WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The American defense posture is too much at a grocery check out stand, instead of on the target range. That would seem to sum up the remarks of Senator Paul Douglas in criticizing the vast extent of the armed services commissaries operating in the United States.

In a survey of the situation, he has found that by 1959 there were 269 food stores being operated by the armed services, many of them in metropolitan areas where there is no shortage of highly competitive private stores.

The Senator from Illinois has come up with some quite startling figures. He has found that in the fiscal year starting in mid 1958, these stores did a sales volume of $366,659,000.

This sales volume was presumably produced from a total of 914,247 holders of permits to buy in the commissaries, of which 744,517 live off the military posts or bases, presumably surrounded by privately operated grocery stores.

And while it has long been the contention of the military that few military personnel are involved in slicing bologna and stacking prunes, Sen. Douglas finds out of the 8,851 employees in these stores, 4,978 are military. The pay for this military personnel totals $17,283,380, or only slightly less than the payments made to the civilian employees.

Sen. Douglas points out that this military employment is almost equal to a full division. Perhaps there are thousands of mothers who instead of singing "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier" are singing "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Grocery Clerk."

But in addition to the waste of potential combat power, the Senator's figures seem to indicate that there is a substantial subsidy involved, going mostly to the higher ranks, as majority of enlisted men eat in the company mess halls.

Groceries are sold with a 3% markup. Presumably, this covers the overhead costs. Yet, the pay for the military personnel so engaged is more than 4.9%, and with the pay to the civilian personnel, labor costs alone are almost 10%.

In addition, there is almost 5,000,000 square feet of store and warehouse space used on military installations.

Thus, if a fair rental value were paid for the space, this plus the labor cost, would bring operating costs up higher than those of private store operators. However, private store operators have no way of getting a government subsidy to handle most of their overhead.

But as big as these apparently tax subsidized store operations are now, they are going to get even bigger.

That is the information released by Maj. Gen. Ray Laux, army and air force post exchange chief, who says as more men come into the services, the bigger the retail operations. It's going to be hard to tell if a section leader is a top combat man, or head clerk in the produce section.

BEAUTIFUL LAWNS Good year-round maintenance can help homeowners have that beautiful lawn. Ted Trew, extension pasture specialist, says it's about time to give the lawn an application of fertilizer. Do it when the lawn grass begins to grow. He suggests a soil test to determine what kind and amounts of plant foods are needed and that a visit with the local county agent be made for details on a lawn care program.

I Give You Texas ...

By BOYCE HOUSE

More recollections from early boyhood—

My father became a traveling salesman—a "drummer"—was the term used in those days—and he called on drug stores. Sometimes, I would accompany him on his travels. (I was five.) We went by train. (However, to reach interior points, he would hire a buggy from a livery stable.) One of the thrills of traveling on the train was at dusk the porter came through with a flame on a long stick and lighted the lamps overhead—and the brilliantly illuminated train thundered on through the darkening countryside.

I liked to stand in the aisle of the swaying coach; and determined, when I grew up, to be a conductor.

Some of the traveling men carried a quill toothpick in a little case and, after a meal, they would bring the quill into action. Most of them wore lodge emblems, one in the lapel, the other dangling from the watch chain. My father wore only one, with the letters "F C B" which, when I asked him, he told me stood for "Fresh Country Butte." All the traveling men, including of course my father—in fact, especially my father—knew the funniest stories; and the merchants and customers (or hangers-on) would even stop playing checkers to gather around with anticipatory smiles when a drummer entered.

My father and I stayed in the small-town hotels and ate in the hotel dining rooms. Sometimes the food was served, family style; but I liked the individual serving with a ring of six or seven small dishes around one's plate. I thought it was all very wonderful.

My grandmother on my father's side, I can not remember a great deal about as we did not visit her often and she died when I was small. But my grandmother on my mother's side, we frequently visited. She had a wonderful home—made of logs, in the hills of Clay County, ten miles from Piggott, my birthplace. On the parlor wall, she had a large picture of a small baby—my first photograph.

I was the oldest grandchild on my mother's side of the family and I took full advantage of my seniority over my cousins.

My grandmother on my father's side had married a second time. My stepgrandfather had half a dozen brothers and all were named for some president. His given name was Fillmore. The youngest of the brothers was christened Grant.

My father's sister (who of course was my aunt) married Grant. That made her the sister-in-law of her stepfather and I suppose it made mother and daughter sisters-in-law, too.

My grandmother had a son by her second husband and this son was my aunt's half brother, step-brother and brother-in-law. When Otto (my aunt's son) was born—well, you figure out the relationships.

Preston Smith has plan for Texas, friends announce

"A man with a plan" for Texas now friends of Sen. Preston Smith describe the Lubbock businessman. Preston Smith has been working in Texas for many years as a public servant. The veteran legislator has served six years in the Texas House of Representatives and is in his sixth year as a State Senator. He now seeks his highest goal, Lieutenant Governor of Texas, his native state. The veteran West Texas lawyer campaigned for the office of lieutenant governor in 1950. He finished third in a field of 12 candidates and led the ticket in 68 counties.

"A man with a plan" has led a program of progress as platform for his campaign for his second highest office. The plan calls for simplification of the general sales tax; correction of the auto insurance merit plan; removal of government with out correction of the inequities of Texas' women's rights; better roads; safe, efficient highways; farm-to-market roads; vigor, water and soil conservation; providing hunters and fishermen with an improved game fish program; and better recreational facilities for our parks and lakes. It is for small loan regulation and adequate care of the aged, the blind and the blind.

SIX FLAGS OPENING DATE NEARING

Despite unseasonal snowfalls and a siege of freezing weather that hit the Dallas-Fort Worth area during late February and this month, schedules for the completion of "Six Flags Over Texas" in time for the April 20 opening are being maintained. Much remains to be done, however, as the one-half million dollar expansion program which began last fall is fast drawing to a close. A drawing of a typical scene at "Six Flags Over Texas" is shown above.

By VERN SANFORD

Fishing techniques have been in constant evolution during the past decade. While spinning tackle still is holding on strong, the current trend is marked by the determined comeback of casting and fly-fishing outfits.

Probably the foremost reason is that those who started fishing with spinning rigs now want to try something new and more demanding.

At first it was thought that spinning was a cure-all for fishing. Now that the picture is clearing it is evident that spinning tackle has a definite place in fishing, just like fly-fishing and casting tackle. But it isn't the all-around tool that will do everything.

Often an angler can take fish on fly tackle when everything else fails. There's something about the colorful little cork bugs and the enticing flies that really appeal to fish.

THIS TYPE of tackle is particularly effective when fished on small, fast-running streams.

But there's one overlooked fact about bass bugs. They WILL work effectively on Texas' deep, man-made reservoirs. And a fisherman hasn't really lived until he duels a pugnacious bass on a delicate little wand of a fly rod.

Many people have the misconception that learning to use a fly rod is a difficult assignment. Actually, the basics are quite simple. Usually a person becomes proficient enough to go fishing after an hour's practice in the backyard.

Unlike spinning or casting outfits, the fly fisherman casts the line rather than the lure. With this type outfit balance is all important, particularly correct balance between line and rod.

All fly rods come marked with the type line they require. However, it has been my experience that these are usual I aymote on the light side. It is better to go to the next largest line than the one designated on the rod.

THE REEL ON a fly rod is simply a device to hold the line. The type reel, either automatic or single-action, is purely a choice of personal preference.

Fly rods today are priced within the budget of anyone's pocketbook. In years past the custom-made bamboo rods were quite expensive, but nowadays fiberglass rods not only are relatively inexpensive, they also are dependable and cast adequately.

A basic rig includes a fly rod and a level line. But the more expensive tapered lines are easier to cast and therefore easier to learn to use. The difference in price is well worth the money.

A bass bug line, for example, is a forward taper, with the heavier portion of the line being out on the end.

A line to be used in the northern states for trout fishing is a double taper, slim at both ends with a heavier belly in the middle, made to put a fly more delicately on the water on the cast.

LONG, TAPERED leaders, at least six to nine feet in length, are less prone to spook wary fish. A typical one tapers from about four to six pound test where it attaches to the line, down to about two pound test on the tippet.

In fly casting the one important thing to remember is timing.

Some loose line is tripped off the reel and laid out in front of the caster. Then the rod is brought back smoothly to the 1 o'clock position, where the caster pauses until the back cast completely straightens out, before he starts forward smoothly. It is best to watch the back cast at first to make sure it completely straightens out before coming forward.

If the line strikes the water before the bait does, then the caster is not allowing the back cast to straighten out before bringing the rod forward.

To become a real good fly caster requires practice. But it is one of the most rewarding and satisfying ways to fish. Many times also it is the most productive.

There's something about those little topwater bugs and those imitation flies that sunfish and bass can't resist. Probably because they so closely resemble the fish's favorite food.

Anyway, it's fun to fly fish.

Diphtheria in Texas shows slight increase after a steady decline

Following two decades of fairly steady decline—except for brief periods—diphtheria has shown a slight increase in the past two years.

In 1961 there were 209 cases of diphtheria in Texas compared to 239 cases in 1960 and only 163 cases in 1959. The same trend is followed in the death column of the disease.

Prior to 1960 there had been a steady decline in the number of fatalities in Texas attributable to diphtheria—in 1959 there were only seven.

DEPRECIATION TOLL

Depreciation takes its toll from farm machinery, buildings and other farm investments every year. C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, believes that many farmers could reduce their income tax obligations by giving more attention to the deductions allowed for depreciation on capital goods. He suggests that farmers get a copy of the 1962 Farmers Tax Guide and study the choices offered for claiming depreciation deductions.

However, the figure jumped to 20 deaths during 1960. The latest figures available for the first nine months of 1961 indicate that there were 15 deaths through the end of September.

Two sad facts highlight these cases. First—most deaths occur among children under nine years of age. Second—most cases, and almost all deaths, of diphtheria could be prevented by early immunization with diphtheria toxoid.

Texas outbreaks during the past two years have been characterized by the fact that the families involved had not been properly immunized or had received no protection whatsoever.

Diphtheria used to claim a high toll of victims years ago, and a higher percentage died.

After diphtheria immunization became fairly common, the incidence of the disease dropped off to the low figure in 1959.

Physicians generally inoculate infants with a combined triple vaccine composed of diphtheria and tetanus toxoids and pertussis ensuring protection against all three diseases.

Transmission is made by person-to-person contact with a patient or carrier or with articles soiled with discharges of such persons. The diphtheria organism is contained in discharges and secretions from mucous surfaces of the nose, pharynx and nasopharynx.

The disease strikes most often in the fall and winter months and complications involving the heart occasionally occur.

A physician should be consulted for further information about immunization.

RESEARCH DEVELOPMENTS

Longer lasting collars and cuffs on men's wash-wear shirts and a single treatment that gives cotton wash-wear properties and also permanently dyes, starches and adds other finishing agents to the fabric have been announced as research developments by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The story of WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."
"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."
"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

W. S. Duckworth

wish to make a statement in support of your support for city councilman for another term.

first served a portion of an appointed term, then I was elected for a two-year term last election. First, I will say I am on the conservative side handling taxpayer money, but not to the extent hindering progress.

About twenty years ago, I served the same capacity for two terms, it was embarrassing then for reason the city commission no money to spend for the city. But today it is different.

The last few years the city had some tax money above the normal routine to spend for the benefit of the taxpayers. You can all around you today and see we have accomplished this without going into debt.

you think I am worthy of your support—fine. If not, there will be hard feelings.

W. S. Duckworth

Harold Lucas

first, I thank you, the citizens of Post, for favoring me with the office of Councilman for the past two years. The city election date is set for April 3. This is to remind you, voters, that I am a candidate for re-election.

It is my opinion that the taxpayer money should be used in a way that would be beneficial to all. I believe in operating a city government in a conservative manner, and I still believe in

Walter Lee Johnson

I have been a resident of Post for the last 10 years, employed with Forrest Lumber Co.

I have been active in many of the city's activities during this time. I am a member of the First Baptist Church.

I would like the opportunity now to serve as your next city councilman, to help work out some of the problems of our city.

Walter Lee Johnson

Wesley Scott

I am 34 years of age. I have lived in Post almost two years and in Garza County since 1939. I graduated from Southland High School in 1944 and have farmed in the Pleasant Valley community ever since, and my wife has taught in the Post schools since 1956.

I own my home and live at 905 West 6th St. I have two sons, one a freshman and the other in the fifth grade. We are all members of the First Baptist Church.

I am very interested in Post and its future and also realize the importance of the city council. I have decided to run for this office after being encouraged by a number of my friends.

If elected to this office I would be glad to discuss any matter with anyone. However, any decision would be made by myself and through my own convictions. I would not be obligated to anyone or any group.

If you feel I am qualified to hold this office, I will appreciate your vote.

Ed Sawyers

Progress in our community, beneficial to every citizen and property owner, is one of our most important considerations. It is impossible to stand still in any business or city. We must go up or down. I am for any improvements which will benefit the city as a whole, provided the cost is within our means.

Crime, partially caused by community environment, is a great problem in our city. It is our responsibility to control this environment in which our children are being reared. Hoping the situation will correct itself without positive action will solve nothing.

In regard to my qualifications for city councilman, I have a college degree in business administration and eight years experience in business, am a property owner in Post, and have a sincere interest in the prosperity and future of Post.

If elected, any action I support will be for the benefit and improvement of the community. Your vote and support will be appreciated.

3 Post students honored at Tech

Three students from Post, Freshmen James M. Minor and J. Michael Cornell and junior James L. Short, received individual honors at Texas Tech's 16th annual all-college Recognition Service held Sunday afternoon in the Student Union Building.

The students are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short.

It was the first time for the three to be recognized scholastically at a Texas Tech recognition program.

Minor and Cornell were also honored at a program Saturday when they were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, men's scholastic society.

The requirements for membership in Phi Eta Sigma are very high—an average of 2.50 or better. It is the greatest scholastic achievement a freshman can obtain. Only about two and one-fourth per cent of the men in the freshman class attain the honor each year.

Minor and Cornell were valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the 1961 graduating class at Post High School, and Minor received a scholarship at Texas Tech as an honor graduate of high school. He was also recognized for this achievement and for having maintained a high grade average for the fall semester at Sunday's William E. Clark, junior student from Slaton and grandson of Mrs. Carl Clark of Post, was recognized as top-ranking student in the School of Arts and Sciences at the Recognition Service.

Showcase displays are outstanding

In the trophy case this week, there are some very attractive ideas, dealing with the subjects at the high school.

The English department has one on punctuation. There are several reports and then it has a poster with 20 different ways to punctuate one sentence.

The Math department has one with the slide rule method of dealing with difficult math problems. It then gives an example of about 100 problems and says that from 50 to 70 of these problems can be worked with a slide rule in 30 minutes where otherwise it would take five or more hours.

The next idea is one dealing with good citizenship. It tells a few of the many adjectives it would take to describe the path you would have to take to achieve good citizenship. Here are a few: Loyal, happy, clean, patient, honest, reliable, thrifty, fair, confident, industrious, courageous, punctual, cooperative, and inventive. After reading this list, ask yourself how many of them could describe you.

Also, we don't want to forget, are two very beautiful items from two Shop II boys. There is a cedar chest from Dean Johnston and a dining table from Ralph Ardia. They have received many compliments from many of the students and teachers and we want to add ours to them, for their work is very good.

The Economics display consisted of pictures showing "Wants Result in Efforts to Achieve Satisfaction." Benny Stanley is building the footboard to a bed, Larry Williams, Nuel Landreth and Jerry Gerner are building gun cases. Butch Bowen is building an early American china cabinet.

Danny Markham—Something having to do with St. Patrick's Day. Schariene Holland—A polio disease. (Pleurisy means that fluid collects in a sac area around the lungs due to infection.)

Four Lone Star State 4-H Graduates Given Recognition

Two Texas farmers and two housewives have been honored as "outstanding former members of 4-H Clubs" in the 1961 national 4-H alumni recognition program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

They are Maynard Abrahams of Taft, Lawrence Pfluger of Pflugerville, Mrs. Lionel Richmon of De Leon and Mrs. Dewey Burrous of Lufkin.

Each has received a burnished copper alumni recognition plaque from the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Chemicals Division-Agricultural.

One of the objectives of the program is to highlight the ideals of clearer thinking, greater loyalty, larger service and better living as expressed in the 4-H pledge.

Abrahams, who operates a 520 acre farm in San Patricio county, was a flier in World War II and was awarded the distinguished flying cross, the air medal with five oak leaf clusters and five battle stars.

He served as Sunday school superintendent for two years and was president of the Methodist Men's Club in his community.

Abrahams, manager of a Little League baseball team, is a Boy Scout leader. He is active in several civic groups.

In 1938 while a 4-H'er in Republic county, Kansas, he won a Sears-Roebuck scholarship to Kansas State University. He has been active in several key 4-H posts in his community. He has served as managing director of the county fair for two years.

Pfluger, who operates a 415 acre farm, has served as a member of his local school board and as president of the Pflugerville PTA.

He helped organize a Community Youth Canteen and served as president of it. Pfluger has been an adult 4-H leader for 10 years and his wife is also a club leader. Their three children have been active in 4-H. Pfluger as a youngster was a 4-H'er in Travis county.

Mrs. Richmon, housewife, has been a leader in many local charity and health drives. She is a leader in the local Youth Center, Camp Fire Girls and the Girl Scouts.

Rotarians—

should withdraw its divisions and its financial support.

All 39 Rotarians agreed that nuclear testing should be resumed by the U. S. to keep us abreast of the world's powers. None thought nuclear testing should not be resumed because of Japan's strong objection.

Thirty-eight said we should take a strong stand on the Monroe Doctrine where communist infiltration in South America is concerned. Only one thought there is little danger to a communist take-over in Latin America and that the U. S. should maintain a "hands-off" policy in this hemisphere.

Thirty-one said we should do everything in our power to prevent U. S. forces from being turned over to the UN as recommended by the state department. Six thought this would be all right.

Fourteen said they have written at least one congressman or senator during the past year, ten more had within the last six months, and nine said they had never written any of their representatives.

The survey was taken at the start of the program and the results announced before adjournment of the meeting.

The program consisted of three interesting talks by Post residents who have traveled abroad. Mrs. Ronnie Bouchier spoke on Italy, Miss Maxine Durrett on France, and Lee Ward on Australia.

Each tried to give their impressions of what the people in the country they talked about thought of Americans, what was their outstanding criticism of us, and what could be done to improve the situation.

Phil Crenshaw was in charge of the program.

Medical training—

Dr. Tubbs said today that local physicians have requested sanction of the proposed program from the Crosby-Lubbock Medical Association, of which they are members. The association will act on the request at its next meeting, March 30, at which time Dr. Tubbs will appear before the group in behalf of the proposed program.

In the meantime Dr. Tubbs said enough training kits are being furnished this county to extend the program into all communities in the Post trade area. He asks that representatives from these communities, as well as from organizations within the towns, begin making plans for the courses if they are interested.

Information needed, Dr. Tubbs said, is the designation of meeting places, number expected to take the course, etc.

The ultimate goal of the program is the training of at least one member in every family in the United States in medical self-help. Following the training in the eight pilot areas in Texas, an evaluation of the program will be made, with any necessary revisions to be made before the nation-wide program goes into effect.

Directors are asking interesting local business men to underwrite the project.

Chamber holidays approved by directors for 1962 include New Year's Day, Memorial Day on May 30, the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Directors decided to purchase 50 copies of the book, "Post City, Texas", a story of C. W. Post's colonizing activities in West Texas, by Charles Dudley Eaves and C. A. Hutchinson, for resale to the public through the Chamber office at $5 per copy.

FFA judges in Saturday event

Three judging teams from the Post chapter Future Farmers of America have entered contests at Sweetwater this Saturday, according to Ike Trimble, vocational agriculture teacher.

The livestock, meat and land judging teams will compete, Trimble said.

Members of the livestock team are Wayne McFadin, Edward Byrd, Jerry Bush, David Lee and Larry Williams. This will be the team's second contest of the year. They finished fifth in district competition out of 12 teams, with David Lee tying for third high individual.

The meat team is composed of Richard Hart, Danny Richardson, Curtis Hudman and Ricky Little. This will be the team's first contest and will help prepare them for the district contest at Lamesa on March 27.

Local man heads oil information

The Texas oil and gas industry's public information and service program will be directed here in 1962 by David Newby, production superintendent, R. S. Anderson Company.

Newby's appointment as Garza and Lynn counties chairman of the Oil Information Committee was announced at a meeting held in Lubbock by J. M. McLaughlin, Lubbock, South Plains area chairman for OIC.

The Texas oil information program provides speakers, films, demonstrations, informational materials and exhibits to local civic groups and community functions. Educational materials are made available without charge to teachers and students in Texas junior and senior high schools.

"The oil and gas industry is a vital economic force in Texas and we want to be helpful to those in this area who desire a better understanding of the industry and its functions," McLaughlin said.

Also named to an OIC post and his assignment was Dean Taylor, manager, Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Tahoka, school chairman for Lynn County.

High ratings are won by high school soloists

Lenny Howell and Lyn Alvin Cox, members of the Post High School band, won Division I and II ratings, respectively, Saturday in the University Interscholastic League's instrumental soloists event at Lubbock.

Lenny, who is one of the band's drum majors, received his Division I rating in bass horn competition. Lyn Alvin's Division II rating came in alto clarinet competition.

The UIL sight-reading and concert events will be held at Monterey High School in Lubbock on March 30-31, with Director Bob Meisch's Post band scheduled to participate on the final day, Saturday, March 31.

The Post bands—beginners, junior high and high school—will present their annual spring concert in April on a date yet to be set, Meisch announced today.

that the La Fiesta Restaurant is open for business under the management of Wesley Northcutt and Norman Moriearty and will hold its grand opening tomorrow (Friday) with free coffee and donuts for adults and Mexican lollipops for the children. The new restaurant is located just outside the city limits on the Claremont highway. Norman has done an excellent job in converting the building into a restaurant with char-broiled steaks and Mexican food to be the menu features.

The local Lions Club passes on the information that the Lions' Kerrville Tex., Crippled Children's Camp, which the local club helps support and to which it sends local youngsters each summer, is going to be starred in the national television show "Route 66" on Friday night, March 30. George Maharis, one of the two stars of the series, is struck by a rider and rendered indefinitely blind. Arriving at Kerrville, the entire remaining two-thirds of the show depicts his training and emotional adjustment at the Lions camp. Watch for it.

You'll note over on page 7 Levi's Restaurant is announcing installation of its new "radar-oven". This new microwave oven will cook an inch and a half thick steak in just 90 seconds, a 30 pound turkey in 20 minutes, and broil a whole chicken in a mere five minutes. Want a large baked potato? Two minutes will do it. Levi says he now can cook steaks for a party of 30 persons in just 20 minutes. The new oven—there are only two of these high speed ovens in Lubbock to date—was installed Saturday.

Pre-Easter sermons

The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, will continue a series of pre-Easter sermons centered around the theme, "They Were There." ### Germania group to gather here Approximately 100 persons are expected here Wednesday, March 28, for an all-day district meeting of the Germania Farm Mutual Aid Association.

Don Yarbrough today called for the "broadening of the Rio Grande Valley's Charro fiesta to make it a statewide holiday celebrating the friendship of Mexico and the United States."

In Brownsville for the 25th anniversary of the three-day celebration, Yarbrough said, "Texas can lead the way to a deeper dimension of friendship between Mexico and the United States and thus make a great contribution to our nation's good neighbor policy to all the 20 nations of Latin America, I can envision the day when the President of the United States and the President of Mexico will gather to make Charro Days a national celebration of hemispheric solidarity. The Governor of Texas should extend such an invitation to the Presidents of both nations."

Yarbrough added that the fiesta could thus become a statewide promotion of both international good will and tourism. "The only thing now lacking in our Texas tourist program is the willingness of our state politicians to take an imaginative approach to the task. Creative leadership in Austin can provide the spark to make this great Valley fiesta an event for all Texans and all Americans."

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Lofton and Mrs. Fannie Robinson were in Rotan Wednesday of last week to attend funeral services for Mrs. J. C. Dooley, 75, who was burned to death in the yard of her farm home, 18 miles southwest of Roby.

Mrs. Dooley was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Lofton and Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Dooley's clothing caught fire while she was burning grass. She was alone at the time.

She was a lifelong resident of Fisher County.

Following the funeral services at Rotan, Mrs. Dooley was buried in the Hobbs Cemetery.

She is survived by two sons, with whom she made her home; one daughter, one brother and two sisters.

Hattie Caraway of Arkansas was the first woman elected to the U. S. Senate.

Yarbrough calls for 'broadening' of Valley event

BROWNSVILLE — Democrat Don Yarbrough today called for the "broadening of the Rio Grande Valley's Charro fiesta to make it a statewide holiday celebrating the friendship of Mexico and the United States."

In Brownsville for the 25th anniversary of the three-day celebration, Yarbrough said, "Texas can lead the way to a deeper dimension of friendship between Mexico and the United States and thus make a great contribution to our nation's good neighbor policy to all the 20 nations of Latin America, I can envision the day when the President of the United States and the President of Mexico will gather to make Charro Days a national celebration of hemispheric solidarity. The Governor of Texas should extend such an invitation to the Presidents of both nations."

Yarbrough added that the fiesta could thus become a statewide promotion of both international good will and tourism. "The only thing now lacking in our Texas tourist program is the willingness of our state politicians to take an imaginative approach to the task. Creative leadership in Austin can provide the spark to make this great Valley fiesta an event for all Texans and all Americans."

March 30 final day feed grain sign-up

Friday, March 30, is the last day for farm operators to sign an intention to participate in the 1962 feed grain program, according to information from the Garza County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

In order to participate, the operator must divert as much as 20 per cent of the base acres set up for the farm and may divert any amount above the 20 per cent up to the maximum acreage set for the farm.

Operators who sign an intention to participate may decide to plant all of the feed grain acreage to feed and may advise the reporter that he does not wish to participate in the feed grain program when his farm is visited during cotton performance work.

There will be no penalty if the operator changes his mind. If he has drawn the initial payment at the time he signs the intention to participate, he will be required to repay this payment plus 6 per cent interest.

FROM SALE OF HOME

In completing your income tax return, you are required to include in your gross income the profit on the sale of your personal residence. This profit is normally the difference between sales price less agent's commission and the purchase price of the house when you bought it.

This additional income can, however, be postponed in the situation where you buy a new residence within a one-year period before or after the date on which you sell your old home. However, you postpone the payment of tax on the sale only if your new home costs as much or more than the price you received for your old house after deducting the agent's commission, selling expenses and the amount you spent to fix the house up for sale during the 90-day period before which the house was sold.

For example, if you paid $10,000 for your old house and sold it for $15,000, you made a profit of $5,000 on the sale. If you buy a new home within a year for $16,000, you report no profit on the sale of the old house. You must, however, reduce the cost of the new home for later sale purposes by the amount of the untaxed profit you received on the old home. Thus, your new home cost would be reduced $5,000 and would be valued at $11,000 for later sale purposes.

Assume the same facts except that you spend $500 fixing up your old house for sale within 90 days before selling it, and bought your new house for $13,000 rather than the $16,000 figure used in the example above. You would deduct the $500 from the $15,000 sales price to obtain the adjusted sales price. Inasmuch as the purchase price of the new house was less than the adjusted sales price of the old home, you would have to include the net difference of $1,500 as capital gain in your gross income.

The value of your new house for subsequent sale purposes would then be reduced by $3,500 which is the difference between the total profit made on the sale of your old residence, ($5,000) and the amount you showed as income when you bought the new residence ($1,500).

Often you sell your old house in one year and don't buy a new one until the subsequent year. Where this occurs, you should show the fact of sale in your tax return for the year of sale and indicate that you intend to buy a new house within the one-year period.

When you later purchase a new house and have gain to report because it cost you less than the adjusted sales price of the old house, you should amend your return for the year in which the old house was sold and report the proper amount of gain includible in income as a capital gain.

Where you desire to build a new house to replace the old house sold, you are entitled to these benefits as long as construction begins within the one year period after the date of sale of the old residence, and is completed within 18 months after the same date.

Q. How long must a woman have been married to a World War I veteran before the VA will consider her a widow if he dies?

A. She must have been married to him for 5 years unless (a) a child was born to them, in which case there is no time factor needed or (b) unless she married him before Dec. 14, 1944. The similar date for World War II veterans is Jan. 1, 1957, and for veterans of the Korean Conflict, it will be Feb. 1, 1965.

Q. If a veteran names his mother as the beneficiary of his GI insurance policy and then marries, is his wife protected?

A. The veteran will have to notify the VA if he wishes to name his wife as his beneficiary. Full details may be obtained at any VA office.

Q. How many hospitals does the VA maintain outside continental United States?

A. The VA has hospitals in each State in the Union, except Alaska and Hawaii, and in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. In other U. S. possessions and in foreign countries the VA contracts with existing hospitals to place veterans should the need arise.

WANDERLUST

You see a giant ship at dockside and suddenly, you yearn to board her and journey to far-off, exotic ports.

Why? For the sake of excitement — adventure — or because, like most people, you feel the need to escape, at times, even from yourself?

This desire to escape is human. But it is also impossible. No matter where you go, the self you'd like to fling away, travels with you.

Sail the seven seas, if you can. But first find personal peace. Go to church. God shows you, through His Church, the only way that you, and that self of yours, truly can travel together.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AUSTIN — State campaign headquarters for candidates for Congressman-at-Large report that considerable confusion exists about particular race.

Many voters seem to think that various candidates for Congressman-at-Large are running in present office holders. Only the Congressmen now representing the various Congressional districts in the State.

is a statewide race wherein gets an extra Congressman representing all the people of the state, not just a district. office is being created because the population of Texas has increased sufficient to entitle it to additional representative in Congress.

Texas Legislature has the to re-district the state to provide for an extra Congressman. The Legislature has not done Alternative therefore is to be a statewide position.

before, the following candidates are competing against each other for this high post and not at any present office holder. Democratic primary: Judge now Wilson Bean of El Paso; Republican: Warren Warren; Joe R. Pool of Dallas; H. Stevenson Jr. of Corsicana; Russell T. Van Keuren of Houston; and Phil Willis of Democratic primary: Desmond of Houston; Giles E. Miller of Dallas; and Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock.

A congressman-at-large race is not without precedent in Texas. The same thing happened in 1952. Martin Dies was elected and served from 1952 to 1958.

WHEN GOP'S from all over the state gathered in Austin for the State Republican Executive Committee meeting Monday, democratic pressure to hold primaries in every precinct was a topic of conversation.

Jim Leonard, GOP executive director, criticized the SDEC for urging county clerks to refuse to place Republican candidates on the November ballot unless the Republicans held a primary in every precinct. Leonard charged that it was the same as asking them to break the election laws.

He likened the democratic announcement to "thunder from the top," and called the issue a tempest in a teapot and a compliment to the growth of his party in Texas.

THE STATE Board of Education voted to postpone the decision of whether to reorder high school solid geometry, economics and shop texts, as well as one on driver education, until the matter of revising these courses is decided.

Several board members also asked a committee to read the economics textbook, because they objected to its content. Objectors all were attorneys.

Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo asked to hold up on the drivers' course text, because he questions a recent decision to change this class from eighth to ninth grade.

He said some West Texas superintendents want it kept in the eighth grade, since most of their students drive by that time, anyway. He will ask for a vote at the April meeting, to put the course back in the eighth grade.

AFTER 10 YEARS, Vice President Lyndon Johnson finally got an answer as to who will do what toward implementing the $4,000,000,000 plan to provide for Texas water and soil conservation, flood control, navigation, water supply and irrigation projects.

Federal agencies now have agreed that the Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation each will take on about $1,000,000,000 worth of work; and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will handle $200,000,000 worth of small dam and soil conservation work.

Balance of the project is navigation, irrigation, recreation and local flood protection.

Agreement still needs approval at the Washington level, but for the first time in its history, Texas has a water plan and water agencies and engineers have come to an understanding on Texas' future water needs.

The Texas Water Commission endorsed the work division agreement.

GOV. PRICE Daniel reports that directors of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales have rescinded their order to close the center. They will keep it open at least until May 5, to wait the outcome of a campaign to raise $10,000 through private donations.

Governor Daniel called for public support of the drive, and said he will recommend action by the Legislature to continue the services the center offers to victims of crippling accidents and diseases.

Fifty-four patients now are under treatment at "Gonzales Warm Springs." If operating funds were available, the foundation could care for 120 patients.

Red Cross readies for tornado, flood season

With the approaching spring season of tornadoes and floods in the Midwest, Red Cross disaster preparedness is of prime concern in the 252 Red Cross chapters in Texas. Philip Schenkenberg, manager, Midwestern Area, of St. Louis, said in a special report on Red Cross Disaster Services. While tornado disasters occur throughout the year, the next few months are considered the period of greatest danger.

Schenkenberg said tornadoes last year killed 15 persons and injured 440 in the nation. They also destroyed or damaged over 10,000 dwellings. Since tornadoes can strike in any part of Texas this year, the Red Cross and the Weather Bureau suggest the following preparedness steps as a means of lessening loss of life, personal injury, and property damage:

1. The safest place is a storm cellar, cave, or underground excavation with an air outlet.
2. In open country—Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
3. In town—Stay off the streets, preferably in a steel or otherwise reinforced building, but away from windows.
4. In homes—The southwest corner of the basement usually offers greater safety. Open north and east windows to equalize pressure and, if time permits, turn off electrical power and fuel lines. If there is no basement, lie down in the nearest ditch or depression.

Schenkenberg said that last year 473 disasters and emergencies of disaster types handled by Red Cross chapters in Texas. He added that Hurricane Carla along the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast last September caused one of the greatest peacetime mass evacuations in history. Advance planning made possible the opening of 656 Red Cross shelters, housing 206,103 evacuees. Over 386,000 disaster sufferers were given emergency mass care while an additional 33,000 emergency workers were also served. Over $1 1/2 million dollars has been spent through Red Cross to alleviate the suffering of these victims and to provide long-term rehabilitation aid.

All Red Cross disaster aid is based on need rather than loss and is in the form of outright grants provided by the contributions from the public through local chapters.

In regard to the possibility of serious flooding this spring, Schenkenberg suggested that residents closely follow Weather Bureau bulletins and if homes are threatened, evacuation should take place immediately, in order to save persons and belongings and reduce the threat of injury. If your car becomes stalled in a flooded area, leave it immediately and wade to high ground. Do not permit family members to remain with the car while you go for help.

Unfortunately, no amount of preparedness can prevent natural or man-made disasters, but a full-scale plan for coordination of all resources available speeds relief efforts and guards against needless loss of life and property.

Bible Thoughts
"Purpose of Our Bible"

By HERB SMITH

The nature and purpose of our Bible is often misunderstood, and therefore men have attacked its contents with a wave of blind comments and accusations.

The Bible contains history, but it was not intended to be a textbook for studying world history. The Bible contains science, but it was not intended to furnish scientific data to man today. We should not confuse THEORY with FACTS. A theory is nothing but an educated guess. There are theories in history and science that SEEM to contradict the Bible, but to my knowledge there are no FACTS in history or science that discredit the Bible at all. Instead the facts in history and science support the Bible rather than discredit it.

The Bible was given to guide men's souls to heaven, not to guide men to scientific inventions. When we understand this purpose we will read to find help, 2 Tim. 3:16-17, rather than to find contradictions.

Let's all help in Chamber work

The Post Chamber of Commerce embarked upon a new organizational year last week with some stiff financial belt tightening and the appointment of a new committee slate.

The Chamber has seen its dues income dwindling steadily over the last several years. It has been forced to discontinue the services of part-time Chamber manager Johnny Hopkins.

Meanwhile efforts need to be made to increase interest and support of Chamber activities.

With this in mind a membership and finance committee will be getting busy shortly on a thorough check of local businesses and community memberships.

The slogan President J. B. Potts has adopted for the new Chamber year is "Let's Do It '62." It's an appropriate one—and an appealing one.

Actually a good functioning Chamber of Commerce requires a high degree of membership participation both with time and efforts, as well as money.

Action committees which take hold and work up projects and carry them out also are highly essential.

There are plenty of ideas and projects which need looking into and checking by Chamber committees. Some are short range. Other are of the long range variety.

The Chamber organization is an excellent vehicle to bring various groups of the community and its governments together to discuss and work out the best solution to a wide variety of problems.

Chamber committee action can lay the essential groundwork in many fields of community endeavor.

If the new committees dig in, organize, and become real action committees, J. B.'s "Let's Do It '62" can become beneficial reality.

The Chamber of Commerce is not an organization in which members can leave the work to their officers and directors. There is simply too much to be done to load it all onto a few shoulders.

Let's work together in the coming year, accept our assignments, take a lively Chamber interest and really "do it '62."—JC

Water problem still with us

The annual "water battle" is about to be joined for this community.

While efforts to purchase the dam site for the new $4,000,000 White River dam project continues quietly, Post is facing another year of water uncertainty.

An unusually dry spring has added to the problem.

Postex mill folks are naturally worried because the mills need a great amount of water for their operations here and are totally dependent upon the city for their entire supply.

Your city council is already busy with the problem. It is not an easy problem. It probably will mean new water efforts in the water field one way or another.

If things come to the worst, it will mean water rationing for Post as far as lawns and gardens are concerned.

Last summer Post escaped a serious water shortage because of a long spring wet spell. That still may come, giving lawns an excellent start.

and carrying the community through some of the hot danger period.

We must all realize that the White River dam will eventually secure our water future, but for the present we must do the best we can with what we have.

Post citizens have always responded in the past to any city request for help in water savings. The citizens will respond again. The summer may require more stringent measures than ever before.

Rains in the past have come just in time—and we can hope that they will come again. But we must proceed with all essential water services first, and that includes an undiminished industrial supply for the mills.

Your city already is at work on the problem and within the city's means will do everything possible to bolster the present water supply until at long last the day arrives when the White River dam becomes functioning reality.—JC

Time now to get ready

Announcement that the city and county have joined forces again to purchase a new tornado siren for the community points up to the fact that a new "twister season" is just around the corner.

Everyone hopes that the new signal system can be received and installed before the fast-moving thunderheads start rolling across the plains again.

Post had its most serious tornado scare in several years last spring when a funnel was sighted just north of town and sent most folks scurrying underground.

Actually, Post never got the chance to shoot off one of those tornado signal bombs which were rigged up here by the Red Cross disaster group a few years back.

It would be good business, though, for folks to be prepared this year should any emergency develop. That means dusting off disaster plans, rechecking assignments, and coordinating law enforcement and highway agencies into a workable signal network to get the word into town ahead of any danger from the sky.

The most serious problem with tornado alerts is simply when to signal an alert. Overplaying the danger frays any community's nerves.

A sensible, properly evaluated approach to the problem should be taken well ahead of the hour when the danger looms and the signal must be given.

Working out in advance gives proper time too to educate the general public on what each signal means and what it should do when the signals are given.—JC

Get to know your candidates

The Dispatch today presents the pictures and statements of the six candidates for the three city council posts in the municipal election April 3.

The newspaper offers the space for the candidates as a public service to better acquaint voters with the candidates. The following week a similar presentation will be made for the three candidates for the school trustees.

At - Large race really confusing

There's so many candidates for major offices in Texas this campaign year that it's all mighty confusing to the voter. But the race which is confusing the voter the worst—according to the ten men seeking the office—is that of congressman-at-large.

Due to population growth as shown via the 1960 census, Texas has qualified for a 23rd congressman. But the Texas legislature during the last session never got around to carving out a new district. (Some say it is because Dallas with its population surge would have been entitled to additional representation and the Democratic legislature didn't want to see another Texas Republican congressman.)

Consequently, the 23rd Texas congressman is going to be elected from the state as a whole. This means that each voter this year is going to vote for two congressmen—one from his own district and one to represent the state at large.

ments carefully and to give serious thought to your selections to help run your city and your schools.

These men are offering their services to their community as a real public service. It behooves the electorate to put forth a good citizenship effort too by getting to know the candidates, by selecting the men they feel to be the best qualified, and then going to the polls next month and making their votes count.—JC

The congressman-at-large seat will end when the legislature gets around to the job of providing a 23rd congressional district.

Texas had a similar situation a decade ago when a growing Texas won its 22nd congressman in the 1950 census. Martin Dies of Lufkin came out of retirement to win the at-large spot. When the legislature finally created a 23rd district by dividing Harris County (Houston) the Dies place was eliminated. When the legislature gets around to it this time, Dallas is hopeful of getting the new seat.

The ten candidates seeking the at-large congressional post include seven Democrats and three Republicans. The candidates report they're having trouble with their campaigns because people get confused and think they are running against established congressmen in the various districts. In this area for example, a lot of folks think these busy fellows are trying to unseat George Mahon. They're not though.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

Rumor has it that a candidate for governor will start three TV appearances weekly on a popular early morning show. He will speak for five minutes each morning. Jack Paar has remarked many times that TV time costs a sponsor $12,000 a minute on his show. If that is true and any candidate, anywhere, is going to speak for five minutes three times weekly—that's a total of 15 minutes and at $12,000 a minute our arithmetic tells us that the candidate must be getting ready to spend a lot of money. Of course, it is probable that TV time can be bought on a state-wide hook-up at a reduced rate, but in any event, a candidate acquiring so much time on the air is bound to be highly supplied with cash. We said at the start of this paragraph that this story was only from the rumor mill. Perhaps it will rest there. We hope so, because we do not think the people of Texas will look with favor on such a big spending budget for public office. We pledged ourselves early in this governor's race to vote for the best of the candidates in the contest who personally shook our hand and requested our lone vote. It's time Texas politicians learned to respect we voters who live in the little places. They can demonstrate this respect by visiting in our communities. Texas was not too large for such splendid campaigners as Jimmy Allred, Dan Moody, Jim Ferguson, Bill McCraw, W. Lee O'Daniel, Ernest O. Thompson, Jerry Sadler and many, many others to cover the state.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

ALREADY THIS year, we've had snow, sand and sunny weather. Now how about some rain?

News during Girl Scout Week was that the program will be increased from three levels, brownie, Intermediate and Senior groups, to four at some time next year. The names of the new divisions have not yet been disclosed, but a few have been proposed informally.

One of our readers heard it this way:

Ages 7 and 8: Brownies.

Ages 9, 10 and 11: Sugar Cookies.

Ages 12, 13 and 14: Spice Cookies.

Ages 15, 16 and 17: Date Bars.

THAT MAN UP the street says the custom of kissing children goodnight has just about died out. Parents can't wait that long for their children to get home.

Last week's news that the city and county are bringing in a new tornado warning system, with the help of the federal government, brings to mind the tornado warning device installed here some four years ago through the efforts of John F. Lott, as a civil defense effort, and never used—thank goodness.

I, NO DOUBT am just one of many who have always wondered what that tornado warning would have sounded like. I remember we were told that it would consist of a series of three booms at regularly spaced intervals and that there wouldn't be any trouble hearing it throughout the city—and much of the countryside.

I also recall that the location of the tornado blast device was never made public. John Lott told The Dispatch at the time the system was installed that if everybody knew where it was located, the temptation to vandals to set it off just to see what it sounded like might be too great.

WE'RE ALL GLAD, of course, that no occasion for setting off the warning system ever came along, but that doesn't keep many of us from still wondering what it would have sounded like.

But, then, tornado seasons are much like these international crises. If you can manage to stay scathed all the time, they won't bother you a bit.

A READER SENDS in a knotty question: "When will they start trimming the budget instead of the taxpayers?"

Not long ago, a group of chemistry students from Crosbyton High School toured the Postex Cotton Mills, and following the tour were guests of A. Lee Ward, plant superintendent, at a buffet supper at Levi's Restaurant. The group was brought here by Chemistry Teacher Garner, who formerly taught in the high school here, this making the fourth year that the teacher has sponsored a tour of the mills for his students. The tour through the plant was guided by Ward and Jim Poyer, personnel director.

From the weekly news bulletin of the Central Christian Church of Waco comes "The Story of a Funeral."

"I once read of a business house that had a funeral for 'They.' Everyone there, from manager to janitor, attended the funeral. Someone fixed up a box for a casket. In it they placed 'They.' And the whole organization attended the funeral for 'They.' From that time, henceforth and forever, no one around the business could say 'They' ought to do something about it.' 'They' was dead and buried.

"All of the responsibilities, unaccomplished tasks, mistakes, oversights and errors of the deceased 'They' now became the business, jobs and responsibilities of 'We.'"

The results were remarkable—so remarkable that it would seem that in whatever area of organized life we find ourselves, whether, civic, social, commercial, or church, we too, could have a private funeral of our own for 'They.' "With the funeral over, 'They' should do something about it,' becomes 'We should do something about it.'"

"THIS MAY surprise even Texans," writes Jack Maguire in TEXAS PARADE, "but the state in 1962 has as many cattle as people—slightly more than 9,500,000 of each. And 65 per cent of all the land in Texas—more than 100 million acres—is occupied exclusively by cattle.

"Houston, of all places, is the new cow capital of the U. S. with 105,000 head within Harris County. Even Kleberg County, home of the famous King Ranch, comes in a poor second with only 95,000.

Three rural accidents investigated in Garza

The Highway Patrol investigated three rural accidents in Garza County during the month of February according to Sgt. A. E. Roberts, patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person killed, one injured and an estimated property damage of $3,400.

The rural traffic accident summary for Garza County from January through February of 1962 shows a total of four crashes. As a result of these crashes there one person killed and one injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $3,900.

The patrol supervisor reported that as of Thursday, March 1, a total of 227 traffic deaths had been reported to the department, as compared with 284 during the same period in 1961. "This represents a decrease of 37 deaths or 14 per cent," he said, "and presents all of us with a stern challenge to help in further reducing deaths for the remainder of 1962. This will not be an easy job.

"Defensive driving is one of the keys to traffic safety," the sergeant added. "If all motorists were alert when driving and knew the defensive procedures used by a professional driver, the number of monthly traffic accidents would drop sharply."

TAX SUITS FILED

CROSBYTON — Fifteen delinquent tax suits seeking the collection of $3,634.15 in delinquent taxes due the City of Crosbyton have been filed here, according to Norton Barrett, city secretary. The tax suits are the first to be filed here since the 1930's.

Beards to flourish for Tahoka's Rodeo

TAHOKA — This year's Tahoka Rodeo will be a four-night affair, April 25-28, sponsored by the Tahoka Rodeo Association.

Many local men will grow beards to help advertise the rodeo. Shaving permits went on sale last week for those who do not wish to grow beards, and a horse trough has been set up down town for the "dunking" of those with neither beard nor permit.

The rodeo parade is scheduled for 5 p. m. on the opening day.

The candidate lacks rates on insurance

STON — Sen. Jarrard Temple, candidate for Lt. Gov., today blasted the present method of automobile insurance making as a "monopolistic" of price fixing.

He charged that the present merit-rating plan "is unjust" and ought to be junked. He made preliminary remarks here Friday morning, and said that the issues in general were for Lt. Governor have been drawn into sharp focus in the particular case of automobile insurance rates. However, that the issue is the only candidate for Lt. Governor who has vigorously and actively fought for lower automobile insurance rates in Texas. He is introducing and for legislation to eliminate the present monopolistic scheme of fixing of automobile insurance rates and substituting a fair system of free, competitive rates, should be considered that my stand on the issue of insurance rates is not an election campaign issue."

He expressed the opinion that rates ought to be lowered instead they are going up. He noted further that he has been fighting for six years as Senator from Bell County, and "not until this fight is won will the motorists of Texas get relief from high insurance rates."

He said that the fixing of rates which is now prohibited must be replaced by the outmoded system which is costing Texans $1 billion a year.

He said that the algae removal in stock troughs, reservoirs and ponds is exposed to sunlight may become covered with commonly called green algae. One method for removing the algae is to treat the water with a chemical called Blue Stone, says Ed Sturman, wildlife specialist. A copy of L-53 from your State Department of Health, he advises.

Then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

DRESSES OVER 500 DOLLS IN 10 YEARS

Mrs. Pearl Parnell of Calhoun Falls, S. C., who with her husband, Brooks Parnell, is here for an extended visit with their son, J. P. Parnell, and family, has somewhat of an unusual hobby of dressing dolls. As shown in the above picture, she has dressed over 500 in the past 10 years, ranging from the tiny three-inch dolls to giant size, some about four feet tall.

A variety of styles and clothing have been used. Also many interesting and famous people are in her collection. Former President and Mamie Eisenhower, along with others such as Santa Claus, clowns, brides, rag dolls, etc. Dorson's Jewelry here plans a window display of some of Mrs. Parnell's dolls.

PLEASED WITH POLL

AUSTIN — James A. "Jimmy" Turman of Gober, candidate for lieutenant governor, said this week he was "extremely pleased" with the good progress of his campaign, as reflected by last week's Texas Poll (Beldon Poll) which showed he held a substantial lead over five Democratic opponents.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Tularemia—alias "rabbit fever"—increased in Texas last year compared to 1960. The actual number of cases, 13 during 1961 as against nine for 1960, is not startling, but is of concern to victims and to people engaged in communicable disease control.

The figures are tallied each week by the Texas State Department of Health from reports gathered throughout the State. In all probability there were actually more cases than were reported.

Tularemia is caused by an oval-shaped organism called Pasteurella tularensis in dubious honor of Tulare County, California, where it was first discovered as an infection of wild rabbits and squirrels.

The disease is transmitted to humans by the bite of an infected fly or tick, or when the germ is accidentally introduced into the body during the process of dressing wild game. It can also be acquired by eating insufficiently cooked meat from an infected game bird or animal. The death rate of untreated cases is usually about five per cent. The infection has been and is still known all over Texas, but is reported most often from the eastern section of the State. Outdoorsmen are more susceptible than the general population because of a greater chance for exposure.

According to the best authorities, on a nationwide basis 90 per cent of human cases are acquired from rabbits, chiefly wild cottontails. Other susceptible native animals are coyotes, opossums, skunks, deer and some species of snakes.

As for domestic animals, natural infections have been found in cats, dogs, hogs, and sheep. Among susceptible wild birds are quail, chicken hawks, and horned owls—all native to Texas.

There is no truth in the belief that rodents are tularemia-free in winter, health authorities advise. Cases occur every month of the year, but mostly in April, May and June, the months of greatest tick activity.

The danger of contracting tularemia is another reason for not drinking raw creek or lake water. The organism can live in water where the disease prevails in wildlife. The use of rubber gloves when handling wild game, refraining from drinking raw water, thorough cooking of all game, and prompt disinfection of scratches and insect bites will help prevent tularemia infection.

Martin is being trained in the duties and responsibilities of a cannoneer. He is receiving instruction in the loading, firing and maintenance of the 105-millimeter howitzer, a light field artillery weapon. He is a 1957 graduate of Post High School and was employed by Wally's Thriftway Super Market before entering the Army.

SPEAKER NAMED

why?

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another? There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product
2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

See your Chevrolet dealer for a quality '62 Chevrolet Jobmaster truck.

"Automotive Market Reports" is a weekly authoritative wholesale publication which reports the average prices paid for used trucks and cars by professional buyers at auctions all over the U.S.

Plans set in motion Tuesday for Medical Self-Help Training here

st is one of pilot areas and Garza County's part in the study of the Medical Self-Help Training Program got underway Tuesday morning in the Classroom of the First National Bank building.

Garza County, chosen as one of eight pilot areas in Texas, is scheduled to begin the training program, as set out today by Dr. Harry A. Rhoades, who is responsible for getting the program designated as one of the pilot areas, but early interest indicates it will be followed by other areas.

containing everything an instructor needs to teach the course, will be sent to Garza County next week. Each kit contains the materials for the instruction of 100 students. These kits contain a slide projector, self-contained screen, film strips and other materials for instructors.

While the course will include the standard techniques of first aid, it will be predicated on the assumption that no doctor is or will be available for an indefinite period of time in a national emergency. Rhoades explained, however, that while the course primarily is for nuclear disaster, it is also applicable to any other disaster, such as tornadoes, floods, etc.

Dr. Tubbs said today that present plans call for local physicians to serve as instructors for the course through the pilot stage between now and June 30. The training kit is designed, however, so that it can be used to good advantage by anyone with a high school education.

"In time of national disaster," Rhoades said, "American families must be prepared to be on their own for a period ranging from hours to weeks. If they are to survive it will be mandatory for them to be self-sufficient, particularly in matters where life and health are involved."

"They may be totally deprived of a physician's services," he continued, "due to isolation within their own homes or shelter, or to a patient demand so overwhelming that physicians will be unable to care for all the sick and injured."

"I believe the Medical Self-Help Training Program, carrying the endorsement that it does, fills a real need for our citizens, not only in a national emergency, but equally as well in a peacetime disaster situation."

The Post Dispatch

Thirty-Fifth Year

Post, Garza County, Texas, Thursday, March 22, 1962

Number 41

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

The Dispatch lost an employe who had made lots of friends around town when our shop foreman, E. C. (Buck) Hundley, moved over the weekend to Paris, Tex., with his wife to take an operating job in a commercial print shop so they could live near two of their sons and their families. Both sons are printers and are employed by the Paris newspaper.

Buck's departure has brought some changes to The Dispatch's back shop and the elevation of Don (Corky) Ammons to machine operator and shop foreman. Corky had been doing an excellent job as a floorman and printer. He came to The Dispatch in the summer of 1957 shortly after graduation from high school and only a few weeks after we had purchased the paper and moved to Post.

He started in the "back end" of the back shop as stereotyper and pressman, did a good job at that, and then when an opening developed moved up to printer and "floorman". He started to learn the complicated Intertype machine's operation a few months ago in his own time.

Stepping into Corky's former job is Walter Frank Didway, oldest son of Editor Charles Didway. Walter Frank already has some back shop experience on other papers and is eager to learn the printing trade, which is a good practicing craft for anyone.

Rotarians 'tough' on issues

Post Rotarians take a tough and practical attitude on world affairs as reflected by a membership survey taken at the club's Tuesday luncheon in City Hall as a part of the Rotary observance of World Understanding Week.

Given a choice between a policy of "peaceful co-existence with Russia as far as possible," or "taking the initiative in the cold war and letting the Soviets know we will retreat no further in South Viet Nam, Laos, the Berlin air corridors, Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba," Rotarians voted 39 to 9 for taking the cold war initiative.

Thirty-six said West Berlin represents the principle of "not backing up" by the Free World and would be worth risking our going to war rather than give in. Only two said defending West Berlin is not worth going to war over.

Twenty-six said the U. S. should have prevented the communist take-over in Cuba by military force. Thirteen felt we should have waited and backed the invasion force to which we had promised aid. Only one thought we should have followed our present course of doing nothing.

Thirty-five said NATO forces are the "iron fist" of the Free World and should be continued. Three said NATO forces are a waste of taxpayers money and the U. S. See ROTARIANS, Page 8

7th grade student is Spelling Bee winner

Jacqueline Wilson, Post 7th grader, "spelled down" five other contestants last Friday afternoon to win the annual Garza County Spelling Bee and the right to represent the county in the regional Spelling Bee at Lubbock, sponsored by the Avalanche-Journal.

Jacqueline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilson, correctly spelled "artist" after Nedra Childs, Close City 6th grader, had left off the final "t". Jacqueline then went on to spell the next word correctly to emerge as county champion.

The third place winner was Post 8th grade student Mary Barnes, who misspelled "admissible," putting an "a" where the second "i" should have been.

Other spellers were Harlan Sappington, Close City; Jettie Crawford, Southland, and Larry Long, Southland.

The first, second and third place winners received checks of $15, $10 and $5, respectively, from the Post Chamber of Commerce. The checks were presented by Joan Stewart, Chamber secretary.

County Supt. Dean A. Robinson, who has been chairman of the county Spelling Bee since 1953, the first year it was held here, presided at Friday's event.

The words were pronounced for the spellers by Mrs. Lucy Callia. The judges were Mrs. Faye Cockrell, Mrs. Jackie Wisley and Mrs. Pearl Storie.

MRS. QUINONEZ DIES

Mrs. Patsy Quinonez, 82, of Post, died early this morning at Garza Memorial Hospital, where she had been admitted Wednesday afternoon. The body is at Mason Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements.
