Cotton growers to vote Dec. 15 on 1963 quotas

COLLEGE STATION—The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced last week a national marketing quota of 14,367,000 bales and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1963 upland cotton crop. Dec. 11 was set as the date for grower referendum on 1963 marketing quotas. The announcement also said an additional 310,000 acres would be available as a national reserve to be used for establishing minimum allotments. It was further stated that it is not anticipated that this will be the final national acreage authorized for 1963 since new legislation is to be recommended to Congress by the President. The 16-million acre allotment is the maximum permitted under present law in view of the present supply-demand situation. It now appears that more than a million bales will be added to the carry-over and increase it to 8.7 million bales by Aug. 1, 1963. The President has announced that he will recommend legislation to remove the inequity in the present two-price cotton system and has requested the USDA to make recommendations to him as to the means for accomplishing that purpose. This legislation would increase the domestic use of U. S. cotton and may also contain other provisions which would permit increases in the acreage to be planted. In the Dec. 11 referendum, a two-thirds majority of those voting is needed to make marketing quotas effective on the 1963 upland cotton crop. Extra long staple growers will vote on the same day on marketing quotas for their type cotton. If marketing quotas are approved, price support to cooperating growers will be available at a level to be announced by the Secretary. It can range from 65 to 90 per cent of parity. The parity price of cotton is now 39.51 cents per pound. If marketing quotas are not approved for the 1963 upland cotton

LOVING CARE IS NEEDED when you're driving, too!

There are so many ways to express your love for a child—amuse him, caress him, understand him, protect him from hurt and harm. Because drivers kill and cripple more children than any disease, a car is potentially one of the most dangerous places your child can ever be. So protect him whenever he is in the car—with a seat belt.

his car—and used them—we could reduce severe injuries by one-third, deaths by 5,000 a year! It's terribly important to drive with loving care, always. And to support strict law enforcement in your town, for where laws are strictly enforced, accidents and deaths go down. But can a parent who wants to protect his loved ones and himself possibly overlook the protection afforded by seat belts?

AUSTIN — A statewide drive is underway to raise $950,000 for a "Cerama Star" shrine at Washington-on-the-Brazos, where the Republic of Texas was born.

Campaign was announced by Gov. Price Daniel after meeting with Mrs. Mary Moody Northen of Galveston, Robert L. Thornton of Dallas and Gus S. Wortham of Houston, who co-chairman the project.

"Cerama Star," as visualized by designer Clyde E. Gray of Woodville, will be a star-shaped concrete building covering five acres of ground at the historical site near Brenham.

It will contain more than 6,000 square feet of ceramics, tracing Texas history.

Shrine is to perpetuate the memory of the 59 courageous early Texans who met at Old Washington on March 2, 1836 and declared their independence from a tyrannical Mexican government. They set in motion a course of events which saw, within 50 days, the fall of the Alamo, the massacre at Goliad, and the decisive victory at San Jacinto which secured the freedom of Texas.

Back in 1956 the Texas Press Association joined with the Texas Independence Day Organization to encourage construction of such a memorial.

Building is to be shaped like the Lone Star, with a tower rising from the center, topped by a powerful searchlight known as the "Light of Texas Freedom."

An elevator will take passengers to the top.

SUBTERRANEAN CENTER — Texas Department of Public Safety plans to go underground to handle disaster relief operations.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. reports that ground has been broken for a $630,000 underground state emergency operating center.

Garrison said the present disaster communications center, located in the basement of the department's headquarters, lacked facilities to handle major disasters—facilitate uninterrupted operation for 30 days.

Designed to withstand the effects of air blast, thermal radiation, residual radiation (including fallout) and chemical and biological agents of warfare, the safety center will be manned around the clock from the time it's completed. It will accommodate about 120 persons, and be equipped with an independent water supply, fuel supply and auxiliary utility power.

PLANS FALL THROUGH—Those water-color illustrations of a $1,500,000 lodge on Lake Texoma in Eisenhower State Park now are more of a dream than a reality.

Plans for the project fell through when John Prather of Dallas, a member of the Eisenhower Development Corporation, financing the lodge, told State Parks Board executive director Bill Collins that the finance company, holding a $350,000 note against the marina, had filed for repossession.

Lamplighters Inns, Inc. of St. Louis, Mo., which had agreed to operate the lodge, withdrew when it became apparent that the proposed $500,000 marina won't be completed in time for the tourist season.

Prather said his group still is interested if it can find a backer, but the Parks Board figures it is under obligation to no one at this point.

A giant sigh of relief was expressed when board members were assured the state was not financially involved in the building plan.

Several attempts to finance a lodge on the Texas side of the 29-year-old lake have failed. Oklahoma's Lake Texoma Lodge across the lake was built about 1953.

IN THE BLACK — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reports that his department is in such good financial condition that it won't need to ask the Legislature for an appropriation for the Veterans' Land Program, out of General Revenue, for the next two bienniums.

Sadler said that $16,500,000 in installment payments from veteran purchasers, and $3,000,000 in interest from federal securities, will be collected in the coming biennium.

AUTO TAX BACKED — Assessing automobiles for city and school taxes, without assessing "all other personal property on an equal and uniform basis," has been upheld by the Austin Court of Civil Appeals.

Court reversed a judgment of the Hays County District Court which had denied the City of San Marcos and San Marcos Independent School District judgment against F. W. Zimmerman for delinquent taxes on three motor vehicles.

Suit was for back taxes for 1956 through 1959.

SECURITY BIDS — State Securities Commissioner William M. King reports five applications for permits to sell $4,562,890 in securities in Texas.

Applicants include four Texas companies: FNIC Investors, Inc., Houston, $618,840; Medallion Stores, Inc., Dallas, $814,050; Texstar Securities, Inc., San Antonio, $30,000; and Texas Fund, Inc., Houston, $3,000,000.

DRAFT STATUS — In time of crisis, men worry about their draft status.

President Kennedy's arms quarantine on Cuba has brought a flood of calls to State Selective Service headquarters, in Austin, from men concerned about their "obligation."

If you were born before Aug. 30, 1922, you don't have any, says SS headquarters.

If you were born after Aug. 30, 1922, you legally are required to be registered, unless you are not yet 18 years old.

Any man past 35 is no longer liable for military service. But he still is obligated to inform his local draft board of any change of address.

PROBE CONTINUES — House Speaker James Turman and members of the House general investigating committee have been issued subpoenas to appear in Austin before the Travis County grand jury.

Their appearance is desired in connection with a hearing on Contempt-of-the-Legislature charges.

Three witnesses balked at answering the committee's questions during the probe of possible fixing in Southwest Conference basketball games.

Citations charging Milton (Duck) Mallard of Bryan, Enoch (Sig) Dickson of Dallas and M. C. (Sonny) Pearson of Austin were received from Turman by District Attorney Tom Blackwell of Austin.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Bids will be received by Garza County Commissioners' Court, Post, Texas, on November 12, 1962 at 10:00 A. M. for the purchase of one (1) new four wheel drive loader, 1400 x 24 yard capacity, equipped with 117 HP motor, 14:00 x 24 and enclosed cab with heater and bucket seat.

One used Hough loader will be offered as trade in.

Close City carnival is big success, nets $180

By MRS. D. H. BARTLETT
(Editor's Note—this is last week's Close City area news. We are sorry but it arrived too late for use last Thursday. Our correspondent, Mrs. D. H. Bartlett, is in Garza Memorial Hospital this week and unable to write her news of this week.)

The Halloween celebration was a success and I think everyone enjoyed themselves. We appreciated Punk Pei auctioning of the cakes. He did a good job and the funds from that and the pie and coffee equaled more than $180. We missed the families who were not there to join our fun.

There isn't much news this week except illness. There is lots of virus in our community. Ill with it has been victims; the Bert Craigs have been victims; the Guy Troy Nelsons, and Kathy Kuykendal who was also suffering from asthma.

We are sorry to learn that the Ted Tatum has moved from our community into town.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene King and child of Hereford attended homecoming, visited relatives, and Mrs. Suda Gurley in the hospital.

PAMELA CARPENTER visited her grandparents, the C. O. Bucks, last week in Snyder while the Carpenters were with Mrs. Suda Gurley when she was so ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bostick and Mrs. Allen Johnson were hosts at the Bostick home Wednesday night for a 20th anniversary supper honoring Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Justice.

Visitors in the Frank Bostick home during the week were Mrs. Allen Johnson, Mozelle Bartlett, Mrs. Vera Gossett and Sonny and Mrs. Ronnie Morris and son visited the Jimmie Stanafords in Littlefield Sunday. Mrs. Stanford has been ill.

Three formations contribute to development

Garza County's soil story told by SCS

The soils which sustain mankind over the entire globe are a result of a strange, often slow, natural phenomenon, which has transformed barren soil into productive soils, a Soil Conservation Service spokesman here explains.

The methods by which nature has wrought this apparent miracle have been the object of study and investigation for only a relatively short period of time.

Scientists have discovered that many factors are involved in this process. Most important of these factors are time, topography, climate, organisms and parent material, or the original geologic rock from which a soil develops.

Several exposed geologic formations are the parents of most of the rocks are named Quinlan, Woodward and Carey. These soils have a very fine sandy loam surface texture and are easily eroded by water.

The second oldest formation exposed in Garza County is the clayey red bed material, considered to be of Triassic age. This clayey material was deposited over the Permian in a large lake about 180,000,000 years ago. Soils developed from this material have inherited the heavy clayey nature of the red beds. Vernon, Stamford and Tillman are three major soils which have developed in this material.

Post office help count livestock

Rural mail carriers from the office here will leave some stock survey cards along routes beginning Friday.

"Information reported on cards is used to set the year-end inventory of livestock and post Texas farms," Postmaster Voss explained.

Rural carriers will distribute cards at random along their routes. "This means that not every mail carrier will get a card," the postmaster said. "For this reason, it is important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so the U. S. Department of Agriculture can get a true sample of the livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are: Curtis Davies, Route 1; J. D. McCampbell, Route 2; Phil Boucher, Route 3.

POST HIGH GOSSIP

This 'n' That

This Friday the team travels to Spur. This is our last out-of-town game so let's all go and back our boys.

We hear that Barbara Craig is awful proud of her pink pouffe. Is that right, Freddie Stice?

The band is working on their contest music. They've really been working hard and we wish them a lot of luck.

The varsity girls basketball team played a scrimmage game with Southland last week. On Saturday night they played their first game with Moran and brought home a 47-27 victory. Keep up the good work.

Last Thursday afternoon Vonda Howell and Sammie Caffey were given a surprise (?) birthday party at the home of Mary Ann Williams. Gifts were opened and refreshments were served to Janie Carradine, Barbara Craig, Janith Short, Ann Pennington, Alvin Cox, Stanna Butler, Chris Cornish, Marianne Jones, Vonda, Sammie and Mary Ann. Which one of you girls asked Vonda where the party was gonna be?

Our majorettes are going to compete in a twirling contest in Levelland on November 10. Good luck, girls!

What's this 1-2-3 bit with the basketball girls?

Mary Alice Cleveland visited relatives and friends in Odessa and Monahan over the weekend.

Mrs. McRee and the Library Club are very happy to have Sharon Isaacs back in Post High School and in the Library work again. Welcome back, Shirley and Sharon!

If everyone in Post ate at the Snak-Shak we'd be able to run bigger ads.

Remember When

The halls of PHS were not so dangerous?

The seniors were in command (next to the faculty) and set a good example for the under classmen?

The girls were shy around the boys and let them ask for the dates?

The boys always used their own cars, and took the girls somewhere?

The couples used to never break up and have fights?

The students used to study and study and still make low grades?

Everyone rode their bicycles to school instead of cars?

You were in the first grade and used to play tag?

The boys were always gentlemen?

Quarterback Rod Callaway made a spectacular touchdown Friday night in the Wellman game. You're looking good, Rod.

Beverly, whose number did you have on your sock Friday night? The same number that was on your homecoming mum, isn't it? Also the same number of a certain sophomore quarterback out on the field, right?

It has been rumored around school that Mr. and Miss SHS will be elected this week, as well as Best Personality and Most Athletic. Wonder who'll get them?

Jones Stadium At Spur

FRIDAY, NOV. 9

Kickoff At 7:30 P. M. Sharp

The traditional football rivals, the Post Antelopes and the Spur Bulldogs, will clash in Spur's chilly inside stadium Friday night with the winner assured of second place in District 4AA standings.

The locals, who defeated Spur last year for the first time in a decade, will be out to make it two in a row over the Bulldogs. A victory at Spur would send the Antelopes into their season's finale here the following Friday night against Denver City, the state's top-ranked Class AA powerhouse, in a real title clash with both teams unbeaten in district play.

Spur has defeated Frenship, 18-13, a team the Antelopes battled to a dismal scoreless standoff in their district opener. Both clubs have defeated Slaton. Coach Harold Teal's club did it 18-0 with three second half touchdowns. Spur did it last Friday night 26-14. While Post still has Denver City left on the schedule, the Bulldogs will be closing out their 1962 season. They have already faced Denver City, going under 78-12.

One thing the Antelopes have going for them—a stout defense. They have yet to permit a district opponent a single point in two games. The Spur game also is going to be the decider as to whether or not the locals score their first winning football season since 1956.

To date—with unbeaten Denver City to play—the locals have won four, lost three, and tied one. A bump over Spur would assure at least a 5-4-1 campaign, a result which would please most every Antelope fan in Coach Teal's first season at the grid helm.

Post Antelopes travel to Spur for game Friday night

Rejuvenated Bulldogs have two loop wins

Post Antelopes after a layoff will journey to Spur for a game against the Bulldogs—the only team that has as many as two touch-downs against the Denver City Antelopes.

The Bulldogs, winners of their conference games—both conference games—were still "victory hunters" according to reports from Spur. It will be out to avenge a defeat pinned on them by the Antelopes last year. It was the first victory over Spur in ten years.

The Bulldogs don't play good football on Friday night, they are in the "doghouse," Post Coach Harold Teal said today.

Reports are that the Bulldogs in their last two games have no resemblance to the team they looked through their first games.

The regular baseball season is over, but injuries continue to plague Norm Cash, Detroit Tiger first baseman.

In the first game of the Tigers' 17-game barnstorming tour of Japan, Cash was hit on the back of the neck by a pitched ball thrown by lefthander Shochi Ono of the Daimai Orions of Tokyo.

The former Justiceburg resident was taken to a hospital for x-rays. However, a Tiger spokesman said later that the injury was not serious.

The Tigers defeated the Orions, 12-1, before a crowd of 25,000.

SMOKE IN YOUR EYES
It was a clear, crisp fall afternoon, and Pete decided to rake his lawn. He carried the leaves to his back yard and burned them just at the entrance of the alley which ran along the rear of his lot.

The leaves were wet, and Pete found that he had to stir them occasionally in order for proper burning, resulting in a dense cloud of smoke.

Al intended to drive his car into the alley in which Pete was burning the leaves. As he approached the alley, he entered a dense cloud of smoke, so dense in fact that his vision was completely obscured. He nevertheless continued to drive his car into the alley, although he did reduce his speed.

As Al entered the alley Pete was standing next to the curb, completely engulfed by the smoke. Al's car struck Pete.

Pete sued Al claiming that he was negligent in driving into the smoke when he could not see. Al, on the other hand, said that Pete was negligent in standing in the alley in such a dense cloud of smoke when he knew that cars were driven in the alley.

Was Al negligent? Can Pete collect from him for his damages? Pete would not win his case, unless the jury found him not negligent in standing in the alley in a cloud of dense smoke. However, the courts have held that a driver must exercise care commensurate with the situation. It has been recognized in a number of cases that more care than normal is required of a driver traveling through smoke which limits his visibility.

It is the duty of the operator of a car to drive it at such a rate of speed that he can bring his car to a standstill within the distance that he can plainly see objects or obstructions ahead of him. If he continues to proceed when he is unable to see because his vision is obscured he is negligent. When the situation on a highway is such that one's vision is completely obscured, it is his duty to slow down or even stop until the cause of such obscured vision is at least in part removed.

Conference for Church secretaries scheduled

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Christian College's annual Church Secretaries' Conference will be held Saturday, Nov. 10, according to Miss Rosemary Pledger, secretarial science instructor who is in charge of the event. Registration will begin at 8:30 a. m. in the administration building on the LCC campus. The conference will get underway at 9:15 a. m. and continue through a noon luncheon.

The theme of this year's conference, entitled "Words Fifty Spoken," will encompass both written and oral communications.

No reservations are necessary. There will be a registration fee of 50 cents per person to defray expenses of the conference, and the charge for the luncheon in the college cafeteria will be $1.25 per plate.

FARMERS BIG BUYERS

U. S. farmers last year spent $42 billion to buy goods and services from the rest of us and from other farmers. Though farm people now make up only 8 per cent of the nation's population, they bought 13 per cent of the petroleum produced in the U. S.; 8 per cent of the rubber; twice as much steel as the railroad industry—about 5 million tons; more electricity than was used by the cities of Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Chicago, Boston, Detroit and Houston combined; more tractors and trucks than any other industry; 50 million tons of chemicals and much, much more. All of us have a big stake in farm prosperity.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's November. And in many a local Church it's time to think about the budget for another year.

This is cause for being thankful. Really it is!

For aren't there many places in this world where men haven't any opportunity to support their Church . . . or any Church to support if they had opportunity?

And aren't there many places where men are compelled to work for causes they do not believe in . . . instead of free to work for a cause in which they do believe?

Frankly, much of the responsibility for keeping our land and our people what we want them to be rests with our Churches.

So let's rejoice in that happy American tradition — the Church budget.

And, in keeping with another fine tradition of our people, let's roll up our sleeves and help!

FARM-RELATED JOBS
 Some 6 million people are employed in providing the goods and services that farmers buy. An estimated 10 million work at transporting, processing, storing and selling farm products. It is estimated that 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture. To the nation it would be hard to find a more important customer of American agriculture.

Dear Editor:
 For more than 50 years newspapers have aided in the fight to eliminate tuberculosis in the U. S. It's been a good effort. And the results today are gratifying. The death rate is much lower, but 10,000 Americans still die each year of TB.
 We haven't been so successful in controlling the number who contract TB. A quarter of a million Americans have TB at this moment tens of thousands of them not even knowing they are sick. Those not being treated and those receiving inadequate treatment continue to spread the TB germ. Today one-fifth of our population, or well over 30 million people, still harbor the TB infection.
 The TB association works to prevent the spread of this disease in these ways: finding and assisting patients to treatment; tuberculin testing children; research; continuous efforts toward bettering community services in TB control.
 Christmas Seals support this work. The 1962 Christmas Seal campaign begins Nov. 13 and continues through Christmas.
 Thank you again for your help. Sincerely,
 Mrs. Bess Harris Jones

MAN WITH AN IDEA

John Franklin Carll, pioneer geologist who applied his knowledge of underground rock formations to the search for oil, was one of the many men whose ideas sparked oil's first century of progress.

Carll's published reports are asserted to have created the geology of petroleum. They became standard reference works and were important in the development of knowledge about sub-surface oil accumulation.

Until Carll's work gained recognition, it was thought that great rivers of sub-surface oil flowed from Canada through Pennsylvania to Mexico. He insisted that the best guides for oil prospectors were rock structures.

Since 1859, when the first oil well was drilled, men with ideas have worked to provide Americans with this abundant, low-cost source of energy - energy that has meant more human progress in the last century than in the previous 6,000 years.

Highway Department Travel Division publishes booklet listing 324 tours

AUSTIN — Tourists interested in visiting Texas industries need wonder no longer which plants have the welcome mat out and how they may arrange to tour them. The information is contained in a first-of-its-kind booklet, Visitor Tours of Texas Industry, published by the Travel Division of the Texas Highway Department.

It lists 324 tours in 70 Texas cities. The first section of the publication discusses 77 regularly-scheduled tours. The later portion is devoted to 247 additional tours that can be arranged by appointment. Each listing offers the name of the industry, its address or telephone number, name of the plant contact, the products it produces, days and hours of tours, their approximate duration and whether linguists are available for the foreign visitor's benefit.

The data was supplied the Highway Department, Texas' official travel promotion agency, by chambers of commerce. Need for such a guide was manifest by the increasing numbers of visitors, as well as Texans, who asked the Travel Division about industrial tours. Attempts to refer them to satisfactory existing material came to naught. So the decision was made to prepare a booklet in cooperation with the state's chambers of commerce.

The result is believed to be the most complete industrial tour guide ever produced in Texas. Diversification of industries is pronounced, both in the scores of smaller communities listed as well as in Texas' major cities. There are, for example, auto assembly plants and aircraft manufacturers, plants turning out hand-made boots and saddles, sugar refineries and sulphur mines. Also, port facilities, petroleum refineries and petrochemical plants, boat manufacturers and clothing plants. Included too is the government's saline water conversion demonstration plant at Freeport, the nation's largest school for naval aviators at Corpus Christi, ranches, scientific research laboratories, barite and talc mines and food processing plants.

Complimentary copies of Visitor Tours of Texas Industry are now available upon request from the Travel Division, Texas Highway Department, Austin, and from the eight Tourist Bureaus operated by the Highway Department around the state.

An estimated two million people now have or have had active tuberculosis—the oldest known respiratory disease. Christmas Seals fight TB and other respiratory diseases.

'Five Weeks in a Balloon' is Tower feature

"Five Weeks in a Balloon," the first book published by famed 19th-century novelist Jules Verne, is exactly 100 years old this year. As part of an International Centennial Celebration, motion picture producer Irwin Allen has filmed "Five Weeks in a Balloon" for 20th Century-Fox, and the CinemaScope Deluxe Color production will appear at the Tower Theatre here Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9-10.

"Five Weeks in a Balloon" is a straightforward adventure-comedy, without the science fiction elements that so preoccupied Verne later in his career. It details the hilarious adventures of seven would-be explorers (five men, two women) who stage a madcap, 4,000-mile balloon race across Africa. Suspense is built and maintained as the adventurers progress from Zanzibar to Hezek to Timbuktu in an effort to reach the Gold Coast and plant the British flag before the whole region falls into the hands of slave traders.

'World's Fair' title is proved at Dallas

DALLAS — All fifty of the United States and at least 25 nations from around the world were represented by visitors to the 1962 State Fair of Texas in Dallas. And on one day—the middle Sunday, Oct. 14—a minimum of 207 cities in Texas were represented by fairgoers. These figures were obtained from an informal survey conducted during the 16-day Fair and the results announced following the Fair by James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager.

TIPS ON MILKING
 Good milking procedures save time, control mastitis, and above all get more milk for the dairyman, says Shannon Carpenter, area extension dairy specialist. An important part of the procedure is to see that everything is ready before the cows are brought into the barn, he says.

SHORT COURSE SET
 The 1962 Dairyman's Short Course will be held Nov. 29-30 at Texas A&M College. According to A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist, the latest information on dairy cattle feeding, breeding and management as well as the marketing of milk and milk products will be presented by a group of top speakers. Local county agents can supply detailed information on the program.

Miss Kathryn Nell Stone weds Gerald Dean Jr. here Saturday

Repeating double wedding ring vows last Saturday at 6:30 o'clock in the evening were Miss Kathryn Nell Stone and Gerald Dean Jr. Officiating at the ceremony at the Post Church of Christ was Mr. Kenneth Rhoades, dean of men at Lubbock Christian College.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Stone, Route 3, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean Sr., of Capitan, N. M.

The bridal aisle was lighted with cathedral tapers and the ceremony took place before an archway of white roses flanked by candelabras and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of silk organza over taffeta with scoop neckline with scalloped lace and three-quarter length sleeves. Her ballerina-length veil of tulle fell from a crown of pearls and crystals. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids accented with stephanotis and satin ribbons tied in love knots.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Elwyn Pierce, sister of the bride, wearing a dress of magenta colored acetate and rayon with a high round neckline, three-quarter sleeves, and bouffant skirt. She wore a matching hat of leaves with a veil of maline and carried a colonial cascade of sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Other attendants were Miss Mary Ann Stone, sister of the bride, Mrs. Randell Laurence, sister of the bride, Miss Janie Dean, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jerrel Stone, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore dresses similar to the matron of honor.

Miss Terri Laurence and Greg Laurence, niece and nephew of the

Mr. C and I tried a little experiment Halloween night. How it came out we'll never know. We had to leave the house for about 45 minutes shortly after dark and not wanting to disappoint a ny trick or treaters, we put a basket of candies on the porch with a big sign reading: "We had to leave for awhile. Help yourselves, but remember there will be others behind you. Happy Halloween."

Naturally when we returned the basket was completely empty. We still don't know if 100 kiddies came by; (that was the number of wrapped pieces we left) one kiddie that helped himself to 100 pieces; or just a normal amount of chillun that thought this was a mighty fine opportunity.

For the benefit of those that do not approve of trick or treaters, Oscar Garner reports to us that there is a decline from three years ago. He (probably she) keeps count of those that come to their home on Main Street and three years ago they had 191 at their door. This year they counted 158 spoons—a gain of only five over last year.

One of the cutest stories I heard was about the men meeting at a local church. They kept hearing a timid knock, so finally one went to the door. There stood a small boy. After explaining that they had no treats to give him because they were having a business meeting, one of the fellows suggested he should give them treats. The boy left for a second and returned with a piece of bubble gum for all. I hear they all chewed hardily (the only way one can chew bubble gum) while finishing up their meeting.

May I offer one word of advice to the burners of the outhouses? Since there are so few left in town not cemented down, let us not be so wasteful as to burn two on the same night.

We had an anonymous phone call at the office Halloween afternoon with the caller wondering if we planned on taking any pictures that night. I took down the address and he hunted vainly in that area for something unusual to take a picture of. The lady calling had refused to give her name or tell what we might find. There is such a thing as being too coy.

When do girls stop being "girls"? I mean this matter of age can be a ticklish thing. Occasionally I get a call from someone saying the "girls" did such and so. That's fine till I start to write the story and then I start wondering whether I should use girls, gals, females, ladies, women, matrons, or what.

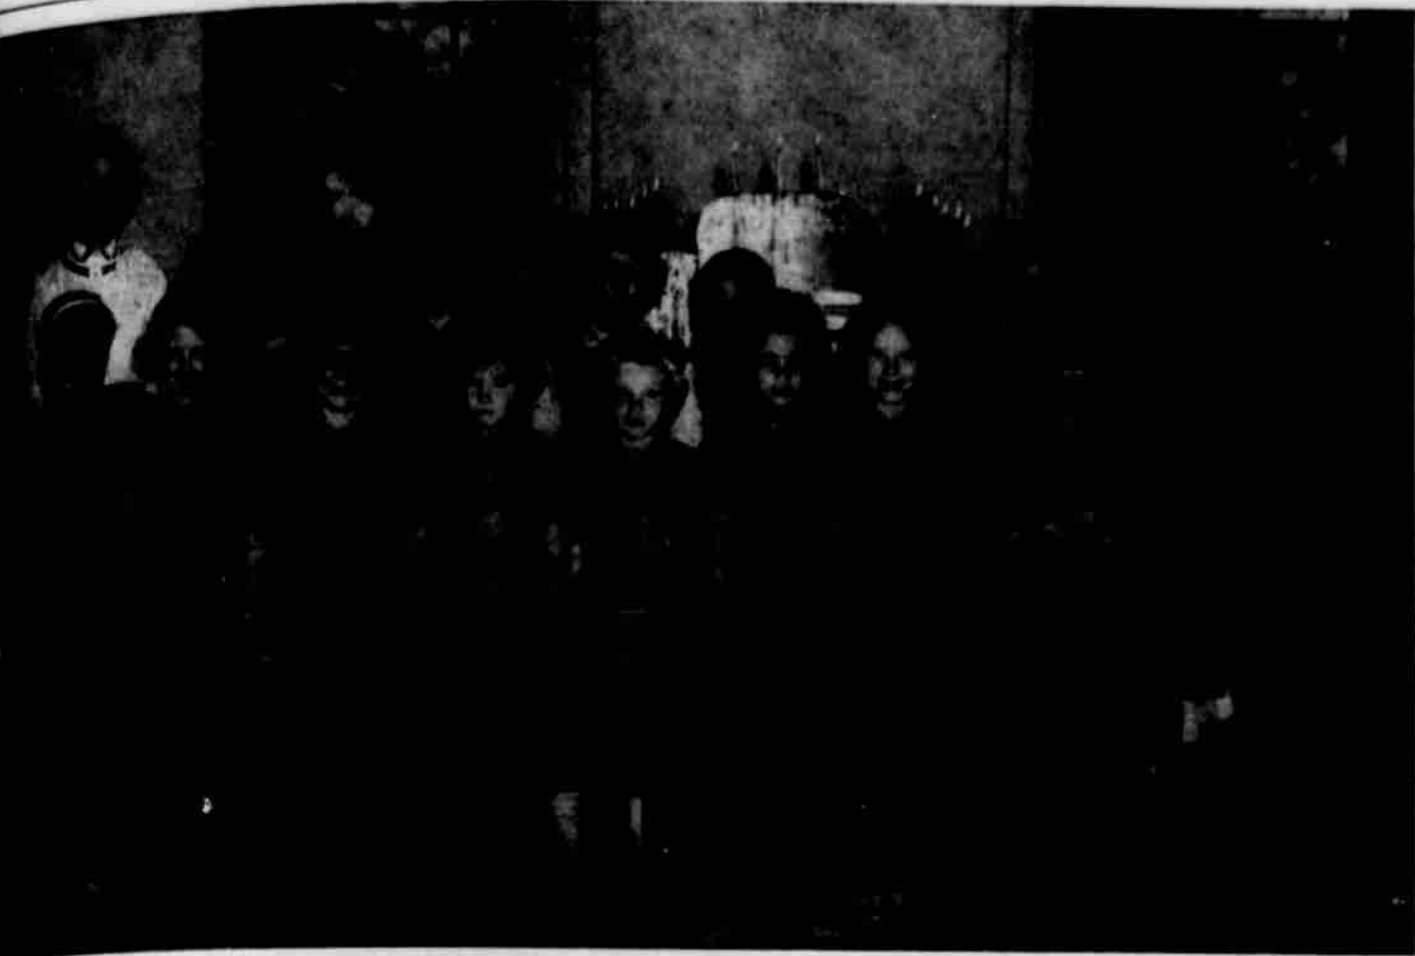

When someone calls and reports that the ladies met I certainly use the word ladies. Given my choice I usually use women (for no reason at all) and sometimes I even go along with the gag and use "girls".

Still no word from Elmo Bush and after my first trip to the dam site Sunday afternoon, I'm tempted to buy that boat myself. It takes quite a bit of imagination to visualize a big lake out there but Mr. C keeps telling me there will be and I believe him, (sort of) so I'm getting boat-minded. Maybe if I could find a hat expensive enough, we just could trade out even.

We dropped in at the picturesque White River cafe for a cup of hot coffee and it's right good. The lady in charge said it was because of the water—well, I suppose.

The traffic was pretty heavy out that way—sightseers from all four towns, no doubt. They even have the roads marked with directions for the "visitors", so if you haven't been out, go.

Investiture held for Brownies of Post's Troop 84

An investiture service was held Sunday afternoon for members of Brownie Troop No. 84 in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Parents of the troop were guests and each mother was presented a corsage which her daughter had made.

Adult members of the troop were invested first in an impressive ceremony as troop leaders, Mrs. Darrell, Eckols, Mrs. Gene Gandy and Mrs. Ray McKeown, and committee members Mrs. James Dietrich, Mrs. Gene Grice and Mrs. Katharine Trammell formed a semi-circle around the trofrol. Mrs. Trammell led the group in the Girl Scout promise as she lighted a gold candle for each of the three parts of the promise. Each adult then gave two of the 10 Girl Scout Laws and lighted a green candle for each law. Girl Scout pins and Brownie leader guards were then presented to the ladies.

Brownies enacted the Brownie story as they came to the pool, one by one, and formed a circle around the pool and repeated the Brownie promise and sang the Brownie Smile song.

Mrs. Eckols presented Brownie pins to the following:

Jan Bilbo, Elizabeth Britton, Jo Beth Gandy, Phyllis Eckols, Jessie Lee George, Patricia Greenwood, Martha Grice, Cynthia Hill, Jean Huffman, Debbie Hundley, Martha Sue McKeown, Crystal Nichols, Vicki Odom, Kathie Smith and Laurie Wilson.

Refreshments of orange sherbet, coffee and trefoil cookies iced in chocolate were served by Mmes. Dietrich, Grice and Trammell, hostesses for the affair.

Sunday, Nov. 11 is Veterans Day

Sunday, Nov. 11, is Veteran's Day and this year's observance, because of the troubled international situation, takes on added significance.

It has been said many times before, but it will always bear repeating, that we owe to our war veterans the position this country enjoys today—that of being able to stand up for its own rights and the rights of the rest of the free world.

However, despite one major war and a number of lesser conflicts since Armistice Day—the forerunner of Veteran's Day—most sections of the nation have lost interest in honoring the war veterans. In only a very few places do they still have the parades, the picnics, the speaking and the other activities that once marked the day set aside to honor our nation's ex-servicemen and women.

In fact, in most places the Veterans Day observances today are carried out by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other service organizations, with the general public taking very little, if any, part.

The Nov. 11 date, of course, comes close to the Thanksgiving holiday and the opening of the Christmas season, but still far enough away that its proper observance would work no conflict in any community with any other observance.

We owe it to our veterans to pay them more respect nationwide than we are now doing. Armistice Day was started as their day, with the name later changed to Veterans Day so that it would be all-inclusive. Whatever the name, the idea behind it remains unchanged. We, in our observance of it, are the only ones who have changed.—CD

Chest drive to be all-out effort

It'll soon be Garza Community Chest time again.

The chest organization was reorganized this week for the annual campaign, this time to raise funds for the 1963 operations of all participating organizations.

The Chest each year is a huge undertaking, but certainly a very worthy one.

It combines the financial fund raising of all organizations into one single effort. It is run by a representative group of local citizens who thus keep their hand firmly on our "giving throttle" to be sure that the requests of all organizations are in line both with the need and availability of local funds.

The Chest's budget committee will be meeting next Monday to check the requests of participating organizations and to draw up a recommended budget for the campaign.

In a couple of more weeks, the drive will be in full cry.

As in past years, the biggest Chest problem is to get everybody to give and to share the financial support of all the many participating organizations.

Big plans for Yuletide season

Post's retail merchants are organizing for an all-out Christmas effort this year.

The Yuletide season will be ushered in here the weekend of Nov. 30-Dec. 1 with a simultaneous turning on of the downtown Christmas lights and a Christmas window unveiling complete with Christmas music and a Christmas window contest for that first gala night. Oh, yes, Santa Claus will be there, too.

What's more, the merchants will usher in the holiday buying season next weekend by launching a Fall Festival of Values, beginning Friday, Nov. 14.

This year the merchants have tried hard to sponsor various promotions they felt would interest trade area shoppers and give them outstanding bargain values. These have been under the

Each year, the big gifts division—those who contribute $25 or more—bears far too great a share of the giving. Each year more and greater efforts are made to carry the Chest message to everyone in the Garza community. Each year there is more widespread participation.

How much to give? What is my fair share? The normal yardstick for measurement is the equal of one day's pay. That spreads the load. Many in the big gifts division give several times one day's pay actually so that the goal can be met.

Remember it can be pledged and paid for monthly or quarterly if you so desire, so that all of it doesn't have to come out of a single paycheck.

Garza's Community Chest has been successful for the past several years, but each year it has become harder and harder to reach the goal and only by using dwindling reserves have the participating organizations been paid in full.

This year an all-out effort is essential. And since the time is close start thinking about it. Give generously to support these many worthy organizations. Give your fair share.—JC banner of Howdy Days. Considerable enthusiasm has been generated in close merchant cooperation and in building Post into a bigger and better trading center.

All of this is to our good. Keeping the customer continually in mind and merchant cooperation to help the customer even more has sparked new interest on the part of area shoppers.

Post is beginning to draw better and better from the very fringes of its trade area. The word is getting around that Post merchants are making an all-out effort to please and to price their merchandise attractively.

Now the merchants are going to top off the year with their best Yuletide effort in many years here. All of which helps Post live up to its new slogan: "Post—A Little Bit Better."—JC

Grid fare well worth watching

It may turn out as small consolation to members of the Post Antelope football team, but the way things look right now, they more than likely will be hosting the next Class AA champions of Texas Friday night, Nov. 16, when they "entertain" the Denver City Mustangs.

The impressive record already set this season by the Mustangs, the fire and fight of this year's Antelope team and the fact that it will be the last regularly scheduled game of the season for both elevens should help draw a big crowd to Antelope Stadium for the clash.

There also is the possibility of a major upset. If an upset should occur in this case and you didn't see it take place, it would almost be equal to missing something like seeing a pitcher hurl a no-hitter in a World Series contest or a blindfolded bowler roll a 300 game.

Two years ago, the Denver City team went on to win the state championship after playing here. Last year, they won the district title, but lost in the playoffs. This season, through their first eight games, they have the best record in state Class AA circles. Followers of schoolboy football are asking, "Who can stop them?"

So, even if no upset takes place here the night of Nov. 16, it will be well worth the price of admission just to see such a powerhouse as Denver City in action.—CD

Another grand opening for Post

A few weeks ago we wrote an editorial on anniversary observances by business firms, in which we said that we always liked to publicize such anniversaries because they are in indication of a community's solidarity as a . . . well, as a community.

We are just as happy to report grand openings, such as the one held Saturday by Post's newest business firm, Wilke's Supplies.

What our contemporaries are saying

Congress has one advantage over married life. Congress can adjourn and end all the arguments about bills.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

It is easy to become lost when we deviate from the direction being followed by the masses, which is precisely the fate of many leaders who pause to look back and, to their dismay, discover that they are alone.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

At a social gathering here recently, a Californian was discussing state politics with me. "You do it a little differently here," he said. "There seems to be more emphasis on the entertainment side at political rallies in this state." He was trying to be nice, but he stated an unpleasant political truth. Too many candidates have a better string band than their opponent.

It is time we grew up in Texas. I'm quite aware that the same thing is true of other states, that even in California they trot out movie stars, etc. But this is no reason for Texas to remain sunk in the bog of ignorance.—Pat Bennett in The Crosbyton Review.

American psychology is a marvelous thing, and it is not surprising that our enemies and allies alike sometimes get confused.—George Baker in The Fort Stockton Pioneer.

IT ISN'T MANY more shopping days until Christmas, but in the meantime there are other things to watch for. The week coming up, Nov. 11-17, is Asparagus Week. And, starting Nov. 15 is a six-week campaign by the National Pickle Packers Association to promote the product. The slogan: "Holidays Are Pickle Days."

"Yes," said the personnel manager to the job applicant, "what we're after is a man of vision; a man with drive, determination, fire; a man who can inspire others; a man who can pull our bowling team out of last place!"

WHEN I ran the puzzle about the five houses, five nationalities, five brands of smokes, etc., in last week's column, I was totally unprepared for the response I received to the invitation for readers to work the puzzle, if they could. Luckily, I had the answer—and none too soon. Calls started coming in soon after the paper was off the press.

THE FIRST PERSON to call the office about the puzzle hadn't worked it, but he wanted to know the answer. He didn't get it. Shortly after I got home, Herb Smith, the Church of Christ minister, called to say that he'd spent a few minutes working on the puzzle, but, since he had a meeting going on at his church, he didn't have time to finish it right then. If he didn't have the answer, Herb didn't, but he was mighty close—so close, in fact, that I'm sure he finally worked it correctly.

The first person to come up with the correct answer and win a year's subscription to The Dispatch was Mrs. R. E. (Bobbie) Josey, bookkeeper at the Graham Co-op Gin. Mrs. Josey called my house a little after 7 o'clock Friday morning and wanted to know if her solution was correct—if the Norwegian drinks water and the Jap owns a zebra. She had it right on the button, and made me feel a little more dim-witted than usual at that time of the morning when she said she'd worked the puzzle in something less than 30 minutes the night before. I confessed that it had taken me considerably longer than that to work it. (I'm still not saying just how long it did take me.)

THEN, WHEN I got down to the office Friday morning, I found a note in my typewriter from Publisher Jim Cornish telling me that Mrs. Ed Blanton had called in her answer. It, too, was correct. So, if I'd offered a consolation prize, Mrs. Blanton would have been the winner.

Early in the afternoon, Chief Frank Runkles came in from out at the Boy Scout Camp with his solution to the puzzle—also correct. Frank took some more wind out of my puzzle-working sails by saying he'd solved the puzzle during the noon hour, most of which he'd taken off for lunch. Frank gave me a hint of how he'd solved it, and I immediately saw why it had taken me so long. I had gone about it the hard way.

THEN, SATURDAY morning came a telegram from former Postite Dowe Mayfield Jr. in Lubbock, which read, "You nut the Norwegian drinks water, the Japanese owns zebra. Send subscription to Dowe Mayfield Jr., 4907 42nd, Lubbock, Texas." So, I can get even with Dowe Junior for calling me a nut by informing him that his answer arrived too late to win the subscription.

If I'd had any idea the puzzle would have created so much interest, I'd have set a time for those working it to call in so that people getting their paper on the routes or by other mail would have had an equal opportunity to win the subscription.

ANOTHER FELLOW, who didn't want to give his name after learning that his solution was too late to win the prize, asked me why we didn't run a regular "puzzle corner" feature of some sort in The Dispatch. I hadn't thought of it, but I assure all puzzle fans that if I run across another one as provocative as the one that appeared last week, we'll find some place to run it.

The man up the street says progress involves some risk—you can't steal second and stay on first, too.

Solution to cotton plant nitrogen puzzle is being sought by CPI

BUCK — A research project of key parts to the puzzle of the cotton plant uses nitrogen and producing fruit was started today by the Cotton Production Institute.

Announcement of the grant was made by Russell Gitten, Fresno, Calif., cotton grower who is chairman of the trustees, the local men said. Aim is to develop facts on nitrogen's role in determining when and how much a cotton plant fruits. The information is needed to develop better guides for farmers to follow in lowering unit production cost and improving raw fiber quality. Generally, upland cottons now set and mature bolls from less than 50 per cent of their flowers, regardless of cultural and management levels or soil and environmental conditions.

However, exceptions have occurred. In some cases, boll set percentages have been increased with added nitrogen. "Excess" nitrogen has reduced flower initiation in other instances. The research will probe the effects of different forms and amounts of nitrogen on flowering efficiency, biochemical processes involved in the plant's use of nitrogen, and the role of certain growth regulators.

This is one of 11 projects for which funds have been budgeted by Institute trustees. An arrangement with the Board of Directors of the National Cotton Council enables the Institute to use without charge Council facilities and staff for developing and supervising both research and promotion projects.

Home Economics Covers Large Segment of 4-H Work

Over Million Learn Home, Career Skills

CANNING was the first 4-H project for girls about 50 years ago came under the heading of "home economics." Cooking and sewing were soon added. Today about 1 1/2 million girls between 10 and 21 years old are engaged in a broad program of home economics projects.

They not only learn many skills for building happy homes, but also acquire important knowledge and experience to guide them into future careers and successful marriages.

In 1933, with the approval of the Cooperative Extension Service, a specific awards program that encompassed all 4-H home economics projects was set up. The sponsor was Montgomery Ward, which already had been an active supporter of 4-H youths for a decade.

Pretty 17-year-old 4-H'er Donna Roberts is demonstrating variations of rolls to be made from a basic yeast dough. She might well be preparing for a future career as a home economist in teaching or business.

Since that time national recognition has touched 153 young women because they were selected as the most outstanding members completing home economics projects. Their reward was a college scholarship provided by the mail order firm.

Soon another batch of home economics scholarship winners will be named by the Extension Service. In November, six girls will be chosen from among 1962 state award winners who will meet at the National 4-H Club Congress opening in Chicago Nov. 25. The trips will be paid for by Montgomery Ward and all 50 girls will be guests at a banquet in their honor.

And what lies ahead for these talented young women? The answer may be found in the results of a recent survey of former home economics scholarship recipients spanning a 25-year period. Of the 110 respondents, 78 per cent had attended college. About 86 per cent of this group pursued home economics careers in the following areas: teaching, dietetics, nursing, Extension Service, library, social work and business.

A review of additional jobs awaiting future home economics graduates suggests journalism, advertising and sales, textile and clothing design, research, interior decorating, and the vast field of human and animal nutrition including outer space travelers.

The National 4-H Home Economics program has much to offer the pre-teen member as well as the older girl.

Shown here are six of the 29 members of the Country Maidens 4-H Club with their leader, Mrs. Ben Illyes (second from right) in Jackson township, Hamilton county, Ind., discussing construction of a garment. A former 4-H'er herself, Mrs. Illyes has worked with this home economics club for the last five years. The girls are, from left, back row: Connie Anderson, 13; Beth Ann Nighenteiler, 16; front, from left: Marcia Anderson, 14; Tonja Costomitis, 13; and her sister, Becky, 15; Mrs. Illyes and Jean Nighenteiler, 11. The club is typical of many throughout the country.

'Bird Man of Alcatraz' opens Sunday at Tower

Two men were frustrated and furious when three wardens would not let them INTO prison. These reverse jail-breakers were Burt Lancaster, star of "Bird Man of Alcatraz", and his partner, Harold Hecht, who presented this unusual film, opening Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Tower Theatre and continuing through Wednesday.

Karl Malden, Thelma Ritter, Neville Brand and Edmond O'Brien co-star with Lancaster in the exciting story based on the life (most of which has been spent in prison) of Robert Stroud—two-time, killer, scientist and author.

The Battle of Alcatraz, most spectacular mutiny in Federal prison annals, climaxes "Bird Man of Alcatraz."

Prison Rodeo's winners named

HUNTSVILLE — A former Houston man, serving a 99-year-term on the Clemens Unit, Texas Department of Corrections, led the field of inmate contestants at the 31st Annual Texas Prison Rodeo here to walk off with the championship for the four Sunday performances in October.

O'Neal Browning, who has been competing in the prison rodeo for the past 13 years, captured $228.50 in prize money. A consistent money-winner, Browning was crowned champion of the rodeo in 1958.

Second place honors went to Willie Craig of Dallas, serving 40 years on the Retrieve Unit. Craig's prize money totaled $182.

Gail Hall, another oldtimer, received $112.50 for third place. Hall, of Odessa, serving 25 years on the Ellis Unit, has just completed his 14th prison rodeo series. He was champion in 1952 and again in 1955.

Discrimination against white students alleged in lawsuit

Close City ISD named defendant

A civil suit alleging racial discrimination—in this case discrimination against whites instead of Negroes—was filed yesterday in district court here against the Close City Independent School District. The cross-discrimination suit is believed to be the first of its kind filed anywhere in Texas and perhaps in the United States.

The suit, naming A. C. Cash and his children, Jodi and Jill Cash, as plaintiffs, was filed by Pat N. Walker, attorney for the plaintiffs.

Tuition payments and transportation by the Close City School District are involved in the suit.

The suit sets forth that the Close City school district, which teaches through the seventh grade, is paying a tuition charge of approximately $225 per pupil to the Post Independent School District for eight Negro students who have not finished the seventh grade, but that it has refused to pay the same tuition charges for five white students who have not finished the seventh grade.

THE SUIT further alleges that a school bus operated by the Close City district transports the Negro students to and from the Post school, but has failed and refused to transport the white students below the seventh grade whose parents have transferred them to the Post schools.

The suit alleges "rank discrimination" against the plaintiffs and deprivation of their constitutional rights.

The suit filed for Cash defines the Close City school district's classification of students as follows:

Class I: All students, male and female, of the white and Negro races, who have finished the seventh grade.

Class II: All students, male and female, of the white race, who have not finished the seventh grade, but whose parents have not sought to have their child transferred out of the district for educational purposes.

Class III: All students, male and female, of the white and Negro races, who have not finished the seventh grade.

Councilmen pass new ordinance on utility rates
The city council Monday night passed an ordinance providing for an adjustment in water rates and "ordinating other matters relative to rendering water and sewer service."

The new ordinance, which is published as a legal notice on page 13 of today's Dispatch, sets a $2.50 monthly minimum for the first 3,000 gallons of water, 40 cents per 1,000 gallons for each additional 1,000 gallons up to 50,000 plus 35 cents per 1,000 for each additional 1,000 gallons up to 100,000 gallons, plus 33 cents per 1,000 for each additional 1,000 above 100,000 gallons.

The new schedule calls for a five-cent reduction from present rates after the first 5,000 gallons and a seven-cent reduction after the next 50,000 gallons.

The new rate schedule also calls for increasing the tapping charge from the present $15 charge to $30.

Monthly sewer rates and cash deposits for water for residences, public buildings and business places range from $1.50 up to $15 for sewer rates and from $10 to $25 for water deposits. The rates are listed in the ordinance on page 13.

A charge of $5 for each sewer connection is also provided for in the ordinance.

70 city arrests October report
Chief of Police Elton Corley's October report to the city council Monday night showed 70 arrests and $935.50 collected in fines.

Thirty-three of the arrests were for being drunk, according to Corley's report, with a total of $730.30 in fines collected. Seven persons were arrested for traffic violations, with fines totaling $40. Other arrests were for such offenses as vagrancy, gambling, using profane language, fighting and indecent exposure.

Whom who have not finished the seventh grade and whose parents have caused their child to be transferred out of the district for educational purposes.

THE SCHOOL district, according to Cash' petition, has agreed to pay the tuition of all the students of Class III who are members of the Negro race, but have refused to pay the tuition charges of the students of Class III who are members of the white race.

The determination as to whose tuition should be paid and whose tuition should not be paid is based wholly and exclusively upon the race of the students, the suit alleges.

As such, the petition continues, it is a violation of Article I, Section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, "in that Defendants' action deprives the plaintiffs, Jodi Cash and Jill Cash, of equal rights as provided . . . (by) the Texas Constitution."

"In addition thereto," the petition continues, "Defendants' action deprives the plaintiffs . . . of equal protection of the laws as guaranteed by the 14th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, and deprives the Plaintiff, A. C. Cash, of property without due process of law and further deprives him of the equal protection of laws as guaranteed by the 14th Amendment . . ."

CASH SAID the school bus carrying the Negro students to and from the Post schools goes past his house.

The Close City school district turned down a proposal to abolish the dual school system just before the beginning of the present term. Soon afterward, the board voted to pay the costs of tuition of Negro students below the seventh grade transferred to Post and to transport these students to and from school.

The seven-member Close City school board named as defendant in the suit is composed of Arvil Smith, R. H. Sappington, D. H. Bartlett, John E. Nelson, Melvin Basinger, Troy Nelson and J. M. Tipton.

Annexation to be considered

River water district director's special meeting last night set for 10 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 13, for a public session for possible annexation of the district in the four municipalities which are not now in the district.

On election nights, there is usually more interest from our phone callers in "Justiceburg politics" than any other. Long before the Justiceburg box came in Tuesday night there were a number of calls here at the office simply asking: "What happened at Justiceburg?"

While standing the "courthouse watch" for the returns to come in, we heard there was talk all day from that highly active precinct of a write-in campaign for Sid Cross in a renewal of his primary battle with Mason Justice for county commissioner. But it didn't develop into much. Sid got only 4 write-ins to 52 for Mason.

But Justiceburg had some "fun" anyway. There was quite a bit of "writing in" for their new Justice of the peace and constable. While D. F. McWhirt, who won the nomination on a primary write-in, won the JP race handily with 34 votes, Sam Bevers Jr., got 9 write-ins, Bobby Tidwell 5, Henry Key 1, and Cecil Smith 4. And in the constable's race, Harry Wood, also a write-in nominee in May, won with 32, Bobby Tidwell got 11 write-ins, Sam Bevers Jr., 8, and Henry Key 1.

All the boxes were in the courthouse by 10 p. m. Tuesday night despite the long amendment ballot. The big No. 1 box in Post, which counted 405 of the county's 1,034 votes, didn't make its avowed goal of an 8 p. m. completion but Election Judge Walter Crider scored a victory nonetheless by hustling in at 9:40 and sending the courthouse "watch crew" home early.

A moving freight car loaded with an Army tank, ammunition and tank batteries caught fire just out of Slaton early Tuesday afternoon, with firemen here extinguishing the blaze.

The fire caught at the end of the car loaded with batteries. Firemen and train crewmen agreed the fire could easily have proved disastrous if the fire had been at the other end, where the ammunition was being carried.

The fire was discovered between Slaton and Post and the crew radioed the Santa Fe depot office here, from where the alarm was turned in to the fire department.
