Dispatch photographer at the Southland school on Friday at lunch time pictures of one of several organized lunch rooms in Garza County.

Vernon Scott and Ross Dunn. Part of the serving crew is shown in the second picture: Mrs. Foy King, Mrs. W. J. Kellum, Mrs. Thelma Winterrowd, Joan Trimble, Laquetta Bruster and

Emma Lou Basinger. An advantage of the lunch room, besides well-balanced, hot meals, is a longer noon-time play period. The girl with the baseball stance is Kay Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson, and the children on the slide are Jerry Don Everett, Ronnie Webb, Brenda Joyce Hall, Elsie Allbright, Ivanell Jones, Jerrelyn Huddleston and Karen Ann

McGehee. The photographer was impressed with the good discipline in the dining room, the appetite which the children unambiguously displayed toward the food and the excellent table manners. The children said "grace" at the beginning of the meal and many of the youngsters told the adult workers "I enjoyed my meal," on leaving the lunch room.

Justiceburg Well May Be Finished As Small Pumper

Proven Oil company, L. M. Glarso, et al. No. 1 George W. Herd, trustee, three miles south of Justiceburg, last weekend was installing a pump to test and try to complete, as an oil well, and a new discovery from the San Andres zone of the Permian lime.

This project had treated a section at 2,445-2,510 feet, with 1,000 gallons and with 6,000 gallons of acid. After an extended period of swabbing it was making about two barrels of fluid per hour—50 per cent oil and 50 per cent acid water. The water was decreasing and it is thought there is a possibility that the project may soon be finished as a small pumper.

Altman And Winters May Work Sunday When Millers Meet Littlefield In Oil Belt Loop Opener

THE POST DISPATCH THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1948

SPORTS

FROM A STRICTLY LOCAL ANGLE

No Hit, No Run Ball Of 1920 Shown Here

A baseball that was used in a no hit, no run game between Post and Snyder in July, 1920, is on display in the window at Hundley's Men's Wear this week.

The ball belongs to Ed Cummings, the winning pitcher, who received the ball and a collection of $22.50 as a reward. The game was 2-0, in favor of Post.

Post Antelopes Win Over Slaton Tigers Thursday

The Post Antelopes defeated the Slaton Tigers 9 to 7 in an 8 inning game at the Postex Park Thursday afternoon. The extra inning was added to the game to break a 7 to 7 tie. Shorty Hester hit a home run in the extra few

Whether it will be veteran Edd Altman or Tommie Winters, a new southpaw to join the Miller roster this week, who will take the mound Sunday when Littlefield comes here for the Oil Belt League opener, remained to be decided Wednesday by Manager George Sartain.

Winters, a native of Scurry County and high school coach at Cooper, is rated as one of the best left-handers in the area and has been in amateur baseball for a number of years. Negotiations were being made Wednesday for three other pitchers, Jack Mills of Big Spring may be signed to the Miller's roster, and W. C. Cooper of Lubbock is being considered for a pitching post. Bud Cason, a veteran pitcher and resident of Post for about 18 months, will likely go with the local crew.

Besides the new pitchers, the Millers have strengthened their forces with several other new comers, including Harold Childs, Dickie Martin, Bobby Cash and "Bay Mule" Willingham, catchers; Jess Cornell, short stop; Douglas Simpson and Louis Mills, second basemen; Bud Slatter, pitcher-out fielder; and out fielders Jerry minutes of play to bring Junior Malouf, who was on base, in home.

At the first of the game, the locals were lagging behind when Roy Wade was sent in pinch-hitting for Charles King. The Antelopes were two runs behind, had two outs and two men on base when Wade hit the centerfield wall for a double to put the boys back in the game. Wade also did an excellent job of pitching during the three innings he was on the mound. It was a no-hit no-run period of play as he struck out seven men.

Lonnie Walls showed up good on first base and was quick to get a couple of line drives.

The locals are returning the game this afternoon at Tiger field.

Millers Drop Practice Game To Memphis

A ninth-inning rally staged by the Red Valley League Memphis club last Sunday at Millers' park gave the visitors five scores to crowd ahead of the local team.

The Memphis crew scored one run in the fifth and another in the sixth and were trailing the Millers, who had piled up 3 runs in the fifth and 1 in the eighth, before their brisk hitting spree.

Holland twirled for seven innings for the locals before being relieved by Duren.

Odom and Bill Shepherd.

Among the regulars of last season who are back in play are the four Altman brothers, pitchers Edd and James, catcher Dan, and out-fielder-second baseman Demos; R. M. Thomas, first baseman; Walter B. Holland, pitcher-infielder; Polly Duren, utility; Carl Jones, out fielder; Joe Boren, third baseman; Glenn Norman, catcher; and outfielders Dale and George Hester and Travis Gilmore.

Fans likely will see more Post hitting this season than last as Manager Sartain is sending his Millers through rough practice sessions with the main point emphasizing hitting. Within a few days the lights will be hooked-up at the park and night practice will get underway.

Sunday's opener will start at 2:30 o'clock, declared Oscar Garner, president of the local club. The game promises to be a fast one, and if the locals can hold up their end against the hard-hitting Littlefield crew local fans will see one of the best games of the season. Last Sunday the Littlefield delegation walloped last season's league winning Leveland line, 25 to 6.

Scripture, Acts 17:24-29

God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hand; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us: For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

GETTING OUT On The LIMB

By
EDDIE the EDITOR

It's an old newspaper custom to print signed letters, and throw anonymous ones in the wastebasket without comment.

Every editor in the nation, including me, gets from one to a wastebasketful of letters a week, depending on his popularity or unpopularity.

For some strange psychological reason most of the letters to all editors are unsigned. That's why you see so few of them in print. All opinions expressed in a newspaper, with rare exceptions, must be attributed to someone.

The unsigned letters invariably are concluded with one of these phrases: "An Admirer," "Yours Caustically," "A Garza Resident for 30 years," "A Couple of Ladies from Pockunk," etc. My wastebasket gets a few of these every week.

But there are exceptions to all newspapermen's rules, and I am making one today. Last week I asked for letters on the Youth Canteen question. I forgot to mention that the letters should be signed. So far, I have received only one letter and it was anonymous. I am going to print it because I asked for it. Here goes:

"Dear Eddie the Editor: If you had some children you would be too concerned with raising them right to be all time griping about a Youth Canteen.

"In my opinion, it is the parents' problem to decide what entertainment their children should have on Saturday night. If the parents wanted a canteen, they'd have one. I can't see that it is anybody else's business.

"I, personally, don't have any trouble keeping my teen-aged youngsters entertained on Saturday nights. We have our own 'canteen' here at home, and we don't have any rules against dancing. My youngsters, it happens, don't yet care anything about dancing but they know that if they want to dance they and their friends are perfectly free to do so, here at home.

"As a parent, I'd rather solve my own problem in this manner and not be bothered with all the public criticism I'd get if I tried to help with a Youth Canteen."

Well, that seems to be that, inasmuch as I haven't received any letters from people agreeing with me that we should have a Youth Canteen.

It's true, I don't have any children and it is becoming increasingly difficult for me to remember when I was a restless high school kid who might not have been invited to someone's private home on Saturday night and, consequently, had nothing to do but roam the streets, or talk "pop" out of the car so I could take some sweet young thing out on the cemetery road.

It's even difficult for me to remember the temptations I had—and sometimes succumbed to—in regard to bootleg whiskey and the like. But I'll never forget what a wallop that fruit jar of tutti-frutti had, and it was easy to get. Bootleggers can't be bothered about whether or not the customer is old enough to know what he is getting into.

Yep, I'm getting old and may-

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

No Lower Prices, No Shortages, Nor Surpluses In Sight

St. Louis, Mo.—During the past two weeks I have visited some of the largest U. S. cities, interviewing prominent farmers, manufacturers and merchants. The following are their conclusions:

The wholesale market for nearly all farm products has declined since I was in the Central West six months ago. Yet, intelligent farmers do not regret this and feel more secure than when prices were abnormally high. Most farm products, with the possible exception of dairy products, will continue to work lower over the long-range.

Therefore, the farmer should follow the practice of getting out of debt and putting his buildings and implements in good condition. Otherwise, he should carry on business as usual continuing to plant acreage and let prices follow naturally. Avoid speculation by either raising crops to market or holding them back for higher prices.

I see no reason why building costs should be less during the balance of 1948, but one should be able to get better materials. Moreover, as the labor shortage decreases, the painters, bricklayers, and carpenters should give more work for the same amount of money. Certainly, I would not build anything now that I did not need to build. However, I should keep my buildings in good repair. Veterans are howling for more houses, subsidized more or less by the Government. On the other hand, this great increase in building, such as the veterans want, means even scarcer materials and higher prices. Veterans want continued rent control, although so long as rent control stays very few new houses will be built for renting. It is a bad mess.

Merchants, although holding well as to the total of dollar sales, know that the unit volume has declined. Therefore, wise merchants are resisting price increases and are keeping down inventories. In fact, unit retail prices may now be at a high point for some years to come. This means that we should all show some control and more resistance in our purchasing. This will help bring prices to a more reasonable level. Income and savings will then quickly gain additional purchasing power which could finally benefit everyone. It is said that in a city such as Philadelphia a reduction of 10 cents a pound in meat prices would release $30,000,000 a year purchasing power for other goods and services.

Readers should now order their winter's supply of coal and fuel oil. With the exception of summer "fill up" fuel oil discounts there will probably be no reduction in fuel prices and there may again be a scarcity. Oil companies are spending huge sums developing new wells and bettering their refining methods. However, the consumption is terrific, now running about 5,400,000 barrels a day. Synthetic fuel plants cannot help for years to come. Here again the only answer is for drivers of automobiles to show some restraint and not waste gasoline.

In my annual forecast for 1948, published in this paper about January 1st, I made two very important statements. One was that World War III would not start in 1948. Notwithstanding the calamity howls of the broadcasters and the exciting news in the papers, I continue to be convinced of this whatever may happen in 1948. The longer it can be delayed, the better chances are that it will not occur for many years.

Another definite forecast that 1948 would be a year of preparation for war. I know of these preparations well and monthly, in fact this preparation for war will be one of the things to prevent it.

I still cling to another statement in my Annual Forecast, that 1948 will be about the same as 1947. Thus, farmers, manufacturers, bankers, and merchants, should go about their business as usual. Figure that there will be no shortage of anything yet no surplus. Buyers will be justified in waiting for prices. On the other hand, it will not be justified in hoarding surplus goods for fear of prices.

Garza and the World

Editor's Note—Opinions expressed here are those of the author, and they do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Post Dispatch. The column is carried to the interest of applying world news to the situation here at home.

By EVELYN BOYD

From now on we will be listening to political speeches over the radio, reading about the politicians in the newspapers and magazines, our mail boxes will be crowded with campaign propaganda of one sort or another, and our doorbells will be rung by candidates who want to get acquainted with us and solicit our votes.

Now is the time to take stock of a few reforms the state of Texas and the nation need, in order to decide on what candidates will best promote them.

I ask every candidate I meet for a state office to tell me how he feels about education. Something must be done in the very near future to curtail the teaching of communism in our public schools, particularly the universities.

James B. Conant, president of Harvard, recently said: "The nation has a right to demand of its educational institutions that the teachers dealing with controversial subjects shall be fearless seekers of the truth and careful scholars rather than propagandists. But granted honesty, sincerity, and ability, there must be tolerance of a wide diversity of opinion."

No one can quarrel with that doctrine, and it could well serve as a model for any university in a free country. However, it is evident to anyone who knows even a cursory knowledge of modern teaching on controversial problems is warped and biased. This is done, in many cases, by individual teachers who are trying to sell some one or other. And it is done in many other text books which bend the truth in order to bow to what amounts to party line.

It is one thing, for instance, to show the student what socialism and communism and the nationalization of industry involve, as contrasted with capitalist or free economy. It is a very different thing to deliberately make it appear that the super state is the answer to the ills of mankind, and unfortunately that is the impression that emanates from many colleges today. It is all very well to discuss what may be wrong with the American system. But, at the same time, we must honestly teach what is right in the American system, as proved by the results of today's kids aren't susceptible to temptations like we were. Perhaps, I shouldn't say any more about the subject unless I get some signed letters asking me to keep harping.

THE WOMEN God love 'em: Women usually look their worst when they hurry.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

SPRING FEVER—More folks will stop you on the street at this time of the year and say "lets go fishing" but if you would take them up on the proposition very few would go.—Slaton Slatonite.

GEE THANKS—Eddie the Editor who conducts a column in his newspaper, The Post Dispatch, entitled "Getting Out On A Limb," certainly earned the title last week, for he filled his column with comments on the ladies' Easter hats. Any man who can do that and come out of it without a skinned head or a broken nose must be a good politician. And we guess he is, for on the front page of his paper he had pictures of five Post men whom he had boosted into running for the Presidency, but the wives of four of them were also in the picture and Eddie gave them a bigger boost than he gave their husbands. Some politician is Eddie the Editor.—Lynn County News.

TOWNS DON'T HAPPEN—The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has a slogan reading "Cities do not happen, men build them." Every town builder knows this is true. Therefore, every civic minded man who visits Seminole knows that somewhere in the past somebody did a lot of hard work and planning.

It is the men who are members of the school boards, members of the city councils, teachers, preachers, blacksmiths, bankers, merchants and mechanics, and other property owners and residents who build towns. The evidence is here that a lot of our good citizens have done a lot of thinking and planning aside from their own business and personal interests.

The more people of that kind a town has, the bigger and faster it grows. Let's more of us become that kind of Seminole citizens in the future.—Seminole Sentinel.

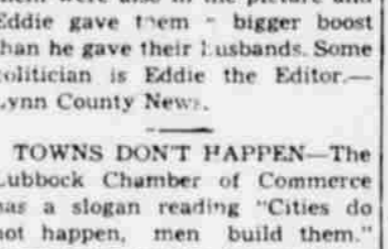

Parliament Party members in the English Civil War of the 17th century were called "roundheads" because they wore their hair clipped close.

"All of which must have been vastly amusing to the coterie of radical's dominating The Daily Texan and to the minority of similar views and tastes. But is hardly an answer to Mr. Highsmith's charge of one-sidedness. On the contrary it provides new evidence of the validity of his charge. And it illustrates how bigoted left-wingers spoil everything they touch, even such a potentially fine thing as a campus newspaper."

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Controls Wind Erosion

For anyone who might doubt the effectiveness of crop residue controlling wind erosion, C. R. Baldwin at Graham, has the answer.

Baldwin has two 80's lying across the road from each other. The west 80 which was in cotton last year began blowing so much this spring that it had to be bedded. The east 80 that has had the crop residue from feed crops and wheat worked into the soil since 1941 did not blow this year even in the worst dust storm in 10 years.

Crop residue management is one of the most important of all soil and water conservation practices in use today.

The organic litter in or on the surface of the soil serves not only as a barrier to the wind erosion

Thirty Women Hear IHC Home Economist

Approximately thirty women attended the Freezer School at the Post Truck and Tractor Company Friday afternoon and saw Miss Pearl Hughey, home economist, demonstrate the preparation of various types of foods for home freezing and learned the types of containers best suited to the different foods.

All features of the International Harvester freezers were demonstrated. The home economist was assisted by Mrs. Jewell H. Strasser, Garza County home demonstration agent, and Howard Kyle, R. H. Taylor, C. C. Norris and Owen Wheelless of the Sweetwater Branch of the International Harvester Company.

but also to water erosion. Organic matter helps keep the soil open for free movement of soil air and water. It cuts down evaporation of moisture from the soil.

When soil runs together so bad that it looks like terraces are needed to save run off water from a field its time to turn more crop residue back to the soil.

An average of less than one-half feed crops in a cotton-feed crop rotation will not return enough organic matter to the soil to maintain soil fertility.

Mesquites Use Moisture

Mesquites are beginning to leaf out. Leaves are the organs of a plant that draws water from the roots.

It takes 1,700 pounds of water for a mesquite plant to make 1 pound of leaves (dry weight). This is enough soil moisture to produce 4 pounds (dry weight) of buffalo or blue grama grass.

One inch of rain ever an acre weighs approximately 216,000 pounds. This is enough water to produce 540 pounds of grama grass, enough grass for one cow for 18 days at the rate of 30 pounds per cow per day.

Beat The Mesquite

Since the leaves are also the manufacturing organs of the plant the more grass leaves, the deeper the grass root system. On properly grazed buffalo grass the root system extends into the soil 4 or 5 feet deep. Grass on properly grazed pastures give the mesquite stiff competition for soil moisture.

Changes To Planting Grass

Jim L. Williams cooperator of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, whose farm is six miles north of Post, says "All my life I have fought grass and now I am planting it. Grass protects soil against wind and water erosion. Grass improves fertility. The net cash returns from grass over a long period usually exceeds net returns from cultivated crops."

A famous hole in the wall of the chamber of the Great Council in Venice was called the "Lion's Mouth." Through it anonymous accusations were passed in to the members.

G. W. Norris Will Be Busy Sunday

The busiest man in Post Sunday will be G. W. Norris, local radio service man who will be testing his new Frequency Modulation receiving equipment on the occasion of KFYO's first FM broadcast, which will also be the first FM broadcast to be offered in this general area.

Norris will experiment all day Sunday (from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. while the Lubbock station is broadcasting) with three types of aerials which can be converted into six aerials, his new signal generator and other equipment especially acquired for FM service.

He will be able to make the necessary adjustments which home radios will require in order to receive the broadcasts, he said yesterday. There are quite a few radios here with FM bands and most of them, Norris believes, will require some adjustment before they will work properly.

Cancer Claims 11 Garza Residents During Past Year

Eleven people died of cancer in Garza County during 1947, according to James Minor, undertaker and chairman of the Garza County cancer fund drive which is under way this month. The cancer death rate in Texas, he said, is one out of eight persons.

Garza County's quota for the national fight against cancer is $401.

Only 15 per cent of every dollar given to the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society goes for administration and the majority of that 15 per cent is used for educational pictures.

Sixty cents out of every dollar given is used for cancer clinics and research. From such donations, clinics are being set up in many of the 15 districts in the state.

It has been estimated that every three minutes someone dies of cancer and that 25 per cent of those who die could have been saved had the malady been detected and treated in time. Here are some of the danger signals:

- 1 Any sore that does not heal particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
- (2) A painless lump of thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
- (3) Bloody discharge from the nipple or irregular bleeding from any of the natural body openings.
- (4) Any change in the color or size of a wart or mole.
- (5) Persistent indigestion.
- (6) Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
- (7) Any change in the normal bowel habits.

The educational program of the American Cancer Society is to combat patronage of quack doctors in matters of cancer cures. The American Medical Society has, at its command, all the known cures for various types of cancer and only recognized physicians should be entrusted with the important task of treating cancer.
