Post Residents Offer Help For Bullard Family After Bad Fire

A Thursday noon fire hit the W. T. Bullard home in north-west Post, totally destroying the dwelling and causing a hundred percent loss to the family belongings and household goods. The Bullards, a family of eight, lost everything they had. Many people have come forward to offer help to Mr. and Mrs. Bullard in this time of stress. And many others have inquired as to what they might do to help. All of the people's clothes burned and all of their furniture burned. Naturally these items must be replaced. And anyone wishing to aid may do so by these methods. If some people who wish to help have no way of carrying their contributions to the Bullards, they are urged to call the Dispatch and a truck will be sent to pick up the items. Providing anyone wishes to give clothing here are the sizes of the members of the family. Pants, boy size: six, 11, 12 and 15; Shirts, boy size: three, 10 and 14 or 15; Shoes, boy size: 3 1-2, 4 1-2 and six. The little girl wears size four dresses and 9 1-2 shoes. Other sizes include, Dress, woman size: 22 1-2 and shoe six or six and a half; Men Clothes: eight shoe, 16 shirt and 34-32 pants and about 38 jacket. Any contribution turned in to the Dispatch will be delivered to Mr. and Mrs. Bullard and family.

Scholarship Is Planned For William Bullard

William Bullard is going to college! Post residents have seen to that score since the bad news got around that the Bullard house burned last week. A one-year scholarship fund drive was begun almost simultaneously by Homer McCrary, Mrs. Ruth Young and Principal Chant Lee. And at the present they have approximately $100 to go on. Lee explained that $150 will be needed for Bullard to go to school one year. This covers only tuition, books, laboratory fees, activity fees. Young Bullard will work part time to take care of his room and board. Anyone interested in helping with this fund may contact Lee, McCrary or Mrs. Young. Why not a permanent scholarship fund for a needy graduate of Post High school? This question has been asked more than once, so the three explained they would attempt to get enough people interested in the idea to establish one. Naturally it would cover the first year of any student going to school and would cost approximately the same as Bullard's. Should enough money come in for the fund to be established it See SCHOLARSHIP Page 8

Big Parade Through Downtown Post To Herald Opening Of '52 Stampede

Everything is in readiness for the eleventh annual Post Stampede Rodeo which will unfurl before an expected overflow crowd at 8 p. m. next Wednesday night. The show will thrill avid rodeo fans for four nights, winding up with the last performance on Saturday night. Immediately following the rodeos each night will be western dances on the slab at the arena. Mike Custer, chairman in charge, says good music will be provided for dancers each night. Heralding the opening of the annual Stampede will be a big parade beginning around 5 p. m. Wednesday. O. D. Cardwell and George Samson, parade committee, say the 1952 parade will be the best ever produced in Post. It is to feature eight or ten riding groups and sheriff's posses, Post High School band, fire trucks, Stampede Rodeo association officials, and at least 14 floats and decorated entries by businesses and clubs in Post and the county. The parade will gather on West Main, west of the courthouse. The businesses and clubs that have indicated they will have floats in the parade include, West Texas Gas, Southwestern Public Service, Tom Power, Chamber of Commerce, Mason and Company, Maxine's, 4-H Boys and Girls and Home Demonstration council, Dowe Mayfield, Lester Nichols, Jim Hundley, Connell Chevrolet, Brown Brothers, et al, Beta Sigma Phi, Fenton & Thompson and Shybles Implement. Contestant entries to the annual rodeo are coming in fine, according to Homer McCrary, secretary. He said, however, that the biggest number would come in on the last two days before the deadline. Admission prices have been set at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. In addition to the thrills and spills of the rodeo, Stampede fans will be treated to one of the best and most unusual specialty acts to hit the rodeo circuit. The Lucas Troupe, comprised of six acrobats, will perform some practically impossible feats during the four nights. Rodeo officials, townspeople and contestants say that the 1952 Post Stampede Rodeo will be the best yet. So why not set aside the four nights and attend. And if you like to dance, wear your dancing shoes for the best dances in the West will be held at the grounds immediately following each rodeo.

City-Wide Cleanup Campaign Set For Wednesday, June 4th

City-wide cleanup day for Post has been set Wednesday, June 4, as the result of a citizens meeting in the City Hall Tuesday night. A proclamation declaring the day a legal holiday will be issued by Mayor T. L. Jones. The City Commissioners decided this should be done at a recent meeting. Purpose of the holiday is to allow every resident in Post to pitch in and help with the clean-up campaign. A committee is working on seeing if the stores and businesses will close that day. Order of the day is work. Everyone will meet at the courthouse between 7:30 and 8 a. m. on that morning and there will be plenty of trucks to haul off garbage and trash. Car dealers in town are seeing that these conveyances will be available. Giles McCrary and Tom Bou-chler are general chairmen in charge of the overall cleanup program. Last year Post suffered a light epidemic of polio and dysentery, which might have been prevented had the entire town been cleaned up and the fly-breeding spots eliminated. Dr. D. C. Williams told the group Tuesday night. Flies can cause other diseases, a main one being typhoid. See CITY CLEANUP Page 8

GRADUATION . . .

Tomorrow night a large number of Garza county youth will complete their high school education by receiving diplomas. What is in store for them in the future? No doubt, each one is silently asking that question. Some probably have a sound idea of what they intend doing, while others have never been able to form such an opinion. For some, too, the way promises not to be rough for they have no financial worries, yet others have a financial obstacle they must overcome before succeeding in life. However, they might ask themselves another question. What is success? Is it financial gain? Is it contentment and happiness? Their answer to this question will tend to guide them throughout the years. Some will continue their formal education by attending college, while others, faced with that financial stumbling block, will be forced to go to work and support themselves and perhaps others. Yet, no matter what the graduates in Garza county tell themselves, no matter whether they go to college or not, they are faced with a great challenge. It is their job to pitch in and help with the job of making their country a better place in which to live. Theirs is the task of shouldering the burdens, the gripes, the blessings and future of the United States. And we feel with extreme confidence that from these graduates in our county will arise some men and women to make the rest of us proud.

Who says people get lazy in the summertime? Why there is more projected action brewing around this little place than that by a tomat walking on a hot road.

Do you like softball? Not just to watch it. I mean to get out and play. Well, if you do, you will certainly have an opportunity to participate in some here in Post.

Not that I play myself, but I am more than glad to see some interest going toward working up a city league. And in the near future (or maybe you already have) you will hear all about the deal.

Recreational facilities, as everyone knows, are limited in Post and no one has too much opportunity to get the necessary exercise needed to work off that little bit of extra weight.

So the idea of a city softball league for the summer was originated. It will be for old and young. Anyone who wants to get on the field. And it won't be professional either, so old duffs, fat people, skinny people, good players, bad players and players who have never played will have the same opportunity.

I might add right now, that anyone who is interested should contact Pat Walker and give him your name. He also needs some more sponsors, although I think he will have them all lined up before too long.

Now the rough idea of the whole thing is to have about a six or eight team league within the city and perhaps play two games per night, two nights per week. The play will be carried on with full records just like any other league would, thereby giving each team the benefit of standings, batting averages, and all the other items necessary in running a league.

Few suggestions have been forwarded as how to keep one or two teams from dominating the league due to the possession of better than average players. Perhaps the most logical one was the idea to pool the names of all who want to play and then let the team captains draw their allotted number of players. This way the law of averages would tend to evenly distribute the players.

I believe this would be the best way to get the teams. For there is nothing more disgusting to watch than a ball game between a strong, efficient team and one which is weak and powerless. Therefore if you can get the teams fairly evenly matched, games will be of more interest to fans and will in the long run draw more people to see them.

After all the league is not being organized to run on a professional basis, but rather to provide the men and boys of the town some place to let off steam and at the same time enjoy themselves. And you fill a team with strong players then pit it against a weak team night after night, and the boys on the weak team will quit.

Present plans call for trying to get the teams organized and begin play by the first of June anyway. That means that interested persons must contact Walker as soon as possible and give their names.

Naturally the players will furnish their own gloves and shoes. It has been decided that no full-team uniforms are necessary. However, if a sponsor wanted to go to that much expense then he could. But the cash outlay will come in for bats and balls for the sponsors' teams. Gate receipts will tend to defray some of the expenses but it is doubtful that they will take care of all expenses.

Games will possibly be played at the park south of Postex Mills two nights per week. Playoffs also will probably be held. Of course, rules and regulations governing the league will be set up by a board and I might say right here that when rules are made team members and captains should adhere to them or the purpose of the entire undertaking will be ruined.

Squabbles never helped anyone. And they won't help a softball league. But I predict that we won't have any in ours.

How about let's getting behind the league and having some fun! However, softball is not the only sport which is blossoming out in this fair city. Proponents of the smaller, but harder variety of ball (baseball that is) are also attempting to interest someone in forming a team.

Anyone interested can drive out to the park south of the Mill Sunday afternoon and participate. There will be only one team and games will be slated with surrounding communities.

TEXAS BRAGS: Said a Texas father to his son going East, "Son, it is very rude to ask a man where he is from. If he is from Texas, you will soon find out, and if he's not, don't embarrass him."

It's Time To Be Careful I am not predicting a stock market crash. I am merely warning that the risk factor of buying stocks increases as the prices of stocks advance. This risk is further accentuated by unstable world conditions and the uncertainties of an election year. It, therefore, might be wise to take profits and put them into savings banks and government bonds. This would enable you to set aside a nest egg now so that it will be ready for use when prices drop.

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

The First In History

For the first time in history a Negro sat on a petit jury in a 106th District Court civil case tried here Monday and Tuesday, District Clerk W. S. Taylor states. Early Lee Lawson of Tahoka is the "colored" man who served on the jury. He is a leader of his race in this community. Judge Louis B. Reed stated that Early Lee is also the first Negro to serve on a petit jury in this district. The case on trial was a damage suit, Grady Stewart vs. Rebel Thomas, and the jury brought in a verdict favoring Thomas. Stewart, who lives at Graham Chapel, was involved in a head-on collision with another car in east Tahoka on Oct. 2, 1949. He alleged that while going east he ran up behind some cotton trailers pulled by a tractor, and in dodging them he collided with the other car. The trailers belonged to Thomas Brothers, and were being pulled by a Mexican laborer. The jury decision was based on fact, among others, that reflectors on the trailers could be seen a sufficient distance for safety.

Nothing Down

The oft-maligned Consumer Regulation W is no more. You can buy anything with nothing down and the rest of your life to pay, if you can find a merchant to sell it to you on those terms. Most local merchants indicated that they will still require down payments and balance settlement on about the same levels as under Regulation W. They say in many cases it simply is not good business to sell major appliances, furniture or autos for nothing down and with the payments spread over a too-long period of time. With removal of the regulation, however, a great expansion in installment credit can be expected, as some interests already are selling for "nothing down." The wise buyer will not overload himself on this easy credit—and possibly force prices higher in the process. A substantial down-payment is one of the best justifications for installment purchases.

Just Talk

After figuring my income tax, social security tax, the grocery bill and estimating my income for the next twelve months I stuck my neck out and bought a power lawnmower, figuring that I could save enough to pay for it by pushing the thing around myself instead of hiring someone to clip it every week or two. My figures have all added up wrong, for after having the machine pull me around the yard at sixty miles an hour I petered out before the sixty miles was reached and I now hire a man who is much faster on his feet than I am, to give the grass a hair cut. If you are considering investing in a power lawnmower, take my advice and try running around the block a couple of times at a fast speed and if you end up still standing up, it might be a good investment, but if you collapse in one and a half laps don't buy one unless you know of some one you can hire to run a race with the mower once every two weeks. I'm not built for power lawn mowing myself.

PARADE FLOATS

Not quite a week away is the big Post Stampede Rodeo Parade. Next Wednesday to be exact. By all standards of the West, that parade should be a success. It should contain all the elements contained in parades in Lubbock, Lamesa, Brownfield, or any other South Plains city. If it doesn't, then Post should not have a parade. For as the saying goes, "nothing is worth doing, unless it's worth doing well." Yet, a few people cannot make the parade the big success it should be. No, the entire town and county must pitch in and extend a helping hand to the parade committee. Floats are needed for this parade. And they are not coming in like they should. West Texas Gas has promised one, 4-H club boys and girls and the Home Demonstration Council will have one, Chamber of Commerce has one planned, and several others have indicated (without committing themselves) they might have one. The Chamber of Commerce secretary has written some 25 different clubs and organizations in the county in an effort to work up some interest and gain entries. At least 10 or twelve floats are needed as a minimum, but that doesn't mean that more can't enter. For "the more the merrier," they say. Garza people should take much more interest in the parade than was taken in the Junior Rodeo parade last year. For surely we want people to come and view our parades and then go home and brag about them, not be sorry they made the trip. Get in and help this year and make the Post Stampede Parade the best in the South Plains.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY,
Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, AP—Imagine taking all the tractor-drawn plows off of Texas' farms and replacing them with old-fashioned, mule-drawn Georgia stock.

"You'd have a disastrous drop in feed and feed production," says Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson and Abilene.

"Yet, you'd have agricultural production in Texas down to par with that of much of the world, and, if our farm output over the nation was reduced to that extent, you'd have starvation in our midst and conditions that breed Communism."

The illustration was given by the West Texas Congressman to emphasize the need and the goal of the Point Four program. The House Foreign Affairs Committee, on which Burleson serves, has just approved a bill authorizing funds to continue the program next year.

Conservative by nature and hesitant always about getting into any kind of foreign entanglement, Burleson concedes that his active support for Point Four operations has come about by proof of the good it has accomplished in the three years of its existence.

"In the beginning I was cool to the program," he explained. "I questioned its practicability, rather than its philosophy."

"It has achieved surprising results, however, on a vast scope. Compared to military and other aid we have given allied or friendly foreign powers its cost has been but a drop in the bucket."

For the current year Congress appropriated some 125 million dollars for Point Four work. The President has asked for funds to increase the operation somewhat during the next year.

The money is used largely to hire technicians who can teach improved methods of agriculture and livestock production in backward countries, and to help them help themselves in numerous other ways.

Sanitation experts, for instance, teach the value of efficient sewage systems and then help in planning them where the people of a community want the improvement. Nurses teach mothers how better to care for infants and children, lowering mortality rates and improving health standards.

"What agreeably surprised me," Burleson continued, "was the practical viewpoint that has been taken in this program."

"We can't keep supplying the rest of the world with food forever. The idea here is to help them raise more to feed themselves."

"For instance, in India they have increased food production four to five times over in some areas simply by providing the farmers with a plain plow that cost between $2.50 and $4.00.

"Farmers there had been able to cultivate only four acres with an oxen-drawn primitive Georgia stock—nothing much more than a pole with a metal strip over the point which turns over the earth. With these new plows, still drawn by oxen, they are able to cultivate about 20 acres.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Curbing Of Inflation Has Been Helped By Wage Earner Savings Than By Politicians

Babson Park, Mass.—The man in the street has done as much this year to stop inflation and stabilize our currency as all the government regulations put together. I wonder if the average American realizes how much he has really helped to curb inflation through restraining his urge to spend and by voluntary saving? He has done a job that ought to make the front pages of every paper in the country. I say this because only through a program of natural, voluntary savings can America keep strong.

You can be sure that in this election year the politicians will be taking credit for what you have done. They will tell you that inflation has been slowed to a standstill by their price and wage controls, their heavy tax program, and their tightening of consumer credit. No one of us is going to be stupid enough to deny that an aspirin or a Seltzer may help a headache. But unless we are very stupid indeed, we realize the aspirin is only a sedative, not a cure. A look at the record since the close of the war shows the politician to be a good hawk of patent cure-alls but a mighty poor diagnostician.

Sometimes, after awakening from an overdose of drugs, the hang-over which follows is worse than the pain one first endured. As a result, the American people have lost confidence in the politician's patent medicines and have decided to try an old-fashioned remedy—THRIFT. This old-fashioned remedy is producing some phenomenal results. It has actually caused a halt in the inflation epidemic.

The Real Story About Savings Through voluntary savings our people more than doubled their 1951 savings over 1950, putting better than $22 billion into the sock. At the same time, consumer debt held steady for 1951; only 34% of disposable income after taxes, and but 32% of savings. Yet, the same potential to spend was there.

More people are earning more money than in any previous postwar year; incomes are better for 25 million families. They could have gone on a spending spree, but they didn't. My guess is that they didn't because the average man has lost faith in the politician and his panaceas. He is wondering if he can keep afloat if prices go much higher. So he is beginning to put a little money aside for harder times. He is less and less inclined to mortgage his future for a TV set or a new car. People everywhere who have good wages ought to continue to save as much as they can while the going is good.

How Is Money Being Saved? Bank accounts and savings bonds are still the most popular places to save money. This last year the nation's 529 mutual saving banks reported an all-time high in new savings accounts, with 3 million more accounts. Despite this exceptionally good year for the banks, there is a trend away from the banks, and a trend away from buying U. S. Savings Bonds. The number of families that have become interested in mutual investment trusts and other stocks has tripled in the last couple of years, while the number who have put their savings into real estate has increased about 80%.

I hope that small investors who are now buying stocks for the first time will not be disappointed. The high prices at which most popular stock are now selling are danger signals. The small saver, especially, should know that at only one point in history (1929-30) were stocks selling higher than they are today, and he should remember well what happened then.

It's Time To Be Careful I am not predicting a stock market crash. I am merely warning that the risk factor of buying stocks increases as the prices of stocks advance. This risk is further accentuated by unstable world conditions and the uncertainties of an election year. It, therefore, might be wise to take profits and put them into savings banks and government bonds. This would enable you to set aside a nest egg now so that it will be ready for use when prices drop.

ENJOY A BETTER HOME

Every year about this time, my Mother used to get the urge to really spruce up the old homestead.

For days we'd come in to a house smelling of paint, fresh air, and waxed floors . . . and dark nights of stumbling over furniture that had been in the other corner that morning . . .

Well . . . recognizing his habit of the "weaker sex" . . . we've come up with a plan that makes it easier on the pocketbook.

Repaint, repair now . . . add an extra room, new yard fence . . . many, many home improvements are eligible for loans under the FORREST FINANCE PLAN. No down payment required . . . full amount can be paid off in easy monthly payments . . . it all adds up to a mighty good deal!

Come in soon . . . Tell us what you want . . . and we'll be glad to work out plans and estimates.

PMA Chairman Cites Need For More On-The-Farm Storage Facilities

Garza County Agriculture is in definite need of increased on-the-farm storage facilities, Chairman Claude E. Spence, of the County PMA Committee, said this week.

"Adequate farm storage," Spence declared, "is an important part of farm and crop planning, and such expanded storage construction is within easy reach of our farmers."

The PMA chairman pointed out that Commodity Credit Corporation guaranteed loans are available through the County PMA Committee to finance up to 85 percent of the cost of storage facilities of sound construction and suitable capacity, strength, and design.

He explained that approved storage facilities will be needed by producers who avail themselves of farm storage price supporting loans, or purchase agreements, on 1952-crop peanuts. This year's peanut price support program, he said, will enable farmers to hold peanuts under loans and purchase agreements and do a better marketing job. In that way producers can take advantage of any seasonal market price increase above the guaranteed support price.

"Now, while crops are in early season growth," he said, "is an ideal time for every farmer to give thought to his farm storage needs for the months and years ahead. If he's in need of additional storage, a CCC-guaranteed storage construction loan may meet the need."

Spence explained that such a loan will cover most out-of-pocket costs for a storage building except the cost of labor usually employed on the farm. A loan may be made for a period up to five years, at an interest rate of 4 percent per annum, and money from the loan will be available to the farmer when the storage structure is completed, inspected, and approved by the county committee. Meanwhile, he may use a committee-approved storage loan commitment to borrow from an approved lending agency, or may obtain his loan direct from CCC.

Chairman Claude E. Spence invites Garza County farmers to visit the County PMA office and discuss their on-the-farm storage needs.

Carey Baby Is Buried Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for Stanley Leroy Carey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Carey, Jr., of Tahoka, were conducted Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. I. J. Duff, of Plains, officiated for the rites in Stanley-Jones funeral chapel. Burial was in Tahoka cemetery.

The baby was born in Tahoka hospital Tuesday morning and lived only a few hours.

Survivors besides the parents are the grandparents, Mrs. Effie Autrey, of O'Donnell, and Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Carey, Sr., of route 2, Post.

Mesquite Spraying Date Set June 15

Mike E. Custer, Secretary Garza County Production and Marketing Administration, announced that the date has been set to begin spraying mesquite in Garza County. Spraying will begin on June 15th, and the last day on which mesquite can be sprayed will be July 15th.

Ranchers who are interested in carrying out this practice should call at the PMA Office and make arrangements with the office personnel to have the land inspected that they wish to have sprayed.

There are several companies who will be working in the county and the ranchers should make arrangements with one of the licensed vendors to do their work before June 15 to avoid delay in securing assistance with the work.

Recent guests in the F. M. Wiley home were their children and grandchildren. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stokes and family, of Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crawford and family, of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harlan, of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White and family, Milton, Raymond and Jane Wiley, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Vance Zin, of Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. Audie Wiley and son, of Tahoka. Other visitors were Wiley's father, W. D. Wiley, of Ballinger; and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Maxey.

Miss Mary Nell Bowen and Jerrald Bowen, of Hardin-Simmons university were Post visitors during the weekend.

J. A. Meeks spent the first of the week at Hamlin with his brother, Will.

lived only a few hours.

Graduating Seniors Prefer Texas Tech

The refusal of Southwest Conference schools recently to admit Texas Tech as a conference member might have left the impression with some people that Tech has lost its appeal, but the majority of the 31 Post High school graduates emphatically say "no."

In fact, it seems by the preference given by the Post graduates that Southwest Conference schools have lost out. For not one graduate listed a Southwest Conference school as a college choice.

However, Texas Tech received a solid victory by 18 of the 31 seniors indicating the West Texas school as their college. In fact this number actually came from only 25 students, for six graduates indicated they would work and not go to college.

Of the other seven, two prefer West Texas State College at Canyon, one the University of Colorado, one Parks College in St. Louis, one Howard Payne, one North Texas State and one Nurses Training school.

Mr. (Cletus) and Mrs. (Geraldine) Graves plan on going to West Texas State; Mary Ann Rose will enter University of Colorado; William Bullard, Parks College; Don Jones, North Texas State; Roy Briggs, Howard Payne; Virginia Caylor, Nurses Training school.

Indicating no college preference were Winona Branson, Vandon Thomas, Wayland Craig, Jackie Williams, Jacky Meeks and Joy Orr.

Visitors in the J. T. Peddy home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Adrain Porter and children, Mrs. Mary Hudman of Big Springs, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Young and children, of Lamesa, and Joni Hudman of Ft. Worth.

Miss Mathis Is Hostess At Tea For Post Senior Girls, Mothers

Sixty-five guests enjoyed the original idea and hospitality of Miss Anne Mathis, Thursday afternoon, when she complimented Post high school senior girls and mothers of class members with a tea in her home.

The hostess, wearing a white ballerina dress, matching accessories and white carnation wrist corsage, greeted guests. She presented a corsage to each member of the house party.

In the receiving line were Miss Neida Floyd, senior, and Mrs. Davis, senior mother and class roommother.

Miss Wynona Branson presided at the register. She wore a mauve ballerina with matching satin shoes.

Bouquets of pink roses decorated the master bedroom and Miss Mathis' room, where each graduate had an individual gift display.

Appropriate recorded music was played throughout the calling hours from 4:30 until 6 o'clock. An arrangement of white gladioli, a gift from Mrs. Allen Benton, of Lubbock, was on the console.

A cutwork linen cloth covered the serving table, which was centered with a bouquet of pink daisies, fever few, Marquette daisies and gladioli in a crystal bowl.

Three pink tapers in crystal holders were on either side of the flowers. A pink streamer with "graduation," lettered in gold, joined the candelabras. The heart shaped cake, a gift from Mrs. K. Stoker, was iced in pink and was decorated with pink roses and silver leaves. Tiny pink rosebuds and tulips were arranged around the cake.

Punch, mints and nuts were served with the cake. Rosebud trimmed tea napkins, crystal and silver appointments completed the table decorations.

Church News

The following Sermonette is given by the Rev. F. M. Wiley, Calvary Baptist pastor:

Let Me See Jesus

Let me see Jesus as an innocent, spotless lamb, a pure holy person, God's only son standing in the very beginning of time as a person, God's only son standing in the very beginning of time as a lamb slain for me. He emptied himself that I might be filled. His love gave me his garment of salvation to cover my sins from the eyes of God. I am hid with Him. His righteousness covers my unrighteousness.

1. Let me see Him observing the wickedness of the world. Adam and Eve sinned, Cain slew Able, God's chosen people forgot God. So Adam brought death. Jesus, in spite of the fact, that I was dead in trespasses and sin, came as an innocent babe, taking on himself my sinful nature, and offered life.

2. Let me see Him subject to parents, as a son, and pleasing to God in the flesh. God said, "Thou art my beloved son in whom I am well pleased." He yielded not to temptation. His own people closed their doors against Him. They said, "He is not the son of God, we will not have Him. He is an imposter." He was tried. No fault was found in Him. I blasphemed Him. I spat upon Him. I placed a crown of thorns on His head. I said, Hail King of the Jews. I mocked Him. He opened not His mouth.

3. Let me see Him as a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. He preached, He taught. He healed the sick. He opened the eyes of the blind. He performed miracles. He loved much. He wept at the tomb. Jesus prayed in the garden for me. I went to sleep. Jesus said, "Sleep on. It is finished." He carried the cross for me. It was for me, Jesus said, "Forgive them father, they know not what they do." It was for me He gave up the ghost.

The earth was made to tremble. There was darkness. Graves gave up their dead. Oh! What a great catastrophe. Jesus was willing to give his all to save a sinner like me. Jesus is all the world to me. He is my strength from day to day. Without Him I would fall. He is the potter, I am the clay. Mold me, shape me and lead me to live for you each day.

Post's Top Ten Seniors Relate The Stories Of Their Lives

Mrs. Buster Shumard returned home last week after undergoing surgery in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis, of Plainview, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Davis.

(Editor's Note: As is the policy of the Dispatch each year, the auto-biographies of the 10 highest seniors (scholastically speaking) are being run again this year. As they are reprinted below they are not necessarily in the order of scholastic standing, except the first one.)

★ GLENDA ODEN

On the night of July 30, 1934, Glenda Lanell was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Oden. Yes, all parents are proud of their first child and these were when they got over the disappointment of my being a girl. After a few nights of my crying they were both glad I was a girl for you see boys are supposed to be more trouble than girls. But I guess they wondered if anyone could beat this noisy baby.

In September 1940 my school days began and I was a happy little girl. The first few years consisted of boy friends and building play houses.

At the beginning of the Sixth grade my mind turned to school activities. I entered in three track meets after this. Played baseball and basketball which seemed like football most of the time.

Then came graduation from the eighth grade. I felt pretty bad about going to Post for I didn't think anything could equal Graham School and the fun I had out there. My first year at Post proved I was wrong. For the school and teachers were all wonderful. I also had more fun than I had ever had at Graham.

The Sophomore year passed with its pranks and cute tricks. Then came the two years I shall never forget. The Junior and Senior years have been more than wonderful.

In the Senior year I have been typist for the school paper. Representative for the "Caprock" and Senior Class Favorite. Now that this Senior year is over and our school days in Post are almost over I have received news that to me is the greatest thing I could ever hear. I was high point student of the Senior Class.

After graduation I plan to attend Texas Tech college. At the present I don't know exactly what I shall major in.

★ CREIGHTON ROSS MARTIN

I was born, and I was born, in the heart of New York City, at the age of 0. It happened on September 21, 1933 at a hospital somewhere in the city. I don't remember just where it was, I was too little, but I do remember a big electric sign across the street which showed a man in coat and tails carrying a cane and walking along briskly, the sign read, "Walkers Whiskey," that's all I remember.

As you've probably guessed I am a "Yankee". I came to Texas at the age of nine, Dallas, Texas to be exact.

When I was about ten we moved to Los Angeles, Calif. We lived in various suburbs of Los Angeles for the next five years.

Well at fifteen we moved to Colorado, there I am convinced is "God's Country." We then moved back to Texas, Ft. Worth, this time. We stayed there for just a few months then moved to Odessa.

After a few months of this we managed to escape to Robert Lee, Texas. Here I lived for one year and completed my sophomore year in school. I was now a year behind time as I had missed a year of school in Colorado when we moved around so much. This taught me the value of school and I did pretty good.

The following year we moved to Post. Here I made a lot of friends and really began to enjoy myself. In my Senior year I played football (one game) until I became ineligible for having too many semesters in high school. It was then I began to see the value of school and I began to bear down a little. Just a little. Well this year it's all coming to an end and I see my mistakes but it's too late.

I plan to go to Texas Tech and major in petroleum engineering. I expect at the age of thirty five to hold several titles and be entirely independent. As much as one could be.

★ CORDELL CUSTER

I was born in Post, Texas on Jan. 22, 1935. I attended school for the first five years at Close City. I then moved to town and to begin in the 7th grade. I met the town thugs here that were destined to become my friends through my high school years. I sailed through Post High School having a lot of fun and learning a little on the side. After graduation this spring I hope to attend Texas Tech in the fall.

★ BETTY HAGOOD

On October 23, 1934, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Hagood became the proud parents (parents, anyway) of a baby girl. This one was named Betty Lou. As most babies are—I too, was a problem. As I grew older, my sister cared less for me because sometimes she had to take care of me for a little while. Sometimes I wonder how I ever survived.

After spending six years of my life playing, I began my school career at Post Grade school in 1941. And, naturally, as most little girls do, I had my boyfriend. As this year soon passed, and the second year was just beginning, I moved to Justiceburg with the rest of the family. Dreading to start to a new school, I waited three weeks before going. I was supposed to be in the second grade, but was promoted to the third. Three years soon went by and I finished my schooling at Justiceburg—that was through the sixth grade. Proud of being able to return to Post school, I was anxious for school to begin the next fall. When this time arrived, I supposed the fun was just about to begin, but not for the first few weeks. Soon settling down, I began to get use to the new customs and more than one teacher. All we dreamed about then was just to get into high school. This, we soon accomplished.

Numerous activities were now. School life was beginning to be a little more exciting. In the 8th grade, I had the honor of being chosen class favorite. Later that year we moved from Justiceburg to a farm about two miles northeast of Post where we lived for a few months before moving into town. My freshman year had passed. I was again chosen class favorite in the Sophomore class. Again we moved out 5 miles on the Tahoka highway where we resided for one year. Then came the two most exciting years of my life—my Junior and Senior years of high school. Until December of 1950 we lived on a farm then moved back into town where we still live. During my Senior year I have had the honor of being chosen "Who's Who," editor of the "Caprock" and society and fashion editor of the school paper.

Now that the Senior year of my school days is almost over I suppose we shall all start looking on into the future. This fall I plan to enter Texas Tech, and as yet have not decided what I am going to study.

★ LEE W. DAVIS, JR.

The dark, dreary world turned into a bright, shining thing on July 16, 1934. At 12:00 noon, Texas was tense, the Light Crust Dough Boys were about to come on the air, but instead a little, cute (?) baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis. Lee Jr. weighed close to 8 pounds. By the way, I am Lee Jr., better known as Buddy.

When I reached the age of 6 I entered school at Verbena with three of my pals, Lindell Davis, David Tyler, and Don Brown. After spending a year there, I entered Post Grade School. Like Betty Hagood, I also skipped the second and went to the third, where I fell madly in love with a blond who is now married. But after another year I met Barbara Norris. The only trouble was Don Brown had also met her. But I, being very bold and not the least bit timid, waited and watched for my opportunity. Finally, I got to go with her. Evidently I was having too much of a time with the women because I failed the sixth grade. Here I started running with Jack Kirkpatrick and Cordell Custer.

We were a wild bunch when we reached the eighth grade, at least we thought we were, but after the first day we found out different. My affair with Barbara Norris had lasted until this year. Since I was off women for a while, I decided to study for a while.

Our Freshman year wasn't so bad. It was this year that I managed to buy off enough of the kids to elect me Freshman favorite. I still didn't have a girl though.

Things started looking up for me this year. Sophomore year that is. I made the football team, water boy. I still didn't have a girl. Now came mid-term. I still didn't have a girl, but on March 20 Mary Ann Egan moved to Post. I still didn't have a girl.

It gives this old familiar sign new meaning

WOULD you be interested in getting one gallon free with each tankful of gasoline you buy?

Then we can tell you this: It will certainly be worth your while to read this brief story of Buick's new Airpower carburetor.

Truth is—a skillful driver can just about double the bonus we mention, if he makes the most of what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

The reason you can get such a bonus traces to a pair of simple facts:

- (1) It's a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.
- (2) Buick engineers have come up with a four-barrel automatic carburetor that lets you use more gallons of air per gallon of fuel.

Most of the time, only two of these barrels are needed—and they feed such a thrifty mixture that you use less gasoline at 40 mph than you'd formerly use at 30.

But—when you want a quick burst of eager power—you can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and come up with the highest horsepower that Buick's Fireball 8 Engine ever delivered.

Of course, any man who's buying a car as fine as a ROADMASTER wants a lot more than extra miles from a tankful of gas.

He wants the distinction of extra room, extra comfort, richer fabrics and all the other refinements that make a car truly fine.

He wants to ride with solid security, confident poise and lordly silence. And, while he may not admit it, he years for a car that's full of fun. All this, we promise you, and more will be yours when you take the responsive wheel of a ROADMASTER.

How about doing that—soon? Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

REGISTERED NURSE SAYS BIG 12 FORMULA IS BEST

When a registered nurse with years of experience in hospitals and private homes caring for sick people recommends a medicinal product one can be certain that the product has real merit.

"I am a registered nurse, serving many years in hospitals and in private cases, and I have seen many instances where patients, suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and a general run-down condition have been greatly benefited by taking a vitamin and mineral tonic such as BIG 12. In fact I should consider BIG 12 an absolute necessity where the patient's system is deficient in Vitamins B, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin, and Iron; this especially true in cases of iron anemia of which there are many. I have studied the BIG 12 formula carefully and the BIG 12 supplies far more iron per daily dose than any similar product I have seen and I think I am familiar with all of them. BIG 12 also supplies in the daily dose as much of the new Red Vitamin B<sub>12</sub> as a doctor usually gives in an intramuscular injection. I believe that BIG 12 Iron Tonic, supplying as it does, helpful amounts of Vitamins B, B<sub>2</sub>, and Niacin in addition to Vitamin B<sub>12</sub> and with such a high iron content is undoubtedly the best tonic a person, young or old, can take to relieve conditions caused by these deficiencies. Also, because of its pleasant taste, BIG 12 is invaluable to mothers of these children are not thriving, they should, since children will readily take BIG 12 and this is important to mothers because other similar products usually taste absolutely and have to be mixed with water to enable an adult to take them, much less trying to get such a dose down a child. BIG 12 requires no dilution with water, in fact BIG 12 can be placed in milk without causing the milk to curdle as will be the case with other similar products."

If you or any one in your family, a grownup, or child, is suffering with stomach distress, listlessness, poor appetite, nervousness, nagging aches and pains and sleeplessness due to deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron you could not possibly do a greater favor than to purchase a bottle of BIG 12 Iron Tonic at your drug store and within a short time, often before the first bottle has been taken, you will note a decided change for the better, you'll note more energy, better appetite and a general improvement so why wait? BIG 12 is the product you have been looking for if you suffer from these deficiencies and it is as close to you as your nearest drug store. (Continued From Page 6) Alexander City High school. I was still taking music lessons, so I didn't go out for any sports. It was this year that I got into the "Choralists," a choral group, directed by Roy Coley, my piano teacher. This group of teen-age boys and girls sang for different clubs and gave musical programs.

In 1950 I was elected to go to Boy's State. This was sponsored by the American Legion and each high school sent one boy. In 1951 my Dad accepted a job with the Postex Cotton Mills and we moved to Post. I am now going to school at Post High school, and I played basketball this year.

I hope to go to Texas Tech next year and major in music. BILLIE TAYLOR I was born in Snyder, Texas, June 4, 1934 where I lived until I was six years old. I then moved to Lubbock and enrolled in school there.

I moved to New Mexico when I was twelve and moved back to Lubbock when I was fifteen. I moved here in February of 1949. I will finish this year and then plan to go to Tech.

CLETUS GRAVES I was born on Dec. 15, 1934. I accidentally lived and now, 17 years later, I expect to live to be 70. I started to school when I was six and as you can see am finishing. I am married and have one girl.

DON TATUM I, Don Tatum, was born at the large place of Fluvanna, Texas. It was a happy surprise to my parents, the John Tatums, since I was born on my father's birthday. For several years my life was the same as most babies. Then when I was three years old my dad died and I moved to my grandmothers where I lived for about four years. About six months after my father died a little brother was forced upon me. He has been my daily headache ever since.

I was fortunate to become the son of Ira Farmer, who is the sweetest dad a boy ever had. My first year of school was here in Post, but before the year was over we moved to Snyder. After a few years in Snyder and in Big Spring, I again entered school in Post when I was in the fourth grade, where I joined most of my present class mates.

Happy was the day when we made the long journey from grade school to high school. Here we have seen many good times. "I don't know about winning any ribbons," Roger pointed out. "All I know is the horse will be in the show."

Elsewhere on the local Quarterhorse front, Earl Hodges sold his mare, My Choice, to C. L. True of Brownfield for a reported $1,025.

Wayne Carpenter I was born about 10 miles west of Post on December 24, 1934. When I was nearly seven years old I started to school at Garnolia. I went to school there through the second grade then transferred to Graham.

When I started to Graham there was one student in my class, that was Glenda Oden. I finished the eighth grade there. From Graham I came to Post High. I started playing football when I was a Sophomore. I only lettered two years, that was my Junior and Senior years. I am planning to attend Texas Tech when the fall semester begins.

JACK BALLENTINE I was born in "de Deep South" on March 16, 1934. It happened in the town of Tallahassee, Ala. The most exciting thing that happened to me before I started my schooling was my dive into a wash-pot full of boiling water. I was playing on a chicken coop and fell off into wash-pot seat first, that was my first attempt at swimming.

When I was six years old I started my first year in school. In the third grade I started taking music (piano) lessons, but I thought it was "sissy" so after a few months I quit taking.

When I was eleven years old my Dad went to work for the Russell Manufacturing Co. in Alexander City, Ala., and we moved there a week before Christmas in 1945.

I attended school at the Russell Mills Junior High school and played football and basketball there. When I was twelve years old I joined the Boy Scouts and before I was fifteen I was an Eagle Scout.

I started taking piano lessons again when I was in the ninth grade. I also played in the band a little while. In 1949 I graduated from Junior High school and went on to

Roger Camp Becomes Quarterhorse Owner

Quarterhorse news is in the spotlight again and here in Post the entry of the youngest Quarterhorse owner in the county to the business heads the news.

Roger Camp, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Camp, recently became the owner of a sorrel filly bought from Bill Long. The young owner says he definitely intends to enter the horse (which he hasn't named yet) in this year's Quarterhorse Show which is held in connection with the Junior Rodeo.

 Therefore, following the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," the city is going to cleanup.

Every resident in town is urged to help with the cleanup. They are requested to clean up their lots, yards and alleys and have all the trash piled in the alley so it might be picked up. It would help to have someone there to help the truckers load it, too.

Workers on the project definitely won't die of thirst, for a refreshment committee, composed of Clint Herring, Leo Acker and Robert Cox intend to take care of the matter. Mayor Jones also announced that anyone wishing to bring a basket lunch can enjoy a lunch with him at the park site south of town.

Residents will know when the work is about to begin for the siren will be sounded at 8 a. m. the fourth of June to kick off the project.

City officials and interested persons urge all residents to spread the word around and see that every person in town knows there is going to be a cleanup program.

Presbyterian Church, U. S. Dr. Tubbs and his wife, Joan, have two children, Charles (Spike), age 11 and Elizabeth Joan, age six. His mother, Mrs. W. J. Tubbs, also plans on moving to Post.

Attention Ladies!

Cakes lined up—each with a number. Judges looking, breaking off pieces, tasting. The winner? Number 4—a cake with a wonderful, glossy chocolate frosting.

This was at the Women's Club last night. Then Duke Thomas stepped up—his cake was Number 4! Seems his missus was laid up, so Duke took over—and won!

Here's Duke's prize-winning frosting recipe:

Melt 2 squares unswweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat, add 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar and 2 1/2 tbs. hot water and blend. Add 3 egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add 4 tbs. butter, beating thoroughly after each. Fills and frosts 8-inch, 2-layer cake.

From where I sit, we all have different abilities and talents... and these differences are sometimes surprising. Duke takes prize-winning cakes. My wife, for example, can beat most any man at checkers. Same when it comes to beverages—you may like coffee or tea while I prefer a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not have any "half-baked" ideas that people are all the same—or should be.

Baseball Experts Claim Communism Can Be Eliminated With Baseball

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Baseball men say if we could get the Russians to play our game it would mean an end to Communism. It would also bring better relations between the two nations.

That may be going too far and baseball probably hasn't that much power but anyway it's a game used to further relations between some countries.

Abner Doubleday laid out the first baseball field in 1859. He served in the Union Army during the Civil war and while General Lee was chasing him all over the country he was leaving baseball diamonds. It was said that at times Confederates and Union men took time out from war to play each other a game of baseball.

Gene Bothell, who this week became a Big State League umpire can attest to the value of baseball in bringing nations closer together. Bothell has been in Japan with George Parr, the former big league umpire. They conducted umpire schools for GIs in the Far East command for the second straight year.

"The Japanese are without a doubt the most appreciative people we have ever encountered," says Bothell. "The Far East command granted us this time to work with them with the thought in mind that through baseball we may further Japanese-American relations."

"The moment is at hand for the Japanese people to regain their place in the family of free nations and there is no better time to bring them closer to us. In one year's time I have noticed tremendous changes in Japan. To those stationed there the change has been gradual and not so noticeable. We can see it in the increase in both quantity and quality of their manufactured products and in the remodeling and construction of new business places. They are also making tremendous strides forward in the rebuilding of their cities."

"There has been a change in the attitude of the Japanese people within the past year. They are assuming more privileges and freedoms which is only natural."

Speaking of baseball, Dick Burnett, owner of the Dallas club, who brought the first negro into the Texas League, is having his troubles—or at least anticipated troubles.

He has two sections of stands for negro fans and when the negro player—Dave Hoskins—pitches they are filled. But on other nights they are not. Burnett wonders what's going to happen some night when there's an overflow crowd, it's not a night when Hoskins is playing, and the white fans can't sit in the negro stands, which will be virtually empty.

There's bound to be quite a noise made by the white patrons.

The Texas Sports Writers association requested of the Texas Interscholastic league that it compile records of its various athletic enterprises.

The Interscholastic league is the largest organization of its kind in the world and gets more publicity than any other organization yet it has no compiled records. A fan or sports writer can attempt to determine whether Joe Doakes of Chittlin' Switch broke a record by kicking 39 extra points after touchdown in 40 tries but there's no way of telling him. Leading scorers, top ground-gainers and other records that would make good reading are not available.

No filly has ever won Delaware Park's mile and a furlong Leonard Richards Stakes.

And the Interscholastic league alone can furnish these—it has the records of all athletic contests played over the years.

But, says R. Kidd, director of the league, this information can not be compiled—the staff isn't large enough and there isn't money enough for it.

It's regrettable that the Interscholastic league can't exploit itself. Why not raise the fees of the member schools to pay the cost of doing it?

Movie of the Week

"They are all good pictures, I wish I could see them all." So went the comments overheard at the previews of coming pictures at the TOWER THEATRE.

And I don't blame them. For next week's list of pictures offers the movie fan a varied assortment of good entertainment. Sport fans will especially be interested to know that three of the four pictures have a sport background.

And one especially should interest Garza residents as they are West Texans and rodeo lovers.

That is the Sunday and Monday presentation of "BRONCO BUSTER."

However, as many people as this picture will probably draw, I will have to pick another picture, the Wednesday and Thursday schedule, "I WANT YOU," as the Movie of the Week.

Starring Dana Andrews, Dorothy McGuire, Farley Granger and Peggy Dow, "I WANT YOU" dramatically tells the story which is well known to millions of Americans today.

It directs a probe to the core of family life in every home in America, essaying to show what happens to the men and women of America, the fathers and mothers as well as the sons and daughters, when the call of the draft to armed service becomes a matter of personal and immediate urgency to the individual receiving it—and to his associates, at home, in business and in social circles.

As brothers in the picture, Andrews and Granger each has a problem. The former is a World War II veteran faced with the question of whether or not to go back into uniform for an important Army job, while Granger resents the fact that he is being drafted.

Around their respective decisions is woven the warmly human story. It will be, I predict, the most talked about picture of the week.

I believe that Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell would enjoy the story in "I WANT YOU." Two tickets are theirs and are at the boxoffice, good for any performance.

Now for the picture which should be of special interest to West Texans. "BRONCO BUSTER" stars John Lund, Scott Brady, Joyce Holden and Chill Wills. It takes the fan on a tour of all the major Rodeo arenas of the West and introduces such outstanding rodeo champions as Casey Tibbs, world's champion cowboy, Pete Crump, champion bulldogger, Dan Poore, Brahma bull rider

SETTING RECORDS—A bronco busting cowboy from Hardin-Simmons University is setting new records in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association every time he sets astride a saddle bronc. Joe Shase, sophomore student from Elbowoods, N. D., has won seven straight events in this season's rodeos. He is now runner up for top honors as NIRA all-around cowboy.

Brownfield Parade Scheduled Today

The fifth annual Brownfield Jaycee Rodeo will open tonight and run through Saturday night at the Jaycee rodeo arena at Brownfield. It has been announced.

RCA approved, the rodeo is expected to attract a capacity of 3,000 fans. Bobby Estes of Balrd will produce the show.

A big parade will open the show at 5 p. m. this afternoon.

and Bill Williams champion rodeo star.

Basketball, basketball and more basketball. Every kind and fashion and then some that has not been fashioned. It's the all-out feature fun hit, "THE HARLEM GLOBE-TROTTERS." Shows Tuesday only and we predict a full house. Don't let the title fool you. This picture also has a good story to tell with some good actors doing the telling.

Final sports shot of the week, "FLESH AND FURY," showing tomorrow and Saturday, is a boxing story. With Tony Curtis playing the important role as the prize fighter, the story unfolds with an impact only found in the ring.

That's the word brought back here by 103 war captives recently released by the Vietinh forces.

They said they were not mistreated by the Vietinh. They suffered principally because of the lack of food, clothing, medicines and the cold, rainy weather. The former captives reported they ate little except rice.

Polluted Water Dangerous To Nation Booklet By Health Service Explains

By BURNIS LAWRENCE

Water plays an important part in the life of every West Texan—in fact the most important part, for without water any section of the country would be desolate and barren place. Yet, no matter how important water is to us we never think of it in any way except its life-saving, makes things grow and provides us with our daily bread.

Seldom do many of us think how the polluted condition of water threatens the productive capacity of our highly industrialized and urbanized economy.

However, this condition has become so serious that Congress passed the Taft-Barkley bill, Public Law 845, instructing the Public Health Service to "collect and disseminate information relating to water pollution and prevention and abatement thereof."

In such a short space I cannot go into the details of the booklet put out by the Health Service, but some of the figures were news to me and might be to you.

There are more than 22,000 sources of pollution in the United States; 11,800 municipal sewer systems and 10,400 factory waste outlets. Despite the reduction of waste by 9,300 treatment plants (6,700 municipal and 2,600 industrial) the waste still discharged into our waters equals that from 150,000,000 people. We need 6,600 more municipal sewage plants or additions, and 3,500 more industrial waste treatment plants or additions.

The booklet published by the department explains:

"Polluting our rivers, lakes and bays and then trying to 'purify' that water to usable condition is like locking the barn door after the horse is stolen.

"What is wanted is prevention rather than cure. We must attack the pollution problem at the point where the wastes are discharged rather than where the water is used.

"No water except that in the laboratory, of course, is 100 percent pure. As water is formed in the sky it gathers impurities from its very inception, from the atmosphere. It is born impure, so to speak, and picks up still more atmospheric dust or smut as it falls to earth.

"However, even after it has fallen, and is flowing seaward, the quality of water is high enough for nearly any human use: 'Pure enough to drink,' as the saying goes. But when water comes into contact with human activities, quality or 'purity' degenerates fast.

"Bad farming, overgrazing or deforesting multiply immensely the soil particles normally carried by flowing water as a result of natural erosion. Then towns and cities dump in the sewage and refuse of millions of people, and thousands of industrial plants add their load of poisonous waste. The water that Nature gave us is no longer water but an unnatural concoction of man and an offense to society."

The problem is indeed serious and state and county and municipal governments should take some definite action to ease the situation.

The Health Service claims that polluted water is almost as bad as no water at all and can destroy drinking, cooking, washing, bathing, air conditioning, sprinkling, stock watering, irrigation, producing, processing, power, game fish, commercial fish, wild animal and bird life, swimming, boating, picnicking and camping.

Definitely a situation that we need to watch and put in our two cents worth toward its prevention, don't you think?

Fort Hood General Tends To Warm Taxpayer's Heart With New Plan

FORT HOOD, Tex. (AP)—Here's a switch to warm the taxpayer's heart this bleak tax-paying year.

Thirty thousand soldiers at Fort Hood are being told to take a personal interest in the private citizen's pay check.

Maj. Gen. Bruce Clarke, commanding officer, wants to make Fort Hood an outstanding example of government efficiency.

From the youngest recruit to the highest brass, he wants each man to be acutely aware of the money needed to run an army.

General Clarke has made his entire command cost conscious in several ways.

In the company day rooms, mannequins wear an assortment of service clothes. Each individual item of issue wears a price tag. The first impression a recruit reporting to Fort Hood receives is the initial cost of putting him in uniform—approximately $450.

Ask any soldier on the post and he can tell you within a few pennies of how many taxpayer dollars went into each piece of equipment he handles, from his own clothing to the giant tanks.

Each officer is handed a card of instructions containing "Notes on supply discipline and cost consciousness." In it, General Clarke lists strict "Do's and Don'ts" concerning the maintenance and conservation of supplies.

and Cleopus Gray, of Meadow, visited in the H. H. Gray home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davies went to Lorenzo Sunday where they visited Mett Kirksey.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bloxom and family were Sunday guests of his parents, the Arthur Bloxoms.

J. E. Bartlett attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, Bill Parmely, at Goree Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hollman recently visited relatives in Menard.

Richard Jesson, who has recently been transferred to Lubbock from Scott Field, Ill., was a guest in the Earl Lancaster home Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Hub Taylor, Richard and the hosts enjoyed a fish fry.

Mrs. Harley Martin and Mrs. Gene Basinger were in Lubbock Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. Delbert Alcorn are in Arkansas this week.

Blonde Ellis was admitted to Slaton Mercy hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dunn recently visited C. R. Alen at Royce City.

Southland high school seniors and their guests enjoyed a dinner in the Herman Dabbs home Sunday.

The Baptist WMS met with Mrs. Jack Hargrove for a Royal Service program. Those present were Mrs. L. B. Hambright, Mrs. Edgar Moseley, Mrs. Don Pennell, Mrs. H. H. Gray, Mrs. D. G. Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Davies, Mrs. A. R. Bloxom and Mrs. Jack Myers. Punch and cookies were served during the social hour.

BIRD NOT HOUSE-BROKEN

ATLANTA. (AP)—When Mrs. W. H. Sivils returned home from work she found a large bird winging around inside her home. She threw open doors and windows and, after smashing some flowerpots and china figurines, the intruder flew out a door. The bird came through the chimney, she finally decided.

The economy has paid off. The General's First Armored Division is the best fed in the United States Army and at a cost of approximately $30,000 a month under the figure allotted by the army. This with an increase of 150 calories per day over the regular service menu.

Food waste has been cut to a minimum by allowing the individual soldier to serve himself in the mess hall. He takes what he wants and no more.

General Clarke, whose World War II combat record ranks him among the top armored force leaders, had a background which includes years as an efficiency expert.

Post School System Enrollment Has Increased 52 Percent In Eight Years

A blunt warning to Texans that they must spend more of their state tax dollars on public schools or see their children handicapped by receiving an inferior education has been seconded by D. C. Arthur, superintendent of Post schools.

The warning was issued recently by Miss Ruth Hillyer, president of the Texas State Teachers association, urging Texans to realize the seriousness of the situation.

Heavy annual increased enrollment in elementary and high schools, which is expected to continue at least through 1959-60, plus many antiquated educational plants now in use are the main reasons for the need of more funds.

Arthur, after extensive research, has come up with some figures and assumptions that tend to prove Miss Hillyer's warning locally.

"The enrollment of Post Public schools has increased from Johnstons visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Atkinson while there.

624 in 1943-44 to 950 in 1951-52, which is an increase of 52 percent in eight years," the superintendent pointed out.

"At that rate by 1960 we shall have 1440 in school here. At 26 pupils per teacher we now have 33 class room units, exclusive of special teachers. If we reach the 1440 mark we will have to have 55 teachers, or an increase of 22, which means an addition of at least 3 per year for the next seven years.

"If the above sounds fantastic, remember that in 1945 the recorded births in Texas stood at 156,025 and has increased every year since to the 1951 figure totaled 215,000. This means 30,000 to 35,000 six year olds are to be cared for in Texas each year for the next five years.

"Now how does Post enter into the picture? In Texas in 1951-52 there were 1,600,000 children on the scholastic census roll. There were 1,000 here in Post so we have a fair possibility of 1/1600 of increase in State, which means that 1/1600 of the difference between 156,000 and 215,000 can easily be attributed to our school district. This means that five years from now we will get 37 more first graders than we have now. Or every year each grade is growing.

"This plainly shows that we shall need a minimum of 20 extra class rooms by 1960.

"This line of reasoning also excludes any idea of anyone consolidating with us. Should this happen we might need more rooms than that.

"And, after doing a little figuring, it seems that Post is practically on the exact average for the projected increase in enrollment for the nation. The U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics says that the percent of increase for the school population in 1960 will be 66 percent above what it is now, which will show this school to have 1478 pupils, therefore being very close to the average here of the past eight years.

"Hence it is to see that our school system is constantly growing and we must consider the possibility of a building program," Arthur concluded.

In her speech Miss Hillyer pointed out that increased attendance makes necessary a minimum of 1,000 more teachers each year, and the same number of additional classrooms.

That, plus the need to make it more attractive for teachers to keep them from going to better paying positions, makes it imperative that the next legislature provide additional funds, she believes.

Local school districts cannot raise even half of the million of dollars needed, she explains.

"Too, more adequate pay for teachers to keep them from leaving the profession and to attract new ones is necessary. Texas teachers are six percent below the average of all employed persons in the United States and there is already a heavy exodus of instructors. (Post school board members helped the local system and teachers immensely last week by approving a high salary schedule.)

"Retirement, death and the lure of more pay in other professions takes 3,500 teachers out of our schools. Texas must soon build more than half a billion dollars worth of classrooms to keep pace with the increasing enrollment," Miss Hillyer continued.

"Unless we do so, huge numbers of our children will be attending school half time, in double shifts. More than 17,500 are doing so this year and that number will triple next year."

Out of each tax dollar, 32.15 cents goes for public education.

Social Security Man Due In Post

"We've got your number—but don't expect your local social security office to furnish you a duplicate account number card on sight. Keeping possession of the social security card is the worker's responsibility," says John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office.

Over 100 million cards have been issued nationally since social security began 15 years ago. With new coverage groups such as the self-employed needing cards, another 5 million will be issued this year.

Getting a duplicate of your original card is simple, Hutton pointed out, but it takes a week or 10 days to verify the original number through the central records office. If the job seeker has lost his card, he may miss an opportunity for employment while this search is being made.

Young people starting on their careers or vacation jobs will need cards soon. These young folks might follow the example set by workers now reaching retirement age. The have carried cards for about 15 years, and many of them still have their original cards. They recognized that it had a definite value to them, and now in their older years it is paying off.

Applications for social security cards may be obtained at your Post Office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be at the Post Office in Post at 11:00 a. m. on Wednesday, June 4, if you have any questions regarding social security.

NO LONGER HIGHEST — Baylor University's 102-foot flagpole was built in 1917 as "the highest in Texas," but is being cut down to half size after freshmen hoisted class flags to the top and then cut hoisting chains for three straight years. A new pole—readily the top of the old one—will be put in place in front of Pat Neff Hall. Here workmen have just finished cutting the pole and are lowering the top half while the lower part still stands.
