So you better drag out the midnight oil and prepare to meet your fate!

If anyone has any news they would like to put in the paper, please contact Kim or Margie.
