Speech By Rev. Billy Graham To Be Heard Friday

County residents interested in hearing an important message to American people may do so tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Tower theatre.

The speech, made recently by Rev. Billy Graham, world famous evangelist, was recorded and has been purchased by Manager John Hopkins and offered as a public service.

Rev. Graham, who has attracted tremendous crowds throughout the world, made the speech before a motion picture manager's convention in Dallas.

Thirty minutes long, the speech deals with a subject which is of vital importance to every American in this present day crisis.

Rev. Graham denounces Communism and proposes a logical and sound method for the people of America to defeat this doctrine. From a background of personal contact with intellectual, military, and diplomatic leaders of the world, Rev. Graham brings forth some profound and astute observations and statements concerning the plight of the world, and especially the United States.

Dynamic and hard-hitting, the speech will give any true American much solid and thought-provoking material on which to ponder for some time.

There will be no admission charged for the special playing of this record. The entire population of the county is invited to hear this message.

The time is 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Tower theatre.

Church Convention Being Held Today Thru Sunday

Approximately 350 persons from West Texas are expected to be in Post today through Sunday attending the West Texas Annual State Convention of The Church of God Prophecy, Rev. Harry W. Grimes, state overseer, and local pastor said.

Featured speaker for the convention will be Grady R. Kent of Cleveland, Tenn.

Getting underway at 7:45 p. m. today the convention will end its annual activities Sunday morning, July 20.

Each day, with the exception of today and Sunday, is to be divided into three separate programs, morning, afternoon and evening.

Activities planned will begin at 9:45 a. m. and extend through 9:20 p. m. They will include music by bands of various West Texas churches, song services, congregational singing, prayer, welcome and other addresses, messages by the principal speaker and other ministers, and reports by other ministers.

M. A. Tomlinson is general overseer with Grimes the State overseer. Clerks include Betty Tomlinson, Mae McKinn, Jennie Adams, LaVera Nichols; registrars, Betty Ruth Cooper, Joyce Hunt, Lois Grimes, Donna Jean Richards; entertainment, LaVera Nichols, Jewell Grimes, Nannie Cooper and Ethel Carter; reception, Hazel Thomas, Vesta Richards, Mrs. A. E. Fields and Nettie Fox; expense committee, David Ezell and James E. Adams.

Rev. Grimes said the General Assembly will be conducted at Cleveland, Tenn., Sept. 9 to 15.

Contract of these farmers expires March 31, 1953. And other farmers in this area of the county who are interested in joining the district are urged to contact either Lott or Gossett before August 1. The rate of 11 1/4 cents for rangeland and 4 1/2 cents for farmland holds until then.

This section of the county has been in the target area since July 5 and will be until the contract expires. The district officials do not claim they caused the recent rains, but they do point out the aspects of slow soaking rains and absence of hail in large sizes, both of which are characteristic of silver iodide seeding.

Farmers joining the district receive, in addition to the possibilities of rain, a weekly forecast of the area and a long-range 60-day forecast from the office of Dr. Irvin Girck in Denver.

More Rains Fall In County Helping Cotton Crop Outlook Considerably

Slow, soaking, crop saving rains fell over the county again the past weekend, increasing the chances of a bumper cotton crop this fall, barring any unforeseen happenings.

Slight hail damage was reported in the Graham area Saturday afternoon with small, pellet-sized hail stones cutting a swath in approximately 400 acres. These, the majority of which was not damaged too seriously, belonged to Roy Ethridge, Carl Fluit, Red Chandler, Hi Turner and Tuana Maxey. Graham also reported about 3 inches of rain.

Close City appears to have received the most of the crop saving moisture, with a total of 4.25 inches falling Monday and Monday night. This amount ran that area's total to about 6 inches for the past week.

Monday afternoon a thundercloud in the Grassburr area deluged farms with about 3 inches. This fell in the vicinity of the Ozell Williams farm.

these seemed enough to help farmers and ranchmen. Roland Sullenger reported 1.5 inches.

Post has fared as well as the rest of the county during the "monsoon" season of the county. Overall total has reached 2.31 inches, according to Jim Durrett, U. S. Weather observer at the Double U company. The Monday night total was 1.68 inches.

County Agent Lewis Herron was very optimistic over the cotton crop since the rains. He says that with the help of a small rain in August, the county will probably produce a bumper crop of cotton. Farmers over the county appear to share his belief.

TOUGH PROBLEM—Don Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long, Barnum Springs, concentrates on the tough problem of being parade chairman for the forthcoming parade at the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo and Quarterhorse Show, Aug. 12-16. MEETING CALLED Miss Jessie Louise Pearce, new Garza county Home Demonstration agent, has called a Saturday afternoon meeting of all Home Demonstration club women. The meeting, to be held at the courthouse at 2:30 p. m., will be to discuss plans for the concessions at the Junior Rodeo. It will also give Miss Pearce an opportunity to meet HD workers in the county.

Garza County Residents Donate Total Of 157 Pints Of Blood; Exceed Quota

Patriotic Garza county citizens responded with generosity Wednesday to the cry for blood for the Armed Forces and exceeded the quota set for the County by seven pints. A total of 157 pints of blood were given turned out in answer to the call drive sponsored jointly by the VFW and American Legion stood at the 157 pints. Many other people wanted to give and were unable to for various reasons.

The master schedule for donors, which called for eight persons every 15 minutes, began at 10 a. m. and continued through 4 p. m. Promptly at 10 o'clock the first nine people showed up and the flow was almost that steady throughout the day.

As the donors started through the line they were offered the opportunity to sign a slip which authorizes the Red Cross and the Armed Forces to release their blood type and RH factor to the local hospital.

Every person who went through the line signed the slips. This fact alone emphasized the willingness of the donors to play a part in helping their country and their county.

"The project was a hundred percent success," Burnis Lawrence, blood chairman said. "The cooperation of VFW and American Legion members, the fine teamwork of the donor pledge captains, the volunteer workers and the other people who extended unselfish aid toward this success. And especially do I wish to thank the donors. The way they followed the schedule, their unselfish attitude and their cheerful response is to be commended.

"I would also like to extend my appreciation to Rev. Joe Boyd and members of the Methodist church for the use of the building. Rev. Boyd and Rev. Gerald Blackburn were tireless in their efforts to help."

Mrs. Tom Power and Mrs. Carl Webb headed the group of volunteer women whose actions and courtesies achieved the final measure of success. These two and others of the American Legion auxiliary recruited some very fine workers.

These included: Mrs. Giles McCrary, Mrs. Max Gordon, Mrs. Bill Carter, Mrs. Walter Duckworth, Mrs. Bill DeWalt, Mrs. Jim Barker, Mrs. Lee Bowen, Mrs. Will Wright, Mrs. Bob Collier, Mrs. Shelley Camp, Mrs. Bryan J. Williams, Mrs. Vernon Ray, Mrs. Charles Daugherty, Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mrs. Jess Rogers, Mrs. Curtis Davies, Mrs. L. J. Richardson, Jr., Mrs. Warren Yancey, Mrs. A. B. Haws, Mrs. A. B. Possibility Of New Telephone Exchange For Post Discussed

Interest in the possibility of acquiring a Poka Lambro Co-op Telephone exchange in Post heightened considerably when a committee of farmers, business men and Chamber of Commerce representatives met recently with telephone officials in Tahoka.

A committee consisting of Marshall Mason, Buck Gossett, Earl Gregg, Glen Davis and Mrs. Burnis Lawrence met with Poka Lambro official John B. Herley and discussed the possibility of such a project.

Herley explained that Poka Lambro is a rural Co-op and that it is up to the farmers of Garza County whether an exchange will be brought in or not.

There must be 150 subscribers before the system can be installed. Herley also pointed out that the county has a potential subscription list of 313. He said that he had had approximately 100 persons request that they be connected with an exchange in Post.

If the required list of subscribers cannot be raised, then the residents will have to be connected with the exchange in Southland or Tahoka. If more than 200 subscribers are taken, Herley explained, there will be another exchange installed somewhere in the county.

Herley will meet with interested Garza residents in Post in the near future. The exact date of the meeting will be announced later in the Dispatch. At the present time Herley is double checking and completing a list of potential subscribers. He has gone so far as to send applications to Washington stating the potential list numbers 313.

At the meeting a committee will be appointed from each community to contact potential subscribers and obtain easement of right of way.

Pearce Takes Over Garza HD Office

Miss Jessie Louise Pearce, of Lometa, assumed duties as Garza county Home Demonstration agent, Tuesday.

Miss Pearce filled the vacancy left by the May 10 resignation of Miss Dorothy Harbin who accepted a similar job in Oklahoma.

The new Home Demonstration agent is a graduate of Texas Tech and has worked in Kilgore and managed a cafeteria at Terre Haute, Indiana.

Absentee Voting Deadline Is Near

Absentee voting applications have been mailed to 36 persons and none have been returned, according to an announcement from County Clerk Ray N. Smith.

In making the announcement Smith reminded that applications must be signed and returned to the County Clerk before ballots can be mailed out. Ballots, which are mailed out after the applications are returned, must be marked and mailed on or before midnight Tuesday, July 22, which is the last day for absentee voting.

At the present some 40 persons have visited the County Clerk's office and voted absentee ballots. Here to, Smith gave a special reminder. If any person intends to be out of his or her precinct on primary day, he or she should drop by the clerk's office and vote an absentee ballot.

Play Day Attracts Approximately 2000

The Lion's Club Play Day, held Tuesday night at the Stampede Rodeo Grounds, attracted one of the largest audiences pulled here in sometime for such an event, with approximately 2,000 persons jamming the stands.

Various events provided the fans with some much needed "belly laughs" and excitement. These included pie eating, watermelon, and flour blowing contests, donkey ball game, greased pig chase and a homely man contest.

Morris Neff was judged as the homeliest man in the county and won a Ford car donated by Les Short Buick Company.

Neff immediately turned around and gave the car back to Short to resell, with the specific instructions that the money would go to the crippled children's home sponsored in Kerrville by the Lions International.

Joyce Pharris won the savings bond given away and Bernie Welch put on a good run to catch the greased pig.

Installation of new officers highlighted the last Thursday night meeting of members of the Masonic lodge, with R. B. Dodson being installed as Worshipful Master.

Other officers installed included Wilburn Morris, senior warden; Walton McQueen, junior warden; Ira Lee Duckworth, treasurer; Lewis Price, secretary; Malcolm Bull, senior deacon; Buster Moreland, junior deacon; Billy Bigham, senior steward; Paul Jones, junior steward; Billy Johnson, tiler; and Ellis Mills, chaplain.

At the meeting a committee might have established a record this week in the "charges filed" department of county court.

Fannie Daugherty was charged with four different counts over the week. Charges were filed on her for sale of whiskey (2) sale of beer and possession for purpose of sale of beer.

Post Man Injured In Saturday Wreck; Two Other Cars Smash

M. H. Hutto, 28-year-old Post resident, is in Lubbock Memorial Hospital recovering from a broken pelvis received in an automobile accident on the Lubbock highway about 1 p. m. Saturday.

Hutto's wife and children received bruises and lacerations in the wreck which occurred just past the city limit curve on the Lubbock highway. The mishap occurred when Hutto, who was headed north, attempted to cross the highway and his car collided with one driven by Beth Hamilton, who was going west toward Lubbock.

The Hamilton car struck Hutto's car broadside on the right side, spun it around and threw the driver clear of the machine. No injuries were sustained by occupants of the other car.

Hutto who was rushed to the Post Clinic by a Hudman Funeral home ambulance was carried to Lubbock and underwent surgery Monday. His condition was reported "more restful" Wednesday.

Almost on the heels of the Hutto-Hamilton accident, another accident heavily damaged the cars of O. K. Bowen and Mike Delozier of Post.

A POWERFUL PUSH—Oscar Bowen's car, the Ford with the smashed in rear end, is shown after the Chevrolet plowed into it Saturday afternoon. The car was parked on the east side of Broadway near Bowen's store when the Chevrolet smashed into it, knocking the Ford some 55 feet up the street. No one was seriously injured in this accident which followed closely on the heels of the one in which M. H. Hutto was injured. (Dispatch Photo).

Wildcat Is Spotted In Southeast Garza

The spotting of location for a wildcat in southeast Garza county was the only bright spot in the county oil news during the past week.

Tobe Foster of Lubbock has spotted location for a San Andres prospector in extreme southeastern Garza County. The No. 1 Doyle Justice is scheduled to test 2,700 feet with cable tools. Location is four miles southeast of Justiceburg.

Post Citizens Should Follow Lead Of City And Exert Effort To Prevent Rise Of Polio

In the face of the critical polio epidemic which is blanketing the state, the recent action of the City officials to spray the town should be accepted by Post residents as a commendable effort.

In fact the citizens of the town should respond to this effort with an undertaking of their own, specifically a concentrated spraying campaign on anything around their premises which tends to breed flies.

The City alone cannot make the town safe, help is needed from every person in town. City officials say that in the spray campaign last week, cow lots, horse lots and chicken yards were not sprayed by the City truck. In making that announcement, they urged all owners of these places to cooperate by making certain they are sprayed.

Methods used in last week's spraying campaign will enable the city to conduct them more often, Henry Tate, superintendent, said. The use of 4-H club spray, which could be attached to the rear of the truck and pulled, eliminated the tedious walking method which had to be followed last year.

And it also cuts down on the cost. The spraying campaign conducted last week cost only one-third of what the 1951 spraying did. That means that if the City Commission is a mind to, and there is no doubt it will be, three sprays can be carried out this year. A new type chemical was used this year in the spraying. It is supposed to make quicker kills on the flies and other insects. This chemical was sprayed for a day and a half last week all over town. Officials paid special attention to the outside of eating places in town and bad alleys.

Over the period covered by the spraying, officials said they noticed several outdoor toilets which are not in use. They urge all owners of such buildings to destroy these buildings before the State Health Inspector comes through.

State inspectors are supposed to give the town a going-over in the near future and they give demerits for such places as outdoor toilets, cess pools, rabbit hutches, piles of lumber, out buildings, cow lots, horse lots, chicken yards and other fly-breeding places.

In the past two months the outbreak of polio has reached record-shattering proportions. Fortunately Post has been spared the agony of one case yet. But the citizens of the town should not allow this to let them take a complacent, "we don't have to worry" attitude.

We should definitely follow the lead of the City and exert every effort to prevent any outbreak of polio and the possible loss of someone dear to us.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

Wondering: An official government report claims that 92.4 percent of all the mules in the United States are owned by the South—but it fails to elaborate on whether they walk on four or two legs.

Congratulations to the City for the spraying job done on the town's alleys and fly-breeding spots. Following on the heels of the recent city-wide cleanup campaign, this thorough spraying job should definitely aid in holding off any outbreak of polio.

The best helping hand the residents of the town can lend to the program is to keep any fly-breeding spots around their houses flooded with strong spraying. After all, we are attempting to protect our lives.

Have you ever wondered about the feeding habits of cows? No? Well then, brother, get ready for an enlightening word or two.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a report hot off the press on this very subject. After 2,000 days of observation, a group of USDA spotters came up with the following findings:

In 24 hours the average cow grazes 411 minutes and takes 50 bites per minute. It ambles around for 254 minutes and travels 3,038 yards while ambuling. It spends 580 minutes lying down and 190 minutes doing this and that.

So, for the rancher reader of this column, there is a nice tidbit of worthwhile news. However, don't ask me what the cows are doing when they spend 190 minutes doing this and that.

From this corner it appears that the fifth annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo and Quarterhorse show are going to top the mark in entries and quality. Officials of both events are working overtime to get things in shape for the big events. You know, of course, the Junior Rodeo begins August 12 and runs through the 16th. The Quarterhorse Show holds forth at 1 p. m. on the 16th.

Said I didn't like po'ums, didn't I? Well this can't be classified as a pure one, but the words, nevertheless, could be placed close at hand in all our minds and kept there.

Gossiptown "Have you heard of Gossiptown, on the shore of Falsehood Bay, where old Dame Rumor with rusing gown is going the livelong day?"

It isn't far to Gossiptown for people who want to go; the idleness train will take you down in just an hour or so. The Thoughtless road is a popular route, and most people start that way, but it's steep down grade, if you don't look out, will land you in Falsehood Bay.

You glide through the valley of Vicious Folk, into the tunnel of Hate, and after crossing the Add-to-Bridge you walk right to the city gate. The principal street is called "They-Say," and "I've heard" is the public well; and the breezes that blow from Falsehood Bay are laden with "Don't You-Tell."

In the midst of the town is Tell-Tale Park. You're never quite safe while there, for its owner is Madam Suspicious Remark, who lives on the street Don't Care. Just back of the park is Slander's Row, and there it was Good Name died, pierced by a dart from Jealousy's bow in the hands of Envious Pride.

From Gossiptown peace has long since fled, but Trouble and Grief and Woe and Sorrow and Care you'll meet instead, if ever you chance to go there.

Something to think about, eh?

A word to the wise. Fifty-two days remain until the Motor Vehicle Inspection deadline date of September 6. Have you carried your "buggy" to the inspection station? If not, I suggest that it be soon, for the penalty might be heavy after Sept. 6. Inspectors at Tom Power, Connel Chevrolet, Wilson Brother, Les Short Buick and Southland Hardware can eliminate the penalty in a short time. And at the present time only about half of the vehicles in the county have been inspected.

Jack Rex, hospital administrator, says the Garza Memorial hospital will open about the first of August. Immediately afterwards, he plans a big open house for all Garza County. Not a bad idea, and one certainly that Garzans should appreciate since it was their tax money that made the institution possible. Watch for the date.

TEXAS BRAGS: Gib Morgan, the Paul Bunyan of Texas oil fields, once built a derrick so high that he had to hinge it in the middle and fold it down at night to keep it out of the way of the stars. One of his workers fell in one day and dropped through to China. The news of safety was a cable which read, "She's making 10,000 barrels a day at this end, too."

But What About The Second Bill? Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Bogged Down In Trouble
Well I got myself bogged down in trouble again last week and now I have to do the best I can to get back in the good graces of Alex Webb and his following of young airplane enthusiasts. It seems that some of the youngsters got into their heads that I do not approve of model planes doing their stuff out on the play grounds of the West Ward school, but they are all wrong. All that I said was that the dogs in the neighborhood are protesting with howls because of the noise and that the women in the neighborhood looked upon the planes with suspicion, but I did not make any gripe myself, in fact, I agree with Mr. Webb that is a very instructive pastime for the men and boys who are devotees of the model plane designing, and I am sure that a good many boys have been kept out of mischief because they have been busy a good part of the time putting model planes together. It is also instructive and good training for boys in mechanical training. If it is left up to me I say let the planes fly and let the dogs howl, and it might not be bad exercise for the women to do a little fancy dodging should some of the planes get loose and take after a few good looking women. In case such a catastrophe should come along I'd like to be present when one of the planes comes zooming after a dame.—The Slaton Slatonite.

Visitors From 48 States
For the first time in its history the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum was visited during a one month period by people from all 48 states. Boone McClure, director, said every state and nine foreign countries were represented during June. More than 8000 people viewed the museum's collections during June, with Texas leading with 6,714. Oklahoma visitors numbered 319; New Mexico, 168; California, 117; and Illinois, 113. United States territories and foreign countries represented were Alaska, Hawaii, Canada, Japan, England, Italy, Turkey, New Zealand and Uruguay.—The Canyon News.

What A Predicament!
It's a somewhat disturbing sensation to glance down and discover a water moccasin easing his way across your feet. It also adds to your discomfort to discover, after your involuntary outburst at the snake, that the chap fishing alongside is a minister. Sly Barrett has just experienced both discomforts at the Kaufman City Lake. After learning that the gentleman who heard his inflammatory exclamations was the Rev. E. H. Dickerson, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, Mr. Barrett offered apologies for his extemporaneous language. But he continued to outfish the preacher "That's where we Methodists have it over you Baptists," Mr. Barrett kidded, "I'm catching about 10 fish to your 1." The argument failed to alter the Rev. Dickerson's belief in immersion, however. Just a few moments later he fell in the lake to prove that he is still a good Baptist.—The Kaufman Herald.

Amen
We have noted from time to time what kind of society we might have if the "cooperative" and the "union" idea spreads to embrace the bulk of our economic life. Over in Lubbock this week it took a district court order to keep the bricklayers, plasterers and masons union from "trying" a member whose crime was that he taught his 15-year-

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

Washington, (AP)—Delegates to the Interparliamentary Union convening in Bern, Switzerland Aug. 28 may think Texas is a member nation.

Three Texans will be among the 14-member congressional group the United States is sending to this assembly of representatives of the freely elected legislative bodies of the world.

The three are Senator Tom Connally and Reps. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco and Wingate Lucas of Grapevine and Fort Worth.

They were selected by Vice President Alben Berkeley because of their roles in meeting of the Union in previous years.

The Interparliamentary Union conducts panel discussions which encourage exchange of ideas and otherwise promote peace and understanding.

Last year's assembly emphasized increased world food production, this year the theme will be on promoting closer relationship between nations.

Lucas, who took an active role in last year's discussions, said in an interview that caution should be blended with diligence in tackling this year's theme.

"The world certainly needs more understanding between peoples," he added.

"We should do everything we can to promote cooperation, but at the same time we should guard against surrender of our national sovereignty."

al sovereignty."

Poage, who has taken a lead in food production conferences at previous sessions of the Union says he will encourage greater use abroad of Texas-grown cotton.

Around The Capital:

Dr. J. M. Dawson, former Waco pastor who is national executive director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, will leave shortly for Copenhagen, Denmark. He will attend a conference of church leaders.

The purpose of the meeting, said Dr. Dawson, is to advance full religious liberty of peoples over the world. The study will be conducted by the Baptist World Alliance Commission on Religious Liberty.

Former East Texas Congressman Tom Pickett of Palestine, now executive vice president of the National Coal Association, says he was eligible to participate in the congressional retirement plan but did not do so.

Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, like most of his colleagues, thinks Congress will have one of the longest adjournment periods since Franklin D. Roosevelt was president.

He added, "At present, the danger of inflation appears as the biggest threat to our country from the domestic angle. In about 60 days we will really begin to feel the effects of defense production demands on our economy."

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Financial Expert Looks Back Over 40 Years Of Forecasting Business Conditions In U.S.

BABSON PARK, Mass.—For over forty years, I have devoted most of my time to forecasting business, employment, and investment conditions. I started with five employees and now have over one hundred and seventy on the job. Our record has been good. And furthermore, all we have said and done is recorded in public libraries.

Up to the time in the Roosevelt Administration when we went off gold onto paper currency, we had a yardstick by which we could measure. Moreover, there was a ceiling above which business could not go except at great risk; and a floor below which it could no go without disaster. For instance, when in 1928 we loudly forecast the panic of 1929, it was necessary to pay 8% interest in order to borrow on the best collateral. Today, with prices actually higher, these Money Rates are slightly above 2%.

Statistics on Failures, which were one of the best barometers of impending changes, are another illustration. In 1928 failures were 24,000, with liabilities of $500 million. Yet, today, with nearly twice the volume of business, failures are running at the annual rate of 8,000, with liabilities of $300 million. This, of course, is due to the fact that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Federal Mortgage Banks and the various other Government aids make it unnecessary for a concern to fail. Therefore, statistics on failures are now of little use when making forecasts.

Managed Currency Is Pleasant But Dangerous
That fact is that today there are no economic ceilings and no floors. Three-quarters of the subjects upon which we used to depend in making forecasts are now of little account. Of course, Washington cannot continue indefinitely the present practice of extending unlimited aid to all groups. The Law of Action and Reaction is fundamental, like the Law of Gravity, and must someday result in an economic crash. On the other hand, the Government can postpone such a readjustment for some years more by printing more money or more bonds. Furthermore, it will be a great temptation for any Administration to do this—Republican or Democratic.

This next economic smash will probably be brought about by an ultimate showdown between Congress and the labor leaders. If each side should refuse to "give in", with a large number of industries being struck at the same time, we could have a real depression. Almost within sight of my office one of the largest bus systems in the world has been shut down for 120 days, inconveniencing hundreds of thousands of people and costing the employees and the company a million dollars a week. What would happen if a dozen of largest transportation systems should so strike at the same time? The steel strike, which has thrown 650,000 steel workers out of employment, has affected so many other businesses that the whole U. S. production of all goods has fallen 10% during the past few weeks. What if the employees of our ten largest industries, doing 70% of the nation's business, should strike at once?

How Can We Forecast?

By a study of new subjects, such as dividends and wages received, selling and advertising expenditures, and various confidence indices, it is possible to make accurate forecasts for perhaps four to six months. When, however, "experts" attempt to tell you what the business, employment or stock market conditions will be for more than a year ahead, this is nonsense. No facts now exist to give proper basis for any such long-term forecasts. Some will say, "It is in the hands of the gods." I even deny this and say, "It is in the hands of Congress." If Congress should get fed up with labor leaders and demand a showdown, and the labor leaders should refuse to be reasonable, a depression could come next year. The probabilities, however, are that Congress will allow matter to drift for some years. But the longer the cancer runs its course before a surgical operation, the more dangerous the operation will be when it finally takes place.

Garza Farms, Like Rest Of South, Following Trend Toward Fewer And Larger Farms With Fewer Tennants, More Owners

Garza county, along with the rest of the agricultural South, has in the last decade maintained a gradual trend toward fewer but larger farms, fewer tenants and more owners, less hired help and more machinery and greater income and more savings.

This trend was revealed in a report by The Progressive Farmer in a separate sectional report on The March of Southern Agriculture. Material was gathered and published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The 1950 report showed there are 444 farms in Garza county, totaling 505,635 acres. Value of products sold that year totaled $4,279,349.

Progressive Farmer's report goes one step farther on Garza farms and breaks them down according to size. In 1950 there were seven farms under 10 acres, 24 farms of 10-50 acres, 29 farms of 50-100 acres, 124 farms of 100-200 acres, 159 farms of 200-500 acres and 101 farms of 500 acres and over.

Included in the report was a survey on number of livestock on farms, poultry production and cost of feed bought. A total of 20,179 head of cattle could be found on the 444 Garza farms in 1950. Of these 1,035 were milk cows. Garza farmers boasted 1,336 head of hogs and 31,835 chickens that year.

Of this high number of chickens, however, only 3,814 were sold. Egg production and sales beat that figure considerably, with 133,332 dozens being sold. And over the period of the years Garza farmers paid out $209,366 for feeds of all kinds.

Machinery played an important part in the economy of the county, the report shows. Cars, trucks, tractors, and electricity helped immensely in modernizing the farming and transportation aspects of the county. Farmers on 444 farms in 1950 owned a total of 448 cars, 164 trucks and 471 tractors. They spent a total of $175,569 for gas and oil and 380 farms were wired for electricity.

Combined with the report of the various farm activities of Texas counties was a section of interesting information pertinent to the state as a whole. In 1950 Texas had 1,307,000 farm people, a total of 4,043,836 workers, 2,007,351 operators, 1,283,166 unpaid members of the family and 753,319 hired hands.

The Progressive Farmer says that the latest census figures and data combine to give an encouraging picture of the rural South today.

Some striking facts are brought forth clearly. For instance, during the 10-year period, 1940-50, the South's farms decreased in number by 11.8 percent, in acreage harvested by 6.5 percent and in farm workers by 18 percent. Yet, in the same period, the South increased the total acreage (including pastures and woodlots, by 6.2 percent, in tractors by 241.5 percent, in expenditures for livestock and poultry feeds by 358 percent. These figures indicated fewer but larger farms, less acreage devoted to row crops and more to pastures and livestock, less hired help and more machinery.

Indicating a trend to larger farms, census figures show that farms of less than 50 acres decreased 12.4 percent; 50-100 acres, 15.7 percent and 100-200 acres, 14.3 percent. Farms of 220 acres and over increased 13.6 percent with the largest gains in the 1000 acres-and-over class—36.9 percent.

Much has been said about the growth of the South's livestock industry, and animal census figures and valuation for several classes are given by states. As a whole, the South owned, as of January 1, 1952, 27,881,000 cattle—31.7 percent of the nation's total.

The South still owns 92.4 percent of the nation's mules... It is hard to believe that there are still 1,777,000 of these faithful workers in the South. But there are also 926,000 tractors and 822,137 trucks at work on Southern fields, and that totals almost exactly one tractor or truck for every mule. It is interesting to note also that over 40 percent of the tractor-owning farms get along entirely without horse—or mule-power.

The farmer is a big spender, too, as shown by these figures. During 1949 he spent over $848 million for hired labor, $551 million for livestock and poultry, $731 million for feeds, $294 million for gas and oil, and $180 million for tractor and machinery repairs.

To show that the average Southern farmer's economic position has been bettered, 1,747,074 of the South's farms are operated by the owner (or manager) and only 905,321 by tenants. This is an increase of 12.1 percent among owners, and a decrease of 37.5 percent among tenants. The South's cash farm income in 1940 was $2.54 billion, and in 1950 it had grown to $8.42 billion—an increase of 230 percent. Besides using a large part of the increased earnings to pay off mortgages, and buy new equipment and stock, the rural South has banked a huge sum. In 1940, deposits in country banks (towns of less than 15,000 population) totaled $1.18 billion; in 1950 the total was $5.02 billion.

The average Southern farm today consists of 150 acres, of

State Officer Discusses The Program Of Crockett State School For Negroes

By HAROLD J. MATTHEWS
Director Of Institutions, State Youth Development Council

The Texas training school for Negro girls, located near Crockett 7 months before accumulating the 1,000 points for her transfer from a 22-girl dormitory to a semi-private room shared with two other girls, when a student has been awarded 1,620 merit points, she is eligible for release from the institution.

The Crockett state school was established in 1927 by an act of the 40th Texas Legislature. Necessary appropriations for construction were not voted, however, until the 49th Legislature in 1945 provided for operation of the school, which opened August 25, 1946, in a former prison-points and prolong a girl's stay at the school. Each girl can make a maximum of five merits a day, which means that the average student remains at Crockett 7 months before accumulating the 1,000 points for her transfer from a 22-girl dormitory to a semi-private room shared with two other girls, when a student has been awarded 1,620 merit points, she is eligible for release from the institution.

The Crockett state school was established in 1927 by an act of the 40th Texas Legislature. Necessary appropriations for construction were not voted, however, until the 49th Legislature in 1945 provided for operation of the school, which opened August 25, 1946, in a former prisoner-of-war camp about two miles east of Brady, in McCulloch County.

On October 1 of that year, Mrs. I. W. Rowan, the first superintendent, assumed her duties, and students were first admitted the following February.

Originally designated as one of the state's eleemosynary institutions and, as such, operated under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Control, the Brady State School opened with a staff consisting of the superintendent, a secretary, three housemothers, and a graduate nurse and assistant. Later an educational director, music teacher, home-making teacher, and cook were added. Today the staff numbers twenty-seven persons.

WINS HONOR—The Rev. Earl Allen, pastor of Martin Springs Baptist church in Hopkins county, has been named Rural Minister of the Year for 1952 by the Progressive Farmer magazine.

Garza County Residents Reminded Of Ford Farm Festival Tuesday

Tuesday, July 22, is the big day in Post for the celebration of the Ford Farming Festival and our own Salute to Agriculture. Plenty entertainment for young and old has been promised by Garza Tractor and Implement, Earl Rogers manager, sponsor of the event. The program is to be presented, starting at 8 p. m. in the District Courtroom at the county courthouse. Admission is free. Highlight of the program will be a motion picture, Holiday for Bill, a romantic comedy filmed on a modern American farm and starring Hazel Dawn, jr., and Paul Langton, stage, screen and TV stars.

ARE FARM CHORES TOO MUCH FOR CITY GUYS? Pat Holiday finds out as she kneels over Bill in "Holiday for Bill"—romantic motion picture comedy presented in the Ford Farming Festival.

In addition the program provides a complete evening of entertainment, inspiration, ideas and farming information that includes a talk on "1952 Cotton Insect Control" by County Agent Lewis Herron.

"We have planned and worked on our Ford Farm Festival program for a long time," Rogers said. "We believe that the folks who come will not only have a good time, but will also take home some worthwhile information and inspiration. This Festival is a salute to agriculture for our own community—a tribute to the significant part we play in the agricultural progress of our nation."

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Smith last Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cowdrey and Bennie and Abilene, Mrs. Vera Cockrell and Ralph of Post, Mrs. Cora Stone of Tahoka, Mrs. Billie Joe Woods of Colorado City and Mrs. Carter White.

In seven seasons of pro football, Bob Waterfield has completed 763 passes and gained 11,238 yards.

JUDGE JOE S. MOSS

Garza Citizens Can Put It Over

On April 3, 1911, Governor O. B. Colquitt signed a bill creating the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, which decides appeals in civil cases tried in the courts of Garza county and 45 other Panhandle and South Plains counties. In its history, there have been 17 judges serve the court, all of whom came from one of eight counties in the 46 county district. Six of these came from Amarillo, three from Vernon, two from Plainview, two from Lubbock, and one each from Shamrock, Memphis, Floydada and Littlefield. Garza county and 37 other counties never had a judge on the court.

In the recent poll conducted by the State Bar of Texas among all the lawyers of the district to determine the best qualified candidate for the court this year, Joe S. Moss of Post received 176 votes to 161 for all three of his opponents, a clear majority over all of them. Garza county thus has a good chance to place a judge on this court in this year's elections. Post and Garza county would be the smallest town and county ever to place a judge on this court.

The citizens in Garza county can help in two ways: First, by giving Joe S. Moss a substantial vote at home as a recommendation to the other counties in the run-off; and secondly, by calling by the office of Joe S. Moss and receiving from his secretary a list of post offices in the district, and a supply of post cards, already printed and stamped, with each Garza citizen can sign and address to friends in the district, asking them to help him.

With the help of all of us we can make it. (Pol. Adv. Paid by Joe S. Moss)

State Farm Income Below 1951 Level

AUSTIN, July 16—Texas farmers' cash income for the first five months of 1952 was 5 percent below that of the same 1951 period, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The fact that marketings of many grain and livestock products fell behind last year's schedules is the main cause of the drop, researchers say. Not equaling 1951 results were oats, corn, grain sorghum, peanuts, cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs, wool, mohair, and eggs.

Balancing those declines were increased sales of cotton (214 percent), cottonseed (153 percent), wheat (748 percent), poultry (19 percent), milk and milk products (10 percent), and fruits and vegetables (139 percent).

How's Business? GREAT—with prices like ours

THIS is—to coin a phrase—a "shopper's market."

Folks are taking a keen look at what they get for what they pay—and they're taking a double look at price tags.

That's the kind of market where Buick really shines.

Do you know why?

Buick prices are down within easy reach of the folks who buy what's known as "the low-priced three."

Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales comes from the folks who trade in one of this low-priced trio.

For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.

They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.

They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflo Drive.*

They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the belt they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.

So Buick sales are booming. Not just the SPECIAL—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.

When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity?

If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.

Equipment, accessories, trim and moulds are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Political Parties

By joining a political party you as a citizen increase the efficacy of your role as a voter. The organization which results when you align yourself with others who share your ideas about what should be in office and what the government should or should not do has two major aims—to get control of the government by winning elections and to attract additional support for its political program.

Your greatest influence on the American political scene is felt when on primary or general election day you mark your choices among the party candidates. If your party wins the election, you have your "say" about what the government does. If your party loses, you continue to seek support for your point of view looking always toward the next election to try again.

American democracy is built on the party system. Parties influence the molding of public opinion by keeping the people informed on political issues, by bringing other issues before the people, and by encouraging public discussion of all issues. Parties select and bring forward candidates for public office and exert pressure on them while they are in office. Parties furnish the human element in the operation of government—they determine the ways in which constitutions, charters and laws are actually carried into effect.

If you are not participating in party meetings and primaries, you are not making the most of your party allegiance. Party membership means more than voting the party ticket at the general election; it means attending precinct conventions, willingness to be a delegate to other conventions, voting at primaries, expressing your views on party policies at all times to party leaders and in party meetings, and helping to get out the vote at election time. Of course, since Texas is still a one party state, most of the voter activity takes place within the Democratic party.

Although organization of the parties within each state is a branch of the national party structure, this relation usually becomes apparent only in presidential election years. At other times the state organization is concerned with local and state politics and becomes particularly active in the years in which biennial state elections are held. Party activity in Texas is regulated very thoroughly by state law, but Congress has not seen fit to regulate the national party structure to any appreciable degree. The local and state organization takes two forms: (1) the party conventions—precinct, county, and state—in which the voters of the party take an active part and (2) the county and state executive committees which are the full-time working organs of the party.

Conventions
(Anyone really interested in conventions can hear all they want on the radio this week. The Republican National Convention met in Chicago last week and the Democratic convention gets underway this week.)

The party conventions are the popular branches of party organization—that part of political activity in which the voters have an opportunity to express their opinions with regard to party policies. In Texas all parties adopt a platform and select their state executive committee at the state convention. The principal function of the Democratic party's precinct and county conventions is the election of delegates to the state convention. But the convention system has added significance for the other parties because it is here that they nominate candidates for the general election.

The series of biennial conventions which precede the general election begins for the Democratic party with the meetings which are held in each voting precinct on the first primary election day. Any qualified voter in the precinct may attend and vote in a precinct convention which elects delegates to the county convention. One delegate is elected by each precinct for every twenty-five votes cast in the precinct for the party gubernatorial candidate at the last general election.

The Republican party and other parties hold precinct conventions on the third Saturday in July. Here candidates for precinct offices are nominated and delegates to the county convention selected. One delegate to the county convention is elected for each twenty-five votes cast for the party's candidate for governor at the last general election.

County convention are held by all parties throughout the state on the first Saturday after primary election day. Here delegates are elected to the state convention. One delegate represents each three hundred votes cast in the county for the party's candidate for governor in the last general election. If no party primary was held, nominations for county offices may be made. The Democratic state convention is held on the first Tuesday after the third Monday after the run-off primary. At this conven-

Livestock Shipping Drops 42 Percent

AUSTIN, July 16—Total Texas livestock shipments during May were 42 percent below April and 21 percent below May, 1951, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Only calf shipments were higher in May than in the same period last year (up 28 percent). Cattle, hog and sheep shipments decreased in the year-to-year comparison.

certain candidates, or the delegation may go unrepresented. The state convention also nominates the Texas national committee members, a man and a woman, who are formally elected at the national convention and by custom selects the party's presidential electors. Precinct conventions are held the first Saturday in May; county conventions on the following Tuesday; and state conventions on the fourth Tuesday in May.

Executive Committees
Another organ of the political party is the executive committee—a small group of party members which carries on the "between-conventions" business of the party. There is a state executive committee and a county executive committee.

The county executive committee is composed of a committeeman (the precinct chairman) elected by each precinct in the county and a chairman elected by the county at large. The precinct chairman is the head of the party in his precinct. As a member of the county executive committee, he attends all of its meetings where he has one vote on all matters coming before the committee. He presides over all precinct conventions until they are organized and a permanent convention chairman is chosen. The precinct chairman is the party leader with whom individual party members have the most contact. He must keep in touch with the voters in his precinct, help them with their voting problems, and see that they go to the polls on election day. He is the voters' link with the party organization.

The chairman of the county executive committee (the county chairman) is the party leader for the entire county. He presides over all meetings of the county executive committee and serves as temporary chairman of the county convention. It is his duty to inform the voters of the time and place of the county and precinct conventions and to receive from the county clerk the results of the precinct conventions. If his party holds primary elections, he receives requests for places on the primary ballot, provides for holding elections in the precincts, appoints the primary judges with the consent of a majority of the county executive committee, and furnishes these judges with written instructions as to the manner of conducting primary elections. He also appoints, with the committee's consent, a

Spraying Project Finished By City

Complete spraying of the city, which was undertaken last week, was completed in a day and a half, according to an announcement by Henry Tate, general superintendent.

Using a spraying machine owned by the 4-H boys, the City cut the time of the job down by at least five or six days. At the same time the cost of the operations was reduced to one third of what was spent last year.

"These factors," said Tate, "will enable the City Commission to authorize at least two or three other sprayings this summer if they deem it advisable."

Covering the city, the sprayers concentrated on garbage cans, open cess pools, lumber piles, outdoor toilets and around fences along all alleys.

"No cow lots, horse lots, or chicken yards were sprayed," Tate explained. "We would like

Skip Martin Wins Dunlap Scholarship

Creighton Ross (Skip) Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Martin of Post, has been selected as a candidate for a Dunlap scholarship at Texas Tech college this fall.

Martin was among more than 125 area students who have competed for the scholarships over the past month through personal interviews and examinations. The top four students of each high school in Lubbock, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Hockley, Terry, Lynn and Garza counties are eligible for the award.

Freshmen students accepting the award, however, must earn them. Worth $150 each, the scholarships are payable in two installments, one shortly after mid-semester grades and the last at the end of the semester.

Attending Post High school, Martin made the honor roll, participated in the junior play and participated in football. He will enter the division of engineering.

P-TA Appealing For Program Aid

Post P-TA members are making an urgent appeal to generous individuals, firms and organizations for help with the remaining weeks of the Summer Recreational program.

Only two more weeks remain in the program, but funds are completely exhausted and the P-TA needs help. Organizations who helped with the first $600 raised include Rotary, $50; Junior Luncheon, $10; P-TA, $315; Chamber of Commerce, $50; and Post Bridge club, $25.

Another $200 is needed to carry the program for another two weeks. The reason for the high weekly rate is the fact that the group is behind in payment of director's salaries, expenses and other items.

Anyone interested in helping the program may contact Mrs. John Loft or Coach Bing Bingham.

Bingham pointed out that at the beginning of the program it was thought programs by the children could be sponsored to raise money for the project. But the children have been so small that no such plan could be followed.

The coach also made an appeal to the parents whose children are participating in the program. To take the children skating and swimming more cars are needed. Very few parents have gone with the group and carried loads. The coach appeals for more cooperation these last two weeks.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Bill Of Rights

The American "Bill of Rights", consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791 specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press. The same article protects the right of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation; and against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

(This column, based on the federal constitution, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Telephone

No definite date can be set as to when the exchange could be put in Post, Herley explained. Several factors, among which are the steel strike, when Washington will approve the setup, exact boundary lines and what Southwestern Associated plans to do about a few lines it has out in the county.

The customary deposit for each subscriber is $50. The minimum charges cannot be determined until a complete list of subscribers is available. Herley pointed out the exchange has to be paid for within 25 years.

All persons interested in the project are urged to watch for the date of the meeting and attend so that all questions may be answered and a complete understanding arrived at.

Hutto Injured

Bowen's car was parked parallel with the sidewalk just north of his store. Delozier apparently attempted to pass another car on the right side of the road and smashed into the rear end of Bowen's car. The momentum of Delozier's car carried Bowen's car approximately 60 feet before the two stopped.

The Saturday episode was Delozier's third offense and Judge J. D. King set a $1000 bond. He was still in custody Wednesday.

No one was in Bowen's car at the time and Delozier was not seriously hurt.

J. R. Potts, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Potts, was brought home from the Tahoka hospital Tuesday night after being hospitalized since Monday week. Potts suffered a concussion when he fell from a pick-up in front of the Raymond Redman home. Potts, Dan Redman and Royce Jesse were riding in the back of the pick-up when the ingate came out throwing the boys to the pavement. Josey suffered a fractured arm, Redman only bruises. Dr. Tubbs gave medical attention before Potts was taken to Tahoka.

Aspects of Big Junior Rodeo And Quarterhorse Show Given in Article

By MABLE LAWRENCE
Member of Commerce Secretary

VIEW! I just want you folks to know, if you don't already know, that the Quarterhorse show, this coming August 16, is the best yet, then I'll be among the most fooled people on this side of the border. Wonder if any of us realize these men are putting on this event. I'll grant that few of us do. Bill Long, Hodges, George Samson, Taylor and Jack Samson nearly all shows at their expense, to advertise our city and make the local show bigger every. By advertising, they inside the gate after buying tickets and ask "Are there Quarterhorse owners here where are they?"

They know where they find the owners, they will find the owners, walk up to these owners and introduce themselves, reporting their own accomplishments to their new acquaintances, who in turn tell of their horses and their placings. All during the conversation, Post is mentioned numerous times and to everyone they come in contact with, who is every one at the show, practically, is invited to "our" Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo and Quarterhorse Show.

And—these Quarterhorse men are really going "first class" this year. They have a most complete entry blank and catalogue for the first time, printed very nicely and on good paper. They have secured addresses of over 300 quarterhorse men from various places all over the States and have the entry blanks mailed to them already. They are not waiting for them to request entry blanks. That is a most profound way of letting people everywhere know of Post and its activities and extending them a cordial invitation to visit with us. Perhaps, some of these invitations will not be accepted but they do know that we are having a Quarterhorse Show and it's at Post, Texas.

One entry blank among the 300 mailed last week has been filled out and returned with check attached. The contestant is Ruby E. Nichols, Seymour, Texas. She is entering Son Cody in Class 8 as scheduled in the new Quarterhorse catalogue.

We have many quarterhorses right here in our County: Roger Camp's Mindy McCue; George Samson's, Georgia Brown; Bill Long's Frosty Babe, Shennanigan, Three Man & No Name; Mrs. Ad Jones' Sip; Earl Hodges, No Name.

Charlie Brookshire's Stormy Night, Jr.; Double U Company's Wimpy's Traveler; Zoe Sims Ham's Baby Rain Drop; Floy Richardson's Dude; and Ed Sims' Billy Sunday. That's a pretty good beginning and there may be more that we don't know about. Surely wish you would let us know more about you and your horse.

Anyway, we salute these folks for wanting something and working so diligently toward having it. Let's help them all we can, as they deserve it.

County 4-H Girls Enjoy Annual Play Day Last Friday At County Courthouse

Friday was Rally day for all Garza county 4-H girls and 32 of them took advantage of the opportunity to meet at the County courthouse for a day of learning, fun and other entertainment.

Accompanied by the seven club sponsors girls from the Graham, Garnolia, Justiceburg, Southland, Close City, Post Senior and Post Junior clubs attended the annual event.

A main purpose of the annual Play Day is to allow the girls who attend the District camp an opportunity to teach the other girls the crafts learned in District Camp. This year the girls learned about the weaving of baskets, place mats, flower vases, and bread and fruit bowls.

Play Day is divided into three separate programs. First the girls who attended Camp and Roundup give reports of their visits and what they learned. Second, these same girls become instructors and teach the technique of crafts learned in camp. Third, the entire group participates in a recreational program.

Baskets which were made by the girls Friday were made from materials bought by the girls. Baskets averaged 45 cents each and the girls kept them for home use.

At noon a majority of the girls enjoyed a basket lunch on the courthouse lawn. During the recreational program they played games, learned square dancing and sang songs.

Sponsors who were present included Mrs. Bernie Jones, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. Harion Morris, Mrs. Henry Wheatley, Mrs. Wesley Stephens, Mrs. Sid Cross, Mrs. Hardy Smith, county 4-H chairman, and Lorene Cash, secretary, were also present for the event.

Closing Of OPS Office Announced

Orders to close the Lubbock district office of the Office of Price Stabilization were received today, H. R. Gholson, district director, announced.

The elimination of the Lubbock office, which for more than a year has administered the government's price stabilization program in 69 West Texas counties, was brought about by the agency's move to reduce its personnel and otherwise curtail its operations to conform to the funds allocated by Congress.

Gholson received information that personnel in Region 10, which includes the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, must be reduced from the present total of 1040 persons to 240. The national office, in effecting this reduction in the region, ordered the closing of district offices in Lubbock, Shreveport, Fort Worth, Tulsa and Houston, and the combining of the regional office in Dallas with the Dallas office. District offices remaining will be in Dallas, San Antonio, Little Rock, Oklahoma City and New Orleans.

The section of the state presently included in the Lubbock district will be placed under the Dallas office, according to tentative plans.

Decision Before Dawn

Movies of the Week

"DECISION BEFORE DAWN". The ultimate in great pictures. Acclaimed by the world as the most authentic and outstanding picture of any year, "DECISION BEFORE DAWN" is scheduled to give Garza county fans its tremendous story next Wednesday and Thursday at the Tower.

"DECISION BEFORE DAWN" is true. The names of the people have been changed to protect those who have survived, but the basic incidents took place. They tell of a young German who knew that his country could be saved only through its defeat in battle. He wanted a life in which people are free and honest with each other and he knew it could not be so in Germany until it had lost the war. To fight for these benefits he turned traitor and spied for the Allies. He died performing his mission.

Call him a traitor, or call him a hero, you'll call his story unforgettable.

Gary Merrill and Richard Basehart team with three of Europe's most brilliant actors to bring this powerful story to the American public with a compellingly shattering impact. Austrian actor Oskar Werner portrays the idealistic German who wishes to save the honor of his country. Co-starring in the picture is glamorous Hildegard Neff, a noted European actress, and lovely Dominique Blanchard, French actress.

Scenes in "DECISION BEFORE DAWN" show the American public in Germany after the war. They eloquently recreate an era and dramatically etch the stark realities of war's aftermath.

Once you have seen "DECISION BEFORE DAWN", you'll agree with Walter Winchell when he said, "Decision Before Dawn" seems like the most important picture in years."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meeks would more than likely enjoy the story of "DECISION BEFORE DAWN." If so, they have two tickets at the boxoffice good for any performance.

Movies are definitely better than ever, especially at the TOWER.

Sunday and Monday, Joel McCrea and Yvonne DeCarlo bring fans the adventure-packed story of lusty, wide-open, cutthroat San Francisco. "THE SAN FRANCISCO STORY" depicts the story of when the doomed, the damned and the daring made Frisco a brawling, sprawling hill-city of sin.

The tomorrow and Saturday presentation gives every Texan a story to be proud of, for it is a story of Texas. "RETURN OF THE TEXAN" is a story that plucks at your heart. Stars include Dale Robertson, Joanne Dru and Walter Brennan.

Manager John Hopkins also extends a cordial invitation to everyone to come to the TOWER theatre at 10 a. m. Friday (tomorrow) and hear the recording of a dynamic speech made by Rev. Billy Graham.

NEWS AROUND Postex Cotton Mill

Well, old Postex is rolling again after a two weeks stop. The Management wishes to express their appreciation to all employees that returned to work on time, fully rested and with a new will to do a good job. We hope that everyone had a safe and pleasant vacation.

Paul Melton and family reported a pretty good fish story. They claim that his son-in-law hooked an 18 1/2 pound channel cat, but we Texas people claim that there are no fish that size in Alabama, only in Texas people catch fish that size.

They tell me that Walt and wife almost had a permanent reservation at Mackenzie in Lubbock.

We are happy to welcome L. G. Duckworth and family to our happy family here at Postex. Mr. Duckworth is formerly of South Carolina.

We see that Eunice Porter turned safely from California where she visited friends and relatives during vacation.

N. C. Outlaw Makes Formal Statement

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARZA COUNTY:

I am deeply grateful for the wonderful support you have been giving and are continuing to give me in my campaign for the office of Representative. I shall always remember and cherish your most generous recommendations and efforts in my behalf.

Nearly all of you know me, my view points and the things for which I stand far better than I would be able to tell you and it would be superfluous for me to undertake a campaign for an office of the type of representative in this county as there is nothing new about myself and my beliefs that I could tell you.

I do want to say to you that if I am elected I shall strive to serve you in such manner as to bring honor to myself and to the county. I fully realize that only in faithful and honorable service can honor be attained.

N. C. Outlaw.

Southwest Conference Football Teams To Lead Nation In 1952 Grid Battles

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

It's the middle of baseball season and the weather isn't conducive to the so-called bodily contact sports but it's sooner than you think—football blossoms in all its glory in just two months.

The gridiron game actually moves in some three and a half weeks hence when the Texas Coaching School is held in Fort Worth. That'll be all you'll hear about then.

Southwest Conference squads open the grind Sept. 1 and will play their first games Sept. 20.

Texas will have its biggest football season ever—more high school, more colleges playing the game. Better than 880 high school teams will make the campaign. There will be 26 senior colleges and more than 20 junior colleges fielding gridiron outfits.

The Southwest Conference is in a position to assume the leadership in the nation's college football. The inter-sectional schedule is the gaudiest yet.

And the conference appears to have the teams to do it. There will be 152 lettermen returning to the seven member schools—in an average of almost two players per college.

The inter-sectional schedule includes Michigan State, Kentucky, TLA, Wisconsin, Washington State, Mississippi, Kansas, Wake Forest, Louisiana State, North Carolina, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Georgia Tech, Duke, Oklahoma A&M, Tulsa and Missouri. There are no eastern teams but the east hasn't been doing much in the nation's football for several years outside of Princeton, which won't show its wares against the top teams of other areas.

So far as material goes, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Arkansas appear to have the stuff to rate one-two-three. But Rice, largely a sophomore squad in 1951, has most of its men back and Rice had a fine football team last fall.

The only teams due to be weaker are Baylor and Texas A&M. Baylor seems to have lost more than anybody.

Southern Methodist, to hear the coaches tell it, will be a very green outfit but with a strong potential. To hear SMU ex-lettermen and alumni tell it, the Methodists will have their greatest material in history. There are 26 lettermen on the hilltop, which would discount the verities of a green but growing outfit. And no team has the promising newcomers as boasted by SMU—Frank Eldom, Duane Nutt, Doyle Nix, Tommy Hairston and Ed Bernet.

Texas Christian perhaps should be rated the favorite for the title if any team is. There are 28 lettermen at the defending champion school, including that great trio of tailbacks—Gil Bartosh, Mal Fowler and Ray McKown. And they expect a trackster who runs with a football like he does on the cinders to bring visions of that jack rabbit of the thirties—the mighty Cy Leland. He's Ronnie Clinckale.

Arkansas has 25 lettermen featuring Lamar McHan, the quarterback who could well be the conference's greatest player next season. Rice has 21 lettermen with Kosse Johnson, Dan Drake and Center Don Rhoden each bidding for outstanding honors.

Texas is making a gallant effort to play itself down and paint itself as inferior to last season, but most of the coaches think the Longhorns are the team to worry about. Gib Dawson heads a fine backfield and Tom Stolhandske is likely to be picked as the top wingman in the nation. He wasn't far from that last year. And the sophomore crop is very, very good.

Baylor and A&M will win some games. The Aggies probably will finish higher in the conference race than they did last season when they were supposed to win it. Certainly the pressure is off and the material at Aggie land isn't the worst in the country.

There's one thing about it: no team is going to get cocky. Southwest Conference football the past decade has been the most unpredictable and the best-balanced of any in the country.
