By MRS. O. H. HOOVER

The WSCS will begin the study on Christian missions in Latin America Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. at the Methodist parsonage. Mrs. Roy LeMond will teach it. The Draw Methodists are meeting in joint session. All ladies are urged to come.

Normans in Pomona, Mr. Gregg's nephew in Whittier, the Roy Lockes in Manhattan Beach, and Jack Frost in Oxnard. The temperature was 86 while they were there. They ran into a sandstorm on the way home and had to be guided for a while the sand was so bad. They ran into snow for the rest of the way but they report a wonderful trip.

THANKS, MR. FARMER

FOR YOUR COOPERATION IN MAKING THIS THE BIGGEST GINNING SEASON IN THE HISTORY OF OUR GIN

This season we will have ginned approximately 4,540 bales, as compared to 2,672 bales a year ago.

This year's total is close to 1,000 more bales than in any previous ginning year.

In three weeks and one day of pleasant weather, we ginned a little over 3,000 bales of cotton.

During the last off season we made approximately $30,000 worth of gin improvements and increased our gin capacity by 20 per cent.

We are ending up the ginning year in good shape financially too.

As the season draws to a close, we here at the Close City Coop Gin wish to thank you farmers who have cooperated so well to make this such a successful year for our community.

WILLIE YOUNG,
Manager.

Five from Post on grain tour

Five Post men are among the 200 West Texans who this week are on a Livestock Feeding-Grain Market Development tour to Arizona and California.

The local group, along with others from this area, assembled in Clovis, N. M., Sunday morning and left there at noon on a special train made up to start the tour.

Post men on the tour are Mike Mitchell, Jack Lott, Bob Macy, Jack Kirkpatrick and Kay Kirkpatrick.

The tour is sponsored by the Agriculture & Livestock Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The schedule called for the special train to reach Phoenix, Ariz., at 7 a. m. Monday, where the West Texans were to inspect livestock feeding operations in the Phoenix area Monday and Tuesday.

The group were to travel from Phoenix to San Diego, Calif., Tuesday night and were to spend Wednesday looking over feeding operations in the El Centro region. The tourists were to move to the Bakersfield area Wednesday night for a two-day inspection of that area and will leave Bakersfield Friday afternoon on the return trip.

The tour, second of its kind, will have a two-fold purpose. The cattle and feed raisers and other business men will work to encourage the use of West Texas grain sorghum in the livestock feeding operations of the two western states. They also will gather information and ideas which may be applied to feeding programs in West Texas.

Post Antelopes to host Denver City Friday night

Mustang cagers top defenders

Denver City Mustangs, defending champion in District 3-AA, play the Post Antelopes here Friday night, with both "A" and "B" boys' games scheduled.

Mustangs opened defense of district championship last Friday by defeating the Stanton boys at Stanton. It was the loss by the Buffaloes against Stanton.

Post and Denver City varsity teams have already clashed this season—in the Caprock Tournament at Lubbock—the Mustangs taking a lopsided victory.

Tuesday night, the Antelope Does and Antelope "B" will go to Stanton for district Coach Van Kountz' Does will play this week, since Denver does not have a girls' basketball team.

Harlem Stars here Monday

A brisk ticket sale for the appearance of the hilarious Harlem Stars here Monday night was reported today by Richard Souter, Post High School basketball coach.

Advertised as the greatest and funniest basketball team in the country today, the Harlem Stars will play a team of Post independents in the high school gym at 8 o'clock Monday night.

Souter said there will be no reserved seats for the game, and those not purchasing tickets in advance may get them at the ticket table in the gym lobby the night of the game.

Scheduled to play against the touring Harlem Stars are members of the First National Bank-sponsored Post Independent team, in addition to a number of other players expected to be available for the game, Souter said.

Among those who will see action against the Stars will be Souter, Wilbert Bigott, Jimmy Redman, Petey Hays, Glynn Gregg, Van Kountz, Bob Shields of Slaton, Tom Buchanan of Southland, Forrest Claborn and college students Dan Rankin, Curtis Didway and Sidney Hart.

Souter said the independent's roster for the exhibition game probably will also include additional cagers from Slaton, Wilson and Abernathy.

"The Harlem Stars," Souter said, "are unique in the fact that they never try to run up a big score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff."

Tickets are on sale at $1.50, adults; $1, students, and 75 cents, under 12.

Lincoln School is to host tourney, playoffs Feb. 3

The Lincoln Elementary School here will host Feb. 3 to the District C boys and girls basketball tournament, and on the same day to the playoffs for the Class B district championship.

The Class C tournament, as well as the Class B district playoffs, will be held in the Post Junior High School gymnasium, with tournament play scheduled to get under way at 8:30 a. m.

Class C boys' and girls' teams participating in the tournament will represent Post, Tahoka, Morton, Seagraves, Seminole and Muleshoe.

Tickets to the tournament and the playoff games will be available from students and faculty members of the Lincoln School, according to Mrs. Pennie, the school principal.

More complete details of the tournament and the district playoffs will appear in next week's Post Dispatch.

Drop three games to Slaton

Post teams off to losing start in loop contests

The Post High School basketball teams got off to a dismal start on their District 3-AA schedule Monday night by losing three games to Slaton on the latter's court.

The Antelopes were swamped, 78 to 42, the Does lost, 46 to 42, and the Antelope "B" team went down, 49 to 29.

It was Slaton all the way in the "A" boys' game, with the Tigers holding intermission leads of 13-9, 31-16 and 54-25.

Ronnie Jones of Slaton singled the nets for 27 points to lead all scorers. Dwayne Capps' 16 points was tops for Post.

A real bad second quarter hurt the Does' chances of scoring their first win over the Slaton Tigerettes in several years.

The Does trailed by only two points, 12-10, at the end of the first quarter, but scored only seven points to Slaton's 17 in the second to fall too far behind to catch up. They rallied in the third period to score 14 points to the Tigerettes' five, but the damage had been done.

Nita Wilson, finding the scoring range again after being held to 13 points in Friday night's game with Sundown, scored 33 points for high honors. Post's other points were scored by Janith Short, seven, and Barbara Craig, two.

Coach Van Kountz said his Doe forwards hit 59 per cent of their shots from the field for their best scoring average of the season, but that the guards just couldn't get the ball to them. That was a switch from Friday night's Sundown game when the guards got the ball to the forwards, but they either couldn't hold onto it or couldn't hit from the field—or from the free throw line either.

In the "B" team boys' 20-point loss, Benny Owen led Post scorers with 11 points. Wendell Johnson scored six, Butch Cross and Ronald Simpson, four each; Roger Anderson, three and Danny Pierce, one. Others playing were Charlie Brown, Billy Mitchell and Buddy Howell.

In the 7th grade boys' three-point loss, Ronnie Pierce scored 20 of Post's 28 points. Donnie Windham and Freddie Dodd hit for three each, and Dick Kennedy for two.

Other 7th graders playing were Richard Scott, Paul Harmon, Steve Stone and Davis Heaton.

The Post Does brought their season record to 16-8 here last Thursday afternoon with a 60 to 40 victory over the Gail girls' team.

The Does jumped out to a comfortable 17-4 first quarter lead, were out in front, 30-14, at halftime, and led, 49-27, at the end of the third period.

Nita Wilson topped all scoring with 34 points. Janith Short and Barbara Craig scored nine each; Ruthell Martin, four, and Vivian McWhirt and Pamela Stewart, two each.

Sundown wins 3 games here

Sundown cagers swept three games from Post here Friday night, the "A" girls team winning 57-37, the "B" girls, 31-11, and the "A" boys, 42-36.

In the boys' game, Post led until the final quarter, when the Roughnecks outscored the Antelopes, 13 to 4, to win by a six-point margin.

The Antelopes outshot the Roughnecks from the field, hitting 17 field goals to the visitors' 10, but made only two of nine free throws, while the Roughnecks were hitting 22 of 39. Post players were whistled for 29 personal fouls, while the Roughnecks were guilty of only nine.

The Antelopes led, 32-29, going into the final period, but three fielders and seven charity tosses by the Roughnecks against two field goals by Dwayne Capps as the only Antelope scoring, iced the game for the visitors.

The Sundown girls, who are defending state Class A champions, led all the way in their 20-point win over the Does.

All-Stater Sue Janes, short on height, but long on accuracy, scored 29 points for the Sundown team, although playing only a little more than half the game. The hustling Sundown guards did an effective job of holding the Doe forwards in check, with Nita Wilson scoring 13 points and Janith Short, 12.

Throughout most of the game, Post guard Janie Carradine pulled most of the rebounds off the Sundown basket, but the ball either failed to reach the Does' end of the court, or was lost to the Sundown guards when it did.

In the "B" girls' game, Kloma Davis led the Sundown scoring with 14 points, while Shirley Sappington's six points topped the Post scoring.

Fort Worth Stock Show, Rodeo plans making progress

Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo activity gathered momentum this week with announcement by President-Manager W. R. Watt that the nation's top 20 cowboys in all five major rodeo events will compete, and naming of the two rodeo judges.

The rodeo, prime attraction of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 26-Feb. 4, will feature "Bonanza" TV stars Lorne Green (Ben Cartwright) and Dan Blocker (Hoss).

Watt, in Denver to attend meetings of the Rodeo Foundation, Inc., and Rodeo Cowboys Association, said competitors have approved Pete Crump of Green Acres, Wash., and Sonny Tureman of Oakdale, Calif., as rodeo judges. Both are veterans of the arena. Tureman is a former bareback champ, and Crump ranked 13th in that category for the 1961 season.

Cowboy champions expected to compete in a field of approximately 400 at the Fort Worth rodeo include Benny Reynolds of Melrose, Mont., 1961 all-around champion (money won in two or more events). Champions are determined by the RCA on the basis of dollars won. Others are:

Bareback, Eddy Akridge of Midland, Texas; steer wrestling, James Bynum of Forrester, Texas; bull riding, Ronnie Rossen of Broadus, Mont.; calf roping, Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, and saddle bronc, Winston Bruce of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

The Fort Worth Rodeo's rugged roping calves, steers and bucking stock will be furnished by Rodeo Producer Harry Knight of Fowler, Colo. Famed broncs "Jade" and "Sage Hen" are two of the tough ones scheduled to break out of the chutes.

OLD HANDS AT THIS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A man who knows nothing about trees may admire a forest. But he'll never make a living in the timber business.

The Bible is like our other resources. It can fill any man with a sense of awe... but its rich treasures are for the earnest and patient seeker.

As you've held the Book and leafed its pages, you could almost feel its sacredness. And yet, when you began to read, perhaps it was like plodding an unfamiliar path.

Try again, today. But try with the zeal of the apprentice who counts experience itself a valuable reward. And turn to the Church for the inspiration that its worship and Bible study can provide.

Soon, like the timberman's forest, your Bible will be a friendly place of familiar trails, rich in God-given treasure. For, remember, even old hands once groped to find the Way.

We would like to express our appreciation for the many kind and sympathetic acts that came to us at the time of the loss of our loved one, also for the food, cards, and visits. May God bless each one of you.

The family of Hardie Smith

We want to say "thank you" to all who had a part in gathering our cotton crop, either in gathering it, hauling to the gin, or hiring a hand to help. Also we would like to say "thank you" for all the visits, cards, and prayers for us during our stay in the hospital.

Ray and Annie Hodges

There are no words that will adequately express our deep appreciation for our friends' kindnesses since the loss of our husband and daddy. We are grateful for each floral arrangement, each dish of food, each visit and kind word of sympathy that we have received. We want to give special thanks to Buster Moreland and each of the Brown Brothers' employees, to Dr. Tubbs, Bro. Hogue, and to the hospital staff. May God bless you for your kindness.

We would like to have our friends who brought food to the Wheeler family to drop by and pick up their dishes. Some of the dishes have no name or address on them. We are so grateful for every dish.

AUSTIN—Talk of ending the special session of the Legislature on its opening day turned out to be just talk.

When the lawmakers got to town at Gov. Price Daniel's call, little support could be mustered by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, for immediate adjournment.

So, the show is on—and already moving at a fast pace. Governor Daniel immediately laid out his proposals for solving some long-standing problems. Included were the following:

BANK ESCHEAT: Here a compromise with bankers was sought, under which banks would advertise locally each year for the owners of accounts which had as much as $25 in them and which had been inactive for seven years. Balances under $25 would be sent to the State Treasury which would seek the owners, and if they appear, pay them from a $100,000 revolving fund which would be kept in the Treasury for that purpose. Rep. Charles E. Hughes of Sherman, who has worked for 10 years to get laws to enforce the escheat laws, felt that ground had finally been found on which the state and the banks could agree.

RURAL ROADS: Governor Daniel's veto last summer of the $15,000,000 appropriation for farm-to-market road construction during the year starting next Sept. 1 was designed to bring another long discussion to a head. It did.

WHERE $60,000,000 was available in 1961 ($50,000,000 in state taxes and $10,000,000 in federal aid) for construction and improvement of rural roads, Daniel proposed that only about $42,000,000 be used next year. The other $17,500,000 would be used to maintain the rural roads.

Daniel got agreement from the Texas County Judges and Commissioners' Association and from the Texas Farm Bureau. But some rural legislators think this is too big a cut all at once, and are talking to the Daniel proposal as the "minimum".

INTEREST RATES: Daniel made no specific recommendations to the lawmakers on interest rates and loan regulation, except to say that the rates proposed by the Texas Legislative Council were too high.

Here there is tremendous difference of opinion among legislators, over two issues.

First question is—"what is a small loan?"

Some think interest ceilings should be held to 10 per cent on all loans over $500 while others think higher rates should be allowed up to $2,000, to include the auto loan category.

Latest proposal would regulate rates up to $1,500 or $1,000, thus hold interest to a 10 per cent maximum on all loans over that amount.

This issue will be hard fought and many legislators do not expect it to be settled when the 30-day session is over.

TOURIST ADVERTISING: Daniel urged a $300,000 appropriation for advertising Texas to tourists. Proposal is backed by numerous organizations who feel that the investment will pay big dividends to the state, especially since the state now has a sales tax.

JUVENILE PAROLE: Last year the start was made on a system of state-paid parole officers to supervise boys and girls released from the juvenile schools. But money was provided to pay only six men, including a state director.

Daniel asked for 17 more parole officers. Most legislators agreed on the need, but worried about where to get the money.

One thing is certain—this Legislature won't raise taxes again—not this year.

It is an unusual Legislature in another respect. It has two Republican members.

Kenneth Kohler of Amarillo took office first, so he is being called the "minority leader" of the House. His GOP colleague from Texas City, George Korkmas, makes it the largest Republican membership in the Legislature since back in the 1870s, when there were many Republicans in office in Texas, including a governor.

POLITICS IS PERKIN' UP! Former House Speaker Waggoner Carr is at the rail and ready to run for Attorney General. A ctually the Lubbock attorney, a Democrat, has been quietly campaigning for the office for several months.

Austin Attorney Walter Koch is an announced candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Third Judicial District.

Judge William A. Morrison of Cameron has announced for election to the Court of Criminal Appeals, on which he has served for 11 years. District Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler has announced against him.

TEXAS GAME & Fish Commission has decided to revive efforts to get reciprocal fishing privileges on the border rivers and lakes.

Neither the Texans on Lake Texoma nor the Louisianans on Lake Caddo can tell where the state line is. Sometimes they get fined for not having a fishing license.

Time and time again negotiations have been begun, only to have the idea shelved when officers were changed and the new ones didn't pick up the ball.

This time, Chairman Frank Wood of Wichita Falls will go to Oklahoma to start talks there. Henry LeBlanc, president of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, will try to get things rolling in his position as Southwestern director of the National Wildlife Federation.

TEXAS HAS AN industry-seeking agency—the Texas Industrial Commission.

It got a new director in Harry W. Clark, who has been head of industrial development for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. He replaces Walter Dickerson.

Commission decided to center its efforts on coordinating and complementing the work of community industry seekers. Also to serve as an information center for facts on industry and its needs. And to help advertise Texas nationwide. Legislature provided them $55,000 for these purposes last year.

AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER John White sent word to all bakers that the "balooned loaf" of bread is illegal under the state law.

White said this new "over-sized" loaf has appeared in several parts of the state.

It actually weighs a pound. But if filled with air it bakes into a loaf the same size as the pound and a half loaf. Weight is printed in small type, so shoppers find it hard to tell the difference.

The state's grocery policeman said if bakers don't cooperate by stopping the practice he'll stop them.

STATE REVENUES will begin to pull into balance this month, as the first full quarter of returns on the new sales tax reach Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Since the new law took effect, only $22,000,000 has come in, and it just about held things even on the state deficit of $75,000,000 or so.

Quarterly payments by stores, on sales for the last three months of 1961, are due Jan. 31. They should total about $45,000,000, less the $11,000,000 merchants paid in advance in November and thus got a 3 per cent discount.

But it will be summer of 1962 before the new sales tax wipes out the deficit, if all goes as predicted.

One effect of the sales tax has been to get stores located so they will pay the "store tax" which has been in effect many years.

A year ago at this time, only 81,109 stores had paid this tax. This year, 116,393 have paid it.

It all came about when stores were required to get permits as collectors of the new sales tax. Comptroller Calvert cross-checked their names, and collected the "store tax" from them while he was at it.

Hunting success is 44.6 pct. on five game areas

AUSTIN — Game management area hunting during the past season showed a 44.6 per cent hunter success, according to figures just released by Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

There were 1,578 hunting on the game management areas of the state. They harvested 704 deer for the season.

These were hunters who made a application for permits to hunt on these management areas, for the removal of surplus game. There were 17,450 applications, 2,136 permits issued, and 1,578 hunters showing. Biologists had estimated a desired kill of 825 animals, with 704 finally reported. There were 355 bucks and 349 doe harvested.

Best hunter success was on the Engeling area in East Texas, where there was a 63.2 per cent kill. On the Black Gap management in far West Texas, there was a 54.3 per cent hunter success; Kerr area 61.2 per cent; Sierra Diablo 61 per cent, while in the Angelina area there was a 19.5 per cent hunter success.

Deep plowing is reducing cotton root rot for many Texas farmers

COLLEGE STATION—Over 5,000 Texas cotton farmers are reducing cotton root rot by deep plowing. They deep plowed more than a quarter million acres during 1961 according to year-end reports by county agricultural agents.

Farmers in many counties have carried out result demonstrations which showed positively that deep plowing does reduce root rot, said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Best results were obtained, he explained, when deep plowed soil was allowed to dry for ten days to two weeks during summer or early fall when soil moisture was below normal. Shorter drying periods have given a degree of control but are somewhat unreliable, Smith said.

Affected areas should be plowed and large amounts of organic matter turned under during the hot-dry season. Plow depths of from 6 to 18 inches are recommended, depending upon the soil type and equipment available. Mold-board or disc breaking plows are satisfactory for doing the job, the specialist said. Drying the soil for a reasonable period kills the root rot fungus by drying and killing cotton roots and those of susceptible weeds, Smith explained.

The reports from the counties showed that losses ranging up to 75 per cent had been reduced to less than 5 per cent by deep plowing. Eradication is not usually complete because the fungus may penetrate the soil to a depth of 8 feet, Smith added.

FLOORS REPAIRED

Floors in the district courtroom and the county sheriff's office were repainted this week and County Judge J. E. Parker said the current program tentatively calls for the painting of floors in other offices in the near future. Painters Isaac Brown and Lowell Scriver are doing the work.

Any resemblance to Life magazine's big spread of Lucille Ball being back on television in "The Good Years" was purely coincidental. It was billed as a queen getting ready for a blockbuster. They forgot to light the fuse.

I jubilantly got all set to watch Lucy on TV again, expecting her to be her clever, funny, funny self. Everyone on the show acted like they had died in 1900 instead of living it up in those good years. Please deliver us from any more such duds.

month after month throw in stories about Jackie Kennedy. I decided I'd throw in a little tidbit I picked up from Congressman George Mahon's wife, Helen.

I had lunch with Mrs. Mahon when she and her husband were here several weeks ago on what I suppose one would call a grassroots tour of his district between congressional sessions.

Naturally, while discussing Washington, D. C., we touched on the Kennedys. Mrs. Mahon thought I might be interested in her first meeting with the "First Lady".

Mrs. Mahon was shopping in the capitol one day for her daughter and was undecided about a skirt because her daughter is rather tall and she wasn't sure if it would be long enough for her. A slender, attractive girl hearing the conversation volunteered to try the skirt on as she was the same height. After being so helpful, the volunteer left the shop. Mrs. Mahon commented to the saleslady how nice the girl had been and then found out that she was the wife of the new junior senator from Massachusetts, Jack Kennedy.

Mrs. Mahon said when she met Jackie officially a short while later, she apologized for a lowly house member's wife imposing on the wife of a senator and they both got a big chuckle out of it.

By the way, Mrs. Mahon did not get the skirt.

She said the White House is definitely a much warmer cheery place with the Kennedys in it. One thing I missed along the line somewhere was any mention of all those fireplaces smoking the White House when they were all lit the first time. Seems as if someone forgot to check the flues.

Don't you all feel like you just read the McCall's or Ladies Home Journal?

Juvenile parole system needed

Groups such as the newly-organized juvenile board in Garza County no doubt will be among those most appreciative of the fact that at long last something might be done toward the establishment of a statewide juvenile parole system.

A year ago this month, Gov. Price Daniel recommended to the Legislature the employment of 20 parole officers, a state director of probation and parole, and five area supervisors. This was described by the Governor as a minimum number to cover this big state properly, looking after all the boys who should be released from the reform institutions on probation, and keeping check on their conduct and rehabilitation.

The Legislature saw fit, after the Governor's recommendation, to appropriate salaries for five probation officers, one for each of the five largest cities.

That, in itself, is a start—but nothing more than a start.

Now Dr. James A. Turman, director of the Youth Council which administers the juvenile reform institutions has asked the governor to resubmit his program to the Legislature.

If any of the various problems that have been suggested is of such urgency as to warrant early action by the Legislature, it is this need for the establishment of a statewide juvenile parole system. Why? Simply because human lives are being ruined, which, if given the guidance provided by proper juvenile parole supervision, would be turned from the wayward trail of crime into the path of decent citizenship.

For failure of the proposed legislation, this year it has been necessary to continue releasing boys from the overcrowded state reform school at Gainesville long before their terms expired, to make room for others pouring in from the state's juvenile courts.

Those released on probation, with few exceptions, have not had the proper supervision or direction, and consequently far more have been returned as repeaters than would have been the case if they had received such guidance.

The records of states that have effective juvenile probation systems, in comparison with the records of states that have none prove that a real probation system can make the difference, for hundreds and thousands of wayward youths through the years between readjustment to useful, law-abiding citizenship and criminal careers.

In Texas, for instance, the percentage of delinquent boys released on parole who get into trouble again and are recommitting, is much higher than in, say, Wisconsin, which has a good system.

As far as the cost of an adequate probation system is concerned, the state's savings in the expense of prosecuting juveniles and adult criminals, which would result from the reduction in the number of juvenile delinquents under such a system, would go far toward paying the salaries of the probation officers.

On the other hand, the economic saving is not comparable to what it means in terms of human values—from the blight of criminality into which erring youths are drifting for lack of competent probationary guidance—CD.

Reaffirming belief in library

Worthwhile projects don't come easy in any community. Post and Garza County are no exception.

With the start of another year, The Dispatch wishes to reaffirm its beliefs in the need for a Garza County Library.

This community has an interesting history of so many folks who have tried so hard to get a library project going and keep it going.

The biggest effort yet came two years ago after a year's regular scheduling here of the Texas State Library's Bookmobile. A lot of interest was aroused. A citizens' committee named by the county made its recommendations. The state offered to loan the county for an indefinite period from one to two thousand brand new books with which to stock the library.

A lot of local folks wanted that library.

But it died right there.

You can't return to missed opportunities. But that did provide one lesson for the folks who know that if this area is to provide the fundamental cultural opportunities for its young—as well as its adults—it needs a library.

The lesson was simply that before another effort is made at the citizens' level to get county action that an organization must be formed to work actively and hard on the proposed library project.

Such organizations exist in many Texas communities. They are organized even into a state association—Friends of Texas Libraries, or something like that.

After a library is established, the organization's work goes on helping to build the library.

If Garza County is to get its library, such an organization is first needed here.—JC.

What our contemporaries are saying

A minister with his ushers about ready to take the church collection admonished his audience. "So now let us give freely, generously, in accordance with what you reported on your income tax."—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Each one of us who goes to work every day, thinks that our work is the hardest, both physical and mental. We often look at the other fellow's job and think to ourselves and sometimes out loud that it is not a job at all, but a soft position.

None of us will ever admit that we really have it easy and we get most upset when someone derides us about our work and proceeds to tell us just how hard they slave for the weekly pay check. To be perfectly honest with you, I would also probably never tell that I have an easy life, but would come a lot closer to telling you about the difficult jobs and long hours involved with being a newspaper editor . . . here again, you and I would both be bored.

What it all boils down to is this statement by Gerald Piel, publisher of the Scientific American: "Compared with the day's work that confronts most of mankind every morning, most American citizens are not engaged in work at all."

This is true, but I think the people in America that are working the hardest are those trying not to find work. In and around Littlefield, it takes a big effort to avoid finding a job . . . but we have plenty who are making this effort, and succeeding.—D. H. Penn in The Lamb County Leader.

"It is a little closer for us to live at Anson, Motivation has been the subject of many studies. What makes people buy certain items or why do people patronize certain stores—this is valuable information and a lot of money is spent each year in research to find these answers.

An unusual insight into why people want to live in Stamford was revealed last week when two women whose husbands will be employed at the missile installation near Corinth came into The American office looking for housing.

It is a little closer for us to live at Anson, but we want to live in Stamford because of the bowling alley. We bowl every day." one of the women volunteered.—The Stamford American.

I guess you've heard about the near-sighted turtle haven't you? He asked a football helmet for a date. That's what you call one of those real uptown jokes.—Charlie Mullins in The Idalou Beacon.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

LAST WEEK'S wave of cold weather felt more like it had come right from the North Pole than any spell I've seen in the nearly nine years I've been in Post. Memory about such things is short, and it could be that we've had colder weather in the last nine years, but if so, I'd forgotten all about it.

The man up the street says a bore is someone who boasts about his accomplishments when he should be boasting about yours.

I'VE BEEN intending for a long time to make mention somewhere or other in the newspaper about some of our new street names. This week's column seems as good a place as any, especially since I'm woefully weak on column material—as anyone who has read this far down can plainly see.

The memory of the noble redman has been perpetuated out in the comparatively new Westgate Addition with the naming of the two main thoroughfares there, Osage and Mohawk. Naming of streets after Indian tribes opens up a wealth of possibilities, with such enchanting names as Chippewa, Choctaw, Cherokee, Pottawatomie, Seminole, etc., still left.

SOME OF THE other new and more fashionable street names you won't find on the old city maps include Chantilly Lane, Sunset Drive and Ridgewood Road—all out in new additions.

Across the tracks on the east side of town, there are a few other streets whose names are unfamiliar to the average person, unless he is a city map studier. I'm not, so until I really got into the matter of street names, I didn't know there were such streets over there as Cameron, Chappell, Fox, Francis, Gordon, Henry, Jasper and Mercer.

JUST FOR THE records, there are no houses on Cameron, Fox, Francis, Gordon and Mercer streets.

Few, if any, of the people who moved to Post since 1955 know that up until that year the principal streets running north and south bore the names of presidents instead of their present letter-names. Starting this side of the railroad tracks, Avenue H before 1955 was Washington, and the other streets running north and south were Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk and Taylor.

THE CHANGE IN street names came about through action by the City Council, with the installation of new street markers following. The re-mapping also called for new house numbers throughout the city, and the Lions Club handled that end of the change as one of their major projects of that year.

It is doubtful that this resume of street names will keep you from getting lost, but it might help.

A NEWSPAPER filler says 18 million families in the United States own dogs. I am inclined to believe that such a figure is arrived at by some formula, rather than an actual count, since I don't remember any U. S. Census taker ever asking us if we owned a dog. We've always owned a dog, and I don't remember any census taker asking his name, age, etc. Furthermore, I don't recall any dog we ever owned biting a census taker, so I rather think that the figure of 18 million families owning dogs was arrived at by figuring that one out of so many families own a dog and then by multiplying, dividing, subtracting, etc. In fact, I doubt if any actual count of dogs ever will be made until such a time—and I've long been in favor of this—that they are counted as income tax dependents.

Superstition is diminishing, according to the social scientists. Keep your fingers crossed and it may go away altogether.

The nation's advertising agencies are turning out top-drawer copy, and, what's more, they're making it fit certain sections of the country. One I've just seen that is reminiscent of the earnest and skeerness of the lone prairie-e-o shows a gent sittin' in an Arizona cactus patch late at night a-workin' his portable by a campfire. The heading, "You don't know what lonesome is till you've been herdin' ads." The body copy reads:

It's a lonesome job and kinda chancy. Out here tonight . . . in the wide open spaces of the marketing mind, ad men are rasslin' with ideas . . . ideas that must move mountains of merchandise tomorrow. The more they sell, the more jobs for you and me,—and the better off our youngun. These men are ridin' herd on some mighty powerful media—like this paper you're now readin'. But, much as they like you to buy their clients' brands, they know that advertising is a bronc that can just as easy shake off good-will as hold it. So much depends on the essential worth of the product. Meanwhile, buck at your ranch . . . the lights

Have You Heard??

Seems like Linda McMahon, Dean Johnston and Bobby Hudman had quite an experience over the holidays! Do you three always pick up people with the stomach ache?

The Sophomore class lost another girl—Mary Dunigan, who moved to Abilene. You boys better start being a little nicer . . . this makes the second girl to leave in two weeks.

Sharon Isaacs, did you really used to hold campaigns? You mean you still do? Oh! for friends.

Say, there was a real swing crowd at Teen Town Saturday night. Let's keep it up and keep Teen Town open every week.

Donna Robison must have really had a scare to turn her hair gray so soon, or could it be she is just worried over mid-term exams?

WHAT IF . . . Linda McMahon didn't wear a bow? Teddy Scott was free? Janith and Dwayne were not seen together? Billy Shumard kept his hands out of his pockets? Ken Rankin was friendly? Sharon Isaacs could sing? Ann Pennington ever smiled? Mrs. King remembered not to forget anything? Chris Cornish had a clean notebook? Larry Williams could keep his mouth shut? Mr. Pollard's fifth period class really studied advanced math?

We would like to call attention to all students of PHS that Teen Town is not going to be open every week, if more people don't start attending. It will have record dances for the next month or so, to find out if the students want to keep it open. This was decided at a meeting of the students who attended Teen Town for a discussion of the problem of non-attendance at this time of the year.

"If you count your dollars, you can count on electric heating," say Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams, 112 East 22nd Street, Clovis, New Mexico.

"Like most everyone, we want value for every dollar we spend and, like most everyone who hadn't yet tried full-house electric heating, we were interested in operating costs. We have kept close track of our electric heating bills and we're delighted to know by personal experience that we are getting full value for our dollar — that it costs us no more to enjoy modern heating," say the Williams.

Mrs. Williams is delighted, too, with her electric range and all the rest of her electric appliances. The Williams' home is completely electric.

Mr. Williams points out the neatness of his electric base-board heating system and his smile expresses his satisfaction far better than can words.

DOCTORS MAKE PLANS FOR TB SURVEY IN SCHOOLS

TB skin-test survey is planned at Post schools

Would be first time in Texas

Discovery of "eight or nine" new cases of tuberculosis here within the last few months—considered by doctors to be a high ratio of discovery for a community of this size—has set the stage for a proposed TB skin-testing program in the county's public schools.

Preliminary plans for such a survey were made last Friday afternoon at a meeting in the office of Dr. James R. Matthews, Garza County health officer. Others present were Dr. John E. Carter, County Judge J. E. Parker, Mayor Powell Shytles, a Post Dispatch reporter and two doctors from the McKnight State TB Hospital near San Angelo, Drs. Robert Inglis and Bill Kilman.

The purpose of the meeting was to try to evaluate the best approach to the testing program in the schools, which is being planned as a community-wide and county-wide project with all doctors participating in addition to volunteer help. Judge Parker and Mayor Shytles promised the cooperation of the city and county governments in the survey, which Dr. Matthews estimated would cost "not more than $500."

Reactors to the skin test, which is comparatively new and much more effective than the patch test method, would be given chest x-rays, along with members of their families. The program probably would also be expanded to include skin-testing of the adult population, the doctors said.

Dr. Inglis suggested that the best way to get the project under way will be to call a general meeting in order to educate the public to the need of such a testing program, procedure, etc.

"We cannot afford to be half-hearted about it," Dr. Matthews said. "It will be necessary to conduct a program that will cover everyone and then follow-up on all reactors to the tests."

Dr. Matthews also said that the effectiveness of such a program in the future would call for the setting up of a complete set of individual student records in the schools and keeping the records current.

Garza ginnings total 27,753 bales

'Record label' put on '61 cotton crop

Garza County's 1961 cotton crop earned the "record" label without contest this week when ginning totals as reported yesterday climbed to 27,573 bales.

Although ginning records for the county in past years are not available, old-timers are in agreement now that this is "the biggest of them all."

And the way it turned out, it would have been much bigger had the "turnout" been better. It simply took more cotton this year to make a bale than in many previous years—a condition wide spread over the High Plains area.

By the time it's all over, the 1961 figure may well top the 28,000 bale mark.

The end is now in sight in every area, although at least two gins are still operating on a 12 to 13 hour a day basis.

The Pleasant Valley, Basinger, and Hackberry gins didn't answer their office phones for The Dispatch's weekly gin check yesterday afternoon which means that the "season's over" in the north part of the county.

The gin-by-gin report for this week:

Planters Gin—3,450 bales ginned, 50 on the yard, and maybe, 100 more to come.

Close City Coop Gin—4,580 bales ginned, yard clean, maybe 20 more bales yet.

Graham Coop Gin—6,083 bales, yard clean, remnants being ginned now, maybe a few more to come.

Storie Gin—2,142 bales ginned, 10 on yard, windup probably over the weekend with 25 or 30 more bales to come.

Pleasant Valley Gin—3,760 bales ginned last week with yard clean.

Basinger Gin—5,210 bales ginned last week with yard clean.

Hackberry Gin—2,348 bales Garza cotton ginned last week with 148 then on yard.

Rites conducted in Post Sunday for Edd T. Dye

Last rites for Edd T. Dye, 49, of 123 South Ave. S., who died suddenly at 6:30 a. m. Saturday in Garza Memorial Hospital, were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Dye, who had been a resident of Post for 26 years, had been admitted to the hospital the day before for a check-up. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He was born April 8, 1912, at Afton, in Dickens County. For the past 16 years he had been employed by Brown Bros. et al. oil operators, as a pumper.

Mr. Dye was widely known throughout the Post vicinity and for many years had been especially active in both senior and junior rodeo activities.

The Rev. C. B. Hogue, First Baptist pastor, officiated at the funeral services, with burial in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were E. R. (Buster) Moreland, Edsel Cross, Lloyd Mock, R. E. Josey, Floyd Stanley, Bailey Matisler, Marvin Odom and Dee Caffey.

Mr. Dye is survived by his wife, Willie Mae; two daughters, Mrs. Bob Turney of Midland and Mrs. V. A. Lobban Jr. of Pecos; one son, James Dye of Post; his mother, Mrs. Vannie Hensle of Merkel; two sisters, Mrs. Dollie Landcaster of Las Cruces, N. M., and Mrs. Leola Warren of Abilene, and one brother, Walter Dye of Clovis, N. M.

Four places are hit by burglars

Three taverns and a food market were broken into last Wednesday night in the city's latest outbreak of burglaries.

Places hit were the Cottage Lounge, Wagon Wheel, Long Branch and K&K Food Mart.

City Marshal Junior Shepherd said money from music and cigarette machines and some cigarettes were taken from the three taverns, where not all the coin-operated machines were broken into.

Two cases of cigarettes and about $2.50 in change were taken from the K&K Food Mart, Shepherd said.

The method of entering at all four places indicated that the jobs were pulled by the same persons, the city marshal said. Entrance at each place was gained by using a screw driver or similar tool to force the door latch, the marshal said.

Officers thought for a while they had a lead on the burglars when a passing motorist reported he had seen a car parked outside K&K Food Mart at about 3:30 a. m. and took down the license number.

There evidently was a mistake in copying the tag number, however, Shepherd said. The tag was traced to a car that had been parked for some time on a used car lot at Lubbock.

New candidates bring contests in 3 races

Announcements this week from county commissioner candidates brought the number of candidates seeking precinct or county offices to 11.

Two candidates, both former county officials, are also reported considering making the race for county judge, where the incumbent, J. E. Parker, and A. C. Cooke already have announced.

The race for Precinct 2 county commissioner became a three-man affair yesterday when R. E. Josey announced his candidacy for the office. Previously, E. E. (Elva) El, the incumbent, and John N. Perkins had announced.

The entry of Sid Cross yesterday for the race for Precinct 4 county commissioner, where Mason Justice already had announced for reelection, made that a two-man race. Cross is a former commissioner from Precinct 4.

He said volunteer firemen and law enforcement officers would receive the first training and then the next class would be open to public volunteers.

The equipment was ordered last November. Baxter holds an Atomic Energy Commission by product licenses for Cobalt 60 so that Cobalt 60 can be used in training crews in fallout measurements.

Baxter explained to Rotarians how radiation is measured, something of what to expect should "the bomb" be exploded in an area—and how far away the effects would be felt.

He also related much interesting information on the original A-bomb blast in Japan.

Bingham elected coach at Slaton

V. F. (Bing) Bingham, former Post High School football coach for ten years, will become athletic director and football coach of Slaton High School, Post's No. 1 athletic rival, Feb. 12.

Slaton School Supt. Lee Vardy announced the selection of Bingham this week to succeed M. W. Kerr, who moved from football coach and athletic director to the principalship of Slaton High.

Bingham received a three-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Vardy said Bingham, who has been an insurance man here since resigning from the local coaching job at the end of the 1955-56 school year, will name his assistant coaches later.

Bingham will have 17 lettermen returning from Slaton's 1961 grid squad and nine of last year's starting eleven.

Traffic accident shuts off power

Postex Cotton Mills and the Planters Gin were without lights and power for 40 minutes Tuesday night as the result of a traffic accident at 5th Street and Broadway.

Electric service to the mills and the gin was cut off just before 8 o'clock when a transport truck struck a power line pole after colliding with an automobile.

The crossbeam on the pole supporting the 22,000-volt circuit was broken and the wires pulled loose, which knocked off the power at both places.

Temporary service was restored by local employees of Southwestern Public Service Company, after which the company's "hot stick" crew came from Lubbock to make permanent repairs.

City Marshal Junior Shepherd said the truck struck the pole after colliding with a car being driven by Delton Robinson. The officer (See TRAFFIC, Page 8)

Bing Bingham's many local friends will wish him well in his return to the coaching ranks now that the announcement has finally been made that he is Slaton's new football coach and athletic director. It has been a sort of "open secret" for the last few weeks that Bing had the job.

Last week's cold wave produced some unusual results—besides the expected pipe trouble. For example, the Coke man reportedly had case after case of Cokes freeze en route to Post from Lubbock. That caused the bottles to start breaking. We hear he stored his truck overnight at Post Auto Supply to keep those Cokes warm and took a bus back to Lubbock rather than see his whole load "explode."

What's more the produce trucks making deliveries to local food stores last week had the bananas freeze on the trucks.

And here's another story—that couldn't have happened to a nicer guy. Rev. Bernard Ramsey, First Christian Church pastor, awoke about 2 or 3 a. m. last Thursday morning with water dripping in his face. He got up and stepped out of bed into a big puddle of water on the floor. The water pipes in the new parsonage had burst in the ceiling from the cold. Most of the house had water standing on the floor.

So Bernard got up and went out and turned off the water. When he went next door to the church to get the mops to start a speedy clean-up operation he discovered an inch and a quarter valve had broken and flooded the church sanctuary with an inch or more of water and pipes had broken in the ceiling in another portion of the church causing more damage.

Tom Gambin reports when Rev. Ramsey called him at 5 a. m. to report the difficulties, Tom's thermometer stood at exactly zero.

Shelter survey coming in March

A South Plains survey by Civil Defense authorities to locate all public buildings which can qualify as fallout shelters won't reach Post and Garza county until late March.

The survey was launched this week in Lubbock, following a meeting here Monday attended by some 100 officials and interested citizens from 13 counties.

The survey will be completed in 23 area counties by mid-April according to plans.

The government does not intend to buy or rent any buildings for shelter purposes, but only to enter into voluntary agreements with building owners to designate buildings as shelters if the building owners design to do so.
