JUNIOR RODEO SESSION HELD — Pictured above in an informal planning session on the fourth annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo to be held here Aug. 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 are officers of the association and their cowgirl hostesses. Interest shown by the youth of the town and county is gaining momentum daily and requests for entries in the show have gone way over the 100 mark. Only a few days over two weeks remain before the big show begins. Rodeo officials are expecting the largest crowds in the history of the show this year. It has been highly publicized and will be covered by newsreel and other professional photographers. Shown above going over final plans for the show are, left to right, Roy Josey, association president; Anne Mathis, cowgirl hostess; Maxine Bayliss, cowgirl sponsor; Sue Stephens, cowgirl hostess; Giles Dalby, association vice president; and Leon Miller, show secretary. Final State Aid Checks Due For County Schools

Checks completing the $21,857 reimbursed Garza county schools by the Texas Education Agency for part of their student transportation expenses should be received by the schools sometime next week, County Superintendent Dean A. Robinson, said Wednesday.

The checks due to arrive next week are payments for the last two months of the past school term. Checks have already been paid for the first seven months, Robinson explained.

Total amount of these checks is uncertain, but the overall total approved for the county was divided as follows: Close City, $2,887; Southland, $7,071; Post, $4,133; Graham, $3,935; Garnolia, $2,058; Justiceburg, $998; and Grassburg, $775.

Reimbursement is paid the schools by the agency for transportation expenses including such things as driver salaries, fuel, repairs, maintenance labor and costs, insurance and one-fifth of the cost of each bus per year.

In Garza county the limit is $4.50 per month for each child who resides in the county, but for those who come in from county.

Chamber Of Commerce To Buy Flags And Decorations, Urges Town To Decorate

Chamber of Commerce is going to buy flags and decorations with which to decorate the city during the week of the Junior Rodeo, it has been announced. Harley Pritchard, of Abilene, will be in town this afternoon at 1 p. m. to discuss with O. L. Weakley, decorating the town.

Business men who have flags and decorations stored away are urged to get them out, clean them up and put them on display. The Chamber of Commerce also asks that anyone who has any of the sets of flags or decorations used during the Stampede to please return them so they can be put to use.

Rodeo time is almost here and all persons are urged to begin thinking about decorating for the gala show.

Entries Soar In Both Shows

Wade Winston, nationally known Quarterhorse judge from Snyder, has been named to judge at the third annual Quarterhorse show to be held here Aug. 14 as a curtain riser to the five night performances of the fourth Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo.

The rodeo will provide fans with action-packed performances on the nights of Aug. 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Rodeo association officials say that the final plans for the rodeo are nearing completion. With two weeks yet to go a record number of entry blanks have been mailed to boys and girls eligible to enter the show.

Entries in the Quarterhorse show are coming in all the time, Earl Hodges, arena director for the show, announced. Approximately 20 horses from Garza county are expected to be entered and others are coming from all over the state.

Perhaps the farthest request for the horse show has come from Chester V. Meserve of Ellis, Kansas. Longest distance reported so far on rodeo entries has been from Tatum, N. M. Four boys from Tatum will enter the show, according to Billy Smith, who will head the group.

Hodges also reminded persons who wish to enter the Quarterhorse show that horses must have number of sire or dam before they can be entered.

"If the requests we have come through we will have the biggest show to be held in Texas this year," Hodges said. "The show is free to spectators and there will be plenty of ice water on hand during the three or four hour show. The public certainly won't be disappointed in the show."

Bill Long, general chairman of the show, says, "This year's show promises to be one of the largest in the state." Long, who has been up around Amarillo and Pampa recruiting entries, points out that the spectators will sit in the East stands. A tent for the announcer, Alvin Davis, and the judge will be erected in the middle of the arena.

Show officials also announced that plans for the two big parades, one at 6 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 14, and the other at 6 p. m. Friday, Aug. 17, are progressing nicely. The Chamber of Commerce is buying flags and decorations for the town and is also

Four New Post Teachers Elected By School Board

J. N. Gossett Funeral Held Here Tuesday

Last rites for John Newyear Gossett were conducted at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Church of Christ, Forrest Meyer or Tucumcari, N. M., formerly of Post, officiated.

A choir sang "Shall We Gather At The River?" "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder," "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus" and "Asleep In Jesus." A special selection, "Gathering Flowers For The Master's Bouquet" was sung by Miss Wilma Pirtle.

Mason funeral home was in charge of burial in Terrace cemetery.

Mr. Gossett, a retired farmer, died at 9:55 o'clock Sunday evening in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he had been a patient for seven weeks after breaking his hip, in a fall, at his home here.

He was born January 1, 1869, in Coleman county at a fort on Hord's creek. In 1879 he moved with his family to Throckmorton. On September 8, 1891, he was married to Miss Lucy Hollis. The couple lived in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Nocona before coming here January 17, 1915.

The Gossetts and their eight children lived in a barn upon arriving in Garza county until their farm home was completed in April.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ for 35 years and had been a member of the Woodmen Of The World since he was 21 years old.

Survivors include his widow; four daughters, Mrs. Ida Stewart of Lawndale, Calif., Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey, Mrs. Virgil Stone and Mrs. John Wallace; three sons, Frank of Bowie, Fred and Buck; 32 grandchildren and 36 great grandchildren.

Two children preceded their father in death. They were Lucy, who died as a small child, and Johnny, who died in 1921.

Grandsons and granddaughters of Mr. Gossett served as pall-bearers and flower girls.

Four new teachers for the Post school system were elected recently by Superintendent D. C. Arthur and members of the board.

They include three high school teachers and one grade school teacher. New teachers elected were Miss Margie Moore of Muleshoe, Malcolm Usrey of Hedley, J. H. Miller of Abilene and Mrs. Sol Davis of Post.

Miss Moore will teach English in the freshman and sophomore classes. She has a Master of Arts degree and five years teaching experience.

Usrey, who will teach social science in high school, has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Abilene Christian college.

Miller has been elected to teach high school music. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons university with a Bachelor of Music degree.

Mrs. Davis is a resident of Post and will teach the second grade, Arthur said.

Arthur explained that these four have been elected as teachers next year but at the present time letters of acceptance have not been received from all of them.

Emergency Fund Is Asked By Red Cross

In an effort to help the National Red Cross in their drive to aid the flood-stricken families of the Midwest, the Garza County Red Cross chapter is being asked to raise approximately $260, Bill Carter, chairman, has announced.

The goal for the county has been set at 20 percent of the national needs assigned the chapter for the 1951 fund campaign, Carter explained.

Contribution boxes will be set up in Post business establishments for the convenience of contributors. Carter urges everyone to aid in this drive to help the many persons whose homes have been destroyed by the devastating floods.

TWO MEN INJURED

Two Post residents, Ben Owen, 24, and R. R. Dean, 27, Tuesday night suffered burns when gas escaping from a well where they were working ignited.

The two were rushed to a hospital in Lubbock where physicians administered treatment but said they were not seriously hurt.

Anthony Baby Is Buried Wednesday

The Rev. O. L. Jones of Hedley, former Calvary Baptist pastor, conducted funeral services for Janice Susan Anthony, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anthony, yesterday afternoon.

The funeral was held at 3 o'clock in Hudman Funeral chapel. Music was led by Mrs. W. C. Kiker. Hudman's directed burial in Terrace cemetery.

Janice Susan was born in Slaton Mercy hospital Friday afternoon and died there at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Survivors are the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Anthony and Mrs. Annie Anderson of Mineola.

Oil News Highlighted By Well And Show

Addition of one new producer and shows of oil and gas on another well highlighted the oil news of Garza county this week.

A new well, pumping 142 barrels of 38-gravity oil plus 20 percent water daily, was added to the Dorward-San Andres pool.

Shows of oil and gas were encountered at the Jeff Justice No. 1 near Justiceburg. On the one-hour check at 7,411-443 feet, total recovery was 275 feet of slightly oil and gas mud.

Ad Rents House Two Days Before It Runs

You would almost have to see it to believe it.

But a classified ad inserted for this week's Dispatch resulted in the house being rented two days before the paper came out and never got in print.

When you can get faster action than that on anything, just let us know.

It all happened when Miss Henrietta Nichols sent in a classified to rent her house. The ad had hardly come into the office when someone dropped in hunting a house for rent. They were told of Miss Nichols' house and rented it. So the ad was never run.

The results of all the classified ads aren't quite so fast, but there's hardly more than the snap - of - the - finger's difference. If you have anything to rent, sell, swap, or give away advertise it with a classified for the fastest and best results.

Softball Series To Get Started Monday Night

The Square Deal Softball Playoff series will officially get underway Monday night, Monk Gibson, manager of Storie Motor team, said.

Playoffs will begin between the number one team, Grassland, and the number four team, Post, and between the number two team, Tahoka, and the number three team, Southland.

The first series will be the best three out of five. And then the winners of the two setoffs will play each other best three out of five for league title. First place winner will receive $150 and second team will get $75.

Post goes to Grassland Monday and Tuesday nights for the first two games of the playoff. The three remaining games will be played on the local field Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Southland will go to Tahoka for their first playoff, which begins Tuesday night.

Farrer Rites Are Read In Chapel

Funeral services for Mrs. Polly L. Farrer, 89, of Ontario, Calif., and formerly of Post, were held in Mason Funeral chapel at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Quenten Fanning, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated. Miss Wilma Pirtle sang "I Won't Have To Cross Jordan Alone" and a choir sang "Where Will I Never Grow Old" and "Asleep In Jesus." Mason's had charge of burial in Terrace cemetery.

Mrs. Farrer died of a heart disease at 1:15 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, in San Bernardino county hospital, in Ontario, where she had been a patient for 13 days. Her body arrived here by train Monday evening.

A resident of California for the past 14 years, Mrs. Farrer was an early Garza county settler, coming here in October, 1914 from Guntur.

She had been a member of the

Two Charges Filed In County Court

Two county court charges, one for sale of beer and the other for possession for purposes of sale of beer and whiskey, were filed here this week.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty and were released under $500 bonds.

John Calloway was charged with sale of beer and M. E. Dunn was charged with possession for purpose of sale of beer and whiskey.

Large Liquor "Haul" Netted By County Sheriff Office Since First Of The Year

The concentrated drive against Garza county bootleggers by the Sheriff's office has been no arm-chair project as figures of "hauls" made since the first of the year readily point out.

And should they be bold enough to come forward, the bootleggers would certainly be the first to vouch for the fact that the Sheriff's office has grabbed sizeable chunks of money out of their pockets in the past seven months.

Figures released this week by the Sheriff's office on results of raids made by Sheriff Carl Rains and Deputies Fay and Luther Claborn since January 1 total up to a sizeable "stash" of beverages in any man's book.

They include 466 fifths of wine, 277 pints of whiskey, 114 half pints of whiskey, 67 fifths of whiskey, 61 bottles of home brew and 5,429 cans of beer.

Taking prevailing bootleg market prices and applying them to the above figures brings out the fact that the Sheriff's office has kept people in the county from paying out approximately $6,509.50. And this doesn't include the cost of the home brew, because no one seemed to know exactly what the price of a bottle of home brew is.

However, the officials realize that, despite their concentrated efforts against bootlegging in the county, the practice is still going on. But such heavy results from their raids in the past seven months have definitely jolted the bootleggers where it hurts most—in the pocketbook.

Sheriff Rains and his deputies claim also that the grip on such activities will remain as tight as it has been since January. They intend to continue their concentrated efforts thereby helping the county not only in law enforcement but financially too.

For in glancing at the large hauls made by the office, the average person might think that once they pick up the stuff and bring in the offender the duty of the Sheriff's office has been completed and nothing else will come of it.

That is not the case. Every bottle of whiskey and wine and case of beer the office picks up will be turned into the State Liquor Control board for resale to dealers and wholesalers.

The Board sells the stuff at the prevailing prices depending on its age at the time it is sold. This money is then divided by the state with a portion going into state funds and the remainder coming back to Garza county to be allocated for old-age pension and county school funds.

Naturally, the sale of the stuff by the Liquor board will not run anywhere as high as the above estimate given on the bootleg total, but it would still mean a nice total coming back into the county for the two funds.

A third county benefit may also be credited to the officials and their efforts. This is the fines which are assessed by the county court and County Judge H. M. Snowden against the offenders. Since the first of the year the county has been somewhat busy as far as assessments go.

Assessed fines on liquor cases involving possession, sale and transportation charges have totaled $6,110.10. This total naturally includes fines and costs.

So in brief summarization of the facts it becomes apparent the Sheriff's office has clamped a tighter squeeze on the bootlegging business, contributed considerably to the old-age pension and school funds and caused some heavy fine assessments. In other words, Sheriff Rains and the two Claborns have definitely upheld the duties of their office.

POST PARK AREA . . .

The southside lake and park area in Post has become quite a problem. Such a problem in fact that if something isn't done in the near future, the site will be nothing but a refuse area littered and marred by head-high weeds and empty beer cans dumped there by careless and irresponsible people. It is indeed a problem that needs looking into. No one can blame the park committee for the extended dry spell which has dried the lake to a few stagnant pools. Nor can the blame be placed entirely on their shoulders for the fate of the few fish that were in the lake. Citizens of the town definitely have a share in the area, and had interest prompted anyone, all of the fish could have been seined out and saved before the water dried out. As it was, only a relatively few were saved. Now that the lake is dry some people have offered suggestions as to its disposition. Suggestions have been offered to run a pipe under the railroad and keep it permanently drained; that a dam be built near the highway to divert the water into the lake when it rains; that the lake be dredged out and the sides rocked and grassed. Any of these suggestions, were they taken as projects, would cost some money, but one of these or perhaps another plan more suitable to the majority of the people should be undertaken in the near future. The result would surely be worthwhile.

FARM ELECTRICITY . . .

The United States is entering a second phase of farm electrification in which new and broader uses will be made of electricity to save time and labor on the farm. So believes Professor F. W. Duffee, who operates the University of Wisconsin Electric Research farm. Today, according to Professor Duffee, the average American farm uses about 2,350 kilowatt-hours of electricity each year. But on the Research Farm, where every possible use is made of labor-saving power, 44,800 kilowatt-hours are used—ten times as much as the average farmer. Although Duffee does not predict the average farm will be using this much in a couple of years, he does believe that a substantial increase will occur within the next ten years. Duffee pointed out that peak power use pays off on the farms. He said heat lamps save an average of one pig per litter in cold weather; lighting of the hen house increases egg production; a silo unloader and barn cleaner saves the work of one hired man. This is important in the face of labor shortages and record wages. Heretofore how to make electricity available to farmers has posed quite a problem, but now the job is virtually complete. The juice is there if the farmer wants it. And with the tremendous revolution which electricity has wrought in farming during the past two decades, it is a sure bet that it will do a great deal more in the future—to the economic advantage of rural America.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

THE WOMEN—God Love 'Em "How can you tell, when you build a service station on the corner, that you are going to strike oil there," asked the sweet young thing.

A recent appeal by Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, to newspapers and radio stations for assistance in putting the "damper" on the false rumors and misinformation that is currently being spread in some circles concerning Texas' new motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility law drew my undivided attention this week.

Garrison wants the public to know that the law is not in effect now and will not be until January 1 and he wants them to BELIEVE that it is not a compulsory insurance law.

I am certain that no newspaper or radio station will hesitate in telling the public the law won't become effective until the beginning of next year. BUT I am not at all certain they feel justified in complying with the second request.

For despite the fact that Garrison declares that "under no circumstances or conditions will the law compel motorists to carry automobile insurance," it proves very hard to look at the law and draw any different conclusion.

Without insurance you have to either post a bond for $15,000 with the Texas Department of Public Safety, deposit satisfactory security with the Department, or furnish proof of your ability to meet claims up to $15,000.

And the catch-line to the law goes: "Proper insurance may be accepted as sufficient proof of such financial responsibility."

Just look around at your friends who drive automobiles. How many of them could do either of the first three alternatives in case they had an accident today? It is my opinion that not four out of ten drivers could do so.

No, the law is not a compulsory insurance law, for a few individuals can meet the other qualifications. But it comes so close to being such that the smell is mighty loud.

Now don't take this blast as meaning I am against such insurance by the owner of a car. For I do believe every car owner should carry sufficient insurance to meet necessary damages or suits evolving from a bad accident.

But I am definitely against the way they are going about the whole deal.

The law states that such proof must be furnished AFTER such an accident has occurred. Why after? Why not change the law to state that a person must have such proof before he can buy a car? Why wait until the accident has occurred and the damage is done and then ask for proof?

One explanation might be that the present law doesn't tend to discourage people from buying and registering cars whereas the other solution might.

But back to the insurance. With the increased number of persons who will be buying such insurance the premium rate should drop considerably. But will it? The answer there is as plain as the fact that it hasn't rained enough in Garza county.

With the drop of the insurance rate comes another suggestion. All car dealers should be able to sell liability insurance. Here we revert back to statement in which we claimed the proof demanded by the Department should be available before a man buys a car, not after he runs over someone with it.

Garrison continues in his appeal. "I hope the people of Texas will not permit themselves to be misled again about this new law, which was enacted for their greater safety and financial protection."

Where does he get the "greater safety" idea? If a man does not have to furnish proof that he can cough up $15,000 until AFTER he has had an accident he will not stay off the road. No, he will drive until he has an accident, then it will be too late.

If he is responsible for someone's death how has the law benefited the one killed? Sure it might help his family, but it darn sure doesn't bring him back to life.

No, I cannot agree with Mr. Garrison on the fact that the law "bears no resemblance to a compulsory insurance law." Maybe it isn't a hundred percent compulsory, but I'll lay you odds a heck of a lot of people will be standing in line at the insurance office come next January 1.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Sucker Bait

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Tain't Necessarily Necessary

One of the most pleasant sights to the eyes of residents and visitors alike are the neat fields, farms and farm roads in the Lorenzo area. A new fly has turned up in the aintment, however. A few people of our town are dumping their trash in the bar-pits of our nearby farm roads. As soon as the grader scrapes the ditches in these roads one finds the roadway littered with assorted cans and bottles. This not only creates a hazard for tires, but constitutes a reflection on the community as a whole. A great deal of this debris is made up of beer cans and beer bottles, neither of which are designed to help a road any more than the original contents thereof were designed to help an aching head! Since a great number of good people frown on beer as a beverage, it is likely that these cans and bottles are surreptitiously dumped away from home to avoid the stigma of heaping them up in the alley trash can. If these subterfuges must be resorted to in order to "save face" in the community, the parties involved will find it quite as easy to avail themselves of the facility of the city dump just northeast of town. This is a reasonable request, and its fulfillment would be appreciated by practically everyone in the area.

Concrete Evidence

We have concrete evidence that the younger generation is getting better than ever. This week some 2400 square feet of concrete was poured on the Banner building. Workmen retired at night with great misgivings, but came the dawn, and not one single ob-scenity had been scratched in the fresh cement.

To Build New Bridge

The new bridge over the Colorado River on U. S. Highway 80 in Colorado City is expected to be completed in February, 1952, the State Highway Department revealed today. Senator Pat Bullock received a letter from the Highway Department, saying that bids will be received until 9 a. m., August 14. Proposal guaranty is $10,000.00. The four-lane bridge will replace the old structure which was built in 1922. It will be 392 feet long, 40-50 feet longer than the present bridge. The new bridge will be built higher than the present one since flood waters on July 20, 1939 threatened to destroy it.

Unprofitable Wheat Year

With the completion of the 1951 wheat harvest in Randall county another low production year is marked up as unprofitable for the wheat grower. This makes two consecutive years in which wheat growers have operated at a loss. On most wheat farms in the county this has meant a loss of the total cost of operation of the wheat acreage for two years. A few farms have reported fair yields but on the whole the total yield for the county is estimated at only 500,000 bushels. This estimate is made by W. H. Upchurch, Administrative Officer for the Randall County P. M. A.

Poor Onion Crop

Poor quality and unstable markets were the causes cited in Terrell last week for extensive dumping of the area's onion crop. Observers estimated that more than 10,000 bushels hit the city's dump grounds. A three week rainy spell during the onion harvest lowered quality and hastened decay. Financial interests backing the market pulled out of the deal when they thought it was getting shaky. One buyer reported he sold 1,700 sacks of onions at ten cents a sack. "The sacks alone cost seven cents each," he said.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P — Supporters of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project probably wish they had never heard of Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine, Tex.

For weeks Pickett has led the opposition in the House Public Works Committee to the proposed $818,000,000 development which would open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping.

He says it's no good, would mean unwise spending and would hurt existing forms of transportation.

Pickett, in opposing the big waterway in committee sessions, has been at his best in questioning those who favor it. His approach is deceptive—excessive politeness, jolly agreement and encouragement. Up to a point, that is.

Then suddenly his mood changes. He appears to become belligerent; his head darts forward and, his voice booming and his face flushed, he'll pound a ham-like hand on the table.

Pickett's best trick—and probably one that he learned in his county prosecutor days—is to simulate anger.

This bewilders his victims. The device usually traps them into unwilling admissions. His point won, Tom reverts to the very personification of the lean, courteous Texan and starts laying the groundwork for the next snare. Why Pickett should be so militantly opposed to the seaway is a mystery to many. Pickett can't understand this attitude.

"Shucks," he says. "If a man's against something he shouldn't keep it a secret. Get up on your hind feet and give it all you've got."

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Writer Advises Everyone To Make A Will As The Best Possible Investment For Future

GLOUCESTER, MASS. — Everyone should make a will. I seriously mean this. Too many people have died unexpectedly, especially in connection with automobile accidents. Statistics show that more Americans have been killed by automobiles the past year than have been killed in Korea. You may live a long life, but you may die next week. The important thing is not to die without a will whatever your age. Let me give you seven reasons for this:

Appoint Your Own Executor

Reason 1. To be sure of a friendly executor and to avoid having some judge appoint some friend of his as an executor, with whom you might not be satisfied, you can appoint your own executor by making a will. I have appointed a trust company.

Reason 2. If you die without a will and the court is obliged to disburse your estate it may run up a lot of costs, including the necessity for a bond. These costs can be eliminated largely by making a will and appointing your own executor. You can provide that the executor may give your beneficiaries property or securities at a fair value instead of cash, under certain circumstances.

Reason 3. By making a will you can give your executor certain other discretionary powers. Like deciding what property to sell, and the power to do other things which a court appointee would not do. You can directly will certain articles of furniture, clothing, etc. to definite people and do the things that you want to do as you would want to do them without the fear of litigation.

Reason 4. If a court should liquidate your estate it may sell property hurriedly or during a depression. By making a will you can give your executor time and enable him to use his judgment and consult other people. This privilege may save your estate thousands of dollars.

Consider Leaving Money In Trust

Reason 5. By making a will, you can arrange to leave money in trust so that your widow or husband may have the full income during his or her lifetime and then have it go to the children or other people. You also may wish to distribute your property among your children in unequal proportion, as one may be disabled or handicapped. To do this you must make a will.

Reason 6. If the estate goes to a court-appointed executor it may take two years or more in being settled and your wife and family may have nothing on which to live during this period. By making a will you can authorize your executor to pay your wife a certain amount each month pending settlement of your estate, or to give her more money if an unexpected illness, or other unexpected troubles should come. You always can make changes at any time by proper codicils.

Reason 7. I hope you will have some church or charities, as well as friends, to whom you wish to make a gift. This can be done only by executing a will. Really all of us should remember some church in our wills. The only hope of this old world is religion and the church holds the key and is the doorway thereto. All this nation has—democracy, education and hospitals—we owe to the church. Let us uphold the ladder by which we have climbed.

Consult A Good Lawyer

Don't try to make your own will to save $50; but go to a good lawyer. Make a list of the gifts you desire to make and whom you want as executor and give this material to your lawyer, who should be a resident of your state. Then he will put in in legal shape.

He will explain to you that three witnesses must see you sign and that these witnesses better be people who are NOT mentioned in the will. There also are some other technicalities which your lawyer will explain to you. The laws of different states differ. Have his clerk make three typewritten carbons of the finished will.

After you sign the original copy at the lawyer's office, you'd better let your suggested executor read it so as to ask you questions if anything is not clear. Then leave it with your bank and get a receipt therefor. You can put a carbon copy in your safe deposit box for future reference by yourself; also you can give a carbon copy to your lawyer and to your executor if you wish.

EVEN IF YOU NOW HAVE ONLY VERY LITTLE MONEY, YOU SHOULD MAKE A WILL. IT IS THE BEST POSSIBLE INVESTMENT FOR YOU.

COOL COOKING

It's electric because electricity is coolest of all heat producing methods. Only when you cook electrically does all the heat go into the cooking job. For only on an electric range do you have pan-bugging heat, with the utensil setting right on the heating element. And only in an electric range oven do you have complete six-sided insulation, for only matchless, flameless electric cooking can be completely insulated—without oxygen because it's without flame.
Cook the cool way—the way that lets you prepare an entire meal without raising the temperature of your kitchen more than one degree. Of course, it's electric.

Security To Visit Post

Schantz, field representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the Post office at 2 p. m. next Wednesday to answer inquiries concerning social security and assist in the benefits.

Inquiries are still being received from self-employed persons concerning their status under the 1950 amendment of the Social Security Act," Hutton, manager of the office, said.

Employed persons, with exceptions, have been covered by the law since January 1, 1951. Hutton also explained that while earnings from commercial establishments and earnings from self-employment as a farmer, doctor, lawyer, optometrist, veterinarian, architect, funeral director or other professions are excepted from old-age insurance protection.

Hutton explained that the self-employed do not report themselves to the quarterly social security tax returns they file for their employers, but will make a quarterly report once each year to the office, located at 1015 Avenue A, which explains the coverage of the self-employed and maintains a full list of the

W. O. Thaxton, Garza County Resident For 37 Years, Has Seen Many Changes In The Town

The "wildness" attributed to most West Texas towns during the early teens of 1900 by picture shows and books failed to apply to Post in 1914, says W. O. Thaxton, who arrived here on Thanksgiving day of that year and settled on a farm about a mile this side of Ragtown.

"The town was not bad at all for a new town," he explained. "The town was only about eight years old and had no more than 1,500 people in it. Most of these were working at the mill and were settled, so the law did not have too much to do. But that's more than I can say about a few times since then."

Looks and actions of this old-time resident and business man of Post hide his 72 years extremely well. Refusing to go into any pomp and ceremony over having attained his present age, Thaxton celebrated his 72nd birthday Saturday by making his usual appearance at his downtown service station.

Describing Post as he saw it when he moved in here, Thaxton said the main part of town was contained in one block, the east block of the town. Most of the present rock and brick buildings there were just old wooden buildings, he said. Garza county courthouse was located on the site of the present Gulf station on the west side of the traffic light and the Algerita hotel occupied the present Graeber grocery. The present hotel building was used then as a land office.

"There were very few farms in the surrounding area," the pioneer explained. "Out toward Graham there was old man Maxey, Rodgers, Milburn and Perry Crowley. And toward the present site of Southland John R. Williams, Sam Wilks, and another man lived. Closer to Slaton, which was the railroad terminal at that time, Old Man Davies was about the only one who lived there."

Thaxton says that after you left the Double U on the north you might see four houses between Post and Slaton. Southland did not exist. "I think they told at that time Lubbock had a population of about 4,000," he said.

Before coming to Garza county, Thaxton and his wife, the former Miss Laura Ragland, and their three children, Earl, Cecil and J. B. lived in Johnson county near Grandview. The couple married in Hill county in 1902.

"John Williams brought us out here," he explained. "At that time he was working for the land office and was coming down to our county to get people to settle here."

"Old Man Post, or the company, would build you a house and sell you a farm at so much per acre down payment (this was usually pretty small) and let you pay out the remainder in a long period of time at 4 percent interest."

Since he has been in the service station business for some time, Thaxton explained about such service here when he came. "We did not have filling stations then," he pointed out, "but used horse lots instead. There were very few cars in the county at that time and the only place they could get gas was at a pump which was located on the sidewalk in front of what is now Maxine's. Later on someone built a little garage."

"Why even the Fire Department was horse driven when I came here," he concluded.

Thaxton only stayed on his farm for about six years before he moved into town. His first business venture was with George Leggett. The two went into the real estate business and remained together until the depression. After that Thaxton said he has been in and out of the service station business.

For eight years he served as county public weigher. "We had

Post Men Attend Coaching School

Two coaches in the Post High school system are among the attendance of the world's biggest coaching school — that of the Texas High School Coaches association — during its week-long run in San Antonio from last Sunday until tomorrow.

Representing Post in the throng of more than 1,000 coaches from all parts of Texas and a few surrounding states are Head Coach Bing Bingham and basketball coach and assistant football coach Vernon Ray.

Bingham left Saturday to get in on the first of the school sessions which were held Sunday. He was met in San Antonio by Ray who had been in Baytown visiting.

Both Bingham and Ray this week have been taking a little postgraduate work in the mysteries of the split T formation which they use against district opponents. Ray has also been studying the basketball situation.

According to Wilburn Martin, Associated Press sports writer, the high school coach is an amazing person, a jack of many trades, who deserves more credit than he usually gets. The vast majority are from the little schools, where they double in brass as gym teachers, history teachers and maybe even arithmetic. And have more trouble than college coaches.

Coaches Bingham and Ray will probably return Saturday.

NOTE OF APOLOGY

In writing up an account of Charlie B. Everett a week or so ago this Dispatch reporter misquoted the long-time Post resident two times during the story.

On two occasions the story gave Everett credit with saying "darned." The credit was wrongly designated.

"You can credit me with doing everything else in the books, practically that is, but I have never used that word," Everett said in bringing the mistake to light.

We apologize, Mr. Everett. It was just a slip of the darned reporter.

Hunting Seasons On Doves Explained

Changes in the proposed 1951 dove seasons in Texas are foreseen by the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission following a conference with Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Fish and Wildlife Service and the state jointly set seasons on both mourning doves and white wing doves because they are migratory birds.

The Commission, at its last regular meeting, recommended that the mourning dove season open in the North Zone September 1, and open in the South Zone November 15 to run 45 days. The Executive Secretary understood from the conference with Cottam that the opening dates may stand but that the season would run 40 instead of 45 days. The bag limits of ten per day and ten in possession seemingly will continue. Shooting hours would be from noon to sunset instead of all day.

Increasing hunting pressure, plus weather hardships on both

Voters To Decide On New Amendments

Texas voters will determine in November whether the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college can increase their income for operating expenses without increasing taxes, tuition fees or State appropriations.

A constitutional amendment which will permit increased income without cost to the state will be one of those appearing on a statewide election ballot November 13. The amendment was submitted to the people by a unanimous vote of the 52nd Legislature. The House approved it 129 to 9 and the Senate vote was 27 to 0.

Currently the Permanent University Fund can be invested only in certain bonds, which pay a relatively low interest rate. The interest income is divided approximately two-thirds to the University and one-third to Texas A. and M. for building construction and to pay their operating costs in part. If the amendment is approved, up to half of the Permanent University Fund can be invested in corporate stocks, which, according to an analysis by University investment officials, will pay a substantially larger returns.

whitewings and mourning doves, were reported as major factors in the curtailments tentatively fixed by the Federal authorities.

You Don't Like Onion Pie Some Potato Doughnuts

THE MADE OF ONIONS... is not only an appetizing oddity, but also a delicious one. Onions are at a low price and are one of the most popular vegetables sold in Post, according to local grocers. Here's all there is to preparing the pie.

Wash and slice 8 medium sized onions, sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt and let stand for a half hour. Make patsy for a 9-inch pie crust. Squeeze moisture from onions with hands. Sauté the onions in 4 tablespoons butter until brown, when all butter should be absorbed, and spread on the crust. Beat three eggs as for any custard, and blend with 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 cup sweet cream and pour the mixture over the onions. Bake strips lean bacon in narrow strips and arrange on top. Bake in 400 degree oven or until the crust is golden and the custard has set firmly. Serve hot.

TRY TO PLEASE EVERYBODY, so if your taste doesn't run in the onion pie direction, maybe you will appreciate the following recipe for making POTATO DOUGHNUTS.

Sift 6 cups sifted, enriched flour with 7 teaspoons baking powder, dash salt and 1 teaspoon nutmeg. Combine 2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups warm mashed potatoes and 6 tablespoons melted lard; continue beating. Add 3-4 cup milk and mix only until flour disappears. Place about 1-3 of the dough at a time on a lightly floured board. Sprinkle surface of dough lightly with flour and roll to 1/2 inch in thickness. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Fry in 350 degree deep lard until golden brown. Drain. Roll in sugar if desired.

A TEMPTING DESSERT for your easy-to-do summer dinner is CRANBERRY SHERBERT.

Cook 2 cups cranberries in 1 and 1-4 cups water until soft. Press through sieve; add 1 cup sugar and cook until sugar dissolves. Add 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin softened in 1-4 cup cold water; add juice from 1 lemon. Freeze firm in refrigerator tray. Break in chunks; beat smooth with electric or rotary beater. Return quickly to mold tray. Freeze firm.

New Grade School Principal and Family Move From Tulia

Ellis M. Mills family move from Tulia, July 14, after three years and one month. Mills was recently elected Grade School principal. He has three children, 15 years old, Kenneth, and Sara, 9.

All like living here fine, he expected because the Arthurs, whom we have known for several years, think so of the people here and that everyone was so friendly and they certainly have a fine home.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Abercrombie of Tucumcari, N. M.

The Rev. J. H. Parrott of Las Cruces, N. M., performed the formal ceremony.

The bride wore a white embroidered eyelet gown over tulle, fastened with a portrait neckline, fitted bodice and tiered skirt. Her illusion veil was attached to an orange blossom hat. Her bouquet was a green orchid surrounded by white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Truman Short of Artesia and Miss Lorene Tyson, twin sisters of the bride, were matron and maid of honor respectively. The bride's other sister, Mrs. Tommy Stewart of Scott Air Force base, Ill., was bridesmatron.

Mrs. Tyson was hostess for a reception honoring her son-in-law and daughter immediately after the ceremony.

After a trip Mr. and Mrs. Abercrombie are at home in Roswell, N. M., where he is employed by the Soil Conservation service.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. NEWBURY

W. H. Newburys To Observe 71st Anniversary Tuesday

Tuesday marks the 71st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newbury, Garza residents since 1914. Mr. Newbury still makes his weekly trip to town but Mrs. Newbury's going is limited to attending the Graham Church of Christ regularly, as she is blind.

The couple doesn't plan any celebration on their anniversary. "We are too near give out for anything like that," Mrs. Newbury said.

The oldtimers were married August 7, 1880, near Alpine, Tenn. Eight years later they came to Texas, arriving by train at Weatherford October 14, 1888. "We thought we could do better in Texas than we were doing and we did," Mr. Newbury revealed.

Before settling in Garza county, the natives of Tennessee moved to Missouri, Decatur, Chillicothe and Sulphur, Okla. They still live in the same house on the 80-acre farm they bought when they moved here.

The Newburys have a housekeeper once a week and they do the rest. Other than the regular household chores, Mr. and Mrs. Newbury, 90 and 89, respectively, spend their time caring for a cow and calf and 100 chickens. Mrs. Newbury said "I've always loved to milk but since I lost my sight I can't do it much anymore. However, every once in a while Mr. Newbury leads me to the lot and I milk the old cow we have had for some 10 or 12 years."

The Graham community residents' only daughter, Mrs. Z. P. Lusk, died during the flu epidemic in 1918. They have two grandchildren, Bob Lusk, and Mrs. Schuyler Boothe of Paducah, and two great grandchildren, Amanda and Lucy Nell Boothe, students in Abilene Christian college.

"I was never sick much in my life till I lost my sight, but I have had false teeth for more than 50 years," the cheerful pioneer disclosed. "I went to an old doctor who had an office in the back of a drug store in Boonville and he pulled all my teeth at one time. That fall he came out here and brought me this same set I'm wearing today. He told me then that these teeth would be good when I was dead and gone and I've decided he was right," Mrs. Newbury said.

The couple lives alone since Mr. Newbury's nephew and family moved to another farm several months ago, after staying with them for five years.

Thousands Of Texans Pour Into New York

How many people from Texas do you thing visit New York City annually? According to a recent New York City hotel survey, nearly 158,000 Texans will visit the big town this year. The survey was conducted over a one-year period. The survey also showed that June is always the most popular month for Texas visitors. They stay an average of four days and spend about $100 each in New York.

Registration Fees Set County Record

Registration fees for motor vehicles in Garza have reached $51,744.23 since April to establish a "first" for that department in the county. Carl Cederholm, deputy tax collector-assessor, has announced. According to existing records this is the first year in the history of the county that vehicle registration fees have passed the $50,000 mark. Nine more months are left in which the figure may go way beyond its present total. Cederholm also pointed out. Under present regulations the first $50,000 taken in by registration fees go to the county, but all over that amount is split with the state on a 50-50 basis. In compiling up this record fee total the office has registered 1,040 passenger cars, 350 farm trucks, 295 commercial trucks, 40 truck tractors, 90 trailers, 55 house trailers and issued 5 dealers' licenses. Which means an approximate total of 1,870 vehicles have been registered in the county since April, 1951.

Gasoline Consumed In Garza County Is Small Portion Of Nation's Need

Along with the military needs, civilian demand for petroleum products has been mounting at an unprecedented rate. Combine these two and you have a great challenge to the oil industry.

To give a more localized picture of the enormous use of these fuels are the figures released by Nichols:

Garza county's 21 service stations are selling gasoline at an average rate of 5,250 gallons per day. This means a monthly average of 157,500 gallons or an annual average of 1,890,000 gallons.

Wholesale agencies in the county distribute an average of 290,000 gallons of gasoline and diesel fuel, or light oil, per month. In the period of a year this total reaches approximately 3,480,000 gallons.

Delving deeper into the statistics on oil products demands, the committee says that domestic demand for oil increased from 1,485,799,000 barrels for the years 1941 to 2, 118,250,000 barrels for the year 1949, an average increase in daily consumption each year of about 217,000 barrels.

Since 1941 daily consumption has increased from 4,071,000 barrels to 7,100,000 barrels or an increase of 74.4 per cent.

Many and various reasons may be given, but the most logical ones are the increase of motor vehicles, domestic oil burners, diesel locomotives and farm tractors.

Figures show that since 1935 the number of motor vehicles registered in the United States have increased from about 26 million to a present 48 million; oil burners have increased from slightly more than 1 million to more than 5 million since 1935.

In 1935 the number of diesel locomotives in use were practically nil, but today more than 4,500 of them are in use; and farm tractors have increased from 1 million to 4 million since 1935.

Committee figures also show that approximately 3.5 billions of gallons of liquefied petroleum gases were sold in the United States in 1950. This was a tremendous increase over the nearly 100,000 gallons sold in 1935.

But the oil industry official feels confident the industry can meet the combined demands of military and civilian on its products. Included in the industry's present capacity and facilities are the following items:

- Proved reserves (underground supplies of liquid hydrocarbons): about 29.5 billion barrels.
- Producing oil wells: about 468,000.
- Current daily production of liquid hydrocarbons: 6,675,000 barrels.
- Daily productive capacity: about 7,275,000 barrels.
- Daily rate of imports: 950,000 barrels.
- Daily rate of exports: 280,000 barrels.
- Crude and product pipe lines: 153,000 miles.
- Refineries: 367
- Refining capacity: about 6,900,000 barrels per day.
- Railroad tank cars: about 100,000
- Seagoing tankers: about 500

Taking part in the transfer are, left to right, Col. Albert C. Prendergast, Dallas, 136th commander; Brig. Gen. James Ferguson, deputy commander Fifth Air Force; Maj. Gen. Frank F. Total Of 400 Rabbits Killed In Drive Held In County Last Week

Results of a four-hour rabbit drive on four sections of grassland about 15 miles west of Post last Thursday should definitely bring on a scarcity of rabbits in that area for sometime to come.

The drive, which started at 1 p. m. and ended about 5 p. m., netted a total of 400 rabbits.

About 48 hunters from Southland, Grassland, and the Garnolia community converged on the area around the ranch of Bryan J. Williams, Jr., and conducted the second rabbit drive to be held in the area in the past three years.

The first such drive was held in 1949 and for a long time after then no trace of rabbits could be found in the area. But in the past year they have been causing heavy damage to the grass and crops of the surrounding area.

Hunters, armed with guns and plenty of ammunition, walked through four separate drives in covering the four sections. They divided and lined up on all four

- Barges: about 2,400
 - Bulk plants: about 31,000
 - Tank trucks, trailers and other trucks: about 150,000
 - Service stations: about 200,000
- Conceivably the oil industry could experience difficulties in keeping up with the accelerated demands. But it is a certainty that the output of petroleum products this year will be greater than ever before—now estimated at least 8 percent over the best previous year.
- From all existing records, reports and figures, however, it can be concluded: (1) the military will get all the oil it needs in case of an extreme emergency, (2) no important shortages of any petroleum products are now in sight, and (3) meeting all increases still will call for a tremendous effort.

Groundwater Users To Hold Meeting

Groundwater users from 21 counties will gather in Plainview Aug. 9 to tell the State Board of Water Engineers how they feel about the proposed creation of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

Irrigation farmers and other interested citizens have been invited to testify at the board's public hearing, which is set for 10 a. m. in the Plainview Municipal Auditorium.

On evidence presented, the board will decide whether to declare creation of the 10,600-square-mile district. If the district is established, the board will then appoint a five-man board of directors to supervise an election at which the voters may approve or reject the district.

Such districts are in operation, on a much smaller scale, in Martin and Dallas counties. They were created under House Bill 162, passed by the Texas Legislature in the spring of 1949.

The proposed district includes all of Lubbock, Parmer, Hale and Swisher counties and parts of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Oldham, Potter, Randall and Terry counties.

R. H. Tate Attends Fly Control School

R. H. Tate, superintendent of the Post Water and Sewerage department, Wednesday completed a two and a half-day fly control school conducted in Lubbock.

Held by the State Department of Health, the school covered the latest procedures and methods in controlling flies. Types and strength of chemicals and their proper application were discussed.

Data covered in the school included proven facts and statistics showing the effectiveness of properly executed fly control work.

Mrs. Sidney Carter of Wichita Falls was a weekend visitor in the homes of her sons, Bill and Reece, Jr., and their families.

Postex Cotton Mill

"Don't Quit"

George Tillman and family left Wednesday for a two-week vacation. George said he was going to close his eyes, give his old Chevrolet its head and see if he could find a cool spot.

Charlie Jenkins, Bill Hays and F. J. Jenkins all were home over the week-end visiting relatives. All three men are working in New Mexico at the present time. We are hoping that we can get their wives to persuade them to return to Postex.

Leon Clary is now home on furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Clary. We hope he has a pleasant stay while in Post.

Frank Wells had the wonderful news that his brother is on his return trip from Korea.

"Uncle" Jack Guess has returned to work with an additional number of new teeth. At the present, the new teeth seem to be getting the best of him, but if we know "Uncle" Jack like we think we do, it will not be long until he is doing very nicely with them.

Each and every individual of Postex Mills wishes to extend their deepest sympathy to Esker Stone whose father passed away Sunday, July 29.

We have a new supervisor in the form of Wilburn Warren. He is replacing Phillips of the Carding and Spinning department on the third shift. We are sure that Warren will be an asset to Postex Mills on his present job as a supervisor as he has been an asset to the Weaving department in the past several years.

ty-line districts the limit is only $3.50 per month. Several of these latter students attend Southland and Garnolia from Lubbock and Lynn counties.

The term amount allowed per child residing in Garza county and riding school buses is $49.50, but for those from county-line districts, only $31.50 per term is allowed. Yet with operating costs so high and the distance to travel so great the county schools cannot operate on these totals, Robinson pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Thompson of Lubbock were weekend visitors in the L. H. Ingram home.

New Press Box Under Construction At Field

Work started Tuesday on a new press box for the Post High school football field and also a new addition to the west stands.

The new addition, which will add approximately 100 seats, is being built in the space between the two old stands. The press box will extend for about 25 feet along the top of this new stand addition.

A tunnel will be left underneath the stands for the player's passage to the field house, Coach Bingham said.

Wayne Pipes also reports that work on the football field is going nicely. The outer fence around the entire field is well underway.

Mrs. Jake Webb's mother was carried to Lubbock for medical treatment in a Hudman ambulance yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Davis of Crowell were guests of Mrs. Agnes Kahler and family the first of the week.

H. G. Tyson, jr., a former Postite, is stationed with the armed forces in Okinawa.

The remodeling of the Garnolia school building was begun Monday.

Mrs. C. A. Tollison of Amarillo visited relatives here during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scrivner of Tatum, N. M., visited the R. L. Craigs last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Winkler and daughter, Jean, of Justiceburg visited the J. P. Morgan family Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watson and family visited the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Peters at Jayton over the weekend.

Miss Hazel Thomas of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edwards and family of Clovis, N. M., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Edwards.

Dale Fullford and Truett Babb of Meadow were Tuesday evening guests in the home of Mrs. R. W. Babb and daughter, Ganell. The visitors were en route home after transacting business in San Angelo.

Mrs. Irene Rodgers has been a patient at Taylor clinic in Lubbock. After leaving the clinic she spent a few days in the Lubbock home of her daughter and family, the Ernest Griffiths. She returned home yesterday.

Bits of News

Visitors in the home of Mrs. T. R. Greenfield and daughter, Mrs. W. H. Ray, include, Mrs. Tom Ray and her daughter, Rebecca, all of Borger.

Mrs. T. O. Bowen returned home Sunday after spending the week with her son, T. G., and family in Levelland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Foster, children of Victoria, are in town. Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and daughter, Janice, returned home Sunday after a week's vacation at Santa Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

Relatives report that Ruth Hill is improving in Oklahoma, hospital where she is receiving treatment for polio. Her new address is Junior Children's hospital, 2009 Lewis Ave. Nurses attending to her say that the child's condition is improving and that her friends here and elsewhere are contributing much to her improved condition, according to relatives.

Band Begins Rehearsals Tuesday

The band will begin rehearsals at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the building. Band director, Mrs. Lewis has announced. Rehearsals will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night in preparation for the parade on Friday. The band will also play each night of the parade.

Rotary Attendance Over Last Weeks

Attendance at the Rotary club picked up considerably this Tuesday with many of the members back from vacations. Rotarians visiting at the Tuesday meeting included A. M. Bray, and Fred McGinty, of Tahoka; and J. H. Taylor, Spur. Visitors included Jesse Ward and James Dye, of Post. Program was in charge of vice president Bob Collier. He showed a series of colored slides on a trip into northern New Mexico. Members are invited to play in the band to join rehearsals. Further information concerning the band may be obtained by calling the band room, number 560.

Davis Story Hits Popularity Peak

Should a popularity contest be conducted on stories run in the Dispatch, a recent article would take the prize hands down. Written by Mrs. Lee Davis, the article described her trip through the clinic at Temple and has brought a deluge of requests for that copy of the paper.

Aside from the many local comments, the story has brought responses from all over Texas. First request came from the Executive office of the Scott and White clinic at Temple asking for three copies.

That seemed to start the deluge. One woman came into the office and bought six copies to send patients in the Temple hospital who heard of the story and wanted to read it. And another bought a copy for a friend in Colorado.

The latest two requests have come from Fort Worth and Corpus Christi.

Which gives a small indication as to the quality of the story. As for our opinion, we say:

By the way, Mrs. Davis, you have a job at the Dispatch anytime you want to drop around.

Barbara Northcutt Is To Enter Band School

Barbara Northcutt has enrolled in the Drum Majoring and Marching school to be conducted at Sam Houston State Teachers college in Huntsville Aug. 27-31. Band director Vernon Lewis said Wednesday.

Barbara's enrollment in the school completed the "front" of the Post High school marching band for this fall. The three twirlers, Barbara, Nelda Floyd, Mary Jo Williams and the drum major, Barbara Norris, will all attend the Huntsville school.

C. R. Hackney, band director at SHSTC, will be in charge of the school and has selected some of the most outstanding twirlers in the nation as instructors.

"MY CHOICE" TO ENTER LOCAL SHOW — "My Choice," two year old Quarterhorse filly, pictured above with owner, Earl Hodges, will be a leading contender in the annual Southwestern Championship Quarterhorse show to be held here Tuesday, Aug. 14. The filly was judged fourth in her class at the big show held recently at Lubbock. Entered in approximately 31 shows, "My Choice" has been named Reserve Champion in several shows, and has won ribbons, including four firsts, in every one. Officials of this year's show expect it to be the biggest produced since entry blanks have been mailed to more than 250 persons. (Photo By Dispatch Photographer)

Missing Tub Is Unsolved Case At Courthouse

Where, oh where is the number three tub?

The case involving the above question has bounced around the offices of the Sheriff and County Attorney so many times this past week they have dubbed it "The Case of the Missing Tub."

It seems the rhubarb all began when an elderly gentleman called Deputy Fay Claborn one morning and said a neighbor had stolen a number three washtub which belonged to him.

Such a routine matter should not take long, was the thought of Claborn when he drove out to straighten matters around. But he was sadly fooled.

Before they could see the tub which the neighbor had, the old gentleman had to give him the background and history of the tub from year one. Of course he had only used it five years as a left-over container for his garbage can, but it had a lengthy history.

Naturally the people where the tub, identified as his by the accuser, was located said it was their's. Therefore the deputy could only refer the man to County Attorney Dave Willis.

Well, after taking Willis up and down the alley (this was the following day) interviewing people who were certain they remembered the tub having sat unobtrusively beside the old man's garbage can for the past five years, the injured party took him to the house of the accused.

"Why we had a tub in the alley," the accused man admitted, "but it was stolen this morning."

At this the old man literally blew his already diminishing top. "You are a d--- liar," he shouted.

Grabbing the County Attorney by the arm, the accused man appealed, "Arrest that man for attempt."

"Attempt at what?" Willis asked.

"He's attempting to get me mad so I'll fight him."

Finally the squabbling subsided and Willis disbustedly returned to his office, never having seen the tub.

And despite their valiant efforts the case must go on the books as unsolved, thereby leaving a hanging question of "what happened to the tub?"

Farm Realty Taxes Increased During 1950 For Fourth Year

Taxes levied by the state and local agencies on farm and ranch real estate in Texas increased again in 1950 for the fourth successive year of advances, according to a progress report by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station.

Average tax increase on realty property over the state for 1950 was four percent, perhaps a moderate rise when compared with the 15 percent hike in 1949.

The report says that total taxes levied by all units of government — on the state and local level, including schools — averaged 26.6 cents per acre. That is about 50 percent higher than the nearly 18 cent-per-acre stabilized level of 1936-46, and compares with a record high of 29 cents in 1931.

Locally, the farm and ranch real estate taxes remained about the same in 1950 as they were in 1949. According to reports from the Tax Collector - Assessor's office, no appreciable difference could be noted for the year.

The figures are an average of the state, and vary widely from county to county, ranging from five cents per acre in the Trans-Pecos area to $3.41 in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. And, despite the higher state average, some counties recorded slight decreases, while the rise in other counties was greater than the state average increase.

Most of last year's increases were attributed to school districts, with state and county levies generally showing no appreciable change. Contributing also to increases in some areas were needs of special districts, such as water, drainage and navigation areas.

The relative importance of taxes levied by various types of governmental agencies has changed considerably in recent years. The share levied for school purposes has increased while the proportion to counties has dropped, indicating a growing tendency to depend on state-levied funds instead of local and county. In 1950, school districts used 50 percent of the total realty tax levied in the state, counties used 29 percent, the state 14 percent, and special districts seven percent.

Probably the main factor in growth of school taxes has been the extension of levies to most land under terms of the Gilmer-Aiken school laws. It may be significant that less than one percent of farms and ranches in the same tax study showed no local school tax in 1950, whereas before revision of the school laws there were extensive areas without such taxes.

There was little consolation for the taxpayer in the fact that 1950 was the last year in which the state is to levy a property tax for general revenue purposes, because under the revised laws counties may now levy an additional 30-cent tax on a local, county-wide basis.

Such a levy as the one mentioned above was defeated in Garza county in the recent election on reallocation of the county tax rate and 15 cents additional road tax.

HUNDLEY'S

Construction In City Progresses

Construction on several building projects in Post is continuing at a steady clip with no delays being reported because of lack of materials.

All beams have been poured at the hospital site and much of the flooring space has been filled in with dirt. All bricks and tiles have been received and are stacked near the site. Underground plumbing fixtures are also being installed.

The educational building at the First Christian church is near completion. Inside painting, finishing work and installation of sliding doors will complete the job.

Biggest portion of the tile blocks have been laid for the new Church of the Nazarene building. Rafters, beams and roofing work is also nearing completion. The building will cost approximately $18,000.

Foundation ditches have been dug and tile blocks have been brought in for the two new buildings being constructed on West Main by Jim Hundley and Homer McCrary.

Inside work in the new Hamilton drug has reached the stage of pouring concrete flooring. The back wall has also been put in.

OPS Regulates The Canning Industry

The Office of Price Stabilization has amended its restaurant price regulation to clarify and simplify the procedure for determining ceiling prices by restaurant operators who not only serve food and beverages, but sell other commodities or services as well. The office is also placing the billion dollar canned vegetable industry under ceiling price regulation.

The latter will first affect canned peas and will become effective August 5. Base period for figuring costs, the district office says, will be the first 60 days of the 1948 pack and will result in some price decreases as well as increases.

Information on these two regulations have been mailed to all concerned.

JP COURT ACTIVITY UP

Although it was still fairly light, activity in the Justice of Peace court this week picked up considerably over the past few weeks. Justice of Peace J. D. King reported.

Court records revealed that four fines for drunkenness were issued during the week and gamblers three fines. Each fine was $1 and costs.
