Voting strength is near 2,400 for '60 elections

Payment of poll taxes in Garza County for 1960 has broken all previous records by at least 300. T. H. Tipton, county tax assessor-collector, said today that a total of 1,929 poll tax receipts were issued up to the Jan. 31 deadline. There have also been 17 exemptions filed by those just coming of voting age.

In counties under 10,000 population, those claiming over-age exemptions are not required to make application, so it is not known how many potential voters there are in this group.

Tipton said he figured the county's voting strength for the 1960 elections will be "somewhere in the neighborhood of 2,400."

The previous record for poll tax payments in the county was slightly over 1,600.

Of the 1,929 poll tax receipts issued, 125 were written at Postex Mills, Inc., where personnel director Chant D. Lee had been deputized by Tipton to issue receipts.

Tipton kept the tax office open until about 6:40 p. m. Saturday for the benefit of late payers.

"I also came down and took a few poll tax payments Sunday morning," the tax official said.

The record breaking number of poll taxes is attributed to campaigns by a number of local groups, notably the Business & Professional Women's Club, and also to the interest in this year's elections.

In addition to the political elections, there will be a White River water contract vote in March. The See VOTING, Page 8

5 hopefuls also in race for Pct. 1 commissioner

The most heated political races in Garza County's history were promised this week with Monday's filing deadline showing contests in every county and precinct race except one.

Already generating the most interest is the county sheriff's race, where Sheriff Carl Rains filed on the final day for re-election to make it a five-man race. Others who filed and the filing dates are J. W. Floyd, Jan. 6; L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., Jan. 11; T. J. Johnston, Jan. 25, and J. C. Howard, Jan. 28.

On a par with the sheriff's race in the number of candidates is that for Precinct 1 county commissioner, where Racy Robinson, seeking a second term, has drawn four opponents. Robinson was the first to file, on Jan. 14. The other candidates are Clay B. Johnston, Jan. 19; Victor H. Kuykendoll, Jan. 25; Jack Myers, Jan. 30, and Wallace Simpson, Feb. 1.

There are three candidates in the race for Precinct 1 constable. They are J. A. Johnson, who filed Jan. 14 for re-election, Edward (Eddie) Shaw, Jan. 4, and Thomas Ammons, Jan. 29.

Carleton P. Webb, a candidate for re-election as county attorney, has an opponent in Thomas W. Gamblin, who filed Dec. 19. Webb filed his candidacy Jan. 28.

Ozell Williams, who filed Jan. 14 for re-election as Precinct 3 county commissioner, is opposed by J. A. (Jack) Kennedy, who filed Jan. 6.

The five-county area, which has been served for the last 11 months by the Texas State Library Bookmobile, is astir with folks who want to establish the best kind of library service they can afford for their respective counties.

The turnout of some 65 very interested citizens from the five counties at Ralls last Thursday night is a good indication that West Texas folks want library service. You'll find a full news report on that session — attended by a 10-person group from Post — in another front page column. The problem of library service is how best to obtain it and how much of it can the respective counties afford.

It is too bad that the multi-county committee named a year ago at the start of the bookmobile demonstration didn't get organized and functioning, because a lot of thought and preparations are needed to develop a worthwhile library project. But that wasn't done and so there is precious little time left while the Texas State Library is still interested in this area.

Obvious at Ralls the other night was the fact that various of the county groups already are discussing the problem with their respective commissioner courts and that they sincerely hope that some possible cooperation can be worked out among the counties. An expanded multi-county committee meets tonight at Crosbyton to see what might be done to accept the state library's offer of a loan of 3,000 books for an "interim period" of library development in the area. ## 1960 series auto

Tags on sale

New license plates for 1960 went on sale here Monday morning.

The plates opening Garza County's 1960 series—BJ1750—were purchased by T. H. Tipton, county tax assessor-collector.

Some 60 sets of passenger car plates were sold the first day, Tipton said.

This year's license plates, which go from BJ 1750 through BJ 4149 in Garza County, have white letters and numerals on a black background.

The registration deadline is midnight, April 1.

Tipton stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the home county of the vehicle owner.

Tag purchases are required to have with them their certificate of title and last year's registration receipt.

Firemen answer calls to laundry and auto

Fire did only slight damage at the Henderson Automatic Laundry, 325 West 8th, about noon Saturday, but a short time later, firemen answered a call to a burning automobile, which was destroyed.

The fire damage at the laundry was confined to the metal roof just above a clothes dryer.

The automobile destroyed by fire was owned by a Crosbyton man. The car caught, reportedly from the automatic transmission, near the Homer Robinett place northeast of Post.

Jake M. Smith rites are held

Funeral services for Jake M. Smith, 54, who died about 7 a. m. Tuesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cecil Foster, were conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Assembly of God Church, with the Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Smith, a life-long invalid, had been a resident of Post since 1939. He was born April 20, 1905, at Bonham.

Besides Mrs. Foster, he is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Melrose Curry of Post and Mrs. Daisy Paul of Kenner, La., and his mother, Mrs. Annie S. Smith of Post.

Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

225 visitors at open house here

Approximately 225 visitors, in addition to the membership, attended open house Sunday afternoon at the Church of Christ's new classroom building, according to Ronnie Parker, minister.

"The Lord will do great things for you if you will do the work He wants you to do," Dr. F. W. Maddox, president of Lubbock

Christian College, said at special services held in conjunction with the open house.

Dr. Maddox pointed out that the church here has made a real accomplishment in completion of its new classroom building, and that it is "ready to do a lot more."

The college president spoke at both morning and evening services at the church and also addressed an auditorium class.

Special singing was led by Hubert Arant of Lubbock with visitors including some ten well-known song leaders from over the area.

Frank Stevens, the only charter member of the church now living in Post, was introduced during the day's activities. He came here in 1910, the year the church was organized.

Negroes admit break-ins

$2 bill jinx for burglars

Is a two-dollar bill unlucky? Five Negroes charged here Tuesday with burglary probably would say it is.

A two-dollar bill, which officers said was included in about $20 stolen in a break-in Monday night at the Tippitt Inn in the "flats," was found in the pocket of one of the Negroes.

Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd and City Marshal Otis G. Shepherd Jr., who worked on the case, said the break-in at the Tippitt Inn and one at "Brother" Smith's place the same night were admitted by the five after the two-dollar bill was found.

The officers said four of the five admitted stealing two cases of beer from Smith's place before three of them broke into Tippitt's.

Two of the five Negroes had been released from the county jail only a few hours before the burglaries. One, Allen Charles Smith, 17, had been charged with the theft Dec. 15 of $110 from the Garza Medical & Surgical Clinic, where he was employed as a clean-up man. The other, C. L. Milo, had been released after serving a jail sentence for a traffic violation.

Sheriff Carl Rains said Smith had been released from jail so he could enter the Army.

"He had already passed his written test and an Army recruiter was to have picked him up here Wednesday," the sheriff said.

The burglary at the Tippitt Inn was reported to Floyd and Shepherd late Monday night by Bessie James, who runs the place.

The officers said they acted on a "hunch" in picking up Smith for questioning, and the other arrested.

Special guests on Lions program

Special guests presented the program at Tuesday night's meeting of the Post Lions Club.

Lois Lee, president of the Spur Lions, told the club of his efforts to mark up a 15-year perfect attendance record in his club. He became a charter member 13 years ago and hasn't missed a weekly meeting since.

H. B. Wood, a director of the Caprock Peace Officers' Association, showed a film of last year's Rattlesnake Rodeo held on his ranch between Post and Spur. The event is sponsored by the Caprock Peace Officers' Association.

Cecil Stowe has been named as the Lions Club's new reporter.

Simpson in race for Pct. 1 commissioner

Wallace Simpson, former owner of the K&K Food Mart, today authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of county commissioner, Precinct 1, Garza County.

Simpson said he would make a statement at a later date. He filed Monday for the office on the final day making the race for the precinct 1 commissioner's post a race among five candidates.

Simpson, who recently sold the K&K Food Mart, is farming five miles northwest of Post. He formerly was the owner of the Post radio station, selling it last year.

Five counties to be represented at meeting tonight

Inter-county library plan is gaining momentum in area

An inter-county library committee from Garza and four other West Texas counties which have been serviced for the last 11 months by the Texas State Library's Bookmobile will meet tonight in the Pioneer building at Crosbyton to discuss possible inter-county cooperation in library service after the bookmobile ends its demonstration next month.

The meeting was set up last Thursday night at the close of a meeting of some 65 library-interested persons from the five counties at Ralls.

At this session, Mrs. Motley of Austin, who heads the rural library extension service division of the Texas State Library, offered the five counties the loan of some 3,000 books from the state library for an "interim period" while the counties were setting up library services cooperatively themselves.

COUNTY JUDGE J. E. Parker and County Supt. of Public Instruction Dean Robinson are Garza's two members of the original multi-county committee set up at the start of the bookmobile demonstration. Judge Parker said he and Robinson would attend tonight's session. Each county is to add two additional representatives to the five-county library committee.

Garza County was represented by a delegation of ten at last Thursday night's meeting with Mrs. Motley and other state library leaders at Ralls.

They included Mr. and Mrs. Warren Yancey, Mr. and Mrs. James Simms, Mrs. T. L. Jones, High School Librarian Mrs. Lillie McRee, Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornish.

Good time for a fresh start

The Post Chamber of Commerce launches a new civic club year tomorrow night when the annual Chamber banquet sees Lee Ward take over the president's gavel from Harold Lucas.

Post's Chamber of Commerce, given a new "project look" two years ago, has been having its financial problems. Just exactly what they are hasn't been explained to the general membership, but it is no secret that it has been a constant struggle to raise enough money through membership dues to maintain an ambitious program of civic good works.

During the last year the Chamber has gone ahead on its chartered project course. It wound up the year with the best Christmas decoration promotion ever. The Chamber board has worked hard to attain these results on scaled-down funds.

It now appears what the Chamber must face in the first months of the new administration is a real budget drive and re-evaluation at the membership level.

That of course will take considerable time on everyone's part but it should pay dividends. We have watched Chamber boards and Chamber officers keep busy the past few years with the membership generally taking sideline seats to most of the activity.

Probably what the organization needs the worst right now is to get out among the membership, get their ideas, do some civic selling, and re-establish the Chamber on a solid financial footing for 1960.

This is not going to mean just the giving of a lot of time and effort by President Lee, Chamber Manager Johnny Hopkins and the Chamber directors. It is going to require the close cooperation of the membership as well.

The trick will be to get the membership off the sidelines and project it into the Chamber's project program through a wide range of committee efforts.

If there are gripes, let's get them aired. If there are some fresh ideas around, let's put them on the table for study and evaluation. If the Chamber organization can be converted into one in which members are kept both active and interested let's do it.

A new year is always a good time for a fresh start.—JC

After all, fish can be so fishy

It seems that as far back in history as 1916 (when Post and Garza County were only nine years old) people were concerned about the high cost of living. In the Sept. 16 issue of the Saturday Evening Post of that year, Dr. Hugh M. Smith, "the able and experienced commissioner of the Federal Bureau of Fisheries," was quoted as follows:

"If the whole people of this country could be made to understand to what an extent fish may be used to take the place of meat, and what this would do to reduce the high cost of living, then there would be a wonderful change in the feeding habits of our folks. We are today almost literally throwing away enough nutrient from that source to feed all China. This condition is an economic shame."

The unsigned article went on to note that per capita fish consumption was "reported" at 20 pounds per year, although the author doubted that it was more than half that much, while people were stuffing themselves with 170 pounds of high-priced meat annually. The writer was pained that people were not more adventurous in fish-eating, and eager to try new kinds. He even put in a plug for farm fish ponds which are only now becoming popular.

What was probably wrong, we suspect, is that housewives didn't like cleaning fish in 1916 any better than they do now—and not every household had a cat to eat the heads. In the meantime it has become increasingly apparent that the can opener is mightier than the scaling knife.

Frozen, as well as canned, fish also has had much to do in keeping anyone nowadays from getting in the same frame of mind as the good doctor was 44 years ago.

After all, there had always been frankfurters. It was the roll that made the hot dog what it is!—CD

Brand inspection fight is on

Cattlemen in Garza County and elsewhere throughout the nation have received a valuable assist from the National Brands Conference in the fight against dropping of brand checking at livestock markets.

At its Dallas meeting recently, the National Brands Conference added its voice to the protest already made by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association against dropping of the brand check.

The purpose of checking brands at livestock markets is, and always has been, to block the sale of stolen animals. For decades, in this program, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has done this checking. The checking has prevented the sale of many lots of stolen stock and has led to the sending of scores of rustlers to jail.

Some official in Washington, who apparently knows little of conditions in livestock raising and marketing, has recommended that this inspection be dropped.

The cattlemen are right in holding that inspection of cattle at the markets "is essential to the cattle industry and vitally in the public interest of the cattle-producing areas."

Without inspection of brands, rustling would become much more common and would be more difficult to detect and punish. As another editorial writer has put it, "Stockmen would be tempted to resort to the frontier method of hanging from the nearest tree every horse thief and cattle rustler they could catch."

The recommendation that the brand inspection be dropped is just another in a long line of haywire proposals coming from certain Washington officials who seem to have more time for this sort of thing than for anything else.—CD

Mainly the way they worded it

It is nice to know that so many teachers in the Post Public Schools system have paid their poll taxes without being high-pressured into it.

The Texas State Teachers Association has put on a campaign to get teachers to pay their poll tax and thereby qualify for a possible vote on education legislation. In some TSTA districts all-out campaigns were staged, which we don't think sets too good an example of citizenship for the public, just on account of the one issue—education legislation—being stressed.

In the Post Independent School District, we are happy to state, teachers were not high-pressured into paying their poll tax just in order to be able to have a possible vote on education legislation. We understand that most local teachers paid their poll tax because they wanted to have a vote on ALL issues coming up, this year—not just education legislation.

The TSTA, regarded as one of the state's most potent political forces, would have made a bigger hit with the public if it had just urged teachers to pay their poll tax and had not made it so obvious that the main objective was to muster a big voting bloc for education legislation.—CD

And now the campaigns come

Now that the deadlines for paying poll taxes and filing for political office have passed, we can buckle down to waiting for the first primary election on May 7.

While we won't have as long to wait this year between the poll tax paying deadline and the first primary, there'll probably be just as much campaigning crowded into the period between Jan. 31 and May 7 as there was between Jan. 31 and the July primary back before the election laws were changed.

As we write this—a few days before the Feb.

1 filing deadline—it appears that Garza County will have only one uncontested race. It's good for the county, good for the voters and, most of the time, good for the candidates for a majority of the races to be contested. Of such situations are democracies made and maintained.

The political aspirants will be busy between now and the first primary in going after the votes. The voters should make themselves busy, too, by studying the qualifications of each candidate in the respective races and casting his ballot where it will do the most good.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Did you know that the "27½ per cent depletion allowance" of the American oil industry is an arbitrary figure? It's a compromise between Congress and the House, which in 1924 split the difference between a 25 per cent depletion and a 30 per cent depletion. For the good of us in Brownfield and Terry County, it's good to know that the 27½ per cent depletion is being threatened into extinction, that should it be knocked out completely you and I will suffer.—The Brownfield News.

Tahoka is one of the few towns on the South Plains in which a local citizen has never been killed in a hold-up. We hope the day never comes, but it could be the law of percentages will catch up with us. Those firms staying open late at night might take a little extra precaution when waiting on strangers.—The Lynn County News.

The term "spending time" has a real meaning—and the more money our government spends, the more time we must spend paying taxes. The Tax Foundation estimates the average worker now toils two hours and 23 minutes in each eight-hour day to earn enough to pay his taxes. This compares with one hour and 39 minutes spent earning his food, one hour and 25 minutes for rent or house payments, 37 minutes for clothes, 42 minutes for transportation, 24 minutes for medical care, 20 minutes for recreation and 34 minutes to pay for other purchases.—The Hamlin Herald.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE CENSUS TAKERS are going to get real nose this year. They're going to find out whether you're really keeping up with the Joneses. A sample of the population will be asked whether they own a washing machine, a clothes dryer, a food freezer and air conditioning . . . and the number of cars in the family garage.

Yep, they're getting more personal all the time. Our office researcher informs me that the ancient Romans simply counted noses and property, chiefly for the purposes of taxation.

WILLIAM THE Conqueror compiled a little more information on who-owned-what when he decided to spread some payola, in the form of land, among his followers . . . at the expense of nobility.

European cities also kept to the bare facts when they began to count their population in the 1400's and 1500's, and some three hundred years later, Sweden compiled the first national census, based on parish records.

IN 1790 the fledgling U. S. government sent out 17 marshals and a few hundred assistants to count the population in order to provide a basis for taxing the states and to determine the number of representatives they would have in Congress.

The first great invasion of privacy occurred in 1850, when census takers began to write down the names of all people in the country. They also classified the population according to age, sex, race and place of birth.

SOON THE "enumerators" were poking their noses into such matters as occupation, education, income, marital status and fertility of women. In 1950 they wanted to know about your plumbing.

On the same subject, about the worst pun I've heard lately is that 1960 is the year when the country comes to its "census."

MEMBERS OF THE Masonic Lodge here are already working on plans for helping get the general public to visit the local schools during Texas Public Schools Week, Feb. 28-March 4. For a number of years, Masons in Post and elsewhere throughout Texas have worked hand-in-hand with school officials to get bigger and bigger crowds of people out to the schools.

Visitors this year will get to see a number of improvements they may not have seen before, including the new high school classrooms and upstairs assembly hall and the new athletic field house. They'll also have the opportunity of going by to see how construction work is coming along on the new high school building and gymnasium.

ONE OF THE main objectives of Public Schools Week, however, is to get all citizens—whether or not they have children in school—to visit the various classrooms while classes are in session. This phase of Public Schools Week is what sponsors of the observance refer to as "Democracy in Action."

The man up the street says a motorist is a person who, after seeing a wreck, drives carefully for several blocks.

MORE AND MORE women are working, states a report. White man finding Indian no fool.

In more than twenty years of newspaper work, I've never had any difficulties with district judges in rounding up court news, but in all that time I've never known one as helpful and as accommodating to the press as the Hon. Truett Smith of Tahoka, judge of the 106th Judicial District.

VERY FEW WEEKLY newspaper editors have the time to set through court cases, hence must barge in after a session is over and try to round up what has transpired. Most of the judges I've known have been courteous enough, but never seemed to have the time to fill me in on the proceedings, usually leaving it up to the district clerk or some other official.

Judge Smith, on the other hand, takes time to brief me on the disposition of each case and even sees to it that I get a list of the jurors and any other information I need. It is a pleasure to come in contact with such public officials.

Items legislature has played hob with the Houston, and Tyler rail road charter persons interested in having it could be built. The sure has listened to those who want the road built, and set up a charter that no expert man would touch with a pole. We advise the easterners, if they want that road remodeled (or) the concern what was first asked. If they may as well hang their saddles. We venture the opinion, if the present charter is it is, that the next legislature find the road just as this

METRIC SYSTEM FINALLY SOLVED IT

System of measurement has had rocky time down through years

It took centuries for men to agree on a standard length for the inch. But outside of the English-speaking countries, most people would call it a waste of time.
The inch started out as the width of a man's thumb. That was a sound idea as long as one man was doing the measuring. But when two men began arguing over a boundary, they needed a thumb they both respected. The chief might provide the standard measurement for a village, but there was trouble again when another village was involved.
In the 1100's, a Scottish king named David compromised: he decreed that an inch was the average of the thumbs of three men—a small man, a man of medium stature, and a large man — "me-assurit at the rut of the nayil."
England wouldn't buy that, and a few years later Richard I made the first law requiring actual standards for measurement. These were iron bars, guarded by sheriffs. In case of a dispute, the item in question could be measured against the standard. The iron didn't wear well, however, and copies made from the original were crude.
According to World Book Encyclopedia, Edward II tried his hand at standardizing the inch in the 1300's. He declared that one inch should be equal to three barley-corns taken from the center of the ear and placed end to end.
The French, bursting with equality during their Revolution, thought that was typical of royal whimsy and let the scientists take over. The result was the metric system, based on the decimal system, which the Egyptians had been using for centuries.
France adopted the system and many nations followed suit.
In 1875, 17 nations including the U. S. set up the International Bureau of Weights and Measures near Paris. Standards of the meter and the kilogram, made of an alloy of platinum and iridium, were placed in the Bureau, and duplicates were sent to the governments of the founding nations.
The U. S. was reluctant to give up the yard and the pound, measures which it had taken from England. But in 1893 it adopted the metric system as the standard for legally defining these measures.

We make Gladiola Flour for the state of Texas and our neighbors right next door. We have to make it good enough to satisfy the best home bakers in America.

We've been doing that for 47 years, and women appreciate it. They buy far more Gladiola Flour than any other brand. For the kind of biscuits, cakes and pies they bake, nothing else will do.

Snow-white Gladiola is the one flour good enough for your family, too—even if you came here from Horse Cave, Ky. And it costs only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest brand on the shelf.

No cook would begin to prepare a cake or pie without first having a recipe. Certain products are required, such as flour, sugar, and many others. Leave any one out or fail to put in the required amount and it doesn't come up to expectations. God has commanded that man set aside one day for worship. Just as the cake would be imperfect without all of its ingredients, life would be incomplete without regular worship. Take your family to church this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society of way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

 "Free Silver," the national political issue in 1896, also was of course an issue in lesser races. For example, in Tennessee, the militant Edward Ward Carmack was the editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. According to a story which old-timers on the "old" years later, when this ran for Congress and defeated the incumbent, who campaigned as a "gold-bug". The loser contested the election. Since the Republican were in control of Congress and since the loser's position on the money question was in accord with theirs, Carmack stood an excellent chance of being unseated.

"Private John" Allen, of Tupelo, Miss., was a member of Congress at that time and he addressed the committee on behalf of Carmack. Allen expressed considerable doubt as to whether the contesting candidate's stand in favor of gold was sincere and then told of a speech he had heard the man make in a previous campaign. On that occasion, the statesman had (Allen said) discussed the repeal by the Republicans of the silver purchase act; then, holding up a silver dollar, had exclaimed:

"Silver! Only twice disgraced! Once by Judas Iscariot and the other time by the Republican Party!" (The committee voted to seat Carmack.)

Not only did "the money question" play a major part in the Congressional campaigns of 1896 and thereabouts but it was even brought up in county races where the winners could not have possibly, in the performance of their duties, done anything about it. The beloved Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee, governor and United States Senator, was fond of relating in his lectures a story about a man who was running for county clerk in the mountains of East Tennessee. While this candidate was speaking, someone called out, "How do you stand on the money question?"

The speaker replied, "I am in favor of the gold standard; also I am in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the ratio of 16 to 1; also I am for greenbacks—" and he paused, then concluded, "and I'm for a leetle more counterfeiting." (He was elected by a landslide.)

PROCLAIMS SCHOOLS WEEK
 Texas Public Schools Week has been proclaimed by Gov. Price Daniel for Feb. 28-March 5. Receiving the proclamation for the tenth annual statewide observance is John McKee (right), who has served as state chairman of the Texas Citizens' Committee for Public Schools Week since the week was inaugurated in 1950. Chief purpose of the observance is to induce more citizens—not only parents but all others—to visit the schools and see for themselves the functioning of our democratic system of education.

CONSERVATION WORK IN TEXAS MADE OUTSTANDING PROGRESS DURING '59

COLLEGE STATION — A year-end summary of conservation educational activities carried out during 1959 in Texas shows that real progress was made, says Jack H. Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist. The summary was compiled by Barton from the 1959 annual reports of the State's county agricultural agents.

The specialist said that team work and understanding between the supervisors of the Soil Conservation Districts and the county agents of Texas were largely responsible for the progress made in educational activities. These activities included meetings, tours and contests, educational exhibits and demonstrations, preparation of newspaper and magazine stories, presentation of radio and television programs, distribution of printed material, and meetings involving SCD supervisors and county agents.

All educational activities showed good increases, Barton said. Outstanding increases were posted in the use of educational exhibits and demonstrations and printed materials for furthering conservation work, he noted.

Barton pointed out that the 177 soil conservation districts of Texas now cover approximately 98 per cent of the farm and ranch lands and that the districts are the medium through which local residents can develop and promote their own soil, water and plant conservation program.

30 die, 42 hurt in gun accidents

AUSTIN — There were 30 hunting deaths reported during 1959, according to information compiled by the fiscal director of the Game and Fish Commission. During the year there was a total of 72 shooting accidents. Of the 72 accidents, 34 were caused by the individual affected, and 38 by other persons.

This is a part of the report made by the Game and Fish Commission each year to the National Rifle Association. It is made up of reports sent in by game wardens from over the state, and may not include all the shooting accidents of the year, according to the director.

Every instrument in new Texas Tech band brass or percussion

LUBBOCK — It won't have 76 trombones, but a new band being formed at Texas Tech may sound like it.

Every instrument in it will be brass or percussion.

Tech Bands Director Dean Killion is forming the new band as a musical experiment.

"A lot of music has been written in the last 10 years for brass and percussion groups," he pointed out. "Also, many symphonic works have been transcribed for such presentation."

"Our new brass band will give us unique opportunities to experiment with these new arrangements and will give the many brass players on campus special chances to demonstrate their musicianship."

The new group will play a portion of every Tech band concert and will combine with the regular concert band for finales.

Killion said he expects a membership of 30 to 35 when the brass group starts rehearsals this semester. It will meet at 11 a. m. Monday through Friday.

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

- Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt humps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.
- Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.
- Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.
- Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.
- Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.
- Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.
- Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.
- Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.
- Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.
- Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.
- Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Rev Hogue urges promotion of Post

The Rev. Bill Hogue in a talk before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall urged the promotion of the town of Post throughout the area by means of all media and the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking on the subject of public relations in our churches and in our community as a whole, Rev. Hogue declared that, "If people know you better they will like you more—and this applies to your town as well as to you."

He said that promotion of this community should be directed at people "in terms of their self-interests." He declared that people "are more easily reached through their emotions than their intellects" and he said too that positive statements are "more effective if you are for something than if you are against something."

"God was the world's original advertiser," Rev. Hogue said in commenting on the need to advertise. "He flung a handful of stars into the heavens to declare His glory."

Summing up, Rev. Hogue concluded that once the White River dam is obtained "there is no reason why Post shouldn't be one of the finest little metropolises in the area, and public relations, if we go after it, will aid our growth as the days pass."

Inter-County—

Kent, Floyd, Dickens, and Crosby. Of the five counties served by the bookmobile, only one — Floyd — has its own library service. It has a county library at Floydada, but is interested in the interim state plan to secure some of the 3,000 offered books for its facilities.

Mrs. Motley told the large and interested group that her division was interested in seeing the counties go together and set up a bookmobile of their own to visit all the communities in the five counties on a regular schedule, as the state bookmobile has been doing for the last 11 months.

She said the bookmobile was moving out in March to the Kerrville area for another demonstration period. Forty Texas counties have participated in the bookmobile demonstration program and 62 more are interested in the demonstration service.

SHE POINTED out, however, that the National Library Services Act, under which the Texas State Library secures funds for its present bookmobile demonstration and library book loan offers, expires in July of 1961 after five years of operation unless extended by congress.

The "book loan" of $7,500 worth of books—approximately 3,000 volumes—was offered providing the counties individually sign annual agreements with the Texas State Library to provide a place and a custodian for the loaned books. Another requirement is that such books be made available to the public at a minimum of two half-days each week.

Pointing out from the American Library Association's own report that the modern library trend is toward cooperation on the part of libraries, Mrs. Motley recommended that "if you wish to set up good, adequate library service a cooperative system between the interested counties would be the best method."

SHE SAID THE offer of the 3,000 book loan applied to any two or more counties of the five who signed the agreement.

Mrs. Motley said if the counties decide they want a continuation of the bookmobile type of library service they will have until August to work with their commissioner courts to work out details of a cooperative plan so it may be placed in the respective counties' budgets for 1961.

The Crosby County commissioners' court has already voted to spend $2,500 for a cooperative bookmobile if each of the other four counties also will participate.

Mrs. Bernard of Floydada, former librarian and the leader of the Floyd County library movement which led to the establishment of the Floyd County Library, told the group that a 3 cent tax per $100 valuation raised $7,500 a year for the operation of the library.

"WE WAITED A half year to open and used half of the first $7,500 to buy books," she said. "Civic clubs and other organizations matched this book fund with donations so that first year we had $10,000 or more to spend on books."

She warned against taking "book donations" and filling up "your library shelves with old books full of misinformation."

Tom Jenkins of Lorenzo was named temporary chairman of the multi-county library committee. The group voted to increase each county's representation on the committee from two to four and to put the county judge of each county on the committee.

Crosby County particularly and both Kent and Dickens counties appeared farther along with plans for their own libraries a fact the departure of the bookmobile than is Garza County. Groups in each of these three counties already have discussed library possibilities with their commissioner courts, and Crosby's court has voted $2,500 for a cooperative library effort.

THERE REMAINS considerable doubt, however, if all or even a majority of the counties in the end would favor a bookmobile type of cooperative library action. More probably counties will attempt to establish their own libraries with a good degree of cooperation among them at least in book rotation.

Whether Garza County will proceed with some plan of library facilities with the departure of the bookmobile is "up to the people," according to Judge Parker.

He said the commissioners' court is elected to do what the people want and if Garza counties want a library service now or later that will be determined by the interest shown.

Postings—

We have been pleased with the real amount of library interest which has developed in Post and the expressed desires from many quarters for some serious thought on a county library program of our own. County Judge Parker is quite interested—he's on the multi-county committee along with Dean Robinson—and says that the commissioners court is ready to do what the people want done. Judge Parker is seriously considering the idea of a county library study committee of five persons to look into all phases of such a project, investigate what other counties and communities in the area are doing, and come up with some suggestions or recommendations as to how to best proceed here. Judge Parker figures to give the rural areas a representation on such a committee as well as the town of Post.

We'd suggest those interested in a library project for Garza County to mention it to Judge Parker and your respective county commissioners. This is the best way for any official to judge public interest—to hear citizens express their own desires. If you want to help Garza County obtain a county library you can do your part by expressing your own interest and ideas to the commissioners court.

The record-breaking 1,929 poll taxes paid for 1960 voting in Garza County shows what can be done if everybody works together on such projects. A whole lot of folks and organizations deserve real credit for the highly successful "pay your poll tax" campaign just completed. It's obvious people are interested here this year in issues (White River especially) and candidates. The "pay your poll tax" success simple proves that a real job of cooperation can be accomplished on many community fronts if the effort and interest are shown.

Another local "political campaign" is just getting under way and there is a real scramble shaping up for the sheriff's post and commissioner of precinct No. 1 with each office drawing five Democratic filings by the Monday deadline. It is important for voters to listen to candidates and to judge them on not only their records in the community but upon the positions they will take on various public issues. Local political races shouldn't be run solely on the basis of personality and popularity. The winners will have a job to do—and the voters should take the time to ask some questions and hear the candidates discuss their own views on the respective offices they seek. Only by picking the most qualified man for each job can voters perform their democratic responsibility as good citizens.

Oscar Garner now is going to have some extra time to polish up his already-good golf game. Oscar reports that after 15½ years in the butane business here, he plans to continue to make his home here in Post and has no future plans at present to announce. Oscar came to Post from Spur where he had operated a grocery store for a short time and entered the butane business here June 15, 1944. It was his first venture in such a business and his headquarters was in the store building now occupied by R. J.'s Furniture Co. He put in a line of appliances and that is why the name appliances got into his firm name and stayed there for many years. He moved his business to his present location on the Tahoka highway in 1947 and discontinued his appliance line in 1948.

Ted Hibbs is "top dog" now—and he has a trophy to prove it. The Post manager for the Southwest Public Service Company, who is one of Post's most active boosters and civic workers in his spare time, won his company's new "top dog trophy" as the best all-around manager in Southwest Public Service's southern division. That includes ten offices with ten managers so you see Ted is a "doer" in his line. Ted gets to keep the trophy for a month and then it goes to the next "top dog" whoever he may be. Hibbs won it in the December contest.

Our congrats to Rev. Cecil Stowe. That personable pastor popped in The Dispatch office bright and early Wednesday morning with his report of the previous night's Lions meeting all neatly typed out for Editor Charlie Didway. Rev. Stowe had just been appointed as the Lions' new reporter and from his start we'd say he has his new job well in hand.

possibility of local option elections in the county on sale of beer and liquor also is attributed with boosting the number of poll taxes paid. The percentage of school teachers paying their poll tax was believed the highest ever here and elsewhere over the state. They were urged by the Texas State Teachers Association to pay their poll taxes so they would have votes on education legislation.

Holders of 1960 poll tax receipts are reminded that under a new election law they will be required to take their receipts with them when they go to vote in the first primary election. That is so their party affiliation can be stamped on them.

Others who have filed with N. C. Outlaw, the county Democratic chairman, are the following: George Mahon, Lubbock, U. S. Congress, 19th District.

Flashing very little of the form that had carried them to 19 victories in 20 starts, the Post Antelopes were defeated by the Spur Bulldogs, 59 to 57, Tuesday night at Spur.

It was the second loss of the season for Post and their first in conference play.

It definitely was an off night for Coach Pete Murray's cagers, who had downed Spur by 16 points, 58-42, in their first meeting.

A 40-point second half by the Bulldogs while the Antelopes were scoring only 31 provided the margin of victory to give Spur their third conference win against two losses.

Post got off to an early lead on buckets by Derwood Mayberry and Forrest Claborn and led, 13-11, after a slow first quarter. Post's big man, Scottie Pierce, managed only two free throws in the first half period.

The Antelopes widened the gap in the second quarter and were out in front, 26-19, at halftime. Pierce, still bottled up under the basket, added five points to his two in the first quarter for a seven-point first half production.

Dan Rankin, who had scored only one free throw in the first half, came back strong for the Antelopes in the third quarter to rack up 14 points on seven fielders, but the only other Post scoring in the quarter came on a two-pointer by Claborn and a free throw by Curtis Didway.

The Bulldogs, meanwhile, were hitting just about everything they threw at the basket and trailed by only three points, 43-40, at the end of the period.

The fourth quarter was a nip and tuck affair with the Bulldogs doing most of the nipping. Pierce finally found the range with four field goals, but fouled out with 3:18 to go.

With less than a minute to go, Spur forged ahead, 59-55, on a field goal by Don Morrison, but Claborn put Post back in the game when he stole the ball and went under for a lay-up. The Bulldogs successfully stalled out the final 45 seconds of play.

Post girls lose to Spur in overtime

Still playing them close in trying to chalk up their first District 3AA victory, the Post High School girls' basketball team lost to Spur in overtime Tuesday night, 46 to 44.

After a rugged battle in which the lead changed hands at least a dozen times, Post tied the score with 16 seconds to go on a field goal by Glenda Whittenberg.

PS in... SPORTS By CHARLES DIDWAY

Almost as good as the Antelope victory was the sight of so many Post basketball fans at Tahoka Friday night for the two District 3AA games.

This season's boys' and girls' teams probably have a bigger following than any other cagers in the school's history, although Post has always been well known throughout this area as one of the few towns which really gets behind its high school athletic teams.

Having a lot to do with this year's good attendance both at home and on the road is the Antelopes' 19-1 record under new coach Pete Murray. Although their record is not as brilliant, Coach Jiggs King's girls' team also has a big following, mainly through the way they play them all "close" win or lose. They're real crowd pleasers and with a little more height would be championship contenders.

We were hoping Tahoka would knock Floydada off Monday night, but it didn't work out that way. If the Whirlwinds had lost, it would have left every team in the district except Post with at least two conference setbacks and would have meant that the Antelopes could have lost one of their four remaining games (as of Monday) and still win the district title.

However it works out from here on in, we hope we can win the championship outright and dodge another three-game playoff like last year's. We've heard some of the fans say they don't believe they could go through another one like it.

Let's keep tagging along with the basketball team on its road trips and help it come through without having to go into a playoff.

Friday night, the 'Lopes will play in Slaton and next Tuesday night in Colorado City, which, of course, is a non-conference game. They go to Floydada a week from Friday night and then close the regular season here Tuesday night, Feb. 16, against Tahoka.

Spur brought the ball down court with the seconds ticking away, but Judy Clary rushed in to tie up the ball, and the game was forced into a two-minute overtime.

Spur controlled the jump and Sandra Foreman hit her only field goal of the night for the two points that proved the clincher.

Post lost little time getting the ball under its offensive basket, but a half-dozen shots—one right after the other—failed to go through, and Spur stalled it out the rest of the way after regaining possession.

Coach Jiggs King's team was behind by one point, 9-8, at the end of the first quarter, but forged, into a 19-17 halftime lead. The third quarter, which has jinxed the Post team in most of its games this season, saw the Spur sextet take a 32-27 lead going into the final period.

The Antelopes had a good fourth quarter, with Anne Morris knotting the count at 32-32 on a field goal. From there on in, it was a tight one.

Whittenberg scored 18 points for Post, with Morris notching 14 and Peggy Ramsey, 12.

Beth Kemp, a starting guard, fouled out early in the fourth period. Other guards for Post were Clary, Danella Bateman, Sandra Stewart and Jane Maxey, with Raynora Young subbing in at a forward position.

The Frenship Junior High School basketball teams will play four conference games here this evening against Post teams.

Seeing action for Post will be Coach Billy Hahn's 7th and 8th grade girls' teams, Coach Glynn Gregg's 8th grade boys' team and Coach Gerald Loyd's 7th grade boys' team.

The Post teams swept all four games at Frenship two weeks ago.

Summer baseball program is set for big expansion move

Post's summer baseball program is in for a double-barreled expansion in 1960.

Decisions announced at a meeting of Little League and Pony League representatives last Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce office include:

- (1) Expanding the Little League from four to six teams.
- (2) Dropping the Pony League affiliation and changing to the Babe Ruth League organization to permit youngsters an additional summer of play within age requirements.
- (3) Plans for construction of a second boys' baseball park with the Little League to use the present park and the new Babe Ruth League to play in the new one, if it can be built in time.
- (4) Organization of an American Legion boys team for Post to permit boys to continue baseball play through high school in an organized boys' program.
- (5) Formation of separate league organizations for the Little League and Babe Ruth League.

The two league organizations will thus lessen the amount of work and responsibility carried by league officers.

The Little League has been operating with only four teams. Expansion to six will enable a 50 per cent increase in the number of boys who can participate. The league now is at work on obtaining sponsors for the new teams.

The Babe Ruth League organization will be for boys 13, 14, and 15 years of age—whereas the Pony League only allowed boys through 14 to participate.

The new Babe Ruth League organization will be formed and officers elected at a meeting in City Hall Monday night, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p. m.

It is reported that the American Legion post here will sponsor the American Legion club for boys 18 years and under. It is the first time in at least a number of years that the older boys will have a chance to continue baseball on an organized team.

Baseball men say that the City of Post is prepared to put water and other facilities into a new boys' park once authority has been obtained for land use for the park from the Post Montgomery estate. Lee Ward is the 1960 president of the Little League. Other officers are J. E. Tanner, vice president; Donald Windham, secretary and treasurer. Directors also include Gene Matthews, Smiley Welch, Morris Chambliss, Bill Cates, Warren Stockton, Kirby Cancell and Larry Hopkins.

Girls lose close game at Tahoka Friday, 46 to 44

The Post High School girls' basketball team lost another close one at Tahoka Friday night, this time by only two points, 46-44.

The lead changed hands several times throughout the game, with Tahoka holding quarter leads of 12-9, 23-21 and 30-27.

The defeat left Coach Jiggs King's girls with an 0-4 mark for the first round of District 3-AA play. It was the first conference win in four starts for the Tahoka team.

The Post defense was weakened at a crucial stage of the game when starting guard Judy Clary fouled out with 31 seconds to go in the third quarter.

Glenda Whittenberg's 19 points led the Post scoring, but Kay Halamick of Tahoka was game high with 21. Anne Morris scored 15 points for Post, with Peggy Ramsey scoring six and Raynora Young, four.

The starting guards were Judy Clary, Beth Kemp and Danella Bateman, with Sandra Stewart subbing in. Linda Taylor also played at a forward position.

Post comes from behind to beat Tahoka cagers, 52-37

The Tahoka Bulldogs, with their slowed-down type of play, had the Post Antelopes "hanging on the ropes" for three quarters Friday night at Tahoka before Coach Pete Murray's district leaders broke loose for 20 points in the final period and a 52 to 37 victory.

For the Antelope team, as well as for the large number of fans who accompanied them to Tahoka, it was the "shakiest" victory of the season, with the Bulldogs ahead, 22-19, at halftime and behind by only two points, 32-30, at the end of the third quarter.

The victory left the Antelopes with a 4-0 record for the first half of conference play, and knocked the Bulldogs down to a 1-3 mark for the first half.

Slowing down their own pace to match that of their opponents almost proved fatal to the Post team. It was anybody's game until early in the fourth period when the Bulldogs began to speed up their game and found the Antelopes more than happy to "run" with them.

Four field goals and five free throws by Scottie Pierce, three charity tosses by Donnie Hays and timely buckets by Curtis Didway and Derwood Mayberry accounted for the Antelopes' 20 points in the fourth quarter, with the Bulldogs being held to seven.

Excessive fouling hurt the Tahoka cause in the late stages. A total of 29 violations was whistled against the Bulldogs.

Coach Pete Murray credited "good help from the bench" as a big factor in the Antelope victory. Sophomore Leslie Acker, substituting at guard for Forrest Claborn, who was ineligible for the game, played every minute, hitting Post's first field goal from outside with the first quarter almost gone, and doing a good job on defense.

Hays, a junior, subbed in for forward Dan Rankin after the latter was ejected from the game following a mix-up with George Adams of Tahoka. Hays' eight free throws in the third and fourth periods helped the Antelopes pull away from their stubborn opponents.

Good bench help also came from sophomore Benny Schleiber, who had just recovered from a siege of flu, and senior Glendon Washburn.

The Antelopes had one of their "coldest" nights both from the field and from the free throw line.

The Post Junior High School girls' basketball teams stayed undefeated in conference play last Thursday night by defeating Tahoka in two games at Tahoka.

The 8th grade girls won, 24 to 9, with Mary Beth Ford hitting 12 points, Nita Wilson eight points and Shirley Sappington, four.

The 7th grade girls won, 14 to 3, all of Tahoka's points coming on free throws. Shirley Isaacs scored nine of Post's points with Pam Stewart getting three and Vivian McWhirt two.

Coach Billy Hahn had high praise for the good defensive play of his guards on both teams.

The Post girls now have won over Frenship, Slaton and Tahoka in conference play.

Newcomers, explosion, loose tooth highlight Close City school news

By Patsy Bates and Julia Childs
We are glad that Brenda and Diana Bilberry have enrolled in our school. Brenda is in the 7th grade and Diana is in the 6th.

We are happy that George Martinez has come back to school. He has been ill with pneumonia. Nedra Childs was absent Monday. Bruce Masters has the flu. Get well soon, Bruce.

Linda Justice has moved away. She is going to the Post school.

We will all miss her, but hope she likes her new school.

Monday, Patsy Bates fell while playing basketball and hurt her foot. She was taken to the doctor and it was found her little toe was broken.

Mrs. Nixon's 3rd grade is studying news items in English.

Nancy Basinger was out of school last week with a bad cold.

Roy Lee and Johnny Bilberry came to our school from Post this week. Roy Lee is in the 3rd grade and Johnny is in the 2nd.

We want to thank Mrs. W. H. Childs for supplying flowers for Mr. Nixon's room. They're real nice.

Now we have science upstairs. It's a lot of fun.

The 4th grade has to have a cutting of some plant that will grow. Some have them, some don't.

The 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th grades have to have scrapbooks for science.

Patsy and Julia were successful with their experiment. So was Miriam Smith. But the 5th grade! Well, the experiment of Ronald Thuet, Harlan Sappington and Jimmy Bartlett exploded in their faces!

Mike Bates' experiment also worked. So did those of Cecil Martinez and Larry Ramage.

Barbara Bartlett became an aunt last Friday. . . Jimmy an uncle!

Debby Hitt visited school Monday afternoon.

Guy Nelson lost his first tooth last Friday. Mr. Nixon pulled it for him.

GOOD HABIT TO CULTIVATE

Thinking can save many lives in 1960, says state safety officer

Many families in Texas will have a Happy New Year, instead of a tragic one, because the following people will think and react normally.

Somewhere in Texas, between now and the end of 1960, these things will happen, according to J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association.

A driver will glance at his speedometer, realize that he is driving too fast for conditions, ease his foot off the accelerator—and be able to stop in time to avoid a child or elderly pedestrian.

A youngster will dart out from a driveway or from behind a parked car. An approaching driver will stop in time to avoid hitting him, because he remembered his own boyhood and has trained himself to expect the unexpected.

A North Texan will encounter deep snow and ice conditions. However, he will be able to get through safely and on time because he was prepared with a set of tire chains in the trunk, and spared 10 minutes to put them on. He saved a life — his own.

A pedestrian will start to cross against the light — remember — and wait.

A man will drink a final highball, realize his condition, and hand the car keys to his wife.

A walker, about to walk on a rural highway, will return to the house to get a flashlight.

A driver will ask his gas pump man to check windshield wiper arms for adequate pressure to keep off snow and let him see. He will see—in time—his child running to greet him.

Yes, thousands of lives will be spared and these people will be with us next year who would not have been here, had they failed to think and react sensibly.

No, these things will never make the headlines, in fact, there will be fewer headlines, fewer "crash" stories to write, and fewer statistics to add to the grim total of highway deaths and injuries.

Yes, thinking can save lives. It's a mighty good habit to cultivate!

Have You Heard??

Valentine Day is just around the corner. Feb. 14 to be exact. Start saving your money, boys!

The economic classes have been investing $500 (imaginary) in the stock market. Everyone really had lots of fun and learned a lot.

Seems some of the second period gym class played a good joke on Pat the other day. It was almost too real.

Beth Kemp had a slumber party Friday night. Those there were Jane, Jane, Janene, Anne, Peggy, Sandra, Carolyn, Jan.

The basketball boys got their pictures back last week. Some of them are real good.

It's good to have Mrs. Scott back. She missed two days of last week due to illness of Mrs. Thaxton did a real good job while she was gone.

Charles Tubbs was home visiting at mid-term break from Trinity College in San Antonio. Charles is an old PHS student.

Hey, Peggy, what's this we heard about a statement you made in American history class. The basketball boys should really be interested!

Some couples seen are: Hoss Smith and Daneila Bateman, Ernie Popham and Dorothy Kuykendall, Kenneth Thompson and Beverly Young, Mel Thompson and Jerry Windham, Peggy and Richard, Glendon Washburn and Virginia Young.

A whole busload of the home economics girls took off for a day in Lubbock last Tuesday. They went to see the "Maid of Cotton Fashion Show". They were really impressed by all the lovely fashions you can make of cotton.

Rhea Peel wins 'Homemaker of Year' contest

By Janene Haynie
In a Post High School assembly last Thursday morning, Rhea Peel was named as Betty Crocker "Homemaker of the Year."

Rhea scored highest among a group of senior girls taking the Betty Crocker Homemaker test in home economics. Her paper will now be entered in state competition.

Also in the assembly, the Rev. Clinton Edwards, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke to the student body.

The boys' basketball team presented two beautiful trophies to the school. One was a championship trophy from the Ropesville Tournament, and the other was a runner-up trophy from the Caprock Holiday Tournament.

We are all very proud of our boys—they're doing a fine job.

Basketball girls at Southland High send for jackets

By Linda Payton
The basketball girls ordered their jackets the other day. I, as well as the rest of the girls, think they will be very pretty. They will be black with red leather. They also have white knit trim separating the leather and the rest of the jacket. The girls are very anxious to get them.

Speaking of basketball, the girls played Slaton "B" in the Wilson Tournament. Southland won with flying colors. We were very happy about that.

I think everyone took advantage of the holidays we got as a result of the flu epidemic. But there is also a dark side of things. We will have to go an extra week.

Everyone is anxiously waiting for the time to come when we have what was supposed to have been a "football banquet". I don't know what kind of banquet they will call it now, but we are all still waiting.

Didn't Sharla Taylor and Kelly Davies look cute in their skirt and sweater sets? They were made alike but in different colors.

Our high school English teacher looked very nice Monday in her brown and pink cotton dress. By the way, that same teacher, Mrs. Kuykendall, is having trouble teaching Ronnie Sales his English.

Sammy Elliot had on a very pretty brown and tan shirt. It had silver and gold threads in it.

I give a person confidence, interest in life, intelligence, and wealth. Without me there will be poverty, lack of interest, and hatred. I am what high school kids give up in order to get married.

A New Record We're Proud to Announce —

The Post Dispatch

CIRCULATION TOPS 2,000

For January, 1960 — last month — for the first time in its 34-year history an average of 2,039 Dispatches were sold each week.

The press run each week is now over 2,100 copies.

Circulation of The Dispatch has grown by over 700 papers under present management since June 1, 1957.

These are figures we're proud to announce. It means that some 7,136 Garza folks and former residents read this newspaper each week using the accepted yardstick of an average of 3½ readers per copy. It is probably higher.

What This Means to Advertisers —

Your advertising messages are now reaching over 2,000 more potential customers than they were just 2½ years ago. The additional cost for a 33% circulation increase has been just 6 2-3rds %. We think that is a bargain.

Our Pledge To Our Readers

We promise you the best efforts of ourselves and our fine newspaper staff from Editor Charles Didway to Pressman Abel Camacho to give you the very best weekly newspaper possible. We will continue to give you the ONLY COMPLETE NEWS COVERAGE OF POST AND GARZA COUNTY. As a newspaper, we will try to stand up for the projects and issues we believe to be in the best interests of this community. We will all work hard at the job each week of trying to improve your newspaper. We welcome your suggestions, your cooperation, and your support.

WASHINGTON AND. "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The Federal Trade Commission has awakened to the fact that there is some hanky panky in the baking business, and has charged two bakers with giving discounts to favored customers.

Huber Baking Company, selling over 4,000 accounts in the states near its home base in Wilmington, Delaware, is charged with giving a few favored chain store accounts discounts of 5%. C. W. Harder, Continental Baking, the nation's largest bakery combine, is charged with giving discounts to some chains of up to 7%.

The steps taken by Continental Baking Company in the past few years are most interesting, and would seem to explode the off-held theory that big monopoly type operations have a higher level of ethics, and are operated by a much smarter management group than independent businessmen.
It was not too long ago that Continental was advertising its wonder bread over the radio with the startling story that "if your child has stopped growing, start feeding him Wonder bread and in just eight days he will resume normal growth."
Eventually the FTC stepped in on this, but in the meantime the big baking combine made themselves and their brand ridiculous in the minds of hundreds of thousands of mothers, who just couldn't seem to buy this story that a couple of slices of any bread would start Junior growing like a weed.

Scots get credit for Leap Year

It's Leap Year again . . . and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.
They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.
According to the research of World Book Encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of both the high and low estate" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.
If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound . . . unless he could show that another woman had a prior claim on his affections.
The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.
France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.
The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom of depriving a man of his clergy if he scoffed at a proposal.

Even if he didn't hurt the feelings, he was obliged to honor her with a silk gown . . . consolation prize.

Sale of Savings Bonds tops goal

Savings Bonds sales in Garza County during 1959 totaled $159,030, representing 125.2 per cent of the goal of $127,000. It was announced today by Irby G. Metcalf Jr., chairman of the county's bond committee.
December sales of $16,667 brought Garza County's total up to the final figure.
Savings Bonds sales throughout the state in December were the greatest since March of last year.
Sales in the state during the year amounted to $152,482,290 or 33.8 per cent of the state's 1959 bond goal.
"This sales record," Metcalf said, "may be attributed to the recent increase in interest on Series E and H Savings Bonds and to the efforts of the hundreds of bond volunteers serving on the state and local bond committees."
Last fall the U. S. Treasury Department raised the interest rate on all E and H Savings Bonds. All bonds purchased since June 1, 1959, earn an attractive three and three-fourths per cent and all old bonds earn at least one-half per cent more when held to maturity.

Tremendous gains are being made by Texas in beef cattle feeding

The day may not be far off when nearly all of the heavy beef steers in Texas will have been fattened, finished and processed in Texas—which is a complete reversal of a condition that has prevailed generally in the past.

Until recent years practically all the heavy beef consumed in Texas, the nation's No. 1 cattle producing state, has come from lots in the mid-western corn belt. Texas cattle were sold as feeders to be shipped to the corn belt for fattening and processing, then shipped back at fancy prices in the form of U. S. Good, U. S. Choice and U. S. Prime beef.

But the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research now reports a tremendous growth in Texas feeding operations during the past four years. On Jan. 1, 1955, there were only 61 listed commercial operations in Texas with a feeding capacity of 1,000 head or more each, carrying an aggregate capacity of 160,000 head. On Jan. 1, 1959, there were 94 such feedlots on record, with an aggregate capacity of 240,000 head, developing an increase of 50 per cent in capacity in the four years.

This growth is still going on. An example is the Luck T. Cattle Co. which operates just west of San Antonio on the Edwards Plateau, now expanding its capacity from around 8,000 head to 13,000 head, including a completely automatic milking plant capable of turning out from 250 to 300 tons of feed a day. Another is provided by Lewter, Inc. of Lubbock, which has expanded its feed lots to take care of 100,000 cattle at a time, along with a million-dollar beef slaughtering and processing plant. Construction scheduled in 1960 in Houston of a $2 million livestock feeding plant to supply the new Armour and Co. of processing plant there with an 400 to 1,000 cattle weekly.

In addition to the larger feeding operations, there are now hundreds of smaller pens which handle between 100 to 999 head each, and many more such feed lots with capacities of less than 100 each.

This means, the Bureau of Business Research finds, that increased interest in feeding among farmers and ranchers plus the rapidly growing investment in feedlot facilities is evidence that Texas is becoming a major cattle feeding state.

It's the Law in Texas...

LEGAL CHECKUP IS SAFETY MEASURE

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will.

But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or refigure your taxes.
2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.
3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration", something of value in return.
4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer

Extension places major emphasis on management

COLLEGE STATION — Shrinking farm and ranch incomes have caused agricultural producers to take a closer look at their management practices. According to Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the acute need for better management has arisen with today's commercialized agriculture.

In the postwar years, he adds, a few families asked for help in analyzing their complete operations, including the home. In order to gain more information and know-how in this new field, a pilot program was started in 1953 in Navarro County. Here as a result of demonstrations conducted in farm and home planning, methods and procedures were developed for helping families to consider and choose between all of the alternatives available to them and to develop a record keeping and budgeting system for their total operation. These methods and procedures of demonstrating and teaching management principles then became the basis for expanding this work into a state-wide effort.

This unit approach requires personal consultation and intensive planning with families requesting assistance, said the director.

A series of events, including the placing of extension personnel in 19 other counties to do farm and home development work, as the unit approach is called, and special training sessions for all Extension workers in management principles, increased the Service's potential for assistance in management. By 1958 some 2,362 families were receiving this type of intensive management assistance from county extension agents.

An analysis of the 1957 records of more than 1,200 farm and home development families showed the value of management assistance. Director Hutchison said their net farm income showed an increase of $935 per family over 1956. The increase for 1958 over 1957 was even more significant. The 1,373 families who submitted records for analysis showed an increase of $1,625 for 1958 over 1957.

To further expand the program of assistance in management, additional training has been given Extension personnel and the services of agents in farm management and home management have been made available to the county extension agents in each of the 12 Texas extension districts.

These agents are actually management specialists, points out Director Hutchison. They are headquartered in the districts and will carry out a continuous training program for the county extension agents and are available for consulting with and assisting farm and ranch families who are working with the local agents. The latest development is the use of electronic computing machines in a program known as linear programming.

In conclusion, Director Hutchison said, "Management of the highest type is vital to a successful agriculture because of the increased capital needs, higher production costs and less favorable prices for the products sold by farmers and ranchers. It should be the aim of management to get the maximum profit from available resources. This means the good manager must master principles and gain skills to enable him or her to make the right decisions in using the resources available."

About Your HEALTH

In the next 24 hours three Americans will die from accidental poisoning and 425 will get sick after eating or drinking something not intended for human use.

The toll is high, yes, but a brief decade ago it would have been twice as high.

Why have accidental poisonings declined, even in the face of rising populations and vastly increased availability of toxic substances? In large measure the reason lies with unique institutions known as "poison control centers."

More than 200 centers as operating throughout the nation today, supplying prompt information on treatment and toxicity of poisons to physicians on a 24-hour daily basis. Nine centers are currently functioning in Texas. State health authorities, who cooperate with state and local medical societies in setting them up, would like to see at least three more put into service.

Centers are now active in Austin, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Tyler, Abilene.

The opinion is generally held that a center to serve far West Texas, one in the Panhandle, and one to serve South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley would complete the state-wide network.

Among the main items of equipment in a poison control center are a telephone with a well-publicized number, a reference library on toxic substances, and an index file of common, non-edible household products—including brand name, poison content and antidote or prescribed method of treatment.

At the request of local health departments the Texas State Department of Health will aid in securing a comprehensive index file on poisons for any community desiring to establish a poison control center.

To see how poison control centers function, imagine this true-to-life situation.

Q. I have just retired from the Armed Forces after 30 years of service. Would it be possible for my GI insurance premiums to be paid by deduction from my retirement pay?

A. Yes. All that is necessary is for you to authorize the deduction through your branch of service.

Q. I have just sold my GI house and been released by VA from liability on the balance of the loan, which the buyer is assuming. Am I automatically entitled now to another loan?

A. No. As long as VA's guaranty of the loan is outstanding, no restoration of loan rights can be extended. Even in cases where the loan has been paid in full, restoration of entitlement can be made only when the property was taken by a government agency for public use; destroyed by fire, flood or other natural disaster; or was disposed of for reasons considered compelling by the VA.

Q. Who is supposed to apply for War Orphans schooling, the child of the deceased war veteran or his living parent or guardian?

A. If the prospective student is under legal age, his parent or guardian must apply in his behalf. If he is of age, and has no known disability, he may apply on his own.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN — Completion of the Interstate Highway System, including 3,033 miles of top-standard expressways, may save as many as 300 Texans a year from traffic deaths.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer says that accident records show that controlled access expressways are three times safer.

Also, he said, they move three to four times as much traffic.

Greer estimates that the Interstate Highway System, when completed, will save one life a year for each 10 miles of road.

Target year for getting Texas highways to desired standards is 1975.

By that time, said the state highway engineer, the state probably will have 70,000 miles in the state highway system compared to the present 60,000. There will be 5,500 miles of multi-lane highways compared to 2,168 today.

MORE SPEED?—Whether speeds in excess of 60 miles per hour should be legalized for some of the state's top-notch highways will be subject of study between now and the next Legislature.

Committees of the Texas Good Roads Association are to consider this and whether gasoline taxes should be upped to gain school funds.

Governor Daniel has suggested the possibility of raising money for school improvement and teacher salaries through a higher gasoline tax. TGRA, made up of people interested in road building, has, in the past, opposed draining taxes paid by road users for non-highway purposes.

Higher speed limits have been proposed before for four-lane highways, but have failed to pass the Legislature.

DEFICIT GROWS—Deficit in the state's general revenue fund has reached $78,647,301, an all time high, says State Treasurer Jesse James.

Things should look better after May 1, when corporation franchise taxes will be paid, he adds.

APPOINTEES — Appointed by Governor Daniel to the Texas Commission on Educational Standards are Mrs. W. D. DeCrassi of Amarillo, Horace K. Jackson of Gatesville, Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville, Cullum Greene of Fort Worth, and Mrs. E. P. Lamberth of Dallas.

To the Educational Commission, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey names Everett Collier of Houston, Joe Anderson of Lufkin, Sens. William Fly of Victoria, Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford, and Ray Roberts of McKinney.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr designated Mrs. Harry Patterson of Houston, John McKee of Dallas, Reps. C. T. Matthew of Yoakum, Leon Thurman of Anson and Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, as his appointees to the Educational Commission.

NEW GAME HEADS—Frank M. Wood of Wichita Falls has been elected chairman of the Game and Fish Commission to succeed Herb Frenshley of Houston.

New members of the Commission are Carl Dupuy of Lufkin, H. A. Walsh of El Paso, J. F. Corley of Houston and W. O. Reed of Dallas.

BUG DELAYS DECISION—"Flu bug", besides felling Texans by the thousands, contributed to a delay in deciding one of the state's most talked about issues, the new Safe Driving Insurance Plan.

With the other two State Insurance Board members ill, Chairman Penn Jackson said it would be at least several days before the board would announce changes, if any, in the plan.

Board Member Robert W. Strain was in bed with the flu, and Joe P. Biggs, other member, was convalescing from a heart attack.

Under the merit plan, the Board set auto insurance premiums lower for drivers with no record of accidents or traffic violations and proportionately higher for those who have accident and violation records.

Gov. Daniel has said that he hoped the Board would make "some changes" in the plan, but declined to elaborate.

Some legislators declare that, unless non-accident causing violations and the three-year retroactive features are taken from the plan, it will be so unpopular the Legislature will have to change it if the Board doesn't.

But most Texas insurance men declare that, given a fair chance, the plan will grow in favor with the public. They believe there will be an over-all drop in insurance costs as the driving public learns the relationship between bad driving habits and high insurance premiums.

ANTI-NARCOTICS AID PROMISED—Governor Daniel has promised El Paso every possible help in combating its problem of being "a major distribution point of an international narcotics ring."

In response to a telegram in which El Paso Judge Woodrow Bean cited the city's "major" problem, the governor conferred with state and federal authorities.

Daniel said he was assured after talking with Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, that DPS men were and would continue to work with local law enforcement officials in El Paso in fighting narcotics traffic.

Also, said the governor, he has been told by the Federal Narcotics Commission that eight federal customs agents in El Paso also do anti-narcotics work.

Federal Commissioner H. J. Anslinger promised the governor to survey and consider the request for a special federal narcotics agent in El Paso.

LOWER TRAIN FARES SOUGHT — Railroad Commission has set a hearing Feb. 9 on a request by Texas railroads to reduce passenger fares between Houston and Dallas and Fort Worth.

Railways want to reduce the round trip fare from Houston to Dallas from $13.05 to $9 and the fare from Houston to Fort Worth from $14.80 to $10.

A spokesman for the Railroad Commission said that no opposition was expected from rail companies not making these runs.

Letters to the Editor...

Salem, Ore.
Jan. 26, 1960

Dear Texas Friends:

Can hardly realize a full year has gone by since I wrote you but according to the "Please renew your subscription" that I received a few days ago, and looking at the calendar, and counting the additional "squeaks" that come to these bodies as the years go by, guess one full year has gone by.

We surely want to renew our subscription to the Post Dispatch. We look forward each Monday to receiving it. We are glad to know about the progress that is being made in Post and Garza County. The new additions to some of the church buildings and plans for other new church buildings. The new bank building that will be completed in 1960. The progress that is being made on the White River Water Development Program, school building improvement and other signs of progress being made. We also hope to see a new educational unit started to our church building in the spring. Our work has grown during the past year and we are looking forward to the year 1960 being the best year Capital Baptist Church has experienced.

Don't let anyone tell you it can't snow in Oregon. Last week we had a seven-inch snow here in the Willamette Valley. Portland really had a week of snow and a real winter blizzard. This is exceptional for this part of Oregon and much different to that we had the first two winters that we were here.

We enjoyed very much our trip back to Texas last fall but did not have as much time as we wanted to spend with friends there. We still think of our very dear friends in Texas often. We trust that the year 1960 will be a good year for the people of Garza County in progress being made in every realm of life, religious, education, social, industrial and agriculture.

Keep the Post Dispatch coming and find enclosed check for same. Very sincerely,
Roy Shahan

Llano hunters harvest 9,222 deer for year

AUSTIN — Hunters in Llano County took 9,222 deer between Nov. 16 and Dec. 31 according to final reports from the checking station conducted by the Game and Fish Commission. Although this is the first time all deer were checked, old timers say it is the heaviest deer kill ever made in the county.

This was made possible because of the regulations which permitted landowners to issue doe permit according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Commission. Of the total kill there were 5,211 bucks and 4,009 does. The number of antlerless deer killed represented approximately 50 per cent of the total permits issued to landowners. It is estimated that only about 15 per cent of the deer population was harvested. Biologists had hoped to have a 25 per cent harvest.

In other counties where doe permits were available approximately one-third were used. In Bexar County there were 1,124 doe killed; Medina County had 787 and Comal reported 1,601. All deer hunters in Llano County were required to check out their a highway checking station in Llano. There, weights and measurements were taken of the deer.

"This harvest establishes a management program," said Dodgen. "Through cooperative landowners this year's deer was profitable to them and to hunters."

Statistics in Vienna show Austria's "productive work" in industry dropped substantially during 1959, due to shortening of the working day.

Bible Thoughts "IT SHALL STAND"

By Rennie Parker

The words of a well known Christian hymn written by T. H. Blyden:

"The kingdoms of earth pass away one by one,
But the kingdom of heaven remains;
It is built on a rock and the Lord is its King,
And forever and ever He reigns."

Religious leaders of our day are known to encourage the notion that we need a new religion for a new age. Think! A religion for a new age! How could it be? When God created the world he made the sun, the air, and the water to meet the physical needs of man for as long as time shall last. When God made Christianity, he made it to meet the spiritual needs for as long as time shall last.

Christianity shall stand forever. God's kingdom, the one that will never need changing. The whims and notions of this generation amount to nothing. Our world will always be the old time religion of Jesus. It is as fresh as when it came from his lips. It has been perfectly made for us to live by. It supplies every need of man.

American wives are advancing new fields in chic, economy

ardless of boom times or slumps, the American woman has had a reputation for possessing two virtues much admired and by husbands at home and abroad.

"The little black dress" has classic with American for many years, and society and matrons have managed to do wonders, tasteful and colorful accessories to a well-made, attractive dress.

In recent years there has been a new emphasis in the manufacture of appliances for the home — an opportunity for the ingenious homemakers to show their range of variety of colors and styles. This allows a thrifty wife to alter the appearance of her home as if she had had a decorator redecorating job, and the expense is minimal.

We find out cost-conscious, conscious housewives are coming into a field that has long been the realm of the man of the family car. According to the Automobile Seat Cover Association of America, women are more and more influencing auto manufacturers' plans by models, and particularly by color, and particularly by field of colors. This isn't surprising. What has surprised bill-paying husbands is the woman's approach to style that women are bringing to car upkeep.

We've all heard the old joke about getting a new car because the ash trays in the old one are full. It is no joke, though, when a careless cigarette-smoker leaves a hole in the upholstery . . . or when the neighbor's child (never your own) experiments on the back seat with his new baseball spikes.

Just as the little black dress in every woman's wardrobe is rendered timeless by the tasteful use of accessories, so is her automobile updated inexpensively with new seat covers for damaged or worn seats.

Behind these separate innovations is a correlation long practiced by the wealthy—thrift. Beseated by steadily mounting taxes and imbued with the desire to maintain a certain chic, American women, regardless of economic position, are eager to give new values to the things they have, inexpensively.

Coming out of the 1957 recession, American women are economy-minded like they haven't been for a generation. At the same time there has been no lessening in their desire for beauty, order and color in their lives.

It isn't that they are buying less—gross sales are up 4.2 per cent over 1956, last year of the pre-recession spree—but the outlay is more carefully guided and they

50th anniversary of WTSC is to be observed Feb. 17

CANYON — Observance of Founders Day, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the establishment of West Texas State College, will be Feb. 17 at a special assembly.

The program, one of the major features of the golden anniversary year for West Texas State, will be at 11 a. m. in the Administration Building auditorium. Following the program, a tree-planting ceremony will be held.

J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, member of one of the early classes, will be speaker for assembly. His talk is expected to follow "The good old days" theme. A number of ex-students who attended the college in its infancy will be introduced by Milton "Buff" Morris, executive secretary of the WT Ex-Students Association.

The planting of trees on the campus, a custom of the past, will be done by members of each of the four classes, led by Wayne Smith of Pampa, president of the student association. The trees will be planted in the campus quadrangle west of the Administration Building.

Concluding the ceremony the A Cappella Choir, directed by Dr. Houston Bright, will lead in singing the college alma mater.

Useful Life of Farm Property for Income Taxes

Every taxpayer owning depreciable property used in his trade or business is faced with the problem of determining the useful life of each asset.

There is no standard life of farm property. "Useful life" in each case must stand on its own merit. Factors to be considered in determining useful life include the amount of use, age when acquired, policy as to repairs and upkeep, climate, and operating conditions.

As a guide, the International Revenue Service has published average useful life figures in the United States in Bulletin "F". This is a guide only.

A list giving estimated life of many items found on farms and ranches is kept in the local Extension Office. An example of some of the items is as follows:

Average Useful Life
Cattle, breeding or dairy, 8 years; hogs, breeding, 5 years; horses, breeding or work, 10 years; grain binder, 14 years; cesspools, 15 years; clippers, horse, 8 years; cultivators, 15 years; grain drill, 15 years; furrow openers, disk, 15 years; gates, farm, 15 years; harrows, 15 years;

Mowers, farm, 15 years; mowers, lawn, 8 years; planters, 15 years; plows, 15 years; saddles, 10 years; tarpaulins, 8 years; tractors, 10 years; apple tree, 50 years; apricot tree, 25 years; fig tree, 60 years; peach, 15 years; pear, 40 years.

Cotton allotments are affected by new legislation

An important change in legislation is being called to the attention of all Garza County farmers with cotton allotments.

Under a new law, passed at the last session of Congress, if cotton is not regarded as planted under provisions of the Soil Bank Act or the Great Plains Program, a farm must plant 75 per cent of the allotted acres or acreage must be released at the county ASC office; otherwise the allotment of the farm will be reduced in 1961.

A farmer who releases his allotment acres can maintain the cotton allotment history on his farm, provided cotton is planted one out of three years.

Farmers not planning to use all or part of their 1960 cotton allotment acres are requested to go to their county ASC office and release them before it is too late to get history credit on their farm.

Cotton growers who would like to have their cotton acreage increased must apply for additional acres, on the farm provided, if they want to get their share of the released acres.

459 are nabbed for violation of game laws

AUSTIN — Many hunters and fishermen are still trying to get by without buying a license, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. During December 98 persons were arrested for failure to possess licenses. For the month there were 459 arrests.

He warned that all persons fishing outside their home counties, or anyone fishing with a rod and reel must have a license, unless they are under 16 or over 65 years of age. The license costs $2.15 for either resident or non-resident and includes saltwater as well as fresh water fishing.

Headlighters also figured heavily in the December arrests, according to the report. There were 67 convictions for headlighting at night. There were 26 charged with killing spike bucks. Exceeding the bag limit on quail brought fines to 22 persons. Ten hunters were fined for killing doves out of season.

Automobile hunters accounted for 19 fines. Fines were paid by 14 for killing turkey hens.

The 459 arrested persons paid fines and court costs amounting to $19,446. There were 18 cases dismissed, three served time in jail, four appealed, there were two suspended sentences, and one person found not guilty.

Everybody got into the act of making macaroni. The Chinese are believed to have invented it . . . the Germans supposedly introduced it into Europe . . . and now the U. S. has the largest macaroni industry in the world, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Deer hides for hospitals asked

AUSTIN — A final call has gone out on "Operation Deer Hide," in an effort to get the hides of last season into the hands of the Board of Hospitals and Special Schools as soon as possible.

Early in the season the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission urged that hunters save their hides for the benefit of this program.

Truck lines have agreed to pick up the bundles of hides at locker plants throughout the state and deliver them to L. M. Rathbone, Austin taxidermist. He in turn will pass the hides out to tanneries.

In the area west of the Pecos the Russell Williams Frozen Food Locker on N. Grand Street, Odessa, has been named as a pick-up point. Omar Dreiling of San Angelo will pick up the hides there and route them into Austin.

The entire operation is on a cost free basis, to provide the hides, which will be used by patients in mental hospitals and special schools for hand crafting.

In an effort to keep hospitals staffed with doctors, local Irish communities will pay higher salaries.
