

Crowded quarters seen as school opening nears

8th grade is moved

Eighth grade students, who this year will be back in the high school building for the first time since the junior high building was completed at mid-term four years ago, will register Friday for the new term, with students of the four high school grades scheduled to register Monday and Tuesday.

Meanwhile, other preparations are under way for the opening of the 1959-60 school year on Monday, Aug. 31.

This week's preparations include the unpacking and stacking of hundreds of new textbooks in all three school buildings.

Everything is in readiness for the term opening in the elementary and junior high buildings but at the high school building workmen are racing against time to have six new classrooms ready for use by the opening day.

The new classrooms are being built in what used to be the high school auditorium. The contractors told Supt. R. T. Smith Tuesday that they expect to have the classrooms ready by the end of the workday on Friday, Aug. 28.

"That will give us just two days to install seats and get the rooms ready for the teachers and students," the superintendent said.

The auditorium remodeling plans also call for an upstairs assembly room, but this room won't be finished until after the opening of the school term.

Glenn Whittenberg, high school principal, said eighth grade students are to be registered Friday so that their program may be worked out to conform to the high school schedule.

Senior students will register Monday morning and the junior students Monday afternoon. Sophomores will be registered on Tuesday and freshmen on Wednesday.

Although the eighth grade is being moved to the high school building, Junior High Principal Herman F. Raphael said his building still will be crowded, with two fourth grade sections coming over from the elementary school.

Elementary Principal James West also foresees crowded conditions in his building, even though the two fourth grade sections are being shifted over to junior high.

"We'll have six first grade sections," he said.

Groundbreaking ceremony set for Monday.

City permit issued for bank's new home

A $140,000 building permit was issued Tuesday for construction of a new First National Bank building and at the same time I. R. by Metcalf Jr., bank president, announced that a ground breaking ceremony will be held Monday on the site in the 200 block West

The Manhattan Construction Company of Texas, a large Houston building firm, has been awarded the construction contract.

Rennie Bouchier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchier and a building superintendent for the Houston firm, will be building superintendent for the bank's construction. Bouchier arrived here early this week with some key construction personnel. He now makes his home at Houston.

The big bank building permit, along with five other smaller permits issued in the last few days for $6,318 of additional construction, brings the building permit total for the year to date to $742,335.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf were in Houston most of last week where Metcalf was busy working on arrangements for the bank's construction with the Houston firm. They returned here Sunday night.

Metcalf said the Manhattan firm had estimated a six months completion time for the new bank's construction and added that he hoped to be moving into the new building in March or April of next year.

The ground breaking start on the new building Monday will be a Golden Jubilee event for the bank, which began its 51st year of operations here July 20.

Metcalf said he "felt fortunate to obtain the Manhattan Construction Co. as the general contractor for the bank building as that Houston firm generally devotes itself to much larger construction projects."

The new bank building of brick construction will be 140 feet by 78 feet, one story with no basement, and will contain approximately three times the floor space of the present bank building.

Metcalf said the new building will be completely fireproof and will contain about 450 more safety deposit boxes than the present bank vault.

The new bank's lobby will be of wood paneling with some brick, grasscloth walls, and split pavers for a floor.

The community room, which will seat 75 and also have a coffee bar, will be finished in brick and wood paneling.

The building site is being cleared. (See BANK PERMIT Page 8)

Samson funeral rites are held in Post Sunday

Funeral services for Jack Samson, 50, a resident of Post since 1911, who died at his home here last Friday afternoon following an illness of several months, were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member.

He had been an employe of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. here for a number of years and was widely known throughout Garza County and West Texas as a Quarter Horse and game bird enthusiast.

He had served as secretary of the Garza County Quarter Horse Association, whose members dedicated this year's show to him. Held Aug. 8, it was the first show he had been unable to attend since the annual event was first held some 12 years ago.

In recent years, he and his father, George (Scotty) Samson, had shown game birds at a number of area shows.

He was born March 19, 1909, in Forfar, Scotland, and with his mother and his sister, Jean, who died last September, came to the United States in 1911 to join their husband and father, who was working here as a stone-mason on some of Post's first business buildings. They came into Post on the first train that ran from Amarillo to Sweetwater.

He was reared in Post and, as a youngster, accompanied his Funeral services for Mrs. Laura (Bla) Crofford, 79, who died about 10 p. m. Tuesday in Garza Memorial Hospital will be held at 4 o'clock in afternoon in the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mrs. Crofford, who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. Porter, at 113 East Third St., had been ill for some time. She had been a resident of Garza since 1927.

She was born March 3, 1880, in Garza County, and was married to Ernest Crofford at Emory, Okla. After moving to Garza County, they farmed east of Post until moving into town about 15 years ago. Mr. Crofford died Nov. 1954.

Besides the daughter, Mrs. Crofford is survived by a sister, Mrs. M. J. Jinks, of Post; two granddaughters, Ervin Porter of Garza and a daughter, Mrs. Pery Porter, who lives in the Navy at San Diego, and a great-grandchild.

The Rev. Shelby Bishop of Lubbock, a former pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, will officiate at the funeral services. Burial will be in the Terrace cemetery under direction of the funeral home.

Bearers will be Eulas Brown, W. Edwards, Francis "Cap" Jans, Aubrey Phillips, T. J. Jans and Everett Windham.

Beer Sellers are hubbing trouble

Charges of unlawful possession of beer were filed against Florentino Fuentetay Hernandez here Tuesday after Sheriff Carl Rains and City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr. confiscated 24 cases of tall-boy cans of beer at a "stash" a few miles west of Post.

The sheriff said the owner of the beer had left a 15-year-old boy to guard the stash. The officers were "tipped off" as to its location and found the boy there when they arrived, the sheriff said.

Patricia Ann Gibson and Sam Green paid fines and costs in county court Saturday following two raids in the "flats" by the city marshal and Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd.

About three cases of beer were confiscated at one of the places raided and about 40 cans of beer at the other.

The Gibson woman paid a fine and costs totaling $177.45 after pleading guilty to unlawful possession of beer. Green was fined $150 and costs after entering a similar plea.

Jimmy Long paid a $100 fine and costs on each of two counts of unlawful sale of beer after pleading guilty to the charges in county court Saturday. His brother, Albert, paid a $100 fine and costs on each of two counts of unlawful possession of beer after pleading guilty last Thursday.

The Long brothers were charged following raids Aug. 7 and 8 on a cafe near Justiceburg.

Two injured in collision here

Chester Keeton, who was injured early Tuesday evening when the tractor on which he was pulling a weed-cutter was struck by an automobile, was still in Garza Memorial Hospital Wednesday with the full extent of his injuries undetermined.

John L. Guthrie, driver of the automobile which struck the tractor, received a leg injury, but was not hospitalized.

The accident occurred at Avenue H and 12th Street. The tractor was going west on 12th Street and the automobile north on Avenue H when the accident occurred, according to City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr., who investigated.

While not believed to be seriously injured, Keeton was being kept at the hospital for observation after complaining of his head hurting.

The city marshal issued two traffic tickets Monday afternoon following a collision at the intersection of Main and Broadway streets. (See COLLISION Page 8)

Meeting called for Tuesday

Centennial oil event is planned for Garza

A meeting of all Garza County oil men interested in promoting a Centennial Oil Celebration for Garza County has been called for 8 p. m. next Tuesday night in the City Hall.

David Newby, Garza Oil Information Committee chairman, has arranged for the planning session.

"In view of the 100th anniversary of oil this year (1859-1959), and because Garza County and Post are closely allied with the oil industry, a Centennial Celebration for the third week of October is in the tentative planning stage," Newby announced.

"There is a lot of work to be done and we need all the oil people to help," Newby told The Dispatch.

"Help us put on a good show, worthy of the millions of dollars of oil money invested in Garza County," Newby said in his appeal. "We have good cause to be proud of the oil industry in Garza County, so let's show our pride by supporting this project. It will be another 100 years before we can have another such celebration."

Newby urged all interested oil folks to be on hand at the Tuesday night meeting in city hall.

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

Hundreds of Garza County youngsters will troop back into the classrooms for a new year of study in just ten days. The summer is gone. It's time to get ready for that fall term. To emphasize this point, The Dispatch today prints its first annual Back-to-School Edition, chucked full of stories, pictures, and advertisements aimed at helping the parents get ready for the school bell.

In today's Back-to-School Edition you'll find a wealth of valuable information about Post Independent School District schools and a lot of ways to save money by shopping at home—right here in Post—for the items your youngsters need to get ready for the classroom. You'll find lots of bargains in school clothes in a number of local stores, which have cooperated with The Dispatch by timing their promotions to start

Not quite, but almost

Roast beef

It wasn't on anybody's menu, but several tons of roast beef almost resulted from a freak truck accident west of Post last night.

Weldon Byas of Bowie, Tex., with a trailer truckload of 37 head of cattle pulled off of highway US-280 just above the cap about 9 p. m. with a smoking flat tire.

He hitched a ride back into Post to purchase another tire. While he was gone the smoking tire spread flames to three other tires and then up and over the truck bed with the bawling heaves locked inside.

A. P. Hedrick, who lives nearby, called the alarm to the fire department and the flames were extinguished with wet water foam before too much apparent damage was done the truck or cattle. But Byas needed four new tires instead of one before he could continue.

New Church of God pastor moves here

Rev. R. W. Patterson is the new pastor of the Church of God of Prophecy. He succeeds Rev. A. W. West who resigned recently to take the pastorate of the Church of God of Prophecy in San Jose, Calif.

Rev. and Mrs. Patterson are from Guernsey, Wyo., where he was pastor of the church. Prior to that time, he was pastor of the Church of God of Prophecy in Cody, Wyo. They are at home in the parsonage of the church.

Recent rains too light and spotted

Crops need more moisture

Fairly general rains over Garza County Sunday and again Tuesday helped burning crops a little—but not much.

Post's rainfall total for the two days on which rain fell was 1.10 inches, but there was a little more in some parts of the county—and a little less in others.

Areas west and southwest of town didn't get more than a sprinkle from Sunday's precipitation, but fairly good falls were reported from Tuesday night's rain. The Graham community received 1.10 inches, according to the measurement on one rain gauge. It was the first rain they'd had to amount to anything since about the middle of July.

Sunday's rain seemed to start in Post and go to the east, with the result that the east and northeast parts of the county got quite a bit of moisture.

Generally, however, the rains have not been heavy enough to do much good.

Irrigated cotton is looking good, but dryland cotton is deteriorating fast, with some of the early-planted crop just about gone. The dryland cotton planted in June is said to be hurting from a lack of moisture, but not as much as the earlier crop.

"The early feed is pretty well shot," the local agricultural observer said today.

Grassland is still in fair condition, but is drying out in spots, and range water is still fairly plentiful considering the hot, dry weather.

Case decided in Amarillo

Gas company winner in $100,000 damage suit

A U. S. Federal Court jury at Amarillo Tuesday returned a verdict in favor of the defendant—Pioneer Natural Gas Co.—in a $100,000 damages suit brought by Mrs. Freda Hewitt, whose husband, Herbert H. Hewitt, was asphyxiated here March 15, 1958.

A number of Post people were summoned as witnesses in the case.

In her suit against the gas company, Mrs. Hewitt charged them with negligence in having failed to properly inspect and adjust gas appliances, specifically a space heater in the living room of the Hewitt's three-room home here.

The suit alleged that escaping gas from the heater asphyxiated Mrs. Hewitt's husband.

Hewitt, who was 25, was found dead in the three-room house occupied by the family on West Sixth Street here. His wife and their two daughters, then four and two years old, were found seriously ill and were hospitalized here.

Hewitt was employed by a drilling company.

Four Post people were called as witnesses. They were Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd, who found Hewitt's body and his stricken family when called to the house; Al Norris, who lived nearby; Percy Prutz, owner of the house occupied by the Hewitts; and Dick Wood, local manager for the gas company.

Other Post people at the trial were James L. Minor, who was city mayor at the time; Fire Inspector Charlie Cooper; Mrs. Al Norris and Mrs. Floyd.

The consensus among local agricultural observers seems to be that if Garza County makes anywhere from 12,000 to 15,000 bales of cotton this season it will be doing good. A recent area estimate originating in Lubbock estimated this county's 1959 cotton yield at 23,000 bales, but most people here consider that about 10,000 bales too high.

Bookmobile will be in county Aug. 25

The Texas State Library Bookmobile will be at five rural communities in Garza County on Tuesday, Aug. 25. Miss Mary Jo Vines, librarian, announces.

The schedule will be as follows: Justiceburg, post office, 9:30 - 10:15 a. m.; Graham, Community Center, 10:55 - 11:30 a. m.; Southland, post office, 1:10 - 2:10 p. m.; Pleasant Valley, Baptist Church, 2:20 - 3 p. m.; Close City, Baptist Church, 3:10 - 3:50 p. m.

Two new communities added

50 ASC nominees named

Because of the dividing of Community "C" into three communities, making a total of five in the county, Garza County farmers will elect five community committees this year instead of three.

Ballots for election of the community committeemen will be mailed farmers about the middle of next week, according to Emmarhe I. Hartel, office manager for the Garza County ASC.

Voting will be from Sept. 1 through Sept. 8, with all ballots required to be in the county office not later than Sept. 8.

The person receiving the largest number votes in each ASC community election will serve as chairman, the next as vice chairman, and so on down the line to second alternate. The chairman will automatically become the delegate to the county convention at which the county ASC committee will be elected.

Mrs. Hartel said the division changing Community "C" into three communities—"C", "D", and "E"—was made about a month ago. She explained that under the former set-up, about 45 percent of the county's cropland and about 95 percent of its range land was in Community "C".

Following is the state of nominees for the community elections, in Community "C":

Community "A" — Horace V. Wheeler, Herman R. Dabbs, Weldon R. McGehee, Robert Mock, Walter G. Stolle, Earl C. Lancaster, Carl Chilcoat, W. A. Basinger, Buddy S. Hall, Willie S. Johnson.

Community "B" — Robert J. Baker, Curtis D. Williams, Melvin

M. Stewart, J. M. Haley, John S. Davis, A. C. Cash, Victor H. Kuykendall, Wesley D. White, Ray McClellan, Albert W. Stone.

Community "D" — Tom A. Gilmore, Rex Welch, Edgar W. Wilt, Earle Thaxton, Andy Irvin Cross, Otis F. Pennell, William H. Barton, Cliff York, Bennie F. Wilka, Johnny P. Ray.

Community "E" — David Tyler, Jess M. Cornell, Arnold T. Sanderson, Homer Huddleston, Nash W. Stone, Jack Taylor, Jimmy Bird, Douglas Buchanan, Wagner C. Graves, Willie Daniels.

Community "E" — Harry Woods, Randy Cash, Nathan Little, Clifford Williams, Henry Key, Bonnie B. Hodges, Earl Rogers, Kay Kirkpatrick, Hardie F. Ainsworth, L. P. Kennedy Jr.

Schools pile progress on progress

Last year's remarkable progress in the Post Public Schools will be overshadowed by this year's progress, if such things as enrollment, faculty increase, improved courses of study, size of budget, etc., are any indication of what is to come.

Everything is on the upgrade, including work already under way on the giant school plant expansion program designed to accommodate projected enrollment figures for the years ahead.

Everything is bigger at the schools. Enrollment will set a new record. There will be more teachers than there ever have been. The newly adopted budget of more than $497,000 is bigger than it's ever been, since such items as plant expansion, more teachers and other improvements naturally cost more money.

Being continued this year after getting a solid start last year is the policy of more attention to classroom study, which meant an additional teaching hour during the school day to replace the study hall period.

Another big improvement which will show up this year is the mapping of the high school curriculum to the advantage of both types of students—those who plan to attend college and those who do not.

With the increase in enrollment, every high school department has grown. For the first time in the school's history, there will be two home-making teachers, and it probably won't be more than a year or two before the school is able to qualify for two vocational agriculture teachers.

Also "top shelf" this year is the athletic program, which before long should put Post athletic teams on as high a level as those of any Class AA team in Texas. More attention is being paid to the "feeder" program from the lower grades for future football, basketball and track squads, and for the first time in its history, the Post schools have a large enough coaching staff to successfully institute such a program.

Improvements to the athletic plant, such as the new stadium and new field house, are other heartening items in the stepped-up athletic program. As facilities will allow, plans also call for more attention to the over-all physical education programs in junior high school and high school.

Already too many special sessions

While our hearts go out to the state's school teachers in their campaign for increased salaries, we can't go along with the Texas State Teachers Association's idea that a fourth special session of the legislature should be called to handle the matter.

Three special sessions of a state legislature are at least too many, and we're sure the average taxpayer feels that Texas has had more than its quota of special legislative sessions within the last few months.

But the powerful teachers' lobby is diligently at work and has indicated it wants a fourth special session of the Legislature, devoted to increasing salaries, sometime in the politically vulnerable month of January.

A two-year program costing $65,000,000 is outlined in a letter mailed by the TSTA to school administrators and teachers last week. The program includes $56,000,000 in salary boosts. Local districts would chip in another $18,000,000, including $14,000,000 for higher salaries.

We also go along with the letter's advice to teachers to secure poll taxes and participate actively in electing legislators "who will continue

The speech department bids fair to be bigger and better than ever, along with the science department, and other academic divisions. Not the least of the improvements, by any means, are in the departments of band and choral music. The band, composed entirely of high school students for the first time in several years, won't be any bigger in number, but it will be a more experienced group than in the past and is expected to reflect its improvement in higher ratings at next year's Interscholastic League music meet. The choral music department reached new heights last year by winning sweepstakes honors at the II. meet, and, while losing a number of good singers through graduation, is expected to make an excellent showing again at next year's competition.

Both the junior high and high school libraries are steadily growing, with several hundred new books being added this summer, and student library use expected to reach new heights during the coming school year.

These are only a few of the many improvements in the local school system as we near the beginning of another school year. The schools still don't have everything they need, of course, but we are confident that they will come in time. Among the more pressing needs at this time are a new gymnasium, not only for basketball games, but also to provide more room for physical education, and an athletic track.

By the time the beginning of another term rolls around, high school students will be about ready to move into a new building; junior high students will have plenty of room in the remodeled present high school building, and elementary students will have all the room they need—for awhile, at least—in the present elementary and junior high buildings.

Our schools not only are "big business," but they are everybody's business. Outside of Post-Texas Mills, Inc., the schools comprise the city's biggest industry with its budget of nearly a half-million dollars, and the schools can correctly be called an industry, since they are engaged the year around in "manufacturing" for the future.—CD.

to support an improved educational program for Texas children." It is highly commendable in any group to want its members to exercise their full right of citizenship by securing poll taxes and thereby qualifying as voters.

But another special session of the Legislature? Gads, no!

We predict that the teachers, as much as public sympathy is on their side in the matter of salary boosts, will have a most difficult time generating enthusiasm at the grassroots level for a special session of the Legislature.

The "interim" program proposed by the TSTA provides a $45 a month increase for all teachers and a minimum of $3,500 for a bachelor-degree teacher for 9½ months work. In addition, increments will provide another $108 each year thereafter until the teachers reach the maximum salary. None of these provisions are out of line, but isn't there some way for the recommendations of the Hale-Aikin school study committee, the proposals of the TSTA, and everything else needing legislative action waiting until the Legislature reconvenes in regular session? Texas has had enough special sessions to last it for a while.—CD.

Polio shots urged for students

Beginning pupils in the Post schools are required to be immunized—vaccinated—against polio, diphtheria, smallpox and tetanus before taking their places in the ranks of this year's first graders.

Immunization against certain of these diseases, particularly polio, is also important for the older students, and is recommended by local physicians, school authorities, including school board members, and others.

Dr. D. C. Williams, Garza County health officer, has announced in the pages of this newspaper that there is no reason for anyone wanting polio shots to go without them. Many parents have held back on having their children receive the series of polio shots because of not being able to pay. This is not now necessary, and never has been. Parents unable to pay have only to tell their family physician, who will see that their children get their shots. There will be no embarrassment over inability to pay either for the parent or the child; instead, there will be effective inoculation against one of the worst killers and cripplers of children—polio.

It is especially important that school-age children get their polio shots, now that another school term is at hand.—CD.

New trespass law has teeth

A long over-due "break" for farmers and ranchers of the Post area and elsewhere in Texas is the new trespass law which will be effective Oct. 14. The law provides penalties of up to 30 days in jail and a $500 fine and forfeiture of hunting or fishing licenses for a period of three years, upon conviction.

The law makes it illegal for any person to hunt, fish or camp on the enclosed property of another person without the consent of the owner or other person in authority.

The new law is enforceable by any peace officer, which precludes game wardens, and arrests may be made without a warrant. Hereafter when a game warden finds a poacher, the only thing he can do is to notify the landowner. The landowner then can make a complaint and cause the arrest to be made by a peace officer.

As one farmer-rancher told us after reading of the new law, "It's what we've needed for a long time." He went on to say two of his cows had been shot by poachers, and that people were constantly romping and stomping over and through his property without permission.

"Even this summer," he said, "when there is nothing to shoot but rabbits, they're driving onto my place with spotlights and shooting up a storm."

Maybe some of this will come to a screeching halt now that there is a trespass law with teeth.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

If you do business with out-of-town salesmen, traveling representatives, or persons or firms you know nothing about, make a little investigation before signing your name or turning loose your cash. Some people get "stung" by not doing so. Personally, we prefer to trade with the people we know.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THIS IS THE Dispatch's "Back to School" edition, in which—if all works out as we've planned—you'll find much of interest in the ads, as well as in the news columns. It is our way of signalling the start of another school year, during which we hope to keep the reader well-informed of all the worthwhile goings-on at the city's four schools, as well as at the Close City, Justiceburg and Southland schools.

While checking out something in the 1949 files of the Dispatch a day or two ago, we ran across the school opening story for the 1949-50 school year—10 years ago. First day enrollment that school year was 425 in the grade school and 169 in the high school. By comparing these figures with the 1959-60 enrollment, which will be coming up before long, you'll be able to see how much our schools have grown in 10 years. Enrollment will have more than doubled.

THE SUPERINTENDENT 10 years ago was G. R. Day, and S. D. Strasner was the principal. High school teachers listed then who are still with us were Mrs. G. E. Fleming, Mrs. Ray N. Smith, Leonard Tittle and Mrs. Lillie McRee. E. E. Pierce was principal of the grade school.

We also had another look at the past when Homer McCrary brought in a double-page advertisement on "the Post country," which appeared in a newspaper of April 15, 1915. One page, besides extolling the many advantages of Post, shows the town's relation on the map to such far-away places as Chicago, San Francisco, Kansas City and Glaveston.

THE OTHER PAGE of the ad has 20 pictures of scenes in and around Post. These pictures are captioned as follows: Type of House Built on Post Home Farms; Shocking Milo Maize; The Way We Market Our Crops; Interior Post Cotton Mill; Feterita—a New Crop and a Dandy; Hog Heaven at Post; Prize Hogs From Post Home Farm; Milo-Maize, June Corn and Watermelons; Vineyard Right at Post; Stores at Post; Showing That This is a Peanut Country; Just 100 Acres of Kaffir Corn; Cattle and Silo on Post Home Farms; Kaffir Corn Beats Indian Corn; "Pigs Is Pigs"; Cotton is a Good Crop; A Poor Picture, but a Good Apple Orchard; A Little Bunch (of cattle) but a Good Start; Sudan Grass—a Great Hay Crop at Post; An Idea of the Streets of Post.

The big ad Homer brought in was quite a promotion for the Post country. It told of the advantages of the climate, the natural resources, the growing town of Post, etc. "This is just another call from faithful old opportunity," was the way the ad closed its message.

Architect's drawing of new high school building

Structure to cost estimated $450,000

One of the biggest events of the new high school term—as far as everybody but the seniors are concerned—will be the opening of bids here at 2 p. m. Sept. 9 for Post's new high school, which architects' estimate will cost in the neighborhood of $450,000.

Local students figure to open the 1960-61 school term in the brand new building with the best educational facilities available any Post high schoolers ever had.

Two city blocks lying immediately south of the present grade school were purchased this summer by the Post school district from the Postex Mills for $17,500 to serve as a site for the new school.

PLANS CALL for the new high school to face north on Sixth Street in the first block of the site purchase.

The vocational agriculture building, which will be built at the same time as the new high school building, will be located in the second block of the new site, as will the proposed future gymnasium and parking areas.

The second block is also expected to take care of space for any necessary classroom expansion in the years ahead.

The new high school, designed by the Lubbock architectural firm of Atcheson, Atkinson and Cartwright, will be a one-story brick building, consisting of two long parallel wings connected in the middle by a breeze-way.

IN THE FIRST wing, facing the street, according to plans, will be eight general classrooms, each 24 by 28 feet in size, a larger speech room, a good-sized library, a home-making cottage unit consisting of a clothing lab, a food lab, a living room and a fitting room, a faculty "workshop room" for preparation of assignments, etc., by the teachers, the high school principal's office, a book room, the superintendent's office, offices for two secretaries, the board of education meeting room, and the tax office.

In the second wing, behind the first, will be a general science laboratory, a chemistry and physics laboratory, four general classrooms, a typing room, a book-keeping room, a secretarial instruction room, a mechanical drawing room, a woodwork shop, and a large 39 by 26 foot choral room.

The vocational agriculture department will be housed in a 92 by 36 foot building separate from the new high school building. It will include an office, one classroom, a storage room, a large shop room, and a lavatory and rest room.

THE NEW HIGH school building is so designed that in the event future classroom expansion is necessary, a third parallel wing can be constructed behind the first two.

The new high school is planned to handle 400 students without crowding in the 9th through 12th grades. There will be approximately 300 students in the four high school grades this year, according to advance estimates.

If community growth becomes rapid, school officials estimate that 500 students could be crowded into the new building.

Outside wall of the new high school will be of eight-inch thick brick. The interior walls of the classrooms and halls will consist of face brick up to three feet in height with the rest being of hay-dite block.

Tile floors, incandescent lighting, and a celotex ceiling also are planned. Year-around offices will be air-conditioned, but not the classrooms.

The band room will remain in its present location in the junior high building, as the instrumental music program is designed to serve the entire school system, Supt. R. T. Smith pointed out.

J. P. Hewlett named Lynn superintendent

J. P. Hewlett, a former superintendent of the Southland schools, has been named Lynn County school superintendent to replace Mrs. Ruth Jolly Mason, who has resigned effective Sept. 1.

Hewlett was superintendent of schools at Wilson for a number of years after leaving Southland.

Post, Clairemont families attend reunion in Alabama

Mr. and Mrs. Boy Hart and children, Richard, Nancy and David, and Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. Wood Byrd, and daughters, Ruth Ann and Marilyn, of Clairemont returned Friday from Anniston, Ala., where they attended a Fowler family reunion.

It was the first time in 33 years that all the family had been together, the family consisting of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Fowler and their 11 children.

Mr. Fowler, who is Mrs. Hart's and Mrs. Byrd's father, is 80 years old, and their mother is 78. Their father was still spry enough to spend a day and night fishing with his five sons on a river near Birmingham during the reunion.

While the men were away fishing, the Fowlers' six daughters stayed home to keep their mother and each other company. Mrs. Fowler is also still spry, one of her hobbies being raising a garden every year and furnishing her neighbors with vegetables. Two of the five Fowler boys were old enough to serve in World War I and the second World War "caught" the other three. Mrs. Hart said her "baby" brother, Jack, served with the Navy in the South Pacific all through World War II.

The only members of the family living outside Alabama are Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Byrd, one of the sons, A. L. Fowler, of Colorado City, and another daughter, Mrs. Bob Kelly, of Atlanta, Ga.

"We had a really wonderful time," said Mrs. Hart upon their return. "It rained a lot in Alabama and was so cool that we slept under blankets at night."

In addition to the 11 sons and daughters, the Fowlers have 32 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hart said a favorite saying of her mother's is, "Rearing big families never did hurt anyone." She is also proud of the fact that there have never been any divorces or separations in their family.

BUDGET TO DOUBLE

The national budget for higher education is expected almost to double in the next ten years—from a current 4.5 billion dollars to at least 8.5 billion.

A VISIT TO THE FARM

Remember those wonderful carefree days when we visited the old farm. We awoke with the sun, scampering out of bed, not wanting to miss a single minute playing in the corn fields or even doing chores like feeding Grandpa's horses. And with a cane pole over our shoulder walking down the dusty lanes toward the cool shady stock tank and an hour's fishing before Grandmother called us in to a real farm style supper.

Can we forget those quiet Sunday mornings as we rode the wagon into town to the small church and bowed our heads and thanked God for the rich harvest we had reaped from His fertile earth.

The days of our childhood are but warm memories now; but the peace we knew as children in that small country church can still be found today. Renew your pledge to God and once again enjoy the rich bountiful harvest His church can bring into your life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Driver education courses to be in charge of King

Both eighth grade and high school driver education courses will be taught by N. R. King, who last year taught the high school course, while George Cook was in charge of the eighth grade course.

Driver education has been a part of the high school and junior high school curriculum for the past several years.

This year, the school board has adopted a new policy on the use of driver education cars furnished by local dealers. As of now, three dealers are participating in the program, and the school will rotate each year in the make of automobile used in the course.

Motor Co. This year's driver education car—a Mercury—will be furnished by Storie Motor Co. There is a possibility of at least one more local dealer participating in the program, according to Supt. R. T. Smith.

The new policy adopted by the school board provides that the school will pay for the insurance, interest and upkeep on the automobile used; that the driver education instructor will pick up the car at the dealer's every Monday morning during the school term and return it to the dealer every Friday afternoon, and that the car will not be used for anything except driver education.

ers will have to prove that they have completed an accepted driver education course before they will be examined for a permit.

Amos E. Neyhart, AAA driver education consultant and administrative head of Pennsylvania State University's Institute of Public Safety, also foresees the time when all new drivers will have to pass through a two-year probationary period before receiving their regular licenses.

Professor Neyhart, who taught the first high school driver education course in America a quarter of a century ago at State College (Pa.) High School, appealed to every high school in the U.S. to install a complete driver education course, pointing out that youngsters with such training have markedly better accident records than those without it.

THE PARTICIPATING dealers are Caprock Chevrolet Co., Tom Ford Motor Co., and Storie

Thuett elected co-op director

L. G. Thuett Jr. was re-elected District 6 director of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative at its annual membership meeting held recently in Tahoka.

Other directors elected were Bob Alexander of Levelland and Roger Blakney of Wilson.

The crowd attending the 21st annual membership meeting of the co-op was estimated to be the largest in its history. A total of 3,850 passed through the food lines for the outdoor barbecue.

Lyntegar Electric Co-op now has 9,457 meter connections in nine counties, including Garza.

Following the Lyntegar meeting, a business meeting of Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative was held. Poka-Lambro has 1,762 telephones in six counties, including Garza, and is now in the process of extending its lines into northeastern Gaines County.

Funds allocated for colleges

As many as 115,000 students can conceivably receive $300 of assistance each toward financing a year of college as the result of Federal legislation signed by President Eisenhower early this year, which has allocated $24.5 millions for this purpose.

Since participating institutions are required to provide at least $1 for each $9 provided by the Federal Government and since an earlier appropriation amounted to $6 million, the total student loan fund, under the National Defense

Contractors promise

New classrooms will be finished in time

Post High School auditorium's conversion into six classrooms will be completed in time for the opening of the fall term Aug. 31.

That was the promise this week from officials of the Bundock Construction Co. of Lubbock, contractors for the summer vacation project to convert the auditorium into a split level classroom and assembly room project.

High School Principal Glenn Whittenberg pointed out Monday that "we've simply got to have them"—meaning the six new classrooms.

He went on to explain that because of crowded classroom conditions in the Post schools the entire eighth grade, consisting of approximately 90 students, is being moved into the high school this year to provide more classrooms in the junior high building for more grade school students.

With an estimated enrollment of around 300 in the four high school classes — freshman through senior—the six additional classrooms will be a must to get instruction under way.

With the six classrooms from the auditorium, the high school building and cottage behind will provide 14 regular classrooms besides a commercial room, science lab, homemaking room, shops, and vocational ag room.

The Lubbock construction firm moved in an extra crew over the weekend to help rush the auditorium project to completion.

Whittenberg said completion of the assembly room on the second floor would come after the start of school.

"But they won't bother us much doing that," he added.

It was at first feared the classrooms wouldn't be ready until several weeks after the fall term opened.

Work began on the auditorium conversion in early June.

TOP PRIORITY

A cap is practically a "must" in any boy's back-to-school wardrobe. It can be worn with tweeds and flannels, sweaters and chinos, all year round. It can be tucked into a back pocket and even sat on while indoors and never loses its shape.

High school students rate newspapers tops, recent survey shows

High school students, for the most part, depend upon newspapers for information on what's going on in the world, it has been determined out of a study made by the Minnesota Poll, conducted by the Minneapolis Tribune.

Interviews with students aged 15 to 18 from all parts of the state seeking information for a series of articles on "Truth from Youth" revealed their interest in newspapers.

Fifty-seven per cent of those interviewed rely on newspapers to get the news of the day. Forty-four per cent cited television; 21 per cent radio, 13 per cent "my class in school," 6 per cent magazines, and 6 per cent miscellaneous.

Three-fourths of the teenagers named one or more newspapers they read regularly.

Local newspapers are frequently designated "assigned reading" by teachers of classes in civics and current events, in schools all over the country.

Wide range shown in per pupils costs

Expenditures per pupil in various school districts throughout the country range from a low of less than $7 to a high of more than $40, according to the U. S. Office of Education. The figures are based on a survey of 63,277 public school districts in 1949-50, the latest year for which such figures are available.

While costs have risen since then, it is believed that the 60-1 ratio still exists.

Mighty 'Hercules' is to open soon for three days at Tower Theatre

One of the towering figures of ancient lore comes alive in an exciting new picture opening Sunday, Aug. 30, at the Tower Theatre, "Hercules," a thrilling account of the legendary hero's incredible labors and adventures.

The picture will continue through Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, at the Tower.

Directed by Pietro Francisci, who recreated the famed "Attila" in that recent and successful picture, "Hercules" captures the epic scope of the savage and sensual era in which Hercules lived and records his great feats and triumphs.

Steve Reeves, whose outstanding physique earned him the title of "Mr. Universe," is seen in the title role.

Sylvia Koscina plays Iole, the girl he loves; and Gianna Maria Canale is seen as Antea, the desirable but deadly Queen of the Amazons.

"Hercules" was filmed in wide-screen Dyaliscope, and in Eastman Color by Pathe. An Embassy Pictures release, it is being distributed by Warner Bros.

1,100 enrollment is expected at Tahoka

TAHOKA — The Tahoka schools expect another increase in enrollment this fall, according to Supt. Otis Spears.

The superintendent said he expects a total of approximately 1,100 students by October, which usually is the peak enrollment month. About 180 of this number will be first graders.

ADS AID EDUCATION

The Council for Financial Aid to Education, which has conducted an advertising campaign for contributions to the nation's colleges, since 1957, reports contributions by industry now total more than $8,250,000.

Washer* DISHWATER HANDS

Lovely hands, aren't they? So different from dishwater hands. When you wash dishes by hand — they should be in 150° water for two minutes — think what that does to your hands — even with gloves on. You end all this with an electric dishwasher — it takes the hot water in stride inside the cabinet. Your hands will be smoother, softer, lovelier. Manicures will last longer, too. Don't have dishwater hands — have lovely dishwasher hands.

ATTENTION! HUSBANDS

Remember how lovely her hands were before you made a dishwasher out of her? Well, don't let her be a dishwasher — buy one! Daddy's wages to run it will be 17¢ a day.

Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!

Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!

Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

You'll find some cheerful news too in today's Dispatch about the school construction situation.

The Dispatch is going to take another look at this community's and county's law enforcement problem—a problem which still has to be solved.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Pierce soon will have Post's first private swimming pool. The excavation for a 16 by 32 foot pool behind their new residence at 116 South N Street has been completed.

O. G. (Shorty) Hamilton has volunteered all the wood needed to keep the barbecue fires going for the Chamber of Commerce's Farmers and Business Men's barbecue at the 4-H building and grounds Saturday night, Sept. 19.

The rattlesnake invasion has reached Main Street—and the business district Tuesday afternoon a large sized rattler was killed in the vacant lot between the Algieria Hotel and Hadman's Furniture Co.

Bill McMahon of the Graham Co-op Gin happily reported in his yesterday morning at a local coffee counter that the Graham area received 1.5 inches of rain in the Tuesday night thunderstorm—the first good rain since June 22.

City Superintendent Henry Tate has the figures to prove that this week's rains really helped out the city in its water conservation program.

Miss Josephine Larn, Post's Swedish visitor, is on her way back to Sweden. She left here early Tuesday morning, four days in advance of her previously planned departure date.

Collision—

Robert F. Jones of Marylene, Tex., driver of the truck, was given a ticket for passing at an intersection. David D. Humphries of Lubbock, driver of the station wagon, was charged with making a turn from the wrong lane.

The city marshal investigated an accident at the swimming pool about 5:40 p.m. Tuesday in which Larry Don Richardson's pickup truck rolled into Wiley Hill's parked automobile when the truck's brakes failed.

CREW MOVES IN Continental Geophysical Co. of Fort Worth moved a crew of five men into Post Monday to begin approximately two weeks of geological work in the Garza County area.

Clean-up is still on at cemetery

The clean-up campaign at Terrace Cemetery is being extended because of rainy weather having delayed operations.

The B&PW Club is sponsoring the cemetery clean-up, which it hopes to put on a permanent basis with the cooperation of the City of Post.

Mrs. Scarborough said considering the weather the response has been good to the club's appeal for a general clean-up of lots and grounds at the cemetery.

She said people unable to do the work on their lots at the cemetery and who wish to pay for having it done are asked to contact the B&PW Club or the City of Post.

"We are going to continue the clean-up drive until every lot in the cemetery has been rid of weeds and cleaned up in general," the B&PW Club member said.

Funerals held for woman, baby son

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillian Marie Washington, 25, were conducted at 3 p. m. Monday, three days after graveside rites were held for her stillborn infant son.

Mrs. Washington died in Garza Memorial Hospital a few hours after the stillbirth.

She and her husband, Lawrence Washington, resided in the Graham Community, southwest of Post. Besides her husband, the woman is survived by four children.

Mrs. Washington's funeral was held in the Pleasant Home Baptist Church, with burial in Terrace Cemetery under direction of the Mason Funeral Home.

The baby's funeral and burial were held last Friday, also under direction of the Mason Funeral Home.

Parents reminded of immunization needs

Immunization against five diseases—polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, smallpox and tetanus—are required of beginning students.

R. T. Smith, superintendent of schools, reminds parents this week.

In voting at a meeting Feb. 9 to require the immunizations, the school board conformed with a state law that requires them of first-year students.

Available here to parents of beginning students who have not yet received the inoculations is what is known as a four-in-one shot. This shot provides immunization against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, and can be followed one week later by the smallpox inoculation.

Roof section at Postex falls in Wind, which accompanied Sunday afternoon's thunderstorm, snapped a roof support at the Postex Mills here causing a 40 by 20 foot section of ceiling in the sewing room to fall in.

Nobody was in the room at the time. It happened about 3 p. m.

Lee Ward, plant superintendent, said the falling roof broke a water main in the plant's fire protection system causing some water damage to the sewing room area.

SPORTS SECTION TWO The Post Dispatch Thursday, August 20, 1959 Page 9

LOOKING AHEAD—Between games on Texas Tech's 1959 schedule, Coach DeWitt Weaver could be excused for watching construction on the Jones Stadium expansion to 40,000 capacity by 1960, when the Red Raiders first compete for the Southwest Conference football championship. Following this season, the present east stands will be moved back 200 feet, the field will be excavated 20 feet, and the ensuing slopes lined with seats. The pressbox and improvements under the west stands will be ready for the 1959 season, and athletic offices will be completed during the winter.

Grid equipment will be issued

Two more Post coaches have announced schedules for checking out equipment to their squads.

John Blocker, freshman coach, will issue equipment at 9:30 a. m. Monday at the high school gym.

At the same time, Lynn Gregg, 8th grade coach, will be checking out equipment to his youngsters at the junior high gym.

Blocker said he had about 13 boys out for a meeting of freshman grid candidates Tuesday night, and is expecting more after school opens.

The freshman coach said he had added another game to the schedule, making a total of 10. It will be the freshman's last game of the season, on Nov. 12 at Colorado City.

Pupils now going back to music

Thirty years ago a high school band was a rarity, and an elementary school band was practically unheard of.

Today, the American Music Conference estimates, more than 8,000,000 children are playing instruments and getting instrumental instruction. The figure will increase by thousands this fall.

Youngsters in kindergarten and primary grades are playing flutes, ocarinas, chimes, drums, ukuleles, guitars, violins and the piano, while gaining a basic knowledge of all types of music. When they reach the upper elementary grades, they begin band and orchestra training.

Be wiser than other people, if you can, but do not tell them so. — Chesterfield.

Red Raiders facing tough '59 schedule

LUBBOCK — Still a year away as far as official Southwest Conference title play is concerned, Texas Tech's Red Raiders face a schedule that would do credit to any of the other members this fall.

Texas Tech meets all but two of the conference members—Rice and Texas. In addition, Coach DeWitt Weaver's Raiders engage a West Coast independent, Oregon State, two Missouri Valley teams, Tulsa and Houston, Southeastern Conference foe Tulane, and Border Conference member Arizona.

Oregon State, being met for the first time in history, will be played in Jones Stadium at 8 p. m. Sept. 25. Other home games will be with Tulsa Oct. 3, Texas Christian Oct. 10, and Houston Nov. 14. The Houston contest is at homecoming.

Road games will be with Texas A&M, Baylor, Southern Methodist, Tulane, Arizona, and Arkansas. Although the majority of games are away, the Raiders will play half or more of their future contests in Lubbock. In 1960, the expanded Jones Stadium will have six games.

Texas Tech this fall will feature a wide-open attack, including a multiple wing, slot, and spread single wing, along with some spit-T.

Young man from India is visitor

Nareah K. Ahuja of New Delhi, India, was in Post Friday as a guest in the Lew Baker home, and went on a tour of the Postext Cotton Mills, Inc., while here.

The young man is in the United States for two months through the program known as "Experiment in International Living." He is staying with families at Seagraves and Brownfield, and on his visit to Post was a guest of Mrs. R. A. Buckner of Seagraves, who is Mrs. Lew Baker's sister.

Ahuja is a graduate of a university in India, graduating in economics and with a diploma in journalism. He obtained his degree in business management from Glasgow University, in Scotland.

He has travelled widely in Asia, the Middle East and Europe, including Poland and Russia.

A new brewery has opened in Fiji's Walu Bay area, Suva reports.

It's Back To School Time Again

Hundreds of Post youngsters will troop back to the classrooms in just ten more days to put one of this community's largest and most important industries—education — back into production.

That means that parents in the next week will be busy getting their boys and girls ready for the new school term.

Here at Short's we don't have a lot of school supplies, but we are long on hardware and most every family needs a good variety of it during the year.

So while you're downtown on that very important business of getting Johnny and Mary outfitted for school, remember—if it's hardware, we aim to have it for you.

Post contestants make good marks in recent rodeos

By JOAN STEWART

Jim Moore, Post cowboy, was a high winner in the Ralls and Morton rodeos held over the weekend. At the annual Ralls Jaycee Rodeo he placed first and won a buckle in both bull riding and bareback riding events, third in the first go-around of the saddle bronc contest, second in the second go-around and third in the average of that event. At Morton's Texas Last Frontier Rodeo he took second money in the saddle bronc riding and third in the bareback riding.

Another Post contestant, Eddie Stewart, placed second in the bull riding at Morton and fifth in the bareback event at Ralls.

Despite the heavy rains which harassed both the riders and ropers, R. E. Josey tied his calf in 13.1 seconds to place first in the first go-around in the tie-down calf roping at Morton. In the yearling division of roping, he took first place in the second go-around. At the Dimmitt show, also held over the weekend, Josey placed first in the first go-around of the yearling roping, and third in the first go-around of calf roping.

On the schedule for the Post contestants this weekend are rodeos at Levelland and at Madill, Okla.

We have High School Principal Glenn Whittenberg to thank for helping us "run down" information on the Post schools' six new coaches so we could include facts and figures on them in this "Back to School" edition of The Dispatch.

In fact, Glenn dug up the low down on five of them, and we completed the job Monday afternoon when we ran into 8th grade coach Glynn Gregg out at football practice.

Most of the sports fans will be meeting the new coaches and seeing a lot of them between now and the end of the 1959-60 school year. In the meantime, here are thumbnail sketches on each of them.

Head coach Vernard Alexander has had 10 years experience as a coach since graduating from East Texas State College. He comes here from Morton and has also coached at Lubbock High School. He is a graduate of Commerce High School, and the holder of bachelor's and master's degrees. The head coach and his wife, Patty, have one child, Leslie Ann.

The Tahoka Bulldogs of District 3-AA opened grid workouts Monday with 10 returning lettermen on hand.

The Bulldogs open at home Sept. 4 against the Seminole Indians.

J. D. Atwell is the new Tahoka coach, replacing Bill Haralson, who resigned to go to Childress. Atwell is being assisted by Maurice (Moe) Hodges and Tom Bartley.

Returning Bulldog lettermen are George Adams, who will probably be moved from quarterback to fullback; Kenneth Sices, halfback; David Copeland, halfback; Ronnie Walters, back; Roy Thomas, lineman; Larry Sprouell, center; Richard Sice, lineman; Dean Elliott, lineman; Billy Cain, end and back, and Larry Owens, end.

Tahoka plays at Post on Nov. 6.

7th graders to get equipment

Candidates for this season's 7th grade football squad will be issued equipment at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the junior high gym. Coach Gerald Loyd has announced. After the equipment is issued, Coach Loyd will hold a meeting with the boys.

Two more games have been added to the 7th grade schedule, making eight in all. The new opponent is Wilson, where the Post 7th graders will play on Sept. 9 to open their season. Wilson will return the game Sept. 29.

ATTENDS WEDDING

J. A. (Julius) Johnson returned Saturday from San Antonio, where he attended the wedding of his granddaughter, Miss Darlene Carpenter. Miss Carpenter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter, formerly of Post.

School This is his first year as a coach. He and his wife, Davye, are parents of a six-month-old son, Lenny.

The 1,400 mark won't be reached in enrollment in the first week of school, but should be topped by Oct. 1, Smith thinks.

Surprisingly, that gentle little old lady who never drove over 30 miles an hour was really tough on her car's motor. The fact is that start-and-stop driving at low speeds means the motor doesn't warm up enough for its own good. Sludge forms in the motor oil. Damage to the engine will result.

Most of us do a lot of start-and-stop driving these days, and that's why it's wise to protect with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic® Motor Oil. It flows quickly in a cold engine... resists sludge formation... then keeps on protecting your motor on long, hot drives.

WHY?

When this happens, there is no good answer. They are all inadequate.

Hundreds of eager, running youngsters soon will be filling the streets and crosswalks again. The fall school term opens in just 10 days.

That means that we motorists must be doubly on the alert for these young pedestrians. Mostly, they do a good job of obeying our traffic laws.

But there will be those exceptions.

No motorist wants to strike down a child. Post's record on this score has been excellent for years. Let's keep it that way.

When school starts, let's slow down and look both ways twice. Let's not be faced with the question above—why?

Bible Thoughts

"Marriage Is Of God"

by RONNIE PARKER

Our world is forgetting what God has said about marriage. Too many are guilty of completely overlooking the laws of God. This will be to their own destruction. Men and women had best learn to respect the will of God as stated by Christ in Matthew the 19th chapter.

In verse five Jesus says, "For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh. So that they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let man put asunder." Here Jesus asserts:

1. It is a divine institution. It is a part of the divine plan.
2. It is the supreme human relationship. It takes precedence over all others.
3. The husband and wife are to be one.
4. Marriage is to be for life.

Nothing has been found that shows higher returns in terms of happiness and usefulness to husband and wife, to their children, to society as a whole, than God's way. It must be believed. It must be followed.

Ten in the 'top quarter'

Post students rank high on NMS tests

Ten of 12 Post High School students who took the National Merit Scholarship Test near the end of the 1958-59 school made ratings that put them in the top quarter of the national norm for the test, Principal Glenn Whittenberg announced today.

The other two students taking the test finished just out of the top quarter rating, but high enough to be in the second quarter of students nationally.

Students rating from 76 to 99 on the test are in the top quarter of the students on the national norm. Those rating from 51 to 76 are in the second quarter.

The test is now given to last-semester juniors near the end of the school year.

"Our school and community can justly be proud of these students for their showing on a national basis," said the high school principal.

In each of the school years of 1957-58 and 1958-59, Post High School had a student that made finalist and was eligible for scholarships, Whittenberg said.

All students who make high on the annual achievement test given in the high school are asked to take the National Merit Scholarship Test.

"Our annual achievement test," said Whittenberg, "is the Steck Company's 'Test of Educational Development' for high school students. The results of the National Merit Scholarship Test indicate that the Steck Test rates our students pretty well by comparison with the national norm."

Pre-registration enables teachers to aid students

By GLENN WHITTENBERG
High School Principal

Students of Post High School are asked to register ahead of the actual opening of school. This is done so that each student may have help from a teacher counselor. The teacher has the student's record and may see what the student needs to meet the requirements of the graduate route the student intends to follow.

After the registration is completed, the student is given a census registration card to take home for parent's signature. This card is important as it is a part of the school procedure to meet the state requirements of pupil accounting.

The student is also given a copy of the student handbook of the school. Students are asked to take this booklet home and let the parents read it. By careful reading of this handbook, the parent may inform himself of the rules and regulations by which the school is operated. In this manner, many misunderstandings that might have developed can be avoided.

Parents are requested to read carefully the two types of graduation requirements that have been set up as the parent will be required to O. K. the decision about the route his child chooses to follow.

It is the desire of the school to be of the greatest service possible to the children of our community. We would like for the parents to feel free to come to the school with any questions or suggestions that might be helpful in working with our students. The doors are

HELPS SOLVE PARKING PROBLEM

Bicycle plays increasingly big part in student transportation

Role of the bicycle—most important form of personalized transportation there is for the younger set—grows apace with the mounting complexities of modern civilization as the new school term approaches.

The part the bicycle plays for the youngsters of all ages helps solve parking problems on the college campus, keeps students' attention diverted from cars to study, helps physical development of children otherwise considered pampered, and is also considered an aid to reduction of the traffic problems.

Some colleges are actually forbidding ownership of cars by students. Among them, reports the Bicycle Institute of America, are Skidmore, West Virginia U.; Arkansas State College, Marquette U., Wisconsin State College.

The utter lack of parking space at Universities may force extension of these bans. At least 76 institutions of higher learning are considering forbidding student ownership of cars because of frequent campus tie ups.

While the bicycle has always been a favorite at college, a student's need for one may become imperative within the near future.

On the other hand, authorities in many areas of grade school activity, are beginning to worry about a generation of youngsters lacking experience in use of their legs because of car pools.

always open and parents are invited to visit and consult with teachers or administration about the progress of their child.

They definitely favor ownership of bikes by children as devices for aiding physical development as well as teaching them self reliance.

With 27 states issuing car driver licenses only at the age of 16, three at 17 and three at 18, the bicycle becomes the only method of personalized transportation for children of younger ages.

He's the only MAN in TOWN

who doesn't use the WANT-ADS

State Capital News By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — None of the money-raising bills that failed to pass the Legislature during the past seven months were put a way to gather dust.

They'll be on parade again if a fourth special session is held to raise money to increase public school teachers' salaries.

Gov. Price Daniel has said he will call the session if the public demands it. Texas State Teachers Association has its campaign rolling to create this demand.

TSTA's goal is a program that would cost $63,000,000 over a two-year period. Of this, $56,000,000 would go for a $405 increase in annual base pay for teachers.

This would bring teachers' base pay up to $3,610 a year. Hale-Aikin Committee recommended a minimum of $3,800 a year plus a number of other school improvements that would have totaled some $300,000,000 for a two-year period. But TSTA decided that getting that big a tax bill would be too tough. For the time being, the 70,000-member teacher lobby will settle for a package one-third this size with emphasis on the item it wants most—pay raises.

TIME MOST discussed for the new special session is the political crucial month of January. This will give the teachers, scattered in summer, time to get organized. It also is the month for poll tax paying, with Jan. 31 as the deadline. (Governor Daniel said, "January or February would be the time.")

Next year, for the first time, January will be the month for candidates for office to make their announcements. New law makes Feb. 1 the deadline for filing for state primaries.

There's talk that Governor Daniel will announce for a third term if teacher raises are turned down. On this the governor says, "I'm not closing any doors."

Privately, many legislators are glum at the prospect of being boxed in by another round of tax-and-spend pressures, particularly right before their campaigns begin. They expect to get a lot of static anyway, from the tax measures they have already voted.

But few will oppose teachers openly. As one said, "If you're against teacher raises, they'll say you're against good schools and little kids and motherhood — it's suicide."

SCORES OF NEW laws passed during the regular Legislative session ending in May go into effect this month.

From here on, anyone convicted of four moving traffic violations within 12 months will be classed a "habitual violator", subject to drivers' license suspension for any period up to a year. Same rule of thrift, the bankers, gone into huge advertising campaigns to encourage people to buy more and more "on the cuff."

There are perhaps some who will argue this is merely putting the independent merchants on a par insofar as granting credit is concerned, with their huge competitors. On the other hand, it may be working in the long run to their disadvantage.

Because, if this plan works to the fullest extent, a few big banks will not only take over control of all retailing, but in addition, the plan will result in greater concentration of banking resources into a few hands.

As the battle between the giant banks in the West is now being waged, through newspaper advertising, through direct mail, every effort is being made to get people to take out that particular bank's credit card. Obviously, if a person holds a credit card from a bank, it is quite likely that his account will also be transferred to that bank.

Thus, there is being sown in the West not only the seeds of more inflationary buying, but also further massive competition for the independent banks.

But over and beyond that, it is quite a commentary on the times that banks are urging people, at least psychologically, to "spend it before you get it."

Thus, while the Federal Reserve Board makes it difficult for legitimate independent business to borrow money for legitimate reasons, huge banks are embarking on a contrary course.

With their "Sinner's Club" type of credit cards, they are urging people to splurge.

Of course, 18% annual interest is quite an attraction.

TEXAS HIGHWAY builders are holding their breath over a threatened halt of the huge federal road building program.

Continuation of the interstate road building, now going full steam in Texas, hinges on Congress' finding a way to get more money for the highway trust fund. Federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of these projects.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said the Highway Department is "proceeding on confidence that something will be done by Congress to avert such an economic blow."

Most Texas officials, including Governor Daniel, are opposed to getting the money through a hike in the federal gasoline tax, as recommended by the President.

New law requiring registration of boats goes into effect in October

AUSTIN — State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said today that registration of boats would go into effect in October. The new boating act requiring registration was recently passed by the Legislature.

Greer assured boat owners that no penalties or convictions will be involved for this delayed registration date, particularly in view of the fact that the final boat-registration date is March 1, 1960. Other features of the act go into effect tomorrow.

Greer explained that boat registration was a little foreign to the ordinary function of the Texas Highway Department, but that the Department was already well experienced in handling this type of operation.

"We have been registering motor vehicles for more than forty years. Nearly four and a half million motor vehicles were registered by the Department this year. The Texas Legislature, cognizant of the experience of the Highway Department, gave us the job in order to take advantage of existing operations and to cut cost. The Texas Highway Department deals solely with registration in this boating bill; we have nothing to do with the safety aspect," Greer said.

The appropriation bill passed last week provides funds after September 1. These funds enable the Texas Highway Department to place into operation the procedures required by the act.

Greer estimated that the registration forms and blanks would be printed and in the hands of boat dealers, county offices, Highway Department offices, and other public offices in October. Ample public notice will be given when these forms are available.

Sports fans in the Post area will want to circle the date "October 3" on their calendars this year. For that's when the most anticipated "doubleheader" attraction in Lubbock Plains history will be presented at Lubbock.

At 3:30 p. m. on that first Saturday in October, the St. Louis Hawks will clash with the Philadelphia Warriors in the first professional basketball game ever played in West Texas. Then, at 8 p. m., Texas Tech's Red Raiders will entertain Tulsa in a night football game at Jones Stadium.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER
It is sometimes difficult, if not impossible, to follow governmental logic, if indeed logic does prevail in the first place.
The nation is in a fight against any further inflation. This fight is supported by the solid element of the country as repeated polls on this question indicate.
The Federal Reserve Board, C. W. Harder is on record as battling inflation. And the Federal Reserve Board has a more than ordinary influence on the nation's banks.
Yet out on the West Coast the banking giants found in this area have started an easy credit promotion that could well add fresh fuel to inflation's flames.
These huge banks are offering consumers credit cards good for purchases at any number of retail establishments. The retailer gets his cash, less a service charge to the bank, and the consumer gets billed for all his purchases by the bank.
If desired, the consumer can pay on a deferred balance plan whereby one-sixth of the outstanding balance is paid each month, at a charge of 1 1/2% per month, or 18% per year interest.
Some of the big department stores have long been using this plan, getting money by pledging accounts receivable for loans at regular commercial rates.
But never before have these presumably august proponents

Slaton vote on sale of beer is being sought

Two elections on liquor loom in Lubbock County, one of them for legalization of the sale of beer in cafes and taverns in Slaton.

Fifteen names were signed to an application filed in the Lubbock County clerk's office seeking an election within the corporate limits of Slaton only and which would not apply to any other area in the county.

At the same time, an attorney representing a group of southeastern Lubbock County residents announced an application for local option election petitions for Justice Precinct 2.

The applications follow directly from a ruling by the Texas Supreme Court which held that any political subdivision of the state—such as a justice precinct or an incorporated town—can hold a local option election on the liquor issue.

Until that decision, it had been held that no political subdivision smaller than a county could vote on the question of being "wet."

Some farmers losing Social Security credit by failing to report

Some farmers are losing social security credit by not reporting their earnings, according to John G. Hutton, district manager of the home of his brother, Wilbur Fields, and family last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagler have moved to Abilene to be near their two daughters.

Any farmer who has a profit of $400 or more in a year is required to file a tax return and pay social security taxes. This return must be filed even though the farmer has no income tax to pay. Even if a farmer does not have a $400 profit but has a gross farm income of $600 or more, he can elect to report his farm income for social security purposes.

Farmers who have neglected to report earnings for social security credit may still do so for 1956 or any later years. Hutton stated that any farmer who wants to report earnings from self-employment should contact the local social security office or internal revenue office for advice.

COMMUNITY'S 'RAIN HOPES' LIFTED

Gospel meeting is in progress at the Graham Church of Christ

By MRS. DILLARD THOMPSON

I'm sure the hopes for rain were lifted by everyone Sunday evening when it clouded up—only to get a big let down when just a small amount of moisture managed to fall. At least we can say the air smelled refreshed. As this goes to the office Tuesday, it looks more promising so here's hoping in a big way that by the time this column comes out people will be wearing wet smiles instead of dry grins.

Landowners can get quail for stocking

AUSTIN — Some 34,000 quail have been released on Texas lands since January through the Game and Fish Commission's restocking program, according to W. J. Cutbirth, assistant executive secretary.

Of this number there were 18,000 bobwhites and 14,000 cottontails. They have been planted on farms and ranches where there are suitable conditions both as to cover and feed.

"Even though there has been a steady increase in quail populations throughout the State in the last year or so," Cutbirth said, "many areas remain underpopulated. Landowners usually know if their particular area is short of quail."

The Commission's game farm at Tyler is maintaining a large supply of quail for stocking such areas. Landowners can mail their applications directly to the Austin office or contact their local game wardens.

County agent reminds farmers

Gasoline refund claims are due by Sept. 30

County Agent Lewis C. Herron reminds Garza County farm operators this week that they have until Sept. 30 to claim a refund of the federal gasoline tax on all gasoline used on the farm.

The refund applies to the three cents per gallon federal tax on gasoline which was purchased from July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959. Those who filed a claim for refund in 1958 will receive form 2240 through the mail. Others who wish to make a claim should ask the Internal Revenue Service to send them one.

The claim should be sent to the Office of the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Austin or Dallas, Texas, depending on whether you live in the southern or northern part of Texas. Claims made after Sept. 30 will not be paid and no more than one claim can be filed for the 12 months period, states the economist.

Farmers who file claims for refund should keep sufficient records to certify the accuracy of the refund claimed. The records should show the purchase dates, the gallons bought and the gallons used on the farm during the twelve months period. Also the gasoline used by custom operators doing custom work for a farmer should be recorded and can be included in the claim for refund, Herron notes.

Excise taxes paid on diesel fuel or special motor fuels for farm purposes can also be recovered. The farmer should ask the dealer to repay the taxes on the fuel

Post High School Chapter

While at the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Convention in Fort Worth last week, D. H. Koeninger attended workshops on the beef cattle, which included the selection and improvement of beef animals, testing of bulls and the new brucellosis law. Also attended was a three-hour workshop on the selection and improvement of swine. On the program was a workshop on the discipline in vocational agriculture classes, discussion of the adult specialist program under the direction of the Texas Education Agency, and a discussion of the various stock shows by the managers of the fairs at Fort Worth and Dallas.

A drawing was held for space at the South Plains Fair for exhibit space in the agriculture education booths. Of 17 requests for the exhibits, Post drew No. 17, which means that this year they will not have an exhibit in the fair.

It has been decided that the district FFA contests will be held at Post on Nov. 21 at the high school building. D. H. Koeninger was elected as district publicity chairman for the coming year for the Mesa FFA District.

Sept. 21 has been set as the date of the first boys' district FFA meeting, which will be held at Brownfield. At that time, the boys will run for the various district offices for the coming year.

Habitual violator to feel effects of new state law

AUSTIN — The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety cautioned today that a new state law provides for the suspension of the license of any driver convicted of four moving traffic violations within a 12-month period.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., said the new law, passed by the recent session of the Legislature and signed by Gov. Price Daniel Aug. 5, for the first time defines the term "habitual violator". The definition is as follows:

"The term 'habitual violator' as used herein, shall mean any person with four or more convictions arising out of different transactions in a consecutive period of 12 months, or seven or more convictions arising out of different transactions within a period of 24 months, such convictions being for moving violations of the traffic laws of the State of Texas or its political subdivisions."

Garrison said if a justice of the peace or other designated magistrate finds a driver to be an habitual violator, the Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend the driver's license for any period up to one year.

The new law also establishes detailed procedures for appeals of persons whose licenses have been suspended and requires the courts to give priority to the setting of such cases. It designated local prosecuting attorneys to represent the state in such appeals cases.

School shoes take 'horrible' beating

While it isn't exactly news to most parents, some indications of the nature of the beating that is given to children's shoes is presented by the National Shoe Institute in the following terms:

During a single month a 90-pound child runs and walks some 10 miles, bouncing 40,000 tons of weight on his shoes, say statisticians.

Naturally the child's feet and socks become damp after a few hours of activity, therefore shoes of socks both should be changed when the child comes home from school.

The Institute further recommends that a school child have at least one pair of shoes, in addition to play and dress shoes, for school wear, to make changes possible. Shoes for school age children should be chosen not only in accordance with fit, weight, height and degree of activity, but also in accordance with the climate and environment in which the family lives.

One of the world's most famous fairy tales; a cast of both live actors and animated cartoon characters; music and dances are combined in "Tom Thumb," which comes to the Tower Theater on Friday, Aug. 28, and shows through Saturday.

Filmed in Eastman Color, the picture is based on the beloved tale of the Brothers Grimm, with the screen play written by Ladistaus.

Pork stands out on Texas plentiful food list for September

COLLEGE STATION — Pork stands out among foods expected to be plentiful at Texas markets in September.

The spring pig crop was 12 per cent larger than a year ago and heavy fall marketings probably will start earlier than usual this year. Pork prices are expected to be lower.

That's the report from the Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, the branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture that determines each month which foods are in greater-than-normal supply.

A vast array of fresh fruits and late-summer vegetables, many from Texas farms, also are listed as plentiful foods this month. Pears, grapes, lemons and limes and onions deserve special mention. Pear production is expected to run 10 per cent more than average; grapes, 13 per cent more than average.

Small, consumer-size turkeys should be abundant throughout the state. Peanut butter and milk complete the September list.

Shoppers usually can reduce the amount of money spent for groceries by serving plentiful, in-season foods often. County home demonstration agents can give additional information on the day-to-day availability of locally grown produce.
