COTTON BACTERIAL BLIGHT
Bacterial blight of cotton causes more damage than any other plant disease in Texas. It generally is severe on the High Plains and the Coast Prairie, in the irrigated valleys of the Trans-Pecos and in the Rolling Plains. Bacterial blight causes more than one-fourth of the total cotton disease yield loss in Texas. Each of the last two years has caused about $37,500,000 in lower yields. Too, additional losses occurred in the form of power and spot grades of the ginned fiber.

Small, angular, brownish or blackish spots occur on the lower leaves. Later the disease may spread to the higher leaves. Only the spots are necessary for the leaves to drop. Yield reduction is, on the average, about one-half the per cent of premature loss of leaves. Small, circular, dark-green spots occur on bolls. These spots enlarge, dry up, stain lint and prevent normal opening of the boll.

The disease-causing bacteria enter through air-breathing pores (stomata) in the leaves, bolls and stems. They also may enter the plant parts through wounds.

The blight organism is carried overwinter in the soil and old plant trash and on or in planting seed. Wind-driven splashing rains, sprinkler irrigation or whirlwinds spread the bacteria from plant to plant in the fields.

When stems are affected, "black arm", or lesions are caused.

The only known practical prevention is the growing of resistant varieties. Acala 1517 BR, Acala 1517 BR-1, Blightmaster, Austin, Rex and Mebane B-1 are available for commercial production. Many new resistant varieties are being developed.

The planting of known disease-free seed will give control if there is no soil carry-over. Acid-delinted seed, adequately treated with a seed-protectant fungicide, will reduce early season infection. This practice does not necessarily prevent later epidemics.

TRUCKS FEATURE PROVED DESIGN

Continuation of the highly successful suspension system introduced last year, moderate front style changes, and refinement of chassis and cabs mark the 1961 Chevrolet truck line now on display at Caprock Chevrolet Co., 111 South Broadway. Proved by one full year of customer use, the suspension features independent front springing with torsion bars and rear coil or variable rate springs.

Machine of the Future

Former resident of Gordon area scores with invention

Alvin Gordon of Bradshaw, Neb., a former resident of the Gordon community, has invented a machine that can manufacture and lay concrete pipe as it moves through the field.

The Gordon community was named for the Bradshaw man's father, D. D. Gordon. Alvin Gordon's wife is the former Miss Etta Edmunds, daughter of W. E. Edmunds of the Gordon community.

Mrs. Gordon, while on a visit here last week, brought The Dispatch a Lincoln, Neb. newspaper containing the following story on her husband's invention:

"State Fairgoers were doing a double take — stopping in their tracks and taking another look at patent No. 2948942 which made its first public appearance at the Fair. "Alvin Gordon of Bradshaw was told that it was impossible to invent a machine that could manufacture and lay concrete pipe as it moved through the field.

"Records in the patent office have discouraged most folks with a string of failures since 1889 when someone first tried to accomplish the feat.

"Gordon took four years working on his project that he terms a concrete cast-in-place machine and the bugaboo that stopped previous inventors was solved at 2 a.m. one morning as Gordon awakened with the answer to his problems.

"The cylinder-type concrete chine with a horseshoe-type packer powered by a 5-horsepower motor or was laying concrete at an estimated rate of 100 feet per hour to the interest of farmers and others.

"Now Gordon, with his machine of the future, has three decision options. He can (1) sell the patent, (2) manufacture the machine himself or (3) let someone manufacture the machine for him. "Gordon estimates the selling price would be near $2,700 and that inquires for the machine have come from all over the world."

HERE! '61 CHEVY TRUCKS

WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more . . . the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

I Give You Texas . . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

am not a salesman nor a business man but I have had some experience as a customer. On one occasion, I was figuring about buying an automobile. The salesman handled two makes—one in the medium price field, and one which was higher priced. I asked for a lower priced model and the salesman said, "Yes, that's a nice little car." I almost went through with the deal. A man was spending $2,000 on it. It was a pretty important decision to him; in fact, most people buy a car so seldom that they do, it is quite an occasion to them and they don't like to see their purchase called "a little car."

But not only cars—just about anything else. I entered a store which was having a sale on hats and I bought one. The salesman said, "It is a nice little item." Why is a nice item? In general, it's a cowboy hat—all hats about the same size to the eye. I noticed a store window with a sign. "Clearance sale, half price and some very attractive items were on display. In a corner of the window was a small sign which read, 'Shoes on display not for sale.'" In my opinion, that is very close to dishonest practice. It certainly is misleading and creates resentment. The customer may not always know—and neither is the base—until the football referee or the opinion of each of them is the only one that counts.

Some referred to a mule as "without pride of ancestry or of posterity."

A colorful old chap who had charge of a luxurious lodge in the East Texas woods was telling a friend about a group that had recently been visitors:

"They were yacky-yacking about their travels. 'Shucks, I'll bet I've traveled further, crawling up under the house looking for eggs than any of them ever have.'"

A candidate for sheriff in a West Texas county, many years ago, promised that his first act would be to fire the deputies that the incumbent had. The candidate declared, "Them fellows officer! They couldn't track an elephant through the snow."

Then to remove any doubt as to what he thought about them, he said: "I wouldn't send one of them out to split kindling; I'd be afraid he'd steal the ax."

Vanity, vanity, all is vanity—said one of the Old Testament prophets.

An Egyptian had inscribed on his tomb—and the inscription is still to be seen after 2,000 years or more—that he was fan-bearer at the right-hand of the King. (This was a greater honor than to have been on the left.) It was his job to cool the monarch's brow and keep the flies away.

There was a small town hotel with a bellboy who had been a prize-fighter in his younger days. He would be dozing in the corner when the clerk would hit the bell and that bellboy would jump out of the chair and swing punches in all directions.

FEATURES CRISP, NEW STYLING

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria, a new model in the Ford line that is being introduced to the public today, features crisp, new styling that has been honored by an international fashion authority in Rome for its "functional expression of classic beauty." The new Fords are nearly four inches shorter and two inches narrower for greater maneuverability, and introduce 30,000-mile lubrication.

1961 Ford, now on display here, features many new improvements

The 1961 Ford, which went on display today at Tom Power Ford, Inc., 122 West Main, features crisp new styling, new dimensions for greater maneuverability, and major engineering improvements such as 30,000-mile lubrication, that will result in lower maintenance costs and more carefree operation.

The new Fords will be on display here through Saturday, according to Tom Power, dealer. Refreshments will be served to those visiting the showrooms for a look at the new models.

Power said the new Ford nearly four inches shorter and two inches narrower than in 1960, will offer "a completely new, fresh appearance in the classic Ford tradition of straight-line design."

He also announced the 1961 Ford styling has been recognized for its "functional expression of classic beauty" by a world-renowned fashion authority. In Rome, Italy, against a backdrop of the new fashion center of the world, the Centro Per l'Alta Moda Italiana recently presented Ford Motor Company with a special medal honoring the 1961 Ford.

Power said engineering and design improvements in the 1961 Ford make it "a car that virtually takes care of itself." Improvements include:

A new grease and lubrication system that extends the normal chassis lubrication interval to 30,000 miles; new heavier brakes that adjust themselves; specially processed underbody parts, including galvanized body panels below the doors, that resist rust and corrosion; aluminum mufflers that are double-wrapped for three times normal life; a 250 per cent increase in the thickness of anodizing on aluminum surfaces for brighter, longer-lasting grille, headlamp and tail lamp trim.

"These features," the dealer said, "combined with Ford's Diamond Lustre finishes that never need waxing and the Full-Flow oil filtering system that permits a 4,000-mile oil change interval, will mean fewer inconvenient service stops and more savings with the new Fords."

The new Ford line consists of 16 models in four series—Fairlane, Fairlane 500, Galaxie and station wagons. Added to the line are two new models—a Galaxie Club Victoria (two-door hardtop) and a six-passenger Country Squire station wagon.

Permits available for public area hunting

AUSTIN—The public may now apply for hunting on public areas of the Game and Fish Commission.

E. A. Walker, director of wild life management, said Thursday hunters should apply with the commission for application blanks. Application blanks must be returned by Oct. 31. The names of the hunters are drawn from a wheel.

There will be permits issued to 2,424 persons to kill 740 deer. Last year 1,790 permits were issued for a kill of 545.

Announcing the 1961 Ford...
Beautifully proportioned to the CLASSIC FORD LOOK

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

- LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.
- CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
- ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
- GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
- TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Getting this big ad in at the last minute yesterday, after the mat failed to make it here on time from Amarillo, necessitated positioning it on page 8 and moving K&K Food Mart's half page Dollar Day ad from 8 to page 13 to make room for it. So be sure you look up the many bargains King Ardis has for you at K&K over on page 13. We hate to shift grocery ads from accustomed positions, but had no other choice.

Add to these problems a local slaying Wednesday afternoon as the news deadline neared for the front page and some baring wiring on our newspaper press switch-box just as we were going to press yesterday afternoon with the third of four press runs and you have some idea of the jumping around we did here at The Dispatch yesterday.

This is to welcome another attorney to town—A. C. Cooke who is moving his law practice to Post from Lubbock. You'll find his dignified professional announcement on page 9. Mr. Cooke is moving into 113 West Main Street and hopes to have the necessary remodeling completed in time for him to open the office Monday. His wife, Mrs. Eleanor Cooke is the manager of Dunlap's here. She's mighty busy these days in supervising the move of the Dunlap store into new quarters recently remodeled at 201 East Main.

Another important advertising announcement in today's Dispatch which "almost got away" will be found crowded onto page 4—Bryan Williams' announcement of new Westhaven addition. We say it "almost got away" because Bryan and Bill Edwards, promoters of the addition, had five of the lots spoken for before all the red tape could be completed for the announcement of the lots for sale. There are still some nice ones left, including a "king size lot", and you'll find it all neatly mapped on page 4 with most of the answers to your questions. Good luck, you two, on helping to build a bigger and better Post. It's not easy these days.

tural crops. These exhibits aren't judged, and such display that meets shows standards receives a participation award.

The FFA booths were judged by T. L. Leach of the Department of Agricultural Education at Texas Tech and Clemon Montgomery, Big Spring, Area II supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Other placings included Taboka, fourth; Muleshoe, fifth; Lamesa, sixth; Slaton, seventh; Brownfield, eighth; Spur, ninth, and Dimmitt, tenth.

Post's winning exhibit depicted returns from three different late-season irrigation treatments. All three treatments also received one earlier watering.

The booth reported these results: 796 pounds of lint per acre worth $186 off a final watering on Aug. 8; 884 pounds of lint an acre worth $239 off final irrigations on Aug. 8 and Aug. 20, and 820 pounds of lint worth $195 off final waterings on Aug. 8, Aug. 20 and Sept. 3.

this a real gain is that Post doesn't lose the Jack Burress family. Burress, who started with Piggly Wiggly here in 1946 and became market manager in 1948, will continue to make his home in Post. He has purchased a truck and plans to haul Clary's chickens out of Lubbock to markets in Slaton, Post, Snyder and Big Spring. Jack steps out Saturday night at Piggly Wiggly into his new venture. Mr. and Mrs. Collom, who are making their home at 216 North Avenue M, have two children, Elwin H., age 7, and Phyllis Lee, 18 months. They are members of the First Baptist Church. Welcome to town, Mr. and Mrs. Collom, and good luck, Jack, on your new trucking enterprise.

money will enable the group to complete the second park and thus provide playing facilities for over 200 area boys in the two leagues as well as for an American Legion team to be organized next year for older boys and for a playing field for a semi-pro team of young men now out of the summer program.

The Babe Ruth park construction was halted without lights or bleachers last spring due to lack of funds. A water line has been laid to the two parks since the completion of the summer's baseball schedule and grass infields have been planted and now are being watered with city help, Lee reported.

Chest directors, following the recommendations of their budget committee, voted for the $2,000 figure instead of the $4,000 because they feared it would put the Chest goal out of reach this year. The $2,000 loan from the bank will permit the full work to be completed by spring, they pointed out.

A request for inclusion of the Boys Ranch at West Texas in the 1961 Chest budget to the amount of $300 was turned down by directors.

The eight participating agencies in the Chest, besides the youth summer baseball program, with the amounts of 1961 participation, and with their 1960 Chest participation in parenthesis, are as follows:

Two hundred dollars was included in the budget for all campaign expenses.

Leo Acker, 1961 Chest campaign chairman, asked that the Chest drive dates be set for the week of Nov. 14. He said the big gifts portion of the drive will get underway two weeks or more in advance of this starting date.

PROGRAM PROGRESSES

Voss quoted George A. Gray, regional operations director for the Post Office Department's Dallas region, as saying that "significant progress now is evident in the postal modernization program begun by Postmaster General Harmerfield."

Under the department's commercial leasing program, the resources and investment funds of private enterprise are utilized to obtain needed postal buildings. More than 4,500 new structures have been erected during the past five years.

Moreover, due to Congressional approval of the Postal Modernization Program, construction during 1960 will be greatly accelerated with 1,602 new facilities scheduled for completion and several hundred obsolete post offices modernized and expanded.

South offset to pool opener

Ellenburger oil flow indicates deeper pay

Indicating a second and deeper pay in the new pool, oil flowed on a drillstem test of the Ellenburger at 8,157 to 8,172 feet in General American Oil Company of Texas' No. 1-44 Miller, south offset to the Gordon Simpson Strawn reef lime pool opener in Garza County.

The seven-hour test developed gas at the surface in five minutes and oil in one hour, with the flow rate at six to seven barrels of oil per hour the next six hours on quarter-inch choke.

Reversed out was a full string of oil and no water. Recovery from below the circulating sub was 270 feet of heavily oil-cut mud.

Seven-inch casing has been set on bottom at 8,172 feet for completion attempt in the Ellenburger, topped at 8,157 feet.

Earlier, the prospective new pay opener flowed oil on a test of the Strawn at 7,650 to 7,697 feet.

The pool opener, General American's No. 1-A-63 Koonsman, Section 63, Block 6, H&G Survey, also indicated production from the Ellenburger on a drillstem test at 8,246 to 8,268 feet, but it did not flow oil on the test and dual completion from the deeper pay was not attempted.

General American was preparing to run casing for completion attempt after a final one-hour drillstem test at 8,278 to 8,318 feet returned only 25 feet of mud in No. 1-744 Koonsman, Section 744, Block 97, H&G Survey, south offset to its recently completed Strawn producer one mile northeast of the Red Loflin Strawn and Ellenburger pool.

Oil and salt water were recovered on three drillstem tests of the Strawn between 7,768 and 8,058 feet while the operation was being drilled.

Officers elected by FFA chapter

Jerry Stone was elected president of the Post Future Farmers of America chapter Tuesday night at the first meeting of the school year, held in the new vocational agriculture room.

Other officers elected were David Lee, vice president; Jerry Thuet, Secretary; Melvin Byrd, treasurer; Jimmy Hodges, sentinel; Jerry Bush, reporter, and Clarence Ivie, Student Council representative.

Outgoing president Jimmy Hodges presided at Tuesday night's meeting.

Business transacted included the volunteering of members to complete selling ads on the FFA calendar. Money received from the sale of the ads will be used in building up the chapter farm.

Jerry Stone, Jerry Thuet and David Lee were appointed by the president to make arrangements for a parent and son meeting to be held early in November.

Chapter dues were set at $3, but because of a conflict with new school policies were reduced to $2.25 by D. H. Koeninger, chapter advisor. Of the amount, $1.25 is for dues to the area, state, district and national organizations.

The members voted to again subscribe to the national Future Farmer magazine for each member.

Jerry Bush was elected to represent the chapter at the national convention to be held in Kansas City Oct. 8-13. Jerry will receive $40 from the chapter to help pay his expenses.

David Lee was elected voting delegate to the district meeting of the Mesa District to be held in the local vocational agriculture department Thursday afternoon. Business at the meeting will include the election of district officers and the setting of district dues.

Jerry Stone was elected to represent the Post chapter as its district officer nominee and to run for the office of district president.

Royce Hart, Neal Francis and Melvin Byrd were appointed by the president to work on the Greenhand initiation.

Delroy Odom, a VA 1 student, won the door prize of $2 at the meeting. Only those who arrived before the deadline for the start of the meeting were eligible for the door prize.

The chapter's next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 4.

Bible Thoughts

"Motive In Baptism"

By RONNIE PARKER

The scriptures teach that Baptism saves (1 Peter 3:21); it puts one into Christ (Gal. 3:27); it is for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38); it is the entrance into the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12:13). To gain these blessings one will be baptized, yet there is another motive.

Jesus is an example for us in everything he did. His attitude is seen in the scriptures. "Not my will, but thine, be done" was his prayer. (Luke 24:42). Again, "I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me" (John 5:30). Jesus sought always to obey the Father.

The books of Acts records conversions to Christ in chapters 2, 8, 9, 10 and 16. In every case the sinners submitted to baptism. Why? To please the Father.

Jesus said, "If a man loves me, he will keep my words." (John 14:23) Jesus commanded baptism (Mk. 16:16) and "He is the author of eternal salvation unto all who OBEY him. (Heb. 5:9). Baptism is a command that will be obeyed only when one has an intense desire to do the will of God. To please God is the highest motive in Baptism.

Letters to the Editor...

EXPERIENCE WITH DONNA
Dear Editor:
Our daughter and family, the Arden Maekers, whom we visited in August, are still living up on Long Island N. Y., and had a little visit from hurricane Donna as she went through that part of the country. Janey writes as follows:
"That morning we heard over the radio that the hurricane would hit here about 12 noon. Everyone cooks with electricity, so I began preparing the noon meal early and filled two thermos jugs with coffee. The men weren't working and schools were closed.
"A neighbor family came in just before 12 and we could hardly open the door for them, it was raining so hard. But we were glad to have company.
"The wind wasn't so high, but how it did rain! Just came down in sheets. It was something to see those boats rising up out of the water. They're sitting in the yards now.
"I wish you could see this place. Water is over the docks in the canal. Our back yard is completely under water—didn't quite get up on the porch. Boy, is it a mess here!
"They evacuated Fire 1 s l a n d, just south of us. The ocean was really something to see after the storm—waves are monstrous. Can't see dry land for miles inside the beaches. It's almost unbelievable what the storm did here. It had passed by 2:30. But our power stayed off three days... surely not tired of cold meals and candle light."
This was some experience for these plains-reared folks. Arden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Maeker of Wilson.

State-local plan for driver education is suggested at Austin

AUSTIN — Driver education in Texas public schools might be financed on a cooperative state-local plan similar to that used for the pre-school program for non-English speaking children.

This proposal was discussed in a recent speech by Brad H. Smith, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Driver education tied in with the public school system is one of the goals numerous safety groups have pushed toward for some time.

Smith noted that a local school system may secure state funds for teaching non-English speaking preschoolers if it puts up some local funds also.

"Since these plans seemed to work," Smith said, "we are looking at their success for possible application to the driver education program."

Smith noted that a special study committee of the State Board of Education had reported favorably on the idea of driver education and recommended a cooperative local-state effort.

A horse which will stay anchored when the reins are dropped on the ground is said to be "tied to the ground." A horse so trained will stay in place as surely as if he were actually tied.

the myth of . . .
"greater selection out of town"

The dictionary defines a myth as "a thing whose existence is imaginary." And nothing is more imaginary than the idea that if you are in the BIG CITY 39 miles up the road you will have a wider choice of merchandise than in our local stores.

True, the metropolitan stores may show more individual items, but they're more of the same. In some cases they may not even have as much variety as your hometown merchant.

And when it comes to style, our storekeepers are just as up to the minute as their big-town brothers. That's because they send buyers to the same markets. The big stores have no monopoly on sources of supply.

When you compare local prices with those of the big city stores, don't forget what it costs you in gasoline, oil, car depreciation, parking fees and other expenses when you drive long distances. What might seem like a saving often turns into a loss.

Here's How You Benefit by Doing ALL Your Shopping Locally. When You Buy From Your Hometown Merchant You Get—

1. Honest Values.
2. Ample Selection.
3. Instant Delivery, Service and Adjustment.
4. More Personal and Friendlier Treatment.
5. Saving of Time.
6. Relief From Costly Travel.
7. Freedom From Road Hazards.

Urges law on pistol sales

AUSTIN—Texas needs a law to regulate the sale of pistols so that irresponsible persons can neither sell nor buy them, says Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

Wilson told Texas' prosecuting attorneys at an Austin meeting that murders in Texas were up 10 per cent last year. "One way to prevent these killings," he said, "is to keep pistols out of the hands of irresponsible persons."

Wilson recently held unconstitutional an old law requiring licensing of pistol dealers because of the way it was written, but said he believed there should be such a law.

A lot of the money spent on catching and punishing law breakers might be saved, the attorney general suggested, if more were spent on prevention of crime.

Three Stooges are to show at Tower

The zaniest combination ever to hit the screen—The Original Three Stooges — come to the Tower Theatre Friday and Saturday in Columbia Pictures' hectic new Harry Romm production, "Stop! Look! and Laugh!"

Co-starred with Moe, Larry and Curly, the original Three Stooges, are ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his wooden, wise-cracking friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff. And with them, too, are the Marquis Chimps of TV fame, and Officer Joe Bolton.

"Stop! Look! and Laugh!" presents the Stooges in a series of slapstick sequences, according to Hollywood. These include one of the wildest Western passages of all time, a bull-fight which becomes a riot, a visit to New York City and, finally, one of the Stooges' irrepressible parties where mirth and mayhem are combined with chocolate cream pies—tossed, like the party, by the Stooges.

Polio down, but hepatitis gains

AUSTIN — Good news in the polio field, but a growing problem in infectious hepatitis is reported by the State Health Department.

For the first half of the year polio cases were down to 27, compared to 101 for the same period last year. But 1,191 cases of infectious hepatitis were reported, compared to a five-year average of 568.

Control of hepatitis is complicated by the fact that (1) the virus has never been isolated, (2) exactly how it spreads from person to person is not known and (3) no specific treatment is available.

Isolation of the patient and extremely careful sanitation measures for those who come in contact with him are usually recommended.

It's Ginning Time Again

The fall harvest season for cotton has returned to the South Plains—and we are prepared to serve you—Mr. Cotton Farmer—in the ginning of your cotton.

We are proud to have ginned the first bale of Garza County cotton two weeks ago—and we will go on serving area cotton farmers, around the clock, when necessary, until the last bale is in.

Our gin is ready to tackle the big job of getting your cotton crop in a form so it can be marketed. Our gin is prepared to give you the least amount of waste possible, allowing you a greater margin of profit.

We invite all of our old customers back with your 1960 cotton and urge you who haven't ginned with us before to bring your cotton to us this year.
