EDITORIAL

We get nothing that is worth while without moving decisively toward it. We have to exhibit the intelligence that is equal to the opportunity. Just to see the good that we want and to realize that it will be ours for the taking are not enough; we must really take it. We can take, however, only through the development that comes from opportunities intelligently used. There is always some thing that we must do. It may be that all we need to do is just to reach out to take the prize we want. If so, this will be a mental reaching, not a physical reaching. It may be, too, that we must plan, work, and wait before we possess that which we want most. Of one thing we may be certain—there is something that we personally must do before we can possess the big things of life. We get nothing that is worth while without working for it.

SENIOR DAY

On April 1st, the dignified Srs. of Baird High School let down their hair and provided plenty of comedy for the whole town. The boys dressed as girls, complete with silk hose! clothes, cosmetics, jewelry and other articles of feminine apparel, while the girls were decked out in trousers, hats, mustaches etc. (and we even noticed a few cigars.) The hilarity rose to a climax during an assembly program given by the class. The scene was a colonial bar-room which boasted a torch singer, several burlesque cuties and as the curtain fell, even a jealous wife seeking her drunk husband. After an afternoon of baseball and just general fun, the class had a picnic on Ross's hill, with home made ice cream as a special treat. The day of festivity was closed with a party at the home of Mrs. B. F. Russell.

Lieut. Crawford Hughes Was Rescued From New Britain Jungle

Lieut. Crawford Hughes, who with his three companions, were rescued from the jungles of New Britain held by the Japanese on Wednesday, March 24 are now at a United States base somewhere in New Guinea—the announcement of their rescue being made by the War Department last Saturday and Crawford Hughes sent his parents a cablegram the second within the week, the first to inform them of his rescue since reported "missing" on May 24th last year. The cablegram reads "Getting along fine. Am with outfit now. Happy to be here where I am. Hope to see you soon. Hope you are all well. Much love. Crawford."

His homecoming will be possible because he survived almost unbelievable hardships through 10 months wandering and grubbing for a living in the New Britain jungle.

Ten months and 12 hours after Lieut. Hughes, a navigator, and Lt. Eugene D. Wallace of Los Angeles and Pfc. Dale R. Border of Chillicothe, O., set out on a Rabaul bombing mission that ended in a crash.

Brig. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, commander of the Fifth U. S. Air force, pinned Purple Hearts on the three 23-year-old bachelor airmen Friday. All three were wounded when their bomber crashed on the water after a raid on Rabaul, but the three hopped out of the rescue launch in remarkably good condition.

Two of their mates were killed in the crash, two were captured and one died in the jungle.

Lieut. Hughes was quoted as saying that sometimes they were "so close to Japs we could have wistled at them," they conquered repeated sickness, grubbing for a living in jungles where even the natives almost starved and never abandoning hope.

Lieut. Hughes weighs about the same as he did before. Wallace last 12 pounds and Border 15.

From the day they went down, there had been no word from them until they flashed a mirror at an American bomber on a routine reconnaissance flight. The rescue itself shortly afterward, "was one of the most brilliant pieces of daring ever recorded—a story which can't be told now," said the Associated Press account.

Back with them came a horny-handed bushman, Pvt. John Leslie Stokie an Australian member of the New Guinea Volunteer Rifles, who had dodged the Japanese in Britain even longer than they. Others in the party attributed their rescue to him.

They were clean-shaven, for Stokie had saved his one sharp blade for "the day," and their hair was cut for they managed to find a pair of scissors in nearly every village they say. They still wore their original flying suits—slightly patched. Bordner had a tropical ulcer on his left leg—a stubborn reminder of a cut suffered in the crash. Hughes had a six-inch scar on his left shin.—reminder of another wound in the crash that took six months to heal. Wallace was minus half an upper front tooth.

They had almost no contact with their outside world. They heard of "the Buna affair" and the Bismark sea battle, but no other news. Bordner wanted to know right away how the Cincinnati Reds came out in 1942 and who won in the Rose Bowl.

They didn't have a bite of any sort of bread while they were missing.

For weeks at a time they were just a hop ahead of the Japanese. One morning they ate breakfast just across a stream from where Japanese were having breakfast. They were eating canned salmon they got from a Jap ship that had been bombed by a U. S. Flying Fortress.

Wallace said he had eaten grasshoppers, grubs, caterpillars, toads, lizards and snakes. Hughes and Bordner nodded "me, too" at some of those items, but not all.

All agreed they had "never had a cross word" with each other but they were separated in the jungle at various times, principally because they were not enough surplus food in any one village for all of them. They helped solve their own food problem by making gardens in the jungles, but they had virtually nothing but taro and kaukau—something like sweet potatoes.

Stokie, living alone in the bush, heard Americans were not many miles away. He wrote a letter inviting them to join him in an attempt to get to New Guinea in a dugout canoe. They hiked over to him not many weeks before the rescue. They had finished one canoe and another was well along when a Liberator bomber came along. "We ran and got the biggest mirror in camp", said Border. "It was about six inches square. We flashed it and by the grace of God somebody saw it." The man who saw it was 2nd Lt. Hamilton Chrisholm of Minneapolis, Minn., the Liberator's navigator. A picture taken from the bomber showed white men definitely and plans for the dangerous rescue mission started rolling.

In Memory Of Mother Respass

Who died March 15, 1943. Again the "Death Angel" has entered our home and borne away the spirit of our dear mother to realms beyond the "Great River" which we all must someday cross.

Mother was a semi-invalid for more than five years and bore it all with the greatest patience. Although confined to her room most of this time, she never complained and was always cheerful. Her last illness started early in January. First she had a slight cold from which she seemed to have recovered, later her lower limbs and hips gave away, making her almost helpless except through her arms and shoulders which were also weakening. But she was well cared for by the untiring efforts of many sweet friends, neighbors and relatives, also a good family doctor who saw that nothing was left undone to relieve her suffering for which she always seemed grateful. Until the very last she seemed rational, even when she sank into that peaceful coma which ends only in death.

She kept wondering through all these last weeks of illness, if in some way her children could all come in home and be with her throughout her last few days. We tried to assure her that they would. All were present the last day. Her children and home have always been her first thought but her neighbors and friends were also loved and revered. Never was she known to be selfish, vain or in any way ill tempered, but she was nobly humble, self denying, and seemed willing to suffer almost any hardships for those whom she loved so well. She became a member of the Methodist Church when only twelve years of age, and has lived true to her faith since then.

Our sweet silver haired mother seemed willing to go and unafraid to die. She said several times, "The end is very near and I feel ready to go." She prayed, over and over: "Dear Savior, give me rest," or "Blessed Savior, give me rest or give me death." We loved to think of her as being happily reunited with our noble father, (now deceased 16 years) and both of their children and other loved ones.

We commend her spirit to the Great Maker, God. Written by: Beulah Respass (Daughter).

KEEP VALUABLE PAPERS

WHERE YOU CAN REACH THEM IN FIVE MINUTES

The coming year will be one of strain, uncertainty and confusion for everyone.

Don't add to these hazards by keeping valuable papers where they may be misplaced.

During times like these it's simply common sense to give them the protection of a safe deposit box. You have them at your finger tips the moment they're needed.

Workers in a Michigan refinery fixed up a very low, false door leading to the pay office. On it is inscribed, "You will learn to duck lower if you don't Buy a Bond."

If every man, woman and child in the United States lays aside $100 the aggregate will be about $13,000,000,000 or the amount the Treasury must raise in its Second War Loan.

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building.

... We've got to match, as best we can the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peace-time jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities — Choose The Ones Best Suited For You:

Petty officer ratings as well as commissions are again being given to men experienced in construction and engineering work for duty in the Seabees—the Navy's construction regiments. Chief Tom Gaston of the Abilene Navy Recruiting Station announced this week.

For the first time since the Presidential order banning voluntary enlistments, men between the ages of 17 and 50 again are able to qualify for petty officer ratings in the Seabees, Chief Gaston pointed out.

College men with engineering degrees and experience, as well as high school graduates with considerable supervisory experience in construction work may qualify as officers or warrant officers, Chief Gaston said.

Especially needed now for petty officer ratings are blacksmiths, bulldozer operators, carpenters, chiefs of party, concrete workers, crane operators, draftsmen, quarry drillers, electricians, engine operators, gas and diesel repairmen, mechanic shovel operators, piledriver foremen, pipefitters and plumbers, pipe layers, padwermen, riggers, sheet-metal workers, steel workers, telephone and switchboard men and welders. Ratings up to chief petty officer are now open.

For more information, interested men should see the Abilene Navy recruiters in the basement of the Abilene post office building any

WAR-TIME CARE OF CLOTHING

War-time care of clothing will be demonstrated to representatives of Callahan County Home Demonstration Clubs by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Clothing Specialist of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. The meeting will be held in the district court room of the court house in Baird following the meeting of the county home demonstration council called on Wednesday, April 14. Mrs. Barnes' method demonstration will help homemakers who, in keeping with the government's urge to conserve clothing, will practice home methods of cleaning to prolong the life of hats, suits, dresses, and other garments.

Attending the meeting will be home demonstration club program committees, council delegates, presidents, 4-H club sponsors, and others interested.

TO FIGHT GARDEN INSECTS

Fighting an offensive battle is the best strategy to use in fighting garden insects, according to Marjorie Brown, county home demonstration agent. The battle should begin as soon as the first invaders appear in the garden and never giving them a chance to become established. Continue at intervals of 4 or 5 days until the enemy is mopped up.

Insecticides necessary for the job include cryolite and calcium arsenate to control flea beetles, cucumber beetles, cabbage worms and other insects which feed upon the fruit and foliage of the plants; nicotine sulfate or pyrethrin for plant lice, stink bugs, squash bugs and others which suck the juices from leaves and stems; and paris green to make baits for cutworms, sow bugs and mole crickets.

Generally, it is easier to control garden insects with a duster, but good results also can be obtained with a sprayer if done thoroughly. Information on constructing a simple home-made duster from a tin can, broomhandle and cheesecloth may be obtained from the county extension agents.

Plant lice are probably the most common and destructive vegetable pests. They attack almost all crops, especially turnips, radishes, mustard cabbage and other similar plants. They may be controlled by using a five per cent rotenone-sulphur mixture, or nicotine sulfate, as a spray or dust. Begin as soon as the pests appear and thoroughly cover the lower surface of the leaves. These insects are killed only when actually hit by the insecticide. In addition, destroy stalks as soon as the crop is harvested in order to eliminate breeding places for lice and bugs.

WORKING FOR VICTORY

Over 500 farm women and girls in Callahan County are demonstrating that our kind of victory which takes all of us is being worked out through their activities. These women and girls work out with their families ways of spending less, saving more, making things at home, wasting nothing and guarding their health and strength. They work with their communities producing food, stamping out hoarding, and sharing what they have.

They check themselves by the list below. Join with them, check yourself, and work to change every "no" to an honest and definite "yes".

1. Am I growing food for home use?
2. Am I taking the best care of my machinery, my clothes, my equipment, and other articles?
3. Am I buying less and buying wisely?
4. Am I buying my share of war bonds and stamps?
5. Am I doing other needed work in addition to my regular home work such as Red Cross or helping the farmer who finds that labor is scarce and hard to get?

6. Has my family been well during this war? Am I eating a balanced diet such as that set up in the Texas Food Standard?

7. Am I sharing with my neighbors food, work, play, courage?

8. Will my son, brother, husband, father, or sweetheart find a better home and community when he comes back from the war?

PRESSURE COOKER

Material for only 150,000 pressure cookers to be made in 1943 will be auctioned to three manufacturers through the efforts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because this supply will fall so short of meeting the demand, all pressure cookers produced in 1943 will be rationed. Under the rationing plan no manufacturer will fill orders from individual users. No other details of the rationing have been announced.

According to information received by the county home demonstration agent, Marjorie Brown, these war-time cookers will be made of steel rather than aluminum and will be equipped with a flat rack but no basket or pans. The cover will have a protective tin coating and the body will be enameled. These tin and enamel coatings will scratch more easily than aluminum, so they must be given special care. Scratches cause the steel base to rust and rust weakens the walls of the cooker. Capacity of the cookers will be 7 quarts.

Avoid sharp blows, over-heating, boiling dry, or cleaning the cooker with hard, abrasive powders. Heating grease or fat at high temperatures in a tin-plated cooker may cause the tin to melt, so the cooker should not be used for rendering lard or searing meat.

No shortage in glass jars or jars seals is foreseen unless the expanded food preservation program causes a "run" on canning supplies. There is no restriction on the number of tin cans that may be sold to home canners.

WOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers--you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street--she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War--They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps--Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't--Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.
