Aerial Bombs To Signal Approach Of Tornadoes

New Device Already Here

Any immediate tornado threat to Post and its surrounding area will be signaled this spring by the explosion in quick succession of four large aerial bombs.

The new tornado signal was announced today by John F. Lott, chairman of the Garza County Disaster organization which was formed last summer.

Lott said the tornado signal will consist of four 15-inch aerial flash salute bombs which will be fired by mortars high over the city and exploded at one-second intervals.

"Everybody should be able to hear this signal, even when asleep," Lott declared. "The first bomb should wake a sleeping person and the other three will follow to signal the need to seek cover."

The tornado signal was purchased from the Paramount Fireworks Co. and already is being used as a storm signal by Muskogee, Okla., a much larger city than Post. Paramount Fireworks Co., which contracted for the fireworks display

Advance Sale Of Tickets Slated For Post Rodeo

Plans for widespread publicity and advance ticket sale for the Post Stampede rodeo, May 28-31, were announced this week by Shelley Camp and J. B. Potts, co-chairmen of the Stampede's advertising committee.

The Post High School junior class will conduct a county-wide advance rodeo ticket drive May 12-14. Plans for the ticket campaign are being worked out by the class which will receive a percentage of the sale for their class fund.

Camp and Potts said the advance sale is an effort to create new interest in the big four-night rodeo and bigger attendance.

Other efforts to boost local rodeo interest will include the hanging of the three large 40-foot advertising banners over Main Street and Broadway in the near future and the decorating of local store fronts by May 22.

The Freeman firm of Dublin, Tex., which furnished and put up the Golden Jubilee decorations here, have contracted for the decorations. The Stampede's advertising committee urges merchants to cooperate with buying

Highway Supply House Operation Set For May 15

The Texas Highway Department's new Equipment Procurement Division warehouse is nearing completion here and is expected to be in operation not later than May 15, Sam Etter, senior warehouseman, has announced.

Installation of warehouse equipment and office furniture and fixtures is almost finished, and the first shipment of supplies is expected momentarily, Etter said.

The highway department's warehouse at Athens is the only other one in Texas, and has been serving the entire state. The new one here will serve nine highway districts—Amarillo, Lubbock, Childress, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Odessa, San Angelo, Brownwood and El Paso.

Post was chosen as the site for the new warehouse because of its central location in the large West Texas area and its highway and rail facilities.

Oil Play Picks Up On Ranch

Oil activity stepped up this week on the big Slaughter Ranch south of Post with two new wildcat locations announced and two more new drilling starts reported by Shell Oil Co.

There also was one new completion on the ranch and a disappointment not too far away from it. The completion was Shell Oil's No. 2-C Slaughter at a dual producer. The bad news was the abandonment by Continental of its No. 1 R. S. Kirkpatrick in section 5, block 2, GH&H survey, 3 1/2 miles northeast of the Texas Strawn pool. It was drilled to 8,541 feet and recovered both oil and water in tests of the Ellenburger.

The two new Slaughter Ranch wildcats are Shell Oil Co.'s No. 1-F J. B. Slaughter estate and Pan American Petroleum's 9,300-foot Ellenburger test, the No. 1-A John F. Lott.

Shell's 1-F will be both a Permian and Ellenburger test two and one-quarter miles southwest of Shell's new No. 1-D Slaughter, a recent Strawn discovery. Hole will be made 1,980 feet from north and 690 feet from west lines of Section 21, Block 1, Jasper Hays survey, 13 miles southwest of Post on a 642 acre lease.

The new Pan American wildcat is five miles west and slightly north of the nearest production in the Teas multipay pool. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 401, block 8, TT survey.

Drilling is yet to begin on either test. Shell has yet to contract for its test. Roads are now being made to the two wildcat sites.

Drilling did get underway this week on two other new Shell tests on the ranch.

One is the Slaughter C-3, an offset to Shell's Slaughter C-1, which is being drilled by Hugh Hawley. This is the sixth potential producer for the Teas multipay pool, but with Humble's well dry in the Ellenburger and the possibility that the Teas' Slaughter No. 2 will test dry in the Pennsylvania there would be room for a new dual producer in the field without involving the restricted pumping days.

Vandals Strike At School Building

Vandals damaged equipment in the artcrafts room, poured ink in the hallways and rifled desk drawers after breaking into the Post Junior High School building Sunday night.

The heating elements in the kits in the artcrafts room were burned out after the vandals turned up the flame under the kits.

Principal Herman F. Rappelt said the intruders took ink bottles from the library and poured the contents in the hallway. He also reported a number of desks rifled and their contents strewn over the floors.

Entrance to the building was gained after a corridor window on the east side was broken out.

The principal said the vandals apparently made no attempts to enter rooms which were locked, including his office.

The break-in and vandalism was investigated by Deputy Sheriff J. W. (Red) Floyd.

Donald Young Is Winner Of Jaycee Driving Contest

By JAMES HILL

Donald Young, scoring 381 points out of a possible 500, won first place in the Teen-Age Safe Driving Road-e-o sponsored by the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce Saturday on West Main Street.

Second place in the local phase of the national road-e-o went to Kent Green, whose score was 345 points. Carroll Cowley was third with 334.

First and second place trophies, furnished by the Post Chamber of Commerce, were presented the winners by Mayor James L. Minor, who commended both youngsters for their excellent driving abilities.

Thirteen contestants participated in Saturday's event, which was the driving phase of the contest. Seventeen others had completed the written examination and made satisfactory grades, but failed to appear for Saturday morning's driving contest.

To enter the driving contest the contestants were required to complete a written examination, be under 21 years of age, and not

Jennings Is Head Of Safety Council

The Garza County Safety Council was organized and R. J. (Rube) Jennings was elected as its chairman last Thursday night at a meeting in the county courtroom of a 40-member citizens committee called to consider traffic safety problems of the community.

Also elected to the council's executive committee were Julian Smith, highway engineer, the Rev. Clinton Edwards, president of the ministerial alliance, Bryan J. Williams, County Judge Pat Walker, Jim Cornish, Mrs. Iris Power, and Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick.

The committee group decided to name an executive committee and chairman to proceed with the necessary organization of the council.

Dues of $1 per individual and $5 for a business were also voted to provide some necessary funds for the new organizations.

Judge Walker told the group that the county commissioners court would make some funds available for use by the council.

The organizational meeting of the county was the outgrowth of last week's state-wide traffic safety crusade launched by Gov. Price Daniel to cut the heavy Texas highway slaughter.

Governor Daniel in a radio address heard by a citizens safety group here urged formation of county safety councils as one step in the crusade.

The 40-member safety committee then was named by Bryan J. Williams, who had been selected as temporary chairman for a safety council organization.

When the executive committee completes plans for organization of the council a county-wide membership campaign will be launched.

Twenty-eight of the 40-member citizen committee appointed by Williams turned out for the organizational session.

Action to organize came after considerable discussions of safety needs as expressed by numerous persons.

Kelly-Miller Circus Coming Thursday

The Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus will set up at the Post Stampede Rodeo Grounds Thursday, May 8, for a matinee and night performance.

The circus coming to Post is now exceeded only in size by the famed Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Show and is now conceded to be the largest circus entour.

The circus will bring to Post what is recognized as the largest, most varied and costly collection of rare animals ever exhibited with an American circus.

In addition to the animals, there will be clowns, trapeze, and other acts under the big tent.

More Sensible To Pay For Safety

County Judge Pat Walker pointed up a real Texas highway safety problem last week at the citizens meeting to hear Governor Daniel call for a statewide safety crusade.

Judge Walker hit at the getting-worse problem of patrol personnel in the Texas Highway Patrol.

The last legislature authorized a 50 per cent increase in patrol strength. Recruitment drives were launched along with stepped-up training.

But today the patrol has fewer men than it did when the campaign for expansion began.

Why?

Simply because the patrol can't compete at the economic level with others for the top caliber men it enlists and trains.

Salaries aren't high enough and hours are too long. It's a problem again of money—the same problem Texans have been hearing in many other phases of state government.

The fact remains that the Texas Highway Patrol, a top quality organization of law enforcement on our highways, is spread too thin. To attract and hold more men, it must be able to compete at the economic level for such recruits.

The two highway patrolmen who serve Post have 16 West Texas counties in their district. The judge points out that they are paid about $300 a month and work up to 14 hours a day in an effort to get their jobs done.

Texas' highway slaughter will require stern measures if it is to be halted. Governor Daniel has a well-planned, sensible crusade program which can get the results—providing he has the personnel to accomplish it.

A stiff crackdown on speeders, drunken drivers, and other traffic violators is a "must" for this program. That will require all the trained, competent manpower in state highway patrol uniforms we can muster.

This is the price we must pay for safety.

But really it is a cheap price. If the death and injured toll can be reduced, if the heavy property damage figures can be turned downward, much more will be saved than will be spent.

Automobile insurance rates are due to jump 30 per cent before the end of the summer because insurance companies now are losing money on automobile insurance—due to the high cost of accidents.

This is just part of the price we must pay for the present highway slaughter.

Isn't it more sensible to pay for safety—than for death, injury and damage?—JC

Highway Approach Offers Better View

The U. S. Highway 84 approach to Post from the southeast is rapidly taking on a "new look," with present plans calling for that "look" to improve within the next few years.

The new divided four-lane highway brings motorists coming in from the direction of Snyder past many improvements which were not there a few years ago and a few which were not there even a few months ago.

Adding to the view is the new State Highway Department warehouse on the left as you come into Post. And, before you get to it, there is the Little League and Pony League baseball park, which can be seen from the highway.

On the right, as you come on in, is the new Garza County 4-H Club building now under construction—on the south side of the city-county park property. Then, a few hundred feet on in toward town, you can see to the right the park improvements already made and the municipal swimming pool.

The approach from the newly-improved highway "Y" on into town is going to become much more attractive as the months go by. Landscaping and paving is being planned at the new highway warehouse, which is one of the only two in the entire State of Texas.

And, it won't be long until construction is completed on the 4-H Club building, with plans there also calling for landscaping. The 10-year park development plan of the city and county assures more park improvements, including paving of the swimming pool parking area, and these improvements will add to the eye-catching view.

Then, there's South Lake, smack-dab in the middle of the park, and a body of water that size always looks good out in this part of the state.

Backtracking for a few miles down U. S. 84, it won't be long until there is as attractive and convenient roadside park at Green Tank. Then, coming on into town after you pass the city-county park, a number of thriving business places line the highway right on up to the Main and Broadway intersection in the center of town. It all adds up to what the State of Texas is becoming more conscious of—tourist attractions.—CD

Safety Council Is United Effort

What is a safety council?

We've had that question asked the paper and we know it has been asked of many others.

What can citizens do for highway safety?

Those are logical questions. And there are logical answers.

The organization of the Garza County Safety Council, now in its formative stage, will bring into being not just another organization—but one which can do many things in many fields.

First of all it gives the average citizen a place to voice his opinions and suggestions on safety—and be heard. It thereby arouses a great deal of interest at the public level in safety problems and possible safety solutions.

Second, by representing the general community its recommendations to governmental bodies for improvements will bear considerable weight.

If it stands for a crackdown on traffic violations, it can be accepted as the public's voice. If it suggests and works out a safety project and urges the county, city, or schools to adopt it, the council would be the organized voice of the community speaking on safety matters.

Third, it can do many things in the educational field. It can take the problems to the public—not the national traffic problems—but our specific local ones. It can ask for cooperation as one citizen to another. It can do the same thing with the young people by carrying its local safety education into the schools.

Every community has need for a safety conscience—some more than others. If citizens want to work for safety at home they will be surprised at the results, they can accomplish via the united effort of a safety council.—JC

Our Tornado Protection Improves

A better communications system and more storm cellars gives us added protection this tornado season, but the fact remains that no 100 per cent defense has yet been developed against the tornado scourge, and that much remains to be done.

County Sheriff Carl Rains points out that the new two-way radio system affords a better means of communications . . . that two and perhaps three mobile units will be available for warning purposes, in addition to the base station at the courthouse.

The sheriff also said that he had made arrangements with the local radio station for warning broadcasts in case of a tornado threat. All this and the fact that the volunteer fire department also has worked out a warning signal adds up to more protection and less chance of disaster in case of a tornado swooping down on the community.

Not quite up to the communications system, however, is our means of protection against the tornado itself. There probably are enough storm cellars within the city limits to afford protection to everyone, but no system has yet been devised for their general use. Without exception, perhaps, each and every storm cellar was built with the protection of the family building it in mind, but there probably isn't a storm cellar owner who wouldn't be glad to share this protection with his neighbors who do not have storm cellars.

Location of storm cellars and the number of people each will accommodate in case of a tornado needs to be known if full protection is to be afforded. The Dispatch invites owners of the cellars to list that information with us. If we can compile the information within the next few weeks, we'll be glad to print it as a public service.

So, if you're willing to share your storm cellar, drop us a post card listing its location (street and number) and the number of people it will accommodate. Or telephone the information to 111, or just drop by the office and let us know.

As the county sheriff points out, this information also is important from the standpoint of safety in case of a cave-in or other disaster to one or more cellars during a tornado. "We hope, of course, that we'll never have such a thing happen," said the sheriff, "but if it did happen and we had to do rescue work, we'd need to know where to dig."—CD

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying

The whole world is backwards for a lefty (left-handed person), from the desk he uses at school to the gear shift on the automobile he drives. Even deceptive looking instruments such as pianos, which look as if they're just as handy for a lefty, have their drawbacks for a right-handed person. If you want a left-handed guitar or violin you have to string them backwards. Even such common household articles as a pair of scissors are made for right-handed people.—Levelland Daily Sun-News.

More on the problems of advancing age: Discussing his tennis playing, a stout little man explained it this way—"When my opponent hits the ball to me, my brain immediately barks out a command to my body, saying 'race up to the net, slam a blistering drive to the far corner of the court, jump back into position.' Then my body says, 'Who-me?'—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

Public boards as well as individuals no doubt feel that their problems are great—perhaps greater than those of comparable groups and persons.

But before indulging in an excessive amount of self-pity, consider the troubles of others. For example, there is the Plainview man who was released Saturday afternoon on $100 bond after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of a newspaper.

The newspaper, valued at 5 cents, was allegedly stolen from a grocery store. The groceryman signed the complaint before County Attorney Frank Gaston.

So if you feel persecuted because someone is twisting your arm to get payment of a just debt, or if you are indignant because you got a traffic ticket, cheer up! Consider the Plainview man who was taken into custody and hauled into court for picking up a 5 cent newspaper without leaving the nickel.—The Tulsa Herald.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

MONDAY IS THE candidate filing deadline. Since this year's weather seems to have a hard time warming up, maybe we can get some hot political races going.

You've got to hand it to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., for thinking up gimmicks to promote their educational campaign. The Dispatch received a leaflet on cotton planting time from PCG, and in the envelope with the leaflet was a cotton seed.

SINCE WE GOT one of the letters and Publisher Jim Cornish got one, we thought at first that the cotton seed might have found its way into our envelope by mistake. But when Jim checked his letter he found a cotton seed, too.

It reminded us of the novelty that suddenly sprang up several years ago, but for some reason or other didn't last long. It consisted of a contraption you could seal into an envelope and when the envelope was opened the do-hicky would jump out with a buzzing noise. We received one from some joker and it almost broke us from opening letters.

IF A JET PLANE breaking the sound barrier should damage your house or other property, what is your chance of collecting insurance? Practically nil, according to a ruling by Judge R. B. Cross of the 52nd Judicial District.

Judge Cross ruled last week that a sonic boom from jet planes was not covered by an insurance policy issued to a Hamilton, Tex., man for fire and extended coverage of a warehouse he owns at Hico. The Hamilton man claimed in his suit against the insurance company that on Nov. 17, 1956, a sonic boom had completely wrecked his warehouse.

SO, AS DIZZY Dean says when talking about a ball player's chances in arguing with the umpire, you'd have two chances of winning your argument—slim and none.

One of the members of a local "book exchange club" we belong to says some of the new novels are just too good to put down . . . others you don't dare put down.

THE CHAIRMANSHIP of the Comanche Trail District, Boy Scouts of America, stays in Post. Rube Jennings has been elected district chairman to succeed Chant Lee.

Julian Smith, resident highway engineer, gave us three copies of the 1958 Texas Official Highway Travel Map the other day. Julian is carrying a bunch of the new maps around in his automobile for distribution purposes. He may not like for us to tell this, but he said the reason he and other highway department personnel throughout the district are concentrating on distributing the maps is because the new district engineer found a bunch of last year's maps that hadn't been distributed and immediately gave orders for the new 1958 maps to be distributed to the last map.

WE DECIDED to do our part by getting rid of two of the three maps Julian gave us, so we presented them to Ruby Montgomery and Orabeth White here at the office. Orabeth immediately made good use of hers by opening it and finding Quitaque, which she hadn't been able to do a few weeks ago on another map.

Area Residents Invited To RAFB On 'Armed Forces Day'

House To Be Open Today, May 17

Garza County and counties are invited to the Air Force Base, west of Lubbock, during the annual Armed Forces Day "open house" to be held on Saturday, May 17, and Sunday, May 18. Saturday in May has been proclaimed Armed Forces Day by the President of the United States. The objective is to render a salute to the men in uniform by inviting them to the base for operations at local military facilities, reserve and other facilities.

American and international neighbors from May 10 through 18, implementing dates established by the Department of Defense. Under unifying guidance of DD, military organizations throughout the world will combine to give everyone an opportunity to see all aspects of our national strength.

"Power for Peace" will continue to be the slogan, and principal emphasis will be placed on the relationship between our national strength and our peaceful aspirations.

Within the U. S., public exhibits will be presented in some 3,000 communities. About 500 parades, with a half a million participants, are scheduled in addition to hundreds of drills, exhibits, and demonstrations presented to civilian guests at open house events in defense facilities.

Prior to 1950, each service celebrated its own "day". Army Day fell on April 6 each year, Navy Day on Oct. 27, Air Force on Sept. 18, and the Marine Corps Anniversary on Nov. 10.

In April 1949, the Secretary of Defense, with the President's approval, announced that the four separate events would be combined into a single annual observance of Armed Forces Day. This was in line with unification of the services and creation of the Department of Defense by act of Congress.

In this respect, AFD was intended to symbolize unification, demonstrate the close relationship of all active and reserve components, and give the public an annual report on the nation's defense system.

From the first, the Armed Forces Day observance has emphasized the basic concept that our national security and our free way of life depend upon the power which comes from American teamwork and national unity. The 1953 slogan represented the Armed Forces as constituting "Power for Peace" and has been used ever since as it is so appropriate to our national policy.

In some overseas areas, the slogan and theme have been varied to emphasize the fact that we and our allies are "Partners for Peace".

Optimum Planting Dates On Plains Are May 5 To 20

LUBBOCK — Optimum cotton planting dates on the Texas High Plains are May 5-20, Don L. Jones, former superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station, has reminded Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. members.

"Later planting usually results in lower quality cotton and if planting must be done after June 1, select an early maturing variety," Jones advises.

As to prior planting, Jones explained that years of research work at the Experiment Station has shown that the best results for planting comes when the soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed.

Daily radio and newspaper reports are now being broadcast and published which gives the average daily temperatures. This information is part of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Educational Program to try and help High Plains cotton farmers produce a higher quality cotton in 1958.

In other planting tips Jones urged farmers to use delinted, treated seed if possible, and warned them to check the seed germination percent and to alter planting rates accordingly.

A uniform stand of approximately four stalks per foot in 40-inch rows is recommended. Plant 20 to 30 pounds of seed per acre, adjusting the rate according to germination tests and the use of a seed press wheel and shallow furrows will help plant emergence to be rapid, he added.

The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety to plant when practical since storm-resistant cottons maintain quality longer in the field and strip better than open-boll types, Jones concluded.

'Shirt-Pocket Encyclopedia' Reveals Interesting Facts About Oil Industry

Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. has published a "shirt-pocket encyclopedia" showing what oil and gas business means to Texas.

Some of the facts include the following:

Texas produced 1,085,000,000 barrels of crude oil in 1957; 41.4 per cent of the U. S. total.

Texas produced 17 per cent of the world oil in 1957; 27 per cent in 1947 and 25 per cent in 1937.

Texas crude oil value in 1957 was $3.4 billion.

Oil is produced in 195 Texas counties.

There are about 6,500 oil producing firms in the state.

On March 29 Texas had 182,932 oil wells in 6,169 fields.

The average Texas well produced about 17 barrels a day in 1957.

Andrews County is the top Texas oil producing county; 66,926,348 barrels in 1956.

Texas has 49.5 per cent of the U. S. total.

10 Post High Students Take Scholarship Tests

Ten students at Post High School have taken the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Principal Glenn Whittenberg announced today. The test was administered at the high school at 9 a. m. Tuesday.

Students taking the test, all members of the junior class, were: Frances Barron, Don Davies, Boyd Dodson, Kent Green, Victor Hudman Jr., Kay Gene Jones, Kay Martin, Linda Moreland, Jimmy Short and Janet Stephens.

Heretofore the tests have been given to senior students during the fall semester.

An estimated $5,000,000 in Merit Scholarships and other awards are at stake in the national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12,000,000 in Merit Scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit Scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three-hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the semi-finals when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship, and extracurricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the Spring of 1959.

The test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year.

County Gets $250,000 Highway Appropriation

The federal government has appropriated $250,000 for surface and shoulders on east lanes of U. S. Highway 84 from Post to the Scurry County line as a part of its emergency highway program.

The 22.7-mile stretch between here and Justiceburg is about completed, and construction of bridges is about to get under way in the other phase of the project—from Justiceburg to the Scurry County line.

The surface provided for in the $250,000 appropriation by the government will be in addition to the present temporary surface on the two new lanes of U. S. 84, according to Julian Smith, resident highway engineer.

Smith explained that the $250,000 appropriated by the government in its emergency program will not be a part of the original four-lane project, but will be in addition to it.

About Your HEALTH

Soma people say we have more venereal disease today than we used to have. Others say we have less. Still others say we have about the same amount we've always had in proportion to population.

Who's right? The question is timely since national attention is being focused on social hygiene this week.

The answer depends on the point of view. It is true that more cases are being reported to state health authorities. The key word in that sentence is "reported." Venereal disease is like an iceberg—a little bit is visible above the surface, but the vast bulk of it is submerged. Probably no more than 2-10 per cent ever comes to light.

Texas has had this experience: Every single area where case reports have increased has a wide-awake program of case finding. Examples are Houston and, more recently, Dallas and Fort Worth.

The exact reverse is also true. Areas claiming to have no VD problem are without energetic case-finding activities. It all boils down to this: The dog won't come unless you call it.

The number of cases of infectious syphilis reported for the entire state in 1956 totaled 541. Of that number, 282 cases were diagnosed by public health clinics, and 259 by private physicians.

Now compare those figures with the record for 1957: A total of 545 cases reported, 368 from public health clinics, and 177 from private physicians.

It is the decline in case reports from physicians that causes concern. It is known that more than 50 per cent of all VD patients are treated by private physicians. Unless public health interview-investigators have access to those patients, we cannot find out who their contacts were, and consequently cannot get them under treatment.

Texas has a harder time trying to control VD than most states have. The reasons are obvious: tremendous distances, more than 900 miles of international boundary, and 53 military installations peopled by thousands of young men most of them away from wholesome home influences for the first time in their lives.

When penicillin proved to be an almost miraculous cure for both syphilis and gonorrhea, we thought our VD troubles were over. Budgets were slashed, personnel reduced, control programs curtailed. Now we are reaping the harvest of misplaced optimism.

We cannot regain that optimism until the public realizes VD is communicable. When this happens we can go ahead with controlling and eventually eliminating a major public health menace.

NOBODY MADE A NICKEL

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!
That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable...

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Letters To The Editor...

PHONE EXCISE TAX
 A half billion dollars in tax paid during 1957 by telephone subscribers out of every dollar received for the telephone industry think of the tax as coming out of the telephone company's pocket, but in fact it must first take the form of a tax on the telephone service.
 We of the telephone industry believe that this tax is discriminatory. Telephone service is as essential to the American way of life as electricity and gas. Jobs depend on your telephone — lives depend on it — trade and commerce depend on it.
 But your telephone is subject to excise tax at the same rate as fine furs, perfumes and jewelry. In fact, only a very few things are taxed at a higher rate such as liquor, tobacco, club dues and night clubs.
 The telephone excise tax began in 1941 as an emergency measure. It should not be continued longer lest it become regarded as a permanent part of our tax structure. Since none of this tax is retained by the company, the only person to benefit by its repeal is the subscriber. It would mean a substantial reduction in individual monthly telephone bills both on long distance calls and local service.
 Even without this discriminatory excise tax, telephone users are paying a big share of the nation's tax bill. We of the telephone industry do not consider the telephone a luxury, but rather an essential. If you feel this excise tax is unfair, we believe that our customers who are your readers will appreciate any action you may see fit to initiate.
 Very truly yours,
 Claude Adams, District Mgr.

NEEDS OF MENTALLY ILL
 Dear Editor:
 Now that National Mental Health Week is upon us, we should again take stock of the needs of the mentally ill in Texas. Over 16,000 of our mentally ill citizens from every walk of life are occupying the majority of the beds of Texas hospitals.
 Thus far, nothing very substantial has been done by the State of Texas to give them a decent chance to get well. True, the Texas State Hospital Board together with our entire state hospital staff are doing what they can with the funds at hand, but this is nevertheless completely inadequate. It is so completely inadequate that we the people of Texas along with our Texas legislators especially, should bow our heads in shame.
 According to the National Mental Health Association, Texas now ranks 36th down the line of the 48 states in its interest and degree of care of these helpless forgotten folk. The records show that Texas is spending the meager sum of $2.53 per patient day for their entire cost of treatment, including food and lodging, medication, and other treatment essentials. It is the opinion of this writer that this amount would scarcely get a work horse well, much less a human being.
 The substance of these remarks was confirmed last year by Dr. William C. Menninger of Topeka, Kans., when he addressed a joint session of the Texas Legislature. Dr. Menninger is a national authority on mental health, and in his address to the lawmakers he drove home some revealing facts. He pointed out that the minimum funds necessary to take care of basic treatment needs for our mentally ill would be $5 per patient day, instead of the $2.53 per patient day which the State of Texas is now spending. "This is simply not enough to do the job", stated Dr. Menninger.
 I ask you, why should I, a civil engineer by profession, bother to urge the readers of your good paper to use their influence with our legislators to help these 16,000 mentally ill? Simply because it is their God-given right to have a fair chance to get well and to again live a normal life among their friends and loved ones.
 But I have an even greater urge to come to their aid. I too, suffered a "nervous breakdown" about five years ago, and spent three months in no avail languishing in one of our state hospitals' "bull pens" under the guise of "domiciliary care". Seeing that this was not helping me, I voluntarily returned home and shortly thereafter, being a veteran, secured admission to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in Fort Worth. From here, after 12 months of wonderfully effective treatment and loving care, I was restored and

 As I was reading it, one of my nurses walked in and she noticed the paper and asked me if I was from Texas. I told her yes, that I was born and raised in Post, Texas, and I have two sons, James and Lewis Ammons, still living in Post.
 The nurse asked me if she could have the paper after I got through with it. Said she was from Weatherford, Tex., and that every year on her vacation that she went to Post to spend a few days.
 I was very happy to let her have my paper to read. So now she is going to write the Post Dispatch and see if she can also have the paper sent to her every week.
 As I read the Post paper it seems that I am so much closer to my two sons and their families. I just live from one Monday to the next to receive my paper. Thanks a lot.

 Ushers were LaVena Washburn, JoLena Washburn, Betty Nelson, Pat Crowley, Juanita Goss, Lucy Howell, Ann Scarbrough, Charlotte Hays, Georgia Ann Sartain.

Cotton Seed Lowered To 40 Per Cent Germination Requirements Certified

LUBBOCK — The Texas State Seed and Plant Board has lowered the germination requirements for certified cotton seed to 40 per cent, according to Dr. A. W. Young, Texas Tech professor who is chairman of the Plant Board.
 While this is only a temporary measure for the 1957 crop of seed only, cotton producers on the Texas High Plains are warned to be sure and check the germination content of any seed they buy for 1958 plantings and alter planting rates accordingly.
 Cotton seed produced under certification regulations in 1957 may now be certified if they test as high as 40 per cent germination, exactly half of the standard requirement of 80 per cent.
 "This change was made on the basis that farmers in some sections of the state have already had to replant cotton, and were unable to find adequate high germinating seed," Dr. Young said.
 "If it is necessary to plant low germinating seed, he added, we feel that it will be better to plant those produced under certification regulations than others of unknown or questionable origin."
 The board recommended that low germinating certified seed be used only where there is not an available supply of seed with higher germination, Dr. Young explained.
 "A farmer should expect to purchase the low germinating seed at a reduced price, since they will contain less live seed per bushel," he added.
 Adverse weather conditions during the harvesting of 1957 cotton seriously impaired the quality of cottonseed throughout the Cotton Belt.

returned home again a well man.
 If it is good economy for our Federal Government mental hospitals to expend from $9 to $15 per patient day, then certainly an increase of from $2.53 to $5 per patient day for our State Hospitals is in order. I, myself, am living proof that there is economy in increased appropriations for the treatment of our mentally ill.
 Let's give these 16,000 sick folk in Texas hospitals an even break with those who are fortunate enough to receive Federal Government hospital aid. I ask you, is it fair to do less?
 Sincerely yours,

It is good to hear too that John is going to shake the kinks out of the county's disaster organization, organized during last summer's buffeting storms, and get it ready to function. John stopped in at The Dispatch office the other day to pick up a couple of boxes of two-color stationery for his ranch and that's how we found out about the aerial bomb signal. John has really been on the go. It's been branding time down on his U Lazy S Ranch where they still have more cattle (1,300 head) than oil wells. And only a couple of weeks ago John flew off to the island of Jamaica (south of Cuba) to attend the Boys Scouts' Western Hemisphere International Training Team conference at Kingston. John says it was an unusual experience for the Americans and Canadians attending as they found themselves in the minority in color, language and customs among the delegates. Scouts from 17 countries attended. John is one of the 35 Wood Badge deputy camp chiefs in the United States. The Wood Badge is a training media for adults used by scouting associations around the world.

Speaking of oil wells and the U Lazy S Ranch, it is going to be interesting to see what the Shell people themselves write about their ranch drilling development. Recently they've had a district publication editor and photographer in to shoot pictures of the oil development here and send in material for an article in the Shell Oil Corporation's own magazine. We've been promised a copy of the magazine containing the article, and we're still wondering if the abundance of oil and the heavy cutting of Texas drilling days hadn't come along this spring how many rigs would be drilling down there now.

The US-84 highway project south of Post is pulling in two more highway work crews to quarters in Post for the next few weeks. A small bridge crew arrived here this week and a bigger dirt crew, of about 20-man size, is due in on the job Monday and already are drifting in with families and trailers. Maybe all the new trailer courts around town will be filled up for a while.

Bill Edwards was well pleased with all the interest the Grand Opening of his Edwards' Appliances and Frigidaire dealership attracted last Saturday. Bryan J. Williams, III, was the winner of the $29.95 automatic washer which Bill gave away to spark the event. Over 400 people turned out for the grand opening despite a d a m p, chilly Saturday.

One of the objectives of The Dispatch's editorial or news policy is not only to make this newspaper just as newsworthy as the staff knows how, but to stimulate community thinking and community progress as well. That comes about through doing the best we know how to promote the economic health and progress of this community. The more attention citizens give to community problems the more interested they become in their solution and the more they are willing to work for progress. That's why The Dispatch aims to speak up at every opportunity for progress. But we want to encourage everybody else to speak up too. The Dispatch will be glad to print all letters to the editor on ideas for community improvements. We only ask that they be signed and be of reasonable length. Put your idea before the community by writing The Dispatch a letter tonight. You may have the best idea yet for your hometown.

Fire Outbreaks—

had not been struck were found on the floor near the waste basket.
The fire was discovered by Mrs. Wilma Hill, homemaking teacher, after she smelled smoke in her department, which is near by. The fire was extinguished by L. A. Garner, head of the science department, before firemen arrived. The floor and wall near the waste basket were slightly scorched from the flames.
"It looked like a case of carelessness with matches," said Glenn Whittenberg, high school principal. There was also a waste basket fire at the First Baptist Church at the close of the Sunday night services. The wall in one of the rooms of the church annex was damaged from the flames, which were extinguished before firemen arrived.
On Friday morning, firemen made a run to the Storie Motor Courts, 210 East 7th, after the pilot light on a cook stove had flared up. No damage was reported.
Tuesday night, a small wooden building at the rear of the Bryan Williams residence, 306 West 11th, caught fire. The structure, originally a chicken house, but now used for storage purposes, was only partially damaged by the flames.

Jaycee Road-e-o—

have been convicted of any traffic violation for six months prior to the contest.

The course was run on approximately a one-block area. To start off the run were five rows of rubber balls in a straight line placed 11½ inches apart and the contestants were required to drive between the balls forward and then back their cars over the same course without knocking them over. This was one of the hardest obstacles of the entire course as there is less than four inches clearance for the tires to go between them.
Other obstacles were a series of drums and markers the contestants had to drive around in an S shape then back through them the same way they entered. Last of the tests was parallel parking that was no snap either by any means, as they were required to drive their cars up to the marker and make a full stop, back in the proper space without stopping or hitting the "curb", then pull forward and make a complete stop—all this in three steps.
All participants and spectators alike thoroughly enjoyed the event, as it certainly was no easy course to get through.

Sheriff Carl Rains and his deputy, "Red" Floyd were on hand to help the Jaycees, as well as Lt. James A. Mason and Highway Patrolmen E. B. McKnight and Max Knox from Lubbock, who have helped with road-o's before.

As mentioned before, the contestants were required to fill in a written examination before they were eligible to participate in the road-o-o. This test was no slough either, as some of the Jaycee members can testify. A score of 168 was the top score for them. Linda Livingston had the highest written score of 180 points, but failed to show Saturday for the driving contest. James Ghormley and Lucy Howell were tied for second place with a score of 176 respectively. James failed to show also.

Charles Gordon, 194; Allen Johnson, 309; Jerry Gerner, 300; Billie Lou Hill, 292; Lucy Howell, 296; Glenda Whittenberg, 307; Alice Fay Kiker, 276; Charles O'Neal, 289; Skipper Sloan, 249; George Mindietta, 277; Carroll Cowley, 334.
As can be seen from the above scores, the girls did very well for themselves. In driving the straight line between the rubber ball markers, all but one girl driver beat or tied all the boys through this particular test except the winner, Donald Young, who knocked over one marker on his back-up run. That was the best score of the day.

J. P. Parnell, Jaycee president, said Donald will be the representative for Post in the district meet some time in the future. At this writing there is no definite time or place for the district event.
The Jaycees plan to sponsor another road-o-o next year, so let's line up the barriers and start practicing right away.
Caprock Chevrolet Co., and Tom Power, Inc., Ford Dealer, furnished cars for the event.

Post Man Named VFW Commander

Bob Poole of Post was elected commander of District 7, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the annual district convention held Sunday at the Lubbock VFW Post. He succeeds N. T. Conner of Lubbock.

Another Post VFW member, Nick Vukad, was elected as district quartermaster.
Poole, who is assistant manager at Piggly Wiggly Super Market, has held practically every office in VFW Post No. 6797 here.
Vukad, an employee of Service Pipe Line Co., is active in both the VFW and American Legion, and in addition to his VFW office is adjutant of the American Legion post here.

Other district officers chosen at the convention were: Coy Allen, Levelland, senior vice commander; Bill Rice, Brownfield, junior vice commander; Cecil Kelly, Lubbock, judge advocate; Herman Edmiston, Levelland, chaplain, and Lee Turner of Lubbock, N. T. Conner of Lubbock and Ray Moore of Lorenzo, trustees.

Mrs. N. T. Conner of Lubbock was elected president of the district VFW auxiliary at a Sunday business meeting held during the convention.

Warehouse—

the highway maintenance building, is a 60 by 200-foot structure, and the warehouse itself contains 12,000 square feet. There is a concrete dock at the south side of the warehouse, and equipment includes an electrically-controlled dock lever for loading or unloading on any height truck bed.
The warehouse contains six sections of 27-foot bins, with 56 openings in each section. These bins will be used for storing of laboratory, safety and first aid supplies and equipment.
The warehouse also contains 1,200 wooden pallets, and pallet racks accommodating 180 pallets each. A mobile fork lift for carrying these pallets from the racks to the loading dock is also included among the equipment.

The biggest piece of equipment at the new warehouse is a hydraulic yard crane, which will be used mainly for loading and unloading of bridge steel.
The warehouse and offices have central heating and air-conditioning and direct and indirect lighting. Three types of communication—teletype, telephone and radio—will be in use at the warehouse.

All-new metal furniture is being installed in the office, where personnel for the present will consist of Etter and warehouseman Robert Cato.
The highway department is in the process of letting contracts for curbing, gutters and paving of the grounds at the new warehouse. Landscaping at the front of the building will include grass islands.

Safety Council—

Both Tom Bouchier and County Attorney Carleton P. Webb declared that the people will get the kind and quality of law enforcement they demand.

Harry Porter said all the public information on safety in the world is not worth much if it isn't backed up by a "get tough" enforcement program.

In discussing traffic safety around the schools, Highway Engineer Smith said the state highway department within the next four to five years hopes to clear up highway traffic on school streets.

Mrs. Victor Hudman, a local teacher, told the group that 30 minutes of the last 45 minutes of class each afternoon was wasted as "students can't hear a thing" because of the noise caused by motorcycles outside her classrooms. "I don't know where they come from at that time," Mrs. Hudman commented but added the noise was a bad distraction.

Her comment came when the group was discussing whether mufflers shouldn't be required on both cars and motorcycles.

Mrs. T. L. Jones urged that the justice of the peace court be held in the county courtroom in an atmosphere to "teach respect for the law."
Williams, who presided at the meeting, opened the session with the showing of a film on the needs for citizens in communities to organize for traffic safety and showing what they can accomplish.

He said he had spent four hours conferring with officials of the Lubbock traffic commission and from them learned they would be glad to help in every possible way in the organization of a safety council in Post. Williams reported the Lubbock commission offered to provide both personnel and materials.

Oil Play—

The second new Shell start is the No. 1-CD Slaughter estate, two locations west of the Evans wildcat strike which opened the Happy Strawn field three miles south of the Teas multipay field. It is an 8,500 projected Ellenburger test 650 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 43, block 2, T&NO survey.

M. L. Pierce, Shell superintendent for the Post district, also announced that the Slaughter C-2 has been completed as a dual producer from the Ellenburger and Pennsylvanian in the Teas' multipay field. The well returned 304 barrels of oil in 24 hours from the Ellenburger on 8-64th inch choke with 830 pounds tubing pressure and flowed 256 barrels of oil in a 20 hour test from the Pennsylvanian on 10-64th inch choke with 830 pounds of tubing pressure.

Drilling on Shell's Slaughter I-E wildcat has just reached the Pennsylvanian with testing of that potential pay zone scheduled to begin immediately.

Shell also has extended Pennsylvanian production in its U Lazy S field of northern Borden County with completion of its No. 1 O. B. Dalton just a short distance off through 17-64 inch choke, the well was finished for a daily potential yield of 195 barrels of oil plus 49 barrels of basic sediment and water per day. It was completed from perforations at 8,355-96 feet following treatment with 500 gal-

Insurance Man Harold Lucas told the citizens attending that auto insurance rates are due to jump 30 per cent Aug. 1 due to the high cost of accidents. He said it was almost impossible to get auto insurance for male drivers under the age of 25 because of their high accident rate.

Storm Signal—

for the Caprock Calvacades during Post's Golden Jubilee, designed the four mortars mounted on a board.

The signal is loaded, weather-proofed, and ready for firing. Lott said the tornado signal device has already arrived here and he is working on arrangements for its installation at a place convenient for its use on a 24-hour basis.

Other signal loads of bombs have been ordered.
Lott emphasized that the aerial bombs won't be exploded unless a tornado funnel is actually sighted heading for an area anywhere within a 10-mile radius of Post.

In other words, the bombs mean the sighting of a dangerous funnel and is a signal to seek immediate shelter.

Shells also announced yesterday the staking of a new 8,700 Ellenburger wildcat test, five and three-quarters miles southeast of the U Lazy S Pennsylvanian and Ellenburger pool in Borden County. It is the No. 1 Clyde Miller et al, 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from west lines of section 527, block 97, H&TC survey.

A serious accident was narrowly averted at 1 a. m. Tuesday on the Teas' Slaughter No. 2, which is being deepened to test the Ellenburger. The cable broke dropping the block down onto the well floor. The only injury, however, was a cut finger by one of the drilling crew.

Humble's No. 1-B Slaughter development swabbed only four barrels of oil plus 90 per cent basic sediment and water through perforations at 7,985-7,990 after 500 gallons of acid from the Pennsylvanian with testing continuing.

Local Men To Assist With Lubbock Fair

Two Post men, George (Scotty) Samson and County Agent Lewis C. Herron, have been named as superintendents of the Panhandle South Plains Fair, which will be held in Lubbock Sept. 29-Oct. 4.

Samson has been named as general superintendent of the agriculture department, a post in which he has served for many years. Herron has been named as an assistant superintendent in the swine department.

Lott pointed out that since a tornado can change course quickly any sighting of a funnel on a path to pass within 10 miles of Post will be considered as of immediate danger to the community.

Announcement of area tornado alerts by the weather bureau will not bring the bomb signal—only an actual sighting of a funnel endangering the Post area.

Lott advised everybody to seek the best available shelter when the bomb warning is sounded. If a storm cellar is not available, Lott advised people to get under a table or heavy object in the southwest corner of their homes and to open doors and windows on the north and east sides of their houses.

Opening of doors and windows will prevent houses from literally "exploding" if a funnel passes close by. The funnels bring a quick drop in pressure and this pressure drop makes shut-up houses explode, Lott explained.

The disaster chairman said final details of a tornado warning net are being worked out and will be announced shortly. The warning net would be designed to protect the community during storm alerts.

Lott also said he would call a "dry run" meeting of the county disaster organization as soon as it could be arranged.

Pleads Guilty To Theft Of Blades

Theft of grades blades was cleared up Tuesday by Sheriff Carl Rains and another man. (The detector) was on Monday in connection with the theft. The sheriff said the polygraph tests on Cooper, an employee of a construction firm, produced a statement furnished by the other man in jail.

Cooper was sentenced by County Judge Paul W. Hoffman to 30 days in jail. Hoffman Construction Co. blades were stolen from a construction site southeast of Post. Twenty-two of the blades covered by the sheriff in a junk yard in Snyder.

Rails Defeats Post, 3-1, In Practice Game Here

The Rails Jackrabbits defeated the Post Antelopes, 3-1, here last Thursday in a five-inning practice game.

After pitchers Jimmy Minor and Forrest Claborn had held the visitors scoreless for two innings, Coach Al Parsons' Antelopes got off to a one-run lead in the bottom half of the second on second baseman Curtis Didway's over-the-fence home run.

The visitors tied the score in the top half of the third when Boydston singled to score Surratt, who had drawn a base on balls.

Rails went ahead in the top of the fifth after southpaw pitcher Derwood Mayberry had walked three straight batters. Sanders' sharp bingle got through the shortstop's position for an error to give the 'Rabbits their two tallies.

The Post team filled the sacks with only one out in the bottom of the first, but Ocie Forbes, Rails pitcher, whiffed the next two batters to end the threat.

Each team collected two hits. Didway's home run and a single by Mayberry were the only base blows for Post. Boydston singled and Forbes doubled for the visitors' two hits.

Minor allowed no hits in the one inning he worked, while Claborn and Mayberry yielded one each. Claborn fanned four Rails batters and Mayberry pushed three strikes past the same number.

Forbes struck out 10 Post batters.

Starters for Post were: Mason McClellan, left field; Mike Cornell, third base; Scotty Pierce, catcher; Mayberry, first base; Dan Rankin, shortstop; Jimmy Short, center field; Rodger Sullenger, right field; Didway, second base; Minor, pitcher. Ierbie Hays went to center field when Mayberry took over pitching duties in the fourth, and Short went to shortstop for Rankin, who replaced Mayberry at first base.

PS in... SPORTS

By CHARLES DIDWAY

We watched the Post Antelope baseball team in action for the first time last Thursday afternoon—in a practice game with Rails—and they looked pretty good, except for their uniforms.

In fact, what the Post High players had on couldn't be called uniforms, since no two of them were alike. There simply wasn't any uniformity in their playing garb. Of course, baseball is far from being a major sport at Post High School, but it seems a shame that there isn't enough money in the athletic fund to outfit the team better—even for a practice game.

It appears now that it will be a short season for the Antelopes, since three of the proposed league teams have decided not to participate. The only two left are Post and Slaton and they'll get together for a couple of regularly scheduled games within the next few weeks.

After school is out, these high school boys won't have any chance to continue playing baseball throughout the summer on an organized basis—and they're right at the age when they need it. It's probably too late now to start the ball rolling on an American Legion Junior team, but having one would fill a big gap in the youth recreation program here.

After several summers of no softball at all, Post has finally come up with a team—but no place to play. Keith Kemp's Phillips '66' Station is sponsoring a team which has already won four games, but it's doubtful that local softball fans will get to see them in action unless they follow the team on their out-of-town trips.

If residents of the Tahoka Independent School District approve a $200,000 bond issue Saturday, Tahoka High School will soon have a new gymnasium. Then, Post and Spur will be the only district schools left with inadequate high school gyms. It's been said for the last few years that Post's gymnasium is the poorest in the district with the exception of those at Spur and Tahoka. So, if Tahoka gets their's, that'll leave Post and Spur at the bottom of the heap gymnasium-wise.

We're sorry this column turned out so dismal by having to point out so many things that are lacking, but there's no getting around them. We need uniforms for the high school team, a baseball program for boys just above Pony League age, a softball diamond and a new gym.

By VERN SANFORD

Fishing, for the sport of it, is fine. However, in addition to the fun of fishing, most of us like to bring home a good string of edible fish.

If you really want fish to eat, right now is the time to take an off-shore excursion and bring back a tub full of red snapper. It is the real pan fish of the Gulf of Mexico.

However, fishing for red snapper is more work than sport. The first half-dozen give you a thrill. Thereafter it becomes a chore, especially if you are on a good boat over a hot spot. It is nothing unusual to catch a hundred pounds or more of red snapper, if your strength holds out that long.

Red snapper fishing is one of the favorites of the party boat. These boats operate out of most of the coastal cities of Texas. They take excursions out to the snapper banks in the Gulf. Most of the banks are at least 35 miles out. Some are more than one hundred miles into the Gulf.

Just One Secret

Actually, there is but one secret in getting all the snapper fishing you want, and that is getting with a good party boat operator. If he has good equipment, which is more than just having a good boat, you are pretty sure to get all the fish you want, providing the weather is right. And a good operator won't take you out unless the weather is right.

A good party boat has to be one large enough to withstand about the roughest water that can be thrown at you in the Gulf of Mexico. Generally one of these boats won't get caught in bad weather, but sometimes they do.

Most important of all, the boat must have a good captain. He must know the Gulf and how to read the electronic instruments that tell when he is sitting over a reef.

Red snapper inhabit coral reefs on the bottom of the Gulf. These reefs have been built up through millions of years, and afford a fine breeding and hiding place for snapper, as well as groupers and some of the other large fish of the briny deep.

There are a few of these reefs at around 10 to 12 fathoms. (A fathom is approximately six feet.) Most of them are at 25 to 30 fathoms, some at from 30 to 50 fathoms.

Heavy Equipment

You fish for red snapper with heavy equipment, such as a large Ocean City reel on a heavy rod with about 300 yards of good line of from 75 to 125 pound test. For a terminal equip it with a good Weller bottom rig leader, a couple of No. 6 hooks and a 16 ounce sinker.

Bait this terminal with squid, cut bait or frozen bait and let it to the bottom as fast as you can. And we do mean fast. Otherwise, on the way down some smaller fish may take it and you'll lose your bait before it ever reaches bottom.

When your rig is on the bottom, fish it something like fishing for crappie. When a snapper gets on, it's up to you to crank him up as fast as you can. Occasionally if it is a small snapper, a big old amberjack or ling may come by and decide it's hungry. If that happens, then you have a real fight on your hands.

Incidentally, you don't have to buy your own red snapper fishing equipment. It can be rented from any party boat operator. Also he'll show you how to use it. He wants you to make a good catch. If you do you'll tell your friends and his business stays good.

Do It Early
Party boats usually are pretty well dated up. It is a good idea to select one you want to use, early, and make a definite date. The boat usually leaves the docks about 2 a. m. and returns about 6 p. m.

with a load of fish and some pretty tired but happy fishermen.

These boats carry beverage boxes and most of them have lunches for sale. Some of them are equipped with ship-to-shore telephones, radio and other modern conveniences.

The trip will cost from $10 to $15 for your fare, plus your drinks, and a per-day rent on equipment. You'd better figure on spending about $20 for the day, but if it's a good day you'll get more than your money's worth.

If you are interested in such a trip, write the Chamber of Commerce in the area where you'd like to embark from. They'll be glad to send you folders and the names and addresses of the party boat operators. Satisfy yourself you are getting the best one possible. He's the cheapest in the long run.

Fishing With Mice

Ever try a mouse for fish bait? As a kid we used to use baby mice. Sometimes we'd take them while they were still young and red. When we wanted to catch a really big fish we'd wait until the mice got big enough to give plenty of action.

For a good many years various tackle manufacturers have been forming artificial mice in some form. Most of them really looked like mice. Last year Weber came out with a Dylite mouse for fly fishing. It was pretty good. This year Weber has a new Dylite mouse. It's for spin fishing, and right now it is as hot as a firecracker.

You don't just toss one of these lures out on the water and leave it there.

You pull it slowly over a lily pad, retrieve it fast until you can get it onto the next lily pad. Or you can toss it on a log and pull it off.

We've found it works best where it is retrieved through an area where it is likely a mouse might fall into the water. A big old bass can stand only so much temptation. So be ready when he hits.

Best Fishing Days

A study of some old fishing calendars indicates that the best fishing days, year-around, are the first 10-days in each month. Last half of the month seems to be the least desirable. Don't know how this compares with your successes, but it might be interesting to think back and see if maybe there isn't something to it after all.

Scientific Subject Is Topic At Rotary Meet

Rotarians heard a talk on a new scientific subject—extra sensory perception—in the field of "parapsychology" at their Tuesday luncheon.

The speaker was Bill Rowland, a senior at Wayland College at Plainview.

Rowland explained that Wayland is the first college in the world to offer a course in extra sensory perception. The college has a laboratory for testing in this unusual field and Rowland is one of the students working on projects in the field.

The speaker told Rotarians that the school is attempting to evaluate the psychic-phenomena field on a scientific basis.

RESULTS FOR ENTIRE GRADE SUMMARIZED

Mental Maturity Tests Are Given 141 Fifth Graders In Post School

During April the California Short-Form Test of Mental Maturity was administered to 141 fifth grade children in Post Elementary School. Areas covered by the test were spatial relationships, logical reasoning, numerical reasoning, and verbal concepts.

The two tests on spatial relationships are designed to measure the status of certain aspects of thinking which involve orientation in space and the use of spatial relations. The two tests include sensing right and left and manipulation of areas.

The two tests on logical reasoning include a test on similarities and one on inference. The similarities test consists of a total of 15 picture situations. The first three pictures are alike in some way. The pupil determines the nature of this likeness and then finds another picture among the other four which is similar to the first three. The inference test consists of 15 situations in which the pupil is given a major and a minor premise and is asked to choose the logical outcome or answer from the two premises.

The area of numerical reasoning also includes two tests: number series and numerical quantity. The number series test consists of ten series of numbers which increase or decrease according to a principle which the pupil must discover. Each series contains one number which does not belong. The pupil must find and mark this number. The numerical quantity test consists of 15 problems in quantitative reasoning. The pupil is given a numerical situation in each case, together with a question to which he must find the answer.

The final part of the test is called verbal concepts. It is actually a vocabulary test of 50 key words with four possible meanings for each key word. The pupil selects the word which he thinks means the same as the key word and marks it.

Results of the test will be included with the report card and book card at the end of the school term so that parents may know how their child did individually. Results for the entire grade are summarized as follows:

IQ of 130 and above (very superior): per cent of typical population included, 3 per cent; per cent of fifth grade, 1.41 per cent; actual number, 2.

IQ of 115-129 (superior): per cent of typical population included, 12 per cent; per cent of fifth grade, 11.35 per cent; actual number, 16.

IQ of 100-114 (high average): per cent of typical population included, 35 per cent; per cent of fifth grade, 33.33 per cent; actual number, 47.

IQ of 85-99 (low average): per cent of typical population included, 35 per cent; per cent of fifth grade, 36.17 per cent; actual number, 51.

IQ of 70-84 (inferior): per cent of typical population included, 12 per cent; per cent of fifth grade, 13.48

Phillips Softball Team Will Play At Draw Tonight

The Phillips '66' softball team, winners of its first three games, is to play the Draw team tonight on the latters' diamond.

The Post team already holds one verdict over Draw, having squeaked by with a 1-0 victory. The Post nine has also defeated O'Donnell in two games, 10-3 and 9-8.

Since no diamond is available here, all games are being played away from home, according to Jackie Hays, temporary manager of the Post team.

Jackie Hays was the winning pitcher in the O'Donnell games and he and Wayne Baldwin combined to pitch the locals past Draw.

Other members of the roster are: Dink Taylor, Shorty Hester, Al Parsons, Jimmy Redman, Jerry Hays, Emmett Goode, Darrell Stone, Darrell Norman, Nolan Williams and Jerry Key.

Tech Golfers Will Host Razorbacks

* "Yes... I Picked It Up in the City"

* a useful phrase for impressing neighbors with the way we get around but it comes high

FOR some strange reason, a lot of us are inclined to take more pride in some article that we have bought in a Big City Store than we do in an identical item bought at home.

PERHAPS a shirt or a hat, for example, bought in the City, becomes a sort of souvenir of our travels — a reminder of a pleasant break in the routine of life — instead of just another garment.

QUESTION IS . . . how high can we pay to indulge this little human quirk?

A DOLLAR SPENT away from home is a dollar less business in our community. Hundreds of thousands of these dollars ARE being spent that way every year by folks who live here. THAT MUCH MORE MONEY circulated in our community would supercharge its vitality.

CAN WE AFFORD to pass up the extra values that home-spent dollars give us in better schools, more jobs for more people, more prosperous businesses able to do a better job of serving our urgent daily needs?

ISN'T THE PRICE TOO HIGH . . . this whittling away at our own community's economic life . . . isn't this too much to pay for a few relics of our travels to the City?

where you Live

1958 'Caprock' Is Received Monday At High School

The 1958 "Caprock," Post High School yearbook, was distributed to high school students Monday, with an autograph party following that night.

This year's annual includes departments on faculty, favorites, organizations, athletics and classes. There are numerous advertisements from Post business and professional firms.

Linda Lane Livingston was editor of the 1958 Caprock. In the "Foreword by Editor," she wrote: "This is your memory annual, designed to bring back to your memory the happy hours spent in Post High School, the close association with your friends. May it in the future ever reflect more of its theme—that of an annual of your most treasured memories."

Mrs. Ray N. Smith was yearbook sponsor, which she has been for many years, and other staff members besides the editor were: Kay Martin, assistant editor; Jimmy Short, business manager, and Ruth Long, assistant business manager.

This year's annual is one of the most attractive in the school's history, both from standpoint of arrangement and quality of printing. Adding to its high quality was the excellent photography of O. A. (Bob) Madison of the faculty and Cal Casteel of Cal and Rose Casteel Photographic Arts.

Snyder Insurance Man Announces Candidacy For State Legislature

Ray Houpt, insurance agent of Snyder, this week authorized The Post Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative for the 90th Legislative District.

Houpt was born at Nocona, Tex., Sept. 3, 1928, the son of Mrs. W. M. Houpt and the late W. M. Houpt. He is a graduate of Nocona High School, attended Arlington State College and is a graduate of Don Martin's School of Radio and TV Art and Sciences with a first-class FCC license and was a staff announcer for KSNY in Snyder for 16 months before entering the insurance business. He is married to the former Miss Florence Hurst of Hastings, Nebr. They were married in 1952 and have two daughters, Cathy and Karen, ages four and two.

Houpt is associated with Earnest Taylor and J. Elmo Crowder with the United Fidelity Life Insurance Co. He is an active member and on the board of directors of the Snyder Jaycees. He was head of the Jaycees steering committee for the Scurry County Junior College and was a member of the Nineman Scurry County Citizen's Committee promoting the junior college. He is a member of the American Legion and an active member of the First Methodist Church of Snyder.

Houpt has always been active in Democratic party affairs and was a delegate from the 24th Senatorial District in the last two state Democratic conventions.

Houpt said "During the campaign I will state my views on various legislation of which I consider to be extremely important to the people of this district, concerning taxes, insurance reforms needed, schools, water and other matters of interest to all the people of Texas."

He feels his background would help in making the right decisions confronting the people of the 90th Legislative District as he was born and raised on a stock farm in Montague County and did oil field and construction work before finishing his schooling, which is a background in the three main industries in this area, agriculture, oil and ranching.

The 90th Legislative District is composed of Scurry, Crosby, Garza, Kent and Borden counties.

The Movie Marquee

Film fare at the Tower Theatre for the next several days will be "Escapade in Japan," "The Sheepman," and "The Lady Takes a Flyer."

"Escapade in Japan," which shows Friday and Saturday is the story of two youngsters—one an American, the other a Japanese—who hitchhike and travel over Japan by other means and become the objects of a widespread search. It's filmed in Technicolor.

Glenn Ford, who has scored in both outdoor action dramas and comedies, combines the two in his latest M-G-M picture, "The Sheepman," which will be at the Tower on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It co-stars Shirley MacLaine, with Leslie Nielsen, Mickey Shaughnessy and Edgar Buchanan heading the supporting cast.

"The Sheepman" offers something new in the way of early-day Westerns. Telling the story of a seemingly mild but fast-gun sheepman who invades the hostile cattle country of the 1880's, its action is replete with fist fights, gun battles, horsemanship and the menace of an entire community against a single man—but added to this is a large slice of humor in characterizations and plot situations.

Since Lana Turner has been so much in the news lately, her picture, "The Lady Takes a Flyer," undoubtedly will attract large crowds when it shows at the Tower on Wednesday and Thursday, which is also Jumbo Jackpot Night.

In the "Lady Takes a Flyer," the glamorous Lana is co-starred with six-foot-four Jeff Chandler. To say that they strike cinematic sparks in the delightful interplay of their respective personalities is to give only a hint of the brilliant fireworks in store for moviegoers in a picture which successfully combines intimate romance, suspenseful adventure and gay sophisticated comedy.

Coming soon, announces Manager Johnny Hopkins, are such pictures as "Cowboy," "Les Girls," "God's Little Acre," "Pal Joey," "Sayonara," and the Academy Award-winning "Bridge Over the River Kwai."

Correct Posture Week In Texas Is May 1-7

AUSTIN — Correct Posture Week is being observed May 1-7 in more than 300 Texas cities, towns and communities for the ninth straight year with the emphasis this year on early postural distortions.

Dr. R. S. Florence of Tyler, state posture chairman, said more children than adults need spinal examination and posture training, because bad posture habits formed early in life cause distortions that would lead to more serious ailments.

"Young children," he said, "are always the victims of hard falls and bumps. These, naturally, cause many structural misalignments in their bodies."

"Unless these misalignments are found and corrected early in life by periodic spinal checkups, they can lead to the loss of vitality and zest, and ultimately to an ailment, the cause of which may seem totally unrelated, but usually can be traced back to an early spinal distortion."

He called upon parents to set a good example for their children by following good posture rules. "Parents should check upon themselves to avoid passing a bad influence on their children," he said.

Man Who Helped Map C. W. Post's Route Dies In Knox City

John W. (Pappy) Smith, pioneer Knox City resident, who helped C. W. Post in charting a route to Garza County where Post founded the city which bears his name, died Saturday in the Knox County Hospital.

Smith and Post met in Benjamin, the county seat of Knox County, while Post was scouting for a place to locate a new town. After dismissing the Knox area because he feared for a water supply, Smith drew him a map with a route which Post later wrote him he followed precisely.

Mr. Smith opened Knox City's first grocery stores about 1905 and was one of the earliest settlers in the area.

'Between-Crops' Period In Farming Is Time For Weighing Prospects

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture
The "between-crops" period in farming is always a time for weighing prospects both on the farm, at the market place and in the country. Probably even more people have been set to wondering what's in store for them this year, considering unusual weather, uncertain legislation, and nervous economic conditions of which much has been said and little done. Following are a few brief sketches concerning late happenings in agriculture, dealing variously with commodities, weather, economy, and new developments in farm progress.
Wet weather has blessed many and burdened many others. Plains-West Texas wheat prospects look generally good, having already attained enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. This is good news to Texas farmers if not to surplus-minded government chief who have been having some trouble marketing their goods abroad lately. Farther south, in the Rio Grande Valley, farmers are less happy with the weather. Onion harvesting has been seriously delayed, by as much as a month in some cases. During the delay, old-crop onion prices climbed higher in commercial trade.
The recession, along with better supply prospects, is expected to help lower beef prices somewhat from the present healthy level. Some livestock men say prices probably have reached their peak and will gradually drop by as much as 20 per cent by early summer.
Texas poultry processors are keeping an eye on the California state legislature which is considering bills to discourage imported chickens. Although California produces only a fraction of the broilers needed to satisfy the brisk local demand, home growers are fighting hard to keep out Southland competition, not a small part of which is Texas competition. A sample proposed bill would require re-tailed chickens to bear a "date killed" stamp, hinting that shipped-in products become stale in transit.
Hybrid cottons — crosses between older strains which offer higher yields and better quality — are becoming feasible on a larger scale. Researchers say spraying cotton with chemicals produces a no-pollen plant which can be then fertilized with pollen from another variety, resulting in a true hybrid. Hybrid cottons up to now have been possible only through tedious hand-pollination.
