Governor Proclaims 'Golden Jubilee' Day

Sept. 14 Is Designated

Close on the heels this week of announcement of the schedule of events, came a proclamation from Gov. Price Daniel designating Saturday, Sept. 14, as "Post Golden Jubilee Day."

Besides Mrs. Merriweather Post, daughter of C. W. Post, the town's founder, the four-day Jubilee program will present such dignitaries as Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University; Dr. D. M. Wiggins, executive vice-president of Citizens National Bank of Lubbock and former Texas Tech president, and Cong. and Mrs. George Mahon.

Following is the text of the governor's proclamation:

"On Sept. 14, 15, 16 and 17, the City of Post, Texas, will hold its Golden Jubilee Celebration, commemorating fifty years of progress.

"Since 1907, when the city was founded by C. W. Post, Post has served as the county seat of Garza County and as the commercial center of one of Texas' most prosperous agricultural regions.

"The citizens of Post have always demonstrated a high degree of community pride and a willingness to try new ideas. Some of Texas' most valuable experiments in dryland farming, irrigation and the introduction of new crops have been undertaken in Post and Garza County.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate Sept. 14, 1957, as 'Post Golden Jubilee Day in Texas.'"

The Baylor University president will be principal speaker Sunday night at a public worship service at Post Stampede Rodeo arena. Sunday has been designated "Faith of Our Fathers Day." The only other Jubilee activity that day will come at 11:59 a.m. when a delegation from Post will go to Lubbock to greet Mrs. Post upon her arrival by train from New York City.

Dr. Wiggins will make the dedicatory address at 4 p.m. Tuesday at dedication of the C. W. Post statue site on the courthouse lawn. The site will be unveiled by Mrs. Post.

It was announced late Wednesday that George Mahon, the 19th District's representative in the U. S. Congress, and Mrs. Mahon will be here for Saturday's opening parade and other opening day activities.

To set the stage for the four-day celebration, a street dance will be held at 8 p.m. Friday on East Main Street. Also on Friday night, the Post Jubilee Queen and the Duchess of Garza County and their courts will be presented.

Registration of visitors will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday at Hospitality Center in the Garza Theater building. Registration of visitors will be held during the same hours on Monday and Tuesday.

Council Authorizes Measures For Building, Wiring Codes

Building Permit System Also To Be Set Up

Post soon will have building and wiring codes to set up for the first time municipal requirements in both construction and electrical wiring. The city also will add a system of building permits.

The city council at its September session Monday night authorized City Attorney Carleton P. Webb to draw up the ordinances for the building and wiring codes and the establishment of a building permit system.

At the same time, the council unanimously agreed that a zoning ordinance was not needed in Post at the present time. The councilman said that the community is not large enough as yet for a zoning law and all the headaches zoning brings.

The building and electrical codes will have an immediate benefit for local property owners. Mayor James Minor said the codes will cut the key rate on fire insurance here from four to five cents per $100.

City Attorney Webb agreed with the councilmen on their decision against a zoning ordinance. Such an ordinance would protect residential property owners from having businesses started next door or having a feed lot opened across the street. The city at the present time does not regulate the kind of construction in any municipal area.

Mayor Minor points out that he didn't know of other area towns Post's size with zoning ordinances. Zoning creates a real headache for city officials because it brings up lots of touchy zoning problems.

The city's consideration of the telephone rate hike requests of the General Telephone Company now appears headed toward a solution — or at least toward new negotiations.

R. E. Sanders of Lamesa, Gen.

eral Telephone's district manager, and Dusty Kemper of Brownfield, the utility firm's divisional manager, met with the council for some 90 minutes Monday night on the phone rate question.

At the end of the discussion, Mayor Minor promised General Telephone the city would have a "counter proposal" ready to offer at its next meeting.

The phone company is offering to install dial phones here but prior to such installation has requested an interim rate increase to be followed by a second boost when the dial phones are in operation.

The council has contended the See CITY COUNCIL, Page 8

First Week Enrollment Reaches New High Mark

The Post High School building was "bulging at the walls" today and the other two buildings were feeling the effects of the highest first-week enrollment in the history of the local schools.

Total enrollment in the three Post schools, the Graham school and the colored school was 1,134. Enrollment is up by approximately 100 students over enrollment last year at the end of the first six weeks reporting period, Sept. R. K. Green said.

At the close of the first day of school Tuesday, 284 high school students had been enrolled, a gain of approximately 20 over last year's peak enrollment. This year, there are 57 seniors, 49 juniors, 80 sophomores and 98 freshmen. The freshman class is the largest in the school's history.

Junior high school enrollment is 244 — 84 in the 8th grade, 81 in the 7th grade and 79 in the sixth grade.

Elementary school enrollment totals 511. Enrollment by grades is as follows: 5th, 115; 4th, 103; 3rd, 90; 2nd, 81; 1st, 112. There are 10 special students enrolled.

It has been necessary to move two of the fifth grade sections from the elementary to the junior high school building, Green said.

Thirty pupils are enrolled at Graham, where only four grades are being taught this year. The Graham school district was consolidated with Post earlier in the year.

Enrollment at the colored school totals 55. Forty-nine of the students are in grades 1 through 8 and only six in high school.

Although the Garnolia school building has been moved in for use as a colored school, classes started

Lions Completing Plans For Fair

Preparations for the annual Garza County Fair to be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13 and 14, are being completed this week by members of the Post Lions Club, sponsoring organization.

The fair will be held at the usual place, on Avenue H, one and a half blocks south of Main Street. Tents will be erected for livestock, commercial exhibits and concessions. Women's and agricultural exhibits will be shown in the city warehouse across the street southwest of the fairgrounds.

The T. J. Tidwell Shows will be here for both days of the fair, and will continue through Tuesday, the final day of the Golden Jubilee celebration.

The divisions of the fair include: individual agriculture exhibits; junior livestock; poultry; women's department and youth division.

The livestock exhibits will include calves and pigs shown by 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members. Most of the animals will be shown later this month in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock, and in October at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Victor Hodman is chairman of the Lions Club's county fair committee.

Prospects are good for outstanding exhibits in both the livestock and agriculture divisions, according to county Extension Service agents.

Cotton, Feed Crops Are Needing Rain

Cotton and grain crops are looking good, but needing rain, County Agent Lewis C. Herron said today.

Sunday's rain, which measured 34 of an inch in Post, was not general over the county. None of the areas getting rain received more than half an inch.

The agent said rain measuring from 20 to 30 of an inch fell Tuesday near Grassland.

Cotton is opening in dryland fields where there has not been much moisture. Generally, the crop is about three weeks late, Herron said.

Many farmers are poisoning insect infestations, with leafworms doing the most damage.

Some grain harvesting is under way now, with full scale harvesting expected in about two weeks, the agent said.

Juvenile Laws Fitted With 'Teeth'

We see it as likely that the two statutes strengthening laws governing juvenile crimes in Texas will do more toward solving the problem than anything else tried in the last few years.

The first makes parents of children from 10 to 18 financially responsible up to $300 for property damaged as a result of malicious and willful destruction of property by their offspring.

The second new law provides for stricter enforcement of traffic violations involving juvenile drivers between 14 and 18.

The property damage law provides that injured parties can bring a civil suit for recovery of damages against the parent or parents of the juvenile.

Officials say the suit, if seeking $200 or less would be filed in justice of the peace court. If the suit seeks damages of more than $200, the case would be filed in county court.

The traffic violation law provides that juvenile drivers will be subject to much the same regulations as adults. Prior to the enactment of the new statute, juveniles could be prosecuted only for speeding, driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

Violations for which juveniles can be prosecuted in the new law, in addition to these three, include failure to grant right of way, running stop signs, following another motor vehicle too closely, no passing in school zones and for having defective brakes or lights.

Juveniles accused of any of those offenses can be charged as adults in justice of the peace court and fined from $50 to $100. The law provides that the court can suspend a juvenile's right to drive until the fine is paid.

Officials say a juvenile convicted of driving without a license under such suspension can be jailed, however, pending payment of fines.

To sum it up, the Legislature's action puts teeth into our property damage and traffic violation laws. We understand that our state legislators received a raft of mail urging passage of the statutes. This mail came from organizations as well as individuals, and one of the groups urging passage of the statutes was the Business & Professional Women's Club of Post.

The B&PW Club and all other organizations and individuals who urged the legislators to pass these measures deserve commendation. As we said before, it appears to be the biggest step taken in recent years to help put a halt to our alarming juvenile delinquency problem.—CD

Post's Big Show Is Drawing Near

Post's big show is now but little than a week away.

From here, and now, it looks as if the Golden Jubilee will be the well-rounded success its many enthusiastic supporters have been working so hard and so well to make it.

The many-sided promotion is on schedule in almost every instance. Virtually everybody who has been called upon to contribute their abilities and energies have generously responded.

General Foods Corporation has been a sizable contribution out of the desire to have a party if wanted—in the celebration which will honor C. W. Post, founder of its gigantic food business.

Mrs. Merriweather Post will host a free barbecue for Garza County with food enough for 5,000 people. That, in itself, is a tremendous undertaking.

The historic pageant, "Caprock Cavalcade," should be a smash success. A cast of 350 home folks will stage the production and have been working several weeks on it.

The parade on Saturday will be a humdinger. The TV stations will have their cameramen here for the occasion.

Mrs. Merriweather Post of course will be the headliner for Post's Jubilee. The daughter of the town's founder is making a special trip to Post from the East to participate in the many festivities of the celebration. She will be introduced at the barbecue and meet many of her old friends there and on Tuesday afternoon will dedicate the site for a life-sized statue of her father, C. W. Post, on the courthouse lawn. The statue will be an expensive gift from Mrs. Post to this community.

Next week is going to be a busy week indeed. The home football season also will open on Friday night and the Lions club will sponsor their annual Garza County Free Fair on Friday and Saturday.

With the preparations virtually made, the time is fast approaching when it will be time for the community and area to get into the celebrating mood and thoroughly enjoy the big jubilee.

The tremendous effort which has been expended by local citizens to make the coming Jubilee a smash success is a good indication that Post is not only a town with a wonderful past, it is a town of livewire boosters which has a bright future ahead.—JC

You'll Give To Nine At Once—Not One

Every effort is being made in the present planning stage to make Garza County's late fall Community Chest drive a financial success.

Too much cannot be said in behalf of the united Chest effort.

Staging a financial drive is a major undertaking which requires the donated efforts of dozens of business men who must take that time from their businesses in the community's behalf.

The wonderful thing about a Chest drive is that it unites all the various financial campaigns usually scattered throughout the year into a "one package" promotion which raises the money for all these organizations at once.

Nine organizations seeking funds have joined this county's united campaign. That means instead of nine drives, we have only one.

The trouble with the Community Chest promotion is that most people would give several times more money if they were asked by nine separate contributions. They fail to realize that their Community Chest contribution is going to be divided among nine organizations.

It is on this single point—and this point only—that the Chest drive still needs a "hard selling" by its supporters.

If people will give as much to the one Chest drive as they would to the nine separate drives, the Chest budget would easily be subscribed.

There is plenty of time before the Chest workers start their canvass of the county. But keep in mind please that you will be giving to nine organizations at one time—not just to one.

The Success Of Our Service Clubs

The amazing growth of the various service clubs which are rapidly spreading throughout the world indicates that these organizations meet a need that exists among men everywhere.

The people of Post and Garza County should not dismiss the Rotarians, Lions or other groups from their minds with the curt thought that they represent only an association of men eating together.

There is much more to the Club idea than this. True enough, the meal hour is taken as the time for busy men to get together to enjoy the company of other men. Through regular association the members widen the circle of their friends which, standing alone, is worth what the clubs cost.

More than the formation of friendship, however, attends such group associations. Gradually comes the consciousness of other duties to be performed in life, including an appreciation of civic obligations and the contribution that each individual must make, through personal application, to the great problems that surround any growing municipality.

There is a broader understanding of human problems and the growth of tolerance through mutual esteem. The clubs work, almost miraculously, to create good feeling and friendly cooperative effort for common goals. This is not the labored act of directed puppets, but the genuine expression of a feeling of brotherhood that is dormant in so many human hearts.

Here then, we believe, is an avenue for progress, a vehicle for personal advancement and the power for moving a community along the right direction.

Clipped Quips From Other Newspapers

Congressional economy advocates have come up with a startling answer to the argument that the budget can't be cut without impairing the national defense. At the New Deal peak in 1940, they point out, cost of the Federal government per person was $69; today non-defense costs alone are at an all-time peak of $148 per person.—Santa Paula, Calif., Daily Chronicle.

Owners of dogs have an obligation not only to their families and neighbors, but to the pets themselves. First, most dogs kept in town are pets either for children or grownups. Most hunting dogs are penned except when in the field. Owners should think enough of their children to see that their dogs are properly cared for, if you have a pet and want to keep it, you had better make provisions to keep it penned.—Carlsbad, N. M., Current-Argus.

Every hour of the day and night $5,600 worth of property goes up in flames, due to the misuse of electricity. This is the estimate of the Committee on Statistics and Origin of Fires of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which reports further that this $51 million annual loss is going up, not down.—Rector, Ark., Democrat.

The democratic tradition was strong in Poland long before it had followers in most European countries. Although nominally a monarchy, it was ruled by elected kings, not men who attained royal rank by no better right than that of inheritance.—Tempe, Ariz., Daily News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE OLD BELIEF that company brings rain doesn't always pan out, but it did Sunday. Our oldest son, who has just finished basic Army training at Fort Polk, La., arrived Sunday with our daughter and son-in-law from Denton, and they hadn't much more than got here until the skies opened up and the rain poured down.

Our next door neighbors, the Hap Perrins, also have a houseful of company, so maybe there's something to the old saying, after all. Company is always welcome, especially when it's your children, and when they "bring" rain along with them they're more than welcome.

AND THAT'S OUR weather note for the week.

The earliest pioneer display put up for the Golden Jubilee celebration is the one at the Pioneer Natural Gas Company office, where Dick and Gladys Wood, Bo Olson, and Jack Samson have gone all out to gather and display an interesting collection of relics.

THE MAIN ATTRACTION in the gas office display is a 60-year-old organ owned by Mrs. Wood, who played "Sidewalks of New York" and a few bars of other songs when we dropped around Friday to take a picture of the collection. Just inside the door is a small, old-time stove, which you might have known Dick would have on hand to set off the new stoves.

Mrs. R. H. Rogers has furnished a number of items in the display. One of the most interesting of these is a dictionary printed in 1806 and in which the "s" letters are made like the letter "f". There are also a number of old-time elaborately bound family photograph albums brought by Mrs. Rogers.

ANOTHER ITEM IS a violin, reputed to be a genuine Stradivarius made in 1730. When we hinted to Dick that we doubted if the violin was a genuine "Strad," he showed us the trade-mark and year of manufacture on the inside of the instrument. Boo Olson, an accomplished musician, declined to take sides in the issue.

We talked Jack Samson into posing with a stone-cutter's hammer which his father, "The Scotchman," brought from Scotland. The hammer is over 100 years old and has been handed down from father to son for four generations.

ALSO IN THE display are a bread tray and rolling pin more than 200 years old; an old-time shoe last furnished by N. C. Outlaw; an ale set—pitcher and mugs—brought from Scotland by Mrs. George Samson; a coal scuttle, iron teakettle and Civil War gun, all owned by John Wallace; an ancient clock; a 50-year-old coffee grinder, owned by Outlaw; a stereoscope and slides furnished by Weaver Moreman; a kerosene lamp owned by Mrs. C. B. Everett; a woman's side saddle, old plates and pottery, and other items.

If a number of other business places can get together displays on the same scale as the one at the gas office, then it'll be a regular show just to walk around from place to place and look them over.

GOING FROM THE old to the new, General Telephone Company of the Southwest has just distributed the new Post telephone directories. A quick look shows that the first name in the book is Leo M. Acker and the last name is William Zetman. That's the way it's been for the last several years, but there are a number of listings in between those two names which were not in last year's directory.

One reason we're glad to see the new directory is because there are several new numbers we frequently call and for which we've been having to ask "Information, Please" to furnish us the numbers. These include Dispatch Publisher Jim Cornish; O. A. Madison, with whom we frequently get together in regard to pictures, and the Resident Highway Engineer's office, where we pick up an occasional news story via telephone.

THANKS TO Perry Graham of Lipan, Tex., for making available a first edition of The Post City Post. Perry sent the paper to Walter Duckworth in connection with the Golden Jubilee and Walter left it with us. Stockton Henry was the paper's first editor, and it contains a number of interesting early-day items which you'll read more about in our Sept. 12 Golden Jubilee edition.

One of the old paper's column fillers which gave us a chuckle read: "Hitch to The Post City Post—One Year, One Dollar."

Frank Bean, assistant airport manager, asked him if he was a former paratrooper, and he said that he wasn't but that he had made a jump or two before. Unable to get anyone to take him up or loan him a parachute, he gave up and left.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I am a Korea veteran eligible for GI training. I recently returned to active duty, and as a result will be unable to start training when my starting deadline arrives. Could the deadline be postponed in my case?

A. No. Under the law, veterans must begin Korean GI training before their deadline, which is three years from date of discharge. There are no exceptions.

Q. How do I go about changing the beneficiaries on my GI insurance policy?

A. Get a "Change of Beneficiary" form at any VA office. Fill it out, sign it, and send it to the VA district office where you pay your premiums. Or you may simply write the district office a letter, listing your beneficiaries. In writing, be sure to give your full name, address and insurance number.

Q. I understand that a disabled Korea veteran continues to receive subsistence payments for two months after he has been declared rehabilitated. What if he stops training before he is completely rehabilitated? Will he also get subsistence payments for two months afterwards?

A. No. The extra subsistence payments are made only after rehabilitation has been completed. They will not be made if a veteran stops training beforehand.

Q. I am planning to start school this fall under the Korean GI Bill. How can I find out whether the course I want to take is GI-approved?

A. Your VA regional office maintains a list of GI-approved courses. This information is not available at VA headquarters in Washington, D. C.

WAYS MEET in this gigantic interchange in Detroit, a part of the freeway system which could carry some of the Motor City's auto-riding populace to rural safety. Although civil engineers show that COMPLETE evacuation of large cities after a likely attack is not generally feasible under today's conditions, a big start toward more evacuation capacity is being made in urban freeway construction under the new National Interstate Highway program. She is active in FHA, being vice-president for 1957-58, she was secretary of the Library and Spanish clubs and of the Sophomore Class last year. She is active in church work. Ocean Crossing, English Scenery Described By Former Post Woman

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of several articles written for The Dispatch by Marion Evans Duncan, who with her husband, Capt. Charles William Duncan, United States Air Force, is now living overseas.)

By MARION EVANS DUNCAN
Billy and I watched the Statue of Liberty fade in the distance. It was Sept. 9, 1955, and we were leaving the United States, and also making our first ocean voyage. Soon the lost lonely feeling was gone and our days were filled with fun and anticipation of what lay ahead.

Nine days later we landed at Southampton, England, at a most advantageous time. The sun was shining and it stayed warm and sunny for our drive across England to our new home in Grappenhall, a suburb of Warrington. Crossing England was much like our studies in History coming to life; or reliving some story with its setting in England. The English country side is beautiful — laid out like a patchwork quilt — with either rock fences or hedgerows separating the small plots of land. We stopped as we crossed the Thames River at Oxford and watched the graceful white swans floating down the river.

Many things in England, though centuries old, were new to us: the steamrollers repairing roads, power driven by hand shoveled coke; buying bacon, eggs, and bread at the local post office; driving on the left hand side of the street; the chimney sweep; and last but not least learning to bank a fire in a very old fireplace.

As we were only in England four months, we are glad now we took advantage of each Sunday to see a different part of the country. One of the most interesting places we visited was Chester, a mediaeval city, still visited for its Roman Walls. The walls are well preserved with unique shops built at the base of the walls that have as their ceilings the heavy beams holding up the wall.

Before Christmas we learned we were to leave for North Africa soon after the New Year. We spent the days after Christmas visiting my cousin, Maj. J. W. Stevens, and family. While there we had time to see some of the most interesting things in London. As time was limited we took two sightseeing tours. We saw Piccadilly Circus, St. James Palace, Buckingham Palace, Grosvenor Square, Hyde Park, the House of Parliament, Ye Old Curiosity Shoppe, Fleet Street, and Big Ben. We visited the interior of Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, and the Tower of London. The Tower of London is not only famous for its noted historical prisoners but also kept here are the precious jewels of England including the crowns worn by each queen.

St. Paul's Cathedral was built in 1710. Its carvings and paintings are of such enormous size and so beautiful that they are breathtaking. Westminster Abbey is the setting for all of England's historical ceremonies.

I cannot leave England without saying we found these quiet and sincere people to be among the finest neighbors we have ever had. (To Be Continued Next Week)

ROGER BABSON'S AUTHENTIC STATEMENT

Shopping Centers Fast Coming To Front On American Scene

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Merchants ask me as to the future of Shopping Centers. My answer is that each must be judged on its own possibilities according to location, surroundings, and "backbone." They also ask whether we are facing either World War III or Disarmament.
The first requirement is that each one must have a strong backbone or core in the form of a large, successful, and well-known department store or supermarket. The second requirement is that each Shopping Center should be able to support itself on the suburban development surrounding it. The third requirement is that it must be well financed.
Certainly the well-established downtown stores of nearby cities must wake up. These new Shopping Centers are started and operated by active young men. Too many of the leading stores in adjoining cities are coasting on the past work and policies of a father or grandfather. These older "Main Street" stores are also now benefiting from valuable locations selected years ago. But good locations are not permanent. Every city is slowly growing in some one direction. The most valuable downtown "four corners" is gradually moving. Even good will is temporary. The founder of the business could always be found (excuse the pun) at his store, but his children and grandchildren have too often "gone out to lunch" or are at some cocktail party.
Some Shopping Centers are profitable because of the jealousies, stupidities, and shortsightedness of the nearby local city governments. Different councilmen selfishly favor different sections. As a result, nothing is done until the Shopping Center draws business away from all sections.

As all merchants are dependent upon the production of the consumers of their community, so every consumer is dependent upon these merchants. These merchants are the life blood of all. If the stores are profitable, every citizen should be prosperous. If there are many vacant stores, then the entire community will suffer. I hope that no newspaper editor will say: "But this does not apply to us. We are too small." Let me reply that my comments are more important to the small communities because they can now avoid the trouble from which the larger cities are suffering, plus possible Fallout threats.
The automobiles may be robbing your city of money by sending away so much money collected for cars and gasoline. These automobiles demand parking privileges. If parking space is not provided, they can block traffic, handicap productive industry, and choke every other business. Small cities and towns have not yet suffered from this economic blight; but it is on its way. Every community will some day surely suffer from lack of parking space unless a courageous and farsighted local government now grapples with the problem.
Until the parking problem is solved, merchants should be given some relief from taxation. Merchants are the veins through which the blood of the city flows from producer to consumer.
The most practical way for communities to lick Shopping Centers is to capitalize the evenings and encourage stores to keep open longer. Every live merchant should keep his store fully lighted throughout the evening. Next to good newspaper advertising, bright lights are the best "fertilizer" for merchants to use.
Some readers believe that old-fashioned two-and-three-story office buildings may be demolished and our business streets may consist only of modern, one-story buildings without a basement. I don't believe this. I believe that the second and third stories will be developed into apartments for ambitious clerks who work in the stores below or nearby. These clerks will be responsible for their respective stores for the evening, perhaps up to midnight. In Europe many successful bankers and merchants themselves live over their stores and are available at any time, day or night.

Method Is Changed In Reporting Wages For Farm Workers

Farmers and ranchers and other employers of agricultural workers, such as cotton gin operators, are reminded by John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration, of some changes in the method of reporting the wages of their employees.
In 1957, agricultural work is covered by social security if either: (1) cash wages of $150 or more are paid to a worker by his employer during the year; or (2) regardless of the amount of wages are figured on a time basis.
The total covered wages of farm workers are reported only once a year, in January for the preceding year to the Director of Internal Revenue. Mr. Hutton added that if employers keep an accurate record of the name, the social security number, and the amount of wages paid to each worker that will be all the information needed to complete this annual social security report.

Hazardous Substances' Law Fights The Sale Of Poisons

Texas' new "hazardous substances" law is now in effect, restricting the sale of many poisons. The law is designed to protect the public health by requiring that all hazardous substances be properly labeled and that their sale be restricted to those who are qualified to handle them.

Violations are punishable by a $1,000 fine or a year imprisonment or both.

Specifically exempt are products manufactured exclusively to be exported, soap or soap products, or products coming under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission.

The attorney general has ruled that city and county health officers have authority to take legal action against violators in their jurisdiction if requested to do so by the state commissioner of health.

Crosbyton Making Celebration Plans

Three Crosbyton citizens met here recently with Paul Haagen of the John B. Rogers Producing Co. concerning the possibility of the company producing Crosbyton's 50th anniversary celebration next year.

Those meeting with Haagen were Tillman Reeves and Hubert Curry, co-chairmen of the Crosbyton celebration committee, and Buford Duff, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Haagen, who is here directing plans for Post's Golden Jubilee, agreed to go to Crosbyton to make a survey of the costs of producing the celebration.

Combat Training Over For Marvin Broomhall

Marine Pvt. Marvin W. Broomhall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sproles of Post, has just finished four weeks of individual combat training at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The course included the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

LITTLE WOMAN

Little girls seem to be "natural-born" little women, right from the start.

Laura washes for her dollies just as seriously as if she were tending a "real-life" family. She likes to bake tiny cakes and cookies too, and she has her own way of enforcing discipline when her dollies are "naughty."

Sometimes I'm amazed by her, even if I am her mother. And I am awed at the way God fashioned little girls, so that from the beginning they seem to sense that one day they will be mothers themselves.

When I take Laura to Church with me, she's such a little lady, demure and yet amazingly intent for one her age. I look at her. I see one of God's miracles, and I marvel anew. Watching a child grow is a perpetual lesson in Faith.

Sometimes after Church Laura lines her dolls up on a bench. She tells me that "the dollies are in church,"—and I don't feel in the least like chucking at her childish antics. Rather, I am grateful.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. These are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Real Contest Shapes Postings— Up In Queen's Race

Second-week standings in the Post Jubilee Queen contest, compiled at noon Tuesday, show Loveta Josey still in the lead. Nita Terry has climbed a notch in the standings, going from third to second, just ahead of Deborah McDonald. Gloria Cockrell is fourth, Barbara Wheatley fifth and Jane Terry sixth.

Other contestants in the order of their standings at noon Tuesday are: Joyce Josey, Linda Livingston, Leslie Nichols, Gwen Copple, Lucy Trammell, Doris Jean Ramsey, Mozelle Edwards, Barbara Babb, Linda Bilberry, Patsy Fumagalli, Sandra Ray and Mary Lou Stone.

Tuesday is the last day purchasers of "Caprock Cavalcade" tickets can save one-third on the purchase price. After that date, price of the tickets will be $1.50 and $2.

All advance sale coupons purchased from queen contestants must be exchanged for admission tickets at Jubilee headquarters in the Garza Theater building.

In exchanging coupons for admission tickets, the purchaser will receive a ticket for the particular night he wishes to attend. The exchanges may be made between 1 p. m. and 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

Reserve seat tickets will be exchanged for one advance sale coupon plus 50 cents. Otherwise, the advance sale coupons will be exchanged for general admission tickets.

The "Caprock Cavalcade" stage is up at the rodeo arena. Scenery and other materials have arrived, and wiring will be completed within the next day or two, according to Cavalcade director Paul Haagen.

Garza County Girls Enter 4-H Records

Six Garza County girls have entered their 4-H Club records in state contests. Miss Jessie Pearce, county home demonstration agent, announces.

Those entering records are: Ruth Ann Long, clothing achievement; Jessie Carolyn Ward, poultry; Linda Livingston, girls home economics; Patricia Wheatley, leadership; Karen McGehee, achievement; and Beatrice Kiesel, Santa Fe award.

All of these records will be judged on a district basis, the highest scoring record being sent to the state 4-H office to be judged against those for the other districts.

Some of these contests, the agent said, earn trips to the National 4-H Congress on a state basis and some on a regional basis. "At any rate," Miss Pearce said, "there are awards for the girls who have done club work that is of sufficient amount and quality to warrant their being chosen winner on a county, state or regional basis."

Pioneers Will Be Awarded Plaques

All residents of Post who were living here Dec. 31, 1907, or before will be awarded plaques at a ceremony at 1:30 p. m. Monday, Sept. 16, during Pioneer Day of the Post Golden Jubilee.

The ceremony will be held at Antelope Stadium with the awards being presented by Mrs. Merriweather Post and George "Scotty" Samson, chairman of the old-timers committee.

In addition to the plaques to all pioneer residents qualifying for one, special plaques will be awarded the following: Oldest male resident; oldest female resident; person attending Jubilee from farthest distance; oldest resident married couple.

Water District Group Is At Work On WR Project

A special sub-committee of the White River Municipal Water District is busy determining if the $4,000,000 dam project can qualify under flood control and irrigation for direct federal aid.

The sub-committee, consisting of Marvin McLaughlin of Rails, C.A. Lodal of Crosbyton, and R. J. (Rube) Jennings, went to Fort Worth Wednesday.

They were scheduled to meet with officials in the U. S. Corps of Engineers office in Fort Worth in an effort to interest the engineers in earmarking some federal funds for White River flood control.

The three also were to see H.W. Sindt, regional administrator of the federal board of reclamation, over the possibility of qualifying the White River project for federal aid via irrigation.

Jennings told The Dispatch that federal laws now provide for out-right federal grants on water projects qualifying under flood control and irrigation.

He said Cong. George Mahon is now hard at work in efforts to secure federal aid for the municipal water project of the four towns.

The sub-committee was due to return home sometime Thursday afternoon.

Last week they went to San Angelo to find out details of the methods used to qualify the San Angelo water project for $11,000,000 in direct federal aid.

They termed what they found out on this trip "encouraging." Senator Lyndon Johnson also has been contacted on the proposal, according to Jennings, who expects to hear from the senator in the next few days.

Domino Parlor And Auto Firm Are Broken Into

Weekend break-ins occurred at the Post Auto Supply, 114 South Avenue 1, and Joe's Domino Parlor on East Main.

Nothing was reported missing from the auto firm, but about $1.50 in nickels and pennies were stolen at the domino parlor. The nickels were taken from a cold drink dispenser and the pennies from a cash register.

Three restroom windows were broken at Post Auto Supply. At the domino parlor, entrance was gained through a rear door.

Premiums Offered For First Bales

Again this year, $50 premiums will be paid by the Post Chamber of Commerce for the first bale of plains cotton and the first bale of breaks cotton ginned in Garza County.

Directors voted at a meeting Tuesday to continue the custom of paying first bale premiums. It was decided, however, that bales weighing less than 500 pounds will not qualify for the premiums.

In other action, the directors discussed the city building and wiring codes they have recommended and went on record as thanking the City of Post for (1) securing a traffic light at the intersection of the Snyder and Tahoka highways; (2) erecting stop signs on Main and other streets, and (3) making it possible for additional street lighting.

The directors heard a report from City Councilman Powell Shytles on the council's action Monday in authorizing ordinances for building and wiring codes.

Directors attending Tuesday's meeting were Bryan J. Williams, Chant Lee, Lowell Short, John N. Hopkins, George Samson, Harold Voss and Lee Ward. Also present were Shytles and Fritz Greenfield, C. of C. secretary.

City Council—

hikes sought are too high and that the utility firm should put in the dial phones before being given any rate increase.

Two officials of the Southwestern Public Service Co., the electrical utility firm, also appeared before the council with a rate request.

Ted Hibbs, Southwestern Public Service manager, and Kenneth Brown of Lubbock, the utility firm's district engineer, explained the company did not want to raise rates but merely to consolidate its commercial rate schedule in Post.

The schedule now has 11 different commercial rates. The firm wants to reduce these for economy purposes. Such a consolidation would bring a slightly higher rate for others.

Overall, Hibbs told the council, the effect of the rate consolidation would be to cut his firm's commercial rate charges here approximately one per cent. He pointed out, however, that the company would effect considerable bookkeeping economies and would materially reduce its present investment in electric meters. Some business firms here now have several meters which must be read and recorded individually.

With a commercial rate consolidation, Hibbs explained, no firm would need over a single meter thus cutting down the company's work and investment.

No action was taken on the consolidation request.

The council voted to extend both water and sewer facilities to the new Westgate housing addition in the northwestern part of the city.

Bryan J. Williams, who is promoting the new addition of 15 homes, was asked by the city council to make a deposit of $150 per housing site for the installation of the new service as required by present city policy.

The city already has the material on hand for the water and sewer extensions. The work will cost the city between $4,000 and $5,000.

In another action, the city leased the Little League baseball park from the Post Estate interests at no cost. Purpose of the lease was to give the city control of the recreational area.

The council also discussed the joint purchase with the county of a hot-topping machine at a cost of about $4,000. Such a machine would save the municipality considerable in seal coating local streets. Councilmen estimated the city could pay for its share of the machine in a single year from savings on sealing which is now let by contract to private firms. The city paid some $7,000 to seal 30 blocks of city pavement this year.

Cucumber And Peach Pickles Popular, But Have You Tried Making Others?

By JESSIE PEARCE
Home Demonstration Agent
All of you have made cucumber pickles and maybe peach pickles, but have you ever tried making other types of pickles? If not, this may be the year you want to try. There is a good local supply of vegetables, and fruits are coming into the local markets, so get out your favorite pickle recipes and start making some treats for your family that they are not accustomed to having.
A pickle that you may not have tried is okra, or green beans: You wouldn't want these delicacies every day, but for a change they are very good. Recipes for both of these are available at my office.
You may be the peach pickle expert in your neighborhood, but have you ever tried pickled pears? They are delicious.
Let's think about every day meal subjects, also. The one that I hear complained about more often than anything, other than the price of milk, is meat. Just remember that any cut of meat can be tender and appetizing if properly prepared. This means cheaper cuts of meat as well as T-bone steak of a prime carcass. That phrase "properly prepared" is the key to the whole preparation problem.

Here are some things to remember when cooking meat. All meats should be cooked at low temperatures. This retains the juices and flavor, cuts down on shrinkage, and assures tenderness.
Another thing to remember is that the tender cuts may be cooked in dry heat, but moist heat is necessary to cook the less tender cuts. The loin cuts are the tender ones. All other parts of the beef carcass should be cooked in moist heat.
Grade also has much to do with the method of meat cookery. The highest grades are required to make a good broiled steak or dry roast. These are the U. S. Choice

EXPLOSIVE CATCH

PORT HURON, Mich.—Larry Yarach dipped his minnow net in the St. Clair River and came up with 26 sticks of dynamite, some with detonating caps attached, and some top Good. The Standard and Commercial grades always need to be cooked in moist heat regardless of the cut. Remember when buying meat that the lower grades and less tender cuts are usually cheapest and are just as good if cooked properly.

WRITES ESSAY AS COURT 'PENALTY'

Justiceburg Woman Has Number Of Reasons For Wanting To Move Here

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following essay was written by Mrs. Mason Justice as her penalty after being "convicted" in Post's Golden Jubilee kangaroo court).

WHY I WANT TO MOVE TO POST

By SKEETER JUSTICE

As many advantages for moving to Post as I will be permitted to write in 250 words will be listed in the following passages.

After considerable thought, I believe that the greatest advantage, if I moved to Post, would be that I could read the Post Dispatch on Thursday instead of having to wait until Friday. Our papers come by mail on Friday morning.

Since the passenger train does not come to a full stop in Justiceburg, it is necessary for me to drive to Post to board it when I leave on one of my many trips to various places. (My friends know how often I have to catch it).

A new bathing suit would be in line if I lived in Post. I could even buy a new one every year without feeling that I was being extravagant. In Justiceburg we just use tank suits for swimming.

In Post I could buy International money orders. In Justiceburg we sell only Domestic money orders.

Because I have learned of the early rising of so many of my friends and acquaintances in Post, I feel that it would certainly be a huge step forward in learning to rise early and get my work done before 6 a.m. as they claim to do.

My last reason for wanting to move to Post is that I could buy more gasoline to make trips back to Justiceburg and the tax would not only benefit the City of Post but the state as well.

Cost-Price Squeeze Been Around So Long It Is No Longer News

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture

The story of the cost-price squeeze on the nation's farmers has gradually slipped from the front pages of the newspapers. It has been an economic reality so long that it just doesn't seem news anymore.

But it is still with the farmers, just the same. Somehow, the charts and graphs of rising prices and falling farm prices just doesn't have the same dramatic impact—except to those who are suffering from its effects.

Eliminating the cold charts for a moment, here's what it means to its victims!

Five years ago, it took 951 bushels of wheat at $2.06 a bushel to buy a 20-29 tractor at $1,960. Today, it takes 1,130 bushels at the prevailing price of $1.91 to buy that same tractor at the current cost of $2,160. This represents 179 more bushels of wheat the farmer must raise to get that tractor.

Here are a few more startling examples.

CORN: In 1952, 147 bushels at $1.73 bought a 2 bottom plow at $255. Today it takes 214 bushels at $1.22 for the same plow at $262, or 67 more bushels.

RYE: 1952, 866 bushels at $1.72 for a combine at $1,490. Today, 1,528 bushels at $1.04 for the combine at $1,590, or 662 more bushels.

MILK: 1952, 447 cwt. at $4.38 for a two-ton truck at $1,960. Today, 744 cwt. at $3.84 for the truck at $2,860 or an increase of 297 cwt., amounting to 2,650 more gallons.

MILK COWS: 1952, seven head at $254 to buy that $2,960 two-ton truck. Today, 17 head at $163 for that truck now costing $2,860, or 10 more head.

EGGS: 1952, 390 dozen at $0.338 for a wringer-type electric washer at $132. Today, 562 dozen at $0.249 for same washer now costing $140, an increase of 72 dozen.

These few figures bring home the fact that the farmer must produce a great deal more at a reduced price to buy commodities which have increased in cost. It shows better than any chart how inflation combines with steadily falling farm prices to put a strangling squeeze on our farmers.

Calf Scramble Set As Fair Attraction

A rough and tumble "Maverick" calf scramble has been added to the list of Rural Youth Day attractions on opening day at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 5-30.

Sponsored by the Dallas Morning News and Radio-TV Stations WFAA, the scramble will pit 30 selected Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys in competition for 15 calves. The event will take place in the livestock pavilion.

The 30 youngsters who will participate in the scramble are being selected by the sponsors in a contest which opened Sunday, Sept. 1, and will close Sept. 22. Director of the scramble is Murray Cox, radio farm director of WFAA. Fred Pass, agriculture editor of the Dallas Morning News is assistant director. "One of the calves will be secretly selected as the "Maverick" calf," Mr. Cox said. The boy who successfully breeds Hereford calf will be awarded a certificate toward purchase of a beef animal to feed on the Club or FFA project. Awards of cowboy hats to the 15 youngsters who place in the scramble. Personalities invited to honor at the scramble include Daniel of Texas, James Garner, star of TV show, Maverick.

SPORTS

Spur Bulldogs And Matador To Play

The Spur Bulldogs, defending champions of District 2-AA, open their 1957 football season in a non-conference game at Matador Friday night.

Coach Bill Henry's eleven once again is paced by one of those typical Spur lines — big, beefy and rugged.

All-district tackle Randall Gilcrease, 190 pounds, and senior letterman tackle David Morgan, at 205, are the bulwarks of the forward wall. Both are returning lettermen.

Heading the backfield will be talented quarterback Kenneth Gilcrease, rangy 175-pound junior letterman. Possible starters are the halfback positions are Alan Kissinger, 160-pound junior letterman; Glen Hairgrove, 155-pound senior letterman, and Ray Powell, 155-pound senior letterman.

The Spur and Post teams are scheduled to tangle Oct. 25 at Spur.

EACH TEAM SCORES THREE TIMES

Post And Coahoma Match TD's In Practice Scrimmage Here

The Post Antelopes and Coahoma matched touchdowns—three apiece—here Saturday evening in a practice scrimmage.

After the visitors had had two offensive tries, the Antelopes drew first blood after quarterback Noel Don Norman completed a long pass to halfback Forrest Claborn on the Coahoma five-yard line. One smash at the line brought the TD.

Minutes later, Coahoma scored the first six-pointer, also on a pass play, then went one touchdown up on the Antelopes by scoring on a 10-yard jaunt around Post's left end.

The Antelopes scored their second counter when halfback Jerry Windham scampered 50 yards after being shook loose by good blocking on an end run. After Coahoma had made their third TD, Windham got loose on another touchdown run, this time on a 65-yard jaunt.

Running from the single wing, Coahoma flashed a powerful ground game which at times ripped big holes in the Antelopes' light line. Generally, however, the Post forward wall stiffened when its goal line was threatened.

The long runs by Windham, Norman's passing and the defensive play of Sammy Martin, Arlon Ford, Leland Edwards and Louis Holly were some of the bright spots in the Antelopes' performance.

Game Law Digests Now Being Printed

AUSTIN—A half million copies of the new game law digest are now being printed and will be ready for distribution within a few days, according to the director of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission.

This little handbook will cover the general laws pertaining to hunting and fishing. There is a digest supplement which will give information about areas under regulatory authority and also the migratory bird laws for the 1957-58 season.

Whirlwinds Open With Wellington

The Floydada Whirlwinds of District 2-AA entertain the Wellington Skyrockets, in the midst of another rebuilding year, play the Post Antelopes here Nov. 1 in a conference game.

Coach Preston Watson reports that he has 14 experienced lettermen back from last year's team, which won three, lost six and tied one.

One of the returning lettermen is rangy Ronnie Downing, 163-pound senior quarterback and an all-district selection last year.

Other lettermen returning include Grant Cooper, 170-pound senior fullback; Gary Huckabay and Frank Potts, halfbacks; Buttons Beedy and Bill Patterson, ends; Danny Shipley, tackle; Ronnie Vickers and Bill Gilliland, guards, and Vaughn Ginn, center.

Tahoka Bulldogs Open Grid Campaign Friday Night Against Plains

The District 2-AA Tahoka Bulldogs open their 1957 football campaign at Plains Friday night against the Class A Cowboys.

Football fortunes for the Bulldogs are said to be on the upgrade this season after a rather rocky campaign in 1956. Tahoka plays Post at Tahoka Nov. 8 in a district contest.

Coach Bill Harlan has 10 lettermen back. Four of these returnees were offensive starters last season and one was a starter on the defensive unit.

The returning lettermen are ends Jay Gurley, Jerry Brown and Donald Williams; tackle John Hegli; guards James Adams and Vergie Hicks; center Jerry Adams; quarterback Karl Prohl and halfbacks Richard Brooks and Billy Tomlinson.

Two new ends this season will be Donald Farish, 165 pounds, and Larry Hammit, 160 pounds. Both are seniors.

SOME PICK THEM TO WIN STATE TITLE Favored Lockney Longhorns Open Season Friday At Hale Center

The favorite's role in the 1957 District 2-AA football race has been given to the Lockney Longhorns, who open at Hale Center Friday night against the Class A Owls, who are always tough.

At the recent coaching school in Dallas, many observers predicted that Lockney would win the state AA championship, but out in this part of the country such a prediction seems a mite far-fetched.

Coach Rudy Halle says the Longhorns don't even look like a district championship team now.

"They should have picked Spur to win the district," Halle said. "They beat us real bad last year and have a lot of the same boys back."

Halle lost only an end, a center and a fullback from last season's crackerjack eleven, but top replacements have plugged-up these holes.

Not a team on the South Plains has as many star performers returning. Of the eight starters who are back this season, seven were all-district selections.

Rugged Johnny Hanft, all-district as an offensive tackle and as a linebacker, may be the state's top linebacker this season. He weighs 185 and is a senior.

Also in the speedy Longhorn backfield will be Jerry Williams, 150-pound senior, and Cliff Hardy, also a 150-pound senior. They were members of Lockney's crack sprint relay team. Williams was all-district last season.

At the quarterback slot is Bill Race, another all-district returnee. Race is only a junior and tips the scales at 180. He played fullback last season, scoring the only touchdown in Lockney's hard-fought 6-0 victory over Post.

Kenneth Callaway, who missed the entire season last year, is considered the top man for the fullback post. He is a 165-pound junior.

Two new ends this season will be Donald Farish, 165 pounds, and Larry Hammit, 160 pounds. Both are seniors.

Junior College Players Counted On By Raiders

LUBBOCK—Five junior college players are expected to lend experience to the letterman-thin Texas Tech football lineup.

With only nine lettermen from 1956 scheduled to report, the five are likely to see considerable service. Only one, however, was in school for spring training since the other four did not graduate until May. He, Floyd Dellinger of La Vega, who was an All-American for Rusty Russell at Victoria College, looms currently as the starting quarterback.

Two will be tried at right guard, where Tech lost a returning starter through a summer injury and two top sophomores. At that spot will be Ray Campbell of Greggton, from Texarkana College, and Billy Janca of Sinton, from Victoria College.

Only one letterman center returns, so Jack Andrews of Keyser, West Va., from Potomac State Junior College, may see considerable action at the pivot position.

Another La Vega High School ex, Don Pringle, who played jaycee ball for Njavarro, is going out for quarterback.

San Francisco, reports the American Iron and Steel Institute, is the only port in the United States which can handle the largest tankers now in service because controlling depth in most big ports and the Suez Canal is 35 feet. Most big tankers, when loaded, require more than 49 feet of water depth.

In the Dorward-San Andres field, Humble Oil & Refining Co. has completed its No. 7 Birdie R. Alexander at a total depth of 2,625 feet. The well pumped 90.67 barrels of oil per day plus 66 per cent water. Pay was topped at 1,832 feet and perforations made from that depth to 1,992 feet. Gravity tested 38 per cent and gas-oil ratio was nil. Ten thousand gallons of acid were used to fracture.

Exact location is 2,310 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of Section 140, Block 5, H&GN Survey.

Completed in the Post field with an initial pumping potential of 70-48 barrels of oil plus 25 per cent water per day was the Dr. Sam G. Dunn No. 33-A McCrary. In the Dorward field, Humble Oil & Refining Co. has staked its No. 2 J. C. Dorward, which will be drilled to a depth of 2,310 feet with rotary tools. It is 330 feet from south and 1,320 feet from west lines of Section 113, Block 5, H&GN Survey, on a 320-acre lease five miles southeast of Justiceburg.

Texas Stands First In Trucks, Trailers

AUSTIN—Texas ranks first in the nation in number of registered trucks and trailers, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Some 1,016,100 trucks and trailers are in use in Texas today, doubling the number registered in 1946, writes Robert H. Drenner, Bureau research associate.

Trucks serve each of the 782 incorporated cities in Texas, and there are 1,788 Texas communities exclusively dependent upon trucks for shipping service. In addition, 43 county-seat towns and 17 entire counties have no other means of shipping transportation available, Drenner reports.

TORNADO TERROR was visited on this west Dallas apartment house (right), while the twister which hit the afternoon of April 2 also showed a grisly pranksiness (left). Returning residents found only debris, and workers from Dallas County Civil Defense, police, firemen and Red Cross guarding the wreckage and ready to provide temporary shelter. Benefits Of Good Grass Cover Are Shown In District

Observations of range conditions on the sites where moisture penetration checks were made last spring now show the benefits of a good grass cover, according to Alex Ringhoffer, work unit conservativist of the Post Work Unit of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

Last May, moisture penetration checks were made on the Double U Ranch and since then the same sites have produced grass in proportion to the amount of water absorbed during the rainfall.

Clippings were made on deep hardpan range sites on the same slope where the moisture penetration checks were made. Last May, moisture penetrated to a depth of 18 inches under a fair cover of buffalo grass and it clipped a total of 750 pounds of grass per acre.

On the same site, under a good cover of blue grama and buffalo grass, moisture penetrated six feet in May and it produced 4,550 pounds of grass. Farther down the slope, under a cover of bluestem grass, moisture also penetrated to six feet in May, and it produced 11,630 pounds per acre. All weights are green weight.

Ranges given proper use this fall and winter will have a better cover next spring which will hold and absorb more water. This will in turn produce more grass and beef per acre.

Doctors say the left hand pockets of their suits wear out first. That's where they keep their stop watch to check pulse reactions.

IN TRAINING — Pvt. Charles Kilpatrick is in basic training with the U. S. Army at Fort Carson, Colo., where a number of other Post men are stationed, Charles, son of Mrs. Pauline Kilpatrick, entered the service in July. He is a 1957 graduate of Post High School.

Industrial expansion and growth of Texas urban areas have increased demand for the flexible freight movement which trucks offer.

"Growing markets in growing communities mean that manufactured articles must move across new routes for relatively small distances—distances often too small for to provide competitive transportation," Drenner explains.

Chief users of Texas' trucking industry are dealers who must ship their goods "to many, often small, outlets over the entire state, and trucks are the only type of transport with a high-enough degree of flexibility to make such shipment and transfer economically feasible."

Truck shipping of food is second in freight volume. The construction industry and agriculture tie for third.

So important are trucks to the petroleum industry—hauling oil field and refinery equipment and refined petroleum products—that "without motor carrier transportation... the petroleum industry in Texas would not have evolved into anything like its present form."

Grade 'B' Eggs Good Food Buys

Grade "B" eggs are just as high in food value as Grade "A" and "AA", according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. They cost considerably less in most food markets, especially right now when they are in plentiful supply.

Grade "A" and "AA" are a "must" only for poaching, where a high, firm yolk and thick white are essential to the appearance of the dish, and for soft cooking in the shell, where delicacy of flavor is all-important.

For all other ways to cook eggs—scrambled, baked, in omelettes, souffles, and in the countless dishes of which they are an essential part (custards, puddings, ice cream, cakes, sauces)—Grade "B" eggs can be used with complete success and at lower cost. Thrifty homemakers need not shy away from Grade "B" eggs, but rather take advantage of the plentiful supply and lower price by serving egg main dishes often and by stepping-up the richness of many other food eggs.

Preventive Dentistry For Young Will Help Solve Our Dental Woes

AUSTIN—"Pedodontics" is a big word with a simple meaning—the care and treatment of children's teeth. A major part of pedodontics is preventive dentistry, and preventive dentistry for the very young is the one great hope for a realistic solution to our dental woes.

If a child's teeth are properly cared for up to age 15, a strong foundation has been laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years.

At about six months of age the four front teeth—two upper and two lower—begin to peek out. These front teeth are incisors, the cutting teeth. By age seven to 11 months, four more teeth, upper and lower, start to come in. These are the lateral incisors at either side of the central teeth.

Then Mother Nature wisely skips a few spaces in order to properly shape the jaw. In 12 to 16 months, the back teeth or molars, come in. Then the cuspids show to fill in the space between. At about 24 months, the second molars come in.

Up to this point all teeth which have erupted are primary teeth, and although temporary they are vital. They help shape the face, help the youngster learn to speak distinctly, and help him nutritionally.

While all this has been going on, the permanent teeth are slowly developing in the jaw bone so they can come forth at the proper time.

The first permanent teeth to erupt are molars—sometimes called "six-year" molars simply because they emerge at about age 6. Because they do not replace the first teeth but come in just behind them, these molars tend to confuse parents who think they are also temporary teeth.

This error can lead to unfortunate consequences. Since the "six-year" molars are permanent teeth, they will not be replaced if lost. Family dentists strongly emphasize the importance of watching for the six-year molars. They are important to the structure of the mouth. The manner in which they interlock with their opposite teeth will determine the eventual shape of the jaw, facial contour and regularity of alignment of other teeth.

Because of their importance, these first permanent teeth are often referred to as the "keystone of the dental arch."

The strength or weakness of adult dental health—barring loss of teeth through accidents—can invariably be traced to habits of preventive dentistry learned or left unlearned in childhood. And when it comes to preventive dentistry, the pedodontist is a child's best friend.

Mesquite Wood Is Cheap Roughage For Cattle Feed

Mesquite wood ground into a meal is a source of bulk in rations for cattle when other roughages are scarce and relatively high in price.

Yearling steers fed a ration containing 7.2 pounds of ground mesquite wood gained 2.2 pounds per head daily in feeding tests at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur, said P. T. Marion, station superintendent. Similar steers fed cottonseed hulls instead of mesquite meal gained 2.29 pounds daily. The feeding period was 140 days.

In a more recent test lasting 112 days yearling steers fed a ration containing 12.23 pounds of ground mesquite wood per head daily gained an average of 2.54 pounds daily, compared with 2.71 pounds gained daily by steers fed a silage ration, he added.

The steers fed the mesquite meal made a higher net profit on the basis of $10 per ton for ground mesquite and $18 per ton for cottonseed hulls than those fed the cottonseed hull ration.

A chemical analysis shows that mesquite meal has a higher protein, fiber and calcium content than cottonseed hulls, but a slightly lower fat and carbohydrate content.

Carotene (Vitamin A) also is in the mesquite meal, but this essential element is not present or is very low in quantity in many dry roughages.

Mesquite to be used should be green stems and branches 1 to 3 inches in diameter, and should be allowed to cure for 5 to 7 days before grinding. Curing will make grinding easier and will lower the moisture content, eliminating molding after grinding.

The wood apparently may be harvested at any time of the year, but it usually has the highest nutritive value in the spring before leaf development begins.

Record-Keeping Is Important On Farm

Goals, plans and records help farm and home development families get more family living satisfactions than where no goals are established and no plans made. Records help in evaluating what was done last year and help in planning for the years, says Elsie P. Short, agent in farm and home development for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Otto Beck family of Woodbro in Refugio County say the biggest help in farm and home development ins the planning done by the entire family.

Their decision-making is based on the farm record books. The long and short-time goals by which they measure results accomplished each year are a part of their record keeping. This system keeps a constant check on cost figure on each farm and home operation which becomes increasingly important because of the cost-price squeeze.

The home garden has made substantial contribution to the Beck family income. This past spring they planted sixty-five pounds of Irish cobbler seed potatoes and harvested 790 pounds of nice large potatoes which were stored for home use. Other garden grown produce was used either fresh or stored for later use.

According to County Agent D.F. Bredthauer, the Otto Becks were one of the first farm and home development families in Refugio County.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By HUGH WILLIAMSON
Outdoors business is picking up rapidly right now. When the weather begins to get a little cooler conditions will be exactly right for bass.

The hunters have already started on doves, with open season on other game coming along soon. Let's talk about fishing first. Although a lot of fishermen take home full strings in Summer, it's pretty generally agreed that Fall is a better time, for several reasons.

In cooler weather, fish are inclined to move around more. That takes more energy, and the fish therefore are prompted to do more feeding.

Thus, in Fall, the bass are hungry and their normal sources of food are apt to be somewhat scanty. So they look with favor on your minnow or plug.

Old timers in the bass fishing game have started already, as a matter of fact. Their topwater lures dusted off and hooks sharpened, they may be seen at daylight these mornings and late afternoons, moving along slowly in their boats, tossing plugs or flies along the edges of weed bed, under willows, close to stumps and rocks.

Such a procedure is calculated to pay off, especially when that change in weather comes. Want advice? Try just before and just after the first norther.

Catfishing has been the best bet for most anglers during the Summer, and in many lakes and streams, the trotline operators have been highly successful. Catfishing is good in Texas the year round. Here's a fish that responds readily to almost any bait, offers excellent sport to the still fisherman, and affords to tasty dish for the table.

A word about carp. This fish was imported from Europe many years ago. There, it was and is considered a delicacy. Taken handily in most Texas lakes and streams, the carp is a valiant fighter, and he comes in king sizes. Rig your line with a nylon leader, and tie your sinker so the fish won't feel tension when he samples the dough bait. Let him run with it and then strike—hard.

Now about coastal fishing—the outlook is excellent. Back in 1951 there was a freeze that killed many game fish. But now, the young have had time to mature.

Indication of good salt water fishing came in the Summer, when many anglers returned with record catches of trout. In numbers and in size they were better than they had been for years.

Nine-pound trout were captured.

Speed Is Still Most Disastrous Violation

AUSTIN—"Excessive speed continues to be the most disastrous driver violation in both urban and rural accidents," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today.

"For example," he continued, "Driving too fast for conditions accounted for 58 per cent of the rural fatal accidents in Texas during 1956."

When asked for the chances of survival at various speeds, the traffic safety expert gave the following figures:

"At 60 miles per hour—the daylight speed limit in Texas—if the motorist has an accident, the chances of someone being killed are about one in 20.

"If the speed is stepped up to 75 m.p.h., the chances of survival are only one in eight.

"On the other hand, to reduce the speed to 45 m.p.h. will increase the odds to one in 75. At 35 they are one in 115, and at 25 they are one in 300."
