Big turnout seen in Saturday's water contract vote

Final decision on project up to voters in 4 towns

Post voters will go to the polls Saturday to make the final decision on the long-sought White River water project by approving or rejecting the city's water contract with the water district. At the same time, voters in Spur, Ralls, and Crosbyton will be deciding on the water contracts of the other three member cities of the district. A big turnout is expected in all four towns. White River supporters are fighting complacency on the part of the voters and renewing efforts to answer the questions raised in voters' minds on the project.

Schools open here Aug. 29

School registration dates have been set by administrators of Post Public Schools, with the 1961 term scheduled to open Aug. 29, with a three-day pre-orientation program for members. Monday, Sept. 1, will be the first day of school for the approximately 1,300 students in the Post Independent School District. Parents of first grade children are reminded that in order for their child to be registered it is necessary that each child have his birth certificate and be able to show evidence of smallpox vaccination. It is also suggested that these parents accompany their children for the registration process, if possible. Administrators, in asking the cooperation of parents, explained that this pre-school registration for students who were not enrolled last year will facilitate the registration procedure. The in-service workshop beginning Aug. 29 is to open at 8:30 a. m. with a general assembly, according to a program released by James West, curriculum coordinator. Dr. Olive Wheeler and Dr. Berlie Fallon, both of Texas Tech, will assist in conducting the workshop a complete program of which will be published in the Aug. 25 issue of The Dispatch.

Saturday's big and all-important White River water contract election here will be significant for another reason—other than the possible solution of Post dangerous water problem. It will mark the return of voting booths to the local scene. City employees have constructed the new voting booths to permit voters to mark their ballots in complete privacy in City Hall. Tom Bouchier, chairman of the White River water district board, when told about the new voting booths by City Supt. Henry Tate yesterday commented that Post had voting booths for a 25 year period with interested folks building the booths each time an election was held at the county courthouse. The city is to be congratulated for the voting booths. Congratulations to the city also are in order on another count—the remodeled city hall. Work was virtually complete on the major overhauling and expansion job this week with installation of refrigerated air conditioning equipment moving ahead Wednesday. The new drive-in payment window for the city's water customers is now in operation. Motorists using the window are asked to follow the arrows in the drive-way to channel window traffic in the proper direction. The new city hall is a real municipal improvement. Stop in and take a look the next time you go by.

Call Post Dispatch for results of water vote
Results of the city elections in all four member cities — Post, Ralls, Spur, and Crosbyton—may be obtained at The Dispatch office Saturday night. Phone either 111 or 802 from 8 to 9:30 p. m. Final election returns are not expected before 8 p. m., an hour after the polls close.

Ruling on liquor permit appealed

Garza County's first appeal case in the denial of a beer and liquor application will be heard at 10 a. m. Friday before Judge Truett Smith in 106th Judicial District Court. The appeal, Vernon Milo vs. J. E. Parker and others, was filed by Milo's attorney, Pat N. Walker. The plaintiff's petition sets out that he filed application April 21, 1960, for a beer retailer's off-premises license and package store permit. The application was denied May 27. Three reasons were given for the denial. One was that the applicant did not have sufficient business acumen to operate such a business, another was that he was borrowing money from an individual who had been convicted for liquor law violations, and the third was that the application amounted to subterfuge.

Psychiatric examination for a 16-year-old Post boy accused of committing sexual offenses against two younger boys was ordered Tuesday afternoon by County Judge J. E. Parker following a juvenile court hearing. The youth admitted at the hearing, Judge Parker said, that he locked himself in a house with two boys about seven years old and committed sexual offenses against them. County and city law enforcement officers were called into the case by the parents of the younger boys a few hours after the offense occurred and made a full investigation, Sheriff Carl Rains said. The accused youth's parents appeared at the hearing with him Tuesday.

Big capacity booster

Three steel tanks to enable better handling facilities and increase capacity by about 33,000 bushels are being constructed at Caprock Grain Co. by Clark Sales Co. of Lubbock. Work already is well under way on the smaller of the three tanks, which is to be 18 feet in diameter and 27 feet in height. The two larger tanks will be 27 feet in diameter and 37 feet in height. The building permit for the three tanks and for removal and resetting of the dryer to a new location was issued at the City Hall on Aug. 11, with estimated cost of the project set at $11,175. The grain company is located in the south part of town just west of the Santa Fe Railway tracks. A permit was issued Aug. 10 to R. B. Meacham for construction of a brick veneer residence at 808 (See GRAIN ELEVATOR, page 8)

Bianton on Dec. 18, 1905, and she and her husband helped organize the Old (See FUNERAL, page 8)

Beverages confiscated

Three men were being held here yesterday pending filing of charges of illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages. The three—two in one car—were arrested yesterday afternoon by city officers Junior Shepherd and Buford Fincham and county officers Sam Price and F. M. Reep. All three men are from Lubbock. They are Charlie Williams and Harold Long, Negroes, and Joe E. Herrera.

Three men facing hauling charges

The officers said they found 24 cases of beer in Herrera's automobile after stopping him on a road near the city dump grounds. The automobile occupied by the Negroes was stopped by officers on U. S. Highway 84 a few blocks south of the business district. The officers confiscated two cases of wine, nine cases of beer, 34½ pints of whiskey and 16½ pints of vodka, they reported.

There really is no choice at all

It is difficult to sum up in five years of work, worry, planning, and cooperation on the part of the community leaders of four neighboring towns in one editorial.

We feel inadequate to the task. But this is our assignment as we write the final editorial on the White River project before the all-important city water contract elections this Saturday.

All the arguments, as we can find them, are on the side of voting the water contracts, paying more for water than present rates, and accepting a new water district tax to make up the difference between water revenues and bond obligations until we can contract oil companies, the Postex Mills, or others for additional water sales.

The choice is between the White River dam and a guaranteed 40-year future in our water supply, or searching desperately for some substitute which cannot be found today after years of looking.

Post's water field is failing rapidly. Field water soon will cost more than White River water, if field water can be had at any price. City officials figure Post will be lucky to pump adequate field water to the day that White River water will be available in over the two years time it will take to build the dam, lay the pipelines, and get water into the lake.

Underground water is no substitute. Write it off. There is no other source in sight for surface water either.

The choice then is the White River dam, or the grave risk of a dried-up, dying town. That is no choice at all.

For those who would argue costs, what else have they to offer but in the end oblivion. So such arguments are not sound.

For those who would compare costs of White River water with recently publicized costs to proposed Canadian River project water to other South Plains towns and cities, they must first understand that the Canadian River water prices are for untreated water, whereas White River water will be delivered treated. The towns and cities buying Canadian water must set up their own treatment plants. This will make costs of White River water and Canadian River water very comparable.

What's more the Canadian River project probably will take several more years to become reality than the White River dam, and time is of the essence. And again, it is doubtful if Post or the other White River towns today could get into the Canadian River project on any basis even if they so desired, not anyway on the ground floor basis with a guaranteed supply.

For those who complain that proposed White River water rates here are a lot higher than necessary with the White River delivering treated city water to our city limits at 30 cents per thousand gallons, let them take into account the $400,000 water debt the city still owes and will have to pay on its present water field and the cost of operation of our water department.

Let them take into account too the announced intentions of our city council to read-

Shoe now on other foot

The forces of law and order, who have come in for so little criticism here in recent years, now find the shoe on the other foot and are being commended on all sides for the good job they are doing.

By and large, there never has been anything personal in the bulk of the criticism hurled at our peace officers during the last few years. They just happened to be short-handed during numerous outbreaks of burglaries, thefts, vandalism, etc., and the fact that they were short-handed seemed to spur the perpetrators of such acts of lawlessness on to greater, if more ignoble, efforts.

It was argued all along by the man on the street that law enforcement personnel ought to be increased on both the city and county level.

Personal appearance important

This newspaper and many folks generally applaud the recent action of school trustees in raising the standards of student dress in the high school for the new fall term.

Good personal appearance is highly important in American life today and deserves as much emphasis in school life as all the other avenues of training our young people.

Undoubtedly the new requirements will bring some student criticism, but we believe students will accept it for what it is—another step for-

What our contemporaries are saying

This is a novel suggestion, but why doesn't some woman enter the race for the vacancy on the City Council of Denver City?

Never, in the history of Denver City, has a woman entered the race for one of the council seats . . . and this is a deplorable situation at best.

Who knows better how to economize than a woman who must maintain a household? Who knows better what our children need than a woman who is raising one or two or three? Who knows better how to keep opposing factions from each other's throats than a woman who is in charge of a couple of youngsters all day?

It is often said that half the married people are women. Almost everyone in Denver City is married, so simple mathematics say that there are a goodly number of the fairer sex here in this town.

Several years back, Hobbs, our neighbor in little West Texas on the other side of the state line, elected a woman to the city commission. She's still there, and people of the growing community are glad she is.

Denver City is extremely fortunate to have a large number of public-spirited female citizens. They join clubs to aid worthy projects. They support their churches.

Denver City is old enough to have a woman assist in its rule. Now, with a vacancy on the council to be filled for six months, would be an excellent opportunity to give it a try and see what happens.

We believe the happenings would be all for the good of Denver City.—Denver City Press.

Post in each of three previous elections has overwhelmingly supported the White River project. The Dispatch feels certain it will do it again—by an overwhelming majority.

But the desperateness of our water situation must be emphasized. How much would you pay for water here in Post if there was none to be had?

That is about your choice Saturday—White River water or "none to be had." Make a realistic choice. Vote FOR the White River water contract. Be sure you go to the polls. Your vote is all important.

There is another side to White River water too in this final sum-up. It is the optimistic future we will have in our community with the White River project.

For the first time, we will have all the water we can need or use. With it we can work to attract new industry into our section of the rapidly expanding South Plains industrial economy. With it, the Postex Mills can go forward with new expansion plans, long held back by the lack of enough water.

Our town will be safe from the water worry which has troubled it for 52 years. There will be a fine new recreational lake within quick driving distance of our homes for fishing and water sports of all kinds.

Our town will grow. In growing our properties will become more valuable, and more stable. There will be more opportunities for all as there always is in a growing town.

Add it up yourself. The answer—all the logic—favors voting FOR the White River water contract Saturday.—JC.

The only ones who offered any argument against it were those whose jobs it were to see that law enforcement personnel was stepped up to equal the demand for it.

To make a long story short, it took the legalizing of liquor in Precinct 3 to get the city police force and the sheriff's department manned as they should be, and to put two-way radio equipment to the use for which it was purchased.

There have been no changes in personnel, but there have been some additions, and that is what was needed all along. Both city and county law enforcement groups are coordinating their efforts and the praise they are getting for the good job they are doing is well deserved.—CD.

We venture the prediction that it won't be long after the change that everybody will be well satisfied. And we think most of our students will be fair enough to give the dress requirements a trial without feeling "put upon."—JC.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

HORSES FROM all over were here Saturday for the 12th annual Garza County Quarter Horse Show—the biggest one yet. Horse trailers started coming into town bright and early Saturday morning, towed by all makes and models of automobiles, including Cadillacs. Judging got under way at 9 o'clock in the halter division, and it was around 6 p. m. before the last contestant in the open cutting horse class completed his performance.

It was a big day and a big show, clearly stamping the Garza County Quarter Horse Show as one of the outstanding events of its kind in the Southwest.

SOME ONE JUST told us that the saddle won by Nancy Bain as the best all-around cowgirl in the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo here was the 23rd saddle the 18-year-old Columbus, N. M., cowgirl has won. Nancy is a top contender for this season's American Junior Rodeo Association championship.

Still on the subject of rodeos—there hasn't been much else going on lately — Ronnie Flenniken of Crosbyton, who was flag race champion in the Junior Rodeo here, was top man in a majority of the events at the 2nd annual Hamlin Junior Rodeo last week. Ronnie turned in a time of 11 seconds to take the junior ribbon roping event, chalked up first in open barrel racing with a time of 18.8 seconds, grabbed first in senior ribbon roping with a time of 8.3 seconds, and was timed in 21.1 seconds to take first in senior pole-bending.

JERRY HARLAN of Slaton, another performer in this year's Post Junior Rodeo—as well as those of past years—also racked up a championship in the Hamlin Rodeo, roping and tying his calf in 17 seconds to win the tie-down calf roping event. Jerry was also the top ribbon roper in the Big Spring Junior Rodeo held last week.

Post also came up with a champion in the Hamlin Rodeo when Jay Bird won the junior pole-bending with a ride of 21.9 seconds. Jay, who performed for the first time in this year's Post Junior Rodeo, is the son of Jimmy Bird, who for several years was one of the country's top amateur ropers.

MOVING ON UP to the senior performers, Post's R. E. Josey apparently was a little off form in Morton's Last Frontier Rodeo. He placed second in double mugging, but dropped to fourth place in tie-down calf roping with times of 20.8 and 16.6 on two calves.

THIS RODEOING! We're getting to like it better all the time. It's one of the most competitive sports there is.

My friend up the street says the average husband is the one who lays down the law to his wife, then accepts all her amendments.

"LONESOME ROAD" used to be one of my favorite songs, but that was back in the days when it was sung right and not in the jazzed-up versions of today's radio and television warblers.

Ed Sullivan, who for a while thought Fidel Castro was the Latin who hung the moon, hasn't had much to say lately about the Cuban "problem child."

ELECTRIC LIVING, as Ted R. Hibbs, Southwestern Public Service Co. manager, will tell you, is still in its infancy.

Some of the developments foreseen by utility company men in a look into the future include these:

Food will be prepared, cooked and served at the direction of an electric computer programmed days ahead of time. An appliance will take the food from the freezer to the range, then cook and serve it. A small electric machine will manufacture disposable dishes,

How's That Again?

thus eliminating the dishwashing chore.

The light bulb will be a thing of the past. People will use a r e a sources of light where whole walls will glow with electroilluminescence.

When dirt collects on a carpet, a closet will open and a vacuum cleaner will emerge. It will automatically do the needed cleaning, then put itself away and close the closet door.

One wall will probably consist of a giant TV screen. Programs will come to you live from every corner of the world, with the signals bounced to your living room by earth-circling satellites.

There'll be no fussing with heating and cooling systems. Once the control is set, your house will be kept in perfect comfort, automatically, the year round.

Fantastic? Yes—but these are only a few of the wonders that will become commonplace in the era of electric living that lies ahead.

Anyone who thinks the customer isn't important should try doing without him for 90 days.

Let's Make A DREAM COME TRUE!

This Is The Final Election!

Vote FOR The Water Contract Saturday, Aug. 20

CAN WE AFFORD TO TAKE A CHANCE

Picture for yourself a city without water. Lawns have dried up; trees, flowers and shrubs are dead. Homes worth $15,000, $25,000 or more just a few years ago cannot be sold at any price unless the buyer can move them away. Store buildings stand vacant where a short time ago were thriving businesses. Those few who remain have not the means or desire to get away. The once thriving city has become a ghost town.

So you think it can't happen in Post! Well, it has happened in a great many towns and cities scattered over these United States. Water is the one thing that is absolutely essential to the life of any city.

Here on the South Plains every water expert tells us that the underground supply can and is being exhausted rapidly, and that it is only a matter of years until it is gone. Saturday we have the opportunity to solve this water problem for years to come by voting for the Water Contract Election—the final vote that stands between us and the White River Dam becoming a reality.

What would happen if we should turn it down? Where would we turn a few years from now if the underground water does play out as all the experts say it will? What would we do when there was no water, and there was no way of getting it?

THE PROPOSED WHITE RIVER RESERVOIR

Width: 3.0 Miles
 Length: 3.8 Miles
 Shoreline: 25 Miles Long
 Widest Point: 1.5 Miles
 Size: 34,000 Acre Feet
 Deepest Point: 50 Feet
 (All figures approximate)

POINTS FOR YOU TO KEEP IN MIND

1. Although the White River Project would mean a substantial increase in your water bill for a few years, in the long run it would probably cost you less than an underground supply. Underground water is going to cost more and more as the years go by, while surface water costs will decrease.

2. White River Dam would give you a guaranteed source of good water for the foreseeable future, while you have no assurance at all from an underground supply. A very little checking will show you how rapidly the water level is going down in this area.

3. You will be required to pay an ad valorem tax to begin with. But everyone associated with this project believes the tax can be lowered and finally eliminated within a very few years. This has been the experience of every water district in West Texas.

4. If White River Dam is built the four member cities of the District will be the only cities in the entire South Plains with an adequate surface water supply. Only other major water project being considered in this area will take years to complete even after approval. Think what this can mean to the future economy of Crosbyton, Ralls, Spur and Post. We will be ahead of all the rest when industry starts looking for locations on the South Plains.

IT MAY BE NOW OR NEVER!

Three years ago when you voted the bond issue we told you that "It Might Be Now or Never" as far as the White River Project was concerned. Today this statement has more foundation than ever. At least two areas, one above and one below the proposed White River Dam Site, have realized their need for adequate water supplies and are looking with envy at the White River Project.

If you should turn it down, both these areas would be in position to file for water rights that we now hold. We have these rights only until March 31, 1961, and must make progress toward building the dam if we are to hold them. If we should turn down the proposition now, it would be up to us to show the State Water Board that we still intended to do something if we expected to hold the water rights.

Can we take the chance?

Bride's father officiates at double ring service Saturday

The bride's father officiated for Saturday evening marriage of Jill Welch of Lubbock and Wood Ramsey of Tulla. Parents of the couple are the late Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Welch of Lubbock, and formerly of Post, and Mrs. Kenneth Ramsey of Tulla. The double ring wedding vows were read before a backway of greenery, white gladioli and candelabra, at 8 p.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Herring and daughter, Jan, accompanied by Mrs. McCrary, returned Wednesday of last week from a three and one-half week trip to Canada and the Eastern United States. En route they visited such points as Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec City, and drove around the Gaspe Peninsula on the Canadian coast. The Texas visitors saw commercial codfishing in the quaint French-Canadian villages and on the trip back toured the United Nations building in New York City. Other highlights en route back were countryside scenes in New Hampshire, Connecticut and New York. In Chicago they attended the Chicago Gift Market in Illinois.

Mrs. Irby Metcalf left Wednesday to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Knight in Bokchito, Okla., while her husband is attending two weeks of advanced banking at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Robert Burch and children, Katrinka, Jan Carol and Robert Stephens, left last week for their home in Newark, Ohio, after a two-week visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stephens, and other relatives. Mr. Burch brought them here from Newark and spent a week. It was the first time the Stephens had seen their grandson, Robert Stephens. While here, Mrs. Burch and children visited other relatives in Post and in Lubbock and Slaton. They also accompanied the Stephens to Brownwood for a reunion at which all Mrs. Stephens' brothers—Charlie, Willie, Oscar, Mitchell and J. Lee—were present.

Linda Lott and Ronald Bouchier wed in First Methodist Church

Mint green and white were the chosen colors of Miss Linda Louise Lott who pledged vows with Ronald Lew Bouchier at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Eugene Matthews, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an altar of candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and white stock. The Cathedral tapers were entwined with ivy and tapers lighted the white carpeted aisle.

Through the Looking Glass At MAXINE'S

This week we are instigating a series of monthly reflections. Through the Looking Glass at Maxine's, in which we will deal with many and varied subjects. Primarily we are interested in pointing up the newest trends in fashion as they evolve at the beginning of an important season of the year. We will be emphasizing the latest developments in giftwares, household accessories, bridal highlights, and fashions in jewelry, as well as women's wear.

We at MAXINE'S see the fashion picture emerging as an exciting, elaborate and luxurious one, with emphasis on individualism and femininity. Paris has decreed shorter hemlines, tall crown hats, longer length gloves, and the new matinee length beads with hoop ear clips. The excitement of adding new jewelry to your ensemble comes with the selection of this new matinee length for the new look in crystals in muted fall colors. The ombre tones of peacock, bronze, ruby, plum, and deeper-than-emerald-green can successfully complete your first fall ensemble. There is a return to the caviar size bead that was a sizzling seller of the '50s. They are available at MAXINE'S in shimmering, iridescent masses of glitter in new three-strand arrangements. Little jewels for the hair are increasingly popular.

Touches of fur, enormously flattering to every woman, continue their popularity, as evidenced by the fur trimmed coats, suits and sweaters being unpacked at MAXINE'S. The luxurious feminine look continues its popularity into clothes for after-5 wear. Beware of last year's short formal for your grand occasions this fall! Be prepared to revive the provocative feminine look that only a floor length gown can impart to its wearer. This luxurious look is seen in casual sportswear too. Leather coats have fur or bead trim, shirts are ashmmer in broadcloth with embroidery, sweaters have chiffon lining with lace or jewel applique. Even the fashions in sleepwear for Fall 1960 are indicative of the truly feminine trend.

This is Fashionland's dressiest season of the year, and it may well emerge as the broadest period of the decade. Brocades and velvets are enjoying a great popularity. This season is the opulent, elegant, sumptuous season that may be individually adapted in a flattering and practical manner by every woman in our area.

We invite you to select your first all-important fall ensemble with care from among the newest arrivals at MAXINE'S. See you at the voting polls Saturday?

CLEVER ADS

Like some newspaper columns, newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1903 Justice Oliver W. Holmes declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a "general notice of copyright."

One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't sell these maps to a rival publisher.

In another case a clever picture ran in one ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

You cannot copyright some things such as a list of names publicly available or an ad so common it lacks uniqueness.

Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine.

Ads which are run to get business may also create property right in a "trade name" of great value to a business even without a copyright.

Besides, a business or product name itself may often be copyrighted. Now and then, unfortunately, a company name may become so well known that without proper protection it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

Trying to gain from someone else's ads may well get you in trouble.

It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits. And then some.

False or misleading ads can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the post office sometimes gets rough if someone uses the mail to advertise fraudulently.

Of course ads aim to brag about one's product—a fact well known to the public. Therefore, within limits, some "puffing" is allowed. But the Federal Trade Commission often stops advertisements if they are false or misleading, especially as to factual claims.

(This newsfeature prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SAFE...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day       | Book      | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|-----------|---------|--------|
| Sunday    | Proverbs  | 18      | 10     |
| Monday    | Psalms    | 53      | 1-2    |
| Tuesday   | Proverbs  | 29      | 25-26  |
| Wednesday | Luke      | 17      | 33     |
| Thursday  | John      | 14      | 1      |
| Friday    | John      | 15      | 7-8    |
| Saturday  | Ephesians | 3       | 19-20  |

A desperate run . . . a frantic slide . . . the feel of the bag against your cleats . . . the belated tag of the shortstop's glove. Then a voice, clear, certain . . . final!

And though the cheers may be laced with hoots and screams of disapproval, you're safe. And nothing can change that fact!

Equally dramatic — and far more important — is the adventure that brings earnest men and women into the Church.

There is a point when we realize the inertia of half-believing. We plunge forward desperately, leaving behind yesterday's skepticism, seeking frantically the Truth that promises meaning and purpose for our life.

Then there's the thrilling moment — the dust of wordly confusion still all around us — when we know in our hearts we have found our faith. And always, above the strains of the organ, even above the clamor of a world unconvinced, there is a Voice, clear, certain . . . final — confirming our Faith.

The Texian Editor's Frontier News Flashes

Department of Journalism & Graphic Arts
University of Houston

August 18-25, 1860
GALVESTON—The News mentions the sale of a cargo of water, from the San Jacinto, at Galveston, at 3½ cents per gallon. It was delivered under special contract, and it appears that the San Jacinto water bears a fancy price at the Island, ordinary water being sold at 1½c. per gallon in that city. The above cargo amounted to 2200 gallons. We are sorry for our friends of Galveston, and would gladly send them a shower or so occasionally, but the fact is we don't control the weather, and if we did we have only had just showers enough to do us this summer. Drinking water has not given out yet. Bayou water for washing purposes commands a dime a barrel in the streets.

The Houston TELEGRAPH enumerates over seventy (70) newspapers in Texas, of which it classifies three as religious—one Educational—one as Masonic.

A GREAT MAN
George Lippard write of President Jackson:
"He was a man! Well, I remember the day I waited upon him. He sat there in his arm chair—I can see that old warrior's face with its snow white hair, even now. We told him of the public distress—the manufacturers ruined, the eagles shrouded in crape, which were borne at the head of twenty thousand men into the Independence Square. He heard us all. We begged him to leave the deposits where they were; to uphold the great bank of Philadelphia. Still he did not say a word. At last one of our members more fiery than the rest, intimated that if the Bank were crushed a rebellion might follow. Then the old man rose—I can see him yet—"Come!" he shouted in a voice of thunder, as his clutch'd right hand was raised above his white hairs—"Come with bayonets in your hands instead of petitions—surround the White House with your legions—I am ready for you all. By the Eternal! With the people at my back when your gold can neither buy nor awe, I will swing you up around the Capital, each rebel of you—on a gibbet—high as Haman's."

"When I think," says the author, "of that one man standing there at Washington, battling with all the powers of Bank and Panic combined, betrayed by those in whom he trusted, assailed by all that the snake of malice could hiss or the fiend of falsehood howl—when I think of that one man placing his back against the rock, and folding his arms for the blow while he uttered his awful vow, "By the eternal! I will not swerve one inch from the course I have chosen!"—I must confess that the records of Greece and Rome—nay the proudest days of Cromwell or Napoleon cannot flourish an instance of a will like Andrew Jackson's when he placed life and soul and fame, or the hazard of a die for the people's welfare."

WEEKEND VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans of Lubbock visited over the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Williams, and other relatives and friends.

Ray Walston, Marc Connelly, Anne Jackson and Murray Hamilton co-star in famed producer-director Joshua Logan's first Mansfield production for Warner Bros.

The comedy is about a series of crises at a West Coast college when a matrimonially-minded girl enrolls there. Being a tall girl, she selects a college noted for its outstanding basketball teams as the logical place to share a tall husband.

There are amusing complications when she wages a persistent campaign to entrap the studious star of the team, even using the unwitting aid of two professors.

As a member of the community health team, he is a dedicated professional man.

Yet he is a businessman engaged in serving your needs not only as a supplier of medicines but as a merchant whose stocks reflect the daily needs of his customers.

Helping to . . . Build A Town . . . Is Our Business

We take pride in our work—of building a bigger and better Post. To it we devote all our energies, provide quality building materials at reasonable prices, marshal skilled builders, erect homes and new business projects, remodel on Main Street to keep our merchants abreast of community growth, and take the time to help any Do-It-Yourselfers with their "expansion plans."

Helping to build our hometown is much more than just "a day's work" to us. That's why we want to visit with you a moment on the special city election coming up Saturday—the White River water contract election.

Water—all that is needed—is one of the greatest "growth factors" to any town. We can't grow without it. If we don't have it we will not only stop growing—we will start dying. None of us want that. Everyone of us will lose a great deal in the choking economic process as a town literally "dries up." The White River project is the only water answer for Post which can be found after 5 years of search, work and planning. The White River dam will be built if you—the voters approve it Saturday.

Be sure and go to the polls Saturday and do your part in "helping to build a town."

Improper fish stocking can decrease value of farm pond, says specialist

COLLEGE STATION—Would a farmer sow a field of oats and then deliberately sow crabgrass in the same field? Of course not—this would be very poor management. Many farmers do, however, have their farm pond properly stocked, and then add fish from another pond, from a river or from the minnow bucket. This is also poor management, but Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says this practice is one of the main reasons why many farm ponds are worthless for fishing.

Cooper says that fish obtained from sources other than hatcheries usually contain undesirable species such as shad, carp, suckers, gar, mud-cat, etc. These undesirable species will compete with the game fish for food, they will eat young game species, some will muddy the pond water, and all will be a general nuisance to the fisherman.

Another erroneous practice is to add grown fish to a freshly stocked pond, Cooper continues. This is usually done so that the owner can "catch some big fish while the small ones are growing up." The owner must remember that the grown fish have to eat, and in all probability they will eat the hatchery fingerlings. With this situation, it wouldn't be very long before the farmer had no fish, large or small, in his pond.

Pond owners are usually worried by the fact that the hatchery fish are very small when they arrive, and there doesn't seem to be enough of them, Cooper points out, if the pond is managed properly, these fingerlings will be reproducing the following year, and then the problem will be too many fish rather than not enough. Hatcheries provide the right kinds and numbers of fish to the pond owner, and any other fish which are added will usually have a detrimental effect. Once a pond is properly stocked, there is no good reason to add more fish, Cooper concludes.

The Dispatch today is chucked full of ads from merchants emphasizing the importance of the White River project and urging you to be sure and vote Saturday. You can have a part in this all-important community decision only by going to the polls and casting your ballot.

As for the election results, The Dispatch office will be open Saturday night to give you the returns from all four member cities just as soon as the final votes are tallied. Come in or call in as you desire.

Irby G. Metcalf left last night on route to Cambridge, Mass., where the First National Bank president will attend a Senior Bank Officers Seminar at the Harvard Graduate Business School at Harvard University for the next two weeks. He will be the only Texan among the some 80 senior bank officers from all over the nation attending the seminar to study all types of management and investment problems. Irby is attending the seminar "in keeping with the bank's policy of keeping its officers abreast of the changing economic situation." Keeping up with the times is a mighty healthy thing not just for the local bank but for the big Post trade area which it serves. It emphasizes the bank's determination to offer the best possible service to its many customers.

Post Boy Scouts lose swim meet

The Post Boy Scout Troop 16 and 199, were defeated by Ralls and Crosbyton in the annual four-county Boy Scout swim meet held Monday.

The Post troops, under the leadership of Scoutmasters Bob West and Ed Blanton, had swimmers under the Ralls' and Crosbyton swimmers at last fall's Camporee, in which Troop 16 placed first and Troop 199 was second.

Troop 18 swimmers were completely shut out in the junior division, and Troop 198 managed to score only one point.

In 70c the intermediate division Troop 16 counted 10 points and Troop 199, one point. Troop 16 managed 10 points in the senior division competition, with Troop 199 being shut out.

The Post Scouts' only first place was won by Laylan Bratcher of Troop 16 in the intermediate division underwater swim event.

Garza accident toll increases

Two rural traffic accidents in Garza County in July resulted in two injuries and property damage of $1,300, according to the report of Sgt. E. L. Stroud, highway patrol supervisor of the area.

The July figure brings the rural accident toll for the county to two dead, 10 injured and property damage of $12,495.

Prior to the first of August, there had been a total of 814 rural accidents in Texas, resulting in 1,134 persons losing their lives.

Empty bottle breaks door at new school

An empty pepper sauce bottle, evidently thrown from a passing automobile, crashed through the glass front door of the new high school building Friday night, Mac McCawen, private detective and special deputy, reports.

McCawen said windows had also been broken out in the school cafeteria building by rocks and other objects.

The officer warns vandals that such destruction carries stiff penalties upon conviction.

Director of band spends summer on degree work

AUSTIN — Robert Meisch, director of the Post High School band for the past five years, has spent the summer in Austin attending the University of Texas as a graduate student working toward the degree Master of Music.

An unusual feature of Meisch's stay at the University was a course in composing original music for band, which he took under faculty composer Clinton Williams. Williams states that "Mr. Meisch shows considerable latent creative ability, and has written two compositions which certainly deserve public performance." The two musical pieces referred to are a chorale and a march. Both numbers are scored for band, and the chorale in addition is arranged so as to be played on an organ for church services.

Meisch's popular high school aggregation will again be a feature attraction on half-time shows during the coming football season. Later in the school year, Post will no doubt see its leading musician in the double role of band director and composer.

Assault charge is filed in cutting

Assault charges were filed yesterday against Sam Moore, a Negro, accused of slashing a Negro woman, Martha Lou Hall, across the back with a pocketknife.

The cutting took place about 8 p. m. Tuesday at a home in the colored section of town, officers said.

The Hall woman was taken to the hospital in a serious condition from a deep gash in her back. Moore was arrested about 30 minutes later by City Marshal Junior Shepherd and Deputy Sheriff Sam Price and F. M. Reep.

Report your news to The Dispatch by calling 114 or 982.

ATTEND REUNION

White River--

The water contract, which voters are asked to approve Saturday, calls for the purchase of a minimum of about 242,000,000 gallons of water annually for 40 years (life of the White River District bonds) at a cost of 30 cents per thousand gallons for treated water delivered to the city limits.

Post's proposed White River water rates would be a minimum of $4.20 for the first 3,000 gallons, 75 cents per thousand for the next 7,000 gallons monthly and 65 cents per thousand for all used each month above 10,000 gallons.

The city council has announced it will revise these rates as soon as it has enough experience under White River operation to do so.

TAX AS PROPOSED

The water district tax, as proposed, would be 50 cents per $100 on 80 per cent of real value of the property. Thus a $10,000 home would be taxable on $8,000 of value at 50 cents per $100 or $40 per year.

The history of West Texas water projects show most districts do not have to levy taxes after a five year period.

It could be even less if large quantities of surplus water are sold to companies interested in water-flooding old oil fields in Garza County for secondary oil recovery. Two firms already are considering such projects.

The Postex Mills also want to build a dye plant, here, which would require an additional 125,000 gallons daily not now figured into Post's future water consumption. This would help reduce the tax requirements.

New phone books being compiled

The new 1960 Post, Tahoka and Wilson telephone directory is now being compiled, Wayne King, district manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, announced today.

All business telephone users in Post, Tahoka and Wilson will be contacted by a representative of the General Telephone Directory Company within the next few weeks regarding changes in listings.

Several new features are going to be included in this year's Yellow Pages such as new classifications, new illustrations, and others.

King said that the distribution date of the new telephone directories will be announced later.

Continental plans three deep tests

Continental Oil Company has scheduled three deep tests south of Justiceburg on the Garza-Borden county line.

The first will be the Continental Oil Cameron-Justice No. 1, 150 feet under the top rim of the caprock in section 687.

The location is so rough, according to Gordon Corbett, Continental's superintendent here, that the road alone into the location will cost an estimated $5,000 to $10,000.

The first of the tests is approximately a half mile from proven production atop the caprock.

Jack Dexter, drilling engineer, will drill this scheduled 8,500 foot test. The rig is being moved in now and drilling is expected to get under way next week.

A permit was issued, Mrs. J. S. Glasscock on Aug. 15 for a 10,000 square foot home, back porch and driveway at 805 West Fifth Street, estimated to cost $6,000.

Vote For Water

Next Saturday is THE HOUR OF DECISION for Post.

WHEN WE VOTE FOR THE WHITE RIVER DAM and water for Post we are not voting for temporary relief but for the FUTURE OF POST.

Our WATER SITUATION gets worse from year to year and unless we secure ourselves and our city welfare by VOTING FOR THE DAM we know our water will be scarce and higher from here on.

Let's not let the PRICE OF WATER scare us into voting against this project.

WE MUST HAVE WATER if we expect to continue to grow and this is OUR CHANCE TO HAVE WATER for years to come.

4-H members learning public speaking, community service

Not all 4-H Club work is centered around raising cows, chickens, corn and pigs as many 4-H'ers show by becoming public speakers. However, their agricultural and home economics projects do provide opportunities to learn the art of oratory. And the 4-H public speaking program spells out just how they can achieve this goal.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending Aug. 13 were 20,681 compared with 22,221 for the same week a year ago. Cars received from connections totaled 10,296 compared with 10,293 for the same week a year ago. Total cars moved were 30,977 compared with 32,514 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 30,861 cars in the preceding week this year.

During the course of carrying on projects, the 4-H'ers make oral reports at club meetings, fit words to actions in giving demonstrations, and get the feel of appearing before an audience in showmanship and exhibit events. Boys and girls most likely to succeed as speakers are given special coaching by county extension agents, teachers, or qualified local leaders. Some receive tips on radio and TV techniques, and appear on home town programs.

The 4-H'ers not only learn to give a talk, but also to write their own speeches. Subjects for the most part are related to 4-H experiences, citizenship and leadership.

An allied activity is community relations. In this 4-H program, club members undertake joint projects to promote 4-H and community improvement.

The youth act as news reporters, give leadership to local civic, safety and health campaigns, plan and participate in recreational and social events.

Along with developing into public speakers and community leaders, these talented 4-H'ers have a chance to gain materially. The Pure Oil Company provides awards in the public speaking program which include gold filled medals of honor for the outstanding girl and boy in the county.

To the best boy speaker in the state goes a 19-jewel inscribed wrist watch, while the top speaking girl receives a set of silverware. State winners also have an opportunity to compete for one of two national $400 college scholarships and an all expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Awards in the community relations program are offered by Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company. The outstanding girl and boy in the state receives a certificate of honor. An all expense trip to the Chicago congress is provided on a sectional basis, and two scholarships of $400 each are available to the top 4-H boy and girl in the nation.

Both programs are under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service, and are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Major crimes in Texas increase, DPS announces

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today major crimes in Texas increased 10.3 per cent during the first six months of 1960 as compared with the same period last year.

The most pronounced increase, according to reports reaching the department from Jan. 1 through June 30, was a 18.2 per cent hike in the number of burglaries. However, the report showed a 35.1 per cent decrease in murders and homicides.

It is estimated that for the first six months of 1960 there were 96,681 major crimes committed in Texas, compared with 87,679 for a similar period in 1959. Projecting the six-month crime experience over a period of one full year, a crime rate of 2,096.4 crimes per 100,000 population is indicated, compared with 1,991.2 for 1959.

The department gave the following breakdown of the comparative totals of the seven major crimes tabulated: murder and homicide, 479 in 1960 through June, 564 in 1959; rape, 561 this year against 548 in 1959; robbery, 1,458 against 1,412 last year; burglary, 27,048 against 22,686 last year; aggravated assault, 5,851 against 5,818; theft, 53,789 against 48,996; and auto theft, 7,495 against 7,645.

An overall percentage increase in major crimes in Texas of 12.5 per cent was reported for the urban areas including all cities of 2,500 population or larger. This was offset only slightly by a decrease of less than one per cent in the rural areas of the state.

Softball team loses in district tourney

The Post Independents, a softball team that sprang up almost overnight, was eliminated from the district TAAF tournament at Lubbock Friday night when it lost to Pantex of Amarillo, 7-0, on a no-hitter by the Pantex hurler.

The Post team lost its opening round game Thursday night to the Moss-Gordin team, 4 to 0.

Considering that they hadn't worked out any, the Post team gave a good account of itself against teams that had been playing all season and were champions of their respective leagues.

Jackie Hays and H. C. Gribble were the Post pitchers.

29 out for grid drills

Twenty-nine candidates for this season's Post Antelope football team reported Monday morning to Head Coach Vernard Alexander and his staff for the first day of football practice.

Included among the grid hopefuls reporting Monday were the 11 returning lettermen and three transfers, who are expected to be eligible for the varsity squad.

Two more transfers, described by Coach Alexander as "good looking boys" are expected out next week.

The three transfers who reported Monday are Tom Campbell, sophomore; Virgil Thornberry, junior, and Darrell Haley, sophomore. Transfers expected out next week are Larry Williams, junior, and Gene Dawson, also a junior.

Since none of these boys participated in interscholastic sports at the schools from which they transferred, they will be eligible to play here this season, providing they meet other eligibility requirements, the coach said.

Enough other boys are expected out between now and the opening of the school term to increase the size of the squad to at least 33, Alexander said.

The gridgers were issued full equipment Monday morning and started drills in full uniforms. Twice-a-day practice sessions are being held this week, but the practice sessions will go on a one-a-day schedule next week.

Practice sessions this week are being held from 7:30 until 9 a. m. and from 6:30 until 8:30 p. m.

Assisting Alexander with the squad are Coaches Harold Teal and Gerald Loyd.

ing alley is about the biggest and best news to flash across the Post sports scene since the Antelopes won the district basketball championship. It won't be long until full-fledged bowling leagues are in operation out at the Center—adding to our already wide area of sports coverage in The Dispatch.

On several hundred gridrons and practice fields throughout Texas, football drills officially got under way Monday for schools from Class B through Class AAA, with the big city schools to begin drills within a week or two.

District 3AA, in which Post will operate again this year, has two district champions—Denver City and Stanton—as newcomers. So, the Antelopes, the Slaton Tigers and the Tahoka Bulldogs, none of which cut much ice last season, have a real tough job cut out for them in trying to topple the two newcomers, who have been picked by grid-guessers to finish one-two in the district—Denver City No. 1 and Stanton No. 2.

There'll be activity three nights a week once the football season gets under way here. Elsewhere on this page is the complete schedule of all five teams, from the varsity on down through the 7th grade. Clip it and save it.

Even with all the football news within the next few weeks, the major league pennant races are going to hold the spotlight until the season is over. It appears now that the Pittsburgh Pirates, for the first time in a long time, will be the National League's representative in the World Series. With a little bit of luck, the Baltimore Orioles could come through in the American League—and what a welcome change it would be to see some new faces in the Series!

Norm Cash, incidentally, is still leading a weak-hitting Detroit Tiger team, but just can't

Hopkins upsets defending champ

Post golfer wins 3rd at Floydada

Charles Hopkins, after upsetting defending champion Roland Adams of Lubbock Saturday, finished third Sunday in the 36-hole medal play finals of the Floydada Country Club Invitational golf tournament.

Hopkins, industrial arts teacher at Post High School, and Jim Hundley were among the 16 golfers qualifying for the championship flight in Thursday's qualifying round.

In first round play Friday, Hopkins shot one over par 73 to take out Dick Tubb of Levelland, 4 and 3. Hundley was defeated by Frank Freer of Wichita Falls, 3 and 2.

Hopkins outlasted Adams, 1-up on 19 holes, in Sunday's match to gain the medal play finals along with Freer. Ronnie Craig of Lubbock and Rex Brown of El Paso. Craig shot a four-over par 148 to win the championship. Freer was second at 153, while Hopkins' third place was gained with a 155 and Brown came in fourth with 169.

The Post golfer was in the running through the first 24 holes, but he took an eight on the next one and that put him seven strokes behind Craig. He got within six strokes once, but that was as close as he could get.

Hundley won his first consolation match by defeating Richard Boyd, 2 and 1, and posted an 80 in the finals for a second place. Howard Axtell of Lubbock won the championship flight consolation with a 76.

Two other Post golfers, D. H. Bartlett and Punk Peel, won championships in their flights.

Bartlett defeated Hoyett McCloud of Plainview, 2 and 1, to win the second flight championship, and Peel won over Alton Wallace of Crosbyton, 3 and 2, to emerge as champion of the fifth flight.

Other Post and Post area golfers in the tournament were J. C. Stelzer, Walter B. Holland, J. H. Haire, and Jake Gallher.

6th and 7th grade grid drills slated

Boys who will play 6th and 7th grade football this year have been asked to report at the junior high school gymnasium at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, Aug. 23, for the opening of practice.

The meeting has been called by Don Watkins, new member of the Post coaching staff.

Bible Thoughts "Repentance"

By RONNIE PARKER In Acts 17:30 we learn that "all men everywhere must repent." This command, in the gospel age, began to be preached in Jerusalem on Pentecost (Lk. 24:47; Acts 2:38).

In Matthew 21:28-30 we find the best clear-cut example and definition of repentance in the Bible. "A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work today in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not, but afterward he repented and went."

Small wonder we believe REPENTANCE is the real obstacle in the scheme of redemption. A man who will genuinely repent will not quibble over baptism or any other command of God.

II Peter 3:9 tells us that God is longsuffering toward us. "Not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance." Have you complied with this command yet?

About Your HEALTH

8 weekly public service features from the Texas State Department of Health.

HENRY A. HULL, D. V. M. Commissioner of Health

You've heard it or read it dozens of times . . .

A youngster is bitten by a dog and which promptly disappears. public appeal is made for help locating the offending animal. take the "painful" rabies shots. State health officials are the first to agree that such public appeals are highly beneficial. But some officials do not mince words in denouncing the "painful" label as grossly inaccurate. They say no more painful than any other immunizing injection, and less than some shots which are accepted with philosophical cheerfulness.

Ask Dr. A. B. Rich, director of the State Health Department's veterinary public health division, or W. Huff, a laboratorian who in a career of some 30 years has diagnosed well over 97,000 animal rabies. Both men can speak with the authority that comes only with first-hand experience.

Once while in private practice, Dr. Rich examined a dog for tonus. The very next day the animal displayed typical signs of rabies. Since he had a scratch on his hand, prudence demanded that he take the shots. He says he found them to be almost painless beyond the initial brief prick of the needle.

Huff echoes the same sentiment. He ought to know—since he has had to take a 21-shot course of treatment on four separate occasions. Anyone who handles his volume of autopsy work—from African lions to Alaskan wolves—is bound to be exposed on occasions.

Has the "pain" label dissuaded anyone from taking the shots when they should have? There is no way of knowing. But Dr. Rich says he can readily imagine how it could happen. From this point of view, the inaccurate label is dangerous since rabies is endemic over most of Texas—particularly among wildlife, primarily foxes and skunks. A total of 567 positive cases were reported last year, and for the first six months of this year 357 positive cases have been diagnosed.

Rabies vaccination carries a slight risk of reaction, so should never be given thoughtlessly. It should always be given in cases of exposure to an apprehended animal known to be rabid, or an unapprehended animal in regions where rabies is known to exist.

Business Banking — And Water

This Saturday, Post voters are asked to go to the polls and either approve or disapprove the White River project in the special city water contract election.

All of which means that Saturday will bring us to a major crossroads for our hometown.

Water is not just a means of satisfying our thirst, taking a bath, or sprinkling our lawn. It is all of these, of course, but much more, as the title of this message—"Business Banking and Water" indicates.

Water is one of the most important assets of any community. Without it a town cannot grow. Without it we can only wither, dry up, and die.

Those terms sound harsh because they are harsh.

Post from its very beginning had a water problem—a water problem which has been solved for the first 50 years by an ever expanding water field above the Caprock, a gathering system, and a Caprock reservoir.

These no longer will solve our water problem in the years ahead. We must turn to surface water for our answer. The search for that answer began some six years ago and has resulted in the White River project, which all of us are asked to approve Saturday.

In making your decision as to how you will vote, remember this. The choice is between the White River and no answer. There is no logical other way. The White River directors of Post, your city officials, and many other community-minded citizens have worked for the last five years to bring the White River from dream to reality.

Saturday we must face reality. If we want water we must pay the price for it. Nobody is going to offer us a better bargain. That is wishful thinking. We are going to have to pay more for our water in the future—whether it be White River water or any other water source.

The White River project is a complicated one financially. But it is the best deal for our water and our future that we can buy. It is truly the only answer.

That is the yes or no decision which is up to you Saturday. Ask yourself how much you would pay for water if you and your town didn't have any.

Be sure to vote. You can help make this "crossroads decision" for Post only if you go to the polls.

THE PROPOSED
DAM SITE

This is the map of the proposed White River dam and reservoir in its relation to the four member cities of the water district—Post, Ralls, Crosbyton and Spur. Pipe lines to the four member towns also are shown. Voters of the four member cities will go to the polls Saturday in four special city elections to approve the water contracts between each town and the water district. This is the last major step to qualify for $4,000,000 in federal and state loans to finance construction of the project. Failure of just one of the towns to vote the water contract will make the project unfeasible and the loans will not be made.

White River Water Is a Must for Us

Postex Mills are Post's biggest water consumer. We use over 300,000 gallons a day in our plant operations. We want to expand and build a dye plant here. That would take another 125,000 gallons of water daily—new water sales which will go toward reducing the proposed tax rate necessary for the water district to meet its bond obligations while new water sales are sought.

It's easy to see why the White River project is so important to this industry—and its future in Post.

We put water to work in our mills. Water helps build payrolls. We now employ about 500 people in our mills. Our future here is bright—providing we have enough water.

The election Saturday is a special city election to authorize the city council to sign a contract for water with the White River Water Authority. It will be the fourth and final time the White River project will go to the voters for your approval.

Post's whole future hinges upon obtaining a bigger and better water supply.

We here at Postex Mills urge our employes to vote Saturday and we urge every qualified voter in the community to go to the polls and approve the water contract authorization.

The president of our mill has served as one of the directors of the White River Municipal Water District since its first temporary planning organization some five years ago. He has given freely of his time and efforts because he knows it is the No. 1 project of this community.

The White River Dam today is very close to reality—if the four cities Saturday approve their respective water contracts.

If we fail Saturday, all of us face an economic disaster. That's how important White River water is.
