Baby Twister Takes Roof Off Farm House

A baby tornado rolled off the Caprock about four-thirty o'clock Thursday afternoon and struck at least one rural community in the county before dispersing into the dense dust storm which blanketed Post at the same time. The small twister lifted a roof from the W. T. Fisher farm home on the T. R. Greenfield place four miles north of Post on the Rails highway. The couple watched the

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Are Held Wednesday For New County Hospital

Traditional ground-breaking ceremonies dedicating the new $337,063 Garza county hospital were held at high-noon Wednesday with the lifting of the first shovel full of dirt heralding the immediate beginning of construction on the plant.

Turning the first shovel of dirt on the new hospital was Mrs. Agnes Kahler, wife of the late Dr. Glenna Kahler who was a diligent worker for the cause of the hospital.

Bill Myers, representative of Wyatt C. Hedrick, Fort Worth architect, served as master of ceremonies and introduced all those present, including County Judge H. M. Snowden, County Attorney David Willis, Mayor T. L. Jones, "Buster" McQuaid, general contractor, Drs. A. C. Surman and D. C. Williams, and Ernest Henderson and Buck Gossett, commissioners.

Invocation was given at the ceremonies by the Rev. Gerald Blackburn, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Construction on the new structure will begin Monday according to the contractor. Re-enforcement steel is expected to arrive on the job tomorrow. The architect's and job superintendent's office is already set up on the grounds.

Final approval for the construction of the new structure was received from Washington, D. C. last Wednesday. A telephone call from Dr. J. H. Gerber, Federal Security Agent, Department of Health, informed hospital planners that approval of the building had gone through.

Thursday, Judge Snowden received a formal letter of approval from the same office in Washington.

All workorders were immediately mailed to the contractors who had been ready to start work as soon as approval was received.

Judge Snowden also announced this week that six Garza county residents have been appointed and have accepted Board of Managers posts for the new hospital.

They include L. G. Thuet, Sr., L. R. Mason, D. H. Mayfield, Lowell Short, Bandy Cash and Russell Wilks, Jr. In announcing the appointments Judge Snowden expressed the appreciation of the entire county to these men who agreed to assume the duties of these positions.

School Board Sets Election Here For July 7

An election for assumption of bonds and for resetting of the school tax rate was ordered for Saturday, July 7, by the board members of the Post Independent School district when they met Monday night.

The members also approved bids on the buying of the old Verbera school property, the wrecking and salvaging of the old grade school building, elected a new member to the faculty, and agreed to buy two lots for playground purposes at the Negro school.

In explaining the bond and tax election, Superintendent D. C. Arthur pointed out that this is required by the law when one school district is added to another. With the acquisition of the Verbera district the Post Independent district is considered by the state as a new district and an election must be held so the entire district can assume the bonded indebtedness of the old district and set a new tax rate.

"In this case the tax rate will remain the same," Arthur said, "and the election is just a formality."

Board members accepted the bid of Charlie Bird to buy the

Post High School Getting Complete Face-Lifting Job

When enrollment time rolls around at the Post High school this fall students are likely to have a hard time recognizing the inside of the building because of the new face-lifting which is taking place this summer under the supervision of head caretaker Marvin Pennington.

Under the present plans the task of repainting all the halls, introducing new color schemes to all the rooms in the building, repainting the bleachers and revarnishing the floors of the gymnasium, and stripping all windows in the building will be completed before the end of the summer.

Already the job is well underway, Pennington, with the help of J. L. Anderson and R. L. Cummings, has completely redone eight of the rooms and is beginning the task of repainting the walls, ceilings and floors of the halls.

Bleachers and dressing rooms of the gym now boast a new light gray finish and the floors are being sanded in preparation for revarnishing and relining of all the courts.

Pennington also pointed out that the Negro school has been completely repainted inside and the playground equipment has been set up since school ended.

Color schemes of chartreuse and white, brown and white, blue and white and green and white have been used effectively in the rooms already completed. Hallways will wind up with gray floors, brown walls and green wall lockers.

By the time the entire job is completed Pennington estimates that 20 gallons of white paint, 10 of mixed colors, eight of gray and 12 sacks of base material for the ceilings will have been used in giving the buildings a new face inside.

Stolen Car Is Recovered Here

A car which was stolen in Seymour Saturday night and was apparently used in the jailbreak of Frank Hamilton then was recovered about 12 miles east of Post Tuesday by Sheriff's office here.

"Smoky" Woods, an employee of Giles Connell, discovered the car hidden in a clump of trees about 12 miles east of Post. He reported his discovery to the Sheriff's office and the car was brought in.

The car was stolen from a used car lot in Seymour while the rodeo, being held there, was in progress Saturday night. Two sets of license plates were found in the car which was locked when discovered by Woods.

Officials of the used car lot in Seymour from which the car was stolen picked the car up Tuesday afternoon. According to Sheriff Carl Rains latest information Hamilton had not been apprehended.

Snyder Man Is Injured When Car Hits Bridge

Bobby Lee Fore, about 25, an employe of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Snyder, was injured last Saturday evening about 7:45 o'clock when the car he was driving ran into a bridge abutment on Sand Creek about one half mile south of Justiceburg.

According to an ambulance driver of Hudman Funeral Home, who was summoned to the scene to pick up the victim, the car, traveling south from Justiceburg, ran into the left abutment, jumped on top of the concrete banister and slid about 20 yards before coming to a stop. The machine remained balanced straddling the concrete bridge banister with the wheels about two feet above the flooring of the bridge. The driver was thrown from the car to the dry creek bed.

The victim was taken to a hospital in Lubbock where it was found he suffered fractures of the right knee and left wrist.

First Session Of Band School Ends

Tonight marks the close of the first session of summer band school, Director Vernon Lewis, announced yesterday. The last rehearsal is slated for 8 o'clock. The second session of the school will begin August 6, a week earlier than previously planned, to begin preparations for Junior Rodeo activities.

On Tuesday and Thursday of the August rodeo the band members, dressed in western gear, will participate in the annual street parade, and they will play during the rodeo each of the five nights.

"The band has been divided into grade school and high school units for the coming year," Lewis said. "When school begins we hope to have some 60 in the high school band and at least 35 in the grade school group."

Uniforms have been secured for the younger band and 10 more have been ordered for the high school. Each band will perform at its own respective school activities the director said.

STORES WILL BE CLOSED JULY 4

The nation's favorite holiday, Independence Day, will be observed in Post next Wednesday, July 4, with most stores closed, reports James Hestand, chamber of commerce manager.

July 4 will also be a holiday for the bank, post office, city hall and the courthouse. Only a few places of business, those which usually remain open on holidays and Sundays, will keep their doors open to the public.

No special program is planned for Post.

Masonic Lodge To Install Officers

O. L. Weakley will serve as installing officer tonight at 8 o'clock when elective and appointive officers of the Post Masonic lodge are installed in their proper places.

The elective officers include Billy Johnson, worshipful master; R. B. Dodson, senior warden; Wilburn Morris, junior warden; Lewis Price, secretary; Ira Lee Duckworth, treasurer and Bailey Matisler, tiller.

Officers appointed by the Worshipful Master and Senior Warden include: Alvin Young, senior deacon; Malcolm Bull, junior deacon; Lester Nichols, senior steward; E. N. Gibson, junior steward and L. H. Welch, chaplain.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the service.

Mrs. Storie Ends Twenty-Seven Years Of Teaching By Resigning Position In Post

After teaching more than 27 years in the public schools of Texas, Mrs. Pearl Storie, high school math teacher in the Post system since 1945, has decided to retire from the profession and "rest awhile." Her resignation becomes effective Sept. 1, according to an announcement from Superintendent D. C. Arthur.

Mrs. Storie's teaching career, which has covered several school systems in the state, began in Concho county way back in 1913 when she was Miss Pearl Lohn. Since then she has taught in Brown county, Coleman county and Garza county. She came to Post in 1945.

And for 12 years of that long period of serving the public Mrs. Storie remained at one school, the Close City system.

In describing her long and commendable career, Mrs. Storie says she has taught a little of everything including history, mathematics, and several years

LEGION PLANS ANNUAL SUPPER

All ex-service men of Garza county and Post's trade territory are invited to attend the annual Independence Day supper and party at the James C. Cole American Legion hut the evening of July 3, Lewis Price, commander has announced.

The show call will sound at 8 o'clock sharp, at which time the usual army-style "Dutch lunch" will be served along with something refreshing to wash it down. There will be no formal program but the former service boys are expected to provide entertainment of their own.

The supper and get-together, which has been an annual custom of the Legion since World War I, usually attracts from 150 to 300 men.

The admission will be $1.50 per plate.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The Commissioner's Court of Garza county held a routine meeting at the courthouse Monday to hear complaints from property owners concerning the new tax equalization program. Members also discussed the appointments and acceptance of six Board of Managers for the new Garza county hospital.

One Well Shows Free Oil, Another Develops Water

162,000-Acre Crop Loss Set In 5 Counties

While Garza county's young spotted cotton crop continues to wilt for lack of moisture and local farmers swelter and cuss over 100-degree temperatures, neighboring county farmers to the north have suffered total crop losses to hail and heavy rain of the past two weeks.

A "total loss" of 162,000 acres of cotton in Lamb, Bailey, Farmer, Castro and Swisher was reported following Sunday night's rain and storm damage.

The damage which was estimated by M. A. Elms, seed buyer for Western Cotton Oil Co., of Littlefield, was as follows: Lamb county, 110,000 acres; Bailey, 40,000 acres; Farmer, Castro and Swisher counties, combined loss of 12,000 acres.

The figures estimated only the "total loss" acreage on which replanting will be necessary.

Interest in Garza county's oil development this week seems to center around Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Jeff D. Justice, Jr., south offset to the discovery well of the Tope - Strawn pool in southeast Garza county, which developed free oil on a drillstem test the first part of the week.

Discouraging news came from Continental Oil Company's No. 1 Welch Ellenburger wild-cat nine miles northeast of Post Tuesday when operators drilled in watered Ellenburger below 8,300 feet. The well was plugged back to approximately 4,500 feet for a retest of the middle Permian. Preparations to drillstem test above 4,500 feet were underway Tuesday.

The No. 1 Welch is nine and one-half miles northeast of Post and in section 2, block 4, K, Aycock survey.

The Humble well developed free oil when a test was run in the Wolfcamp zone of the Permian. Total recovery on the successful one-hour and 10 minute check at 4,658-740 feet was 210 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 900 feet of free oil. The well was deepened to 4,865 feet and operators Tuesday were preparing to take another drillstem test.

Location of the well is three miles southeast of Justiceburg. The venture was projected to 7,500 feet to test the Pennsylvania pay. If the Wolfcamp zone produces oil in commercial quantities, it will be a new pay and classified as a discovery.

Last Rites Read For W. J. Tipton

The Rev. A. C. Hardin of Lubbock officiated for the funeral of W. J. Tipton at 3 o'clock Monday, in the First Baptist church.

The scripture reading was the 21st Psalm, Miss ElWanda Davies, pianist, accompanied a mixed choir which sang "When They Ring Those Golden Bells" and "I Won't Have To Cross Jordan Alone." Miss Davies also accompanied Mrs. L. G. Thuet, Jr., and Mrs. Alvin Young as they sang "It Is No Secret."

Hudman Funeral home directed burial in Terrace cemetery.

PRICE CONTROLS . . .

The Office of Price Stabilization is spending a big hunk of the taxpayer's dollar in publicity justifying itself. Every mail brings a new communication from the OPS. Most of it is couched in traditional government gobbledegook whose only function is to add to the citizen's tax bill. We see the price control program as a fat woman trying to reduce by taking a butcher knife and slicing off layers of flesh. Not a pretty example, but probably a true analogy. Each person who has tried to reduce knows that best results come from within. Diet is most valuable and diet means cutting down on the intake. The government boys say that inflation is caused by too much money in the hands of Westbrook Pegler's faceless slob John Doe. And the government is the agent who is putting more and more money daily into circulation. Credit restrictions leave more money for cash buying, which may be justified. But the low interest rate charged by the government, its policy of borrowing money at a high rate and lending it at a low rate and its further policy of printing paper money too freely is the underlying cause of inflation. More money is in circulation and yet it buys less. Let the government go on its own reducing diet. Print less money. Get out of the credit business as a government. Eliminate needless expenditures. We are against price controls, because we believe they must be total to be effective. The railroad workers have already been allowed to bypass the wage ceilings. We don't want the government telling us what to pay for everything from a Coca Cola to a Cadillac. Let's return to republicanism rather than totalitarianism.

POST TO SPUR ROAD . . .

A good bit of work is being done on the Post-to-Spur segment of the Broadway to Big Bend highway by everyone but the publicity committee. A series of meetings has been held during the past few weeks with a hearing tentatively set in Austin for this month. Ozell Williams, commissioner for Precinct No. 3, has already been working on the right of way. The court has allocated all the farm-to-market road money for this biennium to work on this road which includes one or more expensive bridges. The next logical link in the highway is from Post to Spur, says Sen. Klimer Corbin, president of the Broadway to Big Bend association. The problem, as it has been explained to us, is to get Crosby county to cooperate on a short stretch connecting Dickens and Garza or to get a feasible route that would bypass Crosby county. Since a paved road runs from Kalgary to Crosbyton, it is not logical to expect any help from that source. A through road as everyone knows would cut the distance between Post and Spur by a good 20 miles. It would not only be beneficial as a segment of the desired highway and tourist route. It would fill a real need for the people of Precinct No. 3. They definitely need this road to get their crops to market and to get into Post to spend their money here. It would indeed be a boon to the oilfield. Deep oil in Garza county seems to be in that direction. A good road will bring even more oilfield workers here for their housing and groceries. Post and Spur are now in the same athletic conference and such a road would facilitate more competitive school activities. We need the Post-to-Spur road.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P — Devastation of large tracts of East Texas pine by a large beetle is described in a new report by Agriculture Department entomologists.

In the spring of 1950 small outbreaks of the Southern Pine beetle, known scientifically as "Dendroctonus Frontalis," appeared near the Louisiana line. Soon the infestation had spread over portions of Hardin, Liberty and Folk counties. Surveys showed three separate areas totaling 180,000 acres were spotted with killed trees.

Private landowners, the Texas Forest Service and the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine joined in a drive which is helping check the spread of the insect and leading to the salvage of large amounts of timber.

By November 100 million board feet of timber was estimated to be dead or dying on the stump. An estimated 20 million board feet which otherwise probably would have been sawed up into timber by Jan. 1.

From an overhead view an area of trees killed by the beetle is easily identified by the red tinge of the tree tops — caused by the needles turning that color. Individual trees infested with the insect can be spotted by the presence of white pitch tubes on the bark surface, and by the red boring dust in the crotches of branches and on the bark.

If the insect has killed the tree and departed, it can be left standing. If the insect is still present, the entomology bureau says, the tree should be felled. It can be sawed up into

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Land Is A Good Buy At Present Prices, But Get Something "That Pays Its Board"

BABSON PARK, Mass. — People say that most land is now too high to buy. I do not believe this. The price of new homes seems high—three times what they sold for in the "thirties"—but both good lots and fertile acreage are still comparatively cheap.

There are three reasons why I believe everyone should own a little land somewhere:—

First, there is only just so much land within a certain area—and there never will be any more. It is easy to make more stocks and bonds. The government can always print more dollar bills when taxes do not balance the budget. New houses, factories and stores can be built; but the amount of land is fixed. There is today no more land within five miles of your post office than there was thousands of years ago and there will be no more a thousand years from now. So, you had better own some that you can use or rent.

A second reason why I would like to see everyone own a little land is because land is the source of everything we have. Land gives us not only food, but also clothing and shelter. We just can't get on without it. The third reason is that to own a little land is a human instinct like the craving for food, children or other basic things. Therefore, land will never go out of style.

Buy Land Which Carries Itself

When buying land get something which carries itself or "pays its board," so to speak. Vacant lots or unused acreage can quickly "eat their heads off." If you pay $1,000 for a vacant lot, the taxes and interest on what you pay could amount to $1,000 in ten years. This means you must then sell it for $2,000 in order to make a penny. Hence, the importance of getting enough income to pay these carrying charges. These—in case of a building—must also include cost of insurance and maintenance.

The above explains why I like woodland, upon which the taxes are low. The trees will grow enough to balance the taxes and interest cost. Moreover, trees grow seven days a week, including Sundays and holidays! They have no labor unions which limit them to growing only eight hours a day, nor do they practice "birth control" to prevent them from multiplying. Their only enemies are fires and debt. Fires are getting better controlled every year; and you can now get mortgages which can be paid off over 20 years, as you get the money.

The above is not written for rich investors. It is just as dangerous to hoard land as to hoard anything else. Thus, don't attempt to buy too much land. Too big family holdings might some day be divided and sold very cheaply by the U. S. Government, as has been done by several other governments. Or, there might be a graduated real estate tax, increasing as the number of acres increase.

In fact, it is wisest not to concentrate on any form of investment. Don't get hipped on anything; railroads, motors, steels, chemicals, department stores or anything else. Proper diversification is the first rule of successful investing. Yes, you can even become "land poor" but having too much land that produces no income in the form of rents, crops or woodland growth.

My European Friend

I have a European friend who, only ten years ago, was a very rich woman in Poland. She had a beautiful home of sixty rooms, she had 50,000 acres of forest land; she had valuable paintings and other works of art. But when the Russians overran Poland, she could not take away any of these. (She had no stocks or bonds except Polish Governments, which became worthless.)

My friend, however, had some valuable jewelry, including many diamonds. These she concealed on her person and got away. She is now in the United States living humbly on these diamonds and such work as she can get. This friend of mine advises all women to diversify their investments by having some good jewelry. Don't put everything in stock or bonds or even in land!

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

by EDDIE the editor

It isn't often that a country boy like me gets an opportunity to shake hands and talk with a national hero. It has been far and long between times during my more than thirty years of newspapering that I have managed to stumble into some big-shot only to peer at them under someone's arm or gaze at them through a tall man's legs.

There was that time when I spent three days lugging a camera around photographing Mrs. "My Day" Eleanor as she sweated, bowed and scraped until I thought her tight fitting khaki britches wouldn't give another thousandth of an inch across her broad beam. I figured I might get a picture the boys in the public relations department would let me keep for my album and the rest of the poor guys on that far-away Pacific island would get a glimpse of feminine loveliness in the raw.

And then there was that time when the then mayor of Post, Dr. D. C. Williams, and myself motored to Abilene over unpaved roads in the rain to glimpse and clutch "Lone Eagle" Lindberg's boney-paw, soon after he became famous for flying his single-engine crate across the Atlantic.

There have been a few more . . . probably of less importance in the eyes of the public . . . but not so in their own way of thinking. The few bigwigs I've seen and met have failed to impress me in the least . . . Just stuffed shirts . . . but of course I've never had the occasion to bug my soft grey eyes on the Missouri Wonder Boy.

The other day while in Dallas attending the 72nd Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association I had the privilege, and I did say privilege, of seeing and talking briefly with the nation's No. 1 hero . . . General MacArthur, his wife and son.

The highlight of the convention was the visit of the MacArthurs to the Saturday morning press breakfast and it was at this time that I had a full and uninterrupted view of the General and his family.

As they appeared on the platform in the Peacock Room of the Baker Hotel—Dallas' largest dining hall which was packed to capacity with press folk, the facial expression of MacArthur was pleasantly stern at all times except upon the mention of the names of Mrs. MacArthur, or young MacArthur, when he broke into the broadest and most genuine smile, adding his vigorous applause to that of the big audience. The General declined his opportunity to address the press group but said each of his family wished to meet all the members of the press.

I had a good chance to view the General physically. I'd say if you paired him off with 74-year-old Lee Byrd and a few other Garza County young men I know he'd measure up to every day of his 71 years. I didn't think he was a handsome man . . . and I never expect to see his picture on the cover of Physical Culture magazine . . . he is quite photogenic and cooperates to no end with press photographers. Now that I have seen him uncovered I know why his pictures are always made with his cap on.

Mrs. MacArthur stood first in line and asked for the names of those who forgot this courtesy. She never relinquished her enticing smile and I was brought to some embarrassment in attempting to shove my wife on down the line to little Arthur so that I could hold the charming hand which was extended in such a friendly manner. Young Arthur, not as much at home as his distinguished parents, accepted his duty with as much dignity as a thirteen-year-old lad could muster. The General gazed at the badge each press member was wearing as they approached him, and without hesitation he called the names of those whose badge was clear, and extended a handshake that was firm and meaningful. Here I was embarrassed a second time when the General asked me if I represented the St. Louis Post Dispatch . . . when I informed him I was the big-wheel on the Post Dispatch . . . Post, he declared he'd never heard of Post . . . it had never occurred to me that there is anyone in the nation who had not heard of Post, much less a five-star general.

A slight insight of this man MacArthur as we saw him—The General is a national hero and don't let anyone tell you differently. He might have made his appearance in the Southwest for the sole purpose of lining up votes for President in 1952 . . . at any rate he has sold himself to Texas . . . Texans like men with guts. The general attracted a big crowd to his speech in Dallas in spite of menacing clouds, and the fact that it rained torrents a few minutes after he closed. The people who lined Dallas' Main street as he drove past ran back across to Commerce for a second glimpse of the hero. Crowds jammed the streets around the Adolphus

On July 7, voters of Mitchell County will have an opportunity to decide whether to build a new county jail to replace the antiquated and totally inadequate structure now in use. Notice of an election to vote on a $110,000 bond issue for this purpose was given by the Commissioner's Court today. The present county jail was built in 1915. Sheriff Dick Gregory says it is unsanitary, unhealthy and a disgrace to an otherwise enlightened and progressive county.

$2,000 A Minute Hail Damage

First estimates of damage to college property from Monday night's hail storms have been set at between 60 and 70 thousand dollars by West Texas President, James F. Cornette. The storm, which lasted only a short half hour, damaged college property at the rate of $2,000 a minute. Windowpanes, globes and bulbs in street lights, trees and shrubs and carports all felt the fury of the storm. All college buildings including the dormitories and the cafeteria sustained at least some damage. The library building, still under construction, was least affected, since windowpanes had not yet been placed in this structure. While the golf-ball-sized hailstones were still falling, college maintenance men had already begun boarding-up broken panes and trying to prevent further destruction.

May Cost A Few Thousand

If an individual has property of his own—say a car, for instance, that cost $2,500—he is not going to lose his whole investment simply because something has gone wrong with it. He takes it to the garage and pays for the cost of repair, whatever it may be. Crosbyton is in the same position today in regard to its streets. Unless we spend a few thousand dollars in the very near future, repairing and retopping our streets, we are going to lose better than a $200,000 investment.

Storm Warning Set Up

In Monday night's meeting the Fire Department suggested that during the current storm period the night watchman be asked to sound the fire siren and ring the fire bell in case of a bad cloud or storm warning being received. With the police car equipped with two way radio, warnings from nearby towns might easily set where he stayed from the time he arrived until he departed the next day. Cheers were deafening but there were no boos.

The people I talked with are convinced that MacArthur is sincere in all his opinions and all his actions.

I believe that the people look with favor upon him and upon his campaign—if that is his aim. He has the ability to put over such a program as he sets out to perform.

Yes, the General may be running for President for all I know. One thing is certain: If he is not a candidate, he is after the scalp of Brother Truman and will succeed in depositing the high and mighty little man from Missouri, judging from his eventful trip to Texas.

citizens here aware of approaching storms. Nightwatchman McAdams was glad to cooperate on this and can stay in constant contact with nearby towns with the radio. Citizens are urged to seek nearest protection to their homes and not to rush to town and cause traffic jams, which would tend to increase danger instead of relieving it. Remember, when the siren sounds and the bell tolls at the same time—storm warnings.

Students Should Get Social Security Cards Before Seeking Jobs

Gerald L. Shantz, field representative from the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the Post Office at 2 p. m. Thursday, July 5 to assist persons who wish to file claims for survivors or retirement benefits and to assist in furnishing information about the new Social Security law.

John Eutton, manager of the Lubbock office informs the Post Dispatch that his office is doing a rush business at this time taking applications for cards for school students.

"Many students enter the labor market each year during the vacation period," Eutton said, "and such students find that most employers will not put them to work until they can show a social security number. Our office advises all students who think they are going to work and who have never had a social security card to get one before applying for a job," Eutton continued.

Applications for cards may be filed at the local Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hail Come Here from Snyder on June 6

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hail and their children moved here from Snyder on June 6 when he bought out the old Snyder place. They had lived in Snyder 22 years. Previous to that, their home was in Odessa. Mrs. Hail considers Odessa home. She says Snyder very much and she is extremely glad to move. The Hail children are mostly interested in skating and swimming — those that are big enough to have interests, she recalls. They are Alpha Ann, 14; Billy Bob, 10; Doyle, 8; Shirley, 5; and Lahoma, 8. The children keep their father pretty busy and between the time she is in her husband's when he is in the field.

She likes to read, when she has a few spare moments, and to work in the yard. "I like fishing outdoors," she says, "and fishing and working in the yard. But my husband works the time and he doesn't care about that sort of thing." She is a member of the Methodist church and the children go to Sunday school. The baby is so fat, they have not taken her anywhere yet. Occasionally she goes to a drive-in movie. "I think Post will be all right, we get acquainted," Mrs. Hail says. "I guess I never will feel at home until we go to Odessa, if we ever do."

Scripture:
And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us day by day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil. And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him? And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee. I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. St. Luke 11:1-10.

Garza HD Agent Gives Canning Directions Including Emphasis on All Preparations

Uniform canning directions have been made available in Texas for several years, Mrs. Jewell Strasner, county home demonstration agent, reveals.

"Remember how you once wondered which canning rules to go by?" Mrs. Strasner asks. "There was a time when so many different time tables and directions were available, it was confusing. But that time is no more." She explains that this new situation is due to the work of the Texas State Nutrition council. In 1944, the first approved methods were adopted by the council. Each year these recommendations are revised and brought up to date.

This year's recommendations, suggest sanitary precautions and safe time tables to prevent food poisoning by botulism bacteria. The kitchen or work room should be well-screened and free from insects. Floor, working surfaces and equipment should be thororoughly cleaned. Unnecessary utensils and equipment should be put away and a clean garbage container should be provided.

"Personal cleanliness is important for successful food preservation," says Mrs. Strasner. "Wear a hair net when working around food, remove polish from fingernails, wash hands with soap and water before beginning any step in food preservation. Use sanitary precautions at all times."

The agent suggests washing utensils and equipment thoroughly in hot soapy water and rinsing them with hot water. This includes glass jars, glass tops and one-piece caps. Self-sealing lids for glass jars require only scalding in hot water. Tin cans and tin lids with composition gaskets should be washed, but not lids with paper gaskets. These are wiped with a damp cloth.

Wash vegetables carefully before preparing for canning. Mrs. Strasner emphasizes. Botulism bacteria are found in the soil, she says, and even though correct processing will destroy these, it is important to wash all vegetables in several waters until they are clean.

Washing fruits reduces the load of yeast and mold spores and frees them from soil. Berries should be capped after washing. Mrs. Strasner has two canning leaflets available in her office for those who want further details.

Canning equipment should have been checked before the season started, but it still is not too late, the agent reports. Check the pressure gauge with a master gauge tester or maximum thermometer. Check the canner itself to see that it does not leak steam. A steam leak affects the pressure and draws water from the containers during processing.

Clean the petcock and check for operation. If it still loses steam after cleaning, buy a new one. All jars and cans should be ready before the canning begins. Jars should have no cracks, nicks or other imperfections and should be thoroughly cleaned, of course. Cans should not have dents, creases or disturbed rims. Lids and closures should be checked.

"If you can in tin," says Mrs. Strasner, "you will need to check the sealer to adjust to the type can you are using. Composition gaskets require tighter seal than paper gaskets. Refer to the manual that came with the sealer for directions. If you don't have your sealer for the latest copy."

Verbera school property. They also accepted the bid of B. A. Price for the wrecking and salvaging of the old grade school building. Applications for final approval of selling the property and wrecking the old building will be sent to the State School Board, Arthur explains.

The Price bid includes wrecking the building, clearing the ground and leveling the ground over the basement.

F. F. Keeton was elected to drive the Verbera school bus this year and Mack Curry, of Abilene, was elected to the faculty on the junior high level. He will probably teach in the sixth and seventh grades, according to Superintendent Arthur.

With the addition of Curry to the faculty, only two vacancies are left for the coming year. These are a primary job and a high school math job. This latter position was left vacant by the recent resignation of Mrs. Pearl Storie.

In the Monday night meeting the board members also agreed to buy two lots directly behind the Negro school to use as playground. The lots are being purchased from Lorenzo Alexander.

Tuesday the board members held a routine meeting in the City Hall to hear complaints on the tax equalization program.

Recipes and Methods for Three Types Sponge Cake Given

Four Garza women who are cooperating in a demonstration concerning making sponge cakes at high altitudes have learned that there are three types of sponge cake.

These women are Mrs. Sid Cross, Mrs. C. M. Voss, Mrs. J. C. Fumagalli and Mrs. J. W. Long. They are working with Dr. Mina Lamb of the home economics division of Texas Technological college and with Miss Frances Reasonover of the extension service. Other home demonstration club women in the state are also working on this experiment.

"The first type of sponge cake is that containing only egg whites, the popular angel food," Mrs. Jewell Strasser, Garza county HD agent, says. "This cake is truly a non-fat cake. Since egg whites contain no fat, they are very effective in strengthening the framework of the flour mixtures."

She explains that to offset the effect of reduced atmospheric pressure, one should either increase the amount of egg white or reduce the amount of sugar. Whether this change is required depends on the recipe. The directors of this demonstration took recipes from eight different cook books and found that sugar ratio for one cup of flour varied from one and one-fourth to one and five-eighths cups.

"The egg whites in these recipes varied from eight to 10 or one cup to 10 to 12 or one and one-half cups. Baking temperatures ranged from 300 degrees Fahrenheit to 350 degrees.

Initiators of the demonstration based an average recipe on this group to use as a starting point. It produced a cake of poor quality even though it was as acceptable as some others.

"The cake was then tested," reveals Mrs. Strasser, "by varying proportions for the sugar, baking of tarter, egg white, flour, baking temperature and method of manipulation. The proportions and manipulations thought best by the technicians were converted to household measurements.

Now was the time for persons who were not skilled in sponge cake making to test out the methods of the experts. Cakes produced were superior to any of the previous ones.

The group next took up golden sponge — those cakes containing only yolks. Since this is the least common sponge cake, Mrs. Strasser says little agreement was found in the recipe books. One difficulty is incorporation of sufficient air for leavening the egg yolks.

"Because of their fat content," says Mrs. Strasser, egg yolks are not as suited to this process as egg whites. She suggests the use of an electric mixer as a definite aid in making all-yolk sponge cakes. Manual manipulation can cause under mixing. This makes the cake tough, compact and coarse.

"Recipes for this type cake are very limited," says the agent. "Cakes made this way are unusually tender, however, cost little effort and have a high food value. The main problem is of sufficient beating."

Mrs. Strasser also suggests combining part of the flour with the sugar. This produces a more uniform cake. The true sponge cake is the third type—that containing the whole egg.

"Since this cake contains equal portions of yolks and whites, adequate framework is supplied along with material to incorporate air," she says. "The main problem here is manipulation. I mean combining the egg whites with the yolks and other ingredients after the whites are beaten."

She suggests discarding most of the methods given in recipes because too much "folding-in" is required. Egg whites are beaten in to a yolk mixture and may rise to the top during baking, forming a thick, heavy bottom to the cake.

Recipes found in cook books vary little on this type sponge, Mrs. Strasser says. The demonstrators tried numerous methods of combining the ingredients to find the simplest way to get the best cake.

Mrs. Strasser gives the approved recipe for the best true sponge as containing one cup cake flour, one cup sugar, 5-8 cups egg yolks (about 8) one cup plus one tablespoon egg whites, about eight; one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice, one and one-half teaspoon lemon rind and one fourth teaspoon salt.

Suggested method calls for first sifting flour, then measuring and adding salt. Egg yolks are mixed thoroughly with a rotary egg beater and lemon juice and rind are added. Half of the sugar is then added gradually and the mixture is beaten until it forms soft peaks.

The third step is to sprinkle flour over yolk mixture and fold it in with a rubber scraper. Egg whites are beat with a whisk until frothy. The remainder of the sugar is added gradually, some two to three tablespoons at a time until a meringue is formed and the mixture holds shape.

This meringue is folded into the yolk mixture with a rubber scraper. "Be sure no yolk is left in the bottom of the bowl," cautions Mrs. Strasser. This recipe should be baked in an eight or 10 inch tube pan at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 40 minutes.

For the angel food cake using egg whites only, the following ingredients were found satisfactory:

One and one-third cups cake flour, one and three-fourths cups egg whites, three-eighths teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cream of tarter, one and one-half cups sugar and two teaspoons vanilla.

Eggs should first be brought to room temperature. Flour should be sifted to measure. Next sprinkle salt over eggwhites and whip with a wire whisk until foamy. Sift cream of tarter over the egg whites. Add sugar two tablespoons at a time, sifting it lightly over the top of the egg whites.

Whip after each addition until sugar disappears. Egg whites should have the appearance of a meringue when all sugar is added and they should peak over.

Flour should be folded in gently. Sift it lightly over complete surface of the whites, measuring it in two tablespoon quantities. Fold after each addition until flour completely disappears. The mixture should be smooth. Fold in vanilla until thoroughly mixed.

Pour this into ungreased tube pan. Cut through mixture gently with a spatula. This cake, in an eight inch pan should be baked 50 minutes in a 375 degree oven, here.

The last recipe utilizes the yolks of the eggs only. The agent cautions that fresh eggs should be used and they should be brought to room temperature.

Ingredients are one cup and two tablespoons cake flour, two-thirds cup plus two tablespoons sugar, five-eighths cups egg yolks (eight medium), one-fourth cup water, one-fourth teaspoon salt; one-fourth teaspoon cream of tarter and one-half teaspoon vanilla.

First sift flour, measure, add three tablespoons of sugar and sift again. Mix egg yolks, water, salt, cream of tarter and flavoring. Beat with an electric beater until the batter forms a soft peak. This requires 20 to 30 minutes at medium speed. A rotary beater is superior to a whisk.

Flour mixture is then folded in gradually, being sprinkled evenly over the batter. This is baked in an eight-inch tube pan for 45 minutes at 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

Streamlined Handling Of Cash Will Reach Post July 1; New Postal Money Order Forms

A modernized and streamlined postal money order will go into effect here and throughout the nation, July 1, it was announced this week by Harold Voss, postmaster.

The new money order, the Postmaster explains, will be printed on a punched card, prepunched at the time of manufacture to indicate the Regional Post Office of origin and the serial number.

The new money order will resemble the previously-used postal notes which are not being used any more.

The new money order will be identical in the same manner as at present except that they will not be drawn on a particular post office. They may be cashed at any post office and not any particular one such as was the case with the old money orders, and they will also be payable through any Federal Reserve bank. They must be cashed within one year of the date they are issued.

Postmaster Voss said it is believed that the new system will not only reduce the cost of handling the postal money order business, but that it will speed up and improve the service. The provision for cashing these new money orders in any post office will eliminate the cumbersome, costly and annoying procedure identical to the payment of present orders under the present system at a post office other than the one on which the order is drawn or where it was issued.

The new order forms, because they must be run through complicated business machines for tabulation, must not be folded, spindled or otherwise mutilated in order to be negotiable. In purchasing these orders the usual "application for domestic money order" must be filled out by the buyer. The purchaser will detach the "purchaser's receipt" which he will keep for his record, remitting the balance of the order to the payee as is done with the present orders.

Voss said that because of constantly rising costs due to causes beyond the control of the postal department, the revenue from the money order service is not sufficient to pay for its operation.

The installation of newly designed electrical tabulating equipment has been completed in the Federal Reserve banks and at regional post offices and this will enable the paid orders to be set up in serial number sequence and mechanically checked against the issuing postmaster's accountability much more quickly and economically than is possible under present accounting procedure.

If a postal money order should be lost the search for it can be made mechanically.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Parker and children, Joy Fay and Conny, vacationed in South Texas last week.

Classified Page Of Post Dispatch Leads In Reader Interest

Curiosity of readers about odds and ends usually found in the classified section is regarded as one of the main reasons for popularity of a newspaper's want ads.

There is much interest shown by Post Dispatch readers about lost and found items, livestock and farm equipment that friends and neighbors advertise for sale. Many a Post Dispatch has been sold the past several years to persons looking for a house, bed room or apartment to rent.

A newspaper's classified page is where an area offers for sale its countless things no longer needed.

If you are looking for a place to live, good used car to buy, second hand furniture, farm tools and other items you might need, you probably can find these things on the Dispatch classified ad page.

If you can't find what you want in today's paper why not run a low cost ad telling your needs?

MOTHS ARE PESKY CRITTERS

Garza County housewives have been besieged with harmless-worrisome miller moths the past two or three weeks and are plexed with the problem of how to get rid and stay-rid of the critters.

Several Post women, who have given parties recently, have had their guests leave by back doors because the moths collected around front porch lights. One Post housewife says she has used every known spray and though she succeeds in dropping the hammer... "they stay put then, but for every one I kill there must be a hundred more to take its place," she exclaimed.

Where Have You Been all its Life ?

THIS ad is addressed to the fellow known as "the man on the street."

From that vantage point, you must have noticed that a lot of folks are driving 1951 Buicks.

You must have noted that you can spot one of these beauties—by its sparkling forefront—its gleaming fender ports—(three for the SPECIAL and SUPER, four for the ROADMASTER)—and by its fluent grace of lines and contours.

You've probably noticed, also, that these Buicks give a good account of themselves in traffic—ease to a gentle stop—get away to a nimble start when the light says, "Go."

You may even have noticed that these cars have a level-gaited stride that traces, as we've said before, to the fact that each wheel rides beneath its own coil spring.

But what we'd like to know is—when are you going to try one?

It's about time you climbed in the driver's seat. It's about time that you sensed for yourself the thrill that comes from feeling your shoulders sink back in the cushions, when your toe gives the gas treadle a gentle nudge.

It's about time for you to be on the receiving end of those admiring glances which are the due of folks smart enough to pick the smart buy of the year.

What's holding you back? It can't be prices—for as you can quickly discover for yourself, you can own a SPECIAL for less than the price of some sixes—and SUPERS or ROADMASTERS are just as smart a buy in their fields.

So why not end the suspense? The welcome mat is out at our showrooms. We hope to greet you soon.

Chamber of Commerce
this past week

The CofC manager returned from the Texas Chamber of Commerce managers convention to find mountains of mail awaiting action, but that has about all been cleared away.

Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning of last week some time was spent with a recent graduate of the Texas A&M college veterinary school with the possibility of his locating here for a hospital. Information regarding sites for the hospital, an office and home have been furnished and the doctor is scheduled to return later in the week to look further into the situation here. He spent some time talking with several of the local leaders.

The recently adopted Constitution and By-laws was mailed to all members of the Post chamber of commerce last week, and if by some chance we missed you and you didn't get a copy, we will mail you one if you will just call the chamber of commerce office and tell us you didn't get a copy. The constitution and by-laws are reproduced word for word as adopted at the meeting on May 7, 1951, and are a vital part of the organization, and every member should refer to them on any points that he wishes for consideration by the organization.

Your chamber of commerce, its officers and committees, are what you make them — no more and no less. After all, your chamber of commerce is not a stranger in your midst, engaged in some mysterious enterprise with which the community is wholly unfamiliar and about the propriety of which it is disposed to be skeptical and suspicious. In short the chamber of commerce is YOU!!!

So in a chamber of commerce, we all get out just what we put in, plus the extra that is created by the interest of others. Do your part. The Post cham-

The Cow That Can't "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his Jersey cows last week. It was a warm day and they were all under the trees near a watering trough.

And darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! It's a fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose, and use her throat to push it down again.

"That's Mabel," Sandy explained as she moved away. "Sometimes they drink that trough dry, and she's learned how to fill it again. But she doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a swamp if we don't watch her."

From where I sit, Mabel isn't the only one who sometimes doesn't know where to stop. For instance, people often carry personal opinions too far—like the person who wants everyone to accept his choice of political parties, or ball players... or beverages. I prefer a glass of beer with my meals. I know that a lot of other people prefer milk. But nobody ought to insist on "herding" others around to his way of thinking.
