Dividend checks in the amount of $10,306 will be mailed to these members in the near future. The stockholders live in Lynn, Garza and the northern part of Borden counties.

The annual meeting for the Federal Land Bank Association of Tahoka has voted to pay its 467 stockholders a 5 per cent dividend as of July 31, 1962.

Dividend checks in the amount of $10,306 will be mailed to these members in the near future. The stockholders live in Lynn, Garza and the northern part of Borden counties.

The FLBA of Tahoka is being planned for Sept. 1. The board of directors is: Fred McGinty, Tahoka, president; Avery Moore Jr., Post, vice president; Vernon Willhoit of Tahoka, J. D. McCampbell of Post and L. A. Forsythe of Tahoka, members. Ross Smith of Tahoka is the office manager and Mrs. Elnora Curry is office assistant.

The FLBA of Tahoka, in connection with its home office in Houston, features loans to farmers and ranchers at low interest rates, long-period payments that can be retired in full at any time without a bonus being required of the borrower, and dividend returns by the association.

The office in Tahoka is maintained five and one-half days a week and the office in Post is open each Wednesday.

Mr. Farmer: Mr. Raucher: Your Financial Problems are handled best by a lender who has experience and whose primary aim is to provide you with a loan suited to your needs—and at the lowest possible cost.

We specialize in making such a loan—a Federal Land Bank loan. Annual or semi-annual payments with terms up to 35 years and you may pay in full at any time—without penalty. Call on us for a loan on your farm or ranch.

(WELL... ALMOST EVERYBODY) CHEVROLET Even the most persnickety luxury-lover couldn't ask for very much more than a Jet-smooth Chevrolet (like that Impala Sport Coupe at the top). Yet it's all yours for a Chevrolet price. (And you know how low that is.) Here's the best thing that's happened to make money go further since budgets—the lively low-cost Chevy II. It's got all kinds of room. And comes in 11 models, too—like the Nova 2-Door Sedan (second from top). Want a roomy family car and a sporty driver's car for one low price? The rear-engine Corvaire Monza (e.g., that Club Coupe, third from top) plays both roles to the hilt. Care to join the club—and get a buy, to boot!

REV. KEN SCHRIMSHER
Revival Preaching

MACK MOORE
Revival Music Director

At First Baptist Church

Youth-led revival will open Monday

The First Baptist Church of Post will engage in a Youth-Led Revival, beginning Monday, Aug. 13, and continuing daily through Sunday, Aug. 19.

Committees of youth and adults have been making plans for several weeks.

The Rev. Ken Schrimsher of Frederick, Okla., will do the preaching and Mack Moore of Houston will be the revival's music director.

Rev. Schrimsher is a student in Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, having graduated from Baylor University with a bachelor's degree. While in high school at Frederick he was a class officer, president of the Lettermen's Club, participated in football, basketball and track. He was on the Oklahoma state championship football team.

He has had considerable experience in revival activities. He is 23 and single.

Howdy Days —

The drawing for the grand prize of the deluxe bicycle, now on display downtown, will be conducted at the sound truck on Main street at 6:30 p. m. Saturday by Clint Herring, chairman of the Back to School Howdy Days promotion, and his committee.

Merchants after conducting their individual drawings will dump their sign-up slips into the Chamber of Commerce bird cage for the bike drawing.

A SPECIAL SECTION in today's Dispatch, pages 9 through 12, lists the 31 business firms participating in the Howdy Days promotion together with the 22 individual store gifts also offered as store door prizes.

A large number of Back to School bargains also are listed in the individual Howdy Days ads to give shoppers a real break as they start the annual chore of getting youngsters ready for the September trek back to the classrooms.

One unusual feature of the Howdy Days will be a "back to school fashion show" by Maxine's at 10 a. m. Saturday with refreshments served, gifts for everyone, and a door prize.

THE LIST OF "Back to School Howdy Days" door prizes for individual merchants includes this high array:

A three-day vacation for two at Las Vegas, limited to auto or truck owners, from Tom Powers—Ford
A $49.95 ladies' 12-jewel wrist watch from Dodson's.

A Nobelectric electric blanket, regular $12.95, from Dunlap's.

A $16.95 all-copper pole lamp from R. J.'s Furniture.

A $24.95 Brownie Starlite camera outfit, including flash attachment, bulbs, and film, from Bob Collier Drug.

A set of two front seat safety belts, installed, $25 value, from Collier Chevrolet-Olds.

A $16.95 tractor umbrella from Post Implement Co.

An $8.50 artist's set with wood carrying case from R. E. Cox Lumber Co.

A $15 jacket in Post school colors, either boy's or girl's model, from Herring's.

A $22 Westinghouse portable mixer from TV-Apppliance Center.

A $7.95 Johnson & Johnson first aid kit for either car of home from Gulf Wholesale, Lester Nichols.

School board—

high school custodian, and discussed student insurance with an agency representative.

The discussion on raising grade requirements took up most of the time at the meeting.

The new grade requirements not only apply to athletics, band and other extra-curricular activities, but also to holding office in the Student Council, class organizations, band, pep squad, etc.

Going into effect with this school year, the new grade requirements will specify that a student must make passing grades in four of five subjects each six weeks in order to be eligible that next six weeks. At the end of the first semester, a student who has failed more than one of five subjects will not be eligible for any extra-curricular activities during the second semester.

The trustees voted unanimously on raising the requirements followed a motion by A. Lee Ward, seconded by Ronnie Bouchier.

Earlier, Bouchier had proposed raising the passing grade requirements to five of five solid subjects. He said he felt that all the emphasis should be placed on scholastic activities and that in time athletics and other activities would rise to meet the academic standards.

The argument against Bouchier's proposal was that Post High School could hardly expect to satisfactorily compete in football, basketball, band, etc., with other schools, few, if any, of which require passing grades in all solid subjects taken.

Preceding the vote on the Post schools handling all of their student transportation program, Supt. R. T. Smith explained that under the county-wide set-up, part of the program is now handled through the office of County Supt. Dean A. Robinson.

Smith's recommendation to the board was that it either decide that "they (the county office) handle all of our transportation program or that we take it over and handle it from this office."

The board voted unanimously to handle all the school's transportation program on a motion by Malcolm T. Bull, seconded by Bobby Pierce.

The board employed Charles Collinsworth as high school science teacher and Mrs. Dewitt Allsup as a language arts teacher in junior high.

resignation of Miss Peggy Collins, homemaking teacher.

The new high school science teacher replaces William St. John, who was recently granted a year's leave of absence by the school board.

Eddie Guardo was employed as high school custodian to replace Raul Barreda, who resigned.

The trustees discussed a student insurance plan with Harold Lucas of the Post Insurance Agency. They will go into the insurance matter further at their meeting Monday night when a representative from the insurance firm will be present.

The board decided against a suggested economy move that would have placed the coming year's 150 second grade pupils in five sections of 30 students each. There are now five second grade teachers and the board decided that a sixth teacher should be hired instead of getting by on five teachers with 30 students to a section.

All board members were present at Friday's meeting except Dr. John E. Carter and Russell Wilks Jr.

Officials said today that it will be a few days—after all the bills are in—before a statement can be released on the financial outcome of the annual event, in which about 170 contestants competed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The dignity of willing labor is one of the principles which Christianity has established among us. It is a natural by-product of a faith whose founder was the Carpenter of Nazareth, whose first adherents were fishermen of Galilee.

Those who are eager to serve God and their fellow men find rich opportunities in the life of the Church. There are tasks for a man's hands, for his voice, for his pen, for his mind. There are needs that our offerings cannot supply... challenges that call for the talents and time of earnest men and women.

That friendly church which inspires us on Sunday is busy with the Lord's work all week. That man in the next pew is finding new happiness in willing Christian service. Are you?

Police report 85 arrests for month of July

The city council at its August meeting Monday night heard a report from Police Chief Elton Corley that during July the city police department had collected a total of $1,060 in fines and made some 85 arrests.

His report showed 61 arrests for drunkenness, vagrancy, disturbances, etc., with 54 playing fines, five laying out their fines in jail and two of the prisoners being turned over to the county for prosecution.

In addition there were 24 traffic arrests with 18 paying fines and six of the July cases still pending court disposition.

Chief Corley told the council that his department needed an additional desk, a better typewriter, and an additional filing cabinet for the proper keeping of records, as well as a telephone extension when the desk was received.

Mayor Powell Shytle promised Corley the city would trade him an improved typewriter, secure another filing cabinet and turn over to him the wooden desk of City Superintendent Henry Tate when a new metal desk is secured for Tate in keeping with the other metal office furniture in the remodeled city hall. The phone extension also was promised when the desk was delivered.

Corley explained the additional office equipment was needed for more efficient police department operation.

The chief also asked the councilmen to consider paying for the dry cleaning of the police department officers' uniforms. After some discussion, the council voted to clean two uniforms each week for each of the three officers. Corley said the business will be rotated monthly among local dry cleaning establishments.

The dry cleaning move is in line with what nearby cities are doing for their police departments.

All DWI cases on court docket

One of the most unusual county criminal court dockets in the county's history has been set for a term if court opening at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Aug. 21, before County Judge J. E. Parker.

Fourteen of the 15 cases on the docket are charges of driving while intoxicated and one is for driving while license was suspended.

Thirteen-three petty jurors are being notified to report for the court term by Sheriff Fay Claborn. The petty jurors are to report Monday, Aug. 20, for two civil cases preceding the criminal docket Tuesday.

One of the DWI defendants whose case is on the docket, Warren Rudolph Flemms, is also charged with driving while license was suspended.

Visit in Post

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Love and daughter, Linda Lynn, of Waco visited here Tuesday with Gladys Hyde and Nora Stevens. The Loves were en route to Lubbock to the annual meeting of the Texas State Coaches Association.

Cotton outlook better, average year is possible

Garza's 1962 cotton crop prospects have brightened immeasurably during the last 10 days to two weeks with a 15,000 bale to 18,000 bale crop now in prospect given an open fall and an average first freeze date.

The Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., have pegged Garza's prospective 1962 output at 25,000 bales in comparison to last year's believed record crop of 26,107 bales, but local observers say this is far too high.

"They figure it as plains cotton, but we have too much dry land off the plains which doesn't produce at that rate," one explained. Last year the Lubbock estimate for Garza was 35,000 bales.

A 15,000 bale output or slightly above would be about an average crop for this county. This is far more than had been estimated before the late July rains came.

Garza County has a cotton allocation of 43,695.8 acres this year and has planted over 38,000 acres, it is reported.

Time is the big problem.

A normal freeze date of between Nov. 5-10 is needed to allow late planted cotton enough time to develop.

"We're about out of the weeds," Farm Agent Syd Conner reported yesterday. He said farmers are getting after the weeds as fast as they have hands to do the work."

Conner said that "if we can get some moisture in the third or fourth week of August we should be in good shape."

Insects are the threat now.

The county agent said the insect situation in the county is still "spotted" with some places having heavy infestations of boll worms with a few in every field. In just a few spots he added the cabbage loopers are heavy, even on the leaves.

Both Conner and Lewis Herron, farm representative of the First National Bank, cautioned farmers to check their fields regularly for insects.

The farm agent said farmers can use either a spray rig or a spray plane to control insects when they get to be heavy enough. He said farmers could lose a quarter of a bale to the acre "pretty quick" if they don't watch the insects.

Herron said that farmers may benefit this year by poisoning earlier than usual, especially on late dryland cotton. He commented that "the insects are moving in."

Both Conner and Herron said some of the early cotton is looking real good and that some of the late cotton is "beginning to load up" with fruit.

Last year they pointed out was a mild year and insects gave no trouble.

Training plan at Postex is cited

Tom Greenwood, superintendent of sewing and packing at the Postex Cotton Mills here, told Post Rotarians in a classification talk at the club's Tuesday luncheon in City Hall that in the textile industry it costs an average of $700 to train a hemmer.

With that kind of training cost, Greenwood pointed out, we try our best to get the best qualified applicants.

He illustrated the three minute dexterity test given applicants for such jobs here, mentioned the need for eye tests too, and showed Rotarians some of the time studies made on such positions by industrial engineers to serve as guides in the training program.

Progressive mills like Postex, he said, use the time studies to keep the "work load in line."

Citing the terrific foreign competition for U. S. sales in the textile industry, Greenwood looked back over the years since he entered the field in 1949 as a Texas Tech graduate with a textile engineering degree and traced the development of textile manufacturing and its problems faced over that period of time.

Greenwood came to Post to his present position last February.

Mrs. S. M. Puckett of 105 West 14th St., a resident of Post since 1932, is seriously ill in Garza Memorial Hospital, where she has been a patient since July 28.

Out-of-town relatives here this week to visit Mrs. Puckett are her sons, Brode Puckett of Wichita Falls and Clifford Puckett of Lubbock and her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Hutto Sr. of Lubbock. Accompanying them were Brode's daughter, Judy; Clifford Puckett's wife and Mrs. Hutto's husband.

Mrs. Puckett's husband is also ill at his home.

Convicted forger taken to prison

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt took one convicted forger to the state penitentiary at Huntsville Tuesday and brought back another man charged in the same case.

The prisoner transported to the pen by the deputy was Danny Cobbin, Negro, who was sentenced to three years for forgery.

The deputy brought back Charles Allen Smith, also a Negro, whose release from the state prison was obtained on a bench warrant.

Sheriff Fay Claborn said Smith is now serving time in the pen for burglary. Since he is scheduled to be released Sept. 20, he is being brought back now to face the forgery charge in order to save an extra trip after him, the sheriff said.

Strayed or stolen calf being sought

Sheriff's officers this week are looking for a yearling calf strayed or stolen about two and a half weeks ago from a pasture seven miles south of Southland.

The calf is described as black with a white face and weighing about 600 pounds.

The loss of the calf was reported by Ronnie Silver of Lubbock.

Victor Hudmans home from Alaskan trip

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman and sons returned home Tuesday from a 10,000 mile vacation trip to Alaska and back, via the Seattle World's Fair.

High point of the trip was a visit to an Eskimo village at Point Barrow, Alaska, on the Arctic Ocean where the family saw the Eskimos' butcher walrus and seals.

They flew to Point Barrow from Fairbanks, Alaska, where they had driven by car via the Glacier National Park in Montana and up through Canada via the Alcan highway.

They were gone about three and one-half weeks.

It's Prize Weekend in Post

"Back to School" Howdy Days here Friday and Saturday will be the second monthly promotion of Post merchants to offer Post area shoppers two dozen or so reasons for putting on their bargain clothes and coming downtown this weekend.

It's been a long, long time—if ever—since so many merchants joined hands at the same time to give away so many valuable prizes as they are doing for these two Howdy Days.

The whole promotion is really very simple. To get into the running for each store's door prize all you have to do is to stop in at that store Friday or Saturday and sign up for the door prize drawing. There is no obligation.

After individual merchants conduct their store drawings, all the sign up tickets are dumped into the Chamber of Commerce squirrel cage for the drawing on the grand prize of the deluxe bicycle, equipped with all the extras.

You don't have to be downtown for the drawings. Just sign up while you are shopping and the merchants will be in touch with you, if you are a winner.

We've never seen a finer collection of door prizes than those being offered by the Post merchants during the next two days. Sit down with your Dispatch and read section two—the Howdy Days section—very carefully.

Each merchant's ad contains a listing of his or her door prize. And they're all pretty special. While you're browsing the section also read of the many fine special bargains your Post merchants will be offering you "Back to School" shoppers during the next two days. They're really priced to get you in the mood to come prize hunting with your bargain clothes on.

It's hard, maybe, to think that Back to School time has rolled around so quickly. But it has. The youngsters will be back in the classrooms in little more than three weeks and the older ones will be departing for college campuses shortly after that.

When you're getting the youngsters ready for that classroom trek remember to shop your hometown Post merchants. They appreciate your business, strive hard to offer courteous, friendly service, and they stand behind the merchandise you buy.—JC

Another White River vigil

The White River dam project, which has survived over five years of problems which piled in one stack would top the dam when it is finally built, has—we're sorry to report this week—run into another.

The property owners whose land is being condemned for the dam site have asked the Crosby County district court for an injunction to halt the condemnation proceedings and give the property back to the property owners. If granted this would cause real delay in awarding contracts and getting construction under way, because the district then would have to strat condemnation over again to get the land.

All the four cities can do now is to wait and see what the judge's decision will be. If he does not find cause to grant the injunction no appreciable time will have been lost. If he does, then that is a major hurdle which will have to be faced should such a decision be made.

Other Texas water districts have faced all kinds of injunctions as they proceeded up the torturous trail from dream to reality for a permanent water supply.

Now it's the White River district's turn. It won't be long before the hearing is held on the injunction and the decision made.

The waiting is always the hardest, and the White River project for the present has been put on the "waiting shelf" again.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

A local farmer says that last week one of his hoe hands failed to come to work. The next day he asked the man why he didn't show up the day before. "I had to go to Lubbock to see about my unemployment check." The farmer thinks it's a pretty come off when there's work to do, the man has a job, and he's still drawing unemployment compensation. Well, if our government is going to guarantee everyone security from the cradle to the grave, there are going to be a lot of chisellers. We're going to pay the bill. We wonder if we're not making drones out of our entire citizenship?—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE PRINTED programs distributed at the Junior Rodeo here every year through the courtesy of business and professional firms, the Junior Rodeo Association and The Post Dispatch do not, of course, list the names and home towns of ALL the contestants, because many of them perform in over-flow events staged after the regular performance is over.

The only way to learn the name of every contestant and where he or she is from is to scan the entry books, which we've done a number of times in recording the rodeo results. This year's more than 170 youngsters came from many places, some of them traveling several hundred miles to perform in what still is one of the nation's most outstanding junior rodeos. One of the youngsters from New Mexico told me he was performing here for the first time this year, but that he'd always wanted to come to the Post rodeo on account of its slogan—"The World's Original Junior Rodeo."

WE HOPE THEY'RE all back for next year's rodeo!

Four and 20 are the most desirable ages—at 4 you know all the questions; at 20 you know all the answers. So it has worked out pretty good having my grandson and my No. 2 son both home at the same time this week. My grandson isn't 4 yet, but he's near enough that he knows all the questions, and my No. 2 son is 20, so that takes care of the answers.

THE MAN UP the street says housework is what a woman does that nobody ever notices unless she doesn't do it.

"No wonder there's often a breakdown in human communications," says some unknown writer. "Even though there are only two people talking, or writing to each other, there are actually eight personalities present: There are you and I; there is who I think I am, and who you think you are; there is who you think I am, and who I think you think you are, and who you think I think I am."

Ross Strader, assistant professor of journalism at the University of Houston, is a man with a sense of humor. He has taken in stride the fact that a great majority of Texas newspaper publishers do not wish to pay $9 a year for "Frontier News Flashes," which the University's journalism department has been giving away for something over a year. The Dispatch is one of the newspapers that has been running "Frontier News Flashes" from week to week, and we've found that a number of our readers have been enjoying the news of 100 years ago. But The Dispatch, like most other weekly newspapers was "cold" to the idea of paying $9 a year for the service. Anyway, here is Prof. Strader's letter on it:

"Results of our offer to supply 'Frontier News Flashes' for $9 per year:

"To get right to the point, we are overwhelmed by the response.

"Two publishers answered by return mail saying cheerfully: 'Bill us!'

"From that point on, it was just as if the U. S. Mule had died. The postman brought us nothing.

"It appears at this moment that the vote is thusly:

"AGAINST: 137

"We have held several faculty meetings about this entire problem, naturally. When one has been a benefactor... it is not easy to suddenly stop giving. We have been going to great efforts to get the columns compiled in the first place, stuffed in the second place, and had begged and borrowed to get enough postage to mail it out to what we thought were 139 eager publishers. Now, without warning, we find out that those wonderful columns were not worth the mimeograph paper they were ditted on. And, with great shaking of scholarly heads, we have concluded that 137 Texas publishers cannot be wrong. (As a matter of fact, we have considered making a thorough study of those two publishers who are willing to pay $9 a year for the columns to see why they want it.)

"Our Faculty Committee in Charge of One-Hundred-Years-Ago Columns has decided to go on record as recommending to the Communication Arts faculty as a whole, that:

"1. We accept this overwhelming vote against Frontier News Flashes as a mandate to stop the whole business; and, further that—

"2. In the future, we concentrate all our efforts—in training young journalists—on news that is not quite 100 years old because there just seems to be no demand for it..."

Close City sets integration vote

Trustees of the Close City Independent School District have called an integration election in the district for Saturday, Aug. 31. The seven-member board's action came at a meeting Monday night after they had been presented a petition asking that the election be called.

The petition bore the names of 20 qualified voters of the school district, which is considerably more than the 20 per cent of qualified voters' signatures required on such a petition. The board's resolution to call the election was adopted unanimously. Thus, Close City, which teaches only through the first seven grades, becomes one of the smallest schools in Texas to call an election for integration—or abolition of the present dual school system. During the 1961-62 school year, the Close City district sent eight Negro pupils to the Lincoln Elementary School here.

N. C. Outlaw, Post attorney, is handling the legal work for the upcoming election. Absentee voting is to begin this weekend.

L. H. (Lonnie) Peel was named judge for the election, W. D. Livingston as assistant judge, and Mrs. Lola Peel and Mrs. H. F. Wheatley as clerks.

Woman in hospital with head injury

Joyce Paul Arrington of Hobbs, N. M., was in a Snyder hospital with a severe head injury today, which her companion, A. A. Nuttall, said she suffered when she fell from the automobile he was driving.

Nuttall was being held in the county jail here after being brought to Post from Snyder by Sheriff Earl Abercrombie and a deputy.

Garza County Sheriff Fay Claborn said Nuttall told him the woman fell from the car while they were driving toward Snyder. He said he put her back in the car and took her to a Snyder hospital. Claborn, who was notified of the incident shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, is continuing an investigation today.

The Arrington woman's condition is described as critical.

Presbyterians give 'go ahead' for new church

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church voted unanimously Sunday to authorize the session to solicit bids, authorize construction contracts and secure a necessary building loan for a new church plant.

Bryan J. Williams, chairman of the church's building committee, said the church hopes to see construction begin in early fall on the first step of a two-step building program.

Henry Steinbomer, one of the Southwest's leading church architects, is now busy drafting final plans for the new church. Steinbomer has designed over 400 churches in Texas, including 40 in San Antonio alone.

The first step in the new church program will be the construction of a near 6,000 square foot brick sanctuary, offices, and education-

12-and-unders saddle winners in rodeo here

Youngsters competing in the 12-and-under division won the two saddles presented best all-around performers in the 15th annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo concluded here Saturday night.

The saddle for best all-around cowgirl went to Jo Mears of Post. Billy Don Grimes of San Saba and Gene Edwards of San Angelo finished in a tie for the best all-around cowboy saddle award. Loyce Josey, rodeo secretary, said the two boys had been notified and would decide between themselves on a method to determine ownership of the saddle.

Je Mears, 12-year-old Post cowgirl, scored a total of 300 points to win the girl's saddle, which was donated by C. E. (Son) Basinger. She also won the girls' championship buckle in her age division. Jo had the best average in the flag race, best average in the barrel race and second best average in pole bending.

Grimes and Edwards tied for the Boy's saddle with 190 points each. They also tied for the championship buckle in the 12-and-under division.

Other championship buckle winners were Carolyn Tate of Lubbock girls, 16-19; Red Doyal of Happy, boys, 16-19; Kathy Greenwood of Carlsbad, N. M., girls, 13-15; and Kenneth Hart of Tahoka, boys, 13-15.

The championship buckles were donated by Collier Chevrolet-Olds Co. and the Post Pharmacy.

District Judge Victor H. Lindsey of Lubbock, judge of the 72nd judicial district, has promised an early hearing on a petition for a writ of injunction against the White River Municipal Water District seeking return of a large and substantial portion of some 1,908 acres of land recently condemned as a part of the White River dam site to Mrs. Alleta Walker of Meadow and other original owners of the property.

The petition, seeking the injunction, was filed in the Crosby County district court last week by attorneys representing Mrs. Walker and other original owners of the land.

At the same time, her attorneys filed an appeal in the Crosby County court to the recent award of the condemnation commission for the land.

Judge Lindsey originally set the hearing on the injunction for Sept. 4, but this week agreed to try to move the hearing up so it would come before Aug. 27. This is the date the 45-day bid time limit expires for the letting of the six White River construction contracts.

If the court refuses to grant an injunction the district directors will have time to sign the construction contracts and immediately proceed with construction of the dam, infiltration plant, and water pipeline facilities to the four member towns.

Should a permanent injunction be granted returning a portion of the condemned land to Mrs. Walker and others, it is presumed condemnation proceedings would have to be initiated again and considerable delay would result. It could possibly require another contract letting on construction if low bidders on the six project contracts refused to stay by their bids after the 45 day contractual limit had expired.

Construction work could go on regardless of the appeal in the county court of the condemnation commission's award. No action has been set for the hearing of this appeal.

The petition for the writ of injunction cites 12 reasons why the condemnation proceedings are "fatally defective and without warrant in law."

Principal contention is that the district, while it has the power of eminent domain to acquire by condemnation the land needed for the water reservoir, such power, it is alleged, does not extend above the high water line of the proposed lake nor are the mineral rights to the land either below the lake or above the high water mark necessary for the purpose for which the water district is established by law.

Lloyd Wicks Sr., of Ralls, attorney for the White River district, told The Dispatch that as soon as the judge sets the date for a hearing on the injunction petition, the district will appear before the court and seek a definite ruling on the points listed in the petition by Mrs. Walker and others.

Eligibility standards at Post High raised

Post Independent School District trustees voted at a special meeting Friday to raise grade requirements for participation in athletics and other extra-curricular activities at Post High School.

The board's action changes the requirement to passing grades in four of five solid subjects instead of three of four subjects as presently required by the University Interscholastic League.

What it amounts to, board members explained at the meeting, is that students will be required to pass 80 per cent of their subjects beginning with this school year instead of 75 per cent as has been the case in the past in conforming with UIL requirements.

All subjects except physical education are considered solid subjects, it was explained.

In other action at the meeting, which followed a luncheon at Levi's Restaurant, the board voted to take over and handle its transportation problem, now included in the county-wide program; employed two new teachers and accepted the resignation of another; hired a new "Ungotta"—which means gypsy—has lived up to her name. She "took off" about three and one-half weeks ago and has been roaming since.

Ungotta is a six-month-old two-foot high, shaggy poodle, gray with a black and gray face.

She is the beloved pet of a young soldier who today is due to arrive home at San Angelo with his discharge from army service. He will be expecting a big reunion with Ungotta, but Ungotta won't be there.

The shaggy poodle was lost about three and one-half weeks ago six miles north of Post on FM 651 when relatives stopped by the side of the road and let her out of the car for some exercise. Ungotta wandered off and those relatives have been looking quite frantically ever since.

Her master's name is George Maddux. He is due home today from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. His relatives haven't had the heart to tell him Ungotta is lost. The poodle toured Mexico with her young master, sitting on his lap on buses, etc. They were inseparable companions until army services took George off.

There is a reward for Ungotta's safe return of course. A. C. Bledsoe of San Angelo has advertised twice in the Dispatch's Lost and Found column for Ungotta without results. Relatives have driven up twice and the last time Saturday—embarked on a farm to farm inquiry in the area in which Ungotta was lost to see if anybody had seen the dog or knew of her whereabouts. No luck. They even enlisted the aid of Lewis Herron, the bank's farm representative here who knows everybody along FM-651. Lewis has had no success with inquiries either.

If anybody knows anything about Ungotta please telephone Bledsoe at either 655-5385 or 655-3198 in San Angelo the good news. George Maddux had a most unhappy home. See POSTINGS, Page 8
