

Favorable vote foreseen in annexation election

Most local political observers are predicting a favorable decision Saturday in Post's annexation election. The decision is whether residents living within an area extending a half mile in all directions from the present city limits in this area brought into the city. Only those residents with paid poll taxes are eligible to vote. There will be two polling places at the Sid Cross Western Construction Co. office just off the highway on the Lubbock highway for those living in the proposed annexation area west of the Santa Fe road tracks, and the other at the Post Colored School for those living east of the Santa Fe tracks. The two polling places will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Results available

The Post Dispatch will be open from 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. Saturday night to give interested citizens the results of Saturday's annexation election. Call The Dispatch, phone 111, for the results Saturday night.

If a majority of those voting Saturday favor annexation, the next step would be for three such voters to certify to this fact by affidavit and present the affidavit to the city council.

Then it would be up to the city council whether or not to accept the annexed area into the city.

If annexation carries and the council decides to bring the area into the city, it is expected that this will be done in time to permit annexation area voters to vote in the city's spring election April 7 for mayor and two councilmen.

Less than 100 voters, a majority of them living in "the flats", will do the deciding. This is an "off election" year and there are fewer poll taxes paid than usual.

Included in the proposed annexation area is the Postex Mill, Mill Village, "the flats" area, and over 100 oil wells.

A conservative figure on the property valuation the area would add to city rolls has been set at $2,000,000. It might go much higher.

Most people figure the annexation issue will be approved because most of the votes are in "the flats" area and "the flats" figure to gain most through annexation—a chance at sewers, garbage pickup, street lighting, and paved streets with reduced insurance and water rates offsetting the tax increase. White River board directors told

Oil company water pacts seen in year

About a year will be required to get the necessary water contracts from oil companies to meet needs of the $3,000,000 federal offer, White River Municipal District directors were told at a special meeting in Crosby city hall Tuesday night.

was explained—including staging of new water contract elections in each of the four member towns of Post, Spur, Ralls, and Crosby.

The 13-PAGE federal loan offer was read to directors by the board's attorney, Lloyd Wicks Sr. of Ralls, and discussed in some detail.

Tom Bouchier, chairman of the White River board, and a committee composed of Marvin McLaughlin of Ralls, Reese McNeill of Spur and R. J. (Rube) Jennings of Post will go to Fort Worth next week for a pre-loan planning conference with regional officials of the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Community Facilities Administration.

The White River group will be told at that time how to proceed to meet the numerous federal loan requirements and any questions the committee has to ask concerning the loan will be answered.

THE WHITE RIVER directors have 60 days from the March 3 date of the federal loan offer on the project to accept it. When accepted and signed, the offer will become the loan agreement.

Bouchier indicated that another special session will be called after the Fort Worth conference to (WHITE RIVER — See Page 8)

Funeral held for accident victim

Funeral services for Sterling B. Birmingham, 52-year-old oil field worker, who died in Lubbock Methodist Hospital about 7 a. m. Tuesday from injuries received when automobile plunged 30 feet into a canyon two miles south of Post, were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday in Hudman Memorial Home chapel.

his son, 15-year-old Ronnie Condron, were riding with Birmingham when the car came off an oil field road near the city dump grounds, crossed FM Road 1313 and plunged into the canyon. The younger Condron is still in the Lubbock hospital with a broken leg and other injuries. His father, who suffered a broken wrist and fractured rib, was not hospitalized.

THE ACCIDENT occurred sometime between 2 a. m. and 5:30 a. m.

Harrell Condron, in a dazed condition, walked the two miles to town and got word of the accident to Sheriff Carl Rains.

Rains said he and Charlie Goss, who had notified him of the accident, were unable to find the scene of the crash and after driving back to town went to Condron's home to get him to direct them to the wrecked car. The sheriff said Condron was too dazed to find the spot of the wreck, but that after a search in the general vicinity they finally saw the wrecked automobile at the bottom of the canyon, where it had crashed into the embankment after hurdling a wire fence.

THE SHERIFF said he called (FUNERAL HELD — See Page 8)

auto tag sales still dragging

Only a little more than one-third Garza County automobile owners have purchased their 1959 registration tags, County Tax Assessor T. H. Tipton said today.

Approximately 2,200 sets of auto tags were received for Garza county and tag sales up to 3 p. m. today totaled $35.

With the new license tags required to be on automobiles by mid-April 1, there'll be long lines of last-minute purchasers, unless sales picks up," said Tipton.

He reminds automobile owners to bring their certificate of title and 1958 registration receipt when buying for new tags.

This is such a newsy town we're having a hard time getting all the news in the paper each week. The Dispatch news office is quite a scramble on Wednesdays especially—and yesterday was no exception. But we did manage to hang onto a note on the public housing project and run it down with Irby Metcalf and Lee Ward, president and secretary of Post's Public Housing Authority. A Public Housing official was in town over the last weekend and passed the word that Post is going to be approved for a public housing project and that a preliminary loan of $500 will be advanced by the government for a housing survey here to determine how many public housing units the government will approve for construction. Local folks will be hired to make the survey under federal supervision.

We want all the youngsters under 12 in our Easter Coloring Contest, which is something new for The Dispatch but something we think will be a lot of fun for the youngsters with 16 valuable prizes going to the winners of the two age divisions. So call the contest to the attention of your youngster and if you need extra contest pages because of several contestants in your family just borrow the page from a neighbor or pick up an extra copy of The Dispatch at a drug store, cafe, or restaurant, or here at The Dispatch office. See the story on the bottom of page one for the prize list and details.

Personal damages suits on docket

Three personal damage suits involving traffic accidents are on the docket for a session of 106th Judicial District civil court opening at 10 a. m. Monday before District Judge Truett Smith.

A plea of privilege is to be heard in the case of Patricia LaDon Jones et al vs. Motor Fuel Carriers, Inc., and McWood Corp. In this case, the plaintiff is suing for $264,400 in the death of her husband, Buddy Richard Jones, who was killed in an accident while driving a tractor pulling a tank trailer.

The accident occurred Aug. 20, 1958 while Jones was making a haul from a tank battery on the Slaughter Ranch to the Fluvanna pump station.

In another case, A. B. Thomas is being sued for about $40,000 as the result of an automobile-motorcycle collision Dec. 26, 1957, at the intersection of 10th and Broadway. Dick Rogers, a minor, who was riding the motorcycle, was injured in the accident.

In the case of Albert H. Bevers et ux vs. Wayland G. Holt, the defendant is being sued for about $35,000 as the result of an accident near Justiceburg Oct. 19, 1957, in which Mrs. Bevers was injured.

'59 senior trip to be last, trustees decide

Trustees of the Post Independent School District voted to discontinue senior trips after this school year, accepted the resignations of Coach Frank Krhut and junior high teacher William R. Bennett, and re-elected all other teachers in the white schools, subject to placement, in a busy session Friday night.

The board also appointed Mrs. Irene Rodgers as judge for the April 4 school trustee election.

The meeting was the board's regular March session, but was moved up to Friday night from the regular second Monday meeting time when it was learned that Supt. R. T. Smith would be in Austin on school business Monday.

THE DECISION to do away with the annual senior trip after this year came following a discussion in which it was pointed out by the superintendent that such trips used to serve an educational purpose, but not any more. He said that nowadays most of the students have been most anywhere that might be selected as the trip destination, and that the trips are becoming more difficult to supervise.

It's hard on the teaching personnel to have to take on the responsibility of supervising the senior trips," the superintendent said. He also pointed out that the trend among schools is to do away with senior trips, and called attention to the fact that increases in size of future senior classes here would make the trips even more difficult to supervise.

Children shouldn't play with matches

At Justiceburg, Tommy Forrest and Mason Justice are unopposed in seeking re-election.

On the Garza County Board of Education, the terms of George Ramage, Precinct 2, and Irvin Cross, Precinct 3, are expiring. They are unopposed as candidates for re-election.

Living up the city election, of course, will be straw votes to decide whether or not the citizens want a zoning ordinance and a full-fledged police force. There are no contests, however, in the choices for a mayor and two councilmen. Powell Shytles, a present councilman, is a candidate for the mayor's post being vacated by James L. Minor. Roy Baker and John N. Hopkins are up for re-election to the council. A councilman will be appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Shytles.

SHOW WINNERS HONORED

Project show awards made

A Southland 4-H Club member and a Post Future Farmer of America chapter member showed the grand champion animals Saturday in the Garza County 4-H and FFA Project Show, the first livestock event held at the new county 4-H building.

Joey Basinger's 850-pound Black Angus steer was grand champion in the steer division of the show, and Jerry Thuet showed the grand champion in the swine division—a Durac barrow.

Don Richardson, Post 4-H member, showed the reserve champion in the steer division and also received the Post Chamber of Commerce's showmanship award—a plaque presented by John N. Hopkins, Chamber manager.

Thuet, whose Hampshire barrow was also reserve champion in the swine division, received the Alvin G. Davis award for showing the champion barrow.

The show was under the direction of County Agent Lewis C. Heron and FFA Advisor D. H. Koeninger. The approximately 25 animals exhibited were judged by Monte Griffin of Lamesa.

Three are injured in collision here

Two Post young women and Tom Gamblin were "all shook up" about 6 p. m. last Friday when a car driven by Miss Linda Wilks hit the back end of the car Gamblin was driving west in the 100 block on West Main.

In the car with Miss Wilks was Miss Katharine Collier. Gamblin had his neck and shoulder x-rayed at Lubbock Monday as his neck and shoulder were still sore from the accident. The two young women were bruised.

Gamblin had just backed out of a parking place and started driving ahead when the collision occurred.

Barn blaze damage heavy

Durwood Bartlett hopes this story about the bad fire at his farm will be "a lesson to other kiddos" on the damage they can cause by playing with matches.

Bartlett's barn, a 20 by 60-foot structure including four cribs and a shed, was completely destroyed by fire about 5 p. m. Friday at his farm seven miles northwest of Post.

Not only was the barn a total loss but so was the following farm machinery which was in the barn at the time—two tractors, a three-year-old 400-horsepower tractor and a new Farnall 300; a two-year-old tractor - drawn combine, a 1954 Dodge pickup truck, and a 1950 John Deere cotton harvester.

The total fire loss was estimated by Bartlett at between $15,000 and $20,000. It was not covered by insurance.

Bartlett said his son, Jimmy D., age 5, was trying to burn some pistol caps with matches out near the barn. One of the matches burned his finger. He dropped the match setting fire to dry grass near the barn.

The boy tried to put out the grass fire by throwing dirt on it and when unsuccessful he ran to the house and told Mrs. Irene Burleson, at work in the kitchen, about the fire. She ran to a neighbor to give the alarm.

The Post Volunteer Fire Department was called and prevented the flames from spreading to other farm buildings. Fortunately the wind blew the flames away from the house during the time it took the department to make the run to the farm.

Bartlett said his son told him exactly how it happened. "I hope the fire will do some good in teaching other boys what harm can come through playing with matches," Bartlett told The Dispatch.

People to decide on police force

If Post is to have its own police department and establish a reasonable degree of law enforcement here—especially at night—it is going to have to come through an overwhelming expression of the desires of the people April 7.

That is the day the city council puts the question up for a "straw vote" at the spring election. Not that the council does not have the authority right now to establish a police department. It does.

But the council wants the people to decide.

If that were exactly what the people were asked to vote on, we feel pretty sure the answer would be an unqualified "yes" for police protection.

But very probably that won't be all they will be asked to vote on. In addition they probably will be asked to approve a hefty tax boost to provide funds for one.

Anybody knows that no taxpayer these days is going to vote for any tax increase if he can help it.

So it all depends upon how the question is worded as to its chances of success at the polls. The council hasn't as yet revealed how the proposition will be worded, and may not do so until a scant ten days before the election. But advance indications have been that the proposition might be worded in scary enough tax language to frighten even the most hardy taxpayer away.

The point which may change this issue considerably will be decided Saturday when the folks in the proposed annexation area vote their desires on annexation into the city of Post.

If annexation carries—and the odds are now that it will—then Post in another year or so will have considerably more tax income without any increase in tax levy.

Part of this money could go to building up an active police department from the present one-man, daytime only force.

If annexation carries Saturday, councilmen will have to think again as to the wording of the ballot on the police question. It won't be such a tax problem then.

Post needs a police department in just about the worst way possible. And that police department, come next week, may be within its reach. —JC

School expansion plans seem sound

It takes only a glance at the current athletic fund financial statement released last week by the superintendent of the Post schools to show that basketball attendance and interest increased enough here this season to make the need of a new high school gymnasium the greatest it has ever been.

But, there are other figures, too—school attendance figures, for instance—and these show that there is also a crying need for more classroom space and such facilities as science laboratories, shops, etc. When it became evident to the school trustees that they couldn't go all-out on an expansion program, they cut back to what they figured was most needed, and this did not include a high school gymnasium. Neither did it include enlargement of the lunchroom and the grade school auditorium, both of which had been figured in the original expansion plans.

The school board has decided on an expansion cost figure that it believes the voters will approve when called upon to vote on a bond issue. They have spent several months arriving at this figure, which will pay for a new high school building, vocational agriculture shop, athletic field house, stadium repairs, remodeling of the present 30-year-old high school building, site purchase, equipment and architects' fees.

The new high school building and ag shop and remodeling of the present high school for a junior high building should solve the classroom space problem for many years to come. The field house and stadium projects will greatly improve the school's athletic plant, and the trustees have a new gymnasium in mind in the not-too-distant future by planning construction of the agriculture shop in such a manner that the gym can be added to the structure.

Taken all in all, the board's expansion plans as they now stand seem to be on a sound business basis, even if they do not include everything the schools need. As someone at the board meeting remarked the night the $710,000 figure was decided on, "Rome wasn't built in a day." He might have gone even further and said, "Rome couldn't have been built in a day." —CD

Girl Scouting needs more leaders

This is National Girl Scout Week and the appointed time to stop and recognize the good works of this youth movement.

It is a proper time, too, to stop and take a good long look at Post's Girl Scouting program.

The Scouting program here is rich in equipment and finances. But it isn't reaching anywhere near the proportion of local girls it should be reaching.

Girl Scouts here have only one troop. Then there is one Brownie troop for the smaller girls. A broad enough program to reach all the girls who are eligible for Girl Scouting would require several Scout and Brownie troops.

The problem here, as in Boy Scouting which has the same problem in this community, is one of leadership. There simply aren't enough adults who are willing to give their time to the program.

Then there is the problem of training volunteers to be leaders.

There isn't any easy answer to these problems. An all-out effort is needed to enlist the support of a good number of women into an expanded program of Girl Scouting for Post. —JC

Students want voting age lowered

We think the group of students from the Universities of Texas and Houston have a good case in their plea that the voting age in Texas be lowered from 21 to 18.

The collegians, who appeared before the House Constitutional Amendments Committee to endorse the proposal by three legislators, said 18-year-olds of today are frequently better informed than their elders were at 21, due to advances in communication and education. They said the three-year lag between completion of high school civic courses and a youth's 21st birthday killed interest among young people in governmental affairs.

Blair Cherry Jr., University of Texas student from Lubbock, said he was forced to pay substantial federal and state taxes even though he was not allowed to vote. "I think I ought to have a say in who levies those taxes," he said.

We think so, too, Blair. Then, again, lowering the voting age from 21 to 18 would mean thousands of additional voters, and, judging from the paucity number of votes cast in some mighty important elections, this country could stand more voters. We just have a suspicion that apathy in such important matters as casting a ballot would not afflict the energetic youngsters as badly as it does some of the more mature voters. —CD

If there were no advertising

Some people still think that advertising represents needless economic waste. Anyone who feels this way would do well to ponder an editorial observation made by the Portland, Ore., Journal during the recently observed Advertising Recognition Week: "Without advertisements, the cost of a single copy of a newspaper would be so high nobody could afford to buy it. And without advertising, the public would be denied the tremendous variety of entertainment, news and cultural programs offered on radio and television. It is true that the public pays for the advertising through the price of the article sold, but the mass production which advertising makes possible reduces the unit price far below what it would be without this stimulus, and advertising cost per unit is often inconsequential. For instance, advertising expenditure on a loaf of bread is less than the cost of the wrapper."

The Journal concludes that without advertising "... the nation's economy would stutter and stop." The ads create demand—and it's from the demand for goods and services that we get our living.

What our contemporaries are saying

The cowboy is gone except on motion picture and television screens. He has been succeeded by a man who usually drives to the range in a heated automobile with his saddle horse towed along in a trailer. He may frequently drive a greater distance in an hour than the horse could travel in a full day on foot. The modern rider probably has a nylon lariat tied to the pommel side of his saddle horn. He heats his branding irons on a butane fire and smokes ready-rolled cigarettes. He drinks his coffee from an electric percolator and sleeps under an electric blanket. —Matador Tribuna.

The newspaper reporter is the representative of the public. The average citizen does not have time to attend meetings of those officials empowered to spend his money, or to prowl around police stations to make sure the men whose salaries he pays are doing their jobs. He counts on the newspaper reporter to do this for him. When public officials begin to withhold information from this representative of the people, the very foundation of our democratic system is threatened.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WALTER CRIDER recently became the second member of the Post Volunteer Fire Department to be placed on the retired list and qualify for a firemen's pension of $25 a month. The first one was Dick Wood, manager of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. office here, who has been retired from the fire department for about three years.

Walter's retirement was retroactive to Jan. 1, which meant that he received his first two monthly payment checks at the same time. What did he do with the money? He went to the bank and spent $27.50 of it for a $50 U. S. Savings Bond, salting away the remaining $12.50 out of his pension checks to apply on another Savings Bond next month.

WALTER, WHO IS local agent for American National Insurance, became a member of the Post Volunteer Fire Department on Jan. 1, 1927. "That was right after they'd bought a new International make fire engine," he said. "For several years up to that time they'd been using Model-T engines and prior to that push carts."

During the 20 years he actively served the fire department, Walter was fire chief for two years, fire marshal for eight years, president of the department for four years, drillmaster for some time, and also served a term as vice president of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association.

HE WAS THE first Post fireman to attend the annual firemen's training school at Texas A&M College, which was in 1927. Walter recalls that while he was chief, present fire chief Robert Cato joined the fire department. "He was just a big old kid," Walter said, "and while he has 20 years' service, he isn't eligible for a retirement pension because you have to be 55 years old to get one."

Walter was on an inactive status with the fire department from 1947 until last year when he had to go back on an active status in order to qualify for pension retirement.

HE RECALLS THAT the costliest fire to occur while he was a member of the fire department was one which destroyed 1,600 bales of cotton in a warehouse at the present location of Earl Rogers' grain firm.

The most tragic fire during the time he served, Walter said, occurred early one Monday morning in August of 1946 when a gasoline truck turned over and burned at the northeast corner of the Main and Broadway intersection. Gasoline from the truck swirled down the Main Street gutters like water, with flames roaring behind it. Even the front of the First National Bank, a block east of the accident, was engulfed in flames, but the only damage was to the fronts of the buildings.

THE TEXACO station, at which the truck overturned, and a cafe building just east of the station were heavily damaged, Walter recalls. The truck driver was burned to death in the cab of his truck. "That year," Walter said, "I helped remove four bodies from fires." He said that if the accident had occurred several hours earlier while automobiles were parked at the curbs, there would have been heavier property damage and possibly greater loss of life.

The retired fireman, who with his wife, Esther, lives at 512 North Avenue I, has been a Post resident since 1917. He was an employee of Southwestern Public Service Co. for 19 years.

THERE IS A Methodist preacher who collects what he calls "slips of mind"—the kind that appear on bulletin boards in front of churches.

For example, the reassurance before a Presbyterian church: "Ushers will eat those who are waiting." And this cute note from another: "Not everybody in this church has been converted, so please watch your handbags and wallets."

The best "slip" in the collection involved a Dr. Harrison who once proposed to preach on the topic: "Who Is Living Your Life?" In print the sermon announcement produced what is described as a whopping congregation. It asked: "Who Is Loving Your Wife?"

Our friend up the street says one reason why men's suits seem to look about the same as last year's is that so many of us are wearing the same ones.

HD clubs of county are planning to make lamp shades in April

By JESSIE PEARCE

The home demonstration clubs have planned to make lamp shades in April. I will train one leader from each club who will hold the workshops for her club. There are only four clubs, so there will be only four leaders at the training meeting. I can work with 10 to 12 people as well as I can four. If there are other people in the county who are interested in making a new lamp shade out of an old one, they should contact me immediately, so they will be ready to work on March 19. Remaking an old lamp shade involves quite a lot of hard work, but is worth all of the effort and time spent in improving the home and in money savings. When I discovered that it would take two

Loan is approved for Poka-Lambro

A loan of $155,000 for extension of the Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone system has been approved in Washington. The loan will permit extension of existing lines to serve customers now served by the cooperative.

Poka-Lambro, with headquarters in Tahoka, is now serving more than 1,700 members in parts of nine counties — Lynn, Garza Borden, Dawson, north Martin, north Gaines, Terry, east Yoakum and a corner of Hockley.

days in a workshop to complete one lamp shade, I wondered why it would take so long. I soon discovered why. There is a lot of work involved in making a professional shade. When my shade was finished, I felt that it was worth all of the time and effort that I had spent. I have a new shade at a very small cost. This work is something that a homemaker can do in her spare time at home. It can very easily be put up for long periods of time if necessary between periods of work. This is important to most homemakers as they must budget their time in order to be able to do any home improvement work.

These persons wishing to make a lampshade will need to contact me so that I can give them the necessary information so they will be ready for the workshop. Also, if there are more persons wanting the work than I can handle in one group, the first persons asking for the training will be the ones that are permitted to attend the workshop.

Also, most of the home demonstration clubs would be glad to have visitors from the community to attend their workshops. This will give women who are not club members an opportunity to work

He's "in" when he's out thanks to the Electronic Secretary Automatic Telephone Answering Unit

This television repairman has solved the problem of being in two places at once.

Now he can make his service calls and still answer the phone!

With the help of an Electronic Secretary® Automatic Telephone Answering Unit, all incoming calls are recorded while he's out. By playing back the recordings upon his return, he knows immediately where he's needed next.

The Electronic Secretary Answering Unit automatically answers the phone and takes messages 24 hours a day. It permits proprietors of one-man businesses to leave their offices and shops, yet "stay in touch." It keeps their establishments "open" when they're away.

The Electronic Secretary Answering Unit makes any phone do more. Call your local telephone business office to find out what it can do for you.

Bible Thoughts

"THERE IS NO ESCAPE"

By RONNIE PARKER

It is so sad and regrettable that many people will engage in things in view of the consequences from which there is no escape. When a person robs a bank or commits murder, he knows he is on the way to death or the penitentiary. Millions of men and women will go on living in disobedience to God, when they know they cannot escape death and the judgment.

The writer of Hebrews says, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation, which at first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him?" (Heb. 2:3)

It is a law that man must eat to live. How can one escape starving to death, if he will not eat? Looking at food or believing in food does not keep one from starving. A person must eat or die. A man is drowning. The rope is thrown to him. He must take hold of it or he can not be saved.

The people in the days of Noah could not possibly be saved from the flood if they refused to do the thing that Noah told them to do, which was to enter into the ark. They refused. They died.

The gospel of Christ is God's power to save, but it will not save people who turn away and refuse to obey it.

FORREST FINANCE PLAN

REVOLVING CREDIT PLAN "RCP" FOR OPEN CHARGE ACCOUNTS

1. What is Forrest's "Revolving Credit Plan"?

It is a new service for those who prefer to pay a set amount monthly on purchases from Forrest. It works exactly like a regular charge account except the Customer has a longer time to pay.

2. What may be bought on Forrest's Revolving Credit Plan?

Any merchandise Forrest sells, providing that the price, plus the balance on the account, does not exceed the balance limit agreed on.

3. When may additional purchases be made?

At any time . . . up to the agreed on total balance.

4. What size account is available?

If you pay each Month	$10	$15	$20	$25	$30	$35	$40	$50
You may carry a balance up to	$80	$120	$160	$200	$240	$280	$320	$400

5. May more than the scheduled amount be paid at one time?

Certainly. This will increase the amount that may be added-on.

6. Can the total limit ever be increased?

Yes, with the approval of the Credit Manager.

7. What happens when the entire balance is paid off?

The card stays in the file, waiting your next purchase. During this time there is no service charge or payments due.

8. Is there any charge for this service?

Yes, there is a small charge added each month. It is 1% of the outstanding balance at the statement time. If the outstanding balance is $90.00, for example, the service charge would be 90c.

9. What is the purpose of the RCP Identification Card?

The card will allow purchases without having to visit the Credit Department each time you wish to add something to your account.

Field designation given by SRC to Strawn discovery

Discovery application has been approved and a new field designation of "Red Loflin Strawn Field" has been given to Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. for its No. 1 Susie Koonsman.

A workover project it was completed recently as a Strawn discovery in northern Borden County, 11 miles southwest of Justiceburg in the Koonsman Spraberry field.

The operator is producing through perforations between 8,203 and 8,210 feet in the Strawn. Potential on the discovery was gauged at 195 barrels of oil per day, plus 40 per cent water, flowing through a 32/64-inch choke with a tubing pressure of 125 pounds and packer on casing.

Gravity of the oil was 40.4 degrees and gas-oil ratio was measured at 1,146-1. The hole is plugged to 8,460 feet from a total depth of 8,557 feet with five and one-half

In Texas... Ford is the best buy...

...and it's the "best-looker" too

Trust Texans to choose the one new car that's beautifully sensible!

This year, with a wide choice of designs, Texans have made their minds up overwhelmingly for the spectacular '59 Ford.

Ford has the classic simplicity that people of good taste prefer . . . wonderfully crisp and clean lines without brassy ostentation.

And just see how sensible this beauty really is. Discover how Ford is built for people. Notice how the extra-wide doors open all the way out . . . make it easier to enter. See how all six passengers—even the man in the middle—have the comfort of full-depth cushions. There's plenty of leg, hip and head room, too.

Of course, every inch of every Ford is built for savings. Ford's standard engine, Six or Thunderbird V-8, thrive on regular gas, saving you up to $1.00 per tankful. Ford's new aluminum muffler is built for double life. You can save on oil, too . . . for Ford needs a change only each 4000 miles. And Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing.

With all this new beauty and economy, is it any wonder Ford's out front for '59? Come see the car acclaimed by Texans . . . now on display at your Ford Dealer's.

For the most beautiful name of all, come in and check Ford's savings. Low price . . . the lowest price of the top-selling three. — And check the cost of accessories, too. You'll find the savings are even bigger!

 The seniors elected their class sponsor. He is Coach Kraus. He will take over for Coach Parsons, who is now teaching in Elland. Lots of good luck, Coach!
 There are only two more weeks of school left. There are a lot of kids who had better start hitting the books a little harder instead of "making the drag" every night. They sure don't want to spend an extra year in school.
 The senior play cast is really working hard on their play, "Billy Wedding". It is to be produced April 3 and, believe it or not, it is really going to be good.
 The juniors are making plans for the junior-senior banquet to be held April 7. Everybody can help by waiting to start working and spending their hard earned money. Lots of luck, Juniors!

Speech students preparing for Interscholastic League contests are: Debate, Victor Hudman and Jim Shultz; poetry reading, Barbara Nichols; senior declamation, Clary Crowder and Cricket Graham, and original oratory, Frances Barron. The meet will be held in Spur on April 11.

Public School Week in the Post schools turned out very nicely for everyone, that is, everyone except the poor teachers. They enjoyed it very much, but everyone of them were glad when good ole Friday rolled around.

Shell Oil Company's wildcat in the No. 1 Aldrege, proved a duster this week. Drillstem tests of both the Stratton and Ellenburger were dry, according to M. L. Pierce, Shell production superintendent here. Two drillstems taken Tuesday the Ellenburger produced nothing in the way of an oil show. The wildcat disappointment, two miles east of Shell's No. 1 Sims. Shell has only one other rig in the area—drilling in the Slaughter BA-4 in the Uley field across the line in Big Spring County.

Old-time residents of Garza and Kent counties will meet at the City-County Park Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock for a day of reminiscing. Each will bring their lunch for a combined picnic lunch at noon.

Mrs. Bryan J. Williams and Mrs. David Newby flew to Austin Monday where they attended the committee hearing before the Legislature on the Hale-Aikin Bill. Mrs. Williams, who is president of the Garza County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association, and Mrs. Newby returned to Post Tuesday. Also attending the hearing was R. T. Smith, local school superintendent.

A St. Patrick's Day theme will be carried out in decorations when parents of Post school students honor the Post teachers, next husbands or wives, with a buffet dinner this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the City Hall. Lynn Duncan will be toastmaster with Dr. J. Jess Lovren of Lubbock guest speaker.

Personality pupils of the primary and intermediate groups of Mrs. J. A. Stallings will be presented in a recital Friday evening, March 13, at 8 o'clock at the grade school auditorium. The affair will be open to the public.

Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs will leave Sunday for Denver, Colo., where she will attend a postgraduate course in medical technology next week. The course will be held at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver and will draw a faculty of outstanding specialists from across the nation. She will return to Post Saturday, March 21. Mrs. Tubbs is the medical technologist in Dr. Tubbs' laboratory.

T. F. Davis was flown home Friday by Spencer Kuykendall from the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, where he had been a patient for several weeks having undergone skin grafting. Davis, who was burned seriously in an oil field accident, is reported to be improving satisfactorily.

Mrs. Joyce Vardeman will leave Saturday to join her husband, Mike Vardeman, at Fort Worth, and from there they will visit his parents at Hubbard. Vardeman will be on a 14-day leave upon completing basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. Mrs. Vardeman has been visiting her parents, the Lowell Shorts, during his training period.

Rockets topic of Rotary address

Rotarians enjoyed a "double feature" program at their Tuesday luncheon.

First they heard Dr. John R. Bradford, dean of engineering at Texas Tech, discuss "Engineering Problems Out of This World", which was an interesting talk on some of the problems man is facing in trying to conquer space.

He traced modern rocketry back to the gun powder rockets of the 19th century and the liquid fuel rockets first fired in 1926.

Among other interesting facts scientists have determined before man ventures into outer space is that "space sickness" will be "much like seasickness but much more violent."

The second feature of the program was a short concert by the 26-voice male glee club of Abilene Christian College under direction of Harry Fierbaugh. The glee club was en route to Snyder for an afternoon concert in the schools there.

Fifteen present at Golden Age meeting

Fifteen members and guests were present for last week's meeting of the Golden Age Club.

A plate luncheon was served at the annex of the First Christian Church and two plates were taken to members unable to attend. The afternoon was spent in playing "42".

HOMEMAKER

Texas' Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow is 17-year-old Grace Rose of Gladewater Senior High School, Gladewater. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills for gaining the highest score in the state in a written homemaking examination.

The original purpose of coloring Easter eggs probably was to imitate the bright colors of spring, according to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia. When the Christians adopted the custom, eggs were decorated primarily in red, to symbolize the blood of Christ.

Miss JoLena Washburn weds Gwin W. Bridgeman Saturday

Miss JoLena Washburn and Gwin W. Bridgeman were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McAfee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Plunk of Kilbourne, La.

The Rev. Graydon Howell, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candelabra and palm trees.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white lace over satin dress, designed with a rounded neckline and brief sleeves. The bodice featured a long waistline over a full street-length skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil of white and carried a bouquet of white orchids atop a white Bible.

She also carried out the tradition of wearing something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her something old and borrowed was a necklace belonging to her grandmother.

Miss LaVena Washburn, twin sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a blue dress styled similar to that of the bride and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She wore a matching head piece.

Harold Britton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

Candlelighter was Glendon Washburn, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception where decorations carried out a blue and white color scheme. The serving table was laid in white imported lace over blue and was centered with an arrangement of yellow iris and other spring flowers. Punch and wedding cake were served.

Members of the house party were Mrs. John McAfee, Mrs. Harold Britton, Mrs. Norman Washburn, Mrs. W. N. Williams, and Mrs. W. L. Williams.

Approximately 20 guests registered. For a wedding trip to Louisiana, Mrs. Bridgeman chose a white and black checkered dress with corresponding accessories and a corsage of a white orchid.

The couple will be at home here, where he is employed in the oil fields. Mrs. Bridgeman, 1958 graduate of Post High School, is employed at Postex Cotton Mills, Inc.

Local church is included in 1959 Yearbook of Churches

Reports listed in the 1959 Yearbook of American Churches place the Assemblies of God eighth in number of churches out of approximately 255 U. S. denominations.

The evangelical, Pentecostal denomination is one of the youngest reporting statistics to the yearbook. Founding sessions of the Assemblies of God were held in Hot Springs, Ark., April 2-12, 1914.

Included in the national release of statistics was the First Assembly of God, 316 North Avenue S., local congregation of the denomination. According to the Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor, the church has a Sunday School enrollment of 84 and a membership of 32.

Figures in the year book were for 1957 when compilation of the volume was begun. Besides the high rank in number of churches, the Assemblies of God placed sixth in number of Sunday School teachers and workers, seventh in Sunday Schools, tenth in Sunday School enrollment, eighth in ministers, and 27th in church membership.

Growth of the denomination can be credited to an active home missions and Sunday School program, according to the Rev. Brincefield. The Assemblies of God has averaged opening almost one church a day for the past 10 years. Currently the organization has 8,104 churches located in all states, and some 14,995 churches in 70 foreign countries. Membership of the American churches is 482,352.

The Rev. Brincefield emphasized this week that the church's Sunday School enrollment is more indicative of the size of the denomination than its membership. Many churches do not stress membership, he stated.

The Assemblies of God has 97,476 Sunday School teachers and

Coca Cola to add new 'King size' in Post vicinity

On March 13, a new 10-ounce Coca-Cola bottle will make its debut in the Post area, according to an announcement by F. L. Lindsey, manager of the Lubbock Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The new bottle is the first major packaging change made by the bottling company in over two years. Coca-Cola is now available in the standard 6½-ounce bottle and "with the addition of the new King size, 10-ounce bottle, this is another step in our plans for packaging improvement and makes Coca-Cola available in all king size and regular 6½-ounce bottles, throughout the Panhandle." Mr. Lindsey said. "Our aim in providing the 10-ounce bottle is simply to make it more convenient for everyone to buy and serve Coca-Cola on any occasion. The large bottle is especially designed for convenience in serving home parties and for those thirsty folks who say the familiar 6½-ounce bottle just isn't quite enough."

The new King size Coke will be packaged in six-bottle cartons which retailers will sell at the same price as other soft drinks in the Post area.

The new bottle will be of the traditional "pinch-waist" design well known around the world. This bottle shape goes back to 1915, when a Coca-Cola official recommended, "We need a Coca-Cola bottle that a person will recognize even if he feels it in the dark."

Major changes in the public's bottle. People now drink more soft drinks at home than anywhere else—the reverse of the pre-war pattern. Six out of every 10 soft drinks sold today are taken home. And for home consumption, the public has shown it wants a variety of bottle sizes because of the greater convenience in serving and storing. Also, today more people are doing their grocery shopping one day a week. With a large bottle, they can carry home more drinks at a time.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Things are looking up in the trade for the handling of Choice "A" cotton. USDA officials indicate that the cotton will move in trade channels as nearly normal as the law will allow. Nothing official, but thinking is that usual cotton buyers may become agents for the government with some kind of a fee payment. Both buying and selling will probably be handled like this since the law requires the government to support "A" cotton through a "purchase" program, quite a problem is handed officials of the USDA. If this Department's thinking crystallizes, many small cotton buyers and sellers in the belt may be relieved of worry about being put out of business at least for the time being.

Remember "A" cotton will be supported by purchase once the government has it. You can't pull it back and sell on the market. Of course, you don't have to sell your "A" cotton to the government. "B" cotton is on a "loan" basis just as your cotton has been supported in the past.

New Gin
Tests are underway on a "fight bar" roller gin that shows great promise. It separates seed from lint faster than usual roller or saw gins and doesn't damage fibers. Early tests indicate greater speed than conventional gins.

Last Warning
If you plan to grow "B" cotton you must notify your county committee in writing by March 15. Otherwise you are with the fellows growing "A". If you aren't going to plant all of your "A" allotment, let your committee know. It may mean money in your pocket later if a bill is passed allowing you to sell or lease the part of your allotment you aren't going to plant.

Skip Row Planting?
Going to try some skip row planting? If so, check your county committee to find out how wide the "skip" must be not to count in your allotment. The fallow area soon mounts up to sizeable acreage.

Weevils Different
All boll weevils don't react to poisons the same way. They may take 10 times as much insecticide to kill a weevil from one state as it takes to eradicate the pest from another. Researchers are also interested in finding out if the bugs from the northern part of the belt have a greater resistance to cold than their more southern friends.

VET'S FORUM

Q. If I should add the total disability income rider to my GI insurance and later become disabled so I could not work, how much money would I receive?

A. You would receive, after you had been totally disabled for six months, income amounting to $10 a month for each $1000 of your GI insurance. The maximum disability income is $100 a month.

Q. Is a veteran obliged to report disability compensation as income, in filing his federal income tax?

A. No. Disability compensation paid by the VA is not taxable, nor are other VA benefit payments.

Q. I am applying for a GI loan to buy a farm. Do I have to live on the farm to qualify for the loan?

A. No. You must, however, at least supervise the farming operations.

"TODOS BIENVENIDOS"
(Church located on Northeast side of town on Spur highway)

How many times have all of us witnessed a scene such as this along our busy city streets... or worse yet, have been that driver waiting for the traffic officer to approach and ask for our license? We know we were driving 40 in a 30 m.p.h. zone; but maybe this time we will "get off" with only a brief lecture and a friendly warning. However, the officer is politely firm and must do his duty. How fortunate we are to have competent well-trained police, who sometimes have to guard us against ourselves, as this motorcycle officer has done.

How wonderful it would be if there were spiritual policemen who would halt us in our speeding drive through life and issue warning tickets. Tickets that would make us stop and consider the true reason for our being. Maybe we would come to realize that our life is not a wide open expressway to oblivion; but a narrow path with many turns which can only be driven slowly with caution and the constant remembrance of God. Now is the time to re-examine your driving habits, on the streets of your community, and more importantly on the road of your life which can lead to everlasting salvation. Become a part of God's House. Attend church regularly. Take your family or a friend.

© 1959, Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Library called hub of educational program

By MRS. LILLIE McREE
High School Librarian

The Post High School Library is the hub of the educational program. The library facilities are available to teachers, students, and personnel every period during the school day and after school.

Much progress has been made in library and library facilities in recent years. Previous to 1948, there were no special requirements or training necessary for library personnel. Beginning with September, 1948, the State Department of Education required that librarians must meet teacher requirements and have a minimum of 12 hours training in library science in a state approved library school. At present the maximum requirement is a first degree plus 12 hours in library training.

Prior to this date most anyone was eligible to keep library books. Books were ordered by lots of $25, $50, or $100, whatever amount was needed to the high school library or the P-T-A or other sources. This is known as "Book Selection" on standard, approved library lists was not practiced by most libraries, during this earlier period.

Up until 1950 the Post High School Library was confined to a room, behind closed doors, with a window through which books were checked out to the library users. The students and teachers did not have free access to any of the library materials. Later (1950) the library materials were moved into the adjoining study hall, which was used as a combination-library and study hall. The tables and chairs replacing the classroom chairs were a great improvement over the previous arrangement. Due to the crowded conditions, it was necessary for large study hall groups to occupy the room, therefore the educational program was defeated to some extent, since the teachers and students did not have access to the much needed library materials. Books were carried to the classrooms whenever possible. But each year the students were learning to make a choice of books from the open shelves and to use the catalog file more as circumstances permitted.

The high school book collection consists of fiction and non-fiction, also reference materials and periodicals for junior high and high school levels, grades 7-12, the 8th grade being included in high school all through the years until the new junior high school was occupied at mid-term in 1955, also the 7th grade for a brief period.

In 1955 the school board appropriated the first library budget of $1.50 per student. This was a great asset in the educational program, since new and recent materials could be selected to replace the old and out-dated materials. At present the teachers are able to select the various materials needed in the subject fields to supplement their textbooks.

Due to an agreement between the school board and the city commissioners, in 1956, the citizens of this area are permitted to use the library facilities in Post High School. All books contributed to the City Library were checked and those considered for high school use were approved, and classified by the high school library tools and put on the shelves for use. The books considered for adult use were shelved in a separate room. City Library books approved for school use consist of literature, poetry, drama, and story collection, 20 titles, biography 15, philosophy and conduct 6, physical ed. and sports 8, history and travel 27, fine arts 10, personal narratives on world wars 8, and fiction 125, a total of 219 titles plus a large number of western fiction books.

As a result of the present requirements, that all students must take five subjects and P. E., the crowded conditions in the library have been eliminated and the classes have regular library schedules. This makes it possible for the library to give greater service in helping to promote the educational program set up by the administrators. Since the teachers and students have full access to all library facilities, they have surpassed all previous years in the use of the materials in all subject fields, along with fiction and recreational reading. Our students have learned to use the library with confidence—they are able to select their reading and reference materials from the open shelves, use the card catalog file to a great advantage for reports, themes and research papers, etc. During the past ten

January's bond sales $34,897

During the month of January, the people of Garza County purchased $34,897 in Series E and H savings bonds, Irby Metcalf Jr., chairman of the county savings bonds committee, has announced.

January purchases amounted to 27.5 per cent of Garza County's 1959 goal of $127,000. Through the first month of the year, this county is well ahead of the seven other counties in District 5 in percentage of quota.

The 1959 goal for Texas is $182,500,000. Sales during January totaled $16,147,649, which represents 8.8 per cent of the 1959 sales goal.

years, great progress has been made in the educational program through the development of library facilities. The only handicap at present is the lack of shelving space in order that more books and periodicals can be made accessible for use.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

Are YOU horse and buggy?

Some people still hold to Horse and Buggy ideas—even about their vision. Some think vision examinations are a simple 5-minute procedure. Actually it takes almost an hour, sometimes more, to make a complete visual examination. That's simply because the demands on vision today are totally different than 50 years ago.

An ethical optometrist always examines not only for present seeing problems, but for problems that might arise in the future. Preventive care is a fundamental part of any profession—especially OPTOMETRY.

TIRED OF BEING "ALL SHOOK UP" IN THE CENTER SEAT? Other cars make the tunnel so big there's almost no room for cushioning. The ride is hard, bouncy. See the difference in Mercury.

TIRED OF SITTING WITH YOUR KNEES UNDER YOUR CHIN? In other cars the tunnel "hump" is bigger than ever. But Mercury actually cut the hump in half! See how much more leg room there is for the man in the middle. And see (right) how Mercury pulls knee-cracking corner posts back out of your way.

MERCURY GIVES YOU MORE CUSHIONING, COMFORT AND ROOM THAN ANY CAR IN ITS FIELD

Here's how: Mercury, alone in its field, has a body designed for just one car. Other manufacturers give you—even on cars priced into Mercury's class—the very same body used on their lowest priced makes. That's why Mercury alone can cut the center hump in half, widen the door openings 4 inches, add 9 inches more knee room, provide unequalled 6-passenger visibility and comfort all around. Come on in. You'll see!

Annexation—

Property owners who would be hardest hit by taxes—the mill, oil companies, etc.—aren't the ones to make the decision.

There are of course two sides to the annexation issue.

Those who favor it point to reduced insurance rates, reduced water rates and the advantages of sewers, garbage collection, street lighting, and paving.

The city is hard put to keep abreast of progress and growth and tax increases and the added valuation of the annexed area could provide for community growth without added burdens to present taxpayers.

The city is cramped in its square mile townsite and needs space for new residential growth. Those opposed to annexation point out that bringing the Postex Mills into the city and thus increasing their tax costs might do a lot more harm than good.

The milling firm might decide to quit spending money in improvement and expansion here because the tax burden has been raised each year for the last five years and there seems to be no end to this process.

They point out that Postex Mills may eventually enlarge into one of the largest manufacturing concerns in Texas and that the mill will still be here when the oil fields are depleted.

Hundreds of localities would waive all taxes to get the benefit of the Postex payroll, they say, and emphasize that the mill would be closed down today if the company had not had faith enough in the town to spend considerable money the past five years to modernize and stay in competition.

As for the present condition of the milling industry, they say that because of government regulations in cotton and the Japanese competition, sheets and other textiles are selling at 21 per cent less today than in 1958.

As for insurance rate reductions offsetting new city taxes, they add this will not be so as far as Postex is concerned. The mill within recent months has spent $75,000 for fire protection facilities to get mill fire insurance to the lowest possible rate.

formally accept the loan offer. McLaughlin told the directors that "we're at least a year off before we can turn a hand on construction" because of the amount of legal work which will be required to obtain the water contracts from the oil companies.

TO MAKE THE White River project financially feasible from a loan standpoint, the district will have to sell a considerable amount of surplus water to oil firms in Garza County for "water flooding projects."

To get the loan approved, the directors obtained letters of intent to purchase such water from two oil firms. Before the $3,000,000 is paid by the government, however, firm contracts for the water will have to be signed. McLaughlin, chairman of the committee heading up loan negotiations with the federal agency, explained that the government has agreed to accept contracts for only 50 per cent of the amount of surplus water which needs to be sold according to the engineers' feasibility report.

THIS AMOUNTS to approximately 15,000 barrels a month. The two letters of intent call for use of 29,000 barrels monthly.

McLaughlin explained the oil firms must "unitize" the oil field to be water flooded, set up a corporation owned by the oil companies to handle the water flooding project, all before proper water contracts can be signed.

A second water contract election in the four member cities will be necessary to meet federal loan requirements.

The first water contract election, held last year, merely authorized the town councils of the four towns to negotiate water contracts not to exceed a maximum price approved by the people.

The federal agency requires that the actual water contracts be approved by a vote of the people in all four towns. This means the contracts will have to be completely worked out and published and then voted upon. No date for such elections have been set.

McLaughlin explained there is no time limit set on meeting the government's loan requirements, once the offer has been signed into a loan agreement within 60 days.

Plans and specifications by the district's engineers for the dam and water pipelines are nearing completion and the damsite is being resurveyed by the engineers, directors were told. Engineers have been busy on the survey for the last two weeks.

IT IS BELIEVED that it is possible the federal agency will advance sufficient funds in advance of meeting all the loan requirements to permit the district to proceed with the purchase of the damsite and lakesite.

Three land parcels are involved in the site requirements. The district already has an option on one of the three.

The federal loan offer sets up the $3,000,000 loan on a 34-year payout at a 4 per cent interest rate.

White River directors indicated they anticipated no involved negotiations over the securing of the other $1,000,000 needed for the $4,000,000 project from the Texas Water Development board. The board unanimously voted to accept the loan application when ready several months ago.

Attending the special directors' session—the first since announcement of federal loan approval Feb. 27—from Post were Boucher, Jennings, Mayor James Minor, and Dispatch Publisher Jim Cornish.

New residence permits issued

Building permits, including two for new residences, issued at the city hall the last few days have boosted the construction total since Jan. 1 to $155,025.

One of the new residences is to be constructed by Tom Boucher for R. J. (Rube) Jennings, president of Postex Mills, Inc. Costing an estimated $24,800, the new home is to be built on Lots 4 and 5, Block 1, of the Westgate Addition. The plans specify 2,900 square feet of floor space, brick veneer, composition roof and central heating.

The other new residence is to be built by Henley Construction Co. for Bobby Pierce at 118 South Avenue N. Estimated cost is $17,500, with plans calling for stone construction, concrete foundation and cedar shakes roof.

A permit has been issued L. R. Mason for reconstruction of a frame house on West 10th Street at an estimated cost of $3,500.

Mrs. Thelma Kuykendall was issued a permit for a 12 by 24-foot garage at her home, costing $300.

Mrs. O. D. Cardwell received a permit for a garage runway and garage door at an estimated cost of $250. R. E. Cox Lumber Co. is the contractor.

Monday deadline on cotton quotas

The Garza County office of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee reminded cotton farmers today that they have only until 5 p. m. Monday, March 16, to decide whether they want to overplant 1959 cotton allotments.

A farmer choosing to overplant and accept a lower support price must notify his county ASC committee in writing by March 16. Otherwise he will be required to stay within his allotment.

This year's cotton program offers growers a choice between two plans.

Under the first, growers must comply with planting allotments assigned them. Such grower will be eligible for price supports at 80 per cent of parity, which averages 30.40 cents a pound for the base grade.

Under the second choice, growers may overplant allotments by 40 per cent. Those taking this choice will be eligible for supports at 65 per cent of parity or a base average of 24.70 cents.

Approximately 150 cotton growers out of about 500 have designated their choices at the county ASC office here, Emmahe I. Harter, office manager, said yesterday afternoon.

that no senior trips be sponsored by the school after this year was seconded by Burney Francis, with the six trustees present voting unanimously for the motion. Russell Wilks Jr. was the only trustee absent.

It was not the first time that doing away with the school-sponsored class trip had been considered by the school board. It has come up under previous administrations, and the board came close to cutting it out during the 1957-58 school year. A couple of years before that, the board voted to cut down the length of time students could be away from school on the trip.

It was suggested at the meeting that parents of seniors in favor of a class trip could get together and sponsor one after the close of the school term.

The superintendent read a letter from Bennett asking that he not be reconsidered for re-election and one from Krhut announcing his resignation at the end of the current term. The trustees voted unanimously to accept both resignations.

Fertilizer use up last half of 1958

COLLEGE STATION — Fertilizer use the last half of 1958 increased slightly more than 4 per cent over the same period of 1957, reports J. F. Fudge, state chemist. This increase represents almost a 9,000 ton increase over the 211,500 tons during the last half of 1957. The big increases in the fall of 1958 were primarily in anhydrous ammonia and 16-20-0. These materials accounted for about one-half of the total fertilizer materials sold.

The big increase in mixed grade was primarily in the 1-2-1 grades. The largest seller was 10-20-10, which accounted for about one-third of the total mixed fertilizer sales.

This large amount of fertilizer represents a big investment. To make this annual expenditure more profitable, Fudge advises getting a soil test to determine your soil's requirements. For information and assistance in taking a soil sample and submitting it for testing, contact your local county agent.

Directors elected for youngsters' baseball

A new board of directors for the Little League and Little League League was organized Monday night, with Henderson of radio station WPOS elected as president.

Another meeting, and an important one in getting the youth baseball program under way, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the city hall, Henderson has announced. All directors and all managers of last season's Pony League and Little League teams are urged to attend.

Other officers besides Henderson elected at Monday night's meeting were Lee Ward, vice president, and Jiggs Price, secretary and treasurer.

Twenty-two persons attended Monday night's meeting. "We'd like to have twice that many at Friday night's meeting," Henderson said.

The new president points to the importance of getting started right away in order to assure successful seasons this year.

Research on silage making released by Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION — Highly palatable silage can be made from spring grasses and clovers when conditions are not favorable for hay making, report research workers of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the Texas A&M College System.

The use of plastic covers and sodium bisulfite preservative reduced spoilage and improved silage quality, the research workers said.

The studies, conducted at the Rice-Pasture Experiment Station, near Beaumont, showed that good silage can be produced when weather conditions during the spring season are unfavorable for hay making. Farm size silos, incorporating the better known methods of silage making, were used in the tests. The silos used included a 70-ton bunker, two plastic bag silos with capacities of 10 and 25 tons and three horizontal, plastic covered stacks of about 30 tons capacity.

Spoilage losses were higher in 1958 in the plastic bag silos due to difficulties encountered in packing the low moisture silage and from air getting into the bags from punctures in the plastic during the filling operations and from mice damage. In 1957 tests when high moisture silage was put into the bags, no puncture problems were encountered and spoilage losses were very low.

Silage stored in the bunker was

Fence jumpers head list of game charges

AUSTIN — Trespassing continues to be the principal violation committed by hunters, according to the monthly report of the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. During December, 1958, there were 129 hunters who "crawled over the fence" to hunt on private property.

Night hunters, however, came a close second, with 124 arrests. The night hunting arrests were heaviest because of deer hunters who insisted on getting their venison with the use of headlights.

Next in line of violations were hunters and fishermen who failed to get their licenses. There were 103 violations, with 58 hunters involved.

Most of the other hunting violations involved deer. There were 23 persons fined for killing spike bucks; 15 for killing doe deer; 13 killing deer in closed season. Numerous other minor violations also were recorded.

The 715 persons arrested by game wardens during December paid fines totaling $20,925.78 and court costs $1,280 for a total of $22,205.78.

Among the cases made by the wardens, there were 15 dismissals and 15 who served jail sentences. In two cases fines were suspended. Three defendants were found not guilty.

TEXAS Tech swimmers, golfers, trackmen in action this week

LUBBOCK — Three Texas Tech teams will be in action this week. Swimmers compete in the Southwest Conference meet at Austin Thursday through Saturday, golfers and trackmen will be in the Southwestern Recreation Meet in Fort Worth Friday and Saturday respectively.

Although the swimmers suffered too much scholastically at midterm to feature in the team standings, sophomore Jim Tom Davis of Lubbock will be a strong contender in the 50 and 100-yard free style events. His triumph in the 50 in Tech's loss to A&M last week was his sixth consecutive of the season. In the 100, he has won five out of six times, losing only to Texas after failing to touch the pool edge on a turn.

Golfers finished second to University of Houston at the Border Olympics and should finish high in the Fort Worth meet, which they successfully self-fed to beef cattle; thus reducing the labor usually required with silage feeding. The research workers reported that horizontal stack silos covered with plastic are showing promise and that the initial investments in them are low.

The tests are being continued in an effort to improve the silage program for the area.

IT NEVER FAILS

Since we can remember—Some time thru the year—WE WONDER IF IT IS GOING TO RAIN in time for us to make a crop. Even in the BEST years this has always been in WEST TEXAS so NOW we are very anxious for some clouds and some good RAINS—The land is dry and NOT A CLOUD IN SIGHT.

BUT WE ARE HOPEFUL

Occasionally we hear someone say WE HAVE PLENTY OF TIME for rain and we notice, without exception, the farmers who keep right on are the ones who WIN in the end.

IN OUR HARDWARE BUSINESS

We have times when it seems our customers are FEW and FAR BETWEEN but we have learned that we WIN if we keep our stock filled in thru dull times SO WE ARE DOING JUST THAT.

WE LIKE TO HAVE WHAT YOU NEED

and we are doing our very best to be able to say YES WE DO instead of WE ARE SORRY.

By VERN SANFORD

Those who find great joy in the outdoors will welcome the announcement that the Corps of Engineers now urges recognition of recreation as a use for water.

Recreation too long has been handed about as a step-child of flood control, power and agricultural water development. Col. William F. Powers, district engineer of the Philadelphia district of the Corps of Engineers, writing in the December issue of Outdoor America points the way.

"Within the Corps of Engineers' efforts to provide water for increasing urban populations, and industrial and agricultural and other economic needs, we must include the recreational use of water," he said.

OUTDOOR AMERICA is the official organ of the Izaak Walton League. Its publication of the address by this engineer means a great deal.

"Anyone who takes a thoughtful look," the engineer says, "at the upward trend of the population must conclude that we now must treat outdoor recreation as a use of water rather than a by-product of water use planning for other purposes. We cannot escape such conclusions."

The colonel points out that since 1944 the Corps has continually strengthened the position of recreational use of water in planning.

THE FLOOD control act of 1944, as amended, gave the engineers authority to provide for recreational use, and requires that water areas be open to the public without charge "for boating, swimming, bathing, fishing and other recreational purposes." It also provides that ready access to and exit from such areas be provided.

The colonel continues, saying that few persons in 1944 "were exactly clairvoyant in our foresight as to what this act of 1944 would initiate in the way of public use of waters." Perhaps he might be right in some areas. It so happens, however, that it was along about that time that Lake Texoma was being completed on the Texas - Oklahoma boundary. It took a lot of pushing on the part of the Chambers of Commerce of that area to get even a few concession sites laid out properly with ingress.

NOW, 15 YEARS later, the Corps issues an annual report in which it says that more people use Lake Texoma than any other federal installation. Yet it still doesn't have adequate facilities for use of the public. Those who hold leases around the lake, in many instances, have not been able to make installations of a permanent nature because of the short duration of their leases.

And, as far as access is concerned, the number of public areas that contain adequate launching facilities, or even good roads, are still far short of the needs. The same is true of other engineer-built lakes in the state, and they are numerous.

This isn't meant as a criticism of the engineers alone. Perhaps the persons who are mostly to blame for the inadequacies of our water facilities are those who still like to yell "we want to do things at a local level."

INDEED, THE public facilities at locally built lakes, like the Highlands chain on the Colorado in Central Texas, are sadly lacking. A fine example is the inadequacy of facilities to be found even within the city of Austin.

We've been too complacent about providing for the needs. As sportsmen we've gone about, shoving our boats into the water wherever we find a place. We do a little fussing about it, but that's about all. Since there is no one agency responsible for looking after the public interest in the recreational use of water, we might want to place this responsibility on some existing group, or organize one for that purpose.

For example, we continue to build bridges over our rivers and causeways along the coast, without providing for access to the river bank. Our highway department demands ample rights-of-way everywhere it builds a bridge. It would require very little effort to have a dozer smooth over the surface of the bridge, where boat owners could get to the water.

ANOTHER TRAGIC example is in the making at the present time. A fine new causeway is being built across the bay between Aransas Pass and Port Aransas. Unless something is done immediately, it will be finished without a thought as to the possible use of launching areas. There'll be no place for boats to be unloaded from the approaches to the causeway. There will be no catwalks for the convenience of fishermen, who otherwise are greeted with signs that say "No Fishing From This Bridge."

Last November we approved a constitutional amendment which will permit us, after an enabling act, to advertise for tourists. Those who advocated this measure said it would put us on a par with other states using public funds for

Floods are expensive: watershed development assistance available

COLLEGE STATION — Floods are expensive to farmers. Damage to improvements, soil, plants and livestock is either directly or indirectly paid for by the farmer or ranchman, says Jack Barton, extension specialist in soil and water conservation.

The large downstream flood prevention dams serve a very useful purpose, adds Barton, but small dams constructed as a part of an overall watershed protection program may be of even more importance.

The specialist says that small dams can certainly be expected to control flooding in the watershed and at the same time provide increased recreational and wildlife facilities for the area. And, also of major importance is the possibilities of added income from hunting and fishing leases.

Several possibilities exist for financing small flood prevention dams, says Barton. One is through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Public Law 566, Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act.

Leadership and group action on the local level is a must even before assistance is asked for under this program. Local soil conservation district supervisors can supply all details on procedures for obtaining this assistance, says Barton.

Too, local county agents have information not only on Public Law 566 but on other ways and means of financing small watershed projects. And, concludes Barton, there is no time like the present for getting a program under way in your community.

such purpose.

IF WE ARE to follow in the path of other states, we might take a few lessons from the bridge and causeway construction program in the state of Florida, which does a lot of advertising.

Who is to take the initiative? Shall it be the local Chamber of Commerce? Will it be the editor of this newspaper? Or will little voices continue to sing out unheard for years to come, and we still not have the facilities we need?

Who will call on the Corps of Engineers and say we must have these facilities locally? Or do we have a committee to call on the local dam builders and have them write recreation into their specifications? How will we get the highway engineers to draft plans for further utilization of facilities which are available?

Chances are we'll continue to do nothing about it until it will cost a great deal more than doing it right now.

Blarney will be thick when Irish honor St. Patrick

Chances are the blarney will be as thick as the shamrocks when the Irish honor St. Patrick on March 17.

But the original "blarney" was an Irish chieftain who proved that you can still win even if you lose.

When the castle of Blarney was besieged by the English, the lord of the manor concluded an armistice with the English commander. According to the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia, he promised to surrender the old homestead to an English garrison in Cork on a certain date.

The Englishman waited politely for the terms of the armistice to be fulfilled . . . and waited . . . and waited.

The Lord of Blarney held him off with promises and flattery, until the commander became the laughingstock of the court of England.

And the name "Blarney" ironically took its place in the "English" language, as a synonym for sweet talk.

High school career days are under way

By ORABETH WHITE

Junior and senior students of Post High School have had help this week in choosing their future careers.

The Post Chapter of the National Honor Society is sponsoring a career days program which began Monday and will continue through Friday.

Principal Glenn Whittenberg reported much interest being shown in the program. The consultants have proved capable and interesting and have answered many questions asked by the students.

The principal says plans are to make career days an annual affair at the high school.

Different business men and women are speaking to the students twice each day on career fields. Each junior and senior student may attend lectures on their first and second choice of careers.

At 9:45 a. m. Monday, Dr. Higgins, director of administration at Lubbock Christian College, was consultant on education. Two sessions on secretarial work and accounting, were held at 1:45 p. m. Monday, with a Mr. Barkley of Draughon's Business College, Lubbock, consultant on secretarial work and Mr. Stewart, Draughon's business manager, and Leo M. Acker of Brown Bros. et al, consultant on accounting.

Tuesday at 9:45 a. m., Claude Collier Jr., manager of Caprock Chevrolet Co., was consultant on mechanics. At 10:45 a. m., representatives of Jessie Lee's Beauty School of Lubbock, a Mrs. Carter and a Mrs. Hair, spoke on beauty operations. At 1:45 p. m., Dr. John R. Bradford, dean of engineering at Texas Tech, spoke on engineering and oil field work.

Wednesday at 10:45 a. m., Miss Jessie Pearce, county home demonstration agent, spoke on home economics and at 1:45 p. m., Lewis Herron, county agent, and J. B. Potts, spoke on vocational agriculture.

At 9:45 a. m. Thursday, Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke on religion and at 12:45 p. m., representatives of the Army, Navy and Air Force, were consultants on military service.

Jim Cornish, publisher of The Post Dispatch, will speak Friday at 9:45 a. m. on journalism, and at 1:45 p. m., Mrs. June Wilson, associate director of nursing at Lubbock Methodist Hospital will be consultant on the nursing field.

Monday lecturers will be Bob Collier, consultant on pharmacy, and a Mrs. Pollard, teacher of commercial arts at Lubbock Christian College and who has taught for several years at Abilene Christian College, will speak on her profession.

Scholastics gain in Garza County

The number of scholastics in Garza County increased 146—from 1,684 to 1,810—between the 1958 and 1959 school censuses, according to figures announced today by County Supt. Dean A. Robinson.

The biggest gain was in the Post Independent School District, where 1,469 scholastics were enumerated in the 1959 census as compared with 1,336 in 1958.

In the Southland Independent School District, there was a gain of 13—from 214 to 227. There was also a gain in the Justiceburg district, where 37 school-age children were counted this year as compared with 31 last year.

The only decline was in the Close City district, where 77 scholastics were enumerated as compared with 83 in 1958.

Student Council elects officers

Scottie Pierce and Jane Maxey have been elected as president and vice president of the Student Council at Post High School for the 1959-60 school year.

Scottie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pierce and Jane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Quannah Maxey. The president-elect will be a senior next year and the incoming vice president will be a junior.

Other candidates for Student Council president were Derwood Mayberry, Kenny Poole and Bob Cato. Other candidates for vice president were Linda Kuykendoll, Jimmy Minor and Mike Cornell. The new officers were elected by the student body.

The president-elect and vice president-elect will go to Brownsville this month to attend the annual convention of the Texas Association of Student Councils.

Stocker Auction Average $157.80 At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — An overflow crowd attended the March 5 cattle auction at Fort Worth and the strong prices reflected every good demand for cattle from all parts of the country. Higher quality cattle commanded especially strong prices.

The auction was the first at the Fort Worth market in 36 years and despite blustery weather, the big crowd stayed to the end as the 3,902 cattle and calves were sold. A total of 4,371 arrived for the sale. The unusual feature of having a special sale featuring private treaty, as well as auction selling, attracted nationwide attention.

Of the 3,902 sold, 419 head sold at private treaty. Some of the cattle brought less money at auction than private treaty early in the morning and some of them brought more money at auction.

The cattle and calves grossed $605,748.98 and averaged $157.80 per head. Manager Ted Gouldy of the Market Institute reported the directors had selected early April as the next special stocker and feeder sale in the series.

Veteran observers reported the speed with which the cattle moved through the ring was surprising and that probably a record for the number of cattle auctioned per hour was set in the first three hours of the sale. During this period carlots of mostly 35 to 40 head were sold, making the average per minute high. A total of 4,185 cattle moved through the arena in slightly over six hours time. Of these, 3,640 sold and 545 were passed out.

Good and choice steer calves ranged from $29 to $39 and heifer calves sold from $33 downward. Stocker steer yearlings cashed at $23 to $33 and stocker cows ranged from $200 to $300 per pair.

Major and independent packers took a number of fat cattle and calves. Typical of the trade was the fact that many of the consignors of cattle also bought replacements. An example in point was Durward Lewter of the famous Lewter Feedlots at Lubbock, who sold two lots of steers weighing 1,195 and 1,174 pounds respectively at $26.60 and 25 fed heifers at 1,039 pounds at $25.25 and in turn bought about 200 feeders to take back.

Lambs Advance Again To Top $21.50 On Springers

Slaughter lambs were strong to 50 cents higher here Monday. Good and choice slaughter Spring lambs cashed at $19 to $21.50 and some mediums sold around $18. Good and choice old crop woolled and shorn lambs sold from $16.50 to $18.50. Slaughter goats sold at $9.50. Some woolled yearling and two-year-old wethers sold at $16.

Cattle And Calves Firm, Killers $1.00 Up

Cattle and calves were generally steady. Fed beef steers and yearlings were slow. Slaughter calves were very active and strong to $1 higher. Good and choice slaughter steers

Mr. Farmer

It is reported that a hail insurance company has its agents visiting with you farmers and telling you that officers of our bank have sent them out and recommended their insurance.

This is not true.

We are not recommending anybody's insurance to you.

As you know it has been this bank's policy to let each individual farmer make up his own mind from whom he buys his hail insurance.

Yours for a good rain,

Range pitting being done on area ranch

Range pitting and range seeding practices under the Great Plains Soil Conservation Program are under way on 345 acres of the W. A. Long ranch, about 13 miles north of Post.

The eccentric disk, a commonly used implement for range pitting in the southern Plains, is being used in the operations on the Long ranch. The machine has been converted from a 13-disk one-way plow, with only the center and two end disks used. Each of the three disks has had about five inches cut off one side in order to make blocks in the furrow.

THE PITS DUG by the disks are three and one-half feet long, from four to five inches deep and from five to six inches wide.

Alex Ringhoffer, work unit conservationist for the Post Work Unit of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, says the pitting will make it possible to hold .66 of an inch of water that otherwise would be lost as runoff. He bases this estimate on 3,630 pits per acre with each pit holding five gallons for a total of 18,150 gallons.

The soil conservationist says that in addition to cutting down on runoff water, the pitting is beneficial in that the disk cuts through the surface crust of the soil, causing a faster water penetration and giving new grasses a better chance to become established in these pockets.

THE SEEDING mixture being used by Long to follow the pitting is one-fourth sideots grama and three-fourths blue grama. The seeding is being done with a grass drill rented from the Duck Creek SCD.

Ringhoffer explains that range sites where pitting and seeding are needed occur where deep hardland and shallow sites are in poor condition and are free of heavy brush and rocks.

"Conditions that indicate the need of pitting," the soil conservationist said, "include crusted or compacted soil, annual weeds and annual grasses as the principal vegetation, and bare areas that need reseeding."

OTHER CONSERVATION practices have also been carried out by Long under the GPCP contract he signed in June of 1958. Work on the practices got under way in January, with the first operation being construction of an earthen stock pond for better grazing dis-

'A Certain Smile' coming to Tower

"A Certain Smile", starring Rosano Brazzi, Joan Fontaine and introducing two bright new Hollywood names, Christine Carere and Bradford Dillman, will show at the Tower Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Francoise Sagan's internationally-acclaimed best-seller, "A Certain Smile", is the sensitive and moving story of a young Parisian girl who is torn between her love for a young student and her adoration for a charming suave older man who is married.

The production was filmed on location in Paris and the French Riviera in color by De Luxe.

Henry Ephron produced the romantic drama which was directed by Jean Negulesco from a screenplay by Pulitzer prize-winners Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich.

disks as compared with rotary pitting. Ringhoffer said that pits constructed with eccentric disks, because of their greater size, last longer than those constructed with tribution. In commenting on pitting with a rotary pitter. The effective life of both types of pits, however, is quite variable. Washed-in or blown in soil may reduce the effective life span of the artificially-made basins. Rapid development of a plant cover aids materially in extending the effectiveness of the pits, Ringhoffer explained.

Garza County has new deep wildcat venture

Garza County has a new deep wildcat test which will be watched by more than usual interest. It's Jake L. Hamon's 8,800-foot Ellenburger, the No. 1 M. V. Gates test one and one-half miles southeast of the big sprawling Garza pool and two miles north of the North Texas Strawn pool. The wildcat is located 3,425 feet from north and 74 feet from east end of section 27, block 1 of J. Hayes survey.

ANOTHER NEW Garza wildcat test is Champlin O&R Co.'s No. 1 M. Shannon Estate, seven miles southeast of Justiceburg. It will be drilled to 3,000 feet. It is 330 feet from the south and west lines of section 51, block 5 of H&GN survey. The new Threeway (Glorietta and an Andros) field in northwest Garza is back in the oil news this week, gaining its third San Andres well with the completion of W. B. Yarborough and L. E. Windham of Midland No. 1 Kiker.

Operators reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 165.7 barrels of 38 gravity oil, plus eight per cent water through perforations from 3,454 to 3,476 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 291-1.

LOCATION OF this new well is three miles northwest of Post, 2,310 feet from north and 1,250 feet from west lines of Scrap File 1,439, Section 1.

Two other locations in the Threeway Field also have been announced.

One is Continental Oil Co.'s No. 3-A S. C. Storie, 330 feet from north and west lines of Scrap File 1,439 and 8,370, fourth miles northwest of Post. The other is Continental's

PAUL C. TEAS has staked his No. 5 Skeeter-Slaughter, 1,813 feet from north and 1,465 feet from west lines of section 24, Block 1, J. Hayes survey, 9 miles south of Post on the Slaughter ranch. It will be an 8,700 foot project.

This was the well incorrectly referred to in last week's Dispatch as the Skeeter-Slaughter No. 4. The field has three producers, but the fourth was a duster. This will be the fifth.

Joe Blalock in the O. S. Ranch (Glorieta) pool has completed his No. 5-C I. N. McCrary, 2,630 feet from south and 1,330 feet from west lines of section 125, block 5, H&GN survey. The well is producing 79.95 barrels of oil daily with 22 per cent water through perforations 2,656-62. Total depth of the well is 2,680 feet.

Disney's 'White Wilderness' to show at Tower; also 'Frankenstein 1970'

Walt Disney's "White Wilderness" is scheduled to show at the Tower Theatre Friday and Saturday, and adding a thrilling high-light Friday night will be the mid-night preview of "Frankenstein 1970".

Walt Disney has brought the most spectacular addition to his ever-expanding picture pageant of a living nature with his production of "White Wilderness," latest full-length adventure drama.

Combining the exploits of a dozen leading American and Canadian naturalist-photographers, this newest True-Life Adventure, filmed in Technicolor, was three years in the making.

From the many hundred thousand feet of film, Walt Disney and his staff have brilliantly compacted a deeply stirring wild animal drama in the style he has made famous.

Boris Karloff, one of the screen's great horror actors, has returned to this sort of role after a 10-year absence.

His new picture is Allied Artists'

"Frankenstein 1970", a Cinemascope production that presents the beautiful Jana Lund, Tom Duggan, Charlotte Austin and Donald Barry as his co-stars.

The screenplay, involving a television company at work in the Frankenstein castle where Baron Frankenstein goes about his diabolical work, was written by Richard Landau and George Worthing Yates, who based it on a story by Aubrey Schenck, producer of the film, and Charles A. Moss.

Experiment Station releases leaflets

COLLEGE STATION — The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has released two publications of importance to Texas farmers.

One is a leaflet describing RS 608, a red-seeded sorghum hybrid developed independently by the Texas and Nebraska experiment stations in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The leaflet, L-426, describes agronomic characteristics of the hybrid, gives parentage, yield records and other information of interest and importance.

The other publication is progress report 2069, which gives procedures and results of field-plot insecticide tests for the control of the boll weevil and bollworm. The report gives a summary of the tests and then goes into a detailed explanation of the experimental procedure and results obtained.

Both publications are available free of charge from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.
