Indifference never helps

Indifference never helps. It always hurts. That's the best advice we know to give local prospective voters who are coming up with a number of decisions to make here in the next five days.

Choices will be made Saturday in the Post Independent School District for three school trustees. Other choices will be made Tuesday to select a mayor and two city councilmen. Other choices that same day will be made to select a U. S. Senator for Texas. And still another choice Tuesday will be to determine by election whether a Garza soil conservation district is to be organized.

These are all important choices to our futures in this community and area. They will be made by the qualified electorate who go to the polls and vote their convictions.

No choice will be made by those who don't get to the polls on these two election days.

Indifference at the polls never helps. It always hurts, just as it does everywhere else.

Candidates for all these various offices have been given the opportunity to express their views.

It is up to the voters to choose the course they wish their schools, their city, and their soil conservation efforts to follow in the future.

Let us measure the candidates and the viewpoints expressed and then let us vote our own choices whatever they may be.

Considerable interest has been shown in these upcoming elections, possibly more interest than in a good number of years.

Differing viewpoints have been expressed. This is not solely a popularity contest.

The most encouraging factor in the election campaign has been that this year the candidates have been more willing than ever before—given the opportunity through The Dispatch—to express themselves.

It helps the voters to judge not only the man himself, but his expressed viewpoint.

The statements of the candidates have been well received and with considerable general interest.

It is a good thing for the electorate to study the philosophy of local government at its various levels, as well as the philosophy of national and state government when campaigns are conducted prior to elections at those levels.

Now the candidates have expressed themselves, it is time for them voters to do the same. Be sure to vote Saturday and Tuesday.—JC.

Planning for the future

No city, however small, can afford to assume that opportunities will pass it by. And when that city is showing a steady growth it makes more understandable the value of such organizations as Post Developments, Inc.

The small town still has a future, in Texas at least.

Most Texans are aware of the rapid urbanization which has taken place in the state since the end of World War II and particularly during the past decade. The Texas Municipal League now has published some concrete figures, derived from the 1960 federal census, to document this development. One little realized fact disclosed by the study was the extent to which smaller cities and towns have shared in the urban population growth.

Post, we are happy to report, is one of the many smaller cities keeping pace with the increase in population. The gain between the federal census of 1950 and 1960 was 1,322—from 3,141 to 4,463. That is a population increase of 48.3 per cent.

Gains registered by the larger cities have been widely publicized, but little attention has been given to the fact that, because of gains by smaller municipalities, the state now has more cities in the "100 largest" group nationally than any other state.

During the 10-year period between the taking of the federal censuses, 74 per cent of the towns with populations between 5,000 and 10,000 showed increases, and 71 per cent of those between 2,500 and 5,000 registered gains.

Some of the most spectacular growth in the state, percentage-wise, was in smaller towns, usually as the result of the location of a single industrial plant nearby.

Far from being good advice, it may be very bad advice in Texas to encourage anybody to leave the small towns. If the patterns of the past twenty years continue, the best thing to do is to stay in the small town and go along with its growth.

Cities of all size need to recognize, however, that sound planning for the future is the best attraction for growth, either through location of new industrial plants or as a result of new agricultural developments in an area.

It stands to reason if all other things are equal between two small cities, new industry will pick the city which has a sound plan for the future every time as the base for its new investment, new payrolls, new jobs and new homes for its employees.

The upcoming survey and evaluation of this community's industry potential by an industrial economics research organization indicates that Post Developments, Inc., has this "sound planning for the future" in mind.—CD

Spring suggests clean-ups

Since nothing has been said about an organized Spring Clean-Up Week here, such as those we used to have, we are going on the assumption that there isn't going to be one.

But that is no reason for householders and business owners not to carry out spring clean-ups of their own.

In the case of householders, for instance, a spring clean-up offers them an opportunity to make their homes more attractive, as well as more fire safe, by throwing out accumulations of old magazines and other combustibles that have accumulated in attic and basement. You get rid of things upon which fire feeds.

According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the first Spring clean-up campaigns were conducted in the Middle West with the purpose of ridding homes or rubbish that had accumulated during the winter.

Today, Spring clean-up has been broadened to include programs of fire prevention education and sprucing up of the entire community. Participants are urged not only to dispose of litter collected in cellars and attics, but also backyards, empty lots, alleys, streets, parks and business districts.

Everyone in the community benefits from a Spring clean-up—more so, of course, if one is held on a community-wide scale. It not only makes a town a more attractive place to live in, but also, through the clean-up of rubble, helps to prevent the tragic loss by fire of life and property.—CD.

Of importance to landowners

The election April 4 to decide if the Duck Creek Soil Conservation as it now exists is to be dissolved and a Garza Soil Conservation District formed, is of the utmost importance to the agricultural future of Garza County.

The only ones eligible to vote in the election are landowners and their wives. They are urged not to lose sight of the importance of this special election when voting in other elections that day.

What the special election amounts to is that the present Duck Creek SCD, which has been in existence since 1939, will be dissolved and two new soil conservation districts created with its boundaries.

The Duck Creek SCD as it now exists includes Garza, Kent, Dickens and a portion of Stonewall counties. The new Duck Creek SCD would include all of Kent and portions of Dickens and Stonewall counties. The new Garza SCD would include all of Garza County.

Creation of the proposed new district to include all of this county would give its landowners and cooperators a smaller district and closer relation with the district supervisors.

Also, and not the least important, is that creation of the new district would give Garza County landowners and cooperators five supervisors on their OWN board, whereas the county now is represented by only one supervisor on the Duck Creek SCD board.

It is important that each and every landowner vote FOR both proposals. If the Duck Creek SCD is voted out and the vote goes against forming the Garza SCD, then the landowners of Garza County would lose their soil conservation district.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

When you get large enough in a community to become a target of the jealous and envious then, man, and not until then, will you arrive. It will be up to you to handle the "round-up". It's a strange thing, but a common one, people who don't get talked about never amount to a "raker's darn". Small-minded people plow the same furrow—eat the same hill of fare—plod, repeat gossip or create some once in awhile for a slight diversion, and then go back to the plowing of the same furrow—eating the same food—plodding again—and repeating gossip to a neighbor that THEY started.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

A Lamesa automobile dealer phoned us the other day to register a complaint. It seems that a day or two previously, two of his employees stopped at a service station in Tahoka for gasoline, each driving a car. The man in the lead car was a white man and the man in the other was a Negro. Both were trusted employees and honest, law-abiding citizens. After putting gasoline in the first car, the attendant refused service to the colored man's car. The Lamesa businessman was pretty burned up and thought this was carrying race prejudice too far. He said that if this Negro was good enough to fight in the last world war he was good enough to buy gasoline for his boss, to say the very least. "Maybe that service station man can serve who he wants to serve, but such treatment of a Negro does Tahoka no good," he declared.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Luxury is anything that costs more to sell than it does to make.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

BEFORE I FORGET it myself, I'll lead off this week's column with a reminder . . . don't forget to vote in Saturday's and Tuesday's elections.

Along with Johnny Hopkins, Post's candidate for the U. S. Senate, I've been watching the out-of-town papers as they come in each week for sample ballots . . . to see what Johnny's ballot position is in counties where they drew for places instead of arranging the candidates' names alphabetically. So far, I haven't found a county where Johnny is No. 1 on the ballot, but he didn't miss it far in Martin County . . . he's No. 2 there.

IN THIS SEASON of decision, the world is watching America and America is watching television.

I knew that sooner or later those kids out at Post High School and Junior High School who write the school news would do something to us with all those columns about from 'A to Z' on this, that and the other. It's happened this week with the following Fashion Alphabet for 1961, spelled out by the New York Culture Group. It's mostly for women, but there is no law against the men reading it.

A is for Altitude. Whatever you do, look tall. Both hats and hair are aimed for the ceiling.

B is for Brilliance. The brighter the better.

C is for Costumes—completely co-ordinated.

D is for Definite Patterns. Look for bold stripes and checks.

E is for Easy. Which is the way to look in 1961. Ease of fit, ease of attitude toward fashion. Easy does it.

F is for Form, replacing Fit, which is now OUT.

G is for Grace, which clothes now have lots of.

H is for Hats, naturally.

I is for Inner Construction, which puts the Ease in Easy Fit.

J is for Jet Age Travel, and new lightweight, 'round the world clothes.

K is for the Kindred Spirit now developing between hair and hats, determined to get along together in 1961.

L is for the Lavored Look. Tiers, tunics, overshirts, inspired by "Camelot".

M is for Medieval, the look in N is for Narrow, a line which adds Altitude.

O is for Overblouse, which is what every good blouse will want to be.

P is for Posture. This year, you'll be leaning over backwards to be chic.

Q is for Quality—as in Lady of. The look to aim for, whether or not.

R is for Restraint. Try some today.

S is for Shoes. They come in handy.

T is for Transparency. Plenty of Peek-a-Boo on the fashion horizon.

U is for UP. Necklines, waistlines, sleeves, hairdos and hats, all going in that direction.

V is for Violet. Color of the year.

W is for Widened Shoulders. X is for the mysterious YOU.

Y is for a Yielding Look, which means bias cut clothes that cling.

Z is for Zealous, which is the way you have to be to be really well dressed.

Laos, the experts tell us, is pronounced "Louise," but I think JFK's pronunciation is more suitable; he pronounces it to rhyme with "chaos."

THE MAN UP the street says the same wife who complained about dishon hands now suffers from pushbutton finger.

SHORT AND SWEET — Good news: A UN survey, reporting on youth benefiting from higher education, says the U. S. leads with 25 per cent (the USSR is a bad second with 12 per cent) . . . if you like one-act plays, don't miss the area eliminations here Thursday night, April 6, Three Class A schools—Ralls, Plains and Rotan—will be competing, with the plays to be presented on the stage of Post's grade school auditorium . . . the Presidential 21-gun salute commemorates the year 1776 (add one, seven, seven and six).

Work under way on area FM highway

Construction of about 9.4 miles of FM Highway 212, from FM 211 through Gordon to Highway 380, began Monday. The highway will provide a construction will provide with caliche base and not with roadbed, following the pre-roadbed for 8.9 miles and using existing pipe culverts without extending the remaining 0.5 of a mile. The highway will be built on a new location with the same widths given above and with a new multi-lane box culvert.

The contract was awarded to L. Stafford, Lubbock contractor, on the $83,100 project let March by the Texas Highway Department.

Adding and reshaping existing roadbed is scheduled to begin about two weeks after construction gets under way. Asphalt surfacing will be done in the last half of the year and contract work will be completed early in June.

A pre-construction meeting was held at Tahoka March 22 by highway department, contractor, Department of Public Safety and Lynn County officials to outline plans for convenience and safety to the motorist through construction areas.

Barricades, warning signs and 45-mile per hour speed zones will be used to assist traffic traveling through construction areas on temporary detours.

Irvin L. Johnson new patrolman

Irvin Lee Johnson, 22-year-old former Post resident, was commissioned as a driver license patrolman of the Texas Department of Public Safety March 24 in graduation ceremonies at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin.

He was one of a class which included 17 Driver License Patrolmen and 19 Texas Highway Patrolmen who successfully completed 16 weeks of intensive training at the Academy.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, will be stationed in Beaumont for his first assignment.

Applications are being received for the next school from young Texans between 21 and 35 years of age who are interested in a career in law enforcement.

I Give You Texas . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

The personal side of the great leader, Robert E. Lee, is revealed in a letter which he wrote to his youngest daughter from Indiana, Texas, March 27, 1857. At the time, he was on military duty in the State. The letter says:

"I am truly sorry for the destruction of the Long Bridge" which spanned Potomac between Arlington and Washington. "It will be an injury to the business of many and an inconvenience to you in taking your music lessons.

"You must be a great personage now—sixty pounds! I wish I had you here in all your ponderosity. I want to see you so much. Can you not pack up and come to the Comanche country? I would get you such a fine cat you would never look at 'Tom' again.

"Did I tell you Jim Nooks, Mrs. Waite's cat, was dead? He died of apoplexy. I foretold his end. Coffee and cream for breakfast, pound cake for lunch, turtle and oysters for dinner, buttered toast for tea, and Mexican rats, taken raw for supper. He grew enormously and ended in a spasm. His beauty could not save him.

"I saw in San Antonio a cat dressed up for company; He had two holes bored in each ear, and in each were two bows of pink and blue ribbon. His round face, set in pink and blue, looked like a big owl in a full blooming ivy bush. He was snow white, and wore the golden fetters of his inamorata around his neck in the form of a collar. His tail and feet were tipped with black, and his eyes of green were truly catlike. But I 'saw cats as is cats' in Sarassa, while the stage was changing mules. I stepped around to see Mr. and Mrs. Monod, a French couple with whom I had passed the night when I landed in Texas in 1846, to join General Wool's army. Mr. Monod received me with all the shrugs of his nation and the entrance of madame was foreshadowed by the coming in of her stately cats, with visages grave and tails erect, who preceded, surrounded, and followed her. Her present favorite, Sodoiska, a large mottled gray, was a magnificent creature, and in her train she pointed out Aglai, her favorite eleven years ago when I first visited her. They are of French breed and education, and when the claret and water was poured out for my refreshment they jumped on the table for a sit-to."

EGG PRICES

Egg prices may drop slightly during last two quarters '61

As National Egg Month nears its close with the end of March, various indications are that egg prices may show a slight downward trend during the last two quarters of 1961 in comparison with the first two quarters of the year.

This is because of the anticipated larger hatch of replacement chicks and a monthly egg production after the middle of 1961 that will exceed the output of the same period in 1960.

These expectations of larger egg production during the last half of 1961 may have a downward influence on egg production prices even before the increased production actually develops. This would come from the effect on storage demand during the spring of 1961. If spring egg prices continue at a level discouraging to storage, the slack in strong storage demand would tend to weaken prices sooner than otherwise might be expected.

and elsewhere in the U. S. It is certain that egg producers in Texas will continue to face strong competition from other areas of production in the rest of the country.

Using the month of October, 1960, as an example, figures show that hatcheries in Texas produced 1,451,000 egg-type chicks in that month. This was 22 per cent above the same month in 1959. At the same time, national production of 1960 increased 13 per cent above the hatch in October, 1959.

The number of layers on farms in Texas during October, 1960 was about the same as in October 1959. Because of the marked upward movement in the number of egg-type chicks hatched, there is little doubt that by October, 1961 the number of layers in Texas will be larger than for the same month in either 1959 or 1960. Obviously, monthly egg production in Texas during the last months of 1961 will be larger than a year earlier.

However, the demand for eggs in 1961, while still fairly encouraging, is not likely to keep pace with the increase in production even though the price of eggs remains relatively low in comparison with many other foods. The per capita consumption of eggs, unfortunately, has been declining for several years. Indications are that this trend is likely to continue and some experts predict that the per capita consumption in 1961 will be about six per cent below that of a year earlier. Even, so 1961 got under way with egg prices at a level relatively favorable to producers in Texas.

Q—What kind of prosthetic appliances may eligible veterans receive from the VA?
A—These include artificial limbs and eyes, braces, trusses, orthopedic shoes, crutches, canes, eyeglasses, hearing aids, wheelchairs, and special clothing. Blind veterans entitled to disability compensation may receive a guide dog and special mechanical and electronic equipment. Veterans receiving regular aid and attendance support from the VA are entitled to an invalid lift, if medically indicated.

Q—Under the old pension law, an eligible veteran's monthly payment is increased from $66.15 to $78.75 after he has been on the rolls for 10 years, or upon reaching age 63. Does the rate change under the new law?
A—Not because of age or length of time on the pension rolls. The rate may change because of change in the veteran's income, his net worth, or the number of his dependents.

Q—Once I have designated a relative as beneficiary of my GI insurance policy, do I have to keep this person as beneficiary?
A—The GI policyholder may change his beneficiary at any time. However, the VA must be notified of the change. You may write directly to your VA insurance office or you may call at the nearest VA office and get a blank form which may be sent.

Q—My sister, a widow of a veteran, is planning to remarry. Will she forfeit her pension payments?
A—The law requires that pension payments be stopped when the recipient widow remarries.

Gladioli growing points given by county HD agent

By MRS. LETA SMITH
 County HD Agent

Gladioli grow well in most soils if careful fertilization and watering are practiced. Heavy soils that do not drain well will not produce good gladioli. For best growth a sufficient amount of oxygen must be present in the soil.

Standard fertilizer used for root crops in all areas of Texas is usually the best type of material to use. A 5-1-5 ratio is very satisfactory for fertilizer.

Don't overfertilize. Two applications of a complete fertilizer are all that is needed. Apply this at planting time at the rate of three pounds per 100 linear feet of row. Then apply about the same amount as a side dressing about four weeks later.

Avoid planting in heavy wet soils. Dust corms before planting, with paradichlorobenzene dust or treat the corms with a 0.1 per cent solution of mercuric chloride.

Watering is an important consideration in producing good gladioli. Three common troubles often are encountered when watering is not watched carefully. They are (1) The appearance of burned tips on the flower buds often is caused by lack of water at the time the flower spike is developing as well as from injury by thrip. (2) Crooked stems develop on gladioli when insufficient water is present in the soil. (3) Short stubby flower spikes sometimes are produced when the water supply is inadequate.

For further information on gladioli for Texas, pick up a bulletin at the County Home Demonstration agent's office.

It's the Law
in TEXAS

IDEA FOR A LAW

A bill before Congress is an idea for a law.

Who thinks it up? A congressman, the home folks, the President, almost anybody.

How does it become a law?
1. The congressman calls on the Congressional Legislative Service to cast the idea into legal language.

2. He drops his bill into a legislative hopper. The clerk numbers and passes it to the Speaker of the House of Representatives. He refers it to a committee. There it may "die" unless the sponsor asks for action.

3. If he does, the committee may consider the bill or assign it to a subcommittee to consider the bill. Usually, either the committee or the subcommittee will hold hearings, study the merits of the bill, and prepare a report on it to be submitted to the House.

4. At long last the committee votes on it. If most members support it, it goes "out of committee" to the House.

5. It gets on the calendar and the House Rules Committee says how, when, and for how long the House may review the bill.

6. The Speaker sets a time for debate with equal time to both sides.

7. Afterwards the House votes. If passed, the bill becomes an "act" and goes to the Senate.

8. The Senate President refers the act once again to a committee which may "table" it, or report it out with or without changes.

9. The Majority Policy Committee sets the time for debate on the bill, and a member asks to have the act considered. If this notion is carried, it calls for debate, perhaps amendments, and a vote.

10. Often, if the Senate (or the House) amends the bill, it goes back to the House (or Senate) for another vote. Failing that, the bill goes to a "conference committee" of both houses (as a rule, seven members from each) to iron out differences. Result: often a compromise. Should the conference committee disagree, the bill dies.

11. If it agrees, the Act goes back to both houses for a final vote.

12. If approved, the Act goes to the President. He may (1) sign it and make it a law; (2) veto it (two thirds of both houses may override his veto); or (3) neither sign nor veto it.

13. If he does not sign it, the Act becomes law in 10 days if Congress is still meeting. If Congress has gone home, the Act dies by "pocket veto."

14. Bills starting in the Senate must go to the House of Representatives and thence to the President.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Easter Bonnet

These are the times that try women's souls.

But all the mischief youthful fingers may perform can only fray the nerves and upset the budget.

You can't spoil Easter.

For Easter isn't frills and finery. Easter isn't pride and parading.

Easter is the soul's own Life—bright with God's love today—rich with His promise tomorrow.

Its adornment is a world at worship... souls at one with the risen Christ... fulfilling the ageless quest for the beauty and joy which cannot perish.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

State Capital NEWS
By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Texas Senate demonstrated its faith in the future by passing an appropriation bill without having the money to meet the obligations.

It calls for spending $2,496,685 during the next two years. It does not include teacher pay raises or medical care for the aged. Senators agreed that they needed to know how much new money could be raised before making decisions on these.

The measure calls for spending $378,000,000 from the already-overdrawn general revenue fund. That's $103,000,000 more than the comptroller's estimate of general fund revenue for the next two years. This $103,000,000, plus a deficit that is expected to be about $63,000,000 at the end of this biennium, adds up to $166,000,000 in new revenue that would be needed to put the Senate appropriation bill into effect, as it is now.

OKAYS TEACHER RAISE

proved the Hale-Aikin school improvement program which includes an across-the-board $800 a year raise for public school teachers.

Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris, sponsor, said he would not ask for floor passage of the school measure until the general appropriations bill has been passed as well as a tax bill that would provide money for it.

Hale-Aikin program would cost the state about $72,000,000 a year and local districts about $18,000,000 a year. It would set the minimum salary for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees at $4,014 a year.

HORSES LOSE RACE

Before a gallery packed with church people, Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry gave up the fight for a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize horse racing.

House vote against the measure was 143-5. Berry, seeing he did not have enough votes for passage, signaled his supporters to vote against it. This, he said, would avoid "putting them on the spot" for a lost cause.

Berry still hopes to get a referendum on the 1962 general election ballot to indicate public opinion on racing and parimutuel betting.

MILK BILL "SKIMMED"

One of the most controversial bills of the session, the milk importation measure, was passed by the House by voice vote.

But before passage, opponents' amendments had skimmed off the cream of the bill the dairymen wanted.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would bar out-of-state milk from Texas unless a Texas inspector certified he had personal knowledge the milk was produced under standards as high as those required in Texas.

Amendments took out the "personal knowledge" phrase and provided the milk could be imported on the certification of out-of-state health authorities after a Texas authority had found the out-of-state producer to be meeting acceptable standards.

Battle is not over since the differences between the House and Senate versions of the bill will have to be worked out.

TAXES DEBATED

House Revenue and Taxation Committee is exploring the possibility of raising money through a corporate income tax.

Testimony was heard on two bills. One by Rep. Tony Karioth of Sherman would repeal the present corporate franchise tax (for a loss of $48,000,000 a year) and substitute a three per cent corporate income tax (for a gain of approximately $96,000,000 a year).

Also heard was a bill by Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston which would levy a 10 per cent corporate income tax, repeal the oil well servicing tax and reduce the sulphur tax.

A bill to provide for a $1 charge for taking a state driver's license examination was passed by committee and sent to the House. It would raise an estimated $1,250,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Speaker James Turman, addressing a teachers' group, said he felt Texas was close to resorting to the "last resort"— sales or income taxes.

CAMPAIGN LIMIT PASSED

Senate passed 26-to-4 a bill that would limit to $25,000 the spending of any one candidate in a race for the U. S. Senate.

Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin is sponsor of the bill. Limit would apply to money spent for newspaper, radio or television advertising with the candidate's knowledge. All other means of advertising would be exempted.

Attorney general would be responsible for enforcement.

If the bill should be finally passed and take effect before the present special senatorial race is over, it could put a lid on spending of candidates in the runoff campaign next month.

FIREMEN'S BILL KILLED

House killed by a 73-to-66 vote a bill that would have set up a procedure for arbitration of wage-and-hour disputes between firemen and city governments.

Passage was urged by firemen but opposed by city officials.

Bill would have provided for an arbitration board and if necessary an election once a year to consider firemen's requests. Supporters contended it would have enabled firemen and city officials to settle their problems on the local level instead of battling before the Legislature, as in years past.

"KID DRIVERS" TARGET

House Highways Committee is considering a bill that would take 14-year-olds off the road—as drivers of cars or motor scooters.

Rep. Maco Stewart, sponsor, urged the measure to "take the cars out of junior high school... and get the students' minds on their books." His measure would raise the minimum age at which a driver's license may be issued from 14 to 15 years and would set up the same licensing requirements for motor scooters. In some towns youngsters of 12 and 13 are allowed to ride motor scooters.

A motor scooter seller objected on grounds that many working youngsters, such as newspaper carrier boys, needed scooters for their jobs.

TEXAS LAWMEN
Captain L. H. McNelly, Ranger

"Speak softly, but say something... You'll be heard!"

One of Texas' most respected Rangers was described by historian Walter Prescott Webb as "a tallish man of quiet manner, with the soft voice of a timid Methodist preacher." It was said that as a scout during the Civil War L. H. McNelly had been able to disguise himself, successfully, as a woman.

But no one of Captain McNelly's special Ranger force would ever believe it. Some had known him since, at the age of 17, he enlisted in Co. F, 1th Reg., Texas Mounted Volunteers. Many of them were with him during the Civil War, at Val Verde, Beashear City, Lefourche, Mansfield, and knew all about this quiet man's contempt of danger. After the reactivation of the Texas Rangers in 1874, they saw him step into the blazing Suston-Taylor feud in DeWitt City, and chill it thoroughly. They went with him to the Rio Grande to suppress border trouble, and saw the border bandits simmer down to drowsy peace. This was the last service he was able to perform for his state. Not long after his outstanding border clean-up, Captain McNelly contracted tuberculosis and died, September 4, 1877, at his plantation home in Washington County. He was only 33 years of age.

Texas lawmen have always served their state well — as have Texas industry and commerce. Providing payrolls and community revenues, one industry has also provided the refinement of moderation. In Texas the brewing industry "belongs" — Brewers, wholesalers, retailers and the United States Brewers Association are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

"I'm spoiled..."

"and so is the rest of the family!"

From the happy expression on young Sarah, there seems to be no question that she would be uttering the above words could she but talk. For, she, like the other members of the James Lattimore family in Levelland, Texas, never fully realized the comfort one can have in the home until electric heat is installed. Truly the Lattimores feel they have been "spoiled" — that they could never go back to old-fashioned heating methods.

One unit, the electric heat pump, keeps the Lattimores warm in winter and cool in summer — personal comfort — electrically!

Happy family moments are the usual thing in the Lattimore home. They find it easy to enjoy family get-togethers because electric heat provides the comfort heating that makes folk feel good — and so they want to enjoy themselves — and that's a must for family fun.

Lightning Bolt

Lucky boys

Lightning hit and destroyed a lean-to in the Verbena community Saturday night shortly after four Post youths had left to go after one of the boy's boots at his home nearby.
The youths, Clarence Ivie, Dean Johnston, Richard Cook, and Ronnie Cook, had built the lean-to to sleep out in white on a fishing outing at a tank near the Ivie home.

The lean-to was set ablaze by the lightning and the fire destroyed the boys' groceries and sleeping equipment.
The loss in equipment and supplies was estimated at about $200.

He said the council thinks it can pay for the survey without any tax increase.

As to the newly annexed areas of the city, the mayor said that property owners have paid taxes for only one year and that "we've gone out into those areas with street work and street lighting already—the things we could do immediately without large expenditures."

He said that the new fire station, required by state authorities to gain advantageous fire rates, has been completed and all paid for out of the general fund. He added the expansion area for the city hall—purchase of the corner filling station—came through city water funds.

With the new White River taxes due this year, the mayor said the council's intentions are to keep city taxes to the lowest possible amount.

Business firms and rural home are burglarized

Two burglaries within the city and one at a home in the Pleasant Valley community, all occurring over the weekend, were being investigated this week by sheriff's department and city officers.

The Wilson Bros. Service Station, 401 South Broadway, and Shytles Implement Co., 122 West Eighth, were the local firms hit by burglars. The Pleasant Valley home broken in to was that of Vernon Scott.

Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley said some of the items stolen in the break-in at the Scott home were the same ones stolen last October in a burglary at the home. Bill Smith is now serving three years in the state penitentiary for the October burglary.

Three men's suits, a leather jacket, two rods and reels, a box of fishing tackle and a slide projector were taken from the Scott home in the Saturday night break-in.

Ten thousand trading stamps and less than a dollar in change from the coke box were reported in the break-in at Wilson Bros. Service Station Sunday night. The office was also ransacked by the burglars, who entered after breaking out a window into the garage department.

Several dollars in change was taken from a Coke machine and from a cash register at Shytles Implement Co. Entry was gained through a back window.

The editorial, "To Those Who Need It," which appeared in the March 16 issue of The Dispatch, has been given wide circulation by members of the medical profession in this area and elsewhere throughout the state. The editorial, which pointed out the advantages of the proposed Kerr-Mills Bill over the proposed Forand Bill in providing for some type of federal medical aid for the indigent over 65, was re-printed and mailed out with monthly statements by members of medical associations and also by two local firms, Bryan Williams & Son, and Bob Collier Drug, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, A. C. Surman, John E. Carter and James R. Matthews, and by Garza Memorial Hospital. It is another instance of cooperation between the local press and members of the medical profession.

Spanish-American patrons

Organizational meet is set for Tuesday

An organizational meeting of parents of Spanish-American students and school officials will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 4, in the primary school auditorium.

The organization will have as its main objective the provision of better educational opportunities for children of Spanish-American descent.

A committee representing the Spanish-American patrons met at the primary building Tuesday night and said enough interest had been shown to call the organizational meeting.

The purpose of Tuesday night's meeting will be to select a name for the organization, elect officers and discuss specific objectives and the manner in which these objectives may be realized.

All parents of Spanish descent are urged to attend the meeting and to take an active part in the organization.

The committee has agreed to work for the next two weeks toward getting enough pre-school children to qualify for a summer session for these children. It is necessary that at least 15 children take the course before it will meet state specifications.

As the conservative candidate for the U. S. Senate opposing Lyndon Johnson last year, Tower received 926,653 votes, a surprising 41 1/2 per cent of the major vote.

Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Cabero left yesterday morning for Houston, transporting four prisoners to the state penitentiary.

The four included J. C. Bowers, whose probation was revoked here after he was convicted in Turner County on a felony theft charge. Bowers was under a three-year probation sentence here after pleading guilty to burglary.

The other prisoners were Theodore Telford, Roosevelt Jefferson and Sammie Lee Gross. Telford, already serving time in the state pen after pleading guilty to theft, had been returned here on a bond warrant as a witness in another case.

Jefferson and Gross were sentenced after pleading guilty to burglary of the Caprock Liquor Store here in January.

Bingham elected president of youth baseball program

Bingham was elected by ball men Monday night as president of the new Garza County youth baseball program which is moving fast to put Post's youth baseball parks in shape for spring play.

The organization was set up to handle the proposed remodeling of the Little League park and the completion and lighting of new Babe Ruth league park.

Bingham has called a meeting of the organization's directors with representatives of the two leagues the newly formed American Junior baseball team for p. m. Monday in the Reddy gym of the Southwestern Public Service Co.

Members of the board, besides

BING BINGHAM

Bingham, are Chant Lee, Lynn Duncan, Jim Cornish, County Judge J. E. Parker, City Supt. Henry Tate, Julian Smith, and a representative of the school trustees.

They will meet with Edsel Cross, Babe Ruth League representative; Martin Nichols, American Legion Junior team representative, and Lee Ward, Little League representative.

Bingham, after an inspection of the two parks, said of course the prime need is to get the lighting for the new Babe Ruth League contracted for in time for the start of play in late May.

The new park also needs bleachers.

The two parks were planted to grass last fall, but Bingham thinks that it didn't take good enough. He said both fields are full of weeds and the surfaces probably will have to be cleared and rolled.

To finance the park improvements—which also included some needed repairs to the Little League park—the new youth organization was included in the 1961 Community Chest as a participating organization for $2,000.

The First National Bank plans to loan an additional $2,000 interest free to complete the improvements with the loan to be repaid from Chest participation in 1962.

D. E. Morris of Texas Electric Co. met with baseball men in the Chamber office Monday night to discuss kind of lighting system wanted and costs and is preparing a cost figure for lighting the park to be submitted to the directors.

Bingham is going to check lighting in various Lubbock youth baseball parks this weekend to determine how much light those parks have.

"We may not be able to afford all we'd like to have," he said yesterday.

"The lighting comes first," he added. "Then we'll see what else we can do."

Jr.-Sr. banquet and prom plans progress

By Judy McCullough
Mr. Smith informed the Junior and Senior classes on Friday of a Junior-Senior prom to be held directly after the Junior-Senior banquet on April 14. The prom is to be held in the new gym.
Part of the decorations have arrived for the banquet and the Juniors are starting to become really excited now. We hope we can have one of the prettiest banquets yet, and we shall be trying. We realize the work and effort involved, but we all think the fun will be well worth it.

On behalf of the Junior and Senior classes, I want to thank the school board, the faculty, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Clark for the prom. We all think that April 14 will be a night to remember. I hope we can all prove worthy of this prom, by showing our appreciation through our conduct. We would like to continue to have this privilege of a Junior-Senior Prom.
At the Junior-Senior meeting held March 24, Mr. Smith spoke to us about the banquet and prom and gave us a paper listing the requirements for attending both. Here are the requirements as they were listed on that paper:

1. The criteria for the Junior-Senior Banquet are: (a) Only persons receiving invitations shall attend; (b) Sophomore girls shall be eligible for serving on these conditions:
1. Be taking homemaking at present time.
2. Number of girls chosen according to number needed each year.
3. Highest ranking scholastically at mid-term.
(c) All invitations will be determined and extended by the Junior Class each year.

Approximately 1,600 students and sponsors attended the conference. Friday there were several general sessions and discussion groups. The delegates attended several discussion groups. "How to Be a Better Student Council President" and "How to Get the Student Body to Participate in the Work of the Student Council" were the subjects discussed.
Friday night entertainment consisted of a semi-formal dance or a swim in a heated pool. These were held at the field house at Odessa High School.
Saturday morning, officers of 1961-1962 were chosen as follows: Tom S. Lubbock High School, president; John Reagan of Houston, vice president; Thomas Jefferson High School of San Antonio, secretary; Highland Park Jr. High, parliamentarian.
Since San Antonio was chosen as Secretary School, the State TASC Conference will be held there next year.

Everyone had a very nice trip and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

JUNIOR HIGH

Short Story

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME

By Sharla Pierce
He was only a kid when he came to the bush leagues. He located himself in Junction City to play on the "D" squad. He was husky, strong, a good pitcher and outfielder with a keen eye for batting, and a real fast runner.
He told the manager he could play outfield and his name was "Wilson". He was a wonderful fielder and batted as though he were in the big leagues. No one dared steal a base when he had the ball because he could whip the ball into the baseman in a second.
The first season his batting average was .355. With this he had a great future ahead of him.
But one day he quit! Got his shoes and glove and walked off.
After a while this hero was forgotten, but there will always be a hero.

A School Board Member's Reward

A school board member knocked at the Pearly Gates.
His face was scarred and cold; He stood before the man of fate for admission to the fold.
"What have you done," St. Peter asked.
"To gain admission here?"
"I've been a board member, sir, he said.
"For many and many a year."
The Pearly Gates swung open wide.
St. Peter touched the bell.
"Come in," he said, "and choose your harp.
You've had your share of hell."

Opinions of pupils differ on music as a required subject

By Marcia Newby
I asked some students of 6th grade what their opinion was on "Do you think music should be a required subject of Junior High students?" Here are their replies:
Jackie Wilson—Yes, because you should know more about it when you reach high school.
Deanna Adams—No, because some of them might not like it.
Richard Scott—Yes, because when you're grown you should know a little about it.
Belinda Lee—Yes, because well, just because I do.
Cherryl Pennell—Yes, because you might need it in college when you decide your profession.
Jan Miller—No, because some of us might not know how to sing, like me.

Assembly program in charge of boys of Physics Class

On Tuesday, March 21, the boys in Mr. Baxter's Physics Class presented an assembly to Post High School. Their program included a number of "magic" tricks.
Gary Simpson started the show with an explanation of what the boys had for refreshments in their class. However, Jimmy Minor has his own special "joy juice" which was slightly under the influence. Wendell Duncan had an instant hand after he used it to drive a nail into a board.
Wendell also "cooked" Mike Cornell's and Charles Gordon's bank checks. Mike's was a little over-done, but Charles was just right. Mike and Kenith Smith were by have a talent. They can knit cotton with water!
Everyone enjoyed the magic show and appreciates the work these boys did to present it to us. Awards were presented by Mr. St. John, to the first, second, and third place winners of the Science Fair. We are hoping for a better and better Science Fair next year.

Ruling simplifies marking ballots in Senate election

AUSTIN—Attorney General Will Wilson has issued an opinion stating that a ballot marked by some method other than drawing horizontal lines through the names of the candidates whom the voter wished to vote against should be counted if the voter's intention may be clearly determined.

The opinion was handed down upon request from Travis County Attorney Tom Blackwell concerning the special U. S. Senate election April 4.

Wilson said that the Texas Election Code directs the voter to vote for the candidate of his choice "by scratching or marking out" the names of all other candidates.

"The code does not expressly state that a voter shall do so by running a horizontal line through the names of the candidates he wants to vote against," Wilson said.

He pointed out that the Code further states that "the failure of a voter to mark his ballot in strict conformity with these directions shall not invalidate the ballot, and a ballot shall be counted in all races in which the intention of the voter is clearly ascertainable."

Wilson said: "This opinion is not to be taken as a recommendation that voters use some method other than the horizontal scratch method. A voter who uses vertical lines incurs the risk of inadvertently extending a line into the name of the candidate for whom he wished to vote or failing to extend lines through all other names."

"It would be impossible to express an opinion on whether a ballot marked in some other manner should be counted without considering the exact nature of the marking," the Attorney General said.

"However, election judges may be guided by the general rule that a ballot should be counted if the voter's intention is clearly ascertainable and the method used does not violate some express prohibition against counting of ballots so marked."

Closing the ranks

Bill Blakley forces claiming big swing

AUSTIN—Strong indications that Texas Democrats are "closing ranks behind Bill Blakley" were reported as Senator Blakley prepared to wind up his elective-term campaign with appearances in East Texas and Houston.

James H. Blundell, Blakley's state campaign manager, declared:

"A tremendous swing to Blakley is taking place throughout the state. Democrats are uniting behind Senator Blakley and when Texas Democrats do that they are unbeatable."

Blakley headed into the April 4 election on a rising note of optimism, telling his supporters in city after city: "We are winning, and with continued hard work in the final stretch we will be over the top."

The senator will close out his campaign in Houston April 3, ending a 4,500-mile tour that has reached into all sections of the state. He will spend Thursday in Beaumont and the Port Arthur-Orange area; Friday in Nacogdoches, Tyler, Kilgore and Longview; and Saturday in Marshall, Lone Star, Texarkana and Paris. A flying trip to El Paso preceded his East Texas swing.

Meanwhile Blakley gained the support of State Rep. Wesley Roberts of Seminole, one of the best known of the so-called minor candidates. Roberts withdrew from the race and announced his support of Blakley in a personal privilege speech in the Texas House.

Also in Austin, Gov. Price Daniel congratulated Blakley on the race he is making and declared himself highly pleased with his performance as U. S. senator. Blakley paid courtesy visits to both Governor Daniel and former Governor Allan Shivers, each of whom appointed Blakley to Senate terms—Shivers in 1957 and Daniel in January, 1961.

FIRST CHOICE of TEXAS VOTERS

Senator William A.

BLAKLEY

★ SENATOR BLAKLEY is the winner of the Texas Poll directed by Joe Belden and subscribed to by 21 leading Texas newspapers. He also is the first choice in many other surveys and polls conducted throughout Texas.

SENATOR BLAKLEY'S ACTION PROGRAM FOR TEXAS

$100 MILLION MORE ANNUALLY FOR SCHOOLS: A home-rule aid-to-education plan that would return to each state 5 per cent of federal income taxes for support of locally administered public schools. In Texas this would mean over $100 million more annually for our schools—without federal interference!

INCOME TAX RELIEF FOR PRESSED PARENTS: Also, for families putting their children through school, additional income tax exemptions of $1,200 for college or university student, $400 for son or daughter in high school. Parents deserve a tax break!

A HELPING HAND FOR OUR SENIOR CITIZENS: A bill to raise ceiling on what Social Security recipients may earn without being penalized. Senator Blakley would raise ceiling from $1,200 to $1,800 a year to help many retired persons.

SHARP REDUCTION IN FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS: Reduce by one half the amount of foreign oil being brought into U. S. Texas' economy, schools, state government, all suffer when foreign oil floods market, causes Texas production to shut down.

INDEPENDENCE! WE MUST KEEP IT ALWAYS: Retain Connally Amendment to World Court. United States should maintain its sovereignty without question. Senator Blakley is fighting against repeal of this vital guarantee.

LET'S KEEP SENATOR BLAKLEY IN THE U.S. SENATE

Ability Not Alibis

As stated in my formal statement found in other parts of this paper, my differences with my opponent concern methods and timing rather than, over all, "what needs to be done."

My opponent, in a previous issue of the paper, in an ad entitled, "Our Position," publicly stated some of his views concerning matters upon which I had previously stated my views. My opponent seems to be of the view that all meetings of the City Council should be open, and he takes the position that the radio and press have never been denied access to such public meetings, but his administration has denied access to public meetings to citizens of this town. In fact, he has required witnesses to stand before the City Council, answer all questions, state their position, and then has retired the Council to a private room in which they deliberated and thereafter announced their decision, or that there would be no decision. This I do not believe to be in the public interest or fair to the person who appears before the Council, because such person is not afforded an opportunity to defend his views or to hear the views of the individual councilmen if he is to be excluded from their discussions. In my view, these were not discussions concerning personalities, but discussions concerning the expenditure of public money.

SEWER AND WATER EXTENSIONS

The present Mayor and I apparently agree that water and sewer extensions should be made, and I can assure you that I agree that careful planning and programming are necessary. But we should keep in mind that it has been approximately three years since the city limits were extended, and this was done at the request of the then City Councilmen who felt that the City could not take a position on the extension, but wanted private citizens to push it. I say the planning for this type of expansion should have begun then, and not just after my opponent found himself in a political race.

In fact, part of the City, that portion bounded by the Spur Road, the Ralls Road, and the Lubbock Cut-off, has been inside the City Limits for 54 years, and does not have water and sewer at this time. I assume that this is still in the planning stage.

We knew three years ago that we were eligible for and were going to receive public housing. We also knew that this public housing would require water and sewer extensions. We were also reasonably aware that this public housing would be located in the portions of town that did not have water and sewer extensions. Yet, as late as three months ago, no plans for water and sewer extensions to these public housing projects had been made, because the present administration asked the public housing committee to go back and see if the Federal or State government would pay for the water and sewer extensions. It is my understanding that the present administration has now agreed to run "temporary lines" to these locations so that we will not lose the public housing project, but there is really no such thing as a temporary sewer line. Half the cost of sewer line consists of the labor in putting the line in place, and to remove a sewer line after it has served its temporary purpose would be uneconomical. Had our present city administration begun careful planning of water and sewer extensions at the time additional city territory was annexed, the public housing project would be tied in to a permanent system instead of into a temporary system that will eventually be abandoned.

I agree that the water and sewer extension to some parts of town will be expensive and that lift pumps and other unusual apparatus will be necessary, but surely the present administration knew such conditions existed when they asked the public to vote themselves into the city limits and begin paying taxes; and they should have begun to plan at that time for the water and sewer extensions.

When the City Council was working so diligently, but quietly, to have the citizens in the surrounding areas vote themselves into the city limits, they unequivocally promised that water and sewer extensions would be made, and implied that the same would be made on the same basis that extensions had been made to the old part of town. Three years seems a long time to plan to carry out what is a normal city function.

During the past three years, the City Council has repeatedly told persons who petitioned for water and sewer extensions that no funds were available. They now change their approach and say, in effect, funds are available. We have built city halls with water and sewer funds. We have diverted other funds from the water and sewer department, and the only reason you have been denied water and sewer extensions is because our planning is not complete. Wouldn't it have been simpler, but perhaps not politically expedient, to have told the people at that time that funds were available, but that the Council wanted to use them for purposes other than which they were voted?

TWO THOUGHTS ON PARK PROGRAM

I, too, recall that the City was another participant in the park program. I also recall that the contract provided that the City would immediately convey the land upon which the park is built to the City-County Park Board. That was some four years ago, and it has not been done to this date. I assume this signing is also in the Planning Commission.

My opponent states rather unequivocally that "The City, as well as the County, cannot disburse funds to any capital improvements unless it is the property of the City or County." I beg to disagree with his knowledge of the law, since our water wells are certainly capital improvements and are located on leased land. Much of our water gathering system is capital improvements, and is on leased land, and the City could, if it so desired, negotiate long-term leases for park improvements, because, after all, the City is in the rather favorable position of having the power of condemnation.

POSITION ON PAVING

My opponent takes the view in his statement that the present city administration does not believe in forced paving where the individual property owner, for personal reasons, does not desire to pave, and states that, in his view, this is as it should be. I disagree with him in this matter. For instance, our newly completed high school is owned by all the people. The school board is ready and willing to pave the streets around said school, and because some few property owners adjoining the school property do not desire to pave and pay for their portion of the paving, the present city administration has allowed our newly built high school to wallow in a sea of mud. I say that if, through inactivity, we allow one or two persons to prevent the public from paving streets, then the public interest is not served, but rather the selfish interest of one or two individuals. Street paving has to be a cooperative thing. It is practically impossible to get all property owners on any given street to agree to have paving. It becomes the responsibility of the City to see that the view of the majority of the property owners prevails over that of the minority.

LAW ENFORCEMENT RESPONSIBILITY

My opponent and I agree in many respects on law enforcement. He says in his statement that the City is now paying its full share of the costs of law enforcement. I agree with him, but where we disagree is that I do not believe a problem is solved simply by spending more money. To determine whether or not the City is paying its full share of the costs of law enforcement we need to look further than the amount of money paid and look to the results achieved. Since February 25, of this year, the City officers have made 3 arrests. During the same time, the other officers have made 61 arrests. These records are available to anyone. The point I am trying to make is that fiscal responsibility goes further than spending money. You must then follow up and see that you are getting value received for the money spent. I disagree with my opponent that the present administration was the first to propose cooperative law enforcement. This was proposed by the County Judge five years ago, when the present Mayor was still the Crown Prince. The County at that time purchased radio equipment for round-the-clock law enforcement, made some of the radio equipment available to the City police cars, the ambulances, and fire trucks. But it was only January 1 of this year that the City ever began to move for cooperative law enforcement.

You will recall that about three years ago, when there was much agitation for better City law enforcement, the City Council, of which my opponent was then a member, was protesting that the public did not want law enforcement, and that the same was uneconomical. They called for a referendum by the people, printed a ballot, and placed thereon the fact that a tax would be levied to support the police force. The public voted for it. They also voted in the same election for the City to set up a planning and zoning commission. The results of both these referendums were ignored until just recently, when it appeared that there might be some dissatisfaction with the way public affairs were handled.

There is some work being done on zoning and planning. This is part of what was promised three years ago when the City expanded its city limits, but no work to speak of was done on the same until six months ago.

SOME LEFT UNANSWERED

My opponent, in his ad called "Our Position," chose not to answer many of the things that I had taken a stand on. He conveniently said some things could not be done because they were illegal. He conveniently ignored the position I have taken on a person holding two offices in violation of our Constitution and statutes. He conveniently ignored the City's failure and refusal to publish records of the expenditures made by the City Council. These last two items are things about which you and I have no choice. They are clear, concise, and unequivocal, and I do not believe a Mayor has a right to call upon the public to obey the laws unless the City is first inclined to obey such laws.

ALL PROBLEMS NEVER SOLVED

My opponent, in his formal statement last week, stated that much planning was being done, and that when the White River project was completed, all our problems would be solved. I disagree. We will never have all the problems of a growing city solved. For each problem we solve today, two additional ones will pop up in the future.

My opponent states that new city halls, new fire stations, and many other programs have been carried out without an increase in tax rate. He is correct in this. The tax rate is now and has been at the legal limit for many years. He is incorrect, if he seems to imply that these things have been done without additional taxes or revenue. He was a member of the City Council when the so-called "tax re-evaluation" program was carried out. This may have been a tax re-evaluation program, but the net effect was to raise city tax income approximately 25 per cent. The annexation of the new city territory more than doubled revenue available to the City. The City of Post today is spending almost four times what it was spending three years ago from its general revenue fund. I do not believe there has been a corresponding increase in services.

Surely, some progress has been made. You couldn't spend that much money without making some progress. But our City government needs to quit living from problem-to-problem and crisis-to-crisis, and should begin to plan a program of healthy city growth. As Mayor, I would not consider myself capable of handling the planning alone. Many problems would have to be referred to engineers, city planners, development groups, and other experts, but much can be learned from the use of citizens study committees.

If I am elected your mayor, I pledge you my complete effort to carry out a program of progress. The same will be done within the present tax structure, and if the day ever comes when additional revenue is needed or necessary, I will honestly call the same a tax increase rather than a re-evaluation or an expansion program.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. ROLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health.

Despite what most people think, several diseases are not a thing of the past. Case rates over the nation are showing a decided increase.

Keeping with the national health statistical records show there has been an overall increase of 93 per cent in primary and secondary syphilis for 1960 compared to 1959 in Texas.

This is a sufficient reason for the State Health Department's official recently declared, it pales in comparison to the increase among youngsters under 19 years of age.

The lightning-fast results obtained from telephone calls, permit locating and curing infectious cases before further spread of the disease.

Increased epidemiological and educational efforts, especially among teenagers, is urged by State Health Department authorities.

One pamphlet—"What Everyone Should Know About Syphilis and Gonorrhea"—was recently made available by the Texas State Department of Health.

Schools, P-TA groups and other organizations may obtain copies on request from their local health department or the State Health Department in Austin.

Early spring said time to begin fish pond fertilization program

COLLEGE STATION—Applying fertilizer to the farm fish pond not only increases the amount of food in the water, it is also one of the best practices for controlling submerged mosses, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist. The first application should be made in early spring, he continues.

Since the pond water is usually deficient in the same nutrients as the soil over which it flows, Cooper suggests the use of the same commercial mixture that is used for the farm crops. An initial application of 100 pounds per surface acre of water is suggested. This amount should cause an extensive develop-

Bingham, Evans given Chevrolet selling honors

Bernie Bingham and Boone Evans of Caprock Chevrolet and Oldsmobile have been awarded the Chevrolet Motor Division's highest selling honor.

Bingham and Evans, members of the sales staff of Caprock, were named to membership in Chevrolet's "Legion of Leaders" Honor Club at a special award banquet Wednesday attended by fellow members from the Division's Oklahoma City zone.

This is the third entry for Evans into the select group of Chevrolet salesmen and the second for Bingham.

For a quarter of a century Chevrolet has recognized its leading salesmen. Its first "Honor Organization" was inaugurated in 1926. Now, 25 years after its inception, the "Legion of Leaders" is considered the most rewarding recognition program for salesmen in the automotive industry.

ment of plankton, resulting in a change in the color of the water. The plankton is used for food by the fish and organisms upon which the fish feed.

Cooper advises periodic checks of the pond to determine when additional fertilizer applications are needed. He says to submerge the arm into the water to elbow depth and if the thumb can be seen plainly, more fertilizer should be applied. Only the amount required to produce the desired plankton development, or bloom, should be applied. This may be about half of the initial application.

Pond fertilization should be stopped during the summer months, because fertilizer can cause shortage of oxygen. This is especially true during the periods when the wind is not strong enough to cause wave action. If oxygen depletion is too great, the fish will die, Cooper warns.

Finally, Cooper emphasizes that the fertilizer to be used during the year should not be applied all at one time. Start in spring and make enough applications to maintain the desired bloom. The shading from the bloom will control submerged mosses, thus making fishing and swimming more enjoyable.

Garza '61 bonds sales $29,997

February Savings Bonds sales in Garza County totaled $16,106, Irby G. Metcalf, Jr., county Savings Bonds chairman, reports.

During the first two months of 1961 this county has achieved 25 per cent of its goal of $120,000 with January and February sales totaling $29,997.

Bond sales in Texas during February were $14,219,831, which represents 18.1 per cent of the state's 1961 sales goal.

USDA food donations increase in United States and overseas

COLLEGE STATION—The USDA reports that food donations in the United States and overseas totaled 1.7 billion pounds for the first half of this fiscal year (July-December). This figure represents an increase of some 20 per cent over the total donated from July through December of the last fiscal year.

Distribution through state and local governmental agencies to public and private schools, charitable institutions and needy persons in this country accounted for 484 million pounds of the total. Through the efforts of voluntary relief groups as part of the Food-for-Peace program, needy persons abroad received 1.2 billion pounds.

Donated foods are those acquired by USDA in its price-support and surplus-removal operations and made available through the Agricultural Marketing Service's direct distribution activities. These donated commodities do not include supplementary foods purchased by USDA specifically for schools taking part in the National School Lunch Program.

Donations to domestic recipients in the first half of the 1961 fiscal year represented a gain of slightly more than 6 per cent over the same six months of the previous year. Distributions to schools showed an increase of about 7 per cent and donations to charitable institutions were increased by about 10 million pounds.

Shipment overseas of the 1.2 billion pounds of donated foods represented a gain of about 26 per cent over the same period a year ago. Government owned foods are made available for foreign relief only after requests for all domestic recipients have been met.

Know Your Candidates

PAT N. WALKER

Walker is candidate for Mayor's office

As a candidate for the office of Mayor, I have been asked by the Post Dispatch to make a brief or formal statement in regard to my candidacy.

I am a native Texan, 40 years of age, and have resided in the City of Post since 1950. My education consists of a Bachelor of Law degree from Baylor University, which was acquired in the year of 1949.

I have served approximately seven years in public office, 3 1/2 years as County Judge and 3 1/2 years as County Attorney, all of Garza County. I consider myself a student of local and state government, and if I have a hobby, I would consider keeping abreast of local and state government as such.

I have no personal quarrel with any member of the present city administration, nor with any of my opponents for the office of Mayor. Our differences, if any, are not differences of personalities but of philosophies of government. I believe that any community, if it is to grow, must be led by people who are unafraid to take a public stand and who are willing to work for what they believe to be in the best interests of their community. I am impetuous by nature, and believe that when a problem arises, the thing to do is attack it and stay after it until it is solved, and not to postpone it or bury my head in the sand hoping that tomorrow it will not exist.

I have learned from some sad experiences of my own, that careful planning in anything is very essential. I have also learned that you can plan a good idea to death. I remember very well that during World War II, the German General Staff had a perfect plan for winning the war—when it was all over.

During my tenure as County Judge, I acquired quite a reputation for being careful with the public's dollar. My position was then, and is now, that the public should receive at least a dollar's worth of goods or services for each dollar spent. I also learned that being tight-fisted is not necessarily good economy or good government. Sometimes our failure to spend a dollar today can easily cost us ten times that tomorrow.

It has been my idea to seek this office solely on my qualifications and ability to get the job done, and that is the basis on which I solicit your votes. I do not imply any improper motives or dishonesty to any member of the present administration, and anyone who asserts or says such on my behalf, is hereby repudiated.

Thank you for this opportunity.
PAT N. WALKER
