Outgoing mayor reviews progress

Mayor James L. Minor in his annual review of city affairs before Rotarians Tuesday urged that city voters express their desires on both a police department for Post and a zoning ordinance at the municipal election Tuesday.

On zoning, Minor declared, "Personally, I think it is a thing that needs to be done to improve our city."

On the police issue, he said: "I would be silly to tell you we do not need better law enforcement. All towns I know do. The only question is what do the people want and do they want to pay the bill."

Mrs. Roy's death follows husband's by less than week

Mrs. W. V. Roy died early Wednesday afternoon in Garza Memorial Hospital, three days after funeral services were held for her husband, W. V. (Cap) Roy, retired rancher and pioneer resident of Garza County.

Mrs. Roy had been in ill health for the last several weeks. Her husband, who died Friday had been a patient in the hospital here for more than two years and a half. He was 82 years old.

Funeral services for Mrs. Roy will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at Mason Funeral Home chapel, with the Rev. Clinton Edwards, pastor, officiating. Burial will be beside her husband in Terrace Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Dee Coleman, Charles Benson, Novis Rodgers, Jack Burrell, Spence Beavers, Walter Boren, Powell Shytle and Doug Morrow. The pallbearers were the same for Mr. Roy's funeral with the exception of Harold Voss instead of Shytle.

The Roes were married Jan. 15, 1908, in Denton, moved to Garza County, where Mr. Roy had already lived for about a year, to make their home. Eight years ago, they moved from their ranch near Justiceburg into a new home they had built here at 901 West Seventh Street.

Mr. Roy served on the county's first commissioners' court. Both he and his wife were members of the Presbyterian Church and Mr. Roy was a Mason.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Beulah Hutson of Dayton, O., Mrs. Mattie Bobo of Amarillo and Mrs. Johnnie Baumgardner of Somerville, Texas, and two brothers, Ernest Roy of Sweetwater and Roy of Sweetwater.

Intruders entered the office breaking out a door glass.

Water use rises here

On only six days after July 15 last year was more water used here than the 1,190,000 gallons used Monday, City Supt. Henry Tate said today.

Monday's mark of nearly 1,200,000 gallons breaks all existing daily water consumption records for this time of the year, Tate said.

The only day in August of last year when water usage was more than Monday's mark was Aug. 8, when 1,195,000 gallons were pumped.

The city superintendent said he had checked with Postex Mills, Inc., and had found that they are not using any more water than usual. That indicates, he said, that the dry weather has found more people watering lawns than usual this early, and that an increase in the number of water taps is also contributing to the boost in consumption.

The city water department is (WATER USE—See Page 8)

PROPOSED NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Below is an architect's sketch of the proposed new Post High School building, which is included in a $710,000 bond issue to be voted on Saturday. The structure at the top of the picture is the proposed gymnasium, which would be built at some future date. The new high school building would have 13 classrooms in addition to a vocational agriculture shop, laboratories, departmental rooms, woodwork shop and administrative offices.

2 elections coming up

By CHARLES DIDWAY

School and city elections will share the spotlight in Post the next few days, with Saturday's school election including a vote on a proposed $710,000 bond issue for school expansion, and Tuesday's city election "straw votes" on a police force and zoning ordinance.

Two trustees are to be elected in the school election and a mayor and two councilmen in the city

Election Returns

Voting results in Saturday's school bond election will be available at The Dispatch office soon after the polls close at 7 p. m. Returns will also be available at The Dispatch next Tuesday night on the "straw votes" for a police force and zoning ordinance in the city election. To get the results from both elections, telephone 111 or drop in at The Dispatch office.

election, but since there is no opposition for any of these posts, the "special issues in the two elections are generating all the interest.

A "GET OUT the vote" campaign appeared to be growing this morning, two days in advance of the school election. Proponents of the $710,000 bond issue, which would include construction of a new high school, appear confident

Operator sought for swim pool

The city-county park board is seeking an operator for the swimming pool this summer.

Last summer the pool was operated under the direction of Mrs. Jimmie Willey, then Miss Frances Craig, and Lawrence Cook, Mrs. Willey has since married and Cook told the board he would not be available for the entire summer season as pool operator.

The board at their bi-monthly meeting last week heard a report that the city now is busy installing the water sprinkler system in the park. The area first was raked free of all rock.

that the bond issue will carry if enough voters go to the polls.

Also brightening the outlook for approval of the bonds is the fact that a bond issue has never been defeated in Post.

No organized opposition to the proposed bond issue had developed up to this morning. On the other hand, school trustees took a page advertisement in last week's Dispatch, explaining the bond issue in detail, and this week there is a page ad on page 3 with the names of 109 of the supporters of the proposal.

THE PROPOSED $710,000 for school plant expansion would be spent as follows:

New high school, $450,000; remodeling of present high school for use as a junior high, $135,000; fieldhouse and bleachers, $35,000; architects' fees, $29,000; equipment, $40,000; building site, $15,000.

The bond issue and operation and maintenance of the new high school building would be financed by an increase in the taxable valuation from 40 to 50 per cent of assessed full value, which has already been voted by the school board. It is believed that it would not be necessary to increase the tax rate above the present $1.30

ENROLLMENT in the Post schools has increased from 650 students in the 1944-45 school year to this school year's 1,245. (SCHOOL BONDS—See Page 8)

Project expected to be completed by April 1, 1962

April 1, 1960 may see start WR construction

Construction of the White River Dam is expected to get under way by April 1 of next year, according to the fast-moving timetable set up for the project by officials of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Completion date for all dam construction is two years later—April 1, 1962—White River Municipal Water District directors were told at a special dinner meeting in the city hall here last Friday night.

THE DIRECTORS met to hear a report from their federal loan committee and to unanimously vote acceptance of the federal government's $3,000,000 loan offer. The acceptance within the 30 day period prescribed by the offer now changes the 13-page offer into the loan agreement.

Marvin McLaughlin of Railis, chairman of the three-man loan committee which met with regional HHFA officials in Fort Worth two weeks ago, reported that the governmental agency now is ready to move at top speed on the White River project.

THE FEDERAL agency's timetable on the project calls for completion of plans and specifications for all phases of White River dam and water line construction by Oct. 1, 1959; governmental review within 15 days; advertising for bids on construction by Dec. 1, 1959, and the opening of such bids not later than Jan. 10 of 1960.

Actual awarding of all contracts on the project is scheduled for Feb. 15, 1960.

McLaughlin said such a schedule would require the board to move at top speed in the multitude of detail work which remains before the district can actually qualify for the $3,000,000 from the federal agency.

HE SAID regional HHFA officials did not slam the door on the possibility of obtaining advance federal funds to purchase the dam site ahead of the actual signing of contracts with oil companies for the sale of surplus water to them to help finance the bond issue.

McLaughlin said the new, required water contract elections in the four member cities should come before the end of the summer. He said the proposition put (WHITE RIVER—See Page 8)

Juniors set tentative August dates

Stampede rodeo set for July 8-11

Post's two rodeos will be held in successive months this year—July and August—according to dates set by directors of Post Stampede, Inc., and tentatively set by directors of the Post Junior Rodeo Association.

Post Stampede directors set July 8, 9, 10 and 11 as the dates of their annual rodeo at a meeting Friday night. Junior Rodeo directors, meeting Monday night, tentatively set the third week of August as the time for their rodeo, subject to signing a contract for rodeo stock.

During the last few years, the Post Stampede Rodeo has been held during either the third or fourth week of May, and the Junior Rodeo the second week in August.

Post Stampede directors have contracted with L. D. Ward to furnish roping and riding stock for this year's rodeo. They have also added bulldogging to the list of rodeo events. The other events are ribbon roping, calf roping, saddle and bareback bronc riding and bull riding.

A rodeo contractor scheduled to meet with the Junior Rodeo directors Monday night was unable to be present, but is expected at the group's next meeting.

The junior rodeo directors meet every first and third Monday night. One of the adult directors said today that the general public is welcome to attend all meetings.

Banks is charged with possession

Charles Henry Banks was charged in county court Monday with unlawful possession of beer, wine and whisky for purpose of sale. His bond was set at $750 by Judge J. E. Parker.

Banks was charged following a raid Saturday night on his home near the Lynn County line by Deputy J. W. (Red) Floyd and City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr.

Sheriff Carl Rains said the officers confiscated about 30 quarts of beer, several pints of wine and a case of canned beer.

PHS athletic banquet slated for Saturday

Post High School's annual athletic banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the school cafeteria, with Polk Robinson, Texas Tech basketball coach, as principal speaker.

Members of the football, track and boys' and girls' basketball squads will be honored at the banquet.

For the future of our children

Post citizens go to the polls Saturday to vote on the future of their town and of their children.

In deciding on a $710,000 school expansion program which includes a new high school, we will not be voting on something from which we ourselves will share any direct benefits—unless it is those football bleacher seats.

All the rest is to improve and expand our school system for the youngsters.

Post badly needs the new high school and the greatly improved laboratory and classroom facilities it will provide. Remodeling the present high school building into a junior high building will solve classroom expansion problems for the rest of the system by providing a second grade school in the present new junior high building.

The classroom problem in the grades is as acute as that of the high school.

Post Independent School District trustees have worked hard and long on the school expansion program. This is the best solution they have found—and there is no time to waste.

Our classroom shortage will grow more acute before the new facilities can be built and others remodeled. The expansion actually was needed a couple of years ago.

The community in the last few days has rallied to the support of the school bond issue. Post has never defeated a bond election, and it shouldn't turn down this one.

The only issue in the school bond election Saturday is simply whether or not to spend $710,000 to expand our school facilities for our boys and girls. There are no other issues. Anyone who reaches his or her decision on any grounds other than this single issue is doing his community a disservice.

Post is having a lot of elections these days because Post is growing and working to solve its problems. School expansion is an important one of these.

The school bonds will not carry simply with the good wishes of those who do not take the time and trouble to vote Saturday. The decision will be decided at the polls and The Dispatch urges every eligible voter to turn out and make his or her opinion count. We also urge you to think of the future and of our children and vote FOR the school expansion program.—JC

Take a stand on mail delivery

Time is growing short for you to stand up and be counted in the survey to determine whether or not there is enough interest in city mail delivery here for the service to be established.

Questionnaires, on which the patron is asked if he wants city mail delivery, have been available at the post office since last Friday, but they won't be available indefinitely. As the postmaster and postal inspectors point out, the feeling of the public's pulse on this important project shouldn't take more than 10 days or two weeks. So, regardless of how you feel about it—if you want city mail delivery or if you don't want it—at least get on the dotted line before it's too late.

Post will be in a position to qualify for city mail delivery and parcel post truck delivery, if enough interest is shown. But it is going to take that. It was no feather in our city's cap when the project was stymied some two years ago because of a lack of patron interest. Let's not let it happen again.

The way Post has grown and is continuing to grow, it should have had city mail delivery soon after the post office here reached a point wherein it became eligible to institute such service. We are of the opinion that the arguments, for city mail delivery far outweigh those against it. The few hours lapse in going to the post office for mail shortly after 8 o'clock every morning and waiting until the carrier delivers it to your door later in the day do not seem to be enough of a time element that they should forestall what would be a real mark of progress.

We repeat, however, that regardless of your feelings on the matter, you should not, by your apathy, contribute again to blocking the efforts for city mail delivery by not making your stand known. The questionnaires are available at the clerk's windows at the post office. Ask for one the next time you go in and fill it out one way or the other.—CD

'Straw votes' also deserve attention

The school bond election of course is the big one coming up, but there are a couple of municipal "straw votes" next Tuesday which deserve some attention.

Post voters will be asked to express their opinions as to whether or not they want a uniformed police force and are willing to pay for it, and whether or not they favor a zoning ordinance.

Both votes are just for guidance of the council.

We are sorry the zoning ordinance ever attained the "straw vote" prominence it has. A zoning ordinance was a "must" for Post long before the recent annexation. Now it is top essential.

A "straw vote" might stir up some opposition. We hope it doesn't because the benefits of such a zoning ordinance are great for any community and the protection it can afford property owners is very important.

The police force issue has been kicked around in Post for 18 months or so. A negative vote Tuesday will put it far back on the top shelf where only a damaging crime spree could resurrect it.

Post needs organized law enforcement.

If voters show a lack of interest in the matter Tuesday probably the only way law enforcement will come in the possible future will be after some citizen or citizens take the law into their own hands, and we hope that never happens. The Citizens Committee were jokingly called the "vigilantes" but real vigilantes are no joke.—JC

High school plays never flop

Come to think of it, we've never heard of a high school play being a flop. The reason we came to think of it is that we've just read where veteran Broadway press agent Richard Mahaney, writing in the New York Times Magazine, says only 11 of the 55 plays, musicals and theatrical whatnots produced in New York last season recovered their cost.

There is, of course a big difference in a high school production and a Broadway production, and the reason that high school plays always prove successes—in most instances howling ones—is that the audience includes proud papas, mamas, grandparents, etc., in addition to a generous sprinkling of friends of the young actors. The members of the cast can do no wrong in the eyes of such an audience, and if the play's directors tear their hair back stage over garbled lines or mixed up scenes, such displays escape the audience's notice.

Then, too, there are no high falutin' drama critics on hand to pick the high school plays to pieces as there are on Broadway. All in all, high school plays are a vital part of the school year, and we hope they never go the way of pep squads and senior trips.—CD

1960 census will give true figure

With the decennial federal census scheduled for 1960, it won't be too long before we can quit having to fall back on guessing games as to Post's population. These games have become more widespread since the recent annexation deal.

Using the old 3.7 utility meter formula to arrive at a population figure sometimes gets you close, but also sometimes misses the mark by a wide margin. No doubt about it, they haven't found anything yet to beat the federal census for accuracy.

Incidentally, the Republican Party in Texas will soon start laying groundwork to pay off a lot of political favors by passing out about 10,000 temporary census jobs to the right people. For the first time since 1930 the party—both nationally and in Texas—will be in a position to name the thousands of men and women who will take the national population census.

Although the census is not scheduled until next year, hiring of the vast nose-counting brigades will start in November of this year. It is estimated that these jobs in Texas—ranging from two or three weeks to six months—will bring in approximately $2,000,000.

Present plans call for setting up 21 district offices in Texas to conduct the mammoth census undertaking. Census officials say they cannot name the locations of these offices since they first must determine what communities will have space available to house the teams of census takers.

A typical district office will be staffed by a supervisor, an assistant supervisor, from five to eight clerks, 22 crew leaders and about 400 enumerators or census takers.

Supervisors will work from January through May and will be paid about $500 a month. Their assistants will work from about February through May and they are down for $400 a month. Crew leaders, whose jobs will last only six or eight weeks, will make $400 a month. The "nose counters" will work from two to three weeks—depending on the area they have to cover—and will receive from $12 to $13 a day plus automobile allowance if they have to drive.

It will cost a lot of money to conduct the census. The field work alone will run above $50,000,000 in salary and expense allowances. More than 150,000 temporary workers will have to be hired. Of course, it will be worth it—if for nothing more than to settle all the population arguments that have cropped up throughout these United States since the last census in 1950.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

I am indebted to Franklin Jones of Marshall as to why Mr. Krushchev insists on a meeting with Mr. Eisenhower instead of with more adept, intelligent and shrewd career diplomats in a lower echelon. He quotes from a recent speech by our president, which is self-explanatory: "What I do think is here is something that has to be constantly studied, explored, and to keep up with the changing proposals, free cities, and that sort of thing. I mean in the free city in the sense of an international sense, not the way we are talking about it, that kind of thing. So we have to keep up, abreast of the situation." That's tellin' 'em, pal! — The Kalla Banner.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WITH EASTER having been taken care of in March, April banded in yesterday with April Fool's Day and a month-long schedule which includes elections, deadlines, opening of the baseball season, preparations for the close of the school term in May, and a raft of other things.

Also rain, we hope!

GROWING OLDER and more settled may have something to do with it, but in recent years we've been letting such things as April Fool's Day and Fridays the 13th slip up on us without making mention of their coming. That's happened twice this year on Fridays the 13th, and now April Fool's Day has slipped past us. And such occasions used to be excellent take-offs on which to fill columns such as this one.

Saturday will be one of the biggest days of the year. It'll be such a busy day, in fact, that it is going to push us to get through it in one piece. Besides the school bond election, there's the all-day track and field meet at Crosbyton, which we're entertaining hopes of attending, and the Post High School athletic banquet that night.

THE ACTIVITIES will continue Tuesday, April 7, with the city election—being made more "exciting" this year with a couple of straw votes on two important issues—police protection and city zoning.

Then, of course, along about the time the major league baseball season opens, the income tax and automobile inspection deadlines will be hard upon those of us who've paid too much attention to baseball and not enough attention to deadlines.

WHICH REMINDS us — the month of April even came in with a deadline... on automobile tag purchases!

There isn't room in April's 30 days to crowd in many more activities.

With Hawaii coming into the Union as the 50th state, the government has decided to follow the same course it took in the case of Alaska and rule against any official abbreviation of the state's name. That's good, since any abbreviation for Hawaii would sound sort of silly. "Ha" or "Haw" probably wouldn't please the residents of the new state any more than would "Hi," and one certainly wouldn't want to abbreviate it "H," because no one would want to be told to "go to H."

IN THE CASE of Alaska, government officials who decide such things are said to have given up any attempts at an official abbreviation after trying out "Al," "Ala," (which is already the abbreviation for Alabama), and "Alas," which certainly no blithe-spirited Alaskan would want to see used.

So, Hawaii and Alaska will take their places along with Utah as the only states for which you're not likely to see an abbreviation. Some might say that Ohio and Idaho fall in the same category, but you frequently see these abbreviated "O" and "Ida."

SOMEONE TELLS us of a Post father, who, irked by his son's unwillingness to seek painful employment, suggested: "Son, why don't you go down to the post office and read all the recruiting posters out front?"

Our friend on the street complains that many a man's name appears in the paper only three times: When he's too young to read, when he's too dazed to read and when he's too dead to read.

THE REASON some boys don't follow in father's footsteps is the old man didn't make tracks.

It's tough on American business men. Every time they come in with something new, the Russians invent it a week later and the Japanese make it cheaper.

Gold was so plentiful in Colombia in the early days that fishermen used it for making fishhooks, according to The World Book Encyclopedia.

Cats were more than household pets to the ancient Egyptians. They were worshipped as gods, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. The punishment for killing a cat was usually death.

The silk worm and printing aren't the only things the Chinese have introduced to the world. The World Book Encyclopedia says the Chinese used rockets in warfare more than 700 years ago, before Western inventors knew how to make gunpowder.

Hawaii had its own conquering hero before Napoleon made himself master of Europe. The World Book Encyclopedia says King Kamehameha I, the chief who united most of the islands in 1795, was called the "Napoleon of the Pacific" because of his conquests.

Bulletin is out on fertilizers

COLLEGE STATION—“Fertilizers and Their Use” is the title of a bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist and author of the bulletin, points out that plants are much like human beings. They need air to breathe, water to drink and nutrients to help them grow and reproduce. If any one of these is not available, the plants wither and die.

When air and water are in balance, plant nutrients—or fertilizer—can be used effectively by plants. Sixteen elements presently are considered for plant growth and two others are considered by some to be essential. If any of the 16 essential elements are deficient, plants will not grow properly.

The 15-page bulletin covers a variety of subjects related to fertilizers and their use. Some of the topics discussed are first uses of fertilizers, fertilizer use today, plant nutrients, source of nutrients, how to determine fertilizer needs, economics of fertilizer use and others. It is available free of charge from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-167.

About Your HEALTH
 A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, R. D., Commissioner of Health.

A precedent - setting venture in chronic disease management has been launched by the State Department of Health. Immediate beneficiaries are 12,000 patients housed in Texas' 587 licensed nursing and convalescent care homes. Built around nutritional and nursing needs of oldsters, the program promises to be the biggest boon to their health and comfort since passage of the nursing home licensure law in 1953. It works like this:

On request of county health officers and local health department directors, a nutritionist, a chronic disease nurse and two sanitarians instruct local health department staffs and nursing home operators in proper care of elder citizens, many of them disabled by chronic illness to the point of being bedfast. A physio-therapist will be added to the team later. Many people are lying helplessly in bed, dependent on others for every need. With help they might learn to feed and bathe themselves—making the difference between optimism and despondency.

The program is purely educational, intended solely to help local communities meet their responsibilities toward aged and infirm citizens. Half the course is spent in explaining and demonstrating to local health department staff members what their tasks are regarding nursing homes in the county, and in detailing how those tasks can be accomplished. Standards which homes must meet before being licensed are carefully discussed. Nurses are taught how to handle chronic disease patients. Sanitarians are encouraged to make frequent inspections, and to impress on home operators the importance of scrupulous personal and premise cleanliness and improves nursing care.

The object of such instruction is to help local health department personnel become proficient in assisting and advising nursing home operators in providing higher standards of care. Operators come in for their share of attention in a section of the course designed to meet daily problems they encounter. Discussion subjects, selected by operators themselves, range from records the law requires to be kept to special diets.

As an adjunct service, the Department provides food purchasing guides showing the amount and type of food needed for aged men and women, and evaluation guides for weekly menus. Time has dealt harshly with most nursing home residents. The State Health Department is determined to help them hold onto the threads of their old dignity.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Confusion as to how many acres will be planted to cotton this season follows the government announcement of farmers showing "B" with its 40 per cent increase about 2.9 million acres went into choice "B" planting program (making over 2.5 million acres that will be planted in "B" cotton). This year the 15.8 million acres of cotton planted in the United States is the largest land will be used for cotton in the country. But there's more to it than that. The government has announced that it will purchase all of the cotton produced in the United States at a price which will be 10 per cent above the world price. This means that the farmer will receive a price which is 10 per cent above the world price. This is a big deal for the farmer. The government has also announced that it will purchase all of the cotton produced in the United States at a price which will be 10 per cent above the world price. This means that the farmer will receive a price which is 10 per cent above the world price. This is a big deal for the farmer.

Salt Bank
There's a possibility of Congress being asked for extra funds to take up to 30 million acres out of production. This would cost about $25 million or $30 million more than the current annual payment ceiling.

We Suggest
If anybody is going to get paid for not growing cotton, we suggest that ginners get paid for not ginning... merchants for not buying, servicing and selling... crushers for not crushing... warehouses for not storing... transportation lines for not hauling... newspapers, radio and television for not advertising... department stores for not selling and customers for not buying cotton... this way we would all have nothing to do and would still get paid... wonder why somebody hasn't thought of this before???

Red Cotton Up?
Reports from Red China say its 1959 cotton crop may reach 15 million bales... more than double the '58 production... will this mean that more Red China textiles will be sold at very low prices in the East?? Japan and India both have suffered from this in the past and of course U. S. cotton feels it in reduced Eastern mill markets.

Make A Guess
How much money is spent by cotton farmers each year to control weeds?? It's almost $450 million... surprised?? think what it would mean to the pocketbook if research could stop this!!!

A TIME FOR PLANTING

This is the season for new growth, that time of year when the warm ground is most receptive to the young roots of a small tree. One day this tree will shade the entire family; but for now, it belongs to the little fellow with the shovel. He and his tree will grow up together. They will share the soft spring rain, the warm summer sunshine and the wonderful days of autumn. The tree, because it is planted soundly and in fertile soil, will weather the sharp cold winds of winter. This child, like all our children, soon must also face the biting winds of adversity. We can insure his strength NOW by giving him love, kindness and showing him, by our example, the true meaning of life. Do not send your child to Church, take him... and let the warmth of the Lord's Love give him and you the moral strength to withstand the most savage storm.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Lubbock man is named chairman of bond district

J. E. Waller, president of the Plains National Bank in Lubbock, has been named U. S. Savings Bonds District Chairman for District 5 by Nathan Adams, chairman of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee.

Waller will direct all phases of promotion and the sale of Savings Bonds in District 5, which includes Cochran, Crosby, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties. He becomes a member of the state-wide volunteer organization whose efforts are contributed to public service.

"Today, and as far into the future as we can look, we are facing times as critical as any we have known in the last quarter of a century," Waller said in accepting this appointment. "That is why it is more essential than ever before that every one of us must do what we can to keep ourselves strong and also our community, our state and our nation. Fortunately, there is a way that makes it possible for every one of us to participate in achieving this strength by purchasing Savings Bonds. U. S. Savings Bonds are a safe, sure investment because the interest and principal are fully guaranteed by the United States Government," the new district chairman said.

"Mr. Waller has an outstanding record as a banker and civic worker, and I know our program will benefit greatly from his leadership and direction," State Chairman Adams said.

COUNTY HOME AGENT REMINDS

Beginning of new season means storage chores for homemakers

By JESSIE PEARCE

With the beginning of a new season and change in temperatures, the homemakers all over the country will be faced with the same job, that of storing the out-of-season clothing and household linens. The most important consideration in storage is to protect the clothing or bedding from damage by moths or silverfish.

Moths feed on animal fibers, such as wool, fur, feathers, hair, or materials manufactured from these substances. Silverfish feed on vegetable matter that is high in carbohydrate, such as starched clothing, rayon, wall paper, and stocks of paper on which paste or glue has been used as a sizing. Knowing the material on which these two pests feed, helps in knowing how to control their damage. In dealing with moths, it is the larva that does the damage. The flying moth has already done his damage. However, when you see flying moths, it is a safe assumption, that eggs have been laid, and there are larva present and feeding.

Wash or dry clean woollens or woolen blends according to the manufacturer's instructions before storage. They may then be sealed in garment bags, boxes, or wrapped in paper and sealed. A 5 per cent DDT dust or spray will kill moths. You may dust drawers and spray closets to kill the moths in these storage places. Furs or feathers may be dusted with DDT before storage. The powder will brush out when they are taken out of storage.

Silverfish control is much the same as that for moths. Wash and store cotton garments without starch. Wash or dry clean all rayon or rayon blends and store in sealed bags or boxes. A 2 per cent chlordane or 5 per cent DDT spray or a 5 per cent dust of either of these insecticides is an effective control for silverfish.

In storing garments, store those that will be needed in early fall in one container, and those that will not be needed until later in another container. This will make it easier for you to get the clothing you need early next fall without unpacking everything. Be sure to label each box, bag or drawer with the contents. This will eliminate a search through several storage places to locate one item.

Remember, never store soiled garments or bedding. Washing or dry cleaning kills moths and silverfish. Store the garments in sealed containers so that they cannot become infested prevent expensive damage to stored clothing and bedding.

Bible Thoughts

"WHERE IS YOUR HEART?"

by RONNIE PARKER

When the Master of men speaks, we do well to listen. Hear him as he says, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal; But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal; For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." (Matt. 6:19-21).

Where is your heart, my friend? Find your heart and you will find where your treasure is. When we lay up for ourselves treasures upon the earth, we don't depict the intelligence of an ant, because we are making no preparation for the future. We become earthly. Our thoughts are worldly and our actions are geared only to the pursuit of the material.

On the other hand when we lay up treasures with the Lord in heaven, our thoughts and actions are drawn to him. Make Christ the master of your life. Place your desires, affections and ambitions on heaven. It will be your home.

COME TO THE CHURCH OF CHRIST EVERY TIME YOU CAN. WE WELCOME YOU.

Mayor's Talk—

The mayor also listed expansion of the fire department, a new city hall, a city planning and zoning board, beautification and expansion of the cemetery, and beautification of the city as something for all citizens to be thinking about.

HE DECLARED Post has "the prospects for having one of the prettiest cities in West Texas" and that a beautification program would not be expensive.

Reviewing accomplishments, Minor said that "in the past four years Post has come a long way in its development."

"We have tried to give you good city government and spend your money wisely," he said.
Emphasizing that Monday the city used 1,000,000 gallons of water, Minor said definitely this is the city's No. 1 problem. He said Post in the last four years has spent $157,471 on trying to increase its water supply.

THIS EXPENDITURE included leasing, pumping and drilling of water wells, but not the normal operating expenses of the city water department.

Making the water picture look a little rosier, Minor said was the contract the city made recently with S. C. Storie for a section of water rights that should add at least 13 million gallons of water to the city's monthly supply. He said this new water supply would be ready to turn into the mains Thursday (today).

On paving, Minor said he was happy to report the city has paved 67 blocks of paving in the last two or three years without a bond issue. He said the paving program cost $145,000 via city warrants and that only $55,000 of this amount is still owed.

PAVING, CURBING and guttering were offered property owners at $3.35 a front foot, he said, but estimated a continuation of the paving program this year would see this cost go up to $4.25 per foot.
Minor cited the city's street lighting program as a major improvement and declared the park development—a cooperative city-county effort—is a good one and already "three years ahead of schedule."

He credited Shelly Camp, park board chairman, for his hard work in pushing the badly needed park program.

MINOR RECALLED the tax equalization program carried out by both city and school district. He said the city was interested only in "tax adjustments" as some city valuations were on the rolls as low as 5 per cent of real value and some as high as 100 per cent prior to the revaluation.

Commenting on the city's recent annexation of three square miles of territory, Mayor Minor said that "at no time did I or other council members come out for annexation regardless of our personal feelings. He said "we felt it was only fair to let the people who lived in the area vote on it." He said last year "we had enough names on a petition to annex the area without a vote, but felt we should not take the step without an election it."

ON CITY FINANCES, Minor said that Post's bonded indebtedness today stands at "only $63,000" and that "we are very proud we have been able to go along and progress without creating a big debt and by still keeping taxes low."

Pointing out that the city tax rate is only $1.50 per $100 valuation and that valuation figured at only 35 per cent of real value, Minor declared:
"You should be proud of the city's tax structure and keep it in line. It is an asset to your city even if you have to do without some services."

IN COMPARISON, Minor pointed out that whereas Post taxes are on a basis of 35 per cent of real valuation, those at Spur are 95 per cent, at Crosbyton 80 to 90 per cent, and those at Rails nearly 100 per cent.

He completed his talk by reading a letter from E. R. (Buster) Moreland, manager of Brown Brothers operations here, praising the Minor administration and commenting that although annexation would mean paying city taxes on many more oil wells and tank batteries, the oil firm wanted to see Post progress and felt annexation was a step in the right direction.
Minor had as his guests for the luncheon several city employees, including Winnie Tuffing, Gertrude Hopkins, Wynell Holland, P. A. Blacklock, and Pets Maddox, and "Mr. Sunshine" of radio station KPOS.

Cotton Plan 'B' chosen by 8 pct.

Garza County farmers who signed up for the "B" plan under the new two-choice plan that goes into operation for the first time this year have gained an 875-acre allotment increase and lower supports.

County figures released by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange show that there are 35 farms in Garza County signed up for the "B" plan, which is about 8 per cent participation in the county.

The normal "B" allotment has been increased by the sign-ups from 2,189 acres to 3,064 acres, increasing the county's base allotment from 35,602 to 39,477 acres.

Signing up for the "B" plan gives the grower a 40 per cent acreage increase and price supports at 85 per cent of parity. Those signing up for the smaller acreage, the "A" plan, will get price supports of 80 per cent of parity.

Assemblies of God continue to grow

The Assemblies of God are growing. Newly produced figures indicate the organization has passed the million mark in membership for the U. S. and foreign lands.

The total is 1,133,150 with 505,352 in the U. S. and 627,798 in 69 foreign lands.

Churches number 8,088 with congregations in every state in the Union. There are 9,316 ordained ministers and 4,874 licensed ones.
The local congregation of the Assembly of God reports a steady growth, according to the pastor, Rev. J. R. Brincefield.

School Bonds—

It is estimated that by 1962, enrollment will have increased to 1,564.

This year's enrollment represents an Average Daily Attendance increase sufficient to give the school three or four more classroom teachers for next year, but at the present there is no place to put them. Every classroom in all three schools is in use. Two temporary classrooms were constructed last summer, and additional space probably will be necessary next year, with alternative being to put the first grade on a half-day basis.

"THIS EXPANSION program is needed now," school trustees emphasize. "It will be more than needed by the time we can vote a bond issue and get it built."
In the trustee vote in Saturday's school election, Quannah Maxey and J. E. Birdwell are unopposed as candidates for re-election to the seven-man board.

Voting in the school election will be in the high school library, with the polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m.

VOTING IN THE city election will be at the city hall with poll time the same as in the school election—8 a. m. to 7 p. m.
A mayor and two councilmen are to be elected. Powell Shytles, present councilman, is a candidate for the mayor's post, being vacated by James L. Minor, who has served two terms. Councilmen Roy Baker and John N. Hopkins are unopposed in their bids for re-election.

The "straw votes" on a uniformed police force and zoning ordinance are just that—straw votes—since the City Council has the authority to establish either or both without the necessity of a vote. Mayor Minor said the purpose of the straw votes is to determine "if the people want a uniformed police force and a zoning ordinance."

ON THE POLICE force issue, the voter will be asked to vote "for" or "against" the creation of a uniformed police force and for levying the necessary taxes to pay therefor.

On the zoning ordinance, the voter will ballot "for" or "against."
A full-fledged, uniformed police force for the city has been recommended by two citizens' committees as the most likely way of solving the law enforcement problem here, which has long been a major civic issue. At present, the city has one enforcement officer—a city marshal.

IN A HALF-PAGE ad on page 12 of this issue of The Dispatch, the City Council states that a three-man uniformed police force would cost the city $15,000 the first year, and that as the city grows this cost will increase.
Members of the civic committees looking into the law enforcement problem have contended, however, that setting up of a corporation court and collection of fines would take care of much of the expense of operation of a police force.

A zoning ordinance would mean that only specific types of homes and other structures could be built in certain areas of the city. Zoning is considered a "must" in a city where growth and proper development is desired.

to voters would include not only the price each city would pay for White River water but the cost of water to the individual users, which would vary according to present water obligations of the four member towns.

He said that the federal agency probably would go along with the district's suggestion that a water district tax be levied only for a single year providing income from the sale of water would be enough to pay interest and bond payments on time.

THE TAX IS to provide a "cushion" in the sinking fund for the bond retirement.

McLaughlin told directors that the four member cities will be required to maintain accurate records as to the amount of water pumped and the amount sold individual users so they could be checked by government auditors to determine actual line loss.

Post already has sufficient water records, but all of the towns don't. The water loss in local lines is reported to be nine per cent according to City Superintendent Henry Tate.

McLaughlin foresaw in his report the possibility of the district paying off its loan obligations 10 or 15 years in advance of the end of the 34-year payout period, but said his loan committee was unsuccessful in efforts to get the one-fourth of one per cent per year penalty taken off paying such bonds in advance of due date.

HE REPORTED that a bill now is before congress to provide for loans on such projects at a 2 1/2 per cent interest rate and that if this measure passed, the White River project could qualify for such a loan. The present interest rate is 4 per cent on the federal loan.

White River directors heard a report that the district has been issued its permit by the state board of water engineers for White River water. The district recently requested the permit transferred to the district from the city of Crosbyton in a hearing before the state board.

The directors also authorized the writing of letters to Senators Johnson and Yarborough and to Congressmen Mahon and Rayburn thanking them for their assistance in the federal loan negotiations.
Other members of the loan committee which met with regional HHA officials in Fort Worth were R. J. (Rube) Jennings of Post and Reese McNeill of Spur.

Claud Collier has a novel contest underway over at Caprock Chevrolet. He has a 1959 Chevy demonstrator equipped with a mile-a-meter and is offering 25 free lubrication jobs each to the man and woman who can get the most mileage out of a given amount of gas in the demonstrator. See page 13 where Caprock's ad carries all the details.

S. C. Storie, Jr., told us on the street the other day that there is "no question" but that he can furnish the city 300 gallons of water a minute "easily" off his wells being hooked into the city's system today. He has drilled two more good wells recently on the section and plans to drill four more. If everything works out he may be able to get up to 700 gallons a minute into city mains. All of which would be a tremendous help this summer.

Fritz Brownlee got his picture in the March issue of "The Broadcast", White Stores, Inc., publication for being the "battery man of the month" in group 2 for January. That put Fritz out front in competition with stores in 40 other Texas and New Mexican towns for a free cruise on the Gulf of Mexico in a 52-foot cabin cruiser.

Conservation practices are under way in area

A large number of district co-operators have completed or are in the process of completing conservation practices in the Post Work Unit of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

Level ridge type terrace systems are being completed for Tom Gilmore, Estate of T. R. Greenfield, Willie M. Saunders, J. D. Saunders Estate, James Doggett, R. A. Hodges, R. N. Lusk, Harland Morris and Wagoner Johnson. These terrace systems will reduce erosion by breaking up the concentration of water on long slopes.

Underground pipe lines, which will improve their present irrigation systems, are being installed by Arthur L. Smallwood, Kenneth Davies, Estate of A. L. Robertson, W. Alvin Morris, Herman R. Dabbs, Elmer L. Hitt and Conor Howell.

J. A. Propst has recently completed a system of level borders, which will enable him to apply controlled amounts of water, and it will also reduce erosion and conserve more rainfall.

Ponds have been completed on the ranches of W. A. Long, Mrs. Wilson Connell, Mrs. Kay Beach and the U Lazy S Ranch.

Range pitting and seeding with native grasses are being carried out on the ranches of Wayne Williams and W. A. Long.

The Double U Ranch is aerial seeding native grasses on shinnery land and will follow up with brush control on the shinnery by aerial spraying. Double U is also constructing a cross fence, which will give better distribution of grazing.

District co-operators are urged to contact local Soil Conservation Service technicians for assistance in planning and application of conservation practices.

Tate says the water from the section of land will enable the city to fill the reservoir.

Although considered a success, with some 60 hunters taking part, only about two-thirds of the area was "gone over," Herring said.

The other one-third of the area will be covered in another rabbit hunt scheduled for Saturday, Herring said.

All hunters of high school age or above are invited. The hunt will start after the group meets at the Community Center at 8 a. m., and the hunters will return to the center for lunch, according to Herring.

'Lopes to Crosbyton track meet Saturday

Post Antelope track and team will go back into action today in the annual Crosbyton National Track Meet.

Frank Krhut's thirlclads compete in Class AA, along with 13 other schools of that classification. Fourteen teams are entered in Class A.

Post tracksters were idle the Easter weekend, their competition having been two weeks ago at the wind-blown West Texas Relays in Odessa. The Post team has been weakened by the loss of seniors Charles Morris and Jerry Windham, who quit the squad last week. Both were sprinters, with Morris also performing in the pole vault and broad jump and Windham in the broad jump.

Derwood Mayberry will be back in action for the first time after receiving a severe spike cut on his foot at the Whirlwind Relays in Floydada on March 14. Events will be as follows:

100-yard dash — Curtis Didway.
 220-yard dash — Didway and Jackie Fluitt.
 440-yard dash — Craig Graham and Kenny Poole.
 880-yard run—Tommy Bouchier and Gary Howell.
 Mile run—Wayne Hair and Quentin Knight.

High hurdles—Derwood Mayberry and Scotty Pierce.
 Low hurdles — Mayberry and Fluitt.
 440-yard relay—Mayberry, Poole, Didway and Graham.
 Mile relay—Dan Rankin, Fluitt, Poole and Graham.
 Shot put—Gary Robinson and Pierce.
 Discus throw — Didway and Pierce.
 High jump—Pierce and Rankin.
 Broad jump—Didway and Mayberry.

Applications are being received for quail stocks

AUSTIN — LAND owners are beginning to send in their application for quail for stocking purposes, according to the assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Our State game farm at Tyler already is in spring operation," he said. "We are beginning to receive applications now from land owners who want to stock their places with birds again this spring. Before these applications are processed it is necessary that the release areas be inspected by a game warden. In this manner we will be certain there is plenty of food and cover available."

Quail are sold to the land owner at 50 cents each, which is about half the cost of production. In some areas clubs buy the birds for the land owners. In this way habitat improvement continues.

Reports from wardens throughout the state indicate there also was a good carry-over of native birds from last season, despite the scourge of rats in some parts of the State. The birds now are able to get new green food to eat and emaciated birds are showing signs of improvement.

Additional releases of coturnix quail also will be made this year, according to the secretary. He said when brood birds were taken from laying pens and placed in holding pens during the winter months they continued to lay.

VET'S FORUM

Q. I received my discharge nearly three years ago, at which time I was eligible for complete separation. Instead, I re-enlisted immediately. It's almost time for my second discharge. I realize if I have to use my earlier discharge as the base date, my three-year deadline for starting GI training will be over when I come out. Can I use my second discharge as the base from which to figure my training deadline?

A. No. Since you were eligible for complete separation at the time of your earlier discharge, you might have stayed out of service, your three years in which to start training must be based on that separation—not the one you are expecting.

Q. I understand I can make extra payments on my GI loan without having to pay a penalty charge. Suppose I do, and later on find I am hard-pressed for money. Could the extra money I had paid in be used for current payments?

A. If your lender agrees, yes. Extra principal already paid may in that case be re-applied to regular payments in order to prevent the loan from going into default.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

The Hawk's claim to fame is fisherman . . . not as an angler. But his broad experience and intensive study of the whys and wherefores of successful fishing have prompted the man to write a book on bass fishing.

He calls it "80 Years on Bass." Though Dave lacks a lot of bass fishing years of age, he can and does call on the vast amount of his dad's and his mother's experience, as well as his own background of fishing, to produce "here's how" book that is bound to become a best seller among those who wet a line and hook in the bass-filled waters of Texas.

ALTHOUGH DAVE was born in York, he's mostly a Southlander. When Dave was but two years of age his parents moved to Florida. There his father served as a fishing guide for 12 years. In the last six of those years associated with the Shakespeare Co. and gave exhibition and tackle demonstrations. This environment it was but that Dave learned to fish in life. Fact of the matter is he guided many a fisherman in the Florida Everglades when he was only 11 years of age.

Dave helped his father, O. L. Hawk, open and operate fishing factories in California, Missouri and Arkansas. These factories were national manufacturers, incorporated Hawk lures into their lines.

NOVEMBER day in 1956, representative of a large Texas manufacturing company stopped for a visit at the Hawk factory in Harrison, Ark. In order he purchased the entire line . . . lock, stock and barrel. That put Dave out of business. But it also brought him to the attention of the Corpus Christi firm, the Padre Island Lure Co. months later he was elected president.

He remained there until September, 1958. In November he started his own firm in Austin, when he isn't fishing, he's an extractor and other things Dave Hawk lures.

IN BRIEF, is the background of Dave Hawk, champion angler and author of "80 Years on Bass." Dave Hawk is a champion fisherman because the gent who, in 1958, won the Bass Tournament, won the Men's Drug Tackle Tourney and overall championship of the Arkansas Salt Water Tournament and was runner-up in the Professional Fishermen's Tournament in Arkansas.

He has won the tournament in one year's time, four times.

A fisherman with Dave Hawk's background and proven ability could get away with some comments he makes in his book without a challenge — for they are frank and don't hesitate to express an opinion.

One of the suggestions Dave makes is to discard all swivel lures. He doesn't just tell you that — he explains why you should. He backs his contention with statistics: They increase the number of fish losses. They unbalance a lure, and the line and tempt one to use lures too often.

He believes in black line because it reflects less light. "Light reflects like a ribbon of red light," says the author.

REFERENCES leaders 13 to 20. This, because the long line put the line and leader far ahead of the lure and the fish's attention will not

PS in... SPORTS

By CHARLES DIDWAY

This is the "dead" season as far as sports are concerned, with only an occasional track meet spicing the high school scene. The Post Antelopes will resume action Saturday in the annual Crosbyton Invitational Meet.

The fact that they do not have a track on which to practice isn't the only thing hurting the Antelope tracksters. Jerry Windham and Charles Morris, a couple of seniors bolstering Coach Frank Krhut's squad, quit practice last week. Both boys, Krhut said, had been counted on to pick up points in the district meet at Lubbock two weeks hence.

The many friends of Albert (Flo) Parsons, former Post High School coach, are glad to read that his Levelland baseball team is faring better after a slow start. Flo was a Post visitor one day last week and said his diamond squad is weakened through having to share some outstanding baseball players with the Lobo track and field team.

One of the year's big events for Post High athletes—both boys and girls—will come Saturday night with the annual athletic banquet. They picked up a good speaker in Polk Robinson, and we're looking forward to hearing him. Polk doesn't put on as much of a show before a banquet crowd as he does on the bench when his Red Raiders are playing, but he's an entertaining speaker, nevertheless.

It won't be long until the major league baseball season takes off on its 154-game (per team, that is) schedule. "Game of the Day" radio broadcasts are slated to start Sunday, which will mean the working in of a number of spring training contests before the opening of the regular season up near the middle of the month.

Texas will see a faster brand of baseball this season, with Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth operating in the Triple A American Association instead of the Double A Texas League.

On the home front, preparations are being made for Little League and Pony League sign-ups. Ray Henderson of radio station KPOS is new president of the group directing the youngsters' baseball program here, and the enthusiasm with which Ray is pitching into the program indicates that he'll be a topnotch league proxy.

Tahoka assistant coach takes post at Slaton

TAHOKA — Deane Wright, assistant coach at Tahoka High School since 1954, has accepted a similar position at Slaton High School.

At Slaton, Wright will be first assistant and line coach under M. W. Kerr, who was recently named head coach to replace Leonard Ehrler.

Southland man is charged in fire

A charge of "willful and malicious destruction of private property by setting fire to an automobile" has been filed against Travis Dean Williams, 21, of Southland in justice of the peace court in Lubbock.

Williams allegedly told officers after his arrest Saturday that he set fire to a 1957 sedan owned by Slaton Constable Allen Meurer "for revenge" after Meurer had made a friend leave a dance hall floor.

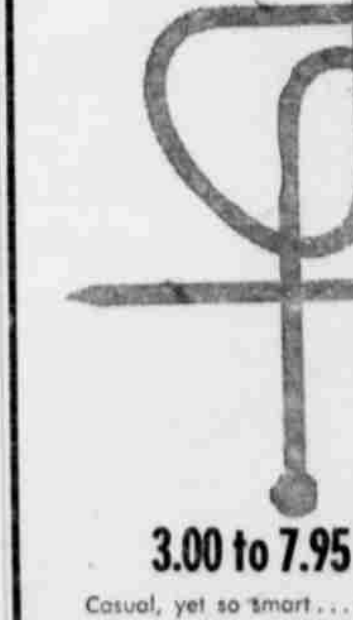

The car, parked on a dance hall parking lot, was destroyed by fire on the night of March 21. Williams was arrested Saturday night by a Texas Ranger and Slaton officers. He has been placed under a $1,500 bond.

On governing board

SOUTHLAND—Linda Ann Halliburton of Southland is on the Women's Student Governing Board at Hardin-Simmons University, which has been advised that it will be affiliated officially with the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students.

FRIEND OR FOE

When Barbara Graham, played by Susan Hayward in "I want to Live," went on trial, Edward S. Montgomery of the San Francisco Examiner was one of the reporters who ripped her to shreds in his stories. Later he completely changed his mind and did everything he could to save her. That she appreciated this is shown in this actual note which she sent to Montgomery shortly before she died in the gas chamber. The letter reads: "Dear Mr. Montgomery: There isn't much I can say with words, they always fail me when most needed, but please know, that with all my heart I have appreciated every thing you have done for me. Sincerely, Barbara Graham." "I Want to Live" shows at the Tower Theatre here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

AUSTIN — "After seeing the appropriation bill—and with all the sentiment there is in favor of a higher pay raise—I don't see how we can pay for it all without passing one of those big tax bills."

Speaking in private conversation as a legislator, he is one of an estimated 80 to 90 House members who told voters flatly last summer they wouldn't vote for a general sales tax.

But the "big tax bills" to which he refers are the Strickland-Roberts bill, Blanchard bill, Oliver bill, etc. All of these are, as someone said, "mighty like a sales tax," that they would be collected on the basis of the sales of large numbers of items.

His predicament is shared by many Texas lawmakers this year, as to how to finance the things the people of Texas want without passing a tax the people don't want?

House Appropriations Committee is recommending a 1960-61 spending bill that is the granddaddy of 'em all.

Altogether, spending from all sources, including federal grants, would total $2,401,276,388. It is $200,000,000 higher than the 1959-

60 budget.

Even so, it is $7,500,000 less than recommended by Gov. Price Daniel. Committee's bill calls for general revenue spending of $322,461,196; the governor's for $329,952,992.

Financing the committee's recommendations will require about $157,000,000 in new tax money for the general fund. This results from adding together (1) the expected $65,000,000 deficit from 1958-59, (2) the $42,000,000 increase in spending for the coming biennium over this one and (3) an expected $50,000,000 gap between expected revenue and expenditures.

If the proposed public school teacher pay raise and any other part of the Hale-Aikin recommendations for school improvement are adopted, the new money needs would soar to between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000.

Principal beneficiaries of the $42,000,000 increase proposed by the Appropriations Committee would be higher education, up $23,804,432; state employees, up $3,400,000; state hospitals and special schools, up $10,321,186; prison system, up $6,000,000.

MEANWHILE, THE House Taxation Committee, beset by the prodding of the governor on one hand and the objections of various citizens on the other, toils on in its search for new money.

Recent actions include:

Showing temporary disapproval, 12-6, of the governor's plan for the state to take over abandoned property and dormant bank accounts.

Hearing the pros and cons of a raft of "board-based" taxes. These include:

1. A nine-part omnibus tax measure by Reps. Bob Strickland of San Antonio and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa which would include a gross receipts levy on retail establishments. It would raise an estimated $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.
2. A 1 1/2 per cent gross receipts tax on all business activity (with certain exemptions for farm supplies, charitable institutions, professional services, etc.) by Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock. It would bring in about $300,000,000 to $400,000,000.
3. A tax on "the first sale or use of any finished product" by Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches.
4. A tax on "net profits and receipts" by Rep. Alonzo W. Jamison Jr. of Denton.
5. A "cure all" tax on manufactured goods by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Pecos, to bring in about a half-billion dollars per biennium.

It all led one House member to complain of a "million-dollar headache."

BOAT OWNERS may be in for a shock if the "Water Safety Act" becomes law. Representatives have tacked on a few taxes.

Although designed to promote safety, the measure as it now stands calls for the purchase of a $2 Certificate of Number every two years, plus payment of a fee of $5 to $12.50 per boat per biennium. About the only boats exempted are canoes and "seaplanes".

The measure passed the House but still must meet Senate approval.

THERE'S AT LEAST one fellow who believes that his type of job is useless, outmoded and unnecessary.

He is George Corse Jr. of Graham, Texas. Corse feels that school money is being wasted by keeping the job of County School Superintendent alive. He wants to dispense with the office and contends that it will save the State a minimum of $400,000 annually.

To prove they were economy-minded too, the House passed his bill (HB No. 101 by Rep. George Wilson of Newcastle) and sent it on to the Senate with their blessings.

HB No. 101 would permit the people of a county, by petition of 10 per cent of the eligible voters, to vote on discontinuance of the office of County Superintendent of Schools.

Corse is county superintendent of Young County.

TEXANS MAY have a chance to vote in the next general election on a constitutional amendment to decide, in effect, whether the Legislature shall "go urban."

House passed a resolution by Rep. Will Ehrle of Childress to limit representation from the big city counties. As amended, it would provide one representative for each 100,000 population up to 900,000 and one for each 400,000 thereafter.

Primary target was Harris County, whose sprawling industrialism might entitle it to as many as 13 representatives after the 1960 census, under present rules. Rural legislators fear the city delegations will develop a virtual veto over rural interests. Also, conservatives are skittish about the strong liberal forces that come from Harris County.

But Houstonites, and other city solons, argue that tax-paying citizens are entitled to equal representation, no matter where they live.

Effective watershed programs depend on owner cooperation
COLLEGE STATION — The loss of such resources as soil, water, plants, property and wildlife from floods effects the economy of the individual landowner as well as the entire watershed, says Jack Barton, extension specialist in soil and water conservation. And, he adds, every farmer or ranchman should remember that the water which runs off his land and joins that from neighboring farms or ranches may become a part of a disastrous downstream flood.

Land owners in an organized watershed being protected under the provisions of Public Law 566 (Small Watershed and Flood Prevention Act) are reminded by Barton that full benefits can be expected only when every acre of land within the watershed is safeguarded by conservation practices. If conservation practices are not used, then the watershed protection system cannot do the job for which it was designed, says the specialist.

Barton suggests to those living within an organized watershed, a visit with the local county agent or a supervisor of the local Soil Conservation District for details on conservation practices which may be used in the area.

"Small Enough To Be Friendly, Large Enough To Serve Your Every Banking Need"

Important Message To City Voters
Your mayor and city councilmen feel that you, the voters, should be given the facts and truth about two very important questions which you will be privileged to vote for or against in your city election Tuesday, April 7.
Due to a number of mis-statements of facts by certain individuals, we deem it necessary to pay for this advertisement in order that you, the voters, will know the "cold facts" on what you are voting for or against.
As has always been the policy of your present administration, we believe in giving you, the people, the facts and truths on all matters concerning your city government; we then try to act in accordance with what we believe to be the sentiment of the majority of the people. Democracy thrives on this type of government—representing the majority—not the small minority.
After 4 years of study and research, we, your public servants, respectfully submit the following facts:
This Is The Way The Questions Will Be Presented On Your Ballot
FOR the creation of a uniformed police force and levying the necessary taxes to pay therefor.
AGAINST the creation of a uniformed police force and for levying the necessary taxes to pay therefor.
FOR zoning.
AGAINST Zoning.
Facts On The Police Question:
Question: What will a 3-man uniformed police force cost?
Answer $15,000 for the first year. As your city grows, this cost will increase.
Question: How will this be paid?
Answer : By the taxpayers of the city of Post.
Question: How will this affect your present tax structure?
Answer : Your present ad valorem tax brings approximately $45,000 into your city's general fund. To raise $15,000 additional revenue, your city budget would have to be adjusted accordingly, and your taxes raised approximately 33 1-3 per cent for the first year.
Facts On The Zoning Question:
Question: What is meant by zoning?
Answer : Zoning means that your city will be planned and developed properly according to the specific type homes and structures in any one specific area.
Question: What will zoning cost?
Answer : The cost of zoning will be negligible.
Vote—Vote—Vote—Vote—Vote—Vote
Vote Your Sentiments—We still believe in the Democratic form of Government: Government for the Masses, Not the Favored Few.

Funeral held for Snyder cowboy

A number of Post friends of Jim Sealy, Snyder rodeo performer, who was killed Tuesday of last week when he was thrown and dragged by a horse, attended his funeral Thursday afternoon in Snyder First Baptist Church.

The accident in which the 23-year-old Sealy was killed occurred on the Ophelia Blackard portion of the Dorward ranch in Borden County, about 12 miles northwest of Gail.

Sealy apparently was killed when he started to rope something and his horse fell as it started across a ravine. He was thrown over the head of the horse and his legs caught in the rope.

The horse apparently dragged Sealy five or six miles before stopping.

Sealy, a 1935 graduate of Snyder High School, had performed numerous times in both the Post junior and senior rodeos. He attended San Angelo Junior College for two years and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Jimmie Moore of Post was one of the pallbearers.

Junior Set

By CHRIS CORNISH

Everyone sure came back from the Easter holidays full of pep and energy—looking forward to summer vacation! But next week nobody will have any pep and energy because of the three beloved words "six weeks tests." Gee, after the tests only seven more weeks of school (but that includes semester exams), and guess what—we get out on May 22, a couple of days earlier this year!

A new recruit for 6D marched into junior high Tuesday. Her name is Retta Morton. She came from Garden City, Tex. Welcome aboard, Retta!

Mrs. Rosa Gamblin came back Tuesday after her absence of last week. We're sure glad she's back but we also want to say we sure enjoyed Mrs. Sue Cornell taking her place.

Iron deficiency in lawns controllable

COLLEGE STATION — Iron chlorosis, a condition of lawngrass and ornamentals characterized by yellow or bleached leaves due to iron deficiency, was favorably combated with powdered iron chelate about 85 per cent of the time in 78 demonstrations conducted by county agents last year.

Demonstrations were conducted in various areas of the state in soils ranging from sands to clays and from acid to alkaline.

"The problem is usually associated with soils high in lime, but sometimes occurs on acid soil," explained W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. "Nitrogen deficiency symptoms are similar to those of iron chlorosis and homeowners should make sure nitrogen needs are met before treating for iron deficiency."

Mild cases of the deficiency may be corrected with dry applications of iron sulfate, Bennett said. More severe cases on lawn grasses usually require treatment with iron applied as a spray, since it is generally more effective in this form.

Iron chelates are generally more effective and give longer-lasting effects than iron sulfate. Manufacturers' directions for use of the chelates should be followed carefully. Suggested rates vary with the plant being treated and the condition of the soil.

Treatment about every four to six weeks may be necessary to maintain the desired color in areas where the problem is common or severe, Bennett said.

Fertilizer usage shows increase in last half of '58

COLLEGE STATION — The total tonnage of fertilizer sold during the last half of 1958 in Texas was 4.2 per cent over the same period in 1957 but 20 per cent above the tonnage sold during the same period of 1953. State Chemist J. F. Fudge also revealed in his bi-annual report on distribution of sales of fertilizer that the trend toward the use of higher analysis fertilizers continued at a rapid pace.

The average composition of mixed goods was higher than ever before with the average for the state near the 9-18-0 level. The average nitrogen in materials was significantly higher—over three times above the 1953 average. On the other hand, Fudge pointed out that the percentage of available phosphoric acid continued to decrease. Sales of 10-20-10 were 30 per cent higher than in 1957 and accounted for 71 per cent of the total for 1-2-1 ratio and 55 per cent of all mixed fertilizers sold.

Sales of materials were up 3.6 per cent from a year ago due almost entirely to the great increase in anhydrous ammonia, especially in West Texas, said Fudge. Tonnage of this material used was a seven times more for 1958 than for the same period in 1953, and accounted for a third of all materials sold during the past fall season.

MITE OF A TRUCK

The smallest multi-stop delivery truck produced by an American manufacturer is this new International Metro-Mite, now being displayed at Dowe H. Mayfield Co., Inc. Only 13 feet in overall length, the Metro-Mite has a surprising capacity in its all-steel body of 200 cubic feet.

Metro-Mite delivery truck introduced in Post area by Dowe H. Mayfield Co.

A new International multi-stop delivery truck called the Metro-Mite, the smallest vehicle of its type made in America, has been introduced in the Post area by Dowe H. Mayfield Co., Inc., it has been announced by Dowe H. Mayfield, dealer.

The Metro-Mite, which weighs only 2,800 pounds, is especially designed to economically meet the needs of multi-stop truck operators who haul light, bulky loads. "Its new four-cylinder, 51-horsepower engine will idle for approximately eight hours on just one gallon of gasoline," Mayfield said, "and its all-steel body has a big 200-cubic foot capacity."

Other features of the Metro-Mite, according to the dealer, include excellent maneuverability and unitized construction which eliminates the need for separate body and chassis frames and results in a fully-integrated, strong box-like unit.

Delivery operations with this new truck are facilitated by means of sliding doors on both sides of its man-high, walk-in driver compartment, or through double rear doors. By using the walk-through aisle of the driver compartment for loadspace, objects up to nine feet long can be carried.

The Metro-Mite is rated at 3,800 pounds gross vehicle weight and can carry 1,000-pound loads. Its overall length is 159 inches; its interior height and width both are 66 inches. Length of loadspace from back of driver's seat to double rear doors is 84 inches.

"This truck's advanced performance and economy features make it especially adaptable to use by florists and other businesses delivering lightweight merchandise," Mayfield said.

Net income per farm in Texas rises 79 pct.

COLLEGE STATION — Net income realized by Texas farmers in 1958 averaged $3,254 per farm, 79 per cent more than in 1957, according to preliminary estimates of the Agricultural Marketing Service. Realized net income is the amount available for spending after farm production expenses were paid. Realized gross income per farm in Texas averaged $8,929 in 1958. This is $2,187 more than in 1957.

Cotton was responsible for more than half the increase in total cash and cattle also showed substantial gains. But production expenses, especially livestock and hired labor, also rose.

Texas farmers increased inventories of crop and livestock in 1958. Total net income, which includes an allowance for these changes in inventories, averaged $3,262. A year earlier, for the United States, realized net income averaged $2,750 per farm in 1958. This was 23 per cent more than in 1957 and the third highest amount on record, because of larger inventories, the total net income per farm showed an even greater increase. The average of $2,985 per farm was 25 per cent more than in 1957, and second only to the 1948 record of $3,956.

Post High School Chapter

The March meeting of the Post chapter of Future Farmers of America was held in the English room at the high school, with President Royce Hart presiding.

Topics discussed included the FFA Father and Son banquet, money raised from candy sales, and coming district, area and state meetings.

Committees were appointed to prepare invitations, arrange for the program and decorate the banquet room. The banquet will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night, May 1, in the school cafeteria.

Claud Collier Jr. of Caprock Chevrolet Co. was elected to honorary membership in the Post chapter because of his interest in the chapter and his furnishing of a pickup truck for use by the chapter.

The annual FFA tractor drivers contest will be held Friday, April 10, if this does not conflict with the district meet. The contest is sponsored by the Stewart Company, manufacturers of the Ford tractor. An announcement will be made by Earl Rogers of Garza Farm Store, local Ford tractor dealership, giving more details of the contest.

Curtis Steel, Don Richardson and Gary Masters, members of the VA III class, will be in Alpine Saturday for the annual Sul Ross College judging contest. It is believed that the boys will gain much from the experience received in close relationship with other youths.

Advisor D. A. Koeninger says if the boys are interested in making the trip to the State Fair of Texas in Dallas this fall, now is the time to begin getting their animals for the show. Don Richardson has already lambed three male crossbred lambs which he intends to take as his FFA show project. Others have indicated interest in the show, but, in order to go, definite plans must be made quickly.

Mr. Koeninger, vocational ag teacher, will attend a tractor maintenance short course at Brownfield on Monday. Bob Craig, farm shop specialist for Texas A&M College, will be in charge of instruction at the meeting. Definite plans for the boys' district FFA meeting will be made at that time. The district meeting for the selection of degree candidates, award winners, talent winners and sweetheart candidates will be held May 18 at Lamesa.

ON BAD CHECKS AND MORTGAGED PROPERTY

There seems to be some misunderstanding among the business men in town as to the liability on "bad checks" and on property sold under chattel mortgage. We take the position that a post-dated check is a check in payment of account and other checks of similar nature are not actionable under the law. The check must be given for money or property which is delivered at the time of taking the check. Any checks of this nature are actionable.

We further call your attention to the fact that the law requires notice by registered mail to prove intent, which notice must be for a period of 10 days. Any form letter is permissible if it describes the check in general and advises that it has been returned unpaid. The law further provides that in the event a check charge is filed, any suggestion or attempt by the complainant to dismiss, render the person making the suggestion or attempt, liable for a sum not to exceed $500. The purpose of the law is to punish the offender and is not for the purpose of collecting the check. The fact that the check is collected does not change this law.

In all charges of fraudulently disposing of mortgaged property or for the fraudulently taking same out of the county or state, it is necessary that facts necessary to the offense be proved by competent evidence, and must be actual evidence that he sold or disposed of the property or that he fraudulently carried the property out of the county or state and this must have been done either by himself or his agent duly authorized. The fact that this man is gone and the property gone is not sufficient.

The office of the County and District Attorney is for prosecution only and is neither the duty nor the obligation of the County or District Attorney to collect indebtedness, whether it is based on a criminal act or not. The established collection agencies handle this kind of work on an average fee of 33 1-3 per cent or 50 per cent and their services should be used if the purpose is for collection of the checks or mortgages.

County Attorney

CONSIDERATE PAPER BOY

Dear Editor:
An incident happened today which I thought might be of interest to you.

I saw a Post Dispatch paper boy about a block away. I asked one of the neighbor children to go and purchase me a paper. The boy came all the way back to my house to tell me he was sorry but he had sold all he had. I thought this very considerate of the boy to walk all the way back to tell me he was out, but when, about half an hour later, he returned with me a paper, I was delighted to know that the world still has boys who think of others.

I asked the neighbor children who the boy was, and they told me his name was Jimmy Tom Johnston. I think this boy deserves a word of praise.

Artifacts shown at chapter meet

Recent finds of Indian artifacts were shown and discussed last Thursday night at a regular roundtable meeting of the Garza County chapter of the South Plains Archaeological Society, held at the Scout Camp headquarters building.

President Emmett Shedd and member Frank Runkles emphasized the importance of expediting the work on the site being excavated on the Slaughter Ranch. As this site is on the right-of-way of the Post-Gail highway project, all members are urged to help when possible so that the work can be completed before the actual road building begins.

The next meeting of the chapter, which will be in the form of a business session, will be held next Thursday night at the Scout Camp headquarters, according to J. M. Baylis, secretary-treasurer.
