'Tall Texan' has many qualifications

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson will have the full support of most Texans in any campaign for the presidency.

Those who attended C. T. McLaughlin's barbecue in the Snyder National Guard armory last Thursday afternoon and heard Senator Johnson talk about "problems" came away well knowing that this Tall Texan has not only recognized ability as an experienced congressional leader, but that he has the platform talents to conduct a tremendously effective national campaign should the Democratic party select him as its standard-bearer.

On a national TV hookup, Senator Johnson within a few weeks easily could make "living room America" forget all about its fallen hero, Charles Van Doren.

The senator faces two major obstacles, and perhaps three, in any bid for the nomination, however, it is difficult for senators or congressmen to win their party nomination because they usually lack national political stature and because in the congressional halls they make enemies as well as friends if they are good lawmakers. It is also difficult for a Southerner to have any chance at the presidency.

The third obstacle for Lyndon is his 1955 heart attack.

Let's look at these obstacles in that order. Unlike most senators Senator Johnson has attained such national stature that he is now ranked as the No. 1 Democratic leader in Washington without question—and a strong one at that. He has made an enviable record as the Senate's Majority Leader, putting his country always above his party and being able to effectively weld the liberal and conservative Democratic elements in the senate into a working partnership on most issues.

The story of lawmaking is a story of compromise. Lyndon has unusual talents here without sacrificing principles.

As to the second obstacle, an outstanding Texan would have a far better chance at the nomination than other Southerners because economically Texas these days belongs more in the bloc of states known as the Southwest than in the South.

As for the heart attack, the senator has made an apparent strong recovery. He has good color and a healthy look—which would be most important on the long campaign trail.

It is not beyond the realm of possibility that Senator Johnson could win the Democratic presidential nomination although any good politician would admit he is the best qualified of any "candidates" now being talked for the nomination or inactively campaigning for it.

Certainly, he needs and merits the full support of all Texans—down to every last whoop and holler.—JC

Big 'bug' in city mail delivery

Anyone who could have looked in on the post office inaugurating city mail delivery, as we did Saturday morning while waiting to make a picture, would understand why it is so important that people receiving mail by carrier have all their mail, from first class on down, properly addressed.

Properly addressed, in this case, means having the patron's street and house number on the mail.

Even with the assistance of a postal inspector from Lubbock, the postmaster, assistant postmaster and other postal employees, the three carriers were more than two hours late getting started. The big reason was that most of the people who have signed for city mail delivery had neglected to advise correspondents of their new mailing addresses. That made it necessary for the post office workers to have to check on nearly every piece of mail—which consumed a considerable amount of time.

Until the condition improves, the mail carriers will be late every morning, which means that you won't get your mail as early as you would if everybody would make sure that all their mail is properly addressed. With the busy Christmas season coming on, this is more important now than it would be at any other time of the year.

The post office will make it easy for you to get the proper address on the mail you receive. They have change of address cards on which you can advise your correspondents, including those sending newspapers, magazines, etc., of your new address.

The new city delivery service just won't level off as it should until a much higher percentage of the mail received here daily bears the proper address.—CD

Gift buy early — and at home

The great Christmas shopping season is at hand. The signal for its start used to be Thanksgiving. But not anymore. Merchants get ready for Christmas early now.

Toy stocks are the most complete in November. The trend is to Christmas Lay-Away gift buying far in advance of the holiday.

All of this isn't bad by any means. It takes the pressure off the shoppers when the holidays approach and it takes the load off the merchant who has to work almost feverishly the last ten days before Christmas to keep abreast of his business.

There is no sense in Christmas finding all of us exhausted.

Americans are moving much too fast in normal living these days to want a stepped-up holiday pace.

Get the shopping out of the way early and there is time to enjoy the Christmas season.

Of course no one changes the habits of Americans overnight—or in a few short years. There is still the frantic last minute rush, still the tendency to keep putting off Christmas preparations because of the press of daily living.

'Learn by Doing' trend in toys

Santa will be carrying a bumper pack of toys and playthings this Christmas—with the value estimated at a billion and a half dollars!

Already, we've noticed toy displays going up in some stores in Post, and among these toys are such TV quiz games as "Twenty-One," which probably won't go over so big this Christmas buying season. Actually, "learn by doing" is the motivating force in toyland this season, reports Dr. Philip Lewis, Chicago Board of Education member and advisor to Toy Guidance Council—with a great deal of emphasis on the scientific.

Children are vastly interested in the mechanics of rocket launching, the working of an atomic submarine, putting together a racing car or working with a model of the latest style in electric dishwashers.

Playroom kits will indoctrinate the juvenile contingent on the basics of astronomy, chemistry, physics, electronics, and atomic energy.

The world of tomorrow are dozens of Western style toys, many of them inspired by TV heroes! And you'll see the largest rocking horse round-up ever in toyland.

A record crop of board games, reproduce the action of frontier style thrillers, including Wells Fargo, Restless Gun, The Rifleman and Annie Oakley.

There also are a variety of maze games which make use of the most modern plastic tubing, a new plastic hobby kit, and a new composition molding material.

For girls—the newest trend in needle-heeled pumps, fur stoles, "working" appliances and the last word in modular furniture—each reproduced in realistic miniature.

It all sounds so thrilling, that we can hardly wait for Garza County youngsters to start writing their Santa Claus letters in care of The Dispatch. We're anxious to see how they go along with the new trends in toys.—CD

Buy and use TB Christmas Seals

If you haven't already, you soon will be receiving your Christmas Seals in the mail. Since these seals finance the fight against tuberculosis, you can make a sound investment in your own and your fellow citizens' health by buying and using them during the holiday season.

The Christmas Seal Sale is the one annual appeal of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and affiliated local associations for funds to make possible year-round efforts to curb this needless waste of human life and resources.

More than 90 per cent of the funds realized through sale of the Christmas Seals to Garza countians will be retained for county use.

Proceeds from the Christmas Seal Sale will be used for such things as: Enforcement of a newly enacted law making compulsory the isolation of careless contagious TB patients; education of the people concerning regular tuberculin testing and X-rays to find TB in its early stages; more community case-finding and clinic facilities for patients unable to afford private medical care; helping families weather a patient's long illness; helping the ex-TB patient to get a job which won't undermine his resistance to the disease; help in research for better drugs, especially a safe, sure vaccine against TB.—CD

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE TIME-WORN simile, "as busy as a cranberry merchant," probably won't mean much this holiday season, with government health authorities having put a "hex" on the cranberry crop.

Which reminds us that for as long as we can remember, we've occasionally come across the term, "cranberry bog," but to our knowledge have never seen one. What is a cranberry bog, anyway?

ABOUT THE SAME time they put the taint on the cranberry crop, we heard news that Carter couldn't advertise his pills any more as "Carter's Little Liver Pills." Which seems to us a heck of a place for them to start cleaning things up, as they've vowed to do following the TV quiz show exposes.

That also plays heck with another simile. Several years ago, people quit saying more of this or more of that than Carter had oats, got real clever and started saying that Carter had little liver pills.

CRANBERRIES AND liver pills . . . it's getting so you can't tell what you're going to hear when you turn on your radio or TV set or what you're going to read when you unfold the pages of your daily newspaper.

Another thing difficult to understand is why the government keeps raising the debt ceiling instead of plugging up the rat holes.

THE PAPERS from neighboring towns reaching our desk indicate that the political pot is beginning to simmer in most every county except Garza. The filing deadline, which used to be in May, has been moved up to Feb. 1 for the 1960 elections, and the first and second primaries are to be held in May and June instead of July and August.

Garza County politics probably are waiting until after the Thanksgiving holiday to begin tossing their hats in the ring. If they wait until after the Christmas holidays are out of the way, they'll have less than a month in which to announce before the filing deadline. They'll still have February, March and April in which to campaign, however, so there doesn't seem to be any real cause for anyone being in a big hurry.

OUR FRIEND UP the street says there isn't such a thing as a problem boy. He's just a boy with a problem.

Perhaps this belongs in our column over on the sports page, but since we've got something else there, we want to say here that we never in our life came as near freezing as we did at last Friday night's football game at Slaton. We never realized before what a nice new press box we have here at Antelope Stadium.

WITH RAY HENDERSON of radio station KUKO, we shared one of the three press room compartments at Slaton, and folks in the stands who thought we were better off than they were, should have been with us. The entire front of the press box was open, the rest of it was none too tight and the only door faced right into the wind, with people constantly going in and coming out. As Ray remarked, that door led right to the North Pole.

It was the first time we ever took play-by-play of a game while standing up stamping around to keep our feet from freezing, and we dang well hope it's the last time!

Wayland homecoming

PLAINVIEW — Leon McBeth, Rio Vista, has been selected speaker for Wayland Baptist College's annual Homecoming Friday and Saturday which includes a coronation, a downtown parade of floats, reunions for the Classes of 1919, 1929, 1939, 1949 and a special reunion for the Class of 1954, a doubleheader basketball game and a variety of other features.

The winter of 1958-59 was a cold one. The East Coast was 2.5 per cent colder than normal and 4.7 per cent colder than the winter before. The Midwest was 1.1 per cent colder than normal and 3.9 per cent colder than the previous year.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Fourth U. S. Army Recruiting District with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. It is housed in a red, white and blue air-conditioned display bus which is currently touring the five state Fourth United States Army area. Sgt. Jones extends an invitation to area residents to visit the exhibit. He explained that the unit is designed to interest persons of all ages and will prove especially interesting to young men and women of military age. Army personnel will be present to conduct visitors through the exhibit and answer questions pertaining to the United States Army. They will be available, on request, to explain the Army's "Choose-It-Yourself" vocational training program. Army informational brochures will be on hand for anyone interested in learning more about the activities of the United States Army. There is no charge for admission.

FALCON, the New-size Ford, delivers the value and cuts the budget!

Handling that's really a breeze. The Falcon parks and turns on a dime. You'll be able to steer with power steering ease... without power steering. You'll be able to stop as though you had power brakes... without power brakes.	Room for six—and all their luggage. There's hip, shoulder, knee, and head room galore! Both two- and four-door models are a cinch to enter. Then, thanks to the Falcon's front-mounted engine, there's luggage space aplenty for everyone.	Up to 30 MPG on regular gas, too. And the Falcon's new Six actually crossed the country without any oil added. Speaking of thrift, the Falcon's finish never needs wax. Its aluminum muffler normally lasts up to twice as long.
Sweet performance from Ford's most modern Six. You'll have to feel the pickup and responsive power to believe it! And each Falcon Six is electronically balanced, while running under its own power, for top smoothness.	New luxury interiors. You'd expect to find these materials in cars costing twice the money. Seats are chair high. The front seat cushion is foam padded. And the Falcon rides smooth as silk... corners on rails.	Proved over 3,000,000 miles. To top off 3 years of testing, a fleet of Falcons has just been proved over every mile of numbered Federal highway. It's the world's most experienced new car.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

GROWERS' REFERENDUM SET FOR DEC. 15

Texas is given nearly half of 1960 cotton average allotment

A national marketing quota of 13,133,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop have been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The secretary also announced his determination that alternate—Choice B—farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 per cent larger than the "regular" Choice A allotments for the same farms. An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 66,590 bales with a 64,776-acre allotment.

Dec. 15 was set as the date for a growers' referendum on marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cotton. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.

If the quotas are approved, Choice A will include regular farm allotments with price support at not less than 75 per cent of parity available to growers who comply with their regular allotments.

Choice B includes 40 per cent larger farm allotments and price supports to growers who comply with their Choice B allotments at 15 per cent of parity less than under Choice A. Individual farm allotments under both Choice A and Choice B will be made available to producers prior to the referendum.

Benson added that if marketing quotas are not approved for the upland cotton crop, only the "regular" Choice A allotment program will be in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law. If quotas are turned down by extra long staple producers, support to eligible growers will drop to 50 per cent of parity.

Vet's Forum

Q. Each month I get a check from VA for a disability I received while fighting in Korea. Will the amount of the check be changed because of the new pension law?

A. No. The new law applies only to veterans who receive pensions for non-service connected disabilities, and widows and orphans of war veterans who died of non-service connected injuries or illness. Your check is compensation for service-connected disability. It will not be affected by the new pension law.

Q. I understand VA has recently liberalized its definition of change-of-course, for veterans attending school under the GI Bill. Will you please give an example of this new definition?

A. A veteran may now move from one GI training program to another, in cases where the first is prerequisite to, or generally required for, the second, without being charged with the one-and-only change of program allowed by law. An example would be a veteran who set out in GI training with the objective of getting an AB degree, and who later decides to become a lawyer. Since work toward his AB degree is prerequisite to his study of law, he would not be counted with a change of course.

Q. I am a young man of 22, eligible for War Orphans schooling. May I file an application on my own, since I am over 21, or must my mother file in my behalf?

A. You may file your own application, since you are over 21. For young people under 21, application must be made by the living parent or guardian.

Q. I may have to put off making my GI loan payment temporarily. Will my lender charge me a penalty for late payment?

A. That would depend on the terms of your agreement with him. Since you are perhaps unfamiliar with those terms, we suggest you talk things over with your lender.

Shy of cranberries? Here're substitutes

With the "big cranberry scare of 1959" threatening to remove one of the colorful food favorites from many of the nation's Thanksgiving tables, Mrs. L. C. McMinn came forward this week with four suggested substitutes for cranberries for Post cooks to consider in planning their holiday feasts.

The four substitutes, all colored to resemble cranberries, keep the cranberry color on the Thanksgiving table. But although each has a tart taste they are not suggested as perfect taste substitutes. Meanwhile local food merchants reported little buying from the cranberry shelves this week—either fresh or canned variety. In fact some housewives who had purchased canned cranberries at recent food sales here are returning them to "trade" for something else.

Cranberries on local shelves reportedly are from Massachusetts, which has been given a clean bill of health on its cranberries in the recent investigations. The Texas Grocers Association has advised grocery stores that all cranberries now in the store are clean of any danger.

10. "At least we hope it's going smoothly by then," he hastened to add with a grin.

Women! God bless 'em! Men have been repeating that age-old phrase time and again and we are repeating it here at The Dispatch where we've filled our too-long vacant chair on our Intertype machine in the backshop with the first woman ever to occupy it. She's Miss Ethel Lee Fairly, who has been working around newspaper backshops as a machine operator for some 18 years.

Miss Fairly moved to Post ten days ago from Mexia, Tex., where she was employed in the advertising department of the Mexia Daily News, but before that she was employed for 17 years in the backshop of the Teague, Tex., Chronicle where she learned most every kind of newspaper backshop chore—even to running job presses in the commercial printing department. She's also worked for the Fairfield, Tex., Recorder.

Ethel Lee says she likes Post just fine and already has some ties here — relatives. She moved here with her mother, Mrs. James A. Fairly, who is a sister of both Mrs. J. S. Scarborough and Miss Ollie Mickey of Post. If everything works out, Ethel Lee is going to be our first permanent machine operator in the back shop since James Hill bought his own paper last spring and hustled up to Knox City to become publisher of the Knox County Herald where according to the Lee Wards just back from a Knox City visit, both James and Jennie Lou are "loving every minute" of the publishing business although admitting it takes an awfully lot of minutes usually to get it all done.

We also have another new woman employ here at The Dispatch this week. She's Mrs. Freda Teaff, who is taking over the front office position formerly held by Mrs. Joan Stewart who has moved east across the vacant lot to become the new Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Two more big sales and a new local auto dealer — for Pontiac — headlines the "advertising news" in The Dispatch this week.

The Hudman Furniture Company is uncorking their annual "Once-A-Year Sale" beginning tomorrow and running through Saturday, Nov. 28. The Hudman brothers, Marvin and Victor, stress that the markdowns listed in their page ad on page 7 and their quarter-page ad across on page 6 are real markdowns from regular prices. Turn over to page 7 and let them tell you all about it.

Back on page 15 you'll find a big Dunlap ad for their November Clearance and its packed with just about as many items as you can put into a 7 column ad — as Corkey Ammons, our fine, young printer, will testify. He put it together. And down at Dunlap's they'll tell you they have bargains simply crowded the same way all over the store.

Over on the School Page (it's page 11 this week) you'll read about the arrival in Post of Pat's Pontiac, the new Post dealership for Pontiac. Post hasn't had a Pontiac dealer since Dowe Mayfield stepped out of the car business in the spring. Pat's Pontiac is now operating off the former Storie Motor lot at 118 North Broadway and the firm hopes to keep right on growing into building, garage, and etc. Pat's Pontiac is owned by Pat Underwood who has Pat Buick-Pontiac Motor Co. at Snyder and is being operated here by Wayne Brumley and his wife. Besides Pontiacs, the firm also is handling, the English import small car, the Vauxhall, and plans to do a big business in used cars of all makes. Welcome to Post, Mr. and Mrs. Brumley.

On page 13, you'll find Irby G. Metcalf's announcement of the First National Bank's plans to provide local youngsters with newsy letters from Santa Claus, with the letters coming postmarked from Santa Claus, Ind. Parents are urged to read Irby's plans in his ad on the subject.

Not for children. That's what Tower Theatre Manager Johnny

ALL FOR LYNDON

A delegation of eight Post men all raised their hands and grinned enthusiastically when asked if they were for Johnson for the next president at a rally for Senator Johnson in the national guard armory at Snyder last Thursday afternoon. Colored P-TA to meet tonight

Dock King was elected as a delegate of the Post Colored P-TA to the state P-TA meet in Midland Dec 3-5, at the regular meeting of the local parent-teacher organization last Thursday night at the Colored School.

Mrs. Daisy Jo Lewis, P-TA president, is asking all members to come out to a called meeting tonight at 8 p. m. in order to make plans for the Thanksgiving dinner and for sending King to Midland.

Mrs. Lewis also has the membership cards and is asking each member who does not have his or her card to come out and get it. She cannot mail the cards because she does not have the addresses of all the members.

VISIT IN SNYDER

Mrs. I. P. Kennedy Jr. spent Sunday in Snyder visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Payne and Carl.

Hopkins has to say about "Anatomy of a Murder", the strictly adult movie which comes to the Tower this weekend. Johnny announces in his ad this week that no children's tickets will be sold to the show because of the frank language used and he wants local parents to take note of this and keep the youngsters home. For adults, however, Johnny says it ranks as one of the best of the year.

Crowd of over 300 attends P-TA meet Thursday night

One of the largest crowds in the history of the Post Parent-Teacher Association was present last Thursday night for the local P-TA's classroom visitation night.

Over 300 mothers and fathers of Post school students met at 7:30 o'clock at the school lunchroom, where there was even a shortage of standing room, and following a business session under the direction of President David Newby, the crowd adjourned to visit their son's or daughter's classroom.

During the visitation period, held at all three Post schools, Post parents were given the opportunity to become better acquainted with their child or children's teachers and to learn more about the students' school work.

The second grade room of Mrs. Almon Martin won the attendance award for the grade school with the highest attendance in junior high school being tied between the 5-B room of Mrs. Helen Baxter and the 7-C room of Mrs. Mary Lee Wristen. The juniors took the attendance record for the high school.

It's the Law in Texas...

"LAWYER TALK"
Many persons feel that the "whereases," "aforesaid," and the instrument in such a way that other legal verbiage used by lawyers are intended only to confound and confuse the layman.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In drafting legal documents, the lawyer attempts to draft them in such a way as to exclude all ambiguities. In the last analysis, a legal document means what some court at some future time shall declare that it means. As a consequence, it is the lawyer's duty to his client to attempt to draft the instrument in such a way that it can mean only one thing.

Most any paragraph of non-legal language contains numerous ambiguities. When a lawyer refers to the "deed aforesaid", he is attempting to make it clear beyond question that the deed he is referring to is the deed mentioned in a prior portion of the instrument. Likewise, when he prefaces a legal document with a long list of "whereases", he is simply reciting pertinent details to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftsman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grantor "by these presents does grant, sell, and convey" the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited has a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose. He could only say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose, I cannot be sure of it."

As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No persons should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

GM scholarships open to seniors

DETROIT — More than 400 General Motors college scholarships, worth from $200 to $2,000 a year, are available to this year's class of high school seniors.

The scholarships are part of General Motors' $5,500,000 a year program of aid to higher education. Some 1,600 students now are attending college with GM assistance.

Awards are made under two scholarship plans — the National Plan and the College Plan. More than 100 of the scholarships are awarded under the National Plan on the basis of competitive examinations taken by some 20,000 seniors. There is at least one winner from each state and the lucky scholars may attend the college of their choice.

"TODOS BIENVENIDOS"
(Church located on Northeast side of town on Spur highway)

Yes, we have many things to be thankful for — such things as family, home, health, and a nation with privileges and opportunities that no other has ever known, a nation founded by men who wanted freedom to worship God. We are a nation of churches. These churches have freedom to spread the Gospel, and give thanks to God for all of our blessings. Attend church regularly where you worship God and give thanks for His wonderful love.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FFA groups to compete

By Jimmie Ivie
 Membership contests of the Mesa Future Farmers of America will be held at Post High School Saturday, Nov. 21, beginning at 8:30 a. m. There will be contests—junior and senior—conducting, junior and senior conducting demonstrations, raffle and Greenhand quiz. The teams in the quiz will enter teams in the quiz and junior and senior conducting. Last chapter contest in which the only contest in which the Greenhand quiz was the only contest in which they took third. There are to be awarded to five winners in each contest. There are 16 schools competing in the district.

A welding short course was held because of lack of participation. It is understandable at this time of year that the farmers are particularly busy with the harvest of their crops. We intend to hold the same type course in the future. If the specialist from the county is not available, one will be brought in from one of the welding companies.

Boys are all hoping that we will include some interest in the project show by providing prize money. At the county fair we receive money for having in the surrounding counties.

COLORED SCHOOL

Boys' cage team respects good

By Willis B. Mitchell
 Boys' basketball team looks good this year, considering the number of players who have been added. However, our girls will need more players in order to compete for a team or four substitutes.

As all indications, it seems that Ann Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McAllen Gilbert will be the highest ranking girl in school this six weeks. Today was the first day examinations and others might be as the other exams are held.

Mr. Johnson III, Larry Johnson and Shirley Manuel are also quite well, according to reports.

Chat from fifth grade

By Jackie Wilson
 Pierce has been reading a story of a "Nancy Drew" story day after lunch.

They are studying the 200 bones of the body. We are labeling skeletons.

They are doing map studies of the fifty states we read.

They drew some pictures that we put on the bulletin board of the school and the later steamboats. They are very good.

They are doing two weeks we make a report of a library book we read.

They are studying long division learning how to check division.

Inspectors came to visit our schools and our classrooms.

They are studying about steamships and cotton in our geography.

They are reading "Adventures from the Red Rover" in our reader.

They are going to have a "Shoo Fly", "C o m e" and one more. I am going to be a very nice girl.

They are playing quite well.

a creditable exhibit as well as additional money from placing animals. These counties have good county shows. Some of the counties have sales at which the animals sell for more than they do at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show.

The FFA Calendars have been ordered for the year and should be arriving about the 15th of the month. We certainly appreciate the help of the merchants who have bought ads on the calendar.

The boys are looking forward to a new chapter pickup. The morale of the group was greatly boosted when the first pickup was given the chapter last year. The steel strike is presently holding up delivery.

The VA III class is studying electricity. They are learning the selection of wire types and sizes. They have practice boards in which they are installing lights and 2 and 3 way switches. If they can do these jobs, they should be able to wire a house or install additional wire in an old house as necessary. They anticipate wiring a shop for Butch Bowen sometime during the year.

The VA I and II classes are studying parliamentary procedure in preparation for the contests to be held here Saturday. The VA II class presented a program at the Rotary Club Tuesday and will present a program at the B&P Club Thursday night.

We are getting our projects under way for the year. Progress is slow because the boys feel that good animals are too high. Perhaps if we can get some prize money at the local show, we can build up interest in the feeding.

The executive committee of the chapter has decided to again sell Christmas cards and have ordered the cards. We expect them to be in by Thanksgiving.

 The band jackets finally came in last Friday. They are black with gold stripes around the knitted cuffs at the wrists and waist. The knit inset on the collar is a black, white, and gold stripe. Have You Heard??

Pep rally was a real tear-jerker Friday for the seniors. The senior football players and cheerleaders got a note of recognition.

Speaking of pep rallies, the cheerleaders did a real catty skit called "be calm, be cool and be collected." They learned it at school this summer. Cool, cheerleaders!!!

Hey, everybody. Rhea's a bartender now. Really, now at Collier's Drug. Go by and she'll mix you up a drink.

The fourth period civics class enjoyed an informative report on the cranberry situation given by Rankin and Welch, no less. Of course, Scottie's commercial on Greasy Breezy Hair Grower" was also informative. Talk about imagination, ha!

The band jackets came in last week and all the band kids were sporting their jackets proudly. They have a knit striped collar. It's a new touch and looks real keen.

Sharon Issacs had a slumber party Friday night. Those there were, Marianne, Mary Ann, Slanna, Sammie Kay, Lyn Allen, Jo Ann, Beth, Billie Lou, Raymona Kay, and Sharon. Seems they told real scary stories.

Who were the two brains that figured out their physics experiment all by themselves? Of course they're failing physics but that's beside the point.

Glenda Whittenberg went to Plains Friday night and saw the game between Plains and Sundown. How's Plains these days, Glenda?

The drama play comes off Friday night. Everybody be sure to go because it's gonna be a scream. Can you imagine Delwin, Curtis S. and Dan in short pants? Come on out and see CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN.

What's this noise we heard about Bobby Hudman getting passionate love letters? How about it, Bobby? Care to explain, if you can?

Pat Wheatley had a slumber party for the gang Friday night at her house. Those there were: Mel, Sharron, Kat, Linda, Sharon, Leta, Rhea, and Pat. Hey, who was the wildest, girls?

Has everyone noticed that dreamy lovable 1959 Impala in the parking lot every day. That little jewel belongs to Don Richardson. It's lush, Don.

Well, it's that time again. Six weeks, no less. Everybody be sure and hibernate and study. Hibernating 'til 7 o'clock anyway then come down town and drag around. You'll probably flunk anyway. Here's wishing everyone good luck on all their tests, regardless.

Gab and gossip from the fifth grade class

What are Marcia Newby and Linda Hays so happy about?

Linda Hays spent the day with Teresa Dean. She had a very nice time. They went walking to the mail box and while coming back Linda almost stepped on a snake. They ran as fast as they could to the house to tell her mother. She sent Danny Odom to kill the snake. But we really shouldn't have been scared, because it was a hog-nosed snake—besides, he was dead!

Who does Richard Scott like?

Mr. Wilson has been very cooperative with the fifth grade. We all appreciate you, Mr. Wilson.

"CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN"

Marcia Newby's parents spent the weekend with Mrs. Newby's parents at Grand Lake, Colo.

FASHIONS: Carolyn Mather wore a gay black stripe skirt and white blouse. Becky Thompson wore a beautiful lavender slim-jim suit. You looked darling, Beck!

ROOMMOTHER: Mrs. Harold Lucas is one of two room mothers in 6-D. Mrs. Williams' room. Mrs. Lucas has lived here 23 years. She has two daughters, Dixie, a 6th grader, and Barbara, a 2nd grader. This is Mrs. Lucas' first year to be a room mother.—Carol Camp.

What 6th grade teacher came to school without his (or her) glasses on? The teacher said the kids looked wavy to her (or him).

House is packed at P-TA meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association meeting last Thursday night was one of the largest in many a day. The cafeteria was so crowded that there wasn't even standing room. The occasion was open house for the schools to show everyone what their children were doing. We hope that every meeting from now on will have attendance like this. We need it!

Concession stands to be constructed

By Anne Morris
 The Student Council received permission to go ahead on their project to build two concession stands in the gym.

Flashy Fashions in fifth grade

By Jackie Wilson
 Paul Walker looked nice in a pretty sports shirt. It is red with gold squares on the shirt.

Brenda Haley looked cute in some black slacks. She also had on a blue turtleneck shirt with a little gold bird on the turtleneck part.

Judy Lewis looked cute in a white blouse with a full jumper. Her jumper is plaid, with colors of green, brown, red, and many other colors.

Mrs. Pierce looked pretty in a brown dress with specks of all colors.

J. O. Smith looked nice in a pretty red and white plaid sports shirt.

Herman Freeman looked nice in a red, gray, and black sports shirt. La Gaylaugh Young looked cute in a pretty black skirt. She also had on a white blouse and a green sweater.

Ronnie Pierce looked nice in his blue, black, and white sports shirt.

Ann Usery looked cute in her black shirt with a design of all colored flowers on her pretty skirt. She also had on a pink blouse.

Jaynie Lea Jossey looked cute in her red slacks with red, yellow, and blue pockets. She also had on a white blouse with the same color pocket.

The stand on the north, which will be the largest, is to be built on a platform above the entrance. The purpose of these new stands is to provide much needed seating space.

The old concession stands which were located in the center of each bleacher have been removed to provide more space.

We are glad to have these new stands and we hope they will help a lot during our 1959-60 basketball season.

Other business brought up at the Council's last meeting was whether or not each class would sponsor a Christmas scene to put up in front of the school. It was decided to have the scenes again this year and that each class should have their scene up the Friday before we let out for Christmas on the following Wednesday.

A MESSAGE TO:

Farmers
Ginners Businessmen

Across the vast cotton-white fields of the Texas High Plains farmers are busy gathering the 1959 cotton crop — which may be the second largest crop yet produced on the High Plains.

The work of THE PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC. is continuous day-in, day-out, year-in, year-out. That's why it is vital that as many gins as possible on the Plains cooperate with the PCG in collecting farmers' dues.

Some ginners this year are having difficulty because of the low price of cottonseed. It is regrettable that this hardship is with us, but regardless, it cannot be permitted to interrupt the work of the PCG. A look at the list on the right shows just a few of the many accomplishments of the PCG. Farmers and ginners alike can easily see the value PCG now means to the Plains cotton industry.

Producers should check their ginners and if at all possible, help him work out some method whereby he can continue his support of the PCG. A united front of all segments of the Plains cotton industry is what the PCG should stand for. With your help this is possible.

Here Are a few of the things 16¢ a bale dues to the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. does:

Research (1) Established a Cotton Research center at the Pilot Spinning Plant at Texas Tech for fiber and spinning research on Plains cotton. $70,000 at work. (2) PCG-USDA cooperation on cotton breeding at the Lubbock Experiment Station. $10,000 at work. (3) Cooperating on a fertilizer research program. Lubbock Experiment Station program. $5,000 at work. High Plains Field Station, Halfway, $7,000 at work. Spur Experiment Station, $2,500 at work. (4) Cotton Quality Statistics. PCG office staff keeps area micronaire, Presley, grade and staple statistics which are mailed to textile mills and cotton brokers throughout the U. S. and foreign countries. (5) Paid for humidification equipment at Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock cotton closing offices. $55,000 at work.

Service (1) Starting in 1959 farmers had up to a 26% increase in acreage over 1958 as a result of PCG legislative work. (2) A separate higher loan rate for light spotted cotton is in effect beginning this year, about $18 a bale above spotted cotton. (3) Representation in all legislative matters pertaining to cotton. (4) Representation in Bracero Labor program. (5) Provide technical service to textile mills on the use of Plains cotton. (6) Cotton acreage allotment vigilance. (7) Marketing Loan limitations vigilance. (8) Conduct Quality education program.

Promotion (1) Conduct advertising programs on High Plains cotton on national basis. (2) Provide radio, newspaper and direct mail informational service. (3) Conduct tours to textile mills and encourage cotton buyers and mill people to visit the High Plains. (4) Print a bi-monthly publication and keep members informed. (5) Keep contacts with other agricultural organizations and the cotton trade. (6) Distribute quality and publicity information about High Plains cotton.

YOUR COOPERATION WILL MAKE A BETTER PLAINS COTTON INDUSTRY

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN — Typical of the tangle of interests and viewpoints that confront Texans when they set out to "solve the water problem" is the current hassle over Trinity River water.

Trinity development poses special problems. This second largest river in Texas (in volume of water) has a 455-mile channel that meanders through or near three major population centers — Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. All are directly concerned, not to mention the smaller cities along the way.

In the current hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers, Houston and the Trinity River Authority jointly seek permits to build two dams, both near Houston. One would be a reservoir at Livingston; the other, a salt water barrier at Wallisville.

At first, Houston alone sought the permits with stiff opposition from TRA. Then the two agencies compromised and agreed that both would build the dams with Houston footing 70 per cent of the bill and getting 70 per cent of the water.

But before the plan could be approved, objections came from all sides. These now are being heard before the Water Board.

San Jacinto River Authority, which supplies part of Houston's water, contends the city should stick with the San Jacinto. North Texas Municipal District and the Municipal Service Company are worried about their own future water supply from the Trinity.

Southern Canal Company, which long has sought irrigation rights downstream, is opposed to the plan as are various landowners whose property would be flooded by the new reservoir.

Testimony is complex, often heated and expected to be quite lengthy.

Some of the data presented on future water needs provides a glimpse of the possible Texas of tomorrow. An engineer, appearing for Houston, predicted the nine-county area around that city will have a population of 6,750,000 by the year 2010—more people than the whole state had in 1940. Water needs will be a staggering 2,882,000,000 gallons a day, he said.

URANIUM PROMOTION studied House Investigating Committee has been looking into the money-raising methods of a man who claims to have a device to upgrade uranium ore.

John Milton Addison faces charges in state and federal courts of using illegal financing methods. He has purportedly borrowed $1,000,000 at 19 per cent interest in unsecured loans.

But lenders appearing before the House committee said they had faith in Addison and felt he had been "persecuted" by law enforcement officers.

Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock heads the investigating panel. Other members are Reps. Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Tom James of Dallas, Carl Conley of Raymondville and John Allen of Longview.

UNION MAY BE SUED — State Supreme Court has ruled that a labor union may be sued for damages by one of its members.

It reversed the holding of a lower court that the union could not be held responsible. This clears the way for a plumber to seek $19,039 in damages.

H. J. Borden, the plumber, charges that an agent for the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry barred him from work.

ASLEEP? — Texas Conservatives heard a familiar voice tell them they have become lazy.

Speaking to a Chamber of Commerce audience, former Gov. Alvin Shipps said, "In Austin, the conservative element has little or no leadership... has lost its initiative... its incentive."

Shivers, long a Conservative standard bearer, recommended development of a program for the general welfare rather than fighting isolated battles for business interests alone.

He urged a coordinated Conservative program. Opposing forces, he said, have the "perfect set-up"—generating terror for their causes through a tax-free organization, the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

MOTORISTS SPEED UP — Texas drivers are bearing down on the accelerator more this year, a State Highway Department survey shows.

Study showed average highway speed at 54.8 miles per hour in 1959 compared to 53.4 for 1958. Passenger cars are traveling at an average 56.2 miles per hour;

'Anatomy of a Murder' to show here four days

Otto Preminger's "Anatomy of a Murder," based on the sensational Robert Traver novel which was last year's No. 1 best-seller, has been turned into this year's No. 1 motion picture, according to Hollywood report.

The Columbia release, showing four days — Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—at the Tower Theatre, stars James Stewart, Lee Remick, Ben Gazzara, Arthur O'Connell, Eve Arden, Kathryn Grant and Boston attorney Joseph N. Welch as Judge Weaver.

Story of a criminal assault, and of the killing which followed, "Anatomy of a Murder" topped the best-seller lists for more than 30 weeks. The film is said to be a superbly dramatic, suspenseful and entertaining version of the book, with the added excitement which stems from actual location scenes.

Tower manager John N. Hopkins said that because of the length of the film and the delicacy "Anatomy of a Murder" is not recommended for children.

trucks, 50.3; busses, 60.7. Legal rate of speed for busses is 55 miles per hour.

According to the sampling, 21.9 per cent of passenger cars are exceeding the legal rate of 60 miles per hour. Last year only 15.2 per cent were above the legal speed.

Highway Department's survey was made with camouflaged radar equipment at 24 representative locations on rural state highways.

NEW DWI TESTS URGED—It's so hard under present law to prosecute a driving-while-intoxicated charge that most law officers settle for a lesser charge, says the head of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission.

Speaking to the Texas Safety Association, Brad H. Smith urged passage of laws allowing for chemical tests to determine drunkenness.

DANIEL RAPS LAWMAKERS—Private research agencies have done a good job of fact finding, but the Legislature has been slow, Gov. Price Daniel said at the Texas Research League's annual meeting.

He cited law enforcement and traffic safety as areas of legislative foot-dragging and implied there had been an effort to undo Insurance Department reorganization.

Branson is being trained in the duties of a cannoneer in a 105 millimeter howitzer section.

ACC awards contract for new structure

ABILENE — Rose Construction Co. of Abilene has been awarded a bid for construction of the three-story new wing of the Abilene Christian College Administration Building, the Citizenship Center.

Rose won the bid by being the lowest of eight bidding contractors. His base bid was $379,950, and his construction time estimate 325 calendar days.

Thanksgiving matinee is scheduled Nov. 26 for 'Sleeping Beauty'

"Sleeping Beauty," Walt Disney's $6,000,000 spectacular film presentation of the beloved old fairy-tale, will show at the Tower Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 26, 27 and 28, with a special Thanksgiving matinee scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday.

Disney's "Sleeping Beauty" is declared the supreme achievement in the wondrous art of animation and the Disney method of cinematic story telling. It is by all means the greatest undertaking in Disney entertainment history. Some 300 artists worked on it through six years.

For this prodigious task Walt and his corps of veteran artists had at their command new and challenging implements of fantasy. These mechanisms—the big Tech-Angus owned by two brothers, techniques, the fidelities of improved sound for the Tchaikovsky Sleeping Beauty Ballet music—promise breathtaking elegance for the picture.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thump of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be sure about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We can assure you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a bit more!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set a standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The foresight of our forefathers is quite amazing. In the infant days of our country, they saw the need of setting aside a special day for giving thanks for the blessings received during the year. That need is still with us today and that day is still with us. Thanksgiving... a day to stop and count our blessings... and give thanks for those we have received. A happy Thanksgiving Day to you and yours from your friends at Piggly Wiggly.
