

First National is to hold open house Sunday in new building

Several thousand persons are expected to attend the First National Bank's open house Sunday afternoon in its new building—its biggest business addition to date. The open house begins at 2 p. m. and continues until 6 p. m. A $500 U. S. Savings bond will be awarded at the open house. The top prize for the open house is a $25 savings bond also awarded at a drawing at 6 p. m. The bank will be closed Saturday to complete the move of valuables and records into the new building. The bank will open for business at 9 a. m. Monday in its new quarters—inaugurating a drive-in banking service to its customers at that time. The new bank building contains 9,800 square feet of floor space. It is of masonry and steel frame construction with its brick walls a foot thick. The bank vault is located in the front of the bank. It is 27 by 17 feet with walls, floor and ceiling all of steel-reinforced concrete 18 inches thick. Eleven tons of reinforcing steel were used for the vault alone along with approximately 100 yards of concrete. The new vault will contain approximately 625 safety deposit boxes—about twice the number in the old bank building. The big bank lobby area—which does not include the space for the tellers, secretary, or desk area for bank officers—comprises 1,536 square feet. It is 32 by 48 feet.

Of special interest to the entire community will be the Community Room, which is open to clubs and organizations for their meetings. Located in the rear of the bank with an entrance directly off the 50-car all-weather parking lot to the west, the Community Room will seat approximately 100 people. The room's dimensions are 23½ feet by 40 feet, 4 inches. This large room, used as a lounge during banking hours, has an attached 6 by 8 foot coffee bar with a fold-down electric hotplate and electric dishwasher. The attractive Community Room has one paneled wall, of Samara (African hardwood), two brick walls, and one all-glass wall to the west with drapes. Incandescent lighting is recessed in the ceiling. The Samara hardwood paneling is used in both the bank lobby and in President Irby G. Metcalf's 15 by 16-foot carpeted office, as well as in the community room.

The present drive-in banking window has been built to house a second drive-in window, should the expansion of such services become necessary in the future. It is connected by tunnel to the bookkeeping room. Alton Taylor, the bank's head bookkeeper, will be in charge of the new drive-in banking facilities. The entire bank building is air-conditioned with 30 tons of air-conditioning included in the heating and cooling installation.

Music will be piped into the lobby, bookkeeping room, president's office, ladies' lounge, and the Community Room. All new furnishings have been purchased for the bank throughout. Construction of the new bank got under way last August following brief ground-breaking ceremonies during the bank's 50th anniversary year of operations. Most of the work was completed by Jan. 15 with a delay on arrival of fixtures and one air-conditioning unit holding up the turning over of the building. The Manhattan Construction Company of Texas, with offices in Houston, was the general contractor. Ronnie Boucher, former Post resident, was the field superintendent for Manhattan and Roy Garrison of Houston was the construction foreman. Architect for the new bank building was Allen Heidbreder of Houston.

Liquor elections are set for April 9 in two precincts

will be Garza's first 'wet-dry' election since 1944

Garza County commissioners' court Monday set April 9 as the date of two "wet" elections in Commissioner's Precinct 3 and the other in Commissioner's Precinct 4.

Local option elections were held by the commissioners' court following presentation of petitions seeking the elections and a declaration by County Clerk Carl Robinson that each petition bore the required number of signatures of qualified voters.

The petitions just before Monday, County Judge Parker and Commissioners Robinson, Elva Peel, Ozell and Mason Justice took out for lunch before acting on convening at about 2 o'clock. Commissioners' court conferred briefly with County Attorney P. Webb on such matters as the absentee voting period for the elections and election officials setting the machinery in motion for ordering the elections.

The commissioners in whose precinct the elections will be held—Justice of Precinct 4 and Williams of Precinct 3—voted out on making and giving the motions that the elections be called. Justice made motion that the election be held in his precinct and Williams seconded it, with the procedure reversed on the motion for the Precinct 3 election.

Precinct 3, which includes the eastern part of the county, will be for or against the sale of all alcoholic beverages permitting sales for on-premises consumption in accordance with state law.

Precinct 4 votes will be on the question of legalized sales for on-premises consumption only.

Funeral held for pioneer resident

Mrs. Lillie B. Harper Mickey, 81, resident of Post since 1907, died Friday in Houston, with funeral services held at the Church of the Nazarene here at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mickey was born Nov. 20, 1852, at Post, and was married there to W. E. Harper in 1907. They had three children, Mr. Harper died in 1928 and his widow later in 1929.

Mickey is survived by two sons, Mrs. Willie B. Sullivan and Mrs. Edna McDaniel, both of Post, three sons, C. W. of Etowah, Wash., and Harold Monroe Harper of Kenosha, Wis.; six stepchildren, including Johnny Mickey of Post; and Mrs. Addie Jones of Post. Mrs. Lillie Bohannon of Post is a great-grandchild.

Rev. Cecil Stowe, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were F. F. G. L. Perkins, Earl Rogers, A. McDaniel, O. V. Meade and W. A. Gray.

Courthouse repainting gets under way

Painting and other improvements to the interior of the Garza County courthouse began this week with the job expected to last 30 days to complete. Brown and Lowell Scribner are doing the painting, which will be done on both hallways and stairs. The ceilings are being painted white and the walls a beige color.

There are two voting boxes in Precinct 3, one at the Verbena community center and the other at the Lincoln Elementary schoolhouse here. The election judges at Verbena are A. T. Sanderson and Mrs. Edna McLendon, and for Precinct 4—the Lincoln Elementary schoolhouse—they are

Mrs. Edward Neff and Mrs. Morris Neff. The only voting box in Precinct 4 is at Justiceburg, where the election judges are Mrs. Lee Reed and Mrs. H. F. Ainsworth. The absentee voting period for the elections is to begin March 21 and continue through April 5.

The petitions asking for the vote in Precinct 3 were filed Monday morning, shortly before the commissioners' court convened for its regular March session. The county clerk certified 60 of 70 signatures, although only 26 were needed to fulfill requirements based on the number of voters in the last general election for governor. Of the 10 signatures not certified, Cederholm said the poll tax number of some did not check out, and that some of the others were over-age voters on whom affidavits of voting eligibility were lacking. Records at the courthouse show (See LIQUOR VOTE on page 8)

TOP THREE IN SPELLING BEE

Southland youth is top speller

Teddy Scott, 7th grade student at Southland, outspelled five other contestants here Friday afternoon to win the 8th annual Garza County Spelling Bee in Lubbock in April. The bee was the shortest ever held here, being decided before the contestants spelled through the A's in the official spelling book.

The winner correctly spelled "appearance" after second place winner Susie Jo Schmidt, Post 8th grader, had misspelled it, and then spelled the next word, "apparently" to emerge as winner. Third place was won by Beverly Stolle, who is in the 7th grade at Southland.

It was the first time the Southland school had been represented in the county spelling bee. Other contestants were Julia Childs and Patsy Bates of Close City and Shirley Bostick of Post. Teddy, 13, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott of the Pleasant Valley community. His mother teaches in Post High School.

Checks for $15, $10 and $5 were (See SPELLING BEE on page 8)

Three sentenced on guilty pleas

Three prison sentences, two of them probation, were handed down by District Judge Truett Smith here Friday on pleas of guilty. David Waley Seward, who pleaded guilty to two counts of burglary, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. Two Negroes, Allen Charles Smith and Ulice Vicks, received three-year probation sentences. Smith pleaded guilty to the theft of money from the Garza Medical & Surgical Clinic, and Vicks pleaded guilty to the burglary of the J. E. Smith home here. Seward was charged with the burglary of the Parrish Grocery & Market.

Date for water contract elections soon to be set

White River water district directors were told here last night a special meeting will be called as soon as federal approval is received from Fort Worth on the proposed water rates of the four participating towns so that a date for water contract elections can be set.

Directors were guests of the City of Post to a steak dinner in City Hall here last night. They then were conducted on a tour of the new First National Bank building by Irby G. Metcalf, J., and J. B. Potts and inaugurated the Community Room with its first meeting.

Approval of the federal agency making the construction loan is required to be sure the rates will raise sufficient funds to pay off the loans. Last night's session was the regular March meeting of the board. It lasted only 20 minutes.

Winners named in boys' stock show

Don Richardson and Butch Bowen showed grand champion animals in Saturday's Garza County Junior Fat Stock Show, with showmanship awards going to Jerry Thuet, Curtis Steel and Melvin Byrd.

Richardson, a 4-H Club member, showed the grand champion in the steer division — an Aberdeen-Angus. Bowen's Berkshire was grand champion in the barrow division. Joey Basinger's Hereford steer was reserve champion, with Thuet's Poland China being judged reserve champion among the barrows.

The showmanship awards were won by Thuet, steers: Steel, barrow. (See STOCK SHOW on page 8)

Commissioners to feel public's pulse—

Following a meeting Monday with Harold H. Marburger of the Texas State Library Commission, the Garza County commissioners' court has launched a study of the possibilities of a cooperative county library service.

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

This 24-page New Bank Opening Edition of The Dispatch is literally stuffed with congratulatory messages, pictures, and stories about the new bank building, bank personnel, and local bank history. It's probably the biggest issue of The Dispatch ever published in this newspaper's history saluting one local business firm on a new building.

Two local option liquor elections scheduled for April 9 apparently have been taken in stride around the county. So far there is surprisingly little talk on the subject. There is little agreement either among political observers as to whether legalized liquor will carry in either of the two small precincts. Interest of course will pick up considerably on the question in the days ahead. At this early stage, it appears that the two elections won't cause all the hullabaloo here they have elsewhere around West Texas.

Decision of the Post Stampedede not to hold its annual rodeo this year will be received with mixed reactions. Some folks are going to be mighty disappointed. Others will say that the choice was a wise one as two rodeos each year for a town this size probably is one too many in this day and age. Certainly everybody will applaud the last portion of the directors' statement — carried elsewhere on today's front page — offering full cooperation to the Junior Rodeo group and wishing them the best in their rodeo promotion.

The organize-a-library project seems to be moving right along. Don't miss The Dispatch's story today on new steps which have been taken by the county commissioners' court to work out a library project and the aid which the Texas State Library offered to the county here Monday.

Lions hear talk on Chamber of Commerce

Chamber Manager Johnny Hopkins presented a talk on the importance of the Chamber of Commerce in a community and the Post Chamber's current project program before the Lions Club at its dinner meeting Tuesday night at Tom's Place.

He also showed a film on organization and functions of the Chamber. (See POSTINGS on page 8)

Suit filed asking $26,800 damages

Thomas Lee Webb, Lubbock building contractor, has filed a $26,800 damages suit in district court here against Lawrence E. Gossett Jr. and his mother Vera Mae Gossett, as the result of an automobile accident Aug. 29, 1959. The accident involved a rear-end collision between automobiles driven by Webb and by the Gossett youngster at the intersection of Main Street and Avenue 1 in downtown Post.

The plaintiff's petition charges the driver of the Gossett car with three points of negligence—failure to keep automobile under proper control, failure to keep proper lookout and failure to apply brakes in time to avoid a collision. Webb is suing for $15,000 for disability, $10,000 for mental and physical pain and suffering and $1,800 for "past and future" doctor, hospital and medical bills.

Five resignations accepted

Board re-elects all except two teachers

The board of trustees of Post Independent School District Monday night accepted the resignations of five teachers and re-elected all other teachers except two. Other action taken by the board included:

1. Adoption of Supt. R. T. Smith's recommendation that academic awards be given the upper 10 per cent of the high school student body.
2. Decided to cooperate with the City of Post in the paving, including curbs and gutters, of four blocks of streets around the new high school building.
3. Voted to accept the book recommendations of the textbook committee.
4. Appointed an election judge and set election workers' pay for the April 2 trustee election.
5. Voted to ask for bids on sale of a pick-up truck and a panel bus owned by the school.

Resignations accepted were those of Mrs. Jim Mallard Jr., as teacher of beginning Spanish-speaking pupils; N. R. (Jiggs) King as girls' basketball coach; Pete Murray as head basketball and assistant football coach; Ray R. Bishop as high school English teacher, and Mrs. Laura Rushing as a second grade teacher.

The only teachers not re-elected were Mrs. Maurine Lackey and Mrs. Lillie Kitchen, who Supt. Smith told the board had reached the retirement age adopted last year by the trustees. King, in resigning as girls' basketball coach, asked that he be

Directors vote no Post Stampedede Rodeo in '60

The Post Stampedede Rodeo, annual summer fixture here since its inauguration in 1941, will not be held this year, Stampedede directors voted Tuesday night in a planning session at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The decision not to hold a rodeo this year does not involve any commitment as to the future, directors said after their session. Lack of support was cited by

Final rites held for Mrs. Maxey

Last rites for Mrs. Minnie B. Maxey, 81, a resident of the Graham community since 1935, who died at 7 p. m. Saturday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. R. Baldwin, were held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Church of Christ in the Graham community.

She was the widow of J. F. Maxey, pioneer Garza County resident, who died in 1951. She had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1923.

Ronnie Parker, minister of the Post Church of Christ, and S. D. Lofton officiated at the funeral services. Interment was in the Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Ray McClellan, Lonnie Peel, Carter White, Noel White, Mack Ledbetter and Bill McMahon. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. A. C. Sarman, Elgie Stewart, Delmar Cowdrey, Elmer Cowdrey, Glenn Davis and Bob Lusk. Mrs. Maxey is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. R. Baldwin and (See MAXEY RITES on page 8)

The directors issued the following explanatory statement: "After considerable thought and consideration of all the circumstances involved, the board of directors of the Post Stampedede have arrived at a decision concerning the wisdom of having a rodeo this year. It is the opinion of the directors that our community would like only one rodeo to be held in Post during this summer. This decision is based on several facts, namely lack of interest. Support and attendance to these rodeos are not what they have been in the past. The effort put forth to bring these shows into being is too much for the results obtained. "Another and most important reason is that with both shows neither of them are making enough money to keep up the rodeo plant, the necessary painting and repairs and other items that need to be done. "In view of the above mentioned facts, the directors have agreed not to have a rodeo this year. Since the Juniors have begun preparations for their rodeo this summer, the Post Stampedede will wish them well in their efforts, and also, will lend their assistance if needed or desired. The Post Stampedede Rodeo has been held here continuously since its inaugural in 1941 except for two war years when gas rationing and tire problems necessitated its discontinuance. The rodeo has lost money for several years, being plagued with bad weather much of the time. The Post Junior Rodeo dates have not been set, but are expected to be in the next few weeks.

REFLECTION OF CONFIDENCE

This large beautiful lounge room in the First National Bank's new building is a reflection of the bank's confidence in the future of the community it serves. The room will be available for community meetings, according to bank officials.—(Photo by Col Casteel.)

New bank building a beauty

Several thousand home folks will come away from the public open house of the First National Bank's new building Sunday afternoon proudly convinced that the bank is not only keeping abreast of the times—but staying quite a few jumps ahead.

The new building is a beauty. It is sized to handle all the financial affairs of a town two or three times Post's size.

That should serve as a good indication to all just where Irby Metcalf and his bank officers and directors figure Post is heading as it faces its future.

In this big 24-page Dispatch you'll find dozens and dozens of congratulatory messages of all kinds and of all sizes.

It's sufficient to say, that the bank deserves them all—and more.

Most merchants and farmers know how important a good, progressive bank is to any community. The First National Bank today is offering just that kind of financial leadership.

As we went up and down Main Street working up the many congratulatory messages in today's Dispatch, we heard praise for the bank from all sides.

The First National Bank with its new building is demonstrating not only its hustle but its faith in our future as well. The job for the rest of us is to try to work as hard, to plan as well, to strive to improve and to build. In short, it's not going to be easy to keep up. But if we all try we're going to surprise ourselves by what we will accomplish.

To all the rest, The Dispatch wishes to add our heartiest congratulations to Irby Metcalf, other bank officers and directors, and the fine bank staff not only for your new building and what it means to Post, but for the progressive vigor and leadership you are giving our community.—J.C.

Parking problem needs a solution

Post's Main Street parking problem rears its head again this week.

Some of the business men up and down the city's main artery are complaining of downtown workers' automobiles taking up all the parking space, leaving virtually no place for shoppers to park their cars.

The business men are, of course, justified in their complaints, but working out a satisfactory solution is quite another matter.

It is necessary for most of these working people and business proprietors to bring their cars with them when they come to work. Alley parking at the rear of the business buildings is not, in most cases, practical under present conditions. Except where individual firms have taken a hand in the matter, the alleys are unpaved, and in bad weather—such as that of the last several weeks—wholesale parking in the alleys is out of the question.

Is parking meters the only answer? We hope not. We are of the opinion that a cooperative alley-paving project between the City of Post and business owners would work out more to everyone's satisfaction.

A cooperative alley-paving project has been talked by the city Council, but the last report on it was that not enough business men had answered the council's appeal to let the City know how they feel about such a project.

Since it vitally concerns the town's economic well-being, the parking problem is also something the Chamber of Commerce could take a big part in—by polling local firms on how they feel about a cooperative alley-paving project.—C.D.

Absentee ballots available now

The opening this week of absentee voting periods for the school trustee election on April 2 and the city election on April 5 affords us the opportunity of making use early of our editorial columns in an unofficial get-out-the-vote campaign.

Until three days before each election, voters who will be out of town on the election days and those who are ill and unable to reach the voting places may receive absentee ballots by applying for them. They may apply either in person or by mail, or by having someone pick up the ballots for them.

These absentee votes, of course, count just as much as the ones that will be cast at the polls on election day. To help insure a sizable, representative vote in both elections, it is just as important that the absentees vote as it is that the voters trekking to the polls turn out in good numbers.

If you plan to vote absentee, don't fail to get your ballot in time to beat the deadlines, which are March 29 for the school election and April 1 for the city election.—C.D.

Tumbleweeds for decorations

Opportunity, when it comes, may appear in strange guises. But Ray Felker, manager of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, was quick to grab hold of it recently when opportunity rapped unexpectedly on Colorado City's door.

Mr. Felker's report to the Texas Department of Agriculture on the development was as follows:

"Several weeks ago I received a request from the Cincinnati, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce to send a shipment of Texas tumbleweeds to a member of their organization who is in the floral and decorative business. We followed through on the request and have since received correspondence and several telephone calls from company executives stating that they had developed a most unusual decoration from the weeds.

"They plan to fly to Colorado City in the near future to look over the possibilities of using the tumbleweeds to advantage in the field of decorations. The company has nationwide distribution and this of course could develop into something worthwhile for this area where the tumbleweeds are a menace to the farmers."

It just goes to show that sometimes Chambers of Commerce in their eagerness to get new industries for their towns overlook opportunities right at their front door—or in their backyard. But, in the case of tumbleweeds, they can hardly be blamed. Here in West Texas, tumbleweeds are called lots of things, most of them uncomplimentary, but very few of us have ever even remotely thought of them as potential materials for decorations.—C.D.

What our contemporaries are saying

A man was arrested in Washington for throwing money down the sewer. He was charged with impersonating a bureaucrat.—The Lynn County News.

The palace of ice has turned into a pigsty of slush. It was lovely while it lasted. Withered trees and rusty coathangers were transformed into glistening 18th Century baroque. Then the sun returned from hiding and it all vanished, as quickly as Cinderella's laces. A sandstorm came late Tuesday afternoon and the Crosbyton area was back to normal again.—Pat Bennett in The Crosbyton Review.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

YOU'VE GOT TO hand it to the youngsters. They take this unseasonably cold weather in stride. Up early Saturday morning and getting ready for a full day were at least 100 high school and junior high students—some of them going to track meets at Floydada and Crosbyton, others to the choir contests at Lubbock, and still others out to the county 4-H building for the Junior Stock Show.

Some credit for all this youthful energy must go to the parents, however. Many of them were up a little earlier than usual Saturday morning getting their prizes and joys ready for their busy day.

I'VE WONDERED, since city mail delivery started last November, if Post's mail carriers are getting along all right with the dogs. The other day I saw mail carrier Wayne Thomas pause briefly for a chat with a woman, and playing peacefully nearby was a big Collie dog. Collies are, of course, a gentle breed of canine, but as far as I've been able to learn, the mail carriers aren't having any trouble with any breed.

On the same subject, I read the other day that in Cisco people will indicate on their city election ballots April 5 whether or not they are in favor of Cisco's stray dog and cat ordinance being enforced. That was a new one on me. I've heard of stray dog ordinances all my life, but Cisco's is the first one I've heard of that included cats.

FOR SOME REASON or other, I'd presumed that people everywhere solved the stray cat problem without any help from their city government. I'd never heard of any place where cats were tagged and licensed. In fact, I'd always thought of cats as such independent creatures that they didn't require government control.

The man up the street says the big trouble with the average budget is that it is hard to fill up one hole without digging another.

AS A SURPRISE candidate for the City Council, my wife becomes the family's first politician—unless you want to count the time I was nominated by my senior class as "most likely to succeed" and lost by so many votes that no one ever bothered to finish counting them. Well, I'm glad now that I didn't forget to pay her poll tax. That's about the only shopping she leaves up to me.

A popular song is one that makes us all think we can sing.

AN ELEMENTARY teacher has been described as "an unmarried den mother."

This year's Garza County Spelling Bee, held Friday afternoon in the district courtroom, didn't last long. In fact, I was almost caught with my camera down. Strolling leisurely into the courthouse to cover the Bee, I stopped first in the sheriff's office, where Red Floyd told me I'd better hurry and get upstairs, that the spelling had already started. But I was in no particular hurry, since I'd been to all seven of the previous spelling bees and figured I had it timed about right. As a result, I got upstairs just as Chamber of Commerce Manager Johnny Hopkins was making the awards and barely had time to unlimber my camera. It just goes to show you that this Space Age is getting harder and harder for a chronically slow man to move around in.

ANYHOW, I HAD time to take my picture, make a few notes and then congratulate top speller Teddy Scott. He and third place winner Beverly Stolle were the first Southland School students ever to enter the county spelling bee, and they came through with flying colors.

On the front window of a Hays, Kansas, grocery was printed, "BOY WANTED." Scrawled below was the notation: "I want one, too, Rosie."

Never a holdup nor taint of scandal at Post bank

O. L. Weakley and Ira Lee Duckworth, both of whom were active with the First National Bank here for almost 40 of 50 years, recalled this week that the bank "has never had a holdup nor any taint of scandal." They told The Dispatch that the bank was always sound and solid. Not a penny has ever been misappropriated. It's the kind of a bank record that makes these and other veteran bank officers and employees of the community proud.

There were no "depression problems", the two reported as they sat together in their office in the rear of the Post Insurance Agency building and recalled the old days and the bank's growth.

They explain that the two banks—the First National and the Citizens National—were both strong banks in good heads prior to their consolidation in 1932, but that the move was made to put the banks here in even a stronger position as in the midst of the depression there simply wasn't enough business for two.

Ollie and Ira Lee remember the days of President Franklin Roosevelt's Moratorium well. "Banks had been closing all over

BANK INTERIOR 34 YEARS AGO

This is an interior scene at the First National Bank in 1926—six years before the consolidation with the Citizens National Bank. The interior of the present building, which the bank is leaving Sunday for new quarters, has undergone two major remodeling jobs since the above picture was taken. One of the bright spots of the interior was the black marble customers' table shown at the front.

West Texas," Ira Lee recalled. "Deposits were dropping. Loans were high."

When Roosevelt declared his moratorium, he closed every bank in the United States for nine days.

What happened? Actually nothing much—at least not here in Post. Bank employees were given a holiday. But the bank officers stuck pretty close to their desks thinking and discussing what might come next.

"Fortunately," Ollie recalled, "there wasn't a ripple here from the bank's closing. When we reopened there was no 'run' on the bank. In fact there wasn't a single big withdrawal made. We were in good shape and I guess everybody knew we were."

They recalled the old bank building was built in 1916 and that before that the bank was located in the Double U Building where Wacker's store now stands.

Weakley began his banking career here in 1917 before entering army service for World War I. He has lived in Garza County since March 5, 1906—coming the year after the city of Post was founded by C. W. Post.

Returning from war service in 1919, he returned to the bank job and a local banking career which stretched across some 36 busy years. He was vice president and cashier for many years.

Duckworth entered the bank's service in 1919 as a young man. He had come to Garza County in 1904, three years before there was any Post, or Post City as it was first known.

He and Weakley sold their substantial interests in the bank to Irby G. Metcalf and his associates Jan. 1, 1955. Duckworth was a vice president at that time. He stayed on six months with the bank during the change-over period.

Other Post men who are former bank employees and still living here include C. D. Morrel, the bank's cashier for many years, H. J. Dietrich, assistant cashier for a number of years, and Ray N. Smith, who once was a bookkeeper at the bank.

Spur votes for parking meters

SPUR—By a vote of 612 to 169, voters have asked that parking meters be returned to the streets of downtown Spur.

The month-long poll disclosed that both country and city voters favor return of the meters. The City Council has not met since the poll results were announced, and there has been no official notification as to how soon the meters will be restored.

"Buy Guatemalan" is the new slogan of that country's purchasing department, with second choice going to Central American products, if Guatemala cannot fill the order.

First National Bank

The first major business addition to Post's Main street in many years is the modern new home of one of Post's oldest business institutions -- The First National Bank.

This insurance agency, which has been writing local policies for the last 49 years, salutes the bank for its important contribution to Post's future.

Ready today ...for tomorrow

One of the cornerstones of any community is its bank. If the bank officers and directors encourage business to expand and grow, and guide their farm customers over the economic rough spots, that community is better able to grow—and prosper.

On the eve of the First National Bank's move into its modern new home, we wish to extend our congratulations to the bank.

The new bank building stands as a symbol of the future growth and development of Post.

The First National Bank—Post's oldest business—is now able to serve a community twice to three times Post's present size with its new facilities.

That should encourage all of us to plan for a bigger and better tomorrow here in Post.

Garza finances excellent condition

Auditor Harold P. Wynn, in reporting over the County of Garza on Monday, said commissioners' work in the best shape they've been in since he began auditing for the county some 15 years ago.

The auditor's report showed the county had a fund balance of 239,161.20 at the beginning of fiscal year.

Another bright spot in the report was that the county's bonded and unsecured indebtedness is only 2.1 per cent of the total assets of $15,474,087. This is believed to be one of the lowest percentages of any county in the state.

WAS ONE OF THE FINEST

The above building, which the First National Bank is leaving for its new home at the corner of Main and Avenue I, was constructed 44 years ago, in 1916. At the time the building was considered one of the finest in West Texas. Jim Morgan of Big Springs was the general contractor.

Present bank building at one time 'one of finest'

The present quarters of the First National Bank, from which the bank is in the process of moving its new building, were constructed from July until October of 1916, with the bank moving in on Oct. 1, 1916.

J. M. Morgan of Big Spring was general contractor for the new building, with George (Scotty) Samson and James Napier, now of Lubbock, doing all the concrete work and setting part of the stonework. T. L. Jones and the late T. R. Greenfield had the electric wiring and heating contract and James Samson the plumbing contract.

Scotty Samson, who is still in the concrete business here, recalls that the two large columns at the front of the bank building were six inches too long when they came in by rail and that he and his partner, Jimmy Napier, had to cut them to fit.

Sand and gravel used in mixing the concrete for the building came from Sand Creek, just south of town, Samson recalls.

"We'd go up and down the creek bed looking for big pockets of sand and gravel," Samson said. "When we'd find what we were looking for, we'd dig it out and haul it into town in mule-drawn wagons."

Samson said the concrete cost 50 cents a yard to lay down on the job, whereas today it would cost about $5 a yard.

"Except for bricklayers, you could get all the help you wanted for $1.80 a day. Bricklayers were receiving from 75 cents to $1 an hour." Samson said the bank building here was considered at the time as one of the finest structures of its kind in West Texas.

He said the bank building job attracted big crowds of onlookers day after day. "And there was the usual number of 'sidewalk superintendents' in the crowd," he said.

If we made Gladiola Flour for Kissimmee, Fla...

we could get by with lower quality

...but we make it for you

We make just enough Gladiola Flour for our near neighbors—in Texas and a little bit beyond. These ladies are the best home bakers in the U.S.A.—and the sharpest judges of flour quality.

That works out fine for us. We know precisely what our customers want, and precisely how to make it. That's why snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand, every day, every year.

The women-folk in Kissimmee, Fla., just can't bake biscuits, cakes and pies like yours. They don't have Gladiola Flour. Only you and your neighbors can buy it. And, for the average family, it costs only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

Career Days are being held this week at high school

The second annual Career Days are being held this week at Post High School under sponsorship of the local chapter of the National Honor Society.

Prior to the conference each spring a questionnaire is handed the students on which they are asked to check first, second and third choices of careers. From these questionnaires, lists for the various sessions are composed.

The conference this week is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. "Our conference has grown considerably this year over last year as we had only 12 sessions last year as compared to 17 this year," Principal Glenn Whittenberg said.

Sessions are scheduled this week on secretarial work, business administration, commercial work, agriculture, home economics, certified public accounting, mechanics, music, teaching, mechanical engineering, religious work, beauticians, medicine, nursing, interior decorating, architecture, and coaching.

Stock show--

Prizes and awards totaling more than $100 were presented the winners by the Post Chamber of Commerce and the Graham Co-op Gin.

Bobby Lee, vocational agriculture teacher in the Wilson High School, was show judge, with D. H. Koeninger, local vocational agriculture teacher, directing the event.

All boys showing steers were 4-H Club members, while all barrow and sheep exhibitors were Future Farmers of America.

The results were as follows:

Liquor vote--

(Continued from page 1) ed that 284 persons in Precinct 3 paid poll taxes this year. This does not include an undetermined number of persons eligible to vote but who are exempt from poll tax payments.

Cederholm estimated that Precinct 4 has only 75 or 80 qualified voters. Nineteen names were certified on the petition, filed Feb. 22, asking the election in that precinct. The commissioners' action in setting both elections for April 9—which falls on a Saturday—was in accordance with state law requiring a vote to be set within a period not less than 30 nor more than 30 days after the court receives the petitions.

Both elections were sought under a state Supreme Court ruling last summer in which it was held that, under certain circumstances, justice precincts or towns in otherwise "dry" counties may vote "wet."

Garza County has voted twice in local option liquor elections—the first time Oct. 1, 1938, and the second time Oct. 7, 1944—and on both occasions legal sales was voted down by big margins.

Two other local option elections were held last fall on the South Plains but both failed. One was at Slaton, the other at Dickens.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. McClellan are parents of a daughter born March 10 in Garza Memorial Hospital. She weighed six pounds, six and one-half ounces and was named Marria D'Ann. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Morris McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis Jr. announce the birth of a daughter, March 14, in Garza Memorial hospital. She weighed nine pounds two ounces and was named Tammy Kay.

Library--

(Continued from page 1) $4,000 a year for their part in the program they could make use of the number of state library books furnished on that basis as well as the books furnished on the basis of the other county's or counties' appropriation.

County Judge J. E. Parker and the commissioners told Marburger that they felt a survey would need to be made to see if a majority of the people want the library service before they (the court) could commit themselves.

Most of the county's expenses in the project, Marburger said, would be in furnishing a place for the library and paying a librarian's salary. He said that under the program, a library could stay open for as short a period as eight hours a week to qualify.

He said the library service could be set up either in a building or in a bookmobile to serve the cooperating counties.

Marburger said the library system needs to know the county's wishes by May 1 before it can work up its program for the next fiscal year.

Postings--

(Continued from page 1) ably will be called within the next two weeks. Everybody will be welcome when it is.

Speaking of libraries and reading interest here, the final report on Garza county's use of the Bookmobile over a 12 month period shows that Garza counties read 7,255 books via bookmobile service during the last year. Of this total adults read 3,598 and children 1,857. Post folkes checked out 4,614 books, Southland 864. Pleasant Valley 690, Close City 424, Graham 342, and Justiceburg 321. A total of 427 Garza counties were registered borrowers of the library. This should be considered an excellent result when you stop to consider that the bookmobile visited each community only 24 times during the year and except for the all-day Saturday stops in Post patrons had only an hour or two each two weeks of library service.

Mary Jo Vines, bookmobile librarian, reported circulation for the five-county area for the year's demonstration period totaled 49,004 with a total of 2,368 registered borrowers in the five counties.

Mary Jo, when she stoppel in at The Dispatch office to say goodbye and wish Garza county luck on getting a county library of its own, explained that anyone having books checked out from the bookmobile which they failed for some reason or other to return should mail them to the Texas State Library at Austin.

VISIT IN GARLAND

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith visited their sons, Junior and Billy Smith and their families, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Green, all of Garland last weekend. This week the Leonard Smith family of Abilene and Leroy Smith and family of Lubbock visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith.

Rotarians endorse White River rates

The Post Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon in City Hall voted unanimously to endorse the city's proposed new rates for White River water as recently announced and to advertise its endorsement in The Dispatch.

Action came after Rotary directors last week asked Bryan J. Williams to draw up the resolution for consideration at Tuesday's luncheon.

Last week the Rotarians heard a thorough discussion of the White River project.

School board--

(Continued from page 1) coaching position in the Albany High School, Supt. Smith told the board. His new position will be as head basketball coach and first assistant football coach.

Murray's resignation is to become effective Sunday. Bishop's resignation as high school English teacher will become effective at the end of the term. The resignation of Mrs. Rushing as a second grade teacher is to become effective April 1.

Mrs. Betty Yancey, who is now serving as a substitute teacher, was also elected to the faculty.

The academic awards plan adopted by the board will include awards of letter jackets each school year to the 10 per cent of the high school student body with the highest average grades. Other factors, such as citizenship, also will be taken into consideration in the jacket awards.

The awards will be based on the student's average grade for the last half of one school year and the first half of the next. The first jackets under the new program will be awarded at mid-term of the 1960-61 school year.

The academic awards program was first suggested by the city's Parent-Teacher Association.

In the discussion leading to approval of a paving agreement between the schools and the City of Post, Supt. Smith told the trustees that the cost to the school district would be $3.70 per running foot, with the intersections being paved at no cost to the school.

Mrs. Wilburn Morris was named as presiding judge for the school trustee election and will select her own assistants. The pay will be $10 for the judge and $8 for each clerk.

Bids on the pick-up truck and panel bus to be sold by the school will be received through Monday, March 21, the board decided.

Cubbing, Scouting seminar Sunday

All interested persons are invited to attend a four-county seminar on Boy Scouting and Cubbing Sunday afternoon in the rosbyton Memorial building at Crosbyton. The event will start at 2 p.m.

Victor Hudman and Chant Lee, both of Post, will present a well-rounded program on Cubbing with the assistance of the Comanche Trails leadership training committee headed by Mr. Newhouse of Lorenzo.

A full discussion of Boy Scouting also will be presented.

Curtis Didway scores 34 of 40-point total

Post trackman high point winner Whirlwind Relays

With Curtis Didway turning in the top individual performance of the day, the Post Antelope track team scored 40 points for a fifth place team finish Saturday in the class AA division of the second annual Whirlwind Relays at Floydada.

Didway, who scored 34 of Post's 40 points, received a handsome trophy as the relays' high point man. He won first places in the broad jump and discus throw, second place in the 220-yard dash and third place in the 100-yard dash.

The only other points for Post came on Glendon Washburn's third place in the pole vault.

In winning the broad jump, Didway set a new meet record of 20 feet 4 inches, wiping out the previous record of 20 feet 1 1/2 inches last year by Bill Patterson of Floydada.

Didway caught Tahoka's Dean Elliott off form to win the discus throw with a toss of some 117 feet. Elliott, last year's regional winner and a finalist in the state meet, placed second at Floydada.

In the 220-yard dash, Didway set a new record of 22.4 in Saturday morning's preliminaries, but finished second to Billy Dick, Tullia's Negro athlete, in the finals. Dick also turned in a 22.4 in the finals.

The Post athlete was upset in the 100-yard dash, finishing third behind Freddie Walker of Spur and Buzzy Poage of Tullia, after getting off to a bad start when his starting block slipped. Walker was clocked in 10.2.

The Antelopes' sprint relay team had hard luck when Forrest Claborn fell near the end of his leg of the relay. They were in a good position to place in the event when Claborn fell.

The Tullia Hornets won the team championship in the AA division, repeating their performance of last year. Other teams finishing ahead of Post in total points were Muleshoe, Olton, the host Whirlwinds and Tahoka.

Meet is Friday and Saturday

San Angelo next for cinder team

The Post Antelope track and field team, with one meet under its belt, will go to San Angelo Friday for the annual San Angelo Relays to be held Friday and Saturday.

Coach John Blocker said today that he and Coach Harold Teal plan to take about 10 men to the San Angelo meet, where all schools will compete in one division.

"It'll be our biggest meet of the season and we'll feel pretty good if one of our boys even qualify for the finals," Blocker said.

The Antelope squad was strengthened this week with the return of Scottie Pierce, who missed the opening event at Floydada, and with the appearance of Dan Ruzkin, high jumper and distance runner, who had not been out for track.

In practice sessions this week, Pierce was running a leg on the sprint relay team and will also throw the discus.

Junior trackmen launch season

Considering the amount of practice they'd had, Post Junior High trackmen made a creditable showing Saturday in a junior high meet at Crosbyton, their first of the season.

Danny O'Neal, a 7th grader, won a third place in the 50-yard dash, and the 440-yard relay team of Benny Owen, Danny Pierce, Butch Cross and Denny O'Neal finished fourth. The 7th graders are coached by Gerald Loyd.

Coach Glynn Gregg's 8th grade track team failed to score, but made good showings in most of the events in which they were entered.

Both coaches said this week that their boys are improving and expect to finish higher in other meets coming up this season.

School expansion set at Slaton

Babe Ruth loop plans progress

Plans to get the new Babe Ruth League park here ready in time for player tryouts April 15 and 16 were discussed Monday night at a meeting of League officials in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Ben Howell said the county commissioners' court has agreed to make equipment and labor available for the leveling of the park and calching of the road leading to it.

He said a backstop and fence will go up soon, and that a good start has been made toward lighting the field through the donation of six light poles by Sid Cross.

The new park will be just east of the present Little League Park. The Babe Ruth League is replacing the Pony League operated here the last two seasons. The new League will take in boys of Pony League age as well as those a year above PL age.

The Babe Ruth League teams will have the same names as last season's Pony League teams — White Sox, Indians, Braves and Cubs. A new sponsor is Bill Edwards Appliances, which is sponsoring the White Sox. Other sponsors are Levi's Restaurant, Indians; Max Gordon's Garza Tire Store, Braves, and Dan Cockrum Printing and Texas Electric Company, Cubs.

The Babe Ruth League season is scheduled to open May 21.

Alton Taylor has been appointed league statistician.

The new league's procedure in selecting the all-star team at the close of the season will be for the 10 top batters to select a manager and an assistant manager, who in turn will select five additional players to round out the 15-man all-star aggregation.

Have You Heard??

Everyone who went to Lubbock last Saturday to help with the choir contest put in a lot of hard work and had a lot of fun. The office helpers met a "coffee-drinking" buddy of Coach Parsons.

Congratulations to Jane Maxey and Judy Clary. Last week they were elected president and vice president of the student council for the school year 1960-61. It's the first time since the Post Student Council was established that a girl was elected president. We are confident both will do a good job.

Couples seen around are Bobby Beard and Danella Bateman, Curtis Didway and Sandra Stewart, Beth Kemp and Jimmy Redman, Anne Morris and Johnny Kern, Glenn Polk and Stanna Butler.

The juniors are hard at work on the play. They say they're having a blast as all good play casts will. Mr. Hopkins is director. Mrs. Hill is acting as assistant.

Kay Gordon has another fan. Saturday at Lubbock, a Monterey boy (a senior) discovered "she looks just like Doris Day."

Rhea started a fad (short-lived imitations) with her gray spray. Everyone is doing it now. They don't all look as good as Rhea but it is fun.

We heard that Linda Rogers has a very good declamation worked up for IL competition. Mrs. Gambin says some of the upperclassmen may get to hear it.

Too had the senior "Zogi Show" was a flop. Hope no one lost any friends over it. Did you know Zogi

Spellers named in spelldown here

By Carol Camp

The fifth and sixth grade inter-scholastic league spelling contest was held this week. Linda Hayes and Va Donna Woods represented the fifth grade. Terry Power and Carol Camp represented the sixth. The final run-off was held Friday.

The girls who will go to Floydada April ninth are Va Donna Woods and Carol Camp. The alternate is Terry Power.

The sponsors are Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Florence. In 1958 the two grades won third, 1959 they won second. In 1960 they hope to win first.

Seventh Graders now studying solid figures

The seventh grade Math classes are now studying solid figures and finding volume and capacity. The students enjoy using the blocks and other miniature solid figures which help them to understand the work.

had "22 big acts" with one person in all of them? Tough, seniors.

Linda, Karen, Janene and Janith nearly got kicked out of the Piccadilly Saturday. If Janith just wouldn't try to eat her jello off the floor!

The junior class' Sadie Hawkins party was a lot of fun Friday. We hope all the juniors enjoyed it!

The volleyball girls went to Plainview Friday for a Volleyball Tournament. For some strange reason they weren't allowed to go back to town after the first visit — Sandra!

Junior High-Lites

By Junior High Staff

While Mrs. Wristen is sick we're all glad to have Mrs. Storie as substitute. She has been substitute for 3½ days the past week. We have heard she will be absent this week, too. We hope Mrs. Wristen is feeling better soon and we'll all be thinking of her and hoping for a quick recovery. We miss her very much.

Friday, March 6, from 7 until 10 o'clock, Wyanza Windham had a birthday party. Games were played and refreshments were served. The refreshments were sandwiches, potato chips, cake, and hot chocolate or spiced tea.

Those who attended were Danny S., Cheryl M., Benny O., Vivian M., Donnie C., Dee Ann W., Pat C., Pamela S., Butch C., Becky L., Pam O., Mary Ann S., Ronnie M., Yvonne M., Janice W., Danny M., Sharon M., Ronald S., Betsy S., Nora Jane Mock of Spur, Paula Hedrick of Lubbock, and the hostess, Wyanza.

Everyone seemed to have a real "blast"!

Most of the kids have been busy around school. In sports the girls are beginning to play volleyball. Everyone is trying real hard in hopes they will make the team. We are wishing all of them real good luck!

Pretty soon now "spring-training" will start. I am wondering what kind of a team we will have this year. A good one, I'll bet!

As you probably read last week in the paper, Mr. Georgie M. Willson, Post School Choral Director, held a music contest in Lubbock Saturday, March 12. They sang three numbers by memory, and then were judged on sight reading.

The all-girl choir wore white blouses and dark skirts. We got a "three" on our memorized songs and a "three" on sightreading. Everyone enjoyed going. Mr. Tittle and Mr. Hahn drove the buses.

Hey! Did you know the seventh and eighth girls were getting basketball sweaters? The lovely black and gold sweaters will be seen on a lot of happy girls.

Everyone took his report cards home this week. We hope everybody was happy with his grades. Even if you were pleased, keep on pushing because you can always do better.

The Junior High newspaper staff enjoyed a party this Monday. Refreshments of cakes and doughnuts were served to the hungry staff by Terry Power. Thank you, so much, Terry.

Weren't we students lucky to have a holiday last Friday? The teachers went to Lubbock for a meeting.

Now that "basketball" season is over we have a few facts that might interest you. The girls team won district first of all. All season we scored a total of 192 points to the opponents' 51. Pamela Stewart was high scorer with 54 points, Vivian McWhirt scored 31, Shirley Isaacs scored 45, Cindy Willson scored 18, Gayla Johnson scored 19, and Sandra Gary scored 2.

Future Homemakers hear talk by Malouf

By Linda Kuykendoll

One of the Chapter's national goals to better understand our neighbors at home and abroad, was carried out with a talk by Mrs. M. J. Malouf before the Post chapter of Future Homemakers of America last Wednesday. She spoke of her "teen years" back in Lebanon: of clothing, cooking, dating customs, and the teenage girl in general. She told of her experiences of trying to conform to this country, and expressed her wish to someday visit Lebanon again.

We felt that we were very privileged to have Mrs. Malouf as our speaker. Also attending the meeting was Mrs. Clinton Edwards, a chapter mother, and Mrs. Smith of Big Springs, our Area II supervisor.

Jane Maxey heads student council

By Travis Guy

Post High School elected their new president and vice president of the Student Council recently. The nominees for president were Jane Maxey, Kenneth Smith, Jimmy Minor and Mike Cornell. Jane Maxey was elected.

Nominees for vice president were Judy Clary, Danella Bateman, Leslie Acker and Tommy Bouchier. Judy Clary was elected.

This is the first time in several years a girl has been elected president. Congratulations, Jane and Judy!

Other players were Mary Ann Stone, Carolyn Matsler, Sharon Francis Solis, Socorro Raymundo, Dee Ann Walker, Darla Pierce, Cheryl Martin, and Gayle Tittle. Retta Morton played in the last game. The captains were Shirley Isaacs and Francis Solis. On the average we scored 19 points each game to the opponents' 5. The girls' coach is Billy Hahn.

In case you didn't notice, we have two new newspaper staff members. The new staff members are Sandra Gary and Carolyn Matsler. We're certainly happy to have you!

Junior High enjoyed the program presented to them by Mrs. Scott's class. Although it lasted about 30 minutes, it kept us laughing.

Sextets, Acker win top ratings

By Sandra Martin

Saturday, March 12, the high school choir went to Interscholastic League contest. The choir received a second division rating in both concert and sight-reading. Leslie Acker received a first division on his solo, and Leslie Martin, Peggy Butler, Leslie Justice and Clarence Ivin all received a second division on their solos.

An Apology

We would like to apologize for the type of show that was presented last Saturday night. We were under the impression it was a variety show with 21 acts. The seniors were (shall we say) "taken". We appreciate your support.

All three of the sextets received a first division voting on their solos.

Mr. Georgie Willson directed the choirs and accompanied the soloists. Mr. Willson was the director for the contest and did a wonderful job.

GUESTS FROM SUDAN: Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Parrish during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Moore of Sudan.

Bible Thoughts

"MONEY"

By Ronnie Parker

Someone has said, "Money will buy a bed, but not a good night's sleep. Money will buy books, but not brains. It will buy food, but not an appetite. It will buy finery, but not beauty. It will build a house but not a home. Money will buy medicine but not health. It will buy amusement but not happiness. Money will buy preaching, but not truth. It will buy a new church building but not salvation. The very thing you cannot buy is a gift."

That gift is mentioned in Romans 6:23. "The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Our modern world is so money minded, we are losing sight of real values. Materialism has brought about the forgetfulness of God. The salvation of our souls is important; money is not. Through love and obedience everybody can have God's gift of eternal salvation. All the wealth of the world can not buy this great salvation. More concern must be given to our souls than to the amassing of wealth.

YOU WILL ALWAYS BE WELCOME AT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST IN POST

Irby Metcalf elected bank president in '55

IRBY METCALF, JR.

Irby G. Metcalf Jr., became president of the First National Bank of Post Jan. 1, 1955, succeeding Giles W. Connell, who had been president of the local financial institution for approximately 40 years.

Metcalf was elected president of the bank after the purchase of a substantial portion of the bank's stock by himself and two other Lubbock men, Roy Riddei and E. W. Williams Jr.

A year after assuming the presidency he began the planning for the new bank building which will be opened Sunday afternoon at a public open house.

Metcalf came to Post from Lubbock where he had opened the Lubbock district bank examiner's office in September, 1952, after being commissioned a national bank examiner in August, 1952.

He had been an assistant national bank examiner from 1950. Metcalf was born in Bokchito, a small town in southeastern Oklahoma, and was graduated from Bokchito high school.

He had completed two years of study at Southeastern State College at Durant, Okla., when Oklahoma's national guard division, the 45th Infantry, of which he was a member, was mobilized for national service in 1940 at the beginning of the national emergency which led into World War II.

Metcalf, who went into service as a corporal, won a battlefield commission and became a first lieutenant and infantry platoon leader as the division fought its way across North Africa and then invaded Sicily, and Italy.

The bank official was wounded three times and left the division at Anzio because of wounds. He was returned to the Brooke General Hospital at San Antonio for a long convalescence after 28 months duty overseas. He was separated from the army in September, 1945.

After continuing his college education at Southern Methodist University and Dallas College, Metcalf began his banking career with the National City Bank of Dallas where he was employed before becoming an assistant national bank examiner in 1950.

Metcalf was married to Miss Jacquita Knight, also a Bokchito resident and a school teacher, when he returned from overseas army service on Aug. 5, 1943.

The Metcalfs built their home at 807 West Main Street in 1956.

While a bank examiner, Metcalf attended the American Bankers Association banking course at Rutgers University graduate school of banking.

Metcalf currently is chairman of Post's new zoning commission and also is chairman of Post's Housing Administration. He is a deacon of the First Presbyterian Church here.

He also is a director of the Community Student Loan fund, a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, a former president and campaign chairman of the Garza County Community Chest, a director of the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation, and a director of the United Funds of America.

He is vice president of the South Plains Bankers Association and recently was reelected as a director of the South Plains Boy Scout Council.

One of top building firms is bank's general contractor

Erection of the First National Bank's modern new bank building here was the ideal combination of having the work done by one of the biggest and best construction firms in the Southwest and of the "hometown boy makes good" theme.

The Manhattan Construction Company was the general contractor for Post's biggest building addition in many a year.

And Rennie Bouchier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchier, added the second ingredient as the field superintendent in charge of construction here.

Rennie, a Post product who went on to take his architectural engineering degree from the University of Texas, has been with Manhattan for the last three years. The construction firm has announced its intentions of opening a branch office in Lubbock in the not too distant future and

Texas milk yield declines in 1959

AUSTIN — Texas milk production last year totaled 2,900,000,000 pounds, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced. That figure was 4 per cent below the 1958 production.

Essentially unchanged, but production of American cheese declined slightly and ice cream production increased 9 per cent.

Texas has 54 mountains with an altitude of more than 6,000 feet.

Trustees of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in annual meeting, held recently at Fort Worth, viewed photographs of construction progress of the shrine shared by the 17 Western states; made plans for additional fund raising through memberships and elected 21 more persons for permanent honor in the memorial to developers of the American West.

Nearly $300,000 has been paid on the construction contract, trustee chairman Albert K. Mitchell of New Mexico told board members gathered from all participating states except Oregon, and with underground work mostly done the first $1½ million first unit is appearing on its hilltop site near Oklahoma City.

With cash and pledges on hand about $368,000 is needed to complete the first contract, trustees were told by Glenn W. Faris, executive vice-chairman. Trustees from various states discussed plans for memberships and memorials in the special donors room of the shrine as means of raising their quotas, supplementing Oklahoma's major contribution.

National trustees shared a meeting with the Texas Association for the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, as a prelude to that state's membership campaign under Ralph A. Johnston of Houston. The Texas organization has 12 area directors, county chairmen and 540 committeemen, and voluntarily raised its goal above the 10 cents per capita basis used by states other than Oklahoma, which has a larger quota.

Charles Redd of Utah attended his first meeting as a state trustee. Added to the national board were David Little of Idaho and Claude Olson of South Dakota, with S. J. Agnew, Washington, named an acting trustee.

Twenty-one persons were added to the rolls of honor in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame—so named because of the image of a man on a horse is the central symbol of the era of western development and expansion—to make a total of 84 thus enshrined. All are noted for contributions to that development or in carrying out Western traditions.

L. W. DUNCAN

Duncan began in banking business at an early age

L. W. (Dunk) Duncan is the vice president and cashier of the First National Bank here. He became associated with the local bank as cashier in October, 1956, coming here from Levelland.

Dunk, as he is known to his many friends, began his banking career at the age of 18 when he began working part-time for the Western State Bank in his hometown of Winters, Tex.

He then went to John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Tex., and after one semester went on to Texas Tech at Lubbock where he studied animal husbandry for three and one-half years.

He entered army service during his senior year at Tech and spent the next two years on military duty. He was a field first sergeant with a training cadre in the Corps of Army Engineers at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Upon completion of his army service he entered the banking business full time with the First National Bank at Levelland where he was assistant cashier. He was with the Levelland bank for five years before coming to Post.

Duncan also has found time to complete four courses in the American Institute of Banking at Lubbock.

He served in 1959 as president of the Post Lions Club and is now serving as a director of the Post Chamber of Commerce. Duncan is on the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church.

Duncan lives with his wife, Mary, and two children, Marsha, 7, and Mark, 4, at the home they had built in 1957 at 110 North Avenir R.

His duties with the local bank are those of cashier and loan officer.

Doubled profits in 1959 for England's Electricity Council and the Central Electricity Generating Board were announced in London.

Texans accused of short-changing themselves on higher education

AUSTIN — Texans are short-changing themselves on public higher education. A pamphlet issued by the Committee of Governing Boards of Texas State Colleges and Universities. The Committee membership is composed of a representative of each of nine boards which govern the 18 public institutions.

Committee Vice Chairman J. M. Odom of Austin said the pamphlet was published in the conviction that Texans are willing to pay the reasonable cost of quality in higher education, once they know the facts.

facts.

The document declared that in recent years, despite the State's fiscal difficulties, the governor has recommended and the Legislature has voted sizeable increases in appropriations for higher education, but not enough to improve Texas' relative position among the states.

"Growing enrollments and increasing costs have eaten a way these increases, leaving only limited amounts for improvements in quality. Increased appropriations by competing states have more than matched ours on either a relative or a per student basis."

Citing increasing demand for the best-trained students in virtually all fields necessary for stepped-up economic development, and a continuing loss of top-flight students to institutions in other states, the publication declares:

"The bitter truth is that our Texas system of higher education is no better than 'average' in the nation. This is not good enough for a state ambitious to grow and assume leadership in business, industry and agriculture."

An additional appropriation of some $12,000,000 per year, is urgently needed to place Texas institutions closer to a reasonably competitive position in the nation. $4,000,000 of this total for enrollment increases alone and $8,000,000 for improved quality, the pamphlet declares.

It concludes: "This will cost every Texas taxpayer money—for each Texan less than the price of three packs of cigarettes or one movie admission in a year. All of us who believe this extra cost of quality is a sound investment, must see to it that other Texans are acquainted with the facts—and be willing to pay our part."

"Most Texans recognize that you get about what you pay for in education, just as you do in business. Once they know the actual

Farm pond fish
The fastest and best method for growing large fish in the farm pond is to stock the pond with the proper kind or kinds of fish and at the right rates and fertilize. According to Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, farm ponds in Rio Grande Valley can be fertilized from January to June and other sections of the State from March until June. Proper fertilization, small amounts at intervals during late winter and spring, will usually shade-out troublesome underwater plant growth.

Bank's history goes back to town's earliest days

History of Post's First National Bank goes back to C. W. Post and the town he founded in a West Texas cattle wilderness in 1907.

When the new community still was in its tent stage the founding year, some of the local cattlemen had begun to talk to W. E. Alexander, Post's town manager, about a bank.

But Post waited until he was ready. With the rapid building-up of the county seat here at Post City two years later, the local ranchers increased their requests for the founding of a bank.

In May, 1909, Post decided to establish one.

The next month he organized the bank. Known as the First National Bank of Post City it had a capital stock of $50,000, of which Post himself held a controlling interest of $25,000.

Other large stockholders were H. B. Herd, Post's attorney friend at Fort Worth, who had $10,000; W. O. Stevens, $5,000; J. F. Hartford, $1,000; J. M. Boren, $1,000; and T. P. (Uncle Tom) Stevens, $500.

Thirty-four other persons held the remaining $6,500 worth of stock.

The bank's original directors were the major stockholders—Post, Herd, Stevens, Hartford, and Boren.

J. M. Boren was the father of Walter Boren and the first county judge of Garza County.

Herd became president of the bank and upon his recommendation W. O. Stevens, the half-brother of Uncle Tom Stevens who had been assistant cashier of a bank at Bridgeport, Tex., was made cashier.

Post also made Stevens a Double U Company manager at the same time.

C. D. (Doug) Morrel, now retired but still living in Post, was the clerk.

The bank opened for business July 31, 1909, using one of the sections of the large Double U store building in the 200 block on East Main as its quarters—where Wacker's is today.

On the opening day the bank received $16,109.50 in deposits.

According to records some of the original depositors that opening day were S. B. Bardwell, J. M. Boren, J. H. Babb, O. B. Crowley, father of Murry Crowley, R. H. Collier, C. I. Dickinson, W. E. Dent, A. L. Duren, father of Paul Duren, Ira L. Duckworth, W. S. Duckworth, Walter Davies, later county judge of Lubbock County, C. B. (Charlie) Everett, W. H. (Walter) Haynie, J. F. Maxey, father of Bryan and Quannah Maxey and Mrs. Gladys Floyd, C. D. Morrel, J. M. Mason, father of Marshall Mason, James Napier, who now resides in Lubbock, Eugene Payne, father of Jack Payne, who is now president of the American State Bank of Lubbock, John B. Slaughter, Ira Weakley, father of O. L. Weakley and Mrs. Ray N. Smith, Ben Williams, B. F. Wilks, father of Mrs. L. A. Barrow and also the first county treasurer of Garza County, and R. M. Miller, father of Clyde Miller.

A condensed statement of the bank on opening day showed: $6,518.03 in cash, $12,683.86 in U. S. government bonds, $275 in furniture and fixtures, $46,633.01 in deposits with other banks, $50,000 capital, and $16,109.50 in deposits, for a total of $66,109.90.

Morrel won the first promotion in the new bank. He was promoted to assistant cashier Oct. 12 of that same year and was also elected a bank director at the same time.

Morrel remained with the bank until 1932 and had much to do with its growth through those years.

After the first year's operations, the bank statement showed $214,378.58 in deposits, a surplus of $7,000, reserve of $1,000 and $5,392.25 in profits. At the time it had $207,180.64 out on loans.

Of the $214,378.58 deposits, $138,419.32 of this total was in the accounts of C. W. Post and his Double U Company.

The town founder was always a man who looked to details in the development of his town. One of his earliest recommendations to the bank was that it should provide itself with a Colt 44, double action, with either a six or eight inch barrel. Post was an authority on firearms.

But if such a Colt 44 was ever obtained, it has never had to be used.

The First National Bank in more than 50 years of operation has never been held up or robbed.

John T. Herd, son of the bank's president, joined the First National Bank in 1910 as teller and eventually was advanced to vice president and chief executive officer.

In July, 1916, bank directors let the contract for the construction of the bank building which has housed the First National Bank down to today.

J. M. Morgan of Big Spring was general contractor for the new building. T. L. Jones and the late T. R. Greenfield received the electric wiring and heating contract. James Samson received the plumbing contract. George (Scotty) Samson and James Napier had much to do with helping build the new building.

The bank moved into its new quarters Oct. 1, 1916.

In 1915, W. O. Stevens resigned as chief executive officer of the bank and organized a private bank in Post. Later this bank became known as the First State Bank of Post and still later as the Citizens National Bank of Post.

In 1932, with the depression on,

Post's two banks, the First National and the Citizens National Bank were consolidated.

G. W. Connell was elected president, though inactive in the bank's operation; J. T. Herd, vice president and chief executive officer; Ira L. Duckworth, who had joined the bank in 1919, cashier, and O. L. (Ollie) Weakley, who had been employed by the bank since 1917, assistant cashier.

Herd continued to serve as vice president of the bank until 1942 at which time Duckworth and Weakley took over as the executive officers and operated the bank until it was sold to Irby G. Metcalf Jr., and associates in 1954.

There has been a member of the Herd family on the bank's board ever since it was organized. The first was H. B. Herd, first bank president, then John T. Herd, and now J. Harvey Herd.

The bank also has had a representative of the Post interests on the directors since organization, beginning with C. W. Post. He was followed by S. B. Bardwell. At the present time, Monta J. Moore of Loveland, manager of the Post estate interests in this area, is a director.

J. B. POTTS

Potts started in banking while attending Tech

J. B. Potts, popular young executive vice president of the First National Bank, got his start in the banking business while a student at Texas Tech and has stayed with it ever since.

He worked for the Lubbock National Bank as a "proof operator" while attending Texas Tech College from which he was graduated in 1948 with a BS degree in agricultural economics.

Potts was born and reared in Lubbock.

After graduating from Tech, he was associated with the Lubbock Production Credit Association for seven years.

He came to Post to become a vice president of the First National Bank here in August, 1957.

Potts lives with his wife, Wanda, and their two children, Emily, 10, and Karen, 8, in the new home they had built at 117 North Avenue R.

J. B. currently is president of the Garza County Community Chest, president of the March of Dimes organization in the county, a deacon in the Church of Christ, and treasurer and director of the Post Rotary Club.

Prevent plant diseases

The prevention and control of plant diseases are important in livestock production because profits depend on maximum yields from pastures and crops. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist suggests a visit with the local county agent for information on the subject.

A-2 Blacklock is stationed at base in North Carolina

POPE AIR FORCE BASE, N. C. — Vincent D. Blacklock, second class, arrived at the base recently on assignment with the 464th Troop Carrier Squadron, consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron, of the 464th Troop Carrier Squadron.

After service two years, he came to the Tactical Air Command base for an 18-month overseas assignment at Yokota Air Base, Japan.

Blacklock, 29, is the son of Mr. Vincent D. Blacklock, of Post, and he was graduated from Post High School in 1956.

He is married to the former La Rue Bounds, of Post, and they have a son, Ronnie Kyle, aged one.

Pope Air Force Base, where Blacklock is now serving, was established on the Fort Bragg military reservation more than 40 years ago, and today it is home of the 464th Troop Carrier Wing (Assault). Principal wing mission is support of airborne forces of the Strategic Army Corps which has headquarters at the big Army post.

The 464th, a unit of TAC's Ninth Air Force, flies twin-engine C-123 "Providers" which each year carry over 100,000 airborne troopers on practice jumps, assault landings and other tactical exercises. Meanwhile the wing's C-123s also fly a heavy schedule of logistical missions, airlifting thousands of tons of essential supplies and equipment annually for the Army and the Air Force.

Insecticide residues

One way to safeguard against excessive insecticide residues on harvested crops and protect those who handle the materials is to follow the recommendations of the manufacturer. C. F. Garner, associate extension entomologist, says the label on every insecticide container should be studied and followed to the letter.

BILLIE MEARS

Billie Mears is studying banking

Mrs. Billie Mears, who has been associated with the First National Bank for the last four years, is a teller for the bank.

What's more she's been studying about banking at nights while working in a teller's cage during the day. Mrs. Mears is now in her fourth year taking American Institute of Banking courses at Lubbock.

She was born and reared in Post and has lived in Garza County most of her life. She is a graduate of Post High School and attended Texas Tech for two years.

Mrs. Mears lives with her daughter, Natha Jo Mears, 9, at 113 South Avenue R.

48th annual meeting is set by U. S. Chamber

WASHINGTON — Some 3,000 delegates will convene here May 1-4 for the greatest business meeting in the world—the 48th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The delegates will decide on broad Chamber policies for dealing with the Administration and Congress in this crucial election year on such matters as taxes, inflation, labor law, and government competition with business. They will represent the views of 26,000 business members of the Chamber and 3,600 city, state and professional and trade associations whose memberships total 2,700,000.

LINDA DAVIS

Linda Davis one of bank bookkeepers

Linda Davis, an employe in the bookkeeping department at the First National Bank, is a 1957 graduate of Southland High School.

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis, also attended school at Lubbock and in Georgia before graduating at Southland. She attended Sul Ross State College, Alpine, for one year.

She has been employed at the bank about a year.

Most workers on farms

About 40 per cent of all jobs in the nation are in agriculture. Of the 65 million people employed, 25 million work in agriculture. Seven million are on farms, a similar number produce for and service farmers and 11 million process and distribute farm products.

Soil test results

Soil test results are a blueprint for better farming. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says soil tests are the best device we have for determining plant food needs. By following the recommendations from the soil testing laboratory, he says farm income can be increased and production costs cut.

The first major naval vessel ever built in India was launched recently by the Hindustan Shipyard in Visakhapatnam. It was the I. N. S. Darshak.

General Telephone is in step with a growing Post!!

Construction is now under way on our new dial office at 108 South Avenue L — just one-half block from the new First National Bank building.

Installation of the modern dial telephone equipment will be forthcoming upon completion of the new dial office.

At the time of the dial conversion, General Telephone will place Post on the National Intertoll network — to enable its Post customers to call anywhere in the world — at any time — quickly and efficiently.

By November 30, 1960, Post telephone customers will have the most modern telephone service available — complete with: new dial building, new modern dial telephone equipment, national intertoll network long distance telephone service and extended rural telephone coverage.

MEMORIES

It is wonderful to look back and reflect on the joys and problems of raising a family. Remember Jane's first Christmas... and her first birthday... then there was the time she was so sick, and everyone was awake all night... How much we owe to God for his goodness to us! Yes... we should give thanks to the Lord, and seek his help in bringing up our children. Take your family to church regularly.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FRONT ENTRANCE AND LOBBY

Metcalf is bank's third president

Irby G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank, is only the third president in the over 50-year history of the bank and the first one to take an active part in bank affairs.

H. B. Herd, the bank's first president, never lived in Post. He was an attorney in Fort Worth and made his home in that city.

He served as president from the bank's organization July 31, 1909, to 1932, when the First National Bank and the Citizens National Bank were consolidated.

G. W. Connell became president at that time and served as president, though an inactive one, until Metcalf and his associates purchased their interests in the bank in 1954 at which time Metcalf was elected president.

Taylor assistant cashier at bank

Alton Taylor, assistant cashier at the First National Bank, will go into his fourth year at the bank in April. He started work there in the bookkeeping department and has been an assistant cashier for about a year.

Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Taylor, has been a resident of Post since 1941 and is a 1949 graduate of Post High School. He was born in Kent County, moving here with his parents from Clairmont.

Taylor served two years in the Army, where he was a member of an honor guard company. He played baseball while in the service and has played semi-pro since being discharged. As a member of the Post Wood Bee team, he was named to a centerfield position on the all-tournament team at the NBA playoffs in Petersburg.

Old schoolhouse is on auction block

CROSBYTON — The Mt. Blanco schoolhouse, one of the two remaining rural school buildings in the Crosbyton area, is going on the auction block.

The dilapidated schoolhouse, which has been used as a community center for the last several years, is being sold because it is becoming increasingly harder to maintain.

An advertisement for bids on purchase of the building appeared in the March 3 issue of the Crosbyton Review.
