

Garzans Respond Generously To "Operations Santa Claus," Deadline Extended

Garza countians are guaranteeing a merry, merry Christmas for hospitalized Korean war veterans who are to be visited during this month by Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy on their "Operations Santa Claus" project.

Heartstrings of so many Garza county folks have been touched and gifts have poured into Post Dispatch's collecting center in such great numbers that it now looks as though this year's local participation will more than triple last year's endeavor. The tremendous response given the movement has caused those in charge of handling the project to contact Mr. Bergen's "Operations Santa Claus" headquarters in Hollywood and ask for an extension of time for gifts to be sent from here.

Mr. Bergen is most appreciative of Garza county friends, as everyone well knows. He was happy to learn that such an interest is being shown in this, his second year of "Operations Santa Claus", and expressed a desire that everyone in Post and Garza County be given an opportunity to "give a gift to a guy who gave."

DEADLINE FOR BRINGING GIFTS TO THE COLLECTING CENTER HAS BEEN EXTENDED THROUGH SATURDAY, DEC. 6.

To assist the Dispatch office staff in handling last minute gifts, donors are asked to please wrap all packages that will be brought in after noon Saturday. If you choose to buy some little gift, the store from which you make your purchase will be happy to gift wrap it for you. Just say "It's for a Korean hospital patient" and your package will be gift wrapped free and delivered to the receiving center.

The Dispatch force will be in a position to handle a minimum of gift wrapping up to late Saturday afternoon, but would like to confine this service to helping rural folk, many of whom will want to bring in packages of cookies, home-made candies and other items that may be prepared at home and are most appreciated by boys away from home.

A count made Wednesday of the number of individual packages already in the collecting center totaled 178. These gifts have come from almost as many donors. There has been a number of persons who have brought in several individual gifts and some of the business places have brought in large packages with a number of gifts from store employees. Among the larger packages are two big boxes from the nurses and employees of the Garza Memorial hospital. These gifts, in appreciation of Mr. Bergen's generosity in staging a benefit show here last year for the new hospital, will afford presents for 11 boys.

In addition to the individual gift packages, $138 in cash has been turned in to the Dispatch staff to purchase suitable gifts for the hospital patients. The money will provide at least 75 more packages. Items for these packages will be purchased Friday morning and the packages will be gift wrapped Friday afternoon at the Post High school band hall by members of the Antelope band, assisted by Dispatch staff members.

Last year there was a total of 144 gifts contributed to the program.

When all of Garza County's gifts are in late Saturday afternoon they will be taken to the Postex Mills where employees will crate them for shipment to Mr. Bergen. The transportation charges will be handled by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

While considerable amount of the money received came from the Double U Company, and Brown Bros. et al, many individuals have left cash and checks for purchase of their gifts. These contributions have been graciously accepted and donor's name and address will be put in each gift purchased for them. Others who will not find time to select gifts may be assured that appropriate gifts will be selected if they choose to give in this manner.

This year's participation has been most gratifying to those in charge of handling the project here. It has been wonderful to see the proud faces of mothers who have come in with their packages filled with cookies and home-made candies. A number of them said they had small fruit cakes in their boxes. They said they chose home-made editions because their boys appreciated them "so much" when they were in service.

Another popular item appearing in so many of this year's gift packages have been loafers. Many donors have said they selected this item for its usefulness as well as its attractiveness to sick and convalescing men. These gifts may be secured at most all the local dry goods stores, are inexpensive and make appropriate size gift packages.

The popular radio entertainer is doubling his effort in making this year's "Operations Santa Claus" a big success. He will spend many days of the holiday season flying to and from the 27 hospitals scattered over the nation bringing happiness to our boys. His time and the money he will spend means so little to him in comparison with the satisfaction he will enjoy in bringing happiness to so many boys. The hospitals are all crowded to capacity with Korean casualties. There are many, many more wounded today than there were a year ago. The demand for gifts is great.

Mr. Bergen will be happy to personally deliver a gift from you to someone who has done so much for you. Whatever your gift may be, whether large or small, please bring it to the Dispatch office at your earliest possible convenience and not later than Saturday afternoon.

Tragic Death Of Judge And Mrs. Snowden Saddens County's Populace

Program Announced By CofC Home Christmas Decoration

Rules and divisions have been announced for the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Christmas Home Lighting Contest for this year, Mrs. Mable Lawrence, secretary, said Wednesday.

As last year, the contest will be divided into two exhibits, the secretary pointed out. Exhibit A will consist of houses of five rooms or more and Exhibit B will be houses of four rooms or less.

One new rule has been added to the contest this year, however. To be eligible to win prizes houses must be officially entered. This can be accomplished by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, phone 551, before Dec. 20. Mrs. Lawrence is to be in the office throughout the time and will take your entry.

Each division will be judged in four classifications by out of town judges. Exhibit A and Exhibit B will both include these classifications: Most beautifully decorated exterior of home; most beautifully decorated window; most beautifully decorated doorway; and most beautifully decorated outdoor tree. Each classification will be divided into first, second and third place winners. "A house may be entered in one or all classifications, but no person can win more than one prize. Amounts of prizes have not been decided upon yet for each division, but will be announced soon," Mrs. Lawrence said.

Completion of the City and Chamber of Commerce part of the street lighting program this year was made Tuesday night when the lights were turned on, making Post one of the "best" decorated towns on the South Plains. Mrs. Lawrence said that many of the merchants are planning beautiful Christmas decorations which will tend to enhance the yuletide beauty of Post.

Junior Class Play Will Be Given Friday

Every year Post high school juniors and seniors present stage productions for entertainment of their parents, friends and neighbors and as a benefit to their class. Tomorrow night, the juniors will don wigs, make-up and costumes for their 1952 presentation.

"Everybody's Crazy" is the title of their play. Miss Margie Moore and John Christopher, directors, report that they could be considered slightly insane also, after five weeks of rehearsals, making props, finding costumes and general confusion.

The play is a comedy with moving action and humorous incidents to provide enjoyment for the audience. Christopher stated that the acting will be above average and casting is near perfect.

Don Moore, Charles Chandler, Bobby Covdrey, J. C. Shedd, Buddy Caylor, Danny Redman and Floyd Seaton are the male members of the cast. They are assisted by Gayle Askins, Jeanette Storie, Tommie Williams, Jackie Sue Dale, Martha Wyatt, Deanie Hill and Lorrye Lou Livingston. The directors are acting as stage managers and looking after the costumes and properties also.

General admission will be 50 cents for adults and 35 cents for school students. Reserve seats are on sale for 75 cents.

Proceeds of this play will go to the junior class and will be used in providing a banquet for the seniors next spring.

To Be Held Here Rites For Couple Friday 2:30 P.M.

Funeral services for Judge Harvey Monroe Snowden, 79, and his wife, Canna, 72, residents of Post for the past ten years, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the First Baptist church here. Burial will be in Terrace cemetery.

The beloved couple, he prominent in county administrative work, having served one full term as county judge and being re-elected to a second term without an opponent in the recent election; and she active in church and civic affairs, were instantly killed about 10:15 a. m. Wednesday when their car struck a culvert and overturned near Abilene.

The tragic accident, which has saddened the hearts of the County's populace, occurred when the Snowdens were enroute from here to San Antonio where he was to attend a county judges and commissioners convention. They left here about 7:15 a. m., traveling alone in their 1947 Plymouth sedan. The accident happened eight miles south of Abilene on U. S. Highway 83-84.

According to information given the Post Dispatch by an Abilene Reporter-News reporter within minutes after the accident, Judge Snowden apparently struggled for control of his car 144 yards after it dropped from the pavement to a low shoulder of the highway, as he approached the culvert. Highway Patrolmen investigating the accident were of the opinion that the car had veered right and left along the pavement from where it went off of it, at a point where construction work was being done. The car struck a wing of the culvert-bridge on the left side. The Snowdens were traveling south of Abilene toward Coleman.

Bodies of Judge and Mrs. Snowden were taken to Elliott Funeral home in Abilene and Wednesday night were transferred here by Mason Funeral home.

A native of Mississippi, Judge Snowden was a pioneer resident of the South Plains and moved here from Tahoka in 1942. For awhile he was employed as a salesman at Herring's dry goods store. He retired as an employee some time before making the race for judge.

Mrs. Snowden was a native Texan and was reared near San Marcos. She was an active member of the Eastern Star and both were active members of the First Baptist church.

The services tomorrow afternoon will be conducted by the Rev. George A. Dale and the Rev. Bell Ray, both of Lubbock.

Survivors include a son, Benjamin Harold Snowden, 34, of 2811 1st Pl., Lubbock. Two other sons surviving are in service—Capt. Hiram Snowden, stationed in England with the Air Force; and Sgt. Rudolph Snowden, stationed with the Air Force in Anchorage, Alaska. A daughter, Mrs. C. L. Howard of Hamlin, also survives.

Ten grandchildren are survivors. Three of these are children of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harold Snowden of Lubbock.

Mason Funeral Home will direct burial.

Post Six-Year-Old Is First To Write To Santa Claus

Donnie Joe McKinnon, a six-year old little Post man, was the first to have his letter to Santa Claus reach the Post Dispatch's special Santa letter box early Friday, after last Thursday's newspaper carried a story inviting all little boys and girls of the County to correspond with Old St. Nick through its columns.

His letter follows:

"Dear Santa:

"I'm six years old and I've been a pretty good boy. I've been punished a few times this year but I know I could be a lot nicer if you would bring me two guns and a scabbard and a tractor and please remember all the little boys and girls this Christmas.

See you Xmas Eve.

Love you lots,

Donnie Joe McKinnon."

Donnie, for a boy of six, has unusually legible handwriting, with a slight bit of feminine accent. When he grows up he should qualify to become Mr. Eisenhower's secretary.

His letter, like the many others appearing in this issue and more which will be published from week to week until Christmas, is interesting and will appeal to Santa.

All letters from the children will be printed in the Post Dispatch between now and Santa's departure from the North Pole. The letters will also be forwarded to him immediately after their arrival here.

So get busy little folk, get your letters in early!

Christmas Foods For Needy Families To Be Show Ticket

A call is being made to all movie loving Post residents to attend a free picture at the Tower theatre on the morning of Tuesday, December 23.

Free that is except for some kind of food for the movie is being sponsored by the John Miller VFW Post No. 6797 to raise Christmas food for needy families in Post.

All who attend—and children as well as adults are urged to attend—will be admitted to the morning matinee by presenting one or more items of food. It would be advisable not to carry perishable goods.

Groceries from the show will be distributed among needy families in Post so that their Christmas might be more cheerful.

The VFW is happy to be able to sponsor this show," Commander Wagoner Johnson said, "and we urge everyone to attend the picture or drop by with a food donation."

Manager John Hopkins has announced the full length picture will be "Come Out Fighting." This will be in addition to a good cartoon. Only one showing will be made, Hopkins said, and the picture will not show in Post again for some time at least.

The theatre is scheduled to open at 9 a. m. and the feature is to begin at 10 a. m.

Remember the movie on Dec. 23 and help make some family's Christmas a happier and more appropriate event. Attend and bring some food.

J. J. Richardson, Jr., legion commander, has announced that the Garza USO drive is lagging way short of its goal of $534.

Richardson reminds Garzans that there are 103 county men and women in the service and that this county should at least reach its goal.

So far only $125 has been turned to Richardson he said.

A Tribute To Shivers . . .

Purely speculative so far are the reports that Governor Shivers might be offered the ambassadorship to Mexico. It is presumed that if it is offered he will accept. To be pointed out for the job is certainly a tribute for Governor Shivers since it has been his work that has created better relationship between Texas and Mexico.

A Shivers selection by President-elect Eisenhower would send the first Texan in history to Mexico. His acceptance by President-elect Cortines would mean the passing of Mexico's long reluctance to receive an envoy identified with the Lone Star State. It is 116 years since the battle of San Jacinto and surely that is long enough for the old bitterness and resentment between the two countries to die a decent death.

Such an appointment would loom big as Governor Shivers was undoubtedly one of the key figures to bring about the election of Eisenhower. The new president would also be giving signal recognition to the importance of the Latin America in our foreign affairs by naming so trusted a man.

Mexico is by all odds the leading Latin American nation. It may well be our No. 1 post in the diplomatic field in spite of the emphasis the White House is putting on certain other countries at this time.

We heartily indorse the ambassadorship for Shivers.

Why Wait, Do It Now . . .

Why wait, do it now—your Christmas shopping, that is!

Merchants have stocked many unusual gifts for this very good season of "joy to the world" and they have made provisions for additional help, have installed gift wrapping services and other features to make your shopping hours convenient and comfortable.

We all know that Christmas is too commercialized but there are a lot of love and thoughtfulness going into the selection of gifts for loved ones and friends. Since most of us are going to purchase gifts anyway, why not do it now. And why not at home. A nicer Christmas gift could not be given to any clerk than your getting in "under the line."

Are you one of those shoppers who drives miles and miles to buy your gifts just in order to say it came from the city? Who is going to know where your gift came from unless you violate the essentials of good taste and tell them. What reason then have you for buying out of town? Is it the time-worn excuse that you can't find what you want in your town? Have you looked? There are many lovely gifts in Post stores and all are most acceptable for even the most discriminating person. Make it a rule today to get rid of your quirk of vanity and be loyal to your home town merchants by buying at home. . . but do it now.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

Not having anything better to do as this Thanksgiving Day draws to an end, with all the football scores in, and my second round of Alka-Seltzers doing about as well as might be expected in keeping my first round of turkey down, I may as well turn to the task of hammering out something to fill this column.

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Thanksgiving is the day when someone besides the taxpayer gets it in the neck.

I believe I'll vote the turkey to be a pretty stupid bird. They frequently have been known to fly up in trees from some imaginary fright and stay until they starved to death. Turkeys will run themselves to death from something that scares them. And they let themselves be the guest of honor at Thanksgiving dinner.

It wouldn't surprise me to find them publishing newspapers in the not too distant future.

And speaking of the dumb turkey, I'm reminded of the clever little cuss I've encountered since Navy publicity men started baiting young men with "Join the Navy and See the World." The Little Woman has discovered a mouse at our house. The mouse each night nibbles on bread, cookies and other foods that are kept in our "mouse-proof metal kitchen cabinet drawer. The other night we put the food in a metal bread box and put the box in the cabinet drawer. Next morning we discovered that the little devil has started eating a six dollar cookbook.

Some day the small, furry folk will dominate the world. Not like men, they spend all their thought on how to stay alive, while a man does only part of his thinking on staying alive and the remainder on how to kill off the guys that are different from him.

THE WOMEN. God Love 'Em—One stenographer to another: "They not only give you a pension in this office, but you age here more quickly."

And now with Thanksgiving two days past and feeling so badly that I can't even eat the things my doctor told me not to, comes Simon David's list of "Food Holiday Specials."

I've noticed from time to time this brightly colored circular, folded and stapled at the top so the contents could not be read, appearing on my desk. But since it is addressed to the Little Woman I had not unfolded the Dallas "Food Stylers" chit-chat until today when I mistook it for a circular on used printing equipment.

From David's offering I have selected a dinner menu which I believe I could enjoy, once I have regained my health.

I would like for an appetizer Turkish vine leaves, pickled and stuffed with rice, onions and spices, 14 ounce tin, 99c.

The soup which appeals most to me is genuine clear green turtle soup with imported sherry wine and pieces of turtle meat; it congeals when chilled and can be served hot or cold. I'd prefer it cold to make sure the turtle was dead and I'd like a full quart which I can buy for $1.14. I would choose my croissants garlic flavored and I find I can get a jar for the tidy sum of 49c.

I didn't find any of David's fish appealing to me, so for my fish course I would go down to Piggly Wiggly's and buy a couple of boneless perch for which I'd expect to pay Paul Jones about 49c.

The piece de resistance would be pan-fried Poussinettes accompanied by wild rice from Minnesota's new crop, and button mushrooms, salt free. The circular did not give the price of poussinettes, but I figure I could buy a couple for about $4.50. Four ounces of mushrooms would cost me 65c and I can get the rice for 35c.

For the entree I have selected Pate de Fole Gras with Perigord Truffles. Four ounces $4.95.

Mr. David highly recommends his Spring Garden Salad and it sounds good to me. It is prepared with cucumber, onion, carrot and pepper combination and he claims it to be a sure hit on the salad plate. Full pint jar 49c.

I'd like Charlotte Charles plum pudding with a flaming sherry sauce for my dessert. It is claimed to be made exactly as enjoyed by royalty for centuries and can be purchased in a 2-pound pottery bowl for $3.95. Enough sherry to hold a flame until it reached the table wouldn't cost me over two bits per serving.

Cheese, crackers and coffee would come next on my menu. I'd like Baby Gouda cheese. . . Holland's finest, 15% ounces 65c. I'd spread it over tissue thin "Wafers" . . . 100% whole wheat and low-calored, 4 ozs. 35c. Any brand of coffee will suffice as I can't tell one from the other and it all costs close to a buck a pound.

On the nut plate would be pine nuts (Pignolia) roasted and seasoned with Neocuratal. (No salt,

THE AMERICAN WAY

Pilgrims' Thanksgiving

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Cultivate Driving Manners

In making football games in Fort Worth and Waco, we have noticed a change in the attitude of drivers. Many present day motorists have developed the quite unique and refreshing habit of courtesy and good manners in their driving. Still many drivers, who would not think of crowding in front of you at the post office or in an elevator have no compunction in dashing in front of you with an automobile. Maybe it is changing. We hope so. You can ride with an automobile as easily as in a public private place. We have a few rude, reckless, and discourteous drivers in Andrews. We hope they cultivate a few good manners before neighbors are putting them in the face with a few shovels-full of cemetery dirt.

Good For Harry

Now that the acrimony has died down, and the whistle-stop train has been returned to the roundhouse, Harry the hardheaded has settled down to being just a plain little man again, instead of a fancy little man. When Harry put his best foot forward, meeting like more than halfway last week at the White House, he showed the first sign of being a big man. Truman's efforts to make Ike's transition into the White House as painless as possible deserves the commendation of every one of us, regardless of how we feel about him as an individual. He made a move that will live much longer than any of the billingsgate he spouted during the course of his presidency or the late unlamented campaign. Truman unfortunately has never had the mark of the great upon him, but he has done much to eliminate the bad taste from the years he was president by what he has done in the past two weeks. Let's give the man all the credit due him, and admit that he may have not been much in office, but he is going out with a gesture that we can all be proud of. Good for you, Harry!

Little Known Fact

It's a little-known fact, but the boss voted for Eisenhower. It's an even lesser-known fact that he did so partly on the grounds that he admires Ike because he (Ike) once had his appendix removed even though it was not bothering him and never bothered him, but figured it probably would someday and figured further he might as well get the best of it before it had a chance to get the best of him. Stevenson at no point in his cross-country campaign was able to advance a piece of strategy equally impressive to the redoubtable author of "Just Talk."

We All Make 'Em

Even big fine papers come up with some puzzlers sometimes. A Sunday paper from the city had a big headline. "Unwed Mothers to Receive More Assistance". Under that head was a financial story of the current times. "Business men are already beginning to feel encouraged over increased production," it be-doctor's order.) Pignolias will cost me $1.99 a pound. To conclude my sumptuous repast I would select a bright red apple from the fruit bowl in the center of the table . . . for it is said that "an apple a day will keep the doctor away." And God knows, I will need one!

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Post-election headaches, even if minor, are beginning to beset some members of the Texas congressional delegation as the time for the new session nears.

One problem is the demand for seats at the inauguration of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower as the 33rd president on Jan. 20.

The inaugural "stadium" being constructed on the Capitol plaza has a limited seating capacity. Members of the House and Senate will each receive only a limited number of tickets. In 1948, for example, representatives were allowed seven each, senators two. Obviously, this number could barely take care of their immediate families or closest personal friends.

The Republican and Democratic national committees will be allocated a certain bloc of tickets, and some of the top faithful of each organization will manage to get tickets through that source. Four years ago the national committees were allocated about 1,000 tickets each.

Sections will be set aside for the government officials and departments, the State Department, for instance must have a bloc of seats for diplomats of foreign nations.

After the inauguration a parade will go from the Capitol down Constitution and Pennsylvania avenues. Although there will be free standing room for many blocks along the way, there also will be 39 separate stands erected along the parade route. The Citizens Inauguration Committee already is taking reservations for these seats, which range from $3 to $12.

Another headache for the lawmakers is the matter of patronage. The problem is pretty simple for the Texans this time, however. They just won't have any. The unhappy aspect, from their point of view, is that they will have to see some of the job holders they have sponsored go off the payroll.

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week . . .

Effects of Present Drought Hindering Many Businesses, Fishermen As Well As Farmers

Babson Park, Mass.—During my recent trip through the Central West I heard much complaint due to the drought. Some sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have not had a drop of beneficial rain for six months.

Effects Of Drought

Good pasture and good crops need sunshine and rain, as well as good soil and cultivation. Especially, without sufficient rain, the crops fail. This, in turn, means less feed for the cattle, hogs and other livestock, forcing them to market at lower prices. Furthermore, the longer a drought lasts, the more serious are the results.

Hence, everyone is asking: "How long will the drought last?" Statistics indicate that no one can answer with certainty. Some droughts last only six months; others have lasted three years. Due to the many recent fat years which the Central West has enjoyed, it is logical that a drought is now due and that it may last longer than we all hope. Certainly, our new President cannot make clouds; even scientists cannot make rain when there are no clouds.

Changing Climate And Temperature

Businessmen are not only watching the rainfall (or lack of it), but also the temperature. Whether traveling in the United States or Canada, people tell me that both the winters and summers are getting warmer. This is true with the exception of Florida, which is having cooler winters and more rain. Believing the above is a permanent change, some investment counselors are advising their clients to sell out their fuel oil businesses, woolen factories and even certain stores—but to re-invest in air conditioning, synthetic fibres and soft drink stocks!

While in Gloucester, Mass., last summer, I found the fishermen much disturbed because the fish had gone farther north and forced the vessels to go much farther to fish. This, they claim, is one reason for the higher price of fish. In some places—off the coast of California—the fish have left altogether and scores of great canning plants are idle. Also, fish which heretofore were found only in southern waters are now being caught off New England.

What Are The Facts?

Without doubt the temperature of certain portions of the ocean has increased. This, however, does not justify the common belief that this change to warmer weather will be permanent. It is true that the mean temperature of the United States and Canada and adjoining waters has increased 30 degrees during the past 100 years. But this nothing for us now to get excited about. This 30 degrees is not the cause of fish going north, nor a cause for you to change your business.

The changes in temperature from year to year which you, the cattle and the fish recognize are due to the changing winds. What causes these changes in the direction of prevailing winds is debatable. It may be sunspots, but I believe Gravity is the basic cause of the warm winds blowing over the Northern Hemisphere. The fact that more cold winds are, at the same time, the blowing over the Southern Hemisphere should interest every farmer in the study of Gravity. In the meantime, don't believe that we will not have more early frosts.

Jesus As A Weather Prophet

When discussing the winds with a famous weather expert, he referred me to Jesus' comments on the winds of 2000 years ago. In the Eighth Verse of the Third Chapter of St. John we find Jesus saying: "The wind bloweth where it will and thou hearest its sound, but dost not know from where it comes"—or a better translation is "why it comes."

Jesus discouraged his followers from depending upon the weather or other material things, urging them to "be born again"—this time to be born "of the Spirit." This surely is the advice America needs today. Only by a spiritual rebirth can we forge ahead—as did the founders of our nation—irrespective of weather, stock markets, businesses or even foreign nations.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
21 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

IN NATIONWIDE—Dealer showings, Pontiac Division of General Motors Saturday will introduce its new line of Dual-Streak Chieftain models, featuring longer wheelbase, increased vision and new curve-control front suspension. Advanced styling is marked by smooth contours, rear fender fin and high decklid, one-piece curved windshield, wrap-around one-piece rear windows, roomier interiors and entirely new radiator grille and chrome treatment. Above is the new Custom Catalina, one of 11 body styles in three Chieftain series. Dowe H. Mayfield Co., Inc., Saturday will show a Linden green Chieftain.

Dowe H. Mayfield Will Show 1953 Pontiac Here Saturday

First of the General Motors units to announce new models, the Pontiac Motor Division through their local dealership, Dowe H. Mayfield Co., Inc., Saturday will unveil a 1953 Linden green 4-door Chieftain de luxe Pontiac, along with a nationwide program of simultaneous dealers showings.

For 1953 Pontiac introduces a completely new line of automobiles with new roomier bodies, mounted on longer wheelbase chassis, with important improvements incorporated in styling, riding qualities, ease of steering, and equipment; and, in the case of the six cylinder model, substantially increased power, Mr. Mayfield says.

Eleven body styles are incorporated in the new line in three series, the Special, Deluxe and Custom. They include two and four door sedans, three station wagons, a convertible coupe and two new Catalinas. An addition to the line is the two seat station wagon with folding rear seat arrangement. Each series is introduced with either eight or six cylinder engines.

Featuring the new bodies, which are immediately distinguishable from previous models by their large one piece wrap-around rear windows, one-piece curved windshields, high deck contour, modern rear-fin fender design and completely revised styling of sheet metal and trim, are new luxurious and highly practical interiors.

In addition, such engineering advances as power steering, as optional equipment, modified Curve Control front suspension, ignition key starting, electronic headlight dimmers, improved Dual-Range Hydramatic transmissions, and other technical development characterize the new cars.

While roomier, the new Pontiacs are more streamlined than heretofore and are characterized by a marked increase in driver and passenger vision. Elimination of the dividing strip on the windshield and adoption of one piece wrap around type rear windows has increased both forward and rearward vision by as much as 39 percent, eliminating blind spots and contributing substantially to the sense of safety and security of passengers and operator. The useful glass area is 254 square inches more than in previous models with the new curved glass in windshield and rear windows of the safety type as before.

One of the distinguishing features of the new models as compared with previous designs is the well known "silver streak" which has now been redesigned to have six chrome strips, separated into two groups of three.

Between these is a three inch wide center strip in body color giving an entirely new treatment to Pontiac's distinguishing Hallmark. These and a wealth of details provide marked changes from an appearance standpoint in the new models.

The longer wheelbase chassis—122 inches as compared with 120 last year—is mounted on a sturdy frame redesigned to accommodate the larger bodies, the new Curve Control front suspension and other changes made to enhance riding qualities, steering ease and roadability of the new cars.

Outstanding technical development in the 1953 Pontiacs, according to the engineers, is the introduction of Curve Control suspension by which greatly improved steering and handling of the car over rough roads and curves is achieved.

LEVI'S RANCH CAFE

"Where Good Food Is Never Accidental"

Movies Of The Week

Garza County movie fans will be privileged to see one of the latest and best movies to come from Hollywood, Sunday and Monday at Tower Theatre. This movie is "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA" and is a reproduction of a silent film made in 1922. A host of the world's finest actors and actresses have been assembled together for this movie. Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr and James Mason head the list of stars and are ably assisted by Louis Calheri, Jane Greer, Lewis Stone, and Robert Douglas.

Granger has double roles as King of Britania and an Englishman. Miss Kerr enacts the role of princess and Mason is the unscrupulous bandit, who attempts to kill the king. Lewis Stone has the unique opportunity of having been in both film versions of Anthony Hope's famous adventure story. Stone is cast as a cardinal in the 1952 version and he portrayed the starring role in 1922. Two others Hollywood celebrities are in the latest movie and were in the first one also. They are Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry. Miss Terry was the feminine star in 1922.

For an interesting historical and adventure tale, be sure to see "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA", Sunday and Monday at the Tower.

Friday and Saturday, an action packed film starring two of Hollywood's favorite stars will be at the Tower for your entertainment. These actors are Cesar Romero and Rod Cameron. Movie for that date is "THE JUNGLE" and promises to be an enjoyable feature for all ages.

William Holden and Alexis Smith will appearing at the Tower Tuesday. "THE TURNING POINT" is the movie scheduled for the date. Holden and Miss Smith are rated as tops in box-office ballots and will be turning out outstanding acting jobs in "THE TURNING POINT". Be sure to see it Tuesday.

"THE ROSE BOWL STORY", showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Tower is the movie of the week. This exciting football story stars Marshall Thompson, Vera Miles, Richard Rober and Natalie Wood.

The complete Tournament of Roses, the Queen and her escort of Princesses are filmed into this Technicolor movie and add to its beauty and splendor. Played against the thrilling pageant of intersectional football games, the Rose Parade, and all attendant festivities, this movie gives fans the inside "dope" on all pre-game happenings of New Year's most exciting football battle.

Featured in the cast are Nancy Thorne, 1952 Rose Queen; Don Klosterman, gridiron favorite; and the entire 1952 court of Miss Thorne's.

If you like football you'll enjoy this movie! If you don't like football you'll still enjoy the color and splendor of "THE ROSE BOWL STORY". Plan now to see this excellent movie, Wednesday and Thursday.

As a courtesy of the management, two free tickets are waiting at the boxoffice for Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stone. These tickets are good for any performance of "THE ROSE BOWL STORY."

Victims Of Auto Accident Escape Injury Tuesday

Although considerable damage was done to a '50 Ford and '50 Buick, neither Charlie Everett nor Leonard or Jimmy Short were injured when their automobiles were involved in an accident at the intersection of Eighth and North Jefferson streets.
 Everett was the only passenger of the Ford and was traveling north on North Jefferson. Leonard was the driver of the Buick which was traveling east on Eighth street and Jimmy, his brother was the other occupant of this automobile. They are sons of Mr and Mrs. Lowell Short. The cars collided as Everett was crossing Eighth street. Short's vehicle struck the Ford in the left side. The Buick was thrown completely around and came to a stop in Dale Stone's on the north side of the street. Everett's automobile overturned.
 All three occupants of the two cars escaped any form of injury.

18 Planning Days Till X-Mas

By Jessie Pearce

How many times have you been reminded lately of the number of shopping days left until Christmas? I want to remind you of the number of planning days left until Christmas. There are only 18 of them. This means that in this short time you have to crowd in all of the parties, shopping, house cleaning and holiday cooking along with all of the everyday work that has to be done and not be dead tired yourself.

I suggest that you take time right now to list all of the extras. After you have written down, figure out which of these chores you have to do and which can be allotted to other members of the family. Be sure to not forget those other members of the family. After all, Christmas is a family affair and so every member should share the responsibility as well as the fun.

After you have decided what has to be done and who is to do it, plan when it is to be done. Plan to do as much of your work ahead of time as possible so the holidays will be free to be enjoyed.

This may sound like a lot of nonsense, but it works. Make out your list, hang it in a conspicuous place so you and all members of the family can check off completed jobs, and the household won't be in a turmoil of last minute work. Susie's dress will be ready for that party; the Santa Claus suit will be out of moth balls and mended; decorations sorted out and ready to place on the tree; the tree bought (or cut); the pies and cakes baked and in the freezer, along with the turkey, all ready to be popped in the oven Christmas morning; and mom, all relaxed and pretty and ready to lean back and enjoy the holidays with the rest of the family and all the friends.

Girl Enrolls in College Attended By Four Generations Of Ancestors

Belton, Tex. (AP)—Miss Gwynne Bunch of Lockhart has enrolled as a freshman this fall in the same college in which her great-grandmother, grandmother, and mother studied.

Miss Bunch is the second fourth-generation student to enroll at 107-year-old Mary Hardin-Baylor College here. The first was her sister, now Mrs. J. R. Means of Brenham.

The sisters' great-grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Eddins, attended the college from 1855 to 1858, when it was located at Independence and was known as the Female Department of Baylor University. The grandmother, Mrs. Emma Eddins New, entered Baylor Female College (The name had been changed) when it was moved from Independence to Belton in 1886. And their mother, Mrs. H. L. Bunch of Lockhart, enrolled in 1916.

Bad Weather Halts Scout Round-Up

The Round-Up for Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of the South Plains Council, which was expected to attract close to 1,000 Boy Scouts and leaders to Camp Post last weekend, was called off Friday morning because of inclement weather which would have pulled down attendance.

Camp Ranger Frank (Chief) Runkles said the postponement was announced over Lubbock radio station Friday morning after heavy snow blanketed a wide section of the Council area.

Ceremonies were to be held around a big camp fire and the one Round-Up was to be scheduled in place of two originally planned by the Council. The Round-Up at Camp Haynes near Silverton had earlier in the week been postponed and was to be held here.

Some of the troops had planned camp for both Friday and Saturday nights and others were to have attended only the ceremony Friday night.

Man Plays Possum To Outwit Bear

MISSOULA, MONT. (AP)—Max E. Harris played possum and escaped death in the powerful paws of a grizzly bear with a head "as big as a washtub."

Harris was attacked while hunting on a wilderness trail. The huge grizzly, often considered the most ferocious of bears, lunged at Harris before he could shoot. The bear clawed Harris' scalp and right hand, and chewed his shoulders. Harris went limp. The bear dropped him and ambled away.

The wounded man managed to fire his rifle and attract companions. A helicopter later plucked Harris from the woods and flew him to a local hospital where he is on the mend.

Soil Conservation Work In Garza County Exceeds Hopes Of Founders

Soil Conservation practices in Garza county have exceeded even the wildest hopes of the pioneers whose active work here eleven years ago brought this phase of modern farming to the foreground, Jesse Ward, Post Work Unit Conservationist, said in a progress report this week.

In 1942, only a negligible number of farmers recognized these valuable farm saving methods, the report showed. Yet in the eleven year interim soil conservation agreements have increased to cover a sprawling 423,234 acres.

Actually Garza county was annexed to the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district in 1940, but the work unit was not established in 1941 until August, 1941. Without the zealous work of such men as the late Ed Gossett, Sr., Homer Thompson, county agent at that time, George "Scotty" Somson, pioneer Garzan, and Z. D. Kemp it is probable the annexation would have occurred years later.

However, once the work unit was established, conservation practices were begun in earnest by Garza and area farmers. The Post area covers more than Garza county although its acres comprise a majority of the total acreage. Remainder of the acre is located in west Kent county, Ward said.

Carl F. Eminger assumed the first Work Unit conservationist duties in Post after the annexation and immediately he set to work to main objections of the Agriculture Department's SCS section. On Sept. 15 of 1941, the first cooperators signed an agreement with the SCS. He was John Davis of Polaris. Davis is still an active cooperators after ten years, Ward said in his report.

In his first progress report in June, 1943, Eminger showed that 125 agreements had been signed with farmers in the area totaling 51,379 acres. He also reported that he had 21 active applications totaling 3,020 acres of farmland and five ranch agreements totaling 28,480.

Ward's 1952 report shows that 423 farmers and ranchers are now cooperating with the district to total the sprawling 423,234 acres. He also revealed that there are only about 180 farm units in that area that are not under SCS agreements at this time.

Following his initial survey in 1942 the Work Unit Conservationist stated the major problem was control of run off water and prevention of evaporation. He stated that in the northeast part of the county wind erosion posed the major problem in the sandy lands and shinary sands. Ward showed that this problem has been solved in part in that farmers are putting some land in cover crops—vetch and rye—or have left feed stubble on it. "Some have deep plowed and turned up clod forming subsoils," he said.

The rolling lands of the county have improved their problems over the past ten years by increasing cover crops in small grain, the 1952 report showed.

In 1942 county ranch lands were plagued with the distribution of livestock—some areas being over-utilized while some ranches were utilizing other areas. "This has been improved in several ways," Ward's report states. "Most ranchers have rotated grazing so as to let overgrazed pastures rest and at the same time reduced stocking rate to prevent overgrazing. Our mesquite control program—which has cleared approximately 20,000 acres of land—coupled with the preferred grazing have improved range lands. Why, in some instances, ranges that haven't had grasses on them in fifteen years are now producing grass."

During the first three months of 1943 the Post Work Unit established these practices: 3,278 acres of contour farming; 5,133 acres of range improvement; 192 rods of diversions; 110 rods of channels; 560 rods of fence removed; 10 rods of irrigation system treatment; 256 rods of leveling terraces; 10 acres planting new permanent pasture, 12,952 acres of crop residue management; and 2,400 acres of completed terraces.

At the same time the unit had run 102.6 miles of terrace lines; had built 55.4 miles of terraces to specifications; partially built 25 miles of terraces and had properly maintained 90 miles of terracing.

By 1952 figures on these respective practices had increased to extremely high acreage. Ward's report shows. They read: 65,925 acres of contour farming; 3,369 acres of cover crops (dry weather); 56,146 acres of crop residue management; 111,020 acres of range improvement; 297 acres of seeding of range reported (Ward said that 500 more acres have been planted but have not reached a stand yet); 39 ranch ponds (other agencies have accounted for approximately 200 more); 1,243 miles of terracing; 23 miles of field diversions; 32 acres have been prepared for irrigation in the level border irrigation system; and 14 troughs for windmills have been constructed.

At this time only two men are operating the Post Work Unit. Ward, who came to Post in 1950 and was appointed Work Unit Conservationist in 1951, is assisted by Wes Fuchs, soil scientist. "We could use two more men," Ward said, "but with drought conditions as they are the workload is not heavy enough to bring them in."

Ward and Fuchs are ably assisted in a supervisory capacity by Giles McCrary, one of the district supervisors who guide the activities of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District which covers 1,618,900 acres of land in Garza, Kent, and Dickens, except that land which drains into the South Fork of the Wichita River, and part of Stonewall county.

"One of the growing needs in the county and are due to increased irrigation is more soil improving crops included in crop rotation," Ward pointed out.

He explained that approximately 7,500 acres of Garza county land are under irrigation. Last year county farmers had about 50 irrigation wells, but as of June, 1952 Ward estimated the county boast 150 wells.

Success of the SCS program in the past eleven years has been great, the area workers believe. The unit has definitely carried out its objective of assisting farmers and ranchers in executions of farmer-district cooperative agreements and in making needed adjustments. Too, it has assisted the Extension Service and vocational agricultural teachers with group method demonstration program on farms and ranches whose owners are cooperating with the district.

"A comparison of the number of acres under agreements now and in 1943 will definitely prove that Garza county farmers believe in soil conservation," Ward concluded. "And we hope to make as much improvement in acreage and methods in the next few years as has been made since the county joined the district."

Final Estimate On 20-County Area Reports Low Production

Twenty South Plains counties will produce a total of 1,315,000 bales of cotton from the 1952-'53 season if figures released Sunday by K. N. Clapp, veteran Lubbock cotton man, prove correct.

The production figure was 700,000 bales below the Aug. 1 estimate by Clapp. His Sept. 1 forecast was 1,690,000 bales, the Oct. 1 figure 1,460,000 bales and last month he reduced the figure to 1,355,000 bales.

The government cotton classing office at Lubbock Saturday has classed 1,094,384 bales, with 100,061 coming in last week.

Clapp's crop record, which he sends monthly to his company, Anderson, Clayton & Co., at Houston, estimated 916,000 bales would be produced from irrigated land and 354,000 bales from dry-land acreage. Irrigated acreage is only 39 percent of total acreage in cotton in the 20-county area, but his report shows it will produce 73 per cent of the crop.

Marketing of the crop has been featured by a sharp increase in the loan movement the past week. Up until last week only 8,000 bales had been placed in the loan, but the cottonman predicted as many additional bales were likely to have gone into the loan this past week.

The forecast showed that Lubbock county was leading area ginnings with 180,000 bales and Hale County a close second with 170,000 bales.

In his Nov. 1 forecast Clapp predicted that Garza County would harvest 17,000 bales, which was the exact figure set by County Agent Lewis Herzon early in October. Mr. Clapp's latest release gives this County 15,000

Television treat — the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR — every fourth Tuesday

How would you like the fun of Christmastime to last all the year through? That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own — what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort — plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head — and also high-compression.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady — with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy — with Dynaflo Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness — with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here — low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

1953 Football Schedule For Antelopes Released

Football season has just recently been closed for 1952, but plans, work and preparation for the 1953 season are underway. Coach Bing Bingham reported that a schedule for next year has been completed and a few changes were made in the one previously given in the Dispatch. Addition of Floydada and Abernathy to District 6-AA will make fiercer competition and add interest to winning the title. Abernathy won District 3-A this year by being undefeated in conference play, but they lost out on the Bi-District game. An increase in enrollment was reason for Abernathy being moved. Floydada is winner of District 2-AA and also defeated Phillips for Bi-District. A redistricting process made by Inter-Scholastic League placed Floydada in District 6-AA. Bingham stated that the 10 game schedule for Post Antelopes in 1953 will be as follows:

Sept. 11	Ralls	There
Sept. 18	O'Donnell	Here
Sept. 25	Sundown	There
Oct. 3	Crosbyton	Here
Oct. 9	Rotan	Here
Oct. 16	*Abernathy	Here
Oct. 23	*Tahoka	Here
Oct. 30	*Slaton	Here
Nov. 6	*Floydada	There
Nov. 13	*Spur	Here

* Conference games

Besides working on the schedule Bingham and his staff have been observing and planning work with boys on certain positions for the next season. Next year's team will have more experience than the '52 Antelopes, but will be hindered by the loss of seven "A" team players.

Post Basketball Teams Lose Season Opener Games To Ralls Jackrabbits

Basketball season became official in Post Tuesday night, when four of Post's teams met the Ralls Jackrabbits in non-conference games. All of Tuesday's games were tip and tuck battles with both teams employing every means of cage skill to win. First game was between eighth graders from both schools. Post lost by only two points, final score was 10-8. Post freshmen lost to the Rabbits by a two point margin also. Ralls won by a score of 14 to 12. Two points in Ralls favor gave them the B game also. When the final whistle was blown, Ralls stood out in front of Post 20-18.

Eighty Post Business Firms Are Participating In Christmas Plan

The Big Post Christmas Program is underway. Approximately 80 business places in Post now have tickets which customers may pick up between now and December 24. During that time two big drawings will be held with an enormous total of cash and merchandise certificates being given away.

Starting things off with a bang will be the Dec. 13 drawing. Scheduled for 4 p. m.—somewhere along Main street—this drawing will give away a total of $300. First prize will be $100 in cash; second prizes will be two $50 certificates; and third prizes will be four $25 certificates. These certificates—which will be broken down into smaller denominations—can be used to purchase anything at any of the Post stores which participated in the Xmas project. These merchants will in turn receive their money from the special Xmas fund raised by the Post Chamber of Commerce to finance this gigantic program.

The second drawing has been slated for 4 p. m. Dec. 24, with prizes expected to run much higher than the ones on Dec. 13. Any area resident who makes purchases in Post between now and Dec. 24 is eligible to participate in the program.

This big program is an added attraction sponsored by the business places of Post and the Chamber of Commerce for the Xmas of the people of this area. It is designed to give the people the best buy in the area for their Christmas shopping. Combined with the many values received in Post business places, this program is intended to prove to area people that buying at home pays.

High School Football Enters Race For State Championships

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

There's nothing else in the world like the Texas high school football race. In the first place it's the biggest. In the second place it is a most complicated affair.

We have been reporting Texas high school football for 30 years but it was child's play until it became a four-way proposition. That started last year when the little schools were thrown into State championship races. There are four State titles.

Getting the bare scores of the games played by the 460-odd teams each week is a monumental project. There are places, Darrell Stone, L. W. Evans and Charles Chandler, Evans and Stone racked up 16 points each to give them high point honors for Post.

Coach Vernon Ray reported that the Antelopes plan to journey to Ralls tonight for return games with the Jackrabbits.

The next home game will be played Friday, December 12. This will be a return game with Snyder's B team. The first game will start at 6:30.

And it's surprising how many wives of coaches don't know who's playing and if they do don't remember the score.

I tried to get the score of a football game at one little town. The coach and the superintendent of schools didn't have telephones and the telephone operator was new there so she could not recommend anybody who might know the score. We called the other town—the visiting team—and got the coach of that team. He reluctantly gave the score since his team had been defeated.

And keeping up with the schedules! You get them from the coach at the Texas coaching school. Some of them don't give you the right day of the week or give you the schedule from memory and don't list the teams in order of appearance. Then, after you have the schedule you don't know it but the week of a game the schools are likely to change the day, like playing Thursday instead of Friday. Of course, you're not informed of that and you go on looking for the score Friday and when it doesn't come in telephone and find it was played the night before.

Yes sir, there's nothing like Texas high school football. The trouble is that you can't chuck it and let the scores go, and give up when you've made five telephone calls and can't find anybody who knows who won. You have to keep plugging. Because the public is vitally interested in it and it's the biggest news of the fall.

Getting these school people to conduct it in a systematic way, however, is too big a project to hope to attain.

Speaking of Texas high school football, we note that Puff Powell of the Amarillo Globe-News says Blair Cherry compiled a coaching record in Texas high schools that has never been surpassed and never will.

Incidentally, Tyson had a most unusual record—he won two State Championships in a single year. It happened like this: The 1925 finals were played on Jan. 1, 1926, and the 1926 finals were played in December, 1926. Two titles in one year.

Post Mayor Attends Public Forum Directed By WTCC

Farmers and ranchers of the Garza area, as well as the rest of the United States, have nothing to fear from the incoming Republican administration, Mayor T. L. Jones believes.

Mayor Jones expressed this belief after attending a Public Forum sponsored in Fort Worth recently by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Fort Worth Chamber. He represented Post and the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting.

Fourteen members of the United States Congress formed the answers to questions thrown at them by some 300 persons. Former Congressman Ed Gossett, jr. served as forum chairman.

Congressman Robert Poage told the questioners that agriculture people have nothing to fear after the first of the year. He believes the Republican approach to the farmer's problem will be logical, sensible and stable.

The Korean war situation got an airing out, but the congressmen did not commit themselves one way or the other, Mayor said. They agreed that something should be done but did not know what Eisenhower will do.

Texas, naturally, came into the limelight at the meeting. General attitude of the men was that no great amount can be slashed from the tax burden until the people of the United States stop demanding that so much be spent. This was brought out by those attending the meeting asking about reduction of taxes in one breath and demanding that more veteran hospitals be built by the government in the next.

One bright aspect of the forum, Mayor Jones said, was the apparent enthusiasm the congressmen possess for the task of working with the Republican administration. They expressed confidence that the future of the United States will be in good hands come January 20.

Post High School A Cappella Makes Outstanding Progress

Post high school has many worthwhile organizations, which promote better education and aid in developing better American citizens. One of the newest and fastest growing of these organizations is the A Cappella choir. This choir was established in September and consists of approximately 50 members.

John Christopher, music instructor of high school, is director of this choir. He reported that school will give exhibition duets at Levelland and other high schools in this area in connection with the concert. Spur and Lubbock high school are other schools where the group will appear this month, Christopher said.

A Christmas concert will be given in Post high school auditorium before school is dismissed for the holidays. Lubbock Community Choir will assist Post students in this concert. Proceeds will be used in buying robes for the A Cappella. Special feature for this program will be soloists from Post, Christopher said.

"We are working on some of the finer choral music for our Christmas concert. These solo numbers are expected to be outstanding hits of this program," Christopher added.

Several members of Post's choir sing with Lubbock Community choir. This group is made up of semi-professionals from Lubbock and surrounding areas. Purpose for Post students working with Lubbock's choir is to further their music training, Christopher said. Christopher is director for Lubbock Community Choir.

In March, the A Cappella will enter Regional contests at Canyon in competition with high schools from the South Plains and Panhandle areas.

"We are well pleased with progress made so far and feel that the A Cappella is on the road to several first places in March," Christopher said.

Other concerts for December will be given at Post Rotarian's meeting December 16 and at Levelland high school on December 12. Fencing team of Post high that the A Cappella is on the the contests in March," Christo road to several first places in pther said.
