Would you trade your pocket change for $1,000?

Just 63¢ a day will do it

You'd be surprised how much the money you carry in your change pocket, saved regularly, can add up to.

By putting away only 63¢ a day for one month, you'd have enough to buy a $25 Series E Savings Bond. Keep it up for forty months, and you'd find yourself owning a neat stack of Bonds worth $1000 at maturity. The nice part about this $1000 nest egg is it only costs $750. And you pay for it with money that probably would have gone down the drain.

SOME ADVANTAGES OF U.S. BONDS

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan.
- You now earn 5 1/2% interest on instant.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Of more than passing interest is some of the testimony being taken in the hearings by a Federal examiner of the affairs of Fox Markets, now operating under Chapter XI of the Bankruptcy Act.

This 45 unit food chain in Los Angeles recently found itself unable to pay more than $10 million owed principally to packers and wholesalers.

Two items especially, C. W. Harder so far, are of great interest as a comment on contemporary times and business mores.

Edwin J. Fox has already testified that one of the nation's largest dairy operations made it possible for him to get a half million dollar bank loan.

Asked why the dairy company "cooperated" to make it possible for him to get this loan, Mr. Fox said "I was able to put their products into Fox Markets."

Thus, it is established, that until the dairy company "cooperated" it was seemingly impossible for Mr. Fox to stock their products in Fox Markets.

Mr. Fox himself testifies in his opinion that the biggest factor in the chain getting into distress was trading stamps. His markets handed out the oldest nationally known trading stamps, while most of his competitors give out Blue Chip stamps.

Blue Chip stamps are owned and controlled by a number of market operators in California and was presumably set up to drive other trading stamps out of the market and eventually eliminate trading stamps. As Blue Chip stamps are operated without any desire for a profit, it is reputed they give more value per stamp than their competitors.

Mr. Fox said he underestimated the power that Blue Chip stamps would have in the Los Angeles market, with the result that his markets did not draw the volume of patronage he had projected.

It is interesting to note in the list of published creditors that the largest creditor, by a substantial margin, with the exception of a bank loan, is the trading stamps company with which Fox Markets did business.

The records show that this stamp company alone is owed more than $600 thousand.

This then shows up one of the merchandising fallacies of the times. One is the widespread feeling spread among consumers that trading stamps are a "something for nothing" device.

As illustrated by the Fox example, when stamps are given out, they are a major part of store overhead and must be passed on to the consumer in some manner.

A business depending on a build up there is being given something for nothing is built on shifting sands, as it will collapse when anyone comes along and tells the idea they will give even more for nothing. Perhaps it could be said that Fox was out-foxed.

DISPATCH ONE OF PAPERS CARRYING ADS Telephone company's newspaper advertising given high honor

For the second successive year, the General Telephone System's newspaper advertising for its operating telephone companies received high honor from "Editor and Publisher," leading publication in the newspaper field, it is announced by Mark F. Cooper, director of public relations for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The special "Citation for Effective Newspaper Advertising" was given to the General Telephone advertising on additional telephones in the home. The ads, which have appeared in The Post Dispatch with the headline, "Reach... Don't Run," told of the benefits and low cost of additional telephones in various parts of the house.

According to the announcement made by Editor and Publisher, these ads appeared in 1,000 newspapers in the 31 states serviced by the 16 operating telephone companies which are a part of the General Telephone & Electronics Corporation. The advertising in newspapers—backed by advertising in the local telephone business offices, inserts with monthly bills, and other promotional efforts—has been important in continuing to build General's telephone business. The number of phones in use increases about 8 per cent annually, showing the outstanding job that these telephone companies are doing in furnishing complete telephone service to their customers.

A year ago, Editor and Publisher selected General's "Telephone Fair" advertising and promotion for this same award.

 A group of Royal Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church spent the first three days of the week at the Plains Assembly in Floydada. Those who attended were: Lee Norman, Charles Baker, James McBride, Robert Hogue, Don Horton and Mike Scott. Leon Barnes accompanied them as counselor.

"It's A Boy Wrong Number!"

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Lewis C. Herron

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

WILL FARMERS PRODUCE ENOUGH IN 1975?

Will U. S. farmers in 1975 be able to provide food, feed, and fiber for a third greater population than today's? Can they meet bigger domestic needs and also provide exports to other nations?

A probable "yes" to both questions was the conclusion reached by two economists, R. O. Rogers and G. T. Barton, in a recent appraisal of our crop production potential. This is just part of a large study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to assess the job of agriculture and agricultural research in meeting future needs.

Findings indicate the challenge to farmers in 1975 will not be a lack of resources, but how to allocate them to achieve a better balance between production and market demand. This challenge, the economists believe, calls for research on more efficient use of all resources within agriculture and more effective resource adjustment between agriculture and nonfarm sectors of the economy.

TO PROVIDE A basis for their analysis, the researchers made several assumptions, including: (1) A 1975 population of 230 million; (2) exports near the high level of 1956; (3) an increase of 10 per cent in livestock-feeding efficiency; and (4) economic and other conditions favorable to adoption by farmers of improved practices and higher farm production.

Total demand for farm products, including a moderate increase in per capita consumption plus exports, was projected at 35 per cent greater in 1975 than in 1956-58. The needed increase in livestock (45 per cent) would be considerably greater than in crops (25 per cent). This is due largely to the tendency for consumption of livestock products to rise with income, and to the projected increase in livestock-feeding efficiency.

PROJECTIONS ON production included two levels of yield per harvested acre for each major crop: (1) Economic attainable yield, or that likely through greater use of present technology. This yield level takes into account limitations on management, materials, equipment, and capital, as well as past rates of adopting technology, (2) Economic maximum yield, or that which could be attained with full, efficient, and economic application of present technology.

Analysis indicates that economic attainable yields would provide a 20 per cent increase in average crop production per harvested acre above 1956-58. This is not enough

One violation that received widespread publicity last month was the arrest of three men at Cleveland, who paid a total of $380 for shooting a 10-pound fawn with a shotgun.

Hints on keeping laying flock on job in hot weather offered

COLLEGE STATION—Hens, like a lot of people, slow down when the temperature climbs. This slow down, says Bill Cawley, assistant extension poultry husbandman, results in a drop in egg production; lower income for the producer and fewer eggs for consumers.

Hens perform best when the temperature ranges between 55 and 75 degrees F. Egg production takes a noticeable dip when the thermometer hits 80 degrees and many hens will die when the 100 and above mark is reached.

But Cawley says flock owners can do something about the weather in this case. Here are his suggestions: give the hens plenty of cool 70 degree, clean water and a continual flow waterer is recommended; all sides of the house should be open to permit cross ventilation; exhaust or circulating fans will aid in air movement; all vegetation within 50 feet of the poultry house should be kept mowed and grass around the houses will cut down on heat from reflection; a fine mist of water sprayed on the house roof will reduce temperature through evaporation; actually spraying the birds on extremely hot days with a garden hose will pay; if the roof on the house is a dark color, a coat of whitewash is a good investment.

Also avoid built-up litter during the hot months. Use only a about two inches of floor litter. Use lights at night to encourage water and feed consumption and using pelleted feeds will increase consumption and help improve egg production.

And, concludes Cawley, just talking about hot weather isn't enough. It is now time for action.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — House members burned midnight oil in an effort to get a tax bill to the Senate before the mid-point of the brief 30-day session.

In the long, long sessions and seemingly endless succession of approaches, amendments, substitutes and substitutes for the substitutes, it was often difficult to tell who was winning what. Showdown votes indicated that it is still easier for members to agree on what they don't want than on what they do.

Rejected, at least for the time being, was a package bill recommended by the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Its main money-raiser was a sales tax, with exemptions, on items costing $5 or more. It also included more utilities taxes, natural gas taxes, a transfer of funds from the permanent school fund, a revised franchise tax and a bookkeeping transfer.

Also turned down were proposals for a 4 per cent corporate income tax by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston and a 1 per cent general sales tax by Rep. Tom Andrews of Aransas Pass.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, chairman of revenue and taxation, was pushing for a package bill that closely tracked Gov. Price Daniel's recommendations at the beginning of the session. It differed from the committee-written package chiefly in that it included a Pennsylvania-type sales tax, applying only to items listed in the bill.

Despite the House problems, an Aug. 8 finish may still be possible. Senate, generally, is swifter and more nearly of one mind on money matters. It agreed on a tax bill in its regular session in approximately one-third the time spent by the House.

Hardest part is getting agreement on one plan from both House and Senate—and finally—from the governor.

HOUSE HAS given second reading approval to a bill appropriating $2,527,000,000 for the next two years. It is slightly higher than the bill passed earlier by the Senate, and eventually differences will have to be worked out by a conference committee of the two houses.

A group of conservatives in the House were foiled—at least temporarily—in an effort to cut the bill by $27,000,000 through economy measures. Among items they felt could be deleted or put off were recarpeting the House chamber and refinishing members' desks for $250,000, adding an office for the governor to the Governor's Mansion for $50,000, installation of a sprinkler system on the Capitol lawn for $20,000 and several other expenses of that nature.

Economy group also wanted to trim back some increases in the bill for salaries and travel expenses for state personnel and eliminate paying legislators a salary for the period between November, 1960, when the annual pay amendment was approved, and the start of the session in January.

A BILL TO provide more liberal state aid for sparsely populated school districts has been approved by the House Education Committee.

Rep. Sam F. Collins of Newton is sponsor of the measure which would provide $378,000 to pay for 90 additional teachers in rural areas. Most of the extra teachers would be for Negro schools.

Objectors to the bill said it would perpetuate the problem of having school districts too small to provide a strong school program.

On the other side of the Capitol, the Senate Education Committee gave reluctant approval to a more economical teacher pay raise plan than the Hale-Aikin plan it already had approved. Sent to the floor was a bill by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi which would give teachers a $600 a year raise this year, $200 more in 1963 and $200 more in 1965. Hale-Aikin provides for $810 a year more immediately.

A BILL CREATING a board to control water pollution is under study by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee.

Similar bill was passed by the House last session but died in the Senate. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, sponsor of the measure, said that unless the state acts now to control pollution, the federal government will take over.

Under the Corby bill, a nine-member commission would be created with power to cancel an industrial firm's permit to operate if it persisted in activities causing water pollution.

A bill to reorganize the State Board of Water Engineers, somewhat along the lines of the State Highway Commission, is also under study by the same committee. Under the proposal by Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, a chief engineer would be in charge of administrative and technical functions and a board would make policy.

A BILL TO provide additional lobby regulation attracted neither friends nor enemies to a hearing before the House State Affairs Committee.

Pro and con views were presented solely by members of the House before the measure was sent to subcommittee for study. Proposed bill would require lobbyists to file a report showing who received any amount above $50 spent to influence legislation. It would also prohibit a lobbyist's calling a member off the floor during session without advance permission.

Critics declared the legislators didn't need a law to enable them to stay put at their desks if they wanted to.

CITIZENS FOR Fair Taxation, an anti-sales tax committee, announced, as expected, that its poll showed a majority against a retail sales tax.

It also seemed to show that the people polled were not very much in favor of any kind of new tax. CFW announced that 78 per cent of those opposed were against a retail sales tax on items of 25 cents or more, and 61 per cent were against selective excise or sales taxes if they hit any of the necessities. Eighty per cent were against a personal income tax.

A majority in the CFT poll favored the abandoned property bill, raising franchise taxes on interstate corporations and a corporation income tax.

Wolfcamp find reported here

A new discovery, opening Wolfcamp oil production in the North Red Loflin field, 12 miles west of Justiceburg, has been reported.

The project, General American Oil Co. of Texas No. 3-743 Koonsman, pumped 152 barrels of 28.2 gravity oil per day from perforations between 6,043 and 6,049 feet. It was acidized with 1.00 gallons, and 4½-inch casing was set at 6,172 feet. Total depth is 8,338 feet. Location is 440 feet from the north line and 2,100 feet from the east line of Section 473, Block 97, H&TC Survey.

Rev. Bill Hogue received word Monday that his father, George Hogue of Corpus Christi, suffered a heart attack and is in serious condition.

BILLIONS OF BUGS DEFEY MAN... SCIENCE

Safety is VIP for nation's 4-H youth

VIP in the 4-H roster can be found under the heading of Safety. VIP in this case means "very important project." Spelled backwards it could mean "people in vehicles."

Either way, the combination alerts more young people to the importance of safety than does any other 4-H endeavor. Some 900,000 boys and girls are participating in a 4-H safety activity or project in which they help to lessen dangers on highways, farms, in homes and communities, reports the Cooperative Extension Service.

Right now when millions of motorists take to the road for weekend outings or long awaited vacations, chances for accidents mount. Motor vehicle accidents top the list, says the National Safety Council. Over the long 4th of July weekend, a record number of people died because of accidents.

The death toll among rural people is exceptionally high, according to the safety council. Over the last 10 years, 58,000 rural residents died and two million were injured on the highway. Fatal accidents for the decade increased 26 per cent. Tractor fatalities climbed 50 per cent over the last eight years.

While 4-H Club members represent a small number of the 82 million automobile drivers, they do a commendable job in eliminating driving hazards in their communities also check for health and recreation hazards, home safety and safe handling of animals, according to the Extension Service which supervises the work.

These and other deeds merit specific rewards provided for the 17th consecutive year by General Motors. They consist of scholarships, educational trips, certificates and honor medals for outstanding 4-H'ers who have made safety their No. 1 crop. Training aids for local club leaders and members are also made available by GM.

Said Anthony De Lorenzo, GM vice president, "Every 4-H member should take an active interest in safety... there is a great deal to be done." At the present time 2.3 million boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 belong to a 4-H Club.

Next November, eight top-ranking 4-H'ers will be named national safety champions and receive $400 scholarships. State winners will enjoy a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago where they will join 1,500 fellow-members as guests of GM at a gala luncheon honoring all winners, club leaders and friends of 4-H.

Last year's national safety award winners came from Colorado, Illinois, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

Turkeys star on August food list

COLLEGE STATION — Turkeys star in summer meals as well as in autumn meals because marketings are as large this August as around Thanksgiving in yesteryears.

This is pointed out by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in announcing that turkeys top the list of August plentiful foods prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

With Turkey marketings running a fourth or more larger than last August, prices hover near a record low, making turkey a bargain meat.

Local supplies of peaches, cantaloupes and watermelons as well as many summer vegetables are generous enough to rate USDA's plentiful tag this month.

Shipments of eating plums from California are running much larger than usual for this season. Other foods in better than normal August supply include eggs and shrimp, fresh, frozen and canned.

After checking local and national food stocks, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service compiles this monthly plentiful foods list to help farmers market more of their produce through normal trade channels, and to help consumers make better use of America's agricultural abundance.

Connecticut and Pennsylvania have the same state flower, the Mountain Laurel.

July 10 was the starting date of the program. To qualify, each agent must sell one or more of the company's personal insurance policies, or one or more of any of INA's commercial policies.

SUNDAY IS CHURCH'S ANNIVERSARY DATE

The Calvary Baptist Church will observe its 25th anniversary with an all-day service Sunday. The present rebuilt church building at the left dates from 1944 and the educational unit at the right was constructed in 1954. The parsonage, at the rear of the church, was added in 1946.

Calvary Baptist Church to celebrate birthday Sunday

Post's Calvary Baptist Church will celebrate its 25th anniversary Sunday, July 30, with homecoming. The Rev. Graydon Howell, pastor, has announced that there will be special services throughout the day with lunch being served at the church at noon. The public is invited to attend.

Skip-row cotton comes out good

HALFWAY—Cotton planted skip-row with barley got off to a flying start in comparison with cotton planted elsewhere at the High Plains Research Foundation here. The plants exceeded the others in vigor and height, due to the wind protection afforded by the barley. When the barley was harvested, the stubble was disked. Soybeans were planted in some four-row plots and grain sorghums in others for further study of the skip-row system of farming. The barley is the Cordova variety and the four-row strips of cotton are Paymaster 8890. Visiting farmers have shown considerable interest in the skip-row planting.

Calvary Baptist Church was organized in July, 1936. A group of seven Baptists, feeling the need of and accepting the challenge, met, called for and set up the organization, leaving charter membership open for the following week.

A total of 122 united with the organization, which called the Rev. E. R. Stiles as pastor, a place he filled for the following two years. The old Postex Hotel was purchased as the first church building and was used until 1944, when it was torn down and rebuilt.

In 1946, the parsonage was added to the church. God looked with favor on the church and continued to add to it with bountiful blessings, one of which was a lot donated to it in 1952 at Plains Baptist Assembly, to which was moved a small building as a cabin to take care of the encampment attendance.

In 1954, 4,800 square feet of floor space for an educational unit was added to the church plant. Further improvements came in 1957 in the form of the paving of Avenue H, which is in front of the church property. Also in 1959, the auditorium was completely re-decorated.

The value of the church property is now estimated at $45,000, with a resident membership of 284. A full-time program is maintained, with Sunday School and Training Union for all ages; Women's Missionary Union and auxiliaries for the boys and girls. Former pastors of the Calvary Baptist Church are: E. R. Stiles, Spurgeon Tipton, Walter Devers, Cone Merritt, Hubert Brown, Grayson Tennyson, H. C. Bristow, F. M. Wiley, O. L. Jones, I. D. Walker and Shelby Bishop.

More superintendents are named for Fair

LUBBOCK—Three more Panhandle South Plains Fair superintendents were named Tuesday by Fair President Homer Hunt, including a general assistant agriculture superintendent.

Walter Y. Wells was named assistant general agriculture superintendent, and will serve under George (Scotty) Samson, Post, general agriculture superintendent. Lee H. McElroy, Lubbock County agent, was named earlier as the other general assistant agriculture superintendent. Wells is assistant cashier at the American State Bank, Lubbock.

Also named was Billy G. Rodgers, Swisher County agent, Tulla, and Mrs. Ross Adamson, Ropesville.

FORT WORTH GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce K. Jacobson and children of Fort Worth returned home after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Weakley.

Hog raising proving profitable project for 4-H Club members

Among the nation's hog growers are 4-H Club members who are learning how to breed, feed, show and market animals. Last year nearly 170,000 members raised more than a half million hogs in the 4-H swine program, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

Pork ranks second in the tastes of American meat eaters. The average consumption is 64.5 pounds compared to 85 pounds of beef. The 1961 production and consumption is expected to reach a new high and 4-H swine projects have expanded accordingly.

I. Q. Zoo again booked for Fair

Lubbock Panhandle South Plains Fair President Homer Hunt said Tuesday that contracts for a bigger and better I. Q. Zoo have been signed for the 1961 Fair, Sept. 25-30.

The zoo, one of the biggest crowd-pleasers at the 1960 Fair, will include the Cannon Rabbit, the Kissing Bunny, Casey at the bat, the Dancing Bantam acts which played the 1960 Fair plus Henda the Fortune Teller plus a Miniature Stage Show starring a chicken and a rabbit.

The I. Q. Zoo is owned by the Animal Behavior Enterprises, Hot Springs, Ark. Fair officials noted that the I. Q. Zoo area was packed from the time the show opened until it closed last year.

The new Miniature Stage Show, which lasts from eight to 12 minutes, includes such attractions as a contest between a chicken and a rabbit shooting a bow and arrow, a rabbit jumping through hoops putting silver dollars in a piggy bank and a chicken playing the old shell game, beating the audience at poker, doing arithmetic problems, passing out cigarettes and answering "yes" and "no" to questions from the audience.

Both girls and boys are enrolled in this program. One of the six national scholarship winners last year was a 17-year-old Kansas miss who also won the Miss Duroc Princess title in 1957.

She is Connie Reder who lives on a farm in south eastern Kansas. Connie has had a swine project throughout her nine years of 4-H membership, and like other state and national champions, has served in various club offices and as junior leader.

This year six new national winners will be named by the Cooperative Extension Service along with state and county winners.

Awards will again be provided by the Moorman Manufacturing Co., Quincy, Illinois. They consist of $400 scholarships, expense paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress. Moorman officials will personally congratulate the winners and will host a special recognition event.

LL All-Stars, area champs, to play Lubbock tonight

Win Aspermont tourney by defeating O'Donnell

Post's Little League All-Stars, winners of the area tournament at Aspermont, will play the Southern Lubbock All-Stars at 6 p. m. today in the district Little League tournament at Lubbock.

The game will be played on the City Park diamond at Nashville and 26th Street, which may be reached by going out 34th Street to Nashville and then eight blocks north to 26th.

If the Post team defeats Southern Lubbock, they will play in the final at 8 p. m. Friday against the winner of the Reese Air Force Base-Brownfield game. If the locals win their first game, they are eliminated from the tournament.

ON THE BASIS of their performance in winning the area tournament at Aspermont, the Post team is considered to have an excellent chance to win the district tournament beginning tonight.

The All-Stars, made up of players selected from Post's six Little League teams, are managed by Pat N. Walker and coached by Auvy McBride. Walker and McBride worked with the the Dodgers and Westerners, respectively, during the regular Little League season.

The Post All-Stars, behind the tight pitching of Freddie Collazo, defeated O'Donnell, 5 to 2, Sunday afternoon to win the area tournament. They had advanced to the finals with a first round bye, followed by a 2 to 1 win over Slaton, with Ronnie Pierce pitching a two-hitter in a mound duel with Slaton's lefthander Henry Johnson, who allowed only three hits.

POST GOT OFF to a fast start against O'Donnell by scoring four runs in the first inning. O'Donnell had scored two runs in the top of the first, but were shut out by Collazo the rest of the way. Post scored again in the fifth on successive singles by Pierce and Donnie Windham. In addition to pitching a three-hitter, Collazo helped the Post cause at bat with two hits—a single and a double—in three trips.

The Post-Slaton game was scoreless until the fifth inning when the locals pushed across their two runs. Slaton threatened seriously in the sixth, when they scored their only run. After the run, a Slaton runner was on second base with only one out, but Pierce whiffed the next two batters to preserve the victory. He fanned a total of 12 batters.

PIERCE ALSO got one of Post's three hits in the Slaton game, with Roy Long and Dick Kennedy accounting for the other two.

The manager and the coach described both Post wins as team victories, with the boys playing errorless ball in both games.

O'Donnell had made its way to the finals by trouncing Tahoka, 12 to 5, and then edging Lamesa, 5 to 4. Slaton beat Crosbyton in their first round game, with Cooper, the Slaton pitcher, turning in a no-hit, no-run effort.

Cash's big bat booming again

Detroit Tiger first baseman Norm Cash, with an awesome display of batting power drove in eight runs Sunday against the Kansas City Athletics to go back into the American League batting lead and also back into the lead in runs batted in.

Cash's batting spurge came in a doubleheader before 17,852 fans at Kansas City, including more than 40 of his hometown fans, most of whom had rode a chartered bus to Kansas City Friday for the series between the Tigers and the A's.

Also among the fans was Norm's father, Bandy Cash of Justiceburg, who had flown up earlier with Irby G. Metcalf Jr. and Alton Greer and son.

Cash knocked a home run his first time at bat in the first game to set his hometown fans to whooping it up.

The former Post High School athlete's performance at the plate Sunday enabled him to go around Elston Howard of the New York Yankees for the AL batting lead and to go back up to the tops in runs batted in, with 91 as compared with 90 for Jim Gentile of the Baltimore Orioles. Cash's Sunday homer was his 27th of the season. The Detroit star's lead in runs batted in was short-lived, however. The Yankees' sensational Roger Maris drove in eight runs in a doubleheader Tuesday to take over the AL lead with 96. Cash's still out front in the batting race.

Tech's football pressbooks will be distributed

LUBBOCK—Distribution of Tech football pressbooks to Red Raider Club members will begin Monday, according to Robert (Bob) Jackson, president of the organization, helping support Texas Tech athletics.

Raider Club members are only persons except for sports-casters and sportscasters scheduled to receive the 1961 pressbook. Jackson, executive vice-president, pointed out. Receiving the pressbook containing the Tech Tech roster, sketches of players and coaches, data on opponents and similar material, is just one of several privileges accruing to Raider members. Jackson added among other activities are noon luncheon meetings with the coaches during the football season, a week-end letter from the head coach after each game, and social gatherings. Contributions from Red Raider Club members help finance athletic scholarships — consisting of board, tuition, books, and money—and are administered by the college. Details on joining the club—which lists members from several states—may be obtained by writing Box 456, Lubbock, Tex.

Ski champ to defend title

AUSTIN—Charles E. (Chuck) Stearns, a 22-year-old Californian who is the world's fastest water skier, is scheduled to defend four titles in the National Water Ski Championships here Aug. 17-20.

Stearns is one of last year's overall champs in seven divisions who will attempt to retain their crowns. He is the only one of the seven who made a clean sweep last year at Minneapolis, winning the men's jumping, tricks and slalom titles as well as the overall championship.

The Bellflower, Calif., youngster holds the world's record for speed skiing at an average of 59.22 miles per hour and has won more races—over 100—than any other skier. Just two years after he began skiing, he entered the Nationals in 1955 and won the boys' slalom, tricks and overall titles to become California's first national champion. The meet will be held on Austin's new Town Lake, where seating arrangements are being made for 10,000 spectators.

Swing me, Mommy, she says. Swing me high! All the way up to the clouds, if you can!

I smile and say, "I can't; not that high, darling." But still I push the swing and watch her soar skyward. Then she comes back to earth again, giggling, "That time I nearly touched the clouds, didn't I, Mommy?" I laugh and say, "Well—nearly, perhaps."

I look down at her, and for a desperately tender moment I wish that I could always keep that smile on her face, this laugh in her voice, the happy conviction that she nearly touched the clouds. Like all parents, I yearn to spare my child sorrow, anger, hurt of every kind. I yearn to keep from her the knowledge that none of us ever quite touch the clouds. And I know I can't.

So I am thankful—more thankful than ever—for the Church, and the lessons it is teaching her. None of us can give our children perpetual sanctuary. But all of us can help them find Faith.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

About your health

There is a swinging pendulum in Texas. It is descending like Poe's weapon in the pit to alter the picture of rabies in Texas.

At the end of June the Texas State Department of Health announced a total of 359 rabies cases in Texas reported to health authorities. Sixty-nine of these cases occurred in June.

The changing aspects of the Texas rabies picture stems from the fact that prevalence of wildlife rabies has shifted significantly from foxes to skunks during the past few years.

Whereas 10 years ago, most rabies cases reported in Texas involved domestic animals, today the majority of cases are among wildlife animals. Out of the 69 cases reported in June, nearly half were skunks.

In all of 1951, there were only 54 cases of rabies among skunks spread over 30 different counties. During the same year, most wildlife rabies cases were reported in foxes.

A dramatic swing of Texas rabies in another direction is also apparent. During the peak fox-wildlife outbreaks the major area of occurrence was in a chain of counties running in a rough horizontal line stretching from mid-East Texas through Central Texas.

Today the skunk wildlife picture spreads across a north-to-south belt involving the eastern portion of Central Texas, and has now involved South Texas, West Texas, North-Central Texas, and the Texas Panhandle counties.

At the end of June, an aggregate of 179 cases of skunk rabies had been reported since January 1st—22 in June alone. The number of cases that come to the State Health Department laboratory for diagnosis represents only a small fraction of the number of cases that actually occur.

It is this that portrays the descending nature of the pendulum. One state already assumes that any submitted skunk head is rabid, and human and animal exposure to a skunk bite is dealt with as an exposure to rabies.

Escape from the immediate danger of rabies exposure can be avoided with proper vaccination of dogs and cats periodically as recommended by a veterinarian.

Pond weeds controlled by careful planning

COLLEGE STATION — POND weeds have ruined many a good fishing spot. A heavy growth of annoying weeds can be a real headache, but there are methods of solving such problems, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Careful planning before building a farm pond can help prevent such a problem. Large areas of shallow water should be avoided because weeds nearly always become a problem in areas where the water is less than about three feet deep. Deeper water reduces the amount of sunlight penetration and thus helps prevent excessive plant growth, Cooper explains.

Weeds that grow beneath the water surface often can be controlled through the use of fertilizers. The fertilizer acts as a stimulant for the growth of microscopic plant and animal life which, in turn, reduces sunlight penetration. Fertilization also helps the fish because they benefit from the increased food production.

If you see that weeds are beginning to infest your pond, act quickly, continues Cooper. If the weeds are considered to be of an undesirable type, they can be removed mechanically. This includes cutting, pulling, raking and other expensive methods. The methods should be employed before the weeds become too well established.

In recent years, chemicals which can be used to control many types of pond weeds have been developed. When properly used, they can be effective and safe. Improper use, however, can be dangerous to fish, other wild animals, livestock and humans using the pond water.

Since there is no single chemical which is safe and effective in the control of all pond weeds, you must first have the troublesome weed identified. If a chemical can be used, you should follow the instructions very carefully. It is important that you properly apply the right chemical at the correct stage of plant growth, points out Cooper.

Your local county agent can help identify those troublesome weeds, and he can also recommend the proper control measures.

BACKYARD BARBECUE

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Power entertained the Ford employees with a backyard barbecue last Friday night. There were 20 guests present.

VISIT RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Scott and children visited friends and relatives over the weekend in Quanah.

The Texian Editor's Frontier News Flashes

Department of Journalism & Graphic Arts University of Houston

(From Belleville Countryman) July 17, 1961

We attended the barbecue near Travis on Saturday last, and were pleased with the manner in which things generally were conducted. There were four uniformed military companies there, who were reformed into a battalion and went through considerable of the drill under Col. Paine. A flag with a neat address by Miss Pier on the part of the ladies, was presented to the Buffalo Blues.

The Central Executive Committee met on Monday last at 2 o'clock p. m. Previous to the meeting of the committee, an impromptu citizens meeting was held, in which Hon. E. Waller, acted as chairman.

At this meeting, Col. J. E. Kirby being called upon, gave in detail some of the information he had gained by a recent visit to Galveston. From what he said, there is no doubt there are traitors on Galveston Island, a heap of them, and we hope soon to hear of their crime deserves. The people and officers at Galveston are momentarily in expectation of an attack, and think that a force will attempt to land upon the island. We think our citizen soldiery should hold themselves in readiness to march at an instant's notice. Let us be up and doing and be prepared for any emergency. The Colonel says that the South Carolina is loaded with artillery and arms of every description suitable for a land force, and the authorities at Galveston entertain no doubt that an attempt will be made soon to land an invading force somewhere on the coast of Texas—a force that shall attempt to fortify themselves and become a nucleus for all the traitors we have among us to collect together. If these things are so, and they look reasonable, it stands every man in hand to be prepared to perform his part in defending his country the best he may.

A citizen's meeting has been called to meet at this place next Monday. At that meeting we understand, it is proposed to take into consideration, the propriety of requesting the people of the county to come forward and voluntarily take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate government. We hope there will be a large turn out of the citizens of the county, and that if it is determined to request the people to take the oath of allegiance, that there will be no backwardness on the part of any, but that all will come up to the mark and show their devotion to their county. The executive committee, we learn, will take the oath of allegiance at that time, and there may be many who would like to see and hear it. Come one, then, come all, and if the people favor the taking the oath, let there be no laggards in the work.

Gen. Earl Van Dorn passed through our town on Friday last. During his stay in Columbus the young men gave him a complimentary party, which was numerously attended, and turned out to be a very pleasant affair. By the way, our efficient Marshal came very near arresting the General for violating the ordinance with reference to "furious driving." The General was accompanying some ladies on a riding excursion, and as they rode rapidly as well as gracefully, he had, for gallantry's sake, to keep up with them. Query: If the Marshal had arrested Gen. Van Dorn, would he not have been compelled to arrest the ladies? The General left Saturday for Austin.

COTTON MISS — Eight-year-old Pam Pittman of Birmingham, Ala., is the new 1961 Little Miss Cotton. Blonde, green-eyed Pam won the national title in Memphis, Tenn., in competition with 18 other little girls between six and ten. She will be pictured in national publications in an all-cotton, back-to-school wardrobe styled by top children's wear designers.

I Give You Texas . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

Early in the War with Mexico, the American troops, under General Zachary Taylor, were encamped along the Rio Grande and in Matamoros the soldiers were entertained by a theatrical troupe.

Among the performers was Joseph Jefferson, then a youth of 18, who was destined to become immortal for his "Rip Van Winkle."

The company—which included Jefferson's mother—was in Galveston when news came that Taylor's army was advancing on the Rio Grande and the manager decided that the players should follow the army. The trip was made by steamer from Galveston to Point Isabel (now Port Isabel) which Jefferson described in his "autobiography" as flat and sand, "covered with tents and boiling over with military preparations." The actors could hear the booming of the cannon as the Battle of Palo Alto was fought and, the next morning, Jefferson saw an ambulance arrive with the wounded Major Samuel Ringgold, who died soon afterward.

AFTER THE Battle of Escobedo de la Palma, Matamoros was occupied and then the troupe established itself there and "acted to the most motley group that ever filled a theater."

A vivid picture of the city was given by Jefferson: "The dwelling houses in Matamoros were generally one story high, built of brick, plastered, and painted yellow; one door and an iron-barred window in front on the street and the same at the back, leading to a courtyard which was used in common by the occupants of the house for washing, ironing, cooking and eating. We occupied one of these establishments.

"In the morning, little tables, with white cloths, were brought out and set for breakfast in the open air. The different families would sit at them and drink their hot coffee, eat their fruit and bread, smoke their cigarettes, and talk away as gaily as if no war were going.

"THE COURTYARDS were entered by a large gate, and hired out to passing caravans of muleteers or rancheros, who occupied the middle of the space. Here they also took their meals and sold their fruit, vegetables, chickens and dry goods of cheap and gaudy-colored stuffs, Mexican blankets, sombreros and baskets.

"The courtyard at night was a lovely sight. The little houses surrounding it were all lighted up within, the doors wide open so that we could see the families, men, women and children, knitting, smoking, dancing, singing and playing cards—always for money (everybody gambled in Mexico); and groups of muleteers in the center were seated around their camp-fire, which would blaze and shed its light over the scene."

When the army advanced into Mexico, Matamoros was silent and deserted, so the manager of the theatrical company departed with all the funds, including the back salaries of the actors. So ends this story of the drama beside the Rio Grande.

SUNDAY VISITOR

Mrs. J. A. Smith and Judy of Lubbock spent Sunday here visiting friends and relatives.

CWA and General Telephone Co. agree on new one-year contract

SAN ANGELO — Communications Workers of America and General Telephone Company of the Southwest reached final settlement of a new one-year contract today, July 20.

Final agreement came about on the closing date of the old contract which ran to midnight of July 20, 1961. The primary term of the new contract runs from July 21, 1961, to July 21, 1962. The negotiations commenced June 5, 1961, and were continuous during the period except for a two-week recess in June that was necessitated by pressing Union business.

The major issue was wages, and the new contract includes a general wage adjustment for all of the employees in the bargaining unit. Resulting wage increase ranges from $0.2 an hour to $1.3 an hour generally depending upon the employee's job classification and length of employment service. The company estimates that the wage adjustment averages 5.5 cents an hour for the bargaining unit, and that it will increase the Company's annual payroll costs by some $340,000.

Other changes in the contract were largely concerned with improvements and clarifications to contract language to promote the day-to-day application and understanding of the contractual provisions. Improvement was made in service assistant's differential pay, and central office clerk payments during temporary or relief assignments. Also, agreement was reached that call-out emergency assignments on holidays will be paid for a minimum of two hours, the same as previously established for emergency call-outs on non-holidays.

How It Happened...

CIGARETTES FIRST WERE SMOKED BY AMERICAN INDIANS, WHO CARRIED HOME BY SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE EXPLORERS, SPREAD THROUGHOUT EUROPE AND RETURNED TO AMERICA 400 YEARS LATER.

AZTEC AND MAYA INDIANS STARTED IT ALL BY ROLLING UP CRUSHED TOBACCO IN A LEAF. THE FIRST PAPER-WRAPPED PRODUCTS APPEARED IN SPAIN IN EARLY 1600'S.

A CENTURY AGO CIGARETTES WERE ALMOST UNKNOWN HERE, AND STILL A NOVELTY IN MANY AREAS IN 1900. UNTIL MACHINES WERE INVENTED IN THE 1890'S, AN "EXPERT ROLLER" TURNED OUT 3,000 HAND-FORMED CIGARETTES A DAY.

THIS FORM OF SMOKING BOOMED AFTER WORLD WAR I, MADE EVEN FURTHER, GAINING AFTER FILTERS OF PURE NATURAL VEGETABLE MATERIAL APPEARED ON VICEROY CIGARETTES IN 1912. FILTER BRANDS, WITH MORE THAN HALF THE MARKET, HELPED CARRY U.S. TOTAL TO RECORD 470 BILLION CIGARETTES IN 1960.

Snuff, one of the early forms of tobacco adopted by Europeans, has maintained a substantial popularity in this country. About 35 million pounds a year are manufactured and sold here.

In 1944, the number of fatal accidents to farm residents reached 17,200. Currently, the trend is downward, 11,700 in 1959, the last year for which figures are available.

Park, recreation area vandalism is rapped in magazine editorial

AUSTIN—Fortunately for those of us who respect clean highways, attractive parks and recreation areas, and the rights of others, the percentage of people who keep cleanup crews busy is small. What an ugly appearance our great state would have if all its citizens were as thoughtless and irresponsible as the few who dirty up our roads and recreation areas. These are the sentiments of Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, in his editorial in the July issue of Texas Game and Fish.

"There are too many immature, irresponsible people who willfully and maliciously set about to destroy," wrote Dodgen. "Some seem to do it for the mere thrill. Others perhaps think it smart. A few may do it for personal benefit. Whatever the motivation, there is no place for ruthless and needless vandalism anywhere."

Some typical examples of vandalism mentioned are shooting at mailboxes and signs; the destruction of trees, shrubs, and flowers; breaking out windows in public places, and vacant houses; or writing names on walls, carving them into utility poles, and shooting insulators of telephone and power lines.

Beaches are left littered with bottles, melon rinds and unused food scraps. There are actually drivers who will toss bottles and cans out their windows, as well as tissue and paper.

"Unfortunately," writes Dodgen, "the guilty ones probably won't be reading the editorial. But, you may be able to help by reporting the next act of vandalism you see. After all, it's your property they are destroying."

Band rehearsals to begin Monday night

The first in a series of Post High School band rehearsals will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the band room, Director Bob Meisch announced today.

All students who signed up last spring to play in this year's high school band, including those students who will be eighth graders, are urged to attend Monday night's rehearsal, at which further plans will be made for the 1961-62 band program.

Tractors and machinery, drawings, firearms and burns from fires are the leading causes of death on farmland and around farm buildings.

Water District tax answers

Where do Post property owners and taxpayers stand on the upcoming White River Municipal Water District taxes which are to be assessed for the first time this year.

Most of the answers are now available. When the district set about organizing its tax rolls this spring a lot of consternation was aroused on every hand when taxpayers got a peek at the declaration form.

That period of misunderstanding is now past. The board took the necessary legal steps to set up the tax rolls and while there is considerable apprehension still in existence, most of it can now be dispelled.

A full explanation of the district's taxing needs for the "construction years" of the project are explained in a front page story in this issue of The Dispatch.

It simply boils down to this: The district needs $103,000 annually to pay loan interest during construction years. It has officially set its tax valuations at 80 per cent of true (100 per cent) value.

The tax rate on the 80 per cent valuation would be no more than 50 cents. If the $33,000,000 true valuation for the district is held after equalization board hearings, the rate could drop to 42 cents.

For a $10,000 home in Post, or any other of the four towns, this would mean at the 50 cent rate a $40 tax. At the 42 cent rate the tax would be $33.60 annually.

What is the district's 100 per cent rate? For Post it is this city's 100 per cent rate. It is as simple as that. Valuations would not be changed.

With these facts understood in advance, there should be no need for a long line of irate and misunderstanding taxpayers when the equalization board sets up shop.—JC

What cost thou, coffee time?

We might have known! With so many electronic computing machines on the scene, one of them just had to come up with something on that great American custom, the coffee break. What really surprises us is that the computers didn't get around to the coffee break even before they made a name for themselves in last November's presidential election.

Somehow, the coffee break has become established as one of the original American heritages, a hallowed right which is due and accepted by employer and employe alike.

It doesn't hurt the employer, or at least it didn't until one of those know-it-all computing machines came along and figured the cost.

This coffee break is taken as an opportunity to break the monotony of the job, to exchange gossip and swap tall stories with the fellow employes, make plans for the evening and weekend, and simply to take it easy from 10 to 30 minutes of time.

The computing machine figures it out this way (only the language is the writer's—the figures are those of the Machine):

Suppose that you take 30 minutes for coffee. Of course, you start out with the to-be-commended intention of taking only 15 minutes, but by the time you wash your hands, get to the door, wait for your friends, walk to the cafe or drug store, get served, drink the brew, finish the conversation, stop at the cashier's desk and saunter back to work you have gone through 30 minutes at least.

Say you are paid $1.50 per hour, a conservative figure. If you take off a half hour in the morning and another in the afternoon, you have used up $7.50 for a five-day week. If you work Saturday, add another $1.50 to make it an even $9. This is the wages for which you are not working.

Now, to carry on with the Machine's figures. You do this 20 times a month at $1.50 per throw and you come up with $30 that you get as a bonus from the payroll department.

This amount times 12 months equals a yearly stipend of $360, which represents, conservatively, the cost of coffee time for one person.

But that isn't all. You spend 10 cents for a cup of coffee, or 20 cents a day. That makes a $4 guzzling charge for the month. At the end of the year, this amounts to $48 that you can add to the $360 in lost time.

Suppose you work for 20 years and retire. Holy Mackerell!—$7,200 is what the boss paid you for drinking coffee, and you plunked down $960 to pay for the juice of the bean.

Just a minute, fellows. Let us finish this line and turn off the computing machine and we'll be right with you. Who's buying today, anyway?—CD

Another church milestone

Congratulations are in order to the pastor and congregation of the Calvary Baptist Church on the celebration of the church's 25th anniversary this Sunday.

The church, which is located at 315 South Avenue H, was organized in July, 1936, at a meeting of seven Baptists. Charter membership in the newly organized church was left open for one week, with the result that 122 charter members came in.

The church has grown steadily during the 25 years it has been a part of the community's spiritual life, and a new educational unit was added to the church plant in 1954. The parsonage had been built in 1946 following the construction of the present church building in 1944.

Special services will be held throughout the day at Sunday's silver anniversary celebration and homecoming. Some of the church's 11 former pastors are expected to attend.

It is always good to see a church mark another milestone in a community. The more churches and the more milestones the more firm the foundation upon which a community builds.—CD

It was well worth waiting for Soil and water conservation, which is the objective of the Soil Conservation Service, will get a big boost in Garza County now that the new Garza Soil Conservation District is officially organized and in action.

Not that a good job wasn't done during the 21 years that Garza County was a part of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, but a much better one can be done now that the county has its own SCS setup.

One advantage is that the Post SCS office will be headquarters for a full-fledged district instead of just a work unit of a district headquarters in another county.

The move to have a SCS district created in Garza County was started three or four years ago, but such changes take time. And, when they are as beneficial to the county's agricultural economy as this one is, they are well worth waiting for.—CD

Better watch that ol' sun

It's a little late in the month for this, but July-born men and women are the "sun's own children" and their birthstone is the ruby, the "sun's own gem." This we learn from a recent book, "The Story of Jewelry."

It is comforting to know that the ruby is supposed to bestow upon its wearers freedom, as well as charity, dignity, and divine power.

King and emperors have always sought rubies for their crowns. "The glowing ruby," says an old verse "should adorn those who in July are born—thus they shall be exempt and free from all life's doubts and anxiety."

This all sounds wonderful but you had better not spend too much time in the hot sun even if you were born in July and own a ruby.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Swisher County has been billed for $4,223.65 by Lubbock County, cost of sending Hoston Lee Winnett, Donald Carlson and James Groover to the penitentiary for the killing of Bob Potter last Christmas morning.

Of this total, $1,323 went for juror salaries, $10 for attorney fees, $228.50 for feeding jurors, $300 for quarterly rental for the jurors.

Other items included such things as $25, rental on 25 folding chairs for the jury, and $170, laundry bill for the jurors' dormitory.

This Christmas morning episode cost us an assistant police chief, a family breadwinner, a father, a citizen—and $4,223.65 plus board and room for the three men for perhaps the next 13 years.

We still think the men should have been tried in Swisher County, not necessarily because of the chances of getting stiffer sentences but because we refuse to believe 13 citizens could not be found in this county who would have given the trio fair trials. We believe that we leaned over backward too far in trying to give these men fair trials.—H. M. Baggaar in The Tullia Herald.

Has anyone begun work on a fall-out shelter? The old republic seems closer to war than at any time since 1945. I can't see how this country can back down an inch on Berlin. From what I understand, the instructor told us a pretty spooky tale at that civil defense class. There's no use getting ulcers over the situation, but it would be a wise idea to dig in a little. It would really be a good thing if some sort of community fall-out shelter could be built to shelter downtown apartment dwellers, transients, etc. It could be used during bad storms, too.—Pat Bennett in The Crosbyton Review.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IF YOU'RE reading this Thursday, you have three more opportunities to get out to the rodeo arena and see one or more performances of the 14th annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo. That is, if it hasn't been rained out by this time.

The rains, which usually make news by skipping around and missing Garza County, have done an about-face this year and are staying in the headlines by falling heavier on certain sections of the county than they have since at least 1915.

AND, SATURDAY afternoon, rain some 700 miles away made news for Garza County folks by forcing a postponement in Kansas City of the Detroit-Kansas City baseball game, which some 40 local fans had traveled by chartered bus to see. Skies cleared, however, in time for Sunday's big doubleheader between the Tigers and the Athletics, and what a show Norm Cash put on for his home-county fans.

Some of the fans, even the younger ones, who made the Kansas City trip more than likely can tell their grandchildren some day that they sat in on the longest nine-inning game ever played in the major leagues. That's what that second game of the doubleheader was—just six minutes short of four hours. The two teams also set a new record in the number of pitchers used—21. Could be they just trotted all those hurlers out to the mound for the benefit of the Post delegation, members of which rarely get to see a big league game except on TV.

MEANWHILE, back at the ranch—here in Post—several hundred other people who didn't make the Kansas City jaunt were at the Tower Theatre sitting through one of the longest screen flickers ever made—"Gone With the Wind". I talked to one fellow who'd just left the local movie emporium and he told me he'd just seen half of "Gone With the Wind"—the second half. "You know, back in the early 1940's when the picture first came out," the man said, "I saw the first half, but was young and frisky then and wouldn't sit through the whole thing. So, when I heard it was coming back to Post, I immediately made up my mind to go in and see the second half. Even after twenty years, I wanted to see what I'd missed."

That's the sort of fellow I'm always pulling for—one of those "it takes all kinds" individuals.

NOW THAT THE boys' baseball season is over for the summer, I wish to thank all the people who were in charge of the scorebooks and helped make my job of reporting the games a much easier one. My special thanks to Gene and Bobbie Ann Moore, who always saw to it that I got the Little League scorebook the morning after the games; also to Mrs. L. L. Avant Jr. and Tom Gamblin, custodians of the American Legion Junior team scorebook, and to Ben Owen, who had charge of the Babe Ruth League book.

August will be in with a rush before the next issue of The Dispatch makes an appearance. The month will be a big one on the local scene with the annual Garza County Quarter Horse Show coming at an early date, football practice starting about the middle of the month, and school opening just before August gives way to September.

Child's Arm Turns Hard, Stony; Medical Treatment Slows Process

Christine Versluis, who is nine and lives on the shores of Lake Ontario at Hilton, N.Y., is unable to straighten her right arm because of rheumatic disease.

Her arm and parts of both shoulders are becoming increasingly calcified, which means change of the muscle tissue into a hard stony substance.

This somber-faced child is the tragic victim of dermatomyositis, one of the forms of rheumatic disease. Another form is rheumatoid arthritis. The majority of people don't know that children suffer from arthritis; they believe mistakenly that arthritis afflicts only the aging—someone's grandfather or grandmother, surely not the very young.

But there is urgent reason why grownups and parents especially should be intelligently informed about arthritis among children. Dr. William S. Clark, director of the Division of Rheumatology at the National Foundation for Arthritis, whose expanded program embraces arthritis, birth defects and continued work in rheumatology, said this week:

"Rheumatoid arthritis is a type that can make children very ill indeed. They may become severely crippled. Their joints may freeze. Happily, we can now demonstrate today that with proper treatment and care, most of the crippling caused by juvenile rheumatoid arthritis can be prevented."

But the cardinal point, Dr. Clark emphasizes, is that thousands of children have rheumatoid arthritis without knowing what the disease they suffer from really is. Their parents may dismiss the aching in neck, knees, wrists or elbows (or, more rarely, in all these joints simultaneously) as "growing pains"; or for a variety of other reasons, the right diagnosis is not made.

Nine-year-old Christine Versluis must hold her right arm in this awkward upright position because it is turning into hard, stony substance. But there's hope for her in research sponsored by The National Foundation.

"We now estimate that in the United States, more than 50,000 adults who suffer from rheumatoid arthritis had their actual onset of the disease in childhood," Dr. Clark added. "Had they received modern treatment at that time, most of the crippling in maturity could have been prevented. That's one reason why The National Foundation's program in arthritis and patient aid for the young is so significant."

Child victims of rheumatoid arthritis are estimated to total 30,000 in this country alone, with 16,000 a year ill enough to need medical care. About 5,000 or 6,000 of these may require treatment as intensive as the rehabilitation needed for those stricken by paralytic polio.

There are at least 11 millions in the nation today who suffer from some form of rheumatic disease, including arthritis. Rheumatoid arthritis victims

JURY DUTY

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have.

In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The twelve jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, education, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with wide age and educational differences, jobs and origins must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends—the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take them days of talking among themselves, all to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fairness, toward the jurors who disagree with you, good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a "decent respect to the opinions" of others.

More and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors. Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law—the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it is considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he is proved so under strict rules of evidence. If you have any "reasonable doubt," — not imaginary or far-fetched—acquit the accused.

Civil cases do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Farm trailer license plates available here

New license plates for farm trailers not used for hire are now available here, according to T. H. Tipton, Garza County tax assessor-collector.

The department of Public Safety has issued the $5 license tags to county tax offices throughout the state.

Owners of farm trailers of between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds gross weight are required to have these tags displayed on their trailers in accordance with a new law passed during the regular session of the 57th Legislature. The law also provides a 30-mph speed limit, but exempts trailers up to 10,000

Hamlin's Rodeo starts Aug. 10

HAMLIN—The Hamlin Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage an Amateur Rodeo here Aug. 10, 11 and 12 at the Hamlin Riding Club Arena, Charles Absher, club president, announced this week.

Highlights of the big three day show will be a wild mare race and a Tri-County 12 and under flag race. The wild mare race will pit three men against a mare and they must saddle and ride her to the end of the arena and back. The first team back across the finish line wins. There will not be an entry fee charged in the 12 and under flag race and prizes will be awarded.

HK Ranches of Snyder and Rotan will furnish the bucking stock for the show. Besides these events the show will include tie-down calf roping, ribbon roping, bareback bronc riding, sponsor's barrel racing, and bull riding. Entry fees for the show are $6 for the wild mare race with a $25 pot each night, $11 for the roping and barrel events and $10 for the riding events. Contestants are urged to call or write Dewey Nunley, Box 5, or SP 4-2232, Hamlin.

The performances will start at 7:30 each night and the admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Reserved seats will be 50 cents.

The show will get under way on Thursday with a big street parade at 4 p. m. Trophies will be given to the top riding clubs in the parade.

One of the strongest influences leading to westward expansion of the early tidewater colonies was the demand for new land on which to grow tobacco.

Truck statistics for Garza given

Latest figures on Texas truck registrations, wages and employment by counties show 1,159 trucks registered in Garza County.

Total value of the trucks in use in the county is $1,236,650, determined by the number of farm trucks times $950 and the number of commercial trucks times $1,100. The figures, released by the Texas Motor Transportation Association, also show that 542 persons in the county are employed in trucking, with their annual earnings totaling $2,256,888. The number of employees is determined by the number of trucks times .5 employee per non-farm truck.

TEXAS LAWYERS

NOAH SMITHWICK
the "Peaceful" Ranger
"With the courage of his convictions..."

In 1827, a peace-loving blacksmith of 19 years drifted into Texas. He soon found anything but peace. As a skilled gunsmith and armorer, Noah was on hand to prepare the fighting hardware for the Texas revolutionary battle of Concepcion, and to participate with enthusiasm. Later he was one of the San Jacinto combatants who pursued the retreating Mexicans far south of the Rio Grande. After that he joined the Texas Rangers for a very active two years of frontier duty, leaving the service in 1834 when the force was disbanded temporarily. Then, as a justice of the peace at Webb's Prairie, a Lieutenant of Texas Militia, armorer at Fort Croghan, life continued in a fairly unpeaceful way — until 1841. Because he opposed secession so strongly, Smithwick shook the dust of Texas for California. History does not record his later years, but he found time to record a great deal of history — his highly colorful reminiscences of early days in the Lone Star State.

Texas never could have become a great state without the courage and devotion to duty of her lawmen — not without the commerce and industry that have provided prosperity and the good life. The brewing industry, too, has had a part in this development. Providing payrolls and the pleasure of moderate beverages, revenue and relaxation — "beer belongs." The United States Brewers Association is constantly at work with brewers, wholesalers, retailers and local authorities to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly and law-abiding conditions.

CASH AUTOGRAPHS DAD'S PROGRAM WHILE POST FANS LOOK ON
 Detroit Tiger first baseman Norm Cash, the American League's leading batter, autographs a program for his father, Bandy Cash, while a busload of baseball fans from Post and vicinity look on. The scene is Municipal Stadium in Kansas City, where the Tigers took a doubleheader from the A's behind Cash's potent bat, which drove in a total of eight runs. The Post fans left Post by chartered bus for Kansas City at 5 p. m. Friday and returned about noon Monday.—(Associated Press Photo.)

Norm Cash makes trip worthwhile for baseball fans

Figured even at $45 to $50 per chartered bus trip to Kansas City over the weekend — Norm Cash gave cheering Post fans their money's worth and more at Kansas City's Municipal stadium Sunday afternoon.

The former Post high athlete, touted for the American League's 1961 most valuable player's award, put on a show the 40-odd fans will never forget with his busy day.

To sum up a few of his accomplishments during between seven and eight hours of often hectic, non-dull-moment baseball.

THE FIRST TIME he swung at a ball he smashed a towering home run over the rightfield fence at about the 360-foot mark. It was obviously "out of the park" when he lined a single to first on the first game in the top of the ninth when he lined a single to first with two out and runners second and third to drive across the run margin of Detroit's 6-5 triumph.

of the potent Tiger batting attack in the second game which Detroit pulled out a 17-14 victory over the Tigers back in first by half a game over the New York Yankees.

collected six hits in eight official at-bats to regain the American League batting leadership in afternoon from Elston Howard of the Yankees with a .366 average.

drove eight runs across the plate in the two games to regain American League's Runs-Batted-In leadership with 91, replacing Gentle at the top.

FINISHES HIS WORK at the plate in the field and on the eighth inning of the first game with a runner on first he Shortstop Howser's sharp under near the bat, stepped back for one out and then threw to second to trap the runner from first in a rundown, finishing the tag himself.

was advanced from second to third on infield grounders to left side of the Kansas City stadium, holding at second and then moving to first and sliding in for the return throw to third. He finished out once to center field.

Not over 50-cent tax rate seen
Taxable valuation is set by WR directors

White River Municipal Water District directors voted last Thursday night at Crosbyton to set the taxable valuation of the district at 80 per cent of true 100 per cent value after hearing that the district's tax rolls now totals $33,455,196 at the full 100 per cent value.

At their July session, directors officially named its four-member equalization board which will start holding hearings in the near future in the four member cities on the valuations set by the district.

In a discussion of the tax rate at the meeting, directors indicated that taxpayers could anticipate no more than a 50 cent tax rate, although if the district valuations held at the $33,000,000 mark after the equalization board hearings, the rate possibly could be cut.

CARLTON MEREDITH Jr., a property tax consultant from Dallas representing owners of the mineral interests in 30 of the 33 producing wells of the Post city townsite, told directors that if the $33,000,000 full valuation held that a tax rate of only 42 cents would be required.

This would mean that a $10,000 local home would go on the rolls at 80 per cent of that, or $8,000, and at the 50 cent rate would be taxed $40 for the current year.

The district's tax rolls, completed only that afternoon, showed a total "true value" (100 per cent) of $10,797,551 for Post, $7,184,000 for Crosbyton, $7,589,978 for Ralls, and $7,893,664 for Spur.

Meredith told White River directors there was three representing owners who were concerned about total value and rates. "He added that 'I am not here to oppose your program. I want to understand the board's thinking and to contribute what I can.'"

IT WAS explained that the district tax is necessary for the construction years of the dam and pipelines so that the $103,000 annual interest on the $4,000,000 construction loan could be paid.

Figuring 90 per cent tax collections, $114,440 would have to be sought to raise the $103,000. This would be a tax rate of 42 cents on $33,000,000.

Officially named to the district's board of equalization were Walter Duckworth of Post, Morton Barrett of Crosbyton, W. P. McKee of Ralls, and D. L. Knight of Spur.

This group held an informal session last Tuesday and decided (See WHITE RIVER, page 15)

Purcell is sentenced to two years in pen

Clyde Purcell, 21, of Stamford, was sentenced to two years in prison by District Judge Truett Smith here yesterday after pleading guilty to the burglary May 19 of the White River Package Store, 17 miles northeast of Post.

Purcell, who was shot and critically wounded by the store's caretaker in the burglary, was brought to the courtroom from Garza Memorial Hospital, where he has been since the night he was shot three times with a .38 caliber pistol.

Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley said that at the time of the burglary Purcell was under a three-year probation sentence in Haskell County for burglary.

Purcell is reported to be almost completely recovered from his wounds, but is still receiving treatment at the hospital here.

Three other youths, one a juvenile, pleaded guilty a few weeks ago in the package store burglary case. Two of them, Jerry Herman, 20, and Ronnie Yocum, 17, both of (See PURCELL, page 8)

Buying 25 Westgate Terrace home sites
New local building firm to finish out addition

A new Post construction firm General Builders, has purchased the remaining 25 residential building sites in Westgate Terrace Addition of Post and today announced plans to build and finance new brick homes to complete the addition.

Bill Edwards, local appliance dealer, and George Boher, local ready-mix concrete dealer, are the owners of the new building company.

They have employed Joe Smith of Lubbock, who has been in the general construction business for 25 years and is a former building inspector and processor for FHA, as general superintendent of the development.

Smith will handle all home sales, contracts, and oversee all construction.

Until a permanent office can be established for the new firm on the addition's site, Smith may be contacted by dialing either of two numbers appearing in General Builders' announcement ad on page 11 of today's Dispatch.

Edwards and Boher said besides building new homes in Westgate Terrace, the firm will contract to build any type of construction locally.

They pointed out that FHA, GI or conventional financing can be (See BUILDING FIRM, page 8)

$31,000 suit for damages filed
 A $31,000 suit for damages, the outgrowth of a traffic accident here June 20, was filed in district court Saturday by N. M. Sullivan of Post, naming J. D. Hawkins of Lubbock as defendant.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Broadway and 8th Street when Sullivan's pickup, which had stopped at a red light, was struck from the rear by a truck driven by Hawkins.

Sullivan's suit alleges four instances of negligence on Hawkins' part.

The Post man, who is a furniture upholsterer, is suing for $25,000 for impairment of earning capacity, $5,000 for pain and suffering, and $1,000 for hospital and medical expenses, past and future.

2,500 fans see rodeo lidlifter

3 performances still on tap; finals Saturday

The 14th annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo opened last night before a crowd estimated at 2,500, with some 50 contestants competing in a dozen events.

Three more night performances of the show are on tap—tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night.

There was little of the spectacular in last night's opening performances, but the big western event is expected to pick up tempo to night and at each successive show through Saturday night's finals.

The rodeo followed by two hours a street parade that had more floats and decorated automobiles than any of those of the last few years, but not a single out-of-town riding group, despite the fact that invitations had been sent to some 40 sheriff's posses and other riding organizations.

In the float division, Post's Little League All-Stars won first, the Amity Study Club second and Garza Memorial Hospital third.

Twin Cedars Rest Home won first place in the decorated automobile division, and Allen Johnson placed second.

The winning float carried members of the L.L. All-Stars who won the Area 4 tournament at Aspermont Sunday and are to begin play tonight in the district tournament in Lubbock. The Amity Study Club float had a Little Bo-Peep theme, and the hospital float re-enacted typical hospital scenes.

There was also a Post High School Pep squad float, a Boy Scout float and a Wesley Scott and Bobby Terry family float.

Riding at the head of the parade was this year's Rodeo Queen, 18-year-old Janyce Ellis of Southland, along with runner-up Marilyn Williams of Post, and Judy Clary, also a queen candidate.

Also in the parade was a rodeo band, assembled by school band director Bob Meisch, and two Lubbock police cars with two dogs from the police department's K-9 Corps. The K-9 Corps put on a special demonstration at the rodeo arena at last night's opening show.

Tickets out for 'Treasure Days'

Tickets are now available in 50 local business firms for Post's new Treasure Days in which merchandise certificates worth up to hundreds of dollars will be given away here Saturday afternoons, beginning Aug. 5.

Announcement of the big promotion, jointly sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and the 50 participating merchants is contained in a half page ad on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

The first Treasure Day drawing is scheduled for 4 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 5.

Chamber Manager Johnny Hopkins pointed out that everyone should now begin obtaining Treasure Day tickets for the first big event a week from this Saturday.

Window placards, designating stores displaying them as participating in the new Treasure Days, are now up in downtown stores and places of business.

A list of 47 of the participating business firms are contained in the announcement ad. Three others who were contacted too late for the promotional ad are Thaxton Cleaners, Popular Dry Goods, and the Garza Tire Co.

Hopkins said the Treasure Day plans will be carefully explained at the first drawing Aug. 5. He emphasized that winners must be present to win the merchandise certificates good in trade at stores designated on the certificates.

This is the biggest retail promotion undertaken by local merchants in many years. It will continue each Saturday afternoon, Hopkins said.

Charley Franklin Davis, 83, retired local Postex Mill employee, fell dead of a heart attack about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in a hallway of the Medical Arts Building in Lubbock.

He was accompanying his wife to an appointment in the building for a check of her eyes.

A resident of Post for the last 21 years, Davis besides working at Postex also had been employed by the Lanotte Furniture Co. for a number of years.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, W. O. Davis of Tahoka and Elmo Davis of Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. Ethel Brown of Andrews, Mrs. Cleo Canady of Coleman, Mrs. Connie Campbell of Kingman, Ariz., and Mrs. Bertha Murry of Midland; one brother, Bob Davis of Allen; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Nixon of Oklahoma and Mrs. Ollie Faulkenberry of Lorraine; 23 grandchildren; 44 great-grandchildren, and 1 great-great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Oscar Bruce. Grandsons will be pallbearers.

The Hudman Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Interment will be in Terrace Cemetery.

Automatic siren in operation here for volunteer firemen

A brand-new fire siren, which automatically shuts itself off after blowing for two minutes, has just been installed in the City of Post's fire alarm system, Robert Cato, fire chief, announces.

The new siren, which is started by the on-duty radio dispatcher, was tried out for the first time at noon Monday.

In announcing installation of the new siren, Fire Chief Cato said he also wishes to add his appeal to that of city officials that folks not call the radio dispatcher to ask the location of a fire. "Even one such call can tie up the dispatcher's telephone when it might be needed for an emergency," the fire chief said.

Members of the city's volunteer fire department have a code number to call to learn the whereabouts of a fire.

Wild chase results in 10 charges, $274 fine

Jose Soto, 21, arrested shortly after midnight Saturday following a wild 10-minute chase, was fined $274.50 and court costs by Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts on 10 separate charges.

Highway Patrolman Henry Harden and Deputy Sheriff Oscar Gray said the chase started about midnight Saturday after Soto, driving a 1947 Chevrolet, drove across the road in front of them at Avenue D and Oak Street, east of the railroad tracks.

The officers said when they tried to stop Soto to check on his car's muffler, he sped up and raced across both the Spur and Ralls roads without stopping at stop signs.

The chase led into the residential part of town, west of the tracks, with Soto turning off Avenue O onto 13th Street.

The officer said that as the chase gained momentum in that area of town, Soto drove through two backyards, knocking a clothes line down in one and running over a power lawn mower in another.

The chase continued to West Main, where Soto drove east and then turned north on Avenue N, leading the officers to 13th Street, where he abandoned his automobile and fled on foot.

The two officers caught up with Soto near the railroad tracks.

Harden and Gray said the youth had turned his car lights off after speeding across the Spur and Ralls road early in the chase.

The charges against Soto included one for speeding, one for no muffler, one for disregarding an officer, one for no driver's license, one for driving on the left side of the road and five for running stop signs.

The officers said Soto told them the reason he did not stop was because he previously had been given a ticket for not having a driver's license and had not appeared in court on the charge.

Soto was released from jail Tuesday on a security bond.

Post's rain total mounts to 16.66; crops look good

More rainfall Friday and Saturday, in the amount of .83 of an inch, brought Post's 1961 total through yesterday to 16.66 inches, County Agent Lewis C. Herron reports.

Despite the 16.66 inches, however, Post probably has received less rain thus far this year than any other spot in the county. A record-smashing 30-inch plus measurement has been marked up in farming and ranching areas north and northeast of Post, doing heavy crop and farm damage.

The June rainfall total for Post was 7.22 inches, with 4.91 inches have been measured here thus far in July.

The county agent said crops generally are looking good, with early-planted cotton now loading heavily. Early-planted feed, he said, has had enough moisture to make.

Insect infestations are very light, Herron said. Weeds are posing the biggest problem to farmers, along with too-wet fields in some sections. Hoe-hands generally are more plentiful now than they were a week or two ago.

While very little insect damage has been experienced, farmers are advised by the county agent to continue checking their fields in order to stay abreast of any insect population changes that might occur.
