Farm Topics

SYD CONNER
Garza County Agent

IMPORTANT CITIZEN

When you see someone plowing a field or tending a herd you are looking at one of the more than 226,000 Texas farm and or ranch operators, says Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist. If this man is the average Texas operator, his annual net income is $3,630, which is $307 above the national average.

There is also a good chance that this man has some non-farm income, says Prater. In 1961, over 109,000 Texas farmers and or ranchmen reported that they had off-farm employment, and over 96,000 reported that their non-farm income was greater than the income derived from their farming operation.

When this man puts his tractor away for the night he must make the switch from farm laborer to farm manager, and this is no easy feat. He has a sizable investment in his operation and if he is to realize a profit he must manipulate the factors of production carefully. One miscalculation can mean the difference between profit and loss, points out the specialist.

He must also keep up with the latest technological developments. New methods of controlling insects and plant diseases, new fertilization practices and new management techniques are constantly coming from researchers. The farmer must decide which of these are best applicable to his operation.

All of this describes the average Texas farmer. There are some above average and some below. "Where do you fit in this picture," asks Prater.

SCREWORM ERADICATION

An important meeting on the Screwworm Eradication Program, of interest to all livestock producers, will be held May 9 in Tyler at 1:30 p. m. at the East Texas Fairgrounds. A report of progress of the program, including the recent outbreaks of infestations north of the control line and measures being taken to combat them, will be given at the meeting.

C. C. Scruggs, president of the board of trustees of the Foundation will present members of the board, as well as heads of agencies concerned with the eradication program. All interested producers are invited to attend and participate in this meeting and get the latest information on the progress of the program they are supporting.

WEED CONTROL

One job that will pay big dividends is that of weed control in your pasture or hay meadow. Ted Trew, Extension pasture specialist at Texas A&M College, says that weeds often reduce pasture and hay yields by 50 per cent by competing with the more desirable plants for moisture, plant nutrients and light.

The bulletin, "Weed Control in Texas Pastures," gives suggestions and directions in prevention measures as well as the mechanical and chemical control of weeds. Why not call by and talk to your county agent about the measures you can take that best suits your situation. While you are there, ask him for a copy of the publication, B-892, "Weed Control in Texas Pastures."

Thomas funeral held Friday at church in Post

Funeral services for E. A. (Auvy) Thomas, 63, of the Grassland community, who died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday of last week at his place near Llano, were conducted at 2 p. m. last Friday at the First Methodist Church here.

Mr. Thomas, a retired farmer, had lived at Grassland for 47 years. He was born Oct. 16, 1893, in Shelby County and grew to manhood there. The Thomas family, including his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, moved to Lynn County in 1915.

Mr. Thomas was a veteran of World War I and served with the Army in France. He was a member of the Methodist Church, the Masons and the Shriners.

For several years, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have owned a cabin near Llano at Lake Buchanan.

Officiating at the funeral here last Friday were the Rev. Wendell Leach, pastor of the Grassland Methodist Church, and the Rev. J. E. Peters of Shallowater.

Burial was in Grassland Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were nephews—Rebel Thomas, R. M. Thomas, James Aten, Ted Aten, W. H. Childs, Harold Childs, Billy Loren Thomas, Ed Young, Gerald Norman, and Jim Norman.

All old-time friends and neighbors of Mr. Thomas were named as honorary pallbearers.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Arnold of Texarkana, Tex., and Mrs. Charles McLaran of Kerrville; one son, John Paul Lawson of Ozona; two sisters, Mrs. Era Aten and Mrs. Eva Childs, both of Grassland; three brothers, Luther and Price Thomas of Grassland and Claude Thomas of Denver City, and five grandchildren.

New McAllen school to be first in nation with all-gas use

Construction has started in McAllen, Texas, on the first school in the nation which will use natural gas for all its heating, cooling and electrical needs.

The American Gas Association said the use of a natural gas-fueled turbine to provide the total energy requirements of a school could usher in a whole new concept in educational building.

Park Plaza Shopping Center in Little Rock, Ark., is the only building in the country which has an installation similar to the one planned in Texas, AGA said. However, several new commercial buildings in various sections of the U. S. have been designed with such a system.

The 2,400-pupil McAllen High School, on which construction was begun in March, combines the gas turbine-total energy concept with modern, compact school design. The most dramatic element of the design is the absence of windows. The school is scheduled to be completed in the summer of 1963.

A major consideration in planning the school was air conditioning. J. Lyle Hill, McAllen superintendent of schools, pointed out that the climate in south Texas often climbs above 100 degrees in late spring, summer and early fall. At these times, teaching sometimes comes almost to a halt in non-air conditioned schools, Hill said.

The Board of Trustees of the McAllen Independent School District, recognizing this problem, decided the gas turbine represents the most economical way to provide their $2,858,000 school with air conditioning.

The new school will produce a cool, comfortable climate by using steam generated by the exhaust heat of the turbine—normally wasted in simple turbine operations—to power a 467-ton Carrier absorption chilled water unit.

Total population of the earth is estimated to be 2,400,000,000, or 42.9 persons per square mile.

Local cowboys win at Tahoka

Post cowboys made some money in the Tahoka rodeo over last weekend.

Jimmy Moore split first and second average money in the saddle bronc event. He was first in the second go-round of saddle bronc riding and third in the first go-round. He also was second in one go-round of bulldogging.

Eddie Stewart split second and second money in bareback bronc riding, placed second in average of bulldogging and fourth in both go-rounds of bulldogging.

Ed Sims was second in tie-down calf roping. R. E. Josey was third in the same event.

Jack Kirkpatrick and Frank Blanton were other local entrants. Neither placed.

Screwworms in Scurry County

County Agricultural Agent R. S. Conner reports that because of extremely favorable weather conditions for screwworm activity, screwworms have spread into Central and West Texas, most of the counties in the Edwards Plateau and about half the counties in the Trans-Pecos area.

Conner says that plans are being made to expand the sterile screwworm fly release area to include most of the infested area. The majority of the sterile flies being produced will be released in a barrier zone which will encompass the northern edge of the screwworm infested area.

He encourages all livestock producers to inspect all livestock regularly, to treat all wounds promptly, and to collect ten or more worms from deep in the wound and bring them to his office. Conner points out that the more screwworms that are killed by chemical treatment, the fewer sterile flies will be required to overwhelm the native flies.

Screwworm cases were found last week as close to us as Scurry County and your cooperation is necessary if the screwworms are eradicated from Garza County and Texas.

Horse Racing Isn't Wrong

By HERB SMITH

Horse racing was one of our favorite pastimes on Sunday afternoons or on a day after a rain when we couldn't work. The teen-age boys in the neighborhood (5 to 8 mile radius) would gather at a designated bend in the creek or bridge and match horsemanship skills and horses against horses. There was no audience except for a cotton tail, a squirrel, and our best companion—a dog.

This kind of horse racing isn't wrong, and perhaps the professional horse racing isn't. But when legalized gambling is attached, we're in for plenty of trouble. Many examples could be given to prove how evil this "racket" is, but these facts are available through other sources. Consider with me two things: first, God created man to work, Gen. 2:15; and second, the man that doesn't work isn't worthy to be fed, 2 Thess. 3:10. The professional gambler doesn't work. He lives "high on the hog" from hard-earned money. If there were no working people to earn money to squander away, the gambler would be out of a "job." Only the skeptic, dishonest and immoral people want legalized gambling.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD
 His favorite top-water lure is the pure white, transparent plastic Heddon Spook chuggar. For a buck-tail he'll take yellow.

Early in the morning, however, Clyde will try the black baits first. Then he'll switch to his transparent Spook, which, incidentally, looks more like an unfinished bait.

If no luck, then Graham's next chore is the same kind of clear plastic lure to which he has added some touches of green paint. Sometimes he paints the head of the green bait red.

All this doesn't mean that Clyde Graham doesn't use the jig and eel. Far from it. In fact, he makes his own weedless jigs as well as the bottom-bouncing, spinner-type. Clyde will tell you frankly that he prefers the top-water lure mainly because he likes to see the fish rise out of the water to take the bait.

BUT LET Jim Roddie latch onto a four or five pounder and watch how quick Clyde Graham switches to a black jig and eel!

Meanwhile, Gordon Wallace, another TIPster, will have been fishing the jig and eel all along.

He prefers the pork rind to the artificial worm. That's why you'll always find an ice pick in Gordon's tackle box. . . to punch the hole in the fat side of a spilt pork rind.

Another Wallace favorite is the black Spring Lizard. This he casts on top of the moss, without a ny weight added. If he uses a weight, it will be nothing heavier than a very small split shot.

Gordon likes to fish with the out-board motor running in reverse. Backing up slows the speed of the boat and makes it possible to fish the area more thoroughly. He prefers to fish ahead of the boat, in water not yet disturbed by the prop of the motor.

IN GORDON'S opinion, far more fish are caught on jig and eel than most fishermen realize. Lots of fisherman just don't have the "feel" — therefore, the fish gets off the hook before the average angler realizes he has had a strike.

Wallace is another angler who stresses the importance of good sharp hooks.

Bring up the topic of fishing in the sun and you'll get a variety of opinions.

Most fishermen seem to think it best to fish facing the sun, so your shadow will not be cast on the water where you are working the bait.

But Gordon Wallace prefers to fish with his back to the sun. His reasoning is that the sun then is shining in the fish's eyes. . . not his own. Too, the fish can see the shadow of the bait on the water.

Furthermore, the fisherman doesn't get chapped lips.

SO THERE you have arguments both ways.

Generally, Gordon prefers to fish the shady banks, casting at an angle.

MAY SENIOR CITIZENS MONTH

Vet's Forum

Q. I am a veteran on the VA pension rolls. I have been awarded food, clothing and shelter following the recent storms that damaged my home on the coast. Now I hesitate to accept funds for the restoration of my house because they would raise my income above the limit permissible to draw my pension.

A. Any assistance in the nature of restoration of housing, food, clothing, shelter, medical care, etc., to victims of disasters is not considered as income for the purpose of determining eligibility to VA pension.

Q. May two or more periods of marriage between the same two people be tacked together so as to satisfy the marital requirement "for five or more years" when a widow seeks pension?

A. No. Where a woman and a veteran were married and divorced and married to each other again after which he died, only the date of their last marriage is considered in determining whether the widow of the veteran comes within the requirement relating to marriage "for five or more years."

Q. My husband was killed in service during World War II. If our son is eligible for the War Orphans Education program, at what age could he qualify?

A. The age period generally is between 18 and 23, but there are exceptions. The benefit may be provided for children under 18 if they have graduated from high school or if they are above the age of compulsory school attendance and the VA finds it would be to their best advantage to begin schooling before reaching 18.

Some handicapped children may begin a special vocational or restorative course as early as age 14. Please get in touch with the nearest VA regional office for details on eligibility, vocational counseling, and application for enrollment.

Graham's preference is to have the sun shining on his left cheek. That means the shadow is away from the spot you're fishing.

All three of these top-notch anglers agree that fish have the ability to smell. Body odors do make a difference! So tie on your lures with clean hands, they admonish. Keep oil off the lures, too, for the same reason.

Roddie, the most cautious of the trio, takes along two rods. And to be sure there is no fish smell on the lures, he baits them up the night before.

Ed Sims wins calf roping

Ed Kelly Sims won the calf roping in the Saturday night rodeo at Lubbock's Sports Arena with an 11.8 seconds performance.

Frank Blanton, Post's bull-riding druggist, had a different kind of luck.

In the bull riding event, he broke a spur coming out of the chute and his bull threw him, hooking him with a horn before he hit the ground. The bull horned him three more times on the ground before the clown could get the animal away from Blanton.

The Post man fortunately was only bruised by the bull.

Formby questions press freedom

"Do we have freedom of the press?" This is a question that Marshall Formby, candidate for Governor in the Democratic Primary, is asking the voters of Texas today.

"It is obvious", he said, "that the moneyed metropolitan dailies of the State are bowing under to the pressure groups, because they are afraid of the pressure groups and Washington influence."

Formby noted that he and some of the other candidates have had the endorsement of many weekly papers and some smaller and medium size dailies, but suggested that money and power have spoken in the case of the Big City Press and only one person has been endorsed.

"Some of the big dailies have endorsed a candidate with whom they have nothing in common—they don't believe in half of their candidate's program. It is sad to see a big daily go against the conscience of its owners and editors just for a crumb of advertising or a crumb from the federal government. It is gratifying to see the smaller dailies and the weeklies standing up for their convictions."

Formby said that more money has been spent by some candidates than ever before in the Governor's race and has urged the voters of Texas to take a good hard look at the candidates, at the money spent, at their promises and their beliefs in government, and to the pressure groups and organizations behind such candidates. The former State Senator and Highway Commissioner said, "He who eats my bread, must sing my song, will have a true meaning if Texans should elect the free spending, country club set of candidates making the race."

Formby who was born and reared in small communities and has lived his life in smaller towns, knows and understands the problems of the smaller communities.

Six Flags Over Texas launches second year

Intermittent rain, thunder showers, high winds and overcast skies plagued the four-day opening festivities at Six Flags Over Texas. But 19,900 hardy souls who braved the elements were treated to a spectacular show as the 10.5 million dollar Park launched its second season of operations.

With typical Texas fanfare and flourish, the big tourist attraction opened on April 20 as many local and state dignitaries, including Governor Price Daniel, participated in the opening ceremonies.

Hundreds of visitors were in attendance, along with more than 500 of the Park's costumed hosts and hostesses, to hear the Governor emphasize his tourism program for Texas. Governor Daniel lavished high praise on Angus G. Wynne Jr., president of Great Southwest Corporation, for "building this attraction, a place of entertainment and recreation stressing the wonderful heritage we are privileged to enjoy in this state. Six Flags should inspire all of us to build a bigger and better Texas.

March of Dimes Helps Dry Youngster's Tears of Pain

Anthony Ryan wasn't normally a crybaby. But at 10 months he began crying almost incessantly, and at times even screamed.

His loving parents in Philadelphia were nearly out of their minds. With four other small children, the household was pandemonium. No one appeared to know precisely what was causing the infant's dreadful paroxysms of pain.

Eight months and countless tears later, the cause of Anthony's agony was at last diagnosed as rheumatoid arthritis, seemingly afflicting every area of his tiny body.

It's 11 years now since Anthony was stricken. He will limp the rest of his life; he cannot play baseball today with the other boys in the block, and he is still in a great deal of pain. As a matter of fact, until just a short time ago he couldn't even turn his head.

Science has not yet licked the problem of Anthony and thousands of children like him. There is still no simple, accurate test for the early diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis, although the outlook is hopeful. But many rheumatologists would agree today that had modern diagnostic tools been available to him, and had Anthony been examined immediately by a "team" of specialists in the medical and allied professions—the group of orthopedists, pediatricians, laboratory research scientists, physical therapists and others now available in March of Dimes-financed treatment centers in many parts of the nation—Anthony today might be skating with the other kids on the frozen pond at the bottom of Prince Circle where he lives.

Although much of the injury done to Anthony in past years is irreparable, doctors at a new arthritis treatment center at Philadelphia Children's Hospital, sponsored by five March of Dimes chapters in the area, check him regularly to ease his pain and avoid further damage. This same "team approach" is also employed by the ever-growing number of National Chapter-March of Dimes chapter-sponsored clinics for treatment of birth defects, another area in which the health organization is concentrating. Infants with any of hundreds of major birth defects are now examined by as many as 12 specialists at each clinic, working together as a team that might include a pediatrician, neurosurgeon, urologist, orthopedist and internist as well as others.

ON EAST COAST, Dr. John D. Bridgers, director of March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center at Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, examines Anthony Ryan, 12 years.

ON WEST COAST, identical twins Cathy and Carol Gile, 7 years, are greeted at March of Dimes Congenital Defects Clinic in University of Washington Hospital, Seattle.

There are tens of thousands of Anthonys and Cathys and Carols in the United States today. One reason The National Foundation-March of Dimes turned to these diseases three years ago is that almost 700 babies are born each day in this country with significant birth defects, accounting for more than 21,000 deaths each year. Crippling rheumatoid arthritis affects 30,000 children and adolescents—apart from the overall toll of 11 million American victims of rheumatic diseases.

An increasing number of sufferers from these two cruel handicaps are receiving treatment from the specialist "teams" at March of Dimes-financed chapter clinics. As more funds become available, additional centers will be established to provide medical care for even more victims of chronic crippling disease.

That surrounded Cathy and Carol Gile, identical 8-year-old twins of Vancouver, Wash. From birth, the children have been seriously ill with a succession of maladies—pneumonia (each six times), ear infections (again, each six times) and other disorders which have meant prolonged hospitalization. Both were found to be afflicted with an inherited lack of antibodies, the substances in the blood which combat bacteria.

At the University of Washington Hospital, Seattle, where 86 March of Dimes chapters in Washington, Idaho and Alaska have financed a birth defects clinic, the attractive little girls twice monthly are given injections which literally keep them alive. The Seattle "team" at the March of Dimes clinic watches over the twins devotedly.

2,000 4-Hers train on tractors

The Lone Star State is working on a new crop of competent young 4-H tractor operators with sights set on state and national championships. Last year a Fayette County 4-H'er won the state award trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Medals went to 289 members in 98 counties.

The 1961 state winner is Charles Lehmann, 19, of La Grange. In Chicago he was the guest of Humble Oil & Refining Company, sponsor of the 4-H tractor program in Texas and five other Western states.

This past year more than 2,000 Texas 4-H Club members were enrolled in tractor projects, according to the Cooperative Extension Service of Texas A&M College which directs all 4-H activities in the state.

"Operating tractors and other farm machinery without breakdown often means the difference between profit and loss on a crop," said Leon McNair, field representative for the National 4-H Service Committee. "But most important, safe operation can mean the difference between life and death."

Four cotton irrigation and fertilizers are tested in 1961

Four different irrigation methods and four fertilizer treatments on cotton were tested to determine the effect on the efficiency of cotton yields at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1961.

James C. Valliant, recently promoted from Assistant to Associate Engineer, stated that the tests were designed to determine the efficiency of irrigation methods and fertilizer treatment which would produce the greatest net return and the highest irrigation efficiency in the production of cotton.

The irrigation methods used were: (1) First bloom only, (2) First bloom plus mid-bloom, (3) First bloom, mid-bloom and Sept. bloom, and (4) dryland cotton.

Fertilizer applications on a per acre basis were: 40 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus; 80 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus; 120 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus, compared to the nonfertilized plots.

This type of research was conducted in 1960 as well as 1961 and will be continued in 1962.

Re-elect E. E. (Elva) Peel
AS YOUR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT NO. 2

May 5 is a very short time away and you the voters of Precinct 2 are confronted with the duty of selecting the man who will represent you on the Commissioners' Court of Garza County.

Again I want to express my sincere appreciation to you for the courtesy and co-operation you have shown me during my tenure of office.

As in the past, any time that any of you had problems and came to me with them, I did my best to help you solve them, and if you should see fit to again re-elect me, I will continue to do likewise. In selecting the man for this very important office, please bear in mind that it is the responsibility of the Commissioners' Court to set the Tax rate and the Tax values of your property, as well as the wise or unwise spending of all your tax dollars.

I believe you will agree that EXPERIENCE in County finances and County Government, both of which I have had, will be an asset to the man you choose as your Commissioner of Precinct 2 and Garza County.

You, the voters, are the judges as to whether I merit your continued support. If I have made you a good hand, then cast your vote in my favor on May 5, 1962.

I have endeavored to perform the duties of the office in an impartial and business-like manner and, if re-elected, will continue to do so to the very best of my ability.

Please accept my personal appeal to each of you for your help in next Saturday's Primary Election.

Thank you very kindly,

SPICED FRUITED TURNOVERS

A big platter of these plump, little turnovers can make a coffee break quite an occasion. They look tender and inviting—and are. But the real fun comes when you pick one up and bite into its luscious filling.

You find a zippy blend of plumped prunes, tart-sweet and winy, chopped, candied apple slices and candied fruits flashed with grated orange rind, lemon juice and spices. The turnovers are great going for nibblers any time, and they're a real prize to serve either warm or cool—with coffee, tea or a glass of milk.

They are fun to make, too. In a few minutes you can make a platter. Once the family discovers them, however, they'll likely last just minutes. Maybe you'd better bake two platters while you're at it.

SPICED FRUITED TURNOVERS

1 1/2 cups plumped* pitted prunes	1 cup sugar
1/2 cup canned, sliced apples	1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup diced, candied fruits and peels	1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon grated orange rind	1/4 teaspoon allspice
3 tablespoons lemon juice	2 tablespoons flour
Flaky pastry (enough for 2-crust pie)

Chop** prunes; combine with apples, candied fruits and peels, orange rind and lemon juice; mix well. Combine sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice, salt and flour; mix well. Add to fruits; mix thoroughly. Roll pastry to 1/8" thickness; cut into 5" or 6" circles. Place fruit filling on one side of each round; moisten edge of circle with water. Fold pastry over filling; press edges together with tines of fork. Place on baking sheet; make a slit in top of each to allow steam to escape. Bake in moderately hot oven, 425 degrees, 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 12 to 14.

* To plump prunes, cover 1 pound of prunes with 1 quart of water and let stand overnight.

** The simple way to chop prunes is to cut meat from pit with kitchen shears.

Dear Friends:

I know there are many of you I have not been able to see, but I want to assure you that it has been my desire to do so, but the duties of my office have made it practically impossible to do much campaigning.

I want you to know that I do want this office another term. I feel that what I have experienced during my first term will make it possible for me to make you a better County Judge for the second term.

You will be the judge as to whether I will merit a second term, and should you feel that I do, I will appreciate your vote and support in the Democratic Primary of May 5, 1962.

Be sure and cast your vote for the one you think will be capable of handling your tax dollar to the best interest of all.

Sincerely yours,
J. E. PARKER

15 ways to worry your teacher

I ain't got no pencil.
I left my book in the locker.
Can I write on the back of the paper?
Do we have to use ink?
I didn't hear the question.
Are our test papers graded?
You didn't tell us we were having a test.
Could I please go get a drink?
May I buy some paper?
How long is it till the bell?
I left my book at home.
What page did you say?
What day is this?
But, teacher, the gum's new. I just got in my mouth.
This pen I borrowed from you skips.

Santa Fe's net down for quarter

"Net income of the Santa Fe Railway System for the first three months of 1962 amounted to $7,352,335 compared with $8,095,711 in the first quarter of 1961, a decrease of $743,376 or 9.2 per cent," Ernest S. Marsh, president, told stockholders at the 67th Annual Meeting in Topeka, April 26.

"Operating revenue for the first three months of 1962 was $144,302,099 compared with $139,796,250 in the same quarter last year. The decline in net earnings was attributed to several factors," the rail president continued. "(1) Far more severe weather conditions during the first quarter of 1962 which caused substantial added expense on account of interference with efficient train and yard operations and necessity for removal of snow and ice from switches, platforms and other facilities; (2) an increase in wage costs approximating 2 per cent effective March 1, last year; (3) increased payroll taxes effective Jan. 1, 1962 under amendments to the Federal acts for railroad retirement and railroad unemployment compensation; and (4) a planned program of accelerated freight car repairs to improve car supply for increased loadings anticipated in the spring and summer of 1962."

Three directors were re-elected to four year terms—N. Loyall McLaren, San Francisco; Richard W. Robbins, Pratt, Kans., and Clarence R. Tucker, Chicago. More than 87 per cent of the outstanding shares were represented in person or by proxy.

"April carloadings to date are running about 3 per cent ahead of the same period in 1961," the rail president continued, "with increases in automobile traffic, iron and steel, refrigerated traffic and miscellaneous commercial freight, which are usually good indicators of general business conditions."

At Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock

20 aircraft types to be shown Armed Forces Day

Headlined by the B-58 Hustler and F-110 fighter, 20 types of aircraft are scheduled to be on display during the May 12 Armed Forces Day observance at Reese Air Force Base, Col. L. C. Hess, wing commander, has announced.

The Convair B-58 is the world's first supersonic bomber and is a part of the strategic bomber weapon system. Known as the Hustler, it achieved a greater speed increase over the fastest previous strategic bomber than was reached in the preceding 50 years of aircraft design.

The B-58 has a wasp-shape appearance and has low takeoff and landing speeds, although traveling at twice the speed of sound at high altitudes. The Convair aircraft is powered by four J-79 turbojets with afterburner, has more than 10,000 pounds thrust in each engine plus afterburner and travels 1,324 mph at 35,000 feet altitude. The Hustler has a span of 58 feet, 10 inches, a length of 96 feet, 9 inches, and a height of 31 feet, 5 inches.

The F-110 fighter which also will be on display at Reese AFB for Armed Forces Day, is the latest and speediest fighter aircraft, ranked as the best fighter ever developed in any country. Its speed is much greater than any other fighter in the world and its maneuverability is without matching.

The F-110 will head an array of six members of the Century fighter series shown to visitors to Reese on Armed Forces Day. Also on hand will be the speedy F-105 and F-106, the F-100, F-102 and F-104, all outstanding in any Air Force inventory.

All aircraft will be on display and available for close examination on the Reese flight line. Open house on the base will be from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m., with exhibits during the morning and a spectacular air show in the afternoon.

The Hon. Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force, will speak at a noon luncheon and again on the flight line just before the air show in early afternoon.

The air show will feature the Navy's "Chuting Stars," a team of aerial artists who jump from a "Skytrain," drop two miles before opening their parachutes and then land on the target area in front of the spectators.

Yarborough is reported to have made tremendous headway in the last two campaign weeks.

Chairman cites code on election expenses

N. C. Outlaw, Garza County Democratic chairman, this week called attention to the Texas Election Code's provisions on election expenses and candidates' names on the ballot.

In regard to expenses, the chairman said Article 13.08 of the Texas Election Code provides that expenses of holding primary elections shall be borne by the candidates for office whose names appear on the ballot.

Such article requires that the County Executive Committee of the party shall carefully estimate the cost of printing official ballots, renting polling places, providing and distributing poll books, stationery and other necessary supplies, compensation of election officers and clerks and messengers, and all other necessary expenses of holding the primary elections in the county, and that such Executive Committee shall apportion such costs among the various candidates for nomination by the party for district, county and precinct offices.

Deaf-mute

(Continued from Page 1) had been working for the trial and that he didn't know if Reymundo really understands why he was in the courtroom. "We told him we had to bring him," Pablo said.

Pablo said he couldn't explain to his son what murder with malice meant — the charge against Reymundo.

The father said the son did go into town sometimes with his brother or with friends. In cross-examination by District Attorney Hansard, he testified his son drinks beer and dances, that "he is very friendly with everybody and everybody likes him."

Isadora, the younger brother who speaks some English as well as Spanish, testified both in English and Spanish that Reymundo doesn't understand "all I tell him." He said he didn't think Reymundo understands what he is charged with. He said he had communicated with his brother about the incident but it was hard for him to understand all of what Reymundo tried to tell him by signs in answer to his questions.

"WE CAN TRY," Isadora said when asked if he could tell his brother what witnesses were testifying, but he added that he didn't think his brother would understand it all.

Isadora, reported to be the closest to Reymundo of any member of his family, testified the defendant knows the difference between right and wrong, knows that he shouldn't shoot or kill anyone.

Attorney Alaniz asked to be sworn in and took the stand to tell the court that in his efforts to get Reymundo's story he was unable to get many of the details on his part in the incident and that he personally did not think Reymundo understands the nature of the charge against him.

Police Chief Corley was called by District Attorney Hansard because as deputy sheriff he had questioned Reymundo about the slaying following Flores' arrest. Corley said Reymundo's brother, Isadora, communicated with his brother and that the information he received from such interrogation was corroborated by other known facts in the case.

CORLEY SAID that Reymundo apparently understood enough "to tell us part of what happened," but he said it was difficult to get through to the defendant.

Corley said his only means of questioning Reymundo was through his brother and that he knew nothing of sign language himself.

Defense attorney Alaniz asked Corley, "Nothing his brother told you implicated his brother in any way in what Reymundo is charged here with today?"

"No, sir," replied Chief Corley. Jessie Lee Johnson testified that Reymundo Flores and "a tall Spanish man" came into her High Hat Cafe before the shooting on Nov. 18 and that the "tall Spanish man ordered two Lone Stars."

She said she got the beer and when she put the cans up on the counter, the tall Spanish man told her he was sorry but that his friend (Reymundo) "wanted a Pearl, not a Lone Star."

Pre-registration for kindergarten Tuesday

Pre-registration for the kindergarten at the First Baptist Church will be held at 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday. This is for any child who might be in the first grade in 1963.

The pre-registration will last about an hour. It will be under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Glascock, the kindergarten teacher. All aspects of the school will be discussed. A question and answer period will be included.

ty for district, county and precinct offices.

Article 13.15 of the Election Code provides that no person's name shall be placed on the ballot for a district, county or precinct office who has not paid to the County Executive Committee the amount of the estimated expense of holding such primary apportioned to him by the County Executive Committee.

Candidates for nomination for state offices pay their filing fees to the State Democratic Executive Committee and the law provides that their names shall not appear on the ballot unless they pay to such committee the amounts fixed by law for such places on the ballot.

"Thus, it will be seen," Outlaw said, "that any candidates attempting a write-in in any primary election is seeking a 'free ride' at the expense of candidates who have paid their apportionment, and in such manner made the holding of such primary election possible. For, without the candidates paying therefor, no such primary election could be held."

"In this connection," the Democratic chairman continued, "I would further point out that write-ins increase the work of the election judges and clerks. If these write-ins reach much proportion then it becomes necessary to employ additional clerks, thereby adding to the cost of the election and expense of candidates who are paying for it."

Postings

You don't hear much political talk around town—except from the candidates, but we'd guess the vote Saturday night surprise. There wasn't much talk before either city or school district elections, but the voter turnouts were of record size. The same should happen again Saturday.

T. L. Jones started his 51st year in the ice business here Tuesday—and one of his first stops was to put a 10 pound chunk in The Dispatch office cooler. He said he got into it on May 1, 1912, and remembers when the ice business was "fast and rough." It's kind of slow now, he says. T. L. loves the ice business and wants nobody thinking he shouldn't have to still be carrying ice when they see him with a chunk during deliveries.

We can't close without a praise worthy notice of the high school chorus' spring concert Tuesday night in the primary auditorium. Showman Georgie Willson did it again. Those kids can really sing. The show-stoppers, if any stood out, were the new boys' group from junior high, "The Dizzy Dozen"—but it was a "baker's dozen" Tuesday night with little "Cy" Willson making his first stage appearance with them.

Also generating interest locally is the race for state senator from this district, in which incumbent David Ratliff is opposed by Truett Latimer and Dallas Perkins.

It's the Law
TEXAS

For the fifth consecutive year May Day had a special significance in this country. The day again was observed as LAW DAY U. S. A. This is a special day dedicated across our nation to observance of the fact that we have a government of law instead of men. It is particularly appropriate that Americans set aside this day each year to demonstrate to the world—and to ourselves—that our belief in individual freedom under law remains strong and unshakable.

Why is it that some men are able to live in freedom while others cringe under a rule of tyranny? We owe our rights and freedoms to our state and national institutions, our laws and our courts. In other lands, there are no rights and people are subjected to the edicts and whims of individuals unhampered by legal restraints.

Most of us tend to take it for granted that an individual is free to think for himself and that his rights are protected by law. We know without actually admitting it that our whole way of life is governed by this rule of law.

Law is the intangible force guaranteeing all of us freedom, peace and progress—ideals which have been, and are, dependent upon the adequacy of our legal system and the protection awarded the individual by our courts.

On May 1 then, this year and every year, with the nation's attention focused on LAW DAY U. S. A., it behooves us to rededicate our belief and faith in this rule of law that is the birthright of all Americans.

It is this liberty and equality under law that distinguishes our system of government from communism. Without laws and the courts, these freedoms we take so for granted would be meaningless.

Our respect for law is vital to the continued growth and strengthening of our nation; our thoughtful observance of LAW DAY U. S. A., in a real sense distinguishes America from those who today live under tyranny; it is our answer to communism. LAW DAY U. S. A. is the American way.

Turman hits at obscene movies

AUSTIN — Candidate for Lieutenant Governor, James A. "Jimmy" Turman, said this week that he favors strong legislation to regulate obscene movies and literature in Texas.

During the last special session of the Legislature, while Turman was Speaker of the House of Representatives, House Bill 105 which would have strengthened law enforcement of obscene movies in Texas passed the House of Representatives but failed to pass the Senate. Turman's four opponents are Senators.

Turman pledged to the people of Texas that as their Lieutenant Governor of Texas and the Presiding Officer of the Senate, he will actively work and support strong legislation to strengthen law enforcement as to the showing, advertising and distributing of obscene movies and reading matter.

Turman, son of a tenant farmer, is from the small town of Gober in Fannin County.

Boxer Lou Nova combined the study of Yoga with his regular training.

How Important is an Inch

Not long ago Genevieve was thirty-seven inches tall. Soon she'll be thirty-eight. Just how important is that next inch?

It's all-important! Without that inch her growth will cease.

Folks sometimes underestimate the importance of a Sunday in Church or Sunday School. What difference, they think, can just one Sunday make?

But every day of worship or religious instruction adds its inch to our spiritual growth. And whenever we neglect the soul's needs, then, temporarily at least, growth ceases.

Children, and adults, too, need to keep on growing spiritually. How different our world could be if all of us reached the spiritual maturity God wants men to attain. A Sunday, like an inch, is important. Next Sunday is all-important for all of us!

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Linda Discards Braces, Crutches; Mother Praises March of Dimes

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dorothy E. Breese, young Columbus, Ohio, mother, tells of the remarkable progress made by her daughter in overcoming the disability caused by a severe birth defect.

By DOROTHY E. BREESE
My little Linda has done far more things in her five years than most people even dream of being able to do in an entire lifetime.

As the March of Dimes 1961 National Poster Child, she met President Kennedy in person and rode on a float in his inauguration parade. She starred in an hour-long television program with some of the country's most popular television and movie stars.

Linda has traveled from coast to coast and seen her picture in nearly every newspaper printed. She has autograph books filled with the signatures of celebrities and famous people she has visited.

These are just some of the things Linda has done that are beyond the reach of most of us. But the one thing we wanted most for her was something the average person takes for granted—the ability to walk alone and unaided.

There were many times during the years that my husband, Dean, and I thought that Linda would never be able to throw away her braces and crutches. And to be truthful, there were terrifying moments when we feared we might even lose her.

Linda was born with an opening in her spinal column, a condition known medically as spina bifida. As a result, her body was seriously affected from the waist down.

When she was only a few hours old, Linda underwent a delicate operation that partially corrected this condition. The surgery was performed at Children's Hospital in Columbus where subsequently The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds established the first of its Birth Defects Clinical Study Centers in 1959.

When she was nine months old, it was found that Linda had water on the brain, which has the medical name of hydrocephalus. This condition was treated by the insertion of a "shunt" tube which drains the excess fluid from the head into the blood stream.

Linda at 23 months after two operations for birth defects. And . . .

You can imagine how much we worried about our little girl in those early days, because we knew she was never far from death. It could have come at any time. After all, 250,000 infants are born in this country each year with a significant birth defect and 21,000 of them die.

But Linda continued to improve. She received specialized treatment at the March of Dimes-supported center. She got her leg braces and crutches. Linda hated them, but she learned to use them.

When, though—if ever—would she be able to run and play with her sister and two older brothers and the other neighborhood children?

The answer to that question depended on Linda, her doctors, the rehabilitation therapists, and us. We all worked together. We worked long, and we worked hard, but it was worth it.

Linda today, now able to walk without her crutches or leg braces.

Only the other day, Linda took her first halting steps across our living room without her crutches or leg braces. It was an unforgettable experience. In my excitement, I telephoned the good news to everyone I knew—and probably quite a few I didn't know. It was a real shout-from-the-household event.

Linda has won through. She improves every day. Now her trips to the birth defects center have been cut to just one every three months. Best of all—we have been able to enroll her in kindergarten.

Dean and I and the children remember the gloomy days. We know that many other parents of afflicted children are going through similar days of anxiety and heartbreak right now. But we also know that The National Foundation-March of Dimes is looking for the cause and cure of birth defects.

March of Dimes contributions led to the triumph over polio, and I'm a firm believer in the slogan that "Your Dimes Will Do It Again."

Texas' first try at race track gambling recalled

DALLAS — "Let's not educate another generation of gamblers in Texas," Albert Sidney Johnson, widely-known investment banker and retired General of the Texas National Guard, warned today in recalling the pari-mutuel race track era in Texas in the 1930's.

During this period, Johnson served for five years as Chairman of the Texas Public Safety Department, which directs activities of the Texas Rangers and other state law enforcement agencies. He was appointed by Governor James V. Allred, who later, in 1937, called a special session of the Legislature to outlaw the race track gambling bill.

"It was a hectic period," Johnson said in discussing his experiences during the race track years.

"Perhaps the most regrettable, long-lasting aspect of the horse race period in the 30's was that it educated a whole new generation of people to the actual methods and the actual means of horse race gambling, both at the tracks and through the bookies. Lots of well-meaning citizens, the majority with modest or low incomes, most of whom had never before bet on the horses, went to the tracks and gambled. Many of them, during this period, were introduced to and contracted the gambling fever—and it's stayed with them through life. On days when they couldn't get to the tracks, they placed their bets through bookies.

"A race track environment invites and encourages people who otherwise never gamble to sabotage their wages, savings and investments," Johnson said. "It is inconceivable that we would willingly want to 'legalize' all over again a race track environment for the gambling education of another generation here in our state.

"As I recall, I don't think I was too strongly opposed to the idea of pari-mutuel betting when it was being campaigned for and when it finally passed in 1933. I'd never had any firsthand experience with race tracks. I was like a great many other people at that time who took a more-or-less casual view of the situation. Then, as now, the race track promoters gave us a tempting and 'rosy' picture of the many benefits that would accrue from race track gambling. We didn't do too much about trying to defeat the bill. The next thing we knew it had passed, and we had the tracks.

"Then things started happening, just about everything you can think of in the way of law enforcement violations, and in the way of problems for individuals, communities and business. It was far beyond anything we had anticipated. We didn't have enough trained law enforcement men to keep up with it all."

Johnson said that people and communities were taken by surprise by the moral and economic inroads stemming from the race tracks and their followers. "People by the wholesale got over their heads in debt, got involved in embezzlements and with loan sharks. I knew of any number of cases where employers had to let employees go because of financial entanglements and harassment from people to whom they had got in debt endeavoring to make up race track losses."

Johnson was Commander for 11 years of the 49th Armored Division of the National Guard. During his 40-year tenure of Guard service, from 1917 through 1958, Johnson said he had longtime opportunity to observe the bad effects of race track gambling on service men and their families.

"Every year," he said, "millions of dollars in service men's paychecks go into the gamblers' jackpot when there's a race track in the vicinity."

CC will offer summer courses

Black Christian College will institute a full summer program year, offering a full selection of courses, keeping the entire faculty on duty, and providing extracurricular activities.

F. W. Mattox, president of the five year old junior college, said that adding the two six week summer terms is the first step in adapting to the national trend toward year-round use of college facilities.

"The summer vacation tradition grew from the practice of using student labor to harvest crops, and in most cases this necessity no longer exists. Summer school allows the serious student to finish his college training one year early, thus adding one year to his maximum earning capacity," Mattox added.

Dates for summer school sessions are June 11-July 19 for the first and July 20-Aug. 24 for the second. During each term a student may enroll for six hours of college work. Last year, during a nine-week summer session, students were offered nine hours of credit. The normal load during an 18 week spring or fall session is 16 semester hours.

RMA looks into promotional plans

Members of the Post Retail Merchants Association were led in a discussion of a wide variety of promotional ideas at their weekly credit luncheon in Levi's Restaurant last Thursday noon by Tom Power.

Most interest was shown in the promotion of the Postex Cotton Mills here as an important local industry.

Power discussed many promotional plans, including Dollar Days, auctions, monthly drawings, remaining open one evening a week, a welcome wagon for newcomers, development of better store fronts, downtown parking, promotion through service stations directing travelers, advertising methods, in store merchandising, etc.

Former resident's funeral held here

Funeral services for V. A. Robinson of Fort Worth, who was a surveyor for the Double U Land Company here in Post's early days, were held at the graveside at 3:30 p. m. yesterday at Terrace Cemetery.

Mr. Robinson, who was 84, died Sunday at his home in Fort Worth. He moved from Post more than 30 years ago.

The Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor of the First Methodist Church, presided at the funeral services, with Masonic graveside services being conducted. Burial was under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Mr. Robinson is survived by his wife and a son, Lowell Robinson, both of Fort Worth.

Two DWI charges, one guilty plea here

Braulio Castanena pleaded guilty in county court here Tuesday to driving while intoxicated. Judge J. E. Parker fined him $75 and costs, sentenced him to three days in jail and suspended his driver's license for six months.

Norris Sherman Workman was charged yesterday in the same court with driving while intoxicated.

It's My Turn BY MRS. C

I swore I'd never mention screw-worms in this column again. After all, one can overdo a good thing. But I had to change my mind when late Monday afternoon, Syd Connor brought in an addition to his column that had just arrived in the mail, and I knew I had to have one more fling.

The earth shattering news that brought this news item on about the screwworm is that it (or they) have moved into Scurry County! Will Garza County be next? All of you ranchers better dig deep into your pockets or throw up a blockade mighty fast. I feel duty bound to keep you all posted on the progress (not the eradication) of those you-know-whats.

I'll certainly be glad when the primaries are over. The only television I watch at all faithfully is the "Andy Griffith Show", and it just got pushed off the air (or what over TV gets pushed off) for a political address. I sometimes wonder if politicians don't lose more votes than they gain with that sort of tactics.

Since everyone has probably stopped praying for rain, would you all like to say a short prayer for a still evening (sometime between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.) so the C's can spray paint their yard light. We've been trying for two weeks to get the job done but the wind won't cooperate. The plants we purchased to plant around it (after painting) are dying and if we don't get them in the ground soon, we might as well give up that little project.

It was gratifying to find out at the Self-Help Medical class that the product you're reading this column in is so valuable. I found out that one just can't afford to be without newspapers in case of an atomic blast. Newspapers are simply invaluable for many different uses, so those of you that worry about such things, keep a good supply on hand. We usually have a stack about a foot high around our house so figure we've got it made. With that cheery thought I bid you farewell. If we haven't had to use our papers up, I'll be back again next week.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick assisted in the business session, conducted by Mrs. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Huddleston was elected to the position of secretary and a new office of corresponding secretary was created. Mrs. Kirkpatrick elected Mrs. Kirkpatrick as secretary.

Some primary election thoughts

Saturday is primary election day, in which Texans will go to the polls to select their party nominations for state and county government.

This year the Republicans will be making their primary bow for the first time in Texas history. They will not pull much of a vote here in Garza County because they have no organization and no county candidates. But for the first time, they will conduct a primary election in at least one Garza precinct.

The two-party system is new to Texas, but it is going to grow of real benefit in the years ahead. When the voter is given choices that means there is competition. In the American way of life, the keener the competition the better the results. It works that way in government, too.

The Dispatch has not editorially supported any candidate at the county level. This newspaper feels the voters have full opportunity to know their county candidates, and, if they don't, the candidates themselves can accept the blame for not raising more dust and knocking on more doors.

Garza County has several Democratic contests this year—the biggest being for county commissioner of Precinct 2 with a record eight candidates on the ballot and another seeking to win via the write-in route.

There is a three-way contest for county judge, a contest for the Justiceburg precinct county commissioner, and a contest for justice of the peace in Precinct 1.

In printing the sample Democratic ballot in last week's Dispatch, the ballot appearing was that which Precinct 2 voters will receive. One ballot does not contain all the candidates in the four precincts. Changes are made in the printing, and one group of candidates substituted for another as each precinct's ballots are printed. So it was not possible to print an accurate sample ballot for the county as a whole containing all precinct candidates.

The Precinct 2 ballot was used because of the larger commissioner's race in that precinct. Evidently this caused some confusion in some voters' minds. We are sorry it did. This explanation should clear up any misunderstanding.

Garza Democrats have the choice Saturday

55 million can't be wrong

There's no question about it now—on its 55th anniversary—there's nothing like a bike!

Bicycles are for the young—and for those who stay young. And this May, America's traditional "Bike Month," the two-wheelers will hit an all-time high in their four-score years of unchallenged popularity with the 55 million of the chain-and-sprocket set in the saddle across the nation!

The fact remains, however, that bicycles are not as numerous today as it appeared some twenty or thirty years ago they might be. The reason is the growing popularity of motor scooters and the fact that more and more youngsters who twenty or thirty years ago would have been in the bike-riding-age category are now able to get licenses to drive automobiles.

There still are a lot of bikes, however, and during the school year one can see many of them "parked" on the grounds of the primary, elementary and junior high school buildings of three candidates for state senator of the 24th District—David Ratliff of Stamford, the incumbent, and Truett Latimer and Dallas Perkins, both of Abilene.

Both Ratliff and Latimer are experienced Texas legislators. Latimer is challenging Ratliff for his senate seat after a several-term law-making career in the lower house. The Dispatch can recommend both of these candidates highly. Both are of proven quality and stature. Ratliff will be the favorite because he is better known throughout the district.

For the top three state races, Garza Democrats will have the opportunity to vote for three well-qualified West Texans—Marshall Formby for governor, Preston Smith for lieutenant governor, and Waggoner Carr for attorney general.

On the basis of pure geography, it is difficult for West Texas to see its own win statewide offices. But this time West Texas has three exceptionally well-qualified men for the three top offices. The Dispatch heartily endorses each of the three.

It's a good time to start looking up that poll tax receipt. You'll need it at the polls Saturday. Either that, or to vote you will have to make out an affidavit that you have such a receipt. The much quicker way is to take the receipt with you.

And when you vote, if you are tired of the poll tax receipt business—as this newspaper is—in the "public opinion roll" at the bottom of your ballot, vote to abolish the poll tax in Texas. An overwhelming public sentiment for such action will get the lawmakers in Austin busy to make the abolishment legal via constitutional amendment.

Last of all, there's the horse race betting issue. It is going down to overwhelming defeat Saturday. At least, that is our prediction, because we don't think Texans want gamblers to start taking over Texas. Texas has enough headaches as it is with its state problems without having the gamblers to contend with, too, plus all of the evil they bring along with them.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

ABOUT ALL THERE is to do now is sit back and wait for the results in Saturday's primary election. Almost as much of an issue here, in the closing days of the campaign, as which candidate will win in the respective races, is how many votes will be cast. The highest prediction I've heard is 1,800, and I predict that is too high. My guess is somewhere in the neighborhood of 1,450—which might be even a little too high. Well, we'll know Saturday night.

The fellow up the street says a successful man is one who can afford to get his hair cut just before payday.

SOMEONE IS always coming along to spoil the fun. A fellow in Lake Charles, La., has just about ruined my enjoyment of the Dick Tracy strip. This fellow says the Brush, one of the Dick Tracy strip's forgettable characters, can't possibly be carrying $1 million dollars in $1 bills around in that laundry bag. He says he's found that one $1 bill weighs a gram; 29 weigh an ounce and 464 weigh a pound. Which brings the weight of a million $1 bills to 2,131 pounds, or somewhat more than a short ton.

"Not even The Brush," the Louisiana man says, "could carry a ton of $1 bills around in a sack."

Next time somebody offers you a million dollars in $1 bills if you can carry them off on your back, forget it.

A Texan told his wife: "Dear, the children are old enough to know the facts of life. Let's tell them about Alaska."

I'VE HEARD A number of teacher resignation letters read at school board meetings, but never one as interesting as a letter from a Filipino teacher to the Manila school board. It went as follows:

"This is my resigning. The hour are many, the work are many, the children are very, very much and the pay are few. All the time the principal are making love to me—to which I reply Oh, Not! Hoping you are the same, sincerely," Miss Flores.

A rich termite gave his wife a lumber yard on their wooden anniversary.

SINCE I'M still partly "tied up" on the typesetting machine here at The Dispatch while we're waiting for one of our back shop employees to completely recuperate from a recent operation, I hardly have time to do justice to this column, let alone write a sports column. So, since I have a number of sports items that would fit nicely in a sports column if I only had time to write it, I'm going to unload them here.

Chief among these is the fact that a great deal of praise is due Edsel Cross, Matt Steizer, Martin Nichols and their crews for a whole lot of good improvement work at the Babe Ruth and Little League baseball diamonds.

Edsel and his helpers have just rebuilt the fence around the Babe Ruth League park, and one fellow who came along after it was finished, told me Edsel and his bunch had accomplished more in one day than had been done in a long time at the park.

Matt and Martin and their crews have also done no end of good work at the parks, and, as a result, things are fast rounding into shape for the start of the season, which promises to be a big one if everybody else will follow the pattern set by these volunteer workers.

Another interesting sports item is that Tommy Bouchier, who was recently named as valedictorian of this year's graduating class at Post High School, lettered in four sports this school year. Tommy's four letters were won in football, basketball, track and golf. He is one of the very few four-sports lettermen in the school's history.

ALSO, ADDING spice to this summer's Babe Ruth League program will be the selection of a queen by each of the five teams. The White Sox players are off to a good start by selecting Miss Dee Ann Walker as their queen.

What our contemporaries are saying

The people in New Orleans have decided they can't stop integration in their schools and other public places so now they're organizing a movement to ship all the Negroes to northern states. On a trial basis they shipped one family north and the man was so satisfied, thanks to several TV interviews, that they are now planning to send a trainload of these people out of their state. The some 1,000 that will go north will probably find 1,000 jobs are not as easy to find as was one job for a lead to get more Negroes out of the South. So these people will be tricked into leaving their homes, their jobs and going to other states to finally wind up on welfare rolls as more of America's unemployed. Who said the KKK was dead? — Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

STIN — Saturday some 2,500 Texans will make up their minds to cast their ballots for local, district, state and federal offices.

Interest in the gubernatorial race, where five Democrats and two Republicans are hoping to oust Gov. Price Daniel. The race is working hard to see they don't.

On the list, to the office of the chairman, there are more candidates than in many years. It is due primarily to the "open" nature of the major state offices and the fact that many of the attorney general's nominees have allowed those down on the list to try to move up while the same time leaving lesser candidates on the list.

On May 5, the two parties will hold precinct conventions. They will name delegates to county conventions. County delegates,

A few years ago there was a great deal of publicity about a bi-partisan foreign policy. It would appear that now in the minds of many Congressmen the nation has bi-partisan foreign confusion.

Rep. Richard Roudebush just recently brought to attention one of the most startling statements ever decried from the banks of the Potomac.

The statement quoted C. W. Harder by the Congressman was made by one of those ubiquitous personages in Washington who seem to have the knack of turning up into some kind of a prominent job no matter what party is in power. This particular statement was uttered by Chester Bowles, who came into government a few years ago via Madison Avenue.

Mr. Bowles said, "Foreign aid will be with us all our lives and it can be expected that countries with Communist leanings will receive such aid. The U.S. must not adopt a policy of shaking a finger at countries which receive foreign aid but disagree with U.S. policies."

This is an astounding statement. Russian propaganda no doubt by this time has made an even more astounding use of it.

A little over a year ago there was a great debate on whether or not the U.S. is losing the cold war. That question is perhaps still unanswered. But it does not seem that a cold war can be won by huge amounts of hot air.

About your health

Last year 11,348 Texans died from the effects of malignant neoplasms, the statistical designation for all forms of cancer. For many years now, cancer has been the second ranking cause of death in Texas—and the rest of the United States.

The only disease that ranks ahead of cancer is heart disease and its associated vascular conditions.

Latest evaluations on the effectiveness of cancer treatment indicates that one out of every three persons discovered with the disease is cured.

But, using the conservative estimates which characterize the medical profession, half of all cancer victims could be saved if the disease were discovered early enough.

Cancer can attack almost any part of the human body. Experts in the cancer research field say that for nearly every different body tissue there is probably a separate type of cancer cell.

The leading body sites of death-dealing cancer, listed in order, are: digestive organs and the peritoneum, respiratory system (male), breast (female), genital organs (male), genital organs (female), urinary organs, leukemia, and the buccal cavity (mouth) and pharynx in the male.

Men fall victim to the disease more often than women. Explanations of why this situation is true range from men smoking more to men visiting doctors less often than women.

How effective is modern diagnosis?

As a case in point—an explanation of the famous "Pap" test for uterine cancer is conclusive evidence of its value.

BACKS IMPORT LIMIT — Gov. ernor Daniel sent telegrams to the governors of the other 31 oil-producing states, and asked them to join him in supporting an oil imports limitation amendment. U. S. Cong. Tom Steed of Oklahoma introduced the proposal. It would require oil imports to be cut to the 1956 ratio with U. S. production.

At the 1957 Governors' Conference, Daniel was successful in getting 32 gubernatorial signatures on a petition to Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower, urging mandatory import controls. But he feels that nothing has been done to prevent imports from supplanting domestic production.

Daniel said that the recent schedule of eight-day allowables in Texas has resulted in a loss of more than $100,000,000 in tax revenue for the State. May will be another eight-day producing month.

AGRICULTURAL WAR ON — About 40,000 bushels of sweet potatoes worth $100,000 are in danger of being ruined by the sweet potato weevil, according to State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. Some 1,200 growers in 10 counties plan to join the State in a two-month battle against the pest.

About $15,000 will be spent to dust sweet potato crops and some 100 storage houses in Anderson, Cherokee, Houston, Leon, Madison, Nacogdoches, Rusk, San Augustine, Shelby and Trinity counties.

White says the war against the Kaphra beetle, which devours grain, has been won at a cost of $100,000. But every precaution is being taken to prevent another invasion from out-of-state.

On the positive side of the planting problems, the agriculture commissioner said South Texas cotton farmers have been given a 10-day extension—to midnight April 30—to plant, or replant where seeds failed to germinate because of unusually dry weather.

NO SECRETS IN SCHOOLS — A Texas law says that public school authorities can suspend or expel a student who solicits members for a fraternity, or other secret society, also prohibits other organizations from doing so. Attorney General Will Wilson has so ruled.

The law allows the formation in schools of Boy Scouts, Hi-Y, Girl Scouts, DeMolay, Rainbow Girls, Pan-American clubs, scholarship societies, and other "kindred education organizations sponsored by state or national education authorities."

But any "public welfare" group which isn't on the list of specifics is forbidden.

BOAT TRAFFIC PROBLEM — As warm weather inspires the owners of 177,082 motor boats to launch their crafts on Texas' lakes and streams, the problem of boat safety comes to the fore. The boat safety committee of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas were to study the matter with Rep. Ben Atwell on April 27.

Atwell has been directing questionnaires to all sportsmen's clubs to determine where and how boating accidents occur. Survey is to see if the Boat Safety Act passed by the 56th Legislature contains practical plans for accident prevention.

NEW HIGHWAY MARKERS — The 57th Legislature failed to appropriate funds for advertising Texas' tourist attractions out of the State. But the Texas Highway Commission has come up with a dazzling device for pointing out places of interest to travelers once they get in the State.

Historic sites and other spots of unusual interest will be pointed out by big, cast-aluminum markers, such as those used in Virginia. These markers will be erected at roadside parks and turnoffs, so drivers can pull over and read the legend at leisure.

Markers are three feet wide and four feet, 10 inches high and look like they're made of Swedish steel. They'll be mounted on six-foot aluminum poles.

Two already have been erected at a cost of $1,000 each. One, placed two miles northeast of Tyler, marks the site of the largest Confederate Army prisoner of war camp west of the Mississippi. It was paid for by the grandson of a Union soldier who spent some time there.

The other was purchased by the Odessa Chamber of Commerce to point to the famous Meteor Crater near Odessa.

On May 4, a third plaque will be set up at McCamey. It will mark Castle Gap—the old Butterfield Stage pass.

Attorney general ruled that such markers are necessary for maximum use of modern highways, and thus okayed the expenditure of State funds for future plaques.

Cost of plaques can be reduced to $700 each in mass lots.

Eyes of Texas turn toward Saturday's primary polls

Interest mounts here as election day approaches

The eyes of Texas will be on the primary election polls Saturday for the crowning event of what veteran political observers have dubbed one of the most interesting political campaigns in the state's history. Approximately 2,500,000 Texans, including anywhere from 1,400 to 1,800 Garza County voters, are expected to make up their minds on that day whom to cast their ballots for among a lengthy list of to appear for precinct offices in Precinct 2.

BOTH PRECINCT 2 candidates—one for justice of the peace and the other for constable—are unopposed, but their filing for office several weeks ago created a sizeable ripple in county political circles, which is expected to carry over into Saturday's election.

The McCrary-Franklin office in the old First National Bank building at the corner of Main and Avenue I will be the only polling place in the county for the Republican primary. The polls there will open at 8 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m.

Voting places for the Democratic primary, which will be from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m., have been announced as follows by N. C. Outlaw, county Democratic chairman:

Box 1, Youth Center; Box 2, Southland School Building; Box 3, Verbenia Community Center; Box 4, Justiceburg School Building; Box 5, Close City School Building; Box 6, Graham Chapel Community Building; Box 7, Pleasant Valley Baptist Church; Box 8, Post Junior High School Building; Box 9, Lincoln Elementary School Building.

SINCE IT IS the only county-wide race in which there is a contest, the campaign for the office of county judge has generated most of the interest in local races in Garza County. The race for Precinct 2 county commissioner, however, has stirred up interest not only within the precinct, but throughout the county, because of the large number of candidates.

The names of eight candidates, including E. E. (Elva) Peel, seeking re-election, will appear on the ballot in the bid for Democratic nomination for election as Precinct 2 commissioner. In addition, there is a write-in candidate. Seeking the office besides Peel are John N. Hopkins, R. E. Josey, A. P. (Chunk) Gurley, G. A. (Buck) Harrison, Homer L. Gordon, Nathan Little, B. F. (Ben) Brewer and write-in candidate L. P. Kennedy Jr.

The three candidates for county judge are the incumbent, J. E. Parker, who is seeking a second four-year term; A. C. Cooke and J. Lee Bowen.

In Precinct 4, Mason Justice, a candidate for a second four-year term as county commissioner, is opposed by Sid Cross.

THERE IS ALSO interest in the three-candidate race for Precinct 1 justice of the peace, where D. C. Roberts, the incumbent, is opposed by W. B. (Byron) Haynie, and A. H. Nelson in his bid for re-election.

County candidates who are unopposed in seeking re-election are Dean A. Robinson, county school superintendent; Carl Cederholm, district and county clerk, and Faye Cockrell, county treasurer.

The two Precinct 2 candidates, who have drawn no opponents in their bids for these "first" offices, are Donald Windham for justice of the peace and Emmett A. Steizer for constable.

Also unopposed on the ballot are eight of the nine candidates for the

Deaf-mute murder hearing continued

District Judge Truett Smith took under advisement here yesterday a defense motion for dismissal of the murder charge against deaf-mute Reymundo Flores on the grounds that the 35-year-old Mexican farm hand does not understand the charge against him and cannot cooperate with his own counsel in a defense against such a charge.

At the same time, Judge Smith granted District Attorney George Hansard's request for a continuance of the trial because an important state witness in the case was missing from the courtroom.

Flores is charged with the fatal shooting of Pearlene Stafford, 33-year-old local Negro woman, here last Nov. 18 in a case which is attracting wide attention across West Texas because of the fact that the defendant cannot hear, speak, read or write in any language and hasn't been taught sign language.

THE MISSING WITNESS, who forced the trial to be put off until a later date after a special venire of 60 jurymen and women had been assembled, is Robert Johnson, local Negro.

Sheriff Fay Claborn said he was unable to reach Johnson to subpoena him to appear for the Flores murder trial. Johnson is reported to be in or near Tucson, Ariz.

Johnson reportedly is the only witness to the actual shooting.

Judge Smith told The Dispatch he would pass on the defense motion for dismissal "within a few days."

This comment came at 12:30 p. m. yesterday after Judge Smith had dismissed prospective jurors from the courtroom while four witnesses were called by the defense and two by the state to give testimony concerning the ability of persons to communicate with the defendant.

TESTIFYING ON behalf of the motion for dismissal were Pablo and Jesucita Flores, parents of the defendant, his 23-year-old brother, Isadora, and the defense attorney, Mago L. Alaniz of San Diego, Tex.

District Attorney Hansard called Post Police Chief Elton Corley to the stand and also Jessie Lee Johnson, local Negro proprietor of the High Hat Tavern.

Through the two and one-half hours of courtroom action on the case and the testimony, the neatly dressed defendant sat quietly at the end of the attorney's table just inside the courtroom rail.

He wore a dark gray suit and a light green shirt open at the collar. His eyes seldom strayed from the attorney's judge or witness stand.

IN HIS MOTION for dismissal, Alaniz told the court that Reymundo is unable to read, can't speak or hear, does not know sign language and consequently "I am in no position to announce ready for trial."

Furthermore, Alaniz said, his investigation disclosed that the defendant does not know the nature of the accusation against him and consequently is in no position to plea to said indictment or to assist counsel in defense of said cause.

The defendant, Alaniz said, as a result of physical and mental infirmities, will be unable to be confronted by the witnesses testifying against him and unable to confer with his counsel or assist said counsel in formulating a defense, or in cross-examination of witnesses, all of which will deprive this defendant of the equal protection of the laws of Texas and the United States.

The defense attorney asked the court to take "whatever action is deemed necessary to protect the rights of the defendant as contemplated under the constitution of Texas and the United States and in that respect, affiant shows the court that the court is duly bound to provide a method whereby the defendant will be provided the equal protection of the law, and that prosecution of this indictment should be held in abeyance until such time as the defendant would be provided the equal protection of the laws, or, in the alternative this indictment be dismissed.

WITH A woman interpreter translating each question to her, Jesucita Flores, mother of the defendant, was the first called to the witness stand. The mother's answer then was translated back into English for the court and the record.

She testified her son can neither read nor write and that she doesn't know if he knows "why he is here." She further testified in answer to questions that Reymundo does farm work but does not know how to drive a tractor.

Mrs. Flores said Reymundo is a good worker "but sometimes he gets headaches."

She said sometimes her son would come to town "with boys and not with the family." Questioned about Reymundo's ability to make his own purchases, she said he can buy his own clothes by pointing out what he wants.

Mrs. Flores said Reymundo is religious and goes to church but she said she didn't know if he understood "about his soul."

JUDGE SMITH asked her if she thought her son's mind "was all right." She answered she "didn't know."

Reymundo's father, Pablo, gray at the temples, testified that the family "had no trouble with Reymundo," that he had never been in trouble with the law before, had not shot anybody, stolen anything, or got into any fights before "the incident."

He said the family had come back from Colorado where they

Jasper thwarts burglary effort

Jasper Follis, who knows everybody downtown in Post, frightened off a burglar at Jimbo's Meat Market early Tuesday morning about 3 a. m.

Jasper, who lives in a trailer house near the Caprock Grain Co. office, noticed somebody at the south window of the meat market and investigated.

Apparently he scared the intruder no end by shouting at him because the cigar machine had been moved over to block the main door. When Jasper went to notify police, the intruder "broke out" the west door of the meat market which was locked and bolted.

Nothing was found to be missing.

First self help group finishes

A group of Postex Cotton Mill supervisors Tuesday night became the first class here to complete the pilot medical self-help training—and possibly the first to do so in the nation.

The final lesson was taught by Dr. Harry Tubbs, who heads the Rotary-sponsored county-wide training. The local physician reported not only are the some 253 Garza countians taking the self-help training enthusiastic about it, but so are the out-of-county physicians who are coming in this week as volunteers to help teach it.

Most of the local classes will finish their 12 lessons in early June. The Postex class held twice a week sessions to develop instructors for other mill classes.

Post teacher will attend institute

William Neil St. John, general science teacher at Post High School, is one of 44 science and mathematics teachers from 13 states selected to participate in the University of Texas' sixth Academic Year Institute in 1962-63.

R. T. Smith, superintendent of schools, said St. John has been granted a year's leave of absence by the Post school board so he can attend the institute.

The program provides a year's full-time advanced study for teachers of biology, chemistry, the earth sciences, mathematics and physics to help them improve their subject matter knowledge.

Participants include college teachers, secondary school teachers and "pre-service" teachers who are certified to teach science and mathematics but who have had no actual teaching experience.

County border dispute reaches lawsuit stage

The Borden and Garza county boundary dispute over some tax-rich oil lands is now in the lawsuit stage.

Borden County has sued Garza County in neighboring Howard county's county seat at Big Spring asking that surveyors run a boundary line between the counties.

County Attorney Carleton P. Webb has filed a long list of exceptions and an answer to the suit. No date for any hearing has been set.

If the case does go on to trial, the boundary dispute may not be settled for another three or four years.

Some 300 acres of land in four sections are in dispute. Borden County had collected taxes on these acres for 55 years until in 1957 the state land office changed the abstracts of record to place the land in Garza County, where it is argued here, the property had belonged all along.

R. H. Weaver of Big Spring is representing Borden County in the case as that county has no practicing attorney.

Honor students at PHS named

On the basis of grade averages the junior and senior years, Tommy Bouchier and Jean Johnston have been named as valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the 1962 Post High School graduating class.

Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Bouchier, has a grade average of 96.57½ for the two years. Jean's grade average is 92. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnston.

Ranking third among seniors in the grade averages is Roger Camp with 91.15. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Camp.

Others in the top ten of the graduating class, annually selected as honor students at Post High School, are, in order of their rank: Melinda Newby, Lee Williams, Beverly Young, Wayne Gamblin, Lynda Taylor, Leslie Acker and Leatrice Justice.

In commencement exercises to be held the night of May 25, the valedictorian and salutatorian will have places on the program, along with the third ranking student, who will give the class history.

Both the commencement exercises and the baccalaureate service, which is set for May 20, will be held at antelope stadium, weather permitting.

Junior rodeo meeting tonight

All stockholders and directors of the Post Junior Rodeo are requested to attend an important meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the district courtroom.

Lester Nichols, president of the organization, has called the meeting to elect officers and decide whether to stage a 1962 Junior Rodeo here this summer.

Lions Club lamb has brand new custodian

Billy Ramage was named at Tuesday night's meeting as new "custodian" of the Post Lion Club's membership lamb.

Custody of the lamb falls upon a member who has been absent from a meeting without a valid excuse.

Lions report that attendance has picked up to about 90 per cent since they started the lamb "gimmick."

Post Lions going to district convention

Plans for the annual convention of District 272, Lions International, to be held at Lamesa on Friday and Saturday, were outlined at Tuesday night's meeting of the Post Lions Club by Art Kinkaid of Lamesa, District 272 secretary.

At least 50 per cent of the Post Lions Club membership plan to attend all or some of the district convention sessions, a spokesman for the club said yesterday.

Golf and bowling tournaments will open the convention Friday morning, Kinkaid told local Lions. The annual queen contest, in

School tuition charge $216.98

Post Independent School District trustees voted Monday night at its second special meeting on the subject to continue to charge the pro-rata share of local school costs, less bonded indebtedness, as tuition for out-of-school district students.

A tuition charge of $216.98 had been set Friday noon for the 1962-63 school year using this formula at the first special meeting.

The vote on the tuition motion Monday was 6 to 1 with Ronnie Bouchier casting the negative vote.

Bouchier contended out-of-district students should be charged tuition figured at the pro-rata overall cost, including bonded indebtedness.

The Post trustees met to settle the tuition question at the request of the Close City school district trustees who are in the process of re-figuring their district valuations and need to know the exact tuition charge proposed for the next school year by the local district.

The bonded indebtedness cost for the local school, on a per pupil basis is about $50.

Dean Robinson met with the trustees Monday night at the request of some of the trustees to explain some of the technicalities of state school support as it pertained to the tuition issue.

In another action Monday night, school trustees voted unanimously to keep hands off all surrounding school districts and let them handle their own problems. The motion was proposed by E. R. Moreland, board president.

The tuition charge for out-of-district students last year was $203, the year before $196, and the year before that $187. Local school costs have been rising each year, it was pointed out, and the higher tuition is accounted through the same formula.

At the first special meeting Friday noon at Tom's Place, trustees voted to add the bonded indebtedness charge to the tuition but only after giving a year's notice. The second meeting reversed this decision when some new points about state school aid following incoming students was brought out through questions to County Superintendent Robinson.

Trustees expressed themselves as wanting to do the fair thing for neighboring districts as well as for the Post district in the matter.

20 enrolled here in credit short course

Approximately 20 proprietors and employees of some 11 local business firms are enrolled in the 10-hour credit short course being conducted here this week by Lowry M. Carpenter, retail training specialist from the University of Texas.

The course will end tonight. It has been sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association of Post.
