Non Chamber Of Commerce Members Urged To Join And Help The City

Mr. Business Man, are you a member of the Chamber of Commerce? If not, would you like to join?
Those two questions will be asked of every business or professional man in the town sometime within the next two weeks. And the answers to them could be very important to the city of Post. Important in the fact that it will show how much interest the business people have in the continued progress of the town.
Figures and statistics reveal that last year the Chamber of Commerce actually worked more efficiently and smoothly than anytime in the past 20 years. Side by side with those figures stand the ones which show that all of the various activities which were staged for and in the name of POST were supported by a mere handful of the merchants and businessmen.
This means one thing. Of the more than 200 potential members of the Chamber of Commerce, only 79 were interested enough in the town to take an active part in the organization.
Not a pretty picture to be painted in any town. Towns are made by people who live in them. And the fact has been proven many times that they can be destroyed easier by lack of interest in those same residents than any other way.
Every business in town desires its share of trade. Every business in town wants the town to continue to progress so that it can have its share of the trade. But every business in town IS NOT interested ENOUGH in this progress to take an ACTIVE part in it.

C. Of C. Committee Sets 150 As Membership Goal

The Chamber of Commerce membership committee met Tuesday night and formulated plans for a month-long drive to boost the rolls of the organization.
Every business, professional and individual person will have an opportunity to join the organization, committee members decided. Business and professional places will be contacted, but many of the individuals will not be urged to place their names on the roll.
Attending the meeting and the sections they will cover during the drive were: Monta Moore and Buster Moreland, oil; Ralph Kirkpatrick, garages and filling stations; Lee Ward, Postex Mill personnel; Lee Bowen, chairman, and Jesse Ward, co-chairman, who will cover most of the town.
Not present at the meeting, but working on the committee are Pat Walker, attorneys; Hugh Blewins, cafes; and Dean Robinson, courthouse.
Presently there are 79 members in the organization. Committee members set a goal of 150 members. "Actually we should end the campaign with a total membership of more than 150," Bowen said, "but that is the least we intend to have."

McCrary Receives SCS Certificate

Giles McCrary, of Post, Thursday was awarded the "Texas Bank and Trust Company certificate of award" as the outstanding district supervisor in the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District in 1951.
The award was presented to McCrary at the Thursday meeting of the Spur Rotary club. It is presented annually through the Bankers committee of the District (Spur Security Bank and Post First National Bank).
E. S. Lee made the presentation in the absence of W. T. Andrews.

Public School Week To Be Observed In Post Schools Monday Thru Friday

Post Schools, parents and other residents will observe Public School Week Monday through Friday of next week, L. H. Welch, committee chairman, announced.
Although no special events are planned for the first four days of next week, Post parents and residents are cordially invited to visit the school.
"We would like for the people to visit the school and see it under normal conditions," Superintendent D. C. Arthur said. "It would be much more educational and interesting to them if they saw our problems, some of our needs, some of our accomplishments, some of our shortcomings as they occur during everyday operations than if we spruced the building up and showed them a false front."
On Friday, however, the committee has planned a special open house and a program all complete with refreshments. Open house is to be observed all day, with the cafeteria being open to serve refreshments.
Planned for the final event of the afternoon is a special program scheduled for the Grade School auditorium. This will be presented by the grade school students and will include choral singing, recitals, speakers and short skits.
School officials hope for a much better turnout of interested persons this year than last. They maintain that the Post school is "of the public, by the public and for the public." That is why they urge everyone to visit the school and offer any constructive criticism they might have on its operation.
Committee members include Welch, Dean Robinson, Paul Jones, Malcolm Bull, E. M. Mills, Travis Everett and Truett Fry.

Post Exhibition Game Pits Tech Against Thomas Tinkers

One of the state's outstanding independent basketball teams will collide with Texas Tech's freshmen in an exhibition game at the Post High school gymnasium at 8 p. m. today.
A benefit game, the clash is being sponsored by the Post P-TA to help raise funds for the summer recreational program which they will sponsor this year.
Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Mrs. Ralph Welch, president, has announced. All proceeds are going toward the program for the youth of the town.
Coaches Bing Bingham and Vernon Ray will officiate at tonight's game free of charge so that the money can go toward the fund.
Ringer-up to a Houston club in the state tournament last spring, Thomas' Tinkers of Lubbock are currently seeking their fifth Texas Amateur Athletic Federation district championship. Organized and sponsored by Lucian Thomas, Lubbock jeweler and city commissioner, the Tinkers boast an All-American among their ex-college stars.
Don Sunderlage, at Illinois University last year, is the All-American. Stationed at Reese Air Base, he plays guard for the Tinkers and has the best percentage scoring average.
On the other hand, the Tech Picadors have their all-star, too, in Carl Ince, who made all-state for Lubbock's state champion Westerners last spring. Ince, ineligible for play with the Red Raiders this season because he didn't enroll until mid-term, has lost none of his ball handling ability.
Others with the Tinkers are Hank Decker, West Texas ex, now coaching the district titlist Abernathy quintet, Glen Braden and Sam Malone, other former Buffaloes; Larry Wartes, the ex-Hardin - Simmons star; a trio of Texas Tech exes — Weiden Minchew, Jake Broyles and Charlie Pennell; and Hank Balke, formerly with the Denver Nuggets, who now coaches at Ralls. Starters will be chosen from Sunderlage and the first five listed.
A center taller than six foot 10 Paul Nolen will start for Texas Tech. That's Beanie Durham of Spur, being held out this season after transferring from North Texas Agriculture (Junior) College. He stands 6 feet 10 1/2.
With Ince and Durham will team Bobby Day of Lubbock, John Pittman of Lubbock, Maurice Pair of Muleshoe, Scotty Grundy, all - regional from Memphis; Earl Dietering of Lubbock, and Charlie Rand of Lubbock.

Thousands Of Dollars Spent In Other Towns By Post Residents Could Help Improve City

Post, like any other small town which is located within an easy traveling distance of a large city, is faced with a serious problem. A problem, in fact, which takes thousands upon thousands of dollars out of the town each year. Dollars which are needed in the town to help it continue to progress, yet which are lost and tend to help build another town. These dollars are spent by people who depend on Post for a living. People who have their homes here and derive their livelihood from businesses, industries and professions in this small town. Yet, they annually take the money they make and throw it into the pockets of businessmen elsewhere. They do not stop to realize this is hurting their own town (or many of them don't care one way or other). The amount of money spent outside of Post for items which can be bought right here in town would add to the economic life of the town immensely. It could even mean that many people could have better jobs. Of course the fault cannot be placed on the person spending the money altogether. Business places are to blame also. Their stock does not compare to what the buyer can find in Lubbock and other towns. Then too their prices, brought about by the comparatively small volume they have, fail to come down in the bracket hit by some of the stores in larger towns. So the blame can as easily fall on their shoulders as it can on the spender. Yet, if a check could be made, much of the goods bought outside of Post by its residents could have been purchased in Post as cheaply and much more easily. Buyers will argue the point that their money is their own, they can spend it where they wish. True. No one can call them wrong. But there should be a matter of personal pride enter the picture. A person living in a town, calling it home, and depending on a job in that town for the provisions for his family, should be interested enough in the town to want it to prosper. And money spent in another town certainly has no good effect on Post. That money is in another man's pocket. Another man who lives in another town and depends upon it for a living. And even if he spends some of that money outside that town, he still spends enough that his town is benefitted. This appeal is not made for the business men of the town. They are as much to blame as anyone. And should a check be made, one would find that many wives of Post businessmen spend huge sums of money in Lubbock and other towns annually. Therefore, the businessmen have no gripe coming, for if they cannot provide the items their wives want, then they certainly cannot provide for the wishes of all the other residents. No, this appeal is made in behalf of Post. Post is our home as well as our neighbor's. Let's check carefully and see if we are doing as much for the town in return for our calling it home as our neighbor is. It would be unfair to leave the impression that people should feel ashamed if they spent even one dollar outside the town. That idea is silly. For it is understood that some items which people need and want are not available here. Therefore it is necessary that they be bought elsewhere. But the idea that isn't silly, is the act that many dollars are spent on items which can be bought here as easily as any other place. Those many dollars, if spent in Post stores, could easily mean that stocks could be increased, thereby giving the buyer more variety from which to choose. A town is no better than its citizens want it to be. And as long as the citizens of Post put thousands of dollars annually in the pockets of businessmen in other towns, they can never expect their town to be as progressive as its neighboring cities.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

For the past several years there has been a tremendous squabble raging between the Railroad companies and the Trucking companies. You have all seen numerous ads and stories about it in the papers, magazines and periodicals of the nation.

Not wishing to go into the full argument in which the two companies are engaged, I will not begin at the beginning. And despite what I am about to say, I do not feel that Trucking companies should be abolished. We need them as well as railroads.

But you know as well as I that our Texas highways are in a heck of a mess mainly because of the heavy truck traffic which gouges them to bits 24 hours a day.

Where the average Texan has the right to gripe is that his tax money is used to build these roads and the truck companies don't have to pay any more taxes in proportion than the average man. Yet their trucks do hundreds of times more damage to the road than my car or your car. I think that is what the railroad is trying to get the public to see as they gouge the companies.

Overloading of the large trucks seems to be one of the main faults of the companies. Although I think it would only be fair to say that many companies are very observant in the loading laws.

Yet some of them believe that overloading is the only way to make more money. If they are not caught, that trip pays off. And if they are caught, then perhaps they won't be the next time. A very selfish way of thinking. They don't care that an overloaded truck will cost some taxpayer many dollars in damaged roads.

However, the Texas Department of Public Safety has been "cracking down" on the violators with resulting cooperation from the truck operators. Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the department, expressed appreciation this week of an 85 percent reduction in violations of the overloading law.

The director attributed greater law observance to cooperation on the part of the Texas Motor Transportation association, whose members last year set in motion an industry "self-policing" program.

"We appreciate the cooperation given by Mr. W. W. Callan, chairman, and the other members of T. M. T. A. Policy Committee, in encouraging those in the trucking business to comply with the State's laws," Garrison said. Col. James E. Taylor, executive director of T. M. T. A., expressed gratification at the vast improvement in law observance on the part of truck operators. Speaking for the motor transportation industry, he pledged continued efforts, not only to promote compliance with the weight law, but to encourage good courtesy and safety practices on the highways, and generally to give Texans the best possible kind of truck service.

The last legislature increased the truck load limit from 48,000 to 58,420 pounds. This could go a long way toward explaining the reduction of violations of overloading, I think. For more than 10,000 pounds can add a lot of load to a truck.

Reports of the Department of Public Safety were quoted by Garrison to show how the motor carriers were improving their law observance record. He noted that:

During the period September 1 through December 30, 1950 there were 4,309 trucks found to be guilty of overloading out of a total of 40,157 inspected. For the same period in 1951 there were only 952 trucks in violation out of 63,322 inspected.

Percentage-wise, 10.7 percent of the trucks inspected during the last quarter of 1950 were in violation of the load limit, while for the corresponding period last year the number of violators was only 1.6 percent of all vehicles inspected.

Naturally these figures do not include all those as described by the fishermen "that got away." Inspectors cannot be everywhere, so many trucks gain their destination without being detected of having a few pounds too many.

Now none of this takes us back to the point concerning the taxes which we all pay for the highways. The truckers still damage our roads more than we do, and with the new load limit, they are bound to cause even more damage.

I am very much interested in the forthcoming Chamber of Commerce membership drive. At the present time there are 79 members in our organization, where there should be a minimum of at least 200. This town belongs to every businessman, plain resident or industry owner who lives here and they are obligated to take an active interest in its continued building. One way to show an interest is to belong to the Chamber of Commerce. Do you?

The Texas brag that if you don't like the weather here, just wait a minute and it will change, certainly don't hold true to this

THE AMERICAN WAY

"Nero Fiddled While Rome Burned"

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Troubled Hearts

"Let not your hearts be troubled . . ." (John 14:1). Whether the New Testament writer referred to the physical heart or the spiritual heart, or both, is a matter of wide discussion among Bible scholars. But history records that men's hearts, both physical and spiritual, have been considerably troubled since the beginning of time. Today, with the average American citizen traveling at breakneck speed in order to get somewhere fast, and then die young after he gets there, it surely behooves every one to heed Christ's admonition in the book of John. While spiritually troubled hearts are more numerous and certainly more desperately in need of care, it must also be remembered that physical hearts by the millions are in precarious condition. The American Heart Association quotes the National Office of Vital Statistics as attributing 475,440 deaths to these causes during 1950, latest year available for complete data. Yet the association warns against the sort of fear that is likely to follow such a recital without explanation. This broad program of education and its attendant program of research demands money — money that must be contributed by the public. The little heart boxes that have been scattered throughout the county have little slots at the top. These slots will accommodate anything from a penny to a silver dollar. In fact, you could stuff a check or a $100 bill into one of them! Please do . . . for your troubled heart's sake.

Much Ado About Nothing

There has been much ado about nothing in athletic circles of the Border Conference over the race problem. A young Negro was star of the Arizona University basketball team until the end of the semester, when he failed his work. He is no longer a member of the team. In the meanwhile Texas Tech declared that their athletic teams could not play against Negroes. As we have often said, we know nothing about the Negro, never having lived in a community with them. But we have always had the idea that the Negro question would be settled for educational institutions by opening the doors and allowing the Negroes to enter so long as they were able to make their work. We hope that we shall not have to face this race problem as we have not many more active years either of business or of life.

Rodeo Winner Not Real Cowboy

You don't have to be a real cowboy to be one of the country's best rodeo hands. John Dalton, 22-year-old Terry county boy rode off with high money at the Houston Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, winning the calf roping in the process. Yet John never lived on a ranch in his life. He worked in a filling station and hoed neighbors' gardens to earn money to buy his first pony. While on furlough from the Army he placed part of Texas this year. A person would wait a long time before it rained, it seems.

Our present dry spell is apparently getting to the stage of the old joke told about some section of the state:

Mused a gas purchasing stranger at a filling station. "It looks like rain." Commented the station operator. "Well, I hope so. Not for me so much as for my 20-year-old son, I've seen rain."

WASHINGTON, P — Large shipments of fine Argentine wools into this country in recent months are causing concern among members of Congress from sheep raising districts.

Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, whose district is one of the nation's principal wool and mohair areas, has been in frequent conferences with Agriculture Department and other government officials about the virtually idle domestic wool market.

The current trouble, says Fisher, involves complicated international money exchange and Argentine President Peron's encouragement of exports to the U. S. of wool tops—the scoured, cleaned and combed lengthy fibers from the sheep's back.

As Fisher explains it, Peron caused accumulation of two year's production of wool tops. A few months ago he decided Argentine should get rid of this wool. American textile mills, which normally would buy large quantities of raw wool in the U. S., suddenly found they could purchase the choice wool tops for virtually the same price.

As a result, American buyers have turned to the Argentine tops and the domestic wool market has suffered. Western members of Congress checked up to see if laws forbidding the dumping of foreign products in the U. S. could be applied in this case. They urged higher tariffs or quotas to restrict imports so long as they constituted unduly still competition.

Nothing yet has been done, however, because Argentina has operated her export program within the anti-dumping laws. It seems that the Argentine wool top exporters, in converting U. S. Dollars into their own pesos, get about a 7 peso to 1 dollar exchange as compared with 5 to 1 granted exporters of raw Argentine wool. The effect of the program is to stimulate business for the Argentine processing plants.

What will be done is yet to be decided. Just now the Agriculture Department has under study a recent recommendation of western wool men that the government's price support program be put on a loan basis rather than outright purchase. The purchase program is not currently operating. The Department is authorized to conduct such a program when it sees fit. Some announcement regarding a program on the 1952 clip is expected about April 1.

Two spokesmen for Texas cattlemen reported here that they were impressed on a recent visit to remote areas of southern Mexico with a definite change for the better in the attitude of the ordinary Mexican people toward efforts of the U. S. to help stamp out aftosa—foot and mouth disease.

The welcomed reversal was described by Ray Willoughby of San Angelo, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and Judge Joe Montague of Fort Worth, the association's chief counsel.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Vast Size Is No Omen Of Success Financial Expert Says Concerning Small Businesses

BABSON PARK, Fla. — "Good morning, Mr. Babson, — I've saved for you the newspapers you usually order. And, will you please tell your wife that the breakfast food she mentioned has come in.—in case she still is interested." As long as you and I (together with some tens-of-thousands of others folks) want that personal, neighborly, friendly service, we must remain incurably optimistic on the future of small business in America.

Let us ever remember that vast size is no omen of huge success. Who was that spindly-shanked champion pugilist of a bygone era who voiced the deathless dictum: "The bigger they come, the harder they fall"? Bob Fitzsimmons, if I recollect aright. Other philosophers of equal eminence are wont to remind us that bones of extinct and childless mastodons now adorn museums. Tiny insects, however, and microscopic microbes did right well down through the ages; and their myriad descendants today are still on the job and someday may exterminate Man himself.

Moreover, the Scriptures have given us the impressive, inspired account of David, the Small; and his decision over Goliath, the Big. Here is no mere pretty parable or fable or false cheer,—but eternal verity! On this Divine pledge (this sponsorship of the individual), the smallest businessman can lean with everlasting faith, daily uplift, and practical guidance.

Figures Forecast Betterment
Currently compiled statistics show that the "little fellows" have been more prosperous; while the "big boys" have been taking the beating. In 1950, corporation profits (after taxes) totaled nearly $23 billions. Almost completed figures show that corporation profits for total 1951 sagged about 20 percent below 1950; while the small unincorporated business held its own much better.

Another prediction emerges from perusal of recent business records; namely, much of the cream-skimming of profits by Small Business has been done in the war-work field,

—an area supposed to be hogged by Big Business. Realistic and authentic figures thus disclose that most smaller concerns are getting along well, not alone in civilian production and trade, but also in the "arduous arena of armament-making."

One-Man War-Shop

It was recently reported that a large prime-contractor arranged to buy and install costly machine-tool equipment in a factory hardly more than a one-man enterprise. Of course, the proprietor of this little shop was a highly skilled expert. He put in long hours of overtime in personal operation of the machines. Every piece turned out had to pass severest inspection,—and delivery schedules had to be made without fail. This incident significantly shows how success is being won by businessmen who rate small in number-of-employees and dollar assets, but rate big in talent, tenacity, and personal industry. Demonstrations like that—look around for yourself and find many others—prove better than mere cold figures and logical theories that the roots of economic success go far deeper than dollar capital.

TRUE, You cannot run a business without Capital. FALSE: Capital is measured only in terms of cash in the till, bank balances, and securities. Given intelligence, initiative, and continuous personal application, any man or woman can "capitalize" skill, patience, diplomacy, good taste, or other intangible but valuable resources. Thousands of potential winners have quit dismally—or failed even to start—because obsessed by the Dollar Delusion. They think only of going to their bank, instead of their church, for the needed "Capital." Abraham Lincoln, I believe, was the keen observer who noted that "God must have loved the common people, because He made so many of them." In all reverence, may we conclude that the preponderance of smaller concerns is testimony to their enduring importance and perpetuity.

OLD-FASHIONED LIVING

MODERN LIVING

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

Scrub-a-dub-dub, work in the tub . . . that was the old way of clothes washing with the scumming kettles of hot water on the old kitchen wood stove. Water in the tub was either too hot or too cold, cleansing of the really dirty garments meant backbreaking scrubbing on the old corrugated scrub board and usually the kitchen floor got its share of messy, slogged-up soap suds. Today, thanks to electric service, and modern electric appliances, wash day is almost completely automatic. Your clothes are washed automatically with correct water temperatures and modern improved soaps or detergents replace the old scrub board.

American Legion Posts Helping Annual Heart Fund Campaign

American Legion has adopted Heart Fund Campaign as project and Legion Posts in South Plains are participating through distribution of coin containers in the shape of plastic hearts and solicitation.

PROTECT YOUR HEALTH DRINK HYGEIA

(Symbol of Purity) PURIFIED DRINKING WATER Use Hygeia For Cooking Too!

Must For Children from Birth To 7 Years and bottled under sanitary conditions. Sold in grocery and drug stores.

South Plains Heart Association at Lubbock stated that all of the 19 Legion posts in the area covered by the association have been contacted and all are expected to participate.

Counties in the district are Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson and Borden.

A total of $25,000 is being sought in those counties during February "to carry on the vital fight against heart and circulatory diseases," said Dr. Wm. H. Gordon of Lubbock, association president.

"About 44 percent of the deaths in the United States are caused by heart and circulatory diseases. Ten million of the nation's citizens are affected by diseases of the heart and blood vessels," he said. "Over the age of 45, during the man's most productive years, one out of every two persons dies of the heart diseases. One out of every six deaths in the military age group — 30 to 39—is caused by these diseases," said Dr. Gordon.

"The 1952 Heart Fund will seek to raise the necessary funds to support the greatest effort made in medical history to find the answers to the unsolved problems of heart disease," he said. "Money is needed, too, to make sure all the available knowledge about heart disease is placed at the disposal of our doctors and the people it will benefit in every community." Contributions are being mailed to "Heart, Care of Postmaster."

How to get what you want and need in a truck

Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks are the best we've ever used!

...says PAUL CRUCE, Cruce Butane Co., Tulsa, Okla.

"We do a lot of driving on narrow roads, in and out of driveways, in small yards and other tight spots. We need trucks that are real easy to handle, so we switched to Dodge. They'll turn on a dime!

"We service oil wells, too, and that's the toughest off-the-road hauling there is. We need plenty of pulling power. For mud and heavy pulling, Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks are dependable and economical to operate."

SUPPOSE you need a 1½- or 2-ton truck. Naturally, you'll want one that costs less to run. You'll want one engineered to last for years and years. Above all, you'll want one that fits your job to a "T."

That calls for a truck in which every unit that moves the load is engineered to meet most severe conditions—and every unit that supports the load is engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed. What's more, load-moving and load-supporting units must be engineered to work together.

The way to get such a truck is to see us about a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—one that's factory-engineered for your kind of work!

Yes... when it comes to your hauling job, you'll find everything you want and need in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Come in today.

Power with economy. The big high-compression engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1½- or 2-ton truck operates with outstanding economy. You get money-saving values like chrome-plated top piston rings, and exhaust valve seat inserts.

Time-saving performance. Low loading height on 1½- and 2-ton models and hinged center sections on stake bodies make loading and unloading easier. 5-speed transmission available on most models for more pulling power, better speeds.

Easy handling. Exceptional handling and steering ease is made possible by wide front tread and short wheelbase. Thanks to shorter turning diameters, you can turn sharper either right or left—back into tight places easier.

POST, TEXAS

JUSTICEBURG IN 1911 — Shown above is the townsite of Justiceburg in 1911. It was reproduced from a picture post card written by N. J. Lanotte and now owned by Mrs. L. A. Pirtle. Boynton of Fluvanna owned the Cecil Smith house on the extreme right; next is the First Baptist church organized in 1910; the Elton

Nance house, third from right; then the Justice Lumber yard and the hotel is the big house in the center. On other side of road is store owned by Mrs. L. A. Pirtle, and on extreme left just an old building that was used for a Woodman hall. The picture was taken when the town was on the west side of the present Santa Fe railroad.

Course Of Highway Changes Townsite Of Justiceburg To Present Location

People who exclaim over the small population of this area today should have seen it back in 1911. That was the time when men were men and the marriageable she-stuff ran about one to the county (if you had a county).

"Although I wouldn't say it in front of a Justiceburg resident," N. J. Lanotte, pioneer store owner of Post said, "when I arrived there in 1911 from near Dallas it was just like jumping off into space. I had never seen so much land with nothing on it."

"However," Lanotte continued, "it was not long before I discovered the country had many fine people, good grazing land and some excellent farming land."

Lanotte arrived in the town almost three years after it began existence. Previous to the building of the railroad, which started in about 1909, there actually had been no town. The area residents had received their mail at the little postoffice of Leforest, a one-store community about two miles east of the present town of Justiceburg.

At the time Lanotte came to town to take over the ownership of the Burnham Mercantile company, there were actually two townsites, Justiceburg, deriving its name for the Justice family, was located on the west side of the tracks. And the Burnham site stood on the east side. Then the road from Post to Snyder went down the east side of the tracks and cut directly west at the town.

"I was postmaster at Irving before I came to Justiceburg," Lanotte said. "And when the man wrote and said he would sell me the mercantile store, I resigned and came west. I had one of the few cars in Dallas at that time, but when I pulled out I had to leave my old two-cylinder Reo behind. We came by train and got as far as Fluvanna then had to come by wagon. That was the most desolate ride in the world.

"But I set up in business in the store and handled a little of everything except money."

The store was actually the community gathering place according to Lanotte. The cowboys, farmers and other people all met there to cuss and discuss the problems of the day.

Years later when the highway right of way was changed to its present course along the east side of the tracks, it left the buildings on the west side stranded high and dry, so they began to move over the tracks to their present site.

But that was years later. The progress of any new town begins to become apparent when it sets its roots by organizing a church. Justiceburg organized its church in 1910 according to available records. A record book of the old Leforest church and the Justiceburg church is still in existence and the following excerpt is given from it:

"The Missionary Baptist church at Justiceburg, Garza County Texas was organized on the 3rd day of July (1910) by Rev. J. M. Rankin, missionary of the Stonewall Baptist association, and Rev. A. R. Tyson, pastor of the Fluvanna Baptist church with five charter members, viz: T. C. Hoy, Mrs. T. C. Hoy, Mrs. W. G. Williams, E. V. Boynton and Mrs. E. V. Boynton.

"All members came in on faith of letters which were to be forthcoming. On motion and second E. V. Boynton was elected church clerk.

"Motions prevailed to adopt the Articles of Faith and Church Covenant as found in the Pendleton's manual; to cooperate with Scurry County Baptist association and Baptist General Convention of Texas; elected as board of members Bro. T. C. Hoy, and adopted for the name of the organization — First Baptist church of Justiceburg."

Justiceburg, July 3, 1910

After services at night, conference was called by Rev. J. M. Rankin. It was voted upon motion and second to organize a Sunday school under the watch, care and guidance of the First Baptist church. E. V. Boynton was elected Sunday School superintendent and other church members as teachers. The church voted to elect Rev. A. R. Tyson as pastor.

Later the list of members of the First Baptist church at Justiceburg increased considerably. In about 1913 the following list of members is recorded in the books:

A. H. Justice, Mrs. A. H. Justice, Mrs. R. H. Marable, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Boren, Mrs. Jeff Justice, sr., Mrs. Morris Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Kit Porter, Miss Lois Nance, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Justice, jr., Mrs. L. P. Kennedy, C. H. Smithers, Mrs. L. A. Pirtle, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bargley, Mrs. Joe Reed, Virgil Reed, Chalmer Reed, L. P. Kennedy, Cecil Smith, Elton Nance, Ernest Fumagalli, Morgan Smithers, Carmon Justice, R. H. Marable, Wayne Williams, J. C. Bargley, Henry Bargley, Mrs. John Key and Miss Jessie Key.

People today complain about the conditions of the roads. Back in those days they would have never traveled anywhere. Lanotte continued in his story. The road from Post to Snyder could hardly be called more than two tracks.

"Crossing the river below Justiceburg was a difficult task in those days," he said. "We had all our supplies hauled from Fluvanna by wagon freight. And sometimes it was a job to get the cowboy boots suits and other items in."

But like most pioneers of our country, Lanotte and the other residents of Justiceburg decided to do something about the roads — and they did.

In 1914 people in the area asked Lanotte to run for commissioner. But he told them he would not. Then on election day he was serving as presiding officer and the votes (about 28 or 29 if Lanotte remembers correctly) elected him by a write in ballot. Only two votes were cast against him. His and another fellow that wasn't contacted.

"So when they elected me, I told them that if I never did one other thing, I was going to build some roads that the people could get over," he said.

And he lived up to his word. For very little while later the community voted a $50,000 bond for roads. He, Judge Boren and Ira Weakley all went to Terre Haute, Ind. to buy the first iron bridges used in the county roads.

"Judge Boren and I also went to Fort Worth and bought 12 pairs of mules to use in building the roads. We put a man by the name of Whiteside over the works as boss and started out from Justiceburg toward Snyder and also toward Post."

"Of course we did not build paved roads," Lanotte said. "But we did build some roads that people could travel over. Across the river below Justiceburg we laid a slab of concrete for a bridge. Jimmy Napier and George Sanson did the work on this."

In 1916 Lanotte left Justiceburg and came to Post. When he moved here there were about four or five stores here. The Powers, Porterfield, and Lanotte's, Marshall Mason opened his store some time that year also.

"This town has changed quite a bit," Lanotte concluded. "When you went 'outside' people would ask where you were from and when you said Post, they would come back with, 'Oh, are

Rev. Travis White Speaks At Meeting

"Christians are faced with one of the greatest perils since the birth of Christ," Rev. Travis White, pastor of the First Christian church in Lubbock, told a Christian fellowship gathering of approximately 29 persons here last week.

"Communism is a vile, evil and ruthless doctrine that is threatening to stamp out the rights of free men throughout the world," he said.

Rev. White went on to explain that unless the Christians of the world wake up and take their obligations more to heart, the free world is doomed.

"Present day Christians are too much of the thermometric type," Rev. White explained. "They only register the feeling and warmth of the people around them. Actually they should be more like thermostats. They should have a hand in adjusting the feeling."

Rev. White and Mr. Rector were guests of honor at the barbecue supper given by the members of the First Christian church fellowship. As featured speaker White urged all Christians to stop being thermometers and begin to work as thermostats.

Garza County Agents Attend Meeting Concerning Farm Outlook For 1952

Miss Dorothy Harbin, Home Demonstration Agent, and County Agent Lewis Herron represented Garza county at the two-day meeting of District 2 held in Lubbock last week. Approximately 65 persons attended.

Thursday afternoon the group, representing 18 South Plains counties, devoted their time to promoting a better understanding between producers and retailers of commercial fertilizers.

A general farm outlook conference, including the price forecast for 1952, together with the overall picture of the farm outlook as to machinery, fertilizer, insecticides, planting seed supply, defoliants, and feed supply, opened the meeting.

Farm machinery in 1952 is apt to be extremely short, due to present shortages of steel and other metals needed in manufacture of farm machinery. The shortage will be most acute by harvest time, the group was told.

Although the outlook for the supply of commercial fertilizer is up about 5 percent over last year, fertilizers containing sulphur will be much scarcer this year due to short allocations of sulphur.

Defoliant manufacturers expect an adequate supply of chemical defoliants for the year. The supply of planting seed available is expected to meet demands, though farmers wishing to plant one certain variety may not be able to find that particular variety.

J. G. McHaney, agriculture economist for the Extension Service, gave the 1952 farm outlook. He pointed out that, on the whole, the farm price outlook for this year should follow about the same pattern as in 1951.

The demand for cotton, small grains and livestock will continue and though a farmer may get a slight increase on price of his goods, the cost of producing the commodities would also increase, he said.

This means that the margin of profit on farm goods will remain about the same as the 1951 level. The largest problem facing the farmer today is that of making his land produce more per acre. Only 16 out of every 100 Americans live on a farm and make their living by farming.

Therefore, 16 percent of the population must produce more food and fiber on less acreage. Back in the depression days of the '30's, the ratio of land to persons was about 3.25 acres to each person. Today the situation differs. The ratio of land to people is about 2.25 to one.

This clearly emphasizes the need for greater production per acre, and also explains the growing concern of soil conservationists.

American farmers have almost reached the largest acreage of land available and suited for cultivation. So the only feasible way to meet demands for food and fiber in the future, considering the present rate of population increase, is to make the present number of acres produce more.

"If every five acres now in cultivation would produce the amount of food and fiber now produced on six acres, the solution to the problem will be reached," McHaney explained.

Friday was devoted mostly to a business meeting. Miss Harbin and Herron said.

Following the one-day convention here on Friday of area postmasters, Mrs. Jewel Furber Cobb of Seminole, was a guest until Sunday afternoon of her cousin, Mrs. Lee Bowen. Mrs. Cobb has been in charge of the Seminole postoffice for 18 years. She formerly lived in Post and was employed in the county clerk's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hayes, former Post citizens who were transferred to Dallas by the oil company by which Mr. Hayes is employed, are back in Post for a temporary assignment. They are staying at the Stevens home while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Novis Rodgers and daughter, Nonnie, of Snyder, visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davenport, of Cisco, spent several days last week with the Davies, the Curtis Davies and Garland Davies families. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore, daughter, Jackie Lee, and W. N. Miller and grandsons, of Arlington, were visitors in the home of Mrs. J. A. Propst.

"The Blue Veil" Gives Americans The Story They Have Searched For

Moving picture studios today are faced with one of their most difficult tasks since they began operations years ago. They must gain and hold the public's attention and prevent them from going over to the side of television and radio completely.

To accomplish such a task, they cannot rely on mere slogans like "MOVIES ARE BETTER THAN EVER." No, the moving picture studios must produce pictures that "are better than ever" to hold the faith of the American movie going public.

Realizing the situation, one studio released a picture which lives up to the expectations of even the most critical movie goer. "THE BLUE VEIL", released by RKO Radio, has literally been taken to the heart of the American public.

Millions of people, weary and confused from the multitude of modern world problems facing them, have thronged to see and enjoy the heart-warming, emotional story portrayed in "THE BLUE VEIL."

Jane Wyman, so magnificent in Johnnie Belinda, once again deeply touches the heart of the American public in another truly great role.

"THE BLUE VEIL", which shows at the TOWER Sunday and Monday combines one of the greatest casts ever assembled in one picture. Charles Laughton, Joan Blondell, Richard Carlson, Agnes Moorehead, Don Taylor, Audrey Totter, Everett Sloane and Natalie Wood join the all-star cast with Jane in bringing you one of the modern sagas of pathos, love and service.

Miss Wyman portrays the appealing story of a bereaved woman who found happiness in giving service to others. Her acting is so superb that once again she has been nominated for the coveted Academy Award. She won the "Oscar" for her portrayal in Johnnie Belinda.

Covering a period of some 30 years, the picture introduces Miss Wyman as a young woman suddenly faced with the necessity of earning her own living. To tide her over, she takes a temporary position as a nurse for the child of a wealthy widower, but soon realizes that she has found solace and happiness in caring for other people's children.

When the widower remarries, she takes the next in a long series of nurse-governess positions, giving up her own chances for marriage in order to devote herself to the welfare and happiness of her youthful charges. The unexpected results of her years of work from the picture's heart-warming climax.

"THE BLUE VEIL": Hers was the choice. Should she give up a wedding veil for the "blue veil" of a governess profession? Miss Wyman's choice and the resulting actions makes perhaps the most outstanding picture of the year. SEE "THE BLUE VEIL" AT THE TOWER SUNDAY AND MONDAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lusk are sure to enjoy "THE BLUE VEIL". So the management has two tickets awaiting them at the boxoffice. They are good for any performance.

Two other fine movies are scheduled this week at the TOWER to prove that studios mean what they say in the slogan MOVIES ARE BETTER THAN EVER. Friday and Saturday's bill provides the public with "THE RAGING TIDE", starring Shelley Winters, Richard Conte, Stephen McNally and Charles Bickford.

"THE RAGING TIDE" is suspensefully backgrounded against the real-life settings of San Francisco and its famous fishing fleets. It is the story of a murderer who takes refuge on the fishing boat. The resulting picture is a solid semi-documentary story that will live long in the memories of those who see it.

Comedy hit of the week is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday. "YOU NEVER CAN TELL" is a hilarious picture for people who think they have seen everything. Starring Dick Powell and Peggy Dow, "YOU NEVER CAN TELL" is the wonderfully funny tale of a dog who went to see a man about a girl—and got mixed up in the strangest, most riotous adventure that ever happened.

"Gentleman's Agreement" won the title of the best picture of the year in 1947. Selected as best actor was Ronald Colman and Loretta Young received the accolades for the most outstanding actress.

Pictured on Sunday's Avalanche - Journal society section were two well-known Post girls, Mrs. Ernest Griffith and Mrs. H. A. Watson, jr. Mrs. Griffith is the former Rose Jean Rodgers, daughter of Mrs. Irene Rodgers, and Mrs. Watson is the former Lanelle Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sims. The girls are committee members of the Junior League Follies of '52 which are being presented tonight and tomorrow night in Lubbock. A number of Post people plan to attend.

The ballots listing the holidays to be observed by the people of Post will be ready for distribution by the first of March. There were so few who attended the annual meeting, it was decided that the secretary should complete a form listing the holidays so that each business man could vote as he saw fit, instead of the small group of men who met deciding upon the days to be observed.

Included on the ballot are the following days for you to vote FOR or AGAINST, the way you prefer: May 30, Memorial Day, Friday; July 4, Independence Day, Friday; September 1, Labor Day, Monday; November 11, Armistice Day, Tuesday; November 27, Thanksgiving, Thursday; December 25, Christmas, Thursday; December 26, Friday, next day following Christmas; Afternoon of Homecoming Football Game; January 1, New Year's, Thursday.

The secretary wrote our surrounding cities including Lubbock, to find out the days they plan to observe so that you may decide accordingly, if you care to, as there was some confusion along that line last year which we want to eliminate this year if possible. The surrounding cities plan to observe May 30, July 4, November 27, December 25 and January 1. This is noted on your ballot, also.

The secretary checked with school authorities to find out when school would start, as Labor Day would possibly have been observed during the past year had we known in time that school would not begin the first day of September. For your information, school will possibly not start this year until September 8, although this date is not official.

Several concerns wanted to give their employees another day off for Christmas during the past year. December 26, the day following Christmas, is on Friday this year.

Also now is your chance to vote FOR or AGAINST closing up your place of business for the Homecoming Football Game here, which will more than likely be on Friday but the exact date is not known.

The days getting the most votes FOR observance will be selected; the days getting the most votes AGAINST observance will not be observed throughout this year. There will be no further survey of the days to be observed this year, concerning the days listed on the ballot.

As yet, there has been no honorable mention toward the Western Boot Shop for becoming a member of the Chamber of Commerce. At this time, we wish to say "Welcome" to this organization that realizes that whatever is done for any one else in Post is done for them also, and the Western Boot Shop is willing to pay for its benefit, instead of leaving it up to the neighboring businesses to carry its share of expense. And there is nothing done that is worthwhile that doesn't cost a little. "Welcome" also goes out to Ralph Kirkpatrick, Powell Shyities and Walter Duckworth from the Board of Directors. Shelley Camp, James Minor and O. L. Weakley were the outgoing directors and to these men we say "thanks" for being on the board and working with us so diligently throughout this past year. O. L. Weakley has been appointed to represent Post with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce throughout 1952.

Now, for getting scenic post cards printed of Post. To you members who might not understand, the post card project is without cost to the Chamber, except having the pictures made. We have some pictures that can be used but not all. Mr. J. Lawrence Devers of Snyder has agreed to make them for us for as little as one and one-half cents per card with as few cards as 1250 per scene. But we have to order as many as 1250 per scene or he cannot print them for us, at a price we can afford. Mr. Devers suggested a scene of cowgirls, Post home, Postex Mills, Court House, High School, and a street scene. However, if enough orders, which has to be at least 1250 per scene, are placed for the churches, they, too, will be printed. As soon as the prints of the pictures are received the order shall be placed with Mr. Devers. He said that the job would be completed within a month after the order is placed with him. We should have the cards for sale long time before the Stampede, which will draw our next big crowd of people into town.

Be sure to list your apartments with the secretary at the Chamber of Commerce office. Most of the people coming into town go to the office immediately after arrival in town to inquire for apartments. There must be vacancies in town. They can be rented for you, through the Chamber of Commerce office merely by calling 551.

Cerebral Palsy Clinic Scheduled

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Monday, March 17, at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 3502 Avenue N, Lubbock.

Orthopedic specialists from Midland, Plainview and Lubbock, a neuropsychiatrist, pediatrician, eye specialist, and a dentist will be present to examine children.

Cerebral palsy is some times referred to as spastic paralysis or birth injury and may be evidenced by the child's inability to sit alone, stand alone, walk or hold objects at the age these things are accomplished by the average child. Research has shown that treatment is most effective if started within the first few months of the child's life although children respond to treatment begun at a much later age.

Parents planning to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the Center prior to the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Miss Elinor Guza, Director, or calling Lubbock 5-6541.

Non Chamber Of Commerce Members

No, they are much more willing to sit back as if they were bystanders and allow the other fellow to bear their share of the burden. They are more willing to eat the fruit of another man's tree than they are to plant a tree of their own.

Many of these businesses who do not belong to the Chamber of Commerce will ask the question, "What did the Chamber of Commerce do for me?" The question is easy to answer. Every move made by the C of C was in the interest of Post. And any move in the interest of Post is in the interest of EVERY business in the town.

The best question for those people to ask themselves is, "What did I do to help the Chamber of Commerce help Post this year?" And if they are truthful, no more than 79 establishments can say they did anything.

But to outline a few things the Chamber of Commerce accomplished this past year on their limited income from 79 members.

They aided in the travel expense of the Post Stampede Cowboys as they visited the various towns and rode in rodeo parades. This activity is good public relations. If our riding group goes to another town, then that town's riding group will come here for a parade. Excellent advertising for the town and provides some extra business for a few places. Yet, not all the Cowboys who are business men belong to the Chamber of Commerce, even though they ask it for help.

The C of C helped decorate the town during the rodeos. This is an essential project and helps the festive appearance during these occasions. An appearance which helps the entire town, not just the 79 members. At these times the C of C also help sponsor the parades. This one activity brings more people in town especially the various riding groups from out of town, at one time than any other thing. And it directly helps the whole town, not just the 79 members.

Speaking of parades, the Chamber of Commerce also helped with the Christmas parade and provided the reindeer show. Again this brought crowds into town. The organization also sponsored the home lighting contest which tends to beautify the city during the Yuletide (and this year Post could brag that it was better decorated than any town its size on the South Plains).

Aid has been given to the 4-H and FFA boys. That not only benefits the 79 members but the entire town. For these boys are the farmers of tomorrow. Their liking or disliking the town and being able to get help from it decides largely whether they farm here or in some other section. Then too maybe some of the boys belong to persons who are not members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Post Volunteer Fire Department received some aid from the organization. Are all the members of the Fire Department also members of the Chamber of Commerce? No, but they hold no compunction in asking its help when they want it.

Sponsorship of the first bale of cotton falls on the shoulders of the Chamber of Commerce. Their sponsorship of the project last year was one of the best in the area. Such a project is appealing to the trade of our county farmers. This trade is for the town of Post and to keep them from having to trade in Tahoka or Slaton. And it benefits all the town, not just the 79 members.

Along this line were the donations made to the various P-T-A groups in the county around Halloween time. Good public relations. Help your county residents and they will help you in return by trading in your town. But they do not check the list and see what places of business belong to the Chamber of Commerce so they can buy from them in return for the help. No they buy in Post for the donations were made in the name of the town, and the town receives the benefit, not just the 79 members.

The Chamber of Commerce was quick to aid in the Operations Santa Claus project which brought so much publicity to the town and raised a sizable chunk of money for the hospital. It helped freely and willingly in the name of Post. And the resulting publicity came to the town, not just the 79 members.

Many more and numerous problems are handled daily by the Chamber of Commerce. Anyone with a problem which the organization can help, is welcome to bring it up. It does not matter if they don't belong to the organization. Their problem is one of the town and must be solved.

Numerous such activities, like the free rental service to EVERYONE in town, information center for out of towners, and service bureau to those who want it, could be named were the space available.

So the question is asked again, "Are you a member of the Chamber of Commerce?"

If not then why not become one? A business that does not belong to the organization is not only doing the town an injustice but is not being fair to its own principles.

The Chamber of Commerce works for you. Why not pitch in and help so that it can work that much harder? It is a duty that should not be shirked.

SORROW AND JOY

"Dedicated to the memory of my dearly beloved son" The death angel visited our home.

He left us so desolate and so all alone.

I sit in my home, and think of the past,

And dreams of my darling, the fair sweet son.

I think of the future, and all seems so blur,

I could be ever so happy, if I had him here.

Great is my sorrow, and deep is the gloom

But up in God's Heaven, my flower is in bloom

I still have a mission, there's work to be done

But I am anxiously waiting for the race I must run.

I am going to join him pretty soon,

For up in God's Heaven, There's plenty of room.

Terracing And Contour Farming In Garza County Discussed In Article

(Editor's Note: Regular articles prepared by the Soil Conservation technicians and the FMA employees will appear regularly in the Dispatch from now on, we are told. They are written to inform the farmers and other residents of what is going on in the farms of the area.)

The purpose for contouring or farming on level as recommended by the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District is to hold rainfall by means of furrows or other depressions formed in farming as near the point where it falls as possible.

Thus it prevents the movement of the soil and leaching of plant nutrient. Such practices as contouring and terracing gently sloping croplands have paid big dividends at Spur Experiment station through increased crop yields along with a reduction in the hazards of crop production in dry years.

Cotton planted at Spur on land farmed on the contour with closed level terraces for 24 years produced on an average of 57 percent more lint per acre than cotton planted with rows running with slope. Contouring alone increased yields an average of 23 percent over straight row farming.

For each inch of water stored in the second and third foot of soil at planting time the yield of cotton has been increased by 112 pounds per acre. The annual runoff for acres with straight rows from 1927 to 1946 was 2.75 inches per acre; 1.95 inches per acre with contour rows and none for fields with level closed end terraces.

Recently contour lines were run by Post Soil Conservation personnel for G. W. Gindorf of Southland and Homer Robinett of Calgary. Terrace lines were run for Ted Aten of Grassland and B. C. Cairns of Clairemont. O. G. Hamilton, north of Post, has built up his terraces and is doing a good job of terrace maintenance.

Topographic maps for irrigation purposes have recently been made by Post SCS technicians on W. N. Williams' farm of Pleasant Valley, Billy Johnson, Pleasant Valley and B. Burke near Graham.

Irrigation lines for ditches and rows have been laid off for R. V. Robinson, Hackberry and G. N. Leggett, Graham.

Farmers who have been using the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District land plane to level for irrigation purposes are Stanley Sima, Jess Propst, R. E. Bratton, Will Teaff and Gus Porterfield. Farmers interested in using the land plane should contact E. F. Schmedt, Post vocational agriculture instructor.

Farmers who want to build up old terraces are reminded that the Duck Creek Conservation District has a whirlwind terracing machine available for their use. Now is a good time to plant crops, according to SCS technicians.

Second Snow Flurry Light On Moisture

Rain keeps coming to our county in drops instead of the bucketfuls that are usually needed.

The latest flurry of rain and moisture which our county brought less than a first small snow this week, estimated that approximately 25 of an inch of moisture blanketed the county a result.

Here in Post the reading only hit .10 inch according to J. A. Rett, weather recorder.

Post Girls Lose District Playoff To Peacock 31-32

McClellan Scores 45 Points In Tilts

Post Girl basketeers, fighting an uphill battle after getting off to a shaky start and trailing 17-6 at the first quarter, failed in a final surge in their final game in the district playoffs in Girard Saturday night to lose to Peacock 31-32.

In the first quarter of the game Collom of Peacock set the nets afire to help the team lead Post 17-6 at the end of the quarter. Shaky guards on the part of the Post guards helped the Peacock team jump to their commanding lead.

However in the second quarter, Post began to get the range and pulled up to a 22-22 tie at half-time. Juanella McClellan, high scoring forward for the Antelopes, fouled out of the game around the middle of the second quarter, but still managed to garner high scoring honors with 12 points. Collom made 17 for Peacock.

Post fought their way into the final game by defeating Dickens 25-17; Guthrie 42-25; and Matador 50-35.

Against Dickens, McClellan and Deanie Hill each scored eight points. Hawley was high for Dickens with 12 points.

In the Guthrie game, Joy Martin made 17 points and Woodena Stewart made 15 points. For Guthrie Hollar made 11 and Miller 10 points.

Against Matador McClellan made 25 points and Hill scored 20 points. Bailey made 12 points for Matador.

Post School To Get Valuable Book Issue

Every four-year high school in Texas is entitled to a free copy of the University of Texas Press edition of "Addresses and State Papers of James Stephen Hogg," University President T. S. Painter has written all Texas school superintendents, asking them to send names and addresses of high schools where copies of the book should be sent.

Robert C. Cotner of the University's history department edited the publication, which marked the centennial year of Governor Hogg's birth.

"In order that future generations of Texans may receive inspiration from Governor Hogg's high ideals of public service, the University wishes to place a copy of this book in the library of every four-year high school in the State," Dr. Painter said.

Many Golfers Tour Country Without Any Idea Of Making Money From Tournaments

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Why does the golf professional follow the weary tournament trail when chances of even paying his expenses with his winnings are about one in six?

Most of them don't rake in enough cash to take care of their travel.

But there are several good, sound reasons, and there's no need to feel sorry for the fellow if he has to quit the tour and go back home to recoup his fortunes so he can try again.

Selecting one of the touring golfers at random, take Chuck Dupree of Spencer, Ia. Chuck is 34. He didn't turn pro until 1949 and he made the winter tour last year. He's back on the winter tour this year after saving up a few hundred dollars.

Chuck never has won a dime in a tournament. He travels and lives on $80 to $100 a week. That means he doesn't put up at the big hotels, he rides with some other pro who has a car, he doesn't practice because he can't afford the caddy fee.

He never expected to win anything much though and he manages to live without starving.

Other pros — the fellows who finish in the money have equipment manufacturers back of them or are sponsored by commercial interests — spend $150 to $225 a week on the tour.

But you know what? Dupree thinks he's doing as well as anybody. You see Chuck had a goal—he made the tour with the idea of becoming a good golf teacher. He advanced from assistant pro to head pro and he's going to do even better. "What I have spent in time and money is a good investment," he says.

There are four or five goals the professional can point to in making the tour — he can become a top golfer who wins more money than his expenses, he can qualify for a club pro job, he can become a greenskeeper, he can become a pro-manager, he can become a salesman of golfing equipment.

Most of the golfers who make the tour have one of those things in mind.

Dupree says it requires six or seven years of tournament golf before the man is seasoned and can hope to become a winner. But it doesn't take that long to attain the other goals.

This, then, is the thing that tournament golf accomplishes. And that's what will be wiped out if tournament golf doesn't snap out of its troubles. Instead of getting better, tournament golf is getting worse in its relation with the public. There are too many arguments, too much bickering and too much confusion.

Golf needs a commissioner—a man with supreme authority who will make all decisions and set down rules that can not be broken.

It once had a man like that in Fred Corcoran. Corcoran was eased out, however, and eventually the players themselves got control of tournament golf. There is a committee dominated by the players. There is no head man and nobody seems to know what anybody else is doing.

The average player is between the squeeze. It costs him more to play than it costs the public to see him play. A professional must pay an entry fee of $10, a fee of $3.00 to support the PGA and caddy fees of $20 to play in one tournament — in other words he pays $33. The fan can see him play four days for $7.50. In no other sport does the participant pay more than the spectator.

But the pro isn't kicking about that — he just wants to play and better himself. But golf is going to have to snap out of its troubles and get on a business basis with somebody in ironfisted authority for him to do it.

There are a lot of Chuck Duprees.

H. G. Flowers To Run For JP Office

H. G. Flowers has authorized the Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of Justice of Peace.

Flowers, who has been a resident of the county and the precinct for the past 21 years has never asked for public office before but feels that he is qualified for the position.

"I feel that I am well qualified for the Justice of Peace office and if elected will enforce the law to the best of my ability. There will be no partiality shown anyone, everyone will receive the same treatment."

Lions To Sponsor A Play In March

Lions club voted Tuesday night to sponsor a local talent play sometime in March, E. E. Pierce, reporter, said.

The play will be directed by an employee of the Empire Producing company. Titled "Shooting Star", it will feature local talent and run two nights. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Walter Crider was in charge of the program Tuesday night and spoke on "Washington As a Statesman."

Victor Hudman conducted a training course in Slaton on Thursday night. He was accompanied to Slaton by Mrs. Hudman, "Sonny," Curtis and Joe.

Mrs. A. C. Cash was taken to a Lubbock hospital last Friday for emergency medical treatment.

Holiday Ballots Go To Businesses

Post business places will have an opportunity to vote on the holidays which they will observe this year, Mrs. Mable Lawrence, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said.

Ballots are to be mailed out sometime next week to every business place in town. On these ballots are the various holidays which could be observed and on which the places are to vote for or against. The ones receiving the most "fors" will be observed and the others will not.

Mrs. Lawrence urges everyone to mail in their ballot. For the voting will be final and no surveys will be taken because some persons want it. Settle the question once and for all.

An extensive survey by the secretary shows which days the surrounding towns will observe this year. There was some confusion concerning these last year, for merchants thought we should not close when the other towns were open. These holidays are also listed on the ballot for the businesses convenience.

Holidays included on the list on which businesses are to vote include: Memorial Day, Friday, May 30; Independence Day, Friday, July 4; Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1; Armistice Day, Tuesday, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving, Thursday, Dec. 25; Christmas, Thursday, Dec. 25; New Year's Day, Thursday, Jan. 1.

Also included on the list are Dec. 26, the day following Christmas. This past year several employers wanted to close an extra day and give their employees that much time off. So this year all employers are being given a chance to vote on it. The afternoon of Homecoming Football game is on the list also. It will come on Friday.

War Destroyed More Than 8,000 Bridges

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 27 — More than 8,000 road and river bridges were demolished in West Germany during the last war, either by the Allies or by Hitler's retreating forces. Almost 4,000 have been reconstructed, including half of the 46 demolished Rhine bridges.

German firms, which carried on the vast reconstruction program, have gained valuable experience which already has helped them to win big foreign orders.

One of the most recent contracts abroad is for a bridge more than 1,500 feet long over a lake near Stockholm, Sweden. It's a new type of suspension span. The suspension pillars will divide instead of frame the driveway. The first such bridge, described as ideal for highway traffic, is to be ready next spring in the Ruhr.

Before I Hear A Bid I Want You To See The FORD TRACTOR Real Good

Farm auctioneers know what they're doing when they point to the name "Ford." They have found that the name "Ford" on a tractor works like magic on any farm sale.

And this fact points up a big advantage you get in buying a Ford Tractor—it sells for more at trade-in time.

Why? Well, for one thing it is the popular two-plov tractor; that means a bigger number of prospects. Then, too, it's a year-round tractor; a tractor that does more jobs; a tractor that is easy to operate.

Remember, too, you pay less for a Ford Tractor when you buy it new. Add to this its greater trade-in value when you sell it and you can see why the Ford Tractor is the buy!

EARL ROGERS

AN OPEN LETTER

February 28, 1951

Dear Movie Fans of Post and Garza county:

Only on rare occasions do I feel justified in writing you a personal letter concerning a picture which the TOWER theatre has scheduled for your entertainment.

To justify these letters, a picture must be, in my opinion, of a quality that approaches greatness. A picture which the entire family can see, like and talk about in the days to come.

"THE BLUE VEIL" is such a picture. Today we are confronted on every turn with selfishness, smallness, graft and corruption. These unpleasant and morally disturbing practices are being followed by people who have no regard for their fellowmen, people who place one thought above country and friends—"personal gain."

So it is no wonder that Americans marvel when they see or hear of someone unselfishly devoting their lifetime to the happiness of others.

"THE BLUE VEIL" is a picture which I feel sure you will marvel at. It is a heart-warming portrayal of a woman who finds happiness in caring for other people's children. Jane Wyman (who won the Academy Award for her superb acting in "Johnny Belinda") actually lives the part of Louise, who finds solace from a shattered life in bringing happiness into the lives of children whose parents have no more need for them once they are born.

A superb cast of stars join Miss Wyman in bringing you this emotional saga of pathos, love and happiness. Charles Laughton, Joan Blondell, Natalie Woods, Richard Carlson, Agnes Moorehead and other known stars combine talents to bring you one of the year's most outstanding pictures.

"THE BLUE VEIL"—the story of a woman who must choose between a wedding veil and "the blue veil" of the governess profession. Her choice and its resulting effects form the plot of a picture you will be proud you saw. A picture the entire family will remember as the warmest, heart-rendering story ever portrayed on the screen.

That is my purpose in writing this letter. To tell you of this fine picture and urge you to see it. The time you spend in any of the Sunday and Monday performances of "THE BLUE VEIL" will afford you unforgettable entertainment.

Sincerely Yours,
John Hopkins
Manager

Post Receives More Publicity Than Most Towns Its Size Over The State

What do you know about publicity as it concerns your town? Is Post, in your opinion as well publicized as the next town?

The average Post resident would perhaps scoff at the statement that their town is better publicized than nine out of ten towns its size in Texas.

Yet facts will bear out the statement to a letter. Take for example the various outlets of publicity Post has enjoyed during the past twelve months: newspapers (local, state and national); radio, (area and national); magazines, (area and national); television (national); newsreels (national and international).

Quite a list, eh? Almost unbelievable that a town of this size has received publicity from all these sources in one year. But nevertheless it is true and those who doubt the veracity of the statement need only to look at the following facts.

Newspapers: Naturally the town is publicized in the local paper. Some people will ask, "Who reads the local paper?" Many subscriptions are mailed weekly to persons outside the county and all over the country, not to mention boys in service.

Area papers, such as the Star Telegram, Dallas Morning News, Avalanche Journal, Abilene Reporter-News, all run stories regularly about Post. National publicity came on the Edgar Bergen show when syndicated column writers mentioned the fact in their stories which were reprinted all over the United States.

Perhaps the most widely spread news story from Post in the past year (in the state papers that is) was the small story on Dr. D. C. Williams and the flat tire he had on his way to Lubbock. It made the front page of nearly every large paper in Texas, (and judging a little on the radio angle, this story was picked up and used by Arthur Godfrey on his national program.)

Radio: Naturally the local area radios mention Post quite often. It was also mentioned twice on the national program of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. And the Godfrey hour goes in here also.

Magazines: This covers quite a field. The 1951 Post Junior Rodeo probably holds the record for magazine publicity last year. It was included in the Southwest

Crop and Stock, West Texas Today, National 4-H Magazine, The Horse Lover and the Powder Puff magazine (and perhaps more). All of this was special publicity, but the town enjoys some regular publicity each month from several magazines. These include West Texas Today (published by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce), The Southwestern (published by Southwestern Public Service), The Gas Employees' News (published for employees of West Texas Gas company), and The Round Up (published by the Southwestern Associated Telephone company). These magazines usually have small items concerning the town of Post in them each month. Also included on their list are several press magazines, such as South Plains Press, West Texas Press, Panhandle Press and Texas Press magazines.

Television: The 1951 Post Junior Rodeo was televised last year by Tel-Ra and distributed over the United States.

Newsreels: Again the Junior Rodeo made the headlines here. These pictures distributed by Universal International, showed in theatres all over the United States and word has been received from several points on the globe that they were shown there.

So you see the town of Post gets around where publicity is concerned. To go into the realm of estimation, it would be safe to say that in the past twelve months approximately 100,000,000 people have either read about, heard about, or visioned something about Post.

So the next time any person asks the question, "who ever heard about Post?" just quote them the facts and watch their face turn red.

This little traveler is the greatest invention for spinning for it winds the yarn on the bobbins. We are doing a lot of modernization work in our carding department and we now have Bill Medlin, from Alabama, as our technical advisor for our carding machines. Mr. Medlin has had a wide range of experience with carding machinery and he is being of great assistance to us. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duren, sr., were hosts for a dinner Sunday, honoring the 23rd birthday of their son, Cpl. Paul Duren, jr. Cpl. Frozen Bread Goes 40 Cents in Alaska

SEATTLE, P — You've heard the old gag, of course, about the super-salesman who could sell refrigerators to the Eskimos.

But would you ever expect to hear that they actually are shipping frozen bread to Alaska?

What's more, the going price for a large loaf (six days old, or thereabouts) is around 40 cents. It sells at the standard price in Anchorage, which is a booming military center with high prices and too few bakeries to meet the demand.

The bread is frozen, then packed with dry ice in wooden boxes. Each holds 3,000 pounds of bread and from 200 to 400 pounds of dry ice. And, says Kiert Smith, who developed the shipping container, the bread reaches Anchorage with the same quality of freshness it had when it left the bakery.

Letters to the Editor—

Lubbock, Texas Feb. 25, 1952

Editor:
I would like for it to be known that I had nothing to do with the article you last week wrote about the ex-seniors of 1941. I am not in town the other side of since I couldn't remember. I suppose she thought she else had forgotten her name as important as her sounds, she wouldn't write to the paper to let people know where she is.

Thank you, Mrs. Doris Riddle. I do not comment!—The
